3312. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Utbah ibn Abu Waqas (a disbeliever) instructed his brother Sayyiduna Sa'd ibn Abu Waqas رضى الله عنه that the son of the slave girl of zamah was his, so he must take care of him. Sa'd رضى الله عنه accordingly took him in the year of conquest, saying that he was his brother's son, but Abd ibn Zamah رضى الله عنه claimed him as his brother. Both of them took their case to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. Sa'd رضى الله عنه pleaded, "O Messenger of Allah, my brother had instructed me concerning him." And, Abd ibn Zamah رضى الله عنه pleaded, "He is my brother and son of my father's female slave. He was born on his bed." So, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He belongs to you, O Abd ibn Zam'ah The child is attributed to the (owner of the) bed (on which it is born). And for the fornicator is deprival (or stoning to death)." Then, he said to Sayyidah Sawdah bint Zam'ah, "Veil yourself before him." Because of the resemblance to Utbah that he saw in him. So, he never saw her till he met Allah (meaning till he died).

According to another version, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, 'He is your brother, O Abd ibn Zamah," because he was born on his father's bed.[1]

COMMENTARY: We must first introduce some people named in this hadith.

Utbah was the real brother of Sa'd ibn Abu Waqqas رضى الله عنه. While Allah had guided Sa'd رضى الله عنه to Islam and he was a glorious sahabi رضى الله عنه Utbah could not find himself out of labyrinth of disbelief and died an infidel. He was the wretched who had broken the teeth of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم during the battle of Uhud.

Zam'ah رضى الله عنه was the father of Sayyidah Sawdah رضى الله عنها and Abd رضى الله عنه was Zam'ah's son, and real brother of Sayyidah Sawdah رضى الله عنها. She was the wife of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. She was the wife of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.

During the pre-Islamic days, the adulterer could claim that a child born through adultery should be attributed to him. Accordingly, Utbah claimed percentage of the child, and instructed his brother Sa'd to raise his son. However, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم ruled that the child was Abd's brother who may raise him up. The fornicator gets nothing but stones. (A comprehensive commentary precedes against hadith # 3073 of Abu Umamah) رضى الله عنه.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم instructed Sayyidah Sawdah رضى الله عنها the mother of the believers, to observe the veil before the child of the female slave. Though according to Shari'ah (divine law), he was her brother because his lineage is attributed to her father Zam'ah and Shariah does not recognize resemblance, physiognomy and analogy, yet the boy had a similarity to Utbah who had claimed to have sired him, so it was better to be on the safe side that she should not meet him.

The words of the second version at the conclusion: 'because he was born on his father's bed' are a narrator's words to explain the reason of the prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم decision. It means that he was conceived on his father's bed and when he was born the female slave had belonged to Zam'ah. Also the child was born in his house.

IN PHYSIOGNOMY ACCEPTABLE

(٣٣١٣) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ دَخَلَ عَلَيَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَاتَ يَوْمٍ وَهُوَ مَسْرُوْرٌ فَقَالَ اَيْ عَائِشَةُ اَلَمْ تَرَ اَنَّ مُجَزِّزًا الْمُدْلِجِيَّ دَخَلَ فَلَمَّا رَاٰى اُسَامَةَ وَزَيْدًا وَعَلَيْهِمَا قَطِيْفَةٌ قَدْ غَطَّيَا رُؤُوْسَهُمَا وَبَدَتْ اَقْدَامُهُمَا فَقَالَ اِنَّ هٰذِهِ الْاَقْدَامَ بَعْضُهَا مِنْ بَعْضٍ۔ (متفق علیه)

3313. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that one day Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم came home. He looked very pleased and asked. "O Ayshah do you not know that Mujazziz al Mudliyi came (to the Masjid Nabawi). When he saw Usamah and Zayd, who had a rug over them covering their heads but leaving their feet open, he remarked, "These feet are like one another (of related men)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Harithan رضى الله عنه who was the prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم adopted son was very fair and handsome. His son, Sayyiduna Usamah, رضى الله عنه however, was black like his mother, Sayyidah Umm Ayman رضى الله عنها she was a female slave, black complexioned. The hypocrites used to pick fault with Usmah's رضى الله عنه lineage. The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was very grieved with this attitude of the hypocrites. Suddenly, this thing happened.

Mujazziz alMudliji was a noted physiognomist. He could tell about a person from his creatures and trace his relationship. The Arabs relied on the readings of physionomists, so that prophet was very pleased when he spoke of Zayd and Usamah giving a lie to the hypocrites. He knew that they would no more dare to question relationship of father and son.

However, it does not follow that Shari'ah (divine law) recognizes physiognomy nor is lineage necessarily confirmed and verified through this art. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله contends according to this but Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله, Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله place reliance on the judgment and deduction of a physiognomist. They go so for as to say that if a female slave is owned by two men together and bears a child whose parentage both man claim then both of them should consult a physiognomist. They are bound to accept his deduction.

According to Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله, the child will belong to both men eyes of Shari'ah (divine law) though practically the child may belong to one of them, and the female slave will be the Umm walad of both of them.

DISOWNING PARENTAGE

(٣٣١٤) وَعَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ اَبِيْ وَقَّاصٍ وَاَبِيْ بَكْرَةَ قَالَا قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنِ ادَّعٰى اِلٰى غَيْرِ اَبِيْهِ وَهُوَ يَعْلَمُ فَالْجَنَّةُ عَلَيْهِ حَرَامٌ۔ (متفق علیه)

[1] Bukhari # 6771, Muslim # 38-1459.

3314. Sayyiduna Sa'd ibn Abu Waqqas رضی اللہ عنہ and Sayyiduna Abu Bakrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone ascribes his parentage to one other than his father, knowing that he is not his father, then paradise is forbidden to him."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone intentionally relates his parentage to a man other than his father to a man other than his father and does not regard it as wrong but believes that such false description of lineage is lawful then he falls in the ambit of disbelief because he makes lawful what is unlawful. If he lies in the limits of disbelief and dies as such then the gates of paradise are shut on him for ever. But, if he does not regard what he is doing as lawful act and knows it to be unlawful, then the gates of paradise will be shut on him till he has gone through the punishment for his sin.

Or these words of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that paradise is forbidden to him are a reproof meant to keep people away from this wrong.

(٣٣١٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَرْغَبُوْا عَنْ اٰبَائِكُمْ فَمَنْ رَغِبَ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ فَقَدْ كَفَرَ۔ (متفق علیه)

3315. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah narrated that Allah's Messenger narrated that Allah's Messenger said, "Do not turn against your father's (by ascribing you parentage to other man) , for, he who turns against his father, shows ingratitude for blessings."[2]

COMMENTARY: It was a common ill during the jihiliyah (ignorance period) for people to reject their own fathers and to call other men as their parents.

It is forbidden to do such a thing knowingly and if anyone does it and regards it as lawful then he becomes a disbelievers. In this case concluding words of the hadith will be translated litrally: 'he disbelieves.' If he does not regard what he does as permitted, then the words would mean 'he does what resembles disbelief.' or 'he shows ingratitude...'

وَقَدْ ذُكِرَ حَدِيْثُ عَائِشَةَ مَا مِنْ اَحَدٍ اَغْيَرُ مِنَ اللّٰهِ فِيْ بَابِ صَلٰوةِ الْخُسُوْفِ

Indeed the hadith of Sayyidah Ayshah "No one is more displeased than Allah..." has been mentioned in the chapter on solar eclipse Hadith # 1483.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

HE WHO DISOWNS HIS CHILD WILL BE DEPRIVED OF ALLAH'S SIGHT

(٣٣١٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّهُ سَمِعَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَمَّا نَزَلَتْ اٰيَةُ الْمُلَاعَنَةِ اَيُّمَا امْرَاَةٍ اَدْخَلَتْ عَلٰى قَوْمٍ مَنْ لَيْسَ مِنْهُمْ فَلَيْسَتْ مِنَ اللّٰهِ فِيْ شَيْءٍ وَلَنْ يُدْخِلَهَا اللّٰهُ جَنَّتَهُ وَاَيُّمَا رَجُلٍ جَحَدَ وَلَدَهُ وَهُوَ يَنْظُرُ اِلَيْهِ احْتَجَبَ اللّٰهُ مِنْهُ وَفَضَحَهُ عَلٰى رُءُوْسِ الْخَلَائِقِ فِي الْاَوَّلِيْنَ وَالْاٰخِرِيْنَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی والدارمی)

3316. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say when trhe verse about li'an (or invoking curses) was revealed, "If a woman brings to a peopl: one who does not belong to them (by committing adultery and attributing the child conceived to her husband) then she stands nowhere in Allah's sight and Allah will not admit her to paradise. And, if any man disowns his child (whom his wife bears) while it looks at him (and he knows that it belongs to him), then Allah's will veil Himself from him and disgrace him in the presence of all creatures, the first and the last (exposing his evil deeds to them)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The hadith says clearly that neither should a woman attribute an illicit child to her husband nor should a man accuse her falsely of adultery.

PREFERABLE TO DIVORCE AN INDECENT WOMAN

(٣٣١٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ إِنَّ لِي امْرَأَةً لَا تَرُدُّ يَدَ لَامِسٍ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ طَلِّقْهَا قَالَ إِنِّي أُحِبُّهَا قَالَ فَأَمْسِكْهَا إِذًا۔ رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَقَالَ النَّسَائِيُّ رَفَعَهُ أَحَدُ الرُّوَاةِ إِلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَأَحَدُهُمْ لَمْ يَرْفَعْهُ قَالَ وَهٰذَا الْحَدِيْثُ لَيْسَ بِثَابِتٍ۔

3317. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man come to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم submitted that he had a wife who never rejected a touch (meaning, advances by men to comit evil). So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "Divorce her," but he submitted, "(How can I because) I love her." "Then", he said, "keep her." (And restrain her.") Nasai said: onę narrator traced it up to Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ while another did not, and that this his hadith is not well established.[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith is evidence that a woman of bad character must be divorce. However, if it is not easy to do that then it is allowed to keep her but she must be restrained from committing evil. If she does not desist, and the husband is unwilling to divorce her then he will be committing a sin.

CONFIRMING SOMEONE AS A FAMILY MEMBER

(٣٣١٨) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَضٰى أَنَّ كُلَّ مُسْتَلْحَقٍ اسْتُلْحِقَ بَعْدَ أَبِيْهِ الَّذِيْ يُدْعٰى لَهٗ إِدَّعَاهُ وَرَثَتُهٗ فَقَضٰى أَنَّ كُلَّ مَنْ كَانَ مِنْ أَمَةٍ يَمْلِكُهَا يَوْمَ أَصَابَهَا فَقَدْ لَحِقَ بِمَنِ اسْتَلْحَقَهٗ وَلَيْسَ لَهٗ مِمَّا قُسِمَ قَبْلَهٗ مِنَ الْمِيْرَاثِ شَيْءٌ وَمَا أَدْرَكَ مِنْ مِيْرَاثٍ لَمْ يُقْسَمْ فَلَهٗ نَصِيْبُهٗ وَلَا يُلْحَقُ إِذَا كَانَ أَبُوْهُ الَّذِيْ يُدْعٰى لَهٗ أَنْكَرَهٗ فَإِنْ كَانَ مِنْ أَمَةٍ لَمْ يَمْلِكْهَا أَوْ مِنْ حُرَّةٍ عَاهَرَ بِهَا فَإِنَّهٗ لَا يَلْحَقُ وَلَا يَرِثُ وَإِنْ كَانَ الَّذِيْ يُدْعٰى لَهٗ هُوَ الَّذِيْ إِدَّعَاهُ فَهُوَ وَلَدُ زِنْيَةٍ مِنْ حُرَّةٍ كَانَ أَوْ أَمَةٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

inheritance with those only who include him).[1]
But he will get no share of the inheritance that has been divided beforehand. He will, nevertheless, get his portion of inheritance that has not been divided till then. However, if the father to whom he is attributed had disowned him (in his lifetime) then he is not joined to the heirs (even if they seek to join him and he will not be his heir). Again, if he is the child of a female slave whom the father had not owned (but had committed adultery with someone else's female slave) , or (the child) of a free woman with whom he had committed adultery, then he is not joined to the heirs and will not inherit even if the man (meaning the father) to whom he is attributed had claimed (paternity of) him, because he is a child of adultery whether his mother was a free woman or a slave.[2]

COMMENTARY: Khattabi رحمه الله said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had imposed these command in early Islam. The female slave in those days were lewd and salacious. They had illicit sexual relationship with different men and also their master, When they bore a child there were many claimants to it. The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم imposed these commands to put an end to these bickerings.

The hadith may be explained by a example. Suppose that Zayd died. His heirs joined a boy with him. Their claim would be accepted and the boy would be attributed to Zayd and he will regarded as eligible to his portion of inheritance. However, this will be done only

(i) if the boy was born to a female slave who has been owned by Zayd who must have had a sexual intercourse in a legal manner. Or,
(ii) if the boy was born to a free woman who was Zayd's wife, and,
(iii) Zayd, too, may have confirmed during his life time, "This is my son."

Moreover, as stated in the hadith, the boy will have right of inheritance only with those heirs who have made the claim to include him. If all of them have made this claim then he will have the right of inheritance from all of the heirs. If only some had made the claim then he will have the right from these some heirs.

Furthermore, the boy will have a share of inheritance only in what which has not been distributed. He will have no share in that which has been divided before the claim to include him.

On the contrary, if Zayd had disowned this boy during his life time and had said, "He is not my son." Then even if the heirs agree to include him with them then too he will not be eligible to join them and he will get no share of inheritance.

In the same way, if the boy was born to a female slave whom Zayd did not own (as in the hadith # 3312 of Sayyidah Ayshash رضى الله عنها about the son of Zam'ah), or to a free woman who was not Zayd's wife - meaning, he was born out wedlock because of Zayd's adultery - then too he will not be included with Zayd's heirs and he will not be eligible to get any part of Zayd's inheritance.

In fact, even if Zayd had, in his life, included him among his heirs as his son, then too he will not be regarded as an heir because a child born out of wedlock is not recognized as a fornicator's relative or included in his lineage and he cannot be a fornicator's heirs.

JEALOUSY & PRIDE

(٣٣١٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَتِيْكٍ اَنَّ نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مِنَ الْغَيْرَةِ مَا يُحِبُّ اللّٰهُ وَمِنْهَا مَا يُبْغِضُ اللّٰهُ فَاَمَّا الَّتِيْ يُحِبُّهَا اللّٰهُ فَالْغَيْرَةُ فِي الرِّيْبَةِ وَاَمَّا الَّتِيْ يُبْغِضُهَا اللّٰهُ فَالْغَيْرَةُ فِيْ غَيْرِ رِيْبَةٍ وَاِنَّ مِنَ الْخُيَلَاءِ مَا يُبْغِضُ اللّٰهُ وَمِنْهَا مَا يُحِبُّ اللّٰهُ فَاَمَّا الْخُيَلَاءُ الَّتِيْ يُحِبُّ اللّٰهُ فَاخْتِيَالُ الرَّجُلِ عِنْدَ الْقِتَالِ وَاخْتِيَالُهٗ عِنْدَ الصَّدَقَةِ وَاَمَّا الَّتِيْ يُبْغِضُ اللّٰهُ فَاخْتِيَالُهٗ فِي الْفَخْرِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ فِي الْبَغْيِ۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد والنسائی)

3319. Sayyiduna Jabir ibn Atik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم of Allah said, "Of jealously (concerning one's wife and one's female slave) there is what Allah loves and there is what Allah detests. As for the kind that He loves, it rises about a matter of doubt. And, as for the one that Allah detests, it rises without a cause of doubt. (The former is like when a husband sees his wife or female slave with a stranger and the latter is when he does not see such a thing, but lets his imagination run wild.)

Also, there is pride that Allah loves and pride that Ailah detests. As for the pride that Allah loves it is a man's pride when he fights (in jihad against the infidel to demonstrate his strength and courage) and man's pride when giving sadaqah (charity) (for Allah's sake happily). And, as for the pride that Allah detests, it is boasting (on one's lineage)."

According to another version:

(instead of 'boasting) 'it is oppression (and cruelty to others).'[1]

COMMENTARY: If a man goes on boasting on his high pedigree, Allah does not like it. Allah likes excellence and superiority in only religion. He says:

اِنَّ اَكْرَمَكُمْ عِنْدَ اللّٰهِ اَتْقٰكُمْ

{Surely, the most honourable of you in the sight of Allah is the most reverential (pious) of you} (49: 13)

PROUD POOR: In one copy of the Mishkat the words are (فی الفقر) instead of (فی الفخر). The pride that Allah does not like is the arrogance of the poor. He detests that a poor man should be proud over his contentment, patience and trust in Allah. The ulama (Scholars) say that this kind of pride is worse than the arrogance of the rich on his wealth. However, a poor man's pride is disliked by Allah when it is displayed against the poor people. But if it is shown to the rich, or the arrogant, then it is desirable because this kind of pride is called sadaqh.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

FORNICATOR HAS NO RIGHT TO THE CHILD

(٣٣٢٠) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ قَامَ رَجُلٌ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّ فُلَانًا ابْنِيْ عَاهَرْتُ بِاُمِّهٖ فِي الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا دِعْوَةَ فِي الْاِسْلَامِ ذَهَبَ اَمْرُ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ الْوَلَدُ لِلْفِرَاشِ وَلِلْعَاهِرِ الْحَجَرُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

[1] Abu Dawud # 2659, Nasa'i # 2558, Darimi # 2226, Musnad Ahmad 5-445.

3320. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb reported from his father (Shu'ayb) رحمه الله from his grandfather (Abdullah ibn Amr) صلی الله علیه وسلم that a man stood up and said, 'O Messenger of Allah, so and so is my son. I did have illicit intercourse with his mother during the jahiliyan." Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "There is no claim in Islam for what has passed during the jahliyah. (That may have been a valid claim in the pre-Islamic period but it is not recognised in Islam.) The child belongs to him on whose bad it is born (or was conceived). And, for the fornicator is deprival or stoning to death."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Sahib ul firash (صاحب الفراش) owner of the bed refers to the husband or master of the mother of the illicit child. When she bears a child, it is attributed to her husband or master. If she is not married to anyone and is not anyone's slave, then the child will be attributed to herself. The fornicator has no relation at all with the child.

LI'AN IS NOT OBSERVED WITH FOUR WOMEN

(٣٣٢١) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَرْبَعٌ مِنَ النِّسَاءِ لَا مُلَاعَنَةَ بَيْنَهُنَّ النَّصْرَانِيَّةُ تَحْتَ الْمُسْلِمِ وَالْيَهُوْدِيَّةُ تَحْتَ الْمُسْلِمِ وَالْحُرَّةُ تَحْتَ الْمَمْلُوْكِ وَالْمَمْلُوْكَةُ تَحْتَ الْحُرِّ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

3321. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father from his grand father (Abdullah ibn Amr) رضی الله عنه that the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said that there are four kinds of women between whom (and their husbands) li'an is not observed. (They are:) a Christian woman who is married to a Muslim, a Jewess who is married to a Muslim, a freewoman who is married to a slave and a slave woman who is married to a freeman."[2]

COMMENTARY: If a husband accuses his wife of having had illicit sexual relationship with another man and she is a Christian woman, a Jewess or a slave woman then li'an cannot be observed between them. Similarly, if he is a slave and his wife is a freewoman, li'an cannot be observed between them. The reason is that li'an is a testimony. So both partners must be such that their testimony is recognized in Shari'ah (divine law). However a male or female slave and a disbeliever are not of this category. Their testimony is not reliable in Shari'ah (divine law).

(٣٣٢٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَمَرَ رَجُلًا حِيْنَ اَمَرَ الْمُتَلَاعِنَيْنِ اَنْ يَتَلَاعَنَا اَنْ يَّضَعَ يَدَهُ عِنْدَ الْخَامِسَةِ عَلٰى فِيْهِ وَقَالَ اِنَّهَا مُوْجِبَةٌ۔ (رواه النسائی)

3322. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم ordered two people (husband and wife) to invoke curses on one another. Then he instructed a man to put his hand on the mouth of the husband observing the li'an when he would make the fifth testimony. He said, "It is what makes it wajib (obligatory)." (He mean that the fifth testimony decides the case.)[3]

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 2274.

[2] Ibn Majah # 2076.

[3] Abu Dawud # 2255, Nasa'i # 3472.

COMMENTARY: The aim was to caution the man by placing a hand on his mouth of serious consequences, so the truth might came out. In this way, li'an would not be observed. This, shows that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wished to keep off from the extreme course of li'an and he wished that husband and wife should come out with the truth and settle for the worldly punishment which is wilder than the severe chastisement of the hereafter. The worldly punishment is the hadd.

DEVIL IS WITH EVERYONE

(۳۳۲۳) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَرَجَ مِنْ عِنْدِهَا لَيْلًا قَالَتْ فَغِرْتُ عَلَيْهِ فَجَاءَ فَرَأَى مَا أَصْنَعُ فَقَالَ مَا لَكِ يَا عَائِشَةُ أَغِرْتِ فَقُلْتُ وَمَا لِيَ لَا يَغَارُ مِثْلِي عَلَى مِثْلِكَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَقَدْ جَاءَكِ شَيْطَانُكِ قَالَتْ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ أَمَعِيَ شَيْطَانٌ قَالَ نَعَمْ قُلْتُ وَمَعَكَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ نَعَمْ وَلٰكِنْ أَعَانَنِي اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ حَتّٰى أَسْلَمَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3323. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that once during the night of (Sha'ban). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went out from her. She felt jealous concerning him. So, when he returned and observed her condition, he asked, "What is wrong with you, O Ayshah? Are you jealous?" She said "Shall not one like me be jealous about one like you?" He said, "your devil has come to you (and pushed you in doubt)." She asked, "O Messenger of Allah, do I have a devil?" He said, "Yes!" She asked. O Messenger of Allah, is there a devil with you too? He said, "Yes, but Allah helps me against him so that I am safe from him (or, so that he has become a Muslim subservient to me)."

COMMENTARY: On the night of the fifteenth Sha'ban the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went out from the house of Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا to the Jannatul Baqi, the graveyard in Madinah, to consign reward to the dead and pray for their forgiveness.
However, Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا thought that he had gone to another of his wives. The devil had put this idea into her mind. She turned jealous, got up and followed him till she realized where he was headed. She hurried back home and was panting when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم returned find her gasping for breath. Then he exchange of conversation, as in the hadith, followed.

CHAPTER - XVI

IDDAH بَابُ الْعِدَّةِ

(Iddah is a period after divorce or the death of her husband for which a woman must wait before re-marrying (to ensure that there is no confusion about the paternity of children).] - Muwatta Imam Maalik.
The dictionary meaning of iddah is 'to count.' In the terminology of Shariah, iddah is a specified period (which will be explained in the following lines) for which a widow or a divorcee must stay in her home. Till such time as this period is over, she must not get any where not meet any (stranger) man, but after the period expires, she may go wherever she likes and remarry at will. This period begins when her husband divorces her or their marriage breaks because of Khula, eela or otherwise, or any thing like marriage (e.g. nikkah fasid) breaks, provided the husband and wife must have had sexual intercourse or been alone in the true sense. Or, the period begins when the husband dies.

THE PERIOD OF IDDAH: The period of waiting of a freewoman whom her husband has divorced, or whose marriage is annulled (nikah (wedlock) fasid) , and she experiences menstruation, is till she gets three menses. She will reside in her husband house where she was divorced, and she will not go out of it nor marry any other man. Similarly, if sexual intercourse is had with a woman in doubt (by mistake) , then her iddah too is till she experiences three menstruations. It means that if a man mistakes a woman for his wife and has sexual intercourse with her, then she too will have to observe iddah till she experiences three menstruations and will not let her husband have sexual intercourse with her till her iddah is over.

The iddah of the woman whose invalid marriage is terminated, like a time-defined marriage, and they are separated, or her husband dies before they are separated, is also till she experiences three menstruations. The iddah is the same - till three menses are experienced - of an umm walad when she is set free or her master expires.

If a woman does not get menses because she is undergo, or barren, or old, then her iddah is three months.

If the husband of a free woman dies, then her iddah is four months and ten days. This is irrespective of:

- whether they have had sexual intercourse or not,
- whether she is a Muslim or a Jewess or a Christian woman married to a Muslim,
- whether she is adult or minor,
- or she is in menopause,
- whether her husband is a freeman or a slave,
- or, she experiences menses during her waiting period or not.

The iddah of a pregnant woman is till she bears the child, whether her husband has divorced her or has died, whether she is a free woman or a female slave. Her iddah expires the moment a child is born to her, even if it is immediately after her husband divorces her or dies. In fact, it is stated in kitab Mabsut that if the husband of a pregnant woman dies and is being given a bath or is being shrouded, and she delivers a child, then her iddah is deemed to be over.

A SLAVE WOMAN: If a woman is not a free woman but someone's female slave and her husband divorces her then her iddah if she gets her menses is till she get them twice, but if she does not menstruate, then her iddah is a month and a half. If her husband dies, then her iddah is for two months and five days whether she gets the menses or not.

THE COMMENCEMENT OF IDDAH: When a woman is divorced, her iddah begins after the divorce. The three menstruations after that will be counted. If any one divorces his wife while she is menstruating, then that menstruation will not be counted, but the three menstruations after that will be reckoned.

When a woman's husband dies, then iddah will be reckoned from the death of the husband.

If a woman does not learn of her divorce or her husband's death and the period of iddah is over then her iddah will be deemec' to have been observed. Books of figh may be consulted for further information.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

MAINTENANCE DURING IDDAH

(٣٣٢٤) عَنْ اَبِيْ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ فَاطِمَةَ بِنْتِ قَيْسٍ اَنَّ اَبَا عَمْرِو بْنَ حَفْصٍ طَلَّقَهَا الْبَتَّةَ وَهُوَ غَائِبٌ فَاَرْسَلَ اِلَيْهَا وَكِيْلُهُ الشَّعِيْرَ فَسَخِطَتْهُ فَقَالَ وَاللّٰهِ مَالَكِ عَلَيْنَا مِنْ شَيْءٍ فَجَاءَتْ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَذَكَرَتْ ذٰلِكَ لَهُ فَقَالَ لَيْسَ لَكِ نَفَقَةٌ فَاَمَرَهَا اَنْ تَعْتَدَّ فِيْ بَيْتِ اُمِّ شَرِيْكٍ ثُمَّ قَالَ تِلْكَ امْرَاَةٌ يَغْشَاهَا اَصْحَابِيْ اِعْتَدِّيْ عِنْدَ ابْنِ اُمِّ مَكْتُوْمٍ فَاِنَّهُ رَجُلٌ اَعْمٰى تَضَعِيْنَ ثِيَابَكِ فَاِذَا اَحْلَلْتِ فَاٰذِنِيْنِيْ قَالَتْ فَلَمَّا حَلَلْتُ ذَكَرْتُ لَهُ اَنَّ مُعَاوِيَةَ ابْنَ اَبِيْ سُفْيَانَ وَاَبَا جَهْمٍ خَطَبَانِيْ فَقَالَ اَمَّا اَبُو الْجَهْمِ فَلَا يَضَعُ عَصَاهُ عَنْ عَاتِقِهٖ وَاَمَّا مُعَاوِيَةُ فَصُعْلُوْكٌ لَا مَالَ لَهُ اِنْكِحِيْ اُسَامَةَ بْنَ زَيْدٍ فَكَرِهْتُهُ ثُمَّ قَالَ اِنْكِحِيْ اُسَامَةَ فَنَكَحْتُهُ فَجَعَلَ اللّٰهُ فِيْهِ خَيْرًا وَّاغْتُبِطْتُ، وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ عَنْهَا فَاَمَّا اَبُوْ جَهْمٍ فَرَجُلٌ ضَرَّابٌ لِلنِّسَاءِ رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ اَنَّ زَوْجَهَا طَلَّقَهَا ثَلَاثًا فَاَتَتِ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ لَا نَفَقَةَ لَكِ اِلَّا اَنْ تَكُوْنِيْ حَامِلًا۔

3324. Sayyiduna Abu Salamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (Sayyidah) Fatimah bint Qayss رضی اللہ عنہا informed him that (Sayyiduna) Abu Amr ibn Hafs رضی اللہ عنہ divorced her al-Battah (which is an absolute divorce with three pronouncement) while he himself was not present (being away and having conveyed the message at the hands of someone else). Then his agent (or representative) sent her some barley. She was angry at him (because she regarded it as not enough) , but he swore by Allah that she had no right on them (and whatever she was given an act of kindness). She came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and related to him all that. He said, "You have no claim to maintenance," and he instructed her to spend her iddah at the house of Umm Sharik رضی اللہ عنہ. But, again, he said, "That is a woman at whose house my companions meet (being her relatives and children). So, spend the iddah at the house of Ibn Umm Maktum. He is a blind man and you can keep your garments there. When it becomes lawful for you to remarry (on completion of your iddah) , inform me."

She added, "when I was out of the iddah, I mentioned it to him that Mu'awiyah ibn Abu Sufyan رضی اللہ عنہما and Abu Jahm رضی اللہ عنہ had proposed marriage to me. And, he said, 'Abu Jahm never puts his stick aside from his shoulder and Mu'awiyah is a poor man without any property. So, marry Usmah ibn Zayd. 'But, I expressed my dislike, and he persisted, 'Marry Usamah.' So, I married him." Allah caused blessing in it and she was envied. (The two of them loved one another and were an 'ideal couple, so people envied them).

According to another version she reported: (The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said:) "Abu Jahm is a man who beats woman."

According to another version: Her husband divorced her with three pronouncements of divorce. When she came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم he said, "There is no maintenance for you unless you are pregnant." (In that case maintenance will be wajib (obligatory))[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said to her that she might be able to keep her garments at the house of Sayyiduna Ibn Umm Maktum رضى الله عنه , because he was a blind man. This because he was a blind man. This means that she would not have to be careful about observing the veil. Or, "as long as you observe the iddah there, do not don garments of adornment." Or, it is a figurative way of saying. "Do not go out of the house during your iddah, for, it is not allowed to do so."

Allamah (The learned Scholar) Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that some scholars have deduced from this hadith that a woman is permitted to look at strangers (men), provided they do not see her, but, this deduction is weak and the correct thing is what most ulama (Scholars) say, 'it is forbidden both t o men and to women to look at the strangers among each other.' Allah has given the same command to both men and woman:

قُلْ لِّلْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ يَغُضُّوا مِنْ اَبْصَارِهِمْ (الاية)

{Say to the believing men that they should lower their gaze....} (24: 30)

وَقُلْ لِّلْمُؤْمِنٰتِ يَغْضُضْنَ مِنْ اَبْصَارِهِنَّ

{And say to the believing woman that they should lower their gaze...} (28: 31)

Moreover, the hadith of Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضى الله عنها concerning Sayyiduna Ibn Umm Maktum رضى الله عنه relative to this subject is a very strong evidence. She narrated that she and Sayyiduan Maymunah رضى الله عنه were both seated with the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم when Ibn Umm Maktum رضى الله عنه came towards him. So, he said to both of them, his wives, "veil yourselves." Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضى الله عنها submitted, "He is blind!" She meant that he would not be able to see them. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked them:

اَفَعَمْيَاوَانِ اَنْتُمَا اَلَسْتُمَا تُبْصِرَانِهِ

"Are the two of you blind? Do you not see him?"

Given these evidences, certainly, the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had never made it lawful for Sayyidah Fatimah رضى الله عنها to look at Ibn Umm Maktum رضى الله عنه. His only aim was that she would be safe there because no one would look at her there. At for her, she knew the command of Allah that a woman must not look at strangers (men). Hence, she would not look at Ibn Umm Maktum رضى الله عنه.

Anyway, as for the contention of some ulama (Scholars) on the basis of the hadith about Sayyidah Fatimah رضى الله عنه that a woman may see unknown men, most of the ulama (Scholars) have given this rejoinder (as in the foregoing lines).

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله holds that a woman may look at a stranger but not at the portion from his navel to his knees, provided she is safe from being t empted sexually. If she is not sae from her sexual desires being aroused then it is forbidden to her to look at the entire body of a stranger man.

The reference to Abu Jahm رضى الله عنه never putting aside his stick means that he was very strict and severe and short tempered. He beat women and it was not possible for Sayyidah

Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہا to adjust and adopt herself to his temperament. We learn from this that if anyone is aware of a shortcoming or defect in someone then it is proper for him to disclose it to the man or woman who contemplates marriage with him or her so that none of them goes through an ordeal after their marriage.
Sayyidah Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہا first declined to marry Sayyiduna Usamah رضی اللہ عنہ because he was the son of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم slave and he was black while she was a beautiful Quraysh woman. But, Sayyiduna Usamah رضی اللہ عنہ was dear to the Prophet and was very near to him, so he asked her again to marry him. Thus, she did not think it proper to decline a second time. She obeyed the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and married him. Allah caused their marriage to prosper and she found peace and comfort in their married life.
The ulama (Scholars) differ on whether a woman who has been divorced absolutely (with three pronouncements) is entitled to maintenance and lodging from her husband if she is not pregnant.
Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ and some other ulama (Scholars) hold that it is wajib (obligatory) for the husband to provide her provision and lodging. Lodging is established from this verse:

أَسْكِنُوهُنَّ مِنْ حَيْثُ سَكَنتُم مِّن وُجْدِكُمْ

{House them where you house yourselves according to your means} (65: 6)

It is wjib to do so, in the sight of fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), because that woman sits through the iddah enduring all restrictions for the sake of her husband.
Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ also held this contention. In fact he said of this hadith, "We cannot neglect the Book of Allah and the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) (which assert that maintenance and lodging are wajib (obligatory), on the man divorces, for the divorcee) simply because a woman (Fatimah bint Qays) says so (that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to her that her husband was not liable to provide her the maintenance and residence). Perhaps, she may have misunderstood his words or may have forgotten what he had said, Indeed, I have myself heard the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say that the maintenance and lodging of this woman is the responsibility of the husband."
However, Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said this had happened in the knowledge of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم (none of whom renounced her statement). So, it amounts to consensus.
Imam Ahmad رضی اللہ عنہ says that neither is maintenance nor lodging for the woman wajib (obligatory) on the husband. He cites this hadith.
Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and some ulama (Scholars) rule that on the basis of this verse (65: 6) ... (اسکنوھن) {House them.....}, it is wajib (obligatory) to provide residence to the woman, but not wajib (obligatory) to provide maintenance.
If the woman is divorced while she was pregnant, then maintenance for her will be wajib (obligatory) in the light of this hadith.

According to another version: She wondered, "what is wrong with Fatimah? Does she not fear Allah?" neither was lodging wajib (obligatory) nor maintenance.[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyidah Fatimah bint Qays رضی الله عنها lodged after her divorce in the house that was situated in a very lonely place. Since there was a constant fear or prowlers, so the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم allowed her to shift to the house of Ibn Umm Maktum رضی الله عنه. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها said about it, "Let no one presume by this that there is no residence for a divorced woman (who is divorced with three pronouncements) and she might spend her iddah at any place she liked. Rather, Fatimah had a reason to do so."

The second version quotes Sayyidah, Ayshah رضی الله عنها as saying that Fatimah رضی الله عنه was mistaken in ascribing the words to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم that there is no maintenance and no lodging for a divorced woman.

In other words, Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها had the same view as Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه had. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله abides by their opinion that a woman who is divorced with talaq ba'in is entitled to residence and maintenance.

3326. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn Al-Musayyib رضی الله عنه said, "Fatimah was moved (from her husband's home during her iddah) only because she was sharp tongued against her husband's relatives."[2]

COMMENTARY: This there were two reasons for Sayyidah Fatimah رضی الله عنها to be moved out from from her husband's residence. These are outlined in the hadith (# 3325 and 3226)

WHAT IF THERE IS A PRESSING NEED TO GO OUT DURING IDDAH

(٣٣٢٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ طُلِّقَتْ خَالَتِيْ ثَلَاثًا فَأَرَادَتْ أَنْ تَجُدَّ نَخْلَهَا فَزَجَرَهَا رَجُلٌ أَنْ تَخْرُجَ فَأَتَتِ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ بَلٰى فَجُدِّيْ نَخْلَكِ فَإِنَّهٗ عَسٰى أَنْ تَصَدَّقِيْ أَوْ تَفْعَلِيْ مَعْرُوْفًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3327. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that his maternal aunt was divorced with three pronouncements (so she restrained herself in the iddah). She intended (one day) to cut down dates from her palm trees. But, one man forbade her to go out. So, she came to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم (and told him about it). He said, "Of course, cut down dates from your palm trees because you may perhaps make a sadaqah (charity) (and give them in charity), or perform a kind deed."[3]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم meant to say that if the dates were enough to attract zakah (Annual due charity), then 'you will pay their zakah (Annual due charity). If they are below the nisab, then 'you will show kindness to your neighbour and the poor by given them optional sadaqah (charity),' or 'you will present them as gifts to them.'

In other words, if she were not to give the sadaqah (charity), then it was not allowed to her to go out of the house.
Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that a woman who observes iddah after being divorced wit h three pronouncements is allowed to go out of the house to attend to any need.
The ruling of the Hanafis in this regard will be mentioned against the hadith of Sayyidah Umm Atiyah رضی الله عنها (hadith # 3331).

PREGNANT WOMAN'S IDDAH

(٣٣٢٨) وَعَنِ الْمِسْوَرِ بْنِ مَخْرَمَةَ أَنَّ سُبَيْعَةَ الْأَسْلَمِيَّةَ نُفِسَتْ بَعْدَ وَفَاةِ زَوْجِهَا بِلَيَالٍ فَجَاءَتِ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاسْتَأْذَنَتْهُ أَنْ تَنْكِحَ فَأَذِنَ لَهَا فَنَكَحَتْ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3328. Sayyiduna Al-Miswar ibn Makhramah رضی الله عنه narrated that some nights after the death of her husband, Sayyidah Sabi'ah Al-Aslamiyah رضی الله عنها gave birth to a child. After that, she went to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and sought his permission to marry. He gave her permission and she married.[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyidah Sabi'ah Al-Aslamiyah was pregnant when her husband died. However, a few days thereafter, she gave birth to a child.
The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave her permission to marry again when she sought his permission.
The ulama (Scholars) say that when a woman is pregnant and her husband dies or divorces her, then the iddah is over the moment she gives birth to a child. She is then at liberty to marry, if she so desires. In fact, this may happen shortly after her husband's death or his divorcing her.

COLLYRIUM MUST NOT BE APPLIED DURING IDDAH

(٣٣٢٩) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ جَاءَتِ امْرَأَةٌ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَتْ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّ بِنْتِيْ تُوُفِّيَ عَنْهَا زَوْجُهَا وَقَدِ اشْتَكَتْ عَيْنُهَا أَفَنَكْحُلُهَا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا مَرَّتَيْنِ أَوْ ثَلَاثًا كُلُّ ذٰلِكَ يَقُوْلُ لَا ثُمَّ قَالَ إِنَّمَا هِيَ أَرْبَعَةُ أَشْهُرٍ وَعَشْرٌ وَقَدْ كَانَتْ إِحْدَاكُنَّ فِي الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ تَرْمِيْ بِالْبَعْرَةِ عَلَى رَأْسِ الْحَوْلِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3329. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی الله عنها narrated that a woman came to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and said, "O Messenger of Allah, my daughter! Her husband has died (so that she is observing the iddah) and her eyes ache. May we apply collyrium to it?" He said, "No!" - twice or thrice (on her repeated asking) , "No" each time. Then he exclaimed, "That is merely for four months and ten days while, indeed, during the jahiliyah (ignorance period). One of you could throw away the piece of dung only after one year had passed."[2]

[1] Bukhari # 5320, Nasa'i # 3506, Ibn Majah # 2029, Musnad Ahmad 4. 327.

[2] Bukhari # 5336, Muslim # 1488, Abu Dawud # 2299, Nasa'i # 3138, Ibn Majah # 2084, (The Arabic copy of Mishkat has the words at the end (بعد لات زوجها) (After the death of her husband).

COMMENTARY: Imam Ahmad رحمه الله hold that a woman who observes the iddah may not apply collyrium, if the iddah is after her husband's death – not even if her eyes ache and not for adornment.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Maalik رحمه الله hold that if there is a compulsion, like an ailment, then it is allowed to apply collyrium.

Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله holds that when there is some trouble in the eyes, a woman may apply collyrium in her eyes at night but clean it off during the day.

The Hanafis say about this hadith that this woman had pretended that her eyes pained. Actually, she wished to grace herself with collyrium and the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم know the facts, so he disallowed her.

In pre-Islamic days, when a man died, his wife was consigned to a narrow and dark cell. She wore very rough, coarse clothing and could use no kind of make up, not even perfume. When, after one year, the day of her release arrived, a donkey, a goat or any other animal or a bird was brought to her and she scratched her vagina with one of these animals or birds. Then she was brought out of the cell and she was handed over some dung which she had to throw away that marked the end of her iddah.

So, considering that, the iddah in Islam is meager.

MOURNING DURING IDDAH

(٣٣٣٠) وَعَنْ أُمِّ حَبِيْبَةَ وَزَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ جَحْشٍ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَحِلُّ لِامْرَأَةٍ تُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ اَنْ تُحِدَّ عَلٰى مَيِّتٍ فَوْقَ ثَلَاثِ لَيَالٍ إِلَّا عَلٰى زَوْجٍ أَرْبَعَةَ أَشْهُرٍ وَعَشْرًا۔ (متفق عليه)

3330. Sayyiduna Umm Habibah رضى الله عنها and Sayyidah Zaynab bint Jahsh رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "It is not lawful for the woman who believes in Allah and the Last Day that she should mourn for more than three nights over any one who has died, except over husband for four months and ten days."[1]

COMMENTARY: To mourn is to abstain from adorning oneself, applying perfume, collyrium, etc. It is not allowed to mourn for anyone, other than a husband, for more than three days. A woman must, however, mourn for her husband for four months and ten days, that is, during the iddah (waiting period), it being wajib (obligatory) on her.

Most scholars say that a woman's iddah (waiting period) begins with her husband's death. Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه however, said that iddah (waiting period) will commerce when a woman learns of her husband's death.

Accordingly, if a woman's husband dies and she does not know of it so that four months and ten day s go by too, then the majority of the ulama (Scholars) hold that her iddah (waiting period) is over. However, according to what Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه says, her iddah (waiting period) will not have been observed at all. Rather, when she learns of his death, it will commence and last for four months and ten days from that time.

طَهُرَتْ نُبْذَةً مِنْ قُسْطٍ اَوْ اَظْفَارٍ۔ متفق علیه وزاد ابوداؤد وَلَا تَخْتَضِبُ۔

3331. Sayyidah Umm Atiyah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger said, "A woman must not observe mourning for a dead person more than three days, except for a husband for (whom she must mourn for) four months and ten days. And, she must not wear (during these day s of iddah (waiting period)) any dyed garment other than 'asb nor apply collyrium not touch perfume, except, when she is purified (from menses). Some qust or azfar." Abu Dawud adds: "And not apply henna."[1]

COMMENTARY: Dyed garments are those that are dyed in bright colours and are very showy - of Saffron, Safflower, r ed-dyed, etc. Those are generally worn to adorn oneself. But, if a woman does not have any other garment then she may wear these colours because she has to over her body anyway At any rate she must not use them to adorn herself 'Asb was a particular kind of clock during those days. It was from Yemen. The cloth was dyed before being woven. It was dyed in Safflower so that it turned red and had white stripes because the portion that was fastened at an end before being dyed turned white. So, this kind of dyed garment is allowed to the woman in her iddah (waiting period).

If a cloth is dyed after being woven then it turns into bright red safflower and it is disallowed by Shari'ah (divine law).

Ibn Hammam رحمہ اللہ says that our (Hanafi) Ulama (Scholars) say that for a woman observing the iddah (waiting period), it is not proper to wear the asb too.

Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ says that she is allowed to wear it (asb) whether it is thick or fine.

Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ permits thick asb but not fine asb.

The different opinions of the scholars about applying collyrium have been presented in a commentary against the hadith of Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا (# 3329)

Ibn Hammam رحمہ اللہ that (according to the Hanafis) a woman observing idah may apply collyrium when it is absolutely unavoidable but not otherwise.

Qut, and azfar are perfumes of a kind. Qust is costus or an aromatic wood - awd or aloes wood. Generally, woman and children use it as incense. Kirmani said that qust is awd hindi. Azfar is a perfume.

In those days, women used both these perfumes after purifying themselves from menstruation, to remove the bad odour. Thus, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم allowed such a woman to use it on purifying herself but apart from that a woman observing iddah (waiting period) is disallowed to use these perfumes.

MOURNING: This hadith says that it is wajib (obligatory) for the woman observing the iddah (waiting period) on the death of her husband to keep in mourning. The ulama (Scholars) are unanimous about it, but their opinion differ on the nature of the mourning.

Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and the majority of the ulama (Scholars) say that it is wajib (obligatory) on every woman who is in iddah (waiting period) to mourn her husband after his death. This applies to every woman with whom he did have sexual intercourse or did not have it whether she is minor or major, virgin or not, freewoman or slave girl, Muslim or infidel.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ said that mourning is not wajib (obligatory) on seven kinds of women. According to Durr ul Mukhtar, they are:

(i) a disbelieving woman,

[1] Bukhari # 5341, Muslim # 66-938, Abu Dawud # 2302, Nasa'i # 3536, Musnad Ahmad 5. 85

(ii) an insane woman,
(iii) a minor,
(iv) an umm walad who is in iddah (waiting period) because her master has set her free, or he has died,
(v) a woman whose marriage was invalid (so observes the iddah (waiting period)) ,
(vi) a woman with whom a stranger had sexual intercourse out of doubt (or by mistake) taking her to be his wife.
(vii) a woman who observes talq raj'I (revocable divorce).

OTHER THAN HUSBAND: As mentioned in the hadith, a woman is not permitted to mourn any man other than her husband more than three days, Besides, even these many days, it is merely permitted but not wajib (obligatory) to mourn him for three days. Moreover, if her husband does not permit her in mourn any man even the three days, then he has a right to do so because a wife's adornment is for her husband only. If she does not abandon mourning and does not adorn herself when he asks her to do that, hen he is allowed to beat her because if she mourns, the husband's right is ignored.

COMMANDS & RULINGS FOR MOURNING: As for a woman who is divorced with a talaq raj'I (revocable divorce) , her iddah (waiting period) is merely to confine herself at home for the specified period and not marry any other man. She may adorn and beautify herself.

The woman who is adult and sane and a Muslim must confine herself in her house all through her iddah (waiting period), not contract another marriage and not beautify herself, if she has been divorced by three pronouncements, or one talaq ba'in (irrevocable and final divorce) , or their marriage breaks in some way or other, or her husband dies. All the things mentioned here (for her not to do) are forbidden to her.

Mourning is to not beauty and to don dirty clothing.

These things are forbidden to a woman during her iddah (waiting period) till it lasts: applying perfume, wearing jewelery and ornaments and flowers, applying collyrium, eating betel leaves to redden the lips, rubbing red lead to darken the lips, applying oil to hair, combing hair, applying henna, donning nice garment and dyed, silken and bright clothing.

However, when there is a dire need, or it is unavoidable, then there is no harm if any of these things is done. If she has a headache and it is necessary to apply hair oil then she may do so but should not use perfumed hair oil. In the same way, she may apply collyrium when her eyes ache.

If any woman's marriage was not valid and was annulled, or her husband dies, then it is not wajib (obligatory) for this woman to go into mourning.

If a woman observed iddah (waiting period) on being set free, like an umm walad whose master sets her free so she confines herself in an iddah (waiting period), then it is not wajib (obligatory) on her to mourn.

If an woman observes iddah (waiting period), then it is not allowed to send her proposal of marriage. But, it is allowed to make a reference to it, like saying. "I wish to marry her," provided the woman is observing the iddah (waiting period) for death of her husband. But, if have iddah (waiting period) follows a divorce then it is not allowed to even make a hint of one's desire to marry her.

A woman who observes an iddah (waiting period) following a divorce is never permitted to go out of her house, at all. But, she whose iddah (waiting period) follows her husband's death may go out of the house during the day and up to same of the night, she must not spend the night anywhere other than her house.

A female slave is allowed to go out of the house to attend to her master's work.

The woman who observes the iddah (waiting period) must spend the days of her iddah (waiting period) in the same house where she was residing at the time of annulment (of marriage) , divorce or death of her husband. However, if she is forced to vaccate the house or there is fear losing her property in that house or the house is likely to collapse, or she is unable to pay the rent of the house - then, in these cases, it is allowed to spend the iddah (waiting period) in another house.

There is no harm if husband and wife stay in he same house even of she is observing iddah (waiting period) after talaq ba'in (irrevocable divorce), provided they are separated by a screen. If the husband is a sinner and an unreliable man or the house is small, then the woman may shift from the house, though it is preferable for the husband to move to another house. If the two of them, when staying in the same house, keep a reliable woman with them who is capable of keeping them apart then it is very good.

If husband and wife are travelling together and he divorces her during the journey (a talaq ba'in or with three pronouncements of divorce) or he dies and her home town is at a distance of less than three days journey which is called a Shari'ah (divine law) journey) , then she may return to her home town. However, if her place is at a distance of three day s journey or more than that, but her destination (where they had intended to go when they began their journey) is at a shorter distance then she must go to the destination instead of going to her home town. In both these options, her guardian may or may not be with her. The better course, in any case, would be for the woman, if she is in a city at the time of divorce or widowhood, not to depart from it without spending her iddah (waiting period) there. If she departs then it is imperative that she has a mahram with her.

However, the sahibayn, meaning Imam Abu Yusuf and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله contend that if she has a mahram with her, then she may depart from there even before her iddah (waiting period).

NOT ALLOWED TO MOVE UNNECESSARILY DURING IDDAH (WAITING PERIOD)

3332. Sayyidah Zaynab bint رضی الله عنها Ka'b reported that Sayyidah Fari'ah bint Maalik ibn Sinan رضی الله عنها the sister of Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی الله عنه informed her: I went to Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم t o ask him whether I could return to my family, the Banu Khudrah (to spend my iddah (waiting period) with them)

because my husband had gone to search for his runaway slaves but they had killed him. So, I asked Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم if I may return to my folk, for, my husband had not left me in a house belonging to him and he had not left any sustenance. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Yes," So, I went back but while I was yet in the courtyard of the room or the mosque, he called me back and said, "Stay in your home till the prescribed period (iddah (waiting period)) is over." So, I (obey his command and) observed the iddah (waiting period) in it for four month and ten days.[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith emphasizes that a woman observing the iddah (waiting period) must not move from one house to another.

Shaykh us Sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) has it that the ulama (Scholars) differ on whether it is necessary iddah (waiting period) after her husband's death to stay in the house of her husband, or not.

Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله gave two verdicts, the more correct of which says that it is necessary for her to stay in her husband's house.

Sayyiduna Umar رضى الله عنه Uthman رضى الله عنه , Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه and Abdullah ibn Umar رضى الله عنه also held this opinion. They cite this very hadith. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم first permitted Sayyidah Fari'ah رضى الله عنها to move to another house, but then he forbade her to do so and commanded her to spend the iddah (waiting period) in her husband's house. In other words, he abrogated his first approval.

The second verdict of Imam Shafi رحمه الله is that a woman who observes iddah (waiting period) for the death of her husband need stay in the same house. Rather, she may spend the iddah (waiting period) wherever she likes. This is also the opinion of Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه. Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه and Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها. They rely on the permission that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had first granted to Sayyidah 'Fari'ah رضى الله عنها.The second revised command that he gave was of the kind of recommendation.

The ruling of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله will be presented, insha Allah in the chapter on an-Nafaqat in its Introduction (Chapter XVIII).

NO ADORNMENT DURING IDDAH (WAITING PERIOD)

(٣٣٣٣) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ دَخَلَ عَلَيَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حِيْنَ تُوُفِّيَ اَبُوْسَلَمَةَ وَقَدْ جَعَلْتُ عَلَيَّ صَبِرًا فَقَالَ مَا هٰذَا يَا أُمَّ سَلَمَةَ قُلْتُ إِنَّمَا هُوَ صَبِرٌ لَيْسَ فِيْهِ طِيْبٌ فَقَالَ إِنَّهُ يَشُبُّ الْوَجْهَ فَلَا تَجْعَلِيْهِ إِلَّا بِاللَّيْلِ وَتَنْزَعِيْهِ بِالنَّهَارِ وَلَا تَمْتَشِطِي بِالطِّيْبِ وَلَا بِالْحِنَّاءِ فَإِنَّهُ خِضَابٌ قُلْتُ بِأَيِّ شَيْءٍ اَمْتَشِطُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ؟ قَالَ بِالسِّدْرِ تُغَلِّفِيْنَ بِهِ رَاسَكِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائى)

3333. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضى الله عنها narrated: Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم paid me a visit when Abu Salamah رضى الله عنه (my first husband) died. (I was observing the iddah (waiting period).) I had applied on my ace (the juice of) aloes. He asked, "O Umm Salamah, what is it?" I submitted, "It is only (juice of) aloes and it has no scent in it." He said, "But, it brightens the face, so (if you must, then) apply it at night only and wipe it off at day time (because it gives an impression of adornment. Do not comb yourself with scent or with henna, for it is a dye (of red colour)." I submitted, "With what may I comb myself, O Messenger of Allah?" (How may I clean my hair?" He said, "With lote-tree leaves and smear your head with them generously (encasing them as though with a cover)."[1]

COMMENTARY: While the ulama (Scholars) are u nanimous that a woman observing iddah (waiting period) is not allowed to use scented hair oil, they differ on the use of plain, un perfumed oil, like olive oil and sesame seed.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله disallow oil of all kinds, perfumed or not perfumed. However, they relax the prohibition when it becomes absolutely necessary.

Imam Maalik رحمه الله Imam Ahmad رحمه الله and the Zawahir (or Zuhiris) hold that a woman observing iddah (waiting period) is allowed to use un perfumed oil.

(٣٣٣٤) وَعَنْهَا عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْمُتَوَفّٰى عَنْهَا زَوْجُهَا لَا تَلْبَسُ الْمُعَصْفَرَ مِنَ الثِّيَابِ وَلَا الْمُمَشَّقَةَ وَلَا الْحُلِيَّ وَلَا تَخْتَضِبُ وَلَا تَكْتَحِلُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3334. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی الله عنها narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "She whose husband has died must not wear garments dyed with saffron or red ochre, nor may she wear jewellery, nor may she apply henna (on hand, feet and hair) , and collyrium (in the eyes)."[2]

COMMENTARY: If a woman wears dark black or ash coloured clothing the there is no harm in it. It is also allowed to wear garments dyed with saffron over a long period which leaves no perfume. According to the HIdayah, if this woman (observing the iddah (waiting period)) has some problem, like itches, lice, etc. then she is allowed to wear silk too.

MORE ABOUT THE IDDAH (WAITING PERIOD) OF THE DIVORCED

(٣٣٣٥) عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ ابْنِ يَسَارٍ أَنَّ الْأَحْوَصَ هَلَكَ بِالشَّامِ حِيْنَ دَخَلَتِ امْرَأَتُهُ فِي الدَّمِ مِنَ الْحَيْضَةِ الثَّالِثَةِ وَقَدْ كَانَ طَلَّقَهَا فَكَتَبَ مُعَاوِيَةُ بْنُ اَبِيْ سُفْيَانَ اِلٰى زَيْدِ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ يَسْأَلُهُ عَنْ ذٰلِكَ فَكَتَبَ اِلَيْهِ زَيْدٌ اَنَّهَا اِذَا دَخَلَتْ فِي الدَّمِ مِنَ الْحَيْضَةِ الثَّالِثَةِ فَقَدْ بَرِئَتْ مِنْهُ وَبَرِئَ مِنْهَا لَا يَرِثُهَا وَلَا تَرِثُهُ۔ (رواه مالك)

3335. Sayyiduna Sulayman ibn Yasar رضی الله عنه narrated that Al-Ahwas رضی الله عنه died in Syria and at (about) that time, his wife had begun her third menstrual discharge after he had divorced her. So, Mu'awiyah ibn Abu Sufyan رضی الله عنه wrote and asked Zayd ibn Thabit رضی الله عنه about that. Zayd رضی الله عنه wrote to him, "When she began her third menstrual bleeding, she became free from him and he became free from her. He will not inherit from her and she will not inherit from him."[3]

iddah (waiting period) after that. When her third menstrual period began, Ahwas رضی الله عنه died and otherwise she ought to have observed the iddah (waiting period) for four months and ten days on his death. So, Mu'awiyah رضی الله عنه sought counsel from Zayd ibn Thabit رضی الله عنه on whether she would inherit from her husband or not.

Zayd رضی الله عنه replied that when the third menstruation began, her relationship with him terminated the moment the observed blood of her third period and she was liberated from the restrictions of marriage. She was not liable to observe iddah (waiting period) on his death because either her iddah (waiting period) on her divorce had been observed for most of its period or the third (and final) menstruation had begun, and so her iddah (waiting period) was presumed to be over. Hence, if the man alive, he would not have been her heir when the iddah (waiting period) was over, so too when he has died, she cannot inherit him.

Mu'awiyah's رضی الله عنه intention was

(i) either to know if the woman would inherit from Ahwas رضی الله عنه or not,

(ii) or, to know if the woman should finish her iddah (waiting period) when her third menses commenced or she was bound to begin her iddah (waiting period) for the man's death

Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله cites Teebi رحمه الله as saying that this hadith establishes the meaning of (قروء) (Quru) in the verses (2: 228).

وَالْمُطَلَّقٰتُ يَتَرَبَّصْنَ بِاَنْفُسِهِنَّ ثَلٰثَةَ قُرُوْٓءٍ۔ (البقرة٢: ٢٢٨)

{Divorced woman shall keep themselves waiting for three periods....} (2: 228)

Teebi رحمه الله says that Quru means 'purity' (In other words, he claims that the Shafi'I interpretation is correct that the iddah (waiting period) of a divorced woman is not three menstrual periods, but three purifications after menses.

However, the ruling given was by a sahabi, Zayd ibn Thabit رضی الله عنه. Moreover, his opinion differs at another place when he says that the iddah (waiting period) of a female slave is two menstruations.

Besides, it is also not known definitely whether Mu'awiyah رضی الله عنه abides by Zayd's رضی الله عنه verdict, or not

The Hanafis say that the ruling (as per the verse) (للله مرءة) is three periods of menstruations). The righteous caliphs and most of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم had the same opinion. Thirteenof the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم used to say that unless a woman is not purified from the third menses, the man (her husband) has more right over her. (Hence, the iddah (waiting period) is completed only after she purifies from her third menses since she was divorced, and the relationship of the man with her snaps completely.)

This establishes that (قروء) (quru) means menstruation.

Mulla Ali Qari has written about it in detail in his book (Mirqat). He has presented many argument of the Hanafis.

THE IDDAH (WAITING PERIOD) OF THE DIVORCED

ثُمَّ حَلَّتْ۔ (رواہ مالك)

3336. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn al-Musayyib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Sayyiduna Umar ibn al-Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ said, "If a woman who is divorced experiences one or two menstrual periods and after that stops menstruating then she must wait nine months. If it is clear that she is pregnant, then the command is obvious (that iddah (waiting period) would end with the birth of child). If not, she must observe an iddah (waiting period) of three months after the nine months. Thereafter, she is free to marry."[1]

CHAPTER - XVII

ISTIBRA : LETTING A NEW ACQUIRED SLAVE WOMAN PURIFY FROM ONE MENSTRUATION, OR BEAR A CHILD

بَابُ الْاِسْتِبْرَاءِ

In Shari'ah (divine law) istibra is 'the purification of the womb.' When a man receives a female slave by purchasing her or through inheritance or gift, then he is forbidden to have sexual intercourse with her, touch her, kiss her or do any such thing to her. This is observed till her womb is known to be void of pregnancy. And, this is ascertained when she gets one menstruation. Experiencing this menstruation is called istibra of the womb. This definition will apply only when the woman gets menstruation.

If the woman does not experience menses then istibra is to let one month pass, or, if one is pregnant then istibra is when she bears a child.

Istibra is necessary in all conditions. She may be a virgin, on may have bought her from a woman or a man, or he may have received her as an inheritance from minor but intibra is necessary in all these cases. ON the face of it an analogical analysis suggests that istibra should not be necessary in these cases, because the wisdom behind it is that the womb should be free of any one else's sperm so that it may not combine with the other man's sperm and make the parentage doubtful. In all the foregoing cases, there is no possibility of the sperm of any one else being in the womb.

However, analogy must be ignored against text (of hadith). This is done here.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had said about the female slave taken captive in the Battle of Awtas. "Beware! Do not have sexual intercourse with a pregnant slave woman till she gives birth to her child. And, do not indulge in a sexual relationship with one who is not pregnant till she gets one menstruation." Clearly, there will have been among the slave women virgins and those like them, not liable to be carrying someone's sperm. This is why analogy is ignored and in there (safe) case too istibra is made wajib (obligatory).

ACCURSED IS HE WHO FORGOES ISTIBRA & COHABITS WITH SLAVE GIRL

(۳۳۳۷) عَنْ اَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ مَرَّ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِامْرَأَةٍ مُجِحٍّ فَسَأَلَ عَنْهَا فَقَالُوْا اَمَةٌ لِفُلَانٍ قَالَ أَيُلِمُّ بِهَا قَالُوْا نَعَمْ قَالَ لَقَدْ هَمَمْتُ اَنْ اَلْعَنَهُ لَعْنًا يَدْخُلُ مَعَهُ فِي قَبْرِهِ كَيْفَ يَسْتَخْدِمُهُ وَهُوَ لَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ اَمْ

[1] Muwatta Maalik # 70 (Talaq)

كَيْفَ يُوَرِّثُهُ وَهُوَ لَا يَحِلُّ لَه۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3337. Sayyiduna Abu Ad-Darda رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم passed by a woman who was in a very advanced state of pregnancy. He asked about her and they said to him that she was the female slave of a certain man. He asked, "Does he have sexual intercourse with her?" They said, "Yes!" He said, "Indeed, I had resolved to invoke on him a curse that would go with him inside his grave. How will he get the child to serve him when it is not lawful to get him to serve him (or make him a slave) ? Or, how will he make him on their when it is not lawful for him (to make another's son an heir)?"[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had intended to invoke a curse on that man because he had sexual intercourse with a female slave whom he had acquired while she was pregnant. He had dropped istibra though it is fard (compulsory).

When the female slave bears a child, there could be two possibilities.

(i) The child would belong to the previous owner who had cohabited with her and sold her. So he would make another's child his heir if he acknowledge his parenthood. Or

(ii) The child would belong to him and he might not accept him as his own and make his own child his slave.

Making another's child one's heir is unlawful and deserves curse.

So, too, making one's own child a slave deserves curse.

Hence, istibra is very essential.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِی

ISTIBRA' SHOULD NOT BE IGNORED BEFORE APPROACHING SLAVEGIRL

(۳۳۳۸) عَنْ اَبِي سَعِيْدِنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ رَفَعَهُ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فِيْ سَبَايَا اَوْطَاسٍ لَا تُوْطَأُ حَامِلٌ حَتّٰى تَضَعَ وَلَا غَيْرُ ذَاتِ حَمْلٍ حَتّٰى تَحِيْضَ حَيْضَةً۔ (رواہ احمد وابوداؤد والدارمی)

3338. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed al-Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ narrated in a marfu manner that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said about the (female) captives of (the battle of) Awtas, "Sexual intercourse may not be had with a pregnant woman till she gives birth to a child and not with one who is not pregnant till she has experienced one menstrual period."[2]

COMMENTARY: If a woman is not pregnant and also does not get menstruation, then istibra in her case is to abstain from approaching her for one month.

If a female slave is acquired while she gets menstruation then this discharge will not be counted but the next complete menstruation will be reckoned.

According to this hadith, if a female slave goes to new owners then it makes istibra Wajib (obligatory). All the four imams hold this contention.

Also, if a female captive is brought from enemy land and she is a disbeliever then her previous marriage is annulled. This is an absolute ruling and applies even if their husbands are not with them. This is to what Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ subscribe, but Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that if both husband and wife are taken captives then their marriage remains intact.

(٣٣٣٩) وَعَنْ رُوَيْفِعِ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ حُنَيْنٍ لَا يَحِلُّ لِامْرِئٍ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ اَنْ يَسْقِيَ مَاءَهُ زَرْعَ غَيْرِهٖ يَعْنِيْ اِتْيَانَ الْحُبَالٰى وَلَا يَحِلُّ لِامْرِئٍ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ اَنْ يَقَعَ عَلَى امْرَأَةٍ مِنَ السَّبْيِ حَتّٰى يَسْتَبْرِءَ هَا وَلَا يَحِلُّ لِامْرِئٍ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ اَنْ يَبِيْعَ مَغْنَمًا حَتّٰى يُقْسَمَ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَرَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ اِلٰى قَوْلِهٖ زَرْعَ غَيْرِهٖ۔

3339. Sayyiduna Ruwayfi ibn Thabit رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said on the day of Hunayn, "It is not lawful for a man who believes in Allah and the Last Day to water another's form (meaning to have sexual intercourse with a woman, who is pregnant with another man's sperm). It is not lawful for a man who believes in Allah and the Last Day to have a sexual intercourse with a captive woman (taken captive in battle with the disbelievers) till she has had one menstruation (or till one month has passed and he has observed the istibra). It is not lawful for a man who believes in Allah and the Last Day to sell the booty till it is divided."[1]
(Tirmidhi has it till 'to water another's form.')

SECTION III — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

ISTIBRA' FOR FEMALE SLAVE WHO IS PREGNANT

(٣٣٤٠) عَنْ مَالِكٍ قَالَ بَلَغَنِيْ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَأْمُرُ بِاسْتِبْرَاءِ الْإِمَاءِ بِحَيْضَةٍ اِنْ كَانَتْ مِمَّنْ تَحِيْضُ وَثَلَاثَةِ اَشْهُرٍ اِنْ كَانَتْ مِمَّنْ لَا تَحِيْضُ وَيَنْهٰى عَنْ سَقْيِ مَآءِ الْغَيْرِ۔

3340. Imam Maalik رحمه الله reported that he learnt that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم often commanded that istibra should be observed for female slaves (refraining from sexual intercourse with them) till they had had a menstrual discharge if they were among those who experienced menstruation, or till three months had passed if they were among those who did not get menses. And, he often forbade that one should water another's water (by mixing with it).[2]

COMMENTARY: The last words imply that istibra should be observed with a pregnant female slave too. If one acquired a female slave who is pregnant, then sexual intercourse should not be had with her till she gives birth to her child so that one's sperm does not adulterate another man's that lies in her womb.

The ulama (Scholars) agree about a female slave who does not get menstruation, her istibra is that sexual intercourse must be had with her not before she had been in one's possession for one month or more. However, some people go by this hadith and say that her istibra is to wait for three months or more before having sexual intercourse with her.

IS ISTIBRA WAJIB (OBLIGATORY) FOR A VIRGIN

(٣٣٤١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّهُ قَالَ اِذَا وُهِبَتِ الْوَلِيْدَةُ الَّتِي تُوْطَأُ اَوْبِيْعَتْ اَوْ اُعْتِقَتْ فَلْتَسْتَبْرِأْ رَحْمَهَا بِحَيْضَةٍ وَلَا تَسْتَبْرِءُ الْعَذْرَاءُ رَوَاهُمَا رَزِيْنٌ۔

3341. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه said that when a slave girl with whom sexual intercourse was possible, was given as a gift, or sold, or set free, she must observe istibra (by waiting till she experiences one menstruation and clear her womb thereby). However, a virgin need not observe an istibra (to cleanse her womb).[1]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Shurayh رحمه الله goes by this hadith and maintains that istibra is not wajib (obligatory) with a virgin female slave. However, the majority of the ulama (Scholars) say that istibra must be observe with her too, as a wajib (obligatory). The command that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم had given at the Battle of Awtas about observing istibra with female captives was absolute. The virgins were not excluded from that command.

IDDAH (WAITING PERIOD)* OF UMM WALAD: The compiler of the Hidayah has written that the umm Walad whose master has died or has set her free must observe an iddah (waiting period) till she gets three menstruations. If she does not experience menstruation then she must wait for three months.

Ibn Hamman رحمه الله said that this ruling applies if that umm walad is not pregnant, or married to another man, or observes the iddah (waiting period) because of some other man. If she is pregnant then her iddah (waiting period) is till she gives birth to a child. If she is married to someone else or observes iddah (waiting period) because of another man then, in these cases, no question arises of her sexual relationship with her master. So when he sets her free or dies, iddah (waiting period) will not be wajib (obligatory) for her.

The Hanafis follow this ruling. Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and Imam Maalik رحمه الله contend that in these cases (when her master sets her free or dies) , the iddah (waiting period) of the Umm walad is till she gets one menstrual discharge. Of the Hanafis Imam Muhammad agrees with them.

CHAPTER - XVIII

MAINTENANCE & RIGHTS OF THE SLAVES (MALE OR FEMALE)

بَابُ النَّفَقَاتِ وَحَقِّ الْمَمْلُوْكِ

The word nafaqat (نفقات) is the plural of nafqah (نفقة) Nafqah is that which is spent. In the terminology of Shari'ah (divine law), nafqah includes food, clothing, residence.

The plural form has been used in the caption because there are many kinds of nafqah, like wife's nafqah, children's nafqah, parent's nafqah, and nafqah of r elatives Besides, it cover its general senses, wajib (obligatory) or non-wajib (obligatory).

(The second portion of the caption:) 'Rights of the slaves include food and clothing, and not compelling them to do what is beyond their power and courage.

CONCERNING NAFQAH OF WIFE: The nafqah of the wife is wajib (obligatory) on the husband. He must provide her food, clothing and residence. It is irrespective of whether he is younger than her or older, whether she is a Muslim or an infidel. Whether she is an adult or a minor with whom sexual intercourse is not possible.

However, nafqah is wajib (obligatory) on the husband provided the wife has submitted herself to him in his house, or, though she has not given herself to his charge, yet there is either a right of hers (that he refuses to give) or he himself does not ask her to submit herself (to his charge) to him.

AS FRIENDS: It is proper that the husband must make his wife his intimate e friend. They must live together in close intimacy and content themselves with whatever is easily available to them. They must follow the custom of noble families whereby the husband must work for a living and the wife must take care of the house. The husband must provide the necessities according to his means. Then the wife must employ her skill to put these things to optimum benefit for the family and associated people.

UNFRIENDLY: If the couple do not see eye to eye, the wife may approach the judge or ruler to compel her husband to give her a regular allowance. He will order the husband to provide her maintenance every month, clothing twice a year. These things will be handed over to her respectively every month and every six months.

In the judge fixes a monthly allowance and the husband fails to pay every month and she demands a daily allowance, then she may demand it every evening.

STATUS: As for the standard, it depends on their status. If they are well-off then a high standard of maintenance is wajib (obligatory). If they are hard pressed then the maintenance will be in keeping wit h their status. If one of them is well off and the other is hard-pressed then an average kind of maintenance is payable - such as lesser than that for the well off but more than that for the hard-pressed. However, some authorities maintain that in every case, the husband's status will be the determining factor. Maintenance allowance will be paid according to this status, irrespective of the position of the wife.

If the spouses disagree on the question of the husband's status then the wife may take the case to the judge and present her wit nesses. If he is convinced then he will judge the husband's status as claimed by the wife. If she does not present witnesses, her petition will be rejected.

SERVANT: If the wife has a servant for her and the husband is well-off, then he will provide maintenance to his wife and to her servant too. But, if he is not well off, then he is not bound to give allowance to the servant too.

PROSPERS: If, after the judge fixes a maintenance allowance for the wife, the status of the husband improves or worsens, then the judge will review that on a petition filed by either of the spouses, and revise the allowance accordingly.

IDDAH (WAITING PERIOD)*: If a woman observes iddah (waiting period) after her husband's death then she is not entitled to a maintenance.

DISOBEYS: So, too, if a woman disobeys her husband and goes away from his house without his permission and for no reason whatsoever, then her maintenance is not wajib (obligatory) on the husband.

OTHER REASONS: Maintenance is not wajib (obligatory) on the husband for his wife if she is in prison for non-payment of a debt, or if she is so sick after marriage that she has not been sent to her husband's house, or if she is such a minor that sexual intercourse cannot be had with her, or if she departs to perform Hajj (pilgrimage) without her husband.

HAJJ (PILGRIMAGE): If a wife is accompanied by her husband for the pilgrimage then her maintenance at home is wajib (obligatory) on him. But the expenses of the journey and passage are not wajib (obligatory) on him.

ILLNESS: If a man's wife was taken ill at her parent's house and was sent to his home in that (ill) condition after their marriage, then her maintenance is not wajib (obligatory) on the husband. However, if a wife falls ill at her husband's house then her maintenance is wajib (obligatory) on him.

HOUSE: The husband must provide his wife a house suitable to live in keeping in view the demands of Shari'ah (divine law) and his own means. The house must be for her alone and his own folk or his wife's folk should not live there. If she herself wishes to live alongwith then then he is not bound to get her a separate home.

If a husband house has many rooms and he gives his wife a separate room with its own door and lock then that is enough. She has no right to ask for another room.

WIFE'S RELATIVES VISITING HER: The husband is within his rights to disallow his wife's relatives from visiting her (even her son from a previous marriage). But, he has no right to prevent her mahram relative to meet her and converse with her. He also has no right to disallow her to visit her parents once in a month and to stop them from visiting her once a month. (He may forbid mutual visits beyond once a week). He also has no right to disallow her to visit her paternal relatives or them to visit her. Once a year. (He can prevent their mutual visit beyond once a year.)

DIVORCEE: A divorced woman, in her iddah (waiting period) is entitled to claim from her husband maintenance and residence whet ever the kind of divorce (raji, ba'in or mughallazah) whether she is pregnant or not.

SEPARATIONS: Similarly, the husband is responsible for maintenance and lodging of a woman who observes an iddah (waiting period) for separation (apart from divorce) brought about because of a right of Shari'ah (divine law), but not because of disobedience, for example, an umm walad or a mudabbarah who was married to a man and was set free, and exercised her option to separate from her husband, or a minor who has been married to someone by her guardian attains majority and exercise her right to separate from her husband. In such cases, the woman is entitled to receive maintenance and lodging.

DISOBEDIENT: If a woman observes an iddah (waiting period) after separation brought about because of sin or disobedience, then her husband is not responsible for her maintenance and lodging. For example, (we seek refuge in Allah) a woman apostates, or commit indecency with her husband's son because of which she stands forbidden to him by law, like having intercourse with him, touching him with lustful desire or kissing him; - these things bring about a separation between husband and wife and she has to seclude herself in iddah (waiting period), and she is not entitled to ask him for maintenance and lodging.

SIN DURING IDDAH (WAITING PERIOD): If a divorced woman who observes iddah (waiting period) and duly receives maintenance and lodging appostates while she is in iddah (waiting period) then her right to maintenance and lodging ceases. And, if during her iddah (waiting period), she commit indecency with her husband's son or father then she continues to be eligible for maintenance and residence provided she was not divorced with a talaq raj'I (revocable divorce) but with ba'in mughallazah (irrevocable).

MAINTENANCE OF CHILDREN: The expenses of minor children who have no personal property are to be borne by their father even if he is poor. No one else will be liable to share this responsibility with him.

SUCKLING: If a new born who has not been weaned and its mother is married to its father but does not wish to suckle it and it does suckle another woman then its mother should not be compelled to suckle her child. But, if the infant will not take another woman's milk, or there is no other wet nurse, then the mother will be compelled to suckle her child.

MOTHER WILL NOT SUCKLE: If the mother declines to suckle her child and there is a wet nurse willing to suckle the child then the father must hire her to suckle the child in the presence of its mother. The wages of the wet nurse will be paid from the child's property, if any, but if it has nothing of its own then the father will pay the wet nurse her wages

HIRING THE MOTHER: If the father hires the child's mother to suckle it and she is his wife or undergoes iddah (waiting period) for a revocable divorce, then this is not allowed. If she has been divorced irrevocably or absolutely then authorities differ on whether she may be hired or not during her iddah (waiting period). However, on expiry of her iddah (waiting period), it is allowed to hire the child's mother to suckle her. Rather, in this case, if she does not demand higher wages than other woman, then she would be stupid.

HIRING WIFE: If a man hires his wife or (divorced wife) who is in her iddah (waiting period) to suckle his child from his another wife then this hiring is allowed.

HELPLESS OFFSPRING: If a man' adult daughter is extremely poor and needy or an adult son handicapped and invalid, then their father is responsible for the expenses on them. The edict is given in this way. However, some people say that the father is responsible for two-thirds of their expenses and the mother for one-third of the expenses.

MAINTENANCE OF PARENTS: If one's ancestors (like, father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, so on up the ladder) are poor than the children are responsible to maintain them and bear their expenses provided they are affluent. Affluence stands for children being sufficiently well-off so that they are not eligible to receive sadaqah (charity) and zakah (Annual due charity). If both male and female offspring are well-off then the responsibility rests on both to support their forebears, equally.

NEARNESS NOT INHERITANCE: In regard to the maintenance of needy being wajib (obligatory), the determining factor is nearness and wholeness but not line of inheritance. For example, if the daughter and grandson (meaning, son's son) of a poor, needy man are both rich, then maintaining him is wajib (obligatory) on his daughter though both of them are entitled to inheritance. Or, if the granddaughter (meaning, daughter's daughter) and brother of a needy man are rich, then his grand daughter (on his daughter's side) is bound to maintain him though only his brother is deserving of his inheritance.

MAINTENANCE OF DHAWIL ARHAM:[1] It is wajib (obligatory) on every rich man to provide maintenance to all his mahram relatives on his mother's side provided this relative is needy, or a minor, or a poor woman, or handicapped and helpless, or blind, or a student. Or unable to make a living because of ignorance of stupidity. If the rich man does not spend on these relatives then he must be forced to spend on these relatives then he must be forced to spend on them.

The maintenance of these relatives on the mother's side is wajib (obligatory) according to the amount of inheritance.

The meaning of these words 'according of amount of inheritance' is explained in this example. If a man deserves to receive maintenance because of his need and poverty from his relatives on his mother's side then he may be presumed to be dead, and his inheritance be thought to have been distributed to these heirs (relatives on mother's side) Now, whatever share of inheritance an heir is eligible to receive, he will contribute that share towards his maintenance as wajib (obligatory) on him. For example, Zayd is a hard passed, poor man. He has only three close relatives: one real sister, one stop sister and one half sister. It is wajib (obligatory) on the three sisters to provide maintenance to Zayd. They will contribute to it by dividing Zayd's total maintenance into five equal portions. Then three fifths will be the responsibility of the real sister. One fifth will be due from the step sister and one fifth from the half sister. This ratio of distribution of their responsibilities is exactly how Zayd's inheritance would go to each one of them when he dies (and if he leaves a legacy).

However, it is not necessary always to know the amount of inheritance receivable or payable. What is necessary is to be eligible and deserving to receive or pay the inheritance. Suppose that Zayd is poor and needy. He has a maternal uncle and a paternal uncle's son (cousin) both of whom are rich. It will be wajib (obligatory) on his maternal uncle to provide him his maintenance, not his cousin.

The maintenance of father's wife is wajib (obligatory) on his son. And the maintenance of the daughter in law (son's wife) is wajib (obligatory) on her father in law, provided his son is a minor or handicapped.

NOT RESPONSIBLE: A poor and incapacitated man is not responsible for anyone's maintenance, whether parents or uterine relatives. However, it is always wajib (obligatory) on him to provide maintenance to his wife and children.

DIFFERENT RELIGIONS: Maintenance is not wajib (obligatory) on each other if they are of different religion. However, one's wife, parents ancestors and offspring down the line, male or female, are excepted from this ruling and it is wajib (obligatory) to provide them maintenance in spite of different of religion.

[1] Cognate. Relatives on the mother's side.

SON'S PROPERTY MAY BE SOLD: A handicapped or needy father may sell his son's property to get his maintenance from him, but he is not allowed to sell his immovable property, like land, gardens etc. However, he is not allowed to sell his son's movable property too if the son is in debt.
A mother I not allowed to sell any kind of her son's property, movable or immovable.
Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله hold that even a father is not allowed to sell his son's movable property.

MAINTENANCE OF MALE & FEMALE SLAVES: The master is bound to guarantee complete expenses of his slaves. This is so whether his ownership is complete, as over a slave completely subservient, or over a mudabbarah or an Umm walad, whether minor or adults, whether handicapped or sound and healthy.
If a master refuses to bear the maintenance of his slaves then they are at liberty to work and toil for their living. If they do not find a living. If they do not find a living then the judge will order their maser to sell them to others.
If anyone buy some animals but does not feed them, then he cannot be compelled by law to sell them. However, a moral pressure can be built on him to either sell the animals or feed, and look after, them.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْأَوَّلُ

MAINTENANCE OF WIFE & CHILDREN

(٣٣٤٢) عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ إِنَّ هِنْدًا بِنْتَ عُتْبَةَ قَالَتْ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّ اَبَا سُفْيَانَ رَجُلٌ شَحِيْحٌ وَلَيْسَ يُعْطِيْنِيْ مَا يَكْفِيْنِيْ وَوَلَدِيْ إِلَّا مَا اَخَذْتُ مِنْهُ وَهُوَ لَا يَعْلَمُ فَقَالَ خُذِيْ مَا يَكْفِيْكِ وَوَلَدَكِ بِالْمَعْرُوْفِ.

3342. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها narrated that (Sayyidah) Hind bint Utbah رضی الله عنها said, "O Messenger of Allah, (my husband) Abu Sufyan is a miser. He does not give me and my son enough (towards our needs) , except what I take from him without his knowing." (She meant to ask whether she could do that) He said, "You may take from his money) what suffices you and your son and (as much as) is approved by Shari'ah (divine law)."[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith is evidence that it is wajib (obligatory) to provide maintenance to the extent that it necessary.
Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that this hadith establishes that:

(i) It is wajib (obligatory) on man to provide maintenance to his wife and (such) minor children (who have no personal property).
(ii) Maintenance should be to the extent of what is necessary.
(iii) It is allowed to listen to a stranger woman while issuing an edict and enforcing a command of Shari'ah (divine law).
(iv) It is permitted to say something about another person which he may not be pleased to hear, provided it is done to find out a solution or an edict.
(v) If anyone has a monetary demand on another and he does not pay it, then the claimant is allowed to take from that person's property as much as equals his demand without his permission.

(vi) A wife is also responsible to spend on her children and support them from her husband's property.

(vii) A wife is allowed to go out of her house for her needs whether her husband has given her express permission or she is aware of his willingness.

(viii) A judge and a ruler may decide a case on the basis of their knowledge or information, as we see that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not call for witnesses but gave instructions on the basis his information.

SPEND ALLAH'S BOUNTY ON YOURSELF & YOUR FAMILY

(٣٣٤٣) وَعَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أَعْطَى اللّٰهُ أَحَدَكُمْ خَيْرًا فَلْيَبْدَأْ بِنَفْسِهٖ وَأَهْلِ بَيْتِهٖ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3343. Sayyiduna Jabir ibn Samurah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When Allah grants any of you the good things (wealthy and property or prosperity), then he should spend it first on himself and his family" (before spending on others according to their standing).[1]

OWNER IS RESPONSIBLE FOR SLAVE'S MAINTENANCE

(٣٣٤٤) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِلْمَمْلُوْكِ طَعَامُهٗ وَكِسْوَتُهٗ وَلَا يُكَلَّفُ مِنَ الْعَمَلِ إِلَّا مَا يُطِيْقُ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3344. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said about the slave, 'for him is his food and his clothing. And he should be given only such work as is within his capability."[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith gives two instructions about slaves to their masters:

(i) They should be given food and clothing as per their requirement and custom.

(ii) They should not be burdened with any task that is beyond them and liable to harm them.

It is just as the True Master, Allah, has not burdened His creatures with anything that is beyond their capabilities, so too the worldly master must care for their slave. They are human beings like them.

Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ has narrated in a marfu form that the master is responsible for three things concerning his slaves.

(i) When a slave is offering salah (prayer), he should not ask him to hurry up.

(ii) When he is having his meal, he should not assign him any task.

(iii) He should give him enough food to satiate him.

BE KIND TO SLAVES

(٣٣٤٥) وَعَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِخْوَانُكُمْ جَعَلَهُمُ اللّٰهُ تَحْتَ أَيْدِيْكُمْ فَمَنْ

3345. Sayyiduna Abu Dharr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "They (the slaves) are your brothers. Allah has put them under your authority (to try you). So, he whose brother Allah has placed under his authority must feed him from what he himself eats and clothe him from what he wears. And he must not charge him with a work that is beyond his strength, but If he assigns to him a (heavy) task that is out of his capability, then he must help him do it."[1]

COMMENTARY: Imam Nawawi رحمہ اللہ said that the command to the master to feed and clothe his slave as he eats and wears is of the nature of mustahab (desirable) not wajib (obligatory). However, it is wajib (obligatory) on him to provide these things to him according to custom and usage, whether it matches his own standard, is better than it or is of a lesser degree. If the owner acts miserly himself, he should not cut on his slave's feeding and clothing compared to usage.

As regards tasks that are not within a slave's ability, the master must help him out himself or engage someone else to help him, pious, saintly men are known to have helped out their slave girls or waids with the hand mill.

SIN TO WITHHOLD FOOD OF SLAVES

(٣٣٤٦) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو جَاءَهُ قَهْرَمَانٌ لَهُ فَقَالَ لَهُ اَعْطَيْتَ الرَّقِيْقَ قُوْتَهُمْ قَالَ لَا قَالَ فَانْطَلِقْ فَاَعْطِهِمْ فَاِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كَفٰى بِالرَّجُلِ اِثْمًا اَنْ يَحْبِسَ عَمَّنْ يَمْلِكُ قُوْتَهُ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ كَفٰى بِالْمَرْءِ اِثْمًا اَنْ يُضَيِّعَ مَنْ يَقُوْتُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3346. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when an overseer of his (property) came to him, he asked him, "Have you given the slaves their food?" He said, "No!" So, he instructed him to go and give it to them, for, Allah' Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had emphasized, "Enough sin it is on a man to hold back from his slave his food."

According to another version (he said:) Enough sin it is for a man to destroy the sustenance of those under his care (his family and slaves)."[2]

INVITE YOUR SERVANT TO JOIN YOU

(٣٣٤٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا صَنَعَ لِاَحَدِكُمْ خَادِمُهُ طَعَامَهُ ثُمَّ جَاءَهُ بِهٖ وَقَدْ وَلِيَ حَرَّهُ وَدُخَانَهُ فَلْيُقْعِدْهُ مَعَهُ فَلْيَاْكُلْ فَاِنْ كَانَ الطَّعَامُ مَشْفُوْهًا قَلِيْلًا فَلْيَضَعْ فِيْ يَدِهٖ مِنْهُ اُكْلَةً اَوْ اُكْلَتَيْنِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3347. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When the servant of one of you prepares food for him and brings it

him, enduring its heat and smoke, he must make him sit with him and eat. If the food is little and partakers are many, then he must put one or two mouthfuls of it in his hand."[1]

COMMENTARY: No one must feel shy of eating with his servants. They too are human being like him. There is wisdom in it too. The more the people together at meal, the more the blessing in it, It is what one tradition suggests: "The best meal is one which many hands partake."

The command in the hadith to invite the servant to the meal is of the mustahab (desirable) kind.

DUAL REWARD FOR SLAVE

(٣٣٤٨) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ الْعَبْدَ اِذَا نَصَحَ لِسَيِّدِهٖ وَاَحْسَنَ عِبَادَةَ اللّٰهِ فَلَهٗ اَجْرُهٗ مَرَّتَيْنِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3348. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely the slave when he work whole heartedly for his master and worships Allah devotedly, for him is a dual reward."[2]

COMMENTARY: The slave gets two reward because he is well-wishing to his master and he worships Allah sincerely.

To work sincerely for ones master is also a form of worship of Allah, because it is being obedient to Allah who has commanded that one must serve one's master.

It is like being obedient to one's parents is a form of worship. This is because Allah has commanded us to obey and serve our parents.

Some authority interpret the hadith to mean that a slave gets a two-fold reward for all his deeds.

THE BEST THING FOR A SLAVE

(٣٣٤٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نِعِمَّا لِلْمَمْلُوْكِ اَنْ يَتَوَفَّاهُ اللّٰهُ بِحُسْنِ عِبَادَةِ رَبِّهٖ وَطَاعَةِ سَيِّدِهٖ نِعِمَّا لَهٗ۔ (متفق عليه)

3349. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "What can be better for a slave than to be taken away by Allah (in death) while worshipping his Lord well and obeying his master! It is excellent for him!"[3]

SALAH (PRAYER) OF RUNAWAY SLAVE IS NOT APPROVED

(٣٣٥٠) وَعَنْ جَرِيْرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا اَبَقَ الْعَبْدُ لَمْ تُقْبَلْ لَهٗ صَلَاةٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ عَنْهُ قَالَ اَيُّمَا عَبْدٍ اَبَقَ فَقَدْ بَرِئَتْ مِنْهُ الذِّمَّةُ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ عَنْهُ قَالَ اَيُّمَا عَبْدٍ اَبَقَ مِنْ مَوَالِيْهِ فَقَدْ كَفَرَ حَتّٰى يَرْجِعَ اِلَيْهِمْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3350. Sayyiduna Jarir رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When a slave absconds, his salah (prayer) is not accepted from him."
According to another version from him: He said, "Responsibility is absolved in regard to a run away slave."
Another version from him has; He said, "any slave who escapes from his masters has indeed, disbelieved till he comes back to them."[1]

COMMENTARY: If the slave flees to enemy territory and apostates then he loses the protection of Islam. It is permitted to kill him. But, if he stays in one of the Muslim localities after running away from his masters and does not apostate then it is not allowed to kill him. In this case, Islamic law will not protect him against punishment for fleeing.
As for the final version, he is said to have disbelieved, if he regards that running away is lawful and is not sinful in the real sense. If he does not regard running away lawful, then it means that he has approached do, or he has been ungrateful to his masters.

ACCUSING SLAVE FALSELY OF FORNICATION

(٣٣٥١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ اَبَا الْقَاسِمِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ قَذَفَ مَمْلُوْكَهٗ وَهُوَ بَرِيْئٌ مِمَّا قَالَ جُلِدَ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ اِلَّا اَنْ يَكُوْنَ كَمَا قَالَ۔ (متفق علیه)

3351. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Abu Al-Qasim صلی الله علیه وسلم (the prophet) say, "If anyone accuses his slave of adultery while he is innocent of what he says, them he will be awarded stripes on the day of resurrection, unless he is as he said (in which case he will not be striped)."[2]

COMMENTARY: A slave also deserves as much respect as a free man. Those people are very foolish who unleash abuses on their subordinates and fear not the chastisement of the hereafter.

ATONEMENT FOR BEATING SLAVE UNNECESSARILY

(٣٣٥٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ ضَرَبَ غُلَامًا لَهٗ حَدًّا لَمْ يَأْتِهٖ اَوْلَطَمَهٗ فَاِنَّ كَفَّارَتَهٗ اَنْ يُعْتِقَهٗ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3352. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "If anyone beats a slave for something that he had not done, or slaps him, then the atonement for it is that he should set him free."[3]

COMMENTARY: As it is, to slap any one for no reason is forbidden. This hadith mentions a slave particularly. If he is beaten unnecessarily then he must be set free as an expiation.

3353. Sayyiduna Abu Mas'ud Al-Ansari رضى الله عنه narrated: (One day) I was beating one of my slaves when I heard a voice behind me alerting me, "know, O Abu Mas'ud! Allah has more power over you than you have over him." So, I turned round, and behold! He was Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. I submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, he is free for Allah's sake." He said, "Had you not done it, the fire (of hell) would have burned you." Or, (he said,) "the fire (of hell) would have touched you."[1]

COMMENTARY: The implication is that he was committing a grave sin by beating his slave. If he had not forgiven him (Abu Mas'ud) رضى الله عنه and he had not set him free, then he would have been consigned to hell.

Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that by his words the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم teaches us to be kind to our servants. The ruling is that if a slave is beaten it is not wajib (obligatory) to set him free. Rather, it is mustahab (desirable) and that too with an expectation that the sin for beating the slave unnecessarily should be atoned.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

FATHER HAS RIGHT OVER SON'S EARNINGS

(٣٣٥٤) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ رَجُلًا اَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اِنَّ لِيْ مَالًا وَاِنَّ وَالِدِيْ يَحْتَاجُ اِلٰى مَالِيْ قَالَ اَنْتَ وَمَا لُكَ لِوَالِدِكَ اِنَّ اَوْلَادَكُمْ مِنْ اَطْيَبِ كَسْبِكُمْ كُلُوْا مِنْ كَسْبِ اَوْلَادِكُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3354. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father who from his grandfather that a man came to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and submitted, "I have wealth and my father needs (from) my property." He said, "You and your property are for your father. Your offspring are the best of your earnings. So, consume from the earning of your offspring."[2]

COMMENTARY: It is wajib (obligatory) on the son to serve and obey his father. So, too, it is wajib (obligatory) on him to spend his wealth on his father. A father is allowed to spend his son's wealth.

It is wajib (obligatory) for a son to provide maintenance to his father.

It is also deduced from these ruling that if a father steals something from his son's property, or has sexual intercourse with his slave woman, then he will not be awarded the prescribed punishment.

Children are the most lawful earning of their father.

ORPHAN'S PROPERTY FOR GUARDIAN

(٣٣٥٥) وَعَنْهُ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ رَجُلًا اَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اِنِّيْ فَقِيْرٌ لَيْسَ لِيْ شَيْءٌ وَلِيْ يَتِيْمٌ فَقَالَ كُلْ مِنْ مَالِ يَتِيْمِكَ غَيْرَ مُسْرِفٍ وَلَا مُبَادِرٍ وَلَا مُتَاَثِّلٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائى وابن ماجة)

3355. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father from his grandfather that a man came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and submitted, "I am poor and have nothing of my own. I have under my care an orphan." (May I use his wealth?) He said, "Eat from the property of your orphan, but do not be a profligate, and do not be hasty in spending (before the need arises) , and do not hoard for yourself (from it)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave the man permission to consume an orphan's property on three conditions as outlined in the hadith.

The hadith allows an orphan's guardian, if he is poor, to take from the orphan's property what he needs. But, if he is well-off then he is not allowed to take anything from it.

This subject is also established from the Quran.

EMPHASIS ON RIGHTS OF SLAVES

(٣٣٥٦-٣٣٥٧) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنَّهُ كَانَ يَقُوْلُ فِيْ مَرَضِهِ اَلصَّلَاةَ وَمَا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُكُمْ ۔ رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ وَرَوٰى أَحْمَدُ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ عَنْ عَلِيٍّ نَحْوَهُ ۔

3356. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used to say during his illness (that led to his death), "The salah (prayer)!" (stick to it,) "And your slaves!" (Give them their rights.)[2]

3357. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the like of it.[3]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم placed stress on salah (prayer). It should not be neglected or missed without a valid reason recognized by Shari'ah (divine law). It should be offered correctly observing every little detail.

The slave should be given their rights. These include feeding and clothing them and being kind to them.

Similarly, animals also must be given their rights.

The ulama (Scholars) say that, on the day of resurrection, the contention of the dhimmis and animals will be more severe than the contention of the Muslims.

WARNING AGAINST MISTREATMENT OF SLAVES

(٣٣٥٨) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ بَكْرٍ الصِّدِّيْقِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ سَيِّئُ الْمَلَكَةِ ۔

(رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة)

3358. Sayyiduna Abu Bakr As Siddiq رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who is wicked and unjust to his slaves will not enter paradise." (in the beginning with those who are admitted directly).[4]

KIND TREATMENT TO SLAVES SPELLS PROSPERITY

[2] Bayhaqi in Shu'ab ul Eeman # 8553, Ibn Majah # 1625.

[3] Ibn Majah # 1625, Musnad Ahmad 6-290.

[4] Tirmidhi # 1946, Ibn Majah # 3691, Musnad Ahmad 1-4.

3359. Sayyiduna Rafi ibn Makith رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'kindness to slave spells prosperity. And, (conversely) a wicked nature spells disaster."[1] (The compiler of Mishkat says:) 'I have not seen the additional words to his saying anywhere other than al-Masabih uiz. "And Sadaqah (charity) prevents an evil death and piety lengthens life."

COMMENTARY: When a master is kind and good-natured to his slaves (and subordinates) , mostly they reciprocate the gesture and are very loyal to him. This results in prosperity and blessings.

If it is the other way about and the master is rude and harsh to them, they detest him and, in the end, they do not hesitate to kill him and destroy his property.

An evil death could be a sudden death or a death when the dying person is not aware of monotheism and the true One. He does not get a chance to give the rights of fellow creatures and make amends for violation of rights of the creator by making a repentance.

Anyone's lifespan may be prolonged. Allah may have decreed a person's age to be a certain number of years, but if he is pious then 'so many more years.'

But, apart from the literal meaning, 'lengthens life' could mean that it would bring prosperity and blessing in life. Or, people would continue to remember him after his death.

As for the concluding remarks of the compiler of the Mishkat, Mirak رحمہ اللہ has pointed out that shaykh Jazri رضی اللہ عنہ has also reproduced the hadith as in the Masabih and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ too has transmitted the complete hadith.

SLAVE ADJURING BY ALLAH TO BE SPARED

اَیْدِیَکُمْ۔ رَوَاہُ التِّرْمِذِیُّ وَالْبَیْہَقِیُّ فِیْ شُعَبِ الْاِیْمَانِ لٰکِنْ عِنْدَہٗ فَلْیُمْسِکْ بَدَلَ فَارْفَعُوْا اَیْدِیَکُمْ۔

3360. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When any of you beats his servant and he remembers Allah, then take away your hand (from him, and stop beating him)."

But, Bayhaqi has : Yamasik instead of farfa'u aydikum (he must hold) instead of (take away your hand) , the sense is identical.[2]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that 'hold or take away your hand' applies when the master beats him to discipline him. It does not apply when a prescribed punishment is award ed as for consuming wine etc.

DO NOT SEPARATE CHILD FROM MOTHER

(٣٣٦١) وَعَنْ اَبِیْ اَیُّوْبَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰہِ صَلَّی اللّٰہُ عَلَیْہِ وَسَلَّمَ یَقُوْلُ مَنْ فَرَّقَ بَیْنَ وَالِدَۃٍ وَوَلَدِھَا

فَرَّقَ اللّٰہُ بَیْنَہٗ وَبَیْنَ اَحِبَّتِہٖ یَوْمَ الْقِیَامَۃِ۔ (رواہ الترمذی والدارمی)

3361. Sayyiduna Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If any separates a mother from her child then Allah will separate him from his dear ones on the day of resurrection."[3]

[1] Abu Dawud # 5162.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1950, Bayhaqi in Shawbul Eeman.

[3] Tirmidhi # 1253, Ibn Majah # 2479, Musnad Ahmad 5-413.

COMMENTARY: This refers to a female slave and her child. It is not allowed to sell a women slave but retain her child, or sell the child and keep its mother. He who does such a thing will be kept away by Allah on the day of resurrection from his dear ones, like parents or children, etc.

The ulama (Scholars) say that though the hadith mentions a mother, it applies to every near relative like father, grandfather brother, sister, etc. from whom a child is separated. According to the Hanafis, it is allowed to separate two young brothers from one another.

It is allowed to separate an elder child from his relatives. But, what an elder child means?

Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله says it is seven years, or eight.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that an adult is elder.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله say that it is makruh (disapproved) to separate a child from its mother or other such relatives. But, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله says that it is simply not allowed to separate a child from its mother or any other dhurahm relative (Like father, etc.) He says that it applies to all relative of dhurahm mahrams even if not related through parentage.

(٣٣٦٢) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ وَهَبَ لِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ غُلَامَيْنِ اَخَوَيْنِ فَبِعْتُ اَحَدَهُمَا فَقَالَ لِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا عَلِيُّ مَا فَعَلَ غُلَامُكَ فَاَخْبَرْتُهُ فَقَالَ رُدَّهُ رُدَّهُ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة)

3362. Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم gave him as gift two slave both brothers. He sold one of them. When Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم asked him "O Ali, what did your slave do?" HE informed him (of what he had done) , so he said, "Bring him back! Bring him back!"[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه was instructed to annul the transaction so that the two brothers may not be separated. The command was repeated to show that it is wajib (obligatory) to do so and such a sale is makruh (disapproved) tahrimi. The command not to separate the two brothers shows that not merely mother and child butother relatives too must not be put apart.

(٣٣٦٣) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّهُ فَرَّقَ بَيْنَ جَارِيَةٍ وَوَلَدِهَا فَنَهَاهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ ذَالِكَ فَرَدَّ الْبَيْعَ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ مُنْقَطِعًا۔

3363. Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه is reported to have separated a female slave from her child (by selling one and retaining the other). The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade him to do that, so he annulled the transaction.[2]

COMMENTARY: Both the foregoing traditions uphold the contention of Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله that it is not allowed to separate a child slave from its mother or father.

KINDNESS IS REWARDED

(٣٣٦٤) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ ثَلَاثٌ مَنْ كُنَّ فِيْهِ يَسَّرَ اللّٰهُ حَتْفَهُ وَاَدْخَلَهُ جَنَّتَهُ رِفْقٌ بِالضَّعِيْفِ وَشَفَقَةٌ عَلَى الْوَالِدَيْنِ وَاِحْسَانٌ اِلَى الْمَمْلُوْكِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

[1] Tirmidhi # 1284, Ibn Majah # 2249, Musnad Ahmad 1-97.

[2] Abu Dawud # 2696.

3364. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who possesses three characteristics will have Allah giving him an easy death and admitting him to his paradise:
(i) kindness to the weak,
(ii) affection and love towards parents, and
(iii) kindness to slaves."[1]

COMMENTARY: The weak may be weak in physique, financially weak mentally weak. Slaves should be shown kindness by treating them well, better than what is du to them.

DO NOT BEAT WORSHIPPERS

(٣٣٦٥-٣٣٦٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي اُمَامَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَهَبَ لِعَلِيٍّ غُلَامًا فَقَالَ لَا تَضْرِبْهُ فَاِنِّي نُهِيْتُ عَنْ ضَرْبِ اَهْلِ الصَّلٰوةِ وَقَدْ رَأَيْتُهُ يُصَلِّي هٰذَا لَفْظُ الْمَصَابِيْحِ وَفِي الْمُجْتَبٰى لِلدَّارِ قُطْنِي اَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ نَهَانَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ ضَرْبِ الْمُصَلِّيْنَ۔

3365. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم presented to (Sayyiduna) Ali رضی اللہ عنہ a slave and instructed him, "Do not beat him, for, I have been forbidden to beat those who offer salah (prayer), and, indeed, I did see him offering salah (prayer)."[2]

3366. Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم has forbidden us to beat those who offer salah (prayer)."[3]

COMMENTARY: The people who offer salah (prayer) are noble and meritorious in Allah's sight and are distinct among His creatures.

Teebi رحمہ اللہ has pointed out that since Allah has forbidden the people to beat those who offer salah (prayer), ion this word, so we have high hopes in His mercy that, in the hereafter, he will not punish them, insha Allah.

FORGIVE THE SLAVES

(٣٣٦٧-٣٣٦٨) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ كَمْ نَعْفُوْ عَنِ الْخَادِمِ فَسَكَتَ ثُمَّ اَعَادَ عَلَيْهِ الْكَلَامَ فَصَمَتَ فَلَمَّا كَانَتِ الثَّالِثَةُ قَالَ اُعْفُوْا عَنْهُ كُلَّ يَوْمٍ سَبْعِيْنَ مَرَّةً رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَرَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ عَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو۔

3367. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and asked, "O Messenger of Allah, how often may we forgive (our) servant (and slaves)?" But, he said nothing. Then the man repeated the words to him but he maintained silence. When he asked the third time. When he asked the third time, he said, "Forgive him seventy times every day."[4]

3368. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated...[5] (the same hadith).

COMMENTARY: The word 'seventy times' do not limit the number to seventy. The Arabs use this figure to denote 'very many.' Hence, the servants must be pardoned very often, innumerable times.

The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not answer the question straightaway because it was an inappropriate enquiry. Forgiving someone is a mustahab (desirable) and desirable thing and should not be limited t o any number of times.

Or, perhaps the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم awaited a revelation in this regard.

AN ADVICE CONCERNING SLAVES

(٣٣٦٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ ذَرٍّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ لَائَمَكُمْ مِنْ مَمْلُوْكِكُمْ فَاَطْعِمُوْهُ مِمَّا تَأْكُلُوْنَ وَاكْسُوْهُ مِمَّا تَكْسُوْنَ وَمَنْ لَا يُلَائِمُكُمْ مِنْهُمْ فَبِيْعُوْهُ وَلَا تُعَذِّبُوْا خَلْقَ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواہ احمد وابوداؤد)

3369. Sayyiduna Abu Dharr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'Those of your slave who obey and serve you (as you desire, and are suited to your desire, and are suited to your temperament) , feed them from what you eat and clothe them from what you wear. Those of them who do not suit your temperament, sell them and do not punish (and do not hurt) the creatures or Allah."[1]

BE KIND TO ANIMALS

(٣٣٧٠) وَعَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ الْحَنْظَلِيَّةِ قَالَ مَرَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِبَعِيْرٍ قَدْ لَحِقَ ظَهْرُهٗ بِبَطْنِهٖ فَقَالَ اتَّقُوا اللّٰهَ فِيْ هٰذِهِ الْبَهَائِمِ الْمُعْجَمَةِ فَارْكَبُوْهَا صَالِحَةً وَاتْرُكُوْهَا صَالِحَةً۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3370. Sayyiduna Sahl ibn Al-Hanzaliyah narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم passed by a camel that was skin-and-bones. So, he said, "Fear Allah concerning these dumb animals. Ride them when they are strong and capable; (of carrying riders) and let them go about when they are sound (and not tired)."[2]

COMMENTARY: It is wajib (obligatory) on the owner to provide enough thay and water to his animals who cannot complain or ask for anything

The animals should be mounted only when they are strong enough to take a rider. Before they get tired, they must be allowed to graze and drink and rest. In that way, they will become strong.

SECTION III   اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

ABOUT AN ORPHAN'S PROPERTY

(٣٣٧١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ لَمَّا نَزَلَ قَوْلُهٗ تَعَالٰى وَلَا تَقْرَبُوْا مَالَ الْيَتِيْمِ اِلَّا بِالَّتِيْ هِيَ اَحْسَنُ وَقَوْلُهٗ تَعَالٰى اِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَاْكُلُوْنَ اَمْوَالَ الْيَتٰمٰى ظُلْمًا اَلْاٰيَةُ اِنْطَلَقَ مَنْ كَانَ عِنْدَهٗ يَتِيْمٌ فَعَزَلَ طَعَامَهٗ مِنْ طَعَامِهٖ وَشَرَابَهٗ مِنْ شَرَابِهٖ فَاِذَا فَضَلَ مِنْ طَعَامِ الْيَتِيْمِ وَشَرَابِهٖ شَيْءٌ حُبِسَ لَهٗ حَتّٰى يَاْكُلَهٗ اَوْ يَفْسُدَ فَاشْتَدَّ ذَالِكَ عَلَيْهِمْ فَذَكَرُوْا ذٰلِكَ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى وَيَسْاَلُوْنَكَ عَنِ الْيَتٰمٰى قُلْ اِصْلَاحٌ

لَّهُمْ خَيْرٌ، وَإِنْ تُخَالِطُوْهُمْ فَإِخْوَانُكُمْ، فَخَلَطُوا طَعَامَهُمْ بِطَعَامِهِمْ وَشَرَابَهُمْ بِشَرَابِهِمْ-

(رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3371. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when Allah's words were revealed.

وَلَا تَقْرَبُوا مَالَ الْيَتِيْمِ إِلَّا بِالَّتِيْ هِيَ أَحْسَنُ(6: 152)

And his words:

إِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَأْكُلُوْنَ أَمْوَالَ الْيَتٰمٰى ظُلْمًا الْآيَةُ(4: 10)

any one who had an orphan in his care (became extremely cautions and) went and separated his food and drink from his. So much so that if any of the food and drink of the orphan was left over, he kept that aside for him until he ate it (the test time) or it rotted (However,) they (these guardians) found this thing very taxing or them and told Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم about it and Allah revealed the verse:

وَيَسْئَلُوْنَكَ عَنِ الْيَتٰمٰى قُلْ إِصْلَاحٌ لَّهُمْ خَيْرٌ، وَإِنْ تُخَالِطُوْهُمْ فَإِخْوَانُكُمْ(٢:٢٢٠)

So they put together their food and their drink with theirs.
The translation of the verse respectively are:

{And approach not the wealth of the orphan, save with that which is best...} (6: 152)

إِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَأْكُلُوْنَ أَمْوَالَ الْيَتٰمٰى ظُلْمًا إِنَّمَا يَأْكُلُوْنَ فِيْ بُطُوْنِهِمْ نَارًا وَسَيَصْلَوْنَ سَعِيْرًا- (النساء ٤: ١٠)

{Surely those who devour the possessions of orphans wrongfully, devour fire in their bellies. And they shall enter a blazing fire} (4: 10)

وَيَسْئَلُوْنَكَ عَنِ الْيَتَامٰى قُلْ إِصْلَاحٌ لَّهُمْ خَيْرٌ وَإِنْ تُخَالِطُوْهُمْ فَإِخْوَانُكُمْ وَاللّٰهُ يَعْلَمُ الْمُفْسِدَ مِنَ الْمُصْلِحِ

وَلَوْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ لَأَعْنَتَكُمْ- (البقره ٢: ٢٢٠)

{And they ask your concerning the orphans. Say "To set their (affairs) aright is good." And yet if you intermix with them, they are your brethren. And Allah knows well the mischief maker from the right doer. And had Allah willed, he would have been hard upon you.}[1] (2: 220)

COMMENTARY: The gist of the hadith is that when the verses of the Quran (6: 152 and 4: 10) were revealed, the word of the guardians increase and become difficult. At the same time, the property of the orphans was wasted.

The guardians brought their predicament to the notice of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and Allah alleviated their difficulty but warned them that they must remain honest and well-wishing. Allah knows well the mischief maker from the right doer. If anyone was dishonest then he would be punished severely.

It is reported that a student of Imam Muhammad رحمہ اللہ died. He sold the student's books and paid for his shrouding and burial. Some people asked him, "Your student had not given instructions for this action. Why did you do it?" In answer, he recited this verse up to:

وَاللّٰهُ يَعْلَمُ الْمُفْسِدَ مِنَ الْمُصْلِحِ

{And Allah knows well the mischief-maker from the right-doer} (2: 220)

DO NOT SEPARATE FATHER & SON

(٣٣٧٢) وَعَنْ أَبِي مُوسٰى قَالَ لَعَنَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ فَرَّقَ بَيْنَ الْوَالِدِ وَوَلَدِهٖ وَ بَيْنَ الْأَخِ وَبَيْنَ أَخِيْهِ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة والدارقطني)

3372. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger invoked a curse on him who separates father from his son and a brother from his brother.[1]

COMMENTARY: To 'separate the two means to sell one of them or give him as a gift to someone, the son or one of the brothers is a child. This has been explained in the hadith of Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ (# 2361)

Of course, 'to separate' them could also mean 'to set one against another' so that they sever ties of kinship.

(٣٣٧٣) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أُتِيَ بِالسَّبْيِ أَعْطَى أَهْلَ الْبَيْتِ جَمِيْعًا كَرَاهِيَةَ أَنْ يُفَرِّقَ بَيْنَهُمْ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

3373. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when captives were brought to the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (from a battle, for example) , he gave whole families (to anyone) out of dislike for separating them.[2]

THE BAD PEOPLE

(٣٣٧٤) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ أَلَا أُنَبِّئُكُمْ بِشِرَارِكُمُ الَّذِيْ يَأْكُلُ وَحْدَهٗ وَيَجْلِدُ عَبْدَهٗ وَيَمْنَعُ رِفْدَهٗ۔ (رواه رزين)

3374. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked, "Shall I not tell you who your evil ones are? They are those who eat alone, beat their slaves and deny favours (to others)."[3]

COMMENTARY: This hadith lists some things that are disliked and bad. So, those people who have them as their traits are evil. The bad mannered and the niggardly are evil.

Ibn Asakir has presented a tradition from Mu'awiyah رضی اللہ عنہ in Jami Saghir that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked, "Shall I not inform of the evil people?" He is bad who eats alone, does not let anyone derive benefit from him, travels alone and beats his slave (unjustly). Shall I not tell you who is worse than him? He is worse who detests people and people dislike him. And, shall I not tell you of one who is worse than him? He is worse than him of whose mischief people are scared and except no good from him. And, Shall I not tell you of one who is worse than him? He is who barters his hereafter for the present world. And shall I not tell you who is worse than this man? He is the one who earns the worldly possessions through religion.

TREAT SLAVES AS CHILDREN & BROTHERS

(٣٣٧٥) وَعَنْ اَبِي بَكْرِنِ الصِّدِّيْقِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ سَيِّئُ الْمَلَكَةِ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَلَيْسَ اَخْبَرْتَنَا اَنَّ هٰذِهِ الْاُمَّةَ اَكْثَرُ الْاُمَمِ مَمْلُوْكِيْنَ وَيَتَامٰى قَالَ نَعَمْ فَاَكْرِمُوْهُمْ كَكَرَامَةِ اَوْلَادِكُمْ وَاَطْعِمُوْهُمْ مِمَّا تَاْكُلُوْنَ قَالُوْا فَمَا تَنْفَعُنَا الدُّنْيَا قَالَ فَرَسٌ تَرْتَبِطُهُ تُقَاتِلُ عَلَيْهِ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَمَمْلُوْكٌ يَكْفِيْكَ فَاِذَا صَلّٰى فَهُوَ اَخُوْكَ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

3375. Sayyiduna Abu Bakr as Saddiq رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He shall not enter paradise who treats his slaves badly." They (the sahabah) رضی اللہ عنہ asked, "O Messenger of Allah, did you not tell us that this (your) umah will have more slaves and orphans than other ummah?" He said, "Yes, So keep them dear to you as you Have your children dear to you, and feed them out of what you eat." Then they asked, "O Messenger of Allah, what is it that would benefit us in this world?" He said, "A horse that you keep tethered (ad ready) to fight on it in Allah's path, and a slave who suffices (caring for your worldly tasks so that you may find time to devote to tasks of the hereafter). When he offers salah (prayer), he is your brother."[1]

COMMENTARY: Jihad would be waged often, So very many captives would be taken. So, too, Muslims would be martyred and their children will be orphaned.

CHAPTER - XIX

ADOLESCENCE (OR PUBERTY) & BRINGING UP CHILDREN

بَابُ بُلُوْغِ الصَّغِيْرِ وَحِضَانَتِهِ فِي الصِّغَرِ

In this chapter we shall mention the signs of puberty in a boy and a girl. We shall also point out who is responsible to train and raise a child.

SIGNS & AGE OF PUBERTY: The sign of boy's adolescence is that he gets nocturnal emissions and becomes capable for reproduction and of ejaculation.

The sign of a girl's maturity is that she experiences menstruation, get nocturnal dreams and can become pregnant.

If these signs are not fund, then they are treated as nature at the age of fifteen years. The edict is according to this and the minimum age of which a boy matures is twelve years, and a girl at nine years.

If they are near attaining puberty and they say that they are mature, then they will be believed. They will be regarded as such in Shari'ah (divine law).

WHO BRINGS UP A CHILD: The mother has the greatest right to bring up her child, irrespective of whether her marriage is intact or she is divorced. But, if she has apostated or is wicked and bad charactered then she does not have the greatest right. If she is divorced and refuses to rear her child, then she will not be compelled because she might be unable and helpless to do it, but if there are no uterine relatives then she must be forced to bring up the child rather than let the child get lost.

If the mother (who is divorced or widowed) marries another man who is not a mahram relative of the child, then she will be have the greatest right to bring up the child. If she marries a mahram (of the child), like its paternal uncle then her right will not be withdrawn.

Again, if the mother marries a man who is not the child's mahram and loses the (greatest) right to rear the child and afterwards is divorced by her second husband or is widowed and marries a man who is the child's mahram then she acquires back the right to raise the child, more than anyone else.

If a child's mother loses her right to raise it, or dies, then the next greatest right to rear the child rests with its maternal grandmother. If she is not alive, then it will go to the maternal great grandmother and so on up the ladder. After them, the right rests with the paternal grand mother and so on.

In their absence, the right to raise the child rest with its sister (real) followed by half sister, step sister, maternal aunt, paternal aunt and sisters daughters and brother's daughters. The daughters of the sister will have a greater right than paternal aunts (father's sister).

The relatives enumerated here as eligible to raise a child must necessarily be free woman. A female slave and an umm walad have no right to raise a child. However, a dhimmi woman has a right to raise a child provided it has not attained an age of understanding religion.

When there is no woman eligible to raise the child, then the right rests with the asbah (male relatives on the father's side) according to the same sequence as their eligibility for inheritance. However, a girl will not be handed over (to be raised) to a paternal relative who is not a mahram, like a paternal cousin, or to an indecent or careless boy.

LIMIT OF RIGHT TO RAISE CHILD: The limit of the right to raise a child is its age of nine or seven years.

According to Quduri, the right to raise a male child ends when the child can eat and drink by himself, wear his garments and make istinja, or cleanse himself. Thereafter, his father can take the child in his custody forcibly. As for a female child, her mother and maternal grandmother will remains eligible to raise her till she begins to have monthly periods.
Imam Muhammad says that her mother and grandmother remain eligible to raise daughter till she can have sexual intercourse. When that happens, her mother, maternal and paternal grandmothers and other women lose the right to raise her.

SECTION I الفصل الأوّل

ADULTHOOD AT FIFTEEN YEARS

(٣٣٧٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ عُرِضْتُ عَلَى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَامَ أُحُدٍ وَأَنَا ابْنُ أَرْبَعَ عَشَرَةَ سَنَةً فَرَدَّنِيْ ثُمَّ عَرَضْتُ عَلَيْهِ عَامَ الْخَنْدَقِ وَأَنَا ابْنُ خَمْسَ عَشَرَةَ سَنَةً فَأَجَازَنِيْ فَقَالَ عُمَرُ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيْزِ هٰذَا فَرْقُ مَا بَيْنَ الْمُقَاتِلَةِ وَالذُّرِيَّةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3376. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said: I was taken to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم in the year of Uhud (3 AH to participate in jihad) when I was fourteen years old, but he sent me back. Then, I was taken to him in the year of Khundaq (battle of Trenches) when I was fifteen years old and he permitted me (to participated in the battle – the jihad).
Sayyiduna Umar ibn Abdul Aziz رحمہ اللہ said, "This distinguishes the warriors from the children."[1]

COMMENTARY: This is evidence that the age of adult hood is fifteen years.

THE QUESTION OF RAISING DAUGHTER OF HAMZAH رضی اللہ عنہ

(٣٣٧٧) وَعَنِ الْبَرَاءِ ابْنِ عَازِبٍ قَالَ صَالَحَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ الْحُدَيْبِيَةِ عَلٰى ثَلَاثَةِ أَشْيَاءَ عَلٰى أَنَّ مَنْ أَتَاهُ مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ رَدَّهُ إِلَيْهِمْ وَمَنْ أَتَاهُمْ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ لَمْ يَرُدُّوْهُ وَعَلٰى أَنْ يَدْخُلَهَا مِنْ قَابِلٍ وَيُقِيْمُ بِهَا ثَلَاثَةَ أَيَّامٍ فَلَمَّا دَخَلَهَا وَمَضَى الْأَجَلُ خَرَجَ فَتَبِعَتْهُ ابْنَةُ حَمْزَةَ تُنَادِيْ يَا عَمِّ يَا عَمِّ فَتَنَاوَلَهَا عَلِيٌّ فَأَخَذَ بِيَدِهَا فَاخْتَصَمَ فِيْهَا عَلِيٌّ وَزَيْدٌ وَجَعْفَرٌ فَقَالَ عَلِيٌّ أَنَا أَخَذْتُهَا وَهِيَ بِنْتُ عَمِّيْ وَقَالَ جَعْفَرٌ بِنْتُ عَمِّيْ وَخَالَتُهَا تَحْتِيْ وَقَالَ زَيْدٌ بِنْتُ أَخِيْ فَقَضٰى بِهَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِخَالَتِهَا وَقَالَ الْخَالَةُ بِمَنْزِلَةِ الْأُمِّ وَقَالَ لِعَلِيٍّ أَنْتَ مِنِّيْ وَأَنَا مِنْكَ وَقَالَ لِجَعْفَرٍ أَشْبَهْتَ خَلْقِيْ وَخُلُقِيْ وَقَالَ لِزَيْدٍ أَنْتَ أَخُوْنَا وَمَوْلَانَا۔ (متفق عليه)

3377. Sayyiduna Al-Bara ibn Aazib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that on the day of al Hudaybiyah the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم made peace (with the infidels of Makkah) on three conditions that:

- (i) If any of the polytheists came to him, he would send him back to them (the Makkans).
- (ii) If any of the Muslim came to them, they would not send him back (to him), and,

[1] Bukhari # 2664, Muslim # 91-1868, Tirmidhi # 1366, Ibn Majah 2543.

(iii) He would be allowed to enter Makkah next year and stay in it for (only) three days (and perform the redeeming umrah).

So, when he entered it and the (agreed) period was over and he set out, the daughter of (Sayyiduna) Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ followed him, calling "Uncle! O Uncle!" Ali رضی اللہ عنہ held her hand (to take her along). Then Abu رضی اللہ عنہ, Zayd رضی اللہ عنہ and Ja'far رضی اللہ عنہ disputed about her (each claiming right to raise her). So, Ali رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I have taken her (already) and she is the daughter of my paternal uncle (and I have a greater night to raise her)." Ja'far رضی اللہ عنہ said, 'She is the daughter of my brother and her maternal aunt is my wife (so I have more right to raise her)." And, Zayd رضی اللہ عنہ said, "She is the daughter of my brother." (And, he too claimed the night to bring her up.) Then, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم decided about her in favour of her maternal aunt (who was the wife of Jafar) رضی اللہ عنہ. He said, "The maternal aunt is like the mother." Then, he said to Ali رضی اللہ عنہ You belong to me are I belong to you." (He meant that both of them were perfectly sincere and of one mind). And, he said to Jafar رضی اللہ عنہ, "you resemble me in appearance and nature." And, to Zayd رضی اللہ عنہ, so said, 'You are our brother and our dear one."[1]

COMMENTARY: Hudaybiyah is about fifteen miles from Makkah towards jiddah (waiting period). In 6 AH, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم left Madinah, alongwith his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم, to performs umrah at Makkah. However, at Hudaybiyah, the idolaters obstructed his passage.

There, the peace treaty of Hudaybiyah was concluded between the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and the idolaters of Makkah as stated in the hadith in brief.

We shall speak on it at length in the Book of jihad, Insha Allah.

Hamza رضی اللہ عنہ was the Prophet's رضی اللہ عنہ paternal uncle and faster brother. Both of them had been suckled by Thawbiyah, the female slave of Abu Lahab. This is why the daughter of Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ called the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم uncle.

Jafar رضی اللہ عنہ was the paternal cousin of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He was the son of Abu Talib and brother of Ali رضی اللہ عنہ, ten years his senior.

Zayd ibn Thabit رضی اللہ عنہ was a slave whom the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم has set free, and adopted him as a son. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم loved him very much. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had established bonds of fraternity between Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ and Zayd رضی اللہ عنہ. Hence, Zayd رضی اللہ عنہ called the daughter of Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ his niece.

Ali رضی اللہ عنہ took the daughter of Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ to Madinah but the three men contended with each other on he question of the custody of the child and her maintenance. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم entrusted her to her maternal aunt who was Ja'far's رضی اللہ عنہ wife and he spoke words of encouragement to each of them.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

MOTHER HAS MORE RIGHT

(٣٣٧٨) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ جَدِّهِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو أَنَّ امْرَأَةً قَالَتْ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّ

[1] Bukhari # 2700, Muslim # 90-1783, Tirmidhi # 1911.

ابني هذا كان بطني له وعاء وثديي له سقاء وحجري له حواء وإن أباه طلقني وأراد أن ينزعه مني

فقال رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم أنت أحق به ما لم تنكحي۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد)

3378. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father (Shu'ayb) رحمه الله from his grandfather Abdullah ibn Amr رضى الله عنه that a woman submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, this my son! My womb was a vessel for him (for a period of time) , my breasts were a water-skin for him (and I suckled him) and my lap was a cradle for him. His father has (now) divorced me and intends to snatch him from me." Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "You have more right to him (than anyone else has) as long as you do not marry."[1]

COMMENTARY: The hadith that follows (# 3379) quotes the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم as giving option to the boy of stay with his father or with his mother. Teebi explains that perhaps the son mentioned in this hadith may have been a minor child not of understanding age and the one in the next could have been of a discerning age.

As for the condition 'as long as v:u do not marry.' The ulama (Scholars) say that it means marriage to a non mahram of the child. If she marries a man who is a mahram relative of the child, like his paternal uncle, then she retains the right to raise her son because this man is expected to b kind to the child.

CHOICE TO CHILD

(٣٣٧٩) وعن أبي هريرة أن رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم خير غلاما بين أبيه وأمه۔ (رواه الترمذى)

3379. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's messenger gave choice to a boy (to choose) between his father and his mother (to stay with either of them).[2]

COMMENTARY: This has been explained in the commentary against the previous hadith. In that case, the question was about a child being raised and nurtured. So, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave preference to the mother.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله rules accordingly. He says that during the period of nurturing the child has no choice.

Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله says that the child may exercise the option even during the time he is fostered.

(٣٣٨٠) وعنه قال جاءت امرأة إلى رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم فقالت إن زوجي يريد أن يذهب

بابني وقد سقاني ونفعني فقال النبي صلى الله عليه وسلم هذا أبوك وهذه أمك فخذ بيد أيهما شئت

فأخذ بيد أمه فانطلقت به۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائى)

3380. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that a woman came to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and complained that her husband intended to take away from her their son and, 'indeed, he provided him water and other benefits (having attained such age). The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "This is your father and this is your mother. Take the hand of whichever of the too you wish (to go with)." He took the 3381. Sayyiduna Hilal ibn Usamah رضی الله عنه narrated from Abu Maymunah Sulayman, رضی الله عنه the freedman of (one of) the people of Madinah. He said that while he was seated with Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه a Persian woman came to him. She had her son with her. Her husband had divorced her, and both of them claimed (custody of) the child. She spoke to him in Persian that her husband wished to take away their son from her. So, Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه advised her to cast lots, speaking in alien language. Then her husband came and protested, "who is disputing with me about my son?" Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه said, "O Allah! I do not say so (on my own) , but I was sitting with Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم when a woman came to him and pleaded, 'O Allah's Messenger, my husband intends to take away my son who benefits me and draws water for me from the well of Abu 'Inaba' (Here, Nasa'I has 'from sweet water.') Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said (The two of you) cast lots for him. The husband protested, 'who disputes with me about my son?' Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said (the boy). 'This is your father and this is your mother. Take whichever of the two you wish by the hand, He took the hand of his mother."[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith discloses that some of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم did know the.languages of the non Arabs.

The boy mentioned in this hadith was also an adult so he was given the choice. It is clear that he was an adult because he fetched water from a far off place, outside the city. No mother would send a minor to fetch water from a distant place.

BOOK - XIV

(AL-ITQ) EMANCIPATION كِتَابُ الْعِتْقِ

SETTING A SLAVE FREE

STATUS OF EMANCIPATION IN SHARI'AH (DIVINE LAW): From the point of view of Shari'ah (divine law), freedom is a faculty of wisdom that lets man have his inherent right. He thus becomes eligible to take over as master, leader or one worthy of bearing testimony. If this inherent right of anyone is taken away from him when he is enslaved and then he is set free and the right is restored to him the faculty of wisdom enables him to be eligible to act as a master, leader and witness. Also he gets the ability to dictate others and prevent others from dictating to him. He stands among the independent men.

PREREQUISITE FOR SETTING FREE: To set a slave free, the person who sets him or her free must be reposed with authority, be independent, adult sane and owner of the slave he sets free.

KINDS OF FREEDOM: In some cases it is wajib (obligatory) to set a slave free, like when making an expiation.
In some cases it is a sin. Examples are when there is a likelihood of his fleeing to enemy territory, or apostating, or turning into a thief or robber.
In some cases, it is permissible, like a slave is released to consign reward to someone.
In some cases, it is a worship. It is when a slave is set free for Allah's sake, to please him.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

REWARD ON EMANCIPATING SLAVE

(٣٣٨٢) عَنْ اَبِىْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَعْتَقَ رَقَبَةً مُسْلِمَةً اَعْتَقَ اللّٰهُ بِكُلِّ عُضْوٍ مِنْهُ عُضْوًا مِنَ النَّارِ حَتّٰى فَرْجَهُ بِفَرْجِهٖ۔ (متفق عليه)

3382. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If any one set free a Muslim slave, then Allah will set free from hell against every limb of the slave a limb of his, so much so that against his sexual organs his sexual organs."[1]

COMMENTARY: The slave has been defined as Muslim because the reward would increase, for, otherwise there is a reward in releasing from slavery any slave.
The ulama (Scholars) say because of the specific mention of sexual organs that it is better for a man to set free a man slave and for a woman to set free a woman slave.

BETTER TO FREE EXPENSIVE & FAVOURITE SLAVE

(٣٣٨٣) وَعَنْ اَبِىْ ذَرٍ قَالَ سَأَلْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَىُّ الْعَمَلِ اَفْضَلُ؟ قَالَ اِيْمَانٌ بِاللّٰهِ وَجِهَادٌ فِىْ

سَبِيْلِهٖ۔ قَالَ قُلْتُ فَاَيُّ الرِّقَابِ اَفْضَلُ قَالَ اَغْلَاهَا ثَمَنًا وَاَنْفَسُهَا عِنْدَ اَهْلِهَا قُلْتُ فَاِنْ لَمْ اَفْعَلْ قَالَ تُعِيْنُ صَانِعًا اَوْ تَصْنَعُ لِاَخْرَقَ قُلْتُ فَاِنْ لَمْ اَفْعَلْ قَالَ تَدَعُ النَّاسَ مِنَ الشَّرِّ فَاِنَّهَا صَدَقَةٌ تَصَدَّقُ بِهَا عَلٰى نَفْسِكَ۔ (متفق علیہ)

3383. Sayyiduna Abu Dharr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he asked the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, "Which deed is best?" He said, "Faith in Allah and waging jihad in his path." He then asked, "Which slave is best (to set free)?" He said, "The most expensive and the dearest to the owner." He asked, "And, if I am unable to do that?" (Because I may not afford such a slave?) He said, "Help one who makes (something), or make (something) or one who cannot make it." He asked, "And, if I cannot do it?" He said, "Spare the people from (Your) mischief. It is a charity that you make to yourself.[1]

COMMENTARY: It is very obvious that faith is the best deed. Without it no deed would be worthwhile.

Jihad gives strength to religion. Muslim become supreme through it.

As for salah (prayer) and fasting they are excellent from another angel. This hadith does not mean to compare jihad with them. Jihad could also mean 'to toil heard, 'strive to the utmost, 'effort,' 'exertion.' And it is applied both to jihad in Allah's path, war, and also to other forms of worship. Thus doing what we are commanded to do and obstaining from what we are forbidden entails strenuous effort and this is jihad akbar (the greatest from of jihad).

The meaning of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying, therefore, is that the best action is to have faith and to act on the demands of faith. It is as we are told

قُلْ اٰمَنْتُ بِاللّٰهِ ثُمَّ اسْتَقِمْ

(Say 'I believe in Allah then be steadfast).

Help one who does something: The something done is everything that is a means of a man's livelihood. It can be industry, skilled work, trading or any profession. This looks after needs of his family. If a person cannot do that because of his weakness then he should be helped.

If anyone does not know how to make something necessary for his livelihood then others should make it or do it for him. On that support, he will subsist.

Abstain from causing harm to others: Do not involve them in evil. Do not hurt other with your tongue and hands and do not cause them loss of any kind. Abstaining from these things is also being good and spreading blessings, more so when one abstains from evil in spite of having power to do it.

Instead of saying in the conclusion, 'this is being good to other, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم reminded us that this conduct is a charity to ourselves.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِیْ

MERIT OF HELPING A SLAVE GET FREEDOM

(٣٣٨٤) عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ قَالَ جَاءَ اَعْرَابِيٌّ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ عَلِّمْنِي عَمَلًا يُدْخِلُنِي الْجَنَّةَ

3384. Sayyiduna al Bara ibn Aazib رضی الله عنه narrated that a villager came to the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم and submitted. "Teach me a deed that will get me admittance to paradise." He said, Though you have used few words, yet you have presented a significant enquiry. Set free a soul and deliver a slave (from slavery)." He asked, 'Are they not the same thing?" He said, "No. To set a soul face is to do it by yourself while to deliver a slave (from bonds of slavery) is to help him pay the price (for buying freedom). And (more deeds leading to paradise include) you should lend (to a needy person) a milch camel or sheep that has much milk for milking. And, you must be kind to a cruel relative (who does wrong to you). If you are unable to do that, then feed the hungry and give drink to the thirsty. And enjoin piety and forbid evil. And, if you are unable to do that, then hold your tongue (from everything) except from what is good."[1]

COMMENTARY: One sets his own slave from or help another's slave pay for his freedom when he has contracted with his master to buy it at a certain price. This kind of slave is called a mukatab.

The Arabic word in the text is (المنحة) (alminhah). It stands for a she-camel or sheep that has plenty of milk. The poor person to whom it is lent may use its milk or hair.

As for the final edict 'shut your tongue from everything but good words.' There is another hadith of the same purport:

مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلْيَقُلْ خَيْرًا اَوْلِيَصْمُتْ

"He who believes in Allah and the Last Day must speak what is good or observe silence."

In other words, one must exercise full control over one's tongue. Nothing bad must come on the tongue. Whenever the tongue carps, only good must it utter. If this advice is observed, one can preserve oneself from many kind of less in the word and religion. Misused words generate misleading thoughts.

The ulama (Scholars) say of these too hadith that speaking what is 'good' is that which is contrary to evil and has reward for it. Whatever speech is permitted falls in the category of 'good' (If unnecessary speech is repressed many regret could be averted.)

3385. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Abasah رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم

said, "He who build a mosque so that Allah may be remembered therein will have a house built for him in paradise. He who emancipates Muslim slave will have that (action) as his ransom from hell. He who grows old in Allah's path (in jihad, pilgrimage, acquiring knowledge or in Islam) will have that (old age) as a light for him on the day of resurrection. (He will find deliverance with it in the darkness of that day.)[1]

(٣٣٨٦) عَنِ الْغَرِيْفِ ابْنِ عَيَّاشٍ الدَّيْلَمِيِّ قَالَ اَتَيْنَا وَاثِلَةَ بْنِ الْاَسْقَعِ فَقُلْنَا حَدِّثْنَا حَدِيْثًا لَيْسَ فِيْهِ زِيَادَةٌ وَلَا نُقْصَانٌ فَغَضِبَ وَقَالَ اِنَّ اَحَدَكُمْ لَيَقْرَأُ وَمُصْحَفُهُ مُعَلَّقٌ فِيْ بَيْتِهٖ فَيَزِيْدُ وَيَنْقُصُ فَقُلْنَا اِنَّمَا اَرَدْنَا حَدِيْثًا سَمِعْتَهُ مِنَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اَتَيْنَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ صَاحِبٍ لَنَا اَوْجَبَ يَعْنِي النَّارَ بِالْقَتْلِ فَقَالَ اَعْتِقُوْا عَنْهُ يُعْتِقِ اللّٰهُ بِكُلِّ عُضْوٍ مِنْهُ عُضْوًا مِنْهُ مِنَ النَّارِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3386. Sayyiduna al-Gharif ibn Ayyash ad-Daylamy رحمه الله said that they went to (Sayyiduna) Wathilah ibn Al-Asqa رضى الله عنه and requested him to narrate to them a hadith without any addition or deduction. So he got angry and said. "Any one of you does recite the Quran while its copy is hung up in his house, yet he adds and omits (by mistake. So, in spite of immense care, there can be some error in narrating hadith)." They said, "We only intended (to hear) a hadith you may have heard from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم." So, he said, "We had gone to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم concerning a friend of ours who had made hell certain for himself because of a murder (of someone he committed or suicide). He said, 'Set a slave free on his behalf, Allah will deliver from hell a limb of his for every limb of his."[2]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Wathilah رضى الله عنه thought that Gharif رحمه الله had asked him to narrated the exact words of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Then Gharif رحمه الله explained that they only wished to know the meaning of the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words.

This means that it is allowed to narrate the hadith with some changes in its words but the meaning and message must not change.

RECOMMENDING A SLAVE'S RELEASE IS AN EXCELLENT SADAQAH (CHARITY)

(٣٣٨٧) وَعَنْ سُمُرَةَ بْنِ جُنْدُبٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَفْضَلُ الصَّدَقَةِ الشَّفَاعَةُ بِهَا تُفَكُّ الرَّقَبَةُ۔ رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ۔

3387. Sayyiduna Samurah ibn Jundub رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The best sadaqah (charity) is the recommendation that gets a slave his freedom."[3]

COMMENTARY: The recommendation may lead to the slave's emancipation or deliverance from a punishment.

CHAPTER - II

(I) EMANCIPATING A SLAVE WHO IS OWNED JOINTLY,
(II) BUYING A RELATIVE &
(III) EMANCIPATING DURING AN ILLNESS

بَابُ اِعْتَاقِ الْعَبْدِ الْمُشْتَرَكِ وَشِرَاءِ الْقَرِيْبِ وَالْعِتْقِ فِى الْمَرَضِ

ABOUT SETTING FREE: Among the ahadith of this chapter, some are on the subject of slaves who are owned jointly by two (or more) masters, If one of them sets free his share of the slave, what should the other do? Is part of slave continuing in ownership allowed or not? There are differing opinions about it and even the Hanafi scholars are not u unanimous on this subject.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله recognizes part freedom. But, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله do not recognize part freedom. This raises many other questions, commands and ruling also arise. These are mentioned in the lines that follow.

The second portion of this chapter is about buying a slave who is a relative. The ruling in such cases is that merely buying a relative gets him his freedom irrespective of whether the buyer set him free or not. However, here too. Opinions differ on which relatives are covered by this ruling. This issue is also discussed in detail in the lines that follow.

The third portion of this chapter concerns a person who sets a slave free while he is ill. What is the ruling about it? This will be elaborated at appropriate places in the ahadith.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

FREEDOM OF SLAVE OWNED COMMONLY

(٣٣٨٨) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَعْتَقَ شِرْكًا لَهُ فِي عَبْدٍ وَكَانَ لَهُ مَالٌ يَبْلُغُ ثَمَنَ الْعَبْدِ قُوِّمَ الْعَبْدُ عَلَيْهِ قِيْمَةَ عَدْلٍ فَأُعْطِيَ شُرَكَاؤُهُ حِصَصَهُمْ وَعَتَقَ عَلَيْهِ الْعَبْدُ وَاِلَّا فَقَدْ عَتَقَ مِنْهُ مَا عَتَقَ۔

3388. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If any one sets free his share in a slave (who is owned jointly) and has enough money to pay the full (remaining) price of the slave, then a reasonable price of the slave should be determined and his partners) should be paid their portions, the slave will be set free in this manner. If not, then he will be emancipated only to the extend of his share that he has set free. (The share of the others) will remain in the slave)."[1]

COMMENTARY: If a slave belongs to two owners and one of them frees him to the extent of his share and the other does not, then the first one should buy the share of the second and set the slave free. However, if he is unable to buy the other share then the slave would remain in slavery to that extent and be part free.

This mean that freedom and slavery can be divided in a single person. The second partner cannot be compelled to set the slave free to the extent he owns. Also the slave cannot be made to toil (to earn his freedom). This is also the ruling of imam Shafi'I رحمه الله

[1] Bukhari # 2522, Muslim # 1-1501, Tirmidhi # 1301, Abu Dawud # 3940, Nasa'i # 4699, Ibn Majah # 2528.

As for Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله, he concedes that (slavery and freedom may combine in a single person, and if the partner who releases his share can buy off the other partner he may do so, or the second may make him toil to the extend of his share or set him free to the extent of his share (so he will be completely free). If the first partner who frees the slave his own portion is unable to buy the remaining share he must not turn over his share to the other partner. Rather, this partner must get the price of his share from the slave through making him toil (for his freedom), or he may emancipate his share. In this case the right of wila (ولا) will be available to both the owners (meaning, they would inherit from the slave.) The opinion of Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله in this regard is that (if the partner who sets the slave free to the extend of his share can afford to buy off the other partner then he must do that otherwise the other partner must get the slave to toil for his freedom to the extent of his share and thus get his price from the slave. Since freedom cannot be partial, the right of wila (ولا) will rest only with him who sets free.)

TOIL FOR FREEDOM

(٣٣٨٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ اَعْتَقَ شِقْصًا فِيْ عَبْدٍ اُعْتِقَ كُلُّهُ اِنْ كَانَ لَهُ مَالٌ فَاِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ مَالٌ اُسْتُسْعِيَ الْعَبْدُ غَيْرَ مَشْقُوْقٍ عَلَيْهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3389. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If a person emancipates one share in a slave (who is jointly owned), the slave is free completely (and he will be credited with his freedom), and if he had the wherewithal (he may buy the other shares too). If he does not possess enough resources, then the slave will be made to toil to pay for his freedom, but he should not be made to overwork."[1]

DO NOT DEPRIVE HEIRS BY EMANCIPATING SLAVE ON DEATH BED

(٣٣٩٠) وَعَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ اَنَّ رَجُلًا اَعْتَقَ سِتَّةَ مَمْلُوْكِيْنَ لَهُ عِنْدَ مَوْتِهٖ وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ مَالٌ غَيْرُهُمْ فَدَعَا بِهِمْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَجَزَّأَهُمْ اَثْلَاثًا ثُمَّ اَقْرَعَ بَيْنَهُمْ فَاَعْتَقَ اثْنَيْنِ وَاَرَقَّ اَرْبَعَةً وَقَالَ لَهُ قَوْلًا شَدِيْدًا رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَرَوَاهُ النَّسَائِيُّ عَنْهُ وَذَكَرَ لَقَدْ هَمَمْتُ اَنْ لَا اُصَلِّيَ عَلَيْهِ بَدَلَ وَقَالَ لَهُ قَوْلًا شَدِيْدًا۔ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ اَبِيْ دَوٗدَ قَالَ لَوْ شَهِدْتُّهُ قَبْلَ اَنْ يُدْفَنَ لَمْ يُدْفَنْ فِيْ مَقَابِرِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ۔

3390. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضی الله عنه narrated that a man set free six slaves that he had at the time of his death. He had no property other than them. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم called them and divided them into three batches. Then he drew lots among them and set two (of them) free and retained four in slavery. And he spoke severely of the man.

Another version also from Imran R) in Nasa'i has instead of 'and he spoke severely of the man, (The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Indeed, I had resolved not to offer (the funeral) salah (prayer) over him." And he spoke severely of the man.)

Another version in Abu Dawud has: He said, "Where I there before his burial, he would not have been buried in a Muslim graveyard. (These statements are by way of warning and to correct people).[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet set free two slaves out of six because the dying man can draw a will his heirs are entitled to inheritanc of the rest of his property. A will may be drawn in the same way for other things like sadaqah (charity), gifts, etc up to one third. Zayd ul Arab رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم issued this command because generally the slave were Negros and they were of the same value. Nawawi has quoted Imam Abu Hanifah رضی اللہ عنہ as saying that in such a situation (when equal treatment is offered), every slave will be presumed to be free up to one third of his person and he will be made to toil for his emancipation for up to the remaining two-thirds of his person.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was displeased with this man because he deprived his heirs of their inheritance. This was a very disliked action. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم showed kindness to the man's heirs by giving them four of the slave and so their right. The hadith discloses that a dead person may be criticized for this cruel action and contravention of Shari'ah (divine law). This does not contradict the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying:

أُذْكُرُوا اَمْوَاتَكُمْ بِالْخَيْرِ

(Remember your dead with goodness)

PURCHASING A SLAVE WHO IS ONE'S FATHER

(٣٣٩١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَجْزِيْ وَلَدٌ وَالِدَهُ اِلَّا اَنْ يَجِدَهُ مَمْلُوْكًا فَيَشْتَرِيَهُ فَيُعْتِقَهُ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3391. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "No son can repay his father (for the things he has done for him) except that if he finds him in slavery, he buys him and sets him free."[2]

COMMENTARY: It seems from this hadith that a father does not become free only on his son purchasing him. Rather, after buying him he must set him free.

The Zawahir abide by this opinion. However, the consensus of the ulama (Scholars) is that when a father comes under his son's ownership, he becomes free. This is stated explicitly in a hadith that follows in section II (#3393), and this hadith too means the same thing as Mazhar explains that the word (فیعتقہ) in this hadith under discussion has the latter fa (ف) to denote cause. In this case the concluding portion of this hadith would mean:

(When he finds his father as someone's slave and buys him to get him his freedom.)

Hence, it will not be necessary for him to say after buying him, "I have set you free." He is set free simply on his son's buying him.

MAY A MUDABBAR BE SOLD

(٣٣٩٢) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ رَجُلًا مِنَ الْاَنْصَارِ دَبَّرَ مَمْلُوْكًا وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ مَالٌ غَيْرُهُ فَبَلَغَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ

3392. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that a man of the Ansar made a slave a mudabbar (to be free after his death). He owned no other property. When the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم heard of it, he asked, "who would buy this slave from me?" Nu'aym ibn an Nahham رضی الله عنه bought him for eight hundred dirhams.

Another version (on Muslim) has that Nu'aym ibn Abdullah al Adawi رضی الله عنه bought him for eight hundred dirhams and he brought that (eight hundred dirhams) to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم who gave them to the man (whose slave it was) and said, "Spend (this money) first on yourself, giving sadaqah (charity) (of it) to your own self. If something is spared, give it to your family. If something is spared after they are given, then provide something to your relatives. If, after they are given, something remains, then do like this and do like that." (the narrator said) meaning that it may be disbursed if front of him, to his right and to his left.[1]

COMMENTARY: To make a slave a mudabbar is saying to one's slave "you are free after my death." The apparent meaning of this hadith is that it is allowed to sell this kind of a slave. Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله hold that it is allowed to sell a mudabbar. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that there are two kinds of mudabbar: mudabbar mutlaq and mudabbar muqid. The former is one whose master says to him, "After my death you are free." The latter is he who is told by this master, "If I die of this illness, you are free." The former can only be set free and there is no other way of giving up ownership over him. The owner can emancipate him but cannot sell him or give him as a gift to another, but he can ask him to serve him. If the salve is female, the owner may have sexual intercourse with her and even give the slave in marriage to any, even without the slave's consent. Such a slave is free after the master's death from one third of his (master's) property. If he cannot be ser free from the master's one third property, then he will be released in part to the equivalent of the third of the third of the master's property.

As for mudabbar muqid, he may be sold. It is allowed. If the pre-requisite is met and the owner dies in that illness, then mudabbar muqid will also be free like mutlaq Hence. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has sold the mudabbar muqid.

The Mishkat has the name as Nu'aym ibn Nahham. But this is an error of the scribe. Actually Nu'ayum and Nahham are names of one and the same person. The reason why he got the name nahham was that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "When I entered paradise, I heard Nu'aym's nahmah (sound). So, he began to be called Nahham.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

MAHRAM RELATIVE IS FREE THE MOMENT HE IS ENSLAVED

(٣٣٩٣) وَعَنِ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ سَمُرَةَ عَنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ مَلَكَ ذَارَحِمٍ مَحْرَمٍ فَهُوَ حُرٌّ۔

(رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة)

3393. Sayyiduna (Al) Hasan رحمه الله (Busri) reported from (Sayyiduna) Samurah رضی الله عنه that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If anyone happens to own a dhu rahm (relative) who is a mahram then he becomes emancipated" (however he owns him (by buying receiving a gift or through inheritance).[1]

COMMENTARY: Examples are father acquiring son, or son acquiring father, or brother acquiring brother. Even if their intention was to get a slave, because of the relationship the slave will become emancipated.

The word in the Arabic text is dhu rahm. It is applied to a relative through the womb and includes son, father brother, paternal uncle, nephew (brother's son) and such. The word mahram is a relative with whom marriage is never allowed. Thus, the son of paternal uncle and such other relatives are not dhurahm mahram (relatives who are mahram, or mahram is of the prohibited degrees).

The question whether a relative mahram whom one gets to possess becomes free automatically or has to be set free has been discussed against hadith # 3391 of Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه.

The majority of the ulama (Scholars) hold that relatives of the kind of usul (ancestors, like father, grandfather and up the line) and furu (descendants, like son, grandson, etc) become free simply on acquiring them. As for the others, the ulama (Scholars) differ. Imam Shifi'I رحمه الله hold that this distinction (of becoming free on being acquired) is available only to the usul and furu (ancestors and descendants). Imam Maalik رحمه الله includes brothers in this distinction but he has also said that all du rahm (relatives through the womb) are included in it. He also has a third ruling that conforms to Imam Shafi's ruling.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله holds that every such relative mahram becomes free when he is acquired as a slave.

UMM WALAD GAINS FREEDOM ON MASTER'S DEATH

(٣٣٩٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِذَا وَلَدَتْ اَمَةُ الرَّجُلِ مِنْهُ فَهِيَ مُعْتَقَةٌ عَنْ دُبُرٍ مِنْهُ اَوْ بَعْدَهٗ۔ (رواه الدارمی)

3394. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "when the female slave of a man bears his child, she becomes free on the heels of his death." Or he said, "After his death."[2]

COMMENTARY: During the life time of her master whose child she bears, the slave woman does not become free, but after his death she is free. During his life time, he cannot sell her, nor give her to someone as a gift. The ulama (Scholars) are unanimous about it.

[2] Ibn Majah # 2515, Darimi # 2274, Musnad Ahmad # 1-363.

The hadith that contradicts it is abrogated and will be explained against the next hadith (# 3395).

(٣٣٩٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ بِعْنَا أُمَّهَاتِ الْأَوْلَادِ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَأَبِيْ بَكْرٍ فَلَمَّا كَانَ عُمَرُ نَهَانَا عَنْهُ فَانْتَهَيْنَا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3395. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said, "We used to sell the *ummah*at ul walad (slave women who bore their master's children, plural of umm walad) in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and of Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ. When Umar رضی اللہ عنہ (become Khalifah and) forbade us to do so, we desisted.[1]

COMMENTARY: The question arises: why Umar رضی اللہ عنہ disallowed it when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and the first caliph Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ had not stopped it? The answer is that the people may not have known that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had forbidden the sale of Umm walad, or they may have been selling before the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade them to do so. As for Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ, his Khilafah (caliphate) (caliphate) was short and he was engaged mostly in other important affairs and could not have known of the sale of a Umm Walad otherwise he too would have curbed this activity.

SLAVE'S PROPERTY AFTER HIS RELEASE

(٣٣٩٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ أَعْتَقَ عَبْدًا وَلَهُ مَالٌ فَمَالُ الْعَبْدِ لَهُ إِلَّا أَنْ يَشْتَرِطَ السَّيِّدُ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3396. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone sets free a slave and he owns property, then the property of the slave belongs to the master unless he stipulates otherwise."[2]

(In that case it will remain with the slave.)

COMMENTARY: Clearly no slave can have any property. Where will he get any property? Whatever he has, he may have earned by doing some work with his master's permission. So that too will belong to the master because the slave and all that he possesses are his master's property. Therefore, when he is set free and his master says, "This property belongs to you," then that property will be deemed to be a charity or gift from his master. Therefore, on being free, he will be its owner.

PART FREEDOM

(٣٣٩٧) وَعَنْ أَبِي الْمَلِيْحِ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ أَنَّ رَجُلًا أَعْتَقَ شِقْصًا مِنْ غُلَامٍ فَذُكِرَ ذٰلِكَ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ لَيْسَ لِلّٰهِ شَرِيْكٌ فَأَجَازَ عِتْقَهُ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3397. Sayyiduna Abu Malih رحمہ اللہ reported from his father (Sayyiduna Usamah ibn Umayr) رضی اللہ عنہ that a man set free a portion of a slave. That was mentioned to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and he said, "Allah has no partner." Then he instructed him to set him free.

[2] Abu Dawud # 3962, Ibn Majah # 2529.

COMMENTARY: The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words mean that if any thing is done for Allah's sake and it is a form of worship then one must not divide one's share. Hence, it is not proper to emancipate part of a salve and leave the rest in slavery.
The concluding words of the hadith establish that slavery and freedom cannot be combined in one person. However, since Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله contends that slavery and freedom may combine, he explains these words to mean that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم commanded the man to set the slave free outright.

AN EXAMPLE OF CONDITIONAL FREEDOM

(٣٣٩٨) وَعَنْ سَفِينَةَ قَالَ كُنْتُ مَمْلُوكًا لِأُمِّ سَلَمَةَ فَقَالَتْ أُعْتِقُكَ وَأَشْتَرِطُ عَلَيْكَ أَنْ تَخْدُمَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا عِشْتَ فَقُلْتُ إِنْ لَمْ تَشْتَرِطِي عَلَيَّ مَا فَارَقْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا عِشْتُ فَأَعْتَقَتْنِي وَاشْتَرَطَتْ عَلَيَّ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3398. Sayyiduna Safinah رضى الله عنه said, I was a slave of Sayyidah Umm Salamah, She said (to me one day) 'I shall set you free but with the stipulation that you shall serve Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم as long as you live.' I submitted, Even if you had not placed this condition on me, I shall not separate from him as long as I live, (Because serving him is a great honour and happiness for me). She then set me free and retained the condition on me."[1]

COMMENTARY: Safinah رضى الله عنه was the freedman of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم or of Sayyidah Salamah رضى الله عنها.
His name was Mahran or Ruman or Ribah. His kunyah was Abu Abdur Rahman or Abu al-Bakhtari, But he was known as Safinah which was his epithet.
He used to serve the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم. During battles, he carried their luggage on his back and transferred that from place to place. Safinah means ship. So he was called safinah that conveys goods from place to place.
It is reported that once he got lost in a desert from the rest of the caravan. Suddenly, a lion came before him and roared at him. He said to the lion, "O Abu al-Harith! I am Safinah the freedman of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم." The lion wagged its tail and led him to destination.

MUKTABAH IS SLAVE TILL HE PAYS

(٣٣٩٩) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ جَدِّهِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْمُكَاتَبُ عَبْدٌ مَا بَقِيَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ مُكَاتَبَتِهِ دِرْهَمٌ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3399. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father that his grandfather narrated that the Prophet said, 'A mukatab (a slave who has contracted with his master to buy his own freedom) remains a slave as long as even a dirham of the kitabah (agreed price) remains unpaid."[2]

COMMENTARY: Mukatab is a slave whose master writes down to him, "When you will pay so much money you shall be free." When he pays the full amount, leaving nothing due, he becomes free. There will not be any part freedom.

WOMEN MUST OBSERVE VEIL BEFORE THEIR MUKATAB SLAVES

(٣٤٠٠) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا كَانَ عِنْدَ مُكَاتَبِ إِحْدَاكُنَّ وَفَاءٌ فَلْتَحْتَجِبْ مِنْهُ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3400. Sayyiduna Umm Salamah رضی الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیہ وسلم said (to the woman), "When a mukatab of any of you has enough to buy his fr eedom, she must observe the veil before him."[1]

COMMENTARY: As long as a mukatab does not pay the full agreed price for his freedom he remains a slave and is a mahram. It is not necessary for a woman owner to veil herself before him.

The correct thing about this hadith is that the Prophet صلی الله علیہ وسلم had said this to his wives because Allah says about them in the Quran that they are not like other woman. Their need to veil themselves was stronger.

ABOUT PART PAYMENT BY MUKATAB

(٣٤٠١) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ كَاتَبَ عَبْدَهٗ عَلٰى مِائَةِ أَوْقِيَّةٍ فَأَدَّاهَا إِلَّا عَشْرَةَ أَوَاقٍ أَوْقَالَ عَشْرَةَ دَنَانِيْرَ ثُمَّ عَجَزَ فَهُوَ رَقِيْقٌ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3401. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رضی الله عنه reported from his father (Shu'ayub) رحمه الله that his grandfather narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If any one agrees to set free his slave for one hundred ooqiyah as he pays that except ten ooqiyah, " or he said, "ten dirhams and is helpless, then he continues to be a slave."[2]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Maalik رحمه الله say s that such cases the owner may annul the contract and forfeit the amount paid to him by the slave, for, that has become his property.

3402. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When a slave who has bound himself to buy his freedom receives blood money or an inheritance, he will inherit only." To the extent he has been set free."

According to a version, he said, "Blood wit will be paid for a mukatab at the rate that is payable for a free man for so much as he has paid his purchase price but at the rate that is payable for a slave for much as remains to be paid."[3]

COMMENTARY: The slave will get from his inheritance, accordings what he has paid for his freedom.

As for blood wit his heirs will get when he is killed only the extent he had paid for his freedom. That which he had not paid will represent his slavery. Bloodwit on that portion will be half of what free man's heirs get. So, his master will get that amount at half that of a freeman's rate In other words, the mukatab is deemed to be free to the extend he has paid towards his price. Only Imam Wakh'ee رحمه الله abides by this hadith. Majority of the ulama (Scholars) say that this hadith is weak and contradicts the two sahih ahadith (# 3399, and 3401) narrated by Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله that a mukatab remains a slave till he pays his full price.

REWARD CONSIGNED TO THE DEAD

(٣٤٠٣) عَنْ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ اَبِي عُمْرَةَ الْاَنْصَارِيِّ اَنَّ اُمَّهُ اَرَادَتْ اَنْ تُعْتِقَ فَاَخَّرَتْ ذٰلِكَ اِلَى اَنْ تُصْبِحَ فَمَاتَتْ قَالَ عَبْدُالرَّحْمٰنِ فَقُلْتُ لِلْقَاسِمِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ اَيَنْفَعُهَا اَنْ اُعْتِقَ عَنْهَا فَقَالَ الْقَاسِمُ اَتٰى سَعْدُ بْنُ عُبَادَةَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اِنَّ اُمِّي هَلَكَتْ فَهَلْ يَنْفَعُهَا اَنْ اَعْتِقَ عَنْهَا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَعَمْ۔ (رواه مالك)

3403. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Amrah al-Ansari رحمه الله said that his mother had wanted to set free a slave but put if off till morning. (Before she could do that) she died.
Abdur Rahman رحمه الله said "I asked al-Qasim ibn Muhamamd رحمه الله, 'will it benefit her if I set free a slave on her behalf?'"
Al-Qasim رحمه الله informed him that Sa'd ibn Ubadah رضى الله عنه had met Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and said, "My mother had died. Will it benefit her if I set free a slave on her behalf?" Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had said, "Yes."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Qasim ibn Muhammad رحمه الله was the grandson of Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رحمه الله.
He was one of seven well. Known jurists of Madinah.
The ulama (Scholars) agree that a dead person may be consigned reward for monetary worship. But they differ on whether reward can be consigned to them for physical worship. The more correct thing, however, is that reward against physical worship may also be consign to the dead.

(٣٤٠٤) وَعَنْ يَحْيٰى بْنِ سَعِيْدٍ قَالَ تُوُفِّيَ عَبْدُالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ اَبِي بَكْرٍ فِيْ نَوْمٍ نَامَهُ فَاَعْتَقَتْ عَنْهُ عَائِشَةُ اُخْتُهُ رِقَابًا كَثِيْرَةً۔ (رواه مالك) could not release some slaves during his life time which ended abruptly, which it may have been wajib (obligatory) on him set free.

Another possibility is that his sudden death may have upset her. So the decided to consign reward to him by emancipating many slaves on his behalf.

WHEN SLAVES ARE BOUGHT WITHOUT MY PRE-REQUISITE

(٣٤٠٥) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنِ اشْتَرٰى عَبْدًا فَلَمْ يَشْتَرِطْ مَالَهُ فَلَا شَيْءَ لَهُ۔ (رواه الدارمی)

3405. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who buy a slave without placing any condition about his property will get nothing of it."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone buys a slave and strikes a bargain but omits to include the slave's property then he will get nothing of it because it will not come to him with the slave. Any property of the slave will remain with the person from whom he buys the slave, his previous owner.

CHAPTER - III

OATHS & VOWS

بَابُ الْاَيْمَانِ وَالنُّذُوْرِ

KINDS OF OATHS & COMMAND ABOUT THEM: There are three kind of oath:

(i) Ghumus(غموس)
(ii) Laghw(لغو)
(iii) Mun'aqidah(منعقدة)

GHAMUS is a false oath on something past or present like saying, "By Allah's I have done it." But in truth, it was not done. It is also accusing someone on oath, "By Allah Khalid owes me one thousand rupees." Such a person is a sinner but no expiation is due against it though the liar must repent and seek forgiveness of Allah.

LAGHW is an oath about something past or present and the person who swears believes himself to be true but the facts are not as he says, For instance, he may say, "By Allah, I did not do it!" though, in fact, he had done it but presumes to the contrary. Or, he sees someone from a distance and says on oath that he had seen 'zayd.' But, in fact, that man was not 'Zayd' we may hope about this kind of oath that no reckoning will be taken from him.

MUN'AQIDAH is an oath about something in the future, like, to do, or not to do something. It is a promise. If it is not fulfilled then an expiation will be due, as wajib (obligatory). For instance, a man may promise to do something, "I shall give you one hundred rupees, tomorrow, by Allah." If he fails to do so then he will have to make an expiation, as a wajib (obligatory) duty on him. Something, it becomes wajib (obligatory) to fulfil the mun'aqidah. oath, like promising to perform the fard (compulsory) duties or to abstain from sin. One may say, "By Allah, I shall offer the salah (prayer) of zuhr," or "by Allah, I shall give up committing adultery." It is wajib (obligatory) to fulfil these promises.

[1] Darimi # 2561.

WHEN PROMISES MUST NOT BE FULFILLED: In some cases, it is wajib (obligatory) not to fulfil promises. Examples are when a foolish person promises to commit a sin, or to neglect a wajib (obligatory) deed, then it becomes wajib (obligatory) to break the promise.

Similarly, there are some oaths of the mun'aqidah class that though it is not wajib (obligatory) to break yet it is better to do so. For example, if anyone says, "By Allah, I shall not meet any Muslim, then it is better not to fulfil the promise.

There are other cases, when in order to honour promises, it is better to fulfil one's oath.

EXPIATION: It must be understood that, under all circumstances, it is wajib (obligatory) to make an expiation for breaking an oath of munaqidah type. The oath may have been taken deliberately or under compulsion, or one may have been forced to break an oath.

(A promise made is a debt unpaid. -Robert W Service)

EXPIATION OF OATHS: The expiation for breaking an oath is

(i) to set a slave free or

(ii) to feed ten needy people. In both these options, the conditions and rules will apply that have been mention for zihar by setting free a slave or feeding the poor.

(iii) Or, ten needy people may be provided clothing to wear to each of them, such that most of the body is covered. So, if only trousers are given then that is not enough.

(iv) If a person is unable to follow any of these three options, then he must fast three days in succession.

ADVANCE EXPIATION: It is allowed to make an expiation before breaking the promise.[1]

WHEN NOT WAJIB (OBLIGATORY): Expiation is not wajib (obligatory) for a promise made by a disbeliever, even if he breaks it after becoming a Muslim. Also, no expiation is wajib (obligatory) for the promise of a child, a sleeping person and a mad man because their oath or promise is not valid.

OTHER RULINGS OF OATH: Three letters are used I Arabic for oath:

(i)(و) (waw), e.g.(والله) (wallah)

(ii)(ب) (ba), e.g(بالله) (billah)

(iii)(ت) (ta), e.g.(تالله) (tallah).

Each of these three means, "By Allah" or "I swear by Allah."

In Arabic parlance, these letters are not always used but, nevertheless are implicit, for example, if anyone says (الله افعله), he means (والله افعله) (By Allah, I shall do it)

ON ALLAH: The oath is taken by the personal name of the creator, Allah, or by one of His attributes, like Ar-Rahman, Ar-Rahim, Al-Haq. It is not necessary to form an intention unless those attributes are used as are also applies to others besides Allah, like Aleem, Hakeem and so on, in which case it is necessary to form an intention. In the same way, it is also proper to take oath by those attributes of Allah as is commonly done, like 'By Allah's Might and Glory! Or 'by Allah's Greatness and power!' However, it is not proper to take on oath by such attributes with which it is not normally done, like His mercy, knowledge, pleasure, wrath and punishment.

[1] However elsewhere it is stated that if expiation is made and then perjury is committed then expiation will have to be made all over again.

NOT ON OTHERS: It is not allowed to swear on anyone besides Allah, like 'By my father.' 'By my granny,' 'By the Quran,' or on the prophets, angel, the Ka'bah salah (prayer), fasting, masjid Haram (sacred Mosque), zamzam and other symbols.

IGNORANT OATHS: It is also disallowed to swear, as some people do out of ignorance "By my youth, By my head, By your life" "By you!" Or, as some swear on their children. All these oaths are forbidden. However, if one swears in any of these forms and then fails to act in it then he will have to atone for breaking his promise.

OTHER FORMS: In Arabic: (عمرالله) (By the Ever Lasting Allah) (عمرک الله) (I adjure you by Allah...), In Hindi (سوگند خدا) so ghand khuda or (خدا کی سوگند) Khuda ki soghand Khata hun - these are forms of oath. More kinds of oath include Abdullah, Mithaqullah, I swear, I take on oath, Ash hadu (even without the word 'Allah'.

In the same way, if any one says, 'I am under a vow' or 'I am under an oath'....(even without saying Allah) these are forms of oath. If anyone says, "If I do such a thing then I will become a disbeliever, or a Jew, or a Christian." Or he says, "If) do that, I am absolved of Allah." These are all forms of oath and if anyone does against what he says then it is breaking an oath, but he does not become a disbeliever, Jew or Christian. The promise he makes or oath he takes may be about the past or the future but he should be aware that such a statement amounts to an oath. However, if he had no mind of swearing but did really have disbelief in mind then because he himself adopted disbelief, he will become a disbeliever.

If anyone says about another, If he does such a thing then may Allah's wrath be on him" - or such words - then this is not classified as on oath. Saying (حقا) (truthfully) or (وحق الله) (wa haqq Allah) are also not oaths. However, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله differs about it.

To say, "May I swear on Allah." or "May I swear on divorce to my wife," are also not oaths.

If anyone says about something that he owns that it is forbidden to him, then that doest not become forbidden to him. However when he uses it, he will be bound to make an expiation.

If anyone says that all lawful things are forbidden to me lawful it will apply to all eatables and drinks. So, if he will eat anything that is lawful then he will have to make an expiation for breaking a promise, as wajib (obligatory). An edict (fatwa) is also given that if he says in this way then his wife will have been divorced even if he had not formed such an intention. The same ruling will apply if he says "Lawful things are forbidden to me." Or "whatever I take in my right hand is forbidden to me."

`If anyone adds to his oath, the words insha Allah[1] then he will not be a perjurer. Because this is not an oath at all, so doing any thing contrary to it will not make an expiation wajib (obligatory).

This far we spoke on oaths to some extent. Now let us discuss about the second portion of the chapter, vows.

VOWS & RELATED COMMANDS

The words (نذر) (nadhar) is a vow. It is to make something wajib (obligatory) on oneself though it was not wajib (obligatory). For example, a man may say, "O Allah, if that takes place, then I shall fast five days."

Some ulama (Scholars) say that all the scholars agree that it is correct to vow to do something and wajib (obligatory) to fulfil it once made, provided one does not vow to commit a sin. If the vow pertains to something sinful, then Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and the majority of the ulama (Scholars) hold that the vow is not correct. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله say that not only will the vow not be correct but also he who makes this kinds of a vow will have wajib (obligatory) on him the expiation of an oath (perjury), Their contention is based on the saying of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم

لَا نَذْرَ فِيْ مَعْصِيَّةٍ وَكَفَّارَتُهُ كَفَّارَةُ يَمِيْنٍ

"There is no vow of disobedience and its expiation is the expiation of an oath."[1]

It is stated in Multaqi that if anyone makes an unspecified vow, meaning without any condition and says only, "I will fast to please Allah," then it is binding on him to fulfil his vow. Or, he vows specifying a condition which he likes to be fulfilled, like saying, "If I regain health, I shall fast." Then, he regains health. So, (in both these situations) he will have to fulfil his vow.

If he specifies his vow with a condition which he is not eager to get fulfilled like, "If I commit adultery then it will wajib (obligatory) on me to set a slave free," then he has option either to make an expiation for the oath or fulfil his view, meaning emancipating a slave.

OTHER BOOKS: For a comprehensive study of the subject of vows, books of fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) may be consulted as also Fatawa Alamgiri. However, it is very necessary to mention a very significant and beneficial ruling about vows. It is that it is not allowed to make a vow to anyone at all other than Allah, not a prophet, an angel, a very pious religions man or anyone else. Examples are to say, "If my wish is granted, I shall held a mawlud. (Mawlud is a gathering organized to celebrate the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم birthday.) Or, 'If my work is done, I shall lay a wreath at the grave of so and so holy man." It is very sinful to do such things. Here, we reproduced the very useful information from matah masa'il of Mawlana Muhammad Ishaq رحمه الله which he has compiled from reliable and authentic sources. He writes:

{It is not correct to make a vow "If Allah grant me my wish, I shall shower 'So much money' or 'so many vessels of food' at the grave of a certain religious man." A vow is correct if made to Allah only when certain conditions are fulfilled. If those conditions are not met then the vow is not correct. These conditions are:

(i) What one vows to do must be of the nature of wajib (obligatory) in Shariah (like optional salah (prayer), fasting, and so on). Thus, if one vows to pay a sick visit when his wish is granted then this vow is not correct because it is not wajib (obligatory) in Shari'ah (divine law) to pay a sick visit.

(ii) What one vows to do should not be wajib (obligatory) at that time or at any other time, like the five times salah (prayer) (or fasting in Ramadan or Zakah (Annual due charity), etc).[2]

(iii) What one vows to do should be a form of worship itself that is aimed at, and not a means to achieve that aim. Thus, a vow to make wadu (or ablution) is not correct because wadu is not an aimed (or ultimate form of) worship. It is a means to an ultimate form of worship.

(iv) What one vows to do to get something that 'something' or the wish must not be a sin.

Keeping these conditions in mind, it is clearly not correct to vow to shower so much money or vessels of food at the grave of a righteous man because this act is not a form of ultimate worship as recognized by Shari'ah (divine law). However, this vow can become correct if one declare 'to feed the servants and poor people at the grave of the righteous man if one's wish is granted.' It will be correct and must be honoured and fulfilled. It is not necessary to distinguish between the servant and the poor at that grave. Rather, any servant or poor may be fed to fulfil the vow.

If on the other hand, anyone vows to feed in the name, or for the sake of, a certain righteous man if his wish is granted, then it is not allowed. This kind of a vow is void and wrong and also it is forbidden to use the offerings of the vow whether food or money.

This issue is elaborated in Bahr ur Ra'iq in these words:

وَاَمَّا النَّذْرُ الَّذِيْ يَنْذُرُهٗ اَكْثَرُ الْعَوَامِّ عَلٰى مَا هُوَ مُشَاهَدٌ كَاَنْ يَكُوْنَ لِلْاِنْسَانِ غَائِبٌ اَوْ مَرِيْضٌ اَوْلَهٗ حَاجَةٌ ضَرُوْرِيَّةٌ فَيَاتِيْ فِيْ بَعْضِ مَزَارَاتِ الصُّلَحَاءِ فَيَجْعَلُ سِتْرَهٗ عَلٰى رَأْسِهٖ وَيَقُوْلُ يَا سَيِّدِيْ فُلَانٌ اِنْ رَدَّ غَائِبِيْ اَوْعُوْفِيَ مَرِيْضِيْ اَوْ قَضَيْتَ حَاجَتِيْ فَلَكَ مِنَ الذَّهَبِ كَذَا اَوْ مِنَ الْفِضَّةِ كَذَا اَوْ مِنَ الطَّعَامِ كَذَا اَوْ مِنَ الْمَاءِ كَذَا اَوْ مِنَ الْقَمْحِ كَذَا اَوْ مِنَ الزَّيْتِ كَذَا فَهٰذِهِ النُّذُرُ بَاطِلٌ بِالْاِجْمَاعِ لِوُجُوْهٍ مِنْهَا اَنَّهٗ نَذْرٌ لِمَخْلُوْقٍ وَالنَّذْرُ لِلْمَخْلُوْقِ لَا يَجُوْزُ لِاَنَّهٗ عِبَادَةٌ وَالْعِبَادَةُ لَا يَكُوْنُ لِمَخْلُوْقٍ وَمِنْهَا اَنَّ الْمَنْذُوْرَ لَهٗ مَيِّتٌ وَالْمَيِّتُ لَا يَمْلِكُ وَمِنْهَا اِنْ ظَنَّ اَنَّ الْمَيِّتَ يَتَصَرَّفُ فِي الْاُمُوْرِ دُوْنَ اللّٰهِ فَاِعْتِقَادُهٗ بِهٖ ذٰلِكَ كُفْرٌ اَللّٰهُمَّ اِلَّا اَنْ يُّقَالَ يَا اللّٰهُ اِنِّيْ نَذَرْتُ لَكَ اِنْ شَفَيْتَ مَرِيْضِيْ اَوْ رَدَدْتَ غَائِبِيْ اَوْ قَضَيْتَ حَاجَتِيْ اَنْ اُطْعِمَ الْفُقَرَاءَ الَّذِيْنَ بِبَابِ السَّيِّدَةِ نَفِيْسَةَ اَوِالْفُقَرَاءَ الَّذِيْنَ بِبَابِ الْاِمَامِ الشَّافِعِيِّ اَوِالْاِمَامِ اَبِي اللَّيْثِ اَوِاشْتَرِيْ حَصِيْرًا لِمَسَاجِدِ هِمْ اَوْزَيْتًا بِوُقُوْدِهَا اَوْ دَرَاهِمَ لِمَنْ يَقُوْمُ بِشَعَائِرِهَا اِلٰى غَيْرِ ذٰلِكَ مِمَّا يَكُوْنُ فِيْهِ النَّفْعُ لِلْفُقَرَاءِ وَالنَّذْرُ لِلّٰهِ عَزَّوَجَلَّ وَذِكْرُ الشَّيْخِ اِنَّمَا هُوَ لِبَيَانِ مَحَلِّ تَصَرُّفِ النَّذْرِ لِمُسْتَحِقِّيْهِ الْقَاطِنِيْنَ بِرِبَاطِهٖ اَوْ مَسْجِدِهٖ اَوْ جَامِعِهٖ فَيَجُوْزُ بِهٰذَا الْاِعْتِبَارِ اِذْ مَصْرَفُ النَّذْرِ الْفُقَرَاءُ وَقَدْ وُجِدَ الْمَصْرَفُ وَلَا يَجُوْزُ اَنْ يُصْرَفَ ذٰلِكَ لِغَنِيٍّ غَيْرِ مُحْتَاجٍ وَلَا لِشَرِيْفِ النَّسَبِ لِاَنَّهٗ لَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ الْاَخْذُ مَالَمْ تَكُنْ مُحْتَاجًا وَلَا لِذِيْ مَنْصَبٍ لِاَجْلِ مَنْصَبِهٖ مَا لَمْ يَكُنْ فَقِيْرًا وَلَا لِذِيْ عِلْمٍ لِاَجْلِ عِلْمِهٖ مَا لَمْ يَكُنْ فَقِيْرًا وَلَمْ يَثْبُتْ فِي الشَّرْعِ جَوَازُ التَّصَرُّفِ لِلْاَغْنِيَاءِ لِلْاِجْمَاعِ عَلٰى حُرْمَةِ النَّذْرِ لِلْمَخْلُوْقِ وَلَا يَنْعَقِدُ وَلَا يَشْتَغِلُ الذِّمَّةُ بِهٖ وَاِنَّهٗ حَرَامٌ بَلْ سُحْتٌ فَلَا يَجُوْزُ لِخَادِمِ الشَّيْخِ اَخْذُهٗ وَلَا اَكْلُهٗ وَلَا التَّصَرُّفُ فِيْهِ بِوَجْهٍ مِنَ الْوُجُوْهِ اِلَّا اَنْ يَكُوْنَ فَقِيْرًا وَلَهٗ عِيَالٌ فُقَرَاءُ عَاجِزُوْنَ عَنِ الْكَسْبِ وَهُمْ مُضْطَرُّوْنَ فَيَاْخُذُوْنَهٗ عَلٰى سَبِيْلِ الصَّدَقَةِ الْمُبْتَدَأَةِ وَاَخْذُهٗ اَيْضًا مَكْرُوْهٌ مَالَمْ يَقْصُدْ بِهِ النَّاذِرُ التَّقَرُّبَ اِلَى اللّٰهِ تَعَالٰى وَصَرْفَهٗ اِلَى الْفُقَرَاءِ وَيَقْطَعُ النَّظَرَ عَنْ نَذْرِ

(As for as vow in concerned, the ignorant people generally make a vow when they face a problem or have a need by visiting the grave or shrine of a pious man and put its covering on their head or hold the wreath (of the grave) and plead:
"O my master (so and so) If my problem (this and that) is solved or my need (such and such) is met, I shall shower on this shrine (so much) gold (or silver, or food, or water, or candles, or oil....)"
This kind of vow is invalid in the sight of all the ulama (Scholars). There are many reasons why it is invalid.
(i) This is a vow invoking someone (other than Allah) who is a creature. It is forbidden to invoke others than Allah because a vow is a form of worship and it is not allowed to worship creatures.
(ii) The vow is made in the name of the grave dweller who is lifeless who is not an owner or master of anything.
(iii) If at the time of making the vow it is believed that the dweller of the grave also has a say in people affairs just as Allah has, then this kind of conviction is disbelief. Hence, O Allah, instead of making such vows, guide us to make a vow in this manner: 'O Allah I make a vow before you that if you solve my problem (or give me my need), then I shall feed these poor people at the shrine of Sayyidah Nafisah رحمہ اللہ or those at the grave of Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ or Imam Abu al Layth رحمہ اللہ, or I shall provide for their mosques sackcloth (mats, prayer rugs, etc), or for their mosque oil for lamps, or I shall give money to those who serve at the mosques of these righteous men and who maintain the symbols (meaning the mu'adhdhins and the imam).
Or, he may mention some other things which would benefit the poor and the needy. This kind of a vow will be for Allah and before him and he mention of the pious man or of the servants at his grave will be in connection with the spending towards the vow. The spending is on the deserving people who reside at the retreat or mosque of the righteous people.
It is correct to make a vow in this manner because its beneficiaries are the poor people who are found there. It is not allowed to spend that (which is vowed to be spend) on those who are not needy or on those who are of noble descent. It is not proper for anyone who is not poor (and destitute or in need) to accept that which is vowed to be spend. It is also not allowed to use it on anyone holding an office because of his position unless he is needy. It is also forbidden to spend on a learned man because of his knowledge unless he is poor.
Shariah does not condone the spending of that which one has vowed (as an offering) on such people as are well off and not poor or needy.
Further, the ulama (Scholars) agree that it is forbidden to make a vow before any creature or in his name. If any one does so then it is not correct even if that creature whose name the vow is made is righteous and it is not wajib (obligatory) to fulfil the vow. Apart from being forbidden, the vow will be regarded as bribery. It is not allowed to the keepers and servant of that righteous person to take what is offered against the vow and eat any food offered or use any other thing offered. However, if any one of them in desperate and guardian of children who are unable to earn a living for themselves and are in dire need then they are allowed to take from the offering against the vow at the initial stage as a sadaqah (charity), but even in that case it will be makruh (disapproved) to take it till the intention of the person making the vow is not to earn nearness to Allah and he is not motivated to earn the pleasure of the righteous man, but seeks to spend on the deserving.

Having know the facts in detail, you must realize that whatever money and other things are showered on the graves of the awliya (Allah's friends, righteous men) to gain nearness to them are forbidden in the sight of all Muslims. The person making the vow should form an intention to spend on the poor. (Only then will it be correct.)

This piece is from bahr ur Ra'iq and is also found in an Nahrul fa'iq nad ad Dar ul mukhtar}[1]

Apart from the foregoing extract from the sayings of Mawlana Muhamad Ishaq, we reproduce here the answer of Mawlana Rashiduddin Khan رحمه الله.

QUESTION: When people make a vow in the name of righteous people, they make an offering of food. Is it allowed to eat from it and is it allowed to make vows in their names (and to make invocation to them)? Or, is it not allowed? If it is proper, then how?

Besides, some vows are conditional to granting of prayers for need and some are without condition. Is there a difference between the two.

ANSWER: The meaning of nadhar (vow) in the terminology of Shariah is to make something that is not wajib (obligatory) as wajib (obligatory) on oneself. It is written in Jami ur Rumuz:

اَلنَّذْرُ اِيْجَابٌ عَلَى النَّفْسِ مَا لَيْسَ عَلَيْهَا بِالْقُبُوْلِ

(A nadhar is to make obligatory on oneself that which was not necessary to do before that.)

writes in his Tafseer Kabir against the verse {Whatever vow you make} رحمه اللهImam Razi اَلنَّذْرُ مَا الْزَمَهُ الْإِنْسَانُ عَلَى نَفْسِهٖ

that it means:

(Nadhar is what a person makes obligatory on himself).

This is a brief explanation of nadhr (vow). A full explanation may be seen in books of fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) and usul.

The word niyaz (that is often used wit h nadhar) has many meanings and it is a Persian word. One of its meanings is that which is given to the darwaysh (dervish) or mendicant as a gift. (Al-Burhan al-Qati)

After knowing the literal and technical meaning of these two words nadhar and niyaz, we must obey the command of Shari'ah (divine law) about them: nadhar (or vow) is not allowed for anyone other than Allah. Making a vow for anyone else is not only not correct but also it is contrary to reliable jurists traditions to take or eat anything from it.

ABOUT NIYAZ: This far was our discussion about nadhar. Now let us touch on niyaz. We learnt the meaning of niyaz as a gift to a dervish. It is kindness and joining. Hence, if anyone sends to a righteous living person something as a niyaz, meaning gift, then it is allowed. The righteous person is permitted to eat or use it. Also, if niyaz, meaning fatihah (Prayer and recital) is held to consign reward to a deed righteous man, then that too is permitted, but some clarification is necessary, concerning eating and use of this niyaz. If the person who makes the niyaz does it with intention to consign to the dead righteous man reward for sadaqah (charity) of the eatables then only the poor are permitted to eat from that. The well to do are not allowed to eat. If this intention is to consign the reward (of its permissibility to all Muslims) to the righteous man than every hungry person may eat from it, whether rich or poor.

In short, if a nadhar is made for the righteous to gain his pleasure or to get one's need from him then it is not allowed in the light of the foregoing discourse. And it is not allowed to eat or use its offering

If a nadhr (or vow) is not intended to gain nearness to the righteous and has no condition attached to it of gating one's need thereby, but is aimed only to earn Allah's pleasure and then to consign reward to the righteous person then while the rich are not allowed to partake of it or use it the poor are allowed as long as reward of sadaqah (charity) of the offerings is consigned. But, if reward of its permissibity to all Muslim is consigned the everyone rich and poor may eat, or use it.

The ruling for niyaz is also similar. If the niyaz for the righteous is only to consign reward then it is allowed. But, it is not allowed to bind oneself to do something in order to gain nearness to them or their pleasure whether with intention of getting one's needs granted or with no such intention. The reason is that it is a nadhar (vow) which is not allowed for any one but for Allah.

We learn, therefore, that whether one makes the condition of a need being fulfilled or not, it is forbidden to make wajib (obligatory) on oneself anything in the name of any one other than Allah.

Niyaz for a righteous person is permitted only when there is intention to gain nearness to him and to get one's desire, but the aim is merely to please Allah and to convey the reward to the righteous man. As for the offering of the niyaz, it is allowed to eat and use according to the foregoing clarification.

It is stated in Dalil ud dallean that nadhar made only for Allah's sake and not for anyone else. Hence, if anyone vows in the name of a prophet or wali (man of Allah), then he is bound to do nothing. Nothing is wajib (obligatory) on him, and he is not liable to fulfil the vow. If he gives the thing (or offering) of the nadhar to someone with the same intention, then it is not allowed to that man to take it or to eat it. If that thing is a slaughtered animal then it falls in the category of a dead animal or a carrion. Rather, if people eat it after saying (بسم الله) (Bismillah - In the name of Allah) then all of them will have done an act of disbelief.

If any one makes a nadhar (vow) for Allah's sake and then people eat from the offering and consign its reward to the dead then it is allowed:

SECTION I الفصل الاول

(٣٤٠٦) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ اَكْثَرُ مَا كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَحْلِفُ لَا وَ مُقَلِّبِ الْقُلُوْبِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3406. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that often the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used the oath

وَ مُقَلِّبِ الْقُلُوْبِ

"Be the Turnur of the hearts!"[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith is evidence that oath may be taken by any of the attributes of Allah.

NO SWEARING ON OTHERS THAN ALLAH

(٣٤٠٧) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ يَنْهَاكُمْ اَنْ تَحْلِفُوا بِآبَائِكُمْ مَنْ كَانَ حَالِفًا فَلْيَحْلِفْ بِاللّٰهِ اَوْلِيَصْمُتْ۔ (متفق عليه)

3407. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah forbids you that you should swear by your fathers. If anyone must swear then he should swear by Allah (or by this attributes), or he should observe silence."[2]

COMMENTARY: The prohibition to swear by the father is by way of example, for actually, it is disallowed to swear by anyone others than Allah. Only father is named because it is the habit of the people to swear by their fathers.

The reason is that no one should be brought at par with Allah and regarded as comparable to him.

Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said, "If I swear by Allah one hundred times and break the oath each time, then it is better then swearing by anyone else just and honouring that promise."

As for Allah, Mighty and Glorious, is concerned, it is proper for him that he declare His Greatness and Glory, by Swearing on whoever he wishes of His creatures.

There can arise a question on this hadith because once the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had sworn on his father (افلح وابيه) while here he disallows it. We might say that he may have done that before it was forbidden to do so, Or, he may not have taken that oath but he may have uttered the words out of old habit.

(٣٤٠٨) وَعَنْ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَحْلِفُوا بِالطَّوَاغِيْ وَلَا بِآبَائِكُمْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3408. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Samurah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not swear by idols and not by your fathers."[3]

COMMENTARY: During the jahiliah, people generally swore on the idols and fathers. The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم therefore, advised the people to give up the old custom, after they had embraced Islam.

(٣٤٠٩) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ حَلَفَ فَقَالَ فِيْ حَلِفِهٖ بِاللَّاتِ وَالْعُزّٰى فَلْيَقُلْ لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَمَنْ قَالَ لِصَاحِبِهٖ تَعَالَ اُقَامِرْكَ فَلْيَتَصَدَّقْ (متفق عليه)

3409. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone swears and says his oath, 'By Laat and Uzza, then he must say (لاالہ الا اللہ) (There is no God but Allah). And, if any one says to his friend, 'Come, I shall gamble with you!' he must rather give charity."[1]

COMMENTARY: That person who swears by Allah should declare 'There is no God but Allah.' This means that he must make a repentance and seek forgiveness of Allah. This could mean two things.

(i) If a neo Muslims happens to take the names of the two idols then he must atone for that by reciting the kalimah because Allah says

فَإِنَّ الْحَسَنَاتِ يُذْهِبْنَ السَّيِّئَاتِ۔ (ہود ۱۱: ۱۱۴)

{Surely good does will drive away the evil deeds.} (11: 114)

Hence, repentance will correct the negligence.

(ii) If he took the names of Laat and Uzza intentionally to honour them then that clearly is apostasy and disbelief. Hence, he must renew his faith which he must do by reciting the Kalimah. This will mean repentance from sin.

For inviting his friends to gamble, which is a grave sin, he must make an atonement by giving sadaqah (charity) (Which is charity). Thus he will spend some of his wealth in Allah's path. Same people say that he is required to give in charity that which he had intended to use to gamble.

This man merely invited his friend to gamble so he is asked to give charity. What would have been his fate if he had gone ahead and gambled?

FALSE OATH & FALSE CLAIM

(٣٤١٠) وَعَنْ ثَابِتِ بْنِ الضَّحَّاكِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ حَلَفَ عَلٰى مِلَّةٍ غَيْرِ الْاِسْلَامِ كَاذِبًا فَهُوَ كَمَا قَالَ وَلَيْسَ عَلَى ابْنِ اٰدَمَ نَذْرٌ فِيْمَا لَا يَمْلِكُ وَمَنْ قَتَلَ نَفْسَهٗ بِشَيْءٍ فِي الدُّنْيَا عُذِّبَ بِهٖ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَمَنْ لَعَنَ مُؤْمِنًا فَهُوَ كَقَتْلِهٖ وَمَنِ ادَّعٰى دَعْوًى كَاذِبَةً لِيَتَكَثَّرَ بِهَا لَمْ يَزِدْهُ اللّٰهُ اِلَّا قِلَّةً (متفق عليه)

3410. Sayyiduna Thabit ibn ad-Dahhak رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone swears by a religion other than Islam falsely, then he becomes as he says. And, it is not wajib (obligatory) on a son of Aadam علیہ السلام to fulfill a vow about something that he does not possess. And, if anyone kills himself (in this world) with something then, on the day of resurrection, he will suffer punishment with that very thing (meaning, if he had thrust a knife in his body, he will continue to do it till Allah delivers him from that). And, if anyone curses a believer, then it is like killing him And, if a person presents a false claim with which to earn plenty, then Allah will cause his property to diminish."[1]

COMMENTARY: The first portion of the hadith means that if anyone says on oath, "If I do that, I will be an unbeliever," and he does that work, then he becomes an unbeliever. Thus, for an oath to be true, he must not do that. If he does what he promises not to do then he will have made a false promise.

By swearing as he does, he perpetrates an unlawful thing and, to add to it, he belies it and chooses disbelief willingly.

However, the hadith could also mean that he does not become an unbeliever, but it warns that such a person might undergo the same punishment as the unbeliever will face. We find an example of it in the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words (من ترک الصلوة فقد کفر) (He who neglects salah (prayer) has, indeed, disbelieved). They mean that a person who does not offer salah (prayer) is liable to receive the same punishment as a disbeliever will face.

Apart from that, the question remains whether it will be wajib (obligatory) or not to make an expiation for breaking this kind of an unlawful oath.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله is among those ulama (Scholars) who say that if anyone breaks the oath then he will have to make an expiation.

Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله hold that if anyone speaks in this manner then it is not recognized as an oath by Shariah. So, no expiation is due. But, one who says in this manner commits a sin, whether he does what he says or not.

Durr ul Mukhtar states that if anyone takes an oath in this manner and breaks it then he does not become a disbeliever whether it concerns the past or the future, and he is conscious that he is swearing. But if he is not aware of its being an oath and he knows that if he lies he will certainly become an unbeliever, then it makes no difference whether it concerns the past or the future., immediately with the condition being met, he becomes a disbeliever because he chooses it willingly.

WHAT HE DOES NOT POSSESS: It is not wajib (obligatory) for a man to fulfill his vow if he does not possess that about which he vows. If he says "I will emancipate a certain slave if my wish is granted," then he is not obliged to fulfill his vow because he does not possess that slave, even if he gets ownership of the slave later on. But, if he stipulates 'I will emancipate him when I get possession of him,' then he will have to fulfill his vow on owning him.

FLASE CLAIM: Often people make false claims to augment their wealth. Some people relate telltale to give a false impression of their standing. In either case, Allah causes them to fall down in wealth and reputation. This is what the so-called Sufis and peers[2] do to gain fame.

IF IT IS GOOD TO BREAK AN OATH:

(٣٤١١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ مُوْسٰى قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنِّيْ وَاللّٰهِ اِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ لَا اَحْلِفُ عَلٰى يَمِيْنٍ فَاَرٰى غَيْرَهَا خَيْرًا مِنْهَا اِلَّا كَفَّرْتُ عَنْ يَمِيْنِيْ وَاَتَيْتُ الَّذِيْ هُوَ خَيْرٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

3411. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said,

[1] Bukhari # 6047, Muslim # 176-110, Tirmidhi # 1548, Nasai # 3770, Ibn Majah # 2098, Musnad Ahmad 4-33.

[2] Sufi are mystics and peers are they who as religious elder, a murshid.

"By Allah, insha Allah, if I take an oath and realize, afterwards, that something other than it is better, then I shall (break the oath and) make an expiation for it and adopt the better thing."[1]

COMMENTARY: If one realizes after swearing that a better course is to forsake what he had intended to do then he must give up the oath and do what he thinks is better.
Examples of this will be presented in the next commentary on hadith # 3412

(٣٤١٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا عَبْدَالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنَ سَمُرَةَ لَا تَسْئَالِ الْاِمَارَةَ فَاِنَّكَ اِنْ اُوْتِيْتَهَا عَنْ مَسْئَلَةٍ وُكِلْتَ اِلَيْهَا وَاِنْ اُوْتِيْتَهَا عَنْ غَيْرِ مَسْئَالَةٍ اُعِنْتَ عَلَيْهَا وَاِذَا حَلَفْتَ عَلَى يَمِيْنٍ فَرَأَيْتَ غَيْرَهَا خَيْرًا مِنْهَا فَكَفِّرْ عَنْ يَمِيْنِكَ وَاْتِ الَّذِى هُوَ خَيْرٌ وَفِى رِوَايَةٍ فَأْتِ الَّذِىْ هُوَ خَيْرٌ وَكَفِّرْ عَنْ يَمِيْنِكَ۔ (متفق عليه)

3412. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Samurah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "O Abdur Rahman ibn Samurah, do not ask for an office of authority, for, if you are given it on your asking, then you will be left to yourself to tackle the affairs. But , if you get it without your asking for it then you will be helped. And, when you take an oath and find something else better than that then make expiation for your oath and opt for that which is better. According to another version: "Do that which is better and make an expiation for your oath."[2]

COMMENTARY: The office of a ruler of chief is not something ordinary but a very difficult proposition. Not everyone is qualified to discharge its responsibilities. Hence, one must not crave for it. If anyone hankers after it then Allah's help will be withdrawn from him with the result that there would be chaos all round and he will be disgraced.
However, if anyone gets this office without yearning for it, then Allah will help him and his affairs will be well done. He will be respected and honoured.

OPT FOR THE BETTER COURSE: If you take an oath to do something wrong, like not offering salah (prayer), severing ties with father, then it is wajib (obligatory) to break the oath and make an expiation.
If you take an oath to do something and then realize that you have a better alternative, then it will only be preferable to break your oath, not wajib (obligatory).
These things have been discussed in the introduction to this chapter.
The two versions of this hadith differ in the order of their words and therefore the command to make an expiation before doing the better thing, or to do that and then make an expiation. Three of the imam رحمه الله hold that it is allowed to make an expiation before breaking the oath, but among them, Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله hold that:

(i) if the expiation is made be fasting then it is not allowed to make the expiation before breaking the oath; but,
(ii) if the expiation is made by setting free slaves or feeding or clothing the needy, then it is allowed to make the expiation before breaking the oath.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله contends that making an expiation before breaking the oath is not allowed under any circumstances, at all. He says about the ahadith that speak of expiation before perjury that the word (و) (waw - and) is merely a conjunction, joining two phrases and does not imply sequence of the two actions. And, indeed, the ahadith do not suggest any kind of sequence of the two commands.

(٣٤١٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ حَلَفَ عَلَى يَمِيْنٍ فَرَاٰى خَيْرًا مِنْهَا فَلْيُكَفِّرْ عَنْ يَمِيْنِهٖ وَلْيَفْعَلْ(رواه مسلم)

3413. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If anyone takes an oath and then finds a better proposition then let him make an expiation for his oath and undertake the better preposition"[1]
(and break the oath)

(٣٤١٤) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاللّٰهِ لَاَنْ يَلَجَّ اَحَدُكُمْ بِيَمِيْنِهٖ فِيْ اَهْلِهٖ اٰثَمُ لَهٗ عِنْدَ اللّٰهِ مِنْ اَنْ يُعْطِيَ كَفَّارَتَهُ الَّتِيْ افْتَرَضَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ(متفق علیه)

3414. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "By Allah, for any of you to insist on his oath concerning his family is more sinful in Allah's sight than (breaking it and) giving an expiation that Allah has prescribed (for it)."[2]

COMMENTARY: To commit perjury is very bad. But, if there is good in it for the family members, it is better to negate the oath and to make an atonement for it.

ONE WHO ADJURES SHOULD BE BELIEVED

(٣٤١٥) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَمِيْنُكَ عَلٰى مَا يُصَدِّقُكَ عَلَيْهِ صَاحِبُكَ(رواه مسلم)

3415. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Your oath will be correct only when your companion (who adjures you) confirms you to be true."[3]

COMMENTARY: The person who takes the oath is not the central figure but confirmation is required from him who gets him to swear. However, it depends on a right of the latter on the person who takes the oath.
If there is no right likely to be violated then there is no harm if a vague or a symbolic statement is made. This is Prophet Ibrahim علیه السلام meant to say (about his wife). "She is my sister in religion."

(٣٤١٦) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْيَمِيْنُ عَلٰى نِيَّةِ الْمُسْتَحْلِفِ(رواه مسلم)

3416. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "The oath will be dependant on the intention of him who gets it taken."[4]
(This is according to the Urdu translation, but elsewhere and Muslim have: 'the

VAIN OATHS WILL NOT BE RECKONED

(٣٤١٧) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ أُنْزِلَتْ هٰذِهِ الْآيَةُ لَا يُؤَاخِذُكُمُ اللّٰهُ بِاللَّغْوِ فِيْٓ اَيْمَانِكُمْ فِي قَوْلِ الرَّجُلِ لَا وَاللّٰهِ وَبَلٰى وَاللّٰهِ رَوَاهُ الْبُخَارِيُّ وَفِي شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ لَفْظُ الْمَصَابِيْحِ وَقَالَ رَفَعَهُ بَعْضُهُمْ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ۔

3417. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that the verse

لَا يُؤَاخِذُكُمُ الله بِاللَّغْوِ فِيْٓ اَيْمَانِكُمْ

{Allah will not take you to task for what is vain in your oaths} (2: 225) was revealed concerning the saying of the man:
(بلی واللہ۔ لا واللہ) (which are forms of oath).[1]

COMMENTARY: The Arabs often interspersed their conversation with (لا واللہ) (No, by Allah) or (بلی واللہ) (Of course, by Allah). They did not mean to swear but this had come to be accepted by them as a way of emphasizing what they wanted to say. With some, it was their oddity. It was not an oath, but a laghw (meaningless) oath.
Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ said that a laghw oath is uttered by the tongue unintentionally about the past or the future.
Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ said that a laghw oath is what the person taking it presumes to be true. In reality it is not true.
Who have spoken on it at length in the introduction to this chapter.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

DO NOT TAKE OATH ON OTHERS THAN ALLAH

(٣٤١٨) عَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَحْلِفُوا بِآبَائِكُمْ وَلَا بِأُمَّهَاتِكُمْ وَلَا بِالْأَنْدَادِ وَلَا تَحْلِفُوا بِاللّٰهِ إِلَّا وَأَنْتُمْ صَادِقُوْنَ۔ (رواه ابوداود والنسائی)

3418. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not swear by your fathers, not by your mothers, not by idols, and swear by Allah only while you are truthful."[2]

(٣٤١٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ حَلَفَ بِغَيْرِ اللّٰهِ فَقَدْ أَشْرَكَ (رواه الترمذی)

3419. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If a person swear by anyone other than Allah, then he has associated (Partner with Allah).[3]

COMMENTARY: If anyone takes a oath on anyone other than Allah believing him to be great then he commits polytheism that is conspicuous or if he regards him with greatness

[1] Bukhari # 6663, Abu Dawud # 3254, Muwatta Maalik 22. 5-9 (Nudhur)
[2] Abu Dawud #3248, Nasai # 3769.
[3] Tirmidhi #1540, Abu Dawud # 3251, Musnad Ahmad 6179(2-86)

and respect as is due only to Allah then he commits polytheism of the Khafi type (concealed type).

Generally, people swear on those who are dear to them, like 'I swear by my son, etc. This is a sin even if it may not amount to polytheism. However, if one does it out of an old habit and utters it unintentionally, then it is neither sin nor polytheism.

(٣٤٢٠) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ حَلَفَ بِالْاَمَانَةِ فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا (رواه ابوداود)

3420. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "One who swears by amanah is not among us." (Amanah is trust or faithfulness.)[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone does not use this word additionally with Allah's name but swears merely on amanah then he will not be counted among the followers, because this is one of customs of the people of the Book and falls under 'oath by other than Allah.'

Some people say that amanah means the obligatory duties, like salah (prayer), etc. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that one should swear by these prescribed duties.

In either case, the ulama (Scholars) agree that expiation does not become wajib (obligatory) on breaking this oath.

If anyone swears by amanat Allah, then most ulama (Scholars) maintain that even then no expiation is wajib (obligatory) on breaking the oath. However, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ holds that in this case expiation will be wajib (obligatory) because Amin is a name of Allah and amanah, therefore, an attribute.

We may also say that amantullah refers to the kalimah tawhid.

ABSOLVING ONESELF FROM ISLAM

(٣٤٢١) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ قَالَ اِنِّيْ بَرِيْءٌ مِنَ الْاِسْلَامِ فَاِنْ كَانَ كَاذِبًا فَهُوَ كَمَا قَالَ وَاِنْ كَانَ صَادِقًا فَلَنْ يَرْجِعَ اِلَى الْاِسْلَامِ سَالِمًا۔ (رواه ابوداود والنسائی وابن ماجة)

3421. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger said that if anyone says, "(if I am responsible for it, then) I am free from Islam" and he lies, then he will be as he says. But if he speaks the truth, then he will not return to Islam safely. (or, soundly, or perfectly).[2]

COMMENTARY: The person who says "I am free from Islam" (if I have done or not done such-and such) and he lies in saying 'I have done' or 'not done' then he is absolved of Islam. In other words, it is strongly disallowed to swear in this way.

If that person has spoken the truth and had really done or not done as he says then too he is a sinner because Muslims are forbidden from swearing in this way.

Shaykh Abdul Haq Dahlawi رحمہ اللہ has classified this oath as mun'aqidah. He classifies the hadith (#3410) of Thabit ibn ad-Dahhak رضی اللہ عنہ too as mun'aqidah, But, Mullah Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ classifies it was ghamus. The complier of this book contends that this hadith may be classified in both ways: mun'aqidah and ghamus.

(Definition of these words have been given in the introductory words of this chapter.)

SOME FORMS OF THE OATHS THE PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم TOOK

(٣٤٢٢) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا اجْتَهَدَ فِي الْيَمِيْنِ قَالَ لَا وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسُ أَبِي الْقَاسِمِ بِيَدِهٖ (رواه ابوداود)

3422. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed al-Khudri رضى الله عنه narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم wished to emphasize his oath, he would say, "No! By Him in Whose hand is the soul of Abu al-Qasim."[1]

COMMENTARY: Abu al-Qasim is the Kunyah of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.

(٣٤٢٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ كَانَتْ يَمِيْنُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا حَلَفَ لَا وَأَسْتَغْفِرُ اللّٰهَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3423. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that when Allah's Messenger took an oath, he would say, "No, and I seek forgiveness of Allah."[2]

COMMENTARY: These words resemble an oath. They imply, "If this is not the truth then I ask for Allah's forgiveness." This is a form of emphasis.

SAYING "INSHA ALLAH"WITH AN OATH

(٣٤٢٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ حَلَفَ عَلَى يَمِيْنٍ فَقَالَ إِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ فَلَا حِنْثَ عَلَيْهِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَذَكَرَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ جَمَاعَةً وَقَّفُوْهُ عَلَى ابْنِ عُمَرَ۔

3424. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who swears an oath and includes (the words) 'insha Allah' (if Allah will) then he would not commit perjury (if he breaks his oath)."[3]

COMMENTARY: When one says 'insha Allah' then the oath becomes conditional. Hence, no question arises of making an expiation on breaking it.

The same applies to contracts, marriage contracts and dealings. If insha Allah is added with the same breath, when making them, they become conditional. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and others hold this view, but Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه said that even with the words 'insha Allah,' they would be final and duly contracted, even if spoken without pause or intervening words.

The word used is (متصل) mutlasil which means 'to say insha Allah, without engaging in any other speech, immediately after the oath.'

If anyone engages himself in any other speech after taking the oath and then says insha Allah, then it is called (منتصل) (muntasil), separated.

Mirqat may be seen for other opinions of muttasil.

3425. Sayyiduna Abu Al-Ahwas ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه narrated on the authority of his father that he said (to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم), "O Messenger of Allah, what do you say about my cousin (paternal) who, when I go to him for something (that I need), does not give me anything, and does not treat me kindly? When he needs (anything from) me, he comes to me and asks me for something. I have sworn not to give him anything and not to treat him kindly."
He commanded him to do that which is better (and help him and treat him kindly) and make an expiation for his oath.
According to the version in Ibn Majah, he said, "O Messenger of Allah, my cousin comes to me but I swear that I shall give him nothing nor treat him kindly." He said, "Make an expiation for your oath."[1]

CHAPTER - IV

(AN-NUDHUR)VOWS بَابٌ فِي النُّذُوْرِ

SECTION I الفصل الأول

VOWS ARE INEFFECTIVE

(٣٤٢٦) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ وَابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تُنْذِرُوْا فَاِنَّ النَّذْرَ لَا يُغْنِيْ مِنَ الْقَدَرِ شَيْئًا وَاِنَّمَا يُسْتَخْرَجُ بِهٖ مِنَ الْبَخِيْلِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3426. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه and Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Do not make vows, for, a vow removes nothing of the decree. And, it only causes something to be spent from the (property of the) miser."[2]

COMMENTARY: The concluding words of the hadith, define very delicate difference between the generous and the miser in spending in Allah's path. The former does not need a vow to get him to spend while the latter will not part with his money easily, but only make it conditional to having his wish fulfilled. The generous walks on the path of sacrifice and the miser takes the path of selfishness.
Some ulama (Scholars) cite this hadith to say that it is makruh (disapproved) to make a vow. But Qadi رحمه الله has explained that generally people link a vow to getting something and fulfilling their need (and they spend in Allah's path with this in mind). The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade such kind of spending because it is what the niggardly does. The generous hastens to spend in Allah's path and gains nearness to Him and His pleasure. The miser will not part with his money unless his selfish ends are met, and he makes a vow but decree cannot change because of that.

Some people say that this hadith disallows making a vow so that one may not be lethargic in fulfilling it because to honour it is wajib (obligatory).

Some others say that the disallowance is to prevent the belief that a vow alters Divine decree. It is only from this point of view that vows are disallowed. They are not prohibited absolutely.

DO NOT FULFILL VOW IF IT CALLS FOR SIN

(٣٤٢٧) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ نَذَرَ اَنْ يُطِيْعَ اللّٰهَ فَلْيُطِعْهُ وَمَنْ نَذَرَ اَنْ يَعْصِيَهُ فَلَا يَعْصِهِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3427. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who vows to obey Allah (by doing what entails obedience to Him) must obey Him. But, he who vows to disobey Allah must not disobey Him" (meaning that he should not fulfill the vow).

(٣٤٢٨) وَعَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا وَفَاءَ لِنَذْرٍ فِيْ مَعْصِيَّةٍ وَلَا فِيْ مَا لَا يَمْلِكُ الْعَبْدُ۔ رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَا نَذْرَ فِيْ مَعْصِيَّةِ اللّٰهِ۔

3428. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "A vow that is a means to disobedience to Allah should not be honoured, and so a vow should not be fulfilled to do what one has not power to do."

According to another version (in Muslim): "No vow must be taken to disobey Allah."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone vows to organize a musical function if his prayer is granted, or to please Allah by having a qawwali sung, then it is not allowed to fulfill this vow. Also, no expiation is wajib (obligatory) for not fulfilling the vow. This is to what Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله subscribe, but according to Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله expiation for this oath is wajib (obligatory), nevertheless.

The second portion of the hadith says that it is not allowed to fulfill a vow for something which one does not possess or cannot exercise control over it. For example, if a person makes a vow to set free a slave who belongs to someone else or to give away something that is another's property, then, because the vow is not correct, it is not binding on him to free the slave or give that thing.

EXPIATION FOR A VOW

(٣٤٢٩) وَعَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كَفَّارَةُ النَّذْرِ كَفَّارَةُ الْيَمِيْنِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3429. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه

وسلم said, "The expiation for a vow is like the expiation for an oath."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone does not specify anything when making a vow, saying only. "I make a vow," then an expiation will be wajib (obligatory) on him. If he takes a vow to fast without specifying how many, then it will be wajib (obligatory) on him to fast three days. If he takes a vow to give sadaqah (charity) but does not say how much, then it will be wajib (obligatory) on him to feed ten people as against sadaqat ul fitr.

THE PART OF VOW THAT IS IMPOSSIBLE MAY BE LEFT OUT

(٣٤٣٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ بَيْنَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَخْطُبُ إِذَا هُوَ بِرَجُلٍ قَائِمٍ فَسَأَلَ عَنْهُ فَقَالُوْا أَبُوْإِسْرَائِيْلَ نَذَرَ أَنْ يَقُوْمَ وَلَا يَقْعُدَ وَلَا يَسْتَظِلَّ وَلَا يَتَكَلَّمَ وَيَصُوْمَ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُرُوْهُ فَلْيَتَكَلَّمْ وَلْيَسْتَظِلَّ وَلْيَقْعُدْ وَلْيُتِمَّ صَوْمَهُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3430. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that while the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم was delivering a sermon, he beheld a man standing. So, he asked about him. They (the sahabah رضی الله عنهم) said, "He is Abu Israil. He has taken a vow that he would stand and not sit and not go into the shade and not speak, but would fast (perpetually)." The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Instruct him to speak, go into the shade, sit and complete his fast."[2]

COMMENTARY: The prophet commanded the man to complete that part of his vow as was possible for him ,and to give up that which was not possible to do. He was commanded to fast as per his vow always because it is necessary to fulfill a vow to obey and worship. To fast always is a better deed for one who is able to do it, but this excludes the five fasts that are forbidden by shariah. If anyone forms an intention to fast on these five days too then it is wajib (obligatory) on him to break these fasts, and according to the hanafis it is wajib (obligatory) on him to make an expiation for that. Among the things that it was not possible for him to do at all was 'not to speak.' According to Shari'ah (divine law), it is simply impossible not to speak always because sometimes it is wajib (obligatory) to speak. Examples are: recitation of the Qur'an in the salah (prayer), giving a response to the greeting (of salaam), to neglect which is a sin. Similarly, it is not within a man's power to never sit and never go in the shade.

(٣٤٣١-٣٤٣٢) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَأٰى شَيْخًا يُهَادٰى بَيْنَ اِبْنَيْهِ فَقَالَ مَابَالُ هٰذَا قَالُوْا نَذَرَ أَنْ يَمْشِيَ إِلٰى بَيْتِ اللّٰهِ قَالَ إِنَّ اللّٰهَ تَعَالٰى عَنْ تَعْذِيْبِ هٰذَا نَفْسَهُ لَغَنِيٌّ وَأَمَرَهُ أَنْ يَرْكَبَ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِمُسْلِمٍ عَنْ أَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ اِرْكَبْ أَيُّهَا الشَّيْخُ فَإِنَّ اللّٰهَ غَنِيٌّ عَنْكَ وَعَنْ نَذْرِكَ۔

3431. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم saw an old man being led, supported (on their shoulders) by his two sons. He asked, "What is wrong with him?" They (the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم) said, "He has taken a vow that he would walk to BaytAllah." He said, "Allah, the Exalted, has no need that this man should punish himself," and he instructed him to side.[1]

According to a version in Muslim:
3432. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he said, "O you shaykh! (old man) Ride, for Allah is not in need of (putting) you (to trouble) and of your vow.[2]

COMMENTARY: That man was unable to walk because he was feeble and old. This is why the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed him to ride.

Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ abides by the hadith and says that a person who makes a vow to walk and breaks it, to ride, will not have to make an expiation for breaking the vow.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ says that he will be bound to slaughter an animal (meaning, like a sheep) because he is unable to fulfill what he had bound himself to do. Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ gave a second verdict similar to it.

Mazhar رحمہ اللہ said that the ulama (Scholars) differ on the edict for a man who vows to go to BaytAllah on foot. Imam Shafi'i رحمہ اللہ says that if he has the strength to undertake the journey then he must walk the distance otherwise he must slaughter an animal towards expiation and ride to it. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ says that whether he is able or unable to walk (throughout), he must ride a beast and slaughter an animal.

PILGRIMAGE WAJIB (OBLIGATORY): According to the Hanafis, if anyone pledges, 'I bind myself to walk to BaytAllah,' then Hajj (pilgrimage) or umrah becomes wajib (obligatory) on him. He may perform one of these based on the intention (he had formed). If he pledges, "I bind myself to walk upto the Haram - or up to walk Masjid Haraam," then according to Iman Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ pilgrimage is not wajib (obligatory) on him, but according to Imam Abu Yusuf رحمہ اللہ and Imam Muhammad رحمہ اللہ Hajj (pilgrimage) or umrah remains wajib (obligatory) on him. If he says, "I bind myself to go to BaytAllah," then the unanimous verdict is that he is not clear and nothing is wajib (obligatory) on him, neither Hajj (pilgrimage) nor umrah.

If anyone vows to perform Hajj (pilgrimage) on foot, then it is wajib (obligatory) on him to walk from his home and use no kind of conveyance till he has performed tawaf ziyarat.

If a person vows to perform umrah on foot, he must not use any kind of conveyance till he has showed his hed (as the final action).

If one who vows to walk uses a conveyance all through or part of the distance, with or without an excuse, then it is wajib (obligatory) on him to make a sadaqah (charity) equivalent to the price of a goat.

ARE HEIRS LIABLE TO FULFILL VOW OF PREDECESSOR

(٣٤٣٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ سَعْدَ بْنَ عُبَادَةَ إِسْتَفْتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي نَذْرٍ كَانَ عَلَى أُمِّهِ فَتُوُفِّيَتْ قَبْلَ أَنْ تَقْضِيَهُ فَأَفْتَاهُ أَنْ يَقْضِيَهُ عَنْهَا۔ (متفق علیه)

3433. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (Sayyiduna) sa'd ibn Ubadah رحمہ اللہ requested the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم for an edict about a vow that his mother had taken but had died before fulfilling it. He pronounced the edict for him that he should fulfill the vow on her behalf.[3]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) have different views on the nature of the vow taken by the mother of Sayyidiuna Sa'd رضی الله عنه. She may have not specified it, or vowed to fast, or to set a slave free or to make a sadaqah (charity). According to the version in daraqutni, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم instructed Sa'd رضی الله عنه, "Provide water to drink on her behalf."

The majority of the scholars say that if anyone takes a vow but dies before fulfilling it, then his heirs are not bound to honour it on his behalf, if it is for something other than a monetary pledge. Also, if he had vowed to make a monetary contribution but had left nothing behind then too it is not wajib (obligatory) on the heirs to fulfill the vow. However, if they honour it, that is mustahab (desirable).

The Zawahir say, however, that it is wajib (obligatory) on the heirs to fulfill the vow basing their verdict on this hadith. Most of the ulama (Scholars) contend that the heir has not made the vow wajib (obligatory) on himself so he is not liable to fulfill it. It will only be mustahab (desirable) for him to fulfill it. As for this hadith, it does not make it wajib (obligatory), Secondly, it is possible that the mother or Sayyiduna Sa'd رضی الله عنه may have left a legacy and he could have been commanded by the Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم command to do it voluntarily.

DO NOT GIVE AWAY EVERYTHING IN CHARITY

3434. Sayyiduna Ka'b ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه narrated that he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah a perfect repentance from me demands of me that I should give away all my property as sadaqah (charity) for Allah and His Messenger." There upon, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Keep with you some of your property. That will be better for your." He submitted, "I withhold the share that I had received at Khaybar" (of the booty of war).[1]

COMMENTARY: When the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم advanced with his army to the battle of tabuk, three of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم did not accompany him. They were: Ka'b رضی الله عنه, Murarah ibn Rabi رحمه الله and Hilal ibn Umayyah.

When he returned, he was very displeased with them and he instructed everyone to refrain from speaking to them. They were very worried and repentance was accepted after some days and this verse was revealed pardoning them:

وَعَلَى الثَّلَاثَةِ الَّذِيْنَ خُلِّفُوا۔ الآية

{And (He relented) towards the three who were left behind.} (9: 118)

In gratitude thereof and to make his repentance perfect, Ka'b ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه offered all his property towards sadaqah (charity) in Allah's name. He was instructed to retain some of it for himself. The meaning was that he should keep two-thirds of his property with himself and give away one-third towards charity.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not allow him to give away everything because he might need some for himself and then find it difficult to endure. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم always kept the interest of all concerned in mind before giving any command.

Apart from this example of Ka'b رضى الله عنه, there also is the example of Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه. When he too brought all his property and presented it to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم once, he did not forbid him to do that because his nature was entirely different. We cannot even imagine in the least at how high a degree of patience and trust in Allah he was. He was pleased at Allah's pleasure. Howsoever difficult the circumstances, he was a paragon of patience and reliance on Allah.

The complier of Mishkat has placed this hadith in this chapter of his book because Ka'b's رضى الله عنه saying resembles a vow that he had made something wajib (obligatory) on himself though it was not binding on him in the peculiar circumstances (when his repentance was accepted).[1]

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

VOW TO SIN SHOULD NOT BE FULFILLED

(٣٤٣٥) عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا نَذْرَ فِيْ مَعْصِيَةٍ وَكَفَّارَتُهُ كَفَّارَةُ الْيَمِيْنِ۔

(رواہ ابوداؤد والترمذی والنسائی)

3435. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "There is no vow of disobedience (to Allah), and the expiation for it is as the expiation for an oath."[2]

COMMENTARY: See hadith # 2427, 2428. As regards expiation, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله goes by this hadith. Imam Sahfi'I رحمه الله holds that no expiation is liable.

EXPIATION FOR UNSPECIFIED VOW

(٣٤٣٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ نَذَرَ نَذْرًا لَمْ يُسَمِّهِ فَكَفَّارَتُهُ كَفَّارَةُ يَمِيْنٍ وَمَنْ نَذَرَ نَذْرًا فِيْ مَعْصِيَةٍ فَكَفَّارَتُهُ كَفَّارَةُ يَمِيْنٍ وَمَنْ نَذَرَ نَذْرًا لَا يُطِيْقُهُ وَكَفَّارَتُهُ كَفَّارَةُ يَمِيْنٍ وَمَنْ نَذَرَ نَذْرًا اَطَاقَهُ فَلْيَفِ بِهٖ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاؤُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَوَقَّفَهُ بَعْضُهُمْ عَلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ۔

3436. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If anyone takes a vow but does not specify it (whether he will fast or give sadaqah (charity)), then the expiation for it as the expiation for an oath (when it is broken). If anyone takes a vow to be disobedient (or sinful), then (it must not be fulfilled and) the expiation for it is as the expiation for an oath. If anyone takes a vow to do something beyond his power, then the expiation for it is as the expiation for an

COMMENTARY: The unspecified vow is when he says simply. "I take a vow."

ONLY THE VOW THAT IS LAWFUL

(٣٤٣٧) وَعَنْ ثَابِتِ بْنِ ضَحَّاكٍ قَالَ نَذَرَ رَجُلٌ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يَّنْحَرَ اِبِلًا بِبُوَانَةَ فَاَتٰى رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَخْبَرَهٗ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ هَلْ كَانَ فِيْهَا وَثَنٌ مِنْ اَوْثَانِ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ يُعْبَدُ قَالُوْا لَا قَالَ فَهَلْ كَانَ فِيْهَا عِيْدٌ مِنْ اَعْيَادِهِمْ قَالُوْا لَا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَوْفِ بِنَذْرِكَ فَاِنَّهٗ لَا وَفَاءَ لِنَذْرٍ فِيْ مَعْصِيَةِ اللّٰهِ وَلَا فِيْمَا لَا يَمْلِكُ ابْنُ اٰدَمَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3437. Sayyiduna Thabit ibn Dahhak رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم a man took a vow to slaughter camels at Buwanah (a low-lying area in Makkah). He came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and informed him (of his vow). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked (the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم around him), "Was there an idol there during the jahiliyah (ignorance period) that was being worshipped?" The Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم said, "No!" Then he asked, "Was any of their festivals being observed there (then)?" They submitted, "No." So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to the man, "Fulfill your vow. Indeed, a vow calling for disobedience to Allah must not be fulfilled, and so not that over which the son of Aadam has no control."[2]

COMMENTARY: If there had been an idol at the place or any kind of festival was being organized there during the jahiliyah (ignorance period) then the man would not have been given permission to slaughter camels there lest it resemble the offerings of the idol worshippers.

VOW TO BEAT THE DUFF (TAMBOURINE)

(٣٤٣٨) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ اِمْرَاَةً قَالَتْ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنِّيْ نَذَرْتُ اَنْ اَضْرِبَ عَلٰى رَأْسِكَ بِالدُّفِّ قَالَ اَوْفِيْ بِنَذْرِكِ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَزَادَ رَزِيْنٌ قَالَتْ وَنَذَرْتُ اَنْ اَذْبَحَ بِمَكَانِ كَذَا وَكَذَا مَكَانٌ يَذْبَحُ فِيْهِ اَهْلُ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ فَقَالَ هَلْ كَانَ بِذٰلِكَ الْمَكَانِ وَثَنٌ مِنْ اَوْثَانِ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ يُعْبَدُ قَالَتْ لَا قَالَ هَلْ كَانَ فِيْهِ عِيْدٌ مِنْ اَعْيَادِهِمْ قَالَتْ لَا قَالَ اَوْفِيْ بِنَذْرِكِ۔

3438. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمہ اللہ narrated from his father that his grandfather (Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ) said that a women submitted. "O Messenger of Allah, I have taken a vow to beat a duff before you (when you return after waging jihad)." He said, "Fulfill your vow."

The version of Razin has that he (Abdullah) said that the woman submitted (also), "And, I have taken a vow to make a sacrifice at such-and-such a place where people used to slaughter during the jahiliyah (ignorance period)." He asked, "Was there at that place any of the idols worshipped during the jahiliyah (ignorance period)?" She said, "No." He asked, "Was there any of their festivals observed?" She said "No." He said, "Fulfill your vow."[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith informs us that it is permitted to play the tambourine. Those authorities, who say that a vow must be for something relating to obedience, say that this woman expressed her sentiments of belief and love. She awaited the safe return of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم from jihad when she vowed to beat the duff. Hence, that, too, was a kind of obedience.

SADAQAH (CHARITY) OF NOT MORE THAN ONE-THIRD PROPERTY

(٣٤٣٩) وَعَنْ اَبِي لُبَابَةَ اَنَّهٗ قَالَ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ مِنْ تَوْبَتِيْ اَنْ اَهْجُرَ دَارَ قَوْمِي الَّتِي اَصَبْتُ فِيْهَا الذَّنْبَ وَاَنْ اَنْخَلِعَ مِنْ مَالِي كُلِّهٖ صَدَقَةً قَالَ يُجْزِئُ عَنْكَ الثُّلُثُ۔ (رواه رزين)

3439. Sayyiduna Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه narrated that he submitted to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. "My repentance I hope to make perfect by abandoning the house of my people where I had committed sin and by giving away all my property towards sadaqah (charity)." He said, "It will be enough for you to give one-third (as sadaqah (charity))."[2]

COMMENTARY: The case of Sayyiduna Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه was an amazing incident in Islamic history. It is lesson-bearing and unique.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had besieged the Banu Qurayzah, a tribe of the Jews. They sent message to him that he should send his companion Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه to them so that they might consult him.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم agreed to their request and sent Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه to them. When they saw him, all their men and women, old and young began to weep and sob before him. Seeing that, Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه was moved and he felt pity for them. They asked him, "If we obey the command of Muhammad and surrender ourselves him, how will he treat us?" In reply, he put his hand to his throat to suggest that they would be killed.

Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه said, "I had barely done that and not yet taken a step from there when I felt remorse. I repented saying to myself, 'You have committed treachery with Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.

Then, this verse was revealed:

يٰۤاَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْا لَا تَخُوْنُوا اللّٰهَ وَالرَّسُوْلَ وَتَخُوْنُوْۤا اَمٰنٰتِكُمْ

{O you who believe! Violate not (the promise of) Allah and the Messenger, and violate (not) the trusts (amongst) yourselves...} (8: 27) (the promise of Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم is their message and commands.)

Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه was terribly upset. It was as though his heart and mind had been struck by a bolt. Completely restless, and as though insane, he came to the Masjid Nabawi and tied himself to a pillar of the mosque. He declared that food and drink was forbidden to him till he made a repentance and Allah accepted it from him. As the time of salah

(prayer) drew near, his son would come and unite him. When he finished praying, he would again tie his hands. People would advise him to release himself but he would say, "No. Not until Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم united me with his hands."
He remained in that condition for seven days when he swooned and fell down. Allah then accepted his repentance and the people informed him of that, but he insisted that he would not undo himself unless Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم untied him with his hands. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came and undid the knots to release him.
It was at this moment that Abu Lubabah رضی اللہ عنہ submitted that he felt that he must dispossess himself of all his wealth and property for his repentance to be perfect. He included his ancestral home that was among the Banu Qurayzah. He wished to move far away from the place where the devil had tempted and misled him. He had sympathized with the Banu Qurayzah because his family was among them and he had his properties there.
The hadith does not say what the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said about abandoning his home. Perhaps, he let him do it. As for his property, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed him to give one third as charity. That was enough to get him his ambition. (The account as in the Siratur Rasul by Ibn Kathir is appended as a supplement at the end of this chapter.)

VOW TO OFFER SALAH (PRAYER) AT BAYT UL MUQADDAS BUT COULD NOT

(٣٤٤٠) وَعَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ اَنَّ رَجُلًا قَامَ يَوْمَ الْفَتْحِ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنِّيْ نَذَرْتُ لِلّٰهِ عَزَّوَجَلَّ اِنْ فَتَحَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْكَ مَكَّةَ اَنْ اُصَلِّيَ فِيْ بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ قَالَ صَلِّ هٰهُنَا ثُمَّ اَعَادَ عَلَيْهِ فَقَالَ صَلِّ هٰهُنَا ثُمَّ اَعَادَ عَلَيْهِ فَقَالَ شَاْنُكَ اِذًا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والدارمی)

3440. Sayyiduna Jabir ibn Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that, on the day of the Conquest (of Makkah), a man got up and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, I had vowed to Allah, Mighty and Glorious, that if Allah grants you victory over Makkah, I shall offer two raka'at salah (prayer) in Bayt ul-Muqaddis." He said, "Offer here, at this place." (He meant: the Masjid Haram where it is better to offer salah (prayer) and easier than going all the way there.) Then he repeated (the question) to him and he said again, "offer here, at this place!" Then he repeated again (the question) to him and he said, "As you please!"[1]

COMMENTARY: It is stated in Sharah us-Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) that if anyone takes a vow to offer salah (prayer) in Masjid Nabawi but offers it in Masjid Haram then his vow will be fulfilled. But, if he offers it in Masjid Haram then his vow will be fulfilled. But, if he offers it in Masjid Aqsa, meaning Bayt ul-Maqdis then his vow will remain unfulfilled. If anyone takes a vow to offer salah (prayer) in Masjid Aqsa but offers the salah (prayer) in Masjid Haram or Masjid Nabawi then his vow will be fulfilled.
In other words, if a vow is taken to offer salah (prayer) at some place and then the salah (prayer) is offered at a place more excellent than that then the vow will have been fulfilled. The Hanafis say, however, that even if he offers salah (prayer) at a place less excellent than that, his vow will have been fulfilled.

IF PART OF VOW IS IMPOSSIBLE

(٣٤٤١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ اُخْتَ عُقْبَةَ بْنَ عَامِرٍ نَذَرَتْ اَنْ تَحُجَّ مَاشِيَةً وَاَنَّهَا لَا تُطِيْقُ ذٰلِكَ فقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ لَغَنِيٌّ عَنْ مَشْيِ اُخْتِكَ فَلْتَرْكَبْ وَلْتُهْدِ بَدَنَةً۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِاَبِيْ دَاوُدَ فَاَمَرَهَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ تَرْكَبَ وَتُهْدِيَ هَدْيًا وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَهُ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ لَا يَصْنَعُ بِشِقَاءِ اُخْتِكَ شَيْئًا فَلْتَرْكَبْ وَلْتَحُجَّ وَتُكَفِّرْ يَمِيْنَهَا۔

3441. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas narrated that the sister of Uaqbah ibn Aamir رضی الله عنه took a vow to perform Hajj (pilgrimage) on foot but she did not have the strength to do it. So, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said (to Uqbah رضی الله عنه), "Surely, Allah does not need that your sister walk. So; she must ride (when she cannot walk) and (by way of an expiation) she should sacrifice a badanah." (The Hanafis say that a badanah is a camel or a cow but the Shafi'is say that it is a camel.)

According to another version the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم commanded her, "Ride and offer the hady." (sacrificial animals)

And yet another version has that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Surely, Allah will not reward your sister for the hardship to which she subjects herself. So, let her perform the pilgrimage riding (when she cannot walk) and make an expiation for her oath."[1]

COMMENTARY: Hady is the animal that is sent to Haram to be sacrificed. The smallest of it is a goat and the best of it is a badanah (camel or cow).

The command to sacrifice a badanah is mustahab (desirable).

Qadi رحمه الله said that to perform Hajj (pilgrimage) on foot is a form of obedience, so it is wajib (obligatory) to fulfill a vow to do that, and this includes every such deed that one is not allowed to neglect, unless one is unable to do it. Hence, a fidyah (or expiation) becomes wajib (obligatory) when it is neglected or omitted. However, opinions differ on the animal that it is wajib (obligatory) to offer as an expiation. Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه goes by this hadith and says that a badanah is wajib (obligatory). Some others say that it is like over crossing the miqat when it is wajib (obligatory) to sacrifice a goat, so in this case too a goat becomes wajib (obligatory), and they hold that the badanah mentioned in this hadith is mustahab (desirable) to sacrifice. Imam Maalik رحمه الله agrees with this opinion and Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله also agrees with it.

The words 'make an expiation for your oath' are more correctly interpreted to mean expiation for jinayah(كفارة جناية) meaning 'for an offence.' And, it is a hady, or fasting instead of hady. The expiation is interpreted in this case to reconcile this hadith with the others. In short, in this hadith, 'the expiation for an oath' does not mean the expiation for breaking an oath.

3442. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Maalik رحمه الله narrated that (Sayyiduna) Uqbah ibn

Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ asked the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم about a sister of his who had taken a vow to perform Hajj (pilgrimage) on foot, barefooted and bareheaded. He said. "Command her to cover her head and to ride, and to fast three days."[1]

COMMENTARY: A woman's hair on the head are part of her satr (private parts) meaning, the portion of the body that must be covered at all times, it being wajib (obligatory) to do so. It is a sin to bare the head.

He also commanded her to ride because she was unable to walk. She had imposed on herself tremendous hardship.

The previous hadith mentions hady so, here, it might imply that if she is unable to offer a hady (meaning, sacrifice an animal) then she must fast three days.

Or, he commanded her to fast because there are many kinds of an expiation and he merely named one of them, so, if anyone is unable to observe the other kinds, he must fast three days. As for the fasts, if they are by way of expiation then it is wajib (obligatory) to fast on three successive days. In other cases, one may fast as one chooses.

WAJIB (OBLIGATORY) TO MAKE EXPIATION FOR UNLAWFUL VOW

3443. Sa'eed ibn Musayyib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that two brothers who were of the ansars inherited from someone (but had not divided the inheritance). One of them asked the other for his portion from it. He said, "If you repeat and ask me again for your portion, (I take a vow that) all my property will be spent on the Ka'bah is in no need of your property that you take a vow for it). Make an expiation for your oath (which you made wajib (obligatory) on yourself through the vow) and speak to your brother (concerning) the sharing of the inheritance and meet his demand), for, I had heard Allah's Messenger say, "It is not wajib (obligatory) on you to fulfill this oath (or vow), nor to take a vow to disobey the Lord, or to sever ties of kinship, or about something over which one has no control." (It is wajib (obligatory) to make an expiation for a vow that is not fulfilled for such reasons.)[2]

COMMENTARY: The words in the Arabic text are (رتاج الكعبة) (ritaj ul Ka'bah). The literal meaning of these words is 'the door of the Ka'bah.' Ritaj is used for a main or large gate. Here, however, to phrase stands for the Ka'bah itself.

3444. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: I heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Vows are of two kinds. (They are:) If a person vows to obey (and worship Allah) then it is purely for Allah, so it (is wajib (obligatory) and) must be fulfilled. And if a person vows to do an act of disobedience then it is for the devil and it must not be fulfilled, but atonement must be made for it like an atonement for breaking the oath."[1]

ABOUT VOW TO SACRIFE ONESELF

3445. Sayyiduna Muhammad ibn al-Muntashir رحمہ اللہ narrated that a man vowed that he would slaughter himself if Allah saved him from his enemy. (when he was delivered from them,) he asked Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and he advised him to ask Masruq رحمہ اللہ (who was a tabi'i). So, he asked him and he said, "Do not slaughter yourself, for, if you are a believer, you will be slaying a believing soul, and if you are a disbeliever, you will be hastening yourself to hell. (The ruling is that you) buy a ram and slaughter it (for the poor). Indeed, (Sayyiduna) Ishaq علیہ السلام was better than you and he was replaced (ransomed) with a ram." Then he (the man) in formed Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ (about it) and he said, "This is how I had intended to enlighten you."[2]

COMMENTARY: Masruq رحمہ اللہ ibn Ajda was a top-ranking tabi'i. He was a great scholar and a jurist. Murrah ibn Sharahbil رحمہ اللہ said that no Hamdani woman ever gave birth to a dutiful son like Masruq رحمہ اللہ. He had embraced Islam before the death of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم but was unable to come to his presence. But, he acquired knowledge from the four caliphs and from Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا. This is why Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ directed that man to consult Masruq رحمہ اللہ though he himself was a great scholar.

In this way, not only is the excellence of Masruq رحمہ اللہ known but also the carefulness, patience and honesty of Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ is highlighted.

The man mentioned in the hadith would have been disgraced if he had succumbed to an enemy and that would have been terrible for him. He was not afraid of death, so he beseeched Allah to relieve him of the enemy's threat. However, he was not aware that killing oneself was worse than that and unlawful too.

[2] Razin.

Masruq رحمه الله made him realize that if he killed himself, he would be killing a believer. The Quran says about it:

وَلَا تَقْتُلُوْا اَنْفُسَكُمْ ....

{And kill not yourselves...} (4: 29)

وَمَنْ يَّقْتُلْ مُؤْمِنًا مُّتَعَمِّدًا الخ

{Whose slays a believer of set purpose...} (4: 93)

And those who kill believers are warned of hell.

As for a disbeliever, his death would take him to hell. So, if he survives, there is a possibility of his being guided to Islam.

In either case, his killing himself was illegal and senseless.

The hadith speaks of a ram being slaughtered to ransom sayyiduna Ishaq عليه السلام. Some ulama (Scholars) say that Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام had dreamt of Prophet Ishaq عليه السلام as the son he was sacrificing. But, the better known and correct opinion is that Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام had dreamt that he should sacrifice Prophet Isma'il عليه السلام.

Jalaluddin Suyuti رحمه الله has explained that the peoples of the Book have made grave changes about this event and have lied. The earlier heavenly Books had the name Isma'il and they have removed it and introduced Ishaq.

Durr Mukhtar writes that if anyone takes a vow to sacrifice his son then he will have to follow the event of Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام and it will be wajib (obligatory) on him to slaughter a goat. But, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله say that this kind of a vow is absurd. Similarly, a vow to kill oneself or one's own slave is absurd. On the other hand, Imam Muhammad رحمه الله hold that it will be wajib (obligatory) to slaughter a goat in such cases.

If anyone takes a vow to slaughter one's father, grand-father or mother, then the ulama (Scholars) say unanimously that the vow is laghw (absurd or thoughtless).

The following is an extract from siratun Nabi صلى الله عليه وسلم (Life of Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم) by Ibn Kathir (published by Darul Isha'at Karachi pp 408-409 and 581.) It is about Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه

ABU LUBABAH

When they (the Banu Qurayzah) found the siege unbearable they called Abu Lubabah ibn Abdul Munzir who was their ally. He said, "Only when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم permits me will I meet you"' and he gave him permission to go. When he went there they wept before him and asked him. "What do you suggest? We are not even able to fight Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. "He pointed with his hand to his throat to say that they would be executed. Then he was very sorry for having said that. He realized that he was involved in a trail. He said, "By Allah will not go to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم till I make a sincere repentance." He came straight to a pillar there. He remained in that state for about twenty days. Here Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم enquired about him and was informed what he had done. He said. "After having gone he put to trail. If he had come to me straightaway then I would have sought forgiveness for him, but since he has decided for himself. I will not release him till Allah gives the judgment for him.

KA'B'S FAILURE

According to Ibn Ishaq, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم encamped it the well Ana and besieged them for twenty five days. They were tired after all. Hence, Ka'b ibn Asad their chief proposed to them that they should adopt one of three options:

1. We should obey this Prophet and confirm his religion. Indeed, he is a Prophet whose characteristics are found in our books. Then we will save our life and property. The people said that they would not give up Torah or change the religion.
2. Let us kill our women and children and thus have no anxiety behind so that we can take the swords and attack Muhammad and his Companions. If we are killed there is nothing for us to worry about, but if we succeed then, indeed we will get other wives and children. They said that they would not kill the innocent people to enjoy life afterwards.
3. Then, today is Saturday night. Perhaps, Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم and his companions رضى الله عنه are off-guard. Come, let us attack them. We might take them unaware and win the battle. However, they were unwilling to violate the Sabbath.

They knew that whoever had done that before them was transfigured. Ka'b said, "You are very foolish and none of you has spent even one night in intelligence."

It was then that they had requested that Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه should be sent to them. They had to consult him. We have seen easier what happened after that Ibn Hisham said that Allah revealed concerning him:

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوا لَا تخونوا اللّٰه والرسول وتخونوا امنتكم وَاَنْتُمْ تَعْلَمُوْنَ

{O you who believe betray not Allah and the Messenger, nor betray your trusts, while you know.} (8: 27)

Ibn Hisham said that he was tied to the pillar for six nights. His wife would come and untie him for prayers after which he was re-tied to the pillar. Finally his repentance was accepted and this verse was revealed:

وَاٰخَرُوْنَ مُرْجَوْنَ لِاَمْرِ اللّٰهِ اِمَّا يُعَذِّبُهُمْ وَاِمَّا يَتُوْبُ عَلَيْهِمْ وَاللّٰهُ عَلِيْمٌ حَكِيْمٌ

{And (there are) others who await Allah's commandment, whether He chastises them or He relents towards them. And Allah's knower, Wise.} (9: 106)

However, Musa Ibn Uqbah said that he was bound there for twenty nights.

IN UMM SALMAH'S رضى الله عنه HOME

While the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was in Sayyidah Umm Salamah's رضى الله عنها home, he learnt that Allah had accepted Abu Lubabah's رضى الله عنه repentance. He smiled and told her why he had smiled. She requested to be allowed to convey the tidings to him and he consented. So, she gave him the glad tidings and all people rushed to congratulate him and give him freedom but he said, "By Allah! His Messenger will untie me with his hands." So, when he came for the salah (prayer) of Fajr, he set him free.

Another extract:

ABU LUBABAH رضى الله عنه

Sa'eed ibn Musayyab, Mujahid and Ibn Ishaq have mentioned in the account of Banu

Qurayzah that Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه had bound himself to a pillar till is repentance was accepted. Again, he stayed behind in the Battle of Tabuk and tied himself again to a pillar. Allah accepted his repentance and he decided to give away all his wealth in charity. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم advised him to give only one-third of that. The verse 9: 102 was revealed about him. I hereafter, he only acted sincerely.

I believe that the named-authorities have not mentioned other people because Abu Lubabah رضى الله عنه may have been their chief. This is inferred from Ibn Abbas' رضى الله عنه account.

QISAS كِتَابُ الْقِصَاصِ

RETALIATION

In the terminology of Shari'ah (divine law), qisas implies: 'taking the life of the murderer.' If anyone has killed someone unjustly, then qisas is to kill him against the murdered.

The word is derived from (قص) and (قصص)(qis and qisas), the literal meaning of which is 'to follow someone.'(1) To track, to trace. The guardian of the murdered person follows the murderer to kill him in retaliation for the murdered. This is why to take the life of the murderer is called qisas.

(قصاصات)(qisasat) means 'equlaity.' It is in the sense that when the murderer is killed in revenge for the murdered then the guardian gets even with the murderer, or the murdered and the murderer are quits with one another.

In qisas the murderer is treated in the same way as the murderer had treated the murdered.

BLOOD OF MUSLIM IS SACRED

(٣٤٤٦) عَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَحِلُّ دَمُ امْرِئٍ مُسْلِمٍ يَشْهَدُ اَنْ لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَاَنِّيْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ اِلَّا بِاِحْدٰى ثَلَاثٍ النَّفْسُ بِالنَّفْسِ وَالثَّيِّبُ الزَّانِيْ وَالْمَارِقُ لِدِيْنِهِ التَّارِكُ لِلْجَمَاعَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3446. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "It is not lawful to shed the blood of a Muslim who testifies that there is no God but Allah and that I am Allah's Messenger, except for one of three things: (i) life for life (which is retaliation but according to the laws of Shari'ah (divine law)), (ii) a married man (responsible and free) who commits fornication, and (iii) a person who abandons his religion and deserts the community."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Muslim is defined as one who testifies to Allah's unity and to Prophet Muhammad's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم messengership. Anyone who simply recites the Kalimah shahadah (the words of testimony) is one whose blood is sacred and so unlawful to shed.

If anyone who is not a Muslim, or who was not known to be a Muslim, merely gives a verbal testimony of Allah's unity and the messengership of Prophet Muhammad صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, then it is unlawful to shed his blood unjustly in the same way as of any known Muslim.

The gist of the hadith is that it is never allowed to shed blood of a Muslim unless one of these three reasons is found.

[1] Bukhari # 6878, Muslim # 25-1676.

(i) If a Muslim kills his Muslim brother unjustly then the principle of 'life for life' will apply.
(ii) If a married Muslim who is responsible and free commits fornication then he is stoned to death. And,
(iii) If a Muslim apostates then he is killed.

The words in the hadith 'and deserts the community' emphasize the preceding words. If anyone apostates verbally, by deeds and by belief and so abandons Islam because of which he separates from the body of the Muslims then it is wajib (obligatory) to kill him unless he repents from his apostasy. The hadith mentions him as a Muslim because of his orginal outward appearance. It must be known that if a woman apostates then according to the Hanafis, she must not be killed.

MURDERER DEPRIVES HIMSELF OF DIVINE MERCY

(٣٤٤٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَنْ يَزَالَ الْمُؤْمِنُ فِيْ فُسْحَةٍ مِنْ دِيْنِهِ مَالَمْ يُصِبْ دَمًا حَرَامًا۔ (رواه البخارى)

3447. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "A believer does not cease to remain in the wide confines of his religion till he sheds anyone's blood unjustly."[1]

COMMENTARY: While every kind of sin and evil heads to a man's downfall in religion and manners and earns him Allah wrath, this hadith emphasizes that when he kills anyone unjustly, he comes out of the sphere of Allah's mercy. He then joins those who have no hope of the mercy of Allah.

RECKONING WILL BEGIN WITH BLOOD SHED

(٣٤٤٨) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَوَّلُ مَا يُقْضٰى بَيْنَ النَّاسِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فِي الدِّمَاءِ۔ (متفق عليه)

COMMENTARY: Of the rights of fellow men, the first thing that will be taken into account and brought for judgment will be killing others. And, of the rights of Allah, the first thing to be judged will be salah (prayer). The more correct way to say this is that the first of the forbidden things to be judged on the day of resurrection will be bloodshed and of the prescribed things to be done will be salah (prayer).

RECITER OF KALIMAH MAY NOT BE KILLED

قَالَ لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰهُ أَقْتُلُهُ بَعْدَ أَنْ قَالَهَا قَالَ لَا تَقْتُلْهُ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّهُ قَطَعَ إِحْدَىٰ يَدَيَّ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَقْتُلْهُ فَإِنْ قَتَلْتَهُ فَإِنَّهُ بِمَنْزِلَتِكَ قَبْلَ أَنْ تَقْتُلَهُ وَإِنَّكَ بِمَنْزِلَتِهِ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَقُوْلَ كَلِمَتَهُ الَّتِيْ قَالَ۔ (متفق عليه)

3449. Sayyiduna Miqdad ibn Al-Aswad رضى الله عنه narrated that he asked, "O Messenger of Allah, what do you say: if I meet a disbeliever and we being to grapple one another and he strikes a hand of mine with his sword severing it, then he retreats to a tree for refuge from me and says, 'I have submitted myself to Allah' (or, 'I am a Muslim for Allah's sake')" - and, according to another version: "Just as I intend to kill him, he utters 'there is no God but Allah' (لا اله الا الله) - shall I kill him after he utters these words?" He said, "Do not kill him.' But, he pleaded, "O Messenger of Allah, he did sever one of my hands." Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Do not kill him. If you kill him, then he will gain the place which you were occupying before killing him, and you will go down to the place which he was occupying before he spoke the Kalimah (or the testimony that he made)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words meant: "If you kill him after he recites the Kalimah (لا اله الا الله محمد رسول الله) – there is no God but Allah) then just as you were innocent of killing before killing him, he becomes innocent of bloodshed after embracing Islam. And, you would take his place and would become 'not innocent of blood.'" Or, formerly, it was allowed to kill him, but not now. And it would be correct to kill you!

(٣٤٥٠-٣٤٥١) وَعَنْ أُسَامَةَ بْنِ زَيْدٍ قَالَ بَعَثَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَىٰ أُنَاسٍ مِنْ جُهَيْنَةَ فَأَتَيْتُ عَلَىٰ رَجُلٍ مِنْهُمْ فَذَهَبْتُ أَطْعَنُهُ فَقَالَ لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰهُ فَطَعَنْتُهُ فَقَتَلْتُهُ فَجِئْتُ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَأَخْبَرْتُهُ فَقَالَ أَقَتَلْتَهُ وَقَدْ شَهِدَ أَنْ لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰهُ؟ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّمَا فَعَلَ ذٰلِكَ تَعَوُّذًا قَالَ فَهَلَّا شَقَقْتَ عَنْ قَلْبِهِ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ جُنْدُبِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ الْبَجَلِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كَيْفَ تَصْنَعُ بِلَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰهُ إِذَا جَاءَتْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ قَالَهُ مِرَارًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3450. Sayyiduna Usamah ibn Zayd رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم sent them to some people of (the tribe) Juhaynah (to fight them). (And, Usamah رضى الله عنه said:) I came upon one of them and was about to strike him with the spear when he declared (لا اله الا الله) there is no God but Allah). But, I pierced him with the spear and killed him. Then when I came to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, I informed him (about it) and he asked, "Did you kill him after he did testify that there is no God but Allah?" I said, "O Messenger of Allah, he did that as an excuse to protect himself." He asked, "Then why did you not split his heart?" (and see).[2]

3451. The version of Jundub ibn Abdullah Bajali رضى الله عنه is that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked, "How will you cope with (لا اله الا الله) (the testimony) when it comes

(to you) on the day of resurrection?" (on behalf of him to contend with you?) He spoke these words very often.[1]

COMMENTARY: When Sayyiduna Usamah رضی الله عنه said that the man had recited the kalimah to save his skin, the Prophet صلی الله علیہ وسلم asked him, "Why did you not find out what he had in his heart? You ought to have seen what his intentions were? You could not do that, so you should have gone by the apparent. The man's reciting the Kalimah was enough. However, bloodwit was not binding on Usamah because he had erred in ijtihad (extracting rulling of Islamic law).

DO NOT KILL ONE WHO IS PROTECTED

(٣٤٥٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ قَتَلَ مُعَاهِدًا لَمْ يَرَحْ رَائِحَةَ الْجَنَّةِ وَاِنَّ رِيْحَهَا تُوْجَدُ مِنْ مَسِيْرَةِ اَرْبَعِيْنَ خَرِيْفًا۔ (رواه البخاری)

3452. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیہ وسلم said, "He who kills anyone under a treaty of protection will not perceive the fragrance of paradise though its odour may be perceived at a distance of forty years journey."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic text has the word muahid. He is disbeliever who has covenanted with the ruler of the Islamic territory not to engage in hostilities. He may be a dhimmi or otherwise.

This hadith says of the fragrance of paradise that it is perceived to a distance of forty years. But, there are other ahadith that give different years: seventy, one hundred, five hundred and one thousand years. It seems that they depend on people, deeds and ranks. Thus, in the place of gathering, some people will get the odour from a distance of one thousand years, some five hundred years, some one hundred years some seventy years and some forty years.

Moreover, these numbers do not mean to restrict the limit. They simply show the length to which the smell will reach. Besides, if anyone does not perceive its fragrance then it does not follow that the person will never sense it. Only in the beginning, he will not get it but after the ones near and dear to Allah and the scholars get it, he will perceive it.

This hadith severely condemns the killing of a person who is under a treaty of protection.

SUICIDE SEVERELY PUNISHABLE ACT

(٣٤٥٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ تَرَدّٰى مِنْ جَبَلٍ فَقَتَلَ نَفْسَهٗ فَهُوَ فِيْ نَارِ جَهَنَّمَ يَتَرَدّٰى فِيْهَا خَالِدًا مُخَلَّدًا فِيْهَا اَبَدًا وَمَنْ تَحَسّٰى سُمًّا فَقَتَلَ نَفْسَهٗ فَسُمُّهٗ فِيْ يَدِهٖ يَتَحَسَّاهُ فِيْ نَارِ جَهَنَّمَ خَالِدًا مُخَلَّدًا فِيْهَا اَبَدًا وَمَنْ قَتَلَ نَفْسَهٗ بِحَدِيْدَةٍ فَحَدِيْدَتُهٗ فِيْ يَدِهٖ يَتَوَجَّاُ بِهَا فِيْ بَطْنِهٖ فِيْ نَارِ جَهَنَّمَ خَالِدًا مُخَلَّدًا فِيْهَا اَبَدًا۔ (متفق علیه)

3453. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیہ وسلم said, "He who flings himself down from a mountain and so kills himself will continue to be flung down in hell-fire and will abide therein for ever and ever. He who sips poison and so commits suicide will have his poison in his hand and will sip it for ever and ever in the fire of hell. He who slays himself with a piece of iron (like a knife) will have that weapon in his hand and with it he will stab himself in the belly in the fire of hell for ever and ever. (He will abide therein forever.)[1]

COMMENTARY: The words (خلدا) and (ابدا) and (مخلد) are synonyms used for emphasis, meaning forever, always.

The hadith says that if a person commits suicide in this world with anything then he will be punished with the same thing in the hereafter forever. Of course, this applies to those who do it with the conviction that suicide is lawful. So, they will be punished for ever and ever. Or, it could mean that they who commit suicide will suffer punishment for a long time.

(٣٤٥٤) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلَّذِى يَخْنُقُ نَفْسَهُ يَخْنُقُهَا فِي النَّارِ وَالَّذِى يَطْعَنُهَا يَطْعَنُهَا فِي النَّارِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3454. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who strangles himself (to commit suicide) will strangle himself in hell too. He who stabs himself with a spear will spear himself in hell too."[2]

(٣٤٥٥) وَعَنْ جُنْدُبِ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ فِيْ مَنْ كَانَ قَبْلَكُمْ رَجُلٌ بِهٖ جُرْحٌ فَجَزِعَ فَاَخَذَ سِكِّيْنًا فَحَزَّبِهَا يَدَهٗ فَمَا رَقَأَ الدَّمُ حَتّٰى مَاتَ قَالَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى بَادَرَنِىْ عَبْدِىْ بِنَفْسِهٖ فَحَرَّمْتُ عَلَيْهِ الْجَنَّةَ۔ (متفق عليه)

COMMENTARY: Allah will forbid him entry into paradise if he had believed that suicide is lawful. In that case, he considered an unlawful thing to be lawful which amounts to disbelief and so admittance to paradise is forbidden to him. Or, he will first undergo punishment in hell and will be deprived of the company of the successful in paradise till he has gone through his punishment.

SUICIDE IS UNLAWFUL & FORBIDDEN: Suicide is not permissible in any civilized society. For, is man the owner of himself, his visible and invisible self? Or, somebody else owns these things?

It is a confirmed fact that man is not his own master. His existence in this world is a trust for himself and for the people of the world. His Master is the Being who created him and brought him into this world. Then, is it not treachery that man hurts his own existence? It is a great crime, and a grave sin. No creature has a right to misuse the Lord's property.

This is why Shari'ah (divine law) has forbidden suicide and termed it as a grave sin. It says that one who perpetrates it will undergo a painful chastisement.

A DIDACTIC EVENT ABOUT SUICIDE

(٣٤٥٦) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ الطُّفَيْلَ بْنَ عَمْرٍ والدَّوْسِيّ لَمَّاهَاجَرَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِلَى الْمَدِيْنَةِ هَاجَرَ اِلَيْهِ وَهَاجَرَ مَعَهُ رَجُلٌ مِنْ قَوْمِهٖ فَمَرِضَ فَجَزِعَ فَاَخَذَ مَشَاقِصَ لَهُ فَقَطَعَ بِهَا بَرَاجِمَهُ فَشَخَبَتْ يَدَاهُ حَتّٰى مَاتَ فَرَآهُ الطُّفَيْلُ بْنُ عَمْرٍ وفِيْ مِنَامِهٖ وَهَيْئَتُهُ حَسَنَةٌ وَرَاٰهُ مُغَطِّيًا يِدَيْهِ فَقَالَ لَهُ مَا صَنَعَ بِكَ رَبُّكَ فَقَالَ غَفَرَلِيْ بِهِجْرَتِيْ اِلٰى نَبِيِّهٖ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ مَا لِيْ اَرَاكَ مُغَطِّيًا يَدَيْكَ قَالَ قِيْلَ لِيْ لَنْ نُصْلِحَ مِنْكَ مَا اَفْسَدْتَّ فَقَصَّهَا الطُّفَيْلُ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَللّٰهُمَّ وَلِيَدَيْهِ فَاغْفِرْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3456. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم emigrated to Madinah, Tufayl ibn Amir Dawsi رضی اللہ عنہ also emigrated to it. With him a man of his tribe also emigrated but (by a coincidence) he fell ill and became impatient and taking some of his arrowheads, he cut his knuckles. Because of that both of his hands bled profusely till he died. Later, Tufayl ibn Amir رضی اللہ عنہ saw him in a dream. He had a good outlook, but he saw him concealing his hands. He asked him, "How did your Lord treat you?" He said, "He forgave me because of my hijrah (emigration) to His Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم." Then, he asked, "Why do I see you concealing your hands?" He said, "I was told, 'We shall not set right what you had spoilt yourself."

Tufayl رضی اللہ عنہ narrated it to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. And, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم prayed, "O Allah, and his hands too, do forgive."[1]

COMMENTARY: There is great blessing in emigrating to Madinah. Allah forgives the person emigrating. If he has committed sin, he is forgiven that too because of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم seeking forgiveness for him.

It is established through authentic ahadith that if anyone visits his grave then it is tantamount to having seen him physically during his life-time. Therefore, the blessing and mercy of Allah that were bestowed on those who visited him when he was alive should be expected also by those who visit his grave.

This hadith also discloses that perpetrating a grave sin neither classifies one as a disbeliever nor consigns one to the perpetual punishment of hell. It is the conviction of the ahl us-sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) wa al-jama'ah that, after serving punishment for his major sin, a person is admitted to paradise.

3457. Sayyiduna Abu Shurayh al-Ka'bi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said (during the sermon on the day of the conquest of Makkah and its initial portion has been presented in the chapter on the Haram of Makkah and its concluding words, "O Khuza'ah, you have killed this man of Hudhayl. By Allah, I shall pay his blood wit. But, henceforth, if anyone kills a man, his people (meaning, his heirs) will have a choice (between two things):

(i)to kill him, if they wish (in retaliation, or

(ii)to accept blood wit, if they wish."[1]

(Sharh us sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) states that it does not occur in Bukhari and Muslim from Abu Shurayh رضی اللہ عنہ)

3458. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated something similar.[2]

COMMENTARY: During the pre-Islamic days, the tribe Hudhayl had killed a man of the tribe khuza'ah. In retaliation, they killed a man of the Hudhayl. To prevent further trouble between the two tribes, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم paid the blood wit for this murdered man as he said (and is quoted in the hadith). Then he mentioned the Sahri'ah law for this kind of thing, which is to choose one of two things: retaliation or blood wit. Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ abide by this hadith. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ and Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ say that the heirs of the dead person will have a right to claim blood wit from the murderer, only if he is willing to pay it. But, should he refuse to pay it, then they have no choice other than killing him. It is said that Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ also holds this opinion.

In the end the compiler of Mishkat objects to Imam Baghavi رحمہ اللہ, the comiler of the Masabih for presenting this hadith in section I though it is not found in Bukhari or Muslim. Only ahadith of these two, or one of them, are reproduced in Section I.

MALE MURDERER OF WOMAN MAY BE KILLED

Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم commanded that his head should be crushed with stones.[3]

Imam Abu Hanifa رحمه الله does not agree with the three other imams and says that here qisas does not become liable. He says about the Jew that his case had some transient reasons behind it.

PUNISHMENT COMMENSURATE WITH WRONG DONE

(٣٤٦٠) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ كَسَرَتِ الرُّبَيِّعُ وَهِيَ عَمَّةُ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ ثَنِيَّةَ جَارِيَةٍ مِنَ الْأَنْصَارِ فَأَتَوُا النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَأَمَرَ بِالْقِصَاصِ فَقَالَ أَنَسُ بْنُ النَّضْرِ عَمُّ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ لَا وَاللّٰهِ لَا تُكْسَرُ ثَنِيَّتُهَا يَا رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا أَنَسُ كِتَابُ اللّٰهِ الْقِصَاصُ فَرَضِيَ الْقَوْمُ وَقَبِلُوا الْأَرْشَ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ مِنْ عِبَادِ اللّٰهِ مَنْ لَوْ أَقْسَمَ عَلَى اللّٰهِ لَأَبَرَّهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

3460. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that (Sayyidah) Rubaiyi رضی الله عنها, the paternal aunt of (Sayyiduna) Anas ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه broke the front tooth of a girl of the ansar. They (her family) went to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم (with the complaint). He ordered that retaliation must be taken. Anas ibn Nadr رضی الله عنه the paternal uncle of Anas ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه said, "O Messenger of Allah! No, by Allah, her tooth will not be broken." He said, "O Anas, the Book of Allah prescribes qisas (retaliation)." But, (Allah decreed that) the family (or the girl) were willing to accept the diyah (Monetary compensation). So, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Surely, there are among the slaves of Allah, they who adjure Allah and He agrees to it."[1]

COMMENTARY: Rubaiyi رضی الله عنها, Anas رضی الله عنه and Maalik رضی الله عنه were three brothers and sisters. Their father was Nadr. The son of Maalik رضی الله عنه was also named Anas.

Anas ibn Nadr رضی الله عنه hoped for Allah's mercy and favour that He would put into the hearts, of the girl's family to accept monetary compensation. Indeed, that is what happened. So, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said of him that he was among those whose prayers Allah accepts.

The reference to Allah's Book about retaliation is about this verse:

وَكَتَبْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ فِيهَا أَنَّ النَّفْسَ بِالنَّفْسِ۔ تا۔ وَالسِّنَّ بِالسِّنِّ

{And therein we prescribed for them: a life for a life, an eye for an eye, a nose for a nose, an ear for a ear, a tooth for a tooth...} (5: 45)

This hadith says that it is allowed to take an oath for such things as one is hopeful would come true.

It also says that it is allowed to praise anyone in his presence, provided he is not likely to get it into his head.

This hadith teaches us also that it is mustahab (desirable) to for give qisas.

MUSLIM WHO KILLS A DISBELIEVR - MAY OR MAY NOT BE KILLED

النَّسَمَةَ مَا عِنْدَنَا إِلَّا مَا فِي الْقُرْآنِ إِلَّا فَهْمًا يُعْطَى رَجُلٌ فِي كِتَابِهِ وَمَا فِي الصَّحِيْفَةِ قُلْتُ وَمَا فِي الصَّحِيْفَةِ

قَالَ الْعَقْلُ وَفِكَاكُ الْاَسِيْرِ وَاَنْ لَا يُقْتَلُ مُسْلِمٌ بِكَافِرٍ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3461. Sayyiduna Abu Juhayfah رضی الله عنه narrated that he asked (Sayyiduna) Ali رضی الله عنه, "Do you have anything that is not found in the Quran?" He said, "By Him Who split the seed and created the soul, I have noting that is not found in the Qur'an, beyond an understanding of His Book that a man is given (and which I am given) and that which is (written) on sheets of paper (which we have)" He (Abu Juhayfahرضی الله عنه) asked, "And what is (written) on the sheets of paper?" He said, "Blood wit (for unjust killing), setting free of a prisoner and not killing a Muslim for a disbeliever (who is a dhimmi - these things are written on the sheets of paper).[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه said that he had an understanding of the Qur'an and could fathom its deep mystic meanings. He could deduce from it commands and rulings such as learned ulama (Scholars) could uncover.

He had written down about blood wit and other things and kept the parchment in the sheath of his sword. Many commands and rulings were recorded on those sheets of paper. Not all are mentioned here.

MUSLIM KILLER: It is the contention of many of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم, the tabi'un رحمه الله, the tabi tabi'un رحمه الله[2] And three of the imams رحمه الله that if a Muslim kills an infidel then he will not be killed in retaliation for the slain infidel, whether he is dhimmi or an enemy at war. But, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and most of the ulama (Scholars) contend that if the slain infidel was a dhimmi then the murderer Muslim may be killed. The hadith which they cite is mentioned in the Mirqat.

WHY DID HE ASK: The reason Sayyiduna Abu Juhayfah رضی الله عنه asked Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه was that the shiah who were found in those times in different forms used to allege that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم had disclosed to his ahlul bayt (people of the house), particularly Ali, certain secrets and details of the science of revelation that have not been disclosed to anyone else.

Another possibility why he put that question was that in those days of Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه there was no one who could match him in learning and knowledge.

Anyway, Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه said on oath that there was no such thing as they imagined. The prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم had not taught him anything at the exclusion of others and had not preached to him more than he had preached anyone else. He said that he had the same Qur'an which everyone read and he had those written down instructions. Apart from that, he had a power of understanding that Allah had bestowed on him. With that he could get to the inner meaning of the Qur'an. This was not his own achievement but Allah enabled him and gave him wisdom to fathom that.

In short, the base of all sciences and meanings is the Qur'an. So if anyone is bestowed Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ used to say that all the sciences are found in the Qur'an, but people generally do not reach to that level of understanding.

BLOOD OF MUSLIM IS SACRED

(٣٤٦٢-٣٤٦٣) عَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَزَوَالُ الدُّنْيَا اَهْوَنُ عَلَى اللّٰهِ مِنْ قَتْلِ رَجُلٍ مُسْلِمٍ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَوَقَفَهُ بَعْضُهُمْ وَهُوَ الْاَصَحُّ وَرَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ۔

3462. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "The end of the world is less serious in the sight of Allah than the killing of a Muslim man."[1]

3463. Sayyiduna Bara ibn Aazib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated it.[2]

COMMENTARY: Allah has created everything of the world, the earth, the heaven and the entire universe for the Muslims. They may, therefore, worship their Lord and believe in His Omnipotence.
In the light of this, if anyone kills a Muslim for whom this universe is created then he is like one who consigns the entire world to destruction. It is to this that a verse of the Qur'an points out:

وَمَنْ قَتَلَ نَفْسًا بِغَيْرِ نَفْسٍ اَوْ فَسَادٍ فِي الْاَرْضِ فَكَاَنَّمَا قَتَلَ النَّاسَ جَمِيْعًا

{And whoever slays a human being for other than manslaughter, or for (spreading) corruption in the land, it shall be as if he had slain all mankind.} (5: 32)

(٣٤٦٤) وَعَنْ اَبِي سَعِيْدٍ وَاَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَوْ اَنَّ اَهْلَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْاَرْضِ اِشْتَرَكُوْا فِي دَمِ مُؤْمِنٍ لَاَكَبَّهُمُ اللّٰهُ فِي النَّارِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيثٌ غَرِيبٌ۔

3464. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed رضی اللہ عنہ and Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If (it is confirmed that) the inhabitants of the heaven and earth have combined to shed blood of a believer, then Allah would cast them face down in hell."[3]

COMMENTARY: Some exponents suggest that the word in the Arabic text (لاکبهم) should have been (لکبهم) but, Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ says that it is correct. The words in Jami Saghir are:

لَكَبَّهُمُ اللّٰهُ عَزَّوَجَلَّ فِي النَّارِ

COMPLAINT OF THE MURDERED ON THE DAY OF RESURRECTION

(٣٤٦٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ يَجِيْئُ الْمَقْتُوْلُ بِالْقَاتِلِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ نَاصِيَتُهُ وَرَأْسُهُ بِيَدِهٖ وَ اَوْدَاجُهٗ تَشْخُبُ دَمًا تَقُوْلُ يَا رَبِّ قَتَلَنِيْ حَتّٰى يُدْنِيَهٗ مِنَ الْعَرْشِ۔ (رواه الترمذی والنسائی وابن ماجة)

3465. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "On the day of resurrection the murdered person will bring the murderer with his forelock and his head in his hand, blood dripping from his own jugular vein. He will complain, "O my Lord, he killed me." (Get me justice.) He will bring him (draggim him like that) till he is near the throne."[1]

COMMENTARY: On the day of resurrection, the slain person will claim his right and Allah will please him.

UTHMAN'S رضی اللہ عنہ SPEECH ON THE DAY HE WAS OPPRESSED

3466. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ ibn Sahl ibn Hunayf narrated that (Sayyiduna) Uthman ibn Affan رضی اللہ عنہ climbed up the roof top of his house on the day of ad-dar (when he was besieged by those who wrought mischief). He asked (the besiegers), "I adjure you by Allah, do you know that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The blood of a Muslim is forbidden except for one of three reasons:

(i) Fornication committed by a married man,
(ii) apostatising after embracing Islam,
(iii) slaying someone without just cause,

he may be killed for one of these reasons?' By Allah, I have not committed fornication either during jahiliyah (ignorance period) or after the coming of Islam. I have not apostatised since having sworn allegiance to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. And, I have not slain any soul whom Allah has declared sacred."[2]

COMMENTARY: The day of (or yawn) ad-dar means the day of the house. It refers to the days on which the rebels had besieged the house of the third caliph Sayyiduna Uthman ibn Affan رضی اللہ عنہ. One of those days, he went up the roof of his house and spoke the foregoing words to the rebels.

As for committing fornication after marriage, if a married person commits adultery then Shari'ah (divine law) prescribes that he should be stoned to death. The Arabic word for a married person' as used in the hadith is (احصان) (ihsan and (محصن) - (Muhsin) stands for a Muslim, freeman, responsible who has married legally and consummated marriage with his wife.

The actual words of the hadith meaning what Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said ... (لایحل دم) (The blood of a Muslim ... one of these reasons) are the only ones in Darimi, but not Uthman's رضی اللہ عنہ words in the beginning or the end.[1]

KILLER IS DEPRIVED OF GOOD

(٣٤٦٧) وَعَنْ أَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَزَالُ الْمُؤْمِنُ مُعْنِقًا صَالِحًا مَا لَمْ يُصِبْ دَمًا حَرَامًا فَإِذَا أَصَابَ دَمًا حَرَامًا بَلَّحَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3467. Sayyiduna Abu darda رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The believer does not cease to go ahead reapidly towards piety (engaged in giving the rights of Allah and of His slaves) till he does not shed blood unjustly. But, when he sheds blood unjustly he is fatigued."[2]

COMMENTARY: As long as a believer does not stain his hands with blood of someone, Allah keeps him engaged in piety and goodness, outstripping other. If he kills anyone then he loses the ability to do pious work. The heart of the murderer becomes dark with black stains. While all sins are punishable, this sin is more grave.

UNJUST KILLING IS UNFORGIVABLE

(٣٤٦٨-٣٤٦٩) وَعَنْهُ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كُلُّ ذَنْبٍ عَسَى اللّٰهُ أَنْ يَغْفِرَهُ إِلَّا مَنْ مَاتَ مُشْرِكًا أَوْ مَنْ يَقْتُلُ مُؤْمِنًا مُتَعَمِّدًا۔ رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَرَوَاهُ النَّسَائِيُّ عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ۔

3468. Sayyiduna Abu Darda رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "It may be hoped that Allah will forgive every sin, except (the sin of) one who dies a polytheist, or one who kills a Muslim deliberately."[3]

3469. Sayyiduna Muawiyah رضی اللہ عنہ also narrated this hadith.[4]

COMMENTARY: According to this hadith just as polytheism is unforgivable, so too wilful killing is unforgivable. However, the ahlus-sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) wa al-jama'ah say that a killer would undergo severe punishment for a long time before being forgiven. They cite this verse:

إِنَّ اللّٰهَ لَا يَغْفِرُ أَنْ يُشْرَكَ بِهِ وَيَغْفِرُ مَا دُوْنَ ذٰلِكَ لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ

{Surely Allah forgives not the setting up of peers for Him; for anything less than this, He forgives whomsoever He pleases.} (4: 48)

As for this hadith, it means to emphasize how serious a crime it is to kill someone and what a severe chastisement it invites. It could also mean that if anyone kills a Muslim believing it to be lawful, then he will not be pardoned. Besides, the word (متعمدا) (deliberately) could also imply killing a believer because he is a believer. If anyone does that then he will not be forgiven.

RETALIATION MAY NOT BE SOUGHT FROM FATHER FOR HIS CHILDREN

(٣٤٧٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تُقَامُ الْحُدُوْدُ فِي الْمَسَاجِدِ وَلَا يُقَادُ بِالْوَلَدِ الْوَالِدُ۔ (رواه الترمذی والدارمی)

3470. Sayyiduna Ibn abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "The prescribed punishment must not be imposed in mosques and a father must not be killed for (killing) a son."[1]

(Rather, diyah may be imposed on him. It is a monetary penalty.)

COMMENTARY: No punishment for adultery, theft, etc may be enforced in the mosques. The same applies to qisas or retaliation for murder. The reason is that mosques are meant to offer salah (prayer) or to make dhikr or acquire or impart religious knowledge.

If a father kills his son then he should not be killed in retaliation.

The juristic verdict is that if a son kills his parents then he maybe killed in retaliation. This is the unanimous verdict of all the ulama (Scholars).

But, if any of the parents kill their son then the ulama (Scholars) differ on the verdict. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ, Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ hold that a father must not be killed in retaliation. But, Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ holds that if a father slaughters his son then he may be killed in retaliation, and if he kills him with a sword then retaliation must not be seized from him. It must be remembered that the same command applies to a mother as to a father. Grand parents whether paternal or maternal attract the same command as father and mother do.

NEITHER FATHER NOR SON WILL BE PUNISHED FOR OTHER'S WRONG

(٣٤٧١) وَعَنْ اَبِي رِمْثَةَ قَالَ اَتَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَعَ اَبِي فَقَالَ مَنْ هٰذَا الَّذِيْ مَعَكَ قَالَ ابْنِيْ اِشْهَدْ بِهٖ قَالَ اَمَا اِنَّهٗ لَا يَجْنِيْ عَلَيْكَ وَلَا تَجْنِيْ عَلَيْهِ۔ رَ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَزَادَ فِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ فِيْ اَوَّلِهٖ قَالَ دَخَلْتُ مَعَ اَبِيْ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَرَاٰى اَبِي الَّذِيْ بِظَهْرِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ دَعْنِيْ اُعَالِجُ الَّذِيْ بِظَهْرِكَ فَاِنِّيْ طَبِيْبٌ فَقَالَ اَنْتَ رَفِيْقٌ وَاللّٰهُ الطَّبِيْبُ۔

3471. Sayyiduna Abu Rimthah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: I came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم with my father. He asked, "Who is he with you?" He said, "My son! Be witness to it." He said, "Know! He will not involve you (in punishment) because of his sins, nor will you involve him because of your sins."

The version in Sharh us-sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) has these words too in the beginning: Abu Rimthah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: I went in with my father to meet Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. When my father observed what was on the back of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, (he did not realize that it was the seal of Prophet hood, so) he said, "Let me treat what is on your back, because I am a physician." He said, "You are but a rafiq. The Physician is only Allah."[2]

[2] Abu Dawud # 4495, Nasai # 4832, Darimi # 2388, Musnad Ahmad 4-163, Sharh Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice)

COMMENTARY: Ibn Rimthah رضی اللہ عنہ asked the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to bear witness that the boy was his son. His purpose was to say that if he committed a wrong then his son could be taken to task as was the custom during the jahiliyah (ignorance period). Father and son could be called to account for one another's wrongs. But, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم made it clear to him that neither of them will have to answer for the other's wrongs. That was an unjust custom during the jahiliyah (ignorance period).

Abu Rimthah's رضی اللہ عنہ father claimed to be a physician and a wise man. His words smacked of poor intelligence and bad manners. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم corrected him, "You are only a rafiq," meaning, 'you only give a prescription on the outward condition and are mild the patient and suggest what he should do and from what he should abstain. But you have nothing in your power. Only Allah is the True Physician. He heals and knows the inner condition. No one else, howsoever great, can give cure.'

SON LIABLE FOR FATHER'S QISAS

(٣٤٧٢) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ عَنْ سُرَاقَةَ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ حَضَرْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُقِيْدُ الْاَبَ مِنِ ابْنِهٖ وَلَا يُقِيْدُ الْاِبْنَ مِنْ اَبِيْهِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَضَعَّفَهٗ۔

3472. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رحمہ اللہ narrated from his father, from his grand father that suraqah ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he was present when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم would take retaliation from a son for his father, but he did not take retaliation from a father for his son.[1]

COMMENTARY: If a son killed his father, then in retaliation the son was killed. But, if a father killed his son, then he was not killed in retaliation but blood wit (or monetary penalty) was taken from him.

IS THERE QISAS FROM FREEMAN FOR SLAVE

(٣٤٧٣) وَعَنِ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ قَتَلَ عَبْدَهٗ قَتَلْنَاهُ وَمَنْ جَدَعَ عَبْدَهٗ جَدَعْنَاهُ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَزَادَ النَّسَائِيُّ فِيْ رِوَايَةٍ اُخْرٰى وَمَنْ خَصٰى عَبْدَهٗ خَصَيْنَاهُ۔

3473. Sayyiduna Hasan (Busri) رحمہ اللہ reported that (Sayyiduna) Samurah رحمہ اللہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "If anyone kills his slave, then we shall kill him (in retaliation) and if anyone maims his slave then we shall maim him.[2]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said this by way of a severe warning so that people may desist from killing their slaves. It is like when a man did not give up wine in spite of severe warning, so the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Kill him!" But when he was brought to him, he did not kill him.

Some people say that the slave mentioned in this hadith is the one who was set free after slavery. He is no more called a slave, but, here, reference is to his previous life.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1419, Abu Dawud # 4516, Ibn Majah # 2664, Nasai # 4736, Darimi # 4736, Musnad Ahmad 5-10.

Some others say that this hadith stands abrogated by the verse:

اَلْحُرُّ بِالْحُرِّ وَالْعَبْدُ بِالْعَبْدِ الخ

{...the free man for the free man and the slave for the slave...}(2: 178)

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that if anyone kills someone else's slave than he will be killed in retaliation. But, he will not be killed in retaliation if he kills his own slave. The other three imams hold that no free man will be killed in retalian for a slave whether his own or another's. They cite the verse (2: 178) mention in the preceding lines.

Ibrahim Nakha'I رحمه الله and Sufyan Thawri رحمه الله contend that a free man will be executed for killing a slave belonging to him or to anyone else.

As for maiming, it is stated in Sharh us-sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) that all the ulama (Scholars) agree that if a free man maims a slave then the free man will not be maimed in retaliation.

This means that the words of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in this hadith were either by way of a serious warning or are abrogated.

MURDERER BE GIVEN IN THE CUSTODY OF HEIRS

(٣٤٧٤) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ جَدِّهِ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ قَتَلَ مُتَعَمِّدًا دُفِعَ إِلَى أَوْلِيَاءِ الْمَقْتُوْلِ فَإِنْ شَاءُوْا قَتَلُوْا وَإِنْ شَاءُوْا أَخَذُوا الدِّيَةَ وَهِيَ ثَلَاثُوْنَ حِقَّةً وَثَلَاثُوْنَ جَذَعَةً وَأَرْبَعُوْنَ خَلِفَةً وَمَا صَالَحُوْا عَلَيْهِ فَهُوَ لَهُمْ۔ (رواه الترمذى)

3474. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رحمه الله narrated from his father who from his grand father that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If anyone slays a believer willfully then he must be handed over to the heirs of the slain. They may kill him (in retaliation) or take blood money (from him). It (blood money) is thirty she-camels in their fourth year, thirty she-camels in their fifth year and forty pregnant camels, and that which the heirs have decided with him. (The right of the heirs is as mentioned but if they consent to a smaller amount then only that will be wajib (obligatory) on the murderer.)[1]

COMMENTARY: Diyah, or blood wit is the compensation paid to the heirs for killing their relative. Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله go by this hadith. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله say that the one hundred camels of diyah should be made up in this manner:

- Twenty five bint makhad,
- Twenty five bint labun
- Twenty five bint hiqqah, and
- Twenty five bint jaza'ah.

They go by the hadith of Sayyiduna Sa'ib ibn Yazid رضى الله عنه that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had commanded that four kinds of camels should be given (against blood money). If this hadith was sound, the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم would have acted on it unanimously.

[1] Tirmidhi # 1392, Abu Dawud # 4506, Ibn Majah # 2626, Musnad Ahmad 2-193.

Bint makhad: she-camel in 2nd year.
Bint labun: she-camel in 3rd year
Hiqqah: She-camel in 4th year.
Jaza'ah: She-camel in 5th year
Ibn makhad: (he) camel in 3nd year
Khalifah: pregnant camel.

ALL MUSLIMS ARE EQUAL AS REGARDS QISAS & DIYAH

(٣٤٧٥-٣٤٧٦) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْمُسْلِمُونَ تَتَكَافَأُ دِمَاءُ هُمْ وَيَسْعٰى بِذِمَّتِهِمْ اَدْنَاهُمْ وَيَرُدُّ عَلَيْهِمْ اَقْصَاهُمْ وَهُمْ يَدٌ عَلٰى مَنْ سِوَاهُمْ اَلَا لَا يُقْتَلُ مُسْلِمٌ بِكَافِرٍ وَلَا ذُوْ عَهْدٍ فِيْ عَهْدِهٖ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَرَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ۔

3475. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "All Muslims are equal in (the application of) qisas and diyah (retaliation and blood money). The humblest of them may offer protection and the most distant holds a right, and all Muslims are like one hand. (This means that all Muslims are helpers of each other against non-Muslims. They must remain united against others as though parts of one hand that work together.) And, beware! A Muslim must not be killed for an unbeliever, and one who is under a covenant (meaning, a dhimmi) must not be killed as long as he is under the covenant (and protection).:[1]

3476. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated the same hadith.[2]

COMMENTARY: In seizing retaliation or paying blood money, all the Muslims are equal: the noble and the humble, the young and the old, the learned and the ignorant, the rich and the poor, and the male or female. There is no distinction in applying qisas and diyah. It is not as was done during the jahiliyah (ignorance period) when an influential person could not be executed in retaliation if he had killed a humble man, but a few men of his tribe who were subordinate to him were put to death instead of him.

As for giving protection, even a humble Muslim may give protection to an infidel. This humble Muslim may be a slave or a woman. When he extends protection to a non-Muslim, all other Muslims are bound to honour it and protect the life and property of the non-Muslim. They must not break the protection.

THE MOST DISTANT....: The next sentence about the most distant holding a right could be interpreted in two ways.

(i) If a Muslim who resides far away from enemy territory has given protection to an infidel, then it is not allowed to the Muslims who reside near the enemy territory to violate this man's (covenant of) protection.

(ii) When an army of the Muslims enters enemy territory and their amir(Commander) dispatches one unit to another side and they (win and collect some booty then that booty will not belong only to this unit but will be shared by the entire army.

TILL UNDER COVENANT: The concluding words are 'as long as he is under the covenant' mean that till the infidel goes on paying the jizyah and remains a faithful citizen of the Islamic state, he will be protected. No Muslim should kill him but must regard it as a responsibility to protect him. This shows that in Islamic law a dhimmi's blood is as precious as a Muslims. Hence, if a Muslim kills a dhimmi unjustly then the murderer Muslim must be killed in retaliation. This is the contention of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله.

The words of the hadith that a Muslim may not be killed for an unbeliever refer to the unbeliever at war not a dhimmi.

Thus, according to Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله, a Muslim must not be killed in retaliation for a disbeliever at war (an enemy disbeliever), but a Muslim may be executed for a dhimmi (in retaliation).

Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله said that a Muslim may not be killed in retaliation for any disbeliever, enemy at war or dhimmi.

RIGHT OF HEIRS OF THE SLAIN OR THE WOUNDED.

(٣٤٧٧) وَعَنْ اَبِي شُرَيْحٍ الْخُزَاعِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ اُصِيْبَ بِدَمٍ اَوْ خَبْلٍ وَالْخَبْلُ الْجُرْحُ فَهُوَ بِالْخِيَارِ بَيْنَ اِحْدَى ثَلَاثٍ فَاِنْ اَرَادَ الرَّابِعَةَ فَخُذُوْا عَلٰى يَدَيْهِ بَيْنَ اَنْ يَقْتَصَّ اَوْيَعْفُوَا اَوْ يَاخُذَ الْعَقْلَ فَاِنْ اَخَذَ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ شَيْئًا ثُمَّ عَدَا بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ فَلَهُ النَّارُ خَالِدًا فِيْهَا مُخَلَّدًا اَبَدًا۔

(رواه الدارمی)

3477. Sayyiduna Abu Shurayh al-Khuza'I رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "If anyone is afflicted with a (relative's) killing (unjustly) or a wound (by severing a limb, for instance), then he may choose one of three things but if he demands (apart from these) a fourth thing, then hold him by his hand (and prevent him from demanding the fourth thing. The three things are:) (i) he may seize retaliation, (ii) he may forgive, or (iii) he may accept (monetary) compensation. If he chooses one of these and afterwards asks for more (like having forgiven, he then demands retaliation or compensation), he will go to hell to abide therein for ever, never to be taken out."[1]

COMMENTARY: The concluding words in the Arabic text are (خَالِدًا فِيْهَا مُخَلَّدًا). They convey a strong emphasis: for ever, abiding, never to come out. The emphasis is to warm strongly. The same words were used in an earlier hadith (#3453).

ACCIDENTAL KILLING

(٣٤٧٨) وَعَنْ طَاؤُسٍ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ قُتِلَ فِيْ عِمِّيَّةٍ فِيْ رَمْيٍ يَكُوْنُ بَيْنَهُمْ بِالْحِجَارَةِ اَوْجَلْدٍ بِالسِّيَاطِ اَوْ ضَرَبٍ بِعَصًا فَهُوَ خَطَأٌ وَعَقْلُهُ عَقْلُ الْخَطَأِ وَمَنْ قَتَلَ عَمْدًا فَهُوَ قَوَادٌ وَمَنْ حَالَ دُوْنَهُ فَعَلَيْهِ لَعْنَةُ اللّٰهِ غَضَبُهُ لَا يُقْبَلُ مِنْهُ صَرْفٌ وَلَا عَدْلٌ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3478. Sayyiduna Tawus رحمه الله reported that Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If anyone is killed by mistake when people throw stones, or beat with whips, or strike with a stick (and the killer cannot be identified), then this is an accidental death (and there is no sin committed because it is not intentional). The diyah for it is as for an accidental killing.

And, if anyone kills deliberately, then retaliation becomes wajib (obligatory). If anyone hinders the seizing of retaliation, then on him is Allah's curse and wrath and neither his supererogatory acts nor his prescribed acts will be accepted from him.[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone is surrounded by two warring groups or is a passerby, for instance, and happens to be killed by a stone thrown by the disputants then no retaliation is due but diyah as for accident will be payable. Here, stoning is mentioned as an example. It could be anything else that causes death. The jurists call it (شبہ عمد)(shibh amd) or a quasi-deliberate intent, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله defines it thus; 'The killing that occurs with something that is not sharp and such as normally death does not result from it.'

The two disciples.[2]

(of his) and Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله, however, define shibh amd as a killing that results with intent with such a thing which does not normally cause death. If death occurs with such a thing that is used to kill generally then that is (قتل عمد)(intentional killing - qatl amd).

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says of the things mentioned in the hadith, (stone, stick) that they are mentioned in their literal sense and maybe light weight or heavy. The two disciples and Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله maintain that these things mentioned in the hadith stand for lightweight objects (not heavy).

In other words, if anyone is killed with something that is heavy, then according too:

(i) Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله qisas (or retaliation) is not wajib (obligatory), but & according to

(ii) The two disciples and Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله the forgoing explanation is valid.

If anyone obstructs the heirs of the slain person from demanding retaliation then he is warned seriously that he calls for Allah's anger.

KINDS OF MURDER: The jurists say that there are five kinds of murder:

(i) Qatl amd or willful killing.
(ii) Qatl shibh amd or quasi-deliberate intent or murder that resembles intentioned murder.
(iii) Qatl Khata or accidental murder.
(iv) Qatl jari mujri khata or accidental murder unknowingly.
(v) Qatl bisabab or indirect murder.

These are elaborated here:

(I)WILLFUL OR DELIBERATE KILLING: A person is murdered with something that snaps off the limbs. It may be a weapon or a stone, stick or a sharp-edged weapon with a spark. The two disciples define willful killing thus: A person is slain intentionally with such a thing with which a person is generally killed. One who commits wilful murder is a great sinner. The punishment of this murder is qisas (which is to execute the murderer in retaliation of the murdered) unless the heirs of the murdered person forgive him, or agree to take the diyah (or monetary compensation). In this expiation does not become wajib (obligatory).

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 4540, Ibn Majah # 2635, Nasai # 4789

[2] Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله

(II)QUASI-DELIBERATE INTENT OR MURDER THAT RESEMBLES INTENTIONAL MURDER: It is to deliberately strike someone with something other than the aforementioned things (like a weapon or a sharp-edged thing, etc.). Even this kind of killing (because of neglecting the best course and lack of prudence) is sinful. In this, there is no retaliation but it is wajib (obligatory) on the tribe of the slayer to pay diyah mughallazah (which is paying one hundred camels of four kinds.). However, if no one is killed, but the person concerned is wounded then qisas is wajib (obligatory) in the sense that if any limb of that person is severed then a corresponding limb of the person striking him will be cut off.

(III)ACCIDENTAL MURDER: It is of two kinds.

(a) Accident is related to intention. For example, a hunter aimed at a game but that turned out to be a man, or he aimed at an enemy but he was his own co-religionist, a Muslim.

(b) Accident is related to a (wrong) action. For instance, a man aims at a target, but misses and hits a man.

(IV)ACCIDENTAL MURDER UNKNOWINGLY: For example, a man might fall in his sleep over another man who dies because of the crash. Expiation is binding in both cases: (iii) accidental murder and (iv) accidental murder unknowingly. Also, diyah is wajib (obligatory) on the tribe of the (accidental) murderer in both cases. Moreover, in these cases (because of negligence) sin also is committed.

(V)INDIRECT MURDER: An example of this kind is that man has a well dug on another person's land without his permission, or places a stone thereon. A passerby falls in the well or stumbles on the stone and happens to die. In this case, diyah becomes wajib (obligatory) on the tribe (of the man responsible for the accident). However, no expiation is payable.

INHERITANCE: It must be known that in the first four cases, namely amd, shibh amd, khata and jari mujri khata, the murderer is deprived of the inheritance of the murdered (if he is an heir).

In the fifth kind, qatl bisabab, the murderer will not be deprived of inheritance of the murdered.

KILLING THE MURDERER AFTER RECEIVING DIYAH IS UNPARDONABLE SIN

(٣٤٧٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا أُعْفِيْ مَنْ قَتَلَ بَعْدَ أَخْذِ الدِّيَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3479. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "I shall not forgive anyone (of the slain person's guardians or heirs) who kills (the murderer) after receiving (from him) the diyah (blood money)." (Rather I shall kill him in retaliation.)[1]

REWARD FOR FORGIVING ONE WHO WOUNDS

(٣٤٨٠) وَعَنْ أَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَا مِنْ رَجُلٍ يُصَابُ بِشَيْءٍ فِيْ جَسَدِهٖ فَتَصَدَّقَ بِهٖ إِلَّا رَفَعَهُ اللّٰهُ بِهٖ دَرَجَةً وَحَطَّ عَنْهُ خَطِيْئَةً۔ (رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة)

[1] Abu Dawud # 4507, Musnad Ahmad 3-363

3480. Sayyiduna Abu Ad-Darda رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "If anyone is wounded on his body and pardons it, then Allah raises him a degree for it and removes from him a sin.[1]
(Tirmidhi part of lengthy hadith)

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

IT MUCH KILL RETRIBUTION WILL BE IMPOSED ON ALL

(٣٤٨١-٣٤٨٢) عَنْ سَعِيْدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ اَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ قَتَلَ نَفَرًا خَمْسَةً اَوْ سَبْعَةً بِرَجُلٍ وَاحِدٍ قَتَلُوْهُ قَتْلَ غِيْلَةٍ وَقَالَ عُمَرُ لَوْ تَمَالَأَ عَلَيْهِ اَهْلُ صَنْعَاءَ لَقَتَلْتُهُمْ جَمِيْعًا۔ رَوَاهُ مَالِكٌ وَرَوَى الْبُخَارِيُّ عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ نَحْوَهُ۔

3481. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn Musayyib narrated that (Sayyiduna)Umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ executed five or seven men who had killed one man treacherously. And he said, "If the people of San'a had colluded to kill him, surely I would have killed them all."[2]

3482. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated the like of it.[3]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps those killers belonged to San'a the present capital of Yemen. Besides, the Arabs were used to name it to express a large number. This hadith is evidence that all killers of one man will be subject to retribution.

THE MURDERED WILL NAB THE MURDERER & COMPLAIN TO ALLAH

(٣٤٨٣) وَعَنْ جُنْدُبٍ قَالَ حَدَّثَنِيْ فُلَانٌ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ يَجِيْءُ الْمَقْتُوْلُ بِقَاتِلِهٖ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فَيَقُوْلُ سَلْ هٰذَا فِيْمَ قَتَلَنِيْ فَيَقُوْلُ قَتَلْتُهُ عَلٰى مُلْكِ فُلَانٍ قَالَ جُنْدُبٌ فَاتَّقِهَا۔ (رواه النسائی)

3483. Sayyiduna Junbub رضی اللہ عنہ narrated tht a certain sahabi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated to him that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "On the day of resurrection, the slain man will bring the one who had slain him and say (to Allah), 'Ask him why he had slain me?' He (the slayer) will say, 'I had killed him for the property of so-and-so.'" Jundubرضی اللہ عنہ said, "Keep away from it!"[4]

COMMENTARY: The slayer's words could also mean 'I had killed him in the territory of so-and-so, but then the answer is not according to the question.
Jundub رضی اللہ عنہ advised people to refrain from killing Teebiرضی اللہ عنہ said that Jundub رضی اللہ عنہ had narrated this hadith to a king and had advised him to refrain from killing or abetting in that.

WARNING AGAINST ASSISTING SLAYER

(٣٤٨٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَعَانَ عَلٰى قَتْلِ مُؤْمِنٍ شَطْرَ كَلِمَةٍ لَقِيَ اللّٰهَ مَكْتُوْبٌ بَيْنَ عَيْنَيْهِ اٰيِسٌ مِنْ رَحْمَةِ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

3484. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

[1] Tirmidhi # 1398, Ibn Majah # 2693, Musnad Ahmad # 6899.
[2] Mawatta Maalik # 13 (Uqul)
[3] Bukhari # 6896

said, "He who helps in killing a believer even by exhorting (the killer) by half a word (saying only ki instead of kill), will meet Allah with the inscription on his forehead, 'Despairs of Allah's mercy.'"[1]

COMMENTARY: Killing a Muslim is like disbelief in the gravity of sin it invites. The words, 'despairs of Allah's mercy' suggest it, because of the verse:

لَا يَيْئَسُ مِنْ رَّوْحِ اللّٰهِ إِلَّا الْقَوْمُ الْكَافِرُوْنَ

{...none but the unbelieving despair of the mercy of Allah.}(12: 37)

This man will be disgraced with this symbol among the people on the day of resurrection. We must bear in mind that either these words spell a severe warning against such action or they apply to one who abets in this crime and regards his doing as lawful.

HELPER OF KILLER BE ARRESTED

(٣٤٨٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِذَا أَمْسَكَ الرَّجُلُ الرَّجُلَ وَقَتَلَهُ الْاٰخَرُ يُقْتَلُ الَّذِيْ قَتَلَ وَيُحْبَسُ الَّذِيْ أَمْسَكَ۔ (رواه الدار قطني)

3485. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When a man clutches another man and yet another kills him, he who kills will be killed and he who clutches him will be imprisoned."[2]

COMMENTARY: If a man holds a woman and another man rapes her, then the prescribed punishment will not be imposed on the man who grabs her. In the same way, one who clutches a person being killed is not awarded the punishment of qisas but he will be awarded a discretionary punishment and put in prison for a length of time decided by the judge or ruler. This is as some exponents say. But, to hold a man so that he may be killed is in fact abetting and helping in the crime and, in the light of another hadith, the punishment for helping a killer is also qisas (retaliation). So, we might say that this hadith(# 3485) is abrogated.

Shamni رضی اللہ عنہ has written in Multaqa: If anyone throws a man before a lion or another wild beast who kills him then neither qisas, nor diyah will be binding on the person who throws him, but he will be imprisoned till he repents and will be beaten till his body aches.

CHAPTER - II

AD-DIYAAT(BLOOD WIT) بَابُ الدِّيَاتِ

MEANING & KINDS OF DIYAH: The word diyaat is the plural form of diyah. It means 'monetary compensation.' Hence, diyah is the money that is paid in compensation for ending someone's life or for wounding him physically, cutting off his limb (s). The caption has the plural form diyaat to cover the many kinds of diyah.
There is a diyah to compensate for killing someone, or diyah nafs.
There is another diyah to compensate for wounding someone's limbs, or diyah a'da.
They are further classified as:

(1) diyah mughallazah, and
(2) diyah mukhaffafah.

(1)DIYAH MUGHALLAZAH: It is as described here.
They are one hundred she-camels as in this chart:

(i) Bint Makhad (she-camel) of one year, begins her second year) - 25.
(ii) Bint Labun (she-camel two years old in her third year) - 25.
(iii) Hiqqah (she-camel three years old in her fourth year) - 25.
(iv) Jadha'ah (she-camel four years old in her fifth year) - 25.

This is as Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله say.
However, Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله describe the diyah mughallazah in this way:

(i) Hiqqah - 30 (she-camels in 4th year)
(ii) Jadha'ah - 30 (she-camels in 5th year)
(iii) Muthannah - 40 (she camels who have completed 5 years and are in their 6th year).

They must all be pregnant.
Diyah mughallazah is wajib (obligatory) on the person who has perpetrated qatl shibh 'and or quasi deliberate intent or murder that resemble intentional murder.

(2)DIYAH MUKHAFFAFAH: is that if it is paid in gold then it is one thousand dinars. It is paid in silver, then ten thousand dinars are paid. If camels are paid for it, then five kinds of camels are paid to a total of one hundred, as in this chart:
(i)Ibn Makhad (He-camel in second year) - 20.
(ii)Bint Makhad (she-camel in 2nd year) - 20
(iv) Bint Labun (she camel in 3rd year) - 20
(v) Hiqqah (she camel in 4th year) - 20
(vi) Jadha'ah (she camel in 5th year) - 20

Diyah mukhaffafah is wajib (obligatory) on a person who commits qatl khata or accidental murder, or qatl jari mujri khata (accidental murder unknowingly) or qatl bisabab(indirect murder).

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

DIYAH FOR CUTTING OFF FINGER

(٣٤٨٦) عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ هٰذِهٖ وَهٰذِهٖ سَوَاءٌ يَعْنِي الْخِنْصَرَ وَالْاِبْهَامَ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3486. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "This and this (meaning the little finger and the thumb to which he pointed) are equal," (as for as diyah is concerned.[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone cuts off all the fingers or all the toes of a person, it will be wajib (obligatory) on him to pay the entire diyah (one hundred camels). It comes to one-tenth for each finger. There is no difference between thumb and little finger though it has three pores against two of the thumb. There also is no difference in diyah of the right and left hands. The diyah for each pore will be one-third of one-tenth, (for each finger) and the diyah for each pore of a thumb will be half of one-tenth.

DIYAH FOR CHILD IN WOMB

3487. Sayyiduna Aby Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم passed judgment when the child of a woman of Banu lihyan wa miscarried (or was born dead) that it is wajib (obligatory) (on the tribe) to set free a ghurrah (which is a slave, male or female of the best kind). Then, the woman on whom he had made it binding (through her tribe) to emancipate a ghurrah died. So, he decreed that her sons and husband should inherit from her but the diyah should be paid by her asabah (paternal relatives).[2]

COMMENTARY: Two women quarrelled bitterly. One of them threw a stone at the other who was pregnant. The stone hit her on her belly and should had a miscarriage.

As a consequence, diyah was imposed on the striker's aaqilah (tribe or family). If the child was born alive and then died, or was born alive and she had struck the stone afterwards and it had hit the child, killing him, then the entire diyah would have been wajib (obligatory).

Ghurrah is the whiteness on a horse's forehead. This word is applied also to a slave male or female of white colour. In this hadith, it means simply a male or female slave. The jurists say that ghurrah is one-twentieth of a diyah, or five hundred dirhams.

The word asabah in the hadith refers to aaqilah. They did not qualify for an inheritance on account of that because if anyone is responsible to pay the diyah of a person it does not entitle him to his legacy. Only the legal heir will get that.

Only the woman's sons and husband are named as her heirs. It is perhaps only they were her surviving heirs, otherwise all living heirs are entitled to the inheritance as explicit in the next hadith.

DIYAH (BLOOD WIT) IS WAJIB (OBLIGATORY) IF KILLED BY STONING

(٣٤٨٨) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ اِقْتَتَلَتْ اِمْرَأَتَانِ مِنْ هُذَيْلٍ فَرَمَتْ اِحْدٰهُمَا الْاُخْرٰى بِحَجَرٍ فَقَتَلَتْهَا وَمَا فِيْ بَطْنِهَا فَقَضٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّ دِيَةَ جَنِيْنِهَا غُرَّةٌ عَبْدٌ اَوْ وَلِيْدَةٌ وَقَضٰى بِدِيَةِ الْمَرْأَةِ عَلٰى عَاقِلَتِهَا وَوَرَّثَهَا وَلَدَهَا وَمَنْ مَعَهُمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

3488. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that two women of Hudhayl quarrelled one with the other. One of them threw a stone at the other killing her and what was in her womb. Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم judged that the blood-wit for the child miscarried by her should be a ghurrah (male or female slave). He also judged that the woman who was bound to pay the bloodwit should pay it and that her suns and those with them would inherit her.[1]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps the previous hadith (# 3487) and this one speak of two different events.

If anyone is killed on throwing a stone then diyah (bloodwit) becomes wajib (obligatory) not qisas (retaliation). This killing was of the kind shibh amd (one that resembles intentional murder). This is what Imam Abu Hanifah رضی الله عنه said. He believes that the stone was a small stone. The other imams disagree with him.

(٣٤٨٩) وَعَنِ الْمُغِيْرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ اَنَّ امْرَأَتَيْنِ كَانَتَا ضَرَّتَيْنِ فَرَمَتْ اِحْدٰهُمَا الْاُخْرٰى بِحَجَرٍ اَوْ عَمُوْدِ فُسْطَاطٍ فَاَلْقَتْ جَنِيْنَهَا فَقَضٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الْجَنِيْنِ غُرَّةً عَبْدًا اَوْ اَمَةً وَجَعَلَهُ عَلٰى عَصَبَةِ الْمَرْأَةِ۔ هٰذِهٖ رِوَايَةُ التِّرْمِذِيِّ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ مُسْلِمٍ قَالَ ضَرَبَتِ امْرَأَةٌ ضَرَّتَهَا بِعَمُوْدِ فُسْطَاطٍ وَهِيَ حُبْلٰى فَقَتَلَتْهَا قَالَ وَاحِدَهُمَا لِحْيَانِيَّةٌ قَالَ فَجَعَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ دِيَةَ الْمَقْتُوْلَةِ عَلٰى عَصَبَةِ الْقَاتِلَةِ وَغُرَّةً لِمَا فِيْ بَطْنِهَا۔

3489. Sayyiduna Mughirah رضی الله عنه ibn Shubah رضی الله عنه narrated that two women were co-wives (of the same man). One of them threw a stone or a tent-pole on the other (who was pregnant). She suffered a miscarriage. So, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم judged that diyah be paid for the miscarried child: a ghurrah (which is a female or a male slave), making it wajib (obligatory) on the asabah (relatives on the father's side) of the woman (who had struck the stone or tent pole).

According to another version: He (Mughirah رضی الله عنه) narrated that a woman struck her fellow-wife who was pregnant with a tent-pole causing her death (and her unborn child too). He said that one of the two women belonged to the Libyan (a branch of the tribe Hudhayl). He (Mughirab رضی الله عنه) said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم made the diyah for the slain woman wajib (obligatory) on the paternal relatives of the woman who had killed and made the diyah of the child who was in the womb of the woman (who was killed) a ghurrah (a male of female slave).[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith also supports the contention of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله. The killing was not classified as intentional, but one resembling intentional.

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

THE DIYAH PAYABLE AGAINST QATL KHATA & SHIBH AMD

(٣٤٩٠-٣٤٩١) عَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ ابْنِ عَمْرٍو وَاَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَلَا اِنَّ دِيَةَ الْخَطَأِ شِبْهِ الْعَمْدِ مَا كَانَ بِالسَّوْطِ وَالْعَصَا مِائَةٌ مِنَ الْاِبِلِ مِنْهَا اَرْبَعُوْنَ فِيْ بُطُوْنِهَا اَوْلَادُهَا۔ رَوَاهُ النَّسَائِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَرَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ عَنْهُ وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ وَفِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ لَفْظُ الْمَصَابِيْحِ عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ۔

3490. Sayyiduna Abdullah رضی الله عنه ibn Amr رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Know! The bloodwit for murder that resembles intentional, as is committed with a whip or a stick, is one hundred camels, of which forty must be pregnant."[1]

3491. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه (the same hadith.)[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith in the masabih has these words:

اَلَا اِنَّ فِيْ قَتْلِ الْعَمَدِ الْخَطَأِ بِالسَّوْطِ وَالْعَصَاءِ مِائَةٌ مِنَ الْاِبِلِ مُغَلَّظَةً مِنْهَا اَرْبَعُوْنَ خَلَقَةً فِيْ بُطُوْنِهَا اَوْلَادُهَا

[Know! The accidental murder resembling the intentional that was perpetrated by a whip or a stick has a blood wit of one hundred camels – diyah mughallazah. Forty of the she-camels among them must be pregnant.]

In other words, the qatl 'amd khata' mentioned here means qatl khata' shibh 'aml as in the foregoing version.

Murder is perpetrated deliberately, or by accident resembling intentionally.

(i) Deliberate murder is by intention with a weapon or a sharp-edged tool severing a limb, or collapsing.

(ii) That which 'resembles the intentional' means to kill someone knowingly with something that is not sharp-edged and not a weapon, whether it is used generally to kill man or not.

(iii) The accidental murder is to kill someone without intention or aim. These three have found mention in the previous pages. This is to which the opinion of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله conforms. He says that the stick mentioned in the hadith is any kind of stick. It could be light-weight or heavy-weight.

Other imams say that it is a light-weight stick with which generally a person does not commit murder. This is because they hold that to kill anyone with a heavy object with which one can be killed is intentional killing.

In some versions, as in the foregoing one of Masabih, the word diyah is qualified by mughallazah. Therefore, the-diyah of shibh amd (resembling deliberate) killing is (mughallazah) severe: of four kinds of one hundred camels as wajib (obligatory). Their detail is mentioned in the introductory portion of this chapter and it is the opinion of Ibn

Masud رضی اللہ عنہ, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad. But, Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and Imam Muhammad رحمہ اللہ hold that mughallazah is one hundred camels of three kinds as wajib (obligatory), details of which too have been mentioned in the introductory portion of this chapter.

However, it is agreed that diyah mughallazah is not wajib (obligatory) in qatl khata (accidental killing). Rather, the wajib (obligatory) is one hundred camels of five kinds:

(i) Ibn Makhad - 20
(ii) Bint Makhad - 20
(iii) Bint Labun - 20
(iv) Hiqqah - 20
(v) Jadha'ah - 20

This hadith uphold the view of Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and Imam Muhammad رحمہ اللہ concerning diyah mughallazah.

The Hanafis point out that this hadith is contrary to the one reported by Ibn Masud رضی اللہ عنہ and Sa'ib رضی اللہ عنہ ibn Yazid.

(٣٤٩٢) وَعَنْ اَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ حَزْمٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَتَبَ اِلٰى اَهْلِ الْيَمَنِ وَكَانَ فِيْ كِتَابِهٖ اَنَّ مَنِ اعْتَبَطَ مُؤْمِنًا قَتْلًا فَاِنَّهٗ قَوَدُيَدِهٖ اِلَّا اَنْ يَّرْضٰى اَوْلِيَاءُ الْمَقْتُوْلِ وَفِيْهِ اَنَّ الرَّجُلَ يُقْتَلُ بِالْمَرْأَةِ وَفِيْهِ فِي النَّفْسِ الدِّيَةُ مِائَةٌ مِّنَ الْاِبِلِ وَعَلٰى اَهْلِ الذَّهَبِ اَلْفُ دِيْنَارٍ وَفِي الْاَنْفِ اِذَا اُوْعِبَ جَدْعُهُ الدِّيَةُ مِائَةٌ مِّنَ الْاِبِلِ وَفِي الْاَسْنَانِ الدِّيَةُ وَفِي الشَّفَتَيْنِ الدِّيَةُ وَفِي الْبَيْضَتَيْنِ الدِّيَةُ وَفِي الذَّكَرِ الدِّيَةُ وَفِي الصُّلْبِ اَلدِّيَةُ وَفِي الْعَيْنَيْنِ الدِّيَةُ وَفِي الرِّجْلِ الواحِدَةِ نِصْفُ الدِّيَةِ وَفِي الْمَأْمُوْمَةِ ثُلُثُ الدِّيَةِ وَفِي الْجَائِفَةِ ثُلُثُ الدِّيَةِ وَفِي الْمُنَقَّلَةِ خَمْسَ عَشَرَةً مِنَ الْاِبِلِ وَفِيْ كُلِّ اصْبَعٍ مِّنْ اَصَابِعِ الْيَدِ وَالرِّجْلِ عَشْرٌ مِنَ الْاِبِلِ وَفِي السِّنِّ خَمْسٌ مِّنَ الْاِبِلِ۔ رَوَاهُ النِّسَائِيُّ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ مَالِكٍ وَفِي الْعَيْنِ خَمْسُوْنَ وَفِي الْيَدِ خَمْسُوْنَ وَفِي الرِّجْلِ خَمْسُوْنَ وَفِي الْمُوْضِحَةِ خَمْسٌ۔

3492. Sayyiduna Abu Bakr ibn Muhammad ibn Amr ibn Hazm رحمہ اللہ reported on the authority of his father (Muhammad ibn Amr رحمہ اللہ) that his grandfather (Amr ibn Hazm رضی اللہ عنہ) narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wrote to the people of Yemen. His letter had these (instructions): [He who deliberately kills a Muslim for no reason at all (which is qatl amd) must bear retaliation for what his hands have wrought (and he will be killed for the doing of his hands) unless the heirs of the person killed are willing (to pardon him or to accept pecuniary compensation).]

The letter also said: [A man (who has killed her) may be killed in retaliation for a woman (he killed).]

And it had: [the bloodwit for life is one hundred camels (so he who has them may give them as per guidelines mentioned previously).

And whoso has gold, may give one thousand dinars.

The bloodwit for the complete cutting off of a nose is nose hundred camels that must be paid.

A full bloodwit is payable for the teeth.

And so full bloodwit for the lips (when they are completely sundered).
And a full bloodwit for both the testicles
And a full bloodwit for the penis. And a full bloodwit for the backbone
And a full blood wit for the eyes. And a half bloodwit is payable for one foot.
And one-third of the bloodwit for wounding the scalp.
And one-third of the bloodwit for a stab wound that pierces the body.
And fifteen camels are paid for a wound in the head that displaces the bone.
And ten camels for each finger and each toe.
And five camels for a tooth.]
A version in (Muwatta of) Maalik رحمه الله, the words are: [for an eye, (the bloodwit is) fifty (camels), for a hand, fifty (camels),
for a foot, fifty (camels), and, for a wound that lays bare (or dislodges) a bone, (the bloodwit is) five (camels).][1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone commits deliberate murder and the heirs of the person who he kills do not kill him in retaliation and, if they are willing, bloodwit will be wajib (obligatory). As for the perpetrator of accidental murder or murder resembling deliberate murder, he is never punishable by retaliation, but only bloodwit is wajib (obligatory) on him.

Diyah or bloodwit may be paid by camels, or in gold at one thousand dinars, or in silver at ten thousand dirhams. However, here silver is not mentioned, sufficing on conjecture, so it does not imply that payment of bloodwit in silver is not allowed. Rather, whatever the heirs of the murdered person and the killer decide between themselves should be the unit of bloodwit.

As for the jurists, they differ on the validity of dirhams and dinars. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله rule that if the giver has camels but wishes to pay the diyah in monetary units, then it is allowed to receive that from him, Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله, however, rules that if he has camels then monetary compensation should not be made, unless both sides agree to it.

The hadith prescribes a full bloodwit for both eyes (when they are blinded). The basic rule concerning bloodwit for cutting off a limb is that a full boodwit becomes wajib (obligatory) when the usefulness of the limb is lost completely or its look and beauty is impaired fully. The reason is that it is a kind of killing or making someone's life useless. More than that, Allah's Messenger has commanded that a full bloodwit may be paid for these limbs.

Further, from this base, other related rules are deduced. It is reported that Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه had made four bloodwits wajib (obligatory) on a man who had struck another man with a single blow that had deprived him of his brain-power, hearing, sight and speech, all four things.

Moreover, if a person shaves off a man's beard and it does not grow again then diyah or blood wit will be binding on him who has deprived him of his beard because he impaired the beauty of a human face. The same rule applies to the hair on one's head.[2]

3493. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'aub رحمه الله narrated from his father from his grand father that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم decided that (as blood wit) five camels should be paid for every such wound that bares a bone, and (also) five camels for every tooth.[1]

COMMENTARY: The diyah of all teeth is one hundred camels but of one tooth is five, so this does not seem correct mathematically. The fact is that it is not necessary that our reasoning should encompass all the commands and directions given to us by the noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Many commands there are that belie reasoning. It is enough for him to give a command and for us to obey it.

BLOOD WIT FOR DIGITS IS AT PAR

(٣٤٩٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ جَعَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَصَابِعَ الْيَدَيْنِ وَالرِّجْلَيْنِ سَوَاءً۔

BLOOD WIT FOR DHIMMI INFIDEL IS HALF THAT FOR MUSLIM

صلى الله عليه وسلم delivered a sermon and (after praise and glory of Allah) said, "O you people! There is no confederacy in Islam but the ones that existed during the jahiliyah (ignorance period), surely Islam makes it stronger. The believers are like one hand against those besides them (in spreading good and helping each other). The humblest of them extends protection and the must distant of them has (as much) right. Their army regards also as rightful (to who spoils as are not with it, but) who are at home.

No believer may be killed for an (enemy) infidel. The blood wit for an infidel (dhimmi) is half that for a Muslim.

(The collectors of zakah (Annual due charity) may pay heed!) Animals are not to be brought to be valued for zakah (Annual due charity). (And, the assesses for zakah (Annual due charity) may also pay heed!) Animals must not be taken away (far off) to their pastures. But, Zakah (Annual due charity) will be collected only in their residences."

And according to a version, he said, "The blood wit for the covenant holder is half that for a freeman."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word in the text is (حلف)(hilf). It means to make an agreement, to bind into a contract. In pre-Islamic times, people used to bind each other with covenants, like agreeing to inherit one from the other, helping each other in disputes and fighting and if one of them was penalized, the other would help pay the penalty.

Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade the making of such contracts because it was an unjust custom and has no place in Islam. Apart from that, the people of the jahiliyah (ignorance period) also agreed to help the oppressed, treat relatives with kindness and uphold human rights. This was an excellent form of mutual love and co-operation, so the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم permitted this kind of covenants in Islam, too.

The words 'most distant of them has right and their army regards as rightful (to spoils) who are at home' This portion has been elaborated in the commentary on hadith (#3475) of Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه. Also, the words that a believer will not be killed for an infidel have been explained there.

As for the blood wit for an infidel being half of the for a believer, this is what Imam Maalik رحمه الله follows. Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله (according to one opinion) and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله say that the blood wit for an infidel is one-third the blood wit for a Muslim. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله holds that the blood wit for an infidel is equal to that of a Muslim. It must be remembered that this entire discussion is about a disbelieving dhimmi. The enemy disbeliever is not entitled to a blood wit. According to a haidth quoted in the Hidayah, "Every dhimmi who has a covenant with the Islamic state is entitled to a blood wit of one thousand dinars as long as the covenant is valid." After that it is stated that Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه, Umar رضى الله عنه and Uthman رضى الله عنه abided by this hadith but when Muawiyah رضى الله عنه came he made it half.

The Hidayah has also quoted Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه as saying, "The dhimmis pay the jizyah to us so that their blood and their properties may be safe and protected like our own are."

In other words, the compiler of the Hidayah wishes to establish that the blood wit for a dhimmi is like that for a Muslim. He writes that whatever is ascribed to the other sahabah رضى رضی اللہ عنہم against this cannot contradict these well-known and authentic aathar and sayings.

The instructions to the collectors of zakah (Annual due charity) and payers of zakah (Annual due charity) have been treated very exhaustively in the Book of zakah (Annual due charity). We suffice here with a brief explanation. Jalab (جلب) is the zakah (Annual due charity)-collector who halts at a place distant from the owners of the animals and instructs them to bring their animals to him. And janab (جنب) is the owner of the animals who takes his animals to a place very far away from the zakah (Annual due charity). Collector and asks him to come to the animals land assess them.
The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade both of them to behave in such way. Thus, by following his directions, neither of them would face inconvenience. The zakah (Annual due charity) would be received at the residences of the owners.

3497. Sayyiduna Khishf ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ reported that (Sayyiduna) Ibn mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave his decision in case of accidental killing that blood money should be paid thus: twenty she-camels and twenty male in their second year, twenty she-camels in their third year, twenty she-camels in their fifth year and twenty she-camels in their fourth year.
The sound opinion is that this hadith is mawquf at Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ and not traced to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم).
It is reported in Sharh us-sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم paid blood money for a man who was slain at Khaybar from the camels received for zakah (Annual due charity), one hundred camels, none of them being ibn Makhad (or lin its second year). Rather, there only were ibn Labun (in their third year), and they were all of them males.[1]
(Detailed account will follow in the chapter al-Qasamat, about the blood money payment at Khaybar)

COMMENTARY: The hundred camels of blood wit of accidental killing should be of five kinds. There is no disagreement about it but the scholars differ on how they are to be made up. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ abides by this hadith in their composition but Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ includes Ibn Labun (Camels of two years complete) instead of Ibn Makhad (of one year complete).
Mulla Ali Qari's book Mirqat maybe seen on this question of disagreement on the composition of the one hundred camels. In considering this, it must be remembered that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had paid the blood money to that man only as a gesture of good-will, not because of an obligation.

The other version (of Sharh us-sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice)) is contradictory to the first in that it replaces Ibn Makhad with Ibn Labun, and so upholds the view of Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله. This too, has been covered by Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله in Mirqat.

BLOOD WIT IS BASED ON CAMELS

(٣٤٩٨) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ كَانَتْ قِيْمَةُ الدِّيَةِ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثَمَانَ مِائَةِ دِيْنَارٍ اَوْ ثَمَانِيَةَ اٰلَافِ دِرْهَمٍ وَدِيَةُ اَهْلِ الْكِتَابِ يَوْمَئِذٍ نِصْفٌ مِنْ دِيَةِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ قَالَ فَكَانَ كَذٰلِكَ حَتّٰى اُسْتُخْلِفَ عُمَرُ فَقَامَ خَطِيْبًا فَقَالَ اِنَّ الْاِبِلَ قَدْ غَلَتْ قَالَ فَفَرَضَهَا عُمَرُ عَلٰى اَهْلِ الذَّهَبِ اَلْفَ دِيْنَارٍ وَعَلٰى اَهْلِ الْوَرِقِ اِثْنٰى عَشَرَ اَلْفًا وَعَلٰى اَهْلِ الْبَقَرِ مِائَتَىْ بَقَرَةٍ وَعَلٰى اَهْلِ الشَّاءِ اَلْفَىْ شَاةٍ وَعَلٰى اَهْلِ الْحُلَلِ مِائَتَىْ حُلَّةٍ قَالَ وَتَرَكَ دِيَةَ اَهْلِ الذِّمَّةِ لَمْ يَرْفَعْهَا فِيْمَا رَفَعَ مِنَ الدِّيَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3498. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رحمه الله narrated from his father from his grandfather that the time of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم the value of the (one hundred camels of) blood wit was eight hundred dinars or eight thousand dirhams. And, those days, the blood wit for the people of the Book (the Christians and Jews) was half the blood wit for the Muslims.

He said (further) that it continued (to be practiced) in this way till Umar رضى الله عنه became Khalifah and delivered a sermon in which he said, "The camels have become dear!"

The narrator went on to say: Umar رضى الله عنه fixed the value for those who had gold at one thousand dinars, for those who had silver at twelve thousand (dirhams), for those who had cows at two hundred cows, for those who had sheep at two thousand sheep, and for those who had suits of clothing (as trade merchandise) at two hundred pairs of clothing.

The narrator added: He left the blood wit for the dhimmi unchanged (at four thousand dirhams as during the time of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم without raising it in proportion to the increase he made in the (other) blood wit.[1]

COMMENTARY: Some people say that this hadith is evidence that the measure of blood wit is camels. The amounts of gold and of silver were calculates relative to one hundred camels. Hence, Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله opines that the value of these two metals can differ relative to appreciation (or depreciation) of the price (of camel).

Ibn Maalik رحمه الله said that pairs (or suits) of clothing mean a lower wrapper and a sheet of cloth (for the upper torso).

Teebi رضى الله عنه said that the blood wit for a Muslim was fixed at twelve thousand dirhams but that for a dhimmi was unchanged at four thousand dirhams, so it became one-third of the blood wit for a Muslim. So, the Shafi'is رحمه الله and their like-minded hold that the blood wit for the dhimmis is one-third that of Muslims, but the Hanafis رحمه الله say that both are at par. Shamni رحمه الله gives (the juristic ruling that is in practice as) value of blood wit in: Gold at one thousand dinars, silver at ten thousand dirhams, and camels at one hundred camels. However, Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله contends that blood wit in silver is at twelve thousand dirhams.

(٣٤٩٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّهُ جَعَلَ الدِّيَةَ اِثْنَيْ عَشَرَ اَلْفًا۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی والدارمی)

3499. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم fixed the blood wit at twelve thousand (dirhams).[1]

BLOOD WIT BELONGS TO HEIRS OF THE MURDERED

(٣٥٠٠) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُقَوِّمُ دِيَةَ الْخَطَاِ عَلٰى اَهْلِ الْقُرٰى اَرْبَعَ مِائَةِ دِيْنَارٍ اَوْ عَدْلَهَا مِنَ الْوَرِقِ وَيُقَوِّمُهَا عَلٰى اَثْمَانِ الْاِبِلِ فَاِذَا غَلَتْ رَفَعَ فِيْ قِيْمَتِهَا وَاِذَا هَاجَتْ رُخْصٌ نَقَصَ مِنْ قِيْمَتِهَا وَبَلَغَتْ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا بَيْنَ اَرْبَعِ مِائَةِ دِيْنَارٍ اِلٰى ثَمَانِ مِائَةِ دِيْنَارٍ وَعِدْلُهَا مِنَ الْوَرِقِ ثَمَانِيَةُ اٰلَافِ دِرْهَمٍ قَالَ وَقَضٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلٰى اَهْلِ الْبَقَرِ مِائَتَيْ بَقَرَةٍ وَعَلٰى اَهْلِ الشَّاءِ اَلْفَيْ شَاةٍ وَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ الْعَقْلَ مِيْرَاثٌ بَيْنَ وَرَثَةِ الْقَتِيْلِ وَقَضٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّ عَقْلَ الْمَرْاَةِ بَيْنَ عَصَبَتِهَا وَلَا يَرِثُ الْقَاتِلُ شَيْئًا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3500. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رضی الله عنه narrated from his father from his grand father that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم used to fix the blood wit against accidental death at four hundred dinars or their value in silver (which was four thousand dirhams) for villagers (or urban dwellers) and he based it on the price of camels. Thus, when the camels became costly, he raised the amount (of blood wit) to be paid, but when they became cheaper, he reduced the amount (of blood wit) payable. (This is why) in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم, the amount (of blood wit) was between four hundred and eight hundred dinars whose value in silver was eight thousand dirhams.
The narrator added: Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم decided that those who had cow should pay two hundred cows and those who had sheep should pay two thousand sheep. Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم (also) said that the amount of blood wit is the right of the heirs of the person who is killed.
And, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم decided (also) that the blood wit payable by a woman is to be divided among her paternal relatives and the killer should be deprived of ;inheritance (if he has killed one from whom he is eligible to inherit and will get neither from his blood wit nor from his legacy).[2]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمه الله said that this hadith too is evidence that the measure of blood wit is camels. It is fixed on the basis of camels and is wajib (obligatory) to pay at the number of camels fixed. This is the opinion of Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله.

The blood wit on a woman who commits a murder will be paid by her asabat, meaning, her helpers and family. This is as the command for a man.

A woman will not be responsible as a slave is, for, while it is wajib (obligatory) on a slave to pay the blood wit imposed on him on his own and is not payable by his asabat, the bloodwit imposed on a woman is not wajib (obligatory) on her to pay but payable by her asabat.

PERPETRATOR OF MURDER RESEMBLING DELIBERATE MURDER IS NOT EXECUTED

(٣٥٠١) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ عَقْلُ شِبْهِ الْعَمَدِ مُغَلَّظٌ مِثْلُ عَقْلِ الْعَمَدِ وَلَا يُقْتَلُ صَاحِبُهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3501. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رحمه الله narrated fromhis father from his grandfather that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Blood wit for murder that resembles deliberate murder is as severe as blood wit for deliberate murder, but the perpetrator of murder resembling deliberate murder is not be killed."[1]

COMMENTARY: While diyah or blood wit against deliberate murder and against murder resembling deliberate murder resemble, qisas is liable on the former but not on murder that seems like deliberate. There should be no confusion that qisas (or retaliation) is also imposed on the perpetrator of murder that looks like deliberate, but it is imposed only on the former.

BLOOD WIT FOR LOSS OF SIGHT

(٣٥٠٢) وَعَنْهُ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ قَضٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الْعَيْنِ الْقَائِمَةِ السَّادَةِ لِمَكَانِهَا بِثُلُثِ الدِّيَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3502. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رحمه الله narrated from his father from his grandfather that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم gave verdict for an eye that (is wounded but) is in its place yet has lost sight that one-third of blood wit is payable.[2]

COMMENTARY: If a person strikes another so that he loses his eyesight though the eye stands in its socket and the face retains its character then one-third blood wit will be wajib (obligatory) on the man responsible for the damage. It has been mentioned previously that if both eyes are lost the full blood wit is payable (one hundred camels), and if one is lost then half blood wit is payable.

Some Ulama (Scholars) say that the usefulness is not taken away completely in this case. So the blood wit for it should be as for a man who is beaten (but he loses no limb and suffers no wound) but he only gets a black body. The blood wit for it should be a proportionate hukhumah(حکومة).

[2] Abu Dawud # 4567, Nasai # 4840

The word hukumah is a terminology concerning blood wit, the valuation is called arbitration. It supposes the man to be a slave and calculates the depreciation in his value because of the wound. The amount of this decrease is the blood wit that is wajib (obligatory) of the man responsible to wound him. They maintain that the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم verdict of one-third blood wit means not the regular blood wit but that deduced through hukumah.
Toorpushti رحمه الله has concluded in a discussion on this hadith that it is questionable.

BLOOD WIT FOR THE UNBORN CHILD

3503. Sayyiduna Muhammad ibn Amr رحمه الله reported from Abu salmah who said that Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم decided that the blood wit for miscarriage is a ghurrah. And a ghurrah is a male or a female slave, or a horse, or a mule.
Abu Dawud who transmitted it pointed out that Hammad ibn Salamah and Khalid Wasti transmitted this hadith from Muhammad ibn Amr but neither mentioned 'horse or mule'.[1]

COMMENTARY: Allamah Nawawi رحمه الله said that the ghurrah is something very exquisite. It is applied to man in the sense that Allah created him in the best of forms.
Some scholars say that a narrator included horse and mule in ghurrah in this hadith on his own. Ghurrah is applied only to a human being who belongs to someone.

QUACK IS LIABLE TO PAY FOR PATIENT'S DEATH

(٣٥٠٤) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ تَطَبَّبَ وَلَمْ يُعْلَمْ مِنْهُ طِبٌّ فَهُوَ ضَامِنٌ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3504. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رحمه الله narrated from his father from his grandfather that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who practices medicine but is not known as a physician (and someone dies at his hands) will be held responsible."[2]

COMMENTARY: If anyone who is not a physician pretends to be one and treats patients one of whom dies, then all the ulama (Scholars) agree that blood wit will be wajib (obligatory) on his paternal relatives. However, he will not be killed in retaliation because he had the patient's permission to treat him.

BLOOD WIT WAS FORGIVEN TO THE POOR

(٣٥٠٥) وَعَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ اَنَّ غُلَامًا لِاُنَاسٍ فُقَرَاءَ قَطَعَ اُذُنَ غُلَامٍ لِاُنَاسٍ اَغْنِيَاءَ فَاَتٰى اَهْلُهُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالُوْا اِنَّا اُنَاسٌ فُقَرَاءُ فَلَمْ يَجْعَلْ عَلَيْهِمْ شَيْئًا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

---

[2] Abu Dawud # 4586, Ibn Majah # 3466, Nasai # 4830

3505. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a boy who belonged to a poor family cut off the ear of a boy belonging to a rich family. His family members came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and pleaded, "We are, indeed, poor people (so we may not be asked to pay the blood wit)." So, he did not impose anything on them.[1]

COMMENTARY: If a boy happens to cause loss or damage to anyone then because of neglect of a correct way, he will be classified as perpetrator of accidental wrong. The penalty for it will be imposed on his relatives as wajib (obligatory). If a boy kills someone, then retaliation shall not be liable on him.

In this, case penalty was wajib (obligatory) on the boy's parents. However, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم condoned that because of their poverty and made no blood wit wajib (obligatory) on them. The boy who cut off the ear of the rich boy was not a slave but a freeman. If he was a slave then he would have had to pay the blood wit himself and the poverty of his masters would not have absolved him of the fine.

KILLING RESEMBLING DELIBERATE & ACCIDENTAL KILLING

(٣٥٠٦) عَنْ عَلِيٍّ أَنَّهُ قَالَ دِيَةُ شِبْهِ الْعَمَدِ أَثْلَاثًا ثَلَاثٌ وَّثَلَاثُوْنَ حِقَّةٌ وَّثَلَاثٌ وَّثَلَاثُوْنَ جَذَعَةً وَأَرْبَعٌ وَّثَلَاثُوْنَ ثَنِيَّةً إِلٰى بَازِلٍ عَامِهَا كُلُّهَا خَلِفَاتٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ قَالَ فِي الْخَطَإِ أَرْبَاعًا خَمْسٌ وَّعِشْرُوْنَ حِقَّةً وَخَمْسٌ وَّعِشْرُوْنَ جَذَعَةً وَخَمْسٌ وَعِشْرُوْنَ بِنَاتِ لَبُوْنٍ وَخَمْسٌ وَعِشْرُوْنَ بَنَاتِ مَخَاضٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3506. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ said that the blood-wit for murder that resembles deliberate murder is (one hundred she-camels as wajib (obligatory)) of three kinds: thirty-three she-camels in their fourth year, thirty-three she-camels in their fifth year and thirty-four she-camels in their sixth year. All of them must be pregnant. According to another version, he said that blood-wit for accidental murder is four kinds of (one hundred she-camels as wajib (obligatory)): twenty-five she-camels in their fourth year, twenty-five she-camels in their third year, and twenty-five she camels in their second year.[2]

(٣٥٠٧) وَعَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ قَالَ قَضٰى عُمَرُ فِيْ شِبْهِ الْعَمَدِ ثَلَاثِيْنَ حِقَّةً وَّثَلَاثِيْنَ جَذَعَةً وَأَرْبَعِيْنَ خَلِفَةً مَا بَيْنَ ثَنِيَّةٍ إِلٰى بَازِلٍ عَامِهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3507. Sayyiduna Mujahid رحمہ اللہ said that Umar رضی اللہ عنہ decided that the blood wit for murder that resembles deliberate murder is thirty she-camels in their fourth year, thirty she-camels in their fifth year and forty pregnant she-camels in their sixth year.[3]

(This hadith # 3507 upholds the contention of Imam Shafi'i رحمہ اللہ)

3508. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn Musayyib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم decided that a ghurrah be paid as blood wit for a child that is killed in its mother's womb. (Ghurrah is a male or female slave.) The man who was the recipient of this decision asked, "why should I be penalized for one who has not eaten or drunk, or spoken, or cried? The like of it is dropped." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "This man belongs merely to the kahin (soothsayers)."[1]

3509. Sa'eed رضی اللہ عنہ reported like it from Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ [2]

COMMENTARY: The kahin is a soothsayer. He speaks in rhyming verse to chant his listeners. However, it is eloquence and fluency that appeals to the listeners. The Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم speech was such, more particularly his supplications. For example, this prayer:

اَللّٰهُمَّ إِنِّيْ أَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنْ عِلْمٍ لَا يَنْفَعُ وَمِنْ قَلْبٍ لَا يَخْشَعُ الخ

O Allah, I seek refuge in You from the learning that is of no profit, and a heart that is not fearful.....

Shamni رحمہ اللہ said that if anyone strikes a pregnant woman and she suffers a miscarriage, then the blood wit is a ghurrah, meaning five hundred dirhams payable by the tribe of the person striking the woman. He said that ghurrah is five hundred dirhams according to the ulama (Scholars).

If a pregnant woman is struck on her belly and a living child emerges from her womb and after that dies, then a full blood wit becomes wajib (obligatory).

CHAPTER - III

OFFENCES THAT DO NOT MAKE PENALTY LIABLE بَابُ مَالَا يُضْمَنُ مِنَ الْجِنَايَاتِ

The word (جنايات) (Jinayat)[1] is the plural of (جنايه)(jinayah). The word jinayah means 'offences committed against persons such as murder, wounding, drowning,' 'felony.'

The preceding chapter mentioned the punishments, blood wit, retaliation etc. that are imposed on jinayah. In this chapter such kinds of jinayah are mentioned for which no punishment becomes wajib (obligatory).

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR AN ANIMAL'S ACTION

(٣٥١٠) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْعَجْمَاءُ جُرْحُهَا جُبَارٌ وَالْمَعْدِنُ جُبَارٌ وَالْبِئْرُ جُبَارٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

3510. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The dumb animals! A wound caused by them is forgiven. (Falling in) a mine is forgiven. (Falling down) a well is forgiven."[2]

COMMENTARY: If an animal tramples, gores its horns, slaps with its tail or bites someone wounding or killing him, or it damages property then no compensation is payable, provided its keeper is not with it. If someone drives it, rides it or leads it, then that person will be liable for whatever damage to life or property the animal causes. This is what Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says.

Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله contends that if the animal causes these things during day then nothing is payable or wajib (obligatory) on its owner. However, if any damage is caused by the animal at night then its owner is responsible and it is wajib (obligatory) on him to pay damages. It is the responsibility of the owners to lock or tether their animals in the night. By day, the fields, gardens and other things must be taken care of by their owners.

FORELEGS & HIND LEGS: It is stated in the Hidayah that one who drives the animal will be responsible for any damage that may be occasioned by its fore or hind legs. But, a person who leads the an animal behind him will be responsible for any damage caused by its fore legs only, not by its hind legs. The rider of an animal is answerable for anything the animal destroys by treading it down, striking it with its head, forelegs or body, But not its hind legs or tail.

If there is a rider on an animal and also one who drives it then damages will be wajib (obligatory) on both.[3]

MINE: If anyone falls into a mine or is buried in it then no damages are wajib (obligatory) on one who has dug the mine. If a person hires a labourer to dig a mine and he is buried when the mine collapses on him then no responsibility rests on the owner of the mine. This second possibility is not restricted hiring anyone to dig mines only but this rule applies also to other forms of hiring. The first possibility applies also to digging wells. If anyone digs a well on his own land or on a place where it is permitted then he is not responsible for damages when a passer-by falls into it.[1]

NO DAMAGES PAYABLE WHEN DEFENDING ONESELF

(٣٥١١) وَعَنْ يَعْلَى بْنِ أُمَيَّةَ قَالَ غَزَوْتُ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ جَيْشَ الْعُسْرَةِ وَكَانَ لِي أَجِيْرٌ فَقَاتَلَ إِنْسَانًا فَعَضَّ أَحَدُهُمَا يَدَ الْآخِرِ فَانْتَزَعَ الْمَعْضُوْضُ يَدَهُ مِنْ فِي الْعَاضِ فَأَنْدَرَ ثَنِيَّتَهُ فَسَقَطَتْ فَانْطَلَقَ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَأَهْدَرَ ثَنِيَّتَهُ وَقَالَ أَيَدَعُ يَدَهُ فِي فِيْكَ تَقْضِمُهَا كَالْفَحْلِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3511. Sayyiduna Ya'la ibn Umayyah رضی الله عنه narrated that he had participatedwith Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم in the battle of the jaysh ul-usrah (army of distress which was the Battle of Tabuk in 9AH) and he had a servant (with him). He (the servant) had a dispute with another man and they fought one another (over something). One of them bit another's hand, and he pulled out his hand from the mouth of the other who bit him. This (action) dislodged his front tooth which fell out and he went to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم (to complain) but He did not impose any damage for the front tooth, saying "Should he leave his hand in your mouth while you munched it like a male camel?"[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not agree to get the man who bit another's hand and lost his tooth in the process any compensation because the other man was defending himself. He had no option but to pull out his hand from the other's mouth.
It is stated in sharh us-sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) that it a man tries to assault a woman and she attacks him to save herself and he dies, then nothing will be wajib (obligatory) on the woman who was engaged in self-defence.

PRESERVING CHASTITY: Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه was asked to decide about a girl who was collecting wood in a desolate place when a man followed her to molest her. She picked up a stone and flung it at the rascal who died on being hit by it. Umar رضی الله عنه gave judgment, "This killing is from Allah (who punished him to preserve the chastity of an innocent girl). By Allah, no blood wit will be imposed because of it." Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله held the same opinion.
Similarly, it is also allowed to defend oneself and protect one's property against bandits and miscreants. One must first try to make them see reason. If they do not desist and one has to kill them to protect oneself (or one's property) then their blood is forgiven to him. (There will be no retaliation.)

[1] The word in the hadith is (جبار) Jubar. According to the LEXICON of Lanes (vz p 374) it mean: 'a thing of which no account, or for which no retaliation is taken.'

DEFENDER IS MARTYR IF KILLED IN THE PROCESS

(٣٥١٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ قُتِلَ دُوْنَ مَالِهٖ فَهُوَ شَهِيْدٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

3512. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "He who is killed for his property (protecting it) is a martyr."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone guards his property and someone kills him then he is a martyr. The same ruling applies to one who is killed while protecting his family members.

3513. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man (came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and) submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, do tell me what (should I do) if a man comes to snatch my property?" He said, "Do not give him your property." He asked, "Tell me, what if he fights with me?." He said, "Fight with him." He asked, "Tell me, what if he kills me?" He said, "Then you become a martyr." He asked, "Tell me,, what if I kill him?" He said, "He will go to hell." (And you will not be responsible for anything.)[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith urges the Muslims to resist strongly anyone who tries to hert them or cause them damage. This hadith arouses in the believers the spirit of courage. They should not show cowardice against anyone who tries to deprive them of their property and destroy them. A Muslim who has the strength of faith and trust in Allah is expected to face boldly the attacker, miscreant and mugger. He should prefer a death in an honourable manner than a disgraced life, and earn martyrdom. Or, he should get rid of the evil man consigning him to hell.

This hadith is evidence that even if the evil man is a Muslim then it is allowed to resist him and to kill him if that becomes necessary.

PEEPING EYES MAY BE PUT OUT

(٣٥١٤) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّهٗ سَمِعَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَوِاطَّلَعَ فِيْ بَيْتِكَ اَحَدٌ وَلَمْ تَأْذَنْ لَهٗ فَخَذَفْتَهٗ بِحَصَاةٍ فَفَقَأْتَ عَيْنَهٗ مَا كَانَ عَلَيْكَ مِنْ جُنَاحٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

3514. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "If anyone peeps into your house (through a hole while the door is shut) and you have not given him permission (to enter) and you throw a pebble at him blinding his eyes thereby, then there will be no sin on you."[3]

[2] Muslim # 225-140

[3] Bukhari # 6888, Muslim # 44-2158, Nasai # 4861, Musnad Ahmad 2-243.

COMMENTARY: Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله abides by the haidth in toto. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that it is a strong warning against peeping into any house and says that anyone who incapacitates an eye will have to pay damages.

3515. Sayyiduna sahl ibn Sa'd رضى الله عنه narrated that a man peeped through a hole in the door of (the house of) Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had a spike (in his hand) with which he scratched his head. He (saw him peeping (into his house and) said, "If I had known that you were looking at me (deliberately) then I would have poked your eyes with it" (pointing to the spike). Seeking permission has been prescribed only because of the sight (that might not fall on non-mahrams)."[1]

COMMENTARY: It is as bad to peep into another's house as it is to enter it without permission. Teebi رضى الله عنه said that this hadith suggests that if anyone glances into someone's house unintentionally while passing before it, then he is not to be blamed.

THROWING PEBBLES UNNECESSARILY

(متفق عليه)

3516. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mughaffal رضى الله عنه said that he saw a man throw pebbles holding (and aiming) them between his thumb and (fore) finger. So he said, "Do not throw pebbles because Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم has forbidden that pebbles be thrown in this manner, saying, 'Game cannot be caught by this thing nor may an enemy be wounded. Rather (it is a vain pursuit whereby) you might break a tooth or slash an eye.'"[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم disallowed this pursuit because nothing is gained from it but disputes may arise. People may quarrel unnecessarily. The same ruling applies to every such vain, meaningless thing.

DO NOT DISPLAY WEAPONS IN PUBLIC

(٣٥١٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ مُوْسٰى قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا مَرَّ اَحَدُكُمْ فِيْ مَسْجِدِنَا وَفِيْ سُوْقِنَا وَمَعَهٗ نَبْلٌ فَلْيُمْسِكْ عَلٰى نِصَالِهَا اَنْ يُّصِيْبَ اَحَدًا مِّنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ مِنْهَا بِشَيْءٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

3517. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When any of you comes to our mosque or our market, or passes along, and has with him arrows, he must keep them covered (in their quiver, or hold them in his hand) lest he cause injury to any Muslim by them."[1]

COMMENTARY: Not only in the mosques and markets but in every such place as there is a gathering of Muslims, one must carry his weapons carefully. They could be arrows, swords, guns, or whatever kind. A slight negligence could wound a Muslim.

DO NOT POINT A WEAPON AT A MUSLIM

(۳۵۱۸) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يُشِيْرُ اَحَدُكُمْ عَلٰى اَخِيْهِ بِالسِّلَاحِ فَاِنَّهٗ لَا يَدْرِيْ لَعَلَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَنْزِعُ فِيْ يَدِهٖ فَيَقَعُ فِيْ حُفْرَةٍ مِّنَ النَّارِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3518. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Let not any of point a weapon at his (Muslim) brother, for, he cannot say perhaps the devil might take it away from his hand and (because of it,) he might land in a pit in hell."[2]

COMMENTARY: The devil is always on the qui vive. If a person make a mistake, the devil tempts him to commit sin. If he points a weapon at his Muslim brother, he might be careless and hurt him. That might mean hell.

(۳۵۱۹) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَشَارَ اِلٰى اَخِيْهِ بِحَدِيْدَةٍ فَاِنَّ الْمَلٰئِكَةَ تَلْعَنُهٗ حَتّٰى يَضَعَهَا وَاِنْ كَانَ اَخَاهُ لِاَبِيْهِ وَاُمِّهٖ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3519. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If anyone points (a weapon or something of) iron at his (Muslim) brother then the angels curse him till he puts it aside, even if he is his brother having the same father and mother.[3]

COMMENTARY: If anyone points at his brother a piece of iron, clearly he may not be meaning to threaten him. He might be jesting. But, even then the angels curse him. Thus it is emphasized that anything of iron or a weapon must not be pointed at a Muslim.

(۳۵۲۰) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ وَاَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ حَمَلَ عَلَيْنَا السِّلَاحَ فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا۔ رَوَاهُ الْبُخَارِيُّ وَزَادَ مُسْلِمٌ وَمَنْ غَشَّنَا فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا۔

3520. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه and Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "He who picks up a weapon against us (even in jest) does not belong to us." (Meaning, 'he does not follow our ways.')
The version (of Muslim) adds: "He who cheats us (by not disclosing defect of what he sells) does not belong to us."[4]

3521. Sayyiduna Salamah ibn Al-Akwa رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "He who draws a sword against us (even in jest) does not belong to us."[1]

DO NOT PUNISH ANYONE

(٣٥٢٢) وَعَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ أَنَّ هِشَامَ بْنَ حَكِيْمٍ مَرَّ بِالشَّامِ عَلَى أُنَاسٍ مِنَ الْأَنْبَاطِ وَقَدْ أُقِيْمُوْا فِي الشَّمْسِ وَصُبَّ عَلَى رُءُوْسِهِمُ الزَّيْتُ فَقَالَ مَا هٰذَا قِيْلَ يُعَذَّبُوْنَ فِي الْخَرَاجِ فَقَالَ هِشَامٌ أَشْهَدُ لَسَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِنَّ اللّٰهَ يُعَذِّبُ الَّذِيْنَ يُعَذِّبُوْنَ النَّاسَ فِي الدُّنْيَا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3522. Hisham ibn Urwah رحمه الله said that his father narrated that Hisham ibn Hakim passed by certain people in Syria from the Anbath (Nabateans) who were made to stand in the sun and olive oil was poured on their heads. He asked, "What is this?" He was told, "They are being punished for (not paying) the kharaj (homage revenue)" (land tax). Hisham said, "I bear witness that I had heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say. "Surely, Allah will punish in the hereafter, those who punish the people, in this world."[2]

ALLAH'S WRATH ON THE OPPRESSORS

(٣٥٢٣) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُوْشِكُ إِنْ طَالَتْ بِكَ مُدَّةٌ أَنْ تَرٰى قَوْمًا فِيْ أَيْدِيْهِمْ مِثْلُ أَذْنَابِ الْبَقَرِ يَغْدُوْنَ فِيْ غَضَبِ اللّٰهِ وَيَرُوْحُوْنَ فِي سَخَطِ اللّٰهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ يَرُوْحُوْنَ فِيْ لَعْنَةِ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3523. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If you live long, you shall see soon people holding in their hands something like oxtails (meaning, whips). They will begin the morning and the wrath of Allah will be on them and in the evening Allah's severe anger will be on them."
Another version has: 'in the evening Allah's curse is on them.'[3]

COMMENTARY: The 'people you will see' will be the stooges of the oppressors or cruel rulers.

CLOTHED BUT NAKED

(٣٥٢٤) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صِنْفَانِ مِنْ أَهْلِ النَّارِ لَمْ أَرَهُمَا قَوْمٌ مَعَهُمْ سِيَاطٌ كَأَذْنَابِ الْبَقَرِ يَضْرِبُوْنَ بِهَا النَّاسَ وَنِسَاءٌ كَاسِيَاتٌ عَارِيَاتٌ مُمِيْلَاتٌ مَائِلَاتٌ رُءُوْسُهُنَّ كَأَسْنِمَةِ الْبُخْتِ الْمَائِلَةِ لَا يَدْخُلْنَ الْجَنَّةَ وَلَا يَجِدْنَ رِيْحَهَا وَإِنَّ رِيْحَهَا لَتُوْجَدُ مِنْ مَسِيْرَةِ كَذَا وَكَذَا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3524. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم

said, "Two kinds of the inmates of hell there are whom I have not seen: (i) A people who have with them whips resembling ox-tails with which they will strike people (unjustly). And (ii) women (who will be) clothed but (be nearly) naked. They will incite men and be disposed to them. Their heads will sway like the humps of bukht camels. These inciting women will not enter paradise and will not experience its fragrance though its fragrance can be perceived at a distance this-far-and-that-far."[1]

COMMENTARY: The women mentioned will wear very fine see-through garments. Or, they will leave part of their body bare. Or, they will not put their scarf on their chest and belly but put it round their necks.

This could also refer to women who don different kinds of costly garments in this world but neglect the garment of taqwa (piety) (righteousness). It is only the garment of taqwa (piety) that will entitle them to paradise.

These women will incline men to themselves by their adornment, behaviour and walk and will lean toward men.

The bukht camels are the camels of khurasan with two humps (also known as Bactrian camels). The women arrange their hair in the manner of humps.

The women described in this hadith did not exist in the time of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. He did, however, forewarn of this kind of women. It is one of his miracles.

The hadith says that these women will not enter paradise but there are such men too who have not been mentioned here. Qari Iyad رحمه الله said that they will be admitted to paradise after going through their punishment, but not those women who perpetrate these things and maintain that whatever they do is lawful and not wrong at all.

DO NOT STRIKE AT THE FACE

(٣٥٢٥) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا قَاتَلَ اَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَجْتَنِبِ الْوَجْهَ فَإِنَّ اللّٰهَ خَلَقَ اٰدَمَ عَلٰى صُوْرَتِهٖ۔ (متفق عليه)

3525. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "When one of you fights (and beats another), he must spare the face because Allah created Aadam in His own likeness."

COMMENTARY: Creating Aadam عليه السلام in His likeness means bestowing on him His attributes of majesty and beauty. Or, it could mean a form that Allah has given only to human beings and described it as 'His' to bestow honour on Aadam عليه السلام. It is as He says (نفخت فيه من روحى) {blow into him My spirit}(15: 29) and ascribes the spirit to Himself to honour and show the excellence of mankind.

Some scholars say that the pronominal suffix in (صورته)(Surathi, his likeness or his form) stands for Aadam's form. This form is distinct from the forms of all other creatures. It is full of excellence and beauty.

It will mean that Allah created mankind nobler lthan all creatures. Of all man's limbs, his face is the noblest and most honourable. It is the index of his form and perfection. Hence, one must refrain from striking it. The ulama (Scholars) say that this command is by way of mustahab (desirable).

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

FORBIDDEN TO LOOK INTO HOUSES

(٣٥٢٦) عَنْ اَبِيْ ذَرٍّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ كَشَفَ سِتْرًا فَاَدْخَلَ بَصَرَهٗ فِي الْبَيْتِ قَبْلَ اَنْ يُّؤْذَنَ لَهٗ فَرَاٰى عَوْرَةَ اَهْلِهٖ فَقَدْ اَتٰى حَدًّا لَا يَحِلُّ لَهٗ اَنْ يَّاتِيَهٗ وَلَوْ اَنَّهٗ حِيْنَ اَدْخَلَ بَصَرَهٗ فَاسْتَقْبَلَهٗ رَجُلٌ فَفَقَأَ عَيْنَهٗ مَا عَيَّرْتُ عَلَيْهِ وَاِنْ مَرَّ الرَّجُلُ عَلٰى بَابٍ لَا سِتْرَلَهٗ غَيْرُ مُغْلَقٍ فَنَظَرَ فَلَا خَطِيْئَةَ عَلَيْهِ اِنَّمَا الْخَطِيْئَةُ عَلٰى اَهْلِ الْبَيْتِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3526. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone slides a curtain and peeps into a house before receiving permission (to enter) and sees that which ought not to be seen of his family, then he touches the limit that is not lawful for him to touch. If a man (from the house) challenges him when he looks in and puts out his eye, I will not hold him responsible. (And, I will not impose any penalty on him.) However, if a man goes by a door that has not curtain and is not shut and he looks in, then he has not committed a sin. Rather, sin is committed by the people of the house.[1]

(They ought to have shut the door and drawn the curtain)

COMMENTARY: It is wajib (obligatory) for the family to keep the door of their house shuts or draw a curtain over it.

DO NOT HAND OVER OR TAKE UNSHEATHED SWORD

(٣٥٢٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يَّتَعَاطَى السَّيْفَ مَسْلُوْلًا۔ (رواہ الترمذی وابوداؤد)

3527. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the handling of an unsheathed sword.[2]

THONG OF SANDAL MUST NOT BE SNAPPED BETWEEN TOES

(٣٥٢٨) وَعَنِ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ سَمُرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهٰى اَنْ يُّقَدَّ السَّيْرُ بَيْنَ اِصْبَعَيْنِ۔

(رواہ ابوداؤد)

3528. Al-Hasan (رحمہ اللہ) reported that Samurah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم disallowed the snapping of the strap of a sandal between two toes.[3]

COMMENTARY: These two hadith forbid the two things by way of compassion.

BEING KILLED WHILE PROTECTING RELIGION, LIFE & PROPERTY

(٣٥٢٩) وَعَنْ سَعِيْدِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ قُتِلَ دُوْنَ دِيْنِهٖ فَهُوَ شَهِيْدٌ وَمَنْ

(رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی)

3529. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn Zayd رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who is killed while defending his religion is a martyr. He who is killed while defending himself is a martyr. He who is killed while protecting his property is a martyr. And, he who is killed while protecting his family is a martyr.[1]

COMMENTARY: If a disbeliever or an innovator ridicules Islam on the face of Muslim who contends with him over that but is slain then in this case the Muslim attains martyrdom.

The ulama (Scholars) say generally that if anyone has evil intentions against a person's life, property or family, then he must first try to convince him out of it. If he does not see sense, then, he may use force and if he kills the evil man then no penalty is due from him. But, if he himself is slain then that is martyrdom for him.

3530. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There are seven gates of hell. One of these gates is for him who draws a sword against my ummah," or, he said, "against Muhammad's ummah."[2]

CHAPTER - IV

AL-QASAMAH - OATHS

بَابُ الْقَسَامَةِ

The Arabic word is al-Qasamah (القيامة). It is to take an oath. In Sari'ah, it refers to a murder in a village or neighbourhood, or anywhere near to it, when the murderer is not traced, then the state or government should investigate. If the murderer is traced, then the law will take its course against him. If not, then fifty men of that place (selected by the next of kin of the slain man) will be put to oath. Each of them shall depose in this way, "By Allah (or, I swear by Allah), neither have I killed him nor do I know who has slain." This is as Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله contends and it is based on the well-known hadith.

اَلْبَيِّنَةُ عَلَى الْمُدَّعِيِّ وَالْيَمِيْنُ عَلَى مَنْ اَنْكَرَ

It is suggested also by the haidth # 3531.

The contention of Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله is that if there was animosity between the inhabitants of the village or locality, or of its surroundings. (Where the body is found and the murdered man, or some strong pointers are found suggesting that someone there could have been the murderer, then the next of kin of the murdered man will be put to oath. They will depose, "We swear by Allah, you have killed him." If they refuse to take the oath, then the accused will be made to swear. This is indicated by the first hadith of this chapter (#3532)

Qisas, or retaliation is not wajib (obligatory) when resorting to qasamah, even if the accusation is of deliberate murder. But, diyah or blood wit is wajib (obligatory) in this case (oath-taking) whether the accusation is of deliberate murder or of accidental murder.

However, Imam Maalik رحمه الله said that if it is an accusation of deliberate killing then qisas should be imposed. Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله also said the same thing in his ancient ruling.

It must be known that this form of qasamah was prevalent during the jahiliyah (ignorance period) too. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم retained it. He passed judgment according to it for the slain Ansar whose murder the ansars had blamed on the Jews of the Khaybar.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

WHO WILL BE PUT TO OATH

(٣٥٣١) وَعَنْ رَافِعِ بْنِ خَدِيْجٍ وَسَهْلِ بْنِ اَبِيْ حَثْمَةَ اَنَّهُمَا حَدَّثَا اَنَّ عَبْدَاللّٰهِ بْنَ سَهْلٍ وَمُحَيِّصَةَ بْنَ مَسْعُوْدٍ اَتَيَا خَيْبَرَ فَتَفَرَّقَا فِي النَّخْلِ فَقُتِلَ عَبْدُاللّٰهِ بْنُ سَهْلٍ فَجَاء عَبْدُالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ سَهْلٍ وَحُوَيِّصَةُ وَمُحَيِّصَةُ ابْنَا مَسْعُوْدٍ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَتَكَلَّمُوْا فِيْ اَمْرِ صَاحِبِهِمْ فَبَدَأَ عَبْدُالرَّحْمٰنِ وَكَانَ اَصْغَرُ الْقَوْمِ فَقَالَ لَهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَبِّرِ الْكُبْرَ قَالَ يَحْيٰى بْنُ سَعِيْدٍ يَعْنِيْ لِيَلِيَ الْكَلَامَ اَلْاَكْبَرُ فَتَكَلَّمُوْا فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اسْتَحِقُّوْا قَتِيْلَكُمْ اَوْقَالَ صَاحِبَكُمْ بِاَيْمَانِ خَمْسِيْنَ مِنْكُمْ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ

اللّٰهِ اَمْرٌ لَمْ نَرَهُ قَالَ فَتُبَرِّئُكُمْ يَهُوْدُ فِيْ اَيْمَانِ خَمْسِيْنَ مِنْهُمْ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَوْمٌ كُفَّارٌ فَفَدَاهُمْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ قِبَلِهٖ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ تَحْلِفُوْنَ خَمْسِيْنَ يَمِيْنًا وَتَسْتَحِقُّوْنَ قَاتِلَكُمْ اَوْصَاحِبَكُمْ فَوَدَاهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ عِنْدِهٖ بِمِائَةِ نَاقَةٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

3531. Sayyiduna Rafi ibn Khadij رضی اللہ عنہ and Sayyiduna Sahl ibn Abu hathmah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Abdullah ibn sahl (رضی اللہ عنہ) and Muhayyisah ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ came to Khaybar. When they separated from one another (one day) among the palm trees and (finding him alone) someone killed Abddullah ibn Sahl رضی اللہ عنہ. (Thereafter) Abdur Rahman ibn Sahl رضی اللہ عنہ (the real brother of the slain Abdullah) and the (two) sons of Mas'ud, Huwayyisah and Muhayyisah (paternal cousins of the slain man) came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and informed him of what had happened to their relative. Abdur Rahman رضی اللہ عنہ (the brother of the slain man) who was the youngest of the lot was the first to speak. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "Kabbir al-Kubr" (Respect the eldest of you. Let him speak.) Yahya ibn Sa'eed رحمہ اللہ (a narrator of this hadith) said that the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words meant, 'Let the eldest take charge of speaking.' Then, they spoke (meaning the eldest of them). The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If fifty of you take oaths then you will be eligible to seek blood wit or retaliation for your man who is murdered." Or, he said, "your companion." They submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, it is something that we had not seen. (We cannot say definitely who had killed.)" He said, "fifty of the Jews will take oaths and acquit themselves." (Their oaths will prove them innocent.) They said, "O Messenger of Allah, they are disbelievers. (Their oaths are meaningless and unreliable.)" So (to bury the mischief) Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم paid the blood wit himself (to the heirs of the slain man).

According to another version: he said, "Swear fifty oaths and be entitled to the blood wit of your man who is murdered," or, he said, "Your companion." Then Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم himself paid his blood wit amounting to one hundred she-camels.[1]

COMMENTARY: The person who is the eldest must be honoured. He should initiate conversation.

This hadith is evidence that it is allowed to plead in matters of hudud or prescribed punishments, even for those who are present the guardian of the deceased was his real brother, Abdur Rahman ibn Sahl رضی اللہ عنہ, while Huwayyisah and Muhayyisah were his paternial cousins.

Ths hadith says that the plaintiff should be put to oath first. But, the Hanafis say that the defendant is to be made to swear initially.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

DEFENDANT SHOULD BE PUT TO OATH FIRST

(٣٥٣٢) عَنْ رَافِعِ بْنِ خَدِيْجٍ قَالَ اَصْبَحَ رَجُلٌ مِّنَ الْاَنْصَارِ مَقْتُوْلًا بِخَيْبَرَ فَانْطَلَقَ اَوْلِيَاءُهُ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَذَكَرُوْا ذٰلِكَ لَهُ فَقَالَ اَلَكُمْ شَاهِدَانِ يَشْهَدَانِ عَلٰى قَاتِلِ صَاحِبِكُمْ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ لَمْ يَكُنْ ثَمَّ اَحَدٌ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ وَاِنَّمَا هُمْ يَهُوْدُ وَقَدْ يَجْتَرِؤُوْنَ عَلٰى اَعْظَمَ مِنْ هٰذَا قَالَ فَاخْتَارُوْا مِنْهُمْ خَمْسِيْنَ فَاسْتَحْلِفُوْهُمْ فَاَبَوْا فَوَدَاهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ عِنْدِهٖ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3532. Sayyiduna Rafi ibn Khadij رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man of the Ansar was killed (and he was Abdullah ibn Sahl رضی اللہ عنہ). His relatives went to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and mentioned to him what had happened. He asked them, "Do you have two witnesses who might testify to the murderer of your man?" They submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, no Muslim was there at the time. Only Jews were there (and they are known to create mischief) and they are impudent enough to perpetrate things more grave than that." He said, "Then select fifty of them and put them to oath." But, they did not agree (to put the Jews to oath knowing that they would not hesitate to take false oath). So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم paid his blood wit himself.[1]

COMMENTARY: Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ points out that the defendants are called upon to swear first. The Hanafis observe this practice. He has mentioned all arguments of different imams and concluded that the Hanafi practice is correct.

CHAPTER - V

KILLING APOSTATES & THOSE WHO STRIVE TO CAUSE CORRUPTION بَابُ قَتْلِ اَهْلِ الرِّدَّةِ وَالسُّعَاةِ بِالْفَسَادِ

WHO IS A MURTAD: Murtad is an apostate. He turns away from the folds of the religion of Islam. He exits from the light of faith and Islam and enters the dark recesses of disbelief and polytheism.

COMMAND ABOUT AN APOSTATE: (We seek refuge in Allah from such thought). If a Muslim apostates, then, first, he must be invited to Islam and if he has some confusion and queries then they must be clarified for him. This is not, however, wajib (obligatory) but merely mustahab (desirable) because he already has received the invitation to Islam and it is not necessary to renew it. However, such a person should be put in prison for three days. If he repents and returns to the fold of Islam in three days, that is good for him, otherwise Islam prescribes a death penalty for an apostate. Some ulama (Scholars) hold that respite should be given to him if he requests for a deferment otherwise there is no need to defer the punishment, but ImamShafi'i رحمہ اللہ holds that it is wajib (obligatory) that the ruler grant him a three day breather. But, the Quran says:

[1] Abu Dawud # 4524

أُقْتُلُوا الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ

{kill the polytheists}(9. 5)

And, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said'

مَنْ بَدَّلَ دِيْنَهُ فَاقْتُلُوْهُ

(He who changes his religion Islam, kill him.)

This means that it is not wajib (obligatory) to give an opportunity to the apostate to think over.

WHO STRIVES TO CAUSE CORRUPTION: The second portion of the caption concerns those who strive to create mischief. Generally, this refers to those who make mischief on land, commit robbery and indulge in killing and man-salughter, and disturb the peace and comfort of the people. However, here reference is made specifically to robbery, and to highway robbery. The prescribed punishment for these crimes too is killing. The Quran says:

إِنَّمَا جَزَآءُ الَّذِيْنَ يُحَارِبُوْنَ اللّٰهَ وَرَسُوْلَهُ وَيَسْعَوْنَ فِي الْأَرْضِ فَسَادًا أَنْ يُّقَتَّلُوْا

{The only recompense of those who wage war against Allah and His Messenger and strive to do corruption in the land is that they should be slain....} (5 : 33)

MORE COMMANDS ABOUT APOSTACY & APOSTATES: Our lives these days are very unbridled. We speak carelessly and we do not conform to our beliefs and ideologies. Our deeds belie our faith. The result is that we often utter with our tongues such things as we consider insignificant but they cast us nearer to the borders of disbelief. We do many such deeds which we give no thought but they lead us to the brink of disaster and cause us loss in the hereafter. Hence, some explanation follows in the next lines.

FATAWA ALAMGIRI: The Fatawa Alamgiri has set aside a complete chapter on the commands and rules concerning apostates. Except for some part of it treating rare issues, we reproduce the entire chapter here. It is essential for every Muslim to know them so that he is careful in his speech and does not utter what might lead him to infidelity, and he does not do that which smacks of disbelief.

APOSTATE: In general parlance, a murtad is one who turns away from the religion of Islam. Its essence is to utter with the tongue words of disbelief after possessing faith and the term apostate may be applied to anyone correctly if he is sane.

INSANE: Hence, it is not proper to apply the commands of apostasy to a mad person and an insensible child. If anyone gets fits of madness then he will be termed an apostate only when he is in a sane condition and does acts of apostasy. But, if he performs deeds of apostasy only when he is out of his senses then he will not be termed an apostate.

INTOXICATED: Similarly, if anyone is always intoxicated and his mind and senses do not function the command of apostasy does not apply to him.

MINOR: For a command of apostasy to apply, it is not necessary that the person should be an adult. Anyone, adult or minor, who commits an act of apostasy, would be subject to the commands of apostasy.

WOMEN TOO: It is not necessary that only men can be apostates, even women, if they perform such acts, will be termed apostates.

NOT FORCED: The command will apply only when a person apostates willingly of his own accord. If anyone is compelled to apostate then he will not come under the purview of the command of apostasy.

ILL: If anyone suffers from pleurisy and is fed something that impairs his mind and he speaks incoherently and turns apostate in this condition, then the command of apostasy will not be applied to him.

WEAK MINDED: If anyone is insane or given to suspicion or of unsound mind of any reason whatsoever then he too will not be subject to the commands of apostasy.

PREACHING: It has been stated earlier in this chapter that if anyone apostates, Islam should be presented to him and if he has any doubts or confusion they should be removed. If he wishes to enter the folds of Islam, then he must recite the kalimah shahadah (the expression of testimony)[1] and he must declare that he has nothing to do with every religion other than Islam. But, if he names merely the religion that he had adopted on giving up Islam and declares that he has nothing to do with it, then that too will suffice.

THREE CHANCES: If anyone apostates and returns to Islam and again apostates, doing that three times, and each time the ruler gives him respite of three days to repent and return, then the ruler may give him an opportunity three times of three days each but if he apostates a fourth time and asks for another respite of three days, the ruler must not allow him an opportunity the fourth time. If he does not return to the folds of Islam finally, he must be killed.

BOY: If a sensible boy turns apostate then according to Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله the commands (of apostasy) will apply to him. He should be compelled to return to the folds of Islam, but he should not be killed. The same command applies to the boy who approaches adulthood. A boy is said to be sensible when he knows that Islam is a means of deliverance and can differentiate between good and bad, and sweet and sour. Some scholars say that it is a boy of age of seven years.

WOMAN NOT KILLED: If a woman apostates, then she should not be killed but she should be imprisoned till she relents and becomes a Muslim. Every third day she should be beaten by way of a warning to get her to repent her apostasy and revrrt to Islam. If, however, anyone kills a woman who has apostated then nothing is wajib (obligatory) on the killer. (He is not responsible for anything.)

FEMALE SLAVE: If a female slave apostates, then her owner must restrict her to his house to compel her to accept Islam. He should impose on her additional work (to what is her regular duty) as a punishment. And, he must not have sexual intercourse with her.

GIRL: The same command applies to a sensible girl as to an adult woman.

EUNUCH: The same command applies to an eunuch as to a woman.

FREE WOMAN: If a free woman apostates, she cannot be enslaved as a female slave as long as she is in the Islamic territory. If she goes away to an enemy territory and is then brought as a prisoner (or captive of the Muslim army) then she may be enslaved.

ENSLAVE HER: However, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says in one of his rare sayings that an apostate woman may be enslaved even in an Islamic state. Some ulama (Scholars) say that an edict should be issued about this woman on this opinion. If she is married then there is

[1] It is (اشهد ان لا اله الا الله واشهد ان محمدا رسول الله) (I bear testimony that there is not God but Allah and I bear testimony that Muhammad is Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم)

no harm. Rather her husband should preferably request the ruler to let him make her a female slave. If he is responsible for the livelihood (a Muslim) then the ruler may give her to him as a gift in which case he will be responsible to restrict her movement and beat her as a punishment to get her to embrace Islam.

DENIAL OF APOSTACY: If an apostate denies that he has apostated then he must declare the unity of Allah, the Messenger ship of Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم and the truth of the religion of Islam. This will be deemed to be repentance from him and he will be counted among the Muslims.

PROPERTY: When anyone apostates he loses right of ownership over his property, but this loss of ownership is held in abeyance. If he is motivated to repent and becomes a Muslim again then his ownership is restored to him. But, if he dies as an apostate or is killed, then the property that he had collected as a Muslim will be inherited by his heirs and relatives who are professors of Islam. They will get their share after deducting the debts that he had incurred while he was a Muslim. And, whatever property that he may have earned during his apostacy from that his debts incurred while he was an apostate would be paid and the balance of that property disregarded. This is the ruling of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله, but his two students Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله hold that the property of an apostate is not unutilized.

INHERITORS: Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله has given different views about the inheritors of an apostate. The most correct of these views is what Imam Muhammad رحمه الله has attributed to him. If an apostate dies or is killed or he flees to the enemy land, then his Muslim heir will get his legacy. Similarly, when he dies or is killed or flees to the enemy land then his Muslim wife will also become the heir of his property, provided at that time (when he dies or is killed or flees), she observes the iddah. The reason is that the apostate means by his apostacy to deprive his wife (of her right to inheritance), so his apostacy is like illness before death. (When a man who is on his death bed divorces his wife with the talaq mughallazah, Shari'ah (divine law) looks at it as his conspiracy to deprive her of her inheritance, so it retains her right to his legacy. So it is with the apostate, he conspires to deprive his wife of his legacy through his apostacy. Hence, in spite of his intentions, Shari'ah (divine law) recognizes her as eligible for inheritance from his legacy.

HUSBAND NOT HEIR: If a woman apostates, then her husband is not eligible to her legacy (after her death). But, if she apostates when she is ill (and dies), then her husband will get her legacy, as also all her relatives. In fact, whatever property she collects during her apostacy will also go to these heirs.

SLAVES ARE FREE: If anyone apostates and goes away to enemy territory, or the ruler decides that he should go to enemy land then his mudabbar slave will become free. And his umm walad (as many as there are) will also become free. His deferred[1] debts will be payable promptly. The property that he had earned while he was a Muslim will be turned over to his Muslim heirs. If an apostate had drawn a will while he was an adherent of Islam then, according to the apparent versions of Mabsut and others, that will be invalid. It will not be executed whether it was in favour of a relative or a stranger. However, as long as an apostate is found moving about in the Islamic state, the judge must not impose any of these directives about him a have been mentioned in these lines.

[1] elsewhere it is mature debts (معجل) instead of (مؤجل)

DEALINGS & CONTRACTS: An apostate's apostacy calls for actions on his deals in four ways:

(i) That which is enforced in toto as per unanimous ruling. Examples are:
- when he is given a gift and he accepts it,
- he makes his female slave an umm walad,
- he claims parentage of a child born to his female slave then the child would be attributed to him and will become entitled to his legacy along with his other heirs, that particular female slave will be his umm walad,
- his acceptance of Shuf'ah (pre-emption) will be approved and enforced and
- His imposition of an interdiction on his permitted slave will be valid.

(ii) That which is unanimously in valid. Shari'ah (divine law) does not recognize it at all. Examples are:
- to marry him is absolutely disallowed to all women. The woman may be a Muslim, an apostate, a dhimmi, a slave;
- his slaughtered animal is unlawful; and
- his game is unlawful whether hunted with dogs or hawks, or shot with a gun.

(iii) That which is held in abeyance (neither revoked nor imposed), like a general partnership (shirkah mufawadah). If an apostate concludes it with a Muslim then it remains suspended till he reverts to Islam when that partnership will be effective. However, if he dies an apostate, or he is killed or he goes away to enemy territory and the judge or ruler issues directives about it, then the shirkah mufawadah will be turned right from its inception to shirkah inan (partnership of equal or unequal contribution of wealth or labour). This is what Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله say but Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله holds that shirkah mufawadah is not invalidated at all.

(iv) That about which the ulama (Scholars) are divided: whether its operation is suspended or not. Examples are: buying and selling, hiring, emancipating a slave, making a slave a mudabbar or a mukatab, making a will, repaying debts, etc. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله contends that operation of all these things of an apostate are held in abeyance and if he accepts Islam then they are enforced but if he dies or is killed or the judge or ruler declares him an absconder to enemy territory then their operations become invalid.

- During apostacy, all the actions of a mukatab are enforced.
- If anyone sells his apostate male or female slave then this sale is allowed.

REPENTANCE: If an apostate repents and returns to Islamic territory before the command of the ruler is enforced that he has gone away to enemy territory then the command concerning his property and his apostacy becomes invalid and he is treated as though he has been a Muslim all through. None of his umm walad or mudabbar is set free.

If he returns after the command of the ruler and judge is enforced that he has gone to enemy land, then he may take back from his heirs whatever of his property he finds but he has no right to demand that part of his property which his heirs have disposed of, gifted, etc and have no right over their ownership. He cannot even demand a compensation for that.

BORN MUSLIMS: If a man was a Muslim emulating his parents (meaning, he was a child who followed the precedence of his parents or was bracketed with them in general consideration) but attained maturity as an apostate then though reasoning demands that he should be slain, yet the command concerning him, out of kindness, is that he should not be killed (because before he matured he was not a Muslim directly by himself but was regarded as one because of his parents).

MUSLIM AT YOUNG AGE: The same command as the foregoing applies to a man who became a Muslim at a young age but apostated when he matured.

COMPELLED TO SUBMIT: Also, if anyone is forced to embrace Islam and he turns away from it afterwards then he too will not be killed out of kindness.
However, in each of the foregoing cases, the command is that the man should be pressurized to accept Islam. If anyone kills him before he embraces Islam then the killer will not be questioned, nothing is wajib (obligatory) on him.

LAQIT: (The child who is found unclaimed somewhere.) If he is in an Islamic state then the command of his being a Muslim should be applied. If he attains adulthood as a disbeliever then he should be compelled to embrace Islam, but he should not be killed.
Thus far, some commands and rules were mentioned about apostates. It is now deemed necessary to disclose those things whose perpetrator becomes a disbeliever.

DIFFERENT REASONS: There can be various reasons for anyone to be considered a disbeliever. There could be related

- to faith and Islam,
- to the Being of Allah and His attributes, etc,
- to the prescribed acts in Islam, like salah (prayer), fasting, zakah (Annual due charity),
- to learning and the ulama (Scholars) (Scholars),
- to the lawful and the forbidden,
- to the Last Hour, etc., and,
- to encouraging disbelief.

This is a lengthy discourse. So these things - the motives of disbelief - are enumerated in sequence under their relative captions.

(I)THE MEANS TO DISBELIEF CONCERNING FAITH & ISLAM:
The disrespect that turns a man into a disbeliever as are related to faith and Islam are these:

- If anyone says, "I do not know whether I have faith or not," then this is a grave sin unless he intends by that to reject his uncertainty
- If anyone doubts his faith and says, "I am a believer, insha Allah," then he is a disbeliever. But, if he means to say, "I do not know if I shall depart from this world as a believer or not," then he is not a disbeliever.
- If anyone says, "The Qur'an is a creation," or "faith is a creation," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- He who believes that faith and infidelity are one then he is a disbeliever.
- He who is not pleased and content with faith is a disbeliever.
- He who is content with the infidelity of his soul is a disbeliever.
- The ulama (Scholars) differ on one who is pleased with another's disbelief and their edict is: if he is pleased at another's disbelief because he (the disbeliever) will be involved in punishment perpetually then he is not a disbeliever. But, it he is pleased with his infidelity that the other man may say about Allah that which is not worthy of His attributes then he is a disbeliever.

- He who says that he does not know the attributes (or description) of Islam is a disbeliever. Shamsul ulama (Scholars), Tawa'i رحمه الله, has used strong words about this issue. He said, "One who says so has no religion, no salah (prayer), no fasting, no obedience, no worship and no marriage. His children are born out of wedlock in adultery."
- A Muslim man married a Christian girl whose parents were also Christian. She grew up not recognizing any religion. She did not know what religion is in her mind and could not describe it by word of mouth, and she was not insane. In this case, she and her husband will be separated.
- Someone married a Muslim girl child. When she matured as a sane young woman, she did not know in her mind what Islam is and could not describe it orally, and she was not insane. In this case, too, she and her husband will be separated.
- If a woman is asked what tawheed (monotheism) is and she says. "I do not know" and she means that she does not know the Kalimah tawheed that is taught to children in madrasahs (religious schools) then there is not harm in that. But, if she means that she does not know Allah's unity then she is not a believer any more and her marriage becomes void.
- If a man dies in such a way that he did not know that there was his Creator, there is another house with Allah for him and that wrong-doing and oppression are forbidden, then he was not a believer.
- If anyone commits sin and asserts that Islam must be demonstrated (through sin) then he is a disbeliever.
- A man tells another that he is a Muslim. The other says, "Curse be on you and on your being a Muslim." Then, this other man becomes a disbeliever.
- A Christian embraced Islam. After some time his father died and he lamented, "Would that I had not become a Muslim! In that case I would have acquired my father's property!" He becomes a disbeliever on having such ideas.
- A Christian man met a Muslim and asked him to preach to him that he might embrace Islam at his hands. The Muslim advised him to go to a certain scholar who would present to him Islam and he might embrace Islam at his hands. The ulama (Scholars) differ on one who gives such advice instead of himself presenting Islam to the non-Muslim. Abu Ja'far رحمه الله, however, says that this man does not become a disbeliever.
- An infidel embraced Islam. One of the Muslims asked him "what was wrong with your religion?" (Why did you have to embrace Islam?) The Muslim who says so becomes a disbeliever.

(II)THE MEANS TO DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN ALLAH'S BEING & ATTRIBUTES

These things make one who is disrespectful to Allah and His attributes a disbeliever:

- Ascribing to Allah an attribute that is not worthy of Him makes one who does it a disbeliever,
- Or attributing to Him a partner or a son, or a wife,
- Or describing Him with some kind of ignorance or helplessness or shortcoming.
- One who says, "It is proper that Allah do something that has no wisdom in it," is a disbeliever.
- If a person believes that Allah is pleased with disbelief then he is a disbeliever.

- He who says, "Even if Allah will command me to do this piece of work, I shall not do it," is a disbeliever.
- The noble Qur'an speaks of Allah's hand and face, but they are not limbs. The question arises whether these things may be translated as they are in other languages? Some ulama (Scholars) say that it is allowed to do so, provided they are not understood (in the literal sense) as limbs. Most ulama (Scholars), however, insist that it is not allowed and this is the authentic opinion.
- If anyone ridicules Allah's attributes or His commands or rejects His promises and warnings, then he is a disbeliever.[1]
- If a man says abut someone, "In my sight he is as a Jew is in Allah's sight," then the majority of the scholars say that he is a disbeliever. (The reason is that he refers to Allah's sight in the real sense of an eye, meaning a human limb.) But, some authorities say that if the speaker's intention was to bring out that certain person's bad qualities, then he is not a disbeliever.
- A man died. Another man lamented, "Allah should not have done that." On this the second man (the speaker) becomes a disbeliever.
- A man said to his enemy, "By the command of Allah, I shall do that to you." His enemy said, "I do not recoquise Allah's command" Or, he said, "Here Allah's command is not respected." Or, he said, "Here, no command works." On, he said, "Allah does not deserve to command." Or, he said, "Here the command of David only is obeyed." All these words smack of disbelief
- Haakim Abdur Rahman رحمه الله was asked about a man who says, "I do a certain work because of custom, not in obedience of Allah's command." Is he a disbeliever? Haakimرحمه الله said, "If he only means corruption of truth, abandoning of Shari'ah (divine law) and following custom, but does not mean to reject Allah's command then he is not a disbeliever."
- If a man says about one who never falls ill, "Allah has forgotten him," or "He is one of those whom Allah has forgotten," then this is disbelief.
- If a man says to another, "Even Allah cannot be safe from your tongue. How will be safe?" Or, "How will I confront you?" then he is a disbeliever.
- If a man tells his wife, "You are dearer to me than Allah," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- To say about someone that he is trapped badly(or miserably) in destiny is a grave sin.
- To say that Allah has a place (to reside) is disbelief. He who says, "No place is without Allah," is a disbeliever.
- If anyone says that Allah is in the heaven then it depends on what prompted him to say so. If he means to repeat what is apparently stated (in the Qur'an or sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice)) then he will not be a disbeliever. But, if he means to describe the place as Allah's then he will become a disbeliever, and most of the ulama (Scholars) say that if he did not have any intention then too he will become a disbeliever.
- He will become a disbeliever who says, "Allah is sitting (or standing) to pass judgment because this necessitates something above and below Allah.

[1] This ought to have come earlier but is overlooked in the urdu

- It is disbelief to say, "(My Helper) in the heaven is Allah and on the earth is so-and-so."
- Most ulama (Scholars) say that it is disbelief to say, "Allah looks down from the heaven," or "Allah looks from the heaven," or "Allah looks from the throne."
- He is a disbeliever who attributes injustice to Allah.
- If anyone says, "O Allah do not approve this injustice," then some ulama (Scholars) say that he is a disbeliever.
- If anyone tells another, "If Allah dispenses justice on the day of resurrection then I shall get my right from you," then he is a disbeliever. But, he will not be an infidel on saying, "When Allah dispenses justice..." instead of "If..."
- A person will become a disbeliever on telling another, "If Allah decides in truth and justice then I will get my right from you."
- If anyone says, "O Allah, when a cruel person oppresses, do not accept his oppression. If you accept his oppression, I shall not accept it, "then it is disbelief because he seems to say, "O Allah, if you are pleased with his oppression then I shall not be pleased."
- A man says to another, "Do not lie!" The other says, "Why is falsehood there? It is that one may lie." This is disbelief.
- Someone is advised to seek Allah's pleasure. He says, "I do not want it,"
- or, he says, "If Allah admits me to paradise, I shall ravage it,"
- or, when someone is told not to disobey Allah lest He consign him to hell, he says, "I am not afraid of hell,"
- or, someone boasts on being told that Allah does not befriend one who overeats, "I shall eat whether he antagonizes me or befriends me," - all these words make the speaker a disbeliever.
- If anyone is advised not to laugh much or sleep much and he says, "I shall eat as much, sleep as much, and laugh as much as I like," then it is disbelief.
- If someone is warned not to commit sin lest Allah punish him and he says, "I shall carry punishment in one hand," then this is disbelief.
- When someone is advised not to upset his parents and he says, "They have no right over me," though this is not disbelief yet it is a grave sin.
- If anyone says to Iblis (the devil), "O Iblis, get my work done so that I might obey you and grieve my father and keep away, from that which you forbid me, "then he disbelieves.
- If a man tells another, "If Allah had not created these two worlds then I would have taken my right from you," then this is disbelief.
- Someone tells a lie. His listener says, "May my God make your lie true!" Or, he says, "May Allah bless you with this lie!" This is near disbelief.
- If anyone lies and a listener says, "May Allah bless you in your lie!" then this is disbelief.
- Someone points out to a man about another person, "He does not behave well with you." He replies, "Even Allah will not behave well with him." The speaker becomes a disbeliever.
- If someone says, "Allah loves riches. This is why He has not given me riches," - then he is a disbeliever, provided he means to attribute miserliness to Allah. But if he says merely, "Allah does not like riches" then it does not make him a disbeliever.

- A man says to another, "Insha Allah, do this work." The other says, "I shall do this task without insha Allah. This is disbelief.
- An oppressed man sighed. "This (whatever happens to me) is as decreed by Allah." The oppressor boasts on hearing him, whatever I am doing is not part of Divine decree." This is disbelief.
- If someone says, "O Allah, do not refrain from having mercy on me," then these are words of disbelief.
- A husband and wife were conversing with one another. When their conversation became lengthy, the husband said, "Fear Allah and observe taqwa (piety) "(which is righteousness). She retorted, "I do not fear Allah." On saying this, she becomes an apostate, and they stand separated provided the husband had reprimanded her on a dear sin (and she had said so in response). But, if he had rebuked her without there being any need for it (and she had done nothing wrong) then she does not become a disbeliever yet if she meant to belittle fear of Allah and ataqwa (piety) then both of them stand separated.
- A man decided to beat another man, saying, "You are not afraid of Allah." The man confirmed, "Yes," This is not disbelief because he has a right to say, "The question on fearing Allah arises when I was the doer."
- A man was committing a sin when someone rebuked him, "Do you not fear Allah?" He answered, "No!" Then he becomes a disbeliever because there is no doubt in what he meant.
- Similarly, if a man is asked, "Do you not fear Allah?" and he retorts angrily, "No!" then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If someone dislikes a command of Allah or of the Shari'ah (divine law) of his Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم like, his saying that he does not like the making lawful to a man to have for wives, then it is disbelief.
- If anyone suggests, "Only Allah should exist and nothing else should exist," then he is a disbeliever.
- If anyone says, "Allah has created all pieties for me. And I am the creator of evil." Then he becomes a disbeliever.
- A man was told 'You fail to come to the expectation of your wife." He said, "Even Allah does not meet the expectations of women. How may I achieve that?" This is disbelief.
- If a man pleads to another, "I look to Allah and I look to you," (meaning what I have got is from Allah and from you) or, he says, "I have hope in Allah and I have hope in you," then this is bad. But, if he says, "I look to Allah and regard you as the outward means of it," then it is a good thing to say.
- A man asked his adversary to take on oath over something. He swore by Allah, but his adversary said, "I do not want you take the oath on Allah. I ask you to take an oath on divorce or release." Some ulama (Scholars) say that he becomes a disbeliever (on making this demand), but most say that it is not so and this opinion is more correct.
- If a man says to another, "Allah knows that I remember you always with prayer," then the ulama (Scholars) give different opinions about his disbelief.
- If any one jests and says in Persian (من خدايم) while he was supposed to say (خدا آئيم) then he will be disbeliever.[1]

- A man asked his wife, "Do you have no care for right of your neighbours?" She said. "No!" then he asked, "Do you not care for rights of your husband?" Again, she replied in the negative. Next, he asked, "Don't you have care for Allah's rights?" She repeated, "No." She becomes a disbeliever.
- If a man is fed up with his illness or his straitened circumstances and exclaims, "why did Allah create me? I am deprived of the pleasures and comforts of this world." Then some ulama (Scholars) say that he will not be a disbeliever but what he says is a grave sin.
- A man warned another, "Because of the sins that you have committed, Allah will inflict punishment on you!" He asked, "Have you appointed Him as God that He will do as you say?" Then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone asks, "what can Allah do besides creating hell?" then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If on seeing an ugly animal or an ugly man, someone asks "Has Allah no designer that He made this kind of animal (or man)?" – then he become a disbeliever.
- A poor man got fed up with his poverty and said, "So and so is Allah's creature whom He has showered with blessings. I too am His creature but I am involved in grief and pain. Is this just?" He becomes a disbeliever on saying this.
- Someone was advised to fear Allah. He asked in retort, "Where is Allah?" So, he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone asserts the Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم is not in his grave, or he says, "Allah knowledge is not ancient," or "Allah has no knowledge of what does not exist," then he is a disbeliever.
- If anyone's name is Abdullah and someone calls by adding a Kaaf (ک) (ka) before Allah, and he is a learned man, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- So, too, if a learned man mispronounces the word Khaliq (خالق) intentionally as Khaleeq (خليق)[2] then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone says to another, "May Allah have mercy on your heart, not on mine heart," then he becomes a disbeliever provided he says that in a sense of dispensability of Allah's mercy. But, if he means that his heart is not wavering but perfect with faith in Allah then he is not a disbeliever.
- If anyone takes an oath, "by Allah and by the dust of your feet," then he becomes a disbeliever. But if he says, "By Allah and by your head and your live," then the u lama differ about it.

(III)THE MEANS TO DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN THE PROPHETS عليه السلام

- If anyone does not confirm any of the prophets, عليه السلام
- Or shows displeasure, or lack of belief, and satisfaction over, any of the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) of any of the Messengers, - then he is a disbeliever.
- Ibn Muqatil was asked about a man who denies the prophethood of Sayyiduna Khidr عليه السلام or Sayyiduna Dhul Kifl عليه السلام. He said, "Denial of the prophethood of a prophet members of whose ummah had not confirmed his prophethood

---

[1] meaning 'I will come myself' but saying. (God preserve us from evil) 'I am God'.

[2] Khaleeq instead of Khaaliq (creature instead of creator) unanimously is (condoned) not harmful.

- If anyone says, "If so and so was a prophet then I would have believed him," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- And, Ja'far رحمه الله said that if anyone professes belief in all the Prophets عليه السلام of Allah but says, "I do not know whether Aadam عليه السلام was a Prophet or not," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- Ja'far رحمه الله was asked about one who blames the Prophet عليه السلام of indecency. For instance, some accuse a prophet عليه السلام of resolve to commit adultery, or any such evil; as the Hashwiyah (an evil, condemned sect) say such things about Prophet Yusuf عليه السلام. He said, "Such a person is a disbeliever because it is an evil suggestion about the Prophets عليه السلام and is tantamount to insulting them.
- Abu Dharr رضی الله عنه said that if anyone says, "Every disobedience is disbelief" and then accuses the Prophet عليه السلام of disobedience, then he is a disbeliever because he spoke ill of the Prophets عليه السلام. And he said that - If he says that the Prophet عليه السلام never disobeyed neither during prophethood not before being commissioned, then too he is a disbeliever because by saying this he rejects the texts (the verse of the Quran!

وَعَصٰى اٰدَمُ رَبَّهٗ

{And Aadam disobeyed his Lord....} (20: 121)

- Some ulama (Scholars) say that if a person does not believe that Muhammad is the last (and seal) of the Prophets عليه السلام then he is not a Muslim.
- He who harbous a grudge against a Prophet عليه السلام is a disbeliever.
- If anyone says about a person that if he were Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم then he would never believe him, then he is a disbeliever. So, too,
- One who says, "If Allah Himself commands me to do that work, even so I would never do it," is a disbeliever.
- If anyone says, "If whatever the Prophets صلى الله عليه وسلم have said was true and based on facts, then he is a disbeliever, and,
- If anyone says I am Allah's Messenger, or he says in Persian من پیغمبرم to mean the same thing, then he is a disbliever and,
- If another person demands of him that he show a miracle, then some ulama (Scholars) say that he too is a disbeliever who demands a miracle, but the latter day ulama (Scholars) say that if means to disgrace him and fail him then he is not a disbeliever.
- If anyone says of the blessed hair of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that it is a little strand of hair, then some ulama (Scholars) say that he becomes a disbeliever. But some others say that he will not be a disbeliever; yet if he means to belittle that then he will be a disbeliever according to them, too.
- If anyone says, "I do not know whether Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم was a human being or a jinn," then he becomes an unbeliever.
- He is not a disbeliever who says, "If so and so is a Messenger, then I shall get my right from him."
- If anyone says (in Persian) (محمد درویشک بود) (Muhammad was a small mendicant), or that
- The garment of the Messenger is bad-smelling and dirty, or, that

- The nails of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم were growing, then - some ulama (Scholars) say that he becomes a disbeliever without any reservation, but some others say that if he says these things out of contempt only then will he become a disbeliever.
- If a man abuses another whose name is Muhammad or Ahmad, or whose kunyah is Abu al-Qasim, saying, "O son of an adulteress!" then he becomes a disbeliever provided he meant to abuse everyone of the name of Muhammad or Ahmad or of the kunya Abu al-Qasim, having in mind the noble Prophet عليه السلام too.
- One does not become a disbeliever on saying, "Every sin is Kabirah (grave) but the sins of the Prophet are saghirah (minor)."
- If anyone says, "Every bad thing done intentionally is a major or grave sin and the doer is fasiq (a sinner)" and he adds, "the disobedience of the Prophet عليه السلام was deliberate," then he is a disbeliever because he spoke ill of the Prophets عليه السلام. But, if he says, "The disobedience of the Prophet عليه السلام was not intentional," then he is not a disbeliever.

(IV)THE MEANS OF DISBELIEF CONCERNING THE SAHABAH (PROPHET'S COMPANIONS) رضى الله عنهم

- A rafidi who speaks ill of Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه and Umar رضى الله عنه and (we seek refuge in Allah from it) curses them, is a disbeliever. But,
- If he says that Ali رضى الله عنه is more excellent then Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه then he will not be a disbeliever, yet he will be called a mubtada,' And,
- a mu'tazalllah is also a mubtada' (an innovator). But,
- if anyone says that the vision of Allah is not possible, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- Anyone who accuses Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها of adultery comits infidelity with Allah, but
- Anyone who accesses any of the other noble wives رضى الله عنه of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم of adultery is not an infidel, but is deserving of cure, and so
- anyone who says that Umar رضى الله عنه Uthman رضى الله عنه and Ali رضى الله عنه are not the sahabah of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم is not a disbeliever but deserves to be cursed.
- One who rejects the imamah and Khalifah (leadership and caliphate) of Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه is a disbeliever according to some ulama (Scholars), but a mubtada according to others (who do not classify him as a disbeliever). The correct opinion, however, is that he is a disbeliever.
- One who rejects the Khilafah (caliphate) of Uamr رضى الله عنه also becomes a disbeliever according to the correct opinion.
- Those who call Uthman رضى الله عنه, Ali رضى الله عنه, Talhah رضى الله عنه, Zubayr رضى الله عنه and (Sayyidah) Ayshah رضى الله عنها disbelievers (we seek refuge in Allah from such thought) are themselves disbelievers. And, so too:
- It is wajib (cbligatory) to classify as infidels all the People of the sect Zaydiyah because they contend that (may Allah preserve us from such thought) a prophet would arise in a non-Arabic land who will replace our prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم religion and annul the Messenger ship of our chief. (Sayyiduna) Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم, Allah's Messenger.

- It is wajib (obligatory) to classify as disbelievers those rawafid who believe in reincarnation. They say that one who dies returns to this world, Allah's spirit dwells in the imam, the hidden imam will manifest himself and till he does not appear the operation of the commands and prohibitions are suspended, and Jibril عليه السلام had erred in passing on the revelation to Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم instead of Ali رضى الله عنه (to whom he ought to have conveyed the wahy or revelation from Allah).This sect is an outcast and alien to the community of Islam. The same commands apply to the members of this sect as to the apostates.

- If anyone is compelled to speak ill of prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم, there can be three possibilities of it.
  - (a) He affirms that he has no semblance of doubt about the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in his heart but he uttered only those words that he had been compelled to utter, and even speaking that much was tremendously painful to him. In t his case he will not be called a disbeliever and he will be like one who is compelled to utter words of disbelief and he does that only with his tongue while his heart stands firm and convinced on faith.
  - (b) He declares that when he was compelled (to speak ill of Muhammad), he pictured in his mind the Christian by the name of Muhammad when he spoke ill of him, he meant that Christian man who had this name. In this case, too, he will not become a disbeliever.
  - (c) He declares that when he was forced (to speak ill of Muhammad), he had in his mind that Christian too whose name was Muhammad, but the evil words that he uttered were not about the Christian but were about Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم. In this case, he will be a disbeliever in law as well as in the sight of Allah.
- If any one says that Muahammad صلى الله عليه وسلم was mad, he is a disbeliever. But,
- if he says that Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم swooned, then he is not a disbeliever (because of that).
- If anyone says, "If Aadam عليه السلام had not eaten wheat (in paradise), we would not have been miserable," then he is a disbeliever.
- He is a disbeliever who r ejects the hadith mutawatar, and
- if he rejects the hadith mashhur, some scholars place him among the disbelievers and some say that he is misled, not a disbeliever.
- If he rejects Khabar wahid, he is not a disbeliever (on that account) but a sinner because he does not accept it.
- If anyone says about a Prophet عليه السلام, "I wish that he was not a Prophet," then the ulama (Scholars) say that if he does not question the wisdom behind sending him as a Prophet, he will not become a disbeliever. But,
- if he means to insult the Prophet and give vent to his dislike for him then he will become a disbeliever.
- When someone is told of what the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم liked (for example, pumpkin, gourd) and he says, "I do not like it," then it is disbelief and Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله also holds this opinion. However, some latter day scholars say that if the man spoke contemptuously then he will become a disbeliever, otherwise not.

- If anyone says that Prophet Aadam عليه السلام had woven cloth and on that basis we are children of a weaver, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone is told that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم licked his three fingers on eating his food and he comments, "If is not something good," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If any one remarks that ignorant do not wash their hands when they have their meals and he meant to look down upon the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If a person question the practice of clipping the moustaches and drawing the flap of the turban forward below the neck and he has in mind the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم which he mocks then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If a listener tells the speaker, you lie though all you say is from the Messenger," then these words are expression of disbelief.
- If he says, "I will not believe what he says though it is as the Messenger say," then this too is disbelief.
- A man prepared to beat his slave. Someone else advised him not to beat him on which he roared, "Who are you? Even if Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم were to forbid me, I would not spare the slave." Or, 'If I hear a command from the heaven not to beat him, I would not obey it. I shall beat him." He becomes a disbeliever.
- Someone read out a hadith. One of the listeners remarked in Persian, "Every day he reads out something that is problematic." Even though he did not name the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and alluded to the speaker, he becomes a disbeliever provided the hadith concerns a command of Shari'ah (divine law) or religion itself. But, if the hadith did not speak of Shari'ah (divine law) or religion, then he will not have committed disbelief. It will be presumed that he means that it was not a better selection (that was read).
- If anyone says (بحرمت جوانک عربی) and he referred to the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then he perpetrates disbelief.
- He who says, "the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was a Messenger sometimes and there was a time when he was not a Messenger," or he says,
- "I do not know if the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم is a believer in his grave or a disbeliver."

Then he becomes a disbeliever on saying such things.

- A man says to his wife, "Do not speak what contradicts." She retorted, "Even the Messenger spoke against..." These words are disbelief. She must repent and they must re-marry one another.

(VI)MEANS OF DISBELIEF CONCERNING ANGELS

- A man says to another, "Looking at you seems like looking at the angel of death." This is a serious mistake and the elders differ on whether he becomes a disbeliever or not. Some say that he becomes a disbeliever, but others say, 'he does not.'
- Fatawa Qadi Khan quotes some scholars to say that if he spoke out of hatred for the angel of death then he become a disbeliever. But, if he spoke in dislike of death then he will not become a disbeliever.

- If he says, "I regard his face as an enemy like the angel of death, "then most scholars say that he is a disbeliever.
- If someone rejects another's testimony and he refers to Jibril عليه السلام or Mika'il عليه السلام then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone describes an angel with defect, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If a person claims to be an angle then he does not become a disbeliever, but
- If he claims to be a Prophet, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- A man marries a woman without the presence of witnesses, saying, "I call upon Allah and His Messenger to be witnesses," Or,
- he says, "I call upon Allah and the angels to bear testimony."

then, in the cases, he becomes a disbeliever. But,

- If he says, I have the angels on the right and the left as witnesses," then, in this case, he does not become a disbeliever.

(VII)MEANS OF DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN THE QURAN

- If anyone says that the quran is a creation then he will become a disbeliever.
- If any one rejects a verse of the Quran, or
- ridicules it, or
- find defect with it,
- then, in all these cases, he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone recites the Quran on the beat of a tambourine, or against the trill of a flute, then he has disbelieved.
- A man was reciting the Quran and another commented. "what is this sound of a storm?" This other man has disbelieved.
- If a man says, "I recited much of the Quran but sins were not forgiven to me." Then he becomes a disbeliever on saying that.
- If a man says to another, "You have pulled out the hide of (قُلْ هُوَ اللهُ اَحَدٌ) (Surah al-IKhlas), or you have held the collar of اَلَمْ نَشْرَحْ surah-al-Inshirah)or
- to one who recited surah Yasin to a sick person, "Do not insert it in the mouth of the dead," or,
- he says to another, "O you, shorter than (اِنَّا اَعْطَيْنٰكَ الْكَوْثَرَ) (surah al-Kawthar)!" or,
- to one who recited the Quran but could not recollect a word, (والتفت الساق بالساق), or,
- he brought a bowlful of something and said: (كَاْسًا دِهَاقًا), or,
- said to another in jest (فَكَانَتْ سَرَابًا), or,
- joked when weighing or measuring: (وَاِذَا كَالُوْهُمْ اَوْ وَّزَنُوْهُمْ يُخْسِرُوْنَ), or
- to someone, "You have put on turban of (الم نشرح)," meaning, he has shown off his knowledge, or,
- he assembled some people and said: (فَجَمَعْنٰهُمْ جَمْعًا), or
- he said to them: (وَحَشَرْنٰهُمْ فَلَمْ نُغَادِرْ مِنْهُمْ اَحَدًا), or,
- he said to someone, "How do you recite (والنازعات غرقا) with a dumma or a fathah or a kasra?" meaning to ridicule, or,
- he said to a bald man, "I call you great, for, Allah, says: (كلا بل ران)," or,
- someone was told, "come to offer the salah (prayer)," or "come to the congregational salah (prayer)." He replied, "I will offer the salah (prayer) by myself for, Allah, says: (إِنَّ الصَّلٰوةَ تَنْهٰى)"[1]

- in all these cases he becomes a disbeliever.

- A man says to another that he has kept his house neat and tidy as: (والسماء والطارق). Some scholars said that he will become a disbeliever because of that. But, Imam Abu Bakr Ishaq رحمه الله said that if this man who made this remarks is ignorant then he will not be called a disbeliever, but if he is a scholar then he will be become one.
- If someone says (قاعا صفصفا) to compare it as spotless, then there is much risk that he becomes a disbeliever.
- If something remains in he vessel and he remarks (وَالْبَاقِيَاتُ الصَّالِحَاتُ) then this too is very risky.
- If anyone says that the Quran is ajami (non Arabic), then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If he says that one word of the Quran is ajami then we must not hasten to call him a disbeliever.
- Someone was asked why he did not recite the Quran. He replied, "I am fed up of the Quran." So, he becomes a disbeliever.
- A man has committed to memory one surah of the Quran that he recites very often. Someone else remarked, "You have found this surah as weak and helpless." Because of these words, he will become a disbeliever.
- If any one rhymes the Quran in Persian, for instance, then he would be killed because he become an unbeliever.

(VIII)MEANS OF DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN SALAH (PRAYER) FASTING & ZAKAH (ANNUAL DUE CHARITY)

- Someone instructed a sick man to offer the salah (prayer). He said, "By Allah, I shall never offer salah (prayer)." Indeed, he never again offered salah (prayer) all his life. He died that way. Hence, he will be counted among the disbelievers.
- If he had said merely. "I shall not offer salah (prayer), then there would be four possibilities of what he said.

(a) I have offered salah (prayer) already so will not offer it again (meaning, the salah (prayer) of that hour).

(b) I will be not offer it at your saying because one who is better than you has already commanded me to offer it.

(c) I will not offer it, saying it badly and as a sin.

In these cases, he does not become a disbeliever. And,

(d) I will not offer because salah (prayer) is not wajib (obligatory) on me. And I am not commanded to offer it. In this case, he become a disbeliever.

- If his answer is a clear, "I do not offer the salah (prayer) 'then he will not be a disbeliever for these (fore going) reasons.
- A man is reminded to offer the salah (prayer). He asked, "Am I insane that I should offer salah (prayer) and add to my duties?" Or, he says:
- "It has been a long time that I have not done something futile," Or,
- "who can fulfil this task after all?" Or,
- "The intelligent should not indulge in such pursuits as cannot be carried on t ill the

[1] The word tanha in Urdu is alone 'by myself' in Arabic 'it forbids' (indecency). Other words are also so used in dual manner and meaning.

end," or,

- "Other people do it instead me", or,
- "Nothing is gained of fame by offering salah (prayer)," Or,
- "Did you get distinction on offering salah (prayer)?" or,
- "Why should I offer salah (prayer)? My parents are dead," or,
- "It is the same whether one offers salah (prayer) or does not offer," or,
- "I have offered salah (prayer) for so long that I feel tired," or,
- "Salah (prayer) is such a thing that if it is preserved it becomes stale,"
  -all these responses are words of a disbeliever.
- A man advised another to offer salah (prayer) and pray, together with him, for redress of their need. He taunted, "I have offered many salah (prayer) but could not get anything at all" and showed extreme disrespect for it. He becomes a disbeliever because of it.
- If a sinner addresses the Muslims saying, "Look, what Muslims are!" and points out to the gathering of the sinners, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If someone says, "How better it is to be among those who do not offer salah (prayer)," then because of these words he becomes a disbeliever.
- A man preacned to another saying, "offer salah (prayer) that you might savour the taste of worship." He gave a derogatory response, "You should not offer salah (prayer) so that you relish the sweetness of not offering it." These words land him in disbelief.
- A slave was recommended to offer salah (prayer) but he declined to do so on the plea that the reward for it would go to his master. He becomes a disbeliever on account of that.
- When a man was told that he should offer salah (prayer), he said, "Allah has caused me to suffer loss in my property. Now, I shall withhold his rights to cause Him loss." This response too throws him into disbelief.
- One man offers salah (prayer) only in the month of Ramadan, saying, "that is enough," or "This will be too much because each salah (prayer) in Ramadan is equal to seventy." He becomes a disbeliever because of that.
- If any one deliberately turns away from the qiblah while offering the salah (prayer) though happens to be correctly oriented to it, then, according to Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله, he becomes a disbeliever (because of his intention). The jurist Abu al-Layth رحمه الله concurs with him.
- If any offers salah (prayer) without making ablution or while his clothing is impure then he will become an infidel.
- If any one is accustomed to offer in this manner deliberately then he too becomes a disbeliever.
- If a man cannot determine the direction of the qiblah and he contemplated over it and reasoned out a direction but did not face that direction and faced another side and offered salah (prayer), Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said, "I fear for him that disbelief may overtake him, because he turned away from the qiblah. Other scholars, differ on whether he becomes a disbeliever or not. The shams ul ulama (Scholars), Halawi رحمه الله, said, "If he gave up the qiblah ad by way of ridicule faced another direction towards which he offered the salah (prayer) then clearly he is a disbeliever.

- If anyone was offering salah (prayer) in the presence of some people and happened to pass wind (or his ablution was nullified in some way) and he felt embarrassed so continued to offer salah (prayer) without making fresh ablution, or
- he was close to enemies and stood up and offered salah (prayer) though he was not in a pure condition - some scholars rule he will not become a disbeliever because he did not do it to make fun.

  However, if anyone finds himself in such an embarrassing situation then he must not from an intention to offer salah (prayer) while he is standing and he must not recite any thing nor must he resolve to make ruku' when he bows and must recite nothing in that posture. In this way, he will not be regarded as a disbeliever in any one's opinion. Some scholars maintain that if a person offers salah (prayer) in impure clothing, he does not become an unbeliever.
- If anyone says that while salah (prayer) is fard (compulsory), ruku (bowing) and sajdah (prostration_ are not fard (compulsory) then he will not become a disbeliever because of that saying because this may refer to the funeral salah (prayer) in which ruku' and sajdah are not fard (compulsory). But,
- If any one denies absolutely that ruku' and sajdah are fard (compulsory) in all cases then he becomes a disbeliever, and even
- if he rejects the fard (compulsory) nature of the second sajdah (in the salah (prayer)) then he becomes a disbeliever, because he rejects the consensus and the continuously observed practice.
- If any one says that were the ka'bah not the qiblah but Bayt ul Maqdis was the qiblah, he would continue to face the kabah and offer salah (prayer) and not face Bayut ul Maqdis, or,
- he name any other place as qiblah and says, "I would not offer salah (prayer) towards it but only towards the ka'bah," or
- "if the Ka'bah was in certain other direction, I would not have returned myself there," or,
- he said that there are two qiblahs - the ka'bah and the Bayt ul Maqdis, - in all these cases, he is a disbeliever.
- Ibrahim ibn Yusuf رحمه الله said that if any one offers salah (prayer) merely to be seen by others then he will get no reward for it but sin will be recorded against him. Some others say that he becomes a disbeliever because of that. Yet others say that he earns neither a reward nor a sin and he is as one who has not offered salah (prayer).
- A man went to a disbeliever and neglected salah (prayer) of a couple of times. If he did it out of respect for the disbeliever then he becomes a disbeliever and he will not be bound to redeem these salah (prayer), but - if he did it because of his sinful and corrupt nature then he will not be a disbeliever and will have to redeem the salah (prayer) he neglected.
- A man embraced Islam in Dar ul Islam (meaning, Islamic territory) one month later, he was asked about the five time salah (prayer) and he said, "I do not know if they are prescribed (fard (compulsory)) on me." He will become an disbeliever because of that. But if he resides among neo Muslims, then he will not be a disbeliever.

- If anyone tells a mu'adhdhin when he calls the adhan, "You lie," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone says on hearing the adhan, "This is the sound of the bell," then he is a disbeliever.
- Someone was reminded that he should pay the zakah (Annual due charity). He replies, "I do not pay zakah (Annual due charity)." In that case, he is a disbeliever. Some ulama (Scholars) say that simply on the basis of this reply he will become a disbeliever. But, others say that he will be a disbeliever on the outward conditions but not on the inward, by his reply in this way. Rather, there should be four possibilities here too, like in salah (prayer) so that he will not be a disbeliever in three case but will become a disbeliever in one case.
- If anyone yearns that fasting in Ramadan was not fard (compulsory), the ulama (Scholars) differ on the ruling. But, the correct thing is that it will on the intention of the speaker;
- if he meant that he would not be able to give the rights of the month of Ramadan, then he would not be a disbeliever, but,
- if he says, when the month begins, 'A burdensome month," or "a burdensome visitor has come!" then he will be a disbeliever.
- When the month of Rajab comes and any one says, "After this we shall face disaster," and casts aspersion on the sacred month of Ramadan then he becomes a disbeliever, but,
- if he refers to the arduous nature of fasting on his self, then he does not become a disbeliever.

  The answer to the previous issue is based on the same explanation.
- If any one says that the fasts of Ramadan must and soon, then some scholars say that he becomes disbeliever on saying that. Some others say that he does not become a disbeliever.
- If anyone says, "How many more fasts? I am tired," then this expresses disbelief."
- If anyone says, "Allah has made obedience a punishment for us" and these words are interpreted then he will not be a disbeliever.
- If he says, "If Allah had not made obedience fard (compulsory) (obligatory), that would have been better for us," and these words and interpreted by any one then he would not be a disbeliever.
- If anyone says, "Salah (prayer) not worthy of me," or,
- "the lawful is not compatible with me," or,
- "why should I offer salah (prayer), I have no wife and children?" or,
- "I have placed salah (prayer) on the shelf," -

  then in all these cases he becomes a disbeliever.

(IX)MEANS TO DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN LEARNING & THE LEARNED

- If, for no apparent reason, a person bears hatred for a scholar of religion, then he is likely to become a disbeliever.
- A man commented about one who reconciled (differing) people, "to at look at him is to me like looking swine." Then he is likely to become a disbeliever.
- If any, without reason, calls a scholar or jurist an evil man then too there is likelihood of his becoming a disbeliever.

- He becomes a disbeliever who tells any one, "A donkey's sex organ be in the seat of your knowledge," meaning thereby religious knowledge.
- An ignorant man said about those who acquire knowledge, "what they learn is merely stories and tales," or
- "That is fraud," or
- "I reject learning of causes," - it must be understood that these words are all expressive of disbelief.
- If a man sits on a raised place around people who put to him questions in jest and then begin to throw pillows at him and all laugh heartily, then all of them become disbelievers.
- A man was returning from a gathering of learning. Someone remarked, "You are coming from a pagan house," and this joker becomes a disbeliever.
- If he says, 'What have I to do with places of learning?" or
- "who is capable of doing what the scholars preach?" - then he is a disbeliever in each case.
- If anyone says that learning cannot be put in a vessel or a purse (meaning, a container of food and of money , and both these things are necessary), or,
- 'what shall I do of learning? I want silver in my pocket." - then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone claims to be preoccupied with his family so says sarcastically, "I cannot attend places of learning," thereby ridiculing knowledge, then he is likely to become a disbeliever.
- A scholar jurist was speaking of knowledge of narrating a sound hadith. One of his listeners remarked, "This is nothing" and rejected whatever he said, Or,
- he said, "How will this help? I need money. That rules everyone. Of what use is knowledge?" - these things express disbelief.
- Saying that making mischief is better than sagacity lands one into disbelief
- If a woman whose husband is a scholar remarks, "Curse be upon a husband who is a scholar," then she become a disbeliever.
- If anyone says that the doings of the scholars resemble those of the disbelievers then he will become a disbeliever then he demonstrates their all deeds to be at par in which case he says that truth and falsehood are equal.
- Someone had a dispute with a jurist over a reasoning put forward by the jurist. The man said, "Do not behave like a scholar. You cannot get anything here." There is likelihood of this man falling into disbelief.
- If anyone calls a jurist, "O wise man!" or,
- "O high one!" - then he will not be a disbeliever if he did not intend to belittle religion.
- It is reported that a jurist left his book in a shop. When we passed by it later, the shopkeeper called out, "You have forgotten the saw here." The jurist said, "It is my book in your shop, not a saw." But, he shopkeeper, insisted, "The carpenter cuts wood with the saw and you cut wood with the saw and you cut the necks of people with the book." The jurist complained to shaykh Imam Abu Bakr Muhammad ibn Fadl رحمه الله about it and he passed judgement that the shopkeeper should be executed.
- A man scolded his wife and said, "Obey Allah" and he forbad her from committing sin. She said, "What do I know of Allah and knowledge. I have placed myself in hell." Because of these words, she become a disbeliever.

- A man was told that those who seek knowledge walk on the wings of the angels. He said, "This (is not so It) in a lie." He become a disbeliever because of it.
- If anyone says that the deduction and reasoning of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله is not correct, then he is a disbeliever. Because he has rejected his deduction outright.
- If anyone says that the bowl of tharid and rice is better then learning then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If he says that the bowl of rice is better from Allah then he will not become a disbeliever, because it could mean 'coming from Allah.' the same interpretation cannot apply to knowledge or learning. [The point is that we must look at the Urdu words which are respectively (علم سے بہتر) and (اللہ سے بہتر) (Allah say bahtar) the words say can mean 'then' as well as 'from' the message cannot be conveyed in English]
- A man said to his enemy, "Come with me on the path of Shari'ah (divine law)." He said, "Bring a policemen. I will come along. I cannot come by force." He will become a disbeliever because he contends with Shari;ah. But,
- If he says, "Come with me to the judge" and the other gives the same answer as the one he gave for Shari'ah (divine law) then he will not be disbeliever.
- If he were to say, "Speaking of Shari'ah (divine law) and excuses to me will not profit anyone." Or,
- They will not go ahead. Or,
- There is a sweet dish of dates for me. What shall I do with Shari'ah (divine law)?" - all these things express disbelief.
- If he says, 'when you had taken silver, where was the judge and Shari'ah (divine law)?" then he becomes a disbeliever. Later day scholars say that if by judge he means the (local judge or) city magistrate then he will not be a disbeliever.
- Some was told about the command of Shari'ah (divine law) on something. He said, "I follow custom, not Shari'ah (divine law)." Then, according to some he becomes a disbeliever.
- A man asked his wife, "what do you say? What is the command of Shari'ah (divine law)?" She said in a raised voice after giving a loud belch, (اینک شرعزا).[1]
  She becomes a disbeliever. And her marriage stands dissolved.
- A man presented a religious edict to his adversary. He rejected it, saying, "Have you brought a pile of edicts?" According to some, he becomes a disbeliever because he rejected the command of Shari'ah (divine law).
- But, if he said nothing about the edict, yet taking it, he put it down on the earth, saying, "Is this Shari'ah (divine law)?" So, he will become a disbeliever.
- A man asked a scholar for an edict about his wife. He replied. "Your wife stands divorced." The man protested "I do not believe in divorce. Mother and children must be at home." He will become a disbeliever because of these words.
- Two men quarrelled. One of them brought a religious edict to the other, who said, "Not like it says in the edit," Or,

[1] She made fun of Shari'ah (divine law) by using its letters individually (شریعہ) in a ridiculous expression.

- "I do not follow it." Then - he will be awarded a ta'zir (punishment)

(X)MEANS TO DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN THE LAWFUL & UNLAWFUL AND THE WORDS OF THE SINNERS & INDECENT

- If anyone believes the lawful to be forbidden and the unlawful to be lawful then he becomes a disbeliever.
- But, if he declares the forbidden to be lawful in order to sell his merchandise or out of ignorance then he will not be a disbeliever. But, the condition applies: the forbidden (or unlawful is exactly (or directly) forbidden (bi'aynihi)[1] and he believes (regards) that to be lawful in which case he will be a disbeliever. But if he unlawful is forbidden for another reason (lighayrihi)[2] and he calls it lawful then he will not be a disbeliever.
- And he will be a disbeliever concerning any thing that is unlawful (بعينه) (biaynihi) and he calls It lawful when its being unlawful is established by categorical evidence or argument, but,
- if its being unlawful is not established by categorical evidence and is proved by Khabar wahid then he will not be disbeliever for regarding it as lawful.
- A man was asked, "would you prefer one lawful thing over two unlawful?" He said, "whichever of the two kinds (lawful or u nlawful), arrives faster." In this case, he is likely to fall into disbelief.
- If he says, "I want property whether lawful or unlawful" then disbelief is feared for him too.
- If he says, "As long as I get the unlawful, I shall not hanker after the lawful then he does not become a disbeliever.
- If anyone gives something unlawful to a poor man with intention to be rewarded for that (by Allah) then he becomes a disbeliever. And,
- if the poor man knows that what he gives is unlawful yet he takes it and prays for the giver who says aameen on his prayer then he too becomes a disbeliever
- A man is told to consume only what is lawful. He retorts, But the unlawful is verydean to me." So, he becomes a disbeliever on that. And,
- if he says in answer, "Bring to me even one person in this world who consumes the lawful then I shall prostrate myself before him." Then too he will become a disbeliever because of that.
- A man was advised to consume the lawful. But he said, "I wish to have the unlawful." He becomes a disbeliever.
- The son of a sinner consumed wine. His relatives came to him and showered money on him. Because of this all of them become disbelievers. Or,
- The relatives did not offer money but merely congratulated the man. In this case too they become infidels.
- If any one asserts that the prohibition of wine is not established by the Quran, then he will become a disbeliever.
- Someone reminded a man who consumed wine that the Quran forbids wine. "Why do you drink it? Why do you not repent?" The alcoholic quipped, "Can one be satiated with mother's milk He will not become a disbelieved on that , because this is either a question, or an expression of love of wine and milk as being equal in his mind.

[2] indirectly for other reasons.

- If a man believes that it is lawful to have sexual intercourse with his wife when she is having her menses, then he is a disbeliever. Also,
- he is regarded as an infidel who considers it as permitted to go into the anus of his wife. And,

It is stated in Nawadir from Imam Muhammad رحمه الله that in both cases he will not become a disbeliever. This ruling is stated to be correct.

- A man consumed wine and blurted out, "He who associates with us in this our delight, to him belongs the true delight. And he who is unhappy with this our state and delight - is in great loss." This man is a disbeliever.
- When a man was engaged in drinking wine, he poured forth, "I am showing off that I am a Muslim," or "I make it evident that I am a Muslim." He becomes a disbeliever.
- If an evil and alcoholic man utters "If a drop of wine trickles down, JIbril will pick it up with his feet," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- Someone rebuked a sinner, "you begin every morning by displeasing Allah and His creatures." He said, "I do well," this man becomes a disbeliever.
- A man says about sins that it is a religion. He becomes disbeliever because of that. This is as written in al-Muheet. However, it is stated in Tajnees Natiqi that the correct thing is that he will not become a disbeliever.
- JEST WITH TASBIH & TAHLIL: A man says (سبحان الله) subhan Allah (Allah is without blemish). Another remarks, "you have extinguished the light of subhan Allah," or
- "you have ripped open its hide" then – they become disbelievers
- Someone said a man that he should say (لا اله الا الله) (There is no God but Allah). He said, "I shall not say so." Some scholars say that he becomes disbeliever. Other say that if he means, "I shall not say so at your command, then he does not become a disbeliever. Yet other say that he will become a disbeliever in any case.
- If he asks, "What could you achieve by reciting this Kalimah (لا اله الا الله) that I should recite it?" then he will become a disbeliever.
- A king sneezed. One of those around him said (يرحمك الله) (may Allah have mercy on you!) Another man rebuked him, "Do not say so for the king." This man who rebuked him becomes a disbeliever.

(XI)MEANS OF DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN THE LAST DAY & RELATED MATTERS

- Anyone who denies the fact of the Last Day, the day of resurrection, paradise, hell, the scales. The sirat (bridge) and the record of deeds is a disbeliever.
- He who denies resurrection after death is a disbeliever.
- He who says that he does not know whether the Jews and the Christians would be punished in hell fire on being resurrected or not becomes a disbeliever.
- He also becomes a disbeliever who rejects that the dwellers of paradise will have a vision of Allah, or
- he denies that the dead would be punished in the grave, or
- he denies that mankind would be gathered for reckoning, - in All these cases he becomes a disbeliever, but,

- If he denies the gathering and reckoning of other creatures then he wil not be disbeliever.
- If he says that reward and punishment applies only to the soul then too he does not become a disbeliever.
- A man preached to another that sins should not be committed otherwise reckoning in the other world would be very stiff. The other retort ed, "Who knows about the other world?"
- A debtor was warned by his creditor, "If you do not repay your debt in this world, I shall get it from you on the day of resurrection." He asked, "Of course, will there be a day of resurrection?" If he means to make fun of the day of resurrection, then he will be a disbeliever.
- A man wreaked tremendous oppression on another. The wronged one pleaded, "There finally will be of resurrection, then he will be disbeliever.
- A man wreaked tremendous oppression on another. The wronged one pleaded, "There finally will be the day of resurrection. Do fear its coming." The cruel man joked "A certain donkey will be there." This oppressor is a disbeliever.
- A creditor reminded his debtor to repay him in this world otherwise there would not be any money in the next world (but deeds). The debtor said, "Okey give me ten rupees more. You may take it back from me here or I will repay you there." He becomes a disbeliever because of that.
- If someone says, "What have I to do with the gathering (day)?" or
- "I am not afraid of the day of resurrection." - then he becomes a disbeliever in either case.
- A man said to his enemy. "I shall avenge myself on you in the hereafter." He retorted, "How will you find me in the huge crowd?" The scholars defer on the verdict of disbelief on this man and the jurist Abu Layth رحمه الله ruled that he does a not become a disbeliever.
- Someone commented that everything in this world must be good. Whatever happens here will happen (as final). He becomes a disbeliever.
- A man was advised to abstain from the worldly things keeping in view the hereafter. He remarked, "who would forsake that which is accessible (and in hand) for the sake of what is promised and unseen?" He becomes a disbeliever.
- Someone said that if any one is foolish in this world then he will be like one whose bag has a big hole, meaning that he will be useless. Imam Abu Bakr Muhammad ibn Fadl رحمه الله said that if he means to make fun of the hereafter then it spell disbelief.
- A man said to another, "I shall go with you to hell but I cannot come inside." Then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If someone says, "unless you bring something for the ridwan (keeper) of paradise, he will not open the gate." He becomes a disbeliever.
- A man said to those who enjoin piety, "what is the noise that you create?" If he means to reject, then there is likelihood that he becomes a disbeliever.
- Someone instructed a man to go to certain house and enjoin piety. He asked, "what has he done to me?' or, "Why should I hurt him?" or "I am by myself. I have no concern with this futile business." These are all words of disbelief.

- If a man condoles with another and says, "what is last through his life, may you find an increase in yourself." This is very likely to land him in disbelief, Or,
- "May you get an increase." Then, this is ignorance and a mistake. Or,
- "The lifespan of that person decreased and it come to you." This too is ignorance. Or,
- "If he had died, he has entrusted his life to you." This is disbelief.
- A man was ill. When he recovered, someone else remarked, "That donkey is sent again." This is also disbelief.
- A man fell ill and his sickness grew worse and prolonged. The sick man was fed up and said to Allah, "Give me death whether on Islam or on disbelief." This too is a step to disbelief.

(XII)MEANS TO DISBELIEF THAT CONCERN INVITATION TO DISBELIEF & APOSTACY

- If anyone urges another to recite the expression of disbelief, he becomes a disbeliever himself, even if it is done in play and jest.
- If a man incites another's wife to turn apostate and separate from her husband then he becomes a disbeliever. This is the verdict of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله.
- A man instructed another that he should become a disbeliever. He himself become a disbeliever whether the one who is instructed follows his instruction or not.
- Imam Abu Layth رحمه الله said that the moment any one gives another advice to become a disbeliever or express disbelief, he himself becomes on infidel.
- Similarly, when he urges anyone to become an apostate, he himself becomes a disbeliever.
- Imam Muhammad رحمه الله said that a person was compelled to utter the expression of disbelief under threat of life or severance of limbs. There can be a few possibilities for that:

(a) He uttered words of disbelief but was a believer at heart and there was not even a semblance of disbelief in his mind. So, he will neither be judged to be a disbeliever nor be one in Allah's Sight.

(b) He gives false information of his disbelief in the past and had no intention to become a disbeliever for always. In this case, he will be judged in law to have adopted disbelief and the judge will separate him and his wife.

(c) He says that while expressing disbelief he decided to give false information of disbelief in the past but had never had such in intention previously. Rather, did have that intention in future. In this case, he will be a disbeliever in Allah's sight and in the law of the land too.

- A man was compelled to offer salah (prayer) facing the cross. So, he did that. There can be three possibilities of that.

(a) If he affirms that though he was compelled to offer salah (prayer) facing the cross he had not an inkling of conviction for that, then he will not be a disbeliever in law and between himself and Allah.

(b) If he had resolved to offer salah (prayer) for Allah's sake and not for the cross, in this cast too, he will not be a disbeliever.

(c) If he thought of offering salah (prayer) for Allah's sake but he gave that up and offered salah (prayer) for the cross, then he is a disbeliever in law and between himself and Allah.

- If a Muslim is asked to prostrate himself before a king then it is better for him not to make the prostration, even if threatened.
- A man uttered the expression of disbelief with the tongue deliberately but had no conviction of disbelief. Some people say that he is not a disbeliever, but some others say that he is a disbeliever, and this latter is correct.
- Someone spoke.the words of disbelief without knowing that it was an expression of disbelief but he had spoken them voluntarily, then all the scholars rule unanimously that he is a disbeliever. Ignorance will not count as an excuse. However, some people do say that he will not become a disbeliever.
- A man, who jests or blabbers non-serious words, utters to show-off and have himself praised, words of disbelief. He then becomes a disbeliever in the view of all scholars though he may not have a conviction of that.
- Someone uttered an expression of disbelief by mistake. He intended to say something else but happened to utter the wrong words (by a slip of tongue). He will not become a disbeliever.
- If a Muslim puts on the cap of the Majusis (Magians) then he becomes a disbeliever. However, if he does it to protect himself from heat or cold then he will not become a disbeliever.
- A Muslim becomes a disbeliever if he wears the zunnar unless he puts it on for espionage during warfare. (zunnar is a thread that Hindus wear.)
- If someone says, "Better then what you do is one who disbelieves." And he means to regard disbelief as better, then he becomes a disbeliever. But, some scholars, Abu Layth رحمه الله, among them, maintain that merely saying so makes one a disbeliever whatever his internal intention.
- If a Muslim emulates the Majusis in what they do on their Nawruz then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If he buys on Wawruz what he never buys and this thing is bought specifically to celebrate Nawruz then he becomes a disbeliever. But he will not become a disbeliever on buying eatables and necessities of life.
- If a Muslim gives some gift to the polytheists on this day as a mark of respect for it, even an ordinary gift, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If he accepts their invitation to their custom of mundan of their children then he will not become a disbeliever.
- If anyone regards the traditions and affairs of the disbelievers as good then he becomes a disbeliever himself. For example, if he praises the custom of the Majusis of not speaking at meals or of not lying down with one's wife when she menstruates then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If a Muslim slaughters an animal when a man dons garments on being honoured then he becomes a dibeliever.
- If a Muslim slaughterers an animal when a man dons garments on being honoured then he becomes a disbeliever, and
- The sacrifice is regarded as carrion which it is not allowed to eat.
- It is an act of disbelief to slaughter an animal in honour of any one other then Allah and also
- in honour of the warriors and pilgrims on their return. (slaughtering an animal on that occasion is an act of disbelief.)

- An animal is let loose in the name of a false deity and is assigned the name of the deity to make it well-known. For example after some pious man's name or anyone other than Allah. These things are acts of disbelief.
- Similarly slaughtering animals at graves of pious men or at banks of rivers, or making offerings to gods and goddesses are all acts of disbelief.
- Animals slaughtered in this way fall in the category of carrion which one is not allowed to eat. It does not make any difference whether bismillah was recited at the time of slaughter or not In either case it is unlawful to eat it. If anything is devoted to other than Allah then it is no use reciting bismillah. This or the like of this, is written in various books like Tanveer ul Absar, Durr Mukhtar, etc.
- Some of these books say that one who slaughters animals set free in names for others than Allah is a disbeliever. Also, such animals are forbidden and unlawful. Among the ulama (Scholars) who have said so are Abu Hasas Kabir Abu Ali Daqqaq رحمه الله Abdullah Katib, رحمه الله, Abdul Wahid رحمه الله, Abu al Hasan Nawwawi رحمه الله etc. They have classified the verdict as correct.

  It is stated in Tafsir Nayshapuri that the ulama (Scholars) agree that if a Muslim slaughters an animal to gain nearness to anyone other than Allah and to honour him then he is an apostate. The same command applies to his slaughter as to the slaughter of an apostate.
- According to a sahih hadith, he who slaughters an animal to gain nearness to anyone other than Allah is accursed. This is as in Mishkat.[1]
- Shah Abdul Aziz Muhadith Dhalawi رحمه الله has explained in his Tafsir Azizi against the verse:

وَمَا أُهِلَّ لِغَيْرِ اللّٰهِ

{and that over which a name other than Allah's is invoke} (2: 23)

He writes that such animal is worse than a swine and a carrion. The tafsir may be seen for an exhaustive commentary.

- A woman fastened a rope round her waist and said, "This is zunnar." She becomes a disbeliever.
- A man said that better then treachery is disbelief. Most ulama (Scholars) say that he becomes a disbeliever. Abu al Qasim Sighar رحمه الله ruled accordingly.
- A man beat a woman who exclaimed, "You are not a Muslim." He said, "Yes, I am not a Muslim." He becomes a disbeliever because of that.
- Someone asked another, "Are you not a Muslim?" He said, "No," so he becomes an infidel.
- A woman asked her husband, "Do you have no religious integrity and sense of honour of a Muslim that you wish me to mingle with men?" He said, "Yes I do not possess religious integrity and Islamic sense of honour." He becomes a non-Muslim.
- A man called his wife, "O Jewess!" or "O Majusi!" or "O disbeliever!" She responded, "I am like that." Or, "If I am like that, divorced me." Or, "If I was not like that, how would I live with you?" Or, "...not live with you?" Or, "If I was not that I would not have had sexual intercourse with you." Or, "....you would not have kept me with you." - then because of these words, she become a disbeliever.

- If, instead of those words, she had responded, "If I am like that, Do not keep me with you," then she would not be a disbeliever.
- If a woman calls her husband, "O disbeliever!" or "O Jew," or, "O Majusi," He says in reply. If that were not so, I would not have kept you with me," then he becomes a disbeliever because of that. But,
- if he says, "In that case, do not live with me, then he will not be a disbeliever.
- If someone is called a disbeliever Jew and he says, "I am like that. Do not live with me." or "If I was not as you say, I would not have lived with you," or he said something like that, then he becomes a disbeliever.
- A man decided to do something. His wife said, "If you do it, you will become a disbeliever." But, he went ahead and did what he had decided to do, disregarding her wife's imprecation. So he does not become a disbeliever because of that.
- A man addressed his wife with the words, "O disbeliever!" She retorted, "Not I, but you!" Or,
- A woman called her husband, "O disbeliever!" He said, "Not I you!" - then, this will not separation between them.
- If a stranger man is called, "O disbeliever!" Or,
- a stranger woman, "O disbeliever!" - and, the addressee gave no response, Or,
- a husband said to his wife, "O disbeliever! And she did not reply, or,
- a wife called her husband, "O disbeliever! and he did not reply, - then Abu Bakr A'mash Balkhi رحمه الله said that the one who addresses in this manner becomes a disbeliever. Bur, other scholars of Balkh say that he (or she) does not become an infidel. The correct answer is that if the addressors merely meant to call the addressee as bad then they do not become disbelievers. But, if they are convinced that the (addressee) Muslim is a disbeliever and call him (or her) "O disbeliever," then they will become disbelievers because of that.
- If a woman calls her child a disbelieving child then it does not make any one a disbeliever. But, some do say that it is disbelief.
- If a man calls his child a disbeliever then he too is not a disbeliever.
- If anyone calls one's animal, "O disbeliever!" then no one becomes a disbeliever.
- If a man calls a Muslim, "O disbeliever!" "O Jew!" or "O Majusi!" and the Muslim responds with labyak (here am I), then he becomes a disbeliever. But,
- if he says, "I was fearful lest I become a disbeliever" then he will not be a disbeliever.
- If a man says to another, "You caused me so much trouble that I wished I should become a disbeliever," then he will be a disbeliever.
- Someone remarked, "This is not a time to remain a Muslim. Rather it is a time of disbelief." Some people said that he becomes a disbeliever, but the authority of al-Muhit wrote that he does not become a disbeliever.
- A Majusi and a Muslim were together at one place. Someone called the Majusi, "O Majusi!" If the Muslim presumes that he calls him and responds then he will not become a disbeliever provided both of them were occupied in an assignment of the one who calls. Or,
- if they were occupied in different assignment, then it is feared that he might be involved in disbelief.

- If a Muslim says, "I am an apostate," then he becomes a disbeliever, but
- if he says that he did not know that one become disbeliever by those words, then he will not be excused.
- A man said something which his listeners took to be words of disbelief though it was no such thing. However, they insisted that he had become a disbeliever and a separation had taken place between him and his wife because of that. He rebounded on them with, "A disbeliever, I have become! My wife stands divorced!" When he speaks thus he does bocome a disbeliever and a separation does take place between him and his wife.
- A man said, "I am Fir'awn" (the Pharoah), or "I am Iblis" (the devil). He becomes a disbeliever because of that saying.
- Someone advised an evil man to mend his ways and encouraged him to repent. But, the evil man taunt ed him, "I put wine on all the heads under these turbans." So, he becomes a disbeliever.
- A woman says to her husband, "It is better to become a disbeliever than to live with you/" She becomes a disbeliever because of that.
- Another woman vowed, "If I do such a thing, I am a disbeliever." Abu Bakr Muhammad ibn Fadl رحمه الله said, "She becomes a disbeliever on saying that and her marriage stands revoked." But, Qadi Ali Sa'di رحمه الله said, "These words are words of a vow, not of disbelief."
- A woman says to her husband, "If you oppress me after this," or
- "If you do not buy that for me, then I shall become a disbeliever." She becomes an infidel the moment she speaks those words.
- A man said by way of an example, "I was a Majusi, but I became a Muslim." He merely spoke these words without any conviction whatsoever. In spite of that he becomes a disbeliever
- If a Muslim makes a prostration of greeting before someone, then he will not become a disbeliever because of that.
- A man said to another, "May Allah seize from you your faith." He said, "Aameen!" On that, both of them will become disbelievers.
- A man caused difficulty to another man who pleaded, "Do not trouble me I am a Muslim. The trouble maker exclaimed "whatever you be; A Muslim or a disbeliever!" On this, the trouble maker becomes a disbeliever. Or, he said,
- "Even if you become a disbeliever, I lose nothing." Even in this case, he becomes a disbeliever.
- An infidel embraced Islam. So people presented to him gifts. One of the Muslims ejaculated. "would that I was a disbeliever and had embraced Islam! People would have given me gifts." Or,
- he said nothing but hoped in his heart that this would have happened, - in either case he becomes a disbeliever.
- A man yearned that Allah had not forbidden wine. He does not become a disbeliever because of that.
- If anyone wishes that Allah had not forbidden oppression and adultery, or unjust killing and bloodshed, then he becomes a disbeliever because of this wish. The reason is that these things have never been lawful through his first wish is not impossible while his second wish is impossible. (The second four things oppression, adultery, killing and bloodshed have never been lawful in any Shari'ah (divine law))

- If anyone wishes that a brother and sister marriage was not unlawful then he does not become a disbeliever because it is not impossible and was lawful in the beginning.
- In short, if any thing had been lawful at any time and was made unlawful later then (it is not impossible and) hoping for it to become lawful is not a means to disbelief.
- A Muslim man saw a beautiful Christian woman and wished, "How I wish I was a Christian! I would have married her." He becomes a disbeliever.
- A man requested another to help him in his rightful, just cause. The other asked, "Does anyone help achieve a night cause? Rather, I will help you in an unjust, wrong cause." Because of this he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone claims, "I have created this tree," he does not become a disbeliever, because he will be presumed to have referred to planting the tree. But,
- If he means to have created it in the true sense of the word then he will become a disbeliever.
- Someone boasted, "As long as I have arms, I will have no problem, earning my livelihood." Some scholars say that he becomes an infidel. Other say that he qualifies for disbelief.
- If anyone calls sufiosm an unfortunate thing then it is a very bad utterance.
- A man observed a circle round the moon and predicted rain fall and he meant to know the unseen. So, he becomes a disbeliever.
- An astrologer said to a man, "your wife is pregnant. He believed him and so becomes a disbeliever.
- A man heard an owl and said, "The patient will die." Or, "A calamity will befall," or,
- He heard a crow and said, "A traveller is about to arrive," then - the scholars differ on whether he is disbeliever or not.
- Someone uttered what is not proper to say. Another man reminded him, "Why do you say such things? These words will make you a disbeliever." He said, "what may I do? If I have to become a disbeliever in that way, : I shall become one." So, he is an infidel.
- If someone recites (ز) zaa instead of (ض) daad (the letters of the Arabic alphabet), or
- he recites (اَصْحَابُ النَّارِ) (People of the fire) instead of (اَصْحَابُ الْجَنَّةِ) (people of paradise), - then such a man cannot be retained as an imam, and,
- if anyone does not becomes a disbeliever.
- If any one takes an oath, By your life." "By my life," or any such oath, then he is likely to full into disbelief.
- Someone said, "Allah gives sustenance but He wants the creatures to work," some scholars say that such speech is polytheism.
- A man said, "I am relieved of reward and punishment." He will become a disbeliever because of that.
- A man asserts that he would do whatever another would ask him to do, even an act of disbelief. He will become a disbeliever because of that.
- If anyone says, "I am fed up of being a Muslim." He becomes a disbeliever.

- The caliph Mamun Rashid asked a jurist what should be done to a man who had killed a weaver. The jurist said t hat ta'zir (discretionary punishment) was wajib (obligatory), but Ma'mun ordered that the jurist should be beaten. So, he was beaten till he died. Ma'mun explained that the jurist had made fun of Shari'ah (divine law) which amounted to disbelief.
- A beggar had a black blanket on his shoulders. Someone called him Muddaththir. This is disbelief. (The reason is that 'one with the black blanket or robe' is the appellation of the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and Muddaththir is one of his name صلى الله عليه وسلم
- If anyone calls an unjust king 'just then he is a disbeliever, but some authorities say that he is not a disbeliever.
- If anyone calls an oppressor, "O God!" then he is a disbeliever.
- If he calls him, "O baar khuda" (O great god) then most scholars say that he will not become a disbeliever.
- A scholar named sighar was asked about the Khatibs who deliver the sermons on Friday from the pulpits and refer to the kings as; the great just (king), the great king of kings, master of the necks of the people, king of the land of Allah, king of the countries of Allah, or mu'in Khalifah Allah (helper of Allah's caliphs). It is allowed to refer to kings with these titles in the sermon? He said, "It is not allowed. Some of these words express disbelief and some are sinful and lies. The words shah-in shah (King of kings) without the qualification 'great' is specifically for Allah as one of his names and attributes and it is not allowed to qualify it with an attributes of the creatures. And the words Maalik riqab ul Umam (master of the necks of the people is clearly a lie when a king is addressed as such. So it is with the title 'king of the land of Allah or such others when applied to a king. That, too, is a lie.
- Imam Abu Mansur said that if any one kisses the land in front of someone or bows down before him or bows his head, then he does not become a disbeliever. The reasons is that he does it out of respect and not to worship him. Other scholars say that it is a grave sin to prostrate oneself before tyrants or dictators. Some scholars say, indeed, that one who does so becomes a disbeliever. Some others say that if he intends by that to worship him then he becomes a disbeliever but if he intends to respect and honour him then he will not be a disbeliever but what he does is forbidden. And, if he has no intention at all, then, too, most say that he becomes a disbeliever.
- To kiss the earth is tantamount to prostration though placing ones forehead or cheeks on the earth is a lighter crime.
- If anyone believes that Kharaj (homage revenue) belongs to the king then it is disbelief.
- If any one teats another badly and he says that all the trouble emanated from him and Allah has so say in it then this is disbelief.
- If anyone is awarded a king's robe and he makes an offering while putting it one to please the king then he becomes a disbeliever. The slaughtered animal will be regarded as carrion which it is not allowed to eat.
- In some places, the custom of the Hindus is observed. When a child get small, women name a stone by its local name cheechak and begin to worship it expecting it to heal their child of small pox. They have the conviction that their child would recover in this manner. This is a form of disbelief and the woman who observe it are disbelievers. If their husbands approve it, then they too are infidels.

- Similarly, it is an act of disbelief to go to the banks of a river and worship its water and to slaughter an animal there. The animal is as disallowed as carrion is. Its flesh in forbidden.
- So, it is disbelief to keep a picture in the house and to worship it as the fire-worshippers do.
- When a child is born, a chart is drawn with cinnabar and oil is poured into it. Then it is worshipped in the name of bhuwani idol (Or an outline is drawn on the where after it is worshipped as bhuwani idol)
- Similarly, other such doings are polytheistic customs and liable to disbelief. The woman who practice them are all disbelievers and the marriage of each of them stands annulled.
- If anyone says that in the present age, you cannot survive unless you cheat and speak lies, or,
- you cannot earn a living unless you resort to falsehood in buying and selling, or,
- when advised not to cheat and lie they put forward the excuse that these things cannot be avoided.

  - these words make the speaker a disbeliever.
- If a man is advised not to lie and he says in answer, "This is more correct then the Kalimah (لاالہ الااللہ محمدرسول اللہ) then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone becomes angry and another person says, "It is better to be a disbeliever than to fly into a rage," then this adviser becomes a disbeliever.
- If a man speaks something that is not proper and another terminal him to be careful lest he fall into disbelief and he is tenacious. "If I fall into disbelief, what is it to you," then he becomes a disbeliever.
- If anyone gets an evil thought that could lead to disbelief and he thinks bad of it as he brings it to his tongue then it is a sign of faith, but
- if he brings it to his tongue with intention of disbelief then he becomes a disbeliever forthwith even if he adopts disbelief after one hundred years.
- If any one brings words of disbelief to his tongue willingly though his heart is firm with faith then he becomes a disbeliever (nevertheless). He will not remain a believer (nevertheless). He will not remains a believer in Allah's sight.
- If anyone utter forgetfully such words as are not liable to lead him to disbelief (but are wrong) then he remains a believer as he was and he need not make a repentance nor reaffirm his marriage ties.

A GENERAL CRITERION

If a person says or does something in which there are many responsibilities of disbelief and one in which disbelief is not possible, then the jurist is bound to learn towards this one that does not necessitate disbelief. But, if the person clearly chooses the possibility that leads to disbelief then the jurist does not have any option to resort to interpretation. If, however, his intention is based on the aspect that does not make a disbeliever, then he is a Muslim. And if, anyway, he chooses what leads to disbelief then no edict will benefit him. He will be instructed to make a repentance and revert from the wrong course that he has adopted and he must remarry his wife.

SUPPLICATION: It is proper for a Muslim to make his supplication every day, morning and evening. Insha Allah, he will be safe from every aspect of disbelief because this is what the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has said, (He is as-Sadiq and al Masduq – the truthful whom people have confirmed as such.)
The supplication is:

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّيْ اَعُوْذُبِكَ مِنْ اَنْ اُشْرِكَ بِكَ شَيْئًا وَاَنَا اَعْلَمُ بِهٖ وَ اَسْتَغْفِرُكَ لِمَا لَا اَعْلَمُ بِهٖ

(O Allah, I seek refuge in you from that I should associate anything with you while I know it. And I seek forgiveness for that which I do not know).

Praise belongs to Allah, we have completed the discourse on the means of disbelief that we reproduced from Alamgiri.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

APOSTATE IS PUT TO DEATH

(٣٥٣٣) عَنْ عِكْرَمَةَ قَالَ اُتِيَ عَلِيٌّ بِزَنَادِقَةٍ فَاَحْرَقَهُمْ فَبَلَغَ ذٰلِكَ ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ فَقَالَ لَوْ كُنْتُ اَنَا لَمْ اُحْرِقْهُمْ لِنَهْيِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاتُعَذِّبُوْا بِعَذَابِ اللّٰهِ وَلَقَتَلْتُهُمْ لِقَوْلِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ بَدَّلَ دِيْنَهٗ فَاقْتُلُوْهُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3533. Sayyiduna Ikrimah رضی الله عنه narrated that some Zindiqs were brought to (Sayyiduna) Ali رضی الله عنه who had them burned. This news was conveyed to (Sayyiduna) Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه who said, "Were I there, I would not have burned them because of the prohibition of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم, 'Do not inflict anyone with the punishment of Allah' (like consigning anyone to the fire). Rather, I would have killed them because of the saying of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم, "Those who change their religion, kill them.'"[1]

COMMENTARY: In reality, the zindiqs were a section of the Majusis who follow the book zand of Zardasht Majus as corrupted. However, in common parlance, every one who has apostated from his religion is called a zindiq (an atheist or a hertic, too).

In this hadith, too, the zindiq are those people apostated from Islam. Some ulama (Scholars) say that they were some of the followers of Abdullah ibn Sabsa. They pretended to be Muslims in order to create mischief and disorder in Islam and to mislead the Muslims. They claimed that Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه was divine. Hence, he had all of them arrested and demanded of them that they should repent and refrain from creating mischief. But, they did not submit.

Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه then had a large pit dug and had a fire kindled in it. Then he had them cast into the pit of fire.

It is reported that when Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه learnt of the statement of Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه he confirmed, "indeed Ibn Abbas has spoken the truth."

This means that Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه had used his ijtihad (discretion) and there was wisdom in having all of them burnt. He wanted that to serve as a warning to other people to refrain from such mischievous activities.

DO NOT INFLICT PUNISHMENT OF BURNING

(٣٥٣٤) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ النَّارَ لَا يُعَذِّبُ بِهَا اِلَّا اللّٰهُ۔

(رواه البخارى)

3534. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said "The fire! No one punishes with it, but Allah."[1]

(It is not fitting for any man to punish another for a crime whatever kind it be with fire).

THE KHAWARIJ PIN POINTED

(٣٥٣٥) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ سَيَخْرُجُ قَوْمٌ فِيْ اٰخِرِ الزَّمَانِ حُدَّاثُ الْاَسْنَانِ سُفَهَاءُ الْاَحْلَامِ يَقُوْلُوْنَ مِنْ خَيْرِ قَوْلِ الْبَرِيَّةِ لَا يُجَاوِزُ اِيْمَانُهُمْ حَنَاجِرَهُمْ يَمْرُقُوْنَ مِنَ الدِّيْنِ كَمَا يَمْرُقُ السَّهْمُ مِنَ الرَّمِيَّةِ فَاَيْنَمَا لَقِيْتُمُوْهُمْ فَاقْتُلُوْهُمْ فَاِنَّ فِيْ قَتْلِهِمْ اَجْرًا لِمَنْ قَتَلَهُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3535. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Towards the end of this age, a people will arise who will be young but foolish. They will speak good words of the people with their tongues but faith will not go past their throats. (This means that their salah (prayer) will not be accepted.) They will exit from religion (meaning, obedience to the ruler and the ulama (Scholars)) as an arrow gets past the game. So wherever you come across them, kill them, for a reward for killing them awaits on the day of resurrection those who kill them."[2]

COMMENTARY: They will speak good words of the people like the Quran. The Mishkah has it as translated (من خير قول البريه) but the Masabih has that they will speak words of the good people (من قول خير البريه) like the ahadith of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. The ulama (Scholars) say that the construction of the sentence as in the Mishkah is more correct because the ahadith say that the Khawarij will recite the verses of the Quran and give them their own wrong meaning to uphold their own false beliefs.

These people will get away from the obedience to the Imam (religious leader) and true scholars instantly without learning anything from them just as an arrow shoots past spotless. Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that the similitude of these people, when they enter religion and withdraw from it, is like the arrow that strikes a game from one side and withdraws from the other without receiving anything from its blood or flesh. They receive no influence of religion at all. They are disobedient to the ruler and the state and they do not hesitate to pick up arms against the people. The emerged first in the time of Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and he annihilated most of them.

RULING OF ULAMA (SCHOLARS) ABOUT THE KHAWARIJ: Khattabi رحمہ اللہ said that the ulama (Scholars) of this ummah agree that the community of the Khawarij are misled but, in spite of that, they are one of the sects of the Muslims. Hence, intermarriage is allowed with them, it is proper to eat animals slaughtered by them and their testimony is acceptable. It is reported that Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه was asked whether they are disbelievers. He said, "Indeed, they have fled to us from disbelief. How then may we call them disbelievers?" He was then asked, "Are they hypocrites?" He said, "A hypocrite remembers Allah but a little. So, we cannot call them hypocrites too," Then he was asked, "After all, what are they?" Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه said, "They are a sect of the Muslims who have succumbed to error and mischief. They have turned blind and dumb."

In short, the Khawarij are a sect of the Muslims. They have gone astray. Their fundamental belief is that a person becomes an infidel not only by committing a major sin but also when he perpetrates a minor sin.

PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم HAD FORETOLD THE COMING OF KHAWARIJ

(٣٥٣٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَكُوْنُ اُمَّتِيْ فِرْقَتَيْنِ فَيَخْرُجُ مِنْ بَيْنِهِمَا مَارِقَةٌ يَلِيْ قَتْلَهُمْ اَوْلَاهُمْ بِالْحَقِّ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3536. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "My ummah will divide (soon) into two groups. From among them such a (third) group will arise as will secede (from obedience and truth). They (of the two groups) who are nearest to the truth will assume the responsibility to eliminate them."[1]

COMMENTARY: One of the two groups are supporters of Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه and the second of Sayyiduna Mu'awiyah رضى الله عنه. A third emerged from them. They are called the Khawarij. Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه was the nearest to the truth and he shouldred responsibility to annihilate them and to nip their mischief in the bud.

MUSLIM KILLING A MUSLIM IS NEAR DISBELIEF

(٣٥٣٧) وَعَنْ جَرِيْرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ حَجَّةِ الْوَدَاعِ لَا تَرْجِعُنَّ بَعْدِيْ كُفَّارًا يَضْرِبُ بَعْضُكُمْ رِقَابَ بَعْضٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

3537. Sayyiduna Jareer narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said during the Farewell Pilgrimage (known as Hajj (pilgrimage)atul wada), "Beware! Do not revert to disbelief after me, "striking off each other's neck."[2]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps someone had asked, "How could one revert to disbelief?" So, the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "By striking each other's necks" This crime resembles what the disbelievers do and it takes one near to disbelief.

حَرِيْصًا عَلٰى قَتْلِ صَاحِبِهٖ(متفق عليه)

3538. Sayyiduna Abu Bakrah رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When two Muslims met and (in such a way that) one of them raises arms against his (Muslim) brother, they both come to the border of hell. Then, if one of them kill the other, both of them will enter it."

According to another version from him, he narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said: "When two Muslims meet one another with their swords, the killer and the killed will go to hell." He asked, "This one is the killer (and one understands why he goes to hell) but what causes the one killed (to go to hell)?" He said, "He too was as keen to kill his companion[1] (through he did not succeed).

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) say that both of them will be sent to hell when neither of them is justified. If one of them is right then only the unjust will be consigned to hell. It applies only if murder is premeditated and is not omitted in confusion.

The words, "He too was keen to kill his companion," show, as Ibn Malik رضی الله عنه says, that even intention to commit an unlawful thing makes one liable to reckoning. However, if one of them had merely defended himself and did not have any intention to kill the other, then he will not be questioned because Shari'ah (divine law) permit defensive measure.

FATE OF APOSTATES & BANDITS

(٣٥٣٩) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَدِمَ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَفَرٌ مِنْ عُكْلٍ فَاَسْلَمُوْا فَاجْتَوَوُا الْمَدِيْنَةَ فَاَمَرَهُمْ اَنْ يَّاتُوْ اِبِلَ الصَّدَقَةِ فَيَشْرَبُوْا مِنْ اَبْوَالِهَا وَاَلْبَانِهَا فَفَعَلُوْا فَصَحُّوْا فَارْتَدُّوْا وَقَتَلُوْا رُعَاتَهَا وَاسْتَاقُوا الْاِبِلَ فَبَعَثَ فِيْ اٰثَارِهِمْ فَاُتِيَ بِهِمْ فَقَطَعَ اَيْدِيَهُمْ وَاَرْجُلَهُمْ وَسَمَلَ اَعْيُنَهُمْ ثُمَّ لَمْ يَحْسِمْهُمْ حَتّٰى مَاتُوْ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ فَسَمَّرُوْا اَعْيُنَهُمْ وَفِيْ رَوَايَةٍ اَمَرَبِمَسَا مِيْرَ فَاُحْمِيَتْ فَكَحَلَهُمْ بِهَا وَطَرَحَهُمْ بِالْحَرَّةِ يَسْتَسْقُوْنَ فَمَا يُسْقَوْنَ حَتّٰى مَاتُوْا(متفق عليه)

3539. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that some people of 'Ukl come to the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم and embraced Islam. The climate of Madinah did not suit them (and they had swollen bellies and they turned pale). Therefore, he instructed them to go (outside the city) to (the place of) the camels of sadaqah (charity) and drink from their urine and their milk. They did that and recovered. After that they (strayed and) apostatized and (to add to that) they killed the herdsman and drove off (with) the camels. So (on learning of it), the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم sent (some) men behind them. They were brought. He had their hands and feet severed and their eyes blinded. Then he did not have them cauterized (to disinfect and) to stop flow of blood (as was the custom to prevent bleeding). So, they died finally.

According to another version: Hot needles were scratched in their eyes.

According to yet another version: He ordered that needles should be heated and they were driven in their eyes. Then he had them cast out on the harrah (a rocky land to the rest of Madinah). They asked for water but nothing of it was given to them till they died.[1]

COMMENTARY: Imam Muhammad رحمه الله has concluded from this hadith that the urine is pure of those animals whose flesh is lawful to eat. Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam ahmad رحمه الله also say the same thing: But, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله hold that the urine of these animals is impure any way for those people, the two Imams contend that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was informed by revelation that the cure of their malady by in urine of camels. So he gave that command to these people specifically.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that the urine of camels is not lawful to drink at all, not even as medicine, for, no one agrees that cure lies in urine. But, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله said that camel's urine is lawful for medical treatment.

Ibn Maalik رحمه الله said that the Prophet رضى الله عنه has forbidden mutilation, yet he awarded these apostates and bandits, this kind of punishment. Perhaps they had done the same thing to at the keepers of the camels, so the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave them this punishment in qisas (or retaliation). Or, their crime was great and warranted this kind of punishment, for they had turned apostates and had killed the keepers of the camels and had plundered the property of zakah (Annual due charity). The Imam (or ruler) has right to punish the criminal with different punishments to keep off others and to restore peace. Hence, the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had this in mind when he awarded them to punishment.

Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that the ulama (Scholars) have different opinions about the significance of this hadith.

Some scholars say that the event referred to in this hadith had taken place before the verses were revealed prescribing punishment under hudud and for bandits and robbers.

Also, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade mutilation after this event.

In this sense, this hadith is abrogated.

Other scholars, however, insist that this hadith is not abrogated. Rather, the verse was revealed on this occasion that the bandits should be awarded these punishment; they should be killed or hanged, or one hand and one foot of theirs should be severed.

But, the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had awarded them the punishment under qisas (or retaliation). The same thing was done to them as they had done to the herds of the camels.

The question remains: why were these bandits not given water when they were dying? The ulama (Scholars) say that this too was in retaliation. They too had denied water to the keepers of the camels and had tortured them to death;

Some other scholars say that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had not forbidden them water. Rather, the people had expressed and demonstrated their extreme hatred for these criminal and they were they denied them water on their own.

As for the ruling, the ulama (Scholars) rule unanimously that it is wajib (obligatory) to kill one who is awarded the death penalty. But, if he asks for water, then it should not be denied to him.

We reproduce here a relative portion from Tirmidhi hadith # 72 (Darul Isha'at Karachi)

RULING: This hadith touches on two juristic question: the urine of lawful animals and use of unlawful things as medicine. The contention of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله in the first issue is that it is impure, but a mild (light) impurity. The reason is that when the scholars differ on the question, it calls for flexibility in commands. The reason is that when the scholars differ on a question, it calls for flexibility in commands. The Hanafis rely on the hadith which calls upon Believer to guard themselves against drops of urine because generally it lead to chastisement in the grave. Their second evidence is the hadith # 70 (above) about the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم coming across two graves.

Both these ahadith do not specify and kind for urine. One has to keep himself away from being defiled by urine itself.

When two narrations seem to be contradictory then one must resort to sunrise to reconcile them. Hence, the Hanafi thought seems more agreeable, for, urine of a lawful animal and of an unlawful animal are the same. If one impure then the other is too.

Further, the hadith keep away from being defiled by urine is qawli (by word of mouth) and a prohibitive command. According to principle, the prohibitive one is preferred as a precautionary measure.

The Hanafis forward many explanations of the hadith of this chapter (under discussion).

1. The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم may have been informed by wahy that their cure lay in doing that (consuming camel urine).
2. He may not have instructed them to consume it but apply it externally.
3. He may have known that they were in reality disbelievers as, indeed, they apostatized thereafter.

THE SECOND QUESTION: Use of unlawful things as medicine. It is allowed to use them if it is an unavoidable situation. But, if there is no danger to life then there is a difference of opinion on the question. (Fadl Ahmad).

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

MUTILATION IS DISALLOWED

(٣٥٤٠-٣٥٤١) عَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَحُثُّنَا عَلَى الصَّدَقَةِ وَيَنْهَانَا عَنِ الْمُثْلَةِ۔ رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَرَوَاهُ النَّسَائِيُّ عَنْ أَنَسٍ۔

3540. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضى الله عنه narrated: Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم used to encourage us to give sadaqah (charity) and (used to) forbid us to mutilate any body.[1]

3541. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated the same hadith.[2]

COMMENTARY: Muthlah (مثلة) is to mutilate or sever any limb of a body. Some say that it is forbidden to cut any limb of anybody. Others say that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade it by way of makruh tanzihi (disapproved for purification), but the more correct is that to meant that it is unlawful to do so.

As for the mutilation mentioned in the previous hadith (# 3539), we have explained there that it was done in retaliation.

PROPHET'S MERCY رضی اللہ عنہ TO ANIMALS

(٣٥٤٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ قَالَ كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ سَفَرٍ فَانْطَلَقَ لِحَاجَتِهِ فَرَاَيْنَا حُمَّرَةً مَعَهَا فَرْخَانِ فَاَخَذْنَا فَرْخَيْهَا فَجَاءَتِ الْحُمَّرَةُ فَجَعَلَتْ تُفَرِّشُ فَجَاءَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ مَنْ فَجَعَ هٰذِهِ بِوَلَدِهَا رُدُّوْا وَلَدَهَا اِلَيْهَا وَرَاٰى قَرْيَةَ نَمْلٍ قَدْ حَرَّقْنَاهَا قَالَ مَنْ حَرَّقَ هٰذِهِ فَقُلْنَا نَحْنُ قَالَ اِنَّهُ لَا يَنْبَغِيْ اَنْ يُّعَذِّبَ بِالنَّارِ اِلَّا رَبُّ النَّارِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3542. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Abdullah رحمہ اللہ reported that his father narrated that they were on a journey with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He went to relieve himself (at one point during the journey).They observed a hummarah (a small bird) and two young ones with it. They took away the young birds. The hummarah came and began to spread out its wings (in protest). When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came (and saw it), he asked, "who has troubled this bird by removing its young? Give back to it its young ones." Then he observed the anthill that they had burned and asked "Who has burnt it?" They said, "We." He said, "It does not behave any one, but the Lord of the fire, that He should punish with the fire."[1]

COMMENTARY: The hummarah is a bird of red colour, small like a sparrow.
The hadith concludes with the message that no human being has a right to burn anyone in fire. As for ants, if they sting people without provocation, then they may be killed, otherwise it is not proper to kill them. It is forbidden to burn down the ant hills and it is makruh (disapproved) to put them in water. If only one ant stings, then only that one should be killed. It is forbidden to kill the others with it.

WORST OF MANKIND FORETOLD BY THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٣٥٤٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ وَاَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ عَنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ سَيَكُوْنُ فِيْ اُمَّتِيْ اِخْتِلَافٌ وَ فُرْقَةٌ قَوْمٌ يُحْسِنُوْنَ الْقِيْلَ وَيُسِيْئُوْنَ الْفِعْلَ يَقْرَءُوْنَ الْقُرْاٰنَ لَا يُجَاوِزُ تَرَاقِيَهُمْ يَمْرُقُوْنَ مِنَ الدِّيْنِ كَمَا يَمْرُقُ السَّهْمُ مِنَ الرَّمِيَّةِ لَا يَرْجِعُوْنَ حَتّٰى يَرْتَدَّ السَّهْمُ عَلٰى فُوْقِهِ هُمْ شَرُّ الْخَلْقِ وَالْخَلِيْقَةِ طُوْبٰى لِمَنْ قَتَلَهُمْ وَقَتَلُوْهُ يَدْعُوْنَ اِلٰى كِتَابِ اللّٰهِ وَلَيْسُوْا مِنَّا فِيْ شَيْءٍ مَنْ قَاتَلَهُمْ كَانَ اَوْلٰى بِاللّٰهِ مِنْهُمْ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ مَا سِيْمَاهُمْ قَالَ التَّحْلِيْقُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3543. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ, and Sayyiduna Anas ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There will arise disagreement and dissension among my ummah. Some of them will be good at speech but evil in deeds. They will recite the Quran but it will not go beyond their throats. They will exit from the religion (meaning from obedience to the ulama (Scholars) and the imam) just as an arrow shoots past the game, not to return till the arrow returns to its notch. And, they are the worst of mankind and animals. Glad tidings are for them who kill them or who are killed by them! (Thus, those who contend against them to put on end to mischief and kill them or one killed have glad tidings in either way - as ghazis or as martyrs.) They (seem to) invite people to Allah's Book but are not among us (because they call for giving up the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) which are the base of exegesis of the Quran) He who fights against them is nearer to Allah then they are." Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم was asked (by his sahabah) رضى الله عنهم, "O Messenger of Allah, what distinguishes them (from the others)?" He said, "At-tahleeq!" (shaving the heads). [1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words means that three will be some people in his ummah who spread dissension and create disunity among the Muslims. Their symbol is that they will speak well but their deeds will be very bad. They will seem to be the only one who wish well for the religion an are sincere to Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and the Muslims but their deeds will be compatible with those who are tools of Islam's enemy, aspirants of wealth and fame and slaves to base desires.

The words that they would recite the Quran...could be an elaboration of the previous words. Or, as Shatbi says, a separate phrase of substitution. Or, it explains the dissension itself; two sections will arise, one will be on the right and the other will be false. Teebi said that this opinion is supported by the hadith (# 3536) and in this case the word (قوم) (people) will be the qualified noun of the next sentence. The predicate is (يقرون القران) (will recite the Quran) and it describes the false sect. The true sect is then known (by itself) automatically.

Their recital will be mere delivery and pronunciation of words. They will not derive any benefit from the verses of the Quran. Therefore, they will not believe in them and will not conduct themselves on the commands of the Quran.

The words could also mean that their recital will not be accepted by Allah and be accepted by Allah and will not go beyond their throats.

The hadith says that these dissenters and apostates will not return to religion till the arrow that is shot returns to its notch from where it was shot. Now, the arrow cannot do that so it is clear that the return of these people to religion is impossible. This particular sentence recalls the words of the Quran:

حَتّٰى يَلِجَ الْجَمَلُ فِيْ سَمِّ الْخِيَاطِ

{....until the camel passes through the eye of the needle.} (7: 40)

The message of the hadith is that those people are utterly ignorant and misled and are in a false impression that they are on the straight path already, so it is impossible for them to come to the folds of religion.

As for the final word (التحليق) (at-tahleeq - 'shaving the heads'), the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم mentioned it because, in that time, the Arabs were not accustomed to shave their heads. This saying in no way detracts from shaving head because it is a symbol of religion and obedience to Allah. It is the practice of the pious and the righteous.

Some scholars say that tahleeq does not mean 'shaving head' Rather, it means to get people to sit in circles as these apostates used to make them do to show off.

THREE POSSIBILITIES OF DEATH PENALTY

(٣٥٤٤) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَحِلُّ دَمُ امْرِءٍ مُسْلِمٍ يَشْهَدُ اَنْ لَّا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا

[1] Abu Dawud # 4765, Musnad Ahmad 3-224.

اللّٰهُ وَاَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَّسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ اِلَّا بِاِحْدٰى ثَلَاثٍ زِنًى بَعْدَ اِحْصَانٍ فَاِنَّهٗ يُرْجَمُ وَرَجُلٌ خَرَجَ مُحَارِبًا لِلّٰهِ

وَرَسُوْلِهٖ فَاِنَّهٗ يُقْتَلُ اَوْيُصَلَّبُ اَوْيُنْفٰى مِنَ الْاَرْضِ اَوْيَقْتُلُ نَفْسًا فَيُقْتَلُ بِهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3544. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "It is not lawful to shed the blood of a Muslim person who testifies that there is no God but Allah and that Muhammad is Allah's Messenger, except for one of three reasons: Fornication after marriage which is punishable by stoning to death. One who comes out to fight with Allah and His Messenger (by resorting to robbery and rebellion), so he must be killed, or hanged, or imprisoned. And, one who kills someone (deliberately), so he must be killed in retaliation."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word is (محصن) (muhsin). He is a Muslim freeman, responsible and married who has had sexual intercourse with his wife. If he commits fornication then he is stoned to death.

The qazzaq (or robber) is given one of three punishments:

(i) killing,
(ii) hanging, or
(iii) imprisonment.

If he could not rob but did kill someone in the process then he should be killed. And if he robbed as well as killed someone then he should be hanged. Imam Maalik رحمه الله said that he should be killed by hanging, but Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله said that he should be killed first and his body must be hanged for others to see and take heed.

As for the third kind which is imprisonment, Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله interprets the words of the hadith to mean that he should be exiled from place to place and never allowed to stay at any one place to deny him peace and comfort.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله interprets the words to mean that he should be imprisoned.

The punishment of imprisonment (or exile) is enforced when he neither robs nor kills but he pesters the passers by instilling fear in them and creating chases.

This portion about punishment to robbers is derived from the verse of the Quran.

اَيْدِيْهِمْ وَاَرْجُلُهُمْ مِّنْ خِلَافٍ اَوْيُنْفَوْا مِنَ الْاَرْضِ۔ (المائدہ ۵: ۳۳)

{Those who fight with Allah and His Messenger and run about trying to spread disorder on earth, their punishment is no other than that they shall be killed, or be crucified, or their hands and legs cut off from different sides, or they be kept away from the land (they live in)} (5: 33)

The words [their hands and legs must be cut off from different sides] ought to have been in the hadith to make it agree with the verse. It is strongly possible that they were there originally in the hadith before the words 'or banished from the land' (or imprisoned) but the narrator may have forgotten to mention them, or he may not have included them preferring brevity.

The word (او) (or) is found in the hadith as well as the Quran to elaborate but some scholars say that it suggest an option. The ruler was exercise his discretion to award any one of these punishments to the robber.

DO NOT FRIGHTEN A MUSLIM

(٣٥٤٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ اَبِي لَيْلَى قَالَ حَدَّثَنَا اَصْحَابُ مُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّهُمْ كَانُوْا يَسِيْرُوْنَ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَنَامَ رَجُلٌ مِّنْهُمْ فَانْطَلَقَ بَعْضُهُمْ اِلَى حَبْلٍ مَعَهُ فَاَخَذَهُ فَفَزِعَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَحِلُّ لِمُسْلِمٍ اَنْ يُّرَوِّعَ مُسْلِمًا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3545. Sayyiduna Ibn Abu Layla رحمه الله said that some of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم of Muhammad رضی الله عنه narrated that they were on a journey one night with Allah's Messenger. One of them went to sleep and another approached him and placed a rope (round him). He took it and was alarmed. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم (observed it and) said, "It is not lawful for a Muslim to frighten another Muslim."[1]

DO NOT SURRENDER YOUR HONOUR TO BUY A NON MUSLIM'S IGNOMINY

(٣٥٤٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ عَنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ اَخَذَ اَرْضًا بِجِزْيَتِهَا فَقَدِ اسْتَقَالَ هِجْرَتَهُ وَمَنْ نَزَعَ صَغَارَ كَافِرٍ مِنْ عُنُقِهِ فَجَعَلَهُ فِي عُنُقِهِ فَقَدْ وَلَّى الْاِسْلَامَ ظَهْرَهُ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3546. Sayyiduna Abu Darda رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If anyone buys a land on which jizyah is imposed, then, indeed, he has revoked hijrah. And, if anyone removes an infidel's ignominy from his neck and puts it on his own, then, indeed, he has put Islam behind his back."[2]

COMMENTARY: (JIzyah is a head-tax or a poll-tax imposed on non-Muslims in Islamic country against protection to them and they are called dhimmis. And hijrah is migration to Muslim land.)

If a Muslim buys from a dhimmi a land on which jizyah is payable then he will be liable to pay the jizyah that the seller had been paying. Because of this the Muslim will loss the honour and rights that he had acquired on emigrating to Islamic territory and will burden himself with the disgrace of a non Muslim by shouldering the severity of the jizyah.

In other words, he puts on his neck the ignominy of the infidel and pays for it by surrendering his honour. Thereby, he makes disbelief stand for Islam.

Khattabi رحمه الله said that in this hadith jizyah stands for kharaj (homage revenue) (which is a tax imposed on non-Muslims on land revenue). When a Muslim buys from an infidel a land on which Kharaj (homage revenue) is payable, then kharaj (homage revenue) will not be waived. The Muslim buyer will have to pay it.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله rules accordingly.

MUSLIMS MUST NOT MINGLE WITH THE DISBELIEVERS

بَرِيْءٌ مِنْ كُلِّ مُسْلِمٍ مُقِيْمٍ بَيْنَ أَظْهُرِ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ لِمَ؟ قَالَ لَا تَتَرَاءٰى نَارَاهُمَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3547. Sayyiduna Jarir ibn Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent an expedition to Khath'am. Some of them sought protection by making prostration (meaning, offering salah (prayer) to make clear to the Muslim any that they were Muslims who had mingled with the disbelievers). But, their killing was hastened (for, the Muslim army did not trust them, imagining that they were deceiving them to save their skin, so they killed them too with the others). When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم learnt of that, he ordered that half the bloodwit should be paid for them (to their heirs). And, he said, "I am absolved of responsibility for every Muslim who resides among the polytheists." The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم asked, "O Messenger of Allah, why (is it so)?" He said, "Their fires should not be seen by one another."[1]

(Muslims should stay so far away from the disbelievers for the fire to not be visible. If any Muslim mingles with them then its is as though he does not care for the command.)

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم decided to give half bloodwit for the Muslim to their heirs and not the full. The reason was that they had chosen to reside among the polytheists and had sort of abetted in their own killing.

It is to this that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم hinted when he declared that he was absolved of responsibility over Muslims who mingled with non Muslims.

He said that Muslims should reside so far away from the polytheists that their respective fires should not be visible to one another.

DO NOT KILL ANYONE WITHOUT FIRST FINDING OUT FACTS

(٣٥٤٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْإِيْمَانُ قَيَّدَ الْفَتْكَ لَا يَفْتِكُ مُؤْمِنٌ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3548. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said "faith forbids a sudden assault. So, a believer does not kill anyone suddenly."[2]

COMMENTARY: A Muslim must not take anyone's life of a sudden and without ascertaining who the other is: a Muslim or an infidel. This same command applies for a dhimmi because he is under protection of the Muslim state. He should not be killed. Of course, this command does not apply to one who creates mischief in the Islamic state. Examples of this are ka'b ibn Ashraf the Jew and Abu Rafi they were killed spontaneously. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was commanded by Allah to kill these two men. Some people say that these two men were killed before the prohibition (in this hadith) to kill anyone suddenly.

KILLER OF SLAVE WHO FLEES TO ENEMY TERRITORY WILL NOT BE QUESTIONED

(٣٥٤٩) وَعَنْ جَرِيْرٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِذَا أَبَقَ الْعَبْدُ إِلَى الشِّرْكِ فَقَدْ حَلَّ دَمُهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3549. Sayyiduna Jarir narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When a slave runs away to polytheism (meaning, enemy territory), his blood becomes lawful."[3]

[3] Abu Dawud # 4360, Musnad Ahmad 4. 362.

COMMENTARY: The hadith means that if anyone kills such a slave then he will not be answerable. The slave preferred to take refuge with the polytheists and leave the Islamic territory. And if a slave not only flees to ·nemy land but also renegades then his blood is lawful to a great degree.

KILLING ONE WHO IS DISRESPECTFUL TO THE PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم

(٣٥٥٠) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ أَنَّ يَهُودِيَّةً كَانَتْ تَشْتِمُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَتَقَعُ فِيهِ فَخَنَقَهَا رَجُلٌ حَتَّى مَاتَتْ فَأَبْطَلَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ دَمَهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3550. Sayyiduna Ali narrated that a Jewess used to revile the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and to find fault with him. One man (could not tolerate her words of insult of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and he) strangled her to death. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم forgave him her blood.[1]

COMMENTARY: If a disbelieving dhimmi is disrespectful to the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then he violates the covenant which allows him protection by the Islamic state. He becomes like an enemy disbeliever whose blood may be shed lawfully. This is as Imam Shafi'I says.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that his covenant does not become invalid because of it. This question may be found in books of fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) toward the end of the Kitab ul jizyah. The Hidayh has also reproduced relative arguments.

SORCERER MAY BE KILLED

(٣٥٥١) وَعَنْ جُنْدُبٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حَدُّ السَّاحِرِ ضَرْبَةٌ بِالسَّيْفِ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

3551. Sayyiduna Jundub رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The hadd (or the prescribed punishment) awarded to a sorcerer is to put him the he sword."[2]

COMMENTARY: The scholars say that it is forbidden to practice sorcery.

They have different opinions about it. Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله said that a sorcerer should be put to death if his sorcery leads to disbelief and he does not repent.

Imam Maalik رحمه الله and some other scholars maintain that a sorcerer is an infidel, sorcery is disbelief, to learn and teach sorcery is disbelief. The sorcerer must be killed and he (or she) should not be asked to repent whether he has cast a spell on a Muslim or on a dhimmi.

The Hanafis hold that if the sorcerer's conviction is that the devil is the doer and does for him whatever he (the devil) likes, then the sorcerer is a disbeliever. If his conviction is that sorcery is merely an imagination or a thought of the mind, then he is not a disbeliever but a sinner. It is forbidden to learn sorcery.

In the marginal notes of Dhur Mukhtar, Tahtawi, it is written that sorcery is of three kinds: (i) fard (compulsory), (ii) haram,(iii) Ja'iz.

(i) If anyone learn it to remove the effects of the witchcraft of the enemy then it is fard (compulsory) (obligatory).

(ii) If anyone learns it to grow discord between husband and wife then it is haram (forbidden).

(iii) If anyone learns it to grow love between husband wife then it is Ja'iz (allowable).

The Hanbali scholars have differing views on magic being disbelief but their books are cited in Tanqih that the repentance of a sorcerer is not reliable. He becomes a disbeliever because of his sorcery.

He who practices sorcery on a Muslim must be killed.

Other things that are forbidden like sorcery are:

Soothsaying, astrology, divination and sleight of hand.

Not only learning and teaching but also earning through these things are forbidden.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

(٣٥٥٢) عَنْ أُسَامَةَ بْنِ شَرِيْكٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَيُّمَا رَجُلٍ خَرَجَ يُفَرِّقُ بَيْنَ أُمَّتِيْ فَاضْرِبُوْا عُنُقَهُ۔ (رواه النسائی)

3552. Sayyiduna Usamah ibn Sharik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Any man who goes out (against the imam of the time) and creates division among my ummah strike his neck off."[1]

COMMENTARY: The imam is the axis on which the unity of the ummah is based. Every Muslim is bound to obey and be faithful to him. He brings all Muslims under one banner as a united force against the enemy of Islam. He keeps alive the glory of Islam.

If anyone goes out of this united sphere, then he is not the perpetrator of just one evil but he tries to disturb the unity of the whole ummah.

Hence, if anyone has any misgivings, then they may be removed to his satisfaction. But, if he does not desist and no amount of effort to correct him works, then he must be killed. This is as Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ had done with the Khawarij.

KHAWARIJ WERE FORETOLD

(٣٥٥٣) وَعَنْ شَرِيْكِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ قَالَ كُنْتُ أَتَمَنّٰى أَنْ أَلْقٰى رَجُلًا مِنْ أَصْحَابِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَسْأَلُهُ عَنِ الْخَوَارِجِ فَلَقِيْتُ أَبَابَرْزَةَ فِيْ يَوْمِ عِيْدٍ فِيْ نَفَرٍ مِنْ أَصْحَابِهٖ فَقُلْتُ لَهٗ هَلْ سَمِعْتَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَذْكُرُ الْخَوَارِجَ قَالَ نَعَمْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِأُذُنَيَّ وَرَاَيْتُهٗ بِعَيْنَيَّ أُتِيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِمَالٍ فَقَسَمَهٗ فَأَعْطٰى مَنْ عَنْ يَمِيْنِهٖ وَمَنْ عَنْ شِمَالِهٖ وَلَمْ يُعْطِ مَنْ وَرَاءَهٗ شَيْئًا فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ مِنْ وَّرَائِهٖ فَقَالَ يَا مُحَمَّدُ مَا عَدَلْتَ فِي الْقِسْمَةِ رَجُلٌ أَسْوَدُ مَطْمُوْمُ الشَّعْرِ عَلَيْهِ ثَوْبَانِ أَبْيَضَانِ فَغَضِبَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ غَضَبًا شَدِيْدًا وَقَالَ وَاللّٰهِ لَا تَجِدُوْنَ بَعْدِيْ رَجُلًا هُوَ أَعْدَلُ مِنِّيْ ثُمَّ قَالَ يَخْرُجُ فِيْ اٰخِرِ الزَّمَانِ قَوْمٌ كَانَ هٰذَا مِنْهُمْ يَقْرَءُوْنَ الْقُرْاٰنَ لَا يُجَاوِزُ تَرَاقِيَهُمْ يَمْرُقُوْنَ مِنَ الْإِسْلَامِ كَمَا يَمْرُقُ السَّهْمُ مِنَ الرَّمِيَّةِ سِيْمَاهُمُ التَّحْلِيْقُ لَا يَزَالُوْنَ يَخْرُجُوْنَ حَتّٰى يَخْرُجَ اٰخِرُهُمْ مَعَ الْمَسِيْحِ الدَّجَّالِ فَإِذَا لَقِيْتُمُوْهُمْ هُمْ شَرُّ الْخَلْقِ وَالْخَلِيْقَةِ۔ (رواه النسائی)

[1] Nasa'i # 4023, (4028), Tabarani Kabir # 487, Kubra # 3486.

3553. Sayyiduna Sharik ibn Shihab رحمه الله narrated that he cherished a desire to meet one of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم of the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم and to ask him about the Khawarij. (He wanted to know whether the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم had foretold the ones that had begun to appear.) He met Abu Barzah رضی الله عنه on the day of eed among some of his companions, and asked him, "Had you heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم mention the Khawarij?" He said, Yes! I did hear Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم with my ears and saw him with my eyes. Some property was brought to Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم. He divided it. He gave to those on his right and to those on his left, but he gave nothing to those who were behind him. A man (among those) behind him got up and complained, 'O Muhammad, you have not been fair in dividing." He was a black man with all his hair shaved off and he was wearing a pair of white garments. This made Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم very angry. He said, 'who will you find after me more just then I am?' Then, he added, 'toward the end of time, a people will emerge and this one seems to be one of them. They will recite the Quran but it will not go past their throats. They will (rebel against the ruler and) turn away from Islam (as rapidly) as an arrow shoots past the game at which it is shot. Their peculiar sign will be at tahleeq (their shaved heads). They will not cease to appear (in every age) till the last of them emerges with al-masih ad-dajjah. (He will come out against Easa علیه السلام when he descends on earth before the Last day). When you meet them, (kill them, for) they and the worst of man and animals."[1]

FACES OF THE DAY OF RESURRECTION

(٣٥٥٤) وَعَنْ اَبِیْ غَالِبٍ رَأَى اَبُوْ اُمَامَةَ رُءُوْسًا مَنْصُوْبَةً عَلٰى دَرَجِ دِمَشْقَ فَقَالَ اَبُوْ اُمَامَةَ كِلَابُ النَّارِ شَرُّ قَتْلٰى تَحْتَ اَدِيْمِ السَّمَاءِ خَيْرُ قَتْلٰى مَنْ قَتَلُوْهُ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ يَوْمَ تَبْيَضُّ وُجُوْهٌ وَ تَسْوَدُّ وُجُوْهٌ۔ الْاٰيَة۔ قِيْلَ لِاَبِیْ اُمَامَةَ اَنْتَ سَمِعْتَ مِنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَوْلَمْ اَسْمَعْهُ اِلَّا مَرَّةً اَوْمَرَّتَيْنِ اَوْثَلَاثًا حَتّٰى عَدَّسَبْعًا مَا حَدَّثْتُكُمُوْهُ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِیُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِیُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ۔

3554. Sayyiduna Abu Ghalib رحمه الله narrated that Abu Umamah رضی الله عنه saw some heads (of the Khawarij) hanging on the road of Damascus - or they were placed thereon. He remarked, "Dogs of hell! The worst of those slain under the sky (on the surface of the earth)! The best of those slain were the ones they have killed!" then he recited:

يَوْمَ تَبْيَضُّ وُجُوْهٌ وَ تَسْوَدُّ وُجُوْهٌ۔ الْاٰيَة

{On the day when (some) faces are brightened and other faces are blackened...} (3: 106, to the end)

Someone asked Abu Umamah, "Did you hear it from Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم He said, "If I had not heard it once, twice, thrice," (four times....) till he counted up to seven times. "I would not have mentioned it to you."[2]

---

[1] Nasa'i # 4103.

[2] Tirmidhi # 3000 (3011), Ibn Majah # 176, Musnad Ahmad 5-256.

(He meant that he had heard it very often from the Prophet.) صلى الله عليه وسلم

COMMENTARY: The verse that Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضى الله عنه recited is in full:

يَوْمَ تَبْيَضُّ وُجُوهٌ وَّتَسْوَدُّ وُجُوهٌ فَأَمَّا الَّذِيْنَ اسْوَدَّتْ وُجُوهُهُمْ أَكَفَرْتُمْ بَعْدَ إِيْمَانِكُمْ فَذُوْقُوا الْعَذَابَ بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَكْفُرُوْنَ - (آل عمران ٣: ١٠٦)

{On the day when (some) faces are brightened and other faces are blackened, then as for those whose faces are blackened (it will be said to them), "Did you disbelieve after your belief? So taste the chastisement because of what you disbelieved.} (3: 106)

Then ulama (Scholars) say about the heads mentioned in the hadith that they belonged to the apostates. Some others say that they be longed to the innovators. But, Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضى الله عنه said that they belonged to the Khawarij.

{The name of Abu Ghalib رحمه الله was Hazawwar and of Abu Umamah Bahili رضى الله عنه was Sudayy ibn Ajlan, the chief of the Bahilah tribe}.

KITAB-UL-HUDUD كِتَابُ الْحُدُوْدِ

PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT

MEANING OF HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT): the word hudud is the plural of the word hadd (prescribed punishment). The true meaning of hadd (prescribed punishment) is 'forbidden.' It also stands for 'obstruction. In Shari'ah (divine law), hudud are the punishments that are prescribed by Allah's Book and the sun nah of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and are defined, too. Examples are punishment for robbery, adultery, drinking wine.

If the basic meaning of hadd (prescribed punishment) 'obstruction' or' prohibition, is remembered then it will be clear why the prescribed punishments are so-called. It is because these punishments hinder the creatures from committing sin, for, fear of them comes between man and crime.

*Hudud*ullah are also the maharim or a degree of consequently.[1]

It is as Allah, the Exalted, says:

تِلْكَ حُدُوْدُ اللّٰهِ فَلَا تَقْرَبُوْهَا

{They are the limits of Allah, so do not go near them} (2: 187)

It must be borne in mind that 'hudud' applies in both cases in its basic sense of 'forbidden' or 'prohibited' because marriage and being alone with the maharim is also forbidden and prohibited, as is to exceed the decrees or maqadir of Shariah.

DETAILS OF PUNISHMENT: If we look at the law relating to 'crime and punishment' in Shari'ah (divine law), we find that here are three kinds of punishments in Shari'ah (divine law). They are:

(1) The punishment that are prescribed and defined by Allah but they are enforced by the creatures. No outside power, like the ruler or the state, can interfere to prescribe them. This kind of punishment is termed by Shari'ah (divine law) as Kaffarah (expiation or atonement). Examples of its application are expiation for breaking an oath, breaking a prescribed fast in Ramadan.

(2) The punishments that are prescribed by the Book of Allah and the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and are defined too (for the defined crimes). While the ruler and the state have the right to enforce them, yet no one can enact them. Shari'ah (divine law) terms this kind of punishment 'hadd (prescribed punishment); (Prescribed punishments or limits). Examples of their application are punishment for robbery, adultery, drinking wine.

[1] relations that cannot marry one another.

(3) The book and the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) have not prescribed these punishment but they have defined the evil things call for these punishments as crimes. The ruler and the state are authorized to prescribe the punishment at their discretion according to the circumstances. They have the right to enact the law but within the limits prescribed by Shari'ah (divine law). This kinds of punishment are termed by Shari'ah (divine law) as Ta'zeer (also spelt tazir), or dictionary punishment

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT) & TAZEER: The basic difference between hadd (prescribed punishment) and ta'zeer is that the former are punishments for violations of rights of Allah. No creature has a say in it. Ta'zeer is a term for punishments at the discretion of the creatures. The ruler may even forgive a person who is otherwise liable to receive this punishment. He may, depending on the circumstance and wisdom, reduce or increase or even change the punishment.

In short, hadd (prescribed punishment) is defined by Allah and no one is authorized to alter it. Ta'zeer is entrusted to the judge or the state. It is because of the lack of its determined nature that ta'zeer is not called hadd (prescribed punishment).

Qisas is also a creature's right. He is authorized to forgive the culprit. So, it cannot be called hadd (prescribed punishment).

CHAPTER - I

SECTION I

PROPHET'S JUDGEMENT IN A CASE OF ADULTERY[1]

(٣٥٥٥) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ وَزَيْدِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ اَنَّ رَجُلَيْنِ اِخْتَصَمَا اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اَحَدُهُمَا اقْضِ بَيْنَنَا بِكِتَابِ اللّٰهِ وَقَالَ الْاٰخَرُ اَجَلْ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَاقْضِ بَيْنَنَا بِكِتَابِ الله وَائْذَنْ لِّيْ اَنْ اَتَكَلَّمَ قَالَ تَكَلَّمْ قَالَ اِنَّ ابْنِيْ كَانَ عَسِيْفًا عَلٰى هٰذَا فَزَنٰى بِامْرَاَتِهٖ فَاَخْبَرُوْنِيْ اَنَّ عَلَى ابْنِي الرَّجْمَ فَافْتَدَيْتُ مِنْهُ بِمِائَةِ شَاةٍ وَبِجَارِيَةٍ لِّيْ ثُمَّ اِنِّيْ سَاَلْتُ اَهْلَ الْعِلْمِ فَاَخْبَرُوْنِيْ اَنَّ عَلَى ابْنِيْ جَلْدَ مِائَةٍ وَ تَغْرِيْبَ عَامٍ وَاِنَّمَا الرَّجْمُ عَلَى امْرَاَتِهٖ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَمَا وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسِيْ بِيَدِهٖ لَاَقْضِيَنَّ بَيْنَكُمَا بِكِتَابِ الله اَمَّا غَنَمُكَ وَجَارِيَتُكَ فَرَدٌّ عَلَيْكَ وَاَمَّا ابْنُكَ فَعَلَيْهِ جَلْدُ مِائَةٍ وَتَغْرِيْبُ عَامٍ وَاَمَّا اَنْتَ يَا اُنَيْسُ فَاغْدُ عَلَى امْرَاَةِ هٰذَا فَاِنِ اعْتَرَفَتْ فَارْجُمْهَا فَاعْتَرَفَتْ فَرَجَمَهَا۔ (متفق عليه)

told that my son would be stoned to death. So, I ransomed him with one hundred sheep and my female slave. Then, I asked the scholars and they informed me that my son was liable to receive one hundred stripes and to be banished for one year (because he was an unmarried man) and that this man's wife was liable to stoning to death (being a married woman). Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "By Him in whose hand is my soul, indeed, I shall judge between you in accordance with the Book of Allah. As for your sheep and your female slave they ought to be returned to you. Your son will be awarded one hundred lashes and will be exalted for one year (if he confesses his son, or there are four witnesses to establish the crime of fornication.)" Then he said to Unays رضى الله عنه. "O Unays, go to this man's wife. If she confesses, stone her to death." She did confess and he stoned her to death.[1]

COMMENTARY: The 'Book of Allah' does not refer to the noble Quran but to the command of Allah. The reason is that the Quran does not have the command of rajm or stoning to death mentioned in it. However, it is possible that this incident had taken place when the verse of rajm had not been abrogated from the Quran for recital and the words Book of Allah in the hadith refer to the Quran itself.

Imam Shafi رحمه الله contends that banishment for one year is part of hadd (prescribed punishment). He says that if an unmarried commits fornication then the punishment is one hundred stripes and being exiled for one year.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that one year's banishment is not part of hadd (prescribed punishment) but part of exigencies at the option of the ruler.

Some others maintain that in the inception of Islam, this rule applied but was abrogated when the verse 2 of surah an-Nur was revealed:

اَلزَّانِيَةُ وَالزَّانِيْ فَاجْلِدُوْا كُلَّ وَاحِدٍ مِّنْهُمَا مِائَةَ جَلْدَةٍ

(24: 2)

As for the woman, she confessed and Sayyiduna Unays رضى الله عنه stoned her to death. It seems that one confession is enough for the prescribed punishment to be imposed, and Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله goes by this. But, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله holds that it is necessary to confess four times in four sittings. He says that the confession in this hadith is the same, meaning four time. It is authentic and reliable and is clearly borne out by other ahadith.

UNMARRIED PERSON'S PUNISHMENT

(٣٥٥٦) وَعَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَأْمُرُ فِيْمَنْ زَنٰى وَلَمْ يُحْصِنْ جَلْدَ مِائَةٍ وَتَغْرِيْبَ عَامٍ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3556. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Khalid رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم give command about an unmarried man who commits fornication that he should be awarded one hundred lashes and be exiled for one year.[2]

COMMENTARY: The word in the text (محصن) (muhsin) is the sensible, adult Muslim who is married and had has a sexual relationship with his wife. If an unmarried man (ghayr muhsin) has illicit sex then he is punished as mentioned in this hadith: one hundred stripes and a year's banishment. The punishment of banishment has been explained previously. As for the stripes, they should not be hit on the head, face and concealed portions.

PUNISHMENT AWARDED TO MARRIED PERSON

(٣٥٥٧) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ قَالَ إِنَّ اللّٰهَ بَعَثَ مُحَمَّدًا (صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) بِالْحَقِّ وَاَنْزَلَ عَلَيْهِ الْكِتَابَ فَكَانَ مِمَّا اَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى اٰيَةُ الرَّجْمِ رَجَمَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَرَجَمْنَا بَعْدَهٗ وَالرَّجْمُ فِيْ كِتَابِ اللّٰهِ حَقٌّ عَلٰى مَنْ زَنٰى اِذَا اَحْصَنَ مِنَ الرِّجَالِ وَالنِّسَاءِ اِذَا قَامَتِ الْبَيِّنَةُ اَوْكَانَ الْحَبَلُ اَوِ الْاِعْتِرَافُ۔ (متفق عليه)

3557. Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: "Surely Allah sent Muhammad with the truth and revealed to him the Book, and among that which Allah, the Exalted, revealed is the verse of rajm (stoning). So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had the adulterers stoned to death and, after him, we have stoned them to death. And, stoning to death is established as a duty in Allah's Book, for married men and women, who perpetrate adultery once it is proved, or here is pregnancy, or a confession."[1]

COMMENTARY: The previous hadith mentioned the punishment imposed on an unmarried adulterer or adulteress. This hadith mentions the punishment a married man or woman faces when they commit adultery. Here again the word muhsin is used and it has been explained previously.

The verse of stoning to death was found in the Quran but subsequently abrogated for recital. The words have been removed but the command is retained. The verse was:

اَلشَّيْخُ وَالشَّيْخَةُ اِذَا زَنَيَا فَارْجُمُوْهُمَا اَلْبَتَّةَ نَكَالًا مِّنَ اللّٰهِ وَاللّٰهُ عَزِيْزٌ حَكِيْمٌ

The hadith concludes with the enumeration of three things as essential to establish that adultery is committed. They are:

(1) Witnesses,
(2) Pregnancy, and
(3) Confession.

Pregnancy is proof of illicit sex against an unmarried woman, but this command, too, has been rescinded. The requirement of testimony and confession stands. A married person who engages in illicit sexual intercourse will be stoned to death only when the crime is proved through witnesses or confession of the perpetrator.

ADULTERERS MUST BE STONED TO DEATH

(٣٥٥٨) عَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ خُذُوْا عَنِّيْ خُذُوْا عَنِّيْ قَدْ جَعَلَ اللّٰهُ لَهُنَّ سَبِيْلًا اَلْبِكْرُ بِالْبِكْرِ جَلْدُ مِائَةٍ وَتَغْرِيْبُ عَامٍ وَالثَّيِّبُ بِالثَّيِّبِ جَلْدُ مِائَةٍ وَالرَّجْمُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3558. Sayyiduna Ubadah ibn Samit رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Take from me (the command)! Take from me (the command)! Allah has appointed for those women a way! When unmarried people commit adultery, they should be awarded one hundred stripes and banished for one year. When married people commit adultery they should be awarded one hundred stripes and be stoned to death."[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith actually explains the verse (4;15); (او يجعل الله لهن سبيلا) {or Allah prescribes for them a way}

Allamah Turpushti رحمه الله said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم made this declaration when hadd (prescribed punishment) was prescribed for the (married) adulterer and adulteress. Hence, 'a way' means the hadd (prescribed punishment) that was not prescribed before that, but the command was valid that is prescribed in this versse:

وَالّٰتِيْ يَأْتِيْنَ الْفَاحِشَةَ مِنْ نِّسَآئِكُمْ فَاسْتَشْهِدُوْا عَلَيْهِنَّ اَرْبَعَةً مِّنْكُمْ فَاِنْ شَهِدُوْا فَاَمْسِكُوْهُنَّ فِي الْبُيُوْتِ حَتّٰى يَتَوَفّٰهُنَّ الْمَوْتُ اَوْ يَجْعَلَ اللّٰهُ لَهُنَّ سَبِيْلًا *۔ (النساء ۴: ۱۵)

{As for those of your women who commit indecency, call against them four witness from among you, then if they testify, confine them to (their) houses until death takes them or Allah appoints for them a way} (4: 15)

In short, if woman commit illicit sex and their sin is proved through witnesses, then they should be confined to their houses till they die, or Allah causes them to have a way, meaning, the hadd (prescribed punishment). Hence, when Allah revealed the command of hadd (prescribed punishment), the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Allah has appointed a way for women," meaning the hadd (prescribed punishment). Then, he explained what hadd (prescribed punishment) is.

This hadith prescribes for a married man who commits indecency one hundred stripes and stoning to death. The zawahir and some of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم and tabi'un رحمه الله abided by it, but the majority of the scholars say that if an adulterer or adultererss deserves to be stoned to death then the punishment of one hundred lashes is redundant. He will be stoned to death and the other punishments are superfluous. It is reported that one man Ma'iz had indulged in illicit sex in spite of being married. The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not award him the stripes but only stoned him to death. The same thing is known from the hadith about Ghamidiyah which we shall read and the hadith of Unays رضى الله عنه (#3555).

نَتَكَاتَمُهُ بَيْنَنَا فَأَمَرَ بِهِمَا فَرُجِمَا۔ (متفق عليه)

3559. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that some Jews came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and stated that one of their (married) man and (married) woman had committed adultery. He asked them what the Torah said about stoning to death and they said that they ought to disgrace them and to give them stripes. But, Abdullah ibn Salaam رضی اللہ عنہ (who was there) interjected, "You lie. It says that they should be stoned to death. Bring the Torah." (I shall show you the command.) They (brought it and) placed it open. One of them put his hand on the verse of rajm and recited what preceded it and what followed it. Abdullah ibn Salaam رضی اللہ عنہ instructed him to lift his hand from there. He did so and the verse of stoning was disclosed. They said, "O Muhammad, he has spoken the truth. The verse of stoning is there in it." Then, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم commended (accordingly) about both of them. They were stoned to death. According to another version: He (Abdullah ibn Salaam) رضی اللہ عنہ said to the man, "Remove your hand." So he lifted it up and as he did so, the verse of rajm was clearly (disclosed) in it. The man then conceded, "O Muhammad, there is the verse of stoning in it, but we have been keep it undisclosed among ourselves." He then gave orders about them (that they should be stoned to death) and they were stoned to death. [1]

COMMENTARY: Abdullah ibn Salaam رضی اللہ عنہ was a Jew previously but when Allah guided him, he become a Muslim. He was a front ranking scholar among the Jews. He had abundant knowledge of the Torah.

The Jew who had put his hand on the verse of rajm in the Torah was Abdullah ibn Suriya.

The punishment of rajm is awarded to married adulterers who are Muslim. Here, they were not Muslims, but the punishment was awarded to them according to their Book, the Torah, which also did not make it binding for it to be awarded only to married people. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم began to follow the Quran when the command was revealed in it and the command of the Torah was abrogated.

Moreover, Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ des not apply the word muhsin (married) only to Muslims. Any married man, Muslim or not Muslim, is liable to rajm if he commits fornication. Imam Abu Yusuf رحمہ اللہ also says the same thing. He is among the Hanafis.

One should not doubt that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم merely relied on the testimony of the Jews which is not worth while. It is not necessary that he did not have the confession of the accused for, he may have had the testimony of four Muslim too.

The book Mirqat of Mulla Ali Qari may be seen. Here, we have merely presented a synopsis from it.

RAJM FOR WHO CONFESSED TO INDECENCY

(٣٥٦٠) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ اَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَجُلٌ وَهُوَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ فَنَادَاهُ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنِّيْ زَنَيْتُ فَاَعْرَضَ عَنْهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَتَنَحّٰى لِشِقِّ وَجْهِهِ الَّذِيْ اَعْرَضَ قِبَلَهُ فَقَالَ اِنِّيْ زَنَيْتُ فَاَعْرَضَ

3560. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم when he was in the mosque (Masjid Nabawi). He called, "O Messenger of Allah, I have committed fornication. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم turned (his face) away from him. He came to where he had turned his face and standing opposite to him, repeated, "I have committed fornication." The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم turned away from him. When he testified (against himself) four times, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم called him (closer) and asked him, "Are you mad?" He said, "No!" He asked, "Are you married?" He said, "Yes, O Messenger of Allah," He said, "Take him away and stone him to death."
Ibn Shihab (a sub narrator) said that he who had heard from Jabir ibn Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ said that he said, "We stoned him in Madinah. As the stones hurt him, he run away. But, we caught up with him in the harrah and stoned him to death."
According to another version in Bukhari, Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that after his saying, "Yes!" the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ordered that he should be stoned to death. He was stoned at al-musallla (the place of salah (prayer) of Eed). When the stones struck him he fled, but he was nabbed and stoned to death. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم prescribed him highly and offered his funeral salah (prayer). (Or, the words mean that he prayed for him).[1]

COMMENTARY: The man confessed four times, each time from a different direction. In other words, they were four testimonies in four different sittings. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ has deduced from it that for adultery to be established, the accused must make four confessions in four sittings. This according to him, is a condition.
The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked him whether he was mad. He meant that to sane person would pave a way for his own stoning to death. He should have, rather, made a repentance to Allah and sought His forgiveness, and made a resolve never to commit sin again. Nawawi رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم intended to make it certain because generally no one so readily confesses to his sins and no one insists on that knowing that the punishment for it is death. Rather, a person finds it safe to get deliverance through repentance and have his sins forgiven.
It also shows that legal avenues must not be left unexplored to allow benefit of doubt to every Muslim. If a Muslim's life may be saved lawfully, then that must be done.
Further, if a mad man says that he has committed adultery then he must not be believed. Also, he must not be exposed to hadd (prescribed punishment).

[1] Bukhari # 5270, Muslim # 1601691, Bukhari # 5271. (Second version) # 6820.

Imam Nawawi رحمه الله also said that the ruler must also investigate if all the conditions are fulfilled before imposing the hadd (prescribed punishment), for example, the accused must be a married person to be subject to hadd (prescribed punishment). It is the same if he makes a confession himself or witnesses testify against him. It may be presumed from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم words that if such a person retracts his confession then he must be forgiven and the hadd (prescribed punishment) for adultery must be withdrawn.

Ibn Hammam رحمه الله said that when a man is stoned to death, he must be made to stand and face the stoning. He must not be made to hang on something or be suspended in the air. A woman who is stoned must be made to sit down and it is better if she is made to stand in a ditch and buried up to her chest so that her body is not bared. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had a ditch dug for ghamidiyh.

The ruling is that if a person who is being stoned to death runs away during the stoning then this person must not be chased if it is a punishment on voluntary confession. If the indecency is established through witnesses then the person must be chased and stoned to death.

Nawawi رحمه الله said about being stoned at al-Musalla that it was the place where funeral salah (prayer) used to be offered (not eed as in the text). This is corroborated by another version.

Bukhari رحمه الله and others say that if the place where the funeral salah (prayer) is offered or the eed salah (prayer) is offered is not designated as a mosque, then it will not come under the purview of rules applicable to mosques. However, generally the place where funeral salah (prayer) or eed salah (prayer) is offered attracts the same commands as apply to mosques. This means that blood must not be shed there, and it should be sanctified, Hence, the fornicator must not be stoned to death at these places meaning mosques.

HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT)* & TA'ZEER MUST NOT BE IMPOSED IN MOSQUES: Ibn Hammam رحمه الله said that neither hadd (prescribed punishment) nor ta'zeer must be enforced on any one in the mosques. All the ulama (Scholars) are unanimous about it. It is based on the saying of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.

قَالَ جَنِّبُوْا مَسَاجِدَكُمْ صِبْيَانَكُمْ وَمَجَانِيْنَكُمْ وَرَفْعَ اَصْوَاتِكُمْ وَشِرَائِكُمْ وَبَيْعَ وَاِقَامَةِ حُدُوْدِكُمْ وَجَمِّرُوْهَا فِيْ جُمْعِكُمْ وَضَعُوا عَلٰى اَبْوَابِهَا الْمُطَاهِرَ۔

[Preserve your mosques from your children, your madmen, raising of your voices, Your trading (buying and selling) and enforcing your hudud. On Friday, let there be incense in your mosques and make places of ablution at their gates.]

DO NOT PUNISH BEFORE PROBING

(٣٥٦١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ لَمَّا اَتٰى مَاعِزُ بْنُ مَالِكٍ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ لَهُ لَعَلَّكَ قَبَّلْتَ اَوْغَمَزْتَ اَوْنَظَرْتَ قَالَ لَا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ اَنِكْتَهَا لَا يَكْنِىْ قَالَ نَعَمْ فَعِنْدَ ذٰلِكَ اَمَرَ بِرَجْمِهٖ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3561. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه narrated that when (Sayyiduna) Ma'iz ibn Maalik رضى الله عنه came to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم (and submitted, "I have committed adultery,") he asked, "Perhaps, you merely kissed (her), or touched (her) with sexual intent, or looked (at her)?" But, he submitted, "No, O Messenger of Alalh!" So, he asked, "Did you have sexual intercourse with her?" He asked this question directly not by allusion. He confirmed, "Yes!" At that, he commended that he

(Ma'iz) should be stoned to death.[1]

3562. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی الله عنه narrated (Sayyiduna) Ma'iz ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه came to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, purify me!" (He meant that he should be punished in order to have his sin erased.) He said, "How Sad! Go away! Seek Allah's forgiveness and repent to Him!"

He narrated further that he went away but not far and came back only to repeat, "O Messenger of Allah, purify me!' The prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said (to him) like what he had said before, till when it happened (like that) the fourth time, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said to him, "Of what shall I purify you?" He submitted, "Of adultery." (by imposing hadd (prescribed punishment) over me). Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم asked (his sahabah)رضی الله عنه. "Is he mad?" He was told, "He is not insane." He asked,

"Has he drunk wine?" A man got up and sniffed at his breath but perceived not the smell of wine.
So, he asked, him, "Have you committed adultery. He said, "Yes!" So, he gave a command about him and he was stoned to death.
After two or three days, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم came and said, "Seek forgiveness for Ma'iz ibn Maalik. He has made so much repentance that if it were divide among an ummah, it would suffice them all."
Later, a woman of Ghamid of the tribe Azd came to him and submitted, "O Allah's Messenger, purify me." He said, 'Pity on you! Go back and seek Allah's forgiveness and repent to him." She asked, "would you like to send me back as you did send back Ma'iz ibn Maalik (while I am) a woman who is pregnant through adultery?" (There is no possibility of a denial any more) He asked, "You?" She Said, "Yes!" He said to her, "wait till you give birth to what you carry in your womb."
The narrator went on: An Ansar took responsibility for her till she had given birth to a child. Then, he went to the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and informed him that the woman of Ghamid had delivered a child. He said, "We shall not stone her and so leave her child without any one to suckle it." Thereupon another of the Ansar got up and submitted, "O Prophet of Allah. I take responsibility for the child's suckling."
The narrator added: He had her stoned to death.
According to another version: He instructed her to go and wait till she gave birth to the child when she did (and came to him), he instructed her to go and suckle the child and wait till she had weaned it. When she had done that, she came with the child holding a slice of bread in its hand and she submitted, "I have weaned this child, O Prophet of Allah, and he has eaten food." He handed over the child to one of the Muslims. He gave an order about her and she was put in a pit up to her chest. Then he instructed the people (to stone her) and they stoned her. Khalid ibn walid رضى الله عنه stepped forward with a stone that he flung at her head. Blood from it flew on his face, so he cursed her the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Be calm, O Khalid! By Him in whose hand is my soul! She has repented so much that if he who charges an unjust tax repents in like manner then he would be forgiven."
Then he gave an order about her and the funeral salah (prayer) was offered over her. Then she was buried.[1]
(the passive voice is as per the urdu translation.)

COMMENTARY: Certainly, the repentant of Ma'iz رضى الله عنه was such that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم spoke highly of his good fortune and excellence. It brought a forgiveness and mercy that covered a very large sanction of Allah's creation.

The enforcement of hadd (prescribed punishment) is called tawbah (repentance) because like repentance, it also washes off all sins.

Ibn Maalik رحمه الله deduces from the hadith that a pregnant woman should not be awarded the hadd (prescribed punishment) Prescribed punishment) till she gives birth to her child. In this way an innocent life will not be taken away. She should also be given respite till her child is weaned and is no more dependant on her if there is someone to look after the child. This is also the contention of Imam Abu Hanifah. رحمه الله.

The hadith is evidence that to charge unjust tax and other levies are very sinful. It is like snatching someone's property.
The word at the end of the hadith is salla (he offered salah (prayer) - (صلى) in sahih Muslim from all the narrators. This means that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم offered the funeral salah (prayer) over the woman. However, in the view of Tabari and in the versions of Ibn Abu Shayban and Abu Dawud the word is sulli (صلى) - in the passive voice) to imply that while the others offered the funeral salah (prayer), Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم did not offer it. Indeed, the version of Abu Dawud states very clearly that he did not offer it (لم يصل عليها) but instructed the people to offer it. This is why the imams differ on whether funeral salah (prayer) is offered over one who is stoned. Imam Maalik رحمه الله regards it to be makruh (disapproved).
Imam Ahmad says that the ruler and dignitaries must not offer it but the common people may offer the funeral salah (prayer) over such a person.
Imam shafi'I رحمه الله and Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله hold this person's funeral salah (prayer) should be offered as, in fact, of every such person who recites the kalimah, even if he was a sinner and indecent, and the hadd (prescribed punishment) was enforced on him.
According to another report, Imam Ahmad also gave the same opinion.
Qadi Iyad رحمه الله also outlined the two forms of the word salla and sulli (active and passive voice) in different books. He says that it is more proper that the word is in the active voice salla, If read with the preceding (ثم امربها) (then he gave a command concerning her). This means that he instructed them to give her body a bath and to enshroud it and to bring it to the place of the funeral salah (prayer). This is upheld by the words in sahih Muslim (# 64. 1696):

أَمَرَ بِهَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَرُجِمَتْ ثُمَّ صَلَّى عَلَيْهَا فَقَالَ لَهُ عُمَرُ تُصَلِّي عَلَيْهَا يَا نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ وَقَدْ زَنَتْ

{...then the Prophet pronounced judgment about her and her clothes were tied around her and he commanded and she was stoned to death. He then offered the funeral salah (prayer) over her. Umar رضى الله عنه submitted to him, "O Prophet of Allah you offer salah (prayer) over her while she had committed fornication..."}
It is stated explicitly in this hadith that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did offer the funeral salah (prayer) of this woman.
Qadi Iyad has made it clear too that though Muslim has not mentioned the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم offering the funeral salah (prayer) over Ma'iz ib Maalik رحمه الله Bukhari has mentioned it.
The Question arises that since most of the versions of Muslim has the active voice of the word (صلى) (salla), why do the authentic copies of Mishkat use the passive voice of this word (صُلِّى) (sulli)? He (the compiler) ought to have preferred the active voice because the positive is always chosen over the negative. But, since some reliable texts had the passive voice and there was a difference of opinion whether the funeral salah (prayer) was offered by the Prophet رضى الله عنه or not, the compiler of mishkat opted for the passive voice because it allows for both options. But, we must go by the majority and use the active voice to state that:

DEDUCTION: This hadith proves that hadd (prescribed punishment) (prescribed punishment) wipes out the sin for which it is imposed. In the hereafter t his person who is punished will not be questioned about the sin for which he is punished.

APPARENT DIFFERENCE: Finally, Nawawi رحمه الله has pointed out that of the two versions, the second makes it very clear that the woman had weaned the child before she was stoned to death. However, the first implies that she was punished when the Ansar man offered to shoulder responsibility for the suckling of the child. This may be explained by suggesting that even in the first version, it does not specify that the child was not weaned. The responsibility that the Ansar had taken to suckle the child was a figurative way of caring for it, because the child was an infant after all. He took responsibility to raise and nurture the child.

PUNISHMENT GIVEN TO INDECENT SLAVE GIRL

(٣٥٦٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِذَا زَنَتْ اَمَةُ اَحَدِكُمْ فَتَبَيَّنَ زِنَاهَا فَلْيَجْلِدْهَا الْحَدَّ وَلَا يُثَرِّبْ عَلَيْهَا ثُمَّ اِنْ زَنَتْ فَلْيَجْلِدْهَا الحَدَّ وَلَا يُثَرِّبْ ثُمَّ اِنْ زَنَتِ الثَّالِثَةَ فَتَبَيَّنَ زِنَاهَا فَلْيَبِعْهَا وَلَوْ بِحَبْلٍ مِنَ شَعْرٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

3563. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "when the female slave of any of you commits adultery and it is obvious (that she had done so), he must impose the had (prescribed punishment) on her of flogging. But, he must not disgrace her. When she commits adultery again, he must impose the hadd (prescribed punishment) on her of flogging. But, he must not disgrace her. Then, when she commits adultery a third time and it is obvious (that she has done so), he must sell her, even if only for a string of hair (meaning, the most insignificant thing).[1]

COMMENTARY: The hadd (prescribed punishment) that the master must impose on his earning female slave is to give her fifty stripes. The hadd (prescribed punishment) of male and female slave is half of that of free man. Moreover stoning to death is not prescribed for them.

Imam Shafi رحمه الله says on the basis of this hadith that a master may carry on and execute the hadd (prescribed punishment) himself.

The Hanafis, however, say that this is not allowed. They say that the hadith makes him responsible to present her to the ruler that he might impose the hadd (prescribed punishment). Once the female slave is awarded the punishment, she must not be taunted and disgraced. The hadd (prescribed punishment) wipes off her sins. This command is not only for female slave but also for the free woman, etc. since female slave are generally prone insults on sight faults, therefore this hadith mentions them particularly.

As for selling his erring female slave, he may sell her after imposing the hadd (prescribed punishment) on her, or without imposing it. However, the words of the hadith seem to suggest that he should dispose of her before imposing on her the hadd (prescribed punishment).

Imam Nawawi رحمه الله points out that the hadith discourage living with sinners and indecent people. He said that it is mustahab (desirable) to sell a female slave to this nature, but the Zawahir scholars say that it is wajib (obligatory) to part with her.

ABOUT THE HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT) ON THE SICK

(٣٥٦٤) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ يَا اَيُّهَا النَّاسُ اَقِيْمُوْا عَلٰى اَرِقَّائِكُمُ الْحَدَّ مَنْ اَحْصَنَ مِنْهُمْ وَمَنْ لَمْ يُحْصِنْ فَاِنَّ اَمَةً لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ زَنَتْ فَاَمَرَنِيْ اَنْ اَجْلِدَهَا فَاِذَا هِيَ حَدِيْثُ عَهْدٍ بِنِفَاسٍ فَخَشِيْتُ اِنْ اَنَا جَلَدْتُّهَا اَنْ اَقْتُلَهَا فَذَكَرْتُ ذٰلِكَ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اَحْسَنْتَ۔ رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ اَبِيْ دَاوُدَ قَالَ دَعْهَا حَتّٰى يَنْقَطِعَ دَمُهَا ثُمَّ اَقِمْ عَلَيْهَا الْحَدَّ وَ اَقِيْمُوا الْحُدُوْدَ عَلٰى مَا مَلَكَتْ اَيْمَانُكُمْ۔

3564. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ said, "O you people! Do enforce the hadd (prescribed punishment) on your (male and female) slaves (if they perpetrate adultery or fornication, fifty stripes), the married among them or the unmarried. Indeed, a female slave belonging to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had committed fornication. So, he commanded me to impose the hadd (prescribed punishment) (of lashes) on her. But, behold! She had given birth to a child recently. That caused me apprehension that if I whipped her then I might kill her Hence. I spoke of that with the noble prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and he agreed, saying. "You did well!"[1]

According to another version: He said, "Let her alone till her blood stops to flow. Then impose the hadd (prescribed punishment) on her. And impose the prescribed punishment on your slave (male and female)."[2]

COMMENTARY: According to this hadith a woman experiencing post -birth bleeding must be given respite from punishment till she stop bleeding. This is a kind of sickness and a sick person is not punished till he recovers.

Ibn Hamam رضی اللہ عنہ says that if a sick married person has committed fornication and is liable to stoning to death then he should be given that punishment during his sickness. If he is unmarried and has committed adultery and is liable to be lashed then he should not be awarded the lashes is his sickness but the punishment should be deferred till he recovers. However, if he suffers such an illness from which he might not recover or is infirm and feeble, then Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ and Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ say that the punishment must be carried out to fulfil the requirements of law by getting a branch of the date palm tree that has one hundred small twigs. He should be hit with that branch once in such a way that each of its one hundred twigs touches his body. It is necessary to use a wide, stretched out branch.

Moreover, the flogging should not be carried out in severe summer or in harsh winter. It should be enforced in a moderate climate (see hadith # 3574 about a sick punishment).

ADULTERER (LESS) RETRACTS CONFESSION

(٣٥٦٥) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ جَآءَ مَاعِزُ الْاَسْلَمِيُّ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اِنَّهُ قَدْ زَنٰى فَاَعْرَضَ عَنْهُ ثُمَّ جَاءَ مِنْ شِقِّهِ الْاٰخَرِ فَقَالَ اِنَّهُ قَدْ زَنٰى فَاَعْرَضَ عَنْهُ ثُمَّ جَآءَ مِنْ شِقِّهِ الْاٰخَرِ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّهُ قَدْ زَنٰى فَاَمَرَ بِهِ فِي الرَّابِعَةِ فَاُخْرِجَ اِلَى الْحَرَّةِ فَرُجِمَ بِالْحِجَارَةِ فَلَمَّا وَجَدَ مَسَّ الْحِجَارَةِ فَرَّ يَشْتَدُّ حَتّٰى

[1] Muslim # 1705.

[2] Abu Dawud # 4473, Tirmidhi # 1441, Musnad Ahmad 1-156.

3565. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: Ma'iz Aslami رضی اللہ عنہ came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and submitted that he had commit adultery, but he turned away from him. He came over to the other side and submitted, "I have committed adultery." But he turned away from him. He came over again and submitted. "O Messenger of Allah, I have committed adultery." When he repeated it the fourth time, he gave an order about him and he was taken to Harrah and was being stoned, when he felt the pair the stones caused, he fled till he come to a man who had the jawbone of a camel (in his hand). He struck him with it and (other) people (also resumed to) hit him till he died. They reported that to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying, "He fled on feeling the pain of the stones and the sense of death." He said, "Why did you not spare him?"

According to another version: He said, "why did you not spare him? He might have made a repentance and gained pardon from Allah."[1]

COMMENTARY: The final words mean that he could have repented and Allah would have relented to him.

According to this hadith if any one confesses having committed a sin but retracts his confession or says that he had lied or says that he takes back his confession, then the prescribed punishment of hadd (prescribed punishment) will become invalid. If he does the same thing while he is being punished then the remaining portion of the punishment will be waived. Some authorities say, however, that hadd (prescribed punishment) will not be waived nor become invalid.

CONFESSION OF MA'IZ رضی اللہ عنہ

(٣٥٦٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِمَاعِزِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ اَحَقٌّ مَابَلَغَنِيْ عَنْكَ قَالَ وَمَا بَلَغَكَ عَنِّيْ قَالَ بَلَغَنِيْ اَنَّكَ قَدْوَقَعْتَ عَلٰى جَارِيَةِ اٰلِ فُلَانٍ قَالَ نَعَمْ فَشَهِدَ اَرْبَعَ شَهَدَاتٍ فَاَمَرَبِهٖ فَرُجِمَ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3566. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked (Sayyiduna) Ma'iz ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ, "Is what is conveyed to me about you true?' He asked, "And what has been conveyed to you about me?" He said, It has been conveyed to me that you have had sexual intercourse wit h the slave girl belonging to so and so people." He said, "Yes" and he admitted it four times (in four meetings) so, he ordered that he should be s toned to death. And he was stoned to death.

COMMENTARY: The compiler of the Masabih has placed this hadith here in Section II though it ought to have been placed in Section I.

There is no contradiction between this hadith and the previous ahadith on this subject. Here, the mian subject is mentioned briefly and the initial confession of Ma'iz رضی اللہ عنہ is not mentioned. It is very much likely that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had known of Ma'iz' رضى الله عنه guilt beforehand and had him admit it in the manner mentioned in the other ahadith (# 3561, 3562, 3565). He had him do that four times in four positions.

CONCEAL FAULTS OF OTHER PEOPLE

(٣٥٦٧) وَعَنْ يَزِيْدَ بْنِ نُعَيْمٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ اَنَّ مَاعِزًا اَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَقَرَّ عِنْدَهٗ اَرْبَعَ مَرَّاتٍ فَاَمَرَ بِرَجْمِهٖ وَقَالَ لِهَزَّالٍ لَوْ سَتَرْتَهٗ بِثَوْبِكَ كَانَ خَيْرًا لَكَ قَالَ ابْنُ الْمُنْكَدِرِ اِنَّ هَزَّالًا اَمَرَ مَاعِزًا اَنْ يَاْتِيَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَيُخْبِرَهٗ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3567. Sayyiduna Yazid ibn Nu'aym رحمه الله reported on the authority of his father, that Ma'iz رضى الله عنه came to the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and confessed before him four times (in four positions to having perpetrated illicit sexual intercourse). So he ordered that he should be stoned to death. (That was done) And he said to Hazzal. رضى الله عنه "Had you covered him with our garment, that would have been better for you." (meaning, if you had concealed his sin of extra marital sex).

Ibn Munkadir رحمه الله (a narrator of this hadith) said that it was Sayyidah Hazzal رضى الله عنها who had induced Ma'iz رضى الله عنه to go to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and disclose to him what he had perpetrated.[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Hazzal رضى الله عنه had a female slave by the name of Fatimah رضى الله عنه whom he had set free. Mu'iz رضى الله عنه had illicit sex with Fatimah رضى الله عنه. When Hazzal رضى الله عنه learnt of it, he induced Ma'iz رضى الله عنه to disclose his affair to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. This is the reason the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم advised Hazzal رضى الله عنه that it would have been better for him not to disclose the sin of Ma'iz رضى الله عنه. "Allah would have concealed your faults."

(In this regard the hadith of Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه may be borne in mind: "A Muslim is a brother of another Muslim... and whoever conceals (faults of) a Muslim, Allah will conceal (his faults for) him on the day of resurrection.")[2]

NO RULER MAY CONDONE THE PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT

(٣٥٦٨) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْعَاصِ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ تَعَافَوْا الْحُدُوْدَ فِيْمَا بَيْنَكُمْ فَمَا بَلَغَنِيْ مِنْ حَدٍّ فَقَدْ وَجَبَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد و النسائي)

3568. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father, Shuayb رحمه الله that his grandfather, Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said "Forgive the enforcement of the prescribed punishment amongst yourselves (before I learn of them). If I learn of any crime calling for the prescribed punishment then it become wajib (obligatory) (to enforce it)."[3]

COMMENTARY: The people are advised to forgive each other and avert their punishment.

They are urged to be kind and not to bring cases against each other before rulers. Once it comes to the ruler then it is not allowed to him to forgive the accused and he must enforce the punishment.
The master of a slave may not enforce the hadd (prescribed punishment) on his slave himself nor is it proper for him to bring him to the ruler. Rather, he must forgive him.
Moreover, the advice to forgive is not a command of a wajib (obligatory) nature but is a mustahab (desirable) (recommended) course.

OVERLOOK THE MISTAKES OF THE RESPECTABLE

(٣٥٦٩) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَقِيْلُوْا ذَوِى الْهَيْئَاتِ عَثَرَاتِهِمْ اِلَّا الْحُدُوْدَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3569. Sayyiduna Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Overlook the mistake of the people of distinction, but not such acts as invite the prescribed punishment (on them)."[1]

COMMENTARY: If they commit a sin by mistake or fall into an error suddenly an unexpectedly then they must be forgiven. They should not be disgraced by subjecting them to punishment whether their slip or sin concerns rights of Allah or rights of fellow men. Of course, it Is not allowed to forgive them such sins as make them liable to the hadd (prescribed punishment), whether they concern rights of Allah or rights of human beings.
This command is directed to all people. Moreover, it is of the nature of mustahab (desirable).

BENEFIT OF DOUBT BE GIVEN TO THE ACCUSED

(٣٥٧٠) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِدْرَءُوا الْحُدُوْدَ عَنِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ فَاِنْ كَانَ لَهٗ مَخْرَجٌ فَخَلُّوْا سَبِيْلَهٗ فَاِنَّ الْاِمَامَ اَنْ يُّخْطِئَ فِي الْعَفْوِ خَيْرٌ مِّنْ اَنْ يُّخْطِئَ فِي الْعُقُوْبَةِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ قَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْهَا وَلَمْ يُرْفَعْ وَهُوَ اَصَحُّ۔

3570. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Mssenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "As for as you possibly can, preserve the Muslims from the imposition of the prescribed punishment. If there is any possibility of escape for a person then let him go, for it is better for a ruler or judge to err in forgiving then to err in punishing."[2]

COMMENTARY: These words are addressed primarily to the rulers. They should give benefit of doubt to the accused and to their best to ward off the punishment from him. In fact, they must encourage the accused to present an excuse, like asking him if he is mad. Examples are found in the case of Ma'iz رضى الله عنه whom the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم prompted a number of possibilities.
As for a ruler or judge making a mistake, this does impair the judgement. However, if the mistake is in favour of the accused then a Muslim's life is saved and his honour protected. Hence this mistake is better than committing one which plays with his life.

HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT) IS IMPOSED ON MAN WHO RAPES

(٣٥٧١) وَعَنْ وَائِلِ بْنِ حُجْرٍ قَالَ اسْتُكْرِهَتِ امْرَاَةٌ عَلٰى عَهْدِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَدَرَاَ عَنْهَا الْحُدُوْدَ

[1] Abu Dawud # 4375, Musnad Ahmad 6. 181.
[2] Tirmidhi # 1424.

وَأَقَامَهُ عَلَى الَّذِى أَصَابَهَا وَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ أَنَّهُ جَعَلَ لَهَا مَهْرًا۔ (رواه الترمذى)

3571. Sayyiduna Wa'il ibn Hujr رضى الله عنه narrated that, in the time of Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, a woman was compelled (to submit to a man's evil desire against her will. He absolved her of punishment, but imposed the hadd (prescribed punishment) on the man who had raped her. The narrator did not say any thing about whether the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم made a dower payable to the woman (by the man).[1]

COMMENTARY: If the narrator did not mention it, it does not fellow that a dower was not paid. Other ahadith do confirm that it is wajib (obligatory) to pay the mahr (dower) to women who are forced to submit to a man's evil desire against her will. The word mahr is actually used uqr[2] (عقر) which is a penalty payable to a woman who is subjected to illicit sexual intercourse. The amount is calculated according to what dower would have been wajib (obligatory) in a lawful relationship of marriage.

It is stated in fatawa Alamgiri that uqr is mahr mithl (proper dower). In other words, the rapist must be made to pay to the woman the amount equal to the dower proper to her status.

(۳۵۷۲) وَعَنْهُ أَنَّ امْرَأَةً خَرَجَتْ عَلَى عَهْدِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تُرِيْدُ الصَّلٰوةَ فَتَلَقَّاهَا رَجُلٌ فَتَجَلَّلَهَا فَقَضٰى حَاجَتَهُ مِنْهَا فَصَاحَتْ وَانْطَلَقَ وَمَرَّتْ عِصَابَةٌ مِنَ الْمُهَاجِرِيْنَ فَقَالَتْ إِنَّ ذٰلِكَ الرَّجُلَ فَعَلَ بِيْ كَذَا وَكَذَا فَأَخَذُوْا الرَّجُلَ فَأَتَوْا بِهِ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ لَهَا اذْهَبِيْ فَقَدْ غَفَرَ اللّٰهُ لَكِ وَقَالَ لِلرَّجُلِ الَّذِيْ وَقَعَ عَلَيْهَا ارْجُمُوْهُ وَقَالَ لَقَدْ تَابَ تَوْبَةً لَوْ تَابَهَا أَهْلُ الْمَدِيْنَةِ لَقُبِلَ مِنْهُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد الترمذى)

3572. Sayyiduna Wa'il ibn Hujr رضى الله عنه narrated that, in the time of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, a woman went out to go and offer the salah (prayer). On the way, a man met her and putting a sheet of cloth over her, (molested her and) had his desire fulfilled with her. She shouted and he fled. A group of the mujahirs passed by. She told them that the man had done wrong to her. They got hold of him and took him to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم who instruct ed the woman to go away, "Allah has forgiven you." And, he said about the man who had raped her. "Stone him to death.' Then he said, "He has repented so much (by enduring the hadd (prescribed punishment)) that if the inhabitants of Madinah had repented in this way, their repentance would have been accepted from them."[3]

COMMENTARY: The concluding words mean that the man endured punishment for his crime and thereby made a repentance. If that repentance was shared by the people of Madinah then not only would their repentance have been accepted but also its reward would have sufficed all of them. The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم made clear through these words that the man had committed a heinous crime but the punishment had purified him of his sin and he was forgiven.

DUAL PUNISHMENT

(٣٥٧٣) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ رَجُلًا زَنٰى بِاِمْرَاةٍ فَاَمَرَبِهِ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَجُلِدَ الْحَدَّثُمَّ اُخْبِرَ اَنَّهُ مُحْصِنٌ فَاَمَرَ بِهٖ فَرُجِمَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3573. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man had illicit sexual intercourse with a woman, so the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave command about him. He was awarded to stripes. Later, he was told that the man was married, so he gave command and the man was stoned to death.[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith shows that a ruler must amend his command when he learns that a culprit has been given a lighter punishment instead of what he ought to have been given.

HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT) ON A SICK CULPRIT

(٣٥٧٤) وَعَنْ سَعِيْدِ بْنِ سَعْدِ بْنِ عُبَادَةَ اَنَّ سَعْدَ بْنَ عُبَادَةَ اَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِرَجُلٍ كَانَ فِي الْحَيِّ مُخْدَجٌ سَقِيْمٌ فَوُجِدَ عَلٰى اَمَةٍ مِنْ اِمَائِهِمْ يَخْبُثُ بِهَا فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خُذُوْالَهُ عِثْكَالًا فِيْهِ مِائَةُ شِمْرَاخٍ فَاضْرِبُوْهُ ضَرْبَةً۔ رَوَاهُ فِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ ابْنِ مَاجَةَ نَحْوُهُ۔

3574. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn Sa'd ibn Ubadah رضی اللہ عنہ reported that Sa'd ibn Ubadah رضی اللہ عنہ took to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, from his neighbourhood on incompletely built, sick man (having no hopes of recovery). He was found having illicit sexual intercourse with a female slave of the neighbourhood. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Get for him a branch of a palm tree that has one hundred twigs. Then strike him with the branch once."[2]

The Majahj has transmitted a similar hadith.[3]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said that the man should be struck once with the branch. The strike was to be such as to cause every thing to hit his person.

Previously, we have touched on this subject (hadith # 3564)

The ruler is bound to consider all aspects of the case when he passes the judgement.

HOMOSEXUALITY

(٣٥٧٥) وَعَنْ عِكْرَمَةَ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ وَجَدْ تُّمُوْهُ يَعْمَلُ عَمَلَ قَوْمِ لُوْطٍ فَاقْتُلُوا الْفَاعِلَ وَالْمَفْعُوْلَ بِهٖ۔ (رواه الترمذى وابن ماجة)

3575. Sayyiduna Ikrima reported from (Sayyiduna) Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If you see anyone do the deed done by the people of Lut علیہ السلام then kill the doer and the one to whom it is done."[4]

COMMENTARY: It is stated in sharh us sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) that the ulama (Scholars) differ on the issue of hadd (prescribed punishment) enforced on a homosexual.

Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله gave two verdicts. His stronger verdict, and the verdicts of Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله, is that the hadd (prescribed punishment) of the doer is that of the fornicator of adulterer. If he is married then he should be stoned to death. If he is not married then he should be given one hundred stripes and banished for one year. The same punishment applies to a lesbian.

Others say that the doer must be stoned to death in any case, married or unmarried. Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله hold the same opinion.

The second verdict of Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله is that both the doer and one who get it done should be killed. This is as the obvious meaning of this hadith.

As for how they should be killed, some authorities say that they must be crushed under a falling house to die under its debris. Others say that they must be crushed under a falling house to die under its debris. Others say that they must be thrown down from a mountain peak.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that their punishment should be at the ruler's discretion. If it has become their habit, then he may, if he wishes, kill them. He may beat them or he may imprison them.

COMMITTING UNNATURAL ACT WITH ANIMALS

(٣٥٧٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَتٰى بَهِيْمَةً فَاقْتُلُوْهُ وَاقْتُلُوْهَا مَعَهُ قِيْلَ لِابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ مَاشَانُ الْبَهِيْمَةِ قَالَ مَاسَمِعْتُ مِنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذٰلِكَ شَيْئًا وَلٰكِنْ اَرَاهُ كَرِهَ اَنْ يُؤْكَلَ لَحْمُهَا اَوْيُنْتَفَعَ بِهَا وَقَدْ فُعِلَ بِهَا ذٰلِكَ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3576. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger said, "If any one has sexual intercourse with an animal, kill him and kill the animal with him." Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه was asked, 'what wrong does the animal do?" He said, 'I had heard nothing about it from Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم. I suppose that he did not like that its flesh may be eaten or any benefit be derived from it once this act is done to it."[1]

COMMENTARY: The words of the hadith 'kill him' do not mean that he should be killed in fact. Rather, he must be thrashed severely.

As for killing the animal, some people imagine that if the animal is spared, it might conceive from the man's sperm and a deformed animal might be born having some human features. So, to avert that, the animal must be put to death. Or, the living animal might cause embracement to its owner before other people.

It is stated in Sharh Mazhar that the four imams agree that the savage, sadistic man who has perpetrated an unnatural act with an animal must not be killed, but he must be awarded some discretionary punishment. As for this hadith, it strongly condemns the brutal act of the sadistic man.

Where the animal is concerned, some scholars hold that an animal whose flesh is eaten and has been subjected to the unnatural act. Must be killed. If its meat is not eaten, then both options are open. We abide by the apparent meaning of this hadith, then it may be killed, If it is not the desire to eat its flesh and it is not lawful then it is forbidden to slaughter it and hence it must not be killed.

HOMOSEXUALITY IS WORST KIND OF SIN

(٣٥٧٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَخْوَفَ مَا اَخَافُ عَلٰى اُمَّتِيْ عَمَلُ قَوْمِ لُوْطٍ۔ (رواہ ترمذی و ابن ماجه)

3577. Sayyiduna Jabirt رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "That which I fear most for my ummah is that they might do what the people of Lut علیہ السلام did."[1]

COMMENTARY: He feared that his people might succumb to sexual desires and become agitated. Because of that, they might began to do the unnatural act. This is a very dirty and greatly unlawful deed. If they do it, then they will face a very grave punishment.

SEPARATE PUNISHMENT FOR ADULTERY AND FOR FALSE ACCUSATION

(٣٥٧٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ رَجُلًا مِنْ بَنِيْ بَكْرِ بْنِ لَيْثٍ اَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَقَرَّ اَنَّهٗ زَنٰى بِاِمْرَاَةٍ اَرْبَعَ مَرَّاتٍ فَجَلَدَهٗ مِائَةً وَكَانَ بِكْرًا ثُمَّ سَاَلَهُ الْبَيِّنَةَ عَلَى الْمَرْاَةِ فَقَالَتْ كَذَبَ وَاللّٰهِ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَجُلِدَ حَدَّ الْفِرْيَةِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3578. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man of Banu Bakr ibn Layth came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and asserted that he had committed adultery with a woman four times.[2]

So, he awarded one hundred lashes to him because he was unmarried. Then he asked him to bring witnesses against the woman, but she declared, "He lies, by Allah. O Messenger of Allah." So, he had him get the hadd (prescribed punishment) (prescribed lashes) for falsehood.[3]

COMMENTARY: The man was punished on the basis of his own confession that he had committed adultery. But, he also accused a woman with whom he claimed to have had sexual intercourse. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked him to produce witnesses against her. He could not do that, so the woman took oath that he was a liar. She established in that way that he had accused her falsely. Hence, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ordered that he should be given eighty lashes for calumny.

PUNISHMENT TO THOSE WHO CAST SLANDER ON SAYYIDAH AYSHAH رضی اللہ عنہا

(٣٥٧٩) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ لَمَّا نَزَلَ عُذْرِيْ قَامَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ فَذَكَرَ ذٰلِكَ فَلَمَّا نَزَلَ مِنَ الْمِنْبَرِ اَمَرَ بِالرَّجُلَيْنِ وَالْمَرْاَةِ فَضُرِبُوْا حَدَّهُمْ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3579. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated: when my acquital was revealed (through verses of the Quran establishing my innocence) the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ascended the pulpit and mentioned that (in a sermon). When he came down from the pulpit, he gave command about the two men and the woman. So, they were awarded the

hadd (prescribed punishment)* (for calumny).[1]

COMMENTARY: Some people had accused Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها of committing fornication (we seek refuge in Allah from such thought). In fact, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had also begun to have some doubts. But, Allah revealed verses exonerating her. This proved that the accusations were part of a conspiracy to malign her, and some people were involved in it, Her innocence was established in the verses of surah an-Nur. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم declared that from the pulpit, and, on alighting from it, he passed judgement against the slanders the hadd (prescribed punishment) qadhaf (قذف) which is eighty stripes. The conspirators included two men, Mistah رضى الله عنه and Hassan ibn Thabit رضى الله عنه and one woman, Hammah bint Jahsh who was the most mischievous of all. Fach of them was given eighty stripes.

Here we reproduce hadith (# 3191) from Tirmidhi concerning the enter case of ifk (Slander). Sayyidah Ayshah narrated: when whatever was said about me and I was unaware of it, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم got up to address the people about me. He began with the tashahhud (testimony of Allah's unity and of the messenger ship). He praised Allah and glorified Him as He is worthy of it. He then said, "To proceed: Give me advice about those people who slander my wife. By Allah, I do not know of any evil in my wife, not at all! And they accuse her of being with a man of whom I know no evil, not at all he never enters my house except when I am there. He never undertook a journey except with me." Sa'dibn Mu'adh stood up and said, "Permit me, O Messenger of Allah that I may sever their necks." A man from the Khazraj also got up the mother of Hassan ibn Thabit was of the same tribe are this man-and he said, "You lie. By Allah, if those people were from the Aws, you would not have loved to strike at their necks." This went to far that there nearly was evil between Aws and Khazraj in the mosque. But I did not know of it. When it was evening of that day, I went out to attend to one of my needs with Umm Mistah. She stumbled and exclaimed, "May Mistah perish." I said to her, "O Mother, do you revile your son?" But she did not say anything. She stumbled a second time and said, "May Mistah be ruined." I said to her, "O Mother, do you revile your son?" She did not answer. Again, she stumbled the third time and said, "May Mistah perish!" So, I rebuked her for that, saying, "O Mother, you revile your son?" She said, "By Allah, I do not revile him except for your sake." I asked her, "What about me?" She narrated the hadith (account of what had transpired). I asked "And is that really so?" She confirmed that it was so, I returned home not at all being pressed to follow that for which I had gone out. I fell ill and the said to Allah's Messenger, صلى الله عليه وسلم, "send me to the house of my father." He sent me there and sent a slave with me. I entered the house and found Umm Ruman (my mother) downstairs and Abu Bakr upstairs reciting (the Qu'ran). She asked me "what is with you, O daughter?" I informed her, relating the entire account but she was not as hurt by it as I was. said to me, "O my daughter, do not take it too hard. It is always that a beautiful woman who is loved by her husband and she had co-wives will find jealously surrounding her. Her faults are picked." But she was not as hurt about it as I was. I asked her if my father know about it. She said, "Yes." I was more grieved at that and wept loudly. Abu Bakr heard my voice. He was upstairs reciting the Quran. He came down and asked my mother how it was with me. She told him that I had learnt of the matter. Tears came to his daughter, go back to your home." So, I went back eyes. He said, "I adjure you, O home. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had already come home and asked my maidservant about me she said, "By Allah, I do not know to any defect in her except that she goes to sleep and the sheep enter the house devouring her flour or her dough." Some of the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم sahabah scolded her, saying. "Speak the truth before Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم." they were rude to her and she said," Subhan Allah. By Allah, I know about her as a jeweller knows pure gold." When that man of whom the accusation was made learnt of this, he said, "Subhan Allah! I have never seen a woman's satr (private parts) (concealed body)." He was then martyred in Allah's cause (in a battle). In the morning my parents came to me. They remained with me till Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم came, having offered the salah (prayer) of asr. He came in and my parents were sitting on either side of me. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم recited the tashahhud, glorified Allah in words worthy of Him. Then he said, "Ammah ba'd (to proceed), O Ayshah! If you have committed an evil deed or wronged (yourself) then repent to Allah, for, indeed Allah accepts repentance from His slaves." Meanwhile, an Ansar woman came and sat down by the door. I said (to him), "Do you not feel shy to speak so in the presence of this woman?" And he did deliver words of advice and admonition. I turned to my father and requested him to answer him, but he said, "What may I say?" Then I turned to my mother and asked her to say something, but she said, "Say what?" When they gave no reply, I recited the tashahhud, praised Allah and glorified Him with words worthy to Him. Then I said, "Now, if I were to tell you that I have done no such thing and Allah is witness that I am truthful that would be of no avail to me before you because you have spoken about it and your hearts have already accepted that. But if I say that I have done it, and Allah knows that I have not done it, you would say surely that I have confessed to the crime. By Allah, I do not find an example for myself and for you," and I intended to take the name of Ya'qub but could not recall it except Abu Yusuf (father of Yusuf) when he said:

فَصَبْرٌ جَمِيلٌ وَاللّٰهُ الْمُسْتَعَانُ عَلٰى مَا تَصِفُوْنَ

"(For me) goodly patience and Allah is He whose help is ever there to seek against that which you describe. (12: 18)

At that very instant, revelation descended on Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. We kept silent, When it was over, I detected signs of relief on the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم face. He was wiping his forehead when he said, "Good things to you, O Ayshah! Allah has indeed revealed your acquittal." But I was in sever anger. My parents said to me, "Get up and go to him," but I refused. "No, by Allah! By Allah, I will not go to him."

Neither do I praise him nor do I praise you two, but I praise Allah who has revealed my innocence. You all did hear it, yet you did not deny or change it." Sayyidah Ayshah used to say. "As for Zaynab bint Jahsh, Allah protected her because of her religious attitude and she did not say any thing but good (words). As for her sister, Hammah, she was ruined alongwith those who were ruined. And those who spoke about the affair (a erogatory speech) were Mistah, Hassan ibn Thabit and the hypocrite Abdullah ibn Ubayy, who circulated the rumour and incited others to do likewise. He and Hammah were in the lead in this affair." She added that Abu Bakr swore never to show favour to Mistah (with help), but Allah revealed the verse.

3580. Sayyiduna Nafi رحمه الله reported that (Sayyidah) Safiyah bint Abu Ubayd رضی الله عنها informed him that one of the slave of the state (meaning of Khalifah Umar) رضی الله عنه had sexual intercourse with a captive girl, who was part of the fifth of the booty, compelling her to şubmit to it though she was unwilling, thereby spoiling her virginity (meaning, he deflowered her). Umar رضی الله عنه had him beaten fifty stripes, but did not have the girl get any stripes because he had compelled her (to have sexual intercourse) against her will.[1]

COMMENTARY: The slave girl is exonerated and not punished. In this connexion, we may cite the verse (24: 33) of the Quran about one who is compelled to illicit sexual intercourse by her master.

3581. Sayyiduna Yazid ibn Nu'ayun ibn Hazzaal رضی اللہ عنہ reported from his father (Nu'aym ibn Hazzal) رضی اللہ عنہ who narrated: Ma'iz ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ was an orphan under my father's (Hazzal's) رضی اللہ عنہ care. He had sexual intercourse with a female slave of the neighbourhood my Father instructed him to go and tell Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم what he had done. "Perhaps he might seek forgiveness for you." His intention in that was merely a hope that It might be a means of escape for him. (My father had no intention to get him punished.) Thus, he came to him and submitted. "O Messenger of Allah, I have committed fornication. Enforce on me the punishment prescribed by Allah.' He turned away from him, but he came back and repeated. "O Messenger of Allah, I have committed fornication. Do enforce the punishment prescribed by Allah on me." He said this four times (in four positions) after which Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "You have said this four times, indeed (and this confirms your crime). With whom did you have the intercourse.?" He named the woman and he asked, "Did you lie wit h her?" He said, "Yes." He asked, "Did you touch your body with hers.?" He said, "Yes," Then, he asked, "Did you have sexual intercourse with her?" He said, "Yes."

Then he gave order about him that he should be stoned to death. So, he was taken to Harrah. (when he was stoned) he felt the pain caused by the stones and (become panicky and) could not endure it, so he ran away quickly. On the way, he met Abdullah ibn Unays رضی اللہ عنہ while those who had been stoning him (almost gave up and) could not overtake him. So, Abdullah hurled the bone of the foreleg of a camel at him. He hit him (on target) and killed him. Then he came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and mentioned that to him. But, he said, "Why did you not spare him? He might have (retracted from his confession or) repented and Allah would have relented to him (and forgiven him)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Hammam points out that he place he was taken to it Harrah while Bukhari names it as Musalla and Muslim and Abu Dawud name it, in one version, as Baqi Gharqad. Now, Musalla, as we said previously, is the place of funeral salah (prayer). It was in Baqi Gharqad. Tirmidhi Names it as Harrah as in this version of Abu Dawud. We might say that when he ran away on feeling the plain of toning, he was caught up at Harrah. Or, we might suppose that musalla was around Harrah. So, the narrators took either of the names. This reconciles the ahadith.

WHEN ADULTERY SPREADS, FAMINE TOO SPREADS

الزِّنَا إِلَّا أُخِذُوا بِالسَّنَةِ وَمَا مِنْ قَوْمٍ يَظْهَرُ فِيهِمُ الرُّشَا إِلَّا أُخِذُوا بِالرُّعْبِ۔ (رواه احمد)

3582. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Aas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "When fornication spreads among a people, famine befalls them and when bribery becomes common among a people, terror grips them."[1]

COMMENTARY: Bribery is a payment or inducment to someone to get him to act in one's favour. Some people qualify it with the addition: 'the favour is not worth that much payment as would normally call for wages over it.' It could ask for a recommendation to an authority.

This means that if payment to anyone is commensurate with labour put in to get the thing done, then it is not bribery.

So, too, if anything is paid without a precondition then it is not bribery.

Bribery is a social evil and a sin in Shariah. It also is a Moral injustice. It will be punished in the hereafter, but even in this world it is punished in different ways. The hadith says, for instance, that its inauspicious nature effects all people and makes them cowards and they are overawed by other people and they fear their own. The corrupt who takes bribe sells his conscience and his faith. The result is that his energy, boldness and strength sap. Unlike one who cannot be bribed and because of that commands obedience of his subordinates, the man who takes bribe is afraid of everyone and is unable to discharge his duties honestly and is cowed down easily by other men.

Therefore, when rulers also become corrupt and can be bribed then the government is shaky. Lawlessness prevails. The subjects are not happy and face innumerable problems.

HOMOSEXUALITY IS A CURSE

(٣٥٨٣-٣٥٨٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَأَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَلْعُونٌ مَنْ عَمِلَ عَمَلَ قَوْمِ لُوطٍ۔ رَوَاهُ رَزِينٌ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ لَهُ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ عَلِيًّا أَحْرَقَهُمَا وَأَبَا بَكْرٍ هَدَمَ عَلَيْهِمَا حَائِطًا۔

3583. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who does what the people of (Prophet) Lu't علیہ السلام practiced is accursed."[2]

3584. And Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Ali رضی اللہ عنہ had both the doer and the one who had it done burned, and Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ had a wall demolished on both of them (the active and the passive partner).[3]

COMMENTARY: The Jami Saghir has a version transmitted by Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ from Hasan رحمہ اللہ as narrated by Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ. It says:

"Accursed is he who denounces his own mother. Accursed is he who slaughters an animal calling a name other than Allah's. Accursed is he who alters the frontiers of an Islamic territory. Accursed is he who misguides a blind man. Accursed is he who commits an unnatural act with an animal. And accursed is he who does what the people lu't علیہ السلام did."

(٣٥٨٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَنْظُرُ اللّٰهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ إِلَى رَجُلٍ أَتَى رَجُلًا

3585. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah Mighty and Glorious, will not look with mercy at a man who (commits an unnatural act and) has intercourse with a man or a woman through their anus."[1]

HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT) IS NOT IMPOSED ON ONE WHO HAS INTERCOURSE WITH ANIMALS

(٣٥٨٦) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّهُ قَالَ مَنْ اَتٰى بَهِيْمَةً فَلَاحَدَّ عَلَيْهِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ

3586. Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ is reported to have narrated the hadith in a marfu form: "He who has intercourse with an animal is not given the prescribed punishment. Tirmidhi cited Sufyan Thawri as saying that this hadith is more sahih than the previous (# 3576): 'If anyone has intercourse with an animal, kill him and kill the animal.' The ulama (Scholars) abide by this (but he is given a discretionary punishment).[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith is not the personal opinion of Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ but these are the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم's words. It was not so then Sufyan Thawri رحمہ اللہ would not have compared it as better than the previous hadith.

DO NOT BE PARTIAL IN IMPOSING THE HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT)

(٣٥٨٧) وَعَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَقِيْمُوْا حُدُوْدَ اللّٰهِ فِي الْقَرِيْبِ

وَالْبَعِيْدِ وَلَا تَأْخُذُكُمْ فِي اللّٰهِ لَوْمَةُ لَائِمٍ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

3587. Sayyiduna Ubadah ibn Samit رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Impose the prescribed punishments (hudud) of Allah on these who are near as also on those who are distant. And, let not anyone's reproach hinder you in executing the commands of Allah.[3]

COMMENTARY: 'The near ones and the distant ones refers to the relatives. The punishment must be imposed on the culprit whether he is a close relative or a distant acquaintance.

It could also mean that the hadd (prescribed punishment) must be imposed whether it is easy or difficults. In this case the words near and dIstant are used in this sense of ease and difficulty, or on the weak and the strong, equally.

In short hadd (prescribed punishment) must be imposed on every culprit: rich or poor king or subject, strong or weak, relatives or stranger.

3588. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "To enforce one of the (many) prescribed punishment (hudud) of Allah is better than having rain fall for forty nights in the lands of Allah."[1]

3589. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ also narrated this hadith.[2]

COMMENTARY: To enforce the hadd (prescribed punishment) is to prevent people from sin and disobedience. It is a means to the gates of heaven being opened for the descent of blessings.

In contrast, to forgive the hadd (prescribed punishment) or prescribed punishment, or to be lazy in imposing it is like giving an opportunity to the people to commit Sin and disobediences. When too many sins are committed, people are subjected to famine and mankind and other creatures comes on the verge of destruction. Indeed, it is said that the Hubari (bustard) dies because of the sins of the children of Aadam علیہ السلام after becoming emaciated.

Generally man falls into evil ways. Then there is a strong tendency to commit sin. When this happens, Allah withholds rain and draught takes in its wake not only mankind but birds and animals. They are deprived of sustenance and die.

Bustard is named here specifically because it flies to distant places to find food.

CHAPTER - II

AMPUTATING THE THIEF

بَابُ قَطْعِ السَّرِقَةِ

Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that the caption (باب قطع السرقة) should be (باب اهل السرقة) the word (اهل) being understood. As it stands, it means 'amputation for theft' but when the word (اهل) (people) is inserted, the caption would read 'Amputating the thief,' or 'Serving the hand of the thief.'

THE WORD SARIQAH (سرقة): This words means theft. In Shariah, it is the taking away by a sane, adult Muslim of some or all of a preserved property in a secret manner without permission in which he has no ownership or claim to ownership. He takes it away from such a place to which no one else has access, and which is protected, guarded or not guarded. (Muhriz) See Hidayeh.VI p 416 folly for Hirz.

CLAIM TO OWNERSHIP: It means that the ownership is not certain and there is some doubt about it.

PUNISHMENT AND MINIMUM AMOUNT OF THEFT: The jurists differ on what is the minimum amount of theft on which a thief's hand should be severed.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ says that it is a minimum of ten dirhams. There is no amputation on stealing anything of a lesser value.

Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ says that the minimum on which a hand should severed is one-fourth dinar of gold or three dirhams of silver or any other thing of equivalent value. He cites the ahadith that mention that a hand was cut off on stealing one-fourth dinar. That was equal to three dirhams at that time and one dinar was worth twelve dirhams.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله cites the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم saying:

لَاقَطْعَ اِلَّا فِيْ دِيْنَارٍ اَوْعَشَرَةِ دَرَاهِمَ

"Hand is not cut off except for a value of one dinar or ten dirham."

According to Hidayah, it is better to act on the higher value than on the lower because it is the question of severing a human limb and in the lesser value there is likelihood of lack of jinayah (offences).

WHY THE DISAGREEMENT: The jurists differ on this issue because in the time of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم a hand was amputated for stealing a shield. Hence, Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله says that the price of a shield at that time was three dirhams while the Hanafis put it at ten dirhams and this is as reported by Ibn Abu Shaybah رحمه الله from Abdullah ibn Amr ibn al-Aas رحمه الله. The same value of ten dirhams is mentioned in Kafi of the value of the shield stolen in the time of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.[1]

IMAM SHAFI'I UPHELD

(٣٥٩٠) عَنْ عَائِشَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا تُقْطَعُ يَدُالسَّارِقِ اِلَّا بِرُبُعِ دِيْنَارٍ فَصَاعِدًا۔ (متفق عليه)

3590. Sayyiduna Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated That the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Do not cut off the hand of a thief unless (it is) for (the worth of) one-fourth of dinar and more."[2]

COMMENTARY: Imam Shafi'I cities this hadith to support his contention.

Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله has examined this hadith in great detail in his book and has established that the point of view of the Hanafis is sound.

DIFFERING VALUATIONS OF THE SHIELD

(٣٥٩١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَطَعَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَدَسَارِقٍ فِيْ مِجَنٍّ ثَمَنُهُ ثَلَاثَةُ دَرَاهِمَ۔ (متفق عليه)

3591. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had a thief's (right) hand cut off for (stealing) a shield worth three dirhams.[3]

COMMENTARY: Shamni رحمه الله said that this hadith contradicts the hadith transmitted by Ibn Abu Shaybah from Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضى الله عنه who has given the value of the shield as ten dirhams. The same thing is reported from Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه and Amr ibn Shu'ayb. Also, Ibn Hummam رحمه الله reported the same thing from Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه and Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه. This is what Ayni رحمه الله has written in the marginal notes of Hidayah. It is on this that the Hanafi contention is based that the punishment of cutting off the hand of a thief may be enforced on him who has stolen what is worth at least ten dirhams. No punishment will be awarded to one who has stolen property worth less than that.

As for the hadith of Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه in which he has said that the shield was worth three dirhams Shaykh Abdul Haq رحمه الله and Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله have spoken at length in their

ANOTHER HADITH WITH OTHER MESSAGE

(٣٥٩٢) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَعَنَ اللّٰهُ السَّارِقَ يَسْرِقُ الْبَيْضَةَ فَتُقْطَعُ يَدُهٗ وَيَسْرِقُ الْحَبْلَ فَتُقْطَعُ يَدُهٗ۔ (متفق عليه)

3592. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "May Allah's curse be on the thief who steals an egg and his hand is cut off and who steals a rope and his hand is cut off."[1]

COMMENTARY: Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that it is clear from this hadith that it is permitted to call a curse on the sinners in general without specifying any. This is as in Allah's words

اَلَا لَعْنَةُ اللّٰهِ عَلَى الظّٰلِمِيْنَ

{Behold! The curse of Allah Shall be upon the evil-doers} (11: 18)

However, it is not allowed to name a person and curse him.

This hadith is evidence that cutting off the hand in punishment for stealing less than one fourth dinar or three dirhams is allowed. However, none of the four imams contends that punishment of cutting off hands is enforced when the worth of the stolen property is less than one-fourth dinar or three dirhams. They explain the hadith that the word (بيضة) (in the hadith) translated egg could mean a 'a helmet' worn by the warriors on their head, and the word rope (حبل) could be the sailor's rope fastened on boats and which is very costly.

Some scholars maintain that in early Islam, the punishment of amputating a hand was awarded for stealing eggs and ropes, but it was revoked later.

Some other scholars say that the thief of these little things becomes hardened gradually. He begins to steal castlier things and turns liable to receive the punishment of cutting off hands.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

STEALING FRUIT, ETC & CUTTING OFF HAND

(٣٥٩٣) عَنْ رَافِعِ بْنِ خَدِيْجٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَاقَطْعَ فِيْ ثَمَرٍ وَلَا كَثَرٍ۔ (رواه مالك والترمذى وابوداؤد والنسائى والدارمى وابن ماجة)

3593. Sayyiduna Rafi' ibn Khadij رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The punishment of cutting off hand is not awarded for stealing fruit and the spadix of a palm tree.[2]

COMMENTARY: Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that hand is not cut off for stealing fresh fruit, whether it is protected or not, in custody or not. The same applies to dried fruit on the trees and the cultivation and harvest that has not been reaped. Those things that are perishable and have a short life like meat, milk, etc. are subjected to anology on the same basis.

However, others apart from Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله have ruled that punishment is wajib

(obligatory) on stealing any of these things, and hand of the thief will be cut off. Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله are among them.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله also said that hand will not be cut off on stealing very ordinary things and very insignificant and which are permitted to everyone in an Islamic state. Examples are hay, grass, wood, reed, fish, bird, sulphurate of arsenic, lime, etc.

(٣٥٩٤) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ جَدِّهِ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْعَاصِ عَنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنَّهُ سُئِلَ عَنِ الثَّمَرِ الْمُعَلَّقِ قَالَ مَنْ سَرَقَ مِنْهُ شَيْئًا بَعْدَ أَنْ يُؤْوِيَهُ الْجَرِيْنُ فَبَلَغَ ثَمَنَ الْمِجَنِّ فَعَلَيْهِ الْقَطْعُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3594. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb narrated from his father from his grandfather Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضی الله عنه that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم was asked about fruit that is hung (on trees). He said, "If anyone steals some of them after they are plucked and stored in a place to dry and the value as much as a shield is worth, then his hand will be cut off.[1]

COMMENTARY: The hands are not amputated on stealing the fruit from the trees because they are not protected or in custody. But, once they are taken down and put together in place to dry, stealing them will make the thief liable to have his hand cut off because in this case they are protected. Except for Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله, the majority of the ulama (Scholars) go by this hadith, because he says that until the fruit dries, hands will not be cut off on stealing it, whether it is protected or not.

As for this hadith, the Hanafis says that 'storing them to dry' refers to stealing after fruit has dried. This was a custom observed by the Arabs. The Hanafis also agree that the punishment of cutting off hand is awarded to one who steals fruit collected after having been dried, but punishment of cutting off hand is not awarded if fruit has not dried whether it is on the tree or plucked and collected together at one place. It is as about fresh fruit in the previous hadith.

This hadith not only contradicts the previous hadith but also runs different from the Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم words

وَلَا قَطْعَ فِي الطَّعَامِ

(There is no cutting off hands for stealing food).

It is necessary in awarding the hadd (prescribed punishment) to be careful as for as possible and to be lenient in all respects. Every avenue should be explored to see that the hadd (prescribed punishment) is enforced as little as possible. Hence, in the event of contradiction in ahadith that hadith will be abided by whose meaning in respect of stealing of fruit is absolute.

In this case, two scholars may refer to mirqat of Mulla Ali Qari for an exhaustive treatment of this subject.

UNOWNED MOUNTAINOUS ANIMALS

3595. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Abdur Rahman ibn Abu Husayn Makki رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "A hand must not be cut off for (taking) fruit hanging on the tree and for animals grazing on the mountain. But, once they are taken away from their fold, or the fruit from where it is dried, a hand is cut off for what is worth the value of a shield."[1]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمه الله explained the word of the hadith (حريسة) (hurisah) to imply an animal that grazes on a mountain without anyone protecting it meaning that it is not anyone's property. If anyone takes such an animals, he will not be accused of stealing. But, if anyone takes away an animal from its enclosure then it is stealing because the animal belongs to someone else. Its price is the equivalent of the value of a shield, or more. So a hand will be cut off.

THE PLUNDERER IS NOT ONE OF US

(٣٥٩٦) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَيْسَ عَلَى الْمُنْتَهِبِ قَطْعٌ وَمَنِ انْتَهَبَ نُهْبَةً مَشْهُوْرَةً فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3596. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "The bandit is not subject to amputation of hand. But one who plunders does not belong to us." (He does not follow our ways.)[2]

COMMENTARY: A bandit robs people brazenly while a thief steals stealthily. Though the crime of the bandit is worse, his hand is not cut off because this punishment is given to a thief whose crime is clandestine.

Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. He ordered that his hand should be cut off. But, Safwan رضى الله عنه pleaded, "I have not intended this thing." (I request that he should be forgiven). "It is a sadaqah (charity) (charity) to him." So, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked, "Why not before you brought him to me?"[1]

3599. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Safwan رحمه الله reported the like of it from his father.[2]

3600. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه also narrated it.[3]

COMMENTARY: A treacherous person misappropriates a trust placed with him, either all of it or part of it. He commits a grave sin but is not lisble to be punished with amputation of hand. What he embezzles is not a fully protected property or muhriz. It is discussed in detail in the Hidayah.[4]

(see VI p416 etc and Safwan's رضى الله عنه guilt VI p417).

The same applies to a bandit and a swindler and a pilferer. They do not steal in secret.

As for Safwan's رضى الله عنه cloak, the Hidayah (VI p417) says that the most correct thing is that keeping the cloak under the head is hirz (protective custody). The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words imply, "Why did you not forgive him earlier and surrender your right?" He had given the order to have his hand cut off after the man's guilt was established. So, that become wajib (obligatory), and the complainant had no right to say or do anything in that matter. It was Allah's right after that.

This makes it clear that once a thief is before a ruler and his guilt is established, then the punishment cannot be averted from him, not even if the complainant forgives him. But, it may be done before presenting the case to the ruler.

Ibn Hammam رحمه الله, however, says that if after judgement is passed for a thief's hand to be cut off, the owner of the things stolen makes a gift of those things to him, or sells them to him, then his hand will not be cut off, But, Imam Zufar رحمه الله, Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله maintain that his hand will be cut off. And, one verdict of Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله is like theirs. The hadith of Safwan رضى الله عنه also uphold this verdict. However, this hadith is not in this very form in Haakim and some other sources.Rather, there is some additional material in that which causes a confusion and that makes the hadith weak.

THIEF'S HAND NOT CUT OFF DURING EXPEDITION FOR JIHAD

3601. Sayyiduna Busr ibn Artah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said. "The hand is not cut off during a battle."[5]

According to another version: 'during a journey' instead of 'a battle'[6]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Maalik رحمه الله explains this hadith thus: When the Muslim army fights the enemy in enemy land and the ruler himself is not among them but the command of the army heads them and someone steals something then his hand should not be cut off. Also, other prescribed punishments must not be enforced.

Some jurists go by this ruling. The reason is that the man who is guilty may take up residence in enemy territory (to avoid the punishment) and thus go astray.

It may also happen that the warriors lose heart and become disunited. According to Teebi رحمه الله, this is the contention of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله

Some authorities say that if one of the warriors steals from the spoils, his hand must not be cut off because he also owns a share in it.

Teebi رحمه الله said about the second version (of Abu Dawud and Nasa'i), that journey means 'journey to battle'.

STEALING MORE THAN ONCE

(٣٦٠٢) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فِي السَّارِقِ اِنْ سَرَقَ فَاقْطَعُوْا يَدَهُ ثُمَّ اِنْ سَرَقَ فَاقْطَعُوْا رِجْلَهُ ثُمَّ اِنْ سَرَقَ فَاقْطَعُوْا يَدَهُ ثُمَّ اِنْ سَرَقَ فَاقْطَعُوْا رِجْلَهُ۔

(رواه في شرح السنة)

3602. Sayyiduna Abu Salamah رضی الله عنه narrated on the authority of (Sayyiduna) Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said about a thief, "If he steals cut off his (right) hand. If he steals again, cut off his (left) foot. And if he steals again, cut off his (right) foot."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) are unanimous about the first two punishments, but they differ about the third and the fourth. Imam Shafi'I goes by this hadith, but Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله hold that if he steals the third time, his hand will not be cut off but he will be imprisoned till he dies, or makes a repentance to Allah. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that this was the practice of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم unanimously and, moreover, if all his hands and feet were severed, his survival would be difficult and this would amount to an in justice with him. As for this hadith, it is an expression of warning to forestall further crime by the thief and, secondly, the scholars question the soundness of this hadith. Indeed, Tahawi رحمه الله went so far as to say that he had examined very many of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم's aathar and judgements, but, in spite of deep examination and search, he could not find a correct source of this hadith. He met many scholars of hadith who had memorized ahadith but all of them denied (knowledge) of this hadith.

Ibn Hammam رحمه الله said that many ulama (Scholars) say, about severing the foot, that the leg is severed from near the knee.

(٣٦٠٣-٣٦٠٤) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ جِيْءَ بِسَارِقٍ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِقْطَعُوْهُ فَقُطِعَ ثُمَّ جِيْءَ بِهِ الثَّانِيَةَ فَقَالَ اِقْطَعُوْهُ ثُمَّ جِيْءَ بِهِ الثَّالِثَةَ فَقَالَ اقْطَعُوْهُ فَقُطِعَ ثُمَّ جِيْءَ بِهِ الرَّابِعَةَ فَقَالَ اِقْطَعُوْهُ فَقُطِعَ فَأُتِيَ بِهِ الْخَامِسَةَ فَقَالَ اقْتُلُوْهُ فَانْطَلَقْنَا بِهِ فَقَتَلْنَاهُ ثُمَّ اجْتَرَرْنَاهُ فَاَلْقَيْنَاهُ فِيْ بِئْرٍ وَرَمَيْنَا عَلَيْهِ الْحِجَارَةَ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ

وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَرَوَى فِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ فِيْ قَطْعِ السَّارِقِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اقْطَعُوْهُ ثُمَّ احْسِمُوْهُ۔

3603. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a thief was brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He said, "Cut off (his right hand)". SO, his hand was severed. He was brought a second time , and he commanded, " Cut off his left foot)." So, his foot was severed. Then, he was brought a third time and he commanded, "Cut off (his left hand)." That was cut. Again, he was brought a fourth time and he commanded, "Cut off (his right foot). "That was cut. He was brought again a fifth time and he commanded, "Kill him". They took him away, killed him and dragging him down, they cast him into a well. Then they threw stones over him. [1]

3604. Baghawi has added in Sharh us-sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said about maiming the thief, "Cut off (his hand) and cauterize it."[2]

COMMENTARY: He instructed that the severed hand should be cauterized to stop bleeding, otherwise he would have bled to death.

Khattabi رحمہ اللہ said that this hadith is abrogated by the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words:

لَا يَحِلُّ دَمُ امْرَءٍ إِلَّا بِإِحْدٰى ثَلٰثٍ

(Blood of a Muslim is not lawful except for one of three reasons.)

Some authorities say that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم command to kill the thief was based on some administrative reasons. The ruler has a right to use his wisdom in enforcing punishment to maintain law and order.

Some authorities say that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم may have known that the man was an apostate. So he had him killed.

Some other authorities say that the man might have regarded stealing as lawful. Hence, he stole again and again.

We must choose one of these explanations, because if he were a Muslim, then it was not at all lawful to drag his corpse and drop it into the well.

SUSPENDING SEVERED HAND IN NECK OF THIEF

(٣٦٠٥) وَعَنْ فَضَالَةَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ قَالَ أُتِيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِسَارِقٍ فَقُطِعَتْ يَدُهٗ ثُمَّ أَمَرَ بِهَا فَعُلِّقَتْ فِيْ عُنُقِهٖ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی وابن ماجة)

3605. Sayyiduna Fudalah ibn Ubayd رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a thief was brought to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. So (at his command), his hand was cut off. Then he commanded about it, and it was suspended on his neck. (The other people may take a lesson from it.)[3]

COMMENTARY: Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ hold that it is sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) to hang a thief's hand on his neck after cutting it off. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ said that it is at the discretion of the ruler. He may have it hung on his neck, but it is not a sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) because it is not proved that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had it done.

SELL THE SLAVE WHO STEALS

(٣٦٠٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا سَرَقَ الْمَمْلُوْكُ فَبِعْهُ وَلَوْ بِنَشٍّ۔

(رواہ ابوداؤد والنسائی وابن ماجة)

3606. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If a slave steals, sell him, even if it is for a nashsh."[1]

(A nashsh is half an ooqiyah or twenty dirhams).

COMMENTARY: A slave who steals must be disposed of even for a paltry sum of money because he becomes defective after stealing. It is not proper to keep an imperfect slave.

Imam Maalik رحمه الله, Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and most (earned men say that if a slave steals then his hand must be cut off whether he is a fugitive or not.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that if a husband or a wife steals one another's property, or a slave steals the property of his master, or of his owner's wife, or husband, them no hand is cut off. The reason is that the spouses generally have access and permission to use one another's property and the slave, too has this kind of privilege over his owner's and over his owner's family's property, with their tacit permission. In this case the condition of hirz is not met in the full sense and which is necessary for cutting off a hand.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

RULER CANNOT FORGIVE THE GUILTY

(٣٦٠٧) عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ اُتِيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِسَارِقٍ فَقَطَعَهُ فَقَالُوْا مَا كُنَّا نَرَاكَ تَبْلُغُ بِهٖ هٰذَا قَالَ لَوْ كَانَتْ فَاطِمَةُ لَقَطَعْتُهَا۔ (رواہ النسائی)

3607. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها narrated that a thief was brought to Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم. He had his hand cut off. (When he gave the command to do that) the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم said, "We had not presumed that you would go as far as (to give) this (command rather, we had thought that you would forgive him)." He said, "If it had been Fatimah (bint Muhammad), I would have had her hand cut off."[2]

COMMENTARY: That thief was perhaps a relative or an acquaintance. The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم made it very clear that the prescribed punishment was Allah's right which cannot be violated. He said that it was wajib (obligatory) on him to enforce it. He made it clear that he had no say in it.

SLAVE'S HAND IS NOT CUT OFF

(٣٦٠٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ اِلٰى عُمَرَ بِغُلَامٍ لَهٗ فَقَالَ اقْطَعْ يَدَهٗ فَاِنَّهٗ سَرَقَ مِرْاٰةً لِاِمْرَأَتِيْ فَقَالَ عُمَرُ لَا قَطْعَ عَلَيْهِ وَهُوَ خَادِمُكُمْ اَخَذَ مَتَاعَكُمْ۔ (رواہ مالك)

3608. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that a man brought his slave to Umar رضی

رضی الله عنه and said, "Have his hand cut off, because he stole a mirror belonging to my wife." Umar رضی الله عنه said, "He is not liable to have his hand cut off, for he is your servant who took from your belongings."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه made it to that man, "As your servant, he resides with you and is charged with looking after your property. It is with your consent that he has power over your belongings and so no hirz applies in his case. Since that is so the Punishment of cutting off his hand does not arise."

This, indeed is the contention of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله. Others, however, hold a different opinion.

ONE WHO STEALS SHROUD

(٣٦٠٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ ذَرٍّ قَالَ قَالَ لِيْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا اَبَاذَرٍّ قُلْتُ لَبَّيْكَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ وَسَعْدَيْكَ قَالَ كَيْفَ اَنْتَ اِذَا اَصَابَ النَّاسَ مَوْتٌ يَكُوْنُ الْبَيْتُ فِيْهِ بِالْوَصِيْفِ يَعْنِي الْقَبْرَ قُلْتُ اَللّٰهُ وَرَسُوْلُهٗ اَعْلَمُ قَالَ عَلَيْكَ بِالصَّبْرِ قَالَ حَمَّادُ بْنُ اَبِيْ سُلَيْمَانَ تُقْطَعُ يَدُ النَّبَّاشِ لِاَنَّهٗ دَخَلَ عَلَى الْمَيِّتِ بَيْتَهٗ.

(رواه ابوداؤد)

3609. Sayyiduna Abu Dharr رضی الله عنه said: Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said to me, "O Abu Dharr". I said, "Here am I, O Messenger of Allah, at your service!" He asked, "What will you do when death (meaning a pestilence) comes over the people and a house, meaning a grave, will cost as much as a slave?" (The severe pestilence will result in many deaths causing a shortage of places of graves.) I submitted, "Allah and His Messenger knows best." He said, "You must show patience."

Hammad ibn Abu Sulayman said, "The hand of one who steals shroud should be cut off because he enters the house of the dead person (to rummage it)."[2]

COMMENTARY: Hammad ibn Abu Sulayman deduced from the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم's words calling the grave a house that since a house is hirz (a protected place) anyone who steals from it will have his hand cut off. So, if he steals from a grave he will have his hand cut off. However, this deduction of hammad is not strong because it is not necessary that the place would attract the command of hirz though it is a house. For instance, if a man steals from a house whose gate is open or there is no guard over it, then, all the ulama (Scholars) agree that the hands of a thief would not be cut though he steals from the house. This house was not safe, so not a hirz. In the same way, though agrave may be described as a home, yet it is not hirz or protected. So, one who steals a shroud from a grave is not liable to have his hand cut off.

Ibn Hummam رحمه الله said that the contention of Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and IMAM Ahmad رحمه الله is that one who steals a shroud will not be punished by having his hand cut off. However, the other two Imams and Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله (of the Hanafis) opine that his hand will be cut off. For more information on this, see Mirqat.

CHAPTER - III

INTERCESSION REGARDING HUDUD (OR, PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENTS)

بَابُ عِيَادَةِ الْمَرِيْضِ وَثَوَابِ الْمَرَضِ

Such ahadith are presented in this chapter as tell us whether it is permitted to intercede with the ruler for an accused or not. May he be requested not to impose the hadd (prescribed punishment) on him? Does the ruler have authority to accede to the recommendation?

SECTION I

اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

INTERCESSION REGARDING HUDUD MAY NOT BE ACCEPTED

3610. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها narrated that the Quraysh (sahabah) رضی الله عنه were very worried about a Makhzumi woman. She had stolen something (and she used to borrow different things from people and then would refuse to acknowledge that she had borrowed anything. The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم had decided that her hand should be cut off). They consulated (among themselves), "Who shall speak to Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم about her (to make a recommendation)?" Then they said, "Only Usamah ibn Zayd (is one whom he loves dearly so he) will make bold to speak. He is the friend of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم." (Hence, they all persuaded Usamah رضی الله عنه to speak to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم about the woman). Usamah spoke to him. And, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم asked, "Do you intercede concerning a hadd (prescribed punishment) of Allah's hudud?" (Meaning a prescribed punishment). Then, he got up and delivered a sermon and (after praising and glorifying Allah) he said, "Those who preceded you were ruined only because when anyone of position among them stole something, they let him go free (unpunishment). But when a weak man among them stole something, they enforced the prescribed punishment on him. And, I swear by Allah, were Fatimah bint Muhammad to steal, I would have her hand cut off."

According to another version: She (sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها) narrated: A Makhzumi woman used to borrow things but refuse to acknowledge receipt of those things. The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم gave an order to have her hand cut off. Her family members came to (Sayyiduna) Usamah رضی اللہ عنہ and spoke to him (about it, requesting him to intercede in the matter). So, he spoke to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم about her...The rest of the hadith is like the preceding words.[1]

COMMENTARY: The woman mentioned in the hadith was Fatimah bint Aswad ibn Abdul Asad. She was the daughter of the brother of Abu Salamah رضی اللہ عنہ. She was called Makhzumiyah because she belonged to the tribe of Makhzum a prominent tribe of the Quraysh.

The ulama (Scholars) agree, on the basis of this hadith, that it is forbidden to make a recommendation to the ruler for an accused after the case of hadd (prescribed punishment) is presented to him. It is also forbidden to get anyone else make a recommendation. However, most ulama (Scholars) say that it is allowed to make a recommendation, or get someone else do it, before the case is forwarded to the ruler, provided the person for whom it is made is good, virtuous one who does not hurt people.

If a person has committed a wrong that does not make him liable to hadd (prescribed punishment) but to tazeer then it is allowed to make a recommendation for him in all instances irrespective of whether the case is sent to the ruler or not. The reason is that it is not only easy but also mustahab (desirable) to make a recommendation in such cases. However, the recommendation must be made for one who is an upright person who hurts no one.

The second version is from sahih Muslim and though it seems from it that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم punished her because she borrowed things from different people and then denied altogether that she had done that, the correct thing is that the punishment of cutting off hands was because she stole things from other people. The hadith only mentions her habit. Besides she could not have been given that punishment for denying that she had borrowed something. The words 'she stole' (فسرقت) are understood in the second version after 'she denied' (وتجحده).

A majority of the scholars say that anyone who borrows something but denies having borrowed anything is not awarded a punishment of having his hand cut off. However, Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ and Ishaq رحمہ اللہ assert that it is wajib (obligatory) to cut off hand of such person too. This chapter is without section II

Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "If anyone's intercession hinders the execution of one of the punishments prescribed by Allah then he has contradicted Allah. (In this way he opposes Allah.) If anyone disputes about something knowing that it is unjust and false, then he remains in Allah's displeasure till he ceases (to dispute). If anyone falsely accuses a believer (of something that is not found in him), then Allah will make him lie in the corrupt fluid (of puss and blood) flowing from the inmates of hell till he retracts what (false words) he had spoken." (it means that he will continue to remain like the inmates of hell till he makes a repentance, or till he undergoes the torment of hell.) Bayhaqi also has: "He who helps in a dispute without knowing it to be true or false, will continue to remain in Allah's displeasure till he ceases (to aid in the dispute)."[1]

PUNISHMENT FOR STEALING ON CONFESSION

(٣٦١٢-٣٦١٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ اُمَيَّةَ الْمَخْزُوْمِيِّ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اُتِيَ بِلِصٍّ قَدِ اعْتَرَفَ اعْتِرَافًا وَلَمْ يُوْجَدْ مَعَهُ مَتَاعٌ فَقَالَ لَهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا اِخَالُكَ سَرَقْتَ قَالَ بَلٰى فَاَعَادَ عَلَيْهِ مَرَّتَيْنِ اَوْ ثَلَاثًا كُلَّ ذٰلِكَ يَعْتَرِفُ فَاَمَرَبِهٖ فَقُطِعَ فَجِئَ بِهٖ فَقَالَ لَهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِسْتَغْفِرِ اللّٰهَ وَتُبْ اِلَيْهِ فَقَالَ اَسْتَغْفِرُ اللّٰهَ وَاَتُوْبُ اِلَيْهِ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَللّٰهُمَّ تُبْ عَلَيْهِ ثَلَاثًا۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنِّسَائِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ هٰكَذَا وَجَدْتُ فِي الْاُصُوْلِ الْاَرْبَعَةِ وَجَامِعِ الْاُصُوْلِ وَشُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ وَمَعَالِمِ السُّنَنِ اَبِيْ اُمَيَّةَ وَفِيْ نُسَخِ الْمَصَابِيْحِ عَنْ اَبِيْ رِمْثَةَ بِالرَّاءِ وَالثَّاءِ الْمُثَلَّثَةِ بَدَلَ الْهَمْزَةِ وَالْيَاءِ۔

3612. Sayyiduna Abu Umayyah Makhzumi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a thief was brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He had confessed to his crime, but no stolen property was found on him. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "I do not suppose that you have stolen anything?" He said, "Yes, I have! " He (the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم) asked him (the same question) twice or thrice but he insisted, "I have !" So, he gave an order and his hand was cut off. After that, he was brought to him and Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "Seek forgiveness of Allah and repent to Him." He said, "I seek forgiveness of Allah and I repent to Him." Then, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم prayed, "O Allah accept his repentance."[2]

(The compiler of the Mishkat says:) I found this tradition in all the four books (Abu Dawud, Nasa'i, Ibn Majah and Darimi), in Jami ul-Usul, in Shabul ul - Eaman of Bayhaqi and in Mualim us-Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) of Khattabi as narrated by Abu Umayyah, but by:

3613. Abu Rimthah رضی اللہ عنہ in the texts of Masabih.[3]

Hafiz Ibn Hajar Asqalani رحمہ اللہ said that though Abu Rimthah رضی اللہ عنہ was a sahabi, this tradition is not narrated by him.

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave to man an opportunity to retract his confession in order that hadd (prescribed punishment) may be averted from him. This is like he had done with those who were accused of adultery.

Of the two verdicts of Imam Shafi'i رحمه الله, one is according to this hadith. But, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله and the other Imams hold that encouragement to provide an excuse or to retract confession is given only in cases of adultery.
The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم instructed this man to repent which means that while that particular sin is forgiven on undergoing the prescribed punishment for it, other sins are not forgiven. So an istighfar should be made.

CHAPTER - IV

THE HADD (OR THE PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT) FOR CONSUMING WINE

بَابُ حَدِّ الْخَمْرِ

PROHIBITION OF WINE: Wine or alchohol is called the Ummul-khabaith. Before the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was sent, wine was considered a part, or a necessity, of life. Even after the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was commissioned, the custom of wine was retained and, generally, people served it to each other, but, its evil and bad repercussions did prick the conscience of the Muslims. Indeed, Sayyiduna Umar رضى الله عنه remarked:

إِنَّهَا تَذْهَبُ الْمَالَ وَتَذْهَبُ الْعَقْلَ

"It takes away property and it takes away intelligence,"
Day by day, people's desire grew that the permissibility of wine should be withdraw soon. However, it was a deep rooted evil that had gripped the whole society. So, Shariah did not do away with it at once, but prohibited it in stages, gradually. The common men were made to detest it in piecemeal so that be achieved of this curse. When some of the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم asked the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم about it, the first verse to be revealed in this connection was:

يَسْئَلُوْنَكَ عَنِ الْخَمْرِ وَالْمَيْسِرِ قُلْ فِيْهِمَا اِثْمٌ كَبِيْرٌ وَمَنَافِعُ لِلنَّاسِ وَاِثْمُهُمَا اَكْبَرُ مِنْ نَفْعِهِمَا

{They ask you concerning wine and gambling. Say, "In both is a grievous sin, and some benefits for people, but the sin in them is more grievous than their benefits."} (2: 219)
The auspicious people who realized already that wine was harmful, and those who were inherently fed up with it, found it enough that the Quran declared that there was sin in wine. They gave up drinking wine. However, since this verse does not give a clear command of prohibition, many people continued to drink wine as was their habit.
Then another verse was revealed:

يٰٓاَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْا لَا تَقْرَبُوا الصَّلٰوةَ وَاَنْتُمْ سُكَارٰى حَتّٰى تَعْلَمُوْا مَا تَقُوْلُوْنَ

{O you who believe, draw not near salah (prayer) while you are intoxicated, until you know what you are saying...} (4: 43)
This was one more step against consumption of wine. It was prohibited completely at the hours of salah (prayer). However, not all people gave it up at times other than salah (prayer). Finally, the third verse was revealed and it made the prohibition very clear. It was in 3AH.

يٰٓاَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْٓا اِنَّمَا الْخَمْرُ وَالْمَيْسِرُ وَالْاَنْصَابُ وَالْاَزْلَامُ رِجْسٌ مِّنْ عَمَلِ الشَّيْطٰنِ فَاجْتَنِبُوْهُ لَعَلَّكُمْ تُفْلِحُوْنَ

{O you who believe, wine and gambling, and (sacrificing) to idols and divining arrows are an abomination of satan's handiwork, so abstain from it, that you may prosper.} (5: 90)

After this verse, consumption of wine was stopped totally. The containers of wine were broken and wine flowed in the streets of Madinah as water flows. The prohibition of wine was enforced.

PUNISHMENT FOR CONSUMING WINE: All the ulama (Scholars) are agreed that according to the command of the Quran and sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) and the consensus of the ummah wine is forbidden. If anyone drinks it, then the hadd (prescribed punishment) will be imposed on him, as wajib (obligatory). The ulama (Scholars) say that it is eighty stripes. This is what Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله also says, but Imam Shafi'i and some other ulama (Scholars) say that it is forty stripes.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE PUNISHMENT: If anyone drinks wine, even one drop of it, and he is brought to the ruler or judge and the adour of wine is perceivable from his mouth, or he is intoxicated, though the intoxication is because of nabidh, and two persons bear testimony to his consuming wine, or he himself makes a confession once and according to Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله twice and it is confirmed that he compelled by anyone- then the hadd (prescribed punishment) will be imposed on him. If he is a freeman then eighty stripes will be awarded to him and if he is a slave then forty stripes. He will be given the stripes when he gets sober.

As for the stripes, whether it is hadd (prescribed punishment) concerning adultery or consuming wine, they will be struck in such a manner that they land on different parts of the body. All the number of stripes should not be struck on any single part of the body.

If anyone confesses to drinking wine when the odour is no more perceived, or two men testify against him when the odour is not perceived, then the hadd (prescribed punishment) will not be imposed on him.

The hadd (prescribed punishment) is also not be imposed when:

- Only the odour of wine is discerned.
- Only he vomited wine.
- He retracts his confession, or
- He confessed when he was intoxicated.

The intoxication that makes the imposition of hadd (prescribed punishment) wajib (obligatory) on anyone is when the drunkard cannot distinguished between man and woman and earth and heaven. But, according to Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله intoxication implies that the drunkard is in a state of delirium and speaks incoherently.

SECTION I الفصل الأول

PUNISHMENT FOR DRINKING WINE IN PROPHET'S TIMES

(٣٦١٤-٣٦١٥) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ضَرَبَ فِي الْخَمْرِ بِالْجَرِيْدِ وَالنِّعَالِ وَجَلَدَ اَبُوْ بَكْرٍ اَرْبَعِيْنَ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ عَنْهُ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَضْرِبُ فِي الْخَمْرِ بِالنِّعَالِ وَالْجَرِيْدِ اَرْبَعِيْنَ۔

3614. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Propeht صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used (to order) a beating with branches of palm trees and sandals (as prescribed punishment) for consuming wine and (Sayyiduna) Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ awarded forty lashes.[1]

3615. (According to another version) from Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used to award forty stripes with branches of palm trees and sandals (as prescribed punishment) for consuming wine.[2]

COMMENTARY: The second version explains the first by giving the number of stripes. Imam Shafi'i رحمہ اللہ follows this hadith. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ goes by those ahadith that give the number of stripes as eighty. Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ has commented on these ahadith in details in Mirqat.

EIGHTY STRIPES WERE AWARDED BY THE SAHABAH (PROPHET'S COMPANIONS) رضی اللہ عنہم IN THEIR TIMES

(٣٦١٦) وَعَنِ السَّائِبِ بْنِ يَزِيْدَ قَالَ يُؤْتٰى بِالشَّارِبِ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاِمْرَةِ اَبِيْ بَكْرٍ وصَدْرًا مِنْ خِلَافَةِ عُمَرَ فَنَقُوْمُ عَلَيْهِ بِاَيْدِيْنَا وَنِعَالِنَا وَاَرْدِيَتِنَا حَتّٰى كَانَ اٰخِرُ اِمْرَةِ عُمَرَ فَجَلَدَ اَرْبَعِيْنَ حَتّٰى اِذَا عَتَوْا وَفَسَقُوْا جَلَدَ ثَمَانِيْنَ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3616. Sayyiduna Sa'ib ibn Yazid رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "In the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and of Abu Bakr's رضی اللہ عنہ Khilafah (caliphate) and in the beginning of Umar's Khilafah (caliphate), when a drunk was brought, we got up and beat him with our hands, sandals and cloaks (using them as whips). At the end of Umar's Khilafah (caliphate), he awarded forty stripes, but when they (alcoholics) transgressed and increased in number, he awarded eighty stripes."[3]

COMMENTARY: Sa'ib ibn Yazid رضی اللہ عنہ meant that the punishment to a person who consumed wine without defining number of beatings and it was less than forty stripes. Anyway, in the time of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, the punishment was not eighty stripes. Rather, eighty lashes were determined in the time of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم. Umar رضی اللہ عنہ imposed it when the evil began to spread and had to be curbed. The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم concurred with him. So now no one is allowed to contradict it. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ had awarded forty stripes. Then Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ made it sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice), yet the consensus is on eighty stripes.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

COMMAND TO KILL DRUNKARD IS WITHDRAWN

(٣٦١٧-٣٦١٨-٣٦١٩) عَنْ جَابِرٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ شَرِبَ الْخَمْرَ فَاجْلِدُوْهُ فَاِنْ عَادَ فِيْ

[3] Bukhari # 6779.

الرَّابِعَةِ فَاقْتُلُوْهُ قَالَ ثُمَّ أُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ بِرَجُلٍ قَدْ شَرِبَ فِي الرَّابِعَةِ فَضَرَبَهُ وَلَمْ يَقْتُلْهُ۔

رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَرَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ عَنْ قَبِيْصَةَ بْنِ ذُوَيْبٍ وَفِيْ أُخْرٰى لَهُمَا وَلِلنَّسَائِيِّ وَابْنِ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيِّ عَنْ نَفَرٍ مِنْ

أَصْحَابِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْهُمْ ابْنُ عُمَرَ وَمُعَاوِيَةُ وَأَبُوْ هُرَيْرَةَ وَالشَّرِيْدُ إِلٰى قَوْلِهِ فَاقْتُلُوْهُ۔

3617. Sayyiduna Jabir (ibn Abdullah) narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone drinks wine, give him the lashes, and if he does it a fourth times then kill him." Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ added that thereafter a man who had brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم but he awarded him the lashes and did not kill him.[1]

3618. Sayyiduna Qabisah ibn Dhu'ayb رضی اللہ عنہ narrated it too.[2]

3619. Some of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم, among them Ibn Umar, Mu'awiyah, Abu Hurayrah and Sharid رضی اللہ عنہ narrated it too but up to the words 'kill him' (without mentioning the man who had drunk wine four times and was brought to him).[3]

COMMENTARY: The words 'kill him' perhaps mean that he should be beaten severely. Or, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said that merely to give a warning to habitual drunkards. He did not mean to enact a law or to make it wajib (obligatory). Some authorities maintain that in the beginning, this command was in force and then it was rescinded.

The fact that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not not have the drunkard who was brought to him killed proves that his command was only to warn, or he withdrew the command.

Nawawi رحمہ اللہ has quoted Tirmidhi رحمہ اللہ that, apart from two hadith in his book, there is no third which the entire ummah agrees that should not be put in practice. One of the two is that which permits offering two salah (prayer) (of different hours) together without a valid reason like fear or rain and the second is this one about a drunked being killed if he does it a fourth time. (Ahadith # 187, 188 and 1499, this one under discussion in Tirmidhi.)

DRINKER DISGRACED

(٣٦٢٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ أَزْهَرٍ قَالَ كَأَنِّيْ أَنْظُرُ إِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أُتِيَ بِرَجُلٍ قَدْ

شَرِبَ الْخَمْرَ فَقَالَ لِلنَّاسِ اضْرِبُوْهُ فَمِنْهُمْ مَنْ ضَرَبَهُ بِالنِّعَالِ وَمِنْهُمْ مَنْ ضَرَبَهُ بِالْعَصَا وَمِنْهُمْ مَنْ ضَرَبَهُ

بِالْمِيْتَخَةِ قَالَ ابْنُ وَهْبٍ يَعْنِي الْجَرِيْدَةَ الرَّطْبَةَ ثُمَّ أَخَذَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تُرَابًا مِنَ الْأَرْضِ

فَرَمٰى بِهِ فِيْ وَجْهِهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3620. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Azhar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "It seems as if I still see Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, when a man who had drunk wine was brought to him. He instructed the men to beat him. Scme of them beat him with sandals. Some of them beat hit him with sticks and some more of them struck him mitakhah." Ibn Wahb (a sub-narrator of this hadith) explained that mitakhah is a green twig of a palm tree without any leaf on it.

(Abdur Rahman continued:) "Then Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم took some dust from the ground and cast it on his face." He said that in this way he expressed a dislike for his habit because it was a very repulsive deed.[1]

DO NOT CURSE THE DRUNKARD

(٣٦٢١) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ اِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اُتِيَ بِرَجُلٍ قَدْشَرِبَ الْخَمْرَ فَقَالَ اضْرِبُوْهُ فَمِنَّا الضَّارِبُ بِيَدِهٖ والضَّارِبُ بِثَوْبِهٖ وَالضَّارِبُ بِنَعْلِهٖ ثُمَّ قَالَ بَكِّتُوْهُ فَاَقْبَلُوْا عَلَيْهِ يَقُوْلُوْنَ مَا اتَّقَيْتَ اللّٰهَ مَاخَشِيْتَ اللّٰهَ وَمَا اسْتَحْيَيْتَ مِنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ بَعْضُ الْقَوْمِ اَخْزَاكَ اللّٰهُ قَالَ لَاتَقُوْلُوْا هٰكَذَا لَا تُعِيْنُوْا عَلَيْهِ الشَّيْطَانَ وَلٰكِنْ قُوْلُوْا اَللّٰهُمَّ اغْفِرْلَهٗ اَللّٰهُمَّ ارْحَمْهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3621. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man who had drunk wine was brought to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He instructed them to beat him. So, among them was the striker with his hand, striker with his garment striker with his shoe. Then, he instructed them to reproach him (with their tongue). So, they turned to him and scolded him, saying, "You are not afraid of Allah. You do not fear Him. You do not feel ashamed before Allah's Messenger." Some of them rebuked him, "May Allah shame you!" But, he said to them, "Do not say so and thereby do not help the devil overcome him. Rather, Pray, 'O Allah, forgive him! O Allah, have mercy on him.'[2]

COMMENTARY: The command to reproach the drunkard is of a mustahab (desirable) nature. But, the first command to beat him was wajib (obligatory)

They were instructed not to curse him because if Allah disgraced him then the devil would have power over him. Besides, if he was cursed, he could lose hope in Allah's mercy. In that way, the devil would achieve his wish, and if he commits more sin, Allah's wrath would fall on him.

PUNISHMENT ONLY AFTER PROOF

(٣٦٢٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ شَرِبَ رَجُلٌ فَسَكِرَ فَلُقِيَ يَمِيْلُ فِي الْفَجِّ فَانْطُلِقَ بِهٖ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَلَمَّا حَاذٰى دَارَالْعَبَّاسِ اِنْفَلَتَ فَدَخَلَ عَلَى الْعَبَّاسِ فَالْتَزَمَهٗ فَذُكِرَ ذٰلِكَ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَضَحِكَ فَقَالَ اَفَعَلَهَا وَلَمْ يَاْمُرْ فِيْهِ بِشَيْءٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3622. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man drank (wine) and became intoxicated. He was seen on the road (by the people) walking unsteadily (and screaming nonsense). He was being taken to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم but when he was near the house of (Sayyiduna) Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ, he broke free (from them) and went to Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and clasped him (intending to get his intercession). The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was told of that. He laughed and asked, "He did it, is that so?" And he did not give any command about him.[3]

[1] Abu Dawud # 4489, Musnad Ahmad 4-88.

[2] Abu Dawud # 4477.

[3] Abu Dawud # 4476.

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not punish this man because neither did he receive his confession nor did anyone testify against him. If he had come to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and confessed to his sin or witness had borne out against him, then the hadd (prescribed punishment) would have been enforced against him.
As for his walking unsteadily on the road, this observation is not enough for a Shariah rule to be applied punishing anyone for drinking wine.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

DIYAH IS NOT WAJIB (OBLIGATORY) IF ONE DIES WHILE RECEIVING STRIPES

(٣٦٢٣) عَنْ عُمَيْرِ بْنِ سَعِيْدٍ النَّخْعِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ عَلِيَّ بْنَ اَبِيْ طَالِبٍ يَقُوْلُ مَا كُنْتُ لِأُقِيْمَ عَلٰى اَحَدٍ حَدًّا فَيَمُوْتُ فَاَجِدُ فِيْ نَفْسِيْ مِنْهُ شَيْئًا اِلَّا صَاحِبَ الْخَمْرِ فَاِنَّهُ لَوْمَاتَ وَدَيْتُهُ وَذٰلِكَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَمْ يَسُنَّهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

3623. Sayyiduna Umayr ibn Saeed Nakha'ee رحمه الله narrated that he heard (Sayyiduna) Ali ibn Abu Talib رضى الله عنه say, "If I were to award the hadd (prescribed punishment) to anyone and he were to die (while he is being flogged) then I shall have no regrets about him (because that would be in compliance with Shariah). But, this Excludes one who has drunk wine. If he were to die (while being flogged), I shall pay the bloodwit for him. That is because Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had not specified the hadd (prescribed punishment) about him, as a sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not specify how many stripes should be awarded to one who drinks wine. Some ahadith, however, say that forty, or about forty, stripes are to given to a drunkard.
Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه was apprehensive lest the number of lashes that he awarded to the man (and he died) was in excess of the prescribed then he would have to make a retaliation. This action was a caution approach by Ali رضى الله عنه because when Umar رضى الله عنه decided to specify the number of stripes to a drinker of wine and consulated the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم, Ali رضى الله عنه had said that he considered right stripes to be proper.

UMAR رضى الله عنه SPECIFIED THE NUMBER OF STRIPES TO DRUNKARD

(٣٦٢٤) وَعَنْ ثَوْرِبْنِ زَيْدٍ الدَّيْلَمِيِّ قَالَ اِنَّ عُمَرَ اسْتَشَارَ فِيْ حَدِّ الْخَمْرِ فَقَالَ لَهٗ عَلِيٌّ اَرٰى اَنْ تَجْلِدَهٗ ثَمَانِيْنَ جَلْدَةً فَاِنَّهٗ اِذَا شَرِبَ سَكِرَ وَاِذَا سَكِرَ هَذٰى وَاِذَا هَذٰى افْتَرٰى فَجَلَدَ عُمَرُ فِيْ حَدِّ الْخَمْرِ ثَمَانِيْنَ۔ (رواه مالك)

3624. Sayyiduna Thawr ibn Zayd Daylami رحمه الله said that Umar رضى الله عنه sought advice (of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم) about the prescribed punishment for drinking wine. Ali رضى الله عنه said to him, "I suggested that you should award him (drinker of wine eighty stripes because when he drinks (wine), he becomes intoxicated. When he is intoxicated, he talks incoherently. When he talks

---

incoherently he slanders." So, Umar prescribed eighty stripes as punishment for drinking wine.[1]

COMMENTARY: The punishment to one who slanders, accuses falsely or defames innocent women is eighty lashes. So on the same premise a drinker of wine should be lashed eighty times.

This punishment is given to everyone who drinks wine whether he slanders others or not. Umar رضی اللہ عنہ accepted this opinion of Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and fixed eighty stripes for drinking wine. The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم unanimously agreed to that.

[The name of the narrator Thawr ibn Zayd Daylami appears in the Muwatta as Thawr ibn Zayd Dilli.]

CHAPTER - V

CURSE MAY NOT BE INVOKED ON ONE WHO HAS BEEN AWARDED THE PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT

بَابُ مَالَا يُدْعٰى عَلَى الْمَحْدُوْدِ

In this chapter, we shall speak of a person who has become liable to receive a prescribed punished. Then, it is awarded to him. After that, is it proper to curse him and pray against him? For instance, a man cursed a drunk, (اخزاک اللہ) may Allah disgrace and deprive you!" Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him that he must not do that, but he must pray for him to be forgiven and shown mercy.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

DISALLOWED TO CURSE A SINNER

(٣٦٢٥) عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ اَنَّ رَجُلًا اسْمُهُ عَبْدُاللّٰهِ تُلَقَّبُ حِمَارًا كَانَ يُضْحِكُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَكَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَدْ جَلَدَهُ فِي الشَّرَابِ فَأُتِيَ بِهِ يَوْمًا فَاَمَرَ بِهِ فَجُلِدَ فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ مِنَ الْقَوْمِ اَللّٰهُمَّ الْعَنْهُ مَا اَكْثَرَ مَايُؤْتٰى بِهٖ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاتَلْعَنُوْهُ فَوَاللّٰهِ مَاعَلِمْتُ اَنَّهُ يُحِبُّ اللّٰهَ وَرَسُوْلَهٗ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3625. Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man whose name was Abdullah and sobriquet was Himar (meaning, Ass, because of his foolishness) used to make the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم laugh. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had awarded him lashes for drinking wine. One day, he was brought (again) and he gave an order about him, and he was flogged. One of the men there prayed against him, "O Allah, curse him! How often he is brought (here for drinking wine)!" The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not invoke a curse on him, for by Allah, I do know that he loves Allah and His Messenger!"[2]

COMMENTARY: It is not permitted to curse a sinner by name, specifically. And, love of Allah and His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم are a means to drawing near Allah, so it is never allowed to invoke a curse on those who love Allah and His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم because the word (لعنة) (lanat-curse) implies deprivation of Allah's mercy.

(٣٦٢٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ اُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِرَجُلٍ قَدْ شَرِبَ فَقَالَ اضْرِبُوْهُ فَمِنَّا الضَّارِبُ بِيَدِهٖ وَالضَّارِبُ بِنَعْلِهٖ وَالضَّارِبُ بِثَوْبِهٖ فَلَمَّا انْصَرَفَ قَالَ بَعْضُ الْقَوْمِ اَخْزَاكَ اللّٰهُ قَالَ لَا تَقُوْلُوْا هٰكَذَا لَا تُعِيْنُوْا عَلَيْهِ الشَّيْطَانَ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3626. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ said, "A man who had drunk wine was brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He instructed (the men around) to beat him. So among us was the striker with his hand, the striker with his shoe, and the striker with his garment. As he was going away (after the punishment), someone among the people said (اخزاک اللہ) (may Allah disgrace you!). The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'Do not say so and do not support the devil in over whelming him.' "[1]

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

DEFAMING ONE WHO IS PUNISHED IS LIKE EATING CARRION

(٣٦٢٧) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ جَاءَ الْاَسْلَمِيُّ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَشَهِدَ عَلٰى نَفْسِهٖ اَنَّهٗ اَصَابَ امْرَاَةً حَرَامًا اَرْبَعَ مَرَّاتٍ كُلَّ ذٰلِكَ يُعْرِضُ عَنْهُ فَاَقْبَلَ فِي الْخَامِسَةِ فَقَالَ اَنِكْتَهَا؟ قَالَ نَعَمْ وَقَالَ حَتّٰى غَابَ ذٰلِكَ مِنْكَ فِيْ ذٰلِكَ مِنْهَا قَالَ نَعَمْ قَالَ كَمَا يَغِيْبُ الْمِرْوَدُ فِي الْمُكْحُلَةِ وَالرِّشَاءُ فِي الْبِئْرِ قَالَ نَعَمْ قَالَ هَلْ تَدْرِيْ مَا الزِّنَا قَالَ نَعَمْ اَتَيْتُ مِنْهَا حَرَامًا مَا يَاْتِي الرَّجُلُ مِنْ اَهْلِهٖ حَلَالًا قَالَ فَمَا تُرِيْدُ بِهٰذَا الْقَوْلِ قَالَ اُرِيْدُ اَنْ تُطَهِّرَنِيْ فَاَمَرَ بِهٖ فَرُجِمَ فَسَمِعَ النَّبِيُّ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَجُلَيْنِ مِنْ اَصْحَابِهٖ يَقُوْلُ اَحَدُهُمَا لِصَاحِبِهٖ اُنْظُرْ اِلٰى هٰذَا الَّذِيْ سَتَرَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ فَلَمْ تَدَعْهُ نَفْسُهٗ حَتّٰى رُجِمَ رَجْمَ الْكَلْبِ فَسَكَتَ عَنْهُمَا ثُمَّ سَارَ سَاعَةً حَتّٰى مَرَّ بِجِيْفَةِ حِمَارٍ شَائِلٍ بِرِجْلِهٖ فَقَالَ اَيْنَ فُلَانٌ وَفُلَانٌ فَقَالَا نَحْنُ ذَانِ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَقَالَ انْزِلَا فَكُلَا مِنْ جِيْفَةِ هٰذَا الْحِمَارِ فَقَالَا يَا نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ مَنْ يَاْكُلُ مِنْ هٰذَا قَالَ فَمَا نِلْتُمَا مِنْ عِرْضِ اَخِيْكُمَا اٰنِفًا اَشَدُّ مِنْ اَكْلٍ مِنْهُ وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسِيْ بِيَدِهٖ اِنَّهُ الْاٰنَ لَفِيْ اَنْهَارِ الْجَنَّةِ يَنْغَمِسُ فِيْهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3627. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (Ma'iz) Aslami came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and testified against himself four times that he had committed adultery with a woman. Each time the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم turned away from him (allowing him an opportunity to retract and avert the hadd (prescribed punishment)). But, the fifth time, he faced him and asked, "Did you have intercourse with her?" He said, "Yes!" He asked, "Till that from you (your sexual organ) disappeared in that of hers?" He said, "Yes!" Then, he asked, "Like a collyrium stick disappears in the case and a rope in the well?" He said, "Yes!" He asked, "Do you know what adulters is?" He said, "Yes, I did with her unlawfully what a man does with his wife lawfully." He asked, "What do you intend (to get) by this confession?" He said, "I intend that you (punish and so) purify me." SO (having thus established his guilt) he gave command about him and he was stoned to death.

Then Allah's Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم heard two of his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم say, one to his companion, "Look at this man! Allah did conceal his fault but his self did not spare him (from confessing to his sin) till he was stoned (to death), the stoning of a dog." But, he (the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said nothing to them. He walked a while till he came to the corpse of an ass (lying upside down) with its legs raised in the air (its body puffed up). He asked, "Where are so-and-so and so-and-so?" (He meant the two men.) They exclaimed, "Here we are! O Messenger of Allah!" He said, "Alight, and eat from the corpse of this ass." They submitted, "O Prophet of Allah, who can eat any of that (flesh)?" He said, What the two you have just now spoken in defaming your brother is more repulsive than eating from it. By Him who has my soul in His hand. He (Ma'iz) is now in the rivers of paradise, diving into them."

(٣٦٢٨) وَعَنْ خُزَيْمَةَ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَصَابَ ذَنْبًا اُقِيْمَ عَلَيْهِ حَدُّ ذٰلِكَ الذَّنْبِ فَهُوَ كَفَّارَتُهُ۔ رَوَاهُ فِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ۔

3628. Sayyiduna Khuzaymah ibn Thabit رضى الله عنه narrated, "If a person commits a sin and receives the prescribed punishment for that sin (like lashes for adultery and cutting off hand for stealing) then it is expiation for his sin."[1]

PUNISHMENT AVERTS RECKONING IN THE HEREAFTER

(٣٦٢٩) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ اَصَابَ حَدًّا فَعُجِّلَ عُقُوْبَتُهُ فِي الدُّنْيَا فَاللّٰهُ اَعْدَلُ مِنْ اَنْ يُّثَنِّيَ عَلٰى عَبْدِهِ الْعُقُوْبَةَ فِي الْاٰخِرَةِ وَمَنْ اَصَابَ حَدًّا فَسَتَرَهُ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَعَفَا عَنْهُ فَاللّٰهُ اَكْرَمُ مِنْ اَنْ يَّعُوْدَ فِيْ شَيْءٍ قَدْ عَفَا عَنْهُ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3629. Sayyiduna Ali narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If anyone is liable to receive the hadd (prescribed punishment) (having committed a sin that makes hadd (prescribed punishment) wajib (obligatory) on him or a tazeer wajib (obligatory) on him), then Allah is too Just to punish His slave in the hereafter a second time. And as for him, who commits a sin (and is liable to receive a punishment of hadd (prescribed punishment)) and Allah conceals his crime and pardons him then Allah is too kind to return to something that He has forgiven.[2]

COMMENTARY: The man made a sincere repentance seeking Allah's forgiveness. So, Allah forgives him in this world and conceals his sin. It is expected of Him, therefore, that He will be kind and forgive him in the hereafter, too.

BETTER TO CONCEAL ONE'S SINS THAN TO DISCLOSE THEM

The majority of the ulama (Scholars) hold that if a person commits a sin then rather than disclose it (with a confession before the rulers to get the punishment in this world), it is better for him and a preferable course that he conceal his sin and make a repentance to Allah and seek forgiveness from Him. Of course, submitting himself before the ruler and making a confession of his sin is a sign of his strong faith, of soundness of his heart and his fear of Allah, but concealing it is better.

CHAPTER - VI

TAZEER (DISCRETIONARY PUNISHMENT) بَابُ التَّعْزِيْرِ

The root of the word (تعزیر) tazeer is (عذر) azzar. It means to forbid,' 'to stop', 'to blame'. In the terminology of shariah, this word (tazeer) is used in the sense of the punishment that is milder than hadd (prescribed punishment) and is awarded by way of a warning and a deterrent. It is called tazeer because it is aimed to prevent one from committing the deed (sin or crime) again because of which one had to undergo the punishment (tazeer).

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HADD (PRESCRIBED PUNISHMENT) & TAZEER: Hadd (prescribed punishment) is the punishment prescribed by Allah's Book and the sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) of His Messenger and it is also specified. The ruler has authority only to enforce it but he is not allowed to enact it or to amend it.
On the other hand, tazeer is punishment that is not specified by Allah's Book or the sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) of His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Rather, it is enforced at the discretion of the ruler. He may determine it according to circumstances and exigencies of the time and need of the moment.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

THE MAXIMUM PUNISHMENT AS TAZEER

(٣٦٣٠) عَنْ اَبِيْ بُرْدَةَ بْنِ نِيَارٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يُجْلَدُ فَوْقَ عَشْرِ جَلَدَاتٍ اِلَّا فِيْ حَدٍّ مِّنْ حُدُوْدِ اللّٰهِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3630. Sayyiduna Abu Bardah ibn Niyar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "More than ten lashes must not be awarded (in punishment to anyone), except in one of the hadd (prescribed punishment) (prescribed punishment of the) of the hudud of Allah."[1]

COMMENTARY: Though this hadith says that it is not allowed to award more than ten lashes in the cases of discretionary punishments or tazeer yet the ulama (Scholars) say that this hadith is abrogated.

As for the maximum number of lashes to be awarded in case of tazeer, the jurists have different opinions about it. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ and Imam Muhammad رحمہ اللہ say that more than thirty-nine lashes must not be awarded to anyone. Imam Abu Yusuf رحمہ اللہ says that a maximum of seventy lashes may be awarded.

As for the minimum number of lashes, all of them agree that they should be three. Moreover, they agree too that the number of lashes awarded in case of tazeer should not be as many as the number awarded against hadd (prescribed punishment). However, if they are more severe than that then there is no harm.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

DO NOT BEAT ON FACE OF THE GUILTY

(٣٦٣١) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِذَا ضَرَبَ اَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَتَّقِ الْوَجْهَ۔(رواه ابوداؤد)

3631. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When any one of you enforces a beating (on the guilty), he should keep away from (striking) the face."[1]

PUNISHMENT FOR RUDENESS

(٣٦٣٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِذَا قَالَ الرَّجُلُ لِلرَّجُلِ يَايَهُوْدِيُّ فَاضْرِبُوْهُ عِشْرِيْنَ وَاِذَا قَالَ يَا مُخَنَّثُ فَاضْرِبُوْهُ عِشْرِيْنَ وَمَنْ وَقَعَ عَلٰى ذَاتِ مَحْرَمٍ فَاقْتُلُوْهُ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3632. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone calls another person, 'O Jew' then give him twenty lashes. If he calls him 'O mukhannath,' then give him twenty lashes.If a man has (illicit) sexual intercourse then kill him.[2]

COMMENTARY: Mukhannath are effeminate men. Their limbs and their speech are like women's. If anyone accuses a slave or an infidel of committing illicit sex though he is innocent, then the false accuser is awarded the tazeer (some kind of punishment). So too, if anyone falsely accuses a Muslim a crime other than adultery then he is awarded a tazeer (or discretion any punishment. A hadd (prescribed punishment) is awarded for false accusation of adultery). Examples of these false accusations are calling him: O sinner, O disbeliever, O evil one, O thief, O hypocrite, O homosexual, O Jew, O mukhannath, O cheater, O son of an adulteress, O zindiq, (o dog), O supporter of adulterers or thieves, (O bastard).

Tazeer will not be liable on one who calls a Muslim: O donkey, (O dog), O monkey, and other animals, O barber, (O bastard), O deformed one, O worthless, O joker, O swindler, O knave, O fool, O doubter. However, the ulama (Scholars) say that the tazeer will be awarded to one who addresses these words to a virtuous, respectable person. (The words in parenthesis are repeated in both places in the original urdu.)

HUSBAND'S RIGHT: A husband has a right to punish his wife if she disobeys him when he asks her to adorn herself for him (when they are together alone), or when she does not respond to his advances, or if she does not offer the (prescribed) salah (prayer), or if she does not have a purifying bath (after sexual intercourse), or if she goes out of his house without his permission.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1467, Ibn Majah # 2568 (2564).

SEX WITH MAHRAM: If anyone has a sexual intercourse within the forbidden degrees (mahram), then he should be killed. Imam Ahmad رحمه الله goes by this command but the majority of the ulama (Scholars) hold that the apparent meaning is not to be observed. This statement merely means to discourage such acts. Some others say that if a person regards sexual intercourse with a mahram as lawful then he should be killed, otherwise the same command as for adultery applies in this case too (as with any woman): the married fornicator is to be stoned to death while the unmarried adulterer is to be flogged.

STEALING SPOILS

(٣٦٣٣) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِذَا وَجَدْ تُّمُ الرَّجُلَ قَدْ غَلَّ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَاَحْرِقُوْا مَتَاعَهُ وَاضْرِبُوْهُ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَ قَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3633. Sayyiduna Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "When you detect a man who is treacherous (concerning spoils) in Allah's path, then burn his possessions and give him a beating."[1]

COMMENTARY: Some ulama (Scholars) say that the command to burn his property is no more valid. It is abrogated.

Imam Ahmad رحمه الله, however, goes by the apparent meaning of this hadith. He says that all property and belongings of this man who misappropriates the spoils should be burnt, except copies of the Quran, weapons and animals.

Also, this man should be beaten as a discretionary punishment. However, as stated earlier, he is not liable to have his hand cut off.

CHAPTER - VII

ABOUT WINE & THE WARNING TO ONE WHO DRINKS IT

بَابُ بَيَانِ الْخَمْرِ وَوَعِيْدِ شَارِبِهَا

In this chapter, wine is defined, and to what the drinker makes himself liable and a warning is sounded to the drinker.

WHAT IS KHAMR: According to the Qamus, Khamr (wine) is that which intoxicates when it is drunk. It may be the crude juice of grapes or of any other thing. The more correct approach is to go by the generally understood meaning of the word whatever intoxicates whether juice of grapes or of anyother thing, because wine was forbidden in Madinah when wine from grapes was unknown. Rather, Khamr was produced only from dates at that time.

WHY SO CALLED: In the opinion of the lexicographers, Khamr means 'to cover', 'to conceal', 'to confound'. Since wine covers the drinker's mind and confuses and confound his senses, so it is called Khamr.

KINDS OF INTOXICANTS: There are many kinds of things that intoxicate.

(1) One of these is wine. It is produced from grapes. Juice of grapes is placed in a vessel for a few days till it thickens and ferments and becomes ebullient and spirituous. In this way, it becomes an intoxicant. The correct opinion which is observed is that it is not necessary for it to gather foam. It is called Khamr in Arabic.

(2) The second kind is to boil the juice of grapes to some extent and store (for some time). It is called (باذق) badhiq (in Arabic) and (باده) badah (in Persian).When the juice of grapes is boiled till one-fourth of it evaporates and three-fourths remains, it is called (طلاء) Tila.

(3) The third kind is called (نقيع التمر) naqi-ut-tamr also called (سكر) sikkir. It is the thickened juice of dates it gathers foam.

(4) The fourth kind is called (نقيع الزبيب) naqi-uz-zabib.[1]

It is the juice of raisins (large and small) that is boiled and produced foam.

RULING: Of these four kinds, the first kind is absolutely prohibited. There is no doubt about it. The remaining three kinds are prohibited in the unanimous opinion of the ulama (Scholars) when they are kept in a vessel after boiling them and they thicken, because in this way they become intoxicants. But, if they do not intoxicate then they are not forbidden. For instance, if dates are immersed in water for some time till the water looks like a sherbet (or juice) without any kind of change in it , then it is proper to drink it.

OTHER DRINKS: There are four other drinks which, according to Imam Abu Hanifah, are lawful to drink provided they are boiled in a simple way such that they do not intoxicate, but if they become intoxicants then these kinds also become forbidden Again, if they are kept aside for along time without boiling them and they gather foam, then too it is forbidden to drink them.

NABIDTH: One of these four kinds is nabidth. It is produced from dates and is boiled to some extent. Even if it becomes dense then too it is allowed to drink it.

KHALEET: It is a juice prepared by boiling for a little.

THIRD KIND: It is nabidh prepared with honey, wheat, barley and corn or millet boiled in water to some extent to produce a drink.

MUTHALLITH YAMAN: It is the fourth kind. The juice of grape is boiled till two parts of it evaporate and one part (or one-third) of it remains as a drink.

RULING ON THESE FOUR: Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that if anyone drinks any of them to gain strength to be able to worship well then it is allowed. But, if it is drunk to enjoy and get sexual pleasure then it is prohibited.

However, Imam Muhammad رحمه الله held that is forbidden even to obtain energy for worship. The Hanafis, therefore, go by the ruling of Imam Muhammad رحمه الله. It is stated in the Ayni Sharh Kanz that Imam Maalik رحمه الله. Imam Shafi'i and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله and from the Hanafis Imam Muhammad رحمه الله rule: If a greater part of anything is an intoxicant and inebriates and befuddles, then even a small quantity of it is forbidden, whatever the way it goes into the drinker's head.[2]

The evidence lies in the hadith in Ibn Majah and Daraqutni that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Whatever is an intoxicant is wine and all intoxicants are forbidden."[3]

---

[1] Hidayah has it noogoo zabib

[2] Ibn Majah # 3392 to 3394.

[3] Ibn Majah # 3390 and (similar) # 3386 to 3391, Daraqutni.

Hence, the Hanafi abide by the ruling of Imam Muhammad رحمه الله.

We know, therefore that every thing spirituous and intoxicant is wine and forbidden whether it is a drink prepared from grapes, dates, raisin, honey, wheat, barley, millet or corn or it may be the extract or juice of any tree, or it may be a kind of grass. It is forbidden irrespective of the quantity consumed, small or great.

DIVORCE: If anyone divorces his wife in a state of intoxication, then, according to the jurists, divorce will be effective whether the intoxicant had resulted from wine or nabidh, etc.

We stated in the foregoing lines that the Imams Maalik رحمه الله, Shafi'i رحمه الله and Ahmad ibn Hanbal رحمه الله as also from the Hanafis Imam Muhammad رحمه الله and, besides them, the scholars of hadith, hold that every intoxicant is forbidden, little or much. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله holds that a drink is filthy and forbidden and falls under the same command as wine which boils, thickens and gathers foam. And, he says that apart from these, unless they intoxicate, other things are not forbidden. However, the research scholars of the Hanafis who prefer to exercise caution, follow the verdict of Imam Muhammad رحمه الله. It is stated so in the Nihayah, Ayni, Zayl'i, Durr Mukhtar, Al Ishabah wa an-Naza'ir , Fatawa Alamgiri, Fatawa Hummadiyah and Sharh Mawahibur Rahman. In fact, some of these assert the Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله concurred with Imam Muhammad رحمه الله. In this case, all the imams are one on this issue.

Muwlana Abul Hayyi Lakhnowi رحمه الله had answered a question that 'leaved bread' is forbidden. He delved exhaustively on the forgoing issue too and attested confirmation from nearly forty scholars of the Hanafis and the Shafi'is.

Among things that cause intoxication, are cannabis, intoxicating grass, herbal plants and opium. It is forbidden to eat or drink them because they completely disrupt the human mind and hinder man from worship. The Ulama (Scholars) state that if anyone says that cannabis etc are lawful (to consume) then he is zindiq and a bid'ati (innovator). Rather, the jurist Najmuddin Zahidi رحمه الله has called him a disbeliever,and said that it is permissible to kill him.

TOBACCO: Also, tobacco is forbidden as stated in Durr Mukhtar. Shah Abdul Aziz Mu*hadd (prescribed punishment)*ith Dahlawi رحمه الله has classified puffing at a hookah[1] (or a hubble.bubble) as makruh tanzihi (disapproved for purification). This is because the mouth of one who puffs at the hookah smells of onion and garlic and not only that it also resembles the inmates their mouths and it does also from this man's mouth. Besides, sound nature dislikes this habit. Also, it causes extreme lethargy, and it causes some people to swoon. This thing is among the (مفتر) muftar, meaning that which creates sloth and neglect. According to a hadith transmitted by Imam Ahmad رحمه الله and others:

"Whatever makes one lazy and neglectful is forbidden."

The compiler of Sirah and Sahah say muftar means to grow laziness. Imam Raghib has written in Mufradat ul-Quran that fatar and future mean to 'slow down after being active,' 'becoming mild after fervour,' 'turning feeble after good health.' These things are found in one who puffs at the hookah.

As for the meaning of muftar given by some as 'heating of the body,' this is a rare meaning

---

[1] an oriental tobacco pipe with a long, flexible tube draws smoke through water in a bowl. (Oxford concise Dictionary) and it is contrary to what most lexicographers say unless it refers to an internal heat. Anyway, puffing at the hookah takes one away from Allah's pleasure because it defies the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) of siwak. While the siwak (cleanses the teeth and) removes the bad odour from the mouth, the hookah makes the mouth bad smelling. This hadith is found in the books of hadith Sahah, etc. about siwak:

اَلسِّوَاكُ مَطْهَرَةٌ لِلْفَمِ وَمَرْضَاتٌ لِلرَّبِّ

"The siwak is a means of purifying the mouth and it earns the pleasure of the lord."[1] (siwak is a piece of a twig used to brush and clean teeth.)

SECTION I — اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

INGREDIENTS OF WINE

(٣٦٣٤) عَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْخَمْرُ مِنْ هَا تَيْنِ الشَّجَرَ تَيْنِ: النخلةِ وَالْعِنَبَةِ۔ متفق عليه۔

3634. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Wine is produced from these two trees: the date-palm and the grape-vine."[2]

COMMENTARY: The meaning is that these two things: dates and grapes are the main source of wine. It does not limit the sources to these two things because of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم's saying (كل مسكر خمر) "Every intoxicant is wine" (in that the same command applies to all).

(٣٦٣٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ خَطَبَ عُمَرُ عَلٰى مِنْبَرِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اِنَّهُ قَدْ نَزَلَ تَحْرِيْمُ الْخَمْرِ وَهِيَ مِنْ خَمْسَةِ اَشْيَاءَ الْعِنَبِ وَالتَّمْرِ وَالْحِنْطَةِ وَالشَّعِيْرِ وَالْعَسَلِ والْخَمْرُ مَا خَامَرَ الْعَقْلَ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3635. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه said that (Sayyiduna) Umar رضی الله عنه delivered a sermon from the pulpit of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and he said, "Prohibition of wine has been revealed. And it is produced from five things: grapes, dates, wheat, barley and honey. Wine is what covers and confounds the mind."[3]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) explain that the concluding words describe wine as what confounds the mind. Hence, these five things are not all from which wine is prepared. There are other things too (Prohibition was with verse 90 of sunah al-Ma'idah).

KHAMR WAS FROM DATES

(٣٦٣٦) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ لَقَدْ حُرِّمَتِ الْخَمْرُ حِيْنَ حُرِّمَتْ وَمَا نَجِدُ خَمْرَ الْاَعْنَابِ اِلَّا قَلِيْلًا وَعَامَّةُ خَمْرِنَا الْبُسْرُ وَالتَّمْرُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

[3] Bukhari # 5588, Muslim # 33-3032, Abu Dawud # 3669, Nasai # 5578.

3636. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه said, "Prohibition of wine was (enforced promptly) when it was forbidden (by a revelation). We did not (at that time) get wine from grapes but a little. Most of our wine was from busr (unripe dates) and tamr (dry dates)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The fresh bud, or plumule, on a palm tree is called (طلع) tala in Arabic. It is the spadix which is the initial form of dates where after (خلال) Khalal or green dates, (بسر) busr or unripe dates, (رطب) rutb or fresh, moist dates, are followed by dried dates and the final form (تمر) tamr or ripe dates.

SPIRITUOUS DRINK IS FORBIDDEN

(٣٦٣٧) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ سُئِلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الْبِتْعِ وَهُوَ نَبِيْذُ الْعَسَلِ فَقَالَ كُلُّ شَرَابٍ اَسْكَرَ فَهُوَ حَرَامٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

3637. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم was asked about bit (بتع) or mead which is nabidh from honey. He said, "Every drink that intoxicates is forbidden."[2]

COMMENTARY: The word bit is also biti. Honey is kept in a vessel for some days till it becomes strong like the nabidh from dates. Both kinds are forbidden if they cause intoxication. It is said that bit was common among the people of Yemen.

DEPRIVED OF PURE WINE OF NEXT WORLD

(٣٦٣٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كُلُّ مُسْكِرٍ خَمْرٌ وَكُلُّ مُسْكِرٍ حَرَامٌ وَمَنْ شَرِبَ الْخَمْرَ فِي الدُّنْيَا فَمَاتَ وَهُوَ يُدْمِنُهَا لَمْ يَتُبْ لَمْ يَشْرَبْهَا فِي الْآخِرَةِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3638. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Every intoxicant is (under the same command as) wine and every intoxicant is forbidden. He who drinks wine in this world and dies as a habitual drinker, without making a repentance, will not drink it in the hereafter."[3]

COMMENTARY: The habitual drinker drinks wine taking it to be lawful, or these words are meant to keep him away from drinking, or he will not get the pure wine of the next world with those who enter paradise straightaway.

WARNING TO DRINKERS

(٣٦٣٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ رَجُلًا قَدِمَ مِنَ الْيَمَنِ فَسَاَلَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ شَرَابٍ يَشْرَبُوْنَهُ بِاَرْضِهِمْ مِنَ الذُّرَةِ يُقَالُ لَهُ الْمِزْرُ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَوَ مُسْكِرٌ هُوَ؟ قَالَ نَعَمْ قَالَ كُلُّ مُسْكِرٍ حَرَامٌ اِنَّ عَلَى اللّٰهِ عَهْدًا لِمَنْ يَشْرَبُ الْمُسْكِرَ اَنْ يَّسْقِيَهُ مِنْ طِيْنَةِ الْخَبَالِ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ وَمَا طِيْنَةُ

الْخَبَالِ قَالَ عَرَقُ أَهْلِ النَّارِ أَوْ عُصَارَةُ أَهْلِ النَّارِ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3639. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man arrived from Yemen. He asked the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم about a kind of liquor they consumed in Yemen which was produced from corn and is called mizr. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked him, "Is it intoxicating?" He said, "Yes!" So, he said, "Every intoxicant is forbidden. And (remember) about one who drinks intoxicants that he will give him to drink from tinat ul-Khabal." They (the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم) asked, "O Messenger of Allah, what is tinat ul-Khabal?" He said, "The perspiration of the inmates of hell." Or, he said, "The puss from the wounds of the inmates of hell."[1]

COMMENTARY: The translation of Shaykh Abdul Haq Mu*hadd (prescribed punishment)*ith Dahlawi رحمہ اللہ gives the meaning of Khabal as the 'sweat' or 'puss or blood' of the inmates of hell, and tinat as 'sediment'.

ABOUT NABIDH

(٣٦٤٠) وَعَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى عَنْ خَلِيطِ التَّمْرِ وَالْبُسْرِ وَعَنْ خَلِيطِ الزَّبِيبِ وَالتَّمْرِ وَعَنْ خَلِيطِ الزَّهْوِ وَالرُّطَبِ وَقَالَ انْتَبِذُوا كُلَّ وَاحِدٍ عَلَى حِدَةٍ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3640. Sayyiduna Abu Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that dried date and unripe dates should be mixed (to prepare nabidh), that raisins and dried dates should be mixed (to prepare nabidh), that zahwi (زھو) which is unripe date that takes yellow and red colour) should be mixed with fresh dates (to prepare nabidh). But, he said, "Prepare nabidh of each (by soaking it) separately."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the soaking of two kinds of fruit together (to make nabidh from them), but he allowed each to be soaked separately (to make nabidh from it). The reason is that one of the two kinds of fruit may respond to water more quickly than the other and become an intoxicant casting an influence on the other, The nabidh will cause intoxication and it will not be possible to identify the intoxicant. So, drinking it will be unlawful.

Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ abide by this hadith. They say that it is unlawful to drink this nabidh whether it intoxicates or not. Other say that it is forbidden only if there is intoxicant from it.

ALLOWED TO CONSUME VINEGAR FROM WINE OR NOT?

(٣٦٤١) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سُئِلَ عَنِ الْخَمْرِ يُتَّخَذُ خَلًّا؟ فَقَالَ لَا۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3641. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was asked about wine being processed into vinegar (by immersing salt and onion into it). He said, "No." (It is not lawful).[3]

COMMENTARY: The Hanafis say that if wine is transformed into vinegar then it is allowed to use it for eating and drinking. The vinegar may be prepared by mixing something in wine or without adding anything to it, by putting it aside for many days, or by leaving it in the sun after which it turns into vinegar automatically.

Imam Shafi رحمه الله says that if vinegar is processed by mixed something with wine, then it is not lawful to consume. If it is left in sun and it turns into vinegar without anything being added to it then he gave two verdicts about it and the more approved is that the wine is no more wine but will become pure and it will be allowed to consume it.

The Hanafis say that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had said unreservedly:

نِعْمَ الْإِدَامُ الْخَلُّ

(The best of seasoning is vinegar.) Hence, vinegar is lawful. Secondly, if the impurity is removed from wine because of which it was unlawful and a pure state is introduced into it then becomes lawful to consume.

As for this hadith (under discussion) the Hanafis say that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had denied that it was lawful because this question was asked after wine was forbidden and people had long been used to drinking it. Naturally, any habit that has been given up after a very long practice does not go out of minds suddenly. Minds do incline toward it for a long time afterwards. Therefore, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade the use of vinegar processed from wine lest the devil tempt the people to drink wine in the name of vinegar. Later, when the people were used to the prohibition of wine and there was no likelihood of their returning to it, the consumption of vinegar was permitted, processed from wine. The compiler of Hidayah has transmitted a hadith from Jabir رضى الله عنه in a marfa form:

خَيْرُ خَلِّكُمْ خَلُّ خَمْرِكُمْ۔ (بیہقی)

(The best of your vinegar is that which is produced from wine). Bayhaqi, Kitab Marifah.

NOT TO BE USED AS MEDICINE

(٣٦٤٢) وَعَنْ وَائِلٍ الْحَضْرَمِيِّ أَنَّ طَارِقَ بْنَ سُوَيْدٍ سَأَلَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الْخَمْرِ فَنَهَاهُ فَقَالَ إِنَّمَا أَصْنَعُهَا لِلدَّوَاءِ فَقَالَ إِنَّهُ لَيْسَ بِدَوَاءٍ وَلٰكِنَّهُ دَاءٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3642. Sayyiduna Wa'il al-Hadrami رضى الله عنه narrated that (Sayyiduna) Tariq ibn Suwayd رضى الله عنه asked the Prophet رضى الله عنه about wine. He forbade him. Then he submitted, "We (will) only use it as a medicine." He said, "It is not a medicine but is (itself) a malady."[1]

COMMENTARY: Most ulama (Scholars) say that wine must not be used as medicine. Some ulama (Scholars) maintain, however, that if a physician says that there is no remedy for an illness but wine, then it is allowed to use it, but the physician must be skilled.

Similarly, if a morsel or something else gets stuck in a person's throat and cannot be swallowed and there is no water or any liquid to gulp it down so that he might die of suffocation, then all the ulama (Scholars) say, unanimously, that it is lawful to drink only so mush wine as is enough to get that thing down the throat.

ALLAH HAS NOT PLACED CURE IN THE UNLAWFUL THINGS: It has been mentioned earlier in the beginning of the previous chapter, that the prohibition of wine was not sent down (in the verses of the Quran) all of a sudden but was sent down gradually. The first of these verses was cited there. It also says: (وَمَنَافِعُ لِلنَّاسِ) {and there is some benefit in it for the people}

The exegetes have written much on what these benefits could be. Some of them have pointed out that benefits refer to the soundness of the human body but can wine benefit the human body in any way, or be a means of cure of some illness? We must remember the words of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that Allah has not placed cure in anything that is unlawful.

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

PUNISHMENT FOR DRINKING WINE

(٣٦٤٣-٣٦٤٤) عَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ شَرِبَ الْخَمْرَ لَمْ يَقْبَلِ اللّٰهُ لَهُ صَلَاةً أَرْبَعِيْنَ صَبَاحًا فَإِنْ تَابَ تَابَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ فَإِنْ عَادَ لَمْ يَقْبَلِ اللّٰهُ لَهُ صَلَاةً أَرْبَعِيْنَ صَبَاحًا فَإِنْ تَابَ تَابَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ فَإِنْ عَادَ لَمْ يَقْبَلِ اللّٰهُ لَهُ صَلَاةً أَرْبَعِيْنَ صَبَاحًا فَإِنْ تَابَ تَابَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ فَإِنْ عَادَ فِي الرَّابِعَةِ لَمْ يَقْبَلِ اللّٰهُ لَهُ صَلَاةً أَرْبَعِيْنَ صَبَاحًا فَإِنْ تَابَ لَمْ يَتُبِ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَقَاهُ مِنْ نَّهْرِ الْخَبَالِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَرَوَاهُ النَّسَائِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو۔

3643. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone drinks wine (and does not repent) then Allah does not accept his salah (prayer) for forty days. If he repents then Allah relents to him. If he reverts (to it), then Allah does not accept his salah (prayer) for forty days, but if he repents then Allah relents to him. Again, if he reverts (to it), then Allah does not accept his salah (prayer) for forty days, but if he repents then Allah relents to him. Then, if he reverts to it a fourth time, Allah does not accept his salah (prayer) over forty days and even if he repents, Allah does not relent to him, and He will give him to drink from the river of Khabal (which is the pus of the inmates of hell)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The man will not get reward for offering salah (prayer) but he will have discharged his duty to offer it. The worship of salah (prayer) has been mentioned here specifically to make realize that when salah (prayer) is not approved which is the superior most of all physical forms of worship then what way be said of the other forms of worship.

The number of forty days is perhaps mentioned because a drunkard retains the effect of wine in different ways for as many days.

The Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words that Allah will not relent to him the fourth time are by way of warning and are meant to keep him away from sin. In fact, he has said elsewhere, "If anyone sins and regrets and makes a repentance and hopes that Allah will forgive him then he is not defiant even if commits the same sin seventy times in a day."

Or, the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words mean that he who drinks wine the essence of all sins is so much under its bleak influence that he is unable to make a sincere repentance. He is lost to the extent that he dies in his obstinacy.

LITTLE OF INTOXICANT IS ALSO HARAAM

(٣٦٤٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَا اَسْكَرَ كَثِيْرُهُ فَقَلِيْلُهُ حَرَامٌ۔ (رواه الترمذى وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3645. Sayyiduna Jabir رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If much of anything intoxicates, then a little of it is (also) prohibited."[1]

COMMENTARY: If there is a liquor whose large amount causes intoxication but a small amount does not intoxicates then it does not follow that its small amounts may be consumed . Rather, even a little of it is haraam (prohibited), for, it is with man that he goes on increasing the amount of whatever he uses. Hence, we must abstain from small amounts, too.

HANDFUL OF INTOXICANT IS ALSO FORBIDDEN

(٣٦٤٦) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ عَنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَا اَسْكَرَ مِنْهُ الْفَرَقُ فَمِلْأُ الْكَفِّ مِنْهُ حَرَامٌ۔ (رواه احمد والترمذى وابوداؤد)

3646. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger said, "If a faraq of anything intoxicates, then a handful of it is forbidden (too)."[2]

COMMENTARY: A faraq is three sa's (eight seers). The hadith means that whatever causes intoxication is forbidden irrespective of quantity.

WHAT MAKES WINE

(٣٦٤٧) وَعَنِ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيْرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ مِنَ الْحِنْطَةِ خَمْرًا وَمِنَ الشَّعِيْرِ خَمْرًا وَمِنَ التَّمْرِ خَمْرًا وَمِنَ الزَّبِيْبِ خَمْرًا وَمِنَ الْعَسَلِ خَمْرًا۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3647. Sayyiduna Numan ibn Bashir رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Indeed, from wheat wine is had, from barley wine is had, from dates wine is had, from grapes wine is had and from honey wine is had."[3]

COMMENTARY: the ulama (Scholars) say that the hadith does not mean that wine is made from only these things. They are, however, the sources of wine, generally. Ibn Maalik said that wine (Khamr) is from grapes but the word is used for other sources too because the wine from them (as from nabidh) also knocks out the mind.

WINE IS NOT A PRECIOUS COMMODITY

(٣٦٤٨) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ كَانَ عِنْدَنَا خَمْرٌ لِيَتِيْمٍ فَلَمَّا نَزَلَتِ الْمَائِدَةُ سَاَلْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْهُ وَقُلْتُ اِنَّهُ لِيَتِيْمٍ فَقَالَ اَهْرِيْقُوْهُ۔ (رواه الترمذى)

[3] Tirmidhi # 1879, Abu Dawud # 3676, ibn Majah # 3479, Musnad Ahmad 4-267.

3648. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی الله عنه said, "We had with us wine belonging to an orphan (who was under our care and whose miscellaneous property was entrusted to us). When surah al- Ma'idah (meaning its verse 90 was revealed), I asked Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم about it and informed him that it belonged to an orphan (whose property should be preserved). He said, "pour it out."[1]

COMMENTARY: Wine is not a property of value. It is not lawful to earn a profit from it and we must despise it. Hence it must be spilled out.

(٣٦٤٩) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ عَنْ أَبِي طَلْحَةَ أَنَّهُ قَالَ يَا نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ إِنِّي اشْتَرَيْتُ خَمْرًا لِأَيْتَامٍ فِي حِجْرِي فَقَالَ أَهْرِقِ الْخَمْرَ وَاكْسِرِ الدِّنَانَ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَضَعَّفَهُ وَفِي رِوَايَةِ أَبِي دَاوُدَ أَنَّهُ سَأَلَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ أَيْتَامٍ وَرِثُوا خَمْرًا قَالَ أَهْرِقْهَا قَالَ أَفَلَا أَجْعَلُهَا خَلًّا قَالَ لَا۔

3649. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه reported about (Sayyiduna) Abu Talhah رضی الله عنه that he asked, "O Prophet of Allah, I had bought wine for the orphans in my charge." He said, "Pour out the wine and smash the vessels.[2]

According to another version: He asked the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم anout the orphans who had inherited wine. He said, "Throw it away!" He asked, "May I not make vinegar out of it?" He said, "No!"[3]

COMMENTARY: Abu Talhah رضی الله عنه had bought wine for the orphans in his care when it was not prohibited When he asked him about it, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم instructed him to spill out the wine and break the vessels that contained it because wine may have seeped through into them. There was no way they could be purified. Or, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم may have meant to emphasise the prohibition of wine. It was so serious that the vessels associated with wine may also be eliminated.

He also disallowed the making of vinegar from it. Perhaps this was also to emphasise the dislike for wine. Or, the forbidding was by way of makruh tanzihi (disapproved for purification).

SECTION III — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

WHAT INTOXICATES & CAUSES LETHARGY & WEAKNESS IS FORBIDDEN

(٣٦٥٠) عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ كُلِّ مُسْكِرٍ وَمُفْتِرٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3650. Sayyiduna Umm Salamah رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade everything that causes intoxication and renders (the drinker) languid.[4]

COMMENTARY: The word rendered 'languid' is (مفتر) (muftir). It is said of a man (مفتر الرجل) when his eye lashes become weak and the eye balls seem to have been raised. It is used for something that heats the heart and mind and then makes them remiss, faint and become allayed.

On the basis of this interpretation, the dill (or dill weed) of Khurasan and such other culinary herbs that cause weakness and laxity (after initial heat) are deduced to be forbidden.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1297.

[3] Abu Dawud # 3675.

[4] Abu Dawud # 3686, Musnad Ahmad 6-309.

The aforementioned meaning is from the Nihayah.
[According to lane's lexicon. 'it is a beverage that renders languid the drinker... or which heats the body and occasions in it a languor, or laxity of the joints and weakness: such beverage is prohibited.][1]

WINE IS NEVER PERMITTED

(٣٦٥١) وَعَنْ دَيْلَمِ الْحِمْيَرِيِّ قَالَ قُلْتُ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّا بِأَرْضٍ بَارِدَةٍ وَنُعَالِجُ فِيْهَا عَمَلًا شَدِيْدًا وَإِنَّا نَتَّخِذُ شَرَابًا مِنْ هٰذَا الْقَمْحِ نَتَقَوّٰى بِهِ عَلٰى أَعْمَالِنَا وَعَلٰى بَرْدِ بِلَادِنَا قَالَ هَلْ يُسْكِرُ قُلْتُ نَعَمْ قَالَ فَاجْتَنِبُوْهُ قُلْتُ إِنَّ النَّاسَ غَيْرُ تَارِكِيْهِ قَالَ إِنْ لَمْ يَتْرُكُوْهُ فَقَاتِلُوْهُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3651. Sayyiduna Daylam Himyariy رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, we reside in a cold land where we have to undertake strenuous work (that requires tremendous physical exertion). So, we make wine from wheat to energise ourselves from it for our work and to withstand the it intoxicate?" He said, "Yes". He submitted, "The people will not refrain from it." He said, "If they do not give it up (and deem it to be lawful) then fight with them."[2]

WINE & GAMES OF CHANCE FORBIDDEN

(٣٦٥٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهٰى عَنِ الْخَمْرِ وَالْمَيْسِرِ وَالْكُوْبَةِ وَالْغُبَيْرَاءِ وَقَالَ كُلُّ مُسْكِرٍ حَرَامٌ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3652. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade (the consumption of) wine, (indulging in) gambling, (playing the) Kubah (game of chess or a kind of drum or the game backgammon or lute), and (drinking) ghubayra (a kind of wine). And he said, "Every intoxicant is prohibited."[3]

COMMENTARY: Kubah is the game of chess or backgammon, or a drum or a lute. (Maysir a game of chance). And ghubayra is a kind of wine prepared from corn or millet by the Ethiopians.

DRINKER WILL NOT ENTER PARADISE

(٣٦٥٣) وَعَنْهُ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ عَاقٌّ وَلَا قَمَّارٌ وَلَا مَنَّانٌ وَلَا مُدْمِنُ خَمْرٍ۔ رَوَاهُ الدَّارِمِيُّ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَهُ وَلَا وَلَدُ زِنْيَةٍ بَدَلَ قَمَّارٍ۔

3653. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "A disobedient son and a gambler, and one who reminds of his favours and a habitual drinker will not enter paradise (with those who are admitted at an early stage after earning deliverance)."[4]

According to another version from him: "A disobedient son and a bastard, and one who reminds of his favours and a habitual drinker..." to the end.

COMMENTARY: Every play in which a bet is placed on something, or money is staked on something, is gambling. Speculation or forward trading is also gambling.

Teebi رحمه الله said that (منان) mannan could mean 'to brag about one's favour's. But, it could also mean one who' cut off.' So, he is who severs ties of relationship.

The hadith that a bastard will not enter paradise is neither sahih (or sound) nor may it be termed mawdu (or invented). Rather, it is a weak tradition. If it were to be said to be sound to some degree then it may be explained that normally a child born out of wedlock is deprived of its father's care and remains under the shadow of its mother's bad character, so it goes astray and falls into evil.

It may also be said that such a child is auspicious. Or, it is a warning to such people who indulge in unlawful intercourse to desist them they give birth to such children.

Some people say that walad uz-zina does not mean bastard but refers to those people who are habitual adulteres. It is like saying banu al-harb (children of war) or banu al-Islam (children of Islam), respectively, fighter, Muslims.

Hence, this hadith does not say that a bastard will go to hell because he is born out of wedlock. He was not at fault for the sin that was the means of his birth.

WARNING TO A DRUNKARD

(٣٦٥٤) وَعَنْ اَبِىْ اُمَامَةَ قَالَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَعَثَنِىْ رَحْمَةً لِّلْعَالَمِيْنَ وَهُدًى لِّلْعَالَمِيْنَ وَاَمَرَنِىْ رَبِّىْ عَزَّوَجَلَّ بِمَحْقِ الْمَعَازِفِ وَالْمَزَامِيْرِ وَالاَوْثَانِ وَالصُّلُبِ وَاَمْرِ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ وَحَلَفَ رَبِّىْ عَزَّوَجَلَّ بِعِزَّتِىْ لَا يَشْرُبُ عَبْدٌ مِنْ عَبِيْدِىْ جُرْعَةً مِنْ خَمْرٍ اِلَّا سَقَيْتُهُ مِنَ الصَّدِيْدِ مِثْلَهَا وَلَا يَتْرُكُهَا مِنْ مَخَافَتِىْ اِلَّا سَقَيْتُهُ مِنْ حِيَاضِ الْقُدُسِ۔ (رواه احمد)

3654. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Allah has sent me as a mercy to the worlds and as a guidance to the worlds. And my lord, Mighty and Glorious, has commanded me to eliminate (musical) stringed instruments and wind instruments, idols, crosses and customs of the jahiliyah (ignorance period) (pre-Islamic disbelief). And, my lord, Mighty and Glorious, has sworn, 'By My Mighty, if any of My slaves sips a mouthful of wine then I shall give him (in the next world) as much of pus (of the inmates of hell) to drink. But, if he abandons it (drinking wine) through fear of Me then I will give him (in the next world) drink from the sacred ponds (of paradise)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The (musical) instruments comprise every conceivable kind, like drums, flutes, etc. But the stringed and wind instruments are forbidden because they were used by the misled people since ancient times.

The jurists rule that humming tunes and singing songs with the musical instrument are unlawful, but without the musical instrument, they are makruh (disapproved). Moreover, to listen to songs and tunes sung by stranger women is strictly forbidden.

The cross is a sacred symbol of the Christians. It reminds them of their belief that Prophet Eesa علیه السلام was curified thecross depicts the manner in which he was put on it according to their belief. Hence, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم was commanded to eliminate this symbol, too. The Muslims are forbidden to use any such thing on which this symbol is found, for, it resembles another people and it is unlawful in Islam.

---

[1] Musnad Ahmad 5-228.

As for the customs of the jahiliyah (ignorance period), they are those that are absolutely false and fake. They were practiced before the advent of Islam unrestrictedly. Examples are wailing, boasting on ancestors and family background and finding faults with lineages of other people.

DISOBEDIENT CHILDREN CUCKOLD & DRUNKARD

(٣٦٥٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ ثَلَاثَةٌ قَدْحَرَّمَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِمُ الْجَنَّةَ مُدْمِنُ الْخَمْرِ وَالْعَاقُّ وَالدَّيُّوْثُ الَّذِیْ يُقِرُّ فِیْ اَهْلِهِ الْخُبْثَ۔ (رواہ احمد والنسائی)

3655. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Three there are to whom Allah has forbidden (admittance to) paradise (and they will not be admitted in the beginning with those who have succeeded). They are: the habitual drunkard, one who is disobedient to parents, and the cuckold who connives at his wife (and womenfolk) committing illicit sexual intercourse."[1]

COMMENTARY: The cuckold compels his wife and female slave, etc to commit sin with other men, or he connives at their being sinful with other men. This includes consuming wine, remaining impure without having a purifying bath. The cuckold does not make his wife stop drinking and he does not compel her to have a purifying bath.

The cuckold is (دیوث) dayyuth in Arabic. The Majma-ul-Bahrayn says that he is also called (کشخان) Kash Khan, and (قرنان) qarnan. Some people differ and say that while the dayyuth tolerates other men's them to visit his wife, Kash Khan allows them to visit his sisters and qarnan permits them to go to his daughters. (According to steingass Persian-English Dictionary: Kash Khan is 'wittol' and qarnan is 'cornute'.)

(٣٦٥٦) وَعَنْ اَبِیْ مُوْسَى الْاَشْعَرِیِّ اَنَّ النَّبِیَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ ثَلَاثَةٌ لَاتَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ مُدْمِنُ الْخَمْرِ وَقَاطِعُ الرَّحِمِ وَمُصَدِّقٌ بِالسِّحْرِ۔ (رواہ احمد)

3656. Sayyiduna Abu Musa Ashari رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "three kinds of people will not enter paradise (initially): one who is a habitual drinker, one who severs ties of relationship and one who believes in sorcery."[2]

COMMENTARY: The one who believes in sorcery believes that magic is effective by itself, otherwise it is proper to believe that sorcery is something, for it is created by Allah Himself. It works at Allah's command as stated: (السحر حق) (sorcery is a fact).

LIKE IDOL-WORSHIP

3657. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said,

[2] Musnad Ahmad 1-272.

"One who is addicted to wine will, on his death, meet Allah the Exalted like an idol-worshipper."[1]

3658. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ also narrated it.[2]

3659. Sayyiduna Muhammad ibn Ubaydullah رحمہ اللہ also narrated it from his father.[3] Bukhari also narrated it in his Tarikh from Muhammad ibn Abdullah رحمہ اللہ from his father, as Bayhaqi رحمہ اللہ said.

(رواہ النسائی)

3660. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ (Ashari) said, "I find no difference (at all) between consuming wine and worshipping this pillar (meaning the idol of stone) instead of Allah."[4]

COMMENTARY: Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ means to say that consumption of wine and idolatry are sins of identical degree.

KITAB UL-IMARAH WA AL-QADA كِتَابُ الْإِمَارَةِ وَالْقَضَاءِ

EMIRATES & JUDICIARY
(OFFICES OF THE AMIR OR RULER AND OF THE JUDGE)

The word (امارة) Imarah (emirate) means 'chieftanship and rule.' The word (قضاء) qada means 'judiciary under shariah.' These are the two basic pillars of the Islamic government.

The amir and imam (who is the head of the government) is the preserver of the basic laws of Islam. He is responsible for running the government and for enjoining the reputable and forbidding the disreputable. He is the trustee of the religion and the strength of the ummah of Islam. He oversees the general affairs of the state. He has an authority over the matters of concern to the members of the Islamic society.

The qadi (judge) is the chief of the judiciary. He is the preserver of the rights of the citizens. He is the final authority on behalf of Shariah to decide cases and his main responsibility is to decide, on the basis of Shariah, the disputes between people. And his duty, greater than that, is to respect justice, fairness and honesty in every case.

ISLAM & GOVERNANCE

Islam is the world's unparalled religion and also its most great power. It is the last and most perfect code of law of guidance for the success of mankind. It is also the eternal political power that dispenses its authority for the overall good of mankind and their general administration.

Islam is not merely a religion but as a religion is concerned with governance, rule politics and the state as with any significant reality. It is not what merely corrects the internal affairs but as a religion it lays claim to authority over the world's material life too. This is why the Quran the source of Islam's conceptions and theories, and the ahadith that are the explanations of the Quranic guidance, establish the relationship of Islam and the government, sometimes through history, sometimes through education and sometimes by recalling the blessings of Allah.

The earth belongs to Allah who has the right rule over it. So, one of the basic objectives of Islam is that Allah's rule should be established on earth and His law should be enforced.

Those of us who are obstinate and bull-headed wish to separate religion and politics and thereby to keep Islam away from politics and government with no concern for them. They have succumbed to the tactics of elements who oppose Islam but who themselves have been unable to keep the state aloof of religion. However, they are bent on preventing the Muslims from marching ahead in politics. So they have created a conception of separate entities of religion and politics. Thereby, they have poisoned Muslim minds and thought with their filthy ideas.

The initial ahadith of this Book of Al-imarah wa al-Qada bear out that Islam and government with politics are not two diverse subjects. These ahadith make clear that government and politics are part of Islam's sphere and they give ample guidance concerning the amir (or ruler, chief), the Khalifah (caliph), the qadi (judge) and sub-judges, he masses and subjects, the state and the army, and the different fields of administration and governance. These ahadith provide guidance and commands about them.

CHAPTER - I

SECTION I — اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

OBEDIENCE TO AMIR IS OBEDIENCE TO ALLAH & HIS MESSENGER صلى الله عليه وسلم

(٣٦٦١) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَطَاعَنِيْ فَقَدْ اَطَاعَ اللّٰهَ وَمَنْ عَصَانِيْ فَقَدْ عَصَى اللّٰهَ وَمَنْ يُطِعِ الْاَمِيْرَ فَقَدْ اَطَاعَنِيْ وَمَنْ يَعْصِ الْاَمِيْرَ فَقَدْ عَصَانِيْ وَاِنَّمَا الْاِمَامُ جُنَّةٌ يُقَاتَلُ مِنْ وَرَائِهٖ وَيُتَّقٰى بِهٖ فَاِنْ اَمَرَ بِتَقْوَى اللّٰهِ وَعَدَلَ فَاِنَّ لَهٗ بِذٰلِكَ اَجْرًا وَاِنْ قَالَ بِغَيْرِهٖ فَاِنَّ عَلَيْهِ مِنْهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

3661. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Whoever obeys me has obeyed Allah, and whoever disobeys me has disobeyed Allah, whoever obeys the amir has obeyed me, and whoever disobeys the amir has disobeyed me. The imam is merely a shield behind whom fighting takes place (on his orders and strength) and protection is sought (from the enemy). If he enjoins (piety and) fear of Allah and dispenses justice, then he will earn a reward for that. But, if he enjoins otherwise, then he will bear the burden (of sin)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The imam (ruler of the state) is a shield in the sense that like a shield that keeps arrows and swords away from the body, so too the imam keeps the enemy at bay.

A SLAVE WHO IS AMIR MUST BE OBEYED

(٣٦٦٢) وَعَنْ اُمِّ الْحُصَيْنِ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنْ اُمِّرَ عَلَيْكُمْ عَبْدٌ مُجَدَّعٌ يَقُوْدُكُمْ بِكِتَابِ اللّٰهِ فَاسْمَعُوْا لَهٗ وَاَطِيْعُوْا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3662. Sayyiduna Umm Al-Husayn رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If a slave with a slit nose and a cut ear is made your ruler and he goes by the Book of Allah (in leading you) then listen to him and obey him."[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith emphasises the importance of obeying the ruler. The relevance of the slave makes it more emphatic. It is like the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم saying, "If anybody builds a mosque even like a birds nest...." Clearly a mosque is never like that. So, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم only meant to emphasise the importance of building mosque: how excellent and meritorious it is! In this case too it is to show how important it is to obey the ruler. Otherwise, it is not allowed to make a slave an amir or an imam (meaning, head of state). He may become an assistant of the head of state.

Hence, it must be remembered that in all these ahadith the same interpretation will apply as mention a slave as the head of state.

The same explanation is made about a split nose and ear. It means that the ruler should be obeyed howsoever he is personally of a low rank.

(٣٦٦٣) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اسْمَعُوْ وَاَطِيْعُوا وَ اِنِ اسْتُعْمِلَ عَلَيْكُمْ عَبْدٌ حَبْشِيٌّ كَاَنَّ رَاْسَهٗ زَبِيْبَةٌ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3663. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Listen (to the command) and obey (what your ruler enjoins and forbids) even if an Ethiopian slave with a (small) head like a raisin is made your ruler."[1]

RULER MUST NOT BE OBEYED IF HE COMMANDS DISOBEDIENCE TO ALLAH

(٣٦٦٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ السَّمْعُ وَالطَّاعَةُ عَلَى الْمَرْءِ الْمُسْلِمِ فِيْمَا اَحَبَّ وَكَرِهَ مَالَمْ يُؤْمَرْ بِمَعْصِيَةٍ فَاِذَا اُمِرَ بِمَعْصِيَةٍ فَلَاسَمْعَ وَلَا طَاعَةَ۔ (متفق عليه)۔

3664. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "To hear and to obey (his commands) are incumbent on a Muslim in what he likes and what he dislikes, as long as he is not commanded to commit sin. So, when a command is given (by the ruler) to do something sinful then he must neither hear nor obey."[2]

COMMENTARY: It is binding on every Muslim to need and obey what the ruler says whether it is to his liking or not, provided the ruler's command does not contravene the limits of Shariah. When he gives such a wrong command, it must not be obeyed but, even in this case it is not allowed to rebel against him.

(٣٦٦٥) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلِ للّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا طَاعَةَ فِي مَعْصِيَةٍ اِنَّمَا الطَّاعَةُ فِي الْمَعْرُوْفِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3665. Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "There is no obedience (to a command from the ruler, parents, teachers, religious mentors, etc.) If it calls to disobedience (or sin). Obedience is binding only in what is pious and reputable."[3]

PROMISE TO OBEY

(٣٦٦٦) وَعَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ قَالَ بَايَعْنَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى السَّمْعِ وَالطَّاعَةِ فِي الْعُسْرِ وَالْيُسْرِ وَالْمَنْشَطِ وَالْمَكْرَهِ وَعَلٰى اَثَرَةٍ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلٰى اَنْ لَاتُنَازِعَ الْاَمْرَ اَهْلَهٗ وَعَلٰى اَنْ نَقُوْلَ بِالْحَقِّ اَيْنَمَا كُنَّا لَا نَخَافُ فِي اللّٰهِ لَوْمَةَ لَائِمٍ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ وَعَلٰى اَنْ لَاتُنَازِعَ الْاَمْرَ اَهْلَهٗ اِلَّا اَنْ تَرَوْا كُفْرًا بَوَاحًا عِنْدَكُمْ مِنَ اللّٰهِ فِيْهِ بُرْهَانٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

3666. Sayyiduna Ubadah ibn Samit رضى الله عنه said, "We aware allegiance to Allah's

Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (promising to observe these things:)

1. To hear (his instruction and in all conditions) to obey (his commands) in time of difficulty and time of ease, in happiness and in sorrow.

2. If others are preferred over us (we shall show patience)

3. not to dispute with authority about the commands

4. to speak the truth (and what is right) wherever we be (and in whatever situation)

5. and we shall not fear anyone who blames us whatever he says in our works for Allah's sake (in religious affairs and in speaking truth)."

According to another version: "Not to dispute with authority about the commands" (and the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said:) "unless you have an evidence from Allah" (like a verse of the Quran or a hadith and which is not subject to an alternate interpretation in such cases, it is allowed to reproach the authority).[1]

COMMENTARY: According to a tradition, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had forewarned the ansars that after him, other people would be given preference over them. He had instructed them to show patience when that happened. Indeed, this did happen after the righteous caliphs. When the amirs ruled they gave the slip to the ansars so they kept their promise and tolerated the injustice without making any complaint.

As for the promise not to dispute with the authority about the command(s), it implies 'we shall not crave for rule and government and whoever is made our amir, we shall not depose him nor rebel against him.' However, the concluding words of the tradition say explicitly that if the words and dees of the ruler smack of disbelief then it is allowed to depose him and he may not be obeyed.

The question whether an imam and a qadi may be deposed if he is a sinner is as: imam Shafii رحمه الله holds that he must be deposed but Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that he cannot be deposed for that reason. Also, Imam Shafi رحمه الله contends that he cannot be a guardian of anyone but Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that he is eligible to be someone's guardian and a sinning father may give off his minor daughter in marriage.

OBEDIENCE ACCORDING TO ABILITY

(٣٦٦٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ كُنَّا إِذَا بَايَعْنَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى السَّمْعِ وَالطَّاعَةِ يَقُوْلُ لَنَا فِيْمَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

3667. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that whenever they pledged allegiance to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to hear (his words of guidance carefully) and to obey (his commands), he would say to them : In that which you are able."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave concession to the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم to hear and obey to the best of their ability. They must not lag behind in that.

DO NOT SEPARATE FROM THE UMMAH EVEN A BIT

(٣٦٦٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ رَاٰى مِنْ اَمِيْرِهٖ شَيْئًا يَكْرَهُهٗ فَلْيَصْبِرْ

فَإِنَّهُ لَيْسَ أَحَدٌ يُفَارِقُ الْجَمَاعَةَ شِبْرًا فَيَمُوْتُ إِلَّا مَاتَ مِيْتَةً جَاهِلِيَّةً۔ (متفق عليه)

3668. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If anyone finds in his amir something that he does not approve (from the point of view of Shariah or naturally), then he must exercise patience. (He should not rebel against the amir) for if anyone separates from the community a span's distance and dies (without making a repentance) then he dies the death of the people of the jahiliyah (ignorance period)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The people of the pre-Islamic era were unconcerned with religion. They did not obey their amir or their imam. Rather, they openly absolved themselves of all responsibility to their leaders. They had no concept of a community and togetherness.

This hadith teaches us that Islam calls for a unified ummah, togetherness of the Muslims, a strong reliance on the leadership and obedience to the leaders and unity in affairs of the community. These things are essential to religion and for its strength.

PARTISANSHIP HAS NO PLACE IN ISLAM

(٣٦٦٩) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ خَرَجَ مِنَ الطَّاعَةِ وَفَارَقَ الْجَمَاعَةَ فَمَاتَ مَاتَ مِيْتَةً جَاهِلِيَّةً وَمَنْ قَاتَلَ تَحْتَ رَايَةٍ عِمِّيَّةٍ يَغْضَبُ لِعَصَبِيَّةٍ أَوْ يَدْعُوْ لِعَصَبِيَّةٍ أَوْ يَنْصُرُ عَصَبِيَّةً فَقُتِلَ فَقِتْلَةٌ جَاهِلِيَّةٌ وَمَنْ خَرَجَ عَلٰى أُمَّتِيْ بِسَيْفِهٖ يَضْرِبُ بَرَّهَا وَفَاجِرَهَا وَلَا يَتَحَاشٰى مِنْ مُؤْمِنِهَا وَلَا يَفِيْ لِذِيْ عَهْدٍ عَهْدَهٗ فَلَيْسَ مِنِّيْ وَلَسْتُ مِنْهُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3669. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "If anyone gives up obedience (to the ruler) and separates from the community (of Islam) and dies (in that condition) then he dies the death of the people of the jahiliyah (ignorance period). If anyone fights under a banner whose cause is not clear whether right or wrong and he is in a rage in favour of partisanship, or gathers people to factionalism, or promotes the cause of partisanship, and is killed (in the process not concerned with propagation of religion) then he dies the death of the people of the jahiliyah (ignorance period). If anyone comes out against my people with a raised sword killing the pious and the evil not aparing those who are believers (giving no thought to how grave it is to kill them) and (not sparing) those who observe covenants that have been agreed upon (not respecting these covenants), then he does not belong to my ummah (and is not among those who pursue my path) and I have no concern with him."[2]

THE BEST & THE WORST RULERS

(٣٦٧٠) وَعَنْ عَوْفِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ الْأَشْجَعِيِّ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ خِيَارُ أَئِمَّتِكُمُ الَّذِيْنَ تُحِبُّوْنَهُمْ وَيُحِبُّوْنَكُمْ وَتُصَلُّوْنَ عَلَيْهِمْ وَيُصَلُّوْنَ عَلَيْكُمْ وَشِرَارُ أَئِمَّتِكُمُ الَّذِيْنَ تُبْغِضُوْنَهُمْ وَيُبْغِضُوْنَكُمْ وَتَلْعَنُوْنَهُمْ وَيَلْعَنُوْنَكُمْ قَالَ قُلْنَا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ أَفَلَا نُنَابِذُهُمْ عِنْدَ ذٰلِكَ قَالَ لَا مَا أَقَامُوْا

مِنْ مَعْصِيَةِ اللّٰهِ وَلَا يَنْزِعَنَّ يَدًا مِنْ طَاعَةٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3670. Sayyiduna Awf ibn Maalik Ashjai رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "The best of your rulers are they whom you love and they love you. You pray for them and they pray for you. (This creates a mutual nearness and kind relationship.) And, the worst of your rulers are they whom you despise and they despise you. You invoke curse on them and they curse you."
He (Awf رضی اللہ عنہ) said that they (meaning, the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم) asked him, : O Messenger of Allah , in that case, shall we revoke the promise made to them? (Shall we depose them?)" He said, "No! Not as long as they establish the salah (prayer) among you. No! Not as long as they establish the salah (prayer) among you. Beware! If one has a ruler over him and he observes him come up with an act of disobedience to Allah, then he must detest the act of disobedience to Allah, but must not take away his hand from obedience to him."[1]

COMMENTARY: The hadith makes us understand that if the head of state which is Islamic does not offer salah (prayer) then it makes it binding to revoke the promise and covenant of faithfulness and obedience to him. If he perpetrates a clear act of disbelief then the Muslims may revoke their promise of fidelity to him and depose him. So, If he gives up offering salah (prayer), he deserves the same treatment and may be deposed, because salah (prayer) is a pillar of religion and it distinguishes Islam from disbelief.
In contrast, other sins are not as grave as neglect and abandoning of salah (prayer), so if a ruler perpetrates them then it does not call for revoking the promise to obey him.
This saying of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sounds a serious warning against abandoning salah (prayer).

RESPONSIBILITY OF MUSLIMS TO EXPRESS DISAPPROVAL OF RULER'S WAYWARDNESS

وَتُنْكِرُوْنَ فَمَنْ اَنْكَرَ فَقَدْ بَرِئَ وَمَنْ كَرِهَ فَقَدْ سَلِمَ وَلٰكِنْ مَنْ رَضِيَ وَتَابَعَ قَالُوْا اَفَلَا نُقَاتِلُهُمْ قَالَ لَا

مَاصَلَّوا لا ما صَلَّوْا اَىْ مَنْ كَرِهَ بِقَلْبِهٖ وَاَنْكَرَ بِقَلْبِهٖ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3671. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated thah Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "You will have over you rulers whom you like and whom you dislike. He who speaks out what he disapproves (openly declaring what he does not accept) will be absolved (of hypocrisy and abetment). He who hates (in his heart but does not muster courage to declare openly) will be safe (from reckoning about it). But, he who is pleased (at heart and abides by the rulers in committing wrong) and follows them (will share the sin and punishment)... They said, "Shall we not fight with them?" He said, "No! Not as long as they offer salah (prayer). No! Not as long as they offer salah (prayer)," meaning , he who considers it bad in his heart and rejects it in his heart.[2]

COMMENTARY: Shaykh Abdul haq Mu*hadd (prescribed punishment)*ith Dahlawi رحمه الله says that the last words of the hadith are the narrator's to explain 'He who hates will be safe.' But, Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله says that the narrator there by expounds both sentences 'He who disapproves and speaks out,' and 'he who hates...'

RULERS WHO WILL TAKE AWAY THE BEST THINGS

(٣٦٧٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ لَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّكُمْ سَتَرَوْنَ بَعْدِىْ اَثَرَةً وَاُمُوْرًا تُنْكِرُوْنَهَا قَالُوا فَمَا تَامُرُنَا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ اَدُّوْا اِلَيْهِمْ حَقَّهُمْ وَسَلُوا اللّٰهَ حَقَّكُمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

3672. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Masud رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله عليه وسلم said to them, "You will see, after me, partiality against you, and other things that you will not approve." The Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم asked him, "O Messenger of Allah, what do you command us to do (against them)?" He said, "Give them their rights. And ask Allah for your rights."[1]

COMMENTARY: If your rulers deny you your rights, you must nevertheless continue to give them their rights. You must obey them and remain their supporter and helper. Exercise patience and pray to Allah to compensate you.

(٣٦٧٣) وَعَنْ وَائِلِ بْنِ حُجْرٍ قَالَ سَأَلَ سَلَمَةُ بْنُ يَزِيْدَ الْجُعْفِيُّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ يَانَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ اَرَاَيْتَ اِنْ قَامَتْ عَلَيْنَا اُمَرَاءُ يَسْاَلُوْنَا حَقَّهُمْ وَيَمْنَعُوْنَا حَقَّنَا فَمَا تَامُرُنَا قَالَ اسْمَعُوا وَ اَطِيْعُوا فَاِنَّمَا عَلَيْهِمْ مَا حُمِّلُوا وَعَلَيْكُمْ مَا حُمِّلْتُمْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3673. Sayyiduna Wail ibn Hujr رضی الله عنه narrated that (Sayyiduna) Salamah ibn Yazid Jufi رضی الله عنه asked Allah's Messenger صلی الله عليه وسلم, "O Prophet of Allah, what do you command us to do if such rulers rule over us as compel us to give them their rights but deny us our rights?" He said, "Listen (to them) and obey (them), for only they will carry their burden (of dispensing justice and giving rights of their subjects) and you will carry your burden (of obeying them)."[2]

COMMENTARY: The hadith apportions responsibility of the ruler and of the subjects. Each has to fulfil the responsibility on their shoulders irrespectives of whether the other is dutiful or derelict.

WARNING TO ONE WHO CEASES TO OBEY IMAM

(٣٦٧٤) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ خَلَعَ يَدًا مِنْ طَاعَةٍ لَقِيَ اللّٰهَ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَلَا حُجَّةَ لَهُ وَمَنْ مَاتَ وَلَيْسَ فِيْ عُنُقِهِ بَيْعَةٌ مَاتَ مِيْتَةً جَاهِلِيَّةً۔ (رواه مسلم)

3674. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn umar رضی الله عنه said that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله عليه وسلم say, "If anyone withdraws himself from obedience (to the ruler of the Islamic state) then he will meet Allah on the day of resurrection without possessing any evidence (of faith). And if one dies without an oath of allegiance to the (true) imam, then his death will be like the death of (the people

REJECT A CLAIMANT TO CULERSHIP WHEN ONE IS ALREADY RULING

(٣٦٧٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كَانَتْ بَنُو إِسْرَائِيْلَ تَسُوسُهُمُ الْاَنْبِيَاءُ كُلَّمَا هَلَكَ نَبِيٌّ خَلَفَهُ نَبِيٌّ وَاِنَّهُ لَانَبِيَّ بَعْدِيْ وَسَيَكُونُ خُلَفَاءُ فَيَكْثُرُوْنَ قَالُوا فَمَاتَأْمُرُنَا قَالَ فُوْا بَيْعَةَ الْاَوَّلِ فَالْاَوَّلِ اَعْطُوهُمْ حَقَّهُمْ فَاِنَّ اللّٰهَ سَائِلُهُمْ عَمَّا اسْتَرْعَاهُمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

3675. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrahرضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The Banu Isra'il were taught, trained and guided by the Prophetsصلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Whenever one Prophet died another Prophet took his place (and in this way the Prophetsصلی اللہ علیہ وسلم succeeded each other). There will be no Prophet after me, but, there will be Khulafa (Caliphs), many of them." They asked, "What do you command us to do (if there are several claimants at one time)?" He said, "Fulfil the oath of allegiance to the first, (and after him) the first land if more aspire for the office, obey the first of them who takes over and reject the others). Give them their rights. Surely, Allah will Himself question them about what He has entrusted them with (of the responsibilities).[2]

COMMENTARY: The caliph who is appointed first must be given his right and each is called 'the first' in respect of the one who succeeds him. Oath of allegiance must be given to each in the same sequence as one succeeds the other. If more than one lay claim to the office, swear oath of allegiance to the first and reject the others as those hankering for power. The next hadith confirms it.

Give the rights of the ruler even if he does not give you your rights. In the next world, he will be made to make amends for his faults here and will be punished for that.

(٣٦٧٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا بُوِيعَ لِخَلِيْفَتَيْنِ فَاقْتُلُوا الْاٰخِرَ مِنْهُمَا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3676. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudriرضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When allegiance is pledged to two cliphs, kill the second of them."[3]

COMMENTARY: If a second person lies claim to the first is in office, and begins to seek oath of allegiance for himself, then fight with him till he mends his ways and submits to Allah's command of respecting the first caliph, or is killed. This is necessary because he rebels against Allah's commands. A rebel must submit or be killed.

Some authorities say that 'Kill him' implies that those who have pledged allegiance to him must revoke their pledge and make him weak and unsupported so that he is unable to spread mischief against the caliph.

KILL HIM WHO CREATES DISCORD

(٣٦٧٧) وَعَنْ عَرفَجَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ الله صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ اِنَّهُ سَيَكُونُ هَنَاتٌ وَهَنَاتٌ

فَمَنْ اَرَادَ اَنْ يُّفَرِّقَ اَمْرَ هٰذِهِ الْاُمَّةِ وَهِيَ جَمِيْعٌ فَاضْرِبُوْهُ بِالسَّيْفِ كَائِنًا مَنْ كَانَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3677. Sayyiduna Arfajah narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "Soon mischief and corruption will arise, So, strike with sword him who plots to disintegrate this ummah when they are united, be he anyone (whosoever)."[1]

COMMENTARY: With passing of time, the enemies of religion will intensify their mischief. They will employ various tactics to cause dissension in the ranks of the Muslims. Leadership is man's greatest weakness and he tries to seize it. So, some Muslims fall prey to the conspiracies of the enemies and go to extremes to oust the ruler and take his place. The result is a total collapse of law and order and spread of unrest with a rise of factions among the ummah.

In these circumstances, the Muslims must not cease to remain with the first leader whom they had instated originally, and must resist mischief among their ranks.

To maintain their unity, they must not hesitate to eliminate anyone who sows seeds of discord. He may be a great scholar too, seemingly a great Shaykh and honourable man. In fact, the ulama (Scholars) say that if the claimant is more deserving than the present ruler, even then he must be killed because he deserves to be eliminated being the cause of division in the ummah. Of course, there is a proviso that the present ruler is worthy of his responsibilities as ruler and there is no valid reason to depose him.

يُرِيْدُ اَنْ يَّشُقَّ عَصَاكُمْ اَوْ يُفَرِّقَ جَمَاعَتَكُمْ فَاقْتُلُوْهُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3678. Sayyiduna Arfajah narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say. "If anyone comes to you (as a rebel to overthrow your ruler) while you are united under one man (as your Khalifah) and he intends to split your Khalifah) and he intends to split your care, or cause division in your community, then kill him."[2]

COMMENTARY: The unity of the Muslims is spoken of as a "care" and division in their ranks as "splitting the cane'.

The next words 'and cause division in your community' are perhaps interjected by the narrator to expound the preceding. But, if they are spoken by the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, then the first phrase could refer to worldly affairs and to weakening the political strength of the Muslims, and this second phrase to their religious unity being disturbed.

(٣٦٧٩) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ بَايَعَ اِمَامًا فَاَعْطَاهُ صَفْقَةَ يَدِهٖ

3679. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If a person pledges allegiance to an imam (ruler) by giving him his hand to promise obedience and fidelity with sincere submission in his heart, then he must obey him as much as he can. If another man appears (declaring himself as

DO NOT SEEK RULERSHIP

(٣٦٨٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ لِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَسْأَلِ الْاِمَارَةَ فَاِنَّكَ اِنْ اُعْطِيْتَهَا عَنْ مَسْئَلَةٍ وُكِلْتَ اِلَيْهَا وَاِنْ اُعْطِيْتَهَا عَنْ غَيْرِ مَسْئَلَةٍ اُعِنْتَ عَلَيْهَا۔ (متفق عليه)

3680. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Samurah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "Do not ask for the office of the ruler because if you are given it on your asking(for it), then it will be entrusted to you to run it yourself (while that is very difficult for anyone to handle without help). But, if you are given it while you have not asked (for it), then you will be helped (by Allah) to run it (smoothly and justly)."[2]

(٣٦٨١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّكُمْ سَتَحْرِصُوْنَ عَلَى الْاِمَارَةِ وَسَتَكُوْنُ نَدَامَةً يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فَنِعْمَ الْمُرْضِعَةُ وَبِئْسَتِ الْفَاطِمَةُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3681. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "You will be keen to get the position of a ruler. But, on the day of resurrection, it will turn out to be a cause of regret. How excellent a provider of milk but how bad a weaner![3]

COMMENTARY: The office of the ruler is said to begin as a wet nurse who suckles but to end as a woman who stops suckling. So the assumption of rulership seems very good and pleasing but when the inevitable death comes and the office is surrendered, it feels very bad. Hence, it is not proper to be keen to get the relish which ends as regrettable.

(٣٦٨٢) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ ذَرٍّ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَلَا تَسْتَعْمِلُنِيْ قَالَ فَضَرَبَ بِيَدِهٖ عَلٰى مَنْكِبِيْ ثُمَّ قَالَ يَا اَبَاذَرٍّ اِنَّكَ ضَعِيْفٌ وَاِنَّهَا اَمَانَةٌ وَاِنَّهَا يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ خِزْيٌ وَنَدَامَةٌ اِلَّا مَنْ اَخَذَهَا بِحَقِّهَا وَاَدَّى الَّذِيْ عَلَيْهِ فِيْهَا، وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ قَالَ لَهٗ يَااَبَاذَرٍّ اِنِّيْ اَرَاكَ ضَعِيْفًا وَاِنِّيْ اُحِبُّ لَكَ مَا اُحِبُّ لِنَفْسِيْ لَا تَأَمَّرَنَّ عَلَى اثْنَيْنِ وَلَا تَوَلَّيَنَّ مَالَ يَتِيْمٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3682. Sayyiduna Abu Dhar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he submitted "O Messenger of Allah, why do you not make me governor (of some place? He added that he patted him on his shoulder and said, "O Abu Dhar, you are weak while this (governorship} is a trust (from Allah concerning rights of fellow-men). This will be a cause of embarrassment and regret on the day of resurrection, except for one who assumes it and handles it right fully to give the dues of the right-holders (namely, his subjects)."

According to another version, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "O Abu Dharr, I find you weak (so that you will not be able to shoulder responsibilities of the office of governor). And, I like for you that I like for myself. Do not become ruler over even two people and do not act as guardian of an orphan's property.[1]

COMMENTARY: By saying, "I like for you what I like for myself," the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم made it clear that if he was weak like him, he would not have shouldered the responsibilities of leadership. But, Allah gave him enough strength and endurance. Without that, he would never have been able to take up the responsibility.

Imam Nawawi رضى الله عنه said that this hadith is the greatest guide and advice that the responsibilities of government should not be accepted, particularly by the weak.

DO NOT HAND OVER OFFICE TO ONE WHO SEEKS IT

(٣٦٨٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي مُوسٰى قَالَ دَخَلْتُ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنَا وَرَجُلَانِ مِنْ بَنِي عَمِّي فَقَالَ أَحَدُهُمَا يَا رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ أَمِّرْنَا عَلٰى بَعْضِ مَا وَلَّاكَ اللّٰهُ وَقَالَ الْآخَرُ مِثْلَ ذٰلِكَ فَقَالَ إِنَّا وَاللّٰهِ لَا نُوَلِّيْ عَلٰى هٰذَا الْعَمَلِ أَحَدًا سَأَلَهُ وَلَا أَحَدًا حَرَصَ عَلَيْهِ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ قَالَ لَا نَسْتَعْمِلُ عَلٰى عَمَلِنَا مَنْ أَرَادَهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

3683. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضى الله عنه said that he and two men from among the children of his paternal uncle visited the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. One of them submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, appoint us as amir of some place from the territories over which Allah has made you leader." And, the other made a similar submission. He said, "By Allah, I shall not appoint over that work anyone who asks for such appointment and also not anyone who is keen for the appointment." According to another version, he said, "We shall not appoint in our work one (as a governor) who intends to get it."[2]

COMMENTARY: It was the practice of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that he did not appoint an applicant to the post he applied for without being asked to do so. Desiring such appointment implies love for recognition. In the end it causes the seeker a disadvantage.

WHO REJECTS OFFER OF RULERSHIP IS THE BEST

(٣٦٨٤) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تَجِدُونَ مِنْ خَيْرِ النَّاسِ أَشَدَّهُمْ كَرَاهِيَةً لِهٰذَا الْأَمْرِ حَتّٰى يَقَعَ فِيْهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3684. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "You will find him among the best of people who has the greatest of dislike of this office (of rulership) till he ends up in it."[3]

COMMENTARY: One who dislikes to take responsibility of leadership is the best of all people. But, if he does accepted it for some reason then in the end he too will be as regretful as is the fate of anyone else holding this responsibility.

Teebi رضى الله عنه said that one who dislikes rulership is the best of all people. However, if he succumbs to the temptation and seeks to become a ruler then he will turn into the worst kind of people.

EVERYONE ANSWERABLE FOR HIS RESPONSIBILITY

3685. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Know! Everyone is an overseen and (on the day of resurrection,) each one of you will be questioned about his subjects. So, the imam (ruler) over a people is their overseen and will be questioned about them. A man is an overseen over the dwellers of his house and will be questioned about them; a woman is an overseen over the house of her husband and his children and will be questioned about them. A man's slave is an overseen over his master's property and will be questioned about it. Beware! Every one of you is an overseen and each one of you will be questioned about his subjects ."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word raiyah is that which is under the care of a(راع) shepherd, a custodian or an overseen. The people of a country are the subjects of the rulers of that country and are called his ra;'iyah because they are under his care. Hence, the hadith is a supervisor or an overseen or a shepherd. The ulama (Scholars) go so far as to say that every person is an overseen of the sense organs of his body. These organs are his subjects. So, on the day of resurrection, every person will be questioned about his sense organs and will be asked, "How did you use them? And, where?
This has not been included in the hqadith because it is very evident.

WARNING TO THE TREACHEROUS TO THE OPPRESSOR

(٣٦٨٦) وَعَنْ مَعْقِلِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَامِنْ وَالٍ يَلِى رَعِيَّتَهُ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ فَيَمُوْتُ وَهُوَغَاشٌّ لَهُمْ اِلَّا حَرَّمَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ الْجَنَّةَ۔ (متفق عليه)

3686. Sayyiduna Ma'qil ibn Yasar رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "If anyone who rules over the Muslim subjects dies while he was treacherous (and oppressive) towards them, then Allah will forbid to him (entry into) paradise.[2]

COMMENTARY: The words that Allah will forbid to him paradise could mean that he will not earn admittance at the initial stage with the successful ones, or he will not be admitted because he considered treachery and oppression as lawful, or the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم spoke these words to deter rulers from cheating and oppression

RULER UNMINDFUL OF WELFARE OF SUBJECTS WILL NOT SMELL FRAGRANCE OF PARADISE

(٣٦٨٧) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَامِنْ عَبْدٍ يَسْتَرْعِيْهِ اللّٰهُ رَعِيَّةً فَلَمْ يَحُطْهَا

3687. Sayyiduna Ma'qil ibn Yasar رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "If anyone is made by Allah to oversee the subjects (having made him their ruler) and he is not well-wishing to them in caring for them then he will not smell the fragrance of paradise.[1]

COMMENTARY: He will not smell the fragrance of paradise with those who do smell it though it is perceived at a distance of five hundred years of journey. Or he will not smell it with the successful people. But, if he dies as a disbeliever regarding his doings to be lawful then he will never get the fragrance of paradise.

OPPRESSOR OF SUBJECTS IS THE WORST OF RULERS

(٣٦٨٨) وَعَنْ عَائِذِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِنَّ شَرَّ الرِّعَاءِ الْحُطَمَةُ۔

(رواه مسلم)

3688. Sayyiduna Aaidh ibn Amr رضى الله عنه narrated he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "The worst of the chiefs (or rulers) are they who are merciless and rough.[2] (The phrase translated "they who are merciless..." is (انّ شرّ الرعاء الحطمة) Lanes Lexicon translates (شرّ الرعاء الحطمة) thus: "the worst of pastors is the ungentle that causes beasts to crush, or bruise, one another.") (Book I Part 2 P.594.)

(٣٦٨٩) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اللّٰهُمَّ مَنْ وُلِّيَ مِنْ اَمْرِ أُمَّتِيْ شيئاً فَشَقَّ عَلَيْهِمْ فَاشْقُقْ عَلَيْهِ وَمَنْ وُلِّيَ مِنْ اَمْرِ أُمَّتِيْ شيئاً فَرَفَقَ بِهِمْ فَارْفُقْ بِهٖ۔

3689. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم prayed, "O Allah cause distress to him of authority over my ummah who causes them distress. And be mild to him of authority over my ummah who mild to them.[3]

GREAT RANK OF JUST RULER

(٣٦٩٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْعَاصِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ الْمُقْسِطِيْنَ عِنْدَاللّٰهِ عَلٰى مَنَابِرَمِنْ نُوْرٍ عَنْ يَمِيْنِ الرَّحْمٰنِ وَكِلْتَا يَدَيْهِ يَمِيْنٌ الَّذِيْنَ يَعْدِلُوْنَ فِيْ حُكْمِهِمْ وَاَهْلِيْهِمْ وَمَاوَلُوا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3690. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said "Indeed, the just rulers will be near Allah on pulpits of nur (light) to the (side of the) right hand of Ar. Rahman. And, both His hands are right. They (the just rulers) are those who are just in their commands towards their people and the affairs that are under their charge.[4]

COMMENTARY: When a man is honoured he is offered to stand or sit on the right side.

[1] Bukhari # 7150, Muslim # 21-142.
[2] Muslim # 23-1830, Musnad Ahmad 5-64.
[3] Muslim # 19-1828, Musnad Ahmad 6-93.
[4] Muslim #18-1828, Musnad Ahmad 2-160 Nasa'I # 5379.

So, this is a figurative manner of conveying the honour and high standing of a just ruler.
In order that there should be no confusion about hands being ascribed to Allah, it is stated that both hands of Allah are right. Thus no one may presume that the right hand is mentioned against the left, which is comparatively weak. Obviously, Allah is without any kind of weakness and shortcoming.
It must also be remembered that attributing a hand to Allah is merely a metaphoric speech. Only Allah knows the true, meaning of this, but it seems to represent strength.
These just rulers are fair and just in dispensing all affairs concerned with government and rule. They discharge these duties honestly and fairly. They do not fail to give the rights of all those who are under their influence or authority, like members of their own family or their subjects. They deal with them with full justice.
Their field also covers all affairs entrusted to them and under their charge, like the rights of the orphans and the poor, the trust properties, and so on.
A true wise man has said that man must be just to his own self too. He must not waste his time in such occupation as is not prescribed by Allah. He must spend all his time in things that are a means to earning Allah's pleasure, in fulfilling his duties to his fellow creatures, in obedience to Allah and in keeping away from the forbidden things. This is what the awliya (friends of Allah) and men of Allah do. Or, he may occupy himself in such things as keep the righteous believers busy.

TWO COMPANIONS WITH EVERY RULER

(٣٦٩١) وَعَنْ اَبِي سَعِيْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَابَعَثَ اللّٰهُ مِنْ نَبِيٍّ وَلَا اسْتَخْلَفَ مِنْ خَلِيْفَةٍ اِلَّا كَانَتْ لَهُ بِطَانَتَانِ بِطَانَةٌ تَامُرُهُ بِالْمَعْرُوْفِ وَتَحُضُّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَبِطَانَةٌ تَامُرُهُ بِالشَّرِّ وَتَحُضُّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَالْمَعْصُوْمُ مَنْ عَصَمَهُ اللّٰهُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3691. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed رضی الله عنه said, "Allah has sent no Prophet and has appointed no Khalifah (Caliph) without each having two unseen companions. One unseen companion instructs him to pursue the reputable (good things) and exhorts him to it, and the other unseen companion instructs him to pursue evil and exhorts him to it. And, the innocent one is he whom Allah protects (from sin)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The two unseen companions are the angel and the devil. They keep together with man. The angel exhorts him to good work but the devil tempts him to do bad.
The innocent are the Prophets صلی الله علیه وسلم, the righteous Caliphs رضی الله عنه and some other caliphs and rulers. Allah has kept them safe from the devil's mischief.
The two companions may also be the advisers and assistants who keep constant company of the caliphs. They are called bitanah(بطانة). Hence, the advisers who were with every Prophet and caliph had different views. Or, they had two groups of men whose opinions differed. This is normally observed with heads of states, chiefs and governors and sometimes their view points are poles apart, at opposite extremes and incompatible. Some who are good offer sound advice and exhort to what is good, but the bad natured people try to mislead their leader. But, Allah saves him from evil course whose He wishes.

PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم CONSTANT ATTENDANT

(٣٦٩٢) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَ قَيْسُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ مِنَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِمَنْزِلَةِ صَاحِبِ الشُّرَطِ مِنَ الْاَمِيْرِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3692. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that (Sayyiduna) Qays ibn Sa'd رضی الله عنه was in attendance with the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم like an escort is with an amir.[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Qays ibn Sa'd رضی الله عنه was constantly in the company of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. He implemented and forwarded the commands and directions of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.

Here, we reproduce a relative passage from 'The Life of Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم by Ibn Kathir رضی الله عنه (P.767).[2]

QAYS IBN SA'D ANSARI, KHUZRAJI رضی الله عنه

Bukhari has reported from Anas رضی الله عنه that the position of Qays رضی الله عنه with the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was exactly what a police officer is in he eyes of an ameer. He was a very tall man and had a very thin beard. The tallest of men would be covered up to his nose if he were to wear the trousers of Qays رضی الله عنه. Ameer Mu'awiyah رضی الله عنه sent his trousers to the ruler of Byzantine asking him. "Do you have such a tall man?" The king was dumbfounded.

Qays رضی الله عنه was very kind and generous, wise and of sound judgement.

In the Battle of Siffin, he took the side of Sayyidina Ali رضی الله عنه Qays رضی الله عنه kept his index finger raised and made supplication continuously. He died during the last days of Ameer Mu'awiyah's رضی الله عنه Khilafah (caliphate).

Bazzar reported from Anas رضی الله عنه that twenty young men of the Ansar always stayed around to respond to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم whenever he needed them. He would send them where they were needed.

WOMAN RULER IS IN AUSPICIOUS FOR HER PEOPLE

(٣٦٩٣) وَعَنْ اَبِي بَكْرَةَ قَالَ لَمَّا بَلَغَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّ اَهْلَ فَارِسَ قَدْ مَلَّكُوا عَلَيْهِمْ بِنْتَ كِسْرٰى قَالَ لَنْ يُفْلِحَ قَوْمٌ وَلَّوا اَمْرَهُمْ اِمْرَأَةً۔ (رواه البخاری)

. 3693. Sayyiduna Abu Bakrah رضی الله عنه narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم was informed that the citizens of Persia had enthroned Kisra's daughter as their queen, he said, "The People who entrust their affairs of government to a woman shall never prosper."[3]

COMMENTARY: It is clear from this hadith that only man is eligible to lead and rule. A woman may not act as head of state or governor.

SECTION II الفصل الثانی

DO NOT ABANDON THE COMMUNITY

(٣٦٩٤) عَنِ الحَارِثِ الْأَشْعَرِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اٰمُرُكُمْ بِخَمْسٍ بِالْجَمَاعَةِ وَالسَّمْعِ وَالطَّاعَةِ وَالْهِجْرَةِ وَالْجِهَادِ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَاِنَّهُ مَنْ خَرَجَ مِنَ الجَمَاعَةِ قِيْدَ شِبْرٍ فَقَدْ خَلَعَ رِبْقَةَ الْاِسْلَامِ مِنْ عُنُقِهٖ اِلَّا اَنْ يُرَاجِعَ وَمَنْ دَعَا بِدَعْوَى الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ فَهُوَ مِنْ جُثَّى جَهَنَّمَ وَاِنْ صَامَ وَصَلّٰى وَزَعَمَ اَنَّهُ مُسْلِمٌ۔

(رواه احمد والترمذی)

3694. Sayyiduna Harithi Ashani's رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "I command you to observe five things: to remain attached to the community, to hear, to obey, to make hijrah (which is to emigrate) and to wage jihad in Allah's path. If anyone separates from the main body even by a span, he takes off the rope of Islam from his neck unless he returns to it. And, if anyone invites (the people) to the beliefs of the people of jahiliyah (ignorance period) then he is a member of the communities of hell, even if he fasts, offers salah (prayer) and declares that he is a Muslim."[1]

COMMENTARY: To emigrate is to move out of enemy territory and settle in Islamic land. Or, if he lives in a city or country whose inhabitants are bidatis (innovators) then he must get out of that place and come to one where (true) sunnah (Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم practice) is practiced.

In the same way, hijrah is also to abandon sin and disobedience and make repentance and seek forgiveness of Allah. This is in the light of the saying of the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم:

اَلْمُهَاجِرُ مَنْ هَجَرَمَا نَهَى اللّٰهُ عَنْهُ

(The emigrant is he who abandons what Allah has forbidden to do).[2]

The command to wage jihad is to fight with the enemies of Islam and the disbelievers to propagate Islam and raise aloft its banner and to enforce Divine law in the land. It also means to suppress the desires of the soul and to deny them to it, for, nothing is more harmful to man than the enmity of his self.

"If anyone separates from the main body...' This part of the hadith means that if a Muslim abandons what the entire community observes, then he is like one who absolves himself of obedience to Islam, even if he abandons that to a very minute degree. He cedes his responsibility that was Wajib (obligatory) on him as a Muslim. It also means that Islam has nothing to assure him of. However, if he repents, then he will return to the folds of Islam as an obedient member.

Whose sounds the call of the jahiliyah (ignorance period) is one who calls for the customs and rites of the jahiliyah (ignorance period) to be re-introduced. He becomes instrumental in causing the people to adopt beliefs and convictions contrary to Islam.

Some scholars interpret it to mean that he summons people to help him at the time of an accident or attack in the same manner as pre-Islamic people did. They used to call out, "O family of so-and-so! O family of so-and-so!" At that, they would hurry and come to his aid even if he was an oppressor.

THIN GARMENTS NOT SUITABLE FOR AMIR

COMMENTARY: Perhaps Ibn Aamir رضی الله عنه had worn what is unlawful for men to wear like silk. Abu Bakrah رضی الله عنه prevented Bilal رحمه الله from insulting the amir lest discord was created among Muslims.

It is also possible that the amir was wearing very costly and very thin clothes similar to what the highly luxurious people wear. The ascetics and the worshippers shun such garments. This is why Abu Bilal رحمه الله described them as clothing of the sinners.

Some mystics, or those who have an intimate knowledge of Allah, say:

مَنْ رَقَّ ثَوْبُهُ رَقَّ دِيْنُهُ

(He whose clothing is thin textured makes his religion too very dilute and thin)

DO NOT OBEY RULER'S COMMAND TO SIN

(٣٦٩٦) وَعَنِ النَّوَّاسِ بْنِ سَمْعَانَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا طَاعَةَ لِمَخْلُوْقٍ فِيْ مَعْصِيَةِ الْخَالِقِ۔ (رواه فی شرح السنة)

3696. Sayyiduna Nawwas ibn Samah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger رضی الله عنه said, "There is no obedience to the creatures in what calls for disobedience to the creator."[2]

COMMENTARY: If any of the creatures, even a king, ruler or amir, gives a command that calls for doing something that contravenes Allah's command then it must not be done, and the creature must not be obeyed. But, if a person is compelled to obey such a command then there is no sin on him.

THE FINAL TREATMENT OF THE RULER

(٣٦٩٧) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا مِنْ أَمِيْرِ عَشَرَةٍ إِلَّا يُؤْتٰى بِهٖ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ مَغْلُوْلًا حَتّٰى يَفُكَّ عَنْهُ الْعَدْلُ أَوْ يُوْبِقَهُ الْجَوْرُ۔ (رواه الدارمی)

[2] Baghawi in Shah-us Sunnah (Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم practice) # 2455.

3697. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Every ruler, even if he has ruled over ten people, will be brought on the day of resurrection with a chain on his neck till justice relaxes his chain (loose) or oppression ruins him." [1]

COMMENTARY: Every ruler, just or unjust, will necessarily be brought in shackles before the Mighty lord. If he was just then he will be released, but if proved unjust then he will be punished.

RULERS WILL BE REGRETFUL ON THE DAY OF RESURRECTION

(٣٦٩٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَيْلٌ لِلْأُمَرَاءِ وَيْلٌ لِلْعُرَفَاءِ وَيْلٌ لِلْأُمَنَاءِ لَيَتَمَنَّيَنَّ أَقْوَامٌ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ أَنَّ نَوَاصِيَهُمْ مُعَلَّقَةٌ بِالثُّرَيَّا يَتَجَلْجَلُوْنَ بَيْنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَأَنَّهُمْ لَمْ يَلُوْا عَمَلًا۔ رَوَاهُ فِي شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ وَرَوَاهُ أَحْمَدُ وَفِي رِوَايَتِهٖ أَنَّ ذَوَائِبَهُمْ كَانَتْ مُعَلَّقَةً بِالثُّرَيَّا يَتَذَبْذَبُوْنَ بَيْنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَلَمْ يَكُوْنُوْا عُمِّلُوْا عَلٰى شَيْءٍ۔

3698. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Alas for the rulers! Alas for the overseers! Alas for the trustees! Many people will sigh and yearn that their forelocks had been tied to the Pleiades leaving them suspended between heaven and earth, and (yearn) that they had never been given authority." [2]

Another version has this addition: "(will yearn) that their loose hair had been tied to the Pleiades pulling them up and down between heaven and earth and (will yearn) that they had never been governors over anything." [3]

COMMENTARY: The word (ویل) wayl means 'woe to you!' 'Alas!' 'How I wish!' It is spoken when one is grieved and is an expression of sigh.

It is also said that wayl is valley in hell. The infidel will be dropped into it but will continue to fall for forty years but not reach its bottom.

The trustee (or amin (امین)) is one whom the ruler has appointed over (receipts and payments of) charity and Kharaj (homage revenue). Or, he is appointed to handle other revenue of the Muslims. Or, someone other than the ruler may have appointed him to like after his properties.

Pleiades is star cluster about 370 light years away.

Those people would prefer to have been disgraced in the world rather than undergo the severity of reckoning in the next world.

The message of the hadith is that a ruler must dispense justice because there is great reward in that. Besides, that would save them from disgrace in the hereafter.

Thus, it is clear why sympathy is offered to rulers, overseers and trustees. They generally are liable to fail in honestly discharging their duties. There are, however, exceptions whom Allah protects and guides.

CHIEFS MOST LIKELY DISTINED TO HELL

إِنَّ الْعِرَافَةَ حَقٌّ وَلَا بُدَّ لِلنَّاسِ مِنْ عُرَفَاءِ وَلٰكِنَّ الْعُرَفَاءَ فِي النَّارِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3699. Sayyiduna Ghalib al-Qattan رضی اللہ عنہ reported from a man who from his father, from his grandfather that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The need of a chief is real. And certainly, there ought to be chiefs for the people. But, the chiefs will go to hell."[1]

COMMENTARY: Of course, chiefs are a necessity to sort out affairs of the people and to administer them. People and to administer them, people need them and have recourse to them..

However, it is a fact that most of them will go to hell, because they will not be just and honest. In this sense, it is a very bad bargain to accept the office of a chief. It is a very risky thing, so the intelligent must be cautions. He must, as far as possible, refrain from accepting this office lest he fall into sin and become liable to go to hell.

SEEK REFUGE IN ALLAH FROM A FOOLISH LEADER

(٣٧٠٠) وَعَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ عُجْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ لِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أُعِيْذُكَ بِاللّٰهِ مِنْ إِمَارَةِ السُّفَهَاءِ قَالَ وَمَاذَاكَ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ أُمَرَاءُ سَيَكُوْنُوْنَ مِنْ بَعْدِيْ مَنْ دَخَلَ عَلَيْهِمْ فَصَدَّقَهُمْ بِكَذِبِهِمْ وَأَعَانَهُمْ عَلٰى ظُلْمِهِمْ فَلَيْسُوا مِنِّي وَلَسْتُ مِنْهُمْ وَلَنْ يَرِدُوْا عَلَيَّ الْحَوْضَ وَمَنْ لَمْ يَدْخُلْ عَلَيْهِمْ وَلَمْ يُصَدِّقْهُمْ بِكَذِبِهِمْ وَلَمْ يُعِنْهُمْ عَلٰى ظُلْمِهِمْ فَأُولٰئِكَ مِنِّي وَأَنَا مِنْهُمْ وَأُولٰئِكَ يَرِدُوْنَ عَلَيَّ الْحَوْضَ۔ (رواه الترمذی والنسائی)

3700. Sayyiduna Ka'b ibn Ujrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "I place you in Allah's protection from the foolish rulers." He asked. "What is that, O Messenger of Allah? He elightened him, "There will come after me, chiefs (foolish and liars and cruel). He who goes to them and takes their lie as true and will assist them in their oppression (by word of mouth and by deed), (is not mine and) has nothing to do with me and I have nothing to do with him. (I do not like his doings and I am fed up with the likes of him.) People like him will not come to me at the Pond (the hawd). As for him who does not corroborate their falsehood as true and does not assist them in their oppression, he belongs to me and I belong to him and such people will come to me at the hawd."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Pond or hawd refers to hawd Kawthar. "These people will not be permitted to come to me at hawd Kawthar. It could mean 'paradise.' "They would not be allowed to come to me in paradise."

This is a strict warning I anyone becomes a member of such a government, helps and supports them while it is run by foolish people who oppress Allah's creatures then it is a sign that this man lacks faith and he does not deserve to be called a Muslim.

NEARNESS TO A RULER GETS ONE AWAY FROM ALLAH

(٣٧٠١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ سَكَنَ الْبَادِيَةَ جَفَا وَمَنِ اتَّبَعَ الصَّيْدَ غَفَلَ وَمَنْ أَتَى السُّلْطَانَ افْتُتِنَ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَأَحْمَدُ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ أَبِيْ دَاوٗدَ مَنْ لَزِمَ السُّلْطَانَ

[1] Abu Dawud # 2934.

[2] Tirmidhi # 416, Nasa'I # 4207, Musnad Ahmad 4-243.

أُفْتُتِنَ وَمَا ازْدَادَ عَبْدٌ مِنَ السُّلْطَانِ دُنُوًّا إِلَّا ازْدَادَ مِنَ اللّٰهِ بُعْدًا۔

3701. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "He who resides in the desert is harsh and unfriendly. He who pursues game is careless and neglectful. And, he who visits the ruler is led astray."[1]
According to a version: "He who associates himself with a ruler is led astray. And the nearer a man gets to a ruler the farther he goes from Allah."[2]

COMMENTARY: The hadith does not mean to belittle the villagers or desert dwellers. Rather, since they do not get the company of the scholars, the pious and the men of Allah (awliya), they are hard-hearted. They lack knowledge, Divine awareness and understanding.

If anyone persistently occupies in hunting as a hobby then he is slack in obedience worship and offering salah (prayer) on Friday and with the congregation. Also, he lacks compassion and friendliness.

In other words this refers to those who constantly engage in hunting as a playful pursuit and not with the objective to procure a lawful subsistence, they spend most of their time in hunting for pleasure. Apart from that, there is no doubt whatsoever that hunting is permissible and lawful. Some of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم had, indeed, engaged in hunting. However, the ulama (Scholars) assert that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم never engaged in hunting himself but, at the same time, he never disallowed anyone to hunt game.

If anyone visits the rulers unnecessarily then he will invite trouble. If he emulates their deeds that contravene Shariah then he puts his religion at risk. But, if he contradicts them, then he puts his worldy life at stake. Mazhar رحمہ اللہ says that if anyone goes to a king and follows their practices (without trying to correct their he involves himself in irreligious conduct. If he does not do as they do but enjoins them piety and forbids evil, then his attendance in the king's (or ruler's) assembly will be more meritorious than participating in jihad.

Dahlawi رحمہ اللہ has presented in Musnad Firdaws'a hadith of Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ in a marfu form:

مَنِ ازْدَادَ عِلْمًا وَلَمْ يَزْدِدْ فِي الدُّنْيَا زُهْدًا لَمْ يَزْدَدْ مِنَ اللّٰهِ إِلَّا بُعْدًا

ANONYMITY IS SOLACE WHILE RENOWN IS TROUBLESOME

(٣٧٠٢) وَعَنِ الْمِقْدَامِ بْنِ مَعْدِيكَرِبَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ضَرَبَ عَلَى مَنْكِبَيْهِ ثُمَّ قَالَ

أَفْلَحْتَ يَاقُدَيْمُ إِنْ مُتَّ وَلَمْ تَكُنْ أَمِيْرًا وَلَا كَاتِبًا وَلَا عَرِيْفًا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3702. Sayyiduna Miqdam ibn Madikarab رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم patted him on his shoulders and said, "You have succeeded, O Qudaym, if you do not become a ruler, a clerk or an overseer till you die."[3]

COMMENTARY: This saying indicates that anonymity spells peace while limelight and fame bring trouble.

RULER WHO LEVIES UNJUST TAXES WILL BE DEPRIVED OF PARADISE

(٣٧٠٣) وَعَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ صَاحِبُ مَكْسٍ يَعْنِي الَّذِيْ يَعْشُرُ النَّاسَ۔ (رواہ احمد وابوداؤد والدارمی)

3703. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The tax collector will not enter paradise." He is the one who impose or collects taxes or levies from people such as are not sanctioned by Shariah.[1]

MERIT OF A JUST IMAM

(٣٧٠٤) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ أَحَبَّ النَّاسِ إِلَى اللّٰهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَأَقْرَبَهُمْ مِنْهُ مَجْلِسًا إِمَامٌ عَادِلٌ وَإِنَّ أَبْغَضَ النَّاسِ إِلَى اللّٰهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَأَشَدَّهُمْ عَذَابًا وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ وَأَبْعَدَهُمْ مِنْهُ مَجْلِسًا إِمَامٌ جَائِرٌ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3704. Sayyiduna Abu Saeed رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The dearest of all men to Allah and the nearest of them in rank on the day of resurrection will be ajust imam (ruler, leader), and the most despised of all men to Allah on the day of resurrection who will be awarded the harshest of punishment," or according to a version, "Who will be farthest from Him in rank will be a cruel (oppressive) imam."[2]

CONVEYING TRUTH TO A TYRANT IS BEST JIHAD

(٣٧٠٥-٣٧٠٦) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَفْضَلُ الْجِهَادِ مَنْ قَالَ كَلِمَةَ حَقٍّ عِنْدَ سُلْطَانٍ جَائِرٍ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَرَوَاهُ أَحْمَدُ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ عَنْ طَارِقِ بْنِ شِهَابٍ۔

3705. Sayyiduna Abu Saeed رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Indeed, the mightiest of jihad is a just word before a tyrant ruler."[3]

3706. Sayyiduna Tariq ibn Shihab رضی اللہ عنہ narrated the same hadith.[4]

COMMENTARY: In jihad, the warrior may subdue the enemy or become a marty but when he speaks a just word before a cruel king, he has no semblance of hope of saving his skin. In spite of that, he dares to speak out the truth leaving himself at the mercy of the oppressor. He discharges his duty of enjoining the reputable and forbidding the disreputable. Hence, it calls for more patience to do something that may cause him to lose his life and property than to do what might spare his life.

Moreover, the oppressive and unjust ruler is liable to hurt all his subjects and if he is prevented from being unjust then a large number of people will be benefited. The same thing cannot be said about fighting with the enemy.

THE WAY TO CORRECT THE EVIL MAN: Shaykh Abu Hamid رحمه الله has written in Ahya that enjoining the reputable to a ruler is to stop him from his waywardness, must be told of his deeds that are wrong, unjust and cruel, of his commands that are unlawful and of his actions that are contrary to the codes of Shariah. However, strong words and approach must be adopted calling him cruel or 'one who does not fear Allah' only when other people are not likely to be punished alongwith the reproacher. If they are likely to suffer his wrath, then it is not allowed to speak to him strongly. If only the reproacher is likely to be punished then it is allowed to reproach him in strong words. Rather, it is mustahab (desirable) to do so. The predecessors used to chide the rulers severely because they knew that if their wrath resulted in loss of their life that would be a great honour for them in that they would thereby attain the rank of martyrdom in jihad.

RIGHTEOUS ADVISERS LEAD THE RULERS TO SUCCESS

(٣٧٠٧) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أَرَادَ اللّٰهُ بِالْأَمِيْرِ خَيْرًا جَعَلَ لَهُ وَزِيْرَ صِدْقٍ إِنْ نَسِيَ ذَكَّرَهُ وَإِنْ ذَكَرَ أَعَانَهُ وَإِذَا أَرَادَ بِهِ غَيْرَ ذٰلِكَ جَعَلَ لَهُ وَزِيْرَ سُوْءٍ إِنْ نَسِيَ لَمْ يُذَكِّرْهُ وَإِنْ ذَكَرَ لَمْ يُعِنْهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3707. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When Allah decides that a ruler should have good, He lets him have a righteous minister and adviser. Is he forgets, he reminds him and if he remembers, he helps him. But, when Allah decides for him otherwise, He causes him to have an evil minister and adviser so that if he forgets, he does not remind him and if he remembers, he does not help him."[1]

SUSPICION CAUSES UNREST IN SUBJECTS

(٣٧٠٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِنَّ الْأَمِيْرَ إِذَا ابْتَغَى الرِّيْبَةَ فِي النَّاسِ أَفْسَدَهُمْ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3708. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی الله عنه said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When a ruler tries to attribute mischief to the subjects, he corrupts them."[2]

COMMENTARY: The rulers and the ruled must have complete harmony among themselves for the sake of peace in their country. The ruler must assure his subjects that he is confident of them. If he entertains doubts and accuses them and punishes them because of that, then he creates unrest and bad feelings.

This hadith teaches rulers that they must not search for faults in their subjects and must conceal their faults. They must pardon them any lapses.

(٣٧٠٩) وَعَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِنَّكَ إِذَا اتَّبَعْتَ عَوْرَاتِ النَّاسِ أَفْسَدْتَهُمْ رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِي شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ۔

3709. Sayyiduna Muawiyah رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله

[2] Abu Dawud # 4889, Musnad Ahmad 6-4.

عليه وسلم say, "If you look into the secrets of the people (to find their faults), then you will corrupt them."[1]

COMMENTARY: Like the previous hadith this too stresses that secrets should not be disclosed lest it becomes difficult to live peacefully.

3710. Sayyiduna Abu Dharr رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked him, "How will you conduct yourselves, after me with the rulers who will retain the fa'I (booty) with themselves?" He said, "Indeed, by him who sent you with the truth, I shall put my sword on my shoulder and smite (them) with it till I meet you." He asked, "Shall I not guide you to what is better than that? Be patient till you meet me."[2]

COMMENTARY: Fa'i is what is acquired from the disbelievers without fighting with them. Examples are Kharaj (tribute), jizyah (homage revenue) or any kind of tax which the Islamic state takes from the non-Muslims. As for the property acquired from the disbelievers after fighting with them, that is called ghanimah (booty). One fifth of the fa'I goes to the state treasury while four-fifth is the right of all Muslims and disbursed among them. If the ruler does not give anything of the fa'i to the Muslims then though he denies them their right yet, merely for this property, they must not revolt against him. It is better to show patience.

The ulama (Scholars) say that this saying of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم includes both fa'I and ghanimah. The ruler who appropriates all of fa'I or ghanimah (booty) is a wrongdoer. (fa'i is booty acquired without fighting. Ghanimah is booty acquired after defeating the enemy in war.)

SECTION III — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

MERIT OF A JUST IMAM (RULER)

(٣٧١١) عَنْ عَائِشَةَ عَنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَتَدْرُوْنَ مَنِ السَّابِقُوْنَ اِلٰى ظِلِّ اللّٰهِ عَزَّوَجَلَّ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ قَالُوا اللّٰهُ وَ رَسُوْلُهٗ اَعْلَمُ قَالَ الَّذِيْنَ اِذَا اُعْطُوا الْحَقَّ قَبِلُوْهُ وَاِذَا سُئِلُوْهُ بَذَلُوْهُ وَحَكَمُوْا لِلنَّاسِ كَحُكْمِهِمْ لِاَنْفُسِهِمْ۔

3711. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked, "Do you know who will be the first ones, on the day of resurrection, to the shade of (the throne of) Allah, Mighty and Glorious (or to His kindness and mercy)?" They (the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم) said, "Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم know best." He said. "They (who will be the first) are the ones who accept when the truth is placed before them. When they are asked for something justified, they spend without hesitation. And, they judge for the people as they judge for themselves."

COMMENTARY: This hadith describes the just rulers as possessing three characteristics because of which they will be the first to deserve the favours of Allah and the shade on the day of resurrection. (1) they readily accept every proposal concerning the betterment of their subjects and justice towards them, and they put that into action promptly. (2) They give the rights of their subjects when they demand them, and they do not procrastinate in spending on the needs of the people and the good of them. And, (3) They like for their subjects what they like for themselves. Just as they wish for their own selves comfort, they wish comfort for their people, too. They are not like selfish rulers who do not care for the general masses.

FEAR OF THREE THINGS FOR THE UMMAH

(٣٧١٢) وَعَنْ جَابِرِ ابْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ ثَلَاثٌ اَخَافُ عَلٰى أُمَّتِيْ

الْإِسْتِسْقَاءُ بِالْاَنْوَاءِ وَحَيْفُ السُّلْطَانِ وَتَكْذِيْبٌ بِالْقَدْرِ۔

3712. Sayyiduna Jabir ibn Samurah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "I heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, 'I fear three things for my ummah (lest they adopt them and go astray. They are): (i) seeking rain by al-anwa (the phases of the moon), (ii) a king's being unjust and (iii) denying the decree of Allah."[1]

COMMENTARY: The word anwa (in the hadith with the definite article) is the plural of (نَوْ) naw which means to 'rise and fall'. Generally, it is used for the phases of the moon. The ancient astronomers said that the moon has twenty-eight phases. It is in a different phase every night. So, perhaps, 'rise and fall' are used for the rising and setting of the moon and the word anwa is used for the phases of the moon.

The Arab idolaters ascribed rain to these phases of the moon. This is a false belief and other ahadith forbid the holding of such beliefs. It is called disbelief to emphasise the significance of tawhid (monotheism) and to remove doubts of polytheism.

DO NOT BECOME A TRUSTEE OR A JUDGE UNNECESSARILY

(٣٧١٣) وَعَنْ اَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ قَالَ لِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سِتَّةَ اَيَّامٍ اَعْقِلْ يَا اَبَا ذَرٍّ مَا يُقَالُ لَكَ بَعْدُ

اَحَدًا شَيْئًا وَاِنْ سَقَطَ سَوْطُكَ وَلَا تَقْبِضْ اَمَانَةً وَلَا تَقْضِ بَيْنَ اثْنَيْنِ۔

3713. Sayyiduna Abu Dharr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him (every day) for six days, "Bear in mind, O Abu Dharr, what is to be told to you." (He was asked to prepare himself for a guidance to be given to him which he must remember and follow.) Then, on the seventh day, he said, "I instruct you to fear Allah in your secret affairs and the open ones. And, when you commit a wrong, follow it with a good deed. Do not ask anyone (of the creatures) for anything, even if your whip drops down (from your hand, do not request anyone to pick it up for you). Do not accept a trust and do not act as an arbitrator between two people."[2]

---

[1] Musnad Ahmad 5-90.

[2] Musnad Ahmad 5-172.

COMMENTARY: To keep anyone's trust for safe-keeping is not wise. One cannot trust oneself and the devil may tempt one at any time to commit treachery. Besides, there is a possibility of being accused of breach of trust by the owner of the trust or anyone else.

THREE STAGES OF A RULER DURING HIS RULE

(٣٧١٤) وَعَنْ اَبِي اُمَامَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّهُ قَالَ مَا مِنْ رَجُلٍ يَلِي اَمْرَ عَشْرَةٍ فَمَا فَوقَ ذٰلِكَ اِلَّا اَتَاهُ اللّٰهُ عَزَّوَجَلَّ مَغْلُوْلًا يَومَ الْقِيَامَةِ يَدُهُ اِلٰى عُنُقِهٖ فَكَّهُ بِرُّهُ اَوْ اَوْبَقَهُ اِثْمُهُ اَوَّلُهَا مَلَامَةٌ وَ اَوْسَطُهَا نَدَامَةٌ وَاٰخِرُهَا خِزْيٌ يَومَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔

3714. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If a man has ruled over ten people or more, then he will be brought to Allah, Mighty and Glorious, on the day of resurrection (in the place of gathering), with his hand chained to his neck. Then, he will be set free by his piety (which is his justice and kindness to his subjects in the world), or he will be ruined because of his sin (which is his tyranny over his subjects in the world). The beginning of it (meaning, ruler ship) brings blame, the middle of it causes regret and the end of it is disgrace on the day of resurrection."[1]

COMMENTARY: Very few people there are who do not crave for high offices and ruler ship. In the initial stages, a ruler is blamed from all sides for misrule, partisanship, negligence etc. Then, he himself regrets having taken up the office and put himself to unnecessary bother. If he is deposed then he is disgraced otherwise he is despised. Then, in the hereafter, he will have to give account to the Judge of all judges and undergo punishment for his misdeeds. So take heed, O you possessed of sight!

PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ADVICE TO MUAWIYAH رضی اللہ عنہ

(٣٧١٥) وَعَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا مُعَاوِيَةُ اِنْ وُلِّيتَ اَمْرًا فَاتَّقِ اللّٰهَ وَاعْدِلْ قَالَ فَمَازِلْتُ اَظُنُّ اَنِّي مُبْتَلًى بِعَمَلٍ لِقَوْلِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حَتّٰى ابْتُلِيْتُ۔

3715. Sayyiduna Muawiyah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "Muawiyah, if you are made a ruler or given authority, fear Allah (always) and dispense justice." He said, "I continued to think that I would be tried with some kind of authority in the light of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying till I was (finally) tried. (His words did come true and I was made an amir.)"[2]

REFUGE IN ALLAH FROM TRIAL IN FUTURE

(٣٧١٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تَعَوَّذُوْا بِاللّٰهِ مِنْ رَأْسِ السَّبْعِيْنَ وَاِمَارَةِ الصِّبْيَانِ۔ رَوَى الْاَحَادِيْثَ السِّتَّةَ اَحْمَدُ وَرَوَى الْبَيْهَقِيُّ حَدِيْثَ مُعَاوِيَةَ فِي دَلَائِلِ النُّبُوَّةِ۔

3716. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Seek refuge in Allah from the beginning of the year seventy and from the rule of boys."[3]

---

[1] Musnad Ahmad 5-267

[2] Bayhaqi in Dalail un Nabuwah

[3] Musnad Ahmad 2-326.

COMMENTARY: Beginning of the year seventy is the seventh decade of the hijri year which began in 61AH.At the end of 60AH, Muawiyah رضی اللہ عنہ died and his era was over. Yazid ibn Mu'awiyah began his rule. At the same time the auspicious era of the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم came to an end completely.

Thereafter, the ummah's history is replete with discord, in-fighting, injustice and oppression and rivalry for rulership. Yazid ruled for three years and eight months and the most shameful tragedy during his rule was the very unfortunate incident at Karbala. After Zazid, his son, Mu'awiyah ivbn Zazid ibn Mu'amiyah succeeded him only in name and rulership shipped out of the hands of the Sufyani clan of Banu Umayyah ito the hands of Banu Marwan.

The hadith refers to these Banu Marwan as the boys. During their time, there was much of tug of war for rulership, oppression, religious unrest, ethnic wars, neglect of symbols of Islam and harsh treatment or religious elders. This turned the entire administration to children's playground. The most disgraceful man of history was the cruel Hajj (pilgrimage)aj ibn Yusuf, the prominent ruler of Banu Marwan. He did not lag behind Chengez and Halaku in his cruelty and tyranny.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had foreseen these troublesome years of the seventh decade of hijri which began with the rule of Yazid ibn Mu'awiyah and reached their peak in the time of the Banu Marwan. His sight had seen them years before they transpired like a clearly read book. Therefore, he had advised his Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم to seek refuge from that time and asked them to pray that Allah way not show them that period.

RULERS WILL BE APPOINTED COMMENSURATE TO YOUR DEEDS.

كَمَا تَكُوْنُوْنَ كَذٰلِكَ يُؤَمَّرُ عَلَيْكُمْ۔

3717. Sayyiduna Yahya ibn Hashim narrated from Yunus ibn Abu Ishaq رضی اللہ عنہ who from his father that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "As you will be so shall you have rulers put over you."[1]

COMMENTARY: Your rulers and governors will be appointed over you according to how you are, how you conduct yourselves. If your deeds are good they too will be good. If you do bad deeds, then you will have evil leaders over you.

KING IS ALLAH'S SHADE ON EARTH

(٣٧١٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ السُّلْطَانَ ظِلُّ اللّٰهِ فِي الْاَرْضِ يَأْوِي اِلَيْهِ كُلُّ

مَظْلُوْمٍ مِنْ عِبَادِهٖ فَاِذَا عَدَلَ كَانَ لَهُ الْاَجْرُ وَعَلَى الرَّعِيَّةِ الشُّكْرُ وَاِذَا جَارَ كَانَ عَلَيْهِ الْاِصْرُ وَعَلَى الرَّعِيَّةِ الصَّبْرُ۔

3718. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The King is Allah's shade on the earth. Every wronged one of the slaves of Allah comes to it (to seek redress). So, when he is just, there is a reward for him and it is wajib (obligatory) on the subjects to be thankful. But, when he is oppressive sin rests on him and the subjects must exercise patience.[2]

[1] Bayhaqi in Shabul Eeman # 3792.

[2] Bayhaqi in Shaabul Eeman # 7399.

COMMENTARY: The King is said to be Allah's shade on earth. He is so called because people retire to the shade to get protection. The Kind protects his subjects from hardship and oppression. Also, sometimes the word shade stands for 'protection and support.' The words (ظل الله) Allah's shade, denote the greatness of the shade and its blessings relative to other shades. It is like (بيت الله) Bayt Allah - Allah's House. This House is greater and more blessed than other houses. It indicates that the particular shade, meaning King is not like other shades. Rather, it is more glorious and exclusive because the King is Allah's caliph (deputy) on earth.

THE HIGHEST RANK WILL BELONG TO A MILD AND JUST RULER.

(٣٧١٩) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَفْضَلَ عِبَادِ اللّٰهِ عِنْدَ اللّٰهِ مَنْزِلَةً يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ اِمَامٌ عَادِلٌ رَفِيْقٌ وَاِنَّ شَرَّ النَّاسِ عِنْدَ اللّٰهِ مَنْزِلَةً يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ اِمَامٌ جَائِرٌ خَرِقٌ۔

3719. Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely, the most excellent of Allah's slaves in Allah's sight on the day of resurrection will be a just and a soft-hearted ruler. And, indeed, the worst of all people in Allah's sight on the day of resurrection will be a brutal and intolerant ruler."[1]

TO FRIGHTEN A MUSLIM IS PUNISHABLE OFFENCE.

(٣٧٢٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ نَظَرَ اِلٰى اَخِيْهِ نَظْرَةً يُخِيْفُهٗ اَخَافَهُ اللّٰهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ رَوَى الْاَحَادِيْثَ الْاَرْبَعَةَ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ وَقَالَ فِيْ حَدِيْثِ يَحْيٰى هٰذَا مُنْقَطِعٌ وَرِوَايَتُهٗ ضَعِيْفٌ۔

3720. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who looks at his brother with a look that frightens will be frightened by Allah on the day of resurrection."[2]

COMMENTARY: If merely frightening a Muslim is punishable on the day of resurrection then what will happen to one who oppresses a Muslim?

BETTER TO CORRECT YOURSELVES THAN CURSE RULERS

(٣٧٢١) وَعَنْ اَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ تَعَالٰى يَقُوْلُ اَنَا اللّٰهُ لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اَنَا مَالِكُ الْمُلُوْكِ وَ مَلِكُ الْمُلُوْكِ قُلُوْبُ الْمُلُوْكِ فِيْ يَدِيْ وَ اِنَّ الْعِبَادَ اِذَا اَطَاعُوْنِيْ حَوَّلْتُ قُلُوْبَ مُلُوْكِهِمْ عَلَيْهِمْ بِالرَّحْمَةِ وَالرَّأْفَةِ وَاِنَّ الْعِبَادَ اِذَا عَصَوْنِيْ حَوَّلْتُ قُلُوْبَهُمْ بِالسَّخْطَةِ وَالنِّقْمَةِ فَسَامُوْهُمْ سُوْءَ الْعَذَابِ فَلَا تَشْغَلُوْا اَنْفُسَكُمْ بِالدُّعَاءِ عَلَى الْمُلُوْكِ وَلٰكِنْ اشْغَلُوْا اَنْفُسَكُمْ بِالذِّكْرِ وَالتَّضَرُّعِ كَيْ اَكْفِيَكُمْ مُلُوْكَكُمْ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْنُعَيْمٍ فِي الْحِلْيَةِ۔

3721. Sayyiduna Abu Darda رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "Surely, Allah, the Exalted, says, 'I am Allah. There is no God but I, Master of Kings, and King of Kings. The hearts of the Kings are in My hand. When the slaves

(creatures) obey Me, I turn the heatrs of their Kings toward them with merecy and Mildness. But, when the slaves disobey Me, I turn their hearts against them with anger and vengean so they punish them with a terrible punishment. So, do not occupy yourself with praying against the Kings, but occupy yourself in dhikr (remembrance of Me) and humble petition that I may preserve you from your Kings'[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith says that the way the rulers treat their subjects depends inwardly on the deeds and manners of the masses. If they are righteous then even an unjust ruler turns just, mild and kind to them. But if they are wicked and disobedient to Allah, then even a just and kind ruler treats them harshly.

Therefore, instead of blaming the ruler and cursing him, the masses must turn to Allah, repent for their bad deeds and seek Allah's forgiveness. They must plead to him with humility and mould their deeds and affairs strictly according to the commands of Allah and His Messenger so that His mercy embraces them and He turns their ruler toward them in justice and kindness.

CHAPTER - II

RULERS MUST FACILITATE THINGS AS WAJIB (OBLIGATORY)

بَابُ مَا عَلَى الْوُلَاةِ مِنَ التَّيْسِيْرِ

The previous chapter prescribed on the subjects obedience to their rulers. This calls on the rulers to make things easy for their subjects.

SECTION I

اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

RULERS MUST BE CONSIDERATE

(٣٧٢٢) عَنْ اَبِيْ مُوسٰى قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا بَعَثَ اَحَدًا مِنْ اَصْحَابِهٖ فِيْ بَعْضِ اَمْرِهٖ قَالَ بَشِّرُوْا وَلَا تُنَفِّرُوا وَيَسِّرُوا وَلَا تُعَسِّرُوْا۔ (متفق عليه)

3722. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said to whichever of his Sahabah رضی الله عنه whom he sent to oversee some of his affairs (like taking over as governor of a place), "Give them good tidings and do not frighten them. And make things easy. Do not make things difficult[2]

(٣٧٢٣) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَسِّرُوْا وَلَا تُعَسِّرُوا وَسَكِّنُوْا وَلَا تُنَفِّرُوا۔ (متفق عليه)

3723. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said (to his governors and revenue collectors),"Make things easy (for the people). Do not put them to difficulty. Let them be serene (by conveying to them glad-tidings of Allah's blessings) and do not frighten them (much, of Allah's punishment causing them to dislike and disobey).[3]

3724. Sayyiduna Abu Burdah رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم sent his grandfather, abu Musa رضی الله عنه (Ash'ari) and Mu'adh رضی الله عنه to Yemen, saying to them, "Make things easy and do not make them difficult. Give glad tidings and do not frighten. Be united (compliant with one another) and do not disagree.[1]

COMMENTARY: The narrator's name should be Ibn Abu Burdah. Abu Burdah رضی الله عنه was the son of Abu Musa رضی الله عنه. Ibn Abu Burdah رضی الله عنه who narrated this hadith was sa'eed رضی الله عنه. His other brothers who narrated ahadith from their father, Abu Burdah رضی الله عنه were Abdullah, Yusuf and Bilal رضی الله عنه Bukhari has the name of saeed ibn Abu Burdah رضی الله عنه as the narrator of this hadith. He heard from his father abu Burdah رضی الله عنه that the Prophet had sent to Yemen his father, Abu Musa رضی الله عنه, and Mu'adh رضی الله عنه.

DECEITFUL WILL BE DISGRACED

(٣٧٢٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ الْغَادِرَ يُنْصَبُ لَهٗ لِوَاءٌ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فَيُقَالُ هٰذِهٖ غَدْرَةُ فُلَانِ بْنِ فُلَانٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

3725. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "On the day of resurrection, the deceitful man will have a standard set up for him (to disgrace him). An announcement will be made, "This is the (sign of) deceit of so-and-so son of so-and-so.[2]

(٣٧٢٦) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِكُلِّ غَادِرٍ لِوَاءٌ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ يُعْرَفُ بِهٖ۔ (متفق عليه)

3726. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "On the day of resurrection everydeceitful person will have a standard. He will be recognized by it.[3]

(٣٧٢٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِكُلِّ غَادِرٍ لِوَاءٌ عِنْدَ اِسْتِهٖ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِكُلِّ غَادِرٍ لِوَاءٌ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ يُرْفَعُ لَهٗ بِقَدْرِ غَدْرِهٖ اَلَا وَلَا غَادِرَ اَعْظَمُ غَدْرًا مِنْ اَمِيْرِ عَامَّةٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3727. Sayyiduna Abu Saeed رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "On the day of resurrection, every deceitful person will have a standard set up near his anus." According to another version: "On the day of resurrection, every deceitful person will have a standard set up aloft for him commensurate with the amount of deceit he committed. Know! None is more deceitful than (a deceitful) leader of a people.[4]

WARNING TO RULERS WHO DO NOT SATISFY NEEDS OF THEIR SUBJECTS

(٣٧٢٨) عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ مُرَّةَ اَنَّهٗ قَالَ لِمُعَاوِيَةَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ وَلَّاهُ اللّٰهُ شَيْئًا مِنْ اَمْرِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ فَاحْتَجَبَ دُوْنَ حَاجَتِهِمْ وَخَلَّتِهِمْ وَفَقْرِهِمْ اِحْتَجَبَ اللّٰهُ دُوْنَ حَاجَتِهٖ وَخَلَّتِهٖ وَفَقْرِهٖ فَجَعَلَ مُعَاوِيَةُ رَجُلًا عَلٰى حَوَائِجِ النَّاسِ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَالتِّرْمِذِيُّ۔ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَهٗ وَلِاَحْمَدَ اَغْلَقَ اللّٰهُ لَهٗ اَبْوَابَ السَّمَاءِ دُوْنَ خَلَّتِهٖ وَحَاجَتِهٖ وَمَسْكَنَتِهٖ۔

3728. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Murrah رضی الله عنه reported his saying to Mu'awiyah رضی الله عنه "I had heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say that if Allah puts someone in authority over some affairs of the Muslims but he shuts his door from redressing their need, helplessness and poverty then Allah will turn away from redressing his need, helplessness and poverty." On that Mu'awiyah placed a man to look after the needs of the People.[1]
According to a version: "Allah will shut the gates of heaven on his helplessness, needs and poverty."[2]

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

RULER WHO SHUTS HIS GATES WILL FIND GATES OF DIVINE MERCY SHUT

(٣٧٢٩) عَنْ اَبِي الشَّمَّاخِ الْاَزْدِيِّ عَنِ ابْنِ عَمٍّ لَهٗ مِنْ اَصْحَابِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّهٗ اَتٰى مُعَاوِيَةَ فَدَخَلَ عَلَيْهِ فَقَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ وَلِيَ مِنْ اَمْرِ النَّاسِ شَيْئًا ثُمَّ اَغْلَقَ بَابَهٗ دُوْنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ اَوِ الْمَظْلُوْمِ اَوْ ذِى الْحَاجَةِ اَغْلَقَ اللّٰهُ دُوْنَهٗ اَبْوَابَ رَحْمَتِهٖ عِنْدَ حَاجَتِهٖ وَفَقْرِهٖ اَفْقَرَ مَا يَكُوْنُ اِلَيْهِ۔

3729. Sayyiduna Abu Shammakh Azdi رضی الله عنه reported that one of his paternal cousins who was a sahabi رضی الله عنه of the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said that he visited Mu'awiyah رضی الله عنه. He met him and said to him that he had heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "He who is placed in some authority over the people and shuts his gate against the Muslims, or the oppressed, or a needy person(denying them their need),will find that Allah will shut against him the gates of His Mercy when he in need or in poverty, howsoever much he may be in need of Him."[3]

UMAR'S رضی الله عنه ADVICE TO HIS GOVERNORS

3730. Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضی الله عنه is reported to have stipulated on his governors when he sent them (to their assignments) that:
They should not ride Turkish horses, eat white bread, wear fine clothing, or shut their gates against the needs of the people.
He warned them that if they did any of these things, then they would be liable to punishment. After that (having given these instructions,) he walked with them some distance.[1]

COMMENTARY: He forbade them to ride Turkish horses that they might not be arrogant. On this basis, it is more proper not to ride the Arabian horses which are of a high breed. Teebi رضی الله عنه said that the governors were disallowed those things becausae they smacked of arrogance.

CHAPTER - III

CONDUCTING THE OFFICE OF THE QADI (JUDGE) & FEAR OF IT

بَابُ الْعَمَلِ فِي الْقَضَاءِ وَالْخَوْفِ مِنْهُ

We had stated in the introductory passages of this book XVII (office of the commander & of the Qadi) that the pivot of Islamic manner of government are the head of state and the qadi and in the previous two chapters, matters concerning the ruler were treated.
In this chapter, we shall deal with the office of the judge. We shall mention:

(i) The judge must rely merely on the Islamic code of law which is drived from the book and the sunnah (Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم practice), and his ijtihad as his guide. His decision should not contravence these sources of Islamic law.

(ii) This office is so very high and significant that not everyone should try to attain it. Rather, as far as possible, one must try to avoid taking this responsibility and must be fearful of holding it.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

JUDGEMENT NOT WHEN ANGRY

(٣٧٣١) عَنْ اَبِي بَكْرَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَا يَقْضِيَنَّ حَكَمٌ بَيْنَ اثْنَيْنِ وَهُوَ غَضْبَانُ۔ (متفق علیه)

3731. Sayyiduna Abu Bakrah رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "A judge must not give judgement between two people when he is angry."[2]

COMMENTARY: When a person is angry, he loses ability to ponder and decide. So, he cannot pass a fair judgement. Also, no judgement may be passed when it is very cold or very hot, when one is hungry or thirsty and when one is ill. Any judgement given in such condition will be implemented with dislike.

JUDGE MAY RESORT TO IJTIHAD

(٣٧٣٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو وَاَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا حَكَمَ الْحَاكِمُ

---

[1] Bayhaqi Shu'ab ul-Eeman # 7394.

[2] Bukhari # 7258, Muslim # 16-1717, Tirmidhi # 1334, Nasai # 5421, Ibn Majah # 2316, Majah Ahmad 5-36.

فَاجْتَهَدَ وَاَصَابَ فَلَهُ اَجْرَانِ وَاِذَا حَكَمَ فَاجْتَهَدَ وَاَخْطَأَ فَلَهُ اَجْرٌ وَاحِدٌ۔ (متفق علیه)

3732. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ and Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When a ruler (or judge) passess judgement and resorts to ijtihad (pondering deeply over the case) and is correct(in making it), he will get two rewards (one for his ijtihad and the other for the correct decision). And, when he passess judgement having resorted fo ijtihad but is wrong, he will get one reward."[1]

COMMENTARY: When a judge finds no answer to the case before him in the Book and Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) or in fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), he may make an ijtihad by pondering over the Book and Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) and parallel rulings in similar cases and in the books of fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence). His judgement will be regarded as correct in law, but in terms of the hereafter, there are two possibilities. If his judgement is correct by the Book and Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) then he gets a dual reward and, if it is wrong, he nevertheless gets one reward for trying honestly. So, a mujtahid is liable to err, but he gets a reward anyaway.

Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ said that if a ruling is not found in the regular texts or precedent then one may resort to qiyas (analogy). It is like finding out the qiblah. When one has no means to find it out, one may make an assumption to the best of one's ability before offering salah (prayer). His effort will be deemed to have produced a correct result even if he did not face the qiblah in fact.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

OFFICE OF QADI IS A TRIAL

(٣٧٣٣) عَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ جُعِلَ قَاضِيًا بَيْنَ النَّاسِ فَقَدْ ذُبِحَ بِغَيْرِ سِكِّيْنٍ۔ (رواه احمد والترمذی وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3733. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who has been made a judge over the people has indeed been slaughtered without a Knife."[2]

COMMENTARY: He is slaughtered because he is ruined mentally and spiritually. A judge is always upset and in agony. He is ill without medicine and is worried about spoiling his hereafter. If anyone is killed with a Knife that is painful for a moment while a judge's pain is for a lifetime.

DO NOT ASPIRE TO BE A QADI

(٣٧٣٤) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنِ ابْتَغَى الْقَضَاءَ وَسَأَلَ وُكِّلَ اِلٰى نَفْسِهِ وَمَنْ اُكْرِهَ عَلَيْهِ اَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ مَلَكًا يُسَدِّدُهُ۔ (رواه الترمذی ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3734. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who craves for the office of a judge and applies for it (to the authority, and gets it), then it will be entrusted to him (to sort out his problems). But, if anyone is compelled to accept it (without his craving for it) then Allah sends down an angel who directs him to the right course (in running it)."[1]

JUDGES OF PARADISE AND OF HELL

(٣٧٣٥) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْقُضَاةُ ثَلَاثَةٌ وَاحِدٌ فِي الْجَنَّةِ وَاثْنَانِ فِي النَّارِ فَاَمَّا الَّذِي فِي الْجَنَّةِ فَرَجُلٌ عَرَفَ الْحَقَّ فَقَضٰى بِهٖ وَرَجُلٌ عَرَفَ الْحَقَّ فَجَارَ فِي الْحُكْمِ فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ وَرَجُلٌ قَضٰى لِلنَّاسِ عَلٰى جَهْلٍ فَهُوَ فِي النَّارِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3735. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Judges are of three Kinds. One of these Kinds comprises those who will be admitted to paradise and two Kinds are made up of those who will be consigned to hell. As for the one who will enter paradise, he is the man who knows what is right and gives judgement on that basis. And the man who knows (the truth and) what is right yet transgresses in his judgement will be sent to hell. And, so a man who gives judgement to the people though he is ignorant will be sent to hell."[2]

(٣٧٣٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ طَلَبَ قَضَاءَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ حَتّٰى يَنَالَهٗ ثُمَّ غَلَبَ عَدْلُهٗ جَوْرَهٗ فَلَهُ الْجَنَّةُ وَمَنْ غَلَبَ جَوْرُهٗ عَدْلَهٗ فَلَهُ النَّارُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3736. Sayyiduna abu Hurayrah رضي الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger said, "If anyone seeks the office of judge over the Muslims so that he gets it and his justice overwhelmns his injustice (and tyranny), then he will go to paradise. But, if anyone's injustice dominates his justice then he will go to hell."[3]

COMMENTARY: The apparent meaning is that both these Kinds of judges will dispense both justice and Injustice. Since their fate will be decided according to what overwhelms, the one whose justice prevails will go to paradise. If he is move unjust in giving judgement than just, then he will go to hell. In both cases, there is predominance of one trait over the other.

QIYAS AND IJTIHAD ARE ALLOWED

(٣٧٣٧) وَعَنْ مُعَاذِ بْنِ جَبَلٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَمَّا بَعَثَهٗ اِلَى الْيَمَنِ قَالَ كَيْفَ تَقْضِيْ اِذَا عَرَضَ لَكَ قَضَاءٌ؟ قَالَ اَقْضِيْ بِكِتَابِ اللّٰهِ قَالَ فَاِنْ لَمْ تَجِدْ فِيْ كِتَابِ اللّٰهِ قَالَ فَبِسُنَّةِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فَاِنْ لَمْ تَجِدْ فِيْ سُنَّةِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ قَالَ اَجْتَهِدُ رَاْئِيْ وَلَا اٰلُوْ قَالَ فَضَرَبَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلٰى صَدْرِهٖ وَقَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ وَفَّقَ رَسُوْلَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِمَا يَرْضٰى بِهٖ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد والدارمی)

3737. Sayyiduna Mu'adh ibn Jabal رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلی

صلى الله عليه وسلم sent him to Yemen (as a judge and ruler), he asked him, "How will you judge when a case is brought to you?" He said, "I shall decide according to Allah's Book." He asked, "And if you do not find an answer in Allah's Book? He said, "Then I will follow the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) of Allah's Messengerصلى الله عليه وسلم." He asked, "And if you find no answer in the sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) of Allah's Messengerصلى الله عليه وسلم." He said, "I shall use my opinion and make ijtihad and not lag behind in it." So, Allah's Messengerصلى الله عليه وسلم patted him on his breast and said, "Praise belongs to Allah who has made the messenger of the Messenger of Allah consistent with what pleases him."[1]

COMMENTARY: He said that he would deduce from the relevant rulings and similar cases and laws in the Quran and the Sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice).

Mazhar also explained the hadith in the same way. The imams, who are mujtahids have deduced many judgements on qiyas. However, they have differed on its application and recourse to it. For example, Imam Shafi'I compares interest on barter of wheat for wheat to interest on watermelon for watermelon because both are eatables. Imam Abu Hanifah رضى الله عنه compares wheat for wheat to lime for lime, both being weighable commodities. Interest is forbidden in any case (when more of same commodity is exchanged for less of it).

In short, this hadith is a strong evidence that qiyas and ijtihad are allowed and lawful. It rejects the zawahir (ghayr muqallidin) who reject qiyas and ijtihad.

AFTER PLAINTIFF DEFENDANT MUST BE HEARD TOO

(٣٧٣٨) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ بَعَثَنِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَى الْيَمَنِ قَاضِيًا فَقُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ تُرْسِلُنِيْ وَأَنَا حَدِيْثُ السِّنِّ وَلَا عِلْمَ لِيْ بِالْقَضَاءِ فَقَالَ إِنَّ اللّٰهَ سَيَهْدِيْ قَلْبَكَ وَيُثَبِّتُ لِسَانَكَ إِذَا تَقَاضَى إِلَيْكَ رَجُلَانِ فَلَا تَقْضِ لِلْأَوَّلِ حَتّٰى تَسْمَعَ كَلَامَ الْاٰخَرِ فَإِنَّهُ أَحْرٰى أَنْ يَتَبَيَّنَ لَكَ الْقَضَاءُ قَالَ فَمَا شَكَكْتُ فِيْ قَضَاءٍ بَعْدُ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَسَنَذْكُرُ حَدِيْثَ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ إِنَّمَا أَقْضِيْ بَيْنَكُمْ بِرَأْيِيْ فِيْ بَابِ الْأَقْضِيَةِ وَالشَّهَادَاتِ إِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى۔ (رواه الترمذى وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3738. Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم decided to send him to Yemen as a qadi, so he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, you send me while I am young and do not possess (enough) knowledge of the office of qadi." He said, "Surely, Allah will guide your heart (to rectitude) and cause your tongue to be true (in making judgement)." (Then he gave him instructions, saying) "When two men bring to you their case, do not decide in favour of the first (the plaintiff) till you have heard the argument of the second (the defendant), for this will help you arrive at a correct decision."

He narrated (further), "After that I (followed) his instructions and) did not have any doubt (or hesitation) in deciding (a case before me)."[2]

وَسَنَذْكُرُ حَدِيْثَ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ إِنَّمَا أَقْضِيْ بَيْنَكُمْ بِرَأْيِيْ فِيْ بَابِ الْأَقْضِيَةِ وَالشَّهَادَاتِ إِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

THE FATE OF A TYRANT

(٣٧٣٩) عَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَامِنْ حَاكِمٍ يَحْكُمُ بَيْنَ النَّاسِ اِلَّا جَاءَ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَ مَلَكٌ اٰخِذٌ بِقَفَاهُ ثُمَّ يَرْفَعُ رَاسَهٗ اِلَى السَّمَاءِ فَاِنْ قَالَ اَلْقِهٖ اَلْقَاهُ فِىْ مَهْوَاةٍ اَرْبَعِيْنَ خَرِيْفًا۔ (رواه احمد وابن ماجة والبيهقى فى شعب الايمان)

3739. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Every ruler who rules and judges among the people will be brought on the day of resurrection (to the presence of the Judge of Judges and the Ruler of rulers), an angel holding his nape. The angel will raise his head to heaven (anticipating a command). If He commands, "Throw him down (in hell)," the he will throw him into a pit (that is) deep (to a distance covered in forty autumns (years)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The words forty autumns deep mean that the pit is like a bottomless pit but they do not determine the time taken to traverse it.

This command will be given for an oppressor and a cruel ruler. The just ruler will be sent to paradise, as we read against the hadith of Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ (#3714).

(٣٧٤٠) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَيَأْتِيَنَّ عَلَى الْقَاضِى الْعَدْلِ يَوْمُ الْقِيَامَةِ يَتَمَنّٰى اَنَّهٗ لَمْ يَقْضِ بَيْنَ اثْنَيْنِ فِىْ تَمْرَةٍ قَطُّ۔ (رواه احمد)

3740. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Indeed, there will arise a deep longing to the just judge on the day of resurrection that he had never had to pass judgement between two people even a piece of date."[2]

JUST RULER HAS ALLAH'S SUPPORT

(٣٧٤١) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ اَبِىْ اَوْفٰى قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ مَعَ الْقَاضِىْ مَالَمْ يَجُرْ فَاِذَا جَارَ تَخَلّٰى عَنْهُ وَلَزِمَهُ الشَّيْطَانُ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَفِىْ رِوَايَةٍ فَاِذَا جَارَ وَكَلَهٗ اِلٰى نَفْسِهٖ۔

3741. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Abu Awfa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Indeed, Allah is with the judge till he does not wrong (and be unjust and he has Allah's support and enablement till then). But when he wrongs (and becomes unjust). He departs from him and the devil sticks to him."

According to another version: "When he wrongs (and is unjust), He entrusts him to his own self."[3]

(٣٧٤٢) وَعَنْ سَعِيْدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ اَنَّ مُسْلِمًا وَيَهُوْدِيًّا اخْتَصَمَا اِلٰى عُمَرَ فَرَاٰى الْحَقَّ لِلْيَهُوْدِيِّ فَقَضٰى لَهٗ عُمَرُ بِهٖ

[2] Tirmidhi # 1330.

[3] Ibn Majah # 2312.

فَقَالَ لَهُ الْيَهُودِيُّ وَاللّٰهِ لَقَدْ قَضَيْتَ بِالْحَقِّ فَضَرَبَهُ عُمَرُ بِالدِّرَّةِ وَقَالَ وَمَا يُدْرِيكَ فَقَالَ الْيَهُودِيُّ وَاللّٰهِ إِنَّا نَجِدُ فِي التَّوْرَاةِ أَنَّهُ لَيْسَ قَاضٍ يَقْضِي بِالْحَقِّ إِلَّا كَانَ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ مَلَكٌ وَعَنْ شِمَالِهِ مَلَكٌ يُسَدِّدَانِهِ وَيُوَفِّقَانِهِ لِلْحَقِّ مَادَامَ مَعَ الْحَقِّ فَإِذَا تَرَكَ الْحَقَّ عَرَجَا وَتَرَكَاهُ۔ (رواه مالك)

3742. Sayyiduna Saeed ibn Musayyab رضی الله عنه narrated that a Muslim and a Jew brought a dispute (in which they were involved) before Umar رضی الله عنه. He (heard them and) found that the Jew was justified, so he pronounced judgement in his favour. The Jew said to him, "By Allah, indeed, you judged justly." On that, Umar beat him with his whip and asked him, "How do you know it?" The Jew said, "By Allah, we do find in Torah that every judge who decides justly has an angel to his right and an angel to his left. They guide and urge him to that which is (right and) just till he sticks to the right. When he abondons the right they ascend (to the heaven) and leave him (to himself)."[1]

COMMENTARY: A question arises why did Umar رضی الله عنه beat the Jew when he described his judgement as fair. Another question is how is the Jew's reply compatible with Umar's question, "How do you know it?"

The first answer is that he did not beat him angrily but struck him mildly with a good nature. The second answer is that the Jew knew that he was right, so if Umar رضی الله عنه was not just, he would have favoured the Muslim, and been unjust.

DID NOT ACCEPT OFFICE OF JUDGE

(٣٧٤٣-٣٧٤٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ مَوْهَبٍ أَنَّ عُثْمَانَ بْنَ عَفَّانَ قَالَ لِابْنِ عُمَرَ اقْضِ بَيْنَ النَّاسِ قَالَ أَوَتُعَافِيْنِي يَا أَمِيْرَ الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ قَالَ وَمَاتَكْرَهُ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ وَقَدْ كَانَ أَبُوْكَ يَقْضِي قَالَ لِأَنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ كَانَ قَاضِيًا فَقَضٰى بِالْعَدْلِ فَبِالْحَرِيِّ أَنْ يَنْقَلِبَ مِنْهُ كَفَافًا فَمَارَاجَعَهُ بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ. وَفِي رِوَايَةِ رَزِيْنٍ عَنْ نَافِعٍ أَنَّ ابْنَ عُمَرَ قَالَ لِعُثْمَانَ يَا أَمِيْرَ الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ لَا أَقْضِي بَيْنَ رَجُلَيْنِ قَالَ فَإِنَّ أَبَاكَ كَانَ يَقْضِي فَقَالَ إِنَّ أَبِي لَوْ أَشْكَلَ عَلَيْهِ شَيْءٌ سَأَلَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَلَوْ أَشْكَلَ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ شَيْءٌ سَأَلَ جِبْرِيْلَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ وَإِنِّي لَا أَجِدُ مَنْ أَسْأَلُهُ وَسَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ عَاذَ بِاللّٰهِ فَقَدْ عَاذَ بِعَظِيْمٍ وَسَمِعْتُهُ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ عَاذَ بِاللّٰهِ فَأَعِيْذُوْهُ وَإِنِّي أَعُوْذُ بِاللّٰهِ أَنْ تَجْعَلَنِي قَاضِيًا فَأَعْفَاهُ وَقَالَ لَا تُخْبِرْ أَحَدًا۔

3743. Sayyiduna (Abdullah) Ibn Mawhib رضی الله عنه reported that Uthman ibn Affan رضی الله عنه said to Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه, "Become judge among the people." But, he requested, "Will you not excuse me from it, O Amir -ul-Mumineen? "He asked, "Why do you dislike it while your father used to judge (among the people)?" He said, "It is because I heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, 'He who is a judge, and is just in his judgment it is hoped that he would manage to get over evens (without reward or blame)." Thereafter, he did not ask him again (to take the office).[1]

---

3744. Sayyiduna Nafi رحمه الله narrated[2] that Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه said to Uthman رضى الله عنه, "O Amir ul-Mumineen! I shall not act as judge between two men." He pointed out, "But your father used to judge." He submitted, "As for my father, if he was hesitant about something, then he would ask Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. And if Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم wished to clarify something, he would ask Jibril عليه السلام. As for me, I do not find anyone whom I might ask. And, I had heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, 'If anyone seeks refuge in Allah, he has sought refuge in a Mighty Being.' And, I had heard him say, 'If anyone seeks refuge in Allah, then grant refuge to him.' And I seek refuge in Allah lest you make me a qadi (judge)." Thus he excused him, but said to him, "Do not inform anyone (of this)."

He meant that if people shy away from this office then the working of the government would come to a standstill.

CHAPTER - IV

SALARY TO RULERS & GIFTS TO THEM — بَابُ رِزْقِ الْوُلَاةِ وَهَدَايَاهُمْ

This chapter will treat the subject of salaries and remuneration payable to rulers and governors. Should something be set aside from the state Treasury? Also, if anyone wishes to give the ruler a gift, what should be done?

SECTION I — اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

DISTRIBUTION BY THE PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم

(٣٧٤٥) عَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا اُعْطِيْكُمْ وَلَا اَمْنَعُكُمْ اَنَا قَاسِمٌ اَضَعُ حَيْثُ اُمِرْتُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3745. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Neither do I give you nor do I withhold from you. I am merely one who disburses. I put where I am command to put."[3]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم made this clear when distributing property among the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم so that they may not have any misgivings about receiving less or more when the distribution is made.

He explained that he had no say in giving or in withholding. He did not give to anyone or hold back from anyone at his will. He distributed only as Allah commanded.

WARNING TO THOSE WHO SPEND FROM STATE TREASURY UNNECESSARILY

(٣٧٤٦) وَعَنْ خَوْلَةَ الْاَنْصَارِيَّةِ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ رِجَالًا يَتَخَوَّضُوْنَ فِيْ مَالِ اللّٰهِ بِغَيْرِ حَقٍّ فَلَهُمُ النَّارُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

---

[1] Tirmidhi # 1326.

[2] Razin.

[3] Bukhari # 3117.

3746. Sayyiduna Khawlah al-Ansariyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Men spend Allah's Property unjustly (such as receipts against zakat, spoils etc. which they use without the ruler's permission and draw more than they are entitled). But, on the day of resurrection,, they will have hell for them."[1]

RULER IS ENTITLED TO DRAW HIS SALARY FROM TREASURY

(٣٧٤٧) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ لَمَّا اسْتُخْلِفَ اَبُوْ بَكْرٍ قَالَ لَقَدْ عَلِمَ قَوْمِي اَنَّ حِرْفَتِي لَمْ تَكُنْ تَعْجِزُ عَنْ مُؤْنَةِ اَهْلِي وَشُغِلْتُ بِاَمْرِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ فَسَيَاكُلُ اٰلُ اَبِي بَكْرٍ مِنْ هٰذَا الْمَالِ وَيَحْتَرِفُ لِلْمُسْلِمِيْنَ فِيْهِ۔ (رواہ البخاری)

3747. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that when (Sayyiduna) Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ was made caliph, he said, "My people know that my trade was enough to support my family. Now, I have become engaged with the affairs of the Muslims. Hence, Abu Bakr's family will subsist on this property (of the state Treasury) and he will work for it (to increase and to protect it) for the Muslims (using it for their benefit)."[2]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ was a draper. He sold cloth in the market, but when he was made Khalifah, he consulted the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم and drew and emolument from the state Treasury.

TRADING OF THE SAHABAH (PROPHET'S COMPANIONS) رضی اللہ عنہم: Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ was a dealer in textile fabrics. Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ sold grain. Sayyiduna Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ was a merchant of dates and textile fabrics. Sayyiduna Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ dealt in perfume.

The Ulama (Scholars) say that the best kind of business is of cloth and the next is of perfumery. According to a hadith "If the dwellers of paradise were to engage in business, they would deal in textile fabrics. If the inmates of hell were to do it, they would do business of precious metals, gold and silver."

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِیْ

DRAWING MORE THAN SALARY IS DECEIT

(٣٧٤٨) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنِ اسْتَعْمَلْنَاهُ عَلٰى عَمَلٍ فَرَزَقْنٰهُ رِزْقًا فَمَا اَخَذَ بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ فَهُوَ غُلُوْلٌ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3748. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He whom we have employed over some work and provided him a subsistence allowance (as his remuneration) will have committed treachery in the spoils if he draws more than that."[3]

(٣٧٤٩) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ قَالَ عَمِلْتُ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَعَمَّلَنِيْ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3749. Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I was made a governor (or , an officer of some type) in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and he paid me (a salary) for that."[4]

GUIDANCE TO MU`ADH رضی اللہ عنہ

(۳۷۵۰) وَعَنْ مُعَاذٍ قَالَ بَعَثَنِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَى الْيَمَنِ فَلَمَّا سِرْتُ أَرْسَلَ فِيْ أَثَرِيْ فَرُدِدْتُ فَقَالَ أَتَدْرِيْ لِمَ بَعَثْتُ إِلَيْكَ لَا تُصِيْبَنَّ شَيْئًا بِغَيْرِ إِذْنِيْ فَإِنَّهُ غُلُوْلٌ وَمَنْ يَغْلُلْ يَأْتِ بِمَا غَلَّ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ لِهٰذَا دَعَوْتُكَ فَامْضِ لِعَمَلِكَ۔ (رواہ الترمذی)

3750. Sayyiduna Mu`adh رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent him to Yemen. When he had begun his journey, he sent for him and he was brought back. He asked, "Do you know why I sent for you? Do not take anything (during your tenure) without my permission. That would amount to treachery, and he who commits treachery will come on the day of resurrection with his treacherous deeds. This is why I had called you. Go now to your work!"[1]

STATE TREASURY WILL SUPPORT HONORARY RULER

(۳۷۵۱) وَعَنِ الْمُسْتَوْرِدِ بْنِ شَدَّادٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ كَانَ لَنَا عَامِلًا فَلْيَكْتَسِبْ زَوْجَةً فَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ خَادِمٌ فَلْيَكْتَسِبْ خَادِمًا فَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ مَسْكَنٌ فَلْيَكْتَسِبْ مَسْكَنًا۔ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ مَنِ اتَّخَذَ غَيْرَ ذٰلِكَ فَهُوَ غَالٌّ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3751. Sayyiduna Mustawrid ibn *Shadd (prescribed punishment)*ad رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "He whom we appoint a governor (or administrator) must get himself a wife (if he has none). If he has no servant, then he must get a servant. And, if he has no house (of his own), then he must buy a house." According to another version: (He also said,)" He who takes anything other than that is one who betrays."[2]

COMMENTARY: The ruler who has no wife may draw from the state Treasury the dower payable to his wife when he takes one, as also her provision and clothing allowances (without being extravagant). He may also get from the Treasury enough for a buying a servant or to pay his salary, and to buy for himself a house. If he takes more than his need then that will be unlawful for him.

It seems that this command applies when no salary is fixed for the governor.

NOT EVEN A NEEDLE MAY BE MISAPPROPRIATED

(۳۷۵۲) وَعَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ عَمِيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ مَنْ عُمِّلَ مِنْكُمْ لَنَا عَلَى عَمَلٍ فَكَتَمَنَا مِنْهُ مِخْيَطًا فَمَا فَوْقَهُ فَهُوَ غَالٌّ يَأْتِيْ بِهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ مِنَ الْأَنْصَارِ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اقْبَلْ عَنِّيْ عَمَلَكَ قَالَ وَمَا ذَاكَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُكَ تَقُوْلُ كَذَا وَكَذَا قَالَ وَأَنَا أَقُوْلُ ذٰلِكَ مَنِ اسْتَعْمَلْنَاهُ عَلَى عَمَلٍ فَلْيَأْتِ بِقَلِيْلِهِ وَكَثِيْرِهِ فَمَا أُوْتِيَ مِنْهُ أَخَذَهُ وَمَا نُهِيَ عَنْهُ انْتَهَى۔ رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَاللَّفْظُ لَهُ۔

3752. Sayyiduna Adi ibn Ameerah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ

[2] Abu Dawud # 2945, Musnad Ahmad 4-229

وسلم said, "O people! He among you who is employed by us over some work (as a governor, revenue collector, or such other) and he conceals from us (so much as) a needle, or more, is being unfaithful. He will bring it on the day of resurrection." A man from the ansars got up and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, take away from me your task (that you have assigned to me)." He asked, "And, why so?" He submitted," I heard you say in this way. (Therefore, I am scared, for, one may err while doing this work.)" He said, "Yes! I do say. If we employ someone to some post, then he must bring (to us) little or much (Whatever he is given of it). And that which he is paid from it, he must take but he must desist from what he is denied."[1] (Given this guidance, he who is capable of handling this responsibility, may accept it. He who finds himself unable to discharge it may not take it.)

THE RECEIVER AND THE PAYER OF BRIBERY

(٣٧٥٥،٣٧٥٤-٣٤٥٣) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ لَعَنَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الرَّاشِيَ وَالْمُرْتَشِيَ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَرَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ عَنْهُ وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ وَرَوَاهُ اَحْمَدُ وَالْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ عَنْ ثَوْبَانَ وَزَادَ وَالرَّائِشَ يَعْنِي الَّذِيْ يَمْشِيْ بَيْنَهُمَا۔

3753. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم cursed the person who bribes and the person who receives bribe[2]

3754. Sayyidua abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated (the same hadith). With the additional words: "in litigation."[3]

3755. Sayyiduna Thawban رضی اللہ عنہ narrated (the same hadith) with the words (after 'who receives bribe'): "and arra'ish, meaning, the person who is agent between them regarding a bribe (demanding more for this or less for this)."[4]

COMMENTARY: Bribery is offered to a ruler, a governor or a judge, etc. to legalise the illegal or to make the legal or lawful unlawful. However, there is no harm if it is done to establish one's own right as correct or to defend oneself.

(٣٧٥٦) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْعَاصِ قَالَ اَرْسَلَ اِلَيَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنِ اجْمَعْ عَلَيْكَ سِلَاحَكَ وَثِيَابَكَ ثُمَّ ائْتِنِيْ قَالَ فَاَتَيْتُهُ وَهُوَ يَتَوَضَّأُ فَقَالَ يَا عَمْرُو اِنِّيْ اَرْسَلْتُ اِلَيْكَ لِاَبْعَثَكَ فِيْ وَجْهٍ يُسَلِّمُكَ اللّٰهُ وَيُغَنِّمُكَ وَاَرْغَبُ لَكَ رَغْبَةً مِنَ الْمَالِ فَقُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ مَاكَانَتْ هِجْرَتِيْ لِلْمَالِ وَمَاكَانَتْ اِلَّا لِلّٰهِ وَلِرَسُوْلِهٖ قَالَ نِعِمَّا بِالْمَالِ الصَّالِحِ لِلرَّجُلِ الصَّالِحِ رَوَاهُ فِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ وَرَوَى اَحْمَدُ نَحْوَهُ وَفِيْ رِوَايَتِهٖ قَالَ نِعْمَ الْمَالُ الصَّالِحُ لِلرَّجُلِ الصَّالِحِ۔

3756. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Aas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent for him with instructions to collect his weapons and his garments (to prepare for a journey) and to come to him. He came to him while he was performing ablution. He said, "Amr, I sent for you to send you to a place where Allah keep you safe and let you have the spoils. And, I too will give you a share from the property." He said, "O Messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, my hijrah (emigration and embracing Islam) was not for the sake of property. It was only for the sake of Allah and for His Messenger." He said, "Excellent is lawful property for a righteous man![1]

Another version has the words:
"Excellent is good property for a righteous man."[2]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Amr ibn Aas رضی اللہ عنہ had embraced Islam in 5AH. He emigrated to Madinah from Ethiopia with Sayyiduna Khalid ibn Walid رضی اللہ عنہ. some authorities say that he had embraced Islam in 8 AH. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had appointed him governor of Uman (Oman) and most probably this ha·iith concerns this appointment. Good property is what is earned lawfully and is spent on pious causes. The righteous man is he who respects the rights of Allah and the rights of His slaves.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

THE INTERCESSOR MUST ACCEPT NO GIFT

(٣٧٥٧) عَنْ اَبِي اُمَامَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ شَفَعَ لِاَحَدٍ شَفَاعَةً فَاهْدَى لَهُ هَدِيَّةً عَلَيْهَا فَقَبِلَهَا فَقَدْ اَتٰى بَابًا عَظِيْمًا مِنْ اَبْوَابِ الرِّبَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3757. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone makes a recommendation for another person who presents to him gift for that recommendation and he accepts it, then he comes to a great gate of the gates of interest."[3]

COMMENTARY: This kind of a gift is bribery, but here it is called interest. The one who recommends gets it in return for nothing.

CHAPTER - V

CASES AND TESTIMONIES بَابُ الْاَقْضِيَةِ وَالشَّهَادَاتِ

This chapter concerns al-aqdiyah or disputes that are brought to rulers and judges for judgement between the disputing parties.
Shahadah or testimonies are to depose on behalf of one of the disputing parties.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

PLAINTIFF MUST PROVE HIS CASE

(٣٧٥٨) عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَوْ يُعْطَى النَّاسُ بِدَعْوَاهُمْ لَادَّعٰى نَاسٌ دِمَاءَ رِجَالٍ وَ اَمْوَالَهُمْ وَلٰكِنَّ الْيَمِيْنَ عَلَى الْمُدَّعٰى عَلَيْهِ رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَفِي شَرْحِهِ لِلنَّوَوِيِّ اَنَّهُ قَالَ وَجَاءَ فِي رِوَايَةِ الْبَيْهَقِيِّ بِاِسْنَادٍ

حَسَنٍ اَوْصَحِيْحٍ زِيَادَةٌ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ مَرْفُوْعًا لٰكِنَّ الْبَيِّنَةَ عَلَى الْمُدَّعِي وَالْيَمِيْنُ عَلٰى مَنْ اَنْكَرَ۔

3758. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet said, "If people were granted their claim (without calling for witnesses or getting the defendant's response), they would make claims for lives and for the properties of others. But, the oath is binding on the defendant.

According to Nawawi, there is an addition in Bayhaqi's version from Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ in a marfu form:

"But it is the responsibility of the plaintiff to present proof (or witnesses) and the oath must be taken by him who rejects (the claim, meaning the defendant)."[1]

COMMENTARY: If the defendant rejects the claim of the plaintiff who then asks him to take an oath, it is imperative that he do so. This hadith of Muslim does not say that the plaintiff must bring witnesses, but it is an undeniable law of Shariah that he must support his claim with testimonies. If he does not present witnesses, then the defendant must indicate himself by taking an oath and rejecting the plaintiff's claim.

The second version of Ibn Abbasرضی اللہ عنہ makes this meaning very clear.

WARNING TO ONE WHO TAKES FALSE OATH

(٣٧٥٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ حَلَفَ عَلٰى يَمِيْنِ صَبْرٍ وَهُوَ فِيْهَا فَاجِرٌ يَقْتَطِعُ بِهَا مَالَ امْرِءٍ مُسْلِمٍ لَقِيَ اللّٰهَ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَهُوَ عَلَيْهِ غَضْبَانُ فَاَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَصْدِيْقَ ذٰلِكَ اِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَشْتَرُوْنَ بِعَهْدِ اللّٰهِ وَاَيْمَانِهِمْ ثَمَنًا قَلِيْلًا اِلٰى اٰخِرِ الْاٰيَةِ۔ (متفق علیہ)

3759. Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'udرضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone takes an oath on being commanded to do so, and he is a liar in doing so, intending thereby to deprive a Muslim of his property, then, on the day of resurrection, Allah will be angry at him when he meets Him." Allah revealed the confirmation of that (in the verse 3: 77):

اِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَشْتَرُوْنَ بِعَهْدِ اللّٰهِ وَاَيْمَانِهِمْ ثَمَنًا قَلِيْلًا الی آخر الأية

{Surely those who barter Allah's covenant and their oaths, for a small price....} (to end of the verse).[2]

COMMENTARY: The hadith implies that the plaintiff is confined by the judge until he takes an oath to support his claim.

Some people say that it refers to one who swears falsely to intentionally appropriate a Muslim's property. This is as the words of the hadith (وهو فيها فاجر) (and he is a liar in doing so). The entire verse is:

اِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَشْتَرُوْنَ بِعَهْدِ اللّٰهِ وَاَيْمَانِهِمْ ثَمَنًا قَلِيْلًا اُولٰٓئِكَ لَا خَلَاقَ لَهُمْ فِى الْاٰخِرَةِ وَلَا يُكَلِّمُهُمُ اللّٰهُ وَلَا يَنْظُرُ اِلَيْهِمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَلَا يُزَكِّيْهِمْ وَلَهُمْ عَذَابٌ اَلِيْمٌ۔ (ال عمران ٣: ٧٧)

{Surely those who barter Allah's covenant and their oaths for a small price – there shall be no share for them in the hereafter. And allah shall not speak to them, nor shall He look at them on the day of resurrection, nor shall He purify them, and for them is a painful chastisement.}

(٣٧٦٠) وَعَنْ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنِ اقْتَطَعَ حَقَّ امْرِءٍ مُسْلِمٍ بِيَمِيْنِهِ فَقَدْ أَوْ جَبَ اللّٰهُ لَهُ النَّارَ وَحَرَّمَ عَلَيْهِ الْجَنَّةَ فَقَالَ لَهُ رَجُلٌ وَإِنْ كَانَ شَيْئًا يَسِيْرًا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ وَإِنْ كَانَ قَضِيْبًا مِنْ أَرَاكٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3760. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If anyone takes away by his (false) oath the right of a Muslim, then Allah has made hell-fire wajib (obligatory) on him and has forbidden paradise to him." A man asked him, "Even if it is something in significant, O Messenger of Allah?" He said, "Even if is a (broken) twig of an arak tree."[1]

COMMENTARY: The words 'Allah has made hell-fire wajib (obligatory) on 'could be explained in two ways.

(i) This command applies to one who swears falsely to appropriate a Muslim's right and believes that what he does is lawful till he dies.

(ii) He will be punished in hell definitely but it is not unexpected that Allah will forgive him, being Kind and Compassionate.

Similarly, the second portion about his entry into paradise being forbidden means that he will not be admitted to it with the first successful people.

It must be clear that this warning applies also to one who deprives a dhimmi of his right by a false oath.

ADVICE TO PLAINTIFFS

(٣٧٦١) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِنَّمَا أَنَا بَشَرٌ وَإِنَّكُمْ تَخْتَصِمُوْنَ إِلَيَّ وَلَعَلَّ بَعْضُكُمْ أَنْ يَكُوْنَ أَلْحَنَ بِحُجَّتِهِ مِنْ بَعْضٍ فَأَقْضِيْ لَهُ عَلَى نَحْوِ مَا أَسْمَعُ مِنْهُ فَمَنْ قَضَيْتُ لَهُ بِشَيْءٍ مِنْ حَقِّ أَخِيْهِ فَلَا يَأْخُذَنَّهُ فَإِنَّمَا أَقْطَعُ لَهُ قِطْعَةً مِنَ النَّارِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3761. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "I am only a human being. You come to me with your disputes. It is possible that one of you is more persuasive in presenting his argument. I may give judgement in his favour being impressed by his argument. Therefore, if I decide for someone something that is the right of his brother, he must not take it, for, (it is as though) I give him only a piece of fire."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said that mistake and forgetfulness is not unexpected in any man. Besides, man goes only by the apparent and he meant, "I am human too and liable to the same tendencies and peculiarities as any human being." He made it clear, however, that he did receive Divine revelation and guidance which enabled him to know facts and realities.

Hence, he said that if he happened to decide any case on its apparent aspects when the plaintiff proves his case, and if he is not rightful, then he must not regard what he gets as lawful to him but think of it as a flame of fire that he gets.

WARNING TO HIM WHO FILES CASES UNNECESSARILY

(٣٧٦٢) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَبْغَضَ الرِّجَالِ اِلَى اللّٰهِ اَلْاَ لَدُّ الْخَصِمُ۔ (متفق عليه)

3762. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Surely, the man most detested in Allah's sight is he who is very quarrel some (and disputes very much) unnecessarily."[1]

(The word for most quarrelsome is al-aladukhisam. It is found in surah al-Baqarah verse 204 and means 'most stubborn in altercation'. It is translated in 'Vocabulary of the Holy Quran'[2] compiled by Dr. Abdullah Abbas al-Nadwi as 'most contentions of the adversaries.')

MAY PLAINTIFF PRESENT ONE WITNESS AND TAKE AN OATH

(٣٧٦٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَضٰى بِيَمِيْنٍ وَشَاهِدٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3763. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم pronounced judgement (on a case) against an oath and (only) one witness.[3]

COMMENTARY: The obvious meaning of this hadith is that if a plaintiff is able to support his claim with only one witness then he must be asked to take an oath in place of a second witness. The oath may be regarded as a substitution for one witness, and his claim should be entertained. This is what is said by the three imams, Imam Shafi`I رحمه الله, Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله. However, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that it is not permitted to decide on the basis of one witness and one oath, rather two witnesses must support his claim as is established by the Quran. The command of the Quran may not be overridden by khabar wahid (which is narrated by only one narrator and transmitted by a single chain of narrators). Hence, no rulling can be given on the basis of this hadith that contradicts a command of the Quran.

Teebi رحمه الله said that when a dispute pertains to anything other than property, the imams are agreed that one witness and an oath will not be accepted as the basis of judgement. For dispute involving property, the imams differ on whether one witness and an oath (in lie of a second witness) will serve as basis of judgement.

DEFENDANT'S OATH MUST BE BELIEVED

(٣٧٦٤) وَعَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ بْنِ وَائِلٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ قَالَ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ مِنْ حَضْرَمَوتَ وَ رَجُلٌ مِنْ كِنْدَةَ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ الْحَضْرَمِيُّ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّ هٰذَا غَلَبَنِي عَلٰى اَرْضٍ لِيْ فَقَالَ الْكِنْدِيُّ هِيَ اَرْضِيْ وَفِيْ يَدِيْ لَيْسَ لَهُ فِيْهَا حَقٌّ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِلْحَضْرَمِيِّ اَلَكَ بَيِّنَةٌ قَالَ لَا قَالَ فَلَكَ يَمِيْنُهُ قَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ

3764. Sayyiduna Alqamah ibn Wa`il رضی الله عنه narrated on the authority of his father that a man from Hadramawt and a man from Kinda came to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم The Hadrami pleaded, "O Messenger of Allah, this man has seized my land." The Kindi said, not have a right to it." The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم asked the Hadrami (after listening to both), "Do you have a witness?" He said, "No!" He said, "Then you may ask him to state on oath. (If he does not then your plea is granted otherwise it will be turned down.)" He submitted, " O Messenger of Allah, this man is a profligate , an immoral. He will not mind to swear to anything, He is not righteous." He said, "You have no option but to get him to swear." So He (the Kindi) turned to take an oath and Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said when he had turned his back, "If he swear over his property to seize it wrongly, he will certainly meet Allah (on the day of resurrection), while He turns away from him."[1]

COMMENTARY: The man turned to take oath. This could be as the Shafii believe that one who take oath must first make ablution and take oath at a specified hour which is after asr on Friday. Or this man may have turned his back on the plaintiff and walked towards the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم to take the oath near him.

Nawawi رحمه الله said that some rulings are derived from this hadith.

(1) The one who is the possessor is preferred over the claimant.
(2) The defendant must take an oath if he rejects the plaintiff's claim.
(3) The oath of the defendant is accepted irrespective of whether he is a sinner or a just, honest man.
(4) When the defendant swears the plaintiff's claim becomes void and is dismissed. (However, if true testimony bears out the falsehood of the oath of the defendant, then his oath will be invalid.)

HELL IS THE DESTINATION OF THE FALSE CLAIMANT

(٣٧٦٥) وَعَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنِ ادَّعٰى مَا لَيْسَ لَهُ فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا وَلْيَتَبَوَّأْ مَقْعَدَهُ مِنَ النَّارِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3765. Sayyiduna Abu Dhar رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "He who lays claim to what does not belong to him is not one of us and he must find his seat in hell."[2]

THE BEST WITNESS

(٣٧٦٦) وَعَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَلَا أُخْبِرُكُمْ بِخَيْرِ الشُّهَدَاءِ الَّذِي يَأْتِي بِشَهَادَتِهٖ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُسْأَلَهَا۔ (رواه مسلم)

[1] Muslim # 223-139, Tirmidhi # 1340 (1345), Abu Dawud # 3245.

[2] Muslim # 61-112, Ibn Majah # 2319.

3766. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Khalid رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked, "Shall I not inform you of the best of witnesses? He is the one who offers his testimony before being asked for it."[1]

COMMENTARY: To give testimony truly is the same thing as to state facts and it is not proper to disclose truth only when asked to do so. The ideal witness is he who does not wait to being asked, "Are you the one?" or, "Do you wish to testify?" He volunteers to disclose the truth and facts.

IS IT PROPER: However, according to another hadith, those who come forward to give testimony on their own are blamed. So, the Hanafis rule that no one must offer testimony until asked, It is wajib (obligatory) to give it when one is asked and it is better to conceal it in cases of hudood (prescribed punishments).

As for this hadith, the Hanafis explain that (1) it applies to one who is witness for someone's right but the plaintiff is not aware of his having withnessed it. So he must inform the plaintiff that he is his witness. (2) This hadith pertains to giving testimony for rights of Allah, like Zakah (Annual due charity), expiation, observing the new moon and inheritance, and such other things. For example, one who has observed the newmoon must bear witness to it before the ruler or relevant authority.

It is also said that the command in this hadith is by way of exhortation, meaning that one who is asked to testify, must then discharge his responsibility at the earliest. As for the condemnation of one who gives testimony without being asked, it condemns doing it before the demand.

FALSE TESTIMONIES BY LATER PEOPLE

(٣٧٦٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَيْرُ النَّاسِ قَرْنِيْ ثُمَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَلُوْنَهُمْ ثُمَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَلُوْنَهُمْ ثُمَّ يَجِيْئُ قَوْمٌ تَسْبِقُ شَهَادَةُ اَحَدِهِمْ يَمِيْنَهُ وَيَمِيْنُهُ شَهَادَتَهُ۔ (متفق علیه)

3767. Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The best of the people are my generation (my sahabah). Then they who will come after them (the tabi'un). Then they who will come after them (the tab tabi'un). After that a people will come who will give testimony before taking an oath and will take an oath before giving testimony."[2]

COMMENTARY: These last people will be so hasty in swearing and bearing testimony that they will be careless in offering them to the extent that sometimes they would give oath before testifying and sometimes they would testify before they swear.

Majher رحمہ اللہ said that they would not even know what they have done and what sequence they had observed.

Same scholars say that this saying of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم is about false oaths and false testimonies. These things will become very common. There will be professional witnesses and people who will swear by habit as a superfluous word in their speech. This is what is common these days. These people ruin their hereafter in this way.

Some other people explain this saying to mean that someone will promote his testimony through his oath. At other times, he will promote his oath through his testimony. For example, in the first case, he will say, "By Allah, I am a true witness!" In the second case, he will say, "People do testify that I am true in my oath."

CASTING LOTS FOR THE OATH

(٣٧٦٨) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَرَضَ عَلٰى قَوْمٍ الْيَمِيْنَ فَاسْرَعُوا فَاَمَرَاَنْ يُسْهَمَ بَيْنَهُمْ فِي الْيَمِيْنِ اَيُّهُمْ يَحْلِفُ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3768. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم called on some people to swear an oath (to belie the plaintiff if they rejected his claim). So, they made haste (vying with each other) to do so. Hence, he instructed them that lots should be cast among them to take the oath to decide which one should take the oath.[1]

COMMENTARY: It seems that someone had implicated a few people over something. They rejected his allegations. The Prophet instructed them to swear oaths and they made haste to comply. Every was prepared to swear at the sometime. So, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not let everyone swear but said that they should cast lots and he whose name was drawn should swear.

However, the exponents have suggested that perhaps two men had claimed something that was in the possession of the third man. But, both could not produce a witness. Or, though they had witnesses, the third man said that he did not know to whom the thing belonged. Hence, the two were to cast lots. The one whose name was drawn was to swear an oath and the thing was to be handed over to the person after that. The question arises that this situation calls for the plaintiff to swear an oath while this is the responsibility of the defendant. This is because each of the two plaintiffs rejected the other's claim and the rule is:

وَالْيَمِيْنُ عَلٰى مَنْ اَنْكَرَ

(The oath is to be taken by one who rejects).

Both these possibilities are from the apparent meaning of the hadith. As for the juristic point of view, Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه held these opinions, but Imam Shafi'i رضى الله عنه ruled that in such cases the judge must let the third man retain that thing, and neither of the plaintiffs must be given anything. Imam Abu Hanifah رضى الله عنه ruled that the disputed thing should be given to the two plaintiffs, half and half. But, some people assert that Imam Ahmad رضى الله عنه and Imam Shafi'I رضى الله عنه have two views one of which coincides with the opinion of Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه and the other with the ruling of Imam Abu Hanifah رضى الله عنه.

The hadith of Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضى الله عنها (#3770) that follows (after the next) upholds the ruling of Imam Abu Hanifah رضى الله عنه and his disciples.

WHEN TWO PEOPLE CLAIM SOMETHING

(۳۷۷۰) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي رَجُلَيْنِ اخْتَصَمَا إِلَيْهِ فِي مَوَارِيثَ لَمْ تَكُنْ لَهُمَا بَيِّنَةٌ إِلَّا دَعْوَاهُمَا فَقَالَ مَنْ قَضَيْتُ لَهُ بِشَيْءٍ مِنْ حَقِّ أَخِيهِ فَإِنَّمَا أَقْطَعُ لَهُ قِطْعَةً مِنَ النَّارِ فَقَالَ الرَّجُلَانِ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ حَقِّي هٰذَا لِصَاحِبِي فَقَالَ لَا وَلٰكِنْ إِذْهَبَا فَاقْتَسِمَا وَتَوَخِّيَا الْحَقَّ ثُمَّ اسْتَهِمَا ثُمَّ لِيُحَلِّلْ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْكُمَا صَاحِبَهُ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ قَالَ إِنَّمَا أَقْضِي بَيْنَكُمَا بِرَأْيِي فِيمَا لَمْ يُنْزَلْ عَلَيَّ فِيهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3770. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی الله عنها narrated from the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم about two men who brought to him a dispute about inheritances, neither of whom had any evidence except their (respective) claim. He said, "If I judge in favour of one (of you) concerning what (actually) is his brother's right, then I (really) apportion for him something of hell-fire (nothing more)." (In other words, if anyone knowingly files a false claim and I decide on the basis of the law going by his fake oath or testimony, then he gets a flame of hell-fire.) So (on hearing that), both the men said, "O Messenger of Allah, let my right go to my brother!" He said, "No! go and divide it, and (if there is disagreement on which portion should go to whom) draw lots and each of you should forgive his companion his own right (that may have gone to him)."

According to another version: He said, "I only decide between the two of you by my (opinion and) judgement concerning which no revelation is sent down to me."[2]

JUDGEMENT IN FAVOUR OF POSSESSOR

(۳۷۷۱) وَعَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ أَنَّ رَجُلَيْنِ تَدَاعَيَا دَابَّةً فَأَقَامَ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا الْبَيِّنَةَ إِنَّهَا دَابَّتُهُ نَتَجَهَا فَقَضٰى بِهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِلَّذِي فِي يَدِهِ۔ (رواه فی شرح السنة)

3771. Sayyiduna Jabir ibn Abdullah رضی الله عنه narrated that two men claimed an animal and each of them presented his evidence, (saying that) it was the offspring of one of his beasts. So, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم passed judgement that it should be retained by him who possessed it.[3]

COMMENTARY: Some ulama (Scholars) go by this hadith and say that of the disputants, he should be preferred in whose possession the thing disputed lies. However, this is not so. The correct thing is that this command applies only when the disputed thing is an animal to which the disputants lay claim to having been sired by their stallion or bull.

It is stated in Sharh us sunnah (Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم practice) that the ulama (Scholars) say, about an animal or a thing whose ownership is claimed by two people and it is in the hands of one of them, that the right of the possessor will be preferred and he will be asked to swear an oath. However, if the other person substantiates his claim by witnesses that the animal or thing belongs to him and not to the possessor, then it will be handed over to this other person. If both the disputants are equally vociferous and bring their evidences, then the possessor will be allowed to retain that animal or whatever it is.

According to the Hanafi point of view then both disputants present their witnesses, the witnesses of the possessor will not be entertained. Rather, those of the other claimant will be trusted. The possessor will be made to hand over the disputed property to the other claimant, if the dispute is not about siring of an animal in which case when each person claims and substantiates his claim with evidence that his stallion or bull had sired the disputed animal then the possessor will be permitted to retain it. Further, if they dispute about something that is in the hands of each of them and they both claim full ownership to it, then both will be asked to swear an oath and that thing will be divided between them according to what each holds in his hand. Similarly, if none of them holds the disputed thing while both of them claim if and produce enough evidence of ownership then it will be divided between the two.

TWO CLAIMANTS OF SAME THING

(٣٧٧٢) وَعَنْ اَبِي مُوْسٰى الْاَشْعَرِيِّ اَنَّ رَجُلَيْنِ اِدَّعَيَا بَعِيْرًا عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَبَعَثَ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا شَاهِدَيْنَ فَقَسَمَهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَيْنَهُمَا نِصْفَيْنِ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ۔ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَهٗ وَلِلنَّسَائِيِّ وَابْنِ مَاجَةَ اَنَّ رَجُلَيْنِ اِدَّعَيَا بَعِيْرًا لَيْسَتْ لِوَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا بَيِّنَةٌ فَجَعَلَهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَيْنَهُمَا۔

3772. Sayyiduna Abu Musa Ash'ary رضی اللہ عنہ said that two men laid claim to a camel in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Each of them presented two witnesses. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم divided it into halves between them.

According to another version: Two men claimed ownership of a camel. But, neither of them had a witness (or proof). So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم decided that both of them should share it equally.[1]

(second version of) Abu Dawud # 3613.

COMMENTARY: Khattabi رضی اللہ عنہ says that perhaps the camel may have been in possession of both men.

Mulla Ali Qari رضی اللہ عنہ says that perhaps the camel was in the hands of a third man who may have had a dispute with these two about it.The two versions perhaps refer to two different incidents. The first says that they each had their witnesses while the second says that they had no witnesses. Or, it is the same incident but when they produced their witnesses, they turned hostile and in disagreement with one another, so the two men were at par with those who had no witnesses. Hence, none of the claimants qualified to be preferred.

Ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ says about the camel being shared that if two people claim the same thing and:

(i) none of them has witnesses, or,

[1] Abu Dawud # 3615(second version) Nasa'I # 5424, Ibn Majah # 2330,

(ii) both have witnesses and that disputed property is in the hands of both of them, or,

(iii) none of them holds it in his hands-

Then it should be divided between the two of them half and half (so they will use it equally).

(٣٧٧٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَجُلَيْنِ اِخْتَصَمَا فِيْ دَابَّةٍ وَلَيْسَ لَهُمَا بَيِّنَةٌ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اسْتَهِمَا عَلَى الْيَمِيْنِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3773. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that two men disputed about (the ownership of) an animal, but neither of them had a proof. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Cast lots about the oath." (He whose name is drawn will take an oath and the decision shall be made in his favour.)[1]

COMMENTARY: See hadith # 3768.

OATH OF THE DEFENDANT

(٣٧٧٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِرَجُلٍ حَلَّفَهُ اِحْلِفْ بِاللّٰهِ الَّذِيْ لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا هُوَ مَا لَهُ عِنْدَكَ شَيْءٌ يَعْنِيْ لِلْمُدَّعِيْ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3774. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to a man whom he had instructed to take an oath, "Swear by Allah besides whom there is no God that you do not have anything belonging to him," meaning the plaintiff.[2]

COMMENTARY: As stated earlier, if the plaintiff does not produce evidence to substantiate his claim and the defendant challenges him then it is necessary for the latter to take an oath. He will swear, "I swear by Allah, the One other than whom no one is worthy of worship, that this man (the plaintiff) has made a claim on me that is not based on facts. He has no right pending on me."

The oath will be taken by the qadi (judge). A Muslim will be made to swear on Allah, the One; a Christian on the God of the Bible; a Jew on the God of the Torah; and a Majusi (Magian) and the others on God.

The oath of the defendant will be delieved in any case whether he is pious or a sinner, truthful or liar. But if the judge knows through true testimony that his oath is false, then his oath will become in valid.

EVEN A LIAR DEFENDANT HAS A RIGHT TO TAKE AN OATH

(٣٧٧٥) وَعَنِ الاَشْعَثِ بْنِ قَيْسٍ قَالَ كَانَ بَيْنِيْ وَبَيْنَ رَجُلٍ مِنَ الْيَهُوْدِ اَرْضٌ فَجَحَدَنِيْ فَقَدَّمْتُهُ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اَلَكَ بَيِّنَةٌ قُلْتُ لَا قَالَ لِلْيَهُوْدِيِّ اِحْلِفْ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِذَنْ يَحْلِفُ وَيَذْهَبُ بِمَالِيْ فَاَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى اِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَشْتَرُوْنَ بِعَهْدِ اللّٰهِ وَاَيْمَانِهِمْ ثَمَنًا قَلِيْلًا۔ الاٰيَةُ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3775. Sayyiduna Ash`ath ibn Qays رضی اللہ عنہ said that he owned a piece of land in partnership with a Jew but he denied the right of Ash`ath رضی اللہ عنہ (to the land). So, he took him to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم who asked him, "Do you have witness (or proof)." He said, "No!" Then, he said to the Jew, "Take an oath." Ash`ath رضی الله عنه submitted, "O Messenger of Allah in that case he will swear and go away with my property." But, Allah the Exalted (had) revealed (concerning a similar case mentioned in hadith # 3759) the verse:

إِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَشْتَرُوْنَ بِعَهْدِ اللّٰهِ وَاَيْمَانِهِمْ ثَمَنًا قَلِيْلًا (الاية)

{Surely, those who barter Allah's covenant and their oaths, for a small price...}[1]

COMMENTARY: The verse cited here was revealed at the time of the incident mentioned in the hadith # 3759 (of Ibn Mas`ud رضی الله عنه).

WARNING TO USURPER THROUGH FALSE OATH

(٣٧٧٦) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ رَجُلًا مِنْ كِنْدَةَ وَرَجُلًا مَنْ حَضْرَ مُوْتَ اخْتَصَمَا اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ اَرْضٍ مِنَ الْيَمَنَ فَقَالَ الْحَضْرِمِيُّ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّ اَرْضِى اِغْتَصَبَنِيْهَا اَبُوْهٰذَا وَهِىَ فِيْ يَدِهٖ قَالَ هَلْ لَكَ بَيِّنَةٌ قَالَ لَاوَلٰكِنْ اُحَلِّفُهُ وَاللّٰهِ مَايَعْلَمُ اَنَّهَا اَرْضِى اِغْتَصَبَنِيْهَا اَبُوْهُ فَتَهَيَّأَ الْكِنْدِيُّ لِلْيَمِيْنِ فقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَقْتَطِعُ اَحَدٌ مَالًا بِيَمِيْنٍ اِلَّا لَقِيَ اللّٰهَ وَهُوَ اَجْذَمُ فَقَالَ الْكِنْدِيُّ هِيَ اَرْضُه۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3776. Sayyiduna Ash`ath ibn Qays رضی الله عنه narrated that a man of Kindah and a man of Hadramawt brought to Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم a dispute about a piece of land in Yemen. The man of Hadramawt pleaded, "O Messenger of Allah, this man's father snatched my land from me and it is now in his hands." He asked, "Do you have witnesses?" He said, "No, but I do ask him to swear by Allah that he is not aware that it is my land that his father had taken from me by force. The man of Kindah prepared to take the oath, but Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم warned (him). "No one takes away (anyone's) property by a false oath but he will meet Allah with his hand cut off." The man of Kindah exclaimed, "That is his land."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic words of the hadith are (الا لقی الله وهواجذم). The word (جذام) (judhaam) is the malady 'leprosy'. The climbs are dis figured and discoloured and decayed. But, the root word of (جذام) is (جذم) (jadham) which means 'to cut' and 'to cut quickly.' It also means' to sever the hand or 'amputated hand.' In this hadith it is used in this last sense, and it means 'to lack blessing' and 'to be without any good.' It is as in a hadith:

مَنْ تَعَلَّمَ الْقُرْاٰنَ ثُمَّ نَسِيَهٗ لَقِيَ اللّٰهَ وَهُوَ اَجْذَمُ

(He who learns the Quran but after that forgets it, will meet Allah while his hand is severd.)[3]

Some people however, say that here the word means (مقطوع الحجة) (having no proof, no argument). That man will meet Allah with nothing to prove his religion and fear of Allah to be able to get deliverance. He will not have a tongue to makes his submission and plea.

PERJURY IS A GRAVE SIN

(٣٧٧٧) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ اُنَيْسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ مِنْ اَكْبَرِ الْكَبَائِرِا لشِّرْكَ

3777. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Unays رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Among the gravest of the major sins are (i) to ascribe a partner to Allah, (ii)to displease parents (and disobey them), and (iii) to swear a false oath. Whoever swears an oath on Allah, a firm oath (or an oath under compulsion of some sort) including therein so much lie as a gnat's wing (which is very insignificant) then a spot grows in his heart till the day of resurrection" (for which he will have to account in the hereafter).[1]

COMMENTARY: The word (غموس) ghamus is from (غمس) ghams 'to dive' (یمین غموس) (yamin ghamus) is to take a false oath on something past intentionally.,

The Hanafis say that one who swears in this way does not have to make an atonement, but he must make a repentance and seek forgiveness, and resolve not to swear a false oath anymore, because this kind oath will lead to hell. This oath is called ghamus because one who swears it will be made to dive in hell. Further, the false oath that is taken to snatch someone's property is akin to this oath ghamus.

Yamin sabr (یمین صبر) is an oath under compulsion (when one is confined or is helpless) or it is a 'firm oath'. This has been explained against the hadith # 3759. It is as bad as yamin ghabus but no atonement is necessary for this oath, too. However, it makes one liable to punishment in hell like the ghamus.

A spot grows in the heart of one who swears a false oath. It is like rust that will remain till the last day. In the hereafter, this man will be punishment. One must ponder that when as infinitesimal lie can cause chastisement of this magnitude then what are the consequences of bold falsehood.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم mentioned three things as among the gravest of the grave sins. Then he sounded a warning for the last mentioned to make it clear that it is one of the most serious sins so that people may not consider it to be lighter than attributing a partner to Allah and disobeying parents.

We shall see the same thing in the hadith of Sayyiduna khuzaymah ibn Fatik رضی اللہ عنہ (#3779) to follow. It puts false testimony at par with polytheism.

(٣٧٧٨) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَحْلِفُ اَحَدٌ عِنْدَ مِنْبَرِيْ هٰذَا عَلٰى يَمِيْنٍ اٰثِمَةٍ وَلَوْ عَلٰى سِوَاكٍ اَخْضَرَ اِلَّا تَبَوَّأَ مَقْعَدَهٗ مِنَ النَّارِ اَوْ وَجَبَتْ لَهُ النَّارُ۔ (رواہ مالك وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3778. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'If anyone swears a false oath near this my pulpit even for a green siwak, then he arranges for his seat in the fire (of hell)." Or, he said, 'The fire of hell becomes wajib (obligatory) for him."[2]

COMMENTARY: The pulpit of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم is mentioned specifically because that is a sacred place where the sin of a false oath is accentuated. However a false oath is a sin wherever it is sworn and warrants punishment.

The green siwak is the most insignificant thing. When it dries, it appreciates in value. Anyway a siwak is a very cheap thing especially before it dries. So, if afalse oath over it is punishable in hell then what may be said of a daring false oath in the courts of law?

FALSE TESTIMONY IS LIKE ASCRIBING PARTNER TO ALLAH

(٣٧٧٩-٣٧٨٠) وَعَنْ خُرَيْمِ بْنِ فَاتِكٍ قَالَ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَلَاةَ الصُّبْحِ فَلَمَّا انْصَرَفَ قَامَ قَائِمًا فَقَالَ عُدِلَتْ شَهَادَةُ الزُّوْرِ بِالْإِشْرَاكِ بِاللّٰهِ ثَلَاثَ مَرَّاتٍ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ فَاجْتَنِبُوا الرِّجْسَ مِنَ الْاَوْثَانِ وَاجْتَنِبُوا قَوْلَ الزُّوْرِ حُنَفَاءَ لِلّٰهِ غَيْرَ مُشْرِكِيْنَ بِهٖ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَرَوَاهُ اَحْمَدُ وَالتِّرْمِذِيُّ عَنْ اَيْمَنَ بْنِ خُرَيْمٍ اِلَّا اَنَّ ابْنَ مَاجَةَ لَمْ يَذْكُرِ الْقِرَاءَةَ۔

3779. Sayyiduna Khuraym ibn Fatik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم offered the salah (prayer) of the morning (fajr). When he finished he stood up (to address the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم and said three times, "False testimony is made equivalent to ascribing a partner to Allah." Then he recited:

فَاجْتَنِبُو الرِّجْسَ مِنَ الْاَوْثَانِ وَاجْتَنِبُوا قَوْلَ الزُّوْرِ حُنَفَاءَ لِلّٰهِ غَيْرَ مُشْرِكِيْنَ بِهٖ

{So shun the abomination of the idols and shun the speaking of falsehood, being upright men of pure faith, not associating anything with Him.} Ibn Majah did not mention the recital.[1]

3780. Sayyiduna Ayman ibn Khuraym رضی اللہ عنہ also narrated it.[2]

COMMENTARY: To associated partner with Allah and to bear false witness are equally sinful. The reason is that associating a partner with Allah is to forge a lie against Him. Certainly this is not allowed. Thus, both these things are non-existent, so the same command applies to both.

TESTIMONY THAT ARE REJECTED

(٣٧٨١) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَجُوْزُ شَهَادَةُ خَائِنٍ وَلَا خَائِنَةٍ وَلَا مَجْلُوْدٍ حَدًّا وَلَا ذِيْ غِمْرٍ عَلٰى اَخِيْهِ وَلَا ظَنِيْنٍ فِيْ وَلَاءٍ وَلَا قَرَابَةٍ وَلَا الْقَانِعِ مَعَ اَهْلِ الْبَيْتِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ وَيَزِيْدُ بْنُ زِيَادِ الدِّمَشْقِيُّ الرَّاوِيْ مُنْكَرُ الْحَدِيْثِ۔

3781. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The testimony of these people is not admissible:

(i) A deceitful man or a deceitful woman,

(ii) One who has been awarded the lashes for violating the limits (hadd (prescribed punishment)) for slander,

(iii) An enemy who hates his (Muslim) brother,

(iv) One who is suspected regarding wala (allegiance) that he claims.

(v) One who is suspected about relationship

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 3599,Ibn Majah # 2372.

[2] Tirmidhi # 2300 (2306), Musnad Ahmad 4-321.

(vi) One who is dependant on a family.[1]

COMMENTARY: According to Islam, it is as necessary for a witness to be just as it is for a judge and ruler to be just because testimony is such an important means as enables the court to arrive at a just decision. The people mentioned in the hadith do not measures to the standard of justice, so their testimony is termed unacceptable.

KHA`IN: The deceitful people are they who commit treachery when trusts are placed with them. They are notorious for this and commit this crime very often, for otherwise treachery is not generally detected by men though it cannot be concealed from Allah.

SINNER: Some authorities say that in this hadith (خائن) deceiver who commits (خيانة) Khiyanah deception or treachery is said to have committed sin whether a grave sin or a minor sin persistently, Or, he neglects to observe commands of Shariah and prescribes duties of religion.

AMANAH: Indeed, Allah has described the commands of religion as amanah (trust)as in the verse:

إِنَّا عَرَضْنَا الْأَمَانَةَ عَلَى السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْأَرْضِ۔ (الاحزاب ۳۳: ۷۲)

{Surely, we offered the trust to the heavens and the earth...}

KHIYANAH: He has described failure to obey the commands of religion as Khiyanah (deception, betrayal, treachery) as in the verse:

لَا تَخُونُوا اللّٰهَ وَالرَّسُوْلَ وَتَخُوْنُوْآ اَمٰنٰتِكُمْ۔ (الانفال ۸: ۲۷)

{Betray not Allah and the Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم nor betray your trusts.}

In this case, first, the hadith would mean that those who do not obey and observe the commands and duties of Shariah and religion, or who perptrate major sins, or persistently commit minor sins, their testimony is inadmissible.

Secondly a hadith that follow mentions illicit sexual intercourse (zina زنا) after treachery (خيانة). We may say about it that after 'generalising', it 'confines' or 'delimits'.

FISQ: The scholars maintain that it is better to understand Khiyanah (treachery) as (فسق) fisq (transgression, lasciviousness) otherwise all the other evils and sins will remain untreated, though their commission disqualifies the perpetrator from giving testimony. Mentioning only treachery does not cover the entire prohibition.

SLANDER: The person who is one awarded the lashes for slander is one who accuses an innocent woman of having committed adultery or fornication. The hadd (prescribed punishment) qadhf (which is punishment for false accusation of unchasitity) was imposed on him. His testimony is inadmissible even if he has repented from his sin.

RULINGS: Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله rules that apart from hadd (prescribed punishment) qadhf (حد قذف), there is enough latitude for anyone who has been awarded any other hadd (prescribed punishment) (prescribed punishment) and has made a repentance for his sin that his testimony is admissible. As long as he does not repent, however, his testimony is not accepted. It is not so for one who has been awarded hadd (prescribed punishment) qadhf, for even after he repents, his testimony is never accepted.

[1] Tirmidhi # 2298 (2305)

Other imams, however, rule that the same principle applies whatever kind of hadd (prescribed punishment) has been awarded to anyone. When he makes a repentance for his sin, his testimony will be accepted even if he was awarded punishment of lashes for slandering an innocent woman; or for any other sin.

ENEMY: When two people bear animosity to one another, their testimony for one another is not acceptable. This is applicable even if they are real brothers, or strangers, meaning brothers in religion.

WALA: If anyone is suspected regarding wala then it is a slave freed by his (or her) master but he (or she) attributes the freedom to a third person, not to the real master. This is a lie and it is well-known that he (or she) lies. People suspect him (or her) of a false attribution. The testimony of such a person is not accepted because he is a fasiq (sinner) on that account. Therefore, to cut off the wala (or right) of one who sets free and attribute it to someone else who has not set sin. A person who does so is severely warned and must desist from doing it.

FALSE RELATIONSHIP: The same applies to anyone who traces for himself a false relationship like calling another person his father who is not his father. His lie is a fisq. One who ascribes parentage to another falsely is cursed.

DEPENDENT ON ANY: The sixth kind could mean a beggar who is content with just satisfying his hunger or whose sustenance depends on a single family and/or he ha become of one house, meaning family.

However, this hadith does not mean any of these persons but refers to one who is dependant on someone for his provision. He depends on him for his living, like a servent. The testimony of such a person will not be admissible for his employers or benefactors. The reasons are: (i) He might be partial to them and favour them. (ii) He benefits from what they get by his giving testimony in their favour.

Hence, it is like the mutual testimony of father and son, or of the spouses. Their testimonies for one another are not acceptable, because any benefit that accrues to one spills over to the other too.

However, it must be known that the testimony of brothers for one another is correct and acceptable.

One of the narrators of this hadith Yazid ibn Ziyad Damishqi is munkar ul hadith. It implies that his hadith is munkar (unknown) and it is stated in Sharh Nakhbah that if a narrator commits a gross mistake, or is excessively negligent or forgetful, or is known for his fisq (sin) then the hadith that he narrates is called munkar.[1]

(٣٧٨٢) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَاتَجُوْزُ شَهَادَةُ خَائِنٍ وَلَا خَائِنَةٍ وَلَا زَانٍ وَلَا زَانِيَةٍ وَلَا ذِىْ غِمْرٍ عَلٰى اَخِيْهِ وَرَدَّ شَهَادَةَ الْقَانِعِ لِاَهْلِ الْبَيْتِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3782. Sayyiduna Amr Ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله narrated from his father from his grandfather that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The testimony is not acceptable of

(i) A deceitful man or a deceitful woman,

---

[1] According to Mu'jam Lughat ul Fuqaha, munkar hadith is 'a denied hadith. According to Qamus al Alfaz al Islamiyan, it is a denied hadith whose weak narrator contradicts the narrations of a trusty narrator.

(ii) In adulterer or an adulteress (married or unmarried man or woman who have unlawful intercourse),

(iii) An enemy who has a grudge against an enemy." and, he rejected the testimony of one who was dependant on a family (for that family).[1]

VILLAGER'S TESTIMONY FOR A TOWNSMAN

(٣٧٨٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا تَجُوْزُ شَهَادَةُ بَدَوِيٍّ عَلٰى صَاحِبِ قَرْيَةٍ۔

(رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3783. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "the testimony of a desert villager is not admissible for a city dweller."[2]

COMMENTARY: The desert dweller is generally ignorant of the commands of Shari'ah (divine law) and does not come up to the standards of a witness. Also, he is liable to forget and neglect. However if he is a responsible man, Just and measures to the standards of a witness then his testimony is acceptable.

Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ goes by the apparent meaning of this hadith. He rules that the testimony of a villager is not acceptable for a townsman or city dweller, or against him. Other imams, however, hold what we have stated in the foregoing lines about a learned villager. They explain the hadith to be qualified with the exceptions we have mentioned.

PRESENT YOUR CASE WISELY

(٣٧٨٤) وَعَنْ عَوْفِ ابْنِ مَالِكٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَضٰى بَيْنَ رَجُلَيْنِ فَقَالَ الْمَقْضِيُّ عَلَيْهِ لَمَّا اَدْبَرَ حَسْبِيَ اللّٰهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيْلُ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ تَعَالٰى يَلُوْمُ عَلَى الْعَجْزِ وَلٰكِنْ عَلَيْكَ بِالْكَيْسِ فَاِذَا غَلَبَكَ اَمْرٌ فَقُلْ حَسْبِيَ اللّٰهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيْلُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3784. Sayyiduna Awf ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم pronounced judgement (in a case) between two men. He against whom he judgement was pronounced said as he turned to depart (from the place):

حَسْبِيَ اللّٰهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيْلُ

{Allah is sufficient for us and He is an excellent Guardian.} (3: 173)

On that, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah blames the stupid and careless. Use common sense. When you are in difficulty say:

حَسْبِيَ اللّٰهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيْلُ

{Allah is sufficient for us and He is an Excellent Guardian}"[3]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps it was a debtor's case. He might have repaid the dept but had not procured a receipt of repayment or made anyone witness for it. The creditor had proof and presented his case before the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, so he decided in his favour. The debtor called out the words meaning, "Allah is sufficient..." to complain that the plaintiff had cheated him.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was displeased at that and remarked that is not good to be careless in one's affairs. Allah condemns such a person. He cautioned him to exercise good judgement in his dealings with people.
When any one is careless, Allah is displeased. He has blessed man with intellect and commonsense and this blessing calls on him to use them. If any one happens to commit a lapse because of carelessness then he must not sigh, "Allah is sufficient..." Rather, these words must be spoken when one has tried all ways to get his objective and used all options to achieve it. And, when he fails after that to get his ambition then he must say:

حَسْبِيَ اللّٰهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيْلُ

ACCUSED MAY BE IMPRISONED

(٣٧٨٥) وَعَنْ بَهْزِبْنِ حَكِيْمٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حَبَسَ رَجُلًا فِي تُهْمَةٍ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَزَادَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ ثُمَّ خَلّٰى عَنْهُ۔ (ابوداؤد)

3785. Sayyiduna Bahz ibn Hakim رحمه الله reported from his father that his grandfather narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم imprisoned a man on an accusation.[1]
According to another version: He then set him free.[2]

COMMENTARY: The man may have been accused by someone. So, the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم confined him till such time as he obtained the testimony of witnesses. When the plaintiff failed to produce any witness, the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم (set the man at liberty, and) acquitted him.We learnt from this hadith that it is allowed to imprison an accused.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

BOTH PLAINTIFF & DEFENDANT MUST BE PRESENT BEFORE RULER

(٣٧٨٦) عَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ قَالَ قَضٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّ الْخَصْمَيْنِ يُقْعَدَانِ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْحَاكِمِ۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد)

3786. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Zubayr رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم decreed that both contending parties (plaintiff and defendant) must sit before the judge (or ruler who judges).[3]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمه الله said that nothing is more difficult for a judge than to be impartial to both the disputants and to treat them at par when their case is before him.

BOOK - XVIII

"JIHAD" كِتَابُ الْجِهَادِ

MEANING OF JIHAD (CRUSADE): The dictionary meaning of (جهد) jahd, and (جهاد) jihad (crusade) is a 'bear pains' (or hardship) and 'endure more than one's strength' Imam Raghib gives this meaning:

اَلْجِهَادُ اِسْتِفْرَاغُ الْوُسْعِ فِيْ مُدَافَعَةِ الْعَدُوِّ

(Jihad (crusade) is to repulse on attacking enemy with extreme force).

In the terminology of Shari'ah (divine law), jihad (crusade) is to use one's strength in a battle fought against the disbelievers by offering one's life, or supporting with one's property, or suggesting a strategy with one's mind and acumen, or simply enlisting in the Muslim army and increasing its manpower, or helping and encouraging the Muslim army against the enemies of Islam in any way other than these.[1]

THE GOAL OF JIHAD (CRUSADE): The aim of jihad (crusade) is to keep aloft the word of Allah always. The banner of Islam may fly on Allah's earth perpetually, and the claims of His rebels may be obliterated.

THE COMMAND OF JIHAD (CRUSADE): Jihad (crusade) is fard (compulsory) Kifayah (which means if some take part in jihad (crusade), other will be absolved of the duty). However, if a general call is made to enlist when the infidels attack a Muslim city or the Islamic state then jihad (crusade) is fard (compulsory) ayn on all Muslims (meaning that every individual will have to participate with the Muslim army). It makes no difference whether the one who issues the command to enlist is a virtuous, just man or a sinner. It becomes wajib (obligatory) on all citizens of the city and the state to fight the enemy and participate in jihad (crusade). It will also become wajib (obligatory) on those people who reside in the neighbourhood of that city or state, if its own residents are not enough to tackle the enemy and protect their city and state, or they are sluggish and careless and sinful in discharging their responsibilities to fight the foe and defend their territory. It is like the case of a funeral. Preparing, bathing and shrouding the corpse and offering the funeral salah (prayer) is wajib (obligatory), in the first instance, on the people of the neighbourhood of the dead person. If they are unable to bear this responsibility, then it is wajib (obligatory) on the citizen to do these things. It is the same when Muslims of a territory are faced against the infidels and cannot cope with them for lack of strength or courage, it is wajib (obligatory) on neighbouring Muslim to shoulder the responsibility of jihad (crusade). Rather, it becomes wajib (obligatory) on all Muslims between the east and the west to join the jihad (crusade) and defend the dignity of Islam and Muslims and rout the enemy of religion.

[1] The vocabulary of the Quran compiled by Dr Abdullah Abbas al Nadvi defines: jihad as 'struggle, strive. Jahd as 'to exert oneself, endeavor.' Dar ul Isha'at Karachi.

SECTION I الفصل الأول

THE MOST EXCELLENT JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٧٨٧) عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اٰمَنَ بِاللّٰهِ وَرَسُوْلِهِ وَأَقَامَ الصَّلَاةَ وَصَامَ رَمَضَانَ كَانَ حَقًّا عَلَى اللّٰهِ أَنْ يُدْخِلَهُ الْجَنَّةَ جَاهَدَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ أَوْجَلَسَ فِيْ أَرْضِهِ الَّتِي وُلِدَ فِيْهَا قَالُو أَفَلَا نُبَشِّرُبِهِ النَّاسَ قَالَ إِنَّ فِي الْجَنَّةِ مِائَةَ دَرَجَةٍ أَعَدَّهَا اللّٰهُ لِلْمُجَاهِدِيْنَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ مَابَيْنَ الدَّرَجَتَيْنِ كَمَابَيْنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْأَرْضِ فَإِذَا سَأَلْتُمُ اللّٰهَ فَسْأَلُوْهُ الْفِرْدَوْسَ فَإِنَّهُ أَوْسَطُ الْجَنَّةِ وَأَعْلَى الْجَنَّةِ وَفَوْقَهُ عَرْشُ الرَّحْمٰنِ وَمِنْهُ تَفَجَّرُ أَنْهَارُ الْجَنَّةِ۔ (رواه البخاري)

3787. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah' Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "He who believes in Allah and His Messenger (and the Shari'ah (divine law) that he brought) and offers salah (prayer) and fasts in Ramadan, will be admitted by Allah to paradise as binding on Him (because of the assurance He had given out of compassion) whether he engages in jihad (crusade) (and emigrates) in Allah's path or remains in his land where he was born (without engaging in jihad (crusade) or hijrah - emigration)." They (the sahabah) رضی الله عنه submitted, "Shall we not convey this glad tidings to the people?" He said, "Surely in paradise, there are one hundred degrees that Allah had prepared for the mujahids (crusaders) (crusaders) in Allah's path, between every two degrees is a distance as between heaven and earth. So, when you ask Allah (for a higher degree against Jihad (crusade)), ask Him for Firdaws. Indeed, it is the best (portion) of paradise and its highest portion. Above it is the throne of Ar-Rahman (The compassionate) and from it issue the rivers of paradise." (He meant the four things that are the essence of the rivers of paradise: Water, milk, wine and honey. They issue from Firdaws is paradise)[1] (Mujahid is a warrior who participates in jihad (crusade)).

COMMENTARY: Only salah (prayer) and fasting are mentioned in this hadith because they are the most important of all prescribed duties and also because they are binding on all Muslims whereas Hajj (pilgrimage) and zakah (Annual due charity) are obligatory only on the rich who can afford.

It is clear that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم spoke these words on the day of conquest of Makkah because before that hijarah because before that hijrah (migration) (or emigration) was fard (compulsory) on all Muslim.

(٣٧٨٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَثَلُ الْمُجَاهِدِ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ كَمَثَلِ الصَّائِمِ الْقَائِمِ الْقَانِتِ بِاٰيَاتِ اللّٰهِ لَا يَفْتُرُ مِنْ صِيَامٍ وَلَا صَلَاةٍ حَتّٰى يَرْجِعَ الْمُجَاهِدُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3788. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "The example of the mujahid in Allah's path is like the one who fasts and keeps vigil in the night in salah (prayer) and recites the verses of Allah thoroughly and does not desist from fasting and salah (prayer) until the mujahid (crusader) in [1] Bukhari # 2790. Musnad Ahmad 2-335.

Allah's path returns."[1]

COMMENTARY: From the time the mujahid leaves his home to participate in jihad (crusade) till he returns, obviously he is not occupied all this time in jihad (crusade). He is not always engaged in battle for Allah's sake because he takes time to eat and drink and to sleep and to do other things. In spite of that, he is considered to be engaged in worship all the time. Whatever, he does, rests, sleeps, laughs or enjoys his record of deed is credited with reward.

(٣٧٨٩) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ انْتَدَبَ اللّٰهُ لِمَنْ خَرَجَ فِي سَبِيْلِهِ لَا يُخْرِجُهُ إِلَّا إِيْمَانٌ بِيْ وَتَصْدِيْقٌ بِرُسُلِي أَنْ أَرْجِعَهُ بِمَا نَالَ مِنْ أَجْرٍ أَوْ غَنِيْمَةٍ أَوْ أُدْخِلَهُ الْجَنَّةَ۔ (متفق عليه)

3789. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone goes out in His path, Allah is his guardian (and He says) 'He does not go out but because of faith in me and confirmation of My Messenger. (He does not go out to show or to earn worldly possessions) I shall bring him back with reward (or the hereafter), or booty. Or I shall admit him to paradise (if he is martyred, without reckoning, with the first batch to enter paradise or immediately on his death before the day of resurrection)."
(This is as found in the Quran:

ولا تقولوا لمن يقتل.........بل احياء

(And say not of those who are slain in the path of Allah, "dead.' Nay, they are alive.)[2]

PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم DESIRE FOR MARTYRDOM

(٣٧٩٠) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَالَّذِي نَفْسِي بِيَدِهِ لَوْلَا أَنَّ رِجَالًا مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ لَا تَطِيْبُ أَنْفُسُهُمْ أَنْ يَتَخَلَّفُوا عَنِّي وَلَا أَجِدُ مَا أَحْمِلُهُمْ عَلَيْهِ مَا تَخَلَّفْتُ عَنْ سَرِيَّةٍ تَغْزُوْ فِي سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَالَّذِي نَفْسِي بِيَدِهِ لَوَدِدْتُ أَنْ أُقْتَلَ فِي سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ ثُمَّ أُحْيٰى ثُمَّ أُقْتَلَ ثُمَّ أُحْيٰى ثُمَّ أُقْتَلَ ثُمَّ أُحْيٰى ثُمَّ أُقْتَلَ۔

(متفق عليه)

3790. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "By him I whose hand is my soul, if it was not that (those) man among the believers (who are poor) would not be pleased at remaining behind me (and separate from me) and I cannot find riding beasts for them, I would not stay behind when an army goes ahead in Allah's path. By him in whose hand is my soul, I long that I should be killed in Allah's path, then revived, again killed and revived, and again killed."[3]
(This may happen repeatedly that I may earn reward again and again).

COMMENTARY: This saying demonstrates the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم immense desire to take part in jihad (crusade). It also discloses why he did not participate in most of the battles against the infidels. It was not possible to arrange enough beasts for all the Muslim who would have accompanied him if he had joined each army.

SYMBOLIC PARTICIPATION IN JIHAD (CRUSADE) BETTER THEN EVERYTHING

(٣٧٩١) وَعَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رِبَاطُ يَوْمٍ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ خَيْرٌ مِنَ الدُّنْيَا وَمَا عَلَيْهَا۔ (متفق عليه)

3791. Sayyiduna Sahl ibn Sa'd رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "To stand guard at the frontier in Allah's path for a day is better than the world and what it has."[1]

COMMENTARY: There could be one of two meaning:

(i) One day's duty as a guard in jihad (crusade) is better then what is spent in Allah's name. Or,

(ii) The reward that will accrue for standing as guard in jihad (crusade) will surpass the worth of the world and what it contains.

(٣٧٩٢) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَغَدْوَةٌ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَوْ رَوْحَةٌ خَيْرٌ مِنَ الدُّنْيَا وَمَا فِيْهَا۔ (متفق عليه)

3792. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "To participate in jihad (crusade) in Allah's path for a morning or an evening is better than the world and whatever it contains."[2]

COMMENTARY: If anyone goes along to wage jihad (crusade) merely one morning or an evening than the reward he gets is everlasting and is better than the blessings of the world which are ephemeral.

BETTER THAN FASTING ONE MONTH & VIGIL IN ITS NIGHTS

(٣٧٩٣) وَعَنْ سَلْمَانَ الْفَارِسِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ رِبَاطُ يَوْمٍ وَلَيْلَةٍ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ خَيْرٌ مِنْ صِيَامِ شَهْرٍ وَقِيَامِهٖ وَاِنْ مَاتَ جَرٰى عَلَيْهِ عَمَلُهُ الَّذِيْ كَانَ يَعْمَلُهٗ وَاُجْرِيَ عَلَيْهِ رِزْقُهٗ وَاَمِنَ الْفَتَّانَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3793. Sayyiduna Salman Farisi رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say. "To guard the frontier for a day and a night in Allah's path is better then fasting one month and standing during its night in worship. If he dies (while performing this duty) then he will be rewarded for the deeds he had been doing. He will be provided his sustenance (of food and drink of paradise) and he will be safe from the trial or mischief of the devil or the dajjal, or the trial of the angels of punishment in the grave."[1]

PARTICIPATION IN JIHAD (CRUSADE) IS ASSURED PROTECTION FROM HELL

(٣٧٩٤) وَعَنْ اَبِي عَبْسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا اغْبَرَّتْ قَدَ مَاعَبْدٍ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَتَمَسَّهُ النَّارُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3794. Sayyiduna Abu Abs Narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If a man's feet become dusty in Allah's path, then the fire (of hell) will not touch them."[2]

COMMENTARY: This saying of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم is about the merits of jihad (crusade). When feet become dusty while waging jihad (crusade), hell fire will not hurt them. We an understand what a great reward awaits a participant of jihad (crusade) who endures its difficulties.

WARRIOR WHO KILLS AN INFIDEL

(٣٧٩٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ اِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَجْتَمِعُ كَافِرٌ وَقَاتِلُهُ فِي النَّارِ اَبَدًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3795. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The disbeliever and the (Muslim) one who killed him cannot be together in hell, at all."[3]

COMMENTARY: This is glad tidings for the Muslim who kills an infidel during jihad (crusade). This Muslim will never go to hell. This saying highlights the merit of jihad (crusade). The Muslim who kills an infidel in the battle will be safe from hell, though even if he is unable to lay an infidel, he will go to paradise because of his participation in jihad (crusade), and full effort in it.

THE BEST KIND OF LIFE

(٣٧٩٦) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ خَيْرِ مَعَاشِ النَّاسِ لَهُمْ رَجُلٌ مُمْسِكٌ عِنَانَ فَرَسِهٖ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ يَطِيْرُ عَلٰى مِتْنِهٖ كُلَّمَا سَمِعَ هَيْعَةً اَوْفَزْعَةً طَارَعَلَيْهِ يَبْتَغِي الْقَتْلَ وَالْمَوتَ مَظَانَّهٗ اَوْ رَجُلٌ فِيْ غُنَيْمَةٍ فِيْ رَاْسِ شَعْفَةٍ مِنْ هٰذِهِ الشَّعَفِ اَوْبَطْنِ وَادٍ مِنْ هٰذِهِ الْاَوْدِيَةِ يُقِيْمُ الصَّلَاةَ وَيُؤْتِي الزَّكٰوةَ وَيَعْبُدُ رَبَّهٗ حَتّٰى يَاْتِيَهُ الْيَقِيْنُ لَيْسَ مِنَ النَّاسِ اِلَّا فِيْ خَيْرٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3796. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The best kind of human life is of a man who holds the reins of his horse in Allah's path and sprints on its back heading towards places from where he hears frightening shout or cry for help expecting to be killed or looking for places where death is possible (to occur). Or, (the best kind of life is) of a man with some sheep on a peak of one of these mountains or down one of these valley standing in salah (prayer) and paying the zakah (Annual due charity) (when the sheep are enough for zakah (Annual due charity) to be paid on them), worshipping his Lord till death comes (to him). He is not among the people but spends life in a good way among them."[1]

COMMENTARY: Such a person lives apart from other people. So, he is safe from their wicked ways and mischief. He also keeps them away from his mischief.
This hadith is based on jihad (crusade) against the enemies of Islam, against one's own self and abstinence from the pleasures of the world and evil desires of the self.
If a person lives among people to further religion then it is better, otherwise (if he cannot be safe among them) he may keep in seclusion.

SOLITUDE OR MINGLING: Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that this hadith upholds the view of those who prefer isolation or solitude to socializing or mingling.
Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and most of the u lama hold that it is better to live among people and mingle with them provided there is hope of being safe from mischief and corruption (of religion).
On the other hand, the advocates of asceticism hold that one must keep away from the people and live a live of solitude which they say is better. They have deduced it from this hadith. However, the majority of the u lama hold that this hadith concerns either the time when there would be much mischief and trial, or such a person who cannot endure the trouble and hardship caused by people, or the people themselves are not secure form his mischief. Their strongest evidence is that the Prophet عليه السلام, most of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم the tabi'un, رحمه الله the ulama (Scholars) mshaikh (religious leaders) and Sufis (mysties) spent their lives among the people in this world without secluding themselves from them. Them continued to derive religious benefits which they could not have had by secluding themselves, like congregational salah (prayer), Friday salah (prayer), funeral salah (prayer), sick visits and so on.

MERIT OF HELPING THE MUJAHID

(٣٧٩٧) وَعَنْ زَيْدِ ابْنِ خَالِدٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ جَهَّزَ غَازِيًا فِي سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَقَدْ غَزَا وَمَنْ خَلَفَ غَازِيًا فِيْ اَهْلِهٖ فَقَدْ غَزَا۔ (متفق عليه)

3797. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Khalid رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who equips a warrior in Allah's path has taken part in jihad (crusade). (He is bracketed with the warrior and gets reward for it) And, he who represents a warrior (in looking after his family when he set out) has taken part in jihad (crusade)."[2]

WOMAN OF THE MUJAHIDS (CRUSADERS) (CRUSADERS) MUST BE RESPECTED

(٣٧٩٨) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حُرْمَةُ نِسَاءِ الْمُجَاهِدِيْنَ عَلَى الْقَاعِدِيْنَ كَحُرْمَةِ اُمَّهَاتِهِمْ وَمَا مِنْ رَجُلٍ مِنَ الْقَاعِدِيْنَ يَخْلُفُ رَجُلًا مِنَ الْمُجَاهِدِيْنَ فِيْ اَهْلِهٖ فَيَخُوْنُهٗ فِيْهِمْ اِلَّا وُقِفَ لَهٗ

يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فَيَاخُذُ مِنْ عَمَلِهِ مَاشَاءَ فَمَا ظَنُّكُمْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3798. Sayyiduna Burayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "The respect to be shown to the woman of the mujahids (crusaders) by the stayers at home (who did not participate in jihad (crusade) for some reason) must be like the respect shown (by them) to their mothers. (They must not have evil intentions about the women) If any man among the stayers at home is made overseer of his family by a man of the mujahids (crusaders) and he betrays him (concerning his woman or female slaves), then he will be made to stand for him (the mujahid) on the day of resurrection so that he may pick up what he want s from his (pious) deeds. Then what do you think?"[1]

COMMENTARY: What do you suppose? Will the warrior spare any of the good deeds of the betrayer? Or, what do think Allah will do? Do you doubt that He will not reward the mujahid additionally? The mujahid will get high ranks.

MERIT OF EQUIPPING ARMY

(٣٧٩٩) وَعَنْ اَبِي مَسْعُوْدِ بِ الْاَنْصَارِيِّ قَالَ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ بِنَاقَةٍ مَخْطُومَةٍ فَقَالَ هٰذِهٖ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَكَ بِهَا يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ سَبْعُ مِائَةِ نَاقَةٍ كُلُّهَا مَخْطُومَةٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3799. Sayyiduna Abu Ma'sud al Ansari رضی الله عنه narrated that a man came (to the Prophet) صلی الله علیه وسلم with a she-camel holding a hope through its nose-ring, saying "This is presented in Allah's path." (Meaning, I offer it for His pleasure to use in jihad (crusade).) Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said,, "On the day of resurrection, you will receive (in return) for this seven hundred she-camels each with a rope through its nose-ring."[2]

LOOKING AFTER MUJAHID'S FAMILY

(٣٨٠٠) وَعَنْ اَبِي سَعِيْدٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَعَثَ بَعْثًا اِلٰى بَنِي لِحْيَانَ مِنْ هُذَيْلٍ فَقَالَ لِيَنْبَعِثْ مِنْ كُلِّ رَجُلَيْنِ اَحَدُهُمَا وَالْاَجْرُ بَيْنَهُمَا۔ (رواه مسلم)

3800. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم sent an army against Banu LIhyan a branch of Hudhayl. He said, "Send one of every two men (to the battle so that half the male population of every tribe should go and the rest should look after the families). But, both would share the reward."[3]

COMMENTARY: The participants in the jihad (crusade) will get the reward, of course. But those remainders who care for their families will also earn a like reward.

JIHAD (CRUSADE) WILL BE WAGED TILL THE LAST HOUR

(٣٨٠١) وَعَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَنْ يَبْرَحَ هٰذَا الدِّيْنُ قَائِمًا يُقَاتِلُ عَلَيْهِ

عِصَابَةٌ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ حَتّٰى تَقُوْمَ السَّاعَةُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3801. Sayyiduna Jabir ibn Sumarah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "This religion shall not cease to remain. A section of the Muslim shall continue to fight in defence of it till the Last Hour is established."[1]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمہ اللہ says that the words "they will fight elaborate on the first portion of the prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying. The whole would mean that this religion would continue to prosper because a group of Muslim will always fight with the enemies of religion and debase the rebels.

THE WOUNDED MUJAHID WILL BE RAISED IN THE CONDITION

(۳۸۰۲) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يُكْلَمُ اَحَدٌ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَاللّٰهُ اَعْلَمُ بِمَنْ يُكْلَمُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِهٖ اِلَّا جَاءَ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَجُرْحُهٗ يَثْعَبُ دَمًا اللَّوْنُ لَوْنُ الدَّمِ وَالرِّيْحُ رِيْحُ الْمِسْكِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3802. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone is wounded in Allah's path - and Allah knows best him who is wounded in His path - he will come on the day of resurrection with blood pouring out of his wound, the colour will be the colour of blood but the frongrance will be the fragrance of musk.[2]

MERIT OF MARTYRS

(۳۸۰۳) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا مِنْ اَحَدٍ يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ يُحِبُّ اَنْ يَرْجِعَ اِلَى الدُّنْيَا وَلَهٗ مَا فِي الْاَرْضِ مِنْ شَيْءٍ اِلَّا الشَّهِيْدُ يَتَمَنّٰى اَنْ يَرْجِعَ اِلَى الدُّنْيَا فَيُقْتَلَ عَشْرَ مَرَّاتٍ لِمَا يَرٰى مِنَ الْكَرَامَةِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3803. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "None of those who enter paradise would like to come back to the world and get anything in the earth. But the martyr! He will long to come back to the world and be martyred ten times (in Allah's path) because he has observed the honour (bestowed on a martyr, and the reward he gets).[3]

3804. Sayyiduna Masruq رحمه الله narrated that they asked Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه about this verse:

وَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِيْنَ قُتِلُوْا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَمْوَاتًا بَلْ اَحْيَاءٌ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ يُرْزَقُوْنَ (الأية)

{Think not of those who were slain in Allah's way as dead. Nay. They are alive are provided with sustenance from their Lord} (3: 169)

He said that they had asked Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم about it and he had said "Their (meaning the martyrs') souls are in the bodies of birds of green colour that have (as their nests) lamps suspended from the Throne. Then fly wherever they like in paradise and then return to those lamps. Their Lord looks down at them out of familiarity and asks 'Do you desire anything?' They submit, 'what (more) could we desire while we can fly wherever we like in paradise? He does that three times with them. So, they realize that they will not be spared till they ask for something, they say, 'O Lord, we wish that you return our souls to our bodies (and send us back to the world) that we might be slain in Your path once again,' He finds that they have no other) desire (and it is against His decree to send them again and besides, they have received their full reward for martyrdom), So He lets them alone (without asking again for their desires)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The martyrs desire to have their souls back in their bodies that they might be slain again in Allah's path is actually their desire to thank Him for His bounties and reward. They seem to say that it is wajib (obligatory) on them to show gratitude to Him by offering their lives once again in His path.

Or, they might imagine that the second time they would get more reward. But, Allah's decree is final and their reward remains unchanged.

OBSERVATION: The ulama (Scholars) say that the souls of the martyrs are placed in bodies of birds (or their cavities) as sign of respect for them. It is like placing jewellery in cases for safe-keeping. It is also the aim that they might move round paradise swiftly and enjoy the sweet fragrance and cool breeze. Besides that they also come near those angels who are very close to Allah. This itself is a great blessing This is what Allah says in the verse:

يُرْزَقُوْنَ فَرِحِيْنَ بِمَا اٰتٰهُمُ اللّٰهُ مِنْ فَضْلِهٖ

{Rejoicing in the bounty (of martyrdom) which Allah has granted them…} (3: 170)

REINCARNATION: It must be understood that this hadith does not prove the theory of reincarnation. Those who believe in this theory, say that the soul returns to some body in this world. They do not connect the theory of return of soul to the hereafter. Besides, they do not believer in the hereafter.

PARADISE EXISTS: This hadith establishes that paradise is created and it is there already. This is what the ahlus sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) wa al-jama'ah hold.

JIHAD (CRUSADE)* GETS ALL SINS FORGIVEN BUT NOT RIGHTS OF FELLOW MEN

(٣٨٠٥) وَعَنْ اَبِي قَتَادَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَامَ فِيْهِمْ فَذَكَرَ اَنَّهُمْ اَنَّ الْجِهَادَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَالْاِيْمَانَ بِاللّٰهِ اَفْضَلُ الْاَعْمَالِ فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ فَقَالَ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَرَأَيْتَ اِنْ قُتِلْتُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ يُكَفِّرُ عَنِّيْ خَطَايَايَ فَقَالَ لَهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَعَمْ اِنْ قُتِلْتَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَاَنْتَ صَابِرٌ مُحْتَسِبٌ مُقْبِلٌ غَيْرُ مُدْبِرٍ ثُمَّ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَيْفَ قُلْتَ فَقَالَ اَرَأَيْتَ اِنْ قُتِلْتُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَيُكَفِّرُ عَنِّيْ خَطَايَايَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَعَمْ وَاَنْتَ صَابِرٌ مُحْتَسِبٌ مُقْبِلٌ غَيْرُ مُدْبِرٍ اِلَّا الدَّيْنَ فَاِنَّ جِبْرِيْلَ قَالَ لِيْ ذٰلِكَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3805. Sayyiduna Abu Qatadah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم got up among them (one day) and delivered a sermon in which he) mentioned, "Jihad (crusade) in Allah's path and faith in Allah are the best of deeds." A man got up and asked, "O Messenger of Allah do inform me, if I am killed in Allah's path will my sins be forgiven to me?" So, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said to him, "Yes, if you are killed in Allah's Path and you are patient (in the face of the onslaught), hoping for reward and not showing your back." (But, contending against the enemy) Then, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked, "What did you say? He submitted "Inform me, if I am killed in Allah's path, will my sins be forgiven to me?" So, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Yes, if you are patient, hoping for reward and not showing your back (but facing) the enemy undauntedly), but (this does) not (include) a debt, for, indeed, Jibril عليه السلام told this to me."[1]

COMMENTARY: The fact that faith is the most excellent deed is self evident. No explanation is needed. As for jihad (crusade), it is called the best because it is the only deed whereby the word of Allah is raised high. It put down the rebels and the enemies of the religion. The warrior offers his life and property and endures different kinds of hardships and anxieties.

As for the hadith that call salah (prayer) to be the best deed, it is because salah (prayer) is the only deed that is done constantly. It is one deed but is made up of many worships.

As for the exception (دين) dayn or debt, Allamah Toorpushti رحمه الله said that here dayn covers 'the rights of the Muslim. Hence, the saying means that performing jihad (crusade) erases all sins except rights of fellowmen.

كُلَّ شَيْءٍ إِلَّا الدَّيْنَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3806. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "To be killed in Allah's path (in jihad (crûsade)), gets all sins except depts. (meaning, rights of fellowmen) erased."[1]

THE KILLER & KILLED IN PARADISE

(۳۸۰۷) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ يَضْحَكُ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى رَجُلَيْنِ يَقْتُلُ اَحَدُهُمَا الْاٰخَرَ يَدْخُلَانِ الْجَنَّةَ يُقَاتِلُ هٰذَا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَيُقْتَلُ ثُمَّ يَتُوْبُ اللّٰهُ عَلَى الْقَاتِلِ فَيُسْتَشْهَدُ۔ (متفق علیہ)

3807. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah the exalted laugh at two men. One of them kills the other, but both of them will enter paradise. One fight in Allah's path and is martyred. Then Allah relents to the slayer (and he embraces Islam and he too fights in Allah's path) and he becomes a martyr so (enter paradise)."[2]

DESIRE FOR MARTYRDOM

(۳۸۰۸) وَعَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ حُنَيْفٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ سَأَلَ اللّٰهَ الشَّهَادَةَ بِصِدْقٍ بَلَّغَهُ اللّٰهُ مَنَازِلَ الشُّهَدَاءِ وَاِنْ مَاتَ عَلٰى فِرَاشِهٖ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3808. Sayyiduna Sahl ibn Hunayf رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who prays to Allah sincerely for martyrdom, Allah brings him to the ranks of the martyrs, even though he may die on his bed."[3]

MARTYRS IN FIRDOWS

(۳۸۰۹) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ اَنَّ الرُّبَيِّعَ بِنْتَ الْبَرَاءِ وَهِيَ اُمُّ حَارِثَةَ بْنِ سُرَاقَةَ اَتَتِ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَتْ يَانَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ اَلَا تُحَدِّثُنِيْ عَنْ حَارِثَةَ وَكَانَ قُتِلَ يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ اَصَابَهٗ سَهْمٌ غَرْبٌ فَاِنْ كَانَ فِي الْجَنَّةِ صَبَرْتُ وَاِنْ كَانَ غَيْرَ ذٰلِكَ اِجْتَهَدْتُ عَلَيْهِ فِي الْبُكَاءِ فَقَالَ يَا اُمَّ حَارِثَةَ اِنَّهَا جِنَانٌ فِي الْجَنَّةِ وَاِنَّ ابْنَكِ اَصَابَ الْفِرْدَوْسَ الْاَعْلٰى۔ (رواه البخاری)

3809. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Rubaiyi bint رضی اللہ عنہ Barra, the mother of Harithah ibn Suraqah رضی اللہ عنہ came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and submitted, "O Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم of Allah, will you not tell me about Harithah." - He had been martyred on the day of Badr being hit by an arrow and it could not be known who shot it. "If he is in paradise, I shall be patient. But, if he is elsewhere, then I shall try to weep over him (Like a wailing woman). He said, "O Umm Harithah! There are gardens in paradise and, indeed, your son has made it to al-Firdows, the highest

(٣٨١٠) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ اِنْطَلَقَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاَصْحَابُهُ حَتّٰى سَبَقُوا الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ اِلٰى بَدْرٍ وَجَاءَ الْمُشْرِكُوْنَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قُوْمُوْا اِلٰى جَنَّةٍ عَرْضُهَا السَّمٰوٰتُ وَالْاَرْضُ قَالَ عُمَيْرُ بْنُ الْحُمَامِ بَخٍ بَخٍ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا يَحْمِلُكَ عَلٰى قَوْلِكَ بَخٍ بَخٍ قَالَ لَا وَاللّٰهِ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِلَّا رَجَاءَ اَنْ اَكُوْنَ مِنْ اَهْلِهَا قَالَ فَاِنَّكَ مِنْ اَهْلِهَا قَالَ فَاَخْرَجَ تَمَرَاتٍ مِنْ قَرَنِهٖ فَجَعَلَ يَاْكُلُ مِنْهُنَّ ثُمَّ قَالَ لَئِنْ اَنَا حَيِيْتُ حَتّٰى اٰكُلَ تَمَرَاتِيْ اِنَّهَا لَحَيَاةٌ طَوِيْلَةٌ قَالَ فَرَمٰى بِمَا كَانَ مَعَهٗ مِنَ التَّمْرِ ثُمَّ قَاتَلَهُمْ حَتّٰى قُتِلَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3810. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم set out (from Madinah) and arrived at Badr before the idolaters. Then, the idolaters came and Allah's Messenger said, "Prepare to go to paradise whose breadth is as (the breadth of) the heavens and the earth." Umayr ibn Humam رضی اللہ عنہ (a sahabi) exclaimed, "Bakh, bakh!" (meaning 'bravo, bravo! 'excellent'). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked him, "What led you to say, 'Bakh, bakh!?" He submitted "No (there is nothing), By Allah, O Messenger of Allah except a hope that I should be one of its dwellers!" He said, "Indeed, you are one of them!"
He narrator added that (no hearing the glad tidings) he took out some dates from his quiver and began to eat out of them. Then, he said, "were I to survive till I eat (all these) my dates, that will be a long life." He threw away whatever he had with him of the dates. Then he plunged to fight with them till he was martyred.[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم encouraged his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم to prepare for paradise through jihad (crusade).
Paradise is vast, very large. It is compared to the span of heaven and earth because it is the greatest thing a human mind will fathom.
Umayr رضی اللہ عنہ assured the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that he had not uttered 'Bakh, bakh' without purpose or out of fear. Then he wasted no time in advancing into enemy ranks to attain martyrdom.

MARTYRS ARE OF KINDS

(٣٨١١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا تَعُدُّوْنَ الشَّهِيْدَ فِيْكُمْ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ مَنْ قُتِلَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَهُوَ شَهِيْدٌ قَالَ اِنَّ شُهَدَاءَ اُمَّتِيْ اِذًا لَقَلِيْلٌ مَنْ قُتِلَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَهُوَ شَهِيْدٌ وَمَنْ مَاتَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَهُوَ شَهِيْدٌ وَمَنْ مَاتَ فِي الطَّاعُوْنِ فَهُوَ شَهِيْدٌ وَمَنْ مَاتَ فِي الْبَطْنِ فَهُوَ شَهِيْدٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

[2] Muslim # 145-1901, Musnad Ahmad 3-137.

3811. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked, "who among you do you count as a martyr?" They said, "O Messenger of Allah, he who is killed in Allah's path is a martyr." He said, "In that case, the martyrs of my ummah will be few. He who is killed in Allah's path is a martyr. He who dies (a natural death in jihad (crusade) without fighting) is a martyr. He who dies of pestilence is a martyr. He who dies of a disease in the belly diarhea dropsy) is a martyr. (They are in the same rank as a true martyr with as much reward.)[1]

REWARD OF WARRIORS

(٣٨١٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَامِنْ غَازِيَةٍ اَوْ سَرِيَّةٍ تَغْزُوْ فَتَغْنَمَ وَتَسْلَمَ اِلَّا كَانُوا قَدْ تَعَجَّلُوا ثُلُثَيْ اُجُوْرِهِمْ وَمَا مِنْ غَازِيَةٍ اَوْ سَرِيَّةٍ تُخْفِقُ وَتُصَابُ اِلَّا تَمَّ اُجُوْرُهُمْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3812. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If a u nit of warriors or an army of fighters wages jhjad, gains booty and returns safely, then they earn two thirds of their rewards promptly (in this world). And, if a group of warriors or an army of fighters (wages jhad) fails to gain booty and are routed (with wounds and death), then they earn their rewards in full."[2]

COMMENTARY: The mujahids (crusaders) who set out to fight with the infidels for Islam can face three possibilities.

(i) They may return safe and sound with spoil which will belong to them. The hadith speaks of them as getting two thirds for their reward in this world which is their safe return and the spoils. The remaining one third is the reward for participating in jihad (crusade) which they shall get in the next world.

(ii) They return safe but could get no spoils. So, they have earned in this world one third, they will get on the day of resurrection.

(iii) The mujahids (crusaders) who took part in jihad (crusade) and were wounded or martyred in the battle field. They could not gain sp[oils at all. So, they will receive their full reward, that remains, in the next world in full.

BELIEVER WHO HAS NO LONGING FOR JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٨١٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ مَاتَ وَلَمْ يَغْزُ وَلَمْ يُحَدِّثْ بِهٖ نَفْسَهٗ مَاتَ عَلٰى شُعْبَةٍ مِنْ نِفَاقٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3813. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If a (believing) person dies without having participated in jihad (crusade) or having thought of it (as an obligation) hen he has died with a kind of hypocrisy,"[3]

COMMENTARY: It is a characteristic of a hypocrite that not only does he not take part in

[1] Muslim # 165-1915.

[3] Muslim # 185-1910, Abu Dawud # 2502, Nasa'i # 3097.

jihad (crusade) but also he never resolves and never longs to do so. When a jihad (crusade) is to be fought, the hypocrites disappear in their homes and never feel guilty about it. So, going by the adage (مَنْ تَشَبَّهَ بِقَوْمٍ فَهُوَ مِنْهُمْ) (whoso resembles a people is one of them), such believers are like hypocrites.

In his Sharh Muslim, Imam Nawawi رحمه الله writes that if anyone intends to make a worship but dies before doing it, then he will not be punished as much for not doing it as he would have been it if he had formed no intention to do it.

He also writes that if a man is able to offer salah (prayer) and also intends to offer but dies before offering it, and is also able to offer Hajj (pilgrimage) but procrastinates and dies before performing Hajj (pilgrimage), then some Shafi'I ulama (Scholars) say that in both cases he will have committed sin. Other say that he will not be a sinner in both cases. Yet others say that he will be sinner for not performing Hajj (pilgrimage), but not in the case of salah (prayer).

The Hanafi point of view corresponds to the final view.

THE REAL MUJAHID

(٣٨١٤) وَعَنْ أَبِي مُوسٰى قَالَ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ الرَّجُلُ يُقَاتِلُ لِلْمَغْنَمِ وَالرَّجُلُ يُقَاتِلُ لِلذِّكْرِ وَالرَّجُلُ يُقَاتِلُ لِيُرٰى مَكَانُهُ فَمَنْ فِي سَبِيلِ اللّٰهِ قَالَ مَنْ قَاتَلَ لِتَكُونَ كَلِمَةُ اللّٰهِ هِيَ الْعُلْيَا فَهُوَ فِي سَبِيلِ اللّٰهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3814. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی الله عنه narrated that a man came to the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم and submitted, "One man fights, for booty, A man fights to be mentioned (as a fighter). A man fights to be seen as of (Great) rank (which is ostentation) which (of them) is in Allah's path?" He said, "He who fights that Allah's Word should be raised high is in Allah's path."[1]

KEPT BACK FROM JIHAD (CRUSADE) BY A VALID EXCUSE

(٣٨١٥-٣٨١٦) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَجَعَ مِنْ غَزْوَةِ تَبُوكَ فَدَنَا مِنَ الْمَدِينَةِ فَقَالَ إِنَّ بِالْمَدِينَةِ أَقْوَامًا مَا سِرْتُمْ مَسِيرًا وَلَا قَطَعْتُمْ وَادِيًا إِلَّا كَانُوا مَعَكُمْ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ إِلَّا شَرِكُوكُمْ فِي الْأَجْرِ قَالُوا يَا رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ وَهُمْ بِالْمَدِينَةِ قَالَ وَهُمْ بِالْمَدِينَةِ حَبَسَهُمُ الْعُذْرُ۔ رَوَاهُ الْبُخَارِيُّ وَرَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ عَنْ جَابِرٍ۔

3815. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم returned from the Battle of Tabuk and approached Madinah. He said, "There are some people in Madinah (who were not with you in your expedition outwardly, but), never did you traverse a path and cross a valley yet they were with you." (physically they may have been in Madinah but their prayer, their hearts and their desires were with you.)

According to another version (he said:) "But they have shared with you your reward." They expressed surprise, Messenger of Allah, while they had stayed in [1] Bukhari 2810, Muslim # 149-1901, Abu Dawud # 2517, Nasa'i # 3136, Ibn Majah # 2183, Musnad Ahmad 4-453.

Madinah" He said, "They remained in Madinah, detained by a (proper) excuse."[1]
3816. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated it (too).[2]

COMMENTARY: Those people who could not participate in jihad (crusade) because of some reason and were detained in Madinah did share the reward with those who took part in jihad (crusade). But, they had not the same rank as the mujahjids, be because those who participated in jihad (crusade) physically and offered their lives and property in Allah's path are superior, as Allah says:

فَضَّلَ اللّٰهُ الْمُجَاهِدِيْنَ بِاَمْوَالِهِمْ وَاَنْفُسِهِمْ عَلَى الْقَاعِدِيْنَ دَرَجَةً۔

{Allah has preferred in rank those who struggle hard with their riches and their lives over those who sit back at home} (4: 95)

KINDNESS TO PARENTS

(٣٨١٧) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاسْتَاْذَنَهُ فِي الْجِهَادِ فَقَالَ اَحَيٌّ وَالِدَاكَ قَالَ نَعَمْ قَالَ فَفِيْهِمَا فَجَاهِدْ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ فَارْجِعْ اِلٰى وَالِدَيْكَ فَاَحْسِنْ صُحْبَتَهُمَا۔ (بخاری ومسلم)

3817. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and requested him for permission to participate in jihad (crusade). He asked, "Are your parents alive?" He said, "Yes" He said, "Then (stay with them and) exert yourself for them."
According to another version, he said: "Then return to your parents and give them good company."[3] (serve them and let them have their rights.)

COMMENTARY: It is stated in Sharh us sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) that this hadith concerns an optional jihad (crusade). If it is fard (compulsory) or compulsory jihad (crusade) then it Is not necessary to obtain their permission. Rather, even if they forbid then they should not be obeyed but one must take part in jihad (crusade). If the parents are non Muslims then it is not necessary to have their permission to take part in any kind of jihad (crusade), fard (compulsory) or optional.
The ulama (Scholars) say that if one's parents, or one of them, are not pleased then one must not proceed to do any optional worship, like optional Hajj (pilgrimage) or umrah, or observe such voluntary fasting.

AFTER CONQUEST OF MAKKAH, NO HIJRAH

(٣٨١٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ يَوْمَ الْفَتْحِ لَاهِجْرَةَ بَعْدَ الْفَتْحِ وَلٰكِنْ جِهَادٌ وَنِيَّةٌ وَاِذَا اسْتُنْفِرْتُمْ فَانْفِرُوْا۔ (متفق علیہ)

---

[1] Bukhari # 4423, Ibn Majah # 2763.

[2] Muslim # 159-1911, Ibn Majah # 2765, Musnad Ahmad 3-300.

[3] Bukhari # 3004, Muslim # 5-2546, Tirmidhi # 1671, Abu Dawud # 2529, Nasa'i # 3013, Musnad Ahmad 2-188.

3818. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that on the day of the conquest, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There is no hijrah after the conquest (of Makah), but only jihad (crusade) and niyah (intention). So when you are called to join in fighting, join (and enlist yourselves because it is fard (compulsory) to respond positively on the call to enlist)."

COMMENTARY: Before the conquest of Makkah, it was fard (compulsory) ayn to emigrate to Madinah from Makkah and from every land of the infidels, because there were very few Muslims in Madinah and they were very weak. So, the convergence of the Muslim in Madinah strengthened the ummah and made the idolaters weak and helpless.

When Allah made the Muslims dominant after the conquest of Makkah, the need to make hijrah become redundant. So, it was no longer fard (compulsory) to make hijrah, except in a few cases in which it is mustahab (desirable). Examples are to go out of one's native land to take part in jihad (crusade), to emigrate to acquire knowledge. And to leave the land of the infidels and the place where mischief in rampant, goodness is given up and evil is commonly practiced.

As for the words: 'but only jihad (crusade) and niyah (intention) remain, they mean that the command is still operative to have the resolve to wage jihad (crusade) against the enemies of the religion and rebels against Allah. In short, it is no longer fard (compulsory) to leave one's country or homeland to emigrate to Madinah. But, the command is not abrogated to go out from the hub of disbelief, or ignorant innovators or mischief, or to acquire learning, to make jihad (crusade) or with pious intention.

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِیْ

THERE WILL ALWAYS BE JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(۳۸۱۹) وَعَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاتَزَالُ طَائِفَةٌ مِنْ أُمَّتِيْ يُقَاتِلُوْنَ عَلَى الْحَقِّ ظَاهِرِيْنَ عَلٰى مَنْ نَاوَاهُمْ حَتّٰى يُقَاتِلَ اٰخِرُهُمُ الْمَسِيْحَ الدَّجَّالَ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3819. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "A section of my ummah will not cease to fight for the right (protecting and promoting it) and will overcome those who oppose them till the last of them (the ummah) fight with the masih ud dajjal"[1]
(the impostor of Essa, علیہ السلام the Masih).

COMMENTARY: This saying of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم makes clear that those who appose the mujahids (crusaders), of Islam will be humiliated eventually, though initially the mujahids (crusaders) may face difficulty.

The last of this ummah refer to Imam Mahdi رحمہ اللہ prophet Essa علیہ السلام and their followers. They will fight with the progeny of the dajjal(imposter). Ultimately, Prophet Eesa علیہ السلام will eliminate him. Thereafter, there shall be no jihad (crusade), because no one will be strong enough to fight with Yajuj and Majuj (Gag and Magog). When Allah causes them to die, Prophet Eesa علیہ السلام will be alive in the world and there would be no disbeliever remaining on earth. When he dies, some people will revert to disbelief and all Muslims will die when a fresh sweet, pure wind blows. Only disbelievers will survive in the world and when the last Day comes, there will be no one on earth who calls on Allah. Thus, the ahadith that s tress that some people of this ummah will not some people of this ummah will not cease to fight for the right till the Last Day, mean till the approach of the Last day.' Their last battle will be against the dajjal whose coming is among the signs of the Last Day.[1]

[1] Abu Dawud 2484, Musnad Ahmad 4-429.

WARNING TO NON PARTICIPANT IN JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٨٢٠) وَعَنْ اَبِي أُمَامَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ لَّمْ يَغْزُ وَلَمْ يُجَهِّزْ غَازِيًا اَوْيَخْلُفْ غَازِيًا فِيْ اَهْلِهٖ بِخَيْرٍ اَصَابَهُ اللّٰهُ بِقَارِعَةٍ قَبْلَ يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3820. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone does not take part in jihad (crusade) (himself), or equip a warrior, or take care of the family of a warrior in a good way, then Allah will cause him to suffer a calamity before the Last Day."[2]

(٣٨٢١) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ جَاهِدُوا الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ بِاَمْوَالِكُمْ وَاَنْفُسِكُمْ وَاَلْسِنَتِكُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد و النسائی والدارمی)

3821. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Strive against the polytheist (the enemies of Islam) with your properties, your lives and your tongues (waging jihad (crusade) against them)."[3]

COMMENTARY: Life and property may be sacrificed against the enemy on the battlefield. The tongue may be used to condemn them, their idols and their beliefs and to pray against them. It may be used to threaten them and to pray for the Muslim to triumph. It may be used to encourage people to participate in jihad (crusade).

HEIRS OF PARADISE

(٣٨٢٢) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَفْشُوا السَّلَامَ وَاَطْعِمُوا الطَّعَامَ وَاضْرِبُوا الْهَامَ تُوْرَثُوا الْجِنَانَ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3822. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Make salaam (the greeting of Islam) common, feed food (to the poor and needy) and kill the infidels." (Greeting every Muslim you meet, feeding the poor and striking at the heads of the infidels) "You will inherit paradise."[4]

GUARDING THE BORDERS

(٣٨٢٣-٣٨٢٤) عَنْ فَضَالَةَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كُلُّ مَيِّتٍ يُخْتَمُ عَلٰى عَمَلِهٖ اِلَّا الَّذِيْ مَاتَ مُرَابِطًا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَاِنَّهٗ يُنْمٰى لَهٗ عَمَلُهٗ اِلٰى يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ وَيَاْمَنُ فِتْنَةَ الْقَبْرِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ

3823. Sayyiduna Fudalah ibn Ubayd رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Every dying person has his deeds sealed, except the one who dies while guarding the frontiers in Allah's path. His deed is grown for him till the day of resurrection, And, he is safe from the trial of the grave."[1]
3824. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ too narrated this hadith.[2]

COMMENTARY: When the man who guards the borders dies, he will continue to receive a fresh reward for his deed every moment. The reason is that he gave up his life while doing a deed that will help the Muslim always. His deed is meant to keep alive the religion.

MERIT OF PARTICIPANT OF JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٨٢٥) وَعَنْ مُعَاذِ بْنِ جَبَلٍ اَنَّهُ سَمِعَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ قَاتَلَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَوَاقَ نَاقَةٍ فَقَدْ وَجَبَتْ لَهُ الْجَنَّةُ وَمَنْ جُرِحَ جُرْحًا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَوْنُكِبَ نُكْبَةً فَاِنَّهَا تَجِيْئُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ كَاَغْزَرِ مَا كَانَتْ لَوْنُهَا الزَّعْفَرَانُ وَرِيْحُهَا الْمِسْكُ وَمَنْ خَرَجَ بِهٖ خُرَاجٌ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَاِنَّ عَلَيْهِ طَابَعَ الشُّهَدَاءِ۔

(رواہ الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی)

3825. Sayyiduna Mu'adh ibn Jabal رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "If anyone fights in Allah's path for so long as the pause between two milkings of a she camel then he is assured of paradise. And if any one receives a wound in Allah's cause or is hurt somewhat then he will come on the day of resurrection with the largest of wounds whose colour will be safron and whose odour will be musk. And if anyone is afflicted with ulcers while in Allah's path, then he will get on him a seal of the martyrs.[3]

COMMENTARY: The pause between two milkings is very short. So, it means that the man participated in jihad (crusade) for the shortest possible time.

MERIT OF SPENDING TOWARDS JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٨٢٦) وَعَنْ خُرَيْمِ بْنِ فَاتِكٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَنْفَقَ نَفَقَةً فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ كُتِبَ لَهُ بِسَبْعِمِائَةِ ضِعْفٍ۔ (رواہ الترمذی)

3826. Sayyiduna Khuraym ibn Fatik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who spends anything from his property in the path of Allah (meaning jihad (crusade)) will have seven hundred times of that recorded for him (as reward)"[4]

COMMENTARY: This is the minimum reward mentioned here. Actually, it depends on 3827. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The most excellent sadaqah (charity) is the shade of a tent in Allah's path (given to warrior, a pilgrim, a student of religion, or the like), the gift of a servant in Allah's path (outright or on delegation), or giving in Allah's path a she camel that is old enough to be covered by a stallion."[1]

MERIT OF THE MUJAHID

(٣٨٢٨) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَايَلِجُ النَّارَ مَنْ بَكٰى مِنْ خَشْيَةِ اللّٰهِ حَتّٰى يَعُوْدَ اللَّبَنُ فِى الضَّرْعِ وَلَا يَجْتَمِعُ عَلٰى عَبْدٍ غُبَارٌ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَدُخَانُ جَهَنَّمَ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَزَادَ النَّسَائِيُّ فِيْ اُخْرٰى فِيْ مَنْخِرَيْ مُسْلِمٍ اَبَدًا وَفِيْ اُخْرٰى لَهٗ فِيْ جَوْفِ عَبْدٍ اَبَدًا وَلَا يَجْتَمِعُ الشُّحُّ وَالْاِيْمَانُ فِيْ قَلْبِ عَبْدٍ اَبَدًا۔

3828. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "A man who weeps from fear of Allah will not go to hell till the milk returns to the udder. And dust in Allah's path and smoke of hell will never come together on anyone."
In another version, Nasai'i added: "never in a Muslim's nostrils."
'Never in the belly of a slave of Allah, And miserliness and faith will never come together in the heart of a slave of Allah."[2]

COMMENTARY: Just as it is impossible for milk to return to the udder so too it is impossible that this man will go to hell.

TWO SAFE EYES

(٣٨٢٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَيْنَانِ لَاتَمَسُّهُمَا النَّارُ عَيْنٌ بَكَتْ مِنْ خَشْيَةِ اللّٰهِ وَعَيْنٌ بَاتَتْ تَحْرُسُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواه الترمذى)

3829. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, said, "Two eyes are such that the fire of hell shall never touch them: an eye that weeps for fear of Allah and an eye that keeps (guard) vigil in the night in Allah's path."[3]

EXCELLENCE OF JIHAD (CRUSADE)

وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ لَاتَفْعَلْ فَإِنَّ مَقَامَ أَحَدِكُمْ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهٖ فِيْ بَيْتِهٖ سَبْعِيْنَ عَامًا أَلَا تُحِبُّوْنَ أَنْ يَغْفِرَ اللّٰهُ لَكُمْ وَيُدْخِلَكُمُ الْجَنَّةَ أُغْزُوْا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ مَنْ قَاتَلَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فُوَاقَ نَاقَةٍ وَجَبَتْ لَهُ الْجَنَّةُ۔ (رواه الترمذى)

3830. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah narrated that one of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم came upon a mountain pass that had a spring of sweet water. He was over whelmed by it and thought. "Would that I keep away from people and retire to this place!" He mentioned that to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم who said, "Do not do so, for the station of one of you in Allah's path (in jihad (crusade)) is more excellent than his salah (prayer) in his home for seventy years. Do you people must engage in jihad (crusade) in Allah's path not love that Allah should forgive you and admit you to paradise? So, you people. If anyone engaged in jihad (crusade) for only as long as the time between two milking of she came, paradise becomes wajib (obligatory) for him."[1] (with the first entrants)

COMMENTARY: Saying 'seventy years' does not specify the time but means a long time. This hadith does not contradict the one:

مَقَامُ الرَّجُلِ فِي الصَّفِّ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ أَفْضَلُ عِنْدَ اللّٰهِ مِنْ عِبَادَةِ الرَّجُلِ سِتِّيْنَ سَنَةً

"If a man stands in ranks in the path of Allah then it is better in Allah's sight then worship of a man for sixty years."

This hadith seems to say that if anyone isolates himself from the people and worships Allah in distant deserts or the like, then he does not get forgiveness of Allah merely by doing this. The ulama (Scholars) say that jihad (crusade) was wajib (obligatory) and it is a sin to neglect a wajib (obligatory) to do some nafl (optional) worship. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم impressed on that sahabi that though his aim to separate from people only to devote himself to Allah's worship, yet he would be committing a sin of neglecting the wajib (obligatory) and would be depriving himself of many benefits which he could avail by remaining among the people and discharging his religious obligation and responsibilities By remaining with them he could earn complete forgiveness and admission to paradise at the earliest stage.

Hence, it is better to mingle with people then to seclude oneself. However, sometimes when it is likely to fall into mischief and go astray by living with others, then it would be better to live a life of seclusion.

(٣٨٣١) وَعَنْ عُثْمَانَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ رِبَاطُ يَوْمٍ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ خَيْرٌ مِنْ أَلْفِ يَوْمٍ فِيْمَا سِوَاهُ مِنَ الْمَنَازِلِ۔ (رواه الترمذى والنسائى)

3831. Sayyiduna Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Ribat of a day in Allah's path is better then engaging in other worship for (even) one thousand days." Ribat is to guard the frontiers against infidels.)[2]

COMMENTARY: The words in other worship make an exception of exerting oneself towards protection of religion.
It is wajib (obligatory) on such a person to guard the borders. It is sinful for him to engage in other work while on this duty, even other forms of worship, like waiting for the next salah (prayer) in the mosque which is also called ribat. The translation in Tirmidhi has is better than being at home for one thousand days.

MARTYS WILL ENTER PARADISE DIRECTLY

(٣٨٣٢) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ عُرِضَ عَلَيَّ اَوَّلُ ثَلَاثَةٍ يَدْخُلُوْنَ الْجَنَّةَ شَهِيْدٌ وَعَفِيْفٌ مُتَعَفِّفٌ وَعَبْدٌ اَحْسَنَ عِبَادَةَ اللّٰهِ وَ نَصَحَ لِمَوَالِيْهِ۔ (رواه الترمذى)

3832. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'Those people were presented to me who will be the first to enter paradise a martyr, an abstinent who refrains from the unlawful (and does not beg), and a slave who worship Allah sincerely and serves his master honestly.[1]

COMMENTARY: They will be the first to enter paradise but only after the prophet علیہ السلام These are three kinds of people.

BEST MUJAHID & BEST MARTYR

(٣٨٣٣) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ حُبْشِيٍّ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سُئِلَ اَيُّ الْاَعْمَالِ اَفْضَلُ قَالَ طُوْلُ الْقِيَامِ قِيْلَ فَاَيُّ الصَّدَقَةِ اَفْضَلُ قَالَ جُهْدُ الْمُقِلِّ قِيْلَ فَاَيُّ الْهِجْرَةِ اَفْضَلُ قَالَ مَنْ هَجَرَ مَاحَرَّمَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ قِيْلَ فَاَيُّ الْجِهَادِ اَفْضَلُ قَالَ مَنْ جَاهَدَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ بِمَالِهٖ وَنَفْسِهٖ قِيْلَ فَاَيُّ الْقَتْلِ اَشْرَفُ قَالَ مَنْ اُهْرِيْقَ دَمُهٗ وَعُقِرَجَوَادُهٗ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ النَّسَائِيِّ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سُئِلَ اَيُّ الْاَعْمَالِ اَفْضَلُ قَالَ اِيْمَانٌ لَاشَكَّ فِيْهِ وَجِهَادٌ لَاغُلُوْلَ فِيْهِ وَحَجَّةٌ مَبْرُوْرَةٌ قِيْلَ فَاَيُّ الصَّلَاةِ اَفْضَلُ قَالَ طُوْلُ الْقُنُوْتِ ثُمَّ اتَّفَقَا فِي الْبَاقِيْ۔

3833. Sayyiduna Abdulalh ibn Hubashi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was asked,?"Which of the deed is the best?" He said, "A lengthy standing in salah (prayer)." He was asked which kind of sadaqah (charity) is the best?" He said, : "The effort of the poor," He was asked, "which jihah is the best?" He said, "The abstinence of one who keeps away from what Allah has forbidden." He was asked, "which jihad (crusade) is the best?" He said, "The struggle of one against the polytheists with his property and his life." He was asked, "which is the best way of being killed?" He said, "Of one whose blood is shed and whose horse is wounded (at the feet)."[2]
The version in Nasa'i is: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was asked, "which of the deed is best?" He said, "Faith that is unwavering, jihad (crusade) that is without treachery in booty, and a Hajj (pilgrimage) that is approved." He was asked, "which kind of salah (prayer) is the best?" He said, 'one with a lengthy standing in it." Thereafter both version concur with one another.[1]

COMMENTARY: The most excellent jihad (crusade) is one in which the mujahid spends his property on himself and on other mujahid and offers his life too in the battlefield.
As for the most excellent deeds, the ahadith mention various actions as the best. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم described them depending on the situation and nature of the person who was asking. He named humility to those who were proud, generosity to the niggardly, the tahajjud salah (prayer) to one who seemed lethargic, and so on, so, he named a deed as best to imply that it was one of the best deeds.

ALLAH'S FAVOUR TO MARTYRS

(٣٨٣٤) وَعَنِ الْمِقْدَامِ بْنِ مَعْدِ يَكْرِبَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِلشَّهِيْدِ عِنْدَاللّٰهِ سِتُّ خِصَالٍ يُغْفَرُلَهٗ فِيْ اَوَّلِ دَفْعَةٍ وَيُرٰى مَقْعَدَهٗ مِنَ الْجَنَّةِ وَيُجَارُ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ وَيَامَنُ مِنَ الْفَزَعِ الْاَكْبَرِ وَيُوْضَعُ عَلٰى رَاسِهٖ تَاجُ الْوَقَارِ اَلْيَا قُوْتَةُ مِنْهَا خَيْرٌ مِنَ الدُّنْيَا وَمَا فِيْهَا وَيُزَوَّجُ ثِنْتَيْنِ وَسَبْعِيْنَ زَوْجَةً مِنَ الْحُوْرِ الْعِيْنِ وَيُشَفَّعُ فِيْ سَبْعِيْنَ مِنْ اَقْرِبَائِهٖ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة)

3834. Sayyiduna Miqdam ibn Madikarib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There are for the martyr six blessings with Allah.

(1) He is forgiven with the first drop of blood.
(2) He is shown his abode in paradise.
(3) He is preserved from the torment of the grave, and will be safe from the great terror lal faza al akbar (الفزع الاکبر)
(4) A crown of honour will be placed on his head and it will be ingrained will pearl better than the world and what it contains.
(5) He will be married to seventy two huris (maidens) of paradise.
(6) His intercession for seventy of his relatives will be accepted."[2]

NEGLECTOR OF JIHAD (CRUSADE) WARNED

(٣٨٣٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ لَقِيَ اللّٰهَ بِغَيْرِ اَثَرٍ مِنْ جِهَادٍ لَقِيَ اللّٰهَ وَفِيْهِ ثُلْمَةٌ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابن ماجه)

3835. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he who meets Allah without any trace of jihad (crusade) (on him), will meet him with his religion imperfect."[3]

COMMENTARY: If anyone did not take part in jihad (crusade) all his life in person or by helping towards it, then his religion will be incomplete. This applies to one on who jihad (crusade) was fard (compulsory) but he did not taka part and had no intention to take part at all.
Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that the jihad (crusade) mentioned here could mean the battle against the infidels. It could also mean one's own struggle with one's self and the devil. It is called mujahadah(struggle to purify). This is drawn from the hadith of Abu umamah رضی اللہ عنہ (# 3837).

MARTYR IS PRESERVED FROM PAIN

(٣٨٣٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الشَّهِيْدُ لَايَجِدُ اَلَمَ الْقَتْلِ اِلَّا كَمَايَجِدُ اَحَدُكُمْ اَلَمَ الْقَرْصَةِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرمِذِيُّ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَقَالَ التِّرمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3836. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The martyr experiences no pain on being killed except like what one of you feels on being stung by an ant."[1]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمہ اللہ says that it is about that martyr who gives his life in Allah's path willingly. It could also mean the feeling of the martyr after death on finding the blessings of Allah. Therefore, a believer must not shrink from offering his life for Allah's sake. He must embrace martyrdom happily.

DROP OF BELIEVERS BLOOD IN JIHAD (CRUSADE) IS DEAREST TO ALLAH

(٣٨٣٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ اُمَامَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَيْسَ شَيْءٌ اَحَبَّ اِلَى اللّٰهِ مِنْ قَطْرَتَيْنِ وَاَثَرَيْنِ قَطْرَةُ دُمُوْعٍ مِنْ خَشْيَةِ اللّٰهِ وَقَطْرَةُ دَمٍ يُهْرَاقُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَاَمَّا الْاَثَرَانِ فَاَثَرٌ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَاَثَرٌ فِيْ فَرِيْضَةٍ مِنْ فَرَائِضِ اللّٰهِ تَعَالٰى۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3837. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Nothing is dearer to Allah thon two drops and two marks: a drop of tear from fear of Allah and a drop of blood shed in Allah's path. As for the two marks, one is a trace that a man gets in Allah's path (in jihad (crusade) from a wound, for instance) and the other is a trace on discharge of an obligatory duty."[2]

COMMENTARY: The marks in Allah's path are what a mujahid gets in jihad (crusade), dust on his body, a wound, etc. or dirt on clothing or body of a student. Seeking knowledge of religion is also following in Allah's path and the seeker is a mujahid.

A mark may be seen on the body after performing a prescribed duty, like having cuts in the hands or the feet on performing ablution in winter, a mark on the forehead through prostrating oneself in salah (prayer) a burning of the forehead in hot whether after prostration leaving a spot, bad odour from the mouth of one who is fasting, or getting dust on the body while performing pilgrimage.

SEA VOYAGE ONLY WHEN NECESSARY

(٣٨٣٨) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاتَرْكَبِ الْبَحْرَ اِلَّاحَاجًّا اَوْ مُعْتَمِرًا اَوْ غَازِيًا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَاِنَّ تَحْتَ الْبَحْرِ نَارًا وَتَحْتَ النَّارِ بَحْرًا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3838. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not sail on the sea except to (travel to) perform Hajj (pilgrimage) or umrah, or to fight in Allah's path, because there is a fire under the sea and there is a sea under the fire."[1]

COMMENTARY: Journey by sea is a risky undertaking. But, it is mustahab (desirable) to sail on the sea for a cause sanctioned by Shari'ah (divine law), for, it is then a mean of nearness to Allah.

The jurist Abu al-Layth رحمه الله samarqandi said that if it is safe to travel by sea, then it is fard (compulsory) to go by ship to perform Hajj (pilgrimage). But, if it is not safe then the pilgrim is authorized to decide. If he is fearful then he may not go. If the journey is not safe yet he intends to travel then he may go. There is no harm. Let us here explain this verse:

وَلَا تُلْقُوا بِأَيْدِيكُمْ إِلَى التَّهْلُكَةِ

{And cast not yourselves by your own hands into ruin} (2: 195)

This verse applies when it does not involve a religious work. Baylawi رحمه الله wrote against this verse that there are some aspects of ruin, like wasting property employment, business, etc. by one's own hands, refraining from spending for jihad (crusade) or participating in it. It is tantamount to helping your enemy and to give him ability to crush you.

There is fire under the sea means it is very dangerous to travel by sea.

Some people say that Allah is All powerful the sentence may mean what it says.

MARTYRDOM FOR ONE WHO DIES ON SEA

(٣٨٣٩) وَعَنْ أُمِّ حَرَامٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْمَائِدُ فِي الْبَحْرِ الَّذِي يُصِيبُهُ الْقَيْءُ لَهُ أَجْرُ شَهِيدٍ وَالْغَرِيقُ لَهُ أَجْرُ شَهِيدَيْنِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3839. Sayyiduna Umm Haram رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If any one (travelling by sea) has nausea and vomits during a sea voyage, then he has the reward of martyr. He who drowns gets the reward of two martyrs."[2]

COMMENTARY: They will earn the reward only when their travel is to participate in jihad (crusade) acquire knowledge or perform Hajj (pilgrimage). It also applies if anyone's journey is to trade and the objective of trading is to survive and to meet the needs of one's family and there is no alternative means of travel.

DEATH DURING JIHAD (CRUSADE) IS MARTYRDOM

(٣٨٤٠) وَعَنْ أَبِي مَالِكٍ الْأَشْعَرِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ مَنْ فَصَلَ فِي سَبِيلِ اللّٰهِ فَمَاتَ أَوْ قُتِلَ أَوْ وَقَصَهُ فَرَسُهُ أَوْ بَعِيرُهُ أَوْ لَدَغَتْهُ هَامَّةٌ أَوْ مَاتَ عَلَى فِرَاشِهِ بِأَيِّ حَتْفٍ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ فَإِنَّهُ شَهِيدٌ وَإِنَّ لَهُ الْجَنَّةَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3840. Sayyiduna Abu Maalik Ash'ary رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say. "If anyone set forth (from his house) in Allah's path and dies (of wounds) or is slain or is thrown down by his horse or his camel, or is stung by a poisonous creature, or dies on his bed any natural death Allah wills, then he is a martyr (or falls under the same command). For him is paradise."[1]

(He will go to it directly with martyr and the righteous).

MUJAHID GETS REWARD EVEN IF HE RETURNS SAFELY

(٣٨٤١) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ قَفْلَةٌ كَغَزْوَةٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3841. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'Returning home is like setting out of fight (jihad (crusade)).'[2]

COMMENTARY: A returnee home after battle earns as much rewards as he earned when he at out for jihad (crusade). Because a mujahid is ever prepare to lay down his life for Allah's sake.

DUAL REWARD FOR WHO EQUIPS

(٣٨٤٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِلْغَازِىْ اَجْرُهٗ وَلِلْجَاعِلِ اَجْرُهٗ وَاَجْرُ الْغَازِىْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3842. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger said, "The ghazi (warrior) (who engages in jihad (crusade)) gets his reward and the jail (who equips the ghazi (warrior)) gets his own reward and the reward of the ghazi (warrior)."[3]

COMMENTARY: Ja'il (جاعل) is one who equips a ghazi (warrior) (غازی) fighter in jihad (crusade) that he might engage in battle. He gets a reward for spending in Allah's path and for enabling the Ghazi (warrior) to wage jihad (crusade). The ulama (Scholars) agree that this deed is allowed.
However, Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ says that a ja'il is one who pay a ghazi (warrior) for taking part in jihad (crusade). The Hanafis say that it is allowed. In this case too, the ghazi (warrior) will earn one reward and the jail two rewards.
However, Imam Shafi رحمہ اللہ says that it is not allowed to pay someone to take part in jihad (crusade) He says that if a ghazi (warrior) has received wages for taking part in a battle then it is wajib (obligatory) for him to return that to the payer.

MERCENARY IS NEITHER GHAZI (WARRIOR) NOR MUJAHID

(٣٨٤٣) وَعَنْ اَبِىْ اَيُّوْبَ سَمِعَ النَّبِىَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ سَتُفْتَحُ عَلَيْكُمُ الْاَمْصَارُ وَسَتَكُوْنُ جُنُوْدٌ مُجَنَّدَةٌ يُقْطَعُ عَلَيْكُمْ فِيْهَا بُعُوْثٌ فَيَكْرَهُ الرَّجُلُ الْبَعْثَ فَيَتَخَلَّصُ مِنْ قَوْمِهٖ ثُمَّ يَتَصَفَّحُ الْقَبَائِلَ يَعْرِضُ نَفْسَهٗ عَلَيْهِمْ مَنْ اَكْفِيْهِ بَعْثَ كَذَا اَلَا وَذٰلِكَ الْاَجِيْرُ اِلٰى اٰخِرِ قَطْرَةٍ مِنْ دَمِهٖ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3843. Sayyiduna Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Soon, large cities will be conquered by you. You will have companies of the army under different banners. (If a man dislikes to enlist without remuneration and) a man will not be prepared to be sent with the army, then he will go away from his people (to avoid being sent). He will seek other tribes offering himself to them. Whom may I replace in such and such a battle?" (who will hire me that I may fight on his behalf?) He will remain a paid labourer to the last drop of his blood."[1] (Do not think of him as a ghazi (warrior) or mujahid. He is a hired or paid mercenary if he is killed in battle).

COMMENTARY: The head of a Islamic state will bind every tribe and group to raise their army and sent them to engage in jihad (crusade).
Mazhar (RH(says that when Islam will spread throughout the world, the head of state will send armies to different directions to put out the infidels on that side so that they may not raise their head against the Muslims.

(٣٨٤٤) وَعَنْ يَعْلَى بْنِ أُمَيَّةَ قَالَ اٰذَنَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِالْغَزْوِ وَاَنَا شَيْخٌ كَبِيْرٌ لَيْسَ لِي خَادِمٌ فَالْتَمَسْتُ اَجِيْرًا يَكْفِيْنِي فَوَجَدْتُ رَجُلًا سَمَّيْتُ لَهُ ثَلَاثَةَ دَنَانِيْرَ فَلَمَّا حَضَرَتْ غَنِيْمَةٌ اَرَدْتُ اَنْ اُجْرِيَ لَهُ سَهْمَهُ فَجِئْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَذَكَرْتُ لَهُ فَقَالَ مَا اَجِدُ لَهُ فِيْ غَزْوَتِهِ هٰذِهٖ فِي الدُّنْيَا وَالْاٰخِرَةِ اِلَّا دَنَانِيْرَهُ الَّتِي تُسَمّٰى۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3844. Sayyiduna Ya'la Ibn Umayyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم proclaimed that they would set our for jihad (crusade). I was an old man and had no servant. So, I looked for a servant who might care for me during the fighting. I did find a man whose wages I fixed at three dinars. Afterwards (when the fighting was over) the booty arrived and intended to give him his portion. So I went to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and spoke to him about the matter. He said, "I do not find (in the commands of Shari'ah (divine law)) anything for him in this fighting of his but the three dinars appointed for him, in the world and the next."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said that the hired servant would get no share of booty and no reward in the hereafter. The ulama (Scholars) say that this command applies to a servant hired by a mujahid or ghazi (warrior) during the battle to serve him. But, if anyone is hired to engage in jihad (crusade), then he will get a share from the booty though some ulama (Scholars) hold that he will be deprived of reward for fighting in jihad (crusade),
According to Sharh us sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice), the ulama (Scholars) differ on one who is hired on wages for kindred work or for caring of animals, and is then sent to the battlefield to fight. Will he get a share of the booty? Some of them deny him any portion of the booty whether he fights or not. Rather, he is entitled only to the wages determined for his service. This is as Awza'I رحمہ اللہ and Ishaq رحمہ اللہ say. Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ agrees with them in one opinion of two known from him. Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ say that he will be given a share even if he had not fought, but had been with the mujahids (crusaders) at the time of the fighting.

ENGAGING IN JIHAD (CRUSADE) FOR WORLDLY GAINS DEPRIVES OR REWARD

(٣٨٤٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَجُلًا قَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ رَجُلٌ يُرِيْدُ الْجِهَادَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَهُوَ يَبْتَغِيْ عَرَضًا مِنْ عَرَضِ الدُّنْيَا فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا اَجْرَ لَهٗ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3845. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man submitted, O Messenger of Allah, a man desires to take part in jihad (crusade) in Allah's path. But he (also) desires some worldly gains. The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He will get no reward."[1]

COMMENTARY: A person gets reward for his deeds of his intention is sincere to please Allah. This man's desire was not purely to please Allah but only to receive the spoils, so he will earn no reward. If anyone participates in jihad (crusade) for the pleasure of Allah and also hopes to get the spoils then he will get a reward but not as much as he gets whose intention is to please Allah only.

THE TRUE SPIRIT

(٣٨٤٦) وَعَنْ مُعَاذٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْغَزْوُ غَزْوَانِ فَاَمَّا مَنِ ابْتَغٰى وَجْهَ اللّٰهِ وَاَطَاعَ الْاِمَامَ وَاَنْفَقَ الْكَرِيْمَةَ وَيَاسَرَ الشَّرِيْكَ وَاجْتَنَبَ الْفَسَادَ فَاِنَّ نَوْمَهٗ وَنُبْهَهٗ اَجْرٌ كُلُّهٗ وَاَمَّا مَنْ غَزَا فَخْرًا وَرِيَاءً وَسُمْعَةً وَعَصَى الْاِمَامَ وَاَفْسَدَ فِي الْاَرْضِ فَاِنَّهٗ لَمْ يَرْجِعْ بِالْكَفَافِ۔ (رواہ مالك وابوداؤد والنسائی)

3846. Sayyiduna Mu'adh رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said "Jihad (crusade) is of two kinds. As for him who seeks Allah's pleasure, obeys the imam (meaning, the leader or ruler and the laws of the state), gives his pure property and pure life (in Allah's path) cooperates with his associates and refrains from making mischief, his sleep and his awakening will earn him reward continuously. But, as for him who fights to boast, ostentatiously and to earn fame, disobeys the imam and makes mischief, he will return neither with reward nor have his sins forgiven."[2]

ALLAH WILL RESURRECT ACCORDING TO INTENTION

(٣٨٤٧) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو اَنَّهٗ قَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَخْبِرْنِيْ عَنِ الْجِهَادِ فَقَالَ يَا عَبْدَاللّٰهِ بْنَ عَمْرٍو اِنْ قَاتَلْتَ صَابِرًا مُحْتَسِبًا بَعَثَكَ اللّٰهُ صَابِرًا مُحْتَسِبًا وَاِنْ قَاتَلْتَ مُرَائِيًا مُكَاثِرًا بَعَثَكَ اللّٰهُ مُرَائِيًا مُكَاثِرًا يَا عَبْدَاللّٰهِ بْنَ عَمْرٍو عَلٰى اَيِّ حَالٍ قَاتَلْتَ اَوْقُتِلْتَ بَعَثَكَ اللّٰهُ عَلٰى تِلْكَ الْحَالِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3847. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, enlighten me about jihad (crusade) (that fetches reward)." He said, "O Abdullah ibn Amr, if you fight as one patient and seeking reward, Allah will resurrect you (on the day of resurrection) showing patience and seeking reward (and He will give you reward just as another tradition says: كما تعيشون تموتون وكما تموتون تحشرون – 'the manner in which you live you will die and the manner in which you die you will be resurrected). And , if you fight to show off and take pride in your strength (and wealth and numbers), Allah will resurrect you showing off and taking pride in your strength. O Abdullah ibn Amr, in whether state you fight or are killed, Allah will resurrect you in that state."[1]

REPLACE THE AMIR

(٣٨٤٨) وَعَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ مَالِكٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَعَجَزْتُمْ إِذَا بَعَثْتُ رَجُلًا فَلَمْ يَمْضِ لِأَمْرِيْ اَنْ تَجْعَلُوْا مَكَانَهُ مَنْ يَمْضِيْ لِأَمْرِيْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد) وَذُكِرَ حَدِيْثُ فَضَالَةَ وَالْمُجَاهِدُ مَنْ جَاهَدَ نَفْسَهُ فِيْ كِتَابِ الْإِيْمَانِ۔

3848. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم asked, "Are you not able to replace a man whom I send out (as your amir) and he does not implement my command with one who will implement my command obeying what I ask to do and refraining from what I forbid)?"[2]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم told the people that when he sent any one out as a governor, or a representative, for instance, and he does not go there, or goes and disobeys his commands doing what he likes, then they should depose him and appoint another person in conformity with the command of the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم.

The ulama (Scholars) deduce from this command that if an amir or a governor is oppressive to the subjects and fails to give them their rights, then they may depose him and appoint another man in his place.

The hadith of Fadalah about the mujahid striving with himself may be seen in the book of Faith # 34.

MONASTICISM HAD NO PLACE IN ISLAM

(٣٨٤٩) عَنْ اَبِيْ اُمَامَةَ قَالَ خَرَجْنَا مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ سَرِيَّةٍ فَمَرَّ رَجُلٌ بِغَارٍ فِيْهِ شَيْءٌ مِنْ مَاءٍ وَبَقْلٍ فَحَدَّثَ نَفْسَهُ بِاَنْ يُقِيْمَ فِيْهِ وَيَتَخَلّٰى مِنَ الدُّنْيَا فَاسْتَاْذَنَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ ذٰلِكَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنِّيْ لَمْ اُبْعَثْ بِالْيَهُوْدِيَّةِ وَلَا بِالنَّصْرَانِيَّةِ وَلٰكِنِّيْ بُعِثْتُ بِالْحَنِيْفِيَّةِ السَّمْحَةِ وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسُ مُحَمَّدٍ بِيَدِهٖ لَغُدْوَةٌ اَوْرَوْحَةٌ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ خَيْرٌ مِنَ الدُّنْيَا وَمَا فِيْهَا وَلَمُقَامُ اَحَدِكُمْ فِي الصَّفِّ خَيْرٌ مِنْ صَلَاتِهٖ سِتِّيْنَ سَنَةً۔ (رواه احمد)

وسلم for that, but he said, "I am not sent with Judism or with Christianity (that I should peach to you monasticism and put you to difficulty and away from People). But, I am sent with the easy hanif religion. By him in whose hand is the soul of Muhammad, a morning or an evening expedition in Allah's path is better than the world and what it contains. And, for one of you to stand in the row of battle (or of congregational salah (prayer) in the battlefield) is better than his salah (prayer) (by himself) for sixty years."[1]

DRIVING FORCE

(٣٨٥٠) وَعَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ غَزَا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَلَمْ يَنْوِ إِلَّا عِقَالًا فَلَهُ مَانَوٰى۔ (رواہ النسائی)

3850. Sayyiduna Ubadah ibn Samit رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who fights in the path of Allah with no intention beyond receiving a rope (with which a camel is tethered then he) will get what he intended."[2]

COMMENTARY: If anyone wages jihad (crusade) and is driven by a desire to obtain a very base or insignificant thing then it is not a sincere intention. A very little thing like a rope is mentioned to emphasize that jihad (crusade) must be fought with no intention whatsoever to get the booty. One must develop sincerity to the extent that not even a semblance of desire for worldly possession drives the warrior. But, it must be remembered that this is the highest degree of sincerity.

As stated earlier, if jihad (crusade) is fought with intention to please Allah and to make religion dominant and also with a wish to get some booty then it is allowed. The reward will accrue. Moreover, if in this case, the warrior is also motivated to show off then not the entire reward will be forfeited because of that.

JIHAD (CRUSADE) GETS HIGHER RANKS IN PARADISE

(٣٨٥١) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ سَعِيْدٍ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ رَضِيَ بِاللّٰهِ رَبًّا وَبِالْإِسْلَامِ دِيْنًا وَبِمُحَمَّدٍ رَسُوْلًا وَجَبَتْ لَهُ الْجَنَّةُ فَعَجِبَ لَهَا أَبُوْسَعِيْدٍ فَقَالَ أَعِدْهَا عَلَيَّ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَأَعَادَهَا عَلَيْهِ ثُمَّ قَالَ وَأُخْرٰى يَرْفَعُ اللّٰهُ بِهَا الْعَبْدَ مِائَةَ دَرَجَةٍ فِي الْجَنَّةِ مَابَيْنَ كُلِّ دَرَجَتَيْنِ كَمَا بَيْنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْأَرْضِ قَالَ وَمَا هِيَ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ الْجِهَادُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ الْجِهَادُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ الْجِهَادُ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3851. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who is pleased with Allah as Lord, with Islam as religion and with Muhammad as Messenger, (must know that) paradise is wajib (obligatory) for (assured to) him. This pleased Abu Sa'eed رضی اللہ عنہ so he said, "Repeat it to me, O Messenger of Allah." He repeated the words to him. Then he said, "There is another (thing) whereby Allah will raise the slave (of Allah) in paradise one hundred degrees and between every two degrees is a distance like that between heaven and earth." He asked, "what is that, O Messenger of Allah?" He said, "Jihad (crusade) in Allah's path. Jihad (crusade) in Allah's path. Jihad (crusade) in Allah's path."[1]

GATE OF PARADISE IN SHADES OF SWORDS

(٣٨٥٢) وَعَنْ اَبِي مُوْسٰى قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَبْوَابَ الْجَنَّةِ تَحْتَ ظِلَالِ السُّيُوْفِ فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ رَثُّ الْهَيْئَةِ فَقَالَ يَا اَبَا مُوْسٰى اَنْتَ سَمِعْتَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ هٰذَا قَالَ نَعَمْ فَرَجَعَ اِلٰى اَصْحَابِهٖ فَقَالَ اَقْرَأُ عَلَيْكُمُ السَّلَامَ ثُمَّ كَسَرَ جَفْنَ سَيْفِهٖ فَاَلْقَاهُ ثُمَّ مَشٰى بِسَيْفِهٖ اِلَى الْعَدُوِّ فَضَرَبَ بِهٖ حَتّٰى قُتِلَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3852. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "the gates of paradise are under the shadow of the swords." (or hearing this,) a man with a shabby, ramshackle outlook stood up and asked, "O Abu Musa, did you hear Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say this?" (Meaning, 'Are you sure?") He said, "Yes!" He got back to his companions and said, "I convey to you the salaam (salutation, my last)." Then, he broke the scabbard of his sword and cast it away (to make it clear that he would not return). He went with his sword towards the enemy and plied it (fighting them) till he was martyred.[2]

COMMENTARY: A warrior is in the battlefield in such a way that the sword of the infidels are pitted against him. They are the means of his admittance to paradise. The moment he is martyred by the sword of an infidel, he enters paradise.

GLAD TIDINGS FOR THE MARTYRS OF UHUD

(٣٨٥٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِاَصْحَابِهٖ اِنَّهٗ لَمَّا اُصِيْبَ اِخْوَانُكُمْ يَوْمَ اُحُدٍ جَعَلَ اللّٰهُ اَرْوَاحَهُمْ فِيْ جَوْفِ طَيْرٍ خُضْرٍ تَرِدُ اَنْهَارَ الْجَنَّةِ تَاْكُلُ مِنْ ثِمَارِهَا وَتَاْوِيْ اِلٰى قَنَادِيْلَ مِنْ ذَهَبٍ مُعَلَّقَةٍ فِيْ ظِلِّ الْعَرْشِ فَلَمَّا وَجَدُوْا طِيْبَ مَاْكَلِهِمْ وَمَشْرَبِهِمْ وَمَقِيْلِهِمْ قَالُوْا مَنْ يُبَلِّغُ اِخْوَانَنَا عَنَّا اَنَّنَا اَحْيَاءٌ فِي الْجَنَّةِ لِئَلَّا يَزْهَدُوْا فِي الْجَنَّةِ وَلَا يَنْكُلُوْا عِنْدَ الْحَرْبِ فَقَالَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى اَنَا اُبَلِّغُهُمْ عَنْكُمْ فَاَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى وَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِيْنَ قُتِلُوْا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَمْوَاتًا بَلْ اَحْيَاءٌ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ يُرْزَقُوْنَ اِلٰى اٰخِرِ الْاٰيَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3853. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم "When your brothers were martyred at the battle of uhud, Allah put their souls in the craws (or gullets) of green birds that now come to the rivers o paradise, eat its fruit and settle down in lamps of gold in the shade of the Throne. (Later,) when they found the delight of their food, drink and rest, they asked (each other), 'who will convey to our brothers about us that we are alive in paradise (enjoying the blessings of our Lord) so that they might not give up a longing for paradise and not turn away from the battle.'

So, Allah, the Exalted, said, 'I shall convey it to them from you.." And, Allah, the Exalted, revealed:

وَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِيْنَ قُتِلُوْا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَمْوَاتًا بَلْ اَحْيَاءٌ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ يُرْزَقُوْنَ

{Think not of those who are slain in Allah's way as dead. Nay, they live finding their sustenance in the presence of their Lord.}[1] (3: 169 and following)

COMMENTARY: The entire verse is:

وَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِيْنَ قُتِلُوْا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَمْوَاتًا بَلْ اَحْيَآءٌ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ يُرْزَقُوْنَ * فَرِحِيْنَ بِمَآ اٰتٰهُمُ اللّٰهُ مِنْ فَضْلِهٖ وَيَسْتَبْشِرُوْنَ بِالَّذِيْنَ لَمْ يَلْحَقُوْا بِهِمْ مِّنْ خَلْفِهِمْ اَلَّا خَوْفٌ عَلَيْهِمْ وَلَا هُمْ يَحْزَنُوْنَ ـ (ال عمران ٣: ١٦٩، ١٧٠)

{Think not of those who are slain in Allah's ways as dead. Nay, they live, finding their sustenance in the presence of their Lord. They rejoice in the bounty provided by Allah: and with regard to those left behind, who have not yet joined them (in their bliss), the (martyrs) glory in the fact that on them is no fear, nor have they (cause to) grieve} (3: 169-170)

THE BEST SECTION OF THE BELIEVERS

(٣٨٥٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْمُؤْمِنُوْنَ فِي الدُّنْيَا عَلٰى ثَلَاثَةِ اَجْزَاءٍ، الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْا بِاللّٰهِ وَرَسُوْلِهٖ ثُمَّ لَمْ يَرْتَابُوْا وَجَاهَدُوْا بِاَمْوَالِهِمْ وَاَنْفُسِهِمْ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَالَّذِيْ يَاْمَنُهُ النَّاسُ عَلٰى اَمْوَالِهِمْ وَاَنْفُسِهِمْ ثُمَّ الَّذِيْ اِذَا اَشْرَفَ عَلٰى طَمَعٍ تَرَكَهٗ لِلّٰهِ عَزَّوَجَلَّ ـ (رواه احمد)

3854. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The believers in the world are of three kinds:

1) Those who believe in Allah and His Messenger and then do not fall in doubt. And they take part in jihad (crusade) with their properties and their lives in Allah's path. (They have perfected their faith and purified themselves and have strived to make Allah's creatures prosperous. They are the best and noblest).
2) He whom people trust for their properties and their lives. (He may not have striven for their prosperity but he does not hurt people in any way, and he keeps aloof without being greedy. And
3) He who when greed arises in him suppresses it for the sake of Allah, Mighty and Glorious (for fear of Him)."[2]

COMMENTARY: This last kind of believer is such that when he feels a desire or greed for something worldly, he does not pursue it. Rather, he seeks Allah's pleasure. He is one of those who though he mingles with people and finds an urge for worldly things, Allah preserves him from succumbing to greed. This kind of people from a section lower in rank than the first two. There are other kinds of believers apart from these three, but they are without any rank or kind.

LONGING OF A MARTYR

(٣٨٥٥) وَعَنْ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ اَبِي عَمِيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَا مِنْ نَفْسٍ مُسْلِمَةٍ يَقْبِضُهَا رَبُّهَا تُحِبُّ اَنْ تَرْجِعَ اِلَيْكُمْ وَاَنَّ لَهَا الدُّنْيَا وَمَا فِيْهَا غَيْرُ الشَّهِيْدِ قَالَ ابْنُ اَبِي عَمِيْرَةَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاَنْ اُقْتَلَ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَحَبُّ اِلَيَّ مِنْ اَنْ يَكُوْنَ لِي اَهْلُ الْوَبَرِ وَالْمَدَرِ۔ (رواه النسائی)

3855. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Abu Amirah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Apart from the martyr, there is no Muslim soul that its Lord takes away and it wants to return to the world and what it contains." Ibn Abu Amirah narrated further that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "That I should be killed in Allah's path is dearer to me that I should possess (as my slaves and subjects) the villagers (people of the tents) and the townsmen (people of building)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Ahl ul wabar wa al madur are people who live in tents and who live in castles. The former are deserts dwellers where tents are use to reside dwellers where tents are used to reside. The latter are townsmen or city dwellers. Both of them together make up the inhabitants of the entire world. The Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words mean, "If I were made ruler of the world, and its peoples submitted to me, I would still prefer to take part in jihad (crusade) and be slain in Allah's path."

EVERY BELIEVER IS A MARTYR

(٣٨٥٦) وَعَنْ حَسْنَاء بِنْتِ مُعَاوِيَةَ قَالَتْ حَدَّثَنَا عَمِّي قَالَ قُلْتُ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ فِي الْجَنَّةِ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ فِي الْجَنَّةِ وَالشَّهِيْدُ فِي الْجَنَّةِ وَالْمَوْلُوْدُ فِي الْجَنَّةِ وَالْوَئِيْدُ فِي الْجَنَّةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3856. Sayyidah Hasna bint Mu'awiyah رضی اللہ عنہا said that her uncle (Aslam ibn Sulaym رضی اللہ عنہ narrated to them that he asked the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم "who will be in paradise.?" The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, The Prophets will be in paradise. New borns will be in paradise. And, those children who are buried alive will be in paradise."[2]

COMMENTARY: Here the word shahid (martyr) does not merely mean he who is killed in Allah's path. Rather, it refers to mu'min (believer) whether he really is martyred or the word is just applied to him. It is as the noble Quran calls those who have believed as martyrs.

وَالَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْا بِاللّٰهِ وَرُسُلِهٖ اُولٰٓئِكَ هُمُ الصِّدِّيْقُوْنَ وَالشُّهَدَآءُ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ

{And those who believe in Allah and His Messenger, they are the siddiq (who become true to their life) and the Shuhada (martyrs) in the eyes of their Lord.} (57: 19) (Respectively: the most righteous after the prophet علیہ السلام, and the martyrs.)[3]

In paradise will be the new born of believer and even of disbelievers. Also, every fotus will go to paradise whether belonging to a believer or to a disbeliever.

Those who are buried alive will be in paradise. During pre-Islamic days, people buried their living daughters in the earth. Some people who had difficulty to make two ends meet also buried their living sons. Such boys and girls will go to paradise too.

The hadith mentions only four people perhaps the first two are mentioned specially because of their merit and honour, and the last two are mentioned because they will be admitted to paradise without doing any deed or earning the merit.

EXCELLENCE OF PARTICIPATING IN JIHAD (CRUSADE) WITH PROPERTY AND LIFE

(٣٨٥٧) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ وَاَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ وَاَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ وَ اُمَامَةَ وَعَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ وَعَبْدِالله بْنِ عَمْرٍو وَجَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ وَعِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ كُلُّهُمْ يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّهُ قَالَ مَنْ اَرْسَلَ نَفَقَةً فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اَقَامَ فِيْ بَيْتِهٖ فَلَهٗ بِكُلِّ دِرْهَمٍ سَبْعُمِائَةِ دِرْهَمٍ وَمَنْ غَزَا بِنَفْسِهٖ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ وَاَنْفَقَ فِيْ وَجْهِهٖ ذٰلِكَ فَلَهٗ بِكُلِّ دِرْهَمٍ سَبْعُمِائَةِ اَلْفِ دِرْهَمٍ ثُمَّ تَلَا هٰذِهِ الْاٰيَةَ وَاللّٰهُ يُضَاعِفُ لِمَنْ يَّشَاءُ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

3857. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ Abu Darda رضی اللہ عنہ Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ. Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ Jabir ibn Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ and Imran ibn lusayn رضی اللہ عنہ – all of them narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who sends monetary help or equipment towards Allah's path (meaning jihad (crusade)) and himself stays in his home (not participating physically) will have seven hundred dirhams or each dirham (he gives). And he who fights physically (in person in jihad (crusade)) in Allah's path and also gives monetary help for His pleasure toward that (battle) will have seven hundred thousand dirhams for each dirham (he gives)." Then he recited this verses:

وَاللّٰهُ يُضٰعِفُ لِمَنْ يَّشَآءُ

{And Allah gives manifold increase to whom He pleases} (2: 261)[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم recited the verse to show that there is no limit to the reward. Allah may, if he will, give much more reward than what is mentioned.

KINDS OF MARTYRS

(٣٨٥٨) وَعَنْ فَضَالَةَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ يَقُوْلُ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ الشُّهَدَاءُ اَرْبَعَةٌ رَجُلٌ مُؤْمِنٌ جَيِّدُ الْاِيْمَانِ لَقِيَ الْعَدُوَّ فَصَدَّقَ اللّٰهَ حَتّٰى قُتِلَ فَذٰلِكَ الَّذِيْ يَرْفَعُ النَّاسُ اِلَيْهِ اَعْيُنَهُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ هٰكَذَا وَرَفَعَ رَاْسَهٗ حَتّٰى سَقَطَتْ قَلَنْسُوَتُهٗ فَمَا اَدْرِيْ اَقَلَنْسُوَةُ عُمَرَ اَرَادَ اَمْ قَلَنْسُوَةُ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ وَرَجُلٌ مُؤْمِنٌ جَيِّدُ الْاِيْمَانِ لَقِيَ الْعَدُوَّ كَاَنَّمَا ضُرِبَ جِلْدُهٗ بِشَوْكِ طَلْحٍ مِنَ الْجُبْنِ اَتَاهُ سَهْمٌ غَرْبٌ فَقَتَلَهٗ فَهُوَ فِي الدَّرَجَةِ الثَّانِيَةِ وَرَجُلٌ مُؤْمِنٌ خَلَطَ عَمَلًا صَالِحًا وَاٰخَرَ سَيِّئًا لَقِيَ الْعَدُوَّ فَصَدَّقَ اللّٰهَ حَتّٰى قُتِلَ فَذٰلِكَ فِي الدَّرَجَةِ الثَّالِثَةِ وَرَجُلٌ مُؤْمِنٌ اَسْرَفَ عَلٰى نَفْسِهٖ لَقِيَ الْعَدُوَّ فَصَدَّقَ اللّٰهَ حَتّٰى قُتِلَ فَذٰلِكَ فِي الدَّرَجَةِ الرَّابِعَةِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

[1] Ibn Majah # 2761.

3858. Sayyiduna Fadalah ibn Ubayd رحمه الله said that he heard Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضی الله عنه narrate that he had heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, 'Martyrs are of four kinds:

1) A believing man, strong in faith, meets the enemy and demonstrates his sincerity to Allah till he is killed. For him, men will raise their eyes on the day of resurrection like this," - and he raised his head till his cap dropped. The sub narrator said that he could not say whose cap Fadalah رحمه الله meant: Umar's رضی الله عنه cap or the Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم cap. (Anyway, people will vie with each other to have a glimpse of him.)
2) A believing man of firm faith meets the enemy but fears him (and trembles) as though pricked by acacia thorns. A sudden arrow (whose shooter is not known) strikes him and kills him. He is of the second kind.
3) A believing man who has done good deeds and bad deeds. When he meets the enemy, he remains sincere to Allah till he is killed. He is of the third kind.
4) A believing man who has wronged himself (with sin and transgression. When he meets the enemy, he displays his sincerity to Allah till he is killed. He is of the fourth kind."[1]

COMMENTARY: The words 'he demonstrates, or is sincere to Allah are the translation of (صدق الله). If the word is (صَدَقَ) (Sadaqa) then it means that the man's courage was strong and proved that he was true in discharging his responsibility that Allah had placed on him. He was steadfast and did not show his back.

If the word is (صدّق) (saddaqah) then it means that he confirmed the truth of Allah though his courage and affirmed His words by participating in jihad (crusade) and enduring all kinds of hardships, seeking reward from Allah. This has reference to Allah's words about the mujahids (crusaders) which this man demonstrates to be true.

The kinds of martyrs named in the hadith include a martyr who was righteous as well as brave and courageous. The first kind was this martyr. Or, a martyr was righteous but not courageous as the second kind was. Or, he was courageous but not righteous and pious and this too is of two kinds one of which was a man with bad deeds but not to the point of transgression for him to be termed a fasiq (sinner, indecent). This was the third kind in the hadith. The second division of the 'courageous but not righteous; was such that his bad deeds outweighed his good, so he falls among the fasiq which is the fourth in the hadith.

Apart from the second kind, every other kind in the hadith displays sincerity to Allah and confirm His truth.

This explanation brings out the meaning of sadaqa Allah as:

'confirmation of the assurance of patience and seeking reward.'

This is also known in the second kind though it is not mentioned about him that he confirmed the truth of Allah.

EVEN THROUGH JIHAD (CRUSADE) A HYPOCRITE IS NO ENTITLED TO PARADISE

(٣٨٥٩) وَعَنْ عُتْبَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ السُّلَمِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْقَتْلَى ثَلَاثَةٌ مُؤْمِنٌ جَاهَدَ بِنَفْسِهِ وَمَالِهِ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَإِذَا لَقِيَ الْعَدُوَّ قَاتَلَ حَتّٰى يُقْتَلَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْهِ فَذَالِكَ الشَّهِيْدُ

3859. Sayyiduna Utbah ibn Abd as Sulami رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Those who are slain (in jihad (crusade)) are of three kinds.

(i) A believer who participates (in jihad (crusade)) with his own self and his property in Allah's path and when he meets the enemy he fights till he is killed." The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said of him. "He is the martyr who has undergone trial and was patient. He will be in a tent under the Throne (and will attain nearness to Allah). The Prophet علیہ السلام will be higher than him in only their prophetic ranks."

(ii) "A believer whose deeds will be (of both kinds) good and bad and he participates (in jihad (crusade)) with his own self and his property in Allah's path and fight when he meets the enemy till he is killed." The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said of him, "Martyrdom purifies, him and erases his sins and lapses. The sword cleans lapses. He will be admitted to paradise by whichever gate he wishes."

(iii) "A hypocrite participates in jihad (crusade) with his own self and his property and when he meet the enemy, he fights till he is killed, (but) this man will go to hell. The sword does not erase hypocrisy."[1]

GUARDING FRONTIERS ATONES FOR BAD DEEDS AND DELIVERS FOREVER

(٣٨٦٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَائِذٍ قَالَ خَرَجَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ جِنَازَةِ رَجُلٍ فَلَمَّا وُضِعَ قَالَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ لَا تُصَلِّ عَلَيْهِ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَإِنَّهٗ رَجُلٌ فَاجِرٌ فَالْتَفَتَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَى النَّاسِ فَقَالَ هَلْ رَآهُ أَحَدٌ مِّنْكُمْ عَلٰى عَمَلِ الْإِسْلَامِ فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ نَعَمْ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ حَرَسَ لَيْلَةً فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَصَلّٰى عَلَيْهِ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَحَثٰى عَلَيْهِ التُّرَابَ وَقَالَ أَصْحَابُكَ يَظُنُّوْنَ أَنَّكَ مِنْ أَهْلِ النَّارِ وَأَنَا أَشْهَدُ أَنَّكَ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْجَنَّةِ وَقَالَ يَا عُمَرُ إِنَّكَ لَا تُسْئَالُ عَنْ أَعْمَالِ النَّاسِ وَلٰكِنْ تُسْئَالُ عَنِ الْفِطْرَةِ رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ۔

3860. Sayyiduna Ibn Aa'idh رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم alongwith the funeral of a man (to offer his funeral salah (prayer)). When it was laid down, Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ submitted, "Do not offer salah (prayer) over him, O Messenger of Allah, because he was a fasiq (Indecent man)." So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم turned to the people and asked them, "Has anyone of you seen him do any deed of Islam (that might indicate that he was a Muslim)?" A man submitted, "Yes, O Messenger of Allah, he stood guard one night in Allah's path." So, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم offered his funeral salah (prayer) and scattered dust over him (at the time for his burial). Then he said (addressing the dead man), "your companions suppose that you are among those who will go to hell, but I testify that you are among those who will enter paradise." Then he said (to umar) رضی الله عنه. "O Umar you will not be questioned about deeds of the people, but you will be questioned about the fitrah (the religion of Islam)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Fitrah implies the symbols of Islam and conviction of faith.
The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم wished to check Umar رضی الله عنه for his boldness in questioning about the dead man's faith. It was undesirable thing. It is not proper to look at a Muslim's outward life and pass judgement about his hereafter. Rather, evidence is what his standard of faith and belief was and whether there was any shortcoming in his belief or in the basic tents of faith. As for deeds, Allah s independent and very Merciful on his slaves.
Teebi explained the Prophet's words to instruct, "Umar, you should not remind anyone of the dead man's bad deeds at this time. Rather, you should speak of his good deeds." He said elsewhere:

أُذْكُرُوا مَوْتَاكُمْ بِالْخَيْرِ

"Remember your dead people with good (qualities of theirs)."
This particular man had done such a deed as is one of the deeds of Islam. It is enough by itself to prove that the doer is a Muslim.

CHAPTER - II

ARRANGING EQUIPMENT FOR JIHAD بَابُ إِعْدَادِ الَةِ الْجِهَادِ

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

PROVIDING STRENGTH AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE FOR JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٨٦١) عَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَهُوَ عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ يَقُوْلُ وَاَعِدُّوْا لَهُمْ مَّا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ مِّنْ قُوَّةٍ۔ اَلَا اِنَّ الْقُوَّةَ الرَّمْيُ اَلَا اِنَّ الْقُوَّةَ الرَّمْيُ اَلَا اِنَّ الْقُوَّةَ الرَّمْيُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3861. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say while he was on the pulpit. "Get ready for them shooting as much strength as you can. Strength is shooting! Strength is shooting (arrows)?"[2]

COMMENTARY: The Quran gives the command in these very words spoken by the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in surah al-Anfal verse # 60. {Prepare against them whatever force you can} The force in his verse is archery.
Baydawi رحمه الله and others say that it is every such thing as gives man prowess to fight in war. Hence, in those days archery was the most powerful from of strength and most easy to use, so it was understood by 'force' or 'strength.'

OBTAIN PROFICIENCY IN THE FORCE USED BY THE ENEMY

(٣٨٦٢) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ سَتُفْتَحُ عَلَيْكُمُ الرُّوْمُ وَيَكْفِيْكُمُ اللّٰهُ فَلَا يُعْجِزُ اَحَدُكُمْ اَنْ يَلْهُوَ بِاَسْهُمِهٖ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3862. Sayyiduna Uqban ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Soon Byzantine will be conquered by you. And, Allah will suffice you (from their mischief). So, none of you should be neglectful in practicing archery."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Byzantines normally used spears in those days, So, the Muslims were instructed to become perfect in archery to combat them. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم also said that they should not give up this practice even after up this practice even after their victory and they should not be arrogant that they had conquered the Byzantines, and stop practicing archery, because it will be necessary always. However, they did not have to resort to archery against the Byzantines because Allah gave them an easy victory.
The Arabic word fort practice of archery is law (Play). It is used in the sense of sport to encourage people to practice it because people are generally more drawn by the name of sport.

IMPORTANCE OF ARCHERY

(٣٨٦٣) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ عَلِمَ الرَّمْيَ ثُمَّ تَرَكَهٗ فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا اَوْ قَدْ عَصٰى۔ (رواه مسلم)

3863. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "If anyone learns archery but abandons it, then he is not one of us." Or (he said), "he has indeed disobeyed."[2]

COMMENTARY: One must learn archery and then keep up the practice, for, giving it up after leaning is worse than not learning.

PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ENCOURAGEMENT TO SHOOT ARROWS

(٣٨٦٤) وَعَنْ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ الْاَكْوَاعِ قَالَ خَرَجَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلٰى قَوْمٍ مِنْ اَسْلَمَ يَتَنَا صَلُوْنَ بِالسُّوْقِ فَقَالَ اِرْمُوْا بَنِيْ اِسْمَاعِيْلَ فَاِنَّ اَبَاكُمْ كَانَ رَامِيًا وَاَنَا مَعَ بَنِيْ فُلَانٍ لِاَحَدِ الْفَرِيْقَيْنِ فَاَمْسَكُوْا بِاَيْدِيْهِمْ فَقَالَ مَا لَكُمْ قَالُوْا كَيْفَ نَرْمِيْ وَاَنْتَ مَعَ بَنِيْ فُلَانٍ قَالَ اِرْمُوْا وَاَنَا مَعَكُمْ كُلِّكُمْ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3864. Sayyiduna Salamah ibn Al-Akwa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came to some people of (Banu) Aslam. They were practicing archery in the market place. He said, "Shoot, son of Ismail, for your ancestor was an archer. And, I am with the Banu so and so," one of the two parties (engaged in the practice). They (the others) then ceased (to carry on against them). He asked, 'What is with you?" They said, "How may we carry on shooting when you support the Banu so and so?"

SHOOTING BY ABU TALHAH رضی اللہ عنہ FOR THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٣٨٦٥) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَ اَبُوْطَلْحَةَ يَتَتَرَّسُ مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِتُرْسٍ وَاحِدٍ وَكَانَ اَبُوْطَلْحَةَ حَسَنَ الرَّمْيِ فَكَانَ اِذَا رَمٰى تَشَرَّفَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَيَنْظُرُ اِلٰى مَوْضِعِ نَبْلِهٖ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3865. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Abu Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ and the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم were using one shield together (in a battle). Abu Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ was an adept archer. (He shot at the enemy very wisely and also protected the Prophet) صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم when he shot (an arrow) the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم looked over (the shield) and watched where his arrow landed (and who was struck).[2]

EXCELLENCE OF HORSES

(٣٨٦٦) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْبَرَكَةُ فِيْ نَوَاصِي الْخَيْلِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3866. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There is blessing in the forelocks of horses."[3]

COMMENTARY: 'Forelocks' refers to the species. Horses are used in jihad (crusade) in which is the good of both the worlds.

(٣٨٦٧) وَعَنْ جَرِيْرِ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ قَالَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَلْوِىْ نَاصِيَةَ فَرَسٍ بِاَصْبَعِهٖ وَهُوَ يَقُوْلُ الْخَيْلُ مَعْقُوْدٌ بِنَوَاصِيْهَا الْخَيْرُ اِلٰى يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ الْاَجْرُ وَالْغَنِيْمَةُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3867. Sayyiduna Jarir ibn Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ (Bajali) narrated that he saw Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم twist the forelock of a horse with his finger and say, "Good is tied to the forelocks of the horses till the day of resurrection. (The honour of participating in jihad (crusade) fetches) reward and spoils."[4]

(٣٨٦٨) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنِ احْتَبَسَ فَرَسًا فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ اِيْمَانًا بِاللّٰهِ وَتَصْدِيْقًا بِوَعْدِهٖ فَاِنَّ شِبْعَهٗ وَرِيَّهٗ وَرَوْثَهٗ وَبَوْلَهٗ فِيْ مِيْزَانِهٖ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3868. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If any one keeps a horse (to use in Allah's path) with faith in Allah and belief in His promise, then (whatever the horse eats or drinks as) its food and drink and its dung and urine will be (weighed for him) in his scale (of deeds) on the day of resurrection."[5]

COMMENTARY: The man's intentions in keeping the horse is to use it in jihad (crusade) against the enemy to please Allah and to obey him and to seek the reward promised by Him.

HORSES WITH SHIKAL DISLIKED

(٣٨٦٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَكْرَهُ الشِّكَالَ فِي الْخَيْلِ وَالشِّكَالُ اَنْ يَكُوْنَ الْفَرَسُ فِيْ رِجْلِهِ الْيُمْنٰى بَيَاضٌ وَفِيْ يَدِهِ الْيُسْرٰى اَوْفِي يَدِهِ الْيُمْنٰى وَرِجْلِهِ الْيُسْرٰى۔ (رواه مسلم)

3869. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم disliked horses with shikal. And shikal is a horse that has a white mark on its right hind leg and left foreleg, or on its right foreleg and left hind leg.[1]

COMMENTARY: The narrator has defined shikal as stated in the hadith. However, the compiler of the Qamus and other linguists say that shikal is a horse with three white legs and the one remaining leg of the same colour as its whole body. Or, it may be the other may about with one white leg and three legs of the same colour as the body.

Actually, shikal is the tether used to bind the horse. So, the horse is compared to it. Perhaps the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like it because of the comparison, or he may have known from experience that such horses are not pedigreed.

Some people say that if the whiteness on a horses forehead is large enough not to be concealed by a thumb then its defect is removed and it is not disliked.

HORSE RACING

(٣٨٧٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَانَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَابَقَ بَيْنَ الْخَيْلِ الَّتِي اُضْمِرَتْ مِنَ الْحَفْيَاءِ وَاَمَدُهَاثَنِيَّةُ الْوَدَاعِ وَبَيْنَهُمَا سِتَّةُ اَمْيَالٍ وَسَابَقَ بَيْنَ الْخَيْلِ الَّتِي لَمْ تُضْمَرْ مِنَ الثَّنِيَّةِ اِلٰى مَسْجِدِ بَنِي زُرَيْقٍ وَبَيْنَهُمَا مِيْلٌ۔ (متفق علیه)

3870. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم organized race between the horses, that had been made lean through training, from al-Hafya to thaniyat ul wada, a distance of six miles. He also organized a race between the horses that had not gone through such training from the Thaniya (ul Wada) to the mosque of Banu Zurayq, a distance of one mile.

COMMENTARY: The 'training is used for the Arabic word (اضمار) or (المرت). The process is to feed the horse heavily hay and grains, etc, to make it strong and sturdy. Then it is given its normal diet. Then it is put in a place and a horse cloth is placed on it so that it feels hot and perspires. When the perspiration dries, it becomes lean but brisk, so its flesh turns light but its speed is swift.

Hafya is a place a few miles from Madina. Thaniyat ul Wada is a mountain. The people of Madinah go up to it to bid farewell to their travellers.

A SHE CAMEL OF THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٣٨٧١) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَتْ نَاقَةٌ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تُسَمّٰى الْعَضْبَاءُ وَكَانَتْ لَاتُسْبَقُ فَجَاءَ

3871. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had a she-camel called Abda, she had never been outpaced by any other (camel). But a villager came (one day) on his young camel (and he raced it against Adba) and put it behind. That was hard on the Muslim, but Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم consoled (them), "It is (a verdict of) Allah's right that whatever rises in the world, He lowers it down."[1]

COMMENTARY: Adba is a she came whose ears are slit or split. The ears of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم she camel were not slit or split, yet it was called Adba. But its ears were naturally short. This she camel was also called Qaswa: But, it is also possible that they were two different she camels

The villagers camel was (قعود) (Qa'ud). It is a young camel making its debut as a riding camel and is worthy of carrying a rider, it may between two years old and six years old. A camel above six years of age of called (جمل) (jaml)

MANUFACTURER OF WEAPONS OF JIHAD (CRUSADE) IN PARADISE

(٣٨٧٢) عَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ تَعَالٰى يُدْخِلُ بِالسَّهْمِ الْوَاحِدِ ثَلَاثَةَ نَفَرٍ الْجَنَّةَ صَانِعَهٗ يَحْتَسِبُ فِيْ صَنْعَتِهِ الْخَيْرَ وَالرَّامِيْ بِهٖ وَمُنَبِّلَهٗ فَارْمُوْا وَارْكَبُوْا وَاَنْ تَرْمُوْا اَحَبُّ اِلَيَّ مِنْ اَنْ تَرْكَبُوْا كُلُّ شَيْءٍ يَلْهُوْ بِهِ الرَّجُلُ بَاطِلٌ اِلَّا رَمْيَهٗ بِقَوْسِهٖ وَتَادِيْبَهٗ فَرَسَهٗ وَمُلَاعَبَتَهُ امْرَاَتَهٗ فَاِنَّهُنَّ مِنَ الْحَقِّ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَزَادَ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَ الدَّارِمِيُّ وَمَنْ تَرَكَ الرَّمْيَ بَعْدَ مَاعَلِمَهٗ رَغْبَةً عَنْهُ فَاِنَّهٗ نِعْمَةٌ تَرَكَهَا اَوْقَالَ كَفَرَهَا۔

3872. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ said that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Surely Allah, the Exalted, admits to paradise three people against one arrow (that is shot at the infidels); the maker whose intention is to earn (sustenance and) reward, the person who shoots it (during jihad (crusade)), and the person who hands it (to the shooter whether from the quiver or having retrieved it from a target). So, shoot and ride, but your shooting is dearer to me than your riding. Everything with which a man (plays and) cheers himself is vain, but not his shooting with his bow, his training of his horse and his playing with his wife, because they concern what is right."

The version of Abu Dawud and Darimi also has: "If anyone gives up archery after learning it well because of being fed up with it, then it is a blessing that he has given up." Or, he said, '(a blessing) for which he showed ingratitude."[2]

COMMENTARY: The saying, 'they concern what is right' includes every such thing as

REWARD FOR ARCHERY

(٣٨٧٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ نَجِيْحٍ السُّلَمِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ بَلَغَ بِسَهْمٍ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَهُوَلَهُ دَرَجَةٌ فِي الْجَنَّةِ وَمَنْ رَمٰى بِسَهْمٍ فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ فَهُوَلَهُ عِدْلُ مُحَرَّرٍ وَمَنْ شَابَ شَيْبَةً فِي الْاِسْلَامِ كَانَتْ لَهُ نُوْرًا يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ وَرَوٰى اَبُوْدَاوُدَ اَلْفَصْلَ الْاَوَّلَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ الْاَوَّلَ والثَّانِيَ وَالتِّرْمِذِيُّ الثَّانِيَ وَالثَّالِثَ وَفِيْ رِوَايَتِهِمَا مَنْ شَابَ شَيْبَةً فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ بَدَلَ فِي الْاِسْلَامِ۔

3873. Sayyiduna Abu Najih Sulami رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "He who shoots an arrow and hits the target in Allah's path will have it as a rank for him in paradise. He who shoots an arrow in Allah's path has it as though he set free someone (be he a male or a female slave). And, he who grows old in Islam (and dies), it is light for him on the day of resurrection." According to a version: instead of 'grows old in Islam,' it is 'grows old in Allah's path.'[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone grows old having faith and belief in Islam, or gets the signs of old age on him, then these are tokens of his having a happy life in the next world. It is a great blessing and favour of Allah for anyone whose entire life to the end is in obedience to Islam.
It is reported about a great righteous man that one day he saw his own face in a mirror and observed sings of old age. His name was Abu Yazid رحمه الله. On, observing that, he could not help say: ظَهَرَ الشَّيْبُ وَلَمْ يَظْهَرِ الْعَيْبُ وَمَا اَدْرِيْ مَافِي الْغَيْبِ

"(Praise belongs to Allah) while old age had sown itself, no shortcoming has manifest itself and I know not what is there in the unseen."

STAKES ARE PERMITTED CONTRIBUTION TO JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٨٧٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا سَبَقَ اِلَّا فِيْ نَصْلٍ اَوْخُفٍّ اَوْ حَافِرٍ۔

(رواه الترمذى وابوداؤد والنسائى)

3874. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger رضى الله عنه said, "Stakes are never permitted for anything, but (for three things): archery. camel-racing and horse racing."[2]

COMMENTARY: The word in the hadith (سبق) (sabaq) refers to the takings from bets. It is evident from this hadith that it is not allowed to bet or use its receipts except for the three things mentioned in this hadith.
However, the jurists expand the scope to other things too that fall in the purview of equipment for jihad (crusade), like donkey, mule, elephant. Some have also included racing between men (on feet) and throwing stones, too.

ABOUT LAYING A WAGES

It must be very clear that placing a bet on winning or losing in any kind of contest or racing is gambling in essence. The reason is that not only ownership but also profit or loss is always uncertain. Indeed, this is what gambling is. However, if a ruler or anyone else in authority or any third person offers to give to the winner some money or (property or) thing, then this is allowed. Similarly, if one of two contestants offers to give money or some thing to the other if he wins, then this is allowed. He may assure the other that if he does not sin, there will be no liability on him.

It will be disallowed if both sides make a bet. This is betting or gambling. But, this too can be lawful if there is a muhalil between the two, as we shall see in the next hadith.

A MUHALLIL INTERVENING IN A CONTEST

(٣٨٧٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَدْخَلَ فَرَسًا بَيْنَ فَرَسَيْنِ فَاِنْ
كَانَ يُؤْمَنُ اَنْ يُسْبَقَ فَلَا خَيْرَ فِيْهِ فَاِنْ كَانَ لَا يُؤْمَنُ اَنْ يُسْبَقَ فَلَا بَأْسَ بِهٖ رَوَاهُ فِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ وَفِيْ
رِوَايَةِ اَبِيْ دَاوٗدَ قَالَ مَنْ اَدْخَلَ فَرَسًا بَيْنَ فَرَسَيْنِ يَعْنِيْ وَهُوَ لَا يَامَنُ اَنْ يُسْبَقَ فَلَيْسَ بِقِمَارٍ وَمَنْ اَدْخَلَ
فَرَسًا بَيْنَ فَرَسَيْنِ وَقَدْ اَمِنَ اَنْ يُسْبَقَ فَهُوَ قِمَارٌ۔

3875. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone puts a horse with two (other) horses and he is certain that it will outstrip then there is not any good in it. But, if he is not sure that it will get ahead then there is no harm in it."

According to another version: He said, "If anyone puts a horse with two (other) horses while he is not sure that it will outstrip (the others) then it is not gambling. But, if anyone puts a horse with two (other) horses and is certain that it will overtake (them), then it is gambling."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone enters his horse with two others then it is a kind of tahlil (which is to make lawful). It makes betting lawful in a contest. The man who does it by introducing his horse is a muhallil. For example, if Zayd and Bakr by a wager on their horses stipulating that the winner would take the money of the bet or something other than money, then this is gambling. But, if a third person intervenes, say, khalid enters his horse on condition that if his horse beats theirs then he would take from the two some money or some thing but if his horse loses, when he would pay nothing. This is tahlil and Khalid is the muhallil. He is so called because that arrangement becomes lawful with his introduction of his horse.

If his horse overtakes theirs, then he will receive the agreed amount from both of them but, if theirs outstrip his, he will not be liable to pay anything to them. As for the two, whichever horse beats the other, its owner will get the specified amount from the loser and it is allowed.

[1] The first section is in Sharh us Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) # 2654. The next in Abu Dawud # 2579, Ibn Majah # 2876, Musnad Ahmad 2-505.

The ulama (Scholars) say, as this hadith makes clear, the muhallil must enter such a horse a sis as good, or nearly as good as the other two horses. However, if the muhallil's horse over takes the other two and he was aware of its superiority then not only is it disallowed but also his introducing his own horse in the contest will make no difference to the nature of the arrangement, for, it does not make it lawful. But, if he did not know that his horse would win or lose against the others two, then it is allowed and it will be tahlil.

In short, if the horse of the muhallil is such as may win or lose the contest then it will be lawful, if not, th i it will be unlawful.

JALAB & JANAB ARE DISALLOWED

(٣٨٧٦) وَعَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاجَلَبَ وَلَا جَنَبَ زَادَ يَحْيٰى فِيْ حَدِيْثِهٖ فِي الرِّهَانِ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَرَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ مَعَ زِيَادَةٍ فِيْ بَابِ الْغَصْبِ۔

3876. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There is no jalab and no janab."

(One of the narrators), yahya added in his narration: fi ar rihan "(In racing horses for a wager)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Jalab refers to the zakah (Annual due charity) collector positioning himself at a distance from habitation and requiring the people to bring to him their properties for valuation.

Janab is that the property-holders take away their animals far away from the city and require the zakah (Annual due charity) collector to go to them for valuation.

Both these alternatives are disallowed, and makruh (disapproved).

In horse racing jalab is that a contestant gets another to follow his horse (that he rides) to shout at it to make it pick up speed. And, janab is to keep another horse at his horses side to enable him to switch horses when his hourse gets tired.

CHARACTERISTIC OF THE BEST HORSE

(٣٨٧٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ قَتَادَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ خَيْرُ الْخَيْلِ الْاَدْهَمُ الْاَقْرَحُ الْاَرْثَمُ ثُمَّ الْاَقْرَحُ الْمُحَجَّلُ طُلُقُ الْيَمِيْنِ فَاِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ اَدْهَمَ فَكُمَيْتٌ عَلٰى هٰذِهِ الشِّيَةِ۔ (رواه الترمذی والدارمی)

3877. Sayyiduna Abu Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "the best kind of horse is the black horse with some whiteness on its forehead and whiteness near its nose. The next best is the horse with some whiteness on its forehead and white legs except its right foreleg (which may not be white). If he horse is not black then it must be a dark bay horse of those combinations (of white as mentioned).[2]

COMMENTARY: The dark bay horse has black tail and mane. The rest of its body is brown.

3878. Sayyiduna Abu Wahb Jushamiy رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "You must keep every dark bay horse with a white forehead and white legs. (If you keep a horse, let it be of this description). Next (to that, you may keep) sorrel horse wit h a white forehead and white legs, or black with white forehead and white legs."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sorrel is also reddish brown but the difference between it and bay horse is that the tail and mane of the latter are black coloured while of the sorrel are red.

(۳۸۷۹) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُمْنُ الْخَيْلِ فِي الشُّقْرِ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

3879. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said." Blessings in horses are in the sorrel (reddish brown) horses."[2]

DO NOT CLIP OFF FORELOCKS, MANE & TAIL OF HORSES

(۳۸۸۰) وَعَنْ عُتْبَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ السُّلَمِيِّ اَنَّهُ سَمِعَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَا تَقُصُّوْا نَوَاصِيَ الْخَيْلِ وَلَا مَعَارِفَهَا وَلَا اَذْنَابَهَا فَاِنَّ اَذْنَابَهَا مَذَابُّهَا وَمَعَارِفُهَا دِفَاءُهَا وَنَوَاصِيْهَا مَعْقُوْدٌ فِيْهَا الْخَيْرُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3880. Sayyiduna Utbah ibn Abd as Sulamiy رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Do not cut the forelocks, manes and tails of horses. Indeed, their tails are their whisks to drive of flies (and the like), their manes give them warmth and blessing is attached to their forelocks."[3]

CARE FOR HORSES

(۳۸۸۱) وَعَنْ اَبِي وَهْبٍ الْجُشَمِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِرْتَبِطُوا الْخَيْلَ وَامْسَحُوا بِنَوَاصِيْهَا وَاَعْجَازِهَا اَوْ قَالَ اَكْفَالِهَا وَقَلِّدُوْهَا وَلَا تُقَلِّدُوْهَا الْاَوْتَارَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3881. Sayyiduna Abu Wahb Jushmiy رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Keep the horses tied, stroke their forelocks and their rumps." (using the worlds (اعجاز) - both are identical in meaning) and put somethings (like a belt) on their necks but do not put bowstrings (on their necks)."[4]

COMMENTARY: To keep horses tied is to keep them ready for jihad (crusade) alert and strong. They should be fed well and trained and taken care of.

They should be kept dust free and clean. In this way, horses become familiar with their owners and find comfort.

During the jahiliyah (ignorance period) bowstrings were tied to a horse's neck to preserve it from evil eye. The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade it to show that a bowstring will not ward

THREE COMMANDS TO PROPHET'S FAMILY

(٣٨٨٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَبْدًا مَامُوْرًا مَا اخْتَصَّنَا دُوْنَ النَّاسِ بِشَيْءٍ إِلَّا بِثَلَاثٍ أَمَرَنَا أَنْ نُسْبِغَ الْوُضُوْءَ وَأَنْ لَا نَأْكُلَ الصَّدَقَةَ وَأَنْ لَا نُنْزِيَ حِمَارًا عَلَى فَرَسٍ۔ (رواه الترمذی والنسائی)

3882. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was bound by command. He never distinguished us over other people except in three things. He commanded us (people of his house) to make ablution thoroughly, not to make sadaqah (charity) (zakah (Annual due charity)) and not to pair an ass with a mare."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم acted on and abided by Allah's command. He did not give instructions on his own. He never preferred any one howsoever close to him over the others, not even the people of his house. But, he gave them three commands to observe. He disallowed pairing an ass with a mare because that makes a species extinct. Besides, a good things is replaced by a poorer breed. This is makruh (disapproved).

Here, a question arises that as far as sadaqah (charity) is concerned, we can understand why only the people of the house are disallowed and the rest of the ummah are permitted to receive it.

However, the other two commands are such that the entire ummah should abide by them:

(i) perfecting ablution, and

(ii) not pairing a male donkey with a mare.

Then, why say that only the people of the house are bound by these command.

The answer is that it is of the nature of wajib (obligatory) on the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم family. Or, this command is more emphatic in their case.

NOTHING MORE: This hadith rejects clearly the idea of the shi'a that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had bestowed certain extraordinary teachings to his people of the house (ahl ul bayt) as he had not taught the rest of the ummah.

Similarly, a previous hadith (# 3416) strongly rejects this idea of the Shi'a which says about Sayyiduna Ali: رضی اللہ عنہ

هَلْ عِنْدَكُمْ شَيْءٌ لَيْسَ فِي الْقُرْآنِ فَقَالَ وَالَّذِيْ فَلَقَ الْحَبَّةَ وَبَرأَ النَّسَمَةَ مَا عِنْدَنَا إِلَّا مَا فِي الْقُرْآنِ إِلَّا فَهْمًا يُعْطِي الرَّجُلُ فِي كِتَابِهِ وَمَا فِي الصَّحِيْفَةِ۔ الحديث۔

(Abu Juhayfah رضی اللہ عنہ asked him:) "Do you have anything in black and white that is not found in the Quran?" He said, "By Him who split the seed and created the soul, I am not aware of anything that is not in the quran. However, we are given an understanding of the Quran that Allah grants to any human being. Some things (rulings) are written down with us."(Bukhari # 111, Tirmidhi # 1417)

DISALLOWED TO PAIR ASS WITH MARE

(٣٨٨٣) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ أُهْدِيَتْ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَغْلَةٌ فَرَكِبَهَا فَقَالَ عَلِيٌّ لَوْ حَمَلْنَا الْحَمِيْرَ عَلَى

(رواہ ابوداؤد والنسائی)

3883. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a female mule was presented to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He rode it, so (Sayyiduna) Ali رضی اللہ عنہ submitted, "If we pair asses with mares, we can have animals of this breed." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Only they do that who know not."[1]

COMMENTARY: People resort to this kind of cross-breeding because they do not realize horses are a superior breed. Or, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم meant that these people are unaware of the rules of Shari'ah (divine law).

This prohibition is by nature nahi karahat, meaning disliked.

SWORD MAY HAVE POMMEL OF SILVER

(٣٨٨٤) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَتْ قَبِيْعَةُ سَيْفِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ فِضَّةٍ۔ (رواہ الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی والدارمی)

3884. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the pommel of the sword of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was of silver.[2]

COMMENTARY: According to Sharh us Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice), it is allowed to decorate the sword and helmet with some silver. But, it is not allowed to use gold to adorn them.

(٣٨٨٥) وَعَنْ هُوْدِ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ مَزِيْدَةَ قَالَ دَخَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ الْفَتْحِ وَعَلٰى سَيْفِهٖ ذَهَبٌ وَفِضَّةٌ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3885. Sayyiduna Hud ibn Abdullah ibn Sa'd رحمہ اللہ reported that his grandfather, Mazidah رضی اللہ عنہ said that on the day of the conquest. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم entered (Makkah) with his sword that had some gold and silver on it.[3]

COMMENTARY: It is not proper to declare on the basis of this hadith that gold may be used on weapons. The reason is that the line of transmission of this hadith is weak.

TO USE DEFENSIVE WEAPONS IN BATTLES IN ALLOWED SIDE BY SIDE WITH TRUST IN ALLAH

(٣٨٨٦) وَعَنِ السَّائِبِ بْنِ يَزِيْدَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ عَلَيْهِ يَوْمَ اُحُدٍ دِرْعَانِ قَدْ ظَاهَرَ بَيْنَهُمَا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد وابن ماجۃ)

3886. Sayyiduna Sa'ib ibn Yazid رضی اللہ عنہ said that during the battle of Uhud, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wore two coats mail, one over the other.[4]

ABOUT THE STANDARDS IN BATTLE

(٣٨٨٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَتْ رَايَةُ نَبِيِّ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَوْدَاءُ وَلِوَاؤُهُ اَبْيَضُ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة)

3887. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the rayah (standard) of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was black and the liwa (banner or smaller flag) was white.[1]

(٣٨٨٨) وَعَنْ مُوْسَى بْنِ عُبَيْدَةَ مَوْلٰى مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْقَاسِمِ قَالَ بَعَثَنِي مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْقَاسِمِ اِلَى الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ لِيَسْأَلَهُ عَنْ رَايَةِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ كَانَتْ سَوْدَاءُ مُرَبَّعَةً مِنْ نَمِرَةٍ۔ (رواه احمد والترمذی وابوداؤد)

3888. Sayyiduna Musa ibn Ubaydah رحمہ اللہ the freedman of Sayyiduna Muhammad ibn Qasim رحمہ اللہ (a tabi'ee) said, "Muhammad ibn Qasim sent me to Bara ibn Aazib رضی اللہ عنہ to ask him about the standard of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He said, 'It was black, square and striped.'"[2]

COMMENTARY: The standard was mostly black, so it looked fully black from after. But it was not full black.

It had white and black stripes and lines. It is said to be nimrah, meaning like leopard that has stripes on its hide.

(٣٨٨٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ دَخَلَ مَكَّةَ وَلِوَاؤُهُ اَبْيَضُ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

3889. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم entered Makkah, his banner was white.[3]

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

MERIT OF HORSES

(٣٨٩٠) عَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ لَمْ يَكُنْ شَيْءٌ اَحَبَّ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَعْدَ النِّسَاءِ مِنَ الْخَيْلِ۔ (رواه النسائی)

3890. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that, after women, nothing was dearer to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم then horses (for the purpose of jihad (crusade)).[4]

TRUE STRENGTH IN BATTLE IS FROM ALLAH

(٣٨٩١) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ كَانَتْ بِيَدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَوْسٌ عَرَبِيَّةٌ فَرَاٰى رُجُلًا بِيَدِهٖ قَوْسٌ

3891. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ reported that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had in his hand a bow of Arab origin. He saw a man (one of the sahabah) رضی اللہ عنہ hold a bow of Persian origin in his hand, so he asked, "What is this? Throw it away. You people must keep this kind of bows of this type (and like it), and spears with shafts. Allah will help you in (raising high the) religion with these things and establish you (in enemy land)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps that sahabi may have imagined that the Persian bow was stronger and more durable, so more useful in battle. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم made it clear to him and all sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم that real strength lied in Allah's favour and triumph in battle depended on Allah's will. Religion is raised high neither with your strength nor with your weapons.

CHAPTER - III

CONDUCT DURING JOURNEY — بَابُ اٰدَابِ السَّفَرِ

In this chapter, ahadith are narrated concerning manners during a journey. These will show how to behave during any kind of journey. It may pertain to an expedition for jihad (crusade), travel for the pilgrimage, or for any other purpose.

There are many forms of conduct for travelling, beginning before the commencement of a journey, during the journey while travelling and while returning from the journey and after returning.

We have explained them. However, the best explanation is found in Ahya ul Uloom.

SECTION I — اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم PREFERRED TO SET OUT FOR JIHAD (CRUSADE) ON THURSDAY

(٣٨٩٢) عَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَرَجَ يَوْمَ الْخَمِيْسِ فِيْ غَزْوَةِ تَبُوْكَ وَكَانَ يُحِبُّ اَنْ يَّخْرُجَ يَوْمَ الْخَمِيْسِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3892. Sayyiduna Ka'b ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم set out on Thursday for the Battle of Tabuk. He (always preferred to set out (on a journey for jihad (crusade)) on Thursday.[2]

COMMENTARY: Tabuk is a place between Madinah and Damascus, on the latitude of Khaybar and Al-Ula. It used to be in the territory of Shaam (Syria) but now is in the limits of al-HIjaz. It is 465 miles from Madinah and it took one month to travel to it from Madinah.

[1] Ibn Majah # 2810.

[2] Bukhari # 2950, Abu Dawud # 2605, Darimi # 2426, Musnad Ahmad 3-455, 456.

In 9AH, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم brought his army here. This is called the Battle of Tabuk. This was the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم last battle.
The version in Abu Dawud Reads: "It was seldom that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not begin his journey for jihad (crusade) on Thursday."
There could be many reasons why the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم usually began his expedition on Thursday.

(i) The pious deeds of the creatures are taken to Allah on Thursday. So the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم wished that the deed of jihad (crusade) should be presented to Allah on the same day.

(ii) The Arabic for Thursday is (خميس) (Khamis). This word is also used for an army. So the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم drew a good omen from it to get victory.

Anyway it is a sunnah (Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم practice) to begin a journey of jihad (crusade) on Thursday. But, the real thing is to make istikharah and place reliance on Allah.
It most be clear, that our predecessors did not begin their journey after consulting the stars, on the basis of astrology. It is stated about Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه that a man who was sitting near him advised him to embark on a journey on a certain day and he named another day when he should not set out. Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه said to him, "If I had a sword by me now, I would have severed your neck. We were regularly in the company of Abu al-Qasim صلى الله عليه وسلم but we never heard any suggestion that we should set out on any particular day or abstain from travelling on any day."
This also establishes that the traditions attributed to Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه, about the moon in the sign of Zodiac, the scorpion and the 'life' or stages of the moon, are baseless and unsound.

DISALLOWED TO TRAVEL ALONE

(٣٨٩٣) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَوْيَعْلَمُ النَّاسُ مَافِي الْوَحْدَةِ مَا أَعْلَمُ مَا سَارَ رَاكِبٌ بِلَيْلٍ وَحْدَهُ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3893. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Were the people to know what I know about the risk of being alone (in a journey), no rider would venture to travel alone in the night."[1]

COMMENTARY: The risk of being alone involves religious as well as worldly losses. The lone traveller misses congregational salah (prayer) and has no sympathizer with him in times of difficulty. Compared to a traveller on foot, rider faces greater difficulty and this is more likely in the night

ANGEL KEEP AWAY IF A CARAVAN HAS A DOG AND A BELL

(٣٨٩٤) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَصْحَبُ الْمَلَائِكَةُ رُفْقَةً فِيْهَا كَلْبٌ وَلَا جَرَسٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3894. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The angels do not accompany a group of travellers who have with them a dog and a bell."[1]

COMMENTARY: These angels do not include those who record a person's deeds and those who give protection. So, the angels who keep away are the angels of mercy.

The dog, here, does not include the watch dog and the dog that guards the animals of the caravan. Both these kinds are allowed.

The bells that are put round the necks of animals are disallowed because they resemble the bells of gangs that summon worshippers. They are also among the garlands on necks of animals that are unlawful. The next two hadith confirm it.

According Sharh us Sunah, a girl came to Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا wearing tinkling anklets. She asked her to remove from her that which keeps the angels away.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had said, "There is a devil with every bell."

DEVIL'S INSTRUMENTS

(٣٨٩٥) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْجَرَسُ مَزَامِيْرُ الشَّيْطَانِ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

3895. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The bell is the devil's flute (or, musical instrument)."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word Mazamir is the plural or mizmar. It is a flute (double reed pipe, flageot, fife). Zamara is to sing while playing the flute, and so is tazmir. The plural form is used in the hadith because the sound of the instrument seems unending and it reverbs rates. The bell is called the devil's flute (mazamir) because it keeps man away from remembrance of Allah and worship of him.

CAMELS MUST NOT BE GARLANDED

(٣٨٩٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي بَشِيْرٍ الْاَنْصَارِيِّ اَنَّهُ كَانَ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ بَعْضِ اَسْفَارِهٖ فَاَرْسَلَ

رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَسُوْلًا لَا تُبْقَيَنَّ فِيْ رَقَبَةِ بَعِيْرٍ قِلَادَةٌ مِنْ وَتَرٍ اَوْ قِلَادَةٌ اِلَّا قُطِعَتْ۔ (متفق علیہ)

3896. Sayyiduna Abu Bashir Ansari رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he had accompanied Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم on one of his journeys. (During it,) Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent a messenger to proclaim (to the men), "Let no belt (or necklace or garland) of bowstring remain on a camel's neck." (Or,) "No being cut off."[3]

COMMENTARY: The sub narrator was unsure whether he spoke the first sentence or the second (without bowstring).

He instructed that the belt should be cut off so that people may not attach bells to it or may presume that it preserves the animals from misfortune. No such thing can avert Divine decree.

RIDING ANIMALS

(٣٨٩٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا سَافَرْتُمْ فِي الْخِصْبِ فَاَعْطُوا الْاِبِلَ حَقَّهَا

3897. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When you travel in time of abundance, et the camels have their right from the ground (to graze for some time during your journey so that they regain their strength). But when you travel in time of drought, go quickly on them (without delaying on the way), When you stop-over in a night, keep to a distance from the roads for the beasts pass from there, and they are (also) frequented by reptiles and poisonous creatures."

Another version says: "when you travel in time of draught (on camels), travel quickly with them while they retain their marrow."[1]

CARE FOR A NEEDY FELLOW TRAVELLER

(٣٨٩٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ بَيْنَمَا نَحْنُ فِي سَفَرٍ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذْ جَاءَهُ رَجُلٌ عَلَى رَاحِلَةٍ فَجَعَلَ يَضْرِبُ يَمِيْنًا وَشِمَالًا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ كَانَ مَعَهُ فَضْلُ ظَهْرٍ فَلْيَعُدْ بِهِ عَلَى مَنْ لَا ظَهْرَ لَهُ وَمَنْ كَانَ لَهُ فَضْلُ زَادٍ فَلْيَعُدْ بِهِ عَلَى مَنْ لَا زَادَ لَهُ قَالَ فَذَكَرَ مِنْ أَصْنَافِ الْمَالِ حَتَّى رَأَيْنَا أَنَّهُ لَا حَقَّ لِأَحَدٍ مِنَّا فِي فَضْلٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3898. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ reported that while they were travelling (once) with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, a man appeared (suddenly) on a riding beast and kept turning to right and left. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone has an extra mount, he should give it to one who does not have any. If any one has surplus provision, he should give it to one who does not have any." He reported that he méntioned many kinds of things (by name) so that they realized that none of them had a right to anything (he possessed) more (than his need and he must give it away to one who had none of it).[2]

COMMENTARY: That man's camel was very tired and hungry and could not stand still at any one place. The man also looked around to find what he needed. The man had nothing for his beast and nothing to eat or feed it and no kind of bedding etc. So the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم urged the people to share their surplus with the needy.

RETURN HOME PROMPTLY ON ACCOMPLISHING YOUR OBJECTIVE

(٣٨٩٩) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ السَّفَرُ قِطْعَةٌ مِنَ الْعَذَابِ يَمْنَعُ أَحَدَكُمْ نَوْمَهُ وَطَعَامَهُ وَشَرَابَهُ فَإِذَا قَضَى نَهْمَتَهُ مِنْ وَجْهِهِ فَلْيُعَجِّلْ إِلَى أَهْلِهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3899. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Travel is a piece of punishment. It deprives one of you of his sleep, his food and his drink. Hence, when he achieves his objective for which he had set out, he should head (home) promptly to his family."[1]

COMMENTARY: Travel is a kind of the chastisement of hell. It is as Allah says:

سَاُرْهِقُهٗ صُعُوْدًا

{Soon will I visit him with a mount of calamities.} (74: 17)

A journey cannot be imagined without physical exertion and fatigue, and anxieties. This was more marked in the age when such means of conveyance as we know today were unheard of. We cannot imagine what travellers endured in those days.

The hadith mentions only two of the hardships. Actually, there are many difficulties that beset a traveller.

CHILDREN WELCOME THE TRAVELLER ON HIS RETURN

(٣٩٠٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا قَدِمَ مِنْ سَفَرٍ تُلُقِّيَ بِصِبْيَانِ اَهْلِ بَيْتِهٖ وَاِنَّهٗ قَدِمَ مِنْ سَفَرٍ فَسُبِقَ بِيْ اِلَيْهِ فَحَمَلَنِيْ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ ثُمَّ جِيْئَ بِاَحَدِ ابْنَيْ فَاطِمَةَ فَاَرْدَفَهٗ خَلْفَهٗ قَالَ فَاُدْخِلْنَا الْمَدِيْنَةَ ثَلَاثَةً عَلٰى دَابَّةٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3900. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Ja'far رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم returned after a journey, he was received by the children of the people of his house. (They would take their children to him.) So, once when he returned after a journey (and was near Madinah), I was presented to him and he picked me up (to sit) in front of him. Then, one of the two sons of Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہ (Hasan رضی اللہ عنہ or Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ was brought and he put him behind him. So, we entered Madinah, the three of us on one beast."[2]

(٣٩٠١) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ اَنَّهٗ اَقْبَلَ هُوَ وَاَبُوْطَلْحَةَ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَمَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَفِيَّةُ مُرْدِفُهَا عَلٰى رَاحِلَتِهٖ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3901. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he and Abu Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ came back with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (from Khaybar). With the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was (Sayyidah) Safiyah رضی اللہ عنہا. He had made her ride behind him on his beast.[3]

COMMENTARY: This was on their return from Khaybar. Sayyidah Safiyah رضی اللہ عنہا was part of the booty and she came to Sayyiduna Dihya Kalbi رضی اللہ عنہ as his share. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم acquired her from him and set her free to marry her. He brought her to Madinah as his co-rider.

THE HOUR AT WHICH THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم RETURNED HOME

(٣٩٠٢) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَطْرُقُ اَهْلَهٗ لَيْلًا وَكَانَ لَايَدْخُلُ اِلَّا غُدْوَةً

اَوْعَشِيَّةً۔ (متفق عليه)

3902. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم did not return (home) to his family during the night. Rather, he came (home in the morning or in the evening.[1]

DO NOT RETURN FROM JOURNEY IN THE NIGHT

(٣٩٠٣) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا اَطَالَ اَحَدُكُمُ الْغَيْبَةَ فَلَا يَطْرُقُ اَهْلَهُ لَيْلًا۔ (متفق عليه)

3903. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When one of you has been away for long (from his home). Let him not return to his family (from the journey) during the night."[2]

COMMENTARY: According to a tradition in Sharh us Sunnah (Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم practice), Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه said that two men returned home during the night after a journey. They found strangers with each of their wives.

(٣٩٠٤) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِذَا دَخَلْتَ لَيْلًا فَلَاتَدْخُلْ عَلٰى اَهْلِكَ حَتّٰى تَسْتَحِدَّ الْمُغِيْبَةُ وَتَمْتَشِطَ الشَّعِثَةُ۔ (متفق عليه)

3904. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If you return (to your city) during the night, do not enter (your home) to your family till the wife whose husband was absent cleans herself and she with dishevelled hair combs herself."[3]

COMMENTARY: It is not proper to return home (after a journey) during the night. It is better to enter in the evening before night in order not to disturb anyone sleeping. Or, ample time is given to them to prepare themselves for the returnee.
Nawawi رحمه الله said that these things use for one who has been away for a long time but if a traveller returns home after a short absence then it does not mater. (see hadith # 3903). Similarly, if a man returns with an army or a caravan whose arrival has been announced for all to know, then he too may go home in the night. However, Mulla Ali Rari رحمه الله said that even in this case, the man should knock at the door wait for a response before entering his home.

MASNUN TO INVITE PEOPLE ON RETURN

(٣٩٠٥) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَمَّا قَدِمَ الْمَدِيْنَةَ نَحَرَ جَزُوْرًا اَوْبَقَرَةً۔ (رواه البخاری ومسلم)

3905. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that when the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم came to Madinah, he slaughtered a camel or a cow.[4]

PROPHET'S HOUR OF RETURN FROM JOURNEY

(٣٩٠٦) وَعَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَقْدَمُ مِنْ سَفَرٍ إِلَّا نَهَارًا فِي الضُّحٰى فَإِذَا قَدِمَ بَدَأَ بِالْمَسْجِدِ فَصَلّٰى فِيْهِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ ثُمَّ جَلَسَ فِيْهِ لِلنَّاسِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3906. Sayyiduna Ka'b in Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم never came back home from a journey but in day time at the hour of duha (forenoon). When he arrived he first went to the mosque and offered two raka'at salah (prayer) (tahiyatul masjid or chaast). He sat there afterwards to meet the people.[1]

COMMENTARY: This was what he did generally but we have seen previously that he came in the morning or evening.

GO TO MOSQUE FIRST OF ALL

(٣٩٠٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ كُنْتُ مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي سَفَرٍ فَلَمَّا قَدِمْنَا الْمَدِيْنَةَ قَالَ لِي ادْخُلِ الْمَسْجِدَ فَصَلِّ فِيْهِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3907. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I was with the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم on a journey. When we returned to Madinah, he instructed me to enter the mosque and offer two raka'at salah (prayer) in it."[2]

COMMENTARY: It is established by the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم deeds as well as words that one returning from a journey must first go to the mosque. It shows respect to the symbols of Allah and one who goes to the mosque visits Allah's house and meets Him who protected him during his journey and brought him to his home safely.

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

BLESSING OF PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم PRAYER FOR THE UMMAH IN THE MORNING

(٣٩٠٨) عَنْ صَخْرِ بْنِ وَدَاعَةَ الْغَامِدِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَللّٰهُمَّ بَارِكْ لِأُمَّتِي فِي بُكُوْرِهَا وَ كَانَ إِذَا بَعَثَ سَرِيَّةً أَوْجَيْشًا بَعَثَهُمْ مِنْ أَوَّلِ النَّهَارِ وَكَانَ صَخْرٌ تَاجِرًا فَكَانَ يَبْعَثُ تِجَارَتَهُ أَوَّلَ النَّهَارِ فَأَثْرٰى وَكَثُرَ مَالُهُ۔ (رواه الترمذی و ابوداؤد والدارمی)

3908. Sayyiduna Sakhr ibn Wada'ah al Aamidiy narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم made this supplication: اَللّٰهُمَّ بَارِكْ لِأُمَّتِي فِي بُكُوْرِهَا
(O Allah, bless my people in their early morning.)
When he sent out a determent or an army, he sent them at the beginning of the day. Sakhr was a merchant. (He hoped to earn the blessing of this supplication, so) he always sent his merchandise as the day began. He become rich and had much wealth.[3]

TRAVELLING BY NIGHT

(۳۹۰۹) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَيْكُمْ بِالدُّلْجَةِ فَاِنَّ الْاَرْضَ تُطْوٰى بِاللَّيْلِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3909. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "You must travel by night because the earth is rolled up by night."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم meant that man must not content himself by travelling only during day time. Rather, he must travel somewhat during the night also because the earth is traversed easily by night. The distance seems to shrink and the journey seems shorter.

It does not mean that a traveller must not travel by day. Rather, other ahadith call upon him to begin his journey in the morning, and travel at end of the day. Some distance he may cover during the night, too.

MINIMUM OF THREE MUST TRAVEL TOGETHER

(۳۹۱۰) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الرَّاكِبُ شَيْطَانٌ وَالرَّاكِبَانِ شَيْطَانَانِ وَالثَّلَاثَةُ رَكْبٌ۔ رَوَاهُ مَالِكٌ وَالتِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ۔

3910. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله narrated from his father from his grandfather that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "A lone rider is a devil. Two riders are two devils, but three are (a group of) riders."[2]

COMMENTARY: Three riders are safe from the deceit of the devil. In other words, it is not allowed to less than three riders to undertake a journey Three will be able to offer congregational salah (prayer). If one of the three has to go somewhere, two will be together and if he is delayed, one of the two will try to find him and the other will look after their luggage.

MAKE ONE AMIR OUT OF TWO OR MORE CO-TRAVELLERS

(۳۹۱۱) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِ نِ الْخُدْرِيِّ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِذَا كَانَ ثَلَاثَةٌ فِيْ سَفَرٍ فَلْيُؤَمِّرُوْا اَحَدَهُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3911. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "If (for example) there are three people on a journey, they should appoint one of them as their amir (leader)."[3]

COMMENTARY: This command applies to a group, the minimum of which is three. But, it also applies to two people travelling together.

The amir will be responsible to settle disputes during the journey. He should be the well wisher of all members of the group and their sympathizer, but he should not take into his head that he is a leader and powerful. Rather, he should serve the others as their servant. It is as said:

سَيِّدُ الْقَوْمِ خَادِمُهُمْ

(The chief of a people is their servant).

THE BEST CO-TRAVELLERS

(٣٩١٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ خَيْرُ الصَّحَابَةِ اَرْبَعَةٌ وَخَيْرُ السَّرَايَا اَرْبَعُمِائَةٍ وَخَيْرُ الْجُيُوْشِ اَرْبَعَةُ اٰلَافٍ وَلَنْ يُغْلَبَ اثْنَا عَشَرَاَلْفًا مِنْ قِلَّةٍ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابُوْدَاوُدَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

3912. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The best number of companions (in a journey) are (at least) four. The best number in a small army is four hundred (warriors). The best number in a large army is four thousand (warriors), and twelve thousand will not be trounced because of smallness of number."[1]

COMMENTARY: The four companions in a journey are preferred because if, say. One of them is near death, he may give final instructions to one and the other two will be witnesses. But, the ulama (Scholars) say that five are better than four, and, in fact, the more the better. Then hadith mentions four to give the minimum number.
An army of twelve thousand will not be defeated because of number, but say suffer defeat for some other reason, like arrogance.

THE PROPHET'S CONDUCT WITH HIS TRAVELLERS

(٣٩١٣) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَتَخَلَّفُ فِي الْمَسِيْرِ فَيُزْجِي الضَّعِيْفَ وَيُرْدِفُ وَيَدْعُوْلَهُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3913. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم kept to the near when traveling (out of humbleness and desire to help the weak). He encouraged the weak (by urging on their beasts). And, (if any weak one was without a riding beast,) he took up such a one behind him. And, he made supplication for all of them.[2]

ON ARRIVAL AT DESTINATION ALL TRAVELLERS MUST STOP SOMEWHERE

(٣٩١٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ ثَعْلَبَةَ الْخُشَنِيِّ قَالَ كَانَ النَّاسُ اِذَا نَزَلُوْا مَنْزِلًا تَفَرَّقُوْا فِي الشِّعَابِ وَالْاَوْدِيَةِ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ تَفَرُّقَكُمْ فِيْ هٰذِهِ الشِّعَابِ وَالْاَوْدِيَةِ اِنَّمَا ذٰلِكُمْ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ فَلَمْ يَنْزِلُوْا بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ مَنْزِلًا اِلَّا انْضَمَّ بَعْضُهُمْ اِلٰى بَعْضٍ حَتّٰى يُقَالَ لَوْ بُسِطَ عَلَيْهِمْ ثَوْبٌ لَعَمَّهُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 2611, Tirmidhi # 1555, Darimi # 2438.
[2] Abu Dawud # 2639.

3914. Sayyiduna Abu Tha'labah Khushaniy رضی اللہ عنہ said that when the people (meaning the sahabah) رضی اللہ عنہ stopped at a manzil (a stage of journey), they scattered in a passes and valleys (each away from the other). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Your breaking up (in this way) in the passes and valleys is only (a suggestion) from the devil (to keep you apart)." After that, they stayed in close proximity to each other whenever they broke journey so much so that it was said, "were a piece of cloth to be spread over them it would cover all of them![1]

AN EXAMPLE OF THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم MODESTY

(٣٩١٥) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ كُنَّا يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ كُلُّ ثَلَاثَةٍ عَلٰى بَعِيْرٍ فَكَانَ اَبُوْلُبَابَةَ وَعَلِيُّ بْنُ اَبِيْ طَالِبٍ

زَمِيْلَيْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فَكَانَتْ اِذَا جَاءَتْ عُقْبَةُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ

نَحْنُ نَمْشِيْ عَنْكَ قَالَ مَا اَنْتُمَا بِاَقْوٰى مِنِّيْ وَمَا اَنَا بِاَغْنٰى عَنِ الْاَجْرِ مِنْكُمَا۔ (رواہ فی شرح السنۃ)

3915. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that at the battle of Badr, they were three men to a camel. (they took turns to ride it) (Sayyiduna) Abu Lubabah رضی اللہ عنہ and (Sayyiduna) Ali رضی اللہ عنہ were co-travellers with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He added that when it was the turn of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to alight, they would submit, 'we shall walk instead of you." He would say "Neither are you stronger than I am (in this world that I should not walk) not am I less in need of the reward (of the hereafter) then you are."[2]

COMMENTARY: This is an example of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم modesty and humbleness. He was very mindful of the comfort of his companions. He was innocent as Allah's Messenger and Prophet, yet he expressed need of Allah's reward as His servant.

BACKS OF ANIMALS ARE NOT PULPITS

(٣٩١٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا تَتَّخِذُوْا ظُهُوْرَ دَوَابِّكُمْ مَنَابِرَ فَاِنَّ اللّٰهَ

تَعَالٰى اِنَّمَا سَخَّرَهَا لَكُمْ لِتُبَلِّغَكُمْ اِلٰى بَلَدٍ لَمْ تَكُوْنُوْا بَالِغِيْهِ اِلَّا بِشِقِّ الْاَنْفُسِ وَجَعَلَ لَكُمُ الْاَرْضَ فَعَلَيْهَا

فَاقْضُوْا حَاجَاتِكُمْ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

3916. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not take the backs of your beast as pulpits, for, Allah, the exalted, has subjugated them to you only to convey you to a town (or place) where you could not have reached without hardship. He has created the earth for you. So on it get your needs fulfilled."[3]

COMMENTARY: Ride the animals but do not stand on their backs to talk. This command applies when the animal is mean only for riding and no other purpose. If it is kept for other uses, then there is no harm in it. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had delivered the sermon at the

CARE FOR ANIMALS

(٣٩١٧) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كُنَّا اِذَا نَزَلْنَا مَنْزِلًا لَا نُسَبِّحُ حَتّٰى نُحِلَّ الرِّحَالَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3917. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that whenever they alighted at a manzil (during the journey or at the end of it), they did not offer (optional) salah (prayer) till they had unloaded the animals.[1]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic words (سبحه) (sabbahah) and (تسبيح) (tasbih) are often applie to supererogatory salah (prayer). Some authorities maintain that here the word (سبح) refers t the salah (prayer) of duha (or chaast) for, normally they halted at this hour. Anyway, th sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم were more careful of the animals though the were very particular about offering salah (prayer).

RIGHTS OF PEOPLE

(٣٩١٨) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ قَالَ بَيْنَمَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَمْشِي اِذْجَاءَهُ رَجُلٌ مَعَهٗ حِمَارٌ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ ارْكَبْ وَتَأَخَّرَ الرَّجُلُ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا اَنْتَ اَحَقُّ بِصَدْرِ دَابَّتِكَ اِلَّا اَنْ تَجْعَلَهٗ لِي قَالَ جَعَلْتُهٗ لَكَ فَرَكِبَ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

3918. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that while Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was walking, a man came on his donkey and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, come, ride!" At the same time he moved behind (to make space in the font for him). But, he said, "No! You have a greater right over the main seat (in front) of your animal unless you surrender that right to me." He submitted, "I have given the right to it to you."[2]

COMMENTARY: This again proves that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم cared for rights of other people and did not mind if he had to sit behind.

DEVIL'S CAMEL & DEVIL'S HOUSE

(٣٩١٩) وَعَنْ سَعِيْدِ بْنِ اَبِي هِنْدٍ عَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تَكُوْنُ اِبِلٌ لِلشَّيَاطِيْنِ وَبُيُوْتٌ لِلشَّيَاطِيْنِ فَاَمَّا اِبِلُ الشَّيَاطِيْنِ فَقَدْ رَاَيْتُهَا يَخْرُجُ اَحَدُكُمْ بِنَجِيْبَاتٍ مَعَهٗ قَدْ اَسْمَنَهَا فَلَا يَعْلُوا بَعِيْرًا مِنْهَا وَيَمُرُّ بِاَخِيْهِ قَدِ انْقُطِعَ بِهٖ فَلَا يَحْمِلُهٗ وَاَمَّا بُيُوْتُ الشَّيَاطِيْنِ فَلَمْ اَرَهَا كَانَ سَعِيْدٌ يَقُوْلُ لَا اُرَاهَا اِلَّا هٰذِهِ الْاَقْفَاصَ الَّتِي يَسْتُرُ النَّاسُ بِالدِّيْبَاجِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "som camels become camels of the devils and some houses become possessions of th devils. As for the camels of the devils, indeed, I have seen them. One of you goe out with excellent she-camels that he has fattered. But, he does not ride any of ther and does not offer to carry a tired (Muslim) brother he meet (on the way and wh has no means of conveyance). As for the houses of the devils, I have not seen them. The narrator Sa'eed رحمه الله said, "I suppose they are the cages that the people concea with brocade."[1]

COMMENTARY: The camels are meant to carry people and their belongings and to h people who have no conveyance of their own. But, if anyone keeps them as prize prop never to be used, then he obeys the devil and pleases him. So, the camel is said to belon the devil. This is evidence that it is disallowed to maintain a horse with the some purp of showing off it becomes the devil's horse.

Some people hold that the portion of the hadith from its words; "As for the camels of devil.." (to the end) are words of Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه and the Prophet's الله علیه وسلم hadith ends before that at his words. "..possessions of the devil." But, Mulla Ali Qari الله and some others disagree and say that the Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم words end at 'I have seen them,' (The full hadith.)

The houses of the devils are the houses, that are decorated with brocade or their walls. are adorned with brocade. The houses themselves are not condemned but it is disallov to adorn them with brocade. It is extravagance as well as arrogance.

DO NOT OCCUPY MUCH SPACE WHEN ENCAMPING.

٣٩٢٠) وَعَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ مُعَاذٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ قَالَ غَزَوْنَا مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَضَيَّقَ النَّاسُ الْمَنَازِلَ وَقَطَعُوا لطَّرِيْقَ فَبَعَثَ نَبِيُّ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُنَادِيًا يُنَادِىْ فِي النَّاسِ اِنَّ مَنْ ضَيَّقَ مَنْزِلًا اَوْقَطَعَ طَرِيْقًا لَا جِهَادَ لَهٗ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3920. Sayyiduna Sahl ibn Mu'adh رحمه الله reported from his father that they had gon on an expedition with the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم. The people occupied much spac (when they encamped) so that they encroached on the road. So, Allah's Messenge صلی الله علیه وسلم sent a crier to announce to the people, 'whoso makes the place cramped or encroaches on the road (to cause difficulty to others) will not earn reward fo jihad (crusade)."[2]

ideal time for a man to go to his family when he comes back from a journey is just as the night approaches."[1]

COMMENTARY: This applies when the journey is short. If it is a long journey, then the previous command applies, not to return home during the night unless, as Nawawi رحمه الله said, the family has been previously informed of their man's expected arrival.
Some people say that to go to his family means to go to his wife and have sexual intercourse with her in the early part of the night and then go to sleep and rest, having thereby given the right of his wife too.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

MANNER OF PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم REST IN THE NIGHT DURING A JOURNEY

(٣٩٢٢) عَنْ اَبِيْ قَتَادَةَ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا كَانَ فِيْ سَفَرٍ فَعَرَّسَ بِلَيْلٍ اِضْطَجَعَ عَلٰى يَمِيْنِهٖ وَاِذَا عَرَّسَ قُبَيْلَ الصُّبْحِ نَصَبَ ذِرَاعَهٗ وَوَضَعَ رَأْسَهٗ عَلٰى كَفِّهٖ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3922. Sayyiduna Abu Qatadah رضی الله عنه said that when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم encamped (anywhere in (the last portion of) the night (before dawn), he say down on his right side. And when he encamped a little before dawn, he raised his (right) fore arm and put his head on its palm.[2]

MERIT OF BEGINNING JOURNEY IN THE MORNING

(٣٩٢٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ بَعَثَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَبْدَاللّٰهِ بْنَ رَوَاحَةَ فِيْ سَرِيَّةٍ فَوَافَقَ ذٰلِكَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ فَغَدَا اَصْحَابُهٗ وَقَالَ اَتَخَلَّفُ وَ اُصَلِّيْ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثُمَّ اَلْحَقُهُمْ فَلَمَّا صَلّٰى مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَاٰهُ فَقَالَ مَامَنَعَكَ اَنْ تَغْدُوَمَعَ اَصْحَابِكَ فَقَالَ اَرَدْتُ اَنْ اُصَلِّيَ مَعَكَ ثُمَّ اَلْحَقَهُمْ فَقَالَ لَوْ اَنْفَقْتَ مَافِي الْاَرْضِ جَمِيْعًا مَا اَدْرَكْتَ فَضْلَ غَدْوَتِهِمْ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

3923. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم sent (Sayyiduna) Abdullah Ibn Rawahah رضی الله عنه with a Sariyah (small army), that coincided with a Friday. His companions departed in the morning but he stayed behind (saying to himself or confiding with his companion that he had decided) to offer salah (prayer) with Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and then join them .when he had offered salah (prayer) with Allah' Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, he saw him and asked, "What prevented you from going out in the morning with your companions? "He submitted, "I intended to offer salah (prayer) with you and then join them. "He said, "were you too spend all that is on earth, you would not be able to earn as much reward as they earned by going out in the morning. "[3]

3924. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The angles (of mercy) do not accompany caravan that has a leopard skin in it."[1] (it may be used to sit on ,or for any other purpose, but its use has a smack of arrogance.)

AMIR SHOULD ACT AS SERVANT OF FELLOW-TRAVELLERS

(٣٩٢٥) وَعَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَيِّدُ الْقَوْمِ فِي السَّفَرِ خَادِمُهُمْ فَمَنْ سَبَقَهُمْ بِخِدْمَةٍ لَمْ يَسْبِقُوْهُ بِعَمَلٍ إِلَّا الشَّهَادَةَ۔ رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِي شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ۔

3925. Sayyiduna sahl ibn Saad رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The chief of the people on a journey is their servant. So he who overtakes them in serving them, no one else can overtake him through any deed, except through martyrdom."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Amir and the ruler must serve the people. He must keep an eye on what is to their advantage. He must make allowances for their apparent and unseen conditions. Some people says that who ever is occupied in service to his people or associates, is truly their chief because of the huge reward he earns though outwardly. He might be the meanest of the lot. The reason is that nothing is more excellent than service to the people, except martyrdom in Allah's path.

CHAPTER - IV

WRITING TO THE INFIDELS & INVITING THEM TO ISLAM

بَابُ الْكِتَابِ إِلَى الْكُفَّارِ وَدُعَائِهِمْ إِلَى الْإِسْلَامِ

Allah has placed the responsibility to propagate Islam and his commands on those people who believe in Him as the true master of this universe and its sovereign, and obey his revealed book. They are charged with bringing back the misled from the wrong path and ways if destruction to the obedience or the one God and to its straight path. They should thus raise aloft the standard of Allah' religion and His name.

Then, if the infidels do not heed the preaching and continue to be rebellious and obstinate and make bold to try to pull down the standard of this religion and obstruct the implementation of the command of Allah, arms should be taken up against them because they mean to spread mischief in the land. They should be fought till they give up obstinacy and rebellion and submit to the supreme rule of Allah, the one. Or, thev should become compelled to pay the jizyah to the Islamic State and agree to live as its faithful citizens. (Jizyah is a head tax imposed by Islam on non-muslims when they are under Muslim rule.)

IT IS WAJIB (OBLIGATORY) TO FIRST INVITE THE DISBELIEVER TO ISLAM BEFORE DECLARING WAR ON THEM

Islam has made it binding that war should not be declared against its opponents till they are invited to Islam. It is wajib (obligatory) to do so and unlawful to fight them before that, provided they have not been previously invited to Islam. But, if they had been invited already then it is mustahab (desirable) to repeat the invitation.

[1] Abu Dawud # 4130

[2] Bayhagi in Shuab-ul-Eeman # 8407

There are many ways to invite people to Islam. Writing letter is one of the ways. Generally, heads of state, Kings and chiefs are invited to Islam by writing letters to them. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wrote to many non-muslim Kings and head of state, calling them to give up the wrong path of destruction and follow the straight path of Islam. Among those to whom he wrote these letters were the Emperor of Rome (Qaysar), the chosroes (Kisra of Persia) and the Negus (Najasi) of Ethiopia.

It is reported that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came to Madina after the peace treaty of Hudabiyah, and decided to write these letters, the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم submitted to him that the Kings of Rome and Iran do not regard any epistle as authentic unless a seal is affixed to it. So he instructed that a ring of silver be prepared and that it should have an inscription in three lines (bearing the words Muhammad Messenger of Allah in this order):

(الله) Allah
(رسول) Messenger (of)
(محمد) Muhammad.

This is how he sent letters to the kings and put the seal of his name on them.
Tabarani has reported the saying of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم:

بَابُ اَلْكِتَابِ إِلَى الْكُفَّارِ وَدُعَائِهِمْ إِلَى الْإِسْلَامِ۔

(The seal is the greatness of the letter).

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم LETTER TO QAYSAR OF ROME

(٣٩٢٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَتَبَ إِلَى قَيْصَرَ يَدْعُوْهُ إِلَى الْإِسْلَامِ وَبَعَثَ بِكِتَابِهِ إِلَيْهِ دِحْيَةَ الْكَلْبِيِّ وَاَمَرَهُ اَنْ يَدْفَعَهُ إِلَى عَظِيْمِ بُصْرىٰ لِيَدْفَعَهُ إِلَى قَيْصَرَ فَإِذَا فِيْهِ بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ الرَّحْمٰنِ الرَّحِيْمِ مِنْ مُحَمَّدٍ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ وَرَسُوْلِهِ إِلَى هِرَقْلَ عَظِيْمِ الرُّوْمِ سَلَامٌ عَلَى مَنِ اتَّبَعَ الْهُدىٰ اَمَّا بَعْدُ فَإِنِّيْ اَدْعُوْكَ بِدَاعِيَّةِ الْإِسْلَامِ اَسْلِمْ تَسْلَمْ وَاَسْلِمْ يُوْتِكَ اللّٰهُ اَجْرَكَ مَرَّتَيْنِ وَاِنْ تَوَلَّيْتَ فَعَلَيْكَ إِثْمُ الْاَرِيْسِيِّيْنَ وَيَا اَهْلَ الْكِتَابِ تَعَالَوْا إِلَى كَلِمَةٍ سَوَاءٍ بَيْنَنَا وَبَيْنَكُمْ اَنْ لَا نَعْبُدَ إِلَّا اللّٰهَ وَلَا نُشْرِكَ بِهِ شَيْئًا وَلَا يَتَّخِذَ بَعْضُنَا بَعْضًا اَرْبَابًا مِّنْ دُوْنِ اللهِ فَإِنْ تَوَلَّوْا فَقُوْلُوا اشْهَدُوْا بِاَنَّا مُسْلِمُوْنَ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِمُسْلِمٍ قَالَ مِنْ مُحَمَّدٍ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ وَقَالَ إِثْمُ الْيَرِيْسِيِّيْنَ وَقَالَ بِدِعَايَةِ الْإِسْلَامِ۔ (بخاری ومسلم)

3926. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wrote to Qaysar (The Emperor of Rome) inviting him to Islam. He sent (Sayyiduna) Dihyah رضی اللہ عنہ kalbi with his letter to him instructing him to hand it over to the governor of Busra to farward it to Qaysar (Heraclius)
It read: بسم اللہ الرحمن الرحیم

"In the name of Allah, the compassionate, the merciful."
From Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم, servant of Allah and his Messenger, to Heraclius, the chief of Rome (Byzantines).
Peace be on those who seek guidance! To proceed! I invite you to Islam (to give testimony).Accept Islam and you will be safe. Accept Islam. Allah will give you your reward twice over (for believing in your Prophet عليه السلام and for believing in me).But, if you veer (and do not accept Islam)you will bear the sin of your subjects(and your own, too).
{Say: O people of the book ! come now to aword common between us and you that we shall worship none but Allah and that we shall not associates anything with Him, and that none of us shall take others as Lord besides Allah.' If they turn back, then say, 'Bear witness that we are Muslims.'}" (3: 64)
Another version in muslim has 'Muhammad Messenger of Allah' instead of 'Muhammad servant of Allah and His Messenger', and 'sin of al-yarisiyin' instead of 'sin of alarsiyin', and 'bi-di ayatil Islam' instead of 'bidaiyatil Islam.'[1]

COMMENTARY: When the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was sent, the Roman Empire was a sup power in the world. Its capital was Constantinople. Apart from different countries Europe, Syria, Palestine and Egypt were under its dominion.
Qaysar was the title of their Emperor just as the King of Persia (Iran) was Kisra (Chosroe of Ethiopia Najashi (Negus), of Turkey Khaqan, of Qubt firawn (Pharaol),of Egy Aziz,and of Himyar Taba. (تبع),
The Emperor of Rome when the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was commissioned and to whom had written a letter was Heracluis (Hiraq).He was not only a great , glorious King but also was a scholar of Torah and the Injil.
Dihya Kalbi رضى الله عنه, companion of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم,had the great distinction th jibril عليه السلام often came in his form.
Busra (بصرى) was a city in Shaam (Syria). It was a flourishing trade centre. Of the two tra journeys undertaken by the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in his early years, one was made to this city
The letter was carried by Sayyiduna Dihyah Kalbi رضى الله عنه,as an envoy, to the Qaysar in ea 6AH OR 7 AH. Traditions and historical accounts confirm that the Qaysar was high impressed by the letter and did bear witness to the Prophethood of Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم. His heart was brightened with the light of Islam, but fear of his courtiers and subjects and of losing the throne and the crown put off that light and he did not embra Islam. In fact, he did say to Dihyah رضى الله عنه, "Muhammad is truly the one whom we await.
Ibn Maalik رحمه الله said that this hadith gives an example of how a letter should be written. should begin with Bismillah followed by the writer's name.
Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله said that the veise of the Quran (27: 30):

إِنَّهُ مِن سُلَيْمَانَ وَإِنَّهُ بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَٰنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Suggests it .

Since Heraclius was a non Muslim, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not write عليه السلام (Peace be on you). Rather, be adopted the eloquent style: (سلام على من اتبع الهدى)
(Peace be on him who follows guidance).
It indicates that a non-Muslim may be addressed initially with a suggestion of salaam.

KISRA'S BAD CONDUCT BROUGHT DESTRUCTION ON HIM

(٣٩٢٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَعَثَ بِكِتَابِهٖ إِلٰى كِسْرٰى مَعَ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ حُذَافَةَ السَّهْمِيِّ فَأَمَرَهٗ أَنْ يَدْفَعَهٗ إِلٰى عَظِيْمِ الْبَحْرَيْنِ فَدَفَعَهٗ عَظِيْمُ الْبَحْرَيْنِ إِلٰى كِسْرٰى فَلَمَّا قَرَأَ مَزَّقَهٗ قَالَ ابْنُ الْمُسَيَّبِ فَدَعَا عَلَيْهِمْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنْ يُمَزَّقُوْا كُلَّ مُمَزَّقٍ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3927. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas صلى الله عليه وسلم narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم sent his letter to Kisra (Chosroes) at the hands of (Sayyiduna) Abdullah ibn Hudhafah صلى الله عليه وسلم Sahmi instructing him to give it to the governor of Bahrain. So, the governor of Bahrain delivered it to Kisra who on reading it tore it to pieces. Ibn Musayyib (a narrator of this hadith) said that Allah's صلى الله عليه وسلم Messenger , then invoked a curse on them that they might be torn to bits.[1]

COMMENTARY: Like the Roman Empire, Persia too was an ancient monarchy and a great Kingdom of Asia. Its borders extended from Sinsh to Iraq and most of the Arab lands, Yemen, Bahrain and Oman (or Uman). Like its neighbours, it was Morally bankrupt. They had two goods, Yazdan and Ahaman, of piety and evil. Their main religion was fire worship. The King was called Khusru (Chosroes) for which the Arabic word was Kisra.
The letter of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was sent to the one named Parwez. He was the son of Harmuz ibn Nawshirwan.
It was their custom that letters addressed to the King had the King's name before all other matter, but since the letter of صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet began with Allah's name (Bismillah) followed by the صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet's name, Khusru Parwez was irritated and asked, "How dare my slave write to me in this manner?" And, in his rage, he tore up the letter. when the envoy of Allah's صلى الله عليه وسلم Messenger reported this conduct to him, he said, "His Kingdom will come to end in like manner". Shortly thereafter, as reported by Tabari, Parwez was Killed by his son Shiruyah on 13th Jumadiul Awwal 7AH (6296) in the night. Six months thereafter, he too died, and this collapse continued so that the ancient dynasty of thousands of years ended suddenly in tatters.

PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم WROTE TO EVERY HEAD OF STATE

(٣٩٢٨) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَتَبَ إِلٰى كِسْرٰى وَإِلٰى قَيْصَرَ وَإِلَى النَّجَاشِيِّ وَإِلٰى كُلِّ جَبَّارٍ يَدْعُوْهُمْ إِلَى اللّٰهِ وَلَيْسَ بِالنَّجَاشِيِّ الَّذِيْ صَلّٰى عَلَيْهِ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3928. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that the صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet write letters to the Kisra (Chosroes of Iran), to the Qaysar of Rome),to the Najashi (Negus of Ethiopia) and to every dominant, proud ruler, inviting them to Allah (meaning to the religion of Islam). But, the Najashi was not the same Najashi whose funeral s..lah (prayer) the صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet had offered (in absentia, in Madinah).[1]

COMMENTARY: The concluding portion of the hadith makes clear that the letter of the صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet was sent to a Najashi preceding the Najashi Ashamah who had accorded a warm welcome to the Muslim emigrants to Ethiopia, and had obeyed the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "A righteous man, your brother Ashamah is dead. Get up. Offer his funeral salah (prayer)." And, he led his funeral salah (prayer) in absentia.

However, some scholars say that it is not necessary to make this clarification. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, they say, had written to both the Najashis. His first letter was to Ashamah and the next to his successor. But, it is not known for certain whether the second Najashi became a Muslim, or not.

We have spoken already about the Qaysar and Kisra. Let us now say something about the Najashi. Ethiopia (or Abyssinia) is to the south of Arabia in Eastern Africa. The King of this place when prophet hood was granted to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was named Ashamah. They were all Christians.

The Arabic name of their country is Habsh. The Greek version is Ethiopia. It is known presently too as Ethiopia. In their language (Habshi) the King is called Negus for which the Arabic is Najashi.

The Islamic history remember the Ethiopia of that time with respect and honour and gratitude. When the people of Makkah, the Quraysh, had made life difficult for the Muslims, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلمpermitted muslim to emigrate to Ethiopia and they opened their gates for the Muslims generously.

The first batch of the Muslim to emigrate to Ethiopia was led by Sayyiduna Uthman رضی الله عنه.The second batch followed under the leader ship of Sayyiduna Jafar Tayyar رضی الله عنه elder brother of Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه.The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sent a letter at Jafar,s رضی الله عنه hands address to the Najashi. Some historians say that this was the first of the letters of the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم not only did it invite the Najashi to Islam but he was advice to shun arrogance as a ruler and treat the Muslims emigrants with humility and humbleness.

The Quraysh of Makkah were not willing to let Muslim live in peace even in Ethiopia. So they sent a high profile delegation. Under the leader ship of an astute man of the statesmanship of Amar Ibn Aas to request and convince the Najashi to throw out the Muslim emigrants. They said to him," Their people have strange beliefs which neither we know nor you."

He interviewed the emigrants and Sayyiduna Jafar Tayyar رضی الله عنه delivered a comprehensive speech outlining the beliefs of Islam. his speech was bold and is a precious asset of Islamic history and an elegant example of literacy composition. He said:

" O King! We were an ignorant people, uncivilised. we worshipped idols and we ate dead animals and perpetrated wicked deeds. We ill treated our neighbours. Brother tormented brother, and the stronger among us devoured the weak. Then Allah caused one. It grow amongst us of whose nobility, truth and trust worthiness. We were aware already. He invited us to Islam and taught us to renounce idol worship, to speak the truth, to desist from bloodshed and from devouring the property of orphans, to let neighbours be at peace and to refrain from vilifying chaste women. He command us to offer salah (prayer), observe fasting and pay zakat. We believed him and refrained from associating anything with Allah. We gave up idol-worship and all abominations. It is for this reason that our people became our enemies and they insist that we should return to the old misguided ways.[1]

The Najashi has deeply impressed by this speech. He gave a categorical answer to the men of Quraysh, saying," I shall not turn back these pure, righteous people or hand them over to the oppressors to oppress them."

AGAIN A LETTER: Toward the end of 6AH,the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم returned to Madinah from Hudaybiyah. In Muharram 7AH (corresponding to 629CE),he wrote letters to various Kings and once again to the Najashi of Ethiopia. It was carried by his envoy Amr Ibn Umayyah Damri رضى الله عنه.When he went to his court, he first delivered a speech expressing gratitude for kindness to the Muslim emigrants. He propagated Islam in a very strong manner. Then he said:
"Like me, there are other envoys whom the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has sent to other sovereigns imiting them to Islam. But, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has more hopes from you than from any other King. He is convinced that you will maintain your piety and righteousness to aim for reward from Allah."
The Najashi who had heard the heart rendering speech of Jaffer Tayyar رضى الله عنه was also moved by Amir رضى الله عنه's preaching. He came down from the throne and sat on the floor. He took the letter, kissed it and touched it to his eyes. Then, he asked the interpreter to read it to him. he heard the letter and was very impressed. He took it in his hands, kissed it and placed it on his head. Then he exclaimed:

اَشْهَدُ اَنْ لَّا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَاَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ

(I bear witness that there is no God but Allah and Muhammad is Allah's Messenger.)

Then he said," if I could go myself, I would have gone and met the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم."So, he sent his son, Aaraha with presents to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم,but he died on the way and could not meet the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.
After that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sent Amr Ibn Umayyah Damri رضى الله عنه with another letter. He preserved the letters in a chest of ivory saying,"As long as we have these letters, our people will be safe."
Every Najashi there after respected these letter. Indeed, their blessing enabled all their people, to live in peace.

GUIDANCE TO THOSE WHO ENGAGE IN JIHAD (CRUSADE)

3929. Sayyiduna Sulayman Ibn Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ reported on the authority of his father (Sayyiduna Buraydahرضی اللہ عنہ) that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent a commander with an army, he would instruct him to fear Allah himself and to be mindful of the good of the Muslims under him. He would also say," Go fight in the name of Allah and in His path. Fight with those who disbelieve in Allah. Do not be unfaithful regarding the spoils, do not be treacherous and do not mutilate anyone and do not kill children. When you meet your enemy among the polytheists, invite them to one of the three things. To whichever of the three they agree, accept it from them and refrain from (fighting with) them. Invite them to Islam. If they agree, accept it from them and refrain from (fighting with) them.

Then, invite them to emigrate from their abodes to the abuse of the muhajir, assuming them that if they do so then they will get the same rights and will have the same responsibilities as the muhajirs (emigrants). If they refuse to emigrate from them then they will be like the Arabs of the desert who are Muslims, and the same injunctions will apply to them as to the believers. but they will have no share in booty or fai unless they take part in jihad (crusade). If they refuse, then demand from them the jizyah and if they agree, accept it from them and refrain from (fighting with) them. If they refuse, seek Allah's help and fight with them. If you besiege a fort and they seek from you the protection of Allah and His Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, do not give it to them, but give them your protection and the protection of your friends, then that is better than your breaking the protection of Allah and His Messenger.

And, if you besiege a people in a fort and they call on you to judge them according to Allah's command then do not do it but judge according your own judgement, because you do not know whether you will abide by Allah's command or not in judging them."[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith mentions the rule of Shairah regarding jihad (crusade) against Islam's enemies. It is to begin with inviting them to Islam.

If they do not accept the call then demand of them payment of the jizyah and to enlist as faithful citizens of the Islamic State. If they decline this proposal too then, as a final resort, make Jihad (crusade) against them.

The hadith has the words (ثُمَّ ادْعُهُمْ) (then invite them to Islam),but (ثم) (then) is redundant and not translated. Some authorities explain why it is used but Qadi Iyad (رحمه الله said that the text is more correct without it. This is so in the book Kitab Abu Ubayd and in Sunan Abu Dawud, etc. Mazriرحمه الله said that though it seems superfluous yet it introduces the following text in the sentence. It is to bring out the first of three things, and it completes the sense at (مع المسلمين) (with the Muslims).The next two options are Jizyah and Jihad (crusade).

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم,s instructions that if they accept Islam, invite them to make hijrah, are interpreted by some people to mean that before the conquest of Makkah, it was a part of Islam to make hijrah.

They will have the same rights as the muhajirs (emigrants) of Madinah. They will earn as much reward and have the same merit and get fai too. In the time of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم when the call for Jihad (crusade) was made and just as they set out, they became entitled to fai promptly.

If there were a large number of Muslims to participate in Jihad (crusade), then it was not wajib (obligatory) on all of them to take part in Jihad (crusade). The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم also said that they had the same responsibilities, and it is what is stated meaning jihad (crusade).

The Muslim of the deserts are residents of villages and deserts of the Islamic State. They are not resident of deserts or villages of enemy land.

The same meaning applies to fai as to booty. It is the property that Muslims acquire from the infidels (in battle).However, some people differentiate between the two: ghanimah (or booty) is acquired from the infidels through battle toil and efforts, while fai is the property that is acquired from the infidels without battle and efforts.

If you conclude a covenant with them on behalf of Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and they violate their commitment, then it will be difficult for you to make a proper decision. Until you receive an inspiration etc .or a judgement from Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.These things are no longer possible because you do not have access to him.

However, if you give them your pledge and covenant and they violate their promise then it would not be difficult for you to decide on a course of action. You will have complete option to besiege them all over again, or to kill them, or to demand from them jizyah, or to put them in prison, or to take any other action you deem fit.

WISDOM IN BEGINNING WARFARE AFTER SUNSET

(٣٩٣٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ اَبِيْ اَوْفٰى اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ بَعْضِ اَيَّامِهِ الَّتِيْ لَقِيَ فِيْهَا الْعَدُوَّ

اِنْتَظَرَ حَتّٰى مَالَتِ الشَّمْسُ ثُمَّ قَامَ فِي النَّاسِ فَقَالَ يَااَيُّهَا النَّاسُ لَاتَتَمَنَّوْا لِقَآءَ الْعَدُوِّ وَاسْأَلُوا اللّٰهَ الْعَافِيَةَ

[1] Muslim# 3-1731, Tirmidhi # 1617 (1623), Abu Dawud # 2612, Ibn Majah # 2858, Musnad Ahmed 5-285.

3930. Sayyiduna Abdullah Ibn Abu Awta رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that on one his days (meaning, at one of his battles) when Allah's Messengers صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was facing the enemy, he waited (to begin combat) till the sun had declined. Then he stood up before the people (to address them) (and he said," O you people Do not desire to meet the enemy because that is tantamount to inviting trial and hardship). Rather, pray to Allah for peace and security. But, when you do face them, be patient and know that paradise is under the shade of the words. (So, fight them bravely and be on your mettles.). Then, he pray

اَللّٰهُمَّ مُنْزِلَ الْكِتَابِ وَ مُجْرِىَ السَّحَابِ وَهَازِمَ الْاَحْزَابِ اَهْزِمْهُمْ وَانْصُرْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ

(O Allah, You are one who reveals the Book, makes the cloud move, routs the confederates. So, rout them and grant us victory over them.)[1]

COMMENTARY: The wait was to let the heat subside and the evening breeze to offer salah prayer) and to supplicate.
According to another hadith: The gates of the heaven are opened at that hour. Deeds of mankind are taken up. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم chose that hour to begin jihad (crusade) the best of deeds.

THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم DID NOT ATTACK ENEMY BEFORE MORNING

(٣٩٣١) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ اِذَا غَزَابِنَا قَوْمًا لَمْ يَكُنْ يَغْزُوْبِنَا حَتّٰى يُصْبِحَ وَيَنْظُرَ اِلَيْهِمْ فَاِنْ سَمِعَ اَذَانًا كَفَّ عَنْهُمْ وَاِنْ لَمْ يَسْمَعْ اَذَانًا اَغَارَ عَلَيْهِمْ قَالَ فَخَرَجْنَا اِلٰى خَيْبَرَ فَانْتَهَيْنَا اِلَيْهِمْ لَيْلًا فَلَمَّا اَصْبَحَ وَلَمْ يَسْمَعْ اَذَانًا رَكِبَ وَرَكِبْتُ خَلْفَ اَبِىْ طَلْحَةَ وَاِنَّ قَدَمِىْ لَتَمَسُّ قَدَمَ نَبِيِّ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فَخَرَجُوْا اِلَيْنَا بِمَكَاتِلِهِمْ وَمَسَاحِيْهِمْ فَلَمَّا رَاَوُا النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالُوْا مُحَمَّدٌ وَاللّٰهِ مُحَمَّدٌ وَالْخَمِيْسُ فَلَجَاُوا اِلَى الْحِصْنِ فَلَمَّا رَآهُمْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَللّٰهُ اَكْبَرُ اَللّٰهُ اَكْبَرُ خَرِبَتْ خَيْبَرُ اِنَّا اِذَا نَزَلْنَا بِسَاحَةِ قَوْمٍ فَسَاءَ صَبَاحُ الْمُنْذَرِيْنَ۔ (متفق علیه)

3931. Sayyiduna Anas narrated that when the صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم Prophet set out with them on an expedition against a people (on a populace of whom facts where not clear), he did not engage in battle till it was morning. He would then observe them and if reheard the adhan, he refrained from them, but if he did not hear the adhan, he launched the attack on them.
He narrated further that when they had set out to Khaybar (with him), they came to them during the night. When it was morning and he did not hear the adhan, he mounted and Anas رضی اللہ عنہ mounted behind Abu Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ so that (they were so close to him that) his foot kept touching the foot of Allah's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم Prophet.

[1] Bukhari # 2965, Muslim # 20. 7746, Abu Dawwood # 2631.

Those people came towards them with their baskets and their spades (unaware of the arrival of the صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet and intending to go to their fields), but when they (suddenly) saw the صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet, they cried, "Muhammad! By Allah, Muhammad (is here) and the army!" They rushed back to the refuge of the fortress. On seeing them, Allah's صلى الله عليه وسلم Messenger said, Allah is the Greatest! Allah is the Greatest! Allah is the Greatest! Khayber Is Vanquished! Surely, when we descend on the ground or any people, hapless morn shall it be for those who are warned". (These last are quotation from the Quran 37: 177).[1]

COMMENTARY: Even if he knew that he was invading the land of the infidels, the صلى الله عليه وسلم Prophet made it certain that there were no Muslims among them. If he heard the adhan, he deferred the invasion. In those days, Muslims were not known to forsake the adhan.
Khattabi said that this is a strong evidence that adhan (الله اكبر الله اكبر and so on) is one of the symbols of Islam and it is absolutely disallowed to abandon it. In fact, if people of a locality stop calling the adhan, the ruler must wage battle against them, as a wajib (obligatory) on him. He must prevent them from going astray. This is corroborated by the Hanafi jurists.
The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم explain why he said "Khaybar is vanquished" by his words, "When we (meaning the Prophets or the entire Musim community) descend on any people, hapless morn shall it be for those who are warned.
The people who are warned are. Of course, the disbelievers. He referred to the invasion and the resultant killing and Allah's punishment causing their morning to be miserable. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had this verse in mind when he said that:

اَفَبِعَذَابِنَا يَسْتَعْجِلُوْنَ. فَإِذَا نَزَلَ بِسَاحَتِهِمْ فَسَآءَ صَبَاحُ الْمُنْذَرِيْنَ۔ (الصافات ٣٧: ١٧٦، ١٧٧)

{Do they wish to hurry on our punishment? But when it descends into the open space before them, evil will be the morning for those who were warned (and needed not)!} (37: 176-177)

Nawawi said that in the light of this hadith ,it is mustahab (desirable) to call the takbir (Allahu Akbar, Allah is the Greatest), on reaching the battle field against the enemy. It is also allowed, at such times, to cite a reference from the noble Quran. Indeed, it was a similar case at the conquest of Makkah, when the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had recited:

جَآءَ الْحَقُّ وَزَهَقَ الْبَاطِلُ۔ (الاسراء ١٧: ٨١)

{The Truth has come and falsehood has vanished away.} (17: 84)

However, the ulama (Scholars) maintain that it is makruh (disapproved) to cite a reference from the noble Quran as a proverb or idiom, or a part of vain and meaningless conversation. In fact, Mulla Ali Qari said that some of our ulama (Scholars) hold that it is disbelief on the part of one who uses Allah's words from a verse or part of a verse to express what he wished to say instead of using his own words. For example, if a man gives a book to another man named Yahya and does not say "Yahya. Take your book", but says

قُلْ جَآءَ الْحَقُّ وَزَهَقَ الْبَاطِلُ۔ (الاسراء ١٧: ٨١)

{O Yahya hold fast the book with strength,} (19: 12) this is wrong.

[1] Bukhari # 610, Muslim # 120. 1365, Tirmidhi # 1550. Nasa : # 547, Muwatta Maalik # 48 (Jihad), Musnad Ahmad 3. 263.

It is also wrong for anyone to say to another 'Bismillah" when he invites him to eat or to step forward instead of, 'Please, have some food,' or, 'Please step ahead.'
Any kind of use of the words of the Quran in such a situation is wrong.
Moreover, Mulla Ali Qari said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not cite reference from the Quran when he recited the verse (17: 81) but obeyed Allah's command to say:

قُلْ جَآءَ الْحَقُّ وَزَهَقَ الْبَاطِلُ

{Say (O Muhammad) that (the religion of) Truth has come (to prevail) and falsehood has vanished away.} (12: 81)

In the same, he said (رَّبِّ زِدْنِي عِلْمًا) in obedience to Allah's command:

وَقُلْ رَّبِّ زِدْنِي عِلْمًا۔ (طٰه ٢٠: ١١٤)

{And say: "My Lord! Increase me in knowledge."} (20: 114)

In Short, every such quotation that is known from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was spoken only in obedience to a Divine command. And, it is mustahab (desirable).

PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم COMMENCED BATTLE AT THE TIME OF ZUHR

(٣٩٣٢) وَعَنِ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ مُقَرِّنٍ قَالَ شَهِدْتُ الْقِتَالَ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَكَانَ إِذَا لَمْ يُقَاتِلِ الْقِتَالَ أَوَّلَ النَّهَارِ إِنْتَظَرَ حَتّٰى تَهُبَّ الْأَرْوَاحُ وَتَحْضُرَ الصَّلَاةُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3932. Sayyiduna Numan Ibn Muqarrin رضی الله عنه said, I participated in battle (s) with Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. When he did not commence fighting at the beginning of the day (for some reason), he waited till the winds blew and the time of Salah (prayer) (of Zuhr) was at hand.[1]

COMMENTARY: The hadith explain that fighting in a battle may be deffered till the hour of Zuhr (salah (prayer)) if it was not begin in the morning.
It seems that conditions and reasoning dictated the hour of beginning of fighting, It could begin early morning or after declension of the sun at Zuhr.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

BATTLE BEGINS AFTER DECLINE OF SUN

(٣٩٣٣) عَنِ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ مُقَرِّنٍ قَالَ شَهِدْتُ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَكَانَ إِذَا لَمْ يُقَاتِلْ أَوَّلَ النَّهَارِ إِنْتَظَرَ حَتّٰى تَزُوْلَ الشَّمْسُ وَتَهُبَّ الرِّيَاحُ وَيَنْزِلَ النَّصْرُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3933. Sayyiduna Numan Ibn Muqarrin رضی الله عنه said, I participated (in battle) with Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. When he did not commence fighting at the beginning of the day, he waited till the sun had passed the meridian, the winds blew and (Divine) help came down."[2]
(That was after the salah (prayer) of Zuhr when Muslims prayed for them.)

THE PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم HOURS OF COMMENCING BATTLE

(٣٩٣٤) وَعَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنِ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ مُقَرِّنٍ قَالَ غَزَوْتُ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَكَانَ إِذَا
طَلَعَ الْفَجْرُ أَمْسَكَ حَتّٰى تَطْلُعَ الشَّمْسُ فَإِذَا طَلَعَتْ قَاتَلَ فَإِذَا نْتَصَفَ النَّهَارُ أَمْسَكَ حَتّٰى تَزُوْلَ الشَّمْسُ
فَإِذَا زَالَتِ الشَّمْسُ قَاتَلَ حَتَّى الْعَصْرِ ثُمَّ أَمْسَكَ حَتّٰى يُصَلِّيَ الْعَصْرَ ثُمَّ يُقَاتِلُ قَالَ قَتَادَةُ كَانَ يُقَالُ عِنْدَ
ذٰلِكَ تَهِيْجُ رِيَاحُ النَّصْرِ وَيَدْعُو الْمُؤْمِنُوْنَ لِجُيُوْشِهِمْ فِيْ صَلَاتِهِمْ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

3934. Sayyiduna Qatadah reported that (Sayyiduna) Numan Ibn Muqarrin narrated: "I participated with Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم in the battles, When it was dawn, he waited till the sun rose. When the sun had risen, he began fighting. At the declination of the sun, he creased (fighting), till the sun had passed the meridian. When the sun passed over the meridian, he resumed fighting till Asr (afternoon) when he ceased fighting till he had offered the (salah (prayer) of) Asr. Then he resumed fighting."

Qatadah said that it was said about this hour the helping winds blew and the believers made supplication in their salah (prayer) for their armies.[1]

(It is prayers after the salah (prayer), or within the salah (prayer) like the qunoot about which ahadith are narrated.)

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTION TO THE WARRIORS

(٣٩٣٥) وَعَنْ عِصَامٍ الْمُزَنِيِّ قَالَ بَعَثَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ سَرِيَّةٍ فَقَالَ إِذَا رَأَيْتُمْ مَسْجِدًا
أَوْسَمِعْتُمْ مُؤَذِّنًا فَلَا تَقْتُلُوْا أَحَدًا۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

3935. Sayyiduna Isam Muzani رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger sent them (for jihad (crusade)) in a detachment and instructed them, "When you see a mosque (at a place) or hear a muadhdhin (call the adhan), do not kill anyone (there)."[2]

COMMENTARY: When you see any of the symbol of islam in word or deeds do not kill anyone till it is clear to you who the believer is and who the unbeliever.

"In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful. From Khalid Ibn Walid to Rustum and Mihran, among the cream of Persia (Iran).
Peace be to those who follow the guidance! To proceed! We invite you to (accept) Islam. If you do not accept, then pay the jizyah (as disgraced people) by your hands while you are humbled. If you refuse (to pay jizyah), then I have with me such people as love to be killed in Allah' path just as the Persians love wine (and be lost in intoxication). And , peace be to those who follow the guidance."[1]

CHAPTER - V

FIGHTING IN JIHAD (CRUSADE) بَابُ الْقِتَالِ فِي الْجِهَادِ

This chapter contains those ahadith in which the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has encouraged participation in jihad (crusade) and enumerated merits and reward of that.

SECTION I بَابُ الْقِتَالِ فِي الْجِهَادِ

MARTYR'S DESTINATION IS PARADISE

(٣٩٣٧) عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَجُلٌ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ أُحُدٍ أَرَأَيْتَ إِنْ قُتِلْتُ فَأَيْنَ أَنَا قَالَ فِي الْجَنَّةِ فَأَلْقَى تَمَرَاتٍ فِي يَدِهٖ ثُمَّ قَاتَلَ حَتّٰى قُتِلَ۔ (متفق عليه)

3937. Sayyiduna Jabir رضى الله عنه narrated that a man asked the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم on the day of uhud (in the battlefield), "What do you say if I am killed, where shall I be?" He said, "In paradise". He threw away the few dates that he had in his hand and (plunged among the enemy and) fought till he was killed."[2]

NATURE OF JOURNEY NOT DISCLOSED TILL LAST

(٣٩٣٨) وَعَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ لَمْ يَكُنْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُرِيْدُ غَزْوَةً إِلَّا وَرّٰى بِغَيْرِهَا حَتّٰى كَانَتْ تِلْكَ الْغَزْوَةُ يَعْنِيْ غَزْوَةَ تَبُوْكَ غَزَاهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ حَرٍّ شَدِيْدٍ وَاسْتَقْبَلَ سَفَرًا بَعِيْدًا وَمَفَازًا وَعَدُوًّا كَثِيْرًا فَجَلّٰى لِلْمُسْلِمِيْنَ أَمْرَهُمْ لِيَتَأَهَّبُوْا أُهْبَةَ غَزْوِهِمْ فَأَخْبَرَهُمْ بِوَجْهِهِ الَّذِيْ يُرِيْدُ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3938. Sayyiduna Kab Ibn Maalik رضى الله عنه narrated that when ever Allah' Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم intended to go to battle, he (did not disclose the destination but) appeared to be going elsewhere till it was that battle, meaning the battle of tabuk. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم set out for it in severe heat, having a long journey ahead through desert land and against countless number (this time, therefore.) he let the muslim know clearly what they were expected to do so that they might prepare the equipment for their battle. So he informed them where he intended to go.[1]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word (ورّى) (warra) or (تورية) (tawriyah) means to conceal the real objective and to allude to a different intention. So, as a battle maneuver, he did not disclose the destination but let it be surmised where he was going. These tactics were employed to keep of war maneuvers are very necessary to win battle and are part of battle strategy the world over. This is why Islam says:

اَلْحَرْبُ خُدْعَةٌ

(War is Deception)[2]

Thereby it allows use of war strategy and maneuver. Thus, This tactic of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was also a form of deceiving yet he never opted for it in clear outright words but alluded to it in figurative speech. When he intended to go to battle, through he did not name the place yet he never gave another name for that would be falsehood.

Kab Ibn Maalik رضى الله عنه referred to it as that battle. He spoke of the Battle of Tabuk which has a deep connection with him as is very well known. Kab Ibn Maalik رضى الله عنه did not himself participate in this battle. This thing is famous and is also mentioned in the Noble Quran.

The distance covered for the battle of Tabuk was very long. Tabuk is a place between Damascus (in Syria) and Madinah on the latitude of Khaybar and al-Bilad. It was fourteen manzil (stages) from Madinah in those days. By today's standard it is about 425 miles from Madinah.

During his lifetime the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم took part in certain battles. The Battle of Tabuk in 9 AH was his last battle. The Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم faced heavy hardships and many difficulties during this battle.

WAR IS DECEPTION

(٣٩٣٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْحَرْبُ خُدْعَةٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

3939. Sayyiduna Jabir رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said "War is deception.[3]

COMMENTARY: In battle, more than numbers, tactics pay off. A shrewd commander can defeat a larger army by his strategies.

Through it is allowed to deceive the infidels in war yet some limits are defined so that Islam's teachings of moral conduct are not violet. The first thing is that one should not break a covenant or protection given to anyone.

The ulama (Scholars) have specified how the enemy may be deceived. For instance, it may appear that the army is retreating or has halted hostilities, but suddenly they may take the enemy unawares and launch an attack into enemy ranks.

However, the words of the hadith (خدعة) could also mean war is unpredictable. So it deceives meaning one army may seem to have an upper hand but suddenly falls apart and is defeated. The results take a summersault.

WOMEN BEING TAKEN ALONG IN JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٣٩٤٠) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَغْزُوْ بِاُمِّ سُلَيْمٍ وَنِسْوَةٌ مِنَ الْاَنْصَارِ مَعَهُ إِذَا غَزَا يَسْقِيْنَ الْمَاءَ وَيُدَاوِيْنَ الْجَرْحٰى۔ (رواه مسلم)

3940. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went on Jihad (crusade), he took (Sayyiduna) Umm Sulaym رضی اللہ عنہ and some women of the ansars with him who provided water and tended the wounded (warriors) when he fought.[1]

COMMENTARY: It is allowed to take along old women on an expedition to provide water to the warriors and to tend to the wounded among them.

If any of the warriors wishes to take along a spouse to have sexual intercourse then it is better to take a female slave with him than his wife. (This command applied when it was permitted to keep a female slave with whom sexual intercourse could be had.)

(٣٩٤١) وَعَنْ اُمِّ عَطِيَّةَ قَالَتْ غَزَوْتُ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَبْعَ غَزَوَاتٍ اَخْلُفُهُمْ فِيْ رِحَالِهِمْ فَاَصْنَعُ لَهُمُ الطَّعَامَ وَاُدَاوِى الْجَرْحٰى وَاَقُوْمُ عَلَى الْمَرْضٰى۔ (رواه مسلم)

3941. Sayyidah Umm Atiyah رضی اللہ عنہا said that she had participated with Allah's Messenger in seven battles. She used to stay behind (the warriors in their camps) and she cooked food for them , tended the wounded and cared for the sick.[2]

WOMEN & CHILDREN OF THE ENEMY

(٣٩٤٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ قَتْلِ النِّسَآءِ وَالصِّبْيَانِ۔

(متفق عليه)

3942. Sayyiduna Abdullah Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the killing of women and children.[3]

COMMENTARY: It is stated in the Hidayah that women, children, blind and decrepit and infirm men should not be killed. If a boy or a madman are engaged in fighting then they may be killed. A queen may be killed and so a boy who is king or chief. If an enemy's king or chief is killed then they are disgraced, so it is proper to kill them.

(٣٩٤٣) وَعَنِ الصَّعْبِ بْنِ جَثَّامَةَ قَالَ سُئِلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ اَهْلِ الدِّيَارِ يُبَيَّتُوْنَ مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ فَيُصَابُ مِنْ نِّسَائِهِمْ وَذَرَارِيْهِمْ قَالَ هُمْ مِنْهُمْ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ هُمْ مِنْ اٰبَآئِهِمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

3943. Sayyiduna Sab ibn Jaththamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that someone asked Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم about those women and children of the polytheists who were (In their homes and) killed when their habitations were attacked at night. He said.

According to a version: "They are as their fathers."[1]

COMMENTARY: Women and childrens may not be kilied in jihad (crusade) deliberately. But, if they are killed incidentally then it is not possible to pick them out from their fighting men.

TREES OF THE ENEMY

(٣٩٤٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَطَعَ نَخْلَ بَنِي النَّضِيْرِ وَحَرَّقَ وَلَهَا يَقُوْلُ حَسَّانُ

3944. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (had) the palm trees of the Banu Nadir cut down and burnt. Hassan (ibn Thabit) composed this complete about it.

وَهَانَ عَلٰى سَرَاةِ بَنِي لُؤَيٍّ حَرِيْقٌ بِالْبُوَيْرَةِ مُسْتَطِيْرُ

(It was easy to burn down the scattered Buwayrah on the chiefs of Banu liuayy.)
Also this veirse was revealed about it:

وَفِيْ ذٰلِكَ نَزَلَتْ۔ مَاقَطَعْتُمْ مِّنْ لِّيْنَةٍ اَوْ تَرَكْتُمُوْهَا قَآئِمَةً عَلٰى اُصُوْلِهَا فَبِاِذْنِ اللّٰهِ۔ متفق عليه۔

{Whatever palm trees you cut down, or left standing upon their roots, it was by Allah's leave.}(59: 5)[2]

COMMENTARY: When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم emigrated to Madinah from Makkah,he had to cope with the jews here. three tribes of the jews resided here: Banu Nadir, Banu Qurayzah Banu Qaynqa. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم concluded a mutual covenant with them covering significant social and economic aspects, to live together in a friendly atmosphere. The jews were given equal rights as citizens and were allowed to practice their religion.
However, the Jews were not faithful to their pledge. In fact, the Banu Nadir conspired to kill the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم but Allah made their evil designs known to him through a revelation. So, they were expelled from Madinah and sent to Khaybar. Their gardens of palm trees were burned down and houses were demolished.
Luayy was a descendant of Nadr Ibn Kinanah who was an ancestor of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم.Banu Luayy refers to the nobles of the Quraysh who were the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and had accompanied him to Madinah when he emigrated to it.
Burayrah was the place where the Jews had their gardens.
When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed that their gardens should be burned down, they protested, "you forbid that mischief should be committed on earth, then why do you do it?"So, the verse of the Quran (59: 5) was revealed confirming the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم action.

ALLOWED TO CATCH THE ENEMY UNAWARES

(٣٩٤٥) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ عَوْنٍ اَنَّ نَافِعًا كَتَبَ اِلَيْهِ يُخْبِرُهُ اَنَّ ابْنَ عُمَرَ اَخْبَرَهُ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَغَارَ عَلٰى بَنِي الْمُصْطَلِقِ غَارِّيْنَ فِيْ نَعَمِهِمْ بِالْمُرَيْسِيْعِ فَقَتَلَ الْمُقَاتِلَةَ وَسَبَى الذُّرِّيَّةَ۔ (متفق عليه)

3945. Sayyiduna Abdullah Ibn Awn رضی اللہ عنہ reported that Nafi رضی اللہ عنہ (the freedman of Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ) wrote to him telling him that Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ had informed him that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had attacked the Banu Mustaliq who were cought unawares among their grazing animals at Muraysi. He killed the fighting men and took the (women and) children captives.[1] &[2]

COMMENTARY: The Banu Mustaliq were a branch of the tribe Khuza. Muraysi is a place between Makkah and Madinah over 70 miles from Madinah. It was a watering place with plenty of water. The Banu Mustaliq had control over it.
Their fighting men included those who were able to fight, sane and adults. And the dhurriyah were the women and children.
This hadith is evidence that it is allowed to launch a sudden attack on the enemy when they are heedless. They may be killed and their women, children and properties may be taken over as spoils of wars.

A WAR STRATEGY

(٣٩٤٦) وَعَنْ أَبِي أُسَيْدٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَنَا يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ حِيْنَ صَفَفْنَا لِقُرَيْشٍ وَصَفُّوْا لَنَا إِذَا أَكْثَبُوْكُمْ فَعَلَيْكُمْ بِالنَّبْلِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ إِذَا أَكْثَبُوْكُمْ فَارْمُوْهُمْ وَاسْتَبْقُوْا نَبْلَكُمْ۔ رَوَاهُ الْبُخَارِيُّ وَحَدِيْثُ سَعْدٍ هَلْ تُنْصَرُوْنَ سَنَذْكُرُ فِيْ بَابِ فَضْلِ الْفُقَرَاءِ وَحَدِيْثُ الْبَرَاءِ بَعَثَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَهْطًا فِيْ بَابِ الْمُعْجِزَاتِ إِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالَى۔

3946. Sayyiduna Abu Usayd رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed us on the day of badr when we formed ranks against the Quraysh and they formed ranks against us. "When they come nearer to you (within range of your arrows), shoot arrows at them."
According to a version: "When they come nearer to you, shoot at them, but do not use up all your arrows.(Keep some available to you.)[3]

وَحَدِيْثُ سَعْدٍ هَلْ تُنْصَرُوْنَ سَنَذْكُرُ فِيْ بَابِ فَضْلِ الْفُقَرَاءِ وَ حَدِيْثُ الْبَرَاءِ بَعَثَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَهْطًا فِيْ بَابِ الْمُعْجِزَاتِ إِنْ شَآءَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالَى۔

FORMING RANKS ON THE BATTLEFIELD

(٣٩٤٧) عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ قَالَ عَبَّانَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِبَدْرٍ لَيْلًا۔ (رواه الترمذی)

3947. Sayyiduna Abdur Rehman Ibn Awf رضی اللہ عنہ said, "The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم mobilized us on the night of Badr."[1] (The Arabic word is (عبانا) abbana)

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word means 'to prepare'. Hence, before the battle of Badr began, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم mobilized the sahabah in the night by equipping them with arms, arranging their rows and positioning everyone of them at a strategic post.

DISTINGUISHING MARK OF WARRIORS

(٣٩٤٨) وَعَنِ الْمُهَلَّبِ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنْ بَيَّتَكُمُ الْعَدُوُّ فَلْيَكُنْ شِعَارُكُمْ حٰمٓ لَا يُنْصَرُوْنَ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

3948. Sayyiduna Muhallab رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said (at the battle of Trenches), "If the enemy attacks you at night, your code words should be Haa Meem Laa Yunsarun (Haa Meem, they will not be helped)"[2]

COMMENTARY: It is common practice with every army that they have cord words or signs by which their warriors recognize each other. The commander tells them of it beforehand. The war cry or the code words in the battle of trenches meant 'O Revealer of Haa Meem, let not the enemy be helped.'

(٣٩٤٩) وَعَنْ سَمُرَةَ بْنِ جُنْدُبٍ قَالَ كَانَ شِعَارُ الْمُهَاجِرِيْنَ عَبْدُاللّٰهِ وَشِعَارُ الْاَنْصَارِ عَبْدُالرَّحْمٰنِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3949. Sayyiduna Samurah Ibn Jundub رضی اللہ عنہ said that the code words (or war cry) of the Muhajirs (emigrants) was Abdullah and of the ansars Abdur Rahman (in one of the battles).[3]

(٣٩٥٠) وَعَنْ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ الْاَكْوَعِ قَالَ غَزَوْنَامَعَ اَبِيْ بَكْرٍ فِيْ زَمَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَبَيَّتْنَا هُمْ نَقْتُلُهُمْ وَكَانَ شِعَارُنَاتِلْكَ اللَّيْلَةَ اَمِتْ اَمِتْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3950. Sayyiduna Salamah Ibn Akwa رضی اللہ عنہ said, "We proceeded to a battle under Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ in the time of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (against the enemy).We attacked them by night and killed them. Our code words on That night were: Amit, amit! (Kill! Kill!)"[4]

NO SHOUTING

(٣٩٥١) وَعَنْ قَيْسِ بْنِ عُبَادٍ قَالَ كَانَ اَصْحَابُ رَسُوْلِ للّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَكْرَهُوْنَ الصَّوْتَ عِنْدَ الْقِتَالِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3951. Sayyiduna Qays Ibn ubad رضی اللہ عنہ said that the sahabah of Allah's Messenger رضی اللہ عنہ did not like shouting while fighting (except calling Allah's name).[5]

COMMENTARY: Generally the warriors raise hue and cry on the battle-field, but the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم refrained from that. They only called for Allah's help.

KILL THE OLD BUT SPARE CHILDREN OF ENEMY

(٣٩٥٢) وَعَنْ سَمُرَةَ بْنِ جُنْدُبٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اقْتُلُوا شُيُوخَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ وَاسْتَحْيُوا شَرْخَهُمْ أَيْ صِبْيَانَهُمْ۔ (رواه الترمذى وابوداؤد)

3952. Sayyiduna Samurah ibn Jundub رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "Kill the old men of the polytheists (who are enemies) but let off their children.[1]

COMMENTARY: The old men could be the youth who are older than the children, or the strong fighting aged, as strong as youth. But, old infirm men must be spared except those aged who share their experience with their army. It is allowed to kill them.

ALLOWED TO PUT ENEMY PROPERTIES AND FIELDS ON FIRE.

(٣٩٥٣) وَعَنْ عُرْوَةَ قَالَ حَدَّثَنِيْ أُسَامَةُ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ عَهِدَ إِلَيْهِ قَالَ أَغِرْ عَلَى أُبْنٰى صَبَاحًا وَحَرِّقْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3953. Sayyidina Urwah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said "Usamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated to me that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had instructed him (when he had sent him on an expedition), Attack Ubna in the morning and burn the place (like horses, fields, trees of the enemy)[2]

COMMENTARY: Ubna is a place in Syria, Usamah ibn Zayd رضی اللہ عنہ was sent there as commander of the Muslim army. It is allowed to devastate enemy land and all kind of their property.

ATTACK ENEMY WHEN HE IS VERY NEAR

(٣٩٥٤) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ أُسَيْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ إِذَا أَكْثَبُوكُمْ فَارْمُوهُمْ وَلَا تَسُلُّوا السُّيُوفَ حَتّٰى يَغْشُوكُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3954. Sayyiduna Abu Usayd صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم narrated that on the day of Badar Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When they (the enemy) are near you, shoot arrows at them, but do not unsheathe your swords till they are very close to you.[3]

DO NOT KILL LABOURERS OF ENEMY

(٣٩٥٥) وَعَنْ رَبَاحِ بْنِ الرَّبِيْعِ قَالَ كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ غَزْوَةٍ فَرَأَى النَّاسَ مُجْتَمِعِيْنَ عَلٰى شَيْءٍ فَبَعَثَ رَجُلًا فَقَالَ انْظُرْ عَلٰى مَا اجْتَمَعَ هٰؤُلَاءِ فَجَاءَ فَقَالَ عَلَى امْرَأَةٍ قَتِيْلٍ فَقَالَ مَا كَانَتْ هٰذِهِ لِتُقَاتِلَ وَعَلَى الْمُقَدِّمَةِ خَالِدُ بْنُ الْوَلِيْدِ فَبَعَثَ رَجُلًا فَقَالَ قُلْ لِخَالِدٍ لَا تَقْتُلِ امْرَأَةً وَلَا عَسِيْفًا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

صلى الله عليه وسلم in a battle. He saw some people gathered (at a place) near something. So he sent a man, saying, "See around what have they gathered." He came back and said, Around a woman who is killed." He asked, She was not fighting (then why was she killed)?"Khalid ibn Walid صلى الله عليه وسلم was the commander of the forward bloc. He sent that man to instruct him not to Kill any woman or a labourer.[1]

COMMENTARY: The labourer who is brought to the battle field not to fight but to serve and do miscellaneous work should not be killed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE WARRIORS

(٣٩٥٦) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ انْطَلِقُوْا بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ وَبِاللّٰهِ وَعَلٰى مِلَّةِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ لَا تَقْتُلُوْا شَيْخًا فَانِيًا وَلَا طِفْلًا صَغِيْرًا وَلَا امْرَاَةً وَلَا تَغُلُّوْا وَضُمُّوا غَنَائِمَكُمْ وَ اَصْلِحُوْا وَاَحْسِنُوْا فَاِنَّ اللّٰهَ يُحِبُّ الْمُحْسِنِيْنَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3956. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said (to the warriors going to battle),"Go with the name of Allah, with Allah's help and enablement and on the religion of Allah! (Remember!) Do not kill a decrepit old man or a little child or a woman. Do not commit treachery with the spoils but collect your spoils. And keep good ties mutually (or, Keep your affairs correct; or, if expedient, make peace with the enemy). Be Kind to each other, for, indeed, Allah loves the good-doers.[2]

COMMENTARY: The old man should be spared but if he has fighting ability or is an asset to the enemy as a commander or adviser then he may be done away with.

Similarly, a child is spared unless he is the king or chief of his people, or takes part in battle in any of the roles possible.

So, too, the woman who is not killed is one who has no part in the battle. But, if she is a queen or an adviser then she should be put to death.

MAKKANS THREW CHALLENGE TO DUEL AT BADR

(٣٩٥٧) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ لَمَّا كَانَ يَوْمُ بَدْرٍ تَقَدَّمَ عُتْبَةُ بْنُ رَبِيْعَةَ وَتَبِعَهُ ابْنُهُ وَ اَخُوْهُ فَنَادٰى مَنْ يُبَارِزُ فَانْتَدَبَ لَهُ شَبَابٌ مِنَ الْاَنْصَارِ فَقَالَ مَنْ اَنْتُمْ فَاَخْبَرُوْهُ فَقَالَ لَا حَاجَةَ لَنَا فِيْكُمْ اِنَّمَا اَرَدْنَا بَنِيْ عَمِّنَا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قُمْ يَا حَمْزَةُ قُمْ يَا عَلِيُّ قُمْ يَا عُبَيْدَةُ بْنُ الْحَارِثِ فَاَقْبَلَ حَمْزَةُ اِلٰى عُتْبَةَ وَاَقْبَلْتُ اِلٰى شَيْبَةَ وَ اخْتَلَفَ بَيْنَ عُبَيْدَةَ وَالْوَلِيْدِ ضَرْبَتَانِ فَاَثْخَنَ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا صَاحِبَهُ ثُمَّ مِلْنَا عَلَى الْوَلِيْدِ فَقَتَلْنَاهُ وَاحْتَمَلْنَا عُبَيْدَةَ۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد)

3957. Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه narrated that at the Battle of Badr, Utbah ibn Rabiah stepped forward. Then his son and his brother (Shaybah ibn Rabiah) followed him. He cried loudly. "Who will have a duel (with us)?" Many young men of the ansar stepped forward (to take up the challenge). He asked, "Who are you ?" They informed him (that they were the ansar of Madinah).He shouted, "We have no need of you. We only intend to face (our cousins) the sons of our paternal uncle (meaning, the Quraysh Muslims who have emigrated from Makkah)".So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said "Arise Hamzah! Arise Ali ! Arise Ali! Arise ubaydah ibn Harith!" Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ met Utbah. Ali رضی اللہ عنہ met Shaybah. (They Killed the two infidels.). Two blows were exchanged between Ubaydah رضی اللہ عنہ and Walid and each wounded the other severely. So, they (Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ and Ali رضی اللہ عنہ went to Walid and made short work of him and carried away Ubaydah رضی اللہ عنہ (out of the battle field).[1]

ALLOWED TO RETREAT TO GET REINFORCEMENT

(٣٩٥٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ بَعَثَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ سَرِيَّةٍ فَحَاصَ النَّاسُ حَيْصَةً فَأَتَيْنَا الْمَدِيْنَةَ فَاخْتَفَيْنَا بِهَا وَ قُلْنَا هَلَكْنَا ثُمَّ اَتَيْنَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقُلْنَا يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ نَحْنُ الْفَرَّارُوْنَ قَالَ بَلْ اَنْتُمُ الْعَكَّارُوْنَ وَاَنَا فِئَتُكُمْ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ اَبِيْ دَاوٗدَ وَقَالَ لَابَلْ اَنْتُمُ الْعَكَّارُوْنَ قَالَ فَدَنَوْنَا فَتَقَبَّلْنَا يَدَهٗ فَقَالَ اَنَافِئَةُ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ وَسَنَذْكُرُ حَدِيْثَ اُمَيَّةَ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ كَانَ يَسْتَفْتِحُ وَحَدِيْثُ اَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ اَبْغُوْنِي فِيْ ضُعَفَائِكُمْ فِيْ بَابِ فَضْلِ الْفُقَرَاءِ اِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى۔

3958. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent us on an expedition. (on reaching there) the people turned their backs. On coming to Madinah, we were ashamed and concealed ourselves (in our homes). "We are mined" (because of pretreatment and the incumbent sin). We met Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, we are deserters." He said , "No, you are contenders (who will attack again). I am your helper." In another version the words are: "Rather you are the contenders who will launch the attack a fresh. So, they came near (him and kissed his hand he said "I am (by myself) a Muslim army."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم assured his Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم that since they had retreated because of their weaker strength and intended to get reinforcement before returning to the battlefield, they had committed no sin.
He declared himself a full-fledged section (or community) because of his greatness and blessing. It is as the Quran says of Prophet Ibrahim علیہ السلام:

اِنَّ اِبْرَاهِيْمَ كَانَ اُمَّةً

{surely Ibrahim was an Ummah} (16: 120) (a whole community in himself).
He hereby pointed out to his being a source at strength and light for the Muslims.They got their help from him.

USE OF CATAPULT AT BATTLE OF TAIF

(٣٩٥٩) عَنْ ثَوْبَانَ بْنِ يَزِيْدَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَصَبَ الْمَنْجَنِيْقَ عَلٰى اَهْلِ الطَّائِفِ.
(رواه الترمذی مرسلا)

3959. Thawban Ibn Yazid رضی اللہ عنہ said that at the battle of taif the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم set up catapults (to attack its people).[1]
[The Arabic Mishkat hasit from Thawr Ibn Yazid رضی اللہ عنہ.]

COMMENTARY: The ancient weapon catapult may be said to be like today's cannon. Stones were hurled at fortresses after they were besieged.

Ta'if is a large city of the Hijaz even today. It is between 40 and 45 miles from Makkah to its south-east However till recently there was no direct road to it. It can be reached after going round mountains and in this way it is 85 miles from Makkah. This road also leads to Mina and Arafat. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had gone to Taif by this road when he had propagated Islam there. That place was Mathnah which is the original Ta'if. There are two gardens each having a small Mosque, Masjid Ali and Al-Jatha, the valley Awj separates them. It is presumed that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had set up the catapults against Ta'if here.

COMMANDS CONCERNING THE PRISONERS

DISBELIEVING PRISONERS WHO WILL ENTER PARADISE

(٣٩٦٠) عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ عَجِبَ اللّٰهُ مِنْ قَوْمٍ يُدْخَلُوْنَ الْجَنَّةَ فِي السَّلَاسِلِ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ يُقَادُوْنَ إِلَى الْجَنَّةِ بِالسَّلَاسِلِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3960. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah is pleased with those people who will enter paradise in fetters." According to another version : " Who will be taken to paradise in fetters."[1]

COMMENTARY: The prisoners of war who are disbelievers are brought to Islamic state in fetters. Then Allah causes them to believe and admits them to paradise. In this sense they are said to have been admitted to paradise because of their fetters.

ENEMY'S SPY SHOULD BE KILLED

(٣٩٦١) وَعَنْ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ الْأَكْوَعِ قَالَ أَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَيْنٌ مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ وَهُوَ فِي سَفَرٍ فَجَلَسَ عِنْدَ أَصْحَابِهِ يَتَحَدَّثُ ثُمَّ انْفَتَلَ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اطْلُبُوْهُ وَاقْتُلُوْهُ فَقَتَلْتُهُ فَنَفَّلَنِي سَلَبَهُ۔

(متفق علیه)

3961. Sayyiduna salamah ibn Akwa رضی اللہ عنہ said, : A spy of the idolaters (enemy) came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم while he was on a journey. He sat down with his Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم and then departed. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (learnt of it and) said (to me), 'Look for him and kill him.' So I killed him and the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم let me keep the spoils taken from him."[2]

(٣٩٦٢) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ غَزَوْنَا مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ هَوَازِنَ فَبَيْنَا نَحْنُ نَتَضَحّٰى مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذْ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ عَلَى جَمَلٍ أَحْمَرَ فَأَنَاخَهُ وَجَعَلَ يَنْظُرُ وَفِيْنَا ضُعْفَةٌ وَرِقَّةٌ مِنَ الظَّهْرِ وَبَعْضُنَا مُشَاةٌ إِذْ خَرَجَ يَشْتَدُّ فَأَتَى جَمَلَهُ فَأَثَارَهُ فَاشْتَدَّ بِهِ الْجَمَلُ فَخَرَجْتُ أَشْتَدُّ حَتّٰى أَخَذْتُ بِخِطَامِ الْجَمَلِ فَأَنَخْتُهُ ثُمَّ اخْتَرَطْتُ سَيْفِي فَضَرَبْتُ رَأْسَ الرَّجُلِ ثُمَّ جِئْتُ بِالْجَمَلِ أَقُوْدُهُ وَعَلَيْهِ رَحْلُهُ وَسِلَاحُهُ فَاسْتَقْبَلَنِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَالنَّاسُ فَقَالَ مَنْ قَتَلَ الرَّجُلَ قَالُوا ابْنُ الْأَكْوَعِ قَالَ لَهُ سَلَبُهُ أَجْمَعُ۔ (متفق علیه)

3962. Sayyiduna Salamah Ibn Akwa رضی اللہ عنہ said, "We set out with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to fight with the Hawazin (a branch of the tribe Qays). While we were having our lunch in the forenoon with Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم a man came on a red camel.(He seemed to be on an espionage mission for the enemy.) He made the camel kneel and kept glancing here and there. We were in a weak condition (very morn out). We had very few riding beasts and some of us were on foot. He (observed us well and) suddenly rushed out to his camel (mounted it) and rode away on it swiftly. I hastened out (from the people and pursued him). I caught the camel's nose-rein, made it kneel, drew my sword and hit the man's head with it. (I killed him thereby.) Then, I led the camel (to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم with his saddle and weapons on it. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and the people received me and he asked, ' Who killed the man?' They said, 'Ibn Akwa' . So he said 'Let him keep all his spoils.'[1]

JUDGEMENT ABOUT TREACHEROUS JEWS

(٣٩٦٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ لَمَّا نَزَلَتْ بَنُو قُرَيْظَةَ عَلَى حُكْمِ سَعْدِ بْنِ مُعَاذٍ بَعَثَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَجَاءَ عَلَى حِمَارٍ فَلَمَّا دَنَا قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قُوْمُوْا إِلَى سَيِّدِكُمْ فَجَاءَ فَجَلَسَ فقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ هٰؤُلَاءِ نَزَلُوْا عَلَى حُكْمِكَ قَالَ فَإِنِّي أَحْكُمُ أَنْ تُقْتَلَ الْمُقَاتِلَةُ وَأَنْ تُسْبَى الذُّرِّيَّةُ قَالَ لَقَدْ حَكَمْتَ فِيْهِمْ بِحُكْمِ الْمَلِكِ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ بِحُكْمِ اللّٰهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3963. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضى الله عنه narrated that when the Banu Qurayzah (Jews of Madinah) agreed to make Sa'd ibn Muadh رضى الله عنه the hakam (arbitrator to decide their fate), Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم sent for him and he came on an ass. As he approached, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Stand up in respect to (or, to help) your chief." He came and sat down and Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "These people have agreed to have you as their hakam." He said, "I decide that the fighting men (among them) should be killed and their women and offspring should be taken captives." He (the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم) said, " You have passed about them a decision (like that) of a king."
According to another version: "A decision like that of Allah."[2]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Sa'd ibn Muadh رضى الله عنه was a prominent, top ranking Sahabi and a well-known Ansar. He was acknowledged as the chief of the ansar of Madinah.
Banu Qurayzah was a tribe of Madinah allied to sa'd رضى الله عنه. Its Jews had his protection. The Jews had infringed their agreement with the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم of which we have spoken earlier. They began to conspire against the Muslims and to hurt them and Banu Qurayzah did not lag behind in this regard.
In 5AH, after the battle of the Trenches, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم decided in obedience to Allah's command, to fight with them . He besieged them for twenty-five days when they found no way out, they said that they surrendered to the decision of sa'd رضى الله عنه about them. They had hoped that he would favour them. But he judged according to what they deserved. Nawawi cites this hadith to say that when a man of merit arrives, he should be respected and those present must standup for him. Most of the Ulama (Scholars) say the same thing. Some ulama (Scholars), however, differ and say that sa'd رضی اللہ عنہ had been wounded by an arrow on his thigh in the battle of Trenches, so the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed the people to help him alight from the ass.

3964. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah' Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent a group of horsemen to Najd. They brought a man of Banu Hanifah (to Madinah). He was named Thumamah ibn Uthal. He was the chief of the inhabitants of yamamah. They tied him to one of the columns of the mosque (Masjid Nabawi). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came to him and asked him, " What do you expect. O Thumamah? " (What do you have to say?) He said, "I expect what is good, O Muhammad. If you kill me you will kill one with blood on his head " (Who deserves to be killed. Or, he meant that his blood would be avenged, for his people would not forgives his killing). "If you show kindness to me, you will be doing it to one who is grateful. If you wish to have properly, ask for it, you will be given whatever you wish."

Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم left him till the next day when he asked him again, "What do you expect, O Thumamah?. He said, " I have the same thing to say as I told you earlier. If you are kind to one who is grateful. If you kill me, you will kill one with blood on him. If you want property, you may ask and you will be given what you ask." Again, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم left him as he was.

On the next (third) day. He asked him (as before), " What do you expect, O Thumamah? " He said, " I have (the same answers) as I have told you. If you are kind to me, you will be kind to one who is grateful. But, if you kill me, you will kill one with blood on him. If you wish to have property, you may ask and will be given what you ask."

Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Set Thumamah free." He went away (on being released without saying anything) to the palm trees near the mosque (Masjid Nabawi). There he had a bath and came back to the mosque and testified:

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُوْلُهُ

"(I bear witness that there is no god but Allah. And, I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger)."

(Then he said:) "O Muhammad, I say by Allah. That there was no face on the surface of the earth more the surface of the earth more despised to me than yours. But, now your face is the dearest of all to me (in all the world) . By Allah, no religion was more despised to me than yours, but now your religion is the dearest to me of all (religion). By Allah, no town was more despised to me than yours, but now yours town is the dearest of all to me."

(Then he said:) " Your horsemen had seize me while I intended to perform umrah. So what do you say?"

Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم gave him glad tidings (that all his sins were forgiven). Then he instructed him to perform Umrah.

When he reached Makkah, someone said to him, " You have become irreligious. " He said, "No. But ,I have embraced Islam at the hands of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم And, by Allah, not one grain of wheat will come to you from Yamamah unless Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم permits me to release it."[1]

(٣٩٦٥) وَعَنْ جُبَيْرِ بْنِ مُطْعِمٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فِيْ أُسَارىٰ بَدْرٍ لَوْ كَانَ الْمُطْعِمُ بْنُ عَدِيٍّ حَيًّا ثُمَّ كَلَّمَنِيْ فِيْ هٰؤُلَاءِ النَّتْنٰى لَتَرَكْتُهُمْ لَهُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3965. Sayyiduna Jubayr ibn Mut'im narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said about the prisoners (of war) taken at Badr, " If Muslim ibn Adi was alive and had interceded with me concerning these dirty prisoners, I would have released them for his sake."[2]

COMMENTARY: Jubayr was one of the prisoners taken at badr. He heard this hadith from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم as a disbeliever but narrated it as a Muslim رضی الله عنه.

His father, Mut'im ibn Adi رضی اللہ عنہ was the grandson of Nawfal ibn Abu Munaf. So he was a near relative of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم grandfather. Mut'im had shown a favour to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم_by giving him protection when he had returned from Ta'if after preaching there and the infidels of Makkah intended Persecute him.
Therefore, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم spoke those words to Jubayr. Thereby, he intended to win over his heart and get him inclined to Islam.

PERSECUTORS WERE LET OFF

(٣٩٦٦) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ ثَمَانِيْنَ رَجُلًا مِنْ أَهْلِ مَكَّةَ هَبَطُوْا عَلَى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ جَبَلِ
التَّنْعِيْمِ مُتَسَلِّحِيْنَ يُرِيْدُوْنَ غِرَّةَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَأَصْحَابِهٖ فَأَخَذَهُمْ سِلْمًا فَاسْتَحْيَاهُمْ وَفِيْ
رِوَايَةٍ فَأَعْتَقَهُمْ فَأَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى وَهُوَ الَّذِيْ كَفَّ أَيْدِيَهُمْ عَنْكُمْ وَأَيْدِيَكُمْ عَنْهُمْ بِبَطْنِ مَكَّةَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3966. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (in the year of Hudaybiyah) eighty men of Makkah heavily armed came down from the mountain of tanim against Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم hoping to trap them suddenly. But, without fighting he took them captive disgraced and helpless then he let them go alive.
According to another version: He set them free. Allah, The Exalted, revealed:

وَهُوَ الَّذِيْ كَفَّ أَيْدِيَهُمْ عَنْكُمْ وَأَيْدِيَكُمْ عَنْهُمْ بِبَطْنِ مَكَّةَ

{And He is the one who restrained their hands from you and your hands from them in the valley of Makkah after He had let you prevail over them} (48: 24)[1]

THE PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ADDRESS TO THE IDOLATERS SLAIN AT BADR

3967. Sayyiduna Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Anas ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated to them on the authority of Abu Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ that on the day of Badr, Allah's Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave instructions that twenty-four chiefs of the Quraysh (infidels of Makkah) should be thrown into one of the wells of Badr that was filthy and spread filth. When he vanquished an enemy (it was his practice that) he stayed three nights on the battlefield. So when the three days were over (or it was the third day), he asked for his riding-beast saddled. It was done. Then he went, followed by his Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم, till he stood at the opening of the well. Here, he began to call them by their names and the names of their fathers, asking, "O so-and-so son of so-and-so and O so-and-so son of so-and-so, does it please you that you had (perhaps) obeyed Allah and His Messenger? Certainly we have found what our lord had promised us (and falsehood has perished) Did you find to be true what your Lord had promised you? " (Sayyiduna) Umar رضی اللہ عنہ submitted, " O Messenger of Allah. Do you address bodies that have no souls? "The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "By Him in whose hand is Muhammad's soul you people do not hear what I say better than they do."

---

[1] Muslim# 133. 1802, Tirmidhi # 3264, Abu Dawud # 2688, Musnad Ahmad 3. 124.

According to another version: " You do not hear better than they do, but (while you can respond), they do not respond."

Bukhari: also has that Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah revided them to make them hear what he said so that they may feel humiliated, grieved and sense the punishment and regret (in this world).[1]

COMMENTARY: Shaykh Abdul Haq Muhaddith Dahlawi and others have cited this hadith to prove that the dead can hear Mast Hanafi scholars deny this possibility. See books of fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) on this subject like Fath ul- Qadeer.

RETURN OF PRISONERS TAKEN AT HUNAYN

(٣٩٦٨) وَعَنْ مَرْوَانَ وَالْمِسْوَرِ بْنِ مَخْرَمَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَامَ حِيْنَ جَاءَهُ وَفْدُ هَوَازِنَ مُسْلِمِيْنَ فَسَاَلُوْهُ اَنْ يَرُدَّ اِلَيْهِمْ اَمْوَالَهُمْ وَسَبْيَهُمْ فَقَالَ فَاخْتَارُوْا اِحْدَى الطَّائِفَتَيْنِ اِمَّا السَّبْيَ وَاِمَّا الْمَالَ قَالُوْا فَاِنَّا نَخْتَارُ سَبْيَنَا فَقَامَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَثْنٰى عَلَى اللّٰهِ بِمَا هُوَ اَهْلُهُ ثُمَّ قَالَ اَمَّا بَعْدُ فَاِنَّ اِخْوَانَكُمْ قَدْ جَاءُوْا تَائِبِيْنَ وَاِنِّيْ قَدْ رَأَيْتُ اَنْ اَرُدَّ اِلَيْهِمْ سَبْيَهُمْ فَمَنْ اَحَبَّ مِنْكُمْ اَنْ يُّطَيِّبَ ذٰلِكَ فَلْيَفْعَلْ وَمَنْ اَحَبَّ مِنْكُمْ اَنْ يَكُوْنَ عَلٰى حَظِّهِ حَتّٰى نُعْطِيَهُ اِيَّاهُ مِنْ اَوَّلِ مَا يُفِيْءُ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْنَا فَلْيَفْعَلْ فَقَالَ النَّاسُ قَدْ طَيَّبْنَا ذٰلِكَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّا لَا نَدْرِيْ مَنْ اَذِنَ مِنْكُمْ مِمَّنْ لَمْ يَاْذَنْ فَارْجِعُوْا حَتّٰى يَرْفَعَ اِلَيْنَا عُرَفَاءُكُمْ اَمْرَكُمْ فَرَجَعَ النَّاسُ فَكَلَّمَهُمْ عُرَفَاءُهُمْ ثُمَّ رَجَعُوْا اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَخْبَرُوْهُ اَنَّهُمْ قَدْ طَيَّبُوْا وَاَذِنُوْا۔ (رواه البخارى)

3968. (Sayyiduna) Marwan رضی اللہ عنہ and Miswar ibn Makhramah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a deputation of Hawazin Muslims (after they had embraced Islam) came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and requested him to return to them their properties and their captives. He stood up and said, "Choose one of the two:

[1] Bukhari# 3976, Muslim # 78 78. 2875, Musnad Ahmad 3. 145, See also the life of Prophet Muhammad صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (Ibn Kathit's Search) p. 318F (DARUL Ishaat, Karachi)

either the captives or the property." They said, "We choose our captives." So, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم stood up (and delivered this sermon to the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم) and praised Allah and glorified Him as is His due and said " To proceed ! These (people of Hawazin) your brothers have come after repenting (from disbelief and Polytheism). I deem it proper to return their captives to them. So those of you who are prepared to release the captive may do so. But those who decide to keep them whom they have till I give them some of the next booty that Allah grants us may do so." The people submitted, "We are willing to do that, O Messenger of Allah (to release the captives)." He said, " We cannot make out in this gathering which not. So all of you return (to your homes and consult your leaders). Then your leaders (or chiefs) may inform us about your decision. "So, they went back and their leaders spoke to them. Then they came again to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and informed him that they had agreed (to release the captives) and had given the permission.[1]

COMMENTARY: To the southeast of Makkah along the road that leads towards ta'if there is a large ground surrounded by a small mountain. Beyond it is a small village. It is said that the Hawazin lived near the spacious ground. It is have that after the conquest of Makkah the battle of hunayn or Hawazin was fought.

The Muslims got a very large booty in this battle and they captured very many women and children. They were given to the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم, since the property and captives belonged to the sahabah. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked for their permission to return to the Hawazin Muslims their families.

PRISONER TAKEN FOR PRISONER

(٣٩٦٩) وَعَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ قَالَ كَانَ ثَقِيْفٌ حَلِيْفًا لِبَنِيْ عُقَيْلٍ فَاَسَرَتْ ثَقِيْفٌ رَجُلَيْنِ مِنْ اَصْحَابِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَجُلًا مِنْ بَنِيْ عُقَيْلٍ فَاَوْ ثَقُوْهُ فَطَرَحُوْهُ فِي الْحَرَّةِ فَمَرَّبِهٖ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَنَادَاهُ يَا مُحَمَّدُ يَا مُحَمَّدُ فِيْمَ اُخِذْتُ قَالَ بِجَرِيْرَةِ حُلَفَائِكُمْ ثَقِيْفٍ فَتَرَكَهٗ وَمَضٰى فَنَادَاهُ يَا مُحَمَّدُ يَا مُحَمَّدُ فَرَحِمَهٗ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَرَجَعَ قَالَ مَاشَأْنُكَ قَالَ اِنِّيْ مُسْلِمٌ فَقَالَ لَوْ قُلْتَهَا وَاَنْتَ تَمْلِكُ اَمرَكَ اَفْلَحْتَ كُلَّ الْفَلَاحِ قَالَ فَفَدَاهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِالرَّجُلَيْنِ الَّذَيْنِ اَسَرَتْهُمَا ثَقِيْفٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3969. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضی الله عنه narrated that the Thaqif were allies of Banu Uqayl. So when the Thaqif captured two men from the companions of Allah' Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, took a man of Banu Uqayl as captives. They bound him and threw him on the lava plain. Allah's Messenger came that way and he called him, "O Muhammad, O Muhammad! Why have I been seized?" He said , "In retaliation for the crime of your allies the Thaqif." He left him (as he was) and went ahead, but he called again. "O Muhammad, O Muhammad ! Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had mercy on him and came to him again and asked, " What is it?" He said, "I am a Muslim." He said, " If you had said so when you were master of your own affairs, you would have succeeded thoroughly (in both the worlds).

The narrator added: Then, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم ransomed him for the two men whom the Thaqif had captured.[1]

COMMENTARY: Thaqif was a famous tribe of the Arabs. It was a branch of the Banu Hawazin and lived in Ta'if. Banu Uqayl was a tribe allied to them. During the jahiliyah (ignorance period), tribes used to form alliances to cooperate with one another in dealing with others. Friends of one were friends of the other and so the enemies. When Islam was preached, only lawful covenants were allowed and unlawful promise done away with. Only the oath to Islam was enough.

Hurrah or the lava plain was a black, pebbled plain in the surroundings of Madinah in the mountainous area.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was very kind to the men who claimed to be a Muslim. A stranger's such claim may only be accepted if it is corroborated by evidence. This man could have meant to have accepted Islam at that time But, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not accept his claim and let him go to enemy territory.

RELEASE OF PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم SON-IN LAW AS PRISONER AT BADR

(٣٩٧٠) عَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ لَمَّا بَعَثَ اَهْلُ مَكَّةَ فِيْ فِدَاءِ اُسَرَائِهِمْ بَعَثَتْ زَيْنَبُ فِيْ فِدَاءِ اَبِي الْعَاصِ بِمَالٍ وَبَعَثَتْ فِيْهِ بِقِلَادَةٍ لَهَا كَانَتْ عِنْدَ خَدِيْجَةَ اَدْخَلَتْهَا بِهَا عَلٰى اَبِي الْعَاصِ فَلَمَّا رَاٰهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَقَّ لَهَا رِقَّةً شَدِيْدَةً وَقَالَ اِنْ رَأَيْتُمْ اَنْ تُطْلِقُوْا لَهَا اَسِيْرَهَا وَتَرُدُّوا عَلَيْهَا الَّذِيْ لَهَا فَقَالُوْا نَعَمْ وَكَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَخَذَ عَلَيْهِ اَنْ يُّخَلِّيْ سَبِيْلَ زَيْنَبَ اِلَيْهِ وَبَعَثَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ زَيْدَ بْنَ حَارِثَةَ وَرَجُلًا مِنَ الْاَنْصَارِ فَقَالَ كُوْنَا بِبَطْنِ يَاْجِجٍ حَتّٰى تَمُرَّ بِكُمَا زَيْنَبُ فَتَصْحَبَاهَا حَتّٰى تَاْتِيَا بِهَا۔ (رواہ احمد وابوداؤد)

3970. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that (when Allah gave victory to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم at Badr over the infidels some of whom where Killed and some brought to Madinah as prisoners for whom the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم received ransom to release them,) the Mahkans sent ransom to have their prisoners back. (Sayyidah) Zaynab رضى الله عنها (daughter of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم also sent some property to ransom (her husband) Abu Aas that included her necklace which belonged to (Sayyidah) Khadijah رضى الله عنها and she had presented it to her on her marriage with Abu Aas. When Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم saw it, he was moved emotionally (and felt sympathy for his daughter's loneliness and remembered the company of his wife Khadijah رضى الله عنها who used to wear it). He said (to his Sahabah رضى الله عنها. "If you think it reasonable that you should release her prisoner for her and return to her all that belongs to her (that she has sent for his release)..."They submitted, "Yes". (He was set free). The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم took his promise that he would allow Zaynab رضى الله عنها a free, unhindered passage to come to him (to Madinah). He sent Zayd ibn Harithah رضى الله عنه and a man of the ansars (supporters) (to Makkah) with instructions to wait in the valley of Yajij (near Tamim) for Zaynab رضى الله عنها to come then they were to bring her back (to Madinah).[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyidah Zaynab رضى الله عنها was the eldest daughter of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Abu Aas was her husband and his Son-in-law. He was the son of Rabi, the grandson of Abdul Uzza ibn Abd shams ibn Abd Manaf. He was a nephew of the mother of the believers, Sayyidah Khadijah رضى الله عنها.

She was the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم first wife. All his children, apart from Ibrahim رضى الله عنه, were born to her. Ibrahim رضى الله عنه died in infancy and his Mother was Sayyidah Mariyah Qubtiyah.

Sayyidah Zaynab رضى الله عنها was married to an infidel, Abu Aas, because at that time it was allowed to a Muslim woman to marry a disbelieving man. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sent two men to bring her to him from Makkah, but they were not her mahram. This was an exceptional case because she was the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم daughter and no suspicion may be attached to a stranger accompanying her. Of course, it is not allowed otherwise for a non-mahram to travel with a woman.

The valley Yajij is about eight miles away from Makkah. It is also spelt Najij. Earlier copies of Mishkat have it as Najij.

Sayyidah Zaynab رضى الله عنها returned to Madinah, but Abu Aas remained in Makkah as a disbeliever. However, he was scheduled to travel to Syria[2] with a trade caravan. The Muslims of Madinah learnt of it and decided to intercept him when he passed through the limits of Madinah and confiscate his property. Sayyidah Zaynab رضى الله عنها learnt of it and she was upset, She met Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and asked, "Is not a commitment of any Muslim reliable?. It a Muslim offers protection to a disbeliever, will all Muslims be bound to honour that?". He confirmed to her that a Muslim's promise was reliable. She said, "O Messenger of Allah, be witness that I give protection to Abu Aas". So, the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم withdrew their plan to intercept him. However, they did go to the thorough face of Madinah where Abu Aas was expected to arrive without carrying any arms or weapons. They met him and said to him, "Abu Aas, you are a noble, respected man of the Quraysh and an influential Man. You are the cousin of the Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم of Islam. (on this basis, nothing is better for you than that) you must become a Muslim.(You will retain all this, your property with you.

Abu Aas, said, "Your saying (that it I become a Muslim then because of it my property will be safe with one) is very unreasonable. I seek refuge from such thought that I should soil my Islam with the (impurity of) property. He returned to Makkah and handed over everyone his trust. Then, he invited them to assemble and asked them, "O people of Makkah, have you received your properties?". They confirmed, "Yes, we have got our belongings." Then, Abu Aas declared before them, "I call upon you to be witnesses that I have embraced Islam "And he recited.

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَّسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ

[1] Abu Dawud # 2692, Musnad Ahmad 6-276.

[2] It was not the same area as today. Its limits have been changing with time. So it is also referred to with its Arabic name Shaam to distinguish from present Syria. (Mujam ul Buldan)

(I bear witness that no one is worthy of worship but Allah and I bear witness that Muhammad is Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.

After that, Abu Aas رضى الله عنه left (in Makkah) his house, properties, friends relatives, etc. – everything and set out to emigrate to Madinah. There, he met Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم who welcomed him out of love and re-united Sayyidah Zaynab رضى الله عنها with him.

Opinions different whether the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم re-married Abu Aas رضى الله عنه when he arrived in Madinah with Zaynab رضى الله عنه or let their previous marriage continue.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had a deep relationship with Abu Aas, particularly after he became a Muslim. He loved him much and was very pleased with him.

He was martyned in the Battle of Yamamah in the days of Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه.[1]

THE DISBELIEVING PRISONERS AT BADR WHO WERE KILLED

(٣٩٧١) وَعَنْهَا اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَمَّا اَسَرَ اَهْلَ بَدْرٍ قَتَلَ عُقْبَةَ بْنَ اَبِيْ مُعَيْطٍ والنَّضْرَبْنَ الْحَارِثِ وَمَنَّ عَلٰى اَبِيْ عَزَّةَ الْجُمَحِيِّ۔ (رواه فى شرح السنة)

3971. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had taken prisoners at badr he killed Uqbah ibn Abu Mu'ayt and Nadr ibn Harith. But, he showed favour (mamnun) Abu Azzah Jumahi (whom he released without ransom).[2]

COMMENTARY: The ruler of the times is authorized to kill the non-Muslim prisoners in his custody who do not accept Islam. Or he may enslave them. Or, he may set them free because of protection granted to them by any Muslim. However it is not allowed to release them without ransom as favour (which is known as Mamnun), because this permission is abrogated.

(٣٩٧٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَمَّا اَرَادَ قَتْلَ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ اَبِيْ مُعَيْطٍ قَالَ مَنْ لِلصِّبْيَةِ قَالَ النَّارُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3972. Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم decided to kill Uqbah ibn Abu Mu'ayt, he asked, "who (will be responsible) for the children?" He said, "Hell-fire!"[3]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words meant that the children would be ruined because no one would look after them. The fire, of course, is not known to care for anyone. Its characteristic is to destroy

Or, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم may have meant to tell him, "Think of yourself. Well is your abode. Do not worry about the children. Allah is their Guardian. He will raise them."

CHOICE GIVEN ABOUT PRISONERS AT BADR

(٣٩٧٣) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّ جِبْرِيْلَ هَبَطَ عَلَيْهِ فَقَالَ لَهٗ خَيِّرْهُمْ يَعْنِي

اَصْحَابَكَ فِيْ اُسَارٰى بَدْرٍ اَلْقَتْلَ اَوِالْفِدَاءَ عَلٰى اَنْ يُّقْتَلَ مِنْهُمْ قَابِلًا مِثْلُهُمْ قَالُوْا الْفِدَاءَ وَيُقْتَلُ مِنَّا۔

(رواه الترمذی وقال هذا حديث غريب)

3973. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said that Jibril علیہ السلام had descended to him and said to him, "Give choice to your companions about the prisoners at Badr. They may kill them, or take ransom for them (and let them go) on condition that as many of them (the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم) would be killed the next year." (Their number was seventy.) They affirmed, "We shall take ransom and agree to have (a like number, seventy of) us killed (next year)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Seventy of the infidels were killed in the Battle of Badr. And, seventy were taken prisoners and brought to Madinah. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم consulted his Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم on what should be done to them. Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ suggested that they should be set free. Most possibly Allah may enable them to repent and embrace Islam. He said, "whatever ransom you receive might be spent on your friends to help them out in their worldly and religious needs."

However, Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Sever their necks because they are chiefs of the infidels. As for some monetary help, Allah has made you independent of that."

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave choice to the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم on the condition placed by Jibril's علیہ السلام message that if they opted for ransom then as many of them would be killed the next year. In spite of the stipulation, the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم chose to get the ransom. Hence, the next year in the battle of Uhud, the Muslims faced defeat on one occasion. They released that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had told them of that in the previous year. The Muslims lost seventy precious lives. These seventy martyrs included Hamzah ibn Abdul Muttalib and Mus'ab ibn Umayr رضی اللہ عنہ the glorious Sahabah.

After the upset of the battle, Umar رضی اللہ عنہ came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and saw him and Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ weeping. He asked them, "Why do you weep? Tell me so that I may weep too." The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "I may weep over your companion who had opted to get the ransom. " He pointed to a tree (standing near to him) and said, "I have been show their punishment from closer than this tree." According to a version he said "If they were punished then no one, apart from Umar and sa'd ibn Mu'adh, would have been spared." (sa'd رضی اللہ عنہ too, had concurred with Umar رضی اللہ عنہ that the prisoners should not be ransomed but should be killed.)

Anyway, the reasoning of the other Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم was that if the prisoners were spared (against ransom), they might become Muslims some time later. Moreover, they themselves hoped to attain martyrdom next year. They also had sympathy for the families of the prisoners. So they suggested that the prisoners should not be killed.

A QUESTION ARISES: If the Muslims were given choice between two things and they chose one of the two, then why were they punished (for choosing one of them)? Clearly, the punishment is against the option.

The answer is that it really was a test and trial for them. The test was to examine them whether they chose that which is dear to Allah or what was dear to their hearts. Therefore, they did not succeed who chose what was dear to their hearts and so were punished.
Allamah toor Pushti, however, regards this hadith (giving choice) as far fetched because it seemingly contradicts what is understood from the Quran. Besides, Tirmidhi has termed this tradition as gharib. But, it is not blameworthy to uphold some thing through a gharib (strange) hadith because sometimes it also is Sahih (accurate).

EXAMINING THE PRISONERS

(٣٩٧٤) وَعَنْ عَطِيَّةَ الْقُرَظِيِّ قَالَ كُنْتُ فِيْ سَبْيِ قُرَيْظَةَ عُرِضْنَا عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَكَانُوْا يَنْظُرُوْنَ فَمَنْ اَنْبَتَ الشَّعْرَ قُتِلَ وَ مَنْ لَمْ يُنْبِتْ لَمْ يُقْتَلْ فَكَشَفُوْا عَانَتِيْ فَوَجَدُوْهَا لَمْ تُنْبِتْ فَجَعَلُوْنِيْ فِي السَّبْيِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة والدارمی)

3974. Sayyiduna Atiya Qurazi رضی اللہ عنہ said, : I was among the captives of Qurayzah we were presented to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. The Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم examined us. Those of us who had begun to grow hair (on their private parts) were slain and those who had not (grown hair) were spared (because they were counted among children and non-fighters). They undressed me to examine my georital organs and found that hair had not grown on my pubes so they cast me among the captives."[1]

COMMENTARY: Allamah Toor Pushti said that it was necessary to examine them for growth of hair to know if they had attained puberty, otherwise they would not have disclosed the truth.

SLAVES WHO BECAME MUSLIMS WERE NOT RETURNED TO DISBELIEVING MASTERS

(٣٩٧٥) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ خَرَجَ عُبْدَانٌ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَعْنِيْ يَوْمَ الْحُدَيْبِيَّةِ قَبْلَ الصُّلْحِ فَكَتَبَ اِلَيْهِ مَوَالِيْهِمْ قَالُوْا يَا مُحَمَّدُ وَاللّٰهِ مَا خَرَجُوْا اِلَيْكَ رَغْبَةً فِيْ دِيْنِكَ وَاِنَّمَا خَرَجُوْا هَرَبًا مِنَ الرِّقِّ فَقَالَ نَاسٌ صَدَقُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ رُدَّهُمْ اِلَيْهِمْ فَغَضِبَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَقَالَ مَا اُرَاكُمْ تَنْتَهُوْنَ يَا مَعْشَرَ قُرَيْشٍ حَتّٰى يَبْعَثَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْكُمْ مَنْ يَضْرِبُ رِقَابَكُمْ عَلٰى هٰذَا وَاَبٰى اَنْ يَرُدَّهُمْ وَقَالَ هُمْ عُتَقَاءُ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواه ابوداود)

3975. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that some slaves came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم on the day of Hudaybiyah before the peace treaty was signed. Their masters wrote to him. "O Muhammad ! By Allah, they have not come to you through a longing for your religion. They have only gone away (from us) to flee from slavery." Some people (of the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم) submitted, they have spoken the truth, O Messenger of Allah! Send them back to them." (On that) Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم got angry and said , " I do not suppose that you will desist, O company of the Quraysh (!) till Allah sends over you one who cuts off your necks for this (suggestion that these Muslims should be sent back to enemy territory)." He declined to send them back. He said, "They are Allah's Freemen.[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم was displeased because the Sahabah gave their personal opinions on an issue that is decided by Shariah and seemed to have given testimony in favour of the masters of the slaves. The rule of Shariah is that the slaves became innocent and free on coming out of enemy land embracing Islam.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

INDISCRETION ON THE PART OF KHALID IBN WALID رضی الله عنه

(٣٩٧٦) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ بَعَثَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَالِدَبْنَ الْوَلِيْدِ اِلٰى بَنِي جَذِيْمَةَ فَدَعَاهُمْ اِلَى الْاِسْلَامِ فَلَمْ يُحْسِنُوْا اَنْ يَقُوْلُوْا اَسْلَمْنَا فَجَعَلُوْا يَقُوْلُوْنَ صَبَأْنَا صَبَأْنَا فَجَعَلَ خَالِدٌ يَقْتُلُ وَيَأْسِرُوَدَفَعَ اِلٰى كُلِّ رَجُلٍ مِنَّا اَسِيْرَهٗ حَتّٰى اِذَا كَانَ يَوْمٌ اَمَرَ خَالِدٌ اَنْ يَقْتُلَ كُلُّ رَجُلٍ مِنَّا اَسِيْرَهٗ فَقُلْتُ وَاللّٰهِ لَا اَقْتُلُ اَسِيْرِيْ وَلَا يَقْتُلُ رَجُلٌ مِنْ اَصْحَابِيْ اَسِيْرَهٗ حَتّٰى قَدِمْنَا عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَذَكَرْنَاهُ فَرَفَعَ يَدَيْهِ فَقَالَ اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّيْ اَبْرَأُ اِلَيْكَ مِمَّا صَنَعَ خَالِدٌ مَرَّتَيْنِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3976. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه said, "The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم sent Khalid ibn Walid رضی الله عنه to Banu Jadhimah. He invited them to accept Islam. They could not express themselves well (being frightened) and say, " We have believed " but began to say 'sabana, sabana!' (we have forsaken our religion , we have forsaken our religion) So, Khalid began to kill them and to take prisoners. He handed a prisoner to each of us . Then, one day, Khalid ordered everyone of us to kill his prisoner. But, I said 'by Allah, I shall not kill my prisoner nor will anyone of my companions kill his prisoner, till we come to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم (and get his command).' So (when we came to him) we mentioned this case to him. He raised both his hands and exclaimed twice. "O Allah, I declare that I am absolved before you of what Khalid has done.'[2]

COMMENTARY: Khattabi said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم absolved himself of Kahlid's indiscretion because Khalid did not consider carefully what those people meant by sabana. It does also imply that they had accepted Islam and changed over to it. Khalid was only considered with a clear declaration of Islam by Aslamna. So he took a rash, strong action.

PROTECTION باب الأمان

SECTION I الفصل الأوّل

PROTECTION EXTENDED BY UMM HANI

(٣٩٧٧) عَنْ أُمِّ هَانِئٍ بِنْتِ اَبِي طَالِبٍ قَالَتْ ذَهَبْتُ اِلَى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَامَ الْفَتْحِ فَوَجَدْتُّهُ يَغْتَسِلُ وَ فَاطِمَةُ ابْنَتُهُ تَسْتُرُهُ بِثَوْبٍ فَسَلَّمْتُ فَقَالَ مَنْ هٰذِهٖ فَقُلْتُ اَنَا اُمُّ هَانِئٍ بِنْتُ اَبِي طَالِبٍ فَقَالَ مَرْحَبًا بِاُمِّ هَانِئٍ فَلَمَّا فَرَغَ مِنْ غُسْلِهٖ قَامَ فَصَلّٰى ثَمَانِيَ رَكَعَاتٍ مُلْتَحِفًا فِيْ ثَوْبٍ ثُمَّ انْصَرَفَ فَقُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ زَعَمَ ابْنُ اُمِّيْ عَلِيٌّ اَنَّهٗ قَاتِلٌ رَجُلًا اَجَرْتُهٗ فُلَانَ بْنَ هُبَيْرَةَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَدْ اَجَرْنَا مَنْ اَجَرْتِ يَا اُمَّ هَانِئٍ قَالَتْ اُمُّ هَانِئٍ وَذٰلِكَ ضُحًى۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِلتِّرْمِذِيِّ قَالَتْ اَجَرْتُ رَجُلَيْنِ مِنْ اَحْمَائِيْ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَدْ اٰمَنَّا مَنْ اٰمَنْتِ۔

3977. Sayyidah Umm Hani رضی الله عنها (daughter of Abu Talib narrated that in the year of the conquest she went to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. He was having a bath and (Sayyidah) Fatimah رضی الله عنها, his daughter, had screened him with a garment. She offered her salaam (the greetings) and he asked "who is it ? " She identified herself," I am Umm Hani bint Abu Talib". He said, "Welcome, Umm Hani". Then, after he had had his bath, he stood to offer eight raka'at salah (prayer) wrapped in a garment. When, he had finished, she submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, my mother's , son, Ali, has declared that he would kill a man whom I have given protection, so-and-so, son of Hubayrah."Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said , "We have given protection to him whom you have given protection , O Umm Hani." (She said that) it was in the forenoon.[1]
According to another version (in Tirmidhi), she said, "I have give protection to two men who are relatives of my husband." So, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "We have given protection to whom you have given protection,"[2]

COMMENTARY: The name of Umm Hani was Faakhtah رضی الله عنه but some say Aatikah. She was Abu Talib's daughter and real sister of Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه
Hubayrah was her husband. When she embraced Islam in the year of the Conquest of Makkah, he did not accept Islam, so they separated. She had given protection to a son of her husband, Hubayrah, perhaps from another of his wives.
Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه had not approved her action, but the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم accepted the protection she had extended.
It is stated in the version of Tirmidhi that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had his bath in the house of Umm Hani رضی الله عنها but the version of Bukhari and Muslim mean 'his own house; or 'the

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

PROTECTION OFFERED BY A WOMAN IS RELIABLE

(۳۹۷۸) عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِنَّ الْمَرْأَةَ لَتَأْخُذُ لِلْقَوْمِ يَعْنِي تُجِيْرُ عَلَى الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ۔ (رواہ الترمذی)

3978. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said ., "A woman has a right to get from the Muslims protection for someone.[1]

COMMENTARY: If a Muslim woman extends protection to a disbeliever or a group of disbelievers then it is the responsibility of all muslims to honour her commitment. They must not violate the protection given by her.

WARNING TO ONE WHO DISHONORS THE PROTECTION EXTENDED BY HIM

(۳۹۷۹) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْحَمِقِ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ اٰمَّنَ رَجُلًا عَلَى نَفْسِهٖ فَقَتَلَهٗ أُعْطِيَ لِوَاءَ الْغَدْرِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواہ فی شرح السنة)

3979. Sayyiduna Amr in Hamiq رضی اللہ عنہ said that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "If anyone grants protection to someone for his life but after that Kills him, then, on the day of resurrection, he will be handed over a banner of treachery."[2]

COMMENTARY: The banner of treachery implies disgrace before the multitude in the place of gathering. Other ahadith say that he will be given a sign whereby all people will recognize him as one who betrayed his trust.

BE FAITHFUL TO YOUR COVENANT

(۳۹۸۰) وَعَنْ سُلَيْمِ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ كَانَ بَيْنَ مُعَاوِيَةَ وَبَيْنَ الرُّوْمِ عَهْدٌ وَكَانَ يَسِيْرُ نَحْوَ بِلَادِهِمْ حَتّٰى إِذَا انْقَضَى الْعَهْدُ أَغَارَ عَلَيْهِمْ فَجَاءَ رَجُلٌ عَلَى فَرَسٍ أَوْ بِرْذَوْنٍ وَهُوَ يَقُوْلُ اللّٰهُ أَكْبَرُ اللّٰهُ أَكْبَرُ وَفَاءٌ لَا غَدْرٌ فَنَظَرُوْا فَإِذَا هُوَ عَمْرُو بْنُ عَبَسَةَ فَسَأَلَهُ مُعَاوِيَةُ عَنْ ذٰلِكَ فَقَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ كَانَ بَيْنَهٗ وَبَيْنَ قَوْمٍ عَهْدٌ فَلَا يَحُلَّنَّ عَهْدًا وَلَا يَشُدَّنَّهٗ حَتّٰى يَمْضِيَ أَمَدُهٗ أَوْ يَنْبِذَ إِلَيْهِمْ عَلَى سَوَاءٍ قَالَ فَرَجَعَ مُعَاوِيَةُ بِالنَّاسِ۔ (رواہ الترمذی وابوداؤد)

3980. Sayyiduna Sulaym ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a covenant existed between Sayyiduna Muawiyah رضی اللہ عنہ and the Romans(Byzantines). He went towards their country with intent to attack them when the covenant ended, promptly. A man came sinfully on a horse - Arabian or Turkish - calling out, "Allhu Akbar, Allahu Akbar (Allah is the Greatest)! Faithfulness, not treachery!" They saw that he was Amr ibn Abasah رضی الله عنه. Sayyiduna Muawiyah رضی الله عنه asked him about that (how was it treachery?) and he said, I had heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, 'If anyone has a covenant with a people, then it is not lawful for him to make it soft or strong (meaning, to break it or alter it) till it expires, Or, he should throw it towards them that they might know that it is rescinded." Then, Sayyiduna Muawiyah رضی الله عنه turned back.[1]

COMMENTARY: Making a covenant soft or strong means that the objective of the covenant must not be foiled at all of course, otherwise it is commendable to strengthen a covenant in the eyes of Shariah. (It was a manouvere on Mu'awiyad's رضی الله عنه part within the validity of the treaty that was tantamount to treachery.)

RESPECT FOR ENVOY

(٣٩٨١) وَعَنْ اَبِي رَافِعٍ قَالَ بَعَثَنِي قُرَيْشٌ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَلَمَّا رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اُلْقِيَ فِيْ قَلْبِيْ الْاِسْلَامُ فَقُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنِّيْ وَاللّٰهِ لَا اَرْجِعُ اِلَيْهِمْ اَبَدًا قَالَ اِنِّيْ لَا اَخِيْسُ بِالْعَهْدِ وَلَا اَحْبِسُ الْبُرُدَ وَلٰكِنِ ارْجِعْ فَاِنْ كَانَ فِيْ نَفْسِكَ الَّذِيْ فِيْ نَفْسِكَ الْاٰنَ فَارْجِعْ قَالَ فَذَهَبْتُ ثُمَّ اَتَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَسْلَمْتُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

3981. Sayyiduna Abu Rafi رضی الله عنه said, "The Quraysh sent me (as their envoy when the treaty of Hudaybiyah was being concluded) to Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم. When I saw Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم, Islam made home in my heart (voluntarily), so I submitted, 'O Messenger , of Allah, by Allah, I shall not go back to them, ever.' He said, I neither break a covenant, not detain envoys. So, go back now and if you have the same thing in your heart as you have now, come back.' Hence, I returned and later came to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم and embraced Islam.[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم advised Abu Rafi رضی الله عنه to fulfil his responsibility first. Then he could return as an independent individual and declare his Islam.

(٣٩٨٢) وَعَنْ نُعَيْمِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِرَجُلَيْنِ جَاءَ مِنْ عِنْدِ مُسَيْلَمَةَ اَمَا وَاللّٰهِ لَوْ لَا اَنَّ الرُّسُلَ لَا تُقْتَلُ لَضَرَبْتُ اَعْنَاقَكُمَا۔ (رواه احمد و ابوداؤد)

3982. Sayyiduna Nu'aym ibn Mas'ud رضی الله عنه reported that Allah's Messenger رضی الله عنه said to two men who had come from Musaylamah, "By Allah, if it were not killed, I would sever your necks."[3]

COMMENTARY: Musaylamah had laid claim to Prophethood in the time of the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم. So he was called Musaylamah Kadhdhab (liar). He had sent Abdullah ibn Nawwahah and Ibn Uthal to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم as his envoys who had testified before him that Masaylamah was Allah's Messenger. Therefore, he spoke to them as in the hadith.

COVENANTS OF JAHILIYAH (IGNORANCE PERIOD) HAD TO BE HONOURED IF THEY DID NOT CONTRAVENE THE SHARI'AH (DIVINE LAW)

(٣٩٨٣) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فِيْ خُطْبَتِهٖ اَوْفُوْا بِحِلْفِ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ فَاِنَّهٗ لَا يُزِيْدُهٗ يَعْنِي الْاِسْلَامَ اِلَّا شِدَّةً وَلَا تُحْدِثُوْا حِلْفًا فِي الْاِسْلَامِ. رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ مِنْ طَرِيْقِ حُسَيْنِ بْنِ ذَكْوَانَ عَنْ عَمْرٍو وَقَالَ حَسَنٌ.

3983. Sayyiduna Amir ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father from his grand father that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said while delivering a sermon, "Fulfil the oath of jahiliyah (ignorance period), for it (meaning, Islam) does not but give it (the oath) more strength. But, do not enter into new covenants in Islam".[1]

COMMENTARY: Only those oaths undertaken in pre-Islamic period ought to be honoured as are not contrary to Islamic teachings and beliefs, and as do not damage religion, for Allah says'.

وَتَعَاوَنُوْا عَلَى الْبِرِّ وَالتَّقْوٰى وَلَا تَعَاوَنُوْا عَلَى الْاِثْمِ وَالْعُدْوَانِ۔ (المائدة٥: ٢)

{Cooperate with each other in virtue and piety and cooperate not in sin and transgression} (5: 2).

In short, Islam forbids that such covenants should be honoured as cause mischief and bloodshed. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had said (لاحلف فى الاسلام) (There is no half in Islam).As for oaths and covenants that call for helping the needy and poor, being kind to relatives, and such like pious work, Islam upholds them and makes them stronger, as the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said,

اَيُّمَا حِلْفٍ كَانَ فِي الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ لَمْ يَزِدْهُ الْاِسْلَامُ اِلَّا شِدَّةً

However, Islam does not approve of new covenents. Mutual help and cooperation is wajib (obligatory) in Islam inherently and that is enough.

Teebi said that this prohibition could imply a prohibition of oaths by themselves. But Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله prefers the second implication (which Teebi رحمه الله too has mentioned) and even Mazhar says so. It also explains the hadith under discussion. It says: If you had taken an oath in the jahiliyah (ignorance period) (before becoming a Muslim) that you will help each other then (as Muslims) you must fulfil your oaths and help each other, provided he who is helped pursues the right course. But, such alliances should not be promoted in Islam as make you heirs of each other; (It was done in pre-Islamic days that any two people could declare on oath that the one serving the other would be his heir.)

The hadith of Sayyiduna Ali on 'lives of all Muslims being equal' is as # 3475 previously (under Retaliation).

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

ENVOYS AND MESSENGERS MUST NOT BE KILLED

(٣٩٨٤) عَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ جَاءَ ابْنُ النَّوَاحَةِ وَ ابْنُ أُثَالٍ رَسُوْلَا مُسَيْلَمَةَ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ لَهُمَا أَتَشْهَدَانِ أَنِّي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ فَقَالَا نَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُسَيْلَمَةَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اٰمَنْتُ بِاللّٰهِ وَرَسُوْلِهٖ لَوْ كُنْتُ قَاتِلًا رَسُوْلًا لَقَتَلْتُكُمَا قَالَ عَبْدُاللّٰهِ فَمَضَتِ السُّنَّةُ أَنَّ الرَّسُوْلَ لَا يُقْتَلُ۔ (رواه احمد)

3984. Sayyiduna Ibn Masud رضی الله عنه narrated that Ibn Nawwahah and Ibn Uthal came to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم as enjoys of Musaylamah (the false claimant to prophethood). He asked the two of them, "Do you bear witness that I am Allah's Messenger?. But, they said "No! We testify that Musaylamah is Allah's Messenger." So, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "I have believed in Allah and His Messenger.. And, if it was my practice to Kill envoys and messengers. I would have surely killed both of you."
Abdullah (ibn Masud) رضی الله عنه said, "The sunnah (Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم practice) came into force that envoys and messengers should not be Killed." (This, even if they commit a great wrong.)

COMMENTARY: These envoys clearly rejected the Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم prophethood and messenger ship. They rather declared Musaylamah as a Messenger and prophet of Allah. In his answer declaring his belief in Allah and in his Messenger ship, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم demonstrated his resolve to seek the truth and his attribute of compassion and courage. He indicated that those false people would suffer Divine punishment. He also declared through his words that Musaylamah was false and had lied in claiming prophethood.

CHAPTER - VIII

DIVISION OF SPOILS & BEING TREACHEROUS IN THIS REGARD

بَابُ قِسْمَةِ الْغَنَائِمِ وَالْغُلُوْلِ فِيْهَا

SECTION I

اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

SPOILS ARE LAWFUL FOR MUSLIMS

(٣٩٨٥) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فَلَمْ تَحِلَّ الْغَنَائِمُ لِاَحَدٍ مِنْ قَبْلِنَا ذٰلِكَ بِاَنَّ اللّٰهَ رَأَىٰ ضَعْفَنَا وَعِجْزَنَا فَطَيَّبَهَا لَنَا۔ (متفق عليه)

3985. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم, "The spoils were not lawful to anyone before us. Allah looked on our weakness and helplessness and made them lawful for us.[1]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمه الله says his hadith is actually a conclusion of hadith # 4033. The whole is not mentioned here. Why it begins with Arabic "(So,) spoils were not lawful."

SPOILS BELONG TO HIM WHO SLAYS THE INFIDEL IN BATTLE

(٣٩٨٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ قَتَادَةَ قَالَ خَرَجْنَا مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ عَامَ حُنَيْنٍ فَلَمَّا الْتَقَيْنَا كَانَتْ لِلْمُسْلِمِيْنَ جَوْلَةٌ فَرَأَيْتُ رَجُلًا مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ قَدْ عَلَا رَجُلًا مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ فَضَرَبْتُهُ مِنْ وَّرَائِهِ عَلٰى حَبْلِ عَاتِقِهِ بِالسَّيْفِ فَقَطَعْتُ الدِّرْعَ وَاَقْبَلَ عَلَيَّ فَضَمَّنِيْ ضَمَّةً وَجَدْتُ مِنْهَا رِيْحَ الْمَوْتِ ثُمَّ اَدْرَكَهُ الْمَوْتُ فَاَرْسَلَنِيْ فَلَحِقْتُ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ فَقُلْتُ مَا بَالُ النَّاسِ قَالَ اَمْرُ اللّٰهِ ثُمَّ رَجَعُوْا وَجَلَسَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ مَنْ قَتَلَ قَتِيْلًا لَهٗ عَلَيْهِ بَيِّنَةٌ فَلَهٗ سَلَبُهٗ فَقُلْتُ مَنْ يَّشْهَدُ لِيْ ثُمَّ جَلَسْتُ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِثْلَهٗ فَقُمْتُ مَنْ يَّشْهَدُ لِيْ ثُمَّ جَلَسْتُ ثُمَّ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِثْلَهٗ فَقُمْتُ فَقَالَ مَا لَكَ يَا اَبَا قَتَادَةَ فَاَخْبَرْتُهٗ فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ صَدَقَ وَسَلَبُهٗ عِنْدِيْ فَاَرْضِهٖ مِنِّيْ فَقَالَ اَبُوْ بَكْرٍ لَاهَا اللّٰهِ اِذًا لَا يَعْمِدُ اِلٰى اَسَدٍ مِنْ اُسْدِ اللّٰهِ يُقَاتِلُ عَنِ اللّٰهِ وَرَسُوْلِهٖ فَيُعْطِيَكَ سَلَبَهٗ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَدَقَ فَاَعْطِهٖ فَاَعْطَانِيْهِ فَابْتَعْتُ بِهٖ مَخْرَفًا فِيْ بَنِيْ سَلِمَةَ فَاِنَّهٗ لَاَوَّلُ مَالٍ تَاَثَّلْتُهٗ فِي الْاِسْلَامِ۔ (متفق عليه)

3986. Sayyiduna Abu Qatadah رضی الله عنه narrated: We set out with Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم in the year of Hunayn (after the conquest of Makkah). When we Muslims faced the infidels, the Muslims seemed (outwardly) to suffer a reverse. I saw that an idolater had overpowered a Muslim, so I struck the idolater with my sword from behind on his shoulder-blade and cut his chain armour. Now, he turned to me and squeezed me with such force that I was dying, but he died and his grip over me gave way. Then I met Umar ibn Khattab رضی الله عنه and asked him "What is wrong with the people?" (They are fleeing.) He said, "It is Allah's decree. Then the Muslims (regrouped and) returned. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sat down and said, "If anyone Kills an infidel and has a witness to it, even one witness, then he will get his spoils." I thought to myself, "Who will testify for me ?" and sat down. Again, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said the same and I stood up. He asked, "What is it with you Abu Qatadah ?" I told him (that I had Killed an idolater). A man said, "He speaks the truth. I have his spoils , Make him agreeable to exchange that for something else. Or get us to settle willingly." Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ said "By Allah, let him not do so. A brave warrior of Allah does not fight for Allah and His Messenger only to surrender his spoils to you." The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Abu Bakr is right. Five the idolater's belongings to Abu Qatadah." So, he gave me all the belongings of the idolater. I bought (against that) a garden situated among the Banu Salimah. This was the first property that I collected after accepting Islam.[1]

COMMENTARY: In this battle, the enemy appeared initially to be getting the upper hand and Muslims deserted the battlefield for some time. But, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم stood his ground on a mule held by Abbas ibn Muttalib رضی اللہ عنہ. While the Muslims were in utter disorder, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم not only faced the enemy bravely but also decided to step forward to fight the enemy. He kept saying:

اَنَا النَّبِيُّ لَا كَذِبْ، اَنَا ابْنُ عَبْدِالْمُطَّلِبْ

I am the Prophet, no lies. I am the son of Abdul Muttalib.

These two men held the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم back. Then Allah caused the Muslims to be patient. They attacked the enemy and uprooted them completely to triumph in the battle.

DISTRIBUTION OF SPOILS

(٣٩٨٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَسْهَمَ لِلرَّجُلِ وَلِفَرَسِهِ ثَلَاثَةَ اَسْهُمٍ سَهْمًا لَهُ وَسَهْمَيْنِ لِفَرَسِهِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3987. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم apportioned (from the spoils) three shares for a warrior and his horse: one being for him and two for his horse.[2]

COMMENTARY: Most of the ulama (Scholars) go by this hadith but some of them give two portions to a warrior with horse. Imam Abu Hanifah رضی اللہ عنہ also goes by it (2 portions) because a hadith # 4006 in Section II, discloses that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم observed such distribution. The same thing is known from Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ and Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ Ashary, and the Hidayah attributes this ruling to Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and to Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ whose second tradition is given preference to this one..

SLAVES & WOMEN HAVE NO SHARE IN SPOILS

(٣٩٨٨) وَعَنْ يَزِيْدَ بْنِ هُرْمُزَ قَالَ كَتَبَ نَجْدَةُ الْحَرُوْرِيُّ إِلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ يَسْأَلُهُ عَنِ الْعَبْدِ وَ الْمَرْأَةِ يَحْضُرَانِ

3988. Sayyiduna Yazid ibn Hurmuz reported that Najdah Hururi wrote to (Sayyiduna) ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ asking him, " If a slave and a women are present at the distribution of the spoils, may they be given a share? " He instructed Yazaid to wrote on his behalf to Najdah, "No share is specified for them but some amount may be given to them (on the moment)."
According to another version . Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ wrote to him, "You have written asking me whether Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم took women along to battles and did he give them a share (of the spoils). Yes, he did take them along for jihad (crusade) to tend to the sick (and the wounded). They were given something from the spoils but he fixed no share for them."[1]

COMMENTARY: Najdah was the chief of the Khawarij, the oppOnents of Ali رضی اللہ عنہ. Haruri is from Harura, a village near Kufah. The first meeting of the Khawarij is reported to have been held here.
Most Ulama (Scholars), including and Hanafis, agree that women, children and slaves may be given a small, unspecified (token) portion. The Hadiyah says that if a slave fight in the battle then he is given something and a women if she has attended to the sick and wounded.

SOME WARRIORS MAY BE GIVEN MORE THAN THEIR SHARES

(٣٩٨٩) وَعَنْ سَلَمَةَ بْنِ الْاَكْوَعِ قَالَ بَعَثَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِظَهْرِهٖ مَعَ رَبَاحٍ غُلَامِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاَنَا مَعَهٗ فَلَمَّا اَصْبَحْنَا اِذَا عَبْدُالرَّحْمٰنِ الْفَزَارِيُّ قَدْ اَغَارَ عَلٰى ظَهْرِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقُمْتُ عَلٰى اَكَمَةٍ فَاسْتَقْبَلْتُ الْمَدِيْنَةَ فَنَادَيْتُ ثَلَاثًا يَا صَبَاحَاهُ ثُمَّ خَرَجْتُ فِيْ اٰثَارِ الْقَوْمِ اَرْمِيْهِمْ بِالنَّبْلِ وَاَرْتَجِزُ اَقُوْلُ اَنَا ابْنُ الْاَكْوَعِ وَالْيَوْمُ يَوْمُ الرُّضَّعِ- فَمَا زِلْتُ اَرْمِيْهِمْ وَاَعْقِرُ بِهِمْ حَتّٰى مَا خَلَقَ اللّٰهُ مِنْ بَعِيْرٍ مِنْ ظَهْرِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِلَّا خَلَّفْتُهٗ وَرَاءَ ظَهْرِيْ ثُمَّ اتَّبَعْتُهُمْ اَرْمِيْهِمْ حَتّٰى اَلْقَوْا اَكْثَرَ مِنْ ثَلَاثِيْنَ بُرْدَةً وَّثَلَاثِيْنَ رُمْحًا يَسْتَخِفُّوْنَ وَلَا يَطْرَحُوْنَ شَيْئًا اِلَّا جَعَلْتُ عَلَيْهِ اٰرَامًا مِنَ الْحِجَارَةِ يَعْرِفُهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاَصْحَابُهٗ حَتّٰى رَأَيْتُ فَوَارِسَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَلَحِقَ اَبُوْ قَتَادَةَ فَارِسُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِعَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ فَقَتَلَهٗ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَيْرُ فُرْسَانِنَا الْيَوْمَ اَبُوْ قَتَادَةَ وَخَيْرُ رَجَّالَتِنَا سَلَمَةُ قَالَ ثُمَّ اَعْطَانِيْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ

3989. Sayyiduna Salmah ibn Akwa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: (after the peace agreement at Hudaybiyah), Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent his riding-beasts ahead with Rabah, who was his slave. I travelled with him. (We spent the night on the way.) In the morning. Abdur Rahman Fazari (a sworn enemy of the Muslims) raided (and took away) the riding beasts of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. I climbed a hillock and called out thrice facing Madinah ' Ya Sabahah' (a morning raid). Then, I followed the people shooting arrows at them, humming the rajaz: (أَنَا ابْنُ الْأَكْوَعِ وَالْيَوْمُ يَوْمُ الرُّضَّعِ) (I am the son of Akwa' Today is the day of ruin for you).

I shot at them killing their beasts, compelling them to go on foot. Soon, I was ahead of every riding-beast of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم created by Allah. I continued to follow them shooting at them , so they cast aside more than thirty cloaks and thirty lances to make themselves light (of burden). I put stones on everything they cast aside to let Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and his companions observe them. Then I saw Allah's Messenger's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم horsemen (coming) and (I saw) Abu Qatadah, the horseman of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He nabbed Abdur Rahman and slew him. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, " Our best horseman (of all our horsemen) today is Abu Qatadah and the best of our footmen is Salamah."

Then (as he divided the property of those infidels) he gave me two portions: a horseman's and a footman's. He gave me the two portions together and make me sit behind him on (his she camel) Adba, We set back towards Madinah.[1]

COMMENTARY: When a traveller found anything that he could not carry at that time, he put a stone there as a marking. Later, he picked it up.

Since Salamah ibn Akwa رضی اللہ عنہ was the man behind the achievement, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave him a horseman's share too apart from a footman's. The ruler has authority to allot an extra share to anyone.

(٣٩٩٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يُنَفِّلُ بَعْضَ مَنْ يَبْعَثُ مِنَ السَّرَايَا

لِأَنْفُسِهِمْ خَاصَّةً سِوَىٰ قِسْمَةِ عَامَّةِ الْجَيْشِ۔ (متفق علیه)

3990. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that of the warriors that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent on an expedition, he gave spoils for themselves above the division set out for the entire army.[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave something more to some by way of encouragement to them.

(٣٩٩١) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ نَفَّلَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَفَلًا سِوَىٰ نَصِيْبِنَا مِنَ الْخُمُسِ فَأَصَابَنِي شَارِفٌ

3991. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (once) Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave them more than their due share from the Khums (one-fifth). He (Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ) got an shaarif. It is an old and large she-camel.[1]

ABOUT ANIMALS RETAKEN FROM ENEMY

(٣٩٩٢) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ ذَهَبَتْ فَرَسٌ لَهُ فَأَخَذَهَا الْعَدُوُّ فَظَهَرَ عَلَيْهِمُ الْمُسْلِمُوْنَ فَرُدَّ عَلَيْهِ فِيْ زَمَنِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ أَبَقَ عَبْدٌ لَهُ فَلَحِقَ بِالرُّوْمِ فَظَهَرَ عَلَيْهِمُ الْمُسْلِمُوْنَ فَرَدَّ عَلَيْهِ خَالِدُ ابْنُ الْوَلِيْدِ بَعْدَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ۔ (رواه البخاری)

3992. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said that his horse wandered off and was seized by the enemy. When the Muslims defeated them (and collected spoils from them), it was returned to him (and it was not counted among the spoils). This had happened in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

According to another version: One of his slaves fled and joined the Byzantines. When the Muslims gained victory over them Khalid ibn walid gave him back to him. This took place after the death of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم.[2]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ says on the evidence of this hadith that if the disbelievers take away a Muslim's fleeing slave then they do not become his owners. Hence, when the Muslims defeat them and that slave comes to their hands as part of the spoils, is becomes wajib (obligatory) to return him to his owner, before or after the spoils are divided. According to Ibn Hammam رحمہ اللہ, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ says the same thing about a Muslim slave of a Muslim or a dhimmi, but his two students Imam Abu Yusuf رحمہ اللہ and Imam Muhammad رحمہ اللہ hold that the disbelievers will become his owners. Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ say the same thing as they say. If the slave had apostated before fleeing and is seized by the disbelievers, then all the imams say that they (the disbelievers) will become his owners.

Also, if a camel of a Muslim or a dhimmi runs away and the disbelievers seize it, they will become its owners.

BANU ABD SHAMS & BANU NAWFAL HAD NO SHARE IN KHUMS FROM KHYBAR

(٣٩٩٣) وَعَنْ جُبَيْرِ ابْنِ مُطْعِمٍ قَالَ مَشَيْتُ أَنَا وَعُثْمَانُ بْنُ عَفَّانَ إِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقُلْنَا أَعْطَيْتَ بَنِي الْمُطَّلِبِ مِنْ خُمُسِ خَيْبَرَ وَتَرَكْتَنَا وَنَحْنُ بِمَنْزِلَةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ مِنْكَ فَقَالَ إِنَّمَا بَنُوْهَا شِمٍ وَ بَنُو الْمُطَّلِبِ شَيْءٌ وَاحِدٌ قَالَ جُبَيْرٌ وَلَمْ يَقْسِمِ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِبَنِيْ عَبْدِ شَمْسٍ وَبَنِيْ نَوْفِلٍ شَيْئًا۔

(رواه البخاری)

3993. Sayyiduna Jubayr ibn Mut'im رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he and Uthman ibn Affan went to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and submitted, "You have given the Banu Muttalib a share from the fifth of Khaybar, but you did not give us anything though in

---

[1] Muslim # 38-1750.

[2] Bukhari # 3076, Ibn Majah # 2847.

relationship to you we are all alike." He said, "The Banu Hashim and the Banu Muttalib are the same."
Jubayr رضی اللہ عنہ said, "The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not apportion anything to the Banu Abd Shams (who were Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ and others)."[1]

COMMENTARY: They were alike in relationship because they were all descended from Abd Manaf. Hashim, Muttalib, Nawfal and Abd Shams were the four sons of Abd Manaf, their grand father fourth up in the line, in this way:

- Jubayr رضی اللہ عنہ ibn Mut'im ibn Adi ibn Nawfal ibn Abd Manaf.
- Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ ibn Affan ibn Abu al-Aas ibn Amir ibn Abd Shams ibn Abd Manaf.
- Muhammad صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ibn Abdullah ibn Abdul Muttalib ibn Hashim ibn Abd Manaf.

However, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم told them that he knew only that the Banu Hashim and banu Muttalib were members of one rank and like the same thing, being supporters, friends and sympathizers of one another. They were never against one another during the jahiliyah (ignorance period) and even in Islam, but the Banu Abd Shams and the Banu Nawfal were antagonists to the Banu Hashim and the Banu Muttalib. When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم called the Makkans to Islam and the unity of Allah. And his messenger ship, the Banu Abd Shams and the Banu Nawfal opposed him tooth and nail. They did not even desist from hurting him and forming an alliance against him. They vowed to have nothing to do with the Banu Hashim as long as they did not over Muhammad صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to them. On the other hand, the Banu Muttalib cooperated with the Banu Hashim in every possible way. They were united with them.
The Banu Abd Shams (of Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ and others) and the Banu Nawfal (of Jubayr رضی اللہ عنہ and others) were relations of the Prophet رضی اللہ عنہ but they had no unity with the Banu Hashim. Apparently, They were dis-united.

ABOUT FA'I

(٣٩٩٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَيُّمَا قَرْيَةٍ اَتَيْتُمُوْهَا وَاَقَمْتُمْ فِيْهَا فَسَهْمُكُمْ فِيْهَا وَاَيُّمَا قَرْيَةٍ عَصَتِ اللّٰهَ وَرَسُوْلَهٗ فَاِنَّ خُمُسَهَا لِلّٰهِ وَلِرَسُوْلِهٖ ثُمَّ هِيَ لَكُمْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

3994. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, " If you go to a habitation and stay there, then you have a portion in it. If any habitation disobeys Allah and His Messenger, then one fifth of it belongs to Allah and His Messenger and the rest is for you."[2]

COMMENTARY: Going to a town or habitation is to go to wage jihad (crusade) there and the inhabitants flee from there or reconcile with you, surrendering their place and themselves to you, and you reside there.
You have a portion in it. You do not have all of it but you will share even with the warriors who did not come with you but stayed home, because this kind of property (that is acquired without fighting) is called fa'i. Fa'I is not distributed only among those who came out of their houses to fight. (It is for all warriors.)

---

[1] # 4229.
[2] Muslim # 47-1756

As for those inhabitants who disobey Allah and His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, they are those who neither accept Islam nor come to an understanding, but they show obstinacy. They fight with you. When you defeat them, the booty that you acquire from them is called Ghanimah (booty, spoils). One-fifth of it will be set aside for Allah and His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم.The remaining will be divided among the participant in the battle.
Thus, Khums (or one-fifth) is taken out only from ghanimah, not from fa'i. In this sense, this hadith rejects the opinion of Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ.
Some Hanafi scholars have interpreted this hadith to mean: The first portion implies that the Muslim conquered a place without the participation of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. In this second condition, he did receive the Khums. The rest was shared by the warriors who participated in the battle.

WARNING TO THE DISHONEST WITH BOOTY

(٣٩٩٥) وَعَنْ خَوْلَةَ الْاَنْصَارِيَةِ قَالَتْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ اِنَّ رِجَالًا يَتَخَوَّضُوْنَ فِيْ مَالِ اللّٰهِ بِغَيْرِ حَقٍّ فَلَهُمُ النَّارُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

3995. Sayyidah Khawlah al-Ansariyah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that she heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Surely some people use Allah's property (like booty, fa'I and zakah (Annual due charity) wrongfully (without authority and entitlement). They will go to hell on the day of resurrection."

COMMENTARY: If they used it regarding it to be lawful (and their right), then they will abide in hell for ever. If they used it but did not regard it to be their right, then they will dwell in hell till Allah punishes them in it.

(٣٩٩٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَامَ فِيْنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَاتَ يَوْمٍ فَذَكَرَ الْغُلُوْلَ فَعَظَّمَهُ وَعَظَّمَ اَمْرَهٗ ثُمَّ قَالَ لَا اُلْفِيَنَّ اَحَدَكُمْ يَجِيْءُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَلٰى رَقَبَتِهٖ بَعِيْرٌ لَهٗ رُغَاءٌ يَقُوْلُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَغِثْنِيْ فَاَقُوْلُ لَا اَمْلِكُ لَكَ شَيْئًا قَدْ اَبْلَغْتُكَ لَا اُلْفِيَنَّ اَحَدَكُمْ يَجِيْءُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَلٰى رَقَبَتِهٖ فَرَسٌ لَهٗ حَمْحَمَةٌ فَيَقُوْلُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَغِثْنِيْ فَاَقُوْلُ لَا اَمْلِكُ شَيْئًا قَدْ اَبْلَغْتُكَ لَا اُلْفِيَنَّ اَحَدَكُمْ يَجِيْءُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَلٰى رَقَبَتِهٖ شَاةٌ لَهَا ثُغَاءٌ يَقُوْلُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَغِثْنِيْ فَاَقُوْلُ لَا اَمْلِكُ لَكَ شَيْئًا قَدْ اَبْلَغْتُكَ لَا اُلْفِيَنَّ اَحَدَكُمْ يَجِيْءُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَلٰى رَقَبَتِهٖ نَفْسٌ لَهَا صِيَاحٌ فَيَقُوْلُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَغِثْنِيْ فَاَقُوْلُ لَا اَمْلِكُ لَكَ شَيْئًا قَدْ اَبْلَغْتُكَ لَا اُلْفِيَنَّ اَحَدَكُمْ يَجِيْءُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَلٰى رَقَبَتِهٖ رِقَاعٌ تَخْفِقُ فَيَقُوْلُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَغِثْنِيْ فَاَقُوْلُ لَا اَمْلِكُ لَكَ شَيْئًا قَدْ اَبْلَغْتُكَ لَا اُلْفِيَنَّ اَحَدَكُمْ يَجِيْءُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَلٰى رَقَبَتِهٖ صَامِتٌ فَيَقُوْلُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَغِثْنِيْ فَاَقُوْلُ لَا اَمْلِكُ لَكَ شَيْئًا قَدْ اَبْلَغْتُكَ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَهٰذَا لَفْظُ مُسْلِمٍ وَهُوَ اَتَمُّ۔

among them and mentioned treachery in spoils. He described it as a grave sin and spoke very seriously on it. Then he said, "Beware! I should not see any of you on the day of resurrection coming with a camel rumbling on his neck (to the gathering place) saying, 'O Messenger of Allah, help me!' I shall say, " I cannot help you in any way. I had indeed conveyed to you the message.' And I should not see any of you on the day of resurrection, carrying a horse whinnying on his neck coming (to the gathering ground), saying 'O Messenger of Allah, help me!' I shall say, 'I cannot help you in any way. I had indeed conveyed to you the message.' And, I should not see any of you on the day of resurrection, carrying on his neck a bleating sheep (coming to the gathering place), saying, 'O Messenger of Allah, help me!' I shall say, ' I cannot help you in any way. Indeed, I had conveyed to you the message.' And, I should not see any of you on the day of resurrection carrying a person (slave, male or female) yelling on his neck (coming to the gathering ground), saying, 'O Messenger of Allah, help me!' I shall say, 'I can do nothing for you. Indeed, I had conveyed the message to you.' And , I should not see any of you on the day of resurrection with flapping cloth on his neck (coming to the gathering ground), saying, 'O Messenger of Allah, help me!' I shall say, 'I cannot help you in any way. Indeed, I had conveyed the message to you.' And, I should not see any of you on the day of resurrection carrying gold and silver on his neck (coming towards the place of gathering), saying, 'O Messenger of Allah, help me!' I shall say,' I cannot do anything for you. Indeed, I had conveyed to you the message.'[1]
(The man would be carrying on his neck whatever he had misappropriated from the booty in spite of being warned by the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.)

WARNING AGAINST MISAPPROPRIATING PROPERTY ON WHICH MUSLIMS HAVE A RIGHT

(٣٩٩٧) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ اَهْدٰى رَجُلٌ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ غُلَامًا يُقَالُ لَهُ مِدْعَمٌ فَبَيْنَمَا مِدْعَمٌ يَحُطُّ رَجُلًا لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا اَصَابَهُ سَهْمٌ عَائِرٌ فَقَتَلَهُ فَقَالَ النَّاسُ هَنِيْئًا لَهُ الْجَنَّةُ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَلَّا وَالَّذِىْ نَفْسِىْ بِيَدِهٖ اِنَّ الشَّمْلَةَ الَّتِىْ اَخَذَهَا يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ مِنَ الْمَغَانِمِ لَمْ تُصِبْهَا الْمَقَاسِمُ لَتَشْتَعِلُ عَلَيْهِ نَارًا فَلَمَّا سَمِعَ ذٰلِكَ النَّاسُ جَاءَ رَجُلٌ بِشِرَاكٍ اَوْشِرَاكَيْنِ اِلَى النَّبِىِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ شِرَاكٌ مِنْ نَارٍ اَوْ شِرَاكَانِ مِنْ نَارٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

3997. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that a man presented to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم a slave who was called Mid'am. While Mid'am was unsaddling a camel belonging to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم (perhaps on a battlefield), an arrow from an unknown source struck him and he was killed. The people exclaimed, "Congratulations to Mid'am.(He is martyred while in the service of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.) He will go to paradise!" Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, however, "Not so! By Him in whose hand is my soul, the cloak he took away on the day of khaybar from the spoils before they were divided will flare up with fire on him." On hearing that, someone came with a Sandal-strap or two sandal-straps to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, saying, "A sandal-strap of fire!" Or, two sandal-straps of fire!"[1]

(In short, people brought different things which they had considered to be two insignificant, even sandal-straps and laces.)

COMMENTARY: This hadith warns people who misappropriate property to which Muslims have a right. Examples are awqaf (trusts, endowments), bayt ul-maal (state Treasury), etc. It is possible to compensate one person for right usurped but it is impossible to redeem rights of several people and return their properties.

(۳۹۹۸) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ كَانَ عَلٰى ثَقَلِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَجُلٌ يُقَالُ لَهُ كِرْكِرَةُ فَمَاتَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ هُوَ فِي النَّارِ فَذَهَبُوْا يَنْظُرُوْنَ فَوَجَدُوْا عَبَاءَةً قَدْ غَلَّهَا۔ (رواہ البخاری)

3998. Sayyiduna Abdullah Ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man named Kirkirah was deputed to watch over the belongings of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. When he died, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He is in hell." The people went and (on examining his property) found a striped blanket that he had misappropriated from the spoils.[2]

COMMENTARY: Yahya رحمہ اللہ said that when the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم heard the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, they understood that Kirkirah had taken something from the spoils on his own. So, they examined his belongings.

FOOD & DRINK MAY BE CONSUMED FROM SPOILS

(۳۹۹۹) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ كُنَّا نُصِيْبُ فِيْ مَغَازِيْنَا الْعَسَلَ وَالْعِنَبَ فَنَأْكُلُهُ وَلَا نَرْفَعُهُ۔ (رواہ البخاری)

3999. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: We used to get, (as spoils) in our battles, honey and grapes which we would consume and not carry them (to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم).[3]

COMMENTARY: It means that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم approved their action. The ulama (Scholars) agree that as long as the warriors are on the battle field they man consume eatables and drinks to the extent necessary from the spoils before they are divided.

(۴۰۰۰) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ ابْنِ مُغَفَّلٍ قَالَ اَصَبْتُ جِرَابًا مِنْ شَحْمٍ يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ فَالْتَزَمْتُهُ فَقُلْتُ لَا اُعْطِي الْيَوْمَ اَحَدًا مِنْ هٰذَا شَيْئًا فَالْتَفَتُّ فَاِذَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَتَبَسَّمُ اِلَيَّ۔ (متفق علیہ)

4000. Sayyiduna Abdullah Ibn Mughaffal رضی اللہ عنہ said, "On the day of Khaybar, I found a packet of fat. (I picked it up and put it to my bossom and) I thought to myself that I would not give it to anyone anything from it today. As I turned round I saw Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم smiling at me (over what I did)."[4]

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

BOOTY IS ALLOWED TO THIS UMMAH ONLY

(٤٠٠١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ اُمَامَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ فَضَّلَنِيْ عَلَى الْاَنْبِيَاءِ اَوْ قَالَ فَضَّلَ اُمَّتِيْ عَلَى الْاُمَمِ وَاَحَلَّ لَنَا الْغَنَائِمَ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4001. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ reported that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely Allah has given me more excellence over the (other) Prophets علیہ السلام. Or, he said, "He has given more excellence to my ummah over the (other) ummahs. And he has made the spoils lawful to us."[1]

COMMENTARY: Among the various merits of this ummah is that booty or spoils ar made lawful to them.

KILLER GETS PROPERTY OF THE SLAIN

(٤٠٠٢) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَئِذٍ يَعْنِيْ يَوْمَ حُنَيْنٍ مَنْ قَتَلَ كَافِرًا فَلَهُ سَلَبُهُ فَقَتَلَ اَبُوْ طَلْحَةَ يَوْمَئِذٍ عِشْرِيْنَ رَجُلًا وَاَخَذَ اَسْلَابَهُمْ۔ (رواه الدارمی)

4002. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger said on that the day of Hunayn, "He who kills a disbeliever will get his (the slain man's) belongings." That day, Abu Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ killed twenty men (of the enemy), and he got all their belongings.[2]

(٤٠٠٣) وَعَنْ عَوْفِ ابْنِ مَالِكٍ الْاَشْجَعِيِّ وَخَالِدِ بْنِ الْوَلِيْدِ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَضٰى فِي السَّلَبِ لِلْقَاتِلِ وَلَمْ يُخَمِّسِ السَّلَبَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4003. Sayyiduna Awf Ibn Maalik Ashja رضی اللہ عنہ and Khalid ibn Walid رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم passed a ruling that the things taken from the man killed should be given to him who kills him. And, he did not take out Khams (one-fifth) from it (as is done from the spoils).[3]

(٤٠٠٤) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ نَفَّلَنِيْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ سَيْفَ اَبِيْ جَهْلٍ وَكَانَ قَتَلَهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4004. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ said that on the day of Badr, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave him the sword of Abu Jahl in excess (of his share). He had killed him.[1]

COMMENTARY: In the Battle of Badr, Abu Jahl was killed by two young boys of the ansars. Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ also had a hand in killing him with the boys. He had severed his head from his torso. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave him the sword, one of the belonging of Abu Jahl.
(Bukhari and Muslim reported from Abdur Rahman ibn Awf رضی اللہ عنہ that two boys stood on either side of him and asked him to point out Abu Jahl to them. When he did so, they rushed to him and slew him and recounted their achievement to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم who gave them Abu Jahl's spoils. They were Mu'adh ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ and Mu'ad ibn Afra رضی اللہ عنہ. Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ severed his head when he was panting for breath.)[2]

SLAVE MAY BE GIVEN SOME BOOTY

(٤٠٠٥) وَعَنْ عُمَيْرٍ مَوْلَى آبِي اللَّحْمِ قَالَ شَهِدْتُ خَيْبَرَمَعَ سَادَتِيْ فَكَلَّمُوْا فِيَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَكَلَّمُوْهُ اَنِّيْ مَمْلُوْكٌ فَاَمَرَلِيْ فَقُلِّدْتُ سَيْفًا فَإِذَا اَنَا اَجُرُّهٗ فَاَمَرَلِيْ بِشَيْءٍ مِنْ خُرْثِيِّ الْمَتَاعِ وَعَرَضْتُ عَلَيْهِ رُقْيَةً كُنْتُ اَرْقِيْ بِهَا الْمَجَانِيْنَ فَاَمَرَنِيْ بِطَرْحِ بَعْضِهَا وَحَبْسِ بَعْضِهَا۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوُدَ اِلَّا اَنَّ رِوَايَتَهٗ انْتَهَتْ عِنْدَ قَوْلِهٖ الْمَتَاعِ۔

4005. Sayyiduna Umayr رضی اللہ عنہ, the freedman of Abu Al-lahm رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: I did participate in the Battle of Khaybar with my masters. They had spoken about me with Allah's Messenger (that I could be assigned fighting or service). They told him that I was a slave. He gave command about me and a sword was girded on me and I trailed it (being young and short-statured and I was instructed to join the warriors. After the battle,) Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ordered that I should be given some petty, miscellaneous things from the booty.
Then, I presented to him a spell that I used to chant over the insane and blow on them. (I asked him about it.) And, he instructed me to discard some of it and to retain the rest.[3]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps, some words of the spell were irreligious. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed him to Discard them.

DIVISION OF SPOILS FROM KHAYBAR

(٤٠٠٦) وَعَنْ مُجَمِّعِ بْنِ جَارِيَةَ قَالَ قُسِمَتْ خَيْبَرَ عَلَى اَهْلِ الْحُدَيْبِيَّةِ فَقَسَمَهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثَمَانِيَةَ عَشَرَ سَهْمًا وَكَانَ الْجَيْشُ اَلْفًا وَخَمْسَ مِائَةٍ فِيْهِمْ ثَلَاثُمِائَةِ فَارِسٍ فَاَعْطَى الْفَارِسَ سَهْمَيْنِ وَالرَّاجِلَ سَهْمًا۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَقَالَ حَدِيْثُ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَصَحُّ وَالْعَمَلُ عَلَيْهِ وَاَتَى الْوَهْمُ فِيْ حَدِيْثِ مُجَمِّعٍ اَنَّهٗ قَالَ ثَلَاثُمِائَةِ فَارِسٍ وَاِنَّمَا كَانُوْا مِائَتَيْ فَارِسٍ۔

4006. Sayyiduna Mujammi ibn Jariyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (the spoils and land at) Khaybar was divided among those who had been at Hudaybiyah. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم divided it into eighteen portions. The army (at Hudaybiyah) numbered one thousand five hundred warriors three hundred of whom were horsemen. He gave two portions to a horsemen and one to each footman.[1]
(Abu Dawud who has transmitted it says that the hadith of Ibn Umar is more sound and most ulama (Scholars) follow it. There is ambiginity in this tradition of Mujammi because he gives the number of horsemen as three hundred while there were only two hundred.) [However, Abu dawud does not mention Ibn Umar but names Abu Mu'awiyah both Arabii and English translation in their text: # 3987 is by Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ.]

COMMENTARY: Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ and others follow this hadith that allots two shares to a horse rider from the booty.
Those who hold that a horse-rider gets three shares do not find will call for twenty-one shares while there were eighteen shares.
Further, even Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ have narrated traditions similar to this tradition of Mujammi. Those who insist that horse-riders had three shares cite the hadith # 3987 of this chapter. They say that Ibn Umar's Hadith is on one sound. But, see comments to it for the reason Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ does not follow it.
As for the conclusion of Abu Dawud pointing to an error, the fact is that different accounts are given of the number of the Muslim army at Hudaybiyah Apart from Mujammi, there is one which gives the number as one thousand four hundred men, one thousand two hundred footmen and two hundred horsemen.

REWARD FOR THOSE WHO MAKE MORE EFFORTS IN JIHAD (CRUSADE)

(٤٠٠٧) وَعَنْ حَبِيْبِ بْنِ مَسْلَمَةَ الْفِهْرِيِّ قَالَ شَهِدْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَفَّلَ الرُّبُعَ فِي الْبَدْأَةِ وَالثُّلُثَ فِي الرَّجْعَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4007. Sayyiduna Habib ibn Maslamah Fihri رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I observed (in a battle) that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave an extra one-fourth of the booty (to those who fought) in the beginning; and one-third more towards the return (to those who fought)".[2]

COMMENTARY: If a detachment of a Muslim army preceded the main body to engage the enemy, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave them one-fourth of the booty as a special case. Then when the remaining booty of three-fourths was divided, they again got their share with the whole army.
In the same way, when the main body returned from the battlefield and a detachment stood their ground to keep the enemy engaged, they were given, as a reward, one-third of the booty over and above their share in the remaining booty distributed to the whole army. This one-third was given to them as a reward because their task was very risky and required exceptional courage and bravery since the main army was not behind them to support them. As for the engagement before the rest of the forces arrived, that was not as risky since there was the knowledge of their advance and coming.

[1] Abu Dawud # 2736, Musnad Ahmad 3-430 (Abu Dawud # 2730.)
[2] Abu Dawud # 2749, Musnad Ahmad 4-160.

Therefore, the additional booty was in recognition of the exceptional struggle and effort and courage of the detachment.

(٤٠٠٨) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يُنَفِّلُ الرُّبُعَ بَعْدَ الْخُمُسِ وَالثُّلُثَ بَعْدَ الْخُمُسِ اِذَاقَفَلَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4008. Sayyiduna Habib ibn Maslamah Fihri صلى الله عليه وسلم gave an additional one-fourth of the booty, after retaining the one-fifth, to the detachment (that initiated fighting before the arrival of the main body). And , he gave one-third of the booty, after retaining the one-fifth (Khums), to the detyachment (to engage the enemy) after (the main body) returned.[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith clarifies the previous by saying that before giving the reward of one-fourth to the initiators of battle and one-third to those who kept the enemy engaged while returning, the Khums was deducted from the booty. Once the one-fourth and one-third reward was given, the booty was divided among the entire army.

NO EXCEPTIONAL SHARE FROM FA'I

(٤٠٠٩) وَعَنْ اَبِي الْجُوَيْرِيَةِ الْجَرْمِيِّ قَالَ اَصَبْتُ بِاَرْضِ الرُّوْمِ جَرَّةً حَمْرَاء فِيْهَادَنَا نِيْرُفِيْ اِمْرَةِ مُعَاوِيَةَ وَعَلَيْنَا رَجُلٌ مِنْ اَصْحَابِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ بَنِيْ سُلَيْمٍ يُقَالُ لَهُ مَعْنُ بْنُ يَزِيْدَ فَاَتَيْتُهُ بِهَا فَقَسَمَهَا بَيْنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ وَاَعْطَانِيْ مِنْهَا مِثْلَ مَا اَعْطٰى رَجُلًا مِنْهُمْ ثُمَّ قَالَ لَوْ لَا اِنِّيْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَا نَفَلَ اِلَّا بَعْدَ الْخُمُسِ لَاَعْطَيْتُكَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4009. Sayyiduna Abu al-Juwayriyah Jarmiy صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "When Muawiyah رضى الله عنه was the amir, I found a red jar containing dinars in the land of the Byzantine. Our commander was one of the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم belonging to the Banu Sulaym by the name of Ma'n ibn Yazid رضى الله عنه. I took the jar to him and he divided it among the Muslims (the warriors of Islam). He give me the same amount as the portion of any other man (not more). He then said, Had I not heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say: Booty is divided only after the Khums (one-fifth) is retained, I would have given it to you meaning more than others).[2]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Ma'n رضى الله عنه meant to say that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that a warrior can be given an extra amount above his share only from that property from which the Khums has to be retained. That happens only from the spoils after battle against the infidels and which is called ghanimah (spoils. booty).
As for this red jar it was Fa'i. No additional amount is paid when Fa'i is divided. So this man too was not given anything extra.

4010. Sayyiduna Abu Musa Al-Ashary رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, We returned (from Ethiopia) and met Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم when he had just conquered Khaybar . He allotted to us a portion (from the spoils of Khaybar)." Or, he narrated, "He gave us some portion (from it).But, he did not give anything to any such person who was not present at the conquest of Khaybar. He gave shares (from the booty) only to those who were present with him (at the Battle of Khaybar) and to those who were in our ship, namely Jafar رضی اللہ عنہ and his companions. He gave to them (of the ship) as he gave to the others (who had participated in the Battle of Khaybar)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Abu Musa Ashari رضی اللہ عنہ had come to Makkah from Yemen in the very beginning of the preaching of Islam and he embraced Islam. Then he had emigrated to Abyssinia (Ethiopia) where Sayyiduna Jafar ibn Abu Talib رضی اللہ عنہ and other Sahabah رضی اللہ عنہ had emigrated from Makkah. When they learnt there that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had emigrated from Makkah to Madinah, they too boarded ships to depart from Ethopia for Madinah.

They arrived almost simultaneously with Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم conquest of Khaybar.

Some people say that they were given shares in the spoils from Khaybar, though they had arrived after the battle, because they had come before the spoils were collected and divided. This is suggested by those ulama (Scholars) who hold that if a warrior does not take part in a battle but is present when the spoils are collected and are in the process of distribution then he too will get a share with the warriors. Imam Shafi رضی اللہ عنہ gave one verdict on these lines.

As for the ulama (Scholars) who do not subscribe to this contention, they say that the grant of shares of the spoils from Khaybar was a gift of a special kind from the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. It was granted with the permission of the participants of the Battle of Khaybar.

This second opinion is more correct.

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم DID NOT OFFER FUNERAL SALAH (PRAYER) OF DISHONEST IN SPOILS

4011. Sayyiduna Yazid ibn Khalid رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man among the companions رضی اللہ عنہ of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم died on the day of Khaybar. They conveyed the news to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He said, "Offer the salah (prayer) over your companion." The people changed colour on hearing that (for they understood that he would not offer the salah (prayer)). He said, "Your companion was dishonest about booty in Allah's path." They examined his belongings and found some beads of Jewsses (that they wear round their necks). They were worth not even two dirhams.[1]

WARNING TO ONE WHO PROCRASTINATES IN COLLECTING BOOTY FOR DISTRIBUTION

(٤٠١٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أَصَابَ غَنِيْمَةً أَمَرَ بِلَالًا فَنَادٰى فِي النَّاسِ فَيَجِيْئُوْنَ بِغَنَائِمِهِمْ فَيُخَمِّسُهُ وَيُقَسِّمُهُ فَجَاءَ رَجُلٌ يَوْمًا بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ بِزِمَامٍ مِنْ شَعْرٍ فَقَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ هٰذَا فِيْمَا كُنَّا أَصَبْنَاهُ مِنَ الْغَنِيْمَةِ قَالَ أَسَمِعْتَ بِلَالًا نَادٰى ثَلَاثًا قَالَ نَعَمْ فَمَا مَنَعَكَ أَنْ تَجِيْئَ بِهٖ فَاعْتَذَرَ قَالَ كُنْ أَنْتَ تَجِيْئُ بِهٖ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فَلَنْ أَقْبَلَهُ عَنْكَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4012. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that whenever Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم decided to gather together the booty, he would command (Sayyiduna) Bilal رضی اللہ عنہ to announce to the people so that they brought their spoils (to be collected before the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Then he put apart the one-fifth and divided the rest (among the warriors). One day, a man came (after the division) with a halter of hair and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, this is what came to our hands as part of the spoils." He asked, "Had you heard Bilal make the announcement three times?" He said, "Yes". He asked , "Then, what prevented you from bringing it (to me)?" He put forward some excuse (for the delay). So, he (Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Now, remain as you are (and keep it with you). Bring it on the day of resurrection by yourself. (And explain to Allah the delay.) I shall not take it from you."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not take it because all the warriors had a might over it. Since they had dispersed, it was impossible to deliver to everyone his right.

PUNISHMENT TO THE DISHONEST WITH BOOTY

(٤٠١٣) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَأَبَابَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ حَرَّقُوْا مَتَاعَ الْغَالِّ وَضَرَبُوْهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

father (Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ) narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ and Umar رضی اللہ عنہ used to burn the property of one who was dishonest with booty. And, they used to beat him.[1]

COMMENTARY: Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ and some others abide by this hadith in its strict sense. He says all his belongings in his house must be burned but not his animal and the copies of the Quran.Also that property which he had misappropriated must not be burned because it does not belong to him. It is the property of the warriors.

The other three imams, however, say that his belongings and property should not be burned. Rather, he should be awarded a discretionary punishment by the ruler or judge.They say of this hadith that it is based on serious warning and as a deterrent.

COVERING UP THE DISHONEST IS AS BAD

(٤٠١٤) وَعَنْ سَمُرَةَ بْنِ جُنْدُبٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ يَكْتُمُ غَالًّا فَإِنَّهُ مِثْلُهُ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4014. Sayyiduna Samurah ibn Jundub رضی اللہ عنہ reported that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said often," He who conceal the dishonesty of one who is treacherous about the booty (and stiffles it before the rulers) is like him (as far as the sin he commits is concerned)[2]

BOOTY SHOULD NOT BE SOLD BEFORE IT IS DIVIDED

(٤٠١٥) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ سَعِيْدٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ شِرَى الْمَغَانِمِ حَتّٰى تُقْسَمَ۔ (رواہ الترمذی)

4015. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade buying booty before it was divided (because till then no one, even the seller, is its owner)[3]

(٤٠١٦) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ أُمَامَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنَّهُ نَهٰى أَنْ تُبَاعَ السِّهَامُ حَتّٰى تُقْسَمَ۔ (رواہ الدارمی)

4016. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ reported from the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that he forbade sale of shares (of booty) before they were divided.[4]

COMMENTARY: If anyone offers to sell his share of the booty before it is divided, it is not allowed because that portion is not his property and also because he does not know what he will get, how much and of what nature. Thus, it is unlawful because it is unknown and not determined.

USING BOOTY UNRIGHTFULLY IS PUNISHABLE.

(٤٠١٧) وَعَنْ خَوْلَةَ بِنْتِ قَيْسٍ قَالَتْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِنَّ هٰذِهِ الْمَالَ خَضِرَةٌ حُلْوَةٌ فَمَنْ أَصَابَهُ بِحَقِّهِ بُوْرِكَ لَهُ فِيْهِ وَرُبَّ مُتَخَوِّضٍ فِيْمَا شَاءَتْ بِهِ نَفْسُهُ مِنْ مَالِ اللّٰهِ وَرَسُوْلِهِ لَيْسَ

4017. Sayyidah Khawlah bint Qays رضی الله عنها narrated that she heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "Surely, this weath is green and sweet (and is delightful to the heart and to the sight). He who gets it rightfully (in a lawful manner) finds blessing in it for him. But, many an encroacher there is who craves for himself from the wealth of Allah and His Messenger (meaning from the booty, using it as the heart wishes).
There is nothing for him on the day of resurrection but the fire (of hell)."[1]
Qays رضی الله عنه was the wife of Sayyiduna Hamzah ibn Abdul Muttalib. رضی الله عنه

DHUL FIQAR, SWORD

(٤٠١٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تَنَفَّلَ سَيْفَهٗ ذَا الْفِقَارِ يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ۔ رَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَزَادَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَهُوَ الَّذِيْ رَاٰى فِيْهِ الرُّؤْيَا يَوْمَ اُحُدٍ۔

4018. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم took the sword, Dhulfiqar, on the day of Badr, over and above his share of the booty.
It was about it that he had a vision at the battle of Uhud[2]

COMMENTARY: This sword was part of the spoils at Badr. The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم liked it and he took it for himself in excess of the share from the spoils. This thing is allowed only to him and to no one else. The sword word was identified as dhul faqaar (ذوالفقار) and it belonged to a disbeliever by the name of Munabbih ibn Hajj (pilgrimage)aj. He was killed in the Battle of Badr by the Muslims.

The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم used this sword with many others during his battles. The Qamoos says that it belonged to Aas the son of Munabbih. Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه gave that sword to Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه.

The word فقار(faqaar) means the vertebrae of the back or the bones of the spin. This sword had small beautiful hollows for more easy cleaving of coats at mail. According to Lane's Arabic-English Lexicon it is called by some Dhul-fiqaar, but Khattabi رضی الله عنه said that it is vulgar and dhulfaqaar is correct.)

As for the vision at Uhud, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم dreamt that he shook the sword dhulfaqaar and it split from the Middle. He shook it again and it became (stronger and) better than it had been. The dream is thus interpreted that after initial reverses the Muslims regrouped and came out victorious in the Battle of Uhud.

NOTHING OF BOOTY MAY BE USED BEFORE DIVISION

(٤٠١٩) وَعَنْ رُوَيْفِعِ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلَا يَرْكَبْ دَابَّةً مِنْ فَيْءِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ حَتّٰى اِذَا اَعْجَفَهَا رَدَّهَا فِيْهِ وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلَا يَلْبَسْ ثَوْبًا مِنْ فَيْءِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ حَتّٰى اِذَا اَخْلَقَهٗ رَدَّهٗ فِيْهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4019. Sayyiduna Ruwayfi' in Thabit رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who believes in Allah and the Last Day should not ride a beast belonging to the booty of the Muslims (unless for a cause sanctioned by Shari'ah (divine law)) and then return it when he has (Fatigued and) made it very weak. He who believes in Allah and the Last Day should not wear a garment belonging to the booty of the Muslims and return it (to the booty) when he has worn it out "[1]

COMMENTARY: The riding beast must not be taken from the booty before division (or the garment or any other thing). The words about returning after use in a bad state do not imply that they may be used if taken care of. The point is they should not be taken at all.

EATABLES IN THE BOOTY

(٤٠٢٠) وَعَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ اَبِي الْمُجَالِدِ عَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ اَبِي اَوْفٰى قَالَ قُلْتُ هَلْ كُنْتُمْ تُخَمِّسُوْنَ الطَّعَامَ فِيْ عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَصَبْنَا طَعَامًا يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ فَكَانَ الرَّجُلُ يَجِيْئُ فَيَأْخُذُ مِنْهُ مِقْدَارَ مَايَكْفِيْهِ ثُمَّ يَنْصَرِفُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4020. Sayyiduna Muhammad In Abu Al-Mujalid رضی اللہ عنہ reported from Abdullah ibn Abu Awfa رضی اللہ عنہ that the Muhammad ibn Abu Al-Mujalid رضی اللہ عنہ asked him, "Did you take out the one-fifth (Khums) from eatables too in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم?". Sayyiduna Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ said "At the Battle of Khaybar we also collected the eatables (as booty). A man would come, take as much of it as sufficed him and then go away.[2]

COMMENTARY: Khums was not taken out from eatables but the principle was observed that only so much was taken from it as was necessary and enough.

(٤٠٢١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ جَيْشًا غَنِمُوْا فِيْ زَمَنِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ طَعَامًا وَعَسَلًا فَلَمْ يُؤْخَذْ مِنْهُمُ الْخُمُسَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4021. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said that in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم an army got food and honey (on returning from jihad (crusade) as part of booty). No Khums (one-fifth) was taken from them (whether they were consumed by the men or preserved)[3]

(٤٠٢٢) وَعَنِ الْقَاسِمِ مَوْلٰى عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ عَنْ بَعْضِ اَصْحَابِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كُنَّانَأْكُلُ الْجَزُوْرَ فِي الْغَزْوِ وَلَا نَقْسِمُهُ حَتّٰى اِذَا كُنَّا نَرْجِعُ اِلٰى رِحَالِنَا وَاَخْرِجَتُنَا مِنْهُ مَمْلُوْئَةٌ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4022. Sayyiduna Qasim رضی اللہ عنہ the free man of Abdur Rehman رضی اللہ عنہ reported from one of the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that he said, "We would eat a camel during a battle without dividing it. (During the battle we would slaughter a camel and eat its flesh to satiate ourselves.)

[1] Abu Dawud # 2159.
[2] Abu Dawud # 2704.
[3] Abu Dawud # 2701.

When we returned home, we would have camel flesh in our saddle-bags.[1]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Hammam رضی الله عنه said that when the Muslims return (after jihad (crusade)) and cross over the borders of the enemy while coming to the Darul Islam, it is not allowed to them to feed their animals hay or fodder from the booty, or themselves consume its eatables, because the particular need associated with jihad (crusade) does not remain. Also, if anyone has any of these things that came to him before the division and it is surplus to his needs then he must deposit it with the booty.

THE TREACHEROUS WILL BE DISGRACED ON THE DAY OF RESURRECTION.

(٤٠٢٣-٤٠٢٤) وَعَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَقُوْلُ أَدُّوا الْخِيَاطَ وَالْمِخْيَطَ وَإِيَّاكُمْ وَالْغُلُوْلَ فَإِنَّهُ عَارٌ عَلَى أَهْلِهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ ـ رَوَاهُ الدَّارِمِيُّ وَرَوَاهُ النَّسَائِيُّ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ ـ

4023. Sayyiduna Ubadah in Samit رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم used to say, "Deliver (even so much) as thread and needle, and do not be dishonest about booty (or anything at all), because dishonesty will bring disgrace to the dishonest on the day of resurrection."[2]

4024. Amr ibn Shuayb رضی الله عنه reported it from his father (Shuayb علیه السلام who from the grandfather (Adullah ibn Amr رضی الله عنه - the same hadith.[3]

DISHONESTY IS PUNISHABLE EVEN IF ABOUT LITTLE THINGS.

(٤٠٢٥) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ دَنَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ بَعِيْرٍ فَأَخَذَ وَبَرَةً مِنْ سَنَامِهٖ ثُمَّ قَالَ يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ إِنَّهُ لَيْسَ لِيْ مِنْ هٰذَا الْفَيْءِ شَيْءٌ وَلَا هٰذَا وَرَفَعَ إِصْبَعَهُ إِلَّا الْخُمُسَ وَالْخُمُسُ مَرْدُوْدٌ عَلَيْكُمْ فَأَدُّوا الْخِيَاطَ وَالْمِخْيَطَ فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ فِيْ يَدِهٖ كُبَّةٌ مِنْ شَعْرٍ فَقَالَ أَخَذْتُ هٰذِهٖ لِأُصْلِحَ بِهَا بَرْدَعَةً فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَمَّا مَا كَانَ لِيْ وَلِبَنِيْ عَبْدِ الْمُطَّلِبِ فَهُوَ لَكَ فَقَالَ أَمَّا إِذَا بَلَغَتْ مَا أَرٰى فَلَا أَرَبَ لِيْ فِيْهَا وَنَبَذَهَا (رواه ابوداؤد)

4025. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shuayb رضی الله عنه reported from his father who from the grandfather that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم came near a cvamel (taken as fa'i) and took a hair from its hump, and said, "O people, I have no portion from this fa'I, not even this" and he raised the finger that had the hair. But I get the one-fifth and the one-fifth reverts to you (for your good, your weapons, etc.).

So (if you have them then) deliver needless and threads (too)." A man got up with a ball of hair in his hand and submitted, "I had taken it to men the cloth under a pack saddle." The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "You may have what is mine and the Banu Abd Muttlalib's." (But I cannot say about the shares of other people, whether they will forgive you or not.) The man exclaimed, "If it goes to that extent (of sin) as I see, then I have no need for it." He threw it away.[4]

4026. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Abasah رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (once) led us in salah (prayer) using a camel that had been taken in booty as a sutrah. When (on finishing) he offered the salaam (salutation), he took a hair from the side of the camel and said, "I do not have even this much share from your booty apart from the one-fifth, and the one-fifth too reverts to you the be spent on your needs).[1]

COMMENTARY: If the camel's side refers to its hump then it is the same occasion to which the previous hadith (#4025) refers, other wise it is different case.

UTHMAN رضی اللہ عنہ & OTHERS WERE DENIED SHARE IN KHUMS

4027. Sayyiduna Jubayr ibn Mut'im رضی اللہ عنہ said, "When Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم divided the shares (from the booty) of the relatives among the Banu Hashim and the Banu AL-Muttalib, I and Uthman ibn Affan met him (on behalf of the Banu Nawful and Banu Abd Shams respectively).We submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, these our brothers of the Banu Hashim we do not deny their excellence because of your position in which Allah has placed you among them. (You and they have a common grandfather) But, do tell us why is it that you have allotted to our brothers of Banu Muttalib a share (from the portion for the relatives) but have not given us anything though our relationship is at par with them." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم interwined his fingers and said, "The Banu Hashim and the Banu Muttalib are only one like this!" (He pointed to his finger).
Another version is like this and also has: "I and the Banu Al-Muttalib did not separate during jahiliyah (ignorance period) and in Islamic period, and we and they are only one," and he intervined his fingers.(see also hadith #3993.)[2]

SECTION III الفصل الثالث

THE KILLING OF ABU JAHL

(٤٠٢٨) عَنْ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ قَالَ اِنِّيْ لَوَاقِفٌ فِي الصَّفِ يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ فَنَظَرْتُ عَنْ يَمِيْنِيْ وَعَنْ شِمَالِيْ فَإِذَا اَنَا بِغُلَامَيْنِ مِنَ الْاَنْصَارِ حَدِيْثَةٍ اَسْنَانُهُمَا فَتَمَنَّيْتُ اَنْ اَكُوْنَ بَيْنَ اَضْلَعَ مِنْهُمَا فَغَمَزَنِيْ اَحَدُهُمَا فَقَالَ اَىْ عَمِّ هَلْ تَعْرِفُ اَبَا جَهْلٍ قُلْتُ نَعَمْ فَمَا حَاجَتُكَ اِلَيْهِ يَا ابْنَ اَخِيْ قَالَ اُخْبِرْتُ اَنَّهُ يَسُبُّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسِيْ بِيَدِهٖ لَئِنْ رَاَيْتُهُ لَا يُفَارِقُ سَوَادِيْ سَوَادَهُ حَتّٰى يَمُوْتَ الْاَعْجَلُ مِنَّا قَالَ فَتَعَجَّبْتُ لِذٰلِكَ قَالَ وَغَمَزَنِي الْاٰخَرُ فَقَالَ لِيْ مِثْلَهَا فَلَمْ اَنْشَبْ اَنْ نَظَرْتُ اِلٰى اَبِيْ جَهْلٍ يَجُوْلُ فِي النَّاسِ فَقُلْتُ اَلَا تَرَيَانِ هٰذَا صَاحِبُكُمَا الَّذِيْ تَسْاَلَانِيْ عَنْهُ قَالَ فَابْتَدَرَاهُ بِسَيْفَيْهِمَا فَضَرَبَاهُ حَتّٰى قَتَلَاهُ ثُمَّ انْصَرَفَا اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاَخْبَرَاهُ فَقَالَ اَيُّكُمَا قَتَلَهُ فَقَالَ كُلُّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا اَنَا قَتَلْتُهُ فَقَالَ هَلْ مَسَحْتُمَا سَيْفَيْكُمَا فَقَالَا لَا فَنَظَرَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِلَى السَّيْفَيْنِ فَقَالَ كِلَاكُمَا قَتَلَهُ وَقَضٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِسَلَبِهٖ لِمُعَاذِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْجَمُوْحِ وَالرَّجُلَانِ مُعَاذُ بْنُ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْجَمُوْحِ وَمُعَاذُ بْنُ عَفْرَاءَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4028. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Awf رضی الله عنه said, "At the Battle of Badr, I stood (against the enemy) in the row.I saw to my right and my left, (two ansar boys)seeing myself between two young boys of the ansar, I wished that I had been between stronger men than the boys. One of them poked me and asked, 'O uncle, do you recognize Abu Jahl?' I said, 'Yes. What do want with him, nephew?' He said, I have learnt that he reviles Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. By him in whose hand my soul is, if I see him, my body shall not separate from his till the one of us who has to die, dies first,' I was amazed at that. Then, the other boy poked me and said as the first had spoken. Soon, I spied Abu Jahl moving among the people and I pointed out, 'Here is the man you asked about!' They rushed to him swiftly with their swords and struck him till they killed him. Then, they went and informed Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. He asked,' Which of you has killed him?' Each of them said, 'I have killed him.' Then, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم decided that whatever was taken from him should go to Mu'adh ibn Amr ibn Jamuh. These two boys were Mu'adh ibn Amr ibn Jamuh and Mu'adh ibn Afra رضی الله عنه.[1]

COMMENTARY: The version of Bukhari names Mu'adh ibn Afra as Mu'adh ibn Afra رضی الله عنه Another tradition (4029) (to follow) names them as two sons of Afra. The ulama (Scholars) explain this difference by saying that both boys had a common mother but different fathers. Their mother's name was Afra. The father of one of them was Amr ibn Jamuh and the other, according to Qastalani, was Harith. So, one of them is ascribed to his father and the other to his mother.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave the spoils one of them who had decapacitated Abu Jahl. He was immobile and the other killed him, so the first deserved the spoils.
According to an earlier hadith (# 4004) Ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه killed Abu Jahl. Perhaps, Abu Jahl was panting for breath and he cut off his neck. So, he too got some share of the spoils, a sword.
Moreover some students of Imam Maalik رحمه الله assert that the ruler has authority to give the possessions of the slain man to whomsoever he choose. In this way, bi=oth the foregoing question are meaningless.

(٤٠٢٩) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ مَنْ يَنْظُرُ لَنَا مَاصَنَعَ اَبُوْجَهْلٍ فَانْطَلَقَ ابْنُ مَسْعُوْدٍ فَوَجَدَهٗ قَدْ ضَرَبَهُ ابْنَا عَفْرَاء حَتّٰى بَرَدَ قَالَ فَاَخَذَ بِلِحْيَتِهٖ فَقَالَ اَنْتَ اَبُوْجَهْلٍ فَقَالَ وَهَلْ فَوْقَ رَجُلٍ قَتَلْتُمُوْهُ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ قَالَ فَلَوْ غَيْرُ اَكَّارٍ قَتَلَنِيْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4029. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked on the day of Badr, "Who will find out for us how has Abu Jahl fared?" Ibn Mas'ud went and found out that the two sons of Afra had struck him and he was on the point of death. He held him by his beard and asked, "Are you not Abu Jahl?" He retorted, "Have you killed anyone of a higher rank?" (He claimed thereby to be a great man among the Quraysh.)
According to another version: He said, "How I wish one other than a farmer had killed me!"[1]

COMMENTARY: Abu Jahl meant to say that he would not have been humiliated if any of them had killed him but he was pained that the ansar boys, the cultivators who tended to fields, had killed him. They had fields and gardens of date trees.

GIVING SOMETHING TO SOMEONE DOES NOT MEAN HE IS PIOUS

(٤٠٣٠) عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ اَبِيْ وَقَّاصٍ قَالَ اَعْطٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَهْطًا وَاَنَا جَالِسٌ فَتَرَكَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْهُمْ رَجُلًا هُوَ اَعْجَبُهُمْ اِلَيَّ فَقُمْتُ فَقُلْتُ مَالَكَ عَنْ فُلَانٍ وَاللّٰهِ اِنِّيْ لَاَرَاهُ مُؤْمِنًا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَوْمُسْلِمًا ذَكَرَ ذٰلِكَ سَعْدٌ ثَلَاثًا وَاَجَابَهٗ بِمِثْلِ ذٰلِكَ ثُمَّ قَالَ اِنِّيْ لَاُعْطِي الرَّجُلَ وَغَيْرُهٗ اَحَبُّ اِلَيَّ مِنْهُ خَشْيَةَ اَنْ يُّكَبَّ فِي النَّارِ عَلٰى وَجْهِهٖ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ. وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَهُمَا قَالَ الزُّهْرِيُّ فَنَرٰى اَنَّ الْاِسْلَامَ الْكَلِمَةُ وَالْاِيْمَانَ الْعَمَلُ الصَّالِحُ۔

4030. Sayyiduna Sa'd ibn Abu Waqqas رضى الله عنه narrated that he was with Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم when he gave something to a group of people but overlooked one who seemed to him (Sa'd) to be more religious (than the others). So, he stood up and asked, "Why did you by pass so and-so?. By Allah, I think of him to be a Mumin (believer)." Allah's Messenger said, "Or, Muslim!" Sid رضى الله عنه mentioned that three times and he corrected him in like manner, and said, "I give something to someone though I like another more than he, lest he be thrown upside down in hell."

According to another version, Zuhri رضی اللہ عنہ considered that Islam is the profession of belief and faith is righteous deeds.[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم corrected Sad رضی اللہ عنہ. Eeman or faith (of a Mumin or believer) has to do with his heart and it is deep down and cannot be gauged because there is no obvious sign of it. It is a person's internal condition and no one can judge to what degree he has developed it. In contrast, Islam is an outward trait like obedience and submission. If anyone's outward deeds are good, then you may say that he is a good Muslim, but no one can say of him with certainty that he is a true believer.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم corrected Sad رضی اللہ عنہ when he testified that the man had true faith.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم also made known that if anyone is given anything than he is not necessarily liked or superior. Also, it does not follow that he is more religious.

Rather, sometimes a person whose faith is weak has to be encouraged and won over, so that he may not despair and fall into disblelief and be thrown on his face into hell.

So, anyone who is given property does not qualify because of that to be a believer. O Sad, do not demand any property for anyone because you regard him be a perfect believer. No one can say so of another person with certainty.

The fact is that Zuhri ought to have said that Islam is (an expression of) righteous deeds, obedience to commands of Shari'ah (divine law) while eeman or faith is a confirmation at heart.But, he described Islam as Kalimah or testimony and eeman as righteous deeds. This is because declaration of Islam is to utter the Kalimah Shahadah (testimony with specific words) with the tongue. He who recites the Kalimah Shahadah (the expression of the testimony of faith) has sort of confirmed his Islam and that is enough to regard him as a Muslim in appearance.

This is what the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had said to Sa'd رضی اللہ عنہ "You can be certain that this man is a Muslim because he had recited the Kalimah Shahadah with his tongue and confirmed his Islam which is enough evidence that he is a Muslim. This is what Zuhri رضی اللہ عنہ meant when he said that Islam is the profession of belief. Anyone who recites the Kalimah Shahadah is a Muslim in law.

Now, let us look at his words that eeman (faith) is righteous deeds. We must first try to understand how righteous deeds are performed? Clearly, it depends on confirmation at heart. He who performs righteous deeds sincerely shows that faith has made home in his heart. He performs good deeds because of confirmation by his heart and his perfect faith. This is why Zuhri رضی اللہ عنہ explained eeman (faith) as righteous deeds.

UTHMAN رضی اللہ عنہ WAS GIVEN SHARE THOUGH HE DID NOT PARTICIPATE

(٤٠٣١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَامَ يَعْنِيْ يَوْمَ بَدْرٍ فَقَالَ إِنَّ عُثْمَانَ انْطَلَقَ فِيْ حَاجَةِ اللّٰهِ وَحَاجَةِ رَسُوْلِهٖ وَإِنِّيْ أُبَايِعُ لَهٗ فَضَرَبَ لَهٗ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِسَهْمٍ وَلَمْ يَضْرِبْ لِأَحَدٍ غَابَ غَيْرَهٗ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4031. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم stood up meaning on the day of Badar (to deliver a sermon). He said, "Surely, Uthman has gone to attend to work on behalf of Allah and His Messenger. So, I shall take the oath of allegiance for him." Then, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم allotted a share (from the booty from the Battle of Badr) for him. But, he did not ever allot a share for anyone else who was not present[1]

COMMENTARY: When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came to Badr with his Sahabah رضی اللہ عنہ, his daughter Sayyidah Ruqiyah رضی اللہ عنہا wife of Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ was seriously ill. So, the Prophet sent him back to Madinah to look after her, and, when the booty was being distributed, the share of Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ was included because he had gone to participate in the battle, but had to return.

ONE CAMEL IS LIKE TEN SHEEP.

(٤٠٣٢) وَعَنْ رَافِعِ بْنِ خَدِيْجٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَجْعَلُ فِيْ قَسْمِ الْمَغَانِمِ عَشْرًا مِنَ الشَّاءِ بِبَعِيْرٍ۔ (رواه النسائى)

4032. Sayyiduna Rafi in Khadij رضی اللہ عنہ said that while dividing the booty, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم counted ten sheep as equivalent to one camel.[2]

FIRE FROM HEAVEN WOULD BURN BOOTY BEFORE ISLAM.

(٤٠٣٣) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ غَزَا نَبِيٌّ مِنَ الْأَنْبِيَاءِ فَقَالَ لِقَوْمِهِ لَا يَتَّبِعْنِيْ رَجُلٌ مَلَكَ بُضْعَ امْرَأَةٍ وَهُوَ يُرِيْدُ أَنْ يَّبْنِيَ بِهَا وَلَمَّا يَبْنِ بِهَا وَلَا أَحَدٌ بَنٰى بُيُوْتًا وَلَمْ يَرْفَعْ سُقُوْفَهَا وَلَا رَجُلٌ اشْتَرٰى غَنَمًا أَوْ خَلِفَاتٍ وَهُوَ يَنْتَظِرُ وِلَادَهَا فَغَزَا فَدَنَا مِنَ الْقَرْيَةِ صَلَاةَ الْعَصْرِ أَوْ قَرِيْبًا مِنْ ذٰلِكَ فَقَالَ لِلشَّمْسِ إِنَّكِ مَأْمُوْرَةٌ وَأَنَا مَأْمُوْرٌ اَللّٰهُمَّ احْبِسْهَا عَلَيْنَا فَحُبِسَتْ حَتّٰى فَتَحَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ فَجَمَعَ الْغَنَائِمَ فَجَاءَتْ يَعْنِي النَّارُ لِتَأْكُلَهَا فَلَمْ تَطْعَمْهَا فَقَالَ إِنَّ فِيْكُمْ غُلُوْلًا فَلْيُبَايِعْنِيْ مِنْ كُلِّ قَبِيْلَةٍ رَجُلٌ فَلَزِقَتْ يَدُ رَجُلٍ بِيَدِهِ فَقَالَ فِيْكُمُ الْغُلُوْلُ فَجَاءُوْا بِرَأْسٍ مِثْلِ رَأْسِ بَقَرَةٍ مِنَ الذَّهَبِ فَوَضَعَهَا فَجَاءَتِ النَّارُ فَأَكَلَتْهَا وَزَادَ فِيْ رِوَايَةٍ فَلَمْ تَحِلَّ الْغَنَائِمُ لِأَحَدٍ قَبْلَنَا ثُمَّ أَحَلَّ اللّٰهُ لَنَا الْغَنَائِمَ رَأٰى ضُعْفَنَا وَعِجْزَنَا فَأَحَلَّهَا لَنَا۔ (متفق عليه)

4033. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "A Prophet among the Prophets صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (Yusha ibn Noon علیہ السلام set out to engage in jihad (crusade). He stipulated that no man should accompany him who had:

- Married a woman with whom he wished to have sexual relations but had not done till then;
- built a house but had not put the roof on it till then;
- bought sheep or pregnant she-camels and they were about to deliver young.

Then he set out to battle. He came near the town at the hour of (the Salah (prayer) of) asr or about that. He addressed the sun, "You are under command and I am under command (you to complete your revolution and I to conquer this town). And he prayed, O Allah, detain it over us!, So it was detained till Allah gave him victory. He collected the spoils and it came-meaning, the fire-to devour the spoils, but did not do so. He said, therefore, , there has been dishonesty about the spoils among you. So, a man from each tribe must pledge allegiance to me.' (They began to do that, each giving his hand till) one man's hand stuck in his hand. He said "There is dishonesty about the spoils among you (Meaning, your tribe) .' They brought to him a head of gold like an OX'S head. He put it down (in the pile) and the fire came and burned the spoils."

According to a version: (He said:) "Spoils were not lawful to anyone before us. Then Allah made the spoils lawful to us. He saw our weakness and helplessness and allowed us the spoils."[1]

COMMENTARY: Prophet Yushaعليه السلام did not take along those people on the expedition because their minds were occupied elsewhere and they would not have been able to fight in the battle correctly. This shows that the warriors must put off from their minds other concerns and devote entirely to fighting with the enemy.

It is stated in Mawahib lidunyah that, according to the hadith, the sun was never stopped in its movement(in the entire life of the solar system) for anyone except the Prophet. Sayyiduna Yusha ibn Noonعليه السلام [2].

According to Muwahib lidunyah, the sun's movement was stopped for the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم twice: on the night of the ascension to the heavens (miraj) and on the day of the Battle of the Trenches when the infidels engaged him in the Battle and the salah (prayer) of asr was delayed. The sun had set but was reversed till he could offer the salah (prayer) of asr on time.

Once again the sun was reversed for Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه at the command of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. This had happened when the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was resting and had put his head on the laps of Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه. A revelation came down to him and he could not raise his head because of that so that the time of asr had lapsed without Ali رضى الله عنه offering the salah (prayer) of asr. So the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم prayed for him and the sun returned on its tracks. But, the ulama (Scholars) have questioned the truth of this account.

As for the spoils, past ummahs were not permitted to use the booty. They put all of it in the desert in a pile. A fire descended from heaven and burned down the pile. This was a sign of acceptance.

DISHONEST WITH BOOTY WILL NOT ENTER PARADISE

(٤٠٣٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ حَدَّثَنِيْ عُمَرُ قَالَ لَمَّا كَانَ يَوْمُ خَيْبَرَ اَقْبَلَ نَفَرٌ مِنْ صَحَابَةِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالُوْا فُلَانٌ شَهِيْدٌ وَ فُلَانٌ شَهِيْدٌ حَتّٰى مَرُّوْا عَلٰى رَجُلٍ فَقَالُوْا فُلَانٌ شَهِيْدٌ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَلَّا اِنِّيْ رَاَيْتُهٗ فِي النَّارِ فِيْ بُرْدَةٍ غَلَّهَا اَوْعَبَاءَةٍ ثُمَّ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ

1 Bukhari # 3124, Muslim # 32. 1547, Musnad Ahmad 2-317.

2 See stories of the Prophets Ibn Kattur p.245 (Darul Ishaat , Karachi) The hadith of Imam Ahmad (325) as narrated. But, it is also known that the sun was withheld for Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم (perhaps after his hadith about Prophet Yushaعليه السلام.

4034. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that (Sayyiduna) Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated to him that on the day of Khaybar (when the battle was over), some of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came forward and discussed among themselves, : So-and-so is a martyr. So-and-so is a martyr." However, when they came to one and said of him that he too was a martyr, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Certainly not! I did see him in hell because of a mantle or a cloak that he stole (from the spoils)." Then Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "O Ibn Khattab go and announce to the people, three times, "only the believer will go to paradise (straightaway)."

He (Umar رضی اللہ عنہ) said that he went to them and announced three times, "Know! Only the believers will enter paradise!"[1]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that in the terminology of Shariah and common parlance a believer is the person who believes in the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and his Shariah Hence, one who is dishonest is like one who rejects the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and his Shariah because belief demands obedience to the commands of Shariah and he does not abide by them. But, it does not mean that a dishonest person is not a believer because he acts in contravention of confirmation of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Hence, the announcement meant to sound a strong warning. Also, it implies that a dishonest person would not enter paradise without first being subject to punishment. The God-fearing and righteous believers will be the only ones to enter paradise without any punishment, straightaway. The sinning believers will first undergo appropriate punishment and then enter paradise.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words that he saw him in hell are only an indication because aperson will be consigned to hell only after the day of judgement. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم's words, therefore, mean that the man belonged to hell. It is like the saying of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم about Bilal رضی اللہ عنہ before Bilal رضی اللہ عنہ died that he is in paradise.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم's words about that man could also mean that he had perpetrated a sin which makes hell wajib (obligatory) for him. Is is as the Quran says:

إِنَّ الْأَبْرَارَ لَفِي نَعِيمٍ

{Surely the pious shall be in bliss} (82: 13)

This cannot be said to mean that the pious people are already in paradise. Rather, they possess such praiseworthy characteristics as will lead them to paradise.

CHAPTER - IX

THE JIZYAH

بَابُ الْجِزْيَةِ

WHAT IS JIZYAH: Jizyah is an exclusive term of the Islamic law. It applies to the tribute payable by the non-Muslim resident of Islamic State (the dhimmis). It is levied according to an agreed formula.

The word jizyah is from jaza (جزاء) meaning a compensation. Hence, this form of tribute is called jizyah because it is a compensation for residing in an Islamic State and not observing Islam but living a life of disbelief. It assures the payers of protection of their lives, property and honour.

MAJUSIS MAY BE MADE TO PAY JIZYAH

(٤٠٣٥) عَنْ بَجَالَةَ قَالَ كُنْتُ كَاتِبًا لِجَزْءِ بْنِ مُعَاوِيَةَ عَمِّ الْاَحْنَفِ فَاَتَانَا كِتَابُ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ قَبْلَ مَوْتِهٖ بِسَنَةٍ فَرِّقُوْا بَيْنَ كُلِّ ذِىْ مَحْرَمٍ مِنَ الْمَجُوْسِ وَلَمْ يَكُنْ عُمَرُ اَخَذَ الْجِزْيَةَ مِنَ الْمَجُوْسِ حَتّٰى شَهِدَ عَبْدُالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنُ عَوْفٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَخَذَهَا مِنْ مَجُوْسِ هَجَرَ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4035. Sayyiduna Bajalah رحمه الله said that he was a clerk working for Jaz ibn Mu'awiyah رحمه الله, the paternal uncle of Ahnaf رضى الله عنه. They received a letter of Umar ibn Khattab رضى الله عنه one year before his death. In it, he gave instructions, "Separate every such married couple among the Majusis (Magians) who were mahrams (of one another, meaning those who were among degrees prohibited to marry one another)."

Umar رضى الله عنه had not been levying the jizyah on the Majusis till Abdur Rahman ibn Awf رضى الله عنه bore testimonly that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had levied it on the Majusis of Hajar.[1]

(thereafter, Umar رضى الله عنه took the jizyah from the Majusis.)

COMMENTARY: Mahram is a close relative with whom marriage is prohibited, like mother, daughter, sister and so on. The Majusis were accustomed to marry their mahram relatives. Umar ibn Khattab رضى الله عنه gave orders that all marriages between mahrams should be revoked. Of course, Islam forbids interference in the religious matters of its non-Muslim citizens who are under the states protection. They must be allowed to practice their religion freely. Moreover, this kind of marriage (between mahrams) was permitted in their religion. However, the ruler of an Islamic State is authorized to prevent any such practice as is doubtlessly and directly opposed to the symbols of Islam its basic principles and laws. This practice of the Majusi was also to moral values and was a very blamedworthy and ugly custom.

The majority of the ulama (Scholars) hold that jizyah must be levied on the Majusis. Rather, the Hanafis contend that the jizyah must also be collected from the non Arab idolaters. However, Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله

Has a note of dissent this subject.

Hajar (هجر) is a place located in Yemen near Bahrain, according to some people. However, modern day authorities say that the eastern coast of the Arabian peninsula that is presently called Ahsa (احصاء) was known previously as Hajar.[1] It is also called Bahrain.

The hadith of Sayyiduna Buraydah رضى الله عنه about when the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم appointed an army commander...' is narrated previously (#3929).

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

AMOUNT OF JIZYAH

(٤٠٣٦) عَنْ مُعَاذٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَمَّا وَجَّهَهُ اِلَى الْيَمَنِ اَمَرَهُ اَنْ يَاْخُذَ مِنْ كُلِّ حَالِمٍ يَعْنِي مُحْتَلِمٍ دِيْنَارًا اَوْ عَدْلَهُ مِنَ الْمُعَافِرِيِّ ثِيَابٌ تَكُوْنُ بِالْيَمَنِ۔ (ابوداؤد)

4036. Sayyiduna Muadh رضى الله عنه narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم sent him to Yemen (as judge and ruler), he instructed him to take from every halim (there)-meaning, everyone who had attained puberty-one dinar, or Muafiri worth one dinar-meaning, garments of Yemen origin.[2]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Hammam رضى الله عنه said that jizah is not levied on a woman or a child (and so not on an insane, a blind and a paralysed person). Also, an old man who is not capable of any work or of fighting and the handicapped that cannot do any work are exempted and not required to pay the jizyah.

This hadith does not distinguish between the rich and poor and both are required to pay the same amount of jizyah .Imam Shaf'i'I رضى الله عنه cites this hadith and abides by it.

However the Hanaf is impose forty eight dirhams every year on the rich, payable at four dirhams a month. The middle class have to pay twenty-four dirhams every year, payable at two dirhams a month. The poor of the lowest strata who earn a livelihood are levied twelve dirhams every year at one dirham each month. These levies are wajib (obligatory).

The Hidayah writes that this schedule of levies is known from Sayyiduna Umar رضى الله عنه and Sayyiduna Uthman رضى الله عنه. None of the ansars or the muhajrin had shown disagreement to it.

As for this hadith making one dinar payable by every adult towards the jizyah, it is bound with peace and reconciliation. Since Yemen was taken over without battle and its people had surrendered through mutual reconciliation, so a conciliatory approach was adopted to apply the jizyah.

We may also presume that since the Yemenis were financially weak, so the same amount of jizyah was made wajib (obligatory) on them as is applied to the poor.

JIZYAH IS NOT WAJIB (OBLIGATORY) ON MUSLIMS

(٤٠٣٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَصْلُحُ قِبْلَتَانِ فِي اَرْضٍ وَاحِدَةٍ وَلَيْسَ

عَلَى الْمُسْلِمِ جِزْيَةٌ۔ (رواہ احمد والترمذی وابوداؤد)

4037. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There cannot be two qiblas in one land and no jizyah may be levied on a Muslim."[1]

COMMENTARY: There should not be two religious in any one area on the basisof fraternity. Muslims are instructed hereby that they should not tale up residence in enemy territory. They must not disgrace themselves by living there.

Similarly, the Islamic State should not allow disbelievers to reside within its territory without paying the jizyah. Even after that, they must not be allowed to do anything against Islamic beliefs. If this is not done, then in both these cases Islam and disbelief will be deemed to be at par, but such a thing is not tolerated by Islam. In fact, Islam expects Muslims to reside wherever they are with dignity and strength and honour.

Enemies of Islam must be treated as weak and non-entities,

Some ulama (Scholars) say that this hadith hints at exiling the Jews and Christians from the Arabian Peninsula for, they are the peoples of the Book and also of the qiblah. They have different qiblahs and each of theirs is also different from the Muslims qiblah. In this way, there will not be two qiblahs in this area. Only Muslims would live there.

If a non-Muslim resides in a Muslim land as a dhimmi, but before paying the jizyah, he becomes a Muslim, then he will not be asked to pay a jizyah because he is a Muslim. Muslims have not to pay a jizyah.

REMISSION AGAINST JIZYAH

(٤٠٣٨) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ بَعَثَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَالِدَ بْنَ الْوَلِيْدِ اِلٰى اُكَيْدِرِ دُوْمَةَ فَاَخَذُوْهُ فَاَتَوْا بِهٖ فَحَقَنَ لَهٗ دَمَهٗ وَصَالَحَهٗ عَلَى الْجِزْيَةِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4038. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent Khalid ibn Walid to Ukaydir of Dumah. They seized him and brought him (to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He forgave him and spared his life, and made peace with him against the jizyah he ought to pay.[2]

COMMENTARY: Dumah was the place whose King was Ukaydir. It was near Tabuk in Syria. Ukaydir was a Christian. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had commanded Khalid to seize him alive. So, he was brought alive and he agreed to pay the jizyah. Later, when Allah guided him, he became a perfect Muslim.

TITHES ON NON-MUSLIMS

(٤٠٣٩) وَعَنْ حَرْبِ بْنِ عُبَيْدِ اللّٰهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَبِيْ اُمِّهٖ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّمَا الْعُشُوْرُ عَلَى الْيَهُوْدِ وَالنَّصَارٰى وَلَيْسَ عَلَى الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ عُشُوْرٌ۔ (رواہ احمد و ابوداؤد)

4039. Sayyiduna Harb ibn Ubaydullah narrated on the authority of his (maternal) grandfather, from his father that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The ushr (not

---

[1] Tirmidhi # 633, Abu Dawud # 3953, Musnad Ahmad 1-223.

[2] Abu Dawud # 3037.

the land tax of one-tenth) is to be levied only on Jews and Christians. It is not to be levied on the Muslims.[1]

COMMENTARY: The ushr mentioned in this hadith concerns trade merchandise. It does not refer to wajib (obligatory) sadaqah (charity) (on produce of land), because the ushr (tithe, one-tenth) on land produce is wajib (obligatory) on the Muslims.
Khattabi رضی اللہ عنہ said that the form of ushr that is wajib (obligatory) on the Jews and Nasara (Christians) is the one on which peace was concluded with them when they were made dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State). If no agreement was concluded with them when they were accepted as dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State) then nothing will be wajib (obligatory) on them apart from jizyah. This is to which Imam Shafi'I رضی اللہ عنہ abides.
The contention of the Hanafis is that if the Jews and the Christians impose any kind of tax or duties on the trade merchandise of the Muslims at their borders, then it is also rightful on the part of the Muslims to impose a like levy when the Jews and Christians bring their merchandise to their borders.
If they do not levy any kind of impost, then the Muslims must do likewise.

DHIMMIS (NON MUSLIM RESIDENTS OF A MUSLIM STATE) MAY BE COMPELLED TO CONCLUDE TREATY

(٤٠٤٠) وَعَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّا نَمُرُّ بِقَوْمٍ فَلَا هُمْ يُضَيِّفُوْنَا وَلَا هُمْ يُؤَدُّوْنَ مَا لَنَا عَلَيْهِمْ مِنَ الْحَقِّ وَلَا نَحْنُ نَأْخُذُ مِنْهُمْ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنْ أَبَوْا إِلَّا أَنْ تَأْخُذُوْا كُرْهًا فَخُذُوْا۔ (رواہ الترمذی)

4040. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Amir narrated that he submitted that he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah. (during our journey for Jihad (crusade)) we pass by a people who do not offer us hospitality nor let us have what is due to us from them (as imposed by Islam, like giving us a loan getting us what we need).We do not take anything from them (by force, so we are very desperate)."On that, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said," If they persist in denying unless you take by force. You may do so."[2]

COMMENTARY: The people against whom the complaint was ledged were dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State). (They had not accepted Islam but had submitted to pay the jizyah and live us obedient subject of Islamic State) It had been agreed with them that they would be hospitable to the Muslims going through their land to engage in jihad (crusade). They did not abide by the agreement and also refused to sell to them the provision they needed. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم allowed them to take what they needed by force.
However, it must be understood that if no agreement has been made with the dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State) before hand then it is not allowed to the Muslims to take anything from them by force, without their willingness, if the Muslims are not desperate.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

DHIMMIS (NON MUSLIM RESIDENTS OF A MUSLIM STATE) MAY BE BOUND TO BE HOSPITABLE TO MUSLIMS AND PAY THE JIZYAH

(٤٠٤١) وَعَنْ اَسْلَمَ اَنَّ عُمَرَبْنَ الْخَطَّابِ ضَرَبَ الْجِزْيَةَ عَلٰى اَهْلِ الذَّهَبِ اَرْبَعَةَ دَنَانِيْرَ وَعَلٰى اَهْلِ الْوَرَقِ اَرْبَعِيْنَ دِرْهَمًا مَعَ ذٰلِكَ اَرْزَاقُ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ وَضِيَافَةُ ثَلَاثَةِ اَيَّامٍ۔ (رواه مالك)

4041. Sayyiduna Aslam said that (during his caliphate,) Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab imposed a jizyah of four dinars on those (dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State))who possessed (abundant)gold, and of forty dirhams on those (dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State))who possessed silver. Apart from that, he also fixed (on them) provisions for the Muslims and hospitality for three days.[1]

COMMENTARY: The condition of Hospitality for three days elaborates on the stipulation of provisions for the Muslims.

When the non-Muslims were given the status of dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State) and the jizyah was imposed on them (at the rates mentioned),it was also agreed that they would provide hospitality to the Muslims for three days.

It is stated in Shah-un-Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice) that it is allowed to impose more than one dinar as jizyah on the dhimmis (non Muslim residents of a Muslim State) and to stipulate that they would be hospitable to Muslims who pass by them. The expenses of the hospitality would not be deducted from the jizyah. Rather, hospitality is additional to tha jizyah when concluding the agreement with them. Details may be seen in the Mirqat, etc.

CHAPTER - X

(AL-SULH) PEACE بَابُ الصُّلْحِ

Sulh is the noun of salah (prayer) صلاح and sulooh صلوح. It is the opposite of (fasaad فساد) destruction or spoiling.

The head of state is authorized by Islam to conclude a treaty of peace with the enemy nations in Keeping with the monotheistic belief to maintain and promote universal peace, to propagate Islam to protect and provide security and freedom to human beings and to meet the political and Military demands.

Accordingly, in 6AH, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم made peace with his staunchest enemy, the Makkan disbelievers. It is known as Sulh Hudaybiyah or the peace Treaty of Hudaybiyah. Its term was determined for ten years. Hadith as well as history record unanimously that it is this very peace treaty of Hudaybiyah that made the propagation of Islam very easy. At the same time, the world learnt that Islam is the true standard-bearer of human values and peace. It was observed that Muslims faithfully abided and honoured the terms of the treaty in spite of the provocations of Makah idolaters.

Barely three years had passed when the polytheists of Makkah helped the Banu Bakr in their war with the Banu Khuzaah the allies of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and thus broke the peace treaty.

4042. (Sayyiduna) Miswar ibn Makhramah رضی اللہ عنہ and Marwah ibn Hakam رضی اللہ عنہ (both) narrated that in the year of Hudaybiyah, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went out (Madinah) with some more than one thousand of his Sahabah رضی اللہ عنہ when he came to Dhul Hulayfah (about six miles south of Madinah, also called Abyar Ali), he garlanded and marked the hadyi (or the sacrificial animals), assumed the ihram (sheet of fabric) for umrah and set forth (from there). When he was at Thaniyah (the mountain pass) by which one descends to Makkah, his she-camel (Qaswa) Knelt down (with him). The people began to (rod it and to) say hal, hal حل (Go on, go on) ! Qaswa! Is reluctant! " But, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Qaswa' is not reluctant. Such is not her habit. But .He who had held back the elephant, has held her back." Then, he said, "By Him in whose hand is my soul, they shall not ask me for anything whereby they honour that which Allah has made sacred (His Haram) but I shall give it to them." Then, he got the she-camel to get up and she was quick at it. Turning aside from the road leading to Makkah, he went to the extreme limit of Hudaybiyah at a pool with little water. (Here, he alighted). The people took the water in small quantities but it was consumed soon. (though they took the minimum possible). They complained to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم at thirst, so he took out an arrow from his quiver and instructed them to immerse it in the pool. By Allah, water gushed out to them (in a never ending quantity) till the time they departed from it.

While they were in this state, Budayl ibn Waraqa Khuza'I came with some men of Khuzaah (on behalf of the infidels to strike peace). Urwah ibn Masud (also) arrived after him.

(Here, Bukhari presents the lengthy conversation between the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and these two men, but the compiler of Masabih has omitted all that for the sake of brevity. Then the narration continues

Suhayl ibn Amr came afterwards (as their last envoy). The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم then said (to Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ),"Write. This to what Muhammad Allah's Messenger has made peace..." Suhayl interrupted, "By Allah, if we accepted you as Allah's Messenger then we would neither turn you away from the Kabah nor fight with you. Write: Muhammad ibn Abdullah." The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asserted, "By Allah, I am Allah's Messenger even if you believe me. (But in view of the need of the hour, I accept your demand.) Write (Ali!) Muhammad ibn Abdullah." Suhayl also said, "(Write also If any person belonging to you comes to us, we shall not send him back to you but) if anyone of us comes to you, even if he follows your religion, you will return him to us." (The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم agreed to that too.)

(Again, the compiler of the Masabih has abridged the narration from Bukhari. Any way) When he finished writing down the agreement, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said to his Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم, "Arise and sacrifice (the hady; and then shake (your head)."

After that, a number of believing women (of Makkah) came. Allah, the Exalted, revealed:

يَآ أَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْآ اِذَا جَآءَكُمُ الْمُؤْمِنَاتُ مُهَاجِرَاتٍ الخ- (الممتحنه ٦٠: ١٠)

{O you who believe, when believing women come to you as emigrants...}(60: 10) Allah, the Exalted, forbade them (through this verse) to return them, but He ordered them to give back their dower.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then came to Madinah. (Some days thereafter,) Abu Basir رضى الله عنه, one of the Quraysh and a Muslim, came to him (from Makkah). The Quraysh had sent two men after him. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم returned him to the two men (in terms of the treaty). They took him (to Makkah). Abdul Hulayfah, they (stopped over and) alighted (if being their first stage of the journey) and ate the dates that they had. Abu Basir صلى الله عليه وسلم said to one or them, "O you! By Allah, your sword seems very good to me. Let me see it. " He handed it over to him and (in an instant) he struck him (so severely that he fell) and he died. The other man (was terrified and) fled from him. He reached Madinah and ran into the Mosque (Masjid Nabawi). The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم remarked, "This man is in a terrified state." He said, "(Yes!) By Allah, my companion has been killed and I am near to being killed,"

Then, Abu Basir صلى الله عليه وسلم also arrived. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Alas for his mother!" (An expression of amazement.) "He will stir up war! Only if he had some relatives (to help him and give him shelter)." When he heard the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, Abu Basir صلى الله عليه وسلم understood that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم would again hand him over (to the Makkans). So, went out (of Madinah) and came to (a place near) the seashore.

(The narrator added Abu Jandal ibn Suhayl رضى الله عنه also escaped (from the idolaters) and teamed up with Abu Basir رضى الله عنه. Then, this was emulated by every Man of Quraysh who embraced Islam. He united with Abu Basir رضى الله عنه (and escaped from the Quraysh). Soon they were a sizeable team. Whenever they learnt of a caravan of the Quraysh proceeding to Syria, they intercepted it. They Kill the men and seized the merchandise (or whatever they carried). So, the Quraysh sent someone to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. (They had realized that they had erred in placing that condition and were paying for that.) They pleaded with him adjurning him by Allah and the ties of Kinship between them and the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم to command them (Abu Basir رضى الله عنه and others) to stop (harassing them). They agreed that (he should not return to them) anyone who came (to Madinah) to him and he would be safe.

The Prophet sent necessary instructions to them (They should not intercept the caravans of the Quraysh but should come to him in Madinah.)[1]

COMMENTARY: Hydaybiyah is about sixteen miles to the west of Makkah. The mountain Jabl ash-Shamisi is locatred here giving it its other name Shamisiyah. Most of this place is within the limits of the Haram.

The Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم who had accompanied the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم were more than one thousand, any number up to one thousand five hundred. They set out as one thousand and four hundred and people joined them on the way to raise the number to one thousand and five hundred.

When a pilgrim assumes the ihram for Hajj (pilgrimage) or umrah and is prevented from observing it, then it is called ihsar (احصار). In such a case, he must slaughter the animal he has with him for sacrifice and shave his head. This person is called mushir. Imam Shafii رحمہ اللہ says that he must slaughter his animal at the place where he is stopped, even if it is not within the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم action because Hudaybiyah is not within the limit of Haram.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ, however, says that it cannot be sacrificed outside the Haram. He says about Hudaybiyah that not all of it outside the limits of the Haram. Most of it is within the limits and clearly the hadyi was slaughtered inside the limits of the Haram.

Referring to the believing women who had come to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and of whom the Quran says that they should not be sent back and their dowers should be returned, it is that when their disbelieving husbands come and if they had paid them the dower then that must be returned to those men. According to Tafsir Madarik and others, this command applied only to that particular case. It was abrogated afterwards. The women were not sent back because the treaty stipulated that only men who came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم from Makkah were to be returned, not the women.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words about there being someone to help Abu Basir رضی اللہ عنہ could also mean: "Would that someone advised him not to come to me!"

However Abu Basir رضی اللہ عنہ understand that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم would abide by the treaty and hand him over to the Qurayrah. So, he found out an alternative arrangement.

Abu Jandal رضی اللہ عنہ was the son of the same Suhayl who had come as envoy and negotiator on behalf of the Quraysh. He had locked Abu Jandal رضی اللہ عنہ who had embraced Islam before hand in Makkah but he escaped from the confinement and came to Hudaybiyah at first. Here the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم convinced him that he could not contravene the treaty and consoled with him. So he went back to Makkah and fled from there a second time, to join Abu Basir رضی اللہ عنہ.

THREE CONDITIONS OF PEACE TREATRY OF HUDAYBIYAH

(٤٠٤٣) وَعَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ قَالَ صَالَحَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ يَوْمَ الْحُدَيْبِيَةِ عَلٰى ثَلَاثَةِ اَشْيَاء عَلٰى اَنَّ مَنْ اَتَاهُ مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ رَدَّهٗ اِلَيْهِمْ وَمَنْ اَتَاهُمْ مِّنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ لَمْ يَرُدُّوْهُ وَعَلٰى اَنْ يَدْخُلَهَا مِنْ قَابِلٍ وَيُقِيْمُ بِهَا ثَلَاثَةَ اَيَّامٍ وَلَا يَدْ خُلَهَا اِلَّا بِجُلُبَّانِ السَّلَاحِ وَالسَّيْفِ وَالْقَوْسِ وَنَحْوِهٖ فَجَاءَ اَبُوْجُنْدَلٍ يَحْجُلُ فِيْ قُيُوْدِهٖ فَرَدَّهٗ اِلَيْهِمْ۔ (متفق علیه)

4043. Sayyiduna Bar'a ibn Aazib رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم concluded the treaty with the polytheists on the day of Hudaybiyah concerning three things (in particular).

(i) If anyone of the Polytheists (of Makkah) came to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم (after embracing Islam), he should send him back to the polytheists, and if any of the Muslims came to the polytheists, they would not return him.
(ii) The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم should (not enter Makkah that year but) enter Makkah the next year and stay only three days in it. And,
(iii) He should carry only such weapons as sword and bows in their (cases or appropriate) coverings.

At this point, Abu Jandal رضى الله عنه came to him in his fetters because of which he hobbled. But, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sent him back.[1]

COMMENTARY: The weapons were to kept in their leather casings. The Muslims were disallowed to enter Makkah with unsheathed weapons.

We have spoken about Abu Jandal رضى الله عنه in the previous hadith. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم exhorted him to show patience and him for reward in the hereafter. Allah will surely create for you and other weak and helpeos men like you a way out."

Outwardly, the peace treaty seemed to be to the disadvantage of the Muslims. For one thing, at that time, they were not strong and, well- equipped. Besides, they had not come from Madinah with an intention to fight. They had to respect the sanctity of the Haram, and Allah had not revealed to them to fight with the pagans. There were many other reasons too.

Nevertheless actually the treaty proved to be very profitable to the Muslims. There were ample opportunities to propagate Islam. Many far flung places became receptive to Islam. Then Allah caused them to liberate Makkah and its people came within the bounds of Islam.

It became clear that by accepting the conditions of the people of Makkah, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had demonstrated his desire for peace and love for humanity and he also emerged as one with an exceptional political farsightedness. He showed, most of all, that he was sincere and obedient to Allah to the utmost.

(٤٠٤٤) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ قُرَيْشًا صَالَحُوا النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاشْتَرَطُوا عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنَّ مَنْ جَاءَنَا مِنْكُمْ لَمْ نَرُدَّهُ عَلَيْكُمْ وَمَنْ جَاءَكُمْ مِنَّا رَدَدْتُمُوْهُ عَلَيْنَا فَقَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ أَنَكْتُبُ هٰذَا قَالَ نَعَمْ إِنَّهُ مَنْ ذَهَبَ مِنَّا إِلَيْهِمْ فَأَبْعَدَهُ اللّٰهُ وَمَنْ جَاءَنَا مِنْهُمْ سَيَجْعَلُ اللّٰهُ لَهُ فَرَجًا وَمَخْرَجًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

4044. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that the Quraysh concluded the peace treaty with the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. They placed the condition that if anyone went to them from his side, they would not turn him back. But, if anyone went to him from their side, he would send him back (to them). They (the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم) asked him (on seeing the apparent disparity). "O Messenger of Allah, shall we write this down?)" (Do you consent to this condition?)" He said, "Yes. He who goes away from us (has certainty apostated. So,) Allah has removed him far from His mercy. But, he of them who comes to us, Allah shall surely appoint for him a way out and an escape."[2]

PLEDGE FROM WOMEN

(٤٠٤٥) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ فِيْ بَيْعَةِ النِّسَاءِ اِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَمْتَحِنُهُنَّ بِهٰذِهِ الاٰيَةِ يٰۤاَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ اِذَا جَآءَكَ الْمُؤْمِنَاتُ يُبَايِعْنَكَ فَمَنْ اَقَرَّتْ بِهٰذَا الشَّرْطِ مِنْهُنَّ قَالَ لَهَا قَدْ بَايَعْتُكِ كَلَا مًا يُكَلِّمُهَا بِهٖ وَاللّٰهِ مَا مَسَّتْ يَدُهٗ يَدَ امْرَاَةٍ قَطُّ فِي الْمُبَايَعَةِ ـ (متفق عليه)

4045. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها narrated about the oath of allegiance received from women that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم examined them (who came from Makkah and professed Islam) in the light of this verse:

يٰۤاَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ اِذَا جَآءَكَ الْمُؤْمِنٰتُ يُبَايِعْنَكَ

{O Prophet, when believing women come to you to pledge allegiance to you } (9: 12) When a woman declared her acceptance of this condition, he said to her : I have accepted your pledge." He only communicated orally to her. (She said) "By Allah, his hand never touched a woman's hand when a pledge of allegiance was taken."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم used to get the women to declare that they would abide by the commands of this verse, the gist of the entire verse is that the Muslim women must pledge to abide by its commands: they would not associate anything with Allah.

They would not steal,

They would not commit adultery,

They would not kill their children (as female infants were buried alive during pre Islamic days),

They would not slander or accuse anyone falsely, and

They would not disobey (any command of Allah and his Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم)

In this sense this verse elaborates on the verse (60: 10) as reproduced in the hadith # 4042. The way the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم took the pledge from women is the sunnah (Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم practice). It must be followed and it is not necessary to introduce formal procedures as some Shaykhs do. They take a vessel full of water and dip their hand into it and ask the woman to dipher hand too. Or, some of them hold a piece of cloth at,on e end and the woman is required to hold it at the other end. It is better and enough to follow the Prophet's صلی الله علیه وسلم method.

The compiler of the Masabih has placed this hadith in this chapter(الصلح) (Peace) because at Hudaybiyah, it had become necessary to get the oath of allegiance from the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم that is known as Bay't Ridwan. The Quran refers to in the verse of al-Fath (48: 18). This is why the hadith of pledge of allegiance from women is placed here though no such pledge was taken from them at Hudaybiyah.

SOME OTHER CONDITIONS OF THE TREATY OF HUDAYBIYAH

(٤٠٤٦) عَنِ الْمِسْوَرِ وَ مَرْوَانَ اَنَّهُمْ اَصْطَلَحُوْا عَلٰى وَضْعِ الْحَرْبِ عَشْرَسِنِيْنَ يَأْمَنُ فِيْهِنَّ النَّاسُ وَعَلٰى اَنَّ بَيْنَنَا عَيْبَةً مَكْفُوْفَةً وَاَنَّهٗ لَا اِسْلَالَ وَلَا اِغْلَالَ ـ (رواه ابوداؤد)

[1] Bukhari # 2713, Muslim # 88-1866.

4046. (Sayyiduna) Miswar رضی اللہ عنہ and Marwah رضی اللہ عنہ said that (among other things, the Quraysh of Makkah) made peace (at Hudaybiyah, agreeing) to a no-war pledge for ten years so that the people could have security. (It was also agreed,) there should be a firm locked honest (pact) to banish theft and treachery (unobserved or openly).[1]

COMMENTARY: The locked honest pact' - (عَيبَةً مَكْفُوفَة) - implies clearing hearts of deceit and cunning against each other and being faithful to the treaty. There should be no stealing by stealth and no usurpation of rights, etc.

PROMISES MADE TO NON-MUSLIMS MUST BE HONOURED.

(٤٠٤٧) وَعَنْ صَفْوَانَ بْنِ سُلَيْمٍ عَنْ عِدَّةٍ مِنْ اَبْنَاءِ اَصْحَابِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ اٰبَائِهِمْ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَلَا مَنْ ظَلَمَ مُعَاهِدًا اَوِنْتَقَصَهُ اَوْ كَلَّفَهُ فَوْقَ طَاقَتِهِ اَوْ اَخَذَمِنْهُ شَيْئًا بِغَيْرِ طِيْبِ نَفْسٍ فَاَنَا حَجِيْجُهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4047. Sayyiduna Safwan ibn Sulaym رضی اللہ عنہ narrated on the authority of a number of the sons of the Sahabah رضی اللہ عنہ of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that their (respected) fathers (the Sahabah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messdenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone wrongs a (non-Muslim) person with whom a covenant has been concluded (like a dhimmi), or violates his rights, or burdens him beyond what he can tolerate (like imposing an unjust jizyah on a dhimmi, or an excessive ushr on an infidel who has brought his trade merchandise for sale), or he takes away from him something without his willing permission, then I shall argue against this person in the day of resurrection.[2]

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE FROM A GROUP OF WOMEN

(٤٠٤٨) وَعَنْ اُمَيْمَةَ بِنْتِ رُقَيْقَةَ قَالَتْ بَايَعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ نِسْوَةٍ فَقَالَ لَنَا فِيْمَا اسْتَطَعْتُنَّ وَاَطَقْتُنَّ قُلْتُ اللّٰهُ وَرَسُوْلُهُ اَرْحَمُ بِنَا مِنَّا بِاَنْفُسِنَا قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ بَايِعْنَا تَعْنِيْ صَافِحْنَا قَالَ اِنَّمَا قَوْلِيْ لِمِائَةِ امْرَأَةٍ كَقَوْلِيْ لِاِمْرَأَةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ رَوَاهُ۔

4048. Sayyidah Umaymah bintRuqayqah narrated, "I swone allegiance to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم alongwith some women (all together in a group). He said, (I get the pledge from you) as far as you can and as much as is in your power. (Thus, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was kind to us women to bind us only to the extent of our ability.) I submitted. 'Allah and His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم are merciful to us more than we can be to ourselves.' I then requested, 'O Messenger of Allah, receive our pledge - meaning, shake hands with us.' He said. 'My words to one hundred women are like my words to one woman.' (He meant that an oral oath is enough for a woman and it is not necessary to get it individually from every woman separately. They may all pledge together.)[3]

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

PEACE TREATY WRITTEN BY THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٤٠٤٩) عَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ قَالَ اعْتَمَرَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي ذِي الْقَعْدَةِ فَاَبٰى اَهْلُ مَكَّةَ اَنْ يَدَعُوْهُ يَدْخُلُ مَكَّةَ حَتّٰى قَاضَاهُمْ عَلٰى اَنْ يَدْخُلَ يَعْنِي مِنَ الْعَامِ الْمُقْبِلِ يُقِيْمُ بِهَا ثَلَاثَةَ اَيَّامٍ فَلَمَّا كَتَبُوا الْكِتَابَ كَتَبُوْا هٰذَا مَاقَاضٰى عَلَيْهِ مُحَمَّدٌ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ وَقَالُوْ الَا نُقِرُّ بِهَا فَلَوْ نَعْلَمُ اَنَّكَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ مَا مَنَعْنَاكَ وَلٰكِنْ اَنْتَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ فَقَالَ اَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ وَاَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ ثُمَّ قَالَ لِعَلِيِّ بْنِ اَبِي طَالِبٍ امْحُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ لَا وَاللّٰهِ لَا اَمْحُوْكَ اَبَدًا فَاَخَذَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَلَيْسَ يُحْسِنُ يَكْتُبُ فَكَتَبَ هٰذَا مَا قَاضٰى عَلَيْهِ مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ لَايَدْخُلُ مَكَّةَ بِالسِّلَاحِ اِلَّا السَّيْفَ فِي الْقِرَابِ وَاَنْ لَا يَخْرُجَ مِنْ اَهْلِهَا بِاَحَدٍ اَنْ اَرَادَ اَنْ يَتْبَعَهٗ وَاَنْ لَا يَمْنَعَ مِنْ اَصْحَابِهٖ اَحَدًا اِنْ اَرَادَ اَنْ يُقِيْمَ بِهَا فَلَمَّا دَخَلَهَا وَمَضَى الْاَجَلُ اَتَوْا عَلِيًّا فَقَالُوْ اقُلْ لِصَاحِبِكَ اخْرُجْ عَنَّا فَقَدْ مَضَى الْاَجَلُ فَخَرَجَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4049. Sayyiduna Bara ibn Aazib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that in Dhulqadah, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went to perform an umrah, However, the Makkans did not allow him to enter Makkah unless he made an agreement with them to come next year and stay three days. So, while penning down the treaty, they wrote: "This is what Muhammad Messenger of Allah has agreed." The Makkans protested, "We do not consent to that. If we believed you to be Allah's Messenger, we should not have prevented you. You are Muhammad ibn Abdullah." (So, write accordingly.) He said, "I am Allah's Messenger as well as Muhammad ibn Abdullah," and he instructed Sayyiduna Ali ibn Abu Talib رضی اللہ عنہ to erase Messenger of Allah, but he agreed. "No, by Allah, I shall never erase it." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم took it (from Ali). Though he did not know how to write, yet he (erased the words 'Allah's Messenger' and) wrote "This is what Muhammad ibn Abdullah has agreed" (and it had these conditions:) "The weapon that he will carry on entry into Makkah will be only a sword in the sheath. If any of the people of Makkah decides to go out with him, he shall not take him along. But if any of his companions wishes to stay behind in Makkah, he will not stop him."
Then after he came (to Makkah) and the agreed period was over, they went to Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and said, "Tell your friend to leave us. Indeed the time is over." So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم departed (from Makkah)[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ did not take the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructions to erase the words as a command (wajib (obligatory) to be obeyed), otherwise he would not have refused to do so. Besides, it was not a refusal from him, at the base of it was his deep love for and extreme belief in, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that was his lone asset of life... He could not bring himself to delete the greatest (reality and) truth in life that his own pen had inscribed on the pages of the document. In fact, his aim of life and essence of faith was to imprint this truth on the heart and mind of everyone on earth.

The ulama (Scholars) differ on whether the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم himself penned down this peace treaty as this hadith tells us. Most of them assert that he did not write it and in fact, could not write at all because Allah, the Exalted, has called him ummi (unlettered). An ummi can neither read nor write.

Other scholars say that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did actually write it. Though he is called an ummi when his Prophethood and messenger ship were universally confirmed beyond doubt and he was clearly known to be Allah's Messenger, Allah enabled him to write. Or, his writing at time was a miracle. These scholars cite this hadith.

However, the first-mentioned ulama (Scholars) say that he is said to have written in the same sense as one says, "The king built that city." Clearly, this means that he had it built. So, here, too, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had the document written.

CHAPTER - XI

THE EXPULSION OF THE JEWS FROM (THE PENINSULA OF) ARABIA

بَابُ إِخْرَاجِ الْيَهُوْدِ مِنْ جَزِيْرَةِ الْعَرَبِ

The word Jazira is a piece or tract of land surrounded by water on all sides.

The jaziratul-Arab is the region surrounded by the Indian Ocean, Gulf Sea,Tigris and Euphrates.It extends from Aden to Syria,from Jeddah to the coasts of Iraq.(According to Al-Mawrid a peninsula is shibul jazirah and a jazirah is an island,so it is a semi-island)

SECTION I — اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

EXPULSION OF JEWS FROM ARABIA

(٤٠٥٠) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ بَيْنَا نَحْنُ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ خَرَجَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ انْطَلِقُوْا اِلٰى يَهُوْدَ فَخَرَجْنَا مَعَهُ حَتّٰى جِئْنَا بَيْتَ الْمِدْرَاسِ فَقَامَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ يَا مَعْشَرَ يَهُوْدَ اَسْلِمُوْا تَسْلَمُوْا اِعْلَمُوْا اَنَّ الْاَرْضَ لِلّٰهِ وَلِرَسُوْلِهٖ وَاِنِّيْ اُرِيْدُ اَنْ اُجْلِيَكُمْ مِنْ هٰذِهِ الْاَرْضِ فَمَنْ وَجَدَ مِنْكُمْ بِمَالِهٖ شَيْئًا فَلْيَبِعْهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4050. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that while they were sitting in the mosque, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم came out to them (from his home) and said, "Come to the Jews." So, they went out with him till they came to their place of religious education. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم stood (there) and said, "O company of Jews accept Islam and you will be safe (from worldly anxieties and punishment in the hereafter) Know! The land belongs to Allah and His Messenger (for Allah is the Creator and the Messenger is His vicegerent on earth). So, (if you refuse to accept Islam) then I intend to expel you from this land (Arabia). If anyone of you has (immovable) property of any kind (that he cannot carry away), let him sell it."[1]

(٤٠٥١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَامَ عُمَرُ خَطِيْبًا فَقَالَ إِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ عَامَلَ يَهُوْدَ خَيْبَرَ عَلَى اَمْوَالِهِمْ وَ قَالَ نُقِرُّكُمْ مَا اَقَرَّكُمُ اللّٰهُ وَقَدْ رَأَيْتُ إِجْلَائَهُمْ فَلَمَّا اَجْمَعَ عُمَرُ عَلَى ذٰلِكَ اَتَاهُ اَحَدُ بَنِى اَبِي الْحُقَيْقِ فَقَالَ يَا اَمِيْرَ الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ اَتُخْرِجُنَا وَقَدْ اَقَرَّنَا مُحَمَّدٌ وَعَامَلَنَا عَلَى الْاَمْوَالِ فَقَالَ عُمَرُ اَظَنَنْتَ اِنِّي نَسِيْتُ قَوْلَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَيْفَ بِكَ اِذَا اُخْرِجْتَ مِنْ خَيْبَرَ تَعْدُوْ بِكَ قَلُوْصُكَ لَيْلَةً بَعْدَ لَيْلَةٍ فَقَالَ هٰذِهٖ كَانَتْ هُزَيْلَةً مِنْ اَبِي الْقَاسِمِ فَقَالَ كَذَبْتَ يَا عَدُوَّ اللّٰهِ فَاَجْلَا هُمْ عُمَرُ وَاَعْطَاهُمْ قِيْمَةَ مَا كَانَ لَهُمْ مِنَ الثَّمَرِ مَالًا وَاِبِلًا وَعُرُوْضًا مِنْ اَقْتَابٍ وَحِبَالٍ وَ غَيْرِ ذٰلِكَ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4051. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated: Umar رضی الله عنه stood up (one day) to deliver a sermon. He said, "(As you know,) Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم had decided that the Jews of Khaybar should work on their property (and keep and own their gardens but give us half of their produce and income and they would also pay the Jizyah). HE had also said, "We would let you stay (in Khaybar) as long as Allah lets you stay." Indeed, now I perceive that there is good in expelling them.
When Umar رضی الله عنه decided on that, a man of there Banu Abul Huqayq (an old man and their chief) came to him and said, "O Amir ul-Mumin, will you expel us while Muhammad صلی الله علیه وسلم had let us stay and had retained us in our (gardens and) property?" Umar رضی الله عنه asked, "Do you suppose that I have forgotten the saying of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم asking you, 'How would you feel when you are expelled from Khaybar and your camel runs along with you, night after night?" He said, 'Abul Qasim had said that in a light-heated manner.' Umar رضی الله عنه said, 'You like O enemy of Allah.'
Then, he expelled them. He compensated them for their fruits by giving them the equivalent in money. Camels and miscellaneous things like saddles, ropes, etc.[2]

PROPHET'S INSTRUCTIONS TO OUST THE POLYTHEISTS FROM ARABIA

(٤٠٥٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَوْصٰى بِثَلَاثَةٍ قَالَ اَخْرِجُوا الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ مِنْ جَزِيْرَةِ الْعَرَبِ وَاَجِيْزُوا الْوَفْدَ بِنَحْوِمَا كُنْتُ اُجِيْزُهُمْ قَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ وَسَكَتَ عَنِ الثَّالِثَةِ اَوْ قَالَ فَاُنْسِيْتُهَا۔ (متفق عليه)

4052. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger رضی الله عنه gave (them) three instructions (at the time of his death). He said, "Expel the polytheist's from Arabia (meaning, Makkah and Madinah). Threat the envoys and messengers as I treat them."
The narrator said that Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه observed silence concerning the third instruction or Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I have forgothen it."[1]

COMMENTARY: Qadi Iyad رضی اللہ عنہ suggested that the third thing could be the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying :

EXPULSION OF JEWS AND CHRISTIANS FROM ARABIA

(٤٠٥٣) وَعَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ قَالَ اَخْبَرَنِي عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ اَنَّهُ سَمِعَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَاُخْرِجَنَّ الْيَهُوْدَ وَالنَّصَارٰى مِنْ جَزِيْرَةِ الْعَرَبِ حَتّٰى لَا اَدَعَ فِيْهَا اِلَّا مُسْلِمًا۔ رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَئِنْ عِشْتُ اِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ لَاُخْرِجَنَّ الْيَهُوْدَ وَالنَّصَارٰى مِنْ جَزِيْرَةِ الْعَرَبِ۔

4053. Sayyiduna Jabir ibn Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (Sayyiduna) Umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ informed him that he had heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "I shall certainly expel the Jews and the Christians from Arabia so that I shall leave no one in it but Muslims."
Another version is (he said): "If I live then insha Allah, I shall certainly expel the Jews and the Christians from Arabia."[2]

Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had prevailed over the people of Khaybar, he had intended to expel the Jews from it, for when any land is conquered, it belongs to Allah, His Messenger and the Muslims (and only Allah's religion holds supreme).. But, the Jews requested the Messenger of Allah to spare them on condition that they should tend to the fields and cultivate them against half of the produce. So Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "We shall let you stay (at Khaybar) on that condition (which you propse) for as long as we wish" So, they were permitted to stay (at Khaybar) till Umar ousted them during his caliphate to Tayma and Ariha.[1]

CHAPTER - XII

THE FAI بَابُ الْفَيْئِ

What is fai: Fai is the property that the Muslims acquire from the infidels without engaging in battle. All of it belongs to the Muslims. Neither is the Khums (or one-fifth) taken from it, nor is it divided among the warriors. In the time of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, when an army returned with Fai, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم used his discretion to give it to whomsoever he wished. He gave and withheld as he deemed best, and also bestowed much to some and little to others.

As for the property acquired by the Muslims from the infidels after battle, it is called ghanimah; or booty (or spoils). One-fifth is taken from it. Then it is divided among the warriors, the footman getting one share and the horseman getting two shares.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

WHERE IS FAI SPENT

(٤٠٥٥) عَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ اَوْسِ بْنِ الْحَدَثَانِ قَالَ قَالَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ قَدْخَصَّ رَسُوْلَهُ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ هٰذَا الْفَيْءِ بِشَيْءٍ لَمْ يُعْطِهِ اَحَدًا غَيْرَهُ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ مَا اَفَاءَ اللّٰهُ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِهِ مِنْهُمْ اِلٰى قَوْلِهِ قَدِيْرٌ فَكَانَتْ هٰذِهِ خَالِصَةً لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُنْفِقُ عَلٰى اَهْلِهِ نَفَقَةَ سَنَتِهِمْ مِنْ هٰذَا الْمَالِ ثُمَّ يَاْخُذُ مَابَقِيَ فَيَجْعَلُهُ مَجْعَلَ مَالِ اللّٰهِ (متفق عليه)

4055. Sayyiduna Maalik ibn Aws ibnHadathan رضى الله عنه reported that Umar ibn Khattab رضى الله عنه said "Surely Allah bestowed on His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم an exclusive share in this Fai as He gave to no one else." Then, he recited.

مَا اَفَآءَ اللّٰهُ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِهٖ مِنْهُمْ ...... قَدِيْرٌ

{And whatsoever Allah has restored to His Messenger from them, for this you urged not any horse or any riding camel, but Allah gives authority to His Messengers over whomsoever He will. And Allah has power over everything.} (59: 6).

"It was only for Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. He gave his family their annual allowance from this property and took the remainder to (use and) spend as he used

[1] Bukhari # 3152, Muslim # 6-1551.

Allah's property."[1]

COMMENTARY: The verse cited is the sixth of Surah al-Hashr. Allah tells the Muslims in this verse that He let His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم have all the property of the Banu Nadir to manage and administer at his discretion. It was acquired without Fighting and strenuous effort.

The Bano Nadir was commended to get out of Madinah but they did not comply. So the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and his Sahabah رضى الله عنه set pit against them on fast since they were about two miles from Madinah. But, there was no need to fight because the Banu Nadir gave up after a short siege. They departed with whatever they could carry on their camels up to Khaybar. All their properties were seized for the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, all of it being regarded as Fai. The foregoing verse was revealed to let the Muslims know that whatever was taken was not divisible. It was not ghanimah (booty). It belonged to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and he could use it as he wished.

The Hanafis' Follow the same ruling as outlined in the foregoing lines. However, Teebi رضى الله عنه said that according to Imam Shafi رضى الله عنه Fai is divided into twenty-Five portions, twenty-one of which are used by the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم for his own self. The remaining four are used for his relatives who are orphans, the needy and the travellers.

It is stated in Tafsir Mu-a-lim ut Tanzil that the ulama (Scholars) differ on the management and administration of Fai after the death of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Some say that it is the persuasive of the Islamic State. Imam Shafi رضى الله عنه gave two opinions:

(i) It is the right of the warriors and is divided among them.

(ii) It is used for the general good of the Muslims.

As for giving his family one year's allowances we know from other ahadith that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم never kept aside anything for the morrow for himself. He never accumulated anything for himself at any time.

Also, he never gave his wives as annual allowances regularly.It was only sometimes that he gave them.

Imam Nawawi رضى الله عنه said that we learn from this that it is allowed to keep aside necessities of life for one year. It does not go against tawakkul (trust in Allah).

(٤٠٥٦) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ قَالَ كَانَتْ اَمْوَالُ بَنِي النَّضِيْرِ مِمَّا اَفَاءَ اللّٰهُ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِهٖ مِمَّا لَمْ يُوْجِفِ الْمُسْلِمُوْنَ عَلَيْهِ بِخَيْلٍ وَلَا رِكَابٍ فَكَانَتْ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَاصَّةً يُنْفِقُ عَلٰى اَهْلِهٖ نَفَقَةَ سَنَةٍ ثُمَّ يَجْعَلُ مَا بَقِيَ فِي السِّلَاحِ وَالْكُرَاعِ عُدَّةً فِيْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4056. Sayyiduna Umar رضى الله عنه said that the properties of Banu Nadir were of the kind that Allah had granted to His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم (without effort) for which the Muslims did not have to ride on horses or camels. Hence, they belonged specifically to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. (From this) he gave provision (and expenses) to his members of the household for one year. He allocated the remainder to buy weapons and horses to be used (in jihad (crusade)) in Allah's path.[2]

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِیْ

DIVISION OF FAI BY THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٤٠٥٧) عَنْ عَوْفِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ اِذَا اَتَاهُ الْفَيْءُ قَسَمَهُ فِيْ يَوْمِهٖ فَاَعْطَى الْاٰهِلَ حَظَّيْنِ وَاَعْطَى الْاَعْزَبَ حَظًّا فَدُعِيْتُ فَاَعْطَانِيْ حَظَّيْنِ وَكَانَ لِيْ اَهْلٌ ثُمَّ دُعِيَ بَعْدِيْ عَمَّارُ بْنُ يَاسِرٍ فَاُعْطِيَ حَظًّا وَاحِدًا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4057. Sayyiduna Awf ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "When Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم received the Fai, he divided it that very day (among the needy). He gave two portions to a married man and one portion to an unmarried man. I was called and was given two portions, because I was a man with a family and Ammar ibn Yasir was called after me and given one portion."[1]

(٤٠٥٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ رَاَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَوَّلُ مَا جَاءَهٗ شَيْءٌ بَدَاَ بِالْمُحَرَّرِيْنَ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4058. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "I observed that the first thing Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did promptly when Fai came to him was to give some of it to those who had been (recently) set free (from slavery)."[2]

COMMENTARY: The recently set free slaves deserved to be given from Fai straightaway because they had no proper refuge and support.
Some people say that the words of the hadith 'have been (recently) set free' refer to the Mukatib (who buy their own freedom). Some others say that it means: منفردین لطاعۃ اللہ (those who are singular in obedience to Allah)

(٤٠٥٩) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اُتِيَ بِظَبْيَةٍ فِيْهَا خَرَزٌ فَقَسَمَهَا لِلْحُرَّةِ وَالْاَمَةِ قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ كَانَ اَبِيْ يَقْسِمُ لِلْحُرِّ وَالْعَبْدِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4059. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that a pouch containing beads was brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He divided them among the freewomen and female slaves. She said that her father (when he received anything) divided them between freemen and (male) slaves.[3]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave the beads to women only. But Abu bakr رضی اللہ عنہ gave them to men too.

FA'I IS DIVIDED EQUALLY TO ALL

(٤٠٦٠) وَعَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ اَوْسِ بْنِ الْحَدَثَانِ قَالَ ذَكَرَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ يَوْمًا الْفَيْءَ فَقَالَ مَا اَنَا بِاَحَقَّ بِهٰذَا الْفَيْءِ مِنْكُمْ وَمَا اَحَدٌ مِنَّا بِاَحَقَّ بِهٖ مِنْ اَحَدٍ اِلَّا اَنَا عَلٰى مَنَازِلِنَا مِنْ كِتَابِ اللّٰهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ وَقَسْمِ رَسُوْلِهٖ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ

[1] Abu Dawud # 2953.
[2] Abu Dawud # 2951.
[3] Abu Dawud # 2952.

عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَالرَّجُلُ وَقِدَمُهُ وَالرَّجُلُ وَبَلَاؤُهُ وَالرَّجُلُ وَعِيَالُهُ وَالرَّجُلُ وَحَاجَتُهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4060. Sayyiduna Maalik ibn Aws ibn Hadathan رحمه الله narrated that one day Umar ibn Khattab رضى الله عنه mentioned the fa'i. He said, "I am not more deserving of this fa'I than you are. And none of us is more deserving of it than anyone else. However we are placed at our (position and) ranks as determined by the book of Allah, Mighty and Glorious, and the division made by His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. Hence, there is this one who proceeded (in accepting Islam) and there is one who endures hardships (for religion), and there is one who has a family, and there is one who has his needs."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضى الله عنه set doubts at rest that he was no more deserving of fa'I lest people thought that as a caliph of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم who was most deserving of this property, the right passed down to him.It was not so. He also made it clear that no one could more deserving than anyone else. So this statement applied to all people as a general maxim.

The only principle to determine that was difference in ranks to find out the most deserving, this is clearly defined in Allah's Book in His words:

لِلْفُقَرَآءِ وَالْمُهَاجِرِيْنَ

{(It is) for the poor emigrants who were expelled from their homes and their possessions...
(upto) Our Lord, You are Gracious, Merciful} (59: 8-10) 3 verses.

And, also

وَالسَّابِقُوْنَ الْاَوَّلُوْنَ مِنَ الْمُهَاجِرِيْنَ وَالْاَنْصَارِ

{And the foremost, the first of the Muhajirs (emigrants) and the ansars....
(upto) That is a mighty triumph} (9: 100)

The ranks of the Muslims differ and everyone should be given more or less than another depending on their ranks and standing.

These differences in ranks are mentioned in Allah's Book as well as the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم division. He gave a greater share to the participants رضى الله عنه of the Battle of Badr. So, too, the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم who pledged at the Ba'yt Ridwan was preferred over the others.

Then, in his speech, Umar رضى الله عنه mentioned the different categories of people who get preference in the distribution of Fai. They are mentioned in the hadith.

(٤٠٦١) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَرَأَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ إِنَّمَا الصَّدَقَاتُ لِلْفُقَرَآءِ وَالْمَسَاكِيْنَ حَتّٰى بَلَغَ عَلِيْمٌ حَكِيْمٌ فَقَالَ هٰذِهِ لِهٰؤُلَاءِ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ وَاعْلَمُوْا اَنَّمَا غَنِمْتُمْ مِّنْ شَيْءٍ فَاَنَّ لِلّٰهِ خُمُسَهُ وَلِلرَّسُوْلِ حَتّٰى بَلَغَ وَابْنِ السَّبِيْلِ ثُمَّ قَالَ هٰذَا لِهٰؤُلَاءِ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ مَا اَفَآءَ اللّٰهُ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِهٖ مِنْ اَهْلِ الْقُرٰى حَتّٰى بَلَغَ لِلْفُقَرَآءِ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ وَالَّذِيْنَ جَآءُوْا مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ ثُمَّ قَالَ هٰذِهِ اسْتَوْعَبَتِ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ عَامَّةً فَلَئِنْ عِشْتُ فَلَيَاتِيَنَّ الرَّاعِيَ وَهُوَ بِسَرْوَ حِمْيَرَ يُصِيْبُهُ مِنْهَا لَمْ يَعْرَقْ

[1] Abu Dawud # 2850.

فِيْهَا جَبِيْنُهُ۔ (رواه فی شرح السنة)

4061. Sayyiduna Maalik ibn Aws Hadathan رضی الله عنه narrated that (Sayyiduna) Umar ibn Khattab رضی الله عنه (once) recited:

إِنَّمَا الصَّدَقٰتُ لِلْفُقَرَآءِ وَالْمَسَاكِيْنِ...... عَلِيْمٌ حَكِيْمٌ

(Surah at Tawbah, verse so)
He said, "This verse is about these people" (who are eligible for Zakat). Then, he recited:

وَاعْلَمُوْآ أَنَّمَا غَنِمْتُمْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ فَأَنَّ لِلّٰهِ خُمُسَهٗ وَلِلرَّسُوْلِ...... وَابْنِ السَّبِيْلِ

(8: 41-al-Anfal, verse 41).
He said, "This verse is about these people" (who are the eligible for the Khums (one fifth)) Again, he recited:

مَا أَفَآءَ اللّٰهُ...... لِلْفُقَرَآءِ

(al Hashr, 59: 7-8) And, he then recited:

وَالَّذِيْنَ جَآءُوْا مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ

(al Hashr, 59: 10)
He said, "This verse embraces all the Muslims. If I live (no Muslim will be there in my territories that will not get his share), even the sheered will get his share of Fai at Sarw and Himyar without an inkling of Sweat on his forehead." (Meaning that he will not have to work for it even a little.)[1]

COMMENTARY: At the last word recited by him, Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه said, "This verse embraces all the Muslims." He meant that the kinds of people mentioned in it as eligible to get do cover. All the Muslim .As against this, the first two verses mention only those who deserve the Khums (one fifth).

Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه was not in favour of drawing Khums (one fifth) from the Fai as is taken out from ghanimah ((booty). He held that all of the Fai must be spent on the good of the Muslims in accordance with the difference of ranks outlined in the Quran and hadith. It is their right. Most of the ulama (Scholars), with the notable exception of Imam Shafi رضی الله عنه subscribe to this contention.

Moreover, Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه also held that Fai should be divided in keeping with ranks of the Muslims. However, Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی الله عنه was of the opinion that every Muslim has an equal share. He did not consider it necessary to esteem anyone's ancient Islam or lineage, etc. He would say, "These things will be valued in the hereafter. If anyone has become a Muslim before others and if anyone has shown more courage in religion and endured more hardship, then these deeds were done for Allah's sake. So, only Allah will give reward for that. These things should not be made standard for more monetary benefits.

As for Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه, he respected differences in ranks. So when he divided the property, he gave more to Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها than he gave to Sayyidah Hafsah رضی عنها. He explained to her, "Daughter I give more to Ayshah because she was dearer to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. And her father was dearer to him than your father.

[1] Sharh us-Sannah # 2740.

Similarly, he gave more to Usamah ibn Zayd رضى الله عنه than to his son Abdullah ibn Umar رضى الله عنه, saying that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم loved him more that Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه and that Usamah's رضى الله عنه Father was dearer to him than Ibn Umar's father.
Himyar is a place in Yemen. It is known after the tribe that resides here and bears this name. Sarw was a place in Himyar. (But Mu'jamut Buldan says that sarw(سرو) is the name of different manzils (stages of journey) in Yemen. Sarw al-ala, Sarw al-mandad, Sarw Sabin, Sarw al-Mala and Sarw ar-ra'l (between Tay and Ard Kalb).
In conclusion, Umar رضى الله عنه expressed hope and determination that if he lived and his caliphate grew larger, he would not fail to let every Muslim in his territories, even in far flung areas, have his share of Fa'i. They will not have to make any efforts.

THREE THINGS EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم

(٤٠٦٢) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ كَانَ فِيْمَا احْتَجَّ بِهِ عُمَرُ اَنْ قَالَ كَانَتْ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثَلَاثُ صَفَايَا بَنُوْ النَّضِيْرِ وَ خَيْبَرُ وَفَدَكُ فَاَمَّا بَنُوْ النَّضِيْرِ فَكَانَتْ حُبُسًا لِنَوَائِبِهِ وَاَمَّا فَدَكُ فَكَانَتْ حُبُسًا لِاَبْنَاءِ السَّبِيْلِ وَاَمَّا خَيْبَرُ فَجَزَّأَهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثَلَاثَةَ اَجْزَاءٍ جُزْئَيْنِ بَيْنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ وَجُزْءٍ نَفَقَةً لِاَهْلِهِ فَمَا فَضَلَ عَنْ نَفَقَةِ اَهْلِهِ جَعَلَهُ بَيْنَ فُقَرَاءِ الْمُهَاجِرِيْنَ(رواه ابوداؤد)

4062. Sayyiduna Maalik ibn Aws ibn Hadathan رضى الله عنه said that among the arguments presented by Umar رضى الله عنه was his contention that for Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم three kinds of property were exclusive. (They were). The Banu Nadir, Khaybar and Fadak. The properties of the Banu Nadir were solely at his disposal (after they were exiled, to spend on hospitality to guests, for providing weapons, buying horses, and so on). The revenue from Fadak was (spent) for travellers (who had exhausted their funds during travel). And (the revenues from) Khaybar were divided into three portions by Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم: two or which he set aside for the Muslims and one for his family. If anything remained after providing his family, he spent that on the poor Muhajirs (emigrants) (emigrants).[1]

COMMENTARY: (When the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم died) Sayyiduna Abbas رضى الله عنه and Ali رضى الله عنه came } To Umar رضى الله عنه for the property at Fadak. He did not accept their demand. He explained to them as stated in the hadith about the properties to which the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had exclusive right. Other Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم was present at the time and no one questioned his explanation, so this was the base of his evidence. Then, Umar رضى الله عنه appointed both of them as trustees over the revenue from Fadak to use it in the same way as the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had spent it on different heads of account.
The Arabic word Safaya in the text refers to the prerogative of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم to take anything from the spoils over and above the one-fifth(Khams), like a slave, sword, horse, etc. After him, no other ruler is allowed to do so.

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 2967.

Fadak was an inhabitation in the neighbourhood of Khaybar. It was at a distance of two days from Madinah, a fertile land known for its dates and other fruits. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم got it through negotiations for peace. The residents had half of its lands while the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم got the remaining half. He used its income and produce as mentioned in the hadith.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم divided the revenue of Khaybar in three portions because it was to collection of many villages and towns. Some were taken after fighting and some surrendered peacefully. The collection from the former was booty, So the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم took the one-fifth from it. The recipts from the latter were Fa'I, so they were at his sole discretion. He used the Fa'i for his family and the welfare of the Muslim community.

(٤٠٦٣) عَنِ الْمُغِيْرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ قَالَ اِنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ عَبْدِالْعَزِيْزِ جَمَعَ بَنِي مَرْوَانَ حِيْنَ اسْتُخْلِفَ فَقَالَ اِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَتْ لَهُ فَدَكُ فَكَانَ يُنْفِقُ مِنْهَا وَ يَعُوْدُ مِنْهَا عَلٰى صَغِيْرِ بَنِي هَاشِمٍ وَيُزَوِّجُ مِنْهَا اَيِّمَهُمْ وَاَنَّ فَاطِمَةَ سَأَلَتْهُ اَنْ يَجْعَلَهَا لَهَا فَاَبٰى فَكَانَتْ كَذٰلِكَ فِيْ حَيَاتِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حَتّٰى مَضٰى لِسَبِيْلِهٖ فَلَمَّا اَنْ وُلِّيَ اَبُوْبَكْرٍ عَمِلَ فِيْهَا بِمَا عَمِلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَلَمَّا اَنْ وُلِّيَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ عَمِلَ فِيْهَا بِمِثْلِ مَاعَمِلَ حَتّٰى مَضٰى لِسَبِيْلِهٖ ثُمَّ اقْتَطَعَهَا مَرْوَانُ ثُمَّ صَارَتْ لِعُمَرَ بْنِ عَبْدِالْعَزِيْزِ فَرَاَيْتُ اَمْرًا مَنَعَهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاطِمَةَ لَيْسَ لِي بِحَقٍّ وَاِنِّيْ اُشْهِدُكُمْ اَنِّيْ رَدَدْتُهَا عَلٰى مَاكَانَتْ يَعْنِي عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاَبِي بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ. (رواه ابوداؤد)

4063. Sayyiduna Mughirah ibn Shubah said that when Umar ibn Abdul Aziz رحمه الله became caliph, he gathered the children of Marwan and said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had an exclusive right on Fadak. He spent its revenues (income and produce) on his family, the poor and the needy. He showed kindness to the young children of the Banu Hashim and bore the expenses of the marriage of the unmarried women (and men). Sayyidah Fatimah رضى الله عنها had asked him to give it (Fadak) to her, but he refused. It continued in that way during the lifetime of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم till he went his way (meaning, he died (مضى لسبيله) when (after his death) Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه was made Khalifah (caliph), he did with it as Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had been doing (during his lifetime. He spent on the same heads as he had done). When Umar ibn Khattab رضى الله عنه was made Khalifah, he did with it as they had done till he (too) went his way. Then (in the time Uthman رضى الله عنه as Khalifa, or in his own rule as king,) Marwan appropriated it for himself (as his property and of his heirs). Then, after that, it has come to Umar ibn Abdul Aziz (ibn Marwan). But, I conclude that I do not deserve to possess that which Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had denied (his daughter, Sayyidah) Fatimah رضى الله عنها. Hence, I ask you to bear witness that I have restored it (Fadak) to its condition at which it was meaning in the days of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم , Abu Bakr رضى الله

عنه and Umar رضی اللہ عنہ. (Its revenue will be spent in the same way as they had been spending and allocating it.)[1]

COMMENTARY: As stated earlier (particularly hadith # 4062), the properties of Banu Nadir, Fadak and Khaybar were exclusively for the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Since he had died while they were in his possession, some of his ahlulbayt (people of his house and family) claimed in heritance and demanded their portion of these properties some of them dispute over them among themselves too. But, this was a passing phase based on a misunderstanding. However, some perverse minds of succeeding generations have begun to nead mischief in this dispute. They invent long stories and have misled many people.. So, we deem it proper to select relative material from the sihah sittah (six authentic books) to throw some light on this disagreement (to remove the misunderstanding).

Sahih Bukhari has the hadith of Maalik ibn Aws ibn Hadathan رحمہ اللہ . He was called by Umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ. While he was there, his slave Yarfa رضی اللہ عنہ announced the arrival of Uthman ibn Affan رضی اللہ عنہ, Abdur Rahman ibn Awf رضی اللہ عنہ, Zubayr ibn Awam and sa'd ibn Abu Waqar رضی اللہ عنہ. Umar رضی اللہ عنہ instructed him to let them in. After a while, he announced the arrival of Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and they too were led to Umar رضی اللہ عنہ. Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said to him, "O Amir ul-Muminin, decide between us. Ali quarrels with me about the property of Banu Nadir which Allah had allotted to His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم as fa'i." Then Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and Ali رضی اللہ عنہ raised their voices and argued with one another. Those people who were around recommended to Umar رضی اللہ عنہ that he should get the two men to reconcile. Umar رضی اللہ عنہ asked them to show patience and adjured them by Allah to affirm whether Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had not said, "We Prophets are not inherited. What ever we leave behind is sadaqah (charity) (charity)." They turned to Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and asked them whether they knew that and they too confirmed, "Yes!" He then reminded them that Allah had granted the fa'I exclusively to His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and to no one else and he recited the verse (59: 6). He added, "He did not take it at the exclusion of you people but gave it to all of you... He gave his family their annual allowances and spent on Allah's cause from it. He continued to do it all his life. Don't you Know?" They affirmed, "Yes! He asked Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ too. They confirmed, too. He went on to remind them that after the Prophet's death, Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ administered and managed that property in the same way as he had done. He said to them that they had not approved of Abu Bakr's رضی اللہ عنہ actions at that time, saying, It was not as you had been saying. But he was a pious and a righteous man, pursuing the right course." When he died and I succeeded him, I have managed that property as they had done and Allah knows that I am honest in this regard. Now, after about two years you have come to me with the same demand. Abbas you had come asking for share from your nephew's property and he for his wife's share from her father's property. I had reminded you of his words, "We Prophets do not inherit. "He said that he then offered to hand over the property to them if they pledged to manage it as Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ had done and as he had been doing. He said, "You agreed to abide by that condition and I handed it over to you." He asked them it that was so and they said,

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 2972.

"Yes!" He asked (Sayyiduna) Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and they too said, "Yes!" He said, "If you ask for a different decision, I will not do that. If you are unable administer it, then let me have it back, I shall do it for you."[1]

Zuhri رضی اللہ عنہ said that he asked Urwah ibn Zubayr رضی اللہ عنہ about this hadith and he confirmed that it is very correctly reported. He had heard Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا say that after the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم death, some of his wives approached Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ to ask Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ for their inheritance from the Fa'I that Allah had bestowed on the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. When she learnt of it, she reminded them of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying that the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم do not leave behind anything to inherit. What they leave behind is Sadaqah (charity). They remembered and withdrew their demand.

Urwah رضی اللہ عنہ said that when Umar رضی اللہ عنہ handed over the property of Banu Nadir to Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ concerning which they had wrangled, Ali رضی اللہ عنہ took it away from Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ after some days. Then it went to Hasanibn Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and then to Husayn ibn Ali رضی اللہ عنہ. After that, ,it went to Ali ibn Husyan رضی اللہ عنہ and Hasan ibn Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ. They administed it by turns. Then it went to Zayd ibn Hasan. "Honestly this (property) is a Sadaqah (charity). It is not anyone's legacy or personal property."[2]

Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا also narrated that Sayyidah Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہا and Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ met Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ asking for a share in the lands of Fadak and property of Khyber as inheritance. He remanded them of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words that the Prophets leave no heirs. What the Prophets صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم leaves no heirs. What they leave is Sadaqah (charity) from which the Prophet's family gets their provision. He also said, "By Allah, it is dearer to me to look after the relatives of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم than to look after my own family."[3]

The compiler of Jami' ul Usul has pointed about the hadith of Bukhari about Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ meeting Umar رضی اللہ عنہ (#3094) that they were not unaware of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying. They only wanted him to separate the administration of the property between both of them to manage each on his own. But Umar رضی اللہ عنہ did not agree to do that. (The intention of each of them was honest.)

Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا also narrated that Sayyidah Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہا met Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ and asked for her inheritance from the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم from the Fa'I property. He told her that it was not possible in view of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying:

لَا نُوْرَثُ مَا تَرَكْنَاهُ صَدَقَةٌ

(We are not inherited and what we leave behind is Sadaqah (charity).)[4]

According to a version, he also said, "The property is under my management. After me, it will be managed by the next Khalifah." Sayyidah Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہا was much displeased with Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ so much so that she stopped exchange of salutations with him till her death which was within six months of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم demise.

[3] Bukhari # 4035, 4036.

[4] Bukhari # 3092.

Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا also narrated that Sayyidah Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہا constantly made her demands of her share of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم land and gardens in Khaybar and Fadak and her Sadaqah (charity) in Madinah (property of Banu Nadir). But Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ told her all the time that he would not stop to do what the Prophet had been doing; otherwise he would be guilty of giving up the Sunnah (Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم practice).

After him, Umar رضی اللہ عنہ handed over the Sadaqah (charity)(left by the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم) in Madinah to Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ to manage it. He retained management of the lands of Fadak and Khaybar. It was the Sadaqah (charity) left by Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم with which his rights were attached. He also made it known that only he would manage these places who would be the Khalifah and ruler. This arrangement continues to this day.

In short, these ahadith and others of the same purport in the six books of hadith are explicit that the words "We leave no legacy and are not inherited). What we leave behind is Sadaqah (charity)," mean: Whatever the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم has left belongs to all Muslims. That has to use for their good. Management and administration will rest with the surviving and ruling caliph. All the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم, including Sayyiduna Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ, agrees to it unanimously.

As for the property not being handed over to (Sayyiduna) Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and (Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ in the beginning, their original demand was on the ownership of all that property. Later, they agreed to act as administrators and managers, and to spend and use exactly as the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had done.

However, the question remains why there was discord between them when all of them were aware of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying about no one inheriting from the Prophets.

The answer is that they were finding combined management difficult, so they wished for management of divided property. But Umar رضی اللہ عنہ did not agree to that because that would have resembled ownership if not at that time, then after some time, for sure. Their argument was that each would manage his own portion without consulting the other more efficiently.

However, the conduct of Sayyidah Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہا is more puzzling then that of Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and Ali رضی اللہ عنہ. She could not have been unaware of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying that they are not inherited. Yet it we grant that she truly did not know about it, then why did she not accept it when she was told of it and all the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم confirmed it? Kirmani رضی اللہ عنہ explains that her displeasure was human nature. As for not exchanging greetings with Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ, it was only that she was unwilling to meet him on purpose and she avoided him. (It is not the same as severing ties of relationship.)

Besides, some traditions say that when she was displeased, Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ went to her home one day. In spite of the severe heat, he stood at her door and continued to apologize to her. He said, "By Allah, the relatives of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم are dearer to me than mine own relatives (to give them their rights). But, I do not know what else I may do after hearing this hadith and having the testimony of the other Sahabah on it." On that, Sayyidah Fatima's رضی اللہ عنہا displeasure was removed.

GAME & ANIMALS THAT MAY BE SLAUGHTERED

RULING: It is lawful to hunt game anywhere outside the limit of the Haram (sacred territory) provided the hunter has not assumed the ihram.
The permissibility of game is established from the Book and the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) (meaning, Quran and ahadith) There is also a consensus of the ummah on it. However, it is stated in a book Ri*salah (prayer)* Ibn Abu Zayd which is on the school of Imam Maalik رحمه الله, that it is makruh (disapproved) to hunt game merely for pleasure and play but allowed otherwise.
As for as the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم is concerned, it is not known that he ever took active part in hunting game. It is known however, that when any one was engaged in hunting, he did not forbid him to do so.

TRAINED DOGS & ARROWS

(٤٠٦٤) عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ حَاتِمٍ قَالَ قَالَ لِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا اَرْسَلْتَ كَلْبَكَ فَاذْكُرِ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ فَاِنْ اَمْسَكَ عَلَيْكَ فَاَدْرَكْتَهُ حَيًّا فَاذْبَحْهُ وَاِنْ اَدْرَكْتَهُ قَدْ قُتِلَ وَلَمْ يَاْكُلْ مِنْهُ فَكُلْهُ وَاِنْ اَكَلَ فَلَا تَاْكُلْ فَاِنَّمَا اَمْسَكَ عَلٰى نَفْسِهٖ فَاِنْ وَجَدْتَّ مَعَ كَلْبِكَ كَلْبًا غَيْرَهٗ وَقَدْ قَتَلَ فَلَا تَاْكُلْ فَاِنَّكَ لَا تَدْرِي اَيُّهُمَا قَتَلَ وَاِذَا رَمَيْتَ بِسَهْمِكَ فَاذْكُرِ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ فَاِنْ غَابَ عَنْكَ يَوْمًا فَلَمْ تَجِدْ فِيْهِ اِلَّا اَثَرَ سَهْمِكَ فَكُلْ اِنْ شِئْتَ وَاِنْ وَجَدْتَهٗ غَرِيْقًا فِي الْمَاءِ فَلَا تَاْكُلْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4064. Sayyiduna Adi ibn Hatim رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said to him, "when you set off your (trained) dog (to hunt) mention Allah's name (saying, Bismillah Allahu Akbar). If it catches anything for you and you get it alive, slaughter it. (If you do not mention Allah deliberately, then it is unlawful to eat it). If you get it while the dog has killed it but has eaten nothing of it, then you may eat it. If it has eaten some of it, then do not eat it, for it caught it only for itself. (Nothing else can be presumed in this case). If you find another dog with yours and the game is killed, do not eat it, for you cannot know which of them has killed the game.
When you shoot your arrow, mention the name of Allah. If the game evades your sight for one day and you find on it (nothing else but) only the mark of your arrow, then you may eat it, if you wish. If you find it drowned in water, then do not eat it

(even though there is on it the mark of your arrow for it may have died of drawing).[1]

COMMENTARY: To set off the dog is tantamount to using the knife. The name of Allah is mentioned in each case, bismillah AllahuAkbar. If anyone forgets to mention it, then it is lawful to eat the game but if he deliberately omits to say so on sending the dog and stops it after it goes and he mentions Allah's name, after which the dog catches the game and kill it, then it is unlawful to eat it.

The person who set off the dog must be a Muslim or one of the people of the Book (Jew or Christian).

If the dog goes on its own and brings the game in a wounded condition then it is not lawful to eat it. If anyone does not mention Allah's name on sending the dog but gets the animal alive and slaughters it, then it is not a game.

Just as game hunted by trained dhunaab animals, like dog, cheetah (panther) is lawful, so too game hunted by trained dhu mukhlab, birds, like hawk, eagles, etc is lawful.

The sign of dhunaab being trained is that it nabs the game three times and lets go without eating it.

The sign that a dhu mukhlab is trained is that when it is called after it releases the game, it comes back promptly. Hence, if the dhu makhlab, like the hawk etc, eats from the game, some of it, the game remains lawful to eat. But, if a dhunaab, like the dog, eats something of the game then it does not remain lawful.

If a trained dog (or any other) catches the game and lets go and eats something of it even once, then it is like an untrained dog till it is trained again.

The Hanafi ulama (Scholars) say that a game is lawful only if the name of Allah is mentioned when shooting an arrow and the animal is wounded with that. If it runs away out of sight the hunter must not give up search. Musannaf Ibn Abu Shjaybah and Tabarani have the hadith of Abu Razin رضی اللہ عنہ that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said about the game that evades the sight of the hunter: (لعل هوام الارض قتله) (Perhaps, the warms of the earth killed it). Musannaf Abdul Razzaq has a similar hadith from Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا too.

We learn from this hadith that it a dog (or any hunting animal) or a hawk, etc is set off on a game and it kills it, then the game is lawful, provided the dog, etc. was trained. The game is lawful, provided the dog, etc was trained. The game hunted by an untrained animal is not lawful.

(٤٠٦٥) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّا نُرْسِلُ الْكِلَابَ الْمُعَلَّمَةَ قَالَ كُلْ مَا أَمْسَكْنَ عَلَيْكَ قُلْتُ وَإِنْ قَتَلْنَ قَالَ وَإِنْ قَتَلْنَ قُلْتُ إِنَّا نَرْمِي بِالْمِعْرَاضِ قَالَ كُلْ مَا خَزَقَ وَمَا أَصَابَ بِعَرْضِهِ فَقَتَلَ فَإِنَّهُ وَقِيْذٌ فَلَا تَأْكُلْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4065. Sayyiduna Adi ibn Hatim رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, we set of trained dogs (to hunt). He said, "You may eat what they catch for you." He asked, "Even if they kill the game?" He confirmed, "Yes, even if they have killed the game." Then he submitted, "We shoot the mu'rad (featherless arrows)." He said, "You may eat what the arrow wounds (meaning, strikes straight with its points and pierces and it dies). If the arrow strikes with its middle or side

(but not the point without wounding it) and kill it then it is waqidh (beaten to death). Do not eat it."[1]

[mi'rad (معراض): a heavy stick with a sharp pointed end and thick middle used for hunting] (from glossary of Tirmidhi p 750 02 – Darul Isha'at Karachi)

COMMENTARY: In fact, waqidh or mawqudh is the animal that is killed with the broad side of a stick or weapon, not with its sharp point or with a stone or any other thing. The ulama (Scholars) go by this hadith and deduce from it that any game killed by a gun, meaning a bullet, or a catapult is not lawful.

The animal is also not lawful to eat if it is struck by the broad side of a mi'rad and killed because it is necessary to wound it so that it bleeds and the sense of slaughtering is upheld. The broad side of the mi'rad does not wound the animal. A bone may be broken by it but it does no cause a bleeding wound. If a bullet has a fine edge and kills the animal through a bleeding wound then the animal is not unlawful to eat.

If anyone throws a knife or a sword on an animal and it strikes it from the pointed side and the animal dies then it is lawful to consume. If it does not strike from the pointed edge then the animal is not lawful to eat.

If a sharp-edged stone is thrown on a game and it kills it after wounding it, then it is allowed to eat the animal. Its death occurred through bleeding. But, if a heavy stone is thrown and it kills the animal then it is not allowed to eat the animal even if it bleeds because it may have died of the blow (like a bone breaking).

(٤٠٦٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي ثَعْلَبَةَ الْخُشَنِيِّ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ اِنَّا بِاَرْضِ قَوْمٍ اَهْلِ الْكِتَابِ اَفَنَاْكُلُ فِي اٰنِيَتِهِمْ وَبِاَرْضِ صَيْدٍ اَصِيْدُ بِقَوْسِيْ وَبِكَلْبِي الَّذِي لَيْسَ بِمُعَلَّمٍ وَبِكَلْبِي الْمُعَلَّمِ فَمَا يَصْلُحُ لِي قَالَ اَمَّا مَا ذَكَرْتَ مِنْ اٰنِيَةِ اَهْلِ الْكِتَابِ فَاِنْ وَجَدْتُمْ غَيْرَهَا فَلَا تَاْكُلُوْا فِيْهَا وَاِنْ لَّمْ تَجِدُوْا فَاغْسِلُوْهَا وَكُلُوْا فِيْهَا وَمَا صِدْتَّ بِقَوْسِكَ فَذَكَرْتَ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ فَكُلْ وَمَا صِدْتَّ بِكَلْبِكَ الْمُعَلَّمِ فَذَكَرْتَ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ فَكُلْ وَمَا صِدْتَّ بِكَلْبِكَ غَيْرَ مُعَلَّمٍ فَاَدْرَكْتَ ذَكَاتَهٗ فَكُلْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4066. Sayyiduna Abu Tha'labah Khushani رضی الله عنه narrated that he asked, "O Prophet of Allah, we reside in a land whose folk are the people of the Book. May we eat out of their vessels? We are in a land where there is plenty of game, I hunt with my bow, my untrained dog and my trained dog. What is proper for me?" He said, "As for your question about the vessels of the people of the Book, if you find other (vessels) then that, then do not eat out of them. But, if you cannot find (other vessels), then wash them and eat out of them. (As for hunting,) the animal that you hunt with your bow and mention Allah's name (when you shoot it), you may eat that. Eat also the animal that you have caught by your trained dog if you have mentioned Allah's name (on sending dog after it). As for the game you catch with your untrained dog and get it when you can slaughter it (meaning, when it is alive and you slaughter it), then you may eat it."[2]

COMMENTARY: The command not to use their vessels was only to observe the best course in the light of the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم saying. "Leave what causes you doubt." Secondly, even if the vessels are washed, it is better to abstain from them as far as possible. Thirdly, it should be ingrained in the minds of the Muslim that they should abhor mingling with the people of the Book. At the same time, this command to not use their vessels is to observe taqwa (piety)(righteousness). But, the ruling is as the hadith says; they must be washed and scrubbed. It will be wajib (obligatory) to observe this command if one is more inclined to believe that the vessels are impure. But it will be of the kind of mustahab (desirable) when there is no likelihood of the vessels being impure.

Ibn Maalik رحمه الله said that if one is not sure that the vessels are impure then using them unwashed is makruh tanzihi (disapproved nearer to lawful) (nearer lawful than unlawuful).

Burmadi رحمه الله said that the apparent meaning of this hadith is that if other vessels are to be had, then their vessels (of the people of the Book) must not be used at all (even after washing).

However, jurists say that it is allowed to use these vessels after washing, in any case, whether other vessels are available or not. They say that the dislike is when the vessels have been used for cooking pork and consuming pork or wine.

FLESH THAT STINKS

(٤٠٦٧) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا رَمَيْتَ بِسَهْمِكَ فَغَابَ عَنْكَ فَأَدْرَكْتَهُ فَكُلْ مَا لَمْ يُنْتِنْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4067. Sayyiduna Abu Tha'labah Khushani رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "If you shoot your arrow (mentioning the name of Allah) and (after being struck) the animal vanishes out of sight (dying somewhere), when you find it, you may eat it provided it does not change its adour (into a stench)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Hanafi ulama (Scholars) say that the commanding the hadith 'provided...' is by way of mustahab (desirable), for, if flesh has a stench then it does not become unlawful.

According to a tradition, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had eaten flesh that had a stench.

Nawawi رحمه الله said that the disallowance to eat bad-smelling meat is merely nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) (nearer lawful than unlawful). The same command applies to every such food that has a stench, unless eating it might cause harm.

(٤٠٦٨) وَعَنْهُ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فِي الَّذِيْ يُدْرِكُ صَيْدَهُ بَعْدَ ثَلَاثٍ فَكُلْهُ مَا لَمْ يُنْتِنْ (رواه مسلم)

4068. Sayyiduna Abu Tha'labha Khushani رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said about the hunter who finds his game after three days. "(He may) eat it unless it stinks."[2]

WHEN UNCERTAIN ABOUT SLAUGHTER

(٤٠٦٩) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّ هُنَا أَقْوَامًا حَدِيْثٌ عَهْدُهُمْ بِشِرْكٍ يَأْتُوْنَنَا

[2] Muslim # 10-1930, Nasa'i # 3404.

بِلُحْمَانٍ لَا نَدْرِيْ اَيَذْكُرُوْنَ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهَا اَمْ لَا قَالَ اُذْكُرُوْا اَنْتُمْ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ وَكُلُوا۔ (رواه البخارى)

4069. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها narrated that the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم submitted. "O Messenger of Allah, some people here have been polytheists till recently. They bring to us meat but we do not know whether they had mentioned the name of Allah over it, or not." (For, they are not very familiar with the commands of Islam. So, may we eat that or not?) He said "you should mention the name of Allah yourselves and then you may eat."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم told the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم that they might mention the name of Allah before eating meat sent to them by those who were until recently polytheists. It will be as good as having taken Allah's name at the time of the slaughter. In fact, he said that it is mustahab (desirable) to say bismillah at the time of eating food.

As for the uncertainly whether Allah's name was mentioned at the time of slaughter, it is allowed to eat such meat provided he who slaughtered it is one of those whose slaughter is allowed to be eaten, by Shari'ah (divine law). The essential point is that one must have a good opinion of Muslims always. A Muslim is surely expected to have mentioned Allah at the time of slaughter.

MENTIONING NAME OTHER THAN ALLAH'S

(٤٠٧٠) وَعَنْ اَبِي الطُّفَيْلِ قَالَ سُئِلَ عَلِيٌّ هَلْ خَصَّكُمْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِشَيْءٍ فَقَالَ مَا خَصَّنَا بِشَيْءٍ لَمْ يَعُمَّ بِهِ النَّاسَ اِلَّا مَا فِي قِرَابِ سَيْفِيْ هٰذَا فَاَخْرَجَ صَحِيْفَةً فِيْهَا لَعَنَ اللّٰهُ مَنْ ذَبَحَ لِغَيْرِ اللّٰهِ وَلَعَنَ اللّٰهُ مَنْ سَرَقَ مَنَارَ الْاَرْضِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ مَنْ غَيَّرَ مَنَارَ الْاَرْضِ وَلَعَنَ اللّٰهُ مَنْ لَعَنَ وَالِدَهُ وَلَعَنَ اللّٰهُ مَنْ اٰوٰى مُحْدِثًا۔

(رواه مسلم)

4070. Sayyiduna Abu Tufayl رحمه الله said that (Sayyiduna) Ali رضی الله عنه was asked, "Has Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم given you (people of his family) any specific thing (at the exclusion of the others)?" He said, "He did not distinguish us with any thing that was not common to all people. Only that which is in the scabbard of my sword (is what he gave us. But, I do not know if they are for us exclusively or common to all people)." Then he took out (from the scabbard of his sword) a piece of paper. It read; "May Allah curse him who slaughters an animal and mentions over it a name other than Allah's. May Allah curse him who steals a landmark." According to a version. "(May Allah curse him) who changes a landmark. May Allah curse him who curses his father. May Allah curse him who shelters an innovator." (1)

COMMENTARY: The landmarks are the tablets erected on land to mark the limits and to identify different plots of land. One who steals them or changes them is one who usurps neighbouring land.

A person who curses his father may do it directly or he may curse someone else's father who then retaliates and curses his father. So, he gets another person to curse his father.

The innovator is a bid'ati. He introduces novel ideas is religion such as alter Shari'ah (divine law) and sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). If anyone shelters an innovator then he

ENOUGH TO SLAUGHTER WITH WHAT CAUSES BLEEDING

(٤٠٧١) وَعَنْ رَافِعِ بْنِ خَدِيْجٍ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ! إِنَّا لَاقُوا الْعَدُوِّ غَدًا وَلَيْسَتْ مَعَنَا مُدًى أَفَنَذْبَحُ بِالْقَصَبِ قَالَ مَا أَنْهَرَ الدَّمَ وَذُكِرَ اسْمُ اللّٰهِ فَكُلْ لَيْسَ السِّنَّ وَالظُّفُرَ وَسَأُحَدِّثُكَ عَنْهُ أَمَّا السِّنُّ فَعَظْمٌ وَأَمَّا الظُّفُرُ فَمُدَى الْحَبَشِ وَ أَصَبْنَا نَهْبَ إِبِلٍ وَغَنَمٍ فَنَدَّ مِنْهَا بَعِيْرٌ فَرَمَاهُ رَجُلٌ بِسَهْمٍ فَحَبَسَهُ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ لِهٰذِهِ الْإِبِلِ أَوَابِدُ كَأَوَابِدِ الْوَحْشِ فَإِذَا غَلَبَكُمْ مِنْهَا شَيْءٌ فَافْعَلُوْا بِهِ هٰكَذَا۔

4071. Sayyiduna Rafi' ibn Khadij رضى الله عنه narrated that he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, we shall meet the enemy tomorrow and we do not have a knife (with us to slaughter an animal). May we kill animals with reeds or canes?"[1]
He said, "Mention the name of Allah and use any thing that shed blood and you may eat – but not tooth or claw. I shall tell you about that A tooth is a bone and a claw is the knife of the Ethiopians." They got some booty consisting of camels and sheep. One of the camels ran away. So a man shot an arrow and (Allah) restricted the camel. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Indeed among these beasts are some that run wild. So, when any of them escapes from you, do this to them (as this man did)."[2]

COMMENTARY: A tooth is a bone. It is not allowed to kill with a bone, so anything slaughtered with it may not be eaten.

Shaykh Ibn Salah (prayer) رحمه الله and Shaykh Abdus Salaam رحمه الله have said that they could not find out the sense of disallowing slaughter with a bone. But Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that the bone will become impure with blood and we are disallowed to do it because the bone is provision for the jinns.

Claws may not be used to slaughter an animal because that will resemble the Ethiopian non Muslims. They tore up the animals with their nails. Muslims must not adopt the ways of non-Muslims.

While the other three imams go by the hadith to the latter, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله maintains that it is disallowed to slaughter with teeth and nails (claws) as long as they are in their places (in the mouth and fingers) but if they are outside their positions and independent (or extracted), it is allowed to use them to slaughter but even this permission is not without dislike. But, the meat of such animal may be eaten. He cites the words of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم: 'use any thing that sheds blood.' He says that the Ethiopians slaughtered with teeth and nails when they were in their places.

When a domesticated animal flees be it a camel, cow or sheep, it may be slaughtered in the same way as a wild animal. Recite bismillah and shoot an arrow at it. When the arrow strikes it anywhere on its body and kills it, the animal will be deemed to have been slaughtered. Its meat will be lawful to eat.

The same command applies when animals falls in a well or a pit. Only the camel is mentioned here perhaps because it is more wild then other.
There are two kinds of slaughtering. (i) voluntary and (ii) imposed. In the first kind the animal's jugular vein is cut with a sharp knife or any other sharp object, or by hitting a spear, etc in the camel's chest. The second kind is to cause a wound an any part of the animal's body.

SLAUGHTERING WITH STONE

(٤٠٧٢) وَعَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ أَنَّهُ كَانَ لَهُ غَنَمٌ تَرْعَى بِسَلْعٍ فَأَبْصَرَتْ جَارِيَةٌ لَنَا بِشَاةٍ مِنْ غَنَمِنَا مَوْتًا فَكَسَرَتْ حَجَرًا فَذَبَحَتْهَا بِهِ فَسَأَلَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَأَمَرَهُ بِأَكْلِهَا۔ (رواه البخاری)

4072. Sayyiduna Ka'b ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه said that he had (a herd of) sheep that were pastured at sale (a hillock near Madinah). One of his slave girls observed (One day) that a sheep was dying, so she broke a stone and severed its throat with it. Ka'b رضی الله عنه then asked the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم about it. He ordered him to eat it.[1]

DO NOT SLAUGHTER WILDLY

(٤٠٧٣) وَعَنْ شَدَّادِ بْنِ أَوْسٍ عَنْ رَّسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِنَّ اللّٰهَ تَبَارَكَ وَتَعَالٰى كَتَبَ الْإِحْسَانَ عَلٰى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ فَإِذَا قَتَلْتُمْ فَأَحْسِنُوا الْقِتْلَةَ وَإِذَا ذَبَحْتُمْ فَأَحْسِنُوا الذِّبْحَ وَلْيُحِدَّ أَحَدُكُمْ شَفْرَتَهُ وَلْيُرِحْ ذَبِيْحَتَهُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4073. Sayyiduna Shaddad رضی الله عنه ibn Aws narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Surely Allah, blessed and Exalted, has decreed kindness in everything (that you do). Hence, (even) when you kill, show kindness (and do it in a good, civil manner - even when awarding a punishment). When you cut an animal's throat. Show kindness (and be gentle). Each of you should sharpen his knife and cause the animal the minimum of pain."[2]

COMMENTARY: The animal may be killed with a sharp knife and it must be done rapidly. After slaughtering the animal it must be left to cool down (before removing its hide, etc). The Hanafis say that it is makruh (disapproved) to skin the animal before it cools down well. The mustahab (desirable) way it not to sharpen the knife within sight of the animal. It should not be slaughtered in front of other animals and it should not be pulled by its legs to the place where it will be slaughtered.

ANIMALS MAY NOT BE FETTERED & USED AS TARGET

(٤٠٧٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَنْهٰى أَنْ تُصْبَرَ بَهِيْمَةٌ أَوْغَيْرُهَا لِلْقَتْلِ۔ (متفق علیه)

4074. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbid binding an animal or any other thing before being killed and using it as target.[1]

COMMENTARY: the hadith could mean:

(i) It is disallowed to tie an animal and strike it with arrows, stones or bullets. Or,

(ii) It is disallowed to tie an animal and deny it fodder and water till it is killed.

(٤٠٧٥) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَعَنَ مَنِ اتَّخَذَ شَيْئًا فِيْهِ الرُّوْحُ غَرَضًا۔ (متفق عليه)

4075. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم cursed him who (fetters and) uses a living being as a target.[2]

(٤٠٧٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا تَتَّخِذُوْا شَيْئًا فِيْهِ الرُّوْحُ غَرَضًا (رواه مسلم)

4076. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not use a living being as a target."[3]

COMMENTARY: It is disallowed to the point of being unlawful. The animal is made to suffer. Also it is wasteful pursuit.

DO NOT BRAND THE FACE

(٤٠٧٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الضَّرْبِ فِي الْوَجْهِ وَعَنِ الْوَسْمِ فِي الْوَجْهِ۔

(رواه مسلم)

4077. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that any one should strike another's face and brand anyone on the face.[4]

(٤٠٧٨) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَرَّ عَلَيْهِ حِمَارٌ وَقَدْ وُسِمَ فِي وَجْهِهٖ قَالَ لَعَنَ اللّٰهُ الَّذِيْ وَسَمَهٗ۔

(رواه مسلم)

4078. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that an ass passed the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. It had been branded on its face. He said, "Allah's curse be on him who has branded it."[5]

COMMENTARY: It is not allowed to curse a Muslim, so the man may not have been a Muslim. Or, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم may have conveyed to us that the man deserve Allah's wrath.

No living being – man or animal – should be branded on the face. It is disallowed. As for animals being branded on other portions of their body some ulama (Scholars) say that it is mustahab (desirable) in order to distinguish them as animals of zakah (Annual due charity) and jizyah (tribute). As for other animals, it is merely allowed to do so.

As for human being branding themselves, we have different akhbar[6] and asthar[7] of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم and others about this, both oral and practical examples. Some sayings call it as not a good deed, some laud giving it up and some clearly disallow this practice. But, the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم action suggests permissibility. He sent a physician to Sayyiduna Ubayy ibn Ka'b who opened this vein (to make it bleed) and branded him. When Sayyiduna Sa'd ibn Mu'adh رضى الله عنه was wounded, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave permission for him to be branded. When there was a swelling on him, after that, he was branded again.

Also, Sayyiduna Jabir رضى الله عنه and Sayyiduna Abu Zurarah رضى الله عنه are known to have been branded.

The ulama (Scholars) explain that the sayings that disallow branding pertain to deliberate and necessary branding. It is allowed when branding becomes essential to cure a disease, etc.

The ulama (Scholars) also say that branding a human body (with intention to cure) is a kind of superstition. It is not reasonable to adopt it because it defeats reliance on Allah while other remedies are not against reliance on Allah being conventional means. But, if there is a strong presumption that branding is a beneficial remedy for a particular disease then it is not unreasonable to u se it. Hence, the jurists rule that by itself branding is makruh (disapproved) tahrimi (disliked to the point of being unlawful) but when there is a strong presumption reported by an adept physician that there is no other remedy for an ailment, then branding is not makruh (disapproved) tahrimi.

Some people say that branding is disallowed because the Arabs of pre-Islamic period believed in it firmly. They regarded it as a definite, unfailing remedy, Islam does not tolerate such belief. So, Muslims are disallowed to use branding and thus keep away from concealed polytheism.

ANIMALS MAY BE BRANDED WHEN NECESSARY

(٤٠٧٩) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ غَدَوْتُ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِعَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ اَبِيْ طَلْحَةَ لِيُحَنِّكَهُ فَوَافَيْتُهُ فِيْ يَدِهِ الْمِيْسَمُ يَسِمُ اِبِلَ الصَّدَقَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4079. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that one morning he took Abdullah son of Abu Talhah رضى الله عنه to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم that he might perform his tahneek (by chewing a place of date and applying the juice to the child's palate). He found him holding a branding iron and branding the camels of sadaqah (charity) (or zakah (Annual due charity)).[1]

COMMENTARY: Abdullah ibn Talhah رضى الله عنه was the brother of Anas رضى الله عنه from his other's side. The practice of tahneek is sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice).

The camels of zakah (Annual due charity) were being branded to distinguish them from other camels.

(٤٠٨٠) وَعَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ عَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ دَخَلْتُ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَهُوَ فِيْ مِرْبَدٍ فَرَاَيْتُهُ يَسِمُ شَاءً حَسِبْتُهُ قَالَ فِيْ اٰذَانِهَا۔ (متفق عليه) animals branding sheep. Hisham رحمه الله thought that he said, "On their ears."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ears are not included in the face otherwise they would not have been branded.

MAY SLAUGHTER WITH THAT WHICH SHEDS BLOOD

(٤٠٨١) عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ حَاتِمٍ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَرَاَيْتَ اَحَدُنَا اَصَابَ صَيْدًا وَلَيْسَ مَعَهُ سِكِّيْنٌ اَيَذْبَحُ بِالْمَرْوَةِ وَشِقَّةِ الْعَصَا فَقَالَ اَمْرِرِ الدَّمَ بِمَ شِئْتَ وَاذْكُرِ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4081. Sayyiduna Adi ibn Hatim رضی اللہ عنہ said that he asked, "O Messenger of Allah, if one of us catches a game but possesses no knife then may be slaughter it with a piece of stone or a reed?" He said, "You may shed blood with whatever you like and mention the name of Allah."[2]

SLAUGHTERING WHEN COMPELLED

(٤٠٨٢) وَعَنْ اَبِي الْعُشَرَاءِ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ اَنَّهُ قَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَمَاتَكُوْنُ الذَّكَاةُ اِلَّافِي الْحَلْقِ وَاللَّبَّةِ فَقَالَ لَوْ طَعَنْتَ فِي فَخِذِهَا لَاَجْزَأَ عَنْكَ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَقَالَ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ هٰذَا ذَكَاةُ الْمُتَرَدِّيِّ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا فِي الضَّرُوْرَةِ۔

4082. Sayyiduna Abu Urshara رحمہ اللہ reported that his father said that he asked, "O Messenger of Allah, must the slaughtering be restricted to the throat and the upper portion of the breast?" He said, "If you pierce the thigh (of the game) that would suffice you." Abu Dawud explained that this kind for slaughter is resorted to when an animal falls into a well.

Tirmidhi explained that it is done when it becomes necessary.[3]

WHEN GAME DIES

(٤٠٨٣) وَعَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ حَاتِمٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَاعَلَّمْتَ مِنْ كَلْبٍ اَوْبَازٍ ثُمَّ اَرْسَلْتَهُ وَذَكَرْتَ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ فَكُلْ مِمَّا اَمْسَكَ عَلَيْكَ قُلْتُ وَاِنْ قَتَلَ قَالَ اِذَا قَتَلَهُ وَلَمْ يَاكُلْ مِنْهُ شَيْأً فَاِنَّمَا اَمْسَكَهُ عَلَيْكَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4083. Sayyiduna Adi ibn Hatim رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When you train a dog or a hawk and set it off on mentioning the name of Allah, eat the animal they have caught for you." He asked, "Even if they have killed the animal?" He said, "When they have killed but not eaten any of it for they have caught it for you alone."[4]

WHEN AN ARROW IS SHOT

(٤٠٨٤) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اَرْمِي الصَّيْدَ فَاَجِدُ فِيْهِ مِنَ الْغَدِ سَهْمِي قَالَ اِذَا عَلِمْتَ اَنَّ سَهْمَكَ قَتَلَهُ وَلَمْ تَرَ فِيْهِ اَثَرَ سَبُعٍ فَكُلْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4084. Sayyiduna Adi ibn Hatim رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he asked, "O Messenger of Allah, I shoot (my arrow) at a game and find (it with) my arrow in it the next day (may I eat it)?" He said, "If you are sure your arrow killed it and find no mark of a beast of prey on it, then you may eat it." (But, if you see marks of teeth or claws on it, or another arrow. Then do not eat it.)[1]

(٤٠٨٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ نُهِيْنَا عَنْ صَيْدِ كَلْبِ الْمَجُوْسِ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4085. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: "We were forbidden to eat the animal caught by a dog belonging to the Majusis (Majians)."[2]

COMMENTARY: Any game caught by a Magian with his dog or a Muslim's dog is disallowed to Muslims but, if game is caught alive and slaughtered then it is allowed to eat it. If a Muslim kills game with a dog belonging to a Majusi then it is allowed to eat it. But, if both Muslims and Majusis are together and shoot arrows or set off dogs then that game is not lawful.

If game of any non Muslim is not lawful then the game that he kills with dogs etc is also not lawful.

VESSELS OF NON-MUSLIMS

(٤٠٨٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ ثَعْلَبَةَ الْخُشَنِيِّ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّا اَهْلُ سَفَرٍ نَمُرُّ بِالْيَهُوْدِ وَالنَّصَارٰى وَالْمَجُوْسِ فَلَانَجِدُ غَيْرَ اٰنِيَتِهِمْ قَالَ فَاِنْ لَمْ تَجِدُوْا غَيْرَهَا فَاغْسِلُوْهَا بِالْمَاءِ ثُمَّ كُلُوْا فِيْهَا وَاشْرَبُوْا۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4086. Sayyiduna Abu Tha'labah Kushani رضی اللہ عنہ said that he asked. "O Messenger of Allah, we travel often. We come across (habitations of) Jews, Christians and Magians. We do not have any vessels but theirs." (May we use them?) He said, "If you can get nothing else, wash them with water and eat and drink from them."[3]
(See hadith # 4066)

EATING WITH NON-MUSLIMS

(٤٠٨٧) وَعَنْ قَبِيْصَةَ بْنِ هُلْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ قَالَ سَاَلْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ طَعَامِ النَّصَارٰى، وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ سَاَلَهُ رَجُلٌ فَقَالَ اِنَّ مِنَ الطَّعَامِ طَعَامًا اَتَحَرَّجُ مِنْهُ فَقَالَ لَا يَتَخَلَّجَنَّ فِيْ صَدْرِكَ شَيْءٌ ضَارَعْتَ فِيْهِ النَّصْرَانِيَّةَ۔ (رواه الترمذی و ابوداؤد)

4087. Sayyiduna Qabisah ibn Hulb رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that from his father that he asked the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم about the food of the Christians. {According to a version a man asked about it.} He asked, "There is a kind of food from which I abstain.: He (the Prophet) صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, Let not doubt enter your mind (or heart) about any thing. By this deed, you have adopted resembles to Christianity."[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "Your abstaining from food prepared by the Christians itself makes you resemble them, because it is with them that they have burdened themselves with unnecessary restrictions concerning food and drink. Their priests have made their religion difficult for them. Hence, you must not declare any thing unlawful without investigating. Your religion is straightforward and easy.

The concluding words are translated by some: 'Let not doubt arise in you that by eating food of the Christians you would resemble them." In this case, it would mean that you should not abstain from food of non Muslims for fear that you would resemble them. This cannot happen with food unless the intention to resemble is there.

Only Christianity is mentioned simply because the Sahabi رضی اللہ عنہ asking the question was Adi ibn Hatim رضی اللہ عنہ who had been a Christian before embracing Islam.

In short, a Muslim should not abstain from food of a non Muslim. He should not fear that food becomes impure on anyone touching it. But, of course, if he knows that forbidden things are mixed in it then he should refrain from that. Also, he must keep away from every unlawful food, impure vessels, meat of un slaughtered animals and carrion, swine, wine, etc. - all that which is forbidden.

MUJATHTHAMAH IS FORBIDDEN

(٤٠٨٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ أَكْلِ الْمُجَثَّمَةِ وَهِيَ الَّتِي تُصْبَرُ بِالنَّبْلِ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4088. Sayyiduna Abu Darda رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade eating mujaththamah. It is the animal that is tied and made to stand as a target on which arrows are shot.[2]

COMMENTARY: The definition of mujaththamah in the hadith is in the words of a narrator. The foolish and merciless people bound animals and birds and used them for target practice. Shari'ah (divine law) forbids this deed as also the meat of the animal that is targeted in this manner. The reason is that such an animal is not slaughtered according to Shari'ah (divine law), so its meat is unlawful.

THE ANIMALS THAT ARE FORBIDDEN TO EAT

(٤٠٨٩) وَعَنِ الْعِرْبَاضِ بْنِ سَارِيَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ عَنْ كُلِّ ذِي نَابٍ مِنَ السِّبَاعِ وَعَنْ كُلِّ ذِي مِخْلَبٍ مِنَ الطَّيْرِ وَعَنْ لُحُوْمِ الْحُمُرِ الْأَهْلِيَّةِ وَعَنِ الْمُجَثَّمَةِ وَعَنِ الْخَلِيْسَةِ وَأَنْ تُوْطَأَ الْحَبَالَى حَتَّى يَضَعْنَ مَا فِي بُطُوْنِهِنَّ قَالَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى سُئِلَ أَبُوْ عَاصِمٍ عَنِ الْمُجَثَّمَةِ فَقَالَ أَنْ يُنْصَبَ الطَّيْرُ أَوِ الشَّيْءُ فَيُرْمَى وَسُئِلَ عَنِ الْخَلِيْسَةِ فَقَالَ الذِّئْبُ أَوِ السَّبُعُ يُدْرِكُهُ الرَّجُلُ فَيَأْخُذُ مِنْهُ فَيَمُوْتُ فِي يَدِهِ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُذَكِّيَهَا۔ (رواه الترمذی)

[1] Tirmidhi # 1565 (1571), Abu Dawud # 3784.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1473 (1478)

4089. Sayyiduna Irbad ibn Sariyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that, on the day of Khybar, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade every carnivorous beast with canine teeth (with a fang), every bird with a claw, flesh of domestic asses, the mujaththannah and the Khalisah. And (he forbade) sexual intercourse with pregnant slave women till they had given birth to their child.

Muhammad ibn Yahya رحمہ اللہ said that Abu Aasim رحمہ اللہ was asked about the mujaththamah. He said, "A bird or something (grazing animal) is tied up and used as a target. And he was asked about Khalisah. He said, "An animal, snatched by a man from a wolf or a beast of prey that dies before he can slaughter it."

(Muhammad ibn Yahya رحمہ اللہ was the Shaykh and teacher of Imam Tirmidhi رحمہ اللہ and he was one of the narrators of hadith. Abu Aasim رحمہ اللہ was his teacher.)[1]

COMMENTARY: The day of Khaybar refers of the year in which khaybar was conquered. Or, it could refer to the time when it was conquered. Or it might refer to the days when the jihad was going on.

The beast that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade have carnine teeth with which they tear open their pray. They include the lion, wolf, cheetah (panther or a small leopard), bear, monkey, pig. Fox and badger (hyena). Some authorities say that if the ox and badger are not carnivous then their meat is lawful (to eat).

The birds with claws hunt with their feet. They include the hawk, sea hawk or falcon, hyena, bat or owl, eagle, vulture, etc.

The domesticated asses are those that frequent human habitation. The meat of wild asses is lawful to eat. Before this disallowance, the meat of domesticated asses was permitted.

Sexual intercourse was forbidden with pregnant female captives. It was not allowed with other female captives till they experienced their first menstruation.

DISALLOWED TO CONSUME SHARITAH

(٤٠٩٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَأَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى عَنْ شَرِيْطَةِ الشَّيْطَانِ

زَادَ ابْنُ عِيْسَى هِيَ الذَّبِيْحَةُ يُقْطَعُ مِنْهَا الْجِلْدُ وَلَا تُفْرَى الْأَوْدَاجُ ثُمَّ تُتْرَكُ حَتَّى تَمُوْتَ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4090. (Sayyiduna) Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the Sharitah of the devil.

Ibn Easa (a sub narrator) said further that it is to slit the animal's hide (above the jugular vein) and not to sever the jugular vein and to leave it till it dies.[2]

COMMENTARY: During the jahiliyah (ignorance period), the idolaters caused an animal such cruelty so that it went through severe pain before it died. It is called Sharitah because it is from the word shart (شرط) meaning 'incision' or 'scarification'. Shart also means 'a mark.'

It is ascribed to the devil because he is the one behind this savage act. He feels elated when any one slaughters in this manner.

THE EMBRYO & ITS MOTHER

(٤٠٩١-٤٠٩٢) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ ذَكَاةُ الْجَنِيْنِ ذَكَاةُ أُمِّهِ (رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُد

[2] Abu Dawud # 2816.

وَالدَّارِمِيُّ) وَرَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدٍ۔

4091. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When the mother is slaughtered, its unborn offspring is (also) including in the slaughter."[1]

4092. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed narrated the same hadith.[2]

COMMENTARY: While Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ holds that is lawful to eat the unborn whether it has grown hair or not, Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that it will be lawful to eat the unborn offering only if it has developed the physical structure, and hair have grown on its body.
Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ said that it is not lawful to eat this urborn child unless it is alive in its mother's womb, then it may be eaten after slaughtering it. Of the Hanafis, Imam Zufar رحمہ اللہ and Imam Hasan ibn Ziyad رحمہ اللہ hold the same opinion. Their argument is that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم disallowed eating game that fell into water after being struck and was retrieved dead, because it could not be ascertained whether the unborn died when its mother was slaughtered or because of suffocation.
Also, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ said that it is debatable whether this hadith is sahih or not.

(٤٠٩٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدِنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ قُلْنَا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ نَنْحَرُ النَّاقَةَ وَنَذْبَحُ الْبَقَرَةَ وَالشَّاةَ فَنَجِدُ فِي بَطْنِهَا الْجَنِيْنَ أَنُلْقِيْهِ أَمْ نَأْكُلُهُ قَالَ كُلُوْهُ إِنْ شِئْتُمْ فَإِنَّ ذَكَاتَهُ ذَكَاةُ أُمِّهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

4093. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that they asked, "O Messenger of Allah, we sacrifice a she camel and slaughter a cow and goat. It happens that we find in its womb an urborn offspring. Shall we throw it away or eat it?" He said, "You may eat it, if you wish because slaughtering its mother amounts to slaughtering it."[3]

COMMENTARY: This hadith has the same comments as the preceding.

NEHR & SLAUGHTER: We have stated earlier that slaughter is of two kinds: the voluntary or by choice, and the necessary or driven by compulsion. The voluntary too has two aspects: nehr and dhabh (نحر وذبح)
Nahr is to strike a spear in the hollow of the throat, near the breast bone of a camel. It is mustahab (desirable) to use this method for the camel though dhabh is also allowed, but with a dislike.
Dhabh, is to cut the veins of the animal. The veins that are cut in this case are four. They are: narkharah or hulqum (the windpipe), mari (the gullet). Waridan or wadajan (the two jugular veins) to the left and right of narkharah. The cutting of these four veins is dhabh in Shari'ah (divine law), even if three of these four are cut off, the dhibh is correctly performed, and it is lawful to eat the meat of this animal. But, if only two veins are cut then the animal is carrion and it is unlawful to eat its meat.
Just as it is musthab to make nahr for camels, it is mustahab (desirable) to resort to dhabh for cows and sheep, but nahr is also allowed with a dislike.
If anyone slaughters a sheep or any animal at the nape and it remained alive till it veins were cut by him then it is allowed to eat its meat but it is disliked because this is not a sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) method. If the animal died before the veins could be cut then it is disallowed to eat its meat.

If anyone slaughters an animal, like a hen and takes the knife right up to the care be llum, cut ting its head, then it is allowed to eat its flesh. It is allowed to eat its flesh. It is not mukruh (disliked). But, if he overdoes it and separates its head then it is makruh (disapproved).

DISALLOWED TO KILL ANIMAL OR BIRD UNNECESSARILY

(٤٠٩٤) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو وابْنِ الْعَاصِ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ قَتَلَ عُصْفُوْرًا فَمَا فَوْقَهَا بِغَيْرِ حَقِّهَا سَاَلَهُ اللّٰهُ عَنْ قَتْلِهِ قِيْلَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ وَمَا حَقُّهَا قَالَ اَنْ يَذْبَحَهَا فَيَاْكُلَهَا وَلَا يَقْطَعَ رَأْسَهَا فَيَرْمِيْ بِهَا۔ (رواہ احمد والنسائی والدارمی)

4094. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone kills a sparrow or any bird or animal (smaller or) greater than it for no reason (whatsoever) then Allah will question him about killing it (unnecessarily)." He was asked, "O Messenger of Allah, what is reasonable (in this matter)" He said, "It should be slaughtered (at the throat as in dhabh) and eaten. But, its head should not be severed and thrown apart."[1]

COMMENTARY: Islam teaches us that every creature in this wide universe of Allah has a right to survive and protect its life, be he the noblest of the creatures - man - or an animal. Just as it is a grave sin to kill a human being, so too it is most unreasonable and extremely merciless to take the life of an animal.

If Allah the Omnipotent, has given man power and subjugated the animals to him, it does not follow that he must make it his pastime to hurt and kill them.

If he slaughters or hunts the animal whose meat Allah has made lawful for him and eats it then he uses his authority in a permitted manner. But, if he plays with the life of an animal only to enjoy and does not use its flesh but throws it away, then he uses his authority in a wrong, disallowed way and shows cruelty to a living creature. As the hadith says, for this deed, he will be answerable to Allah. On the day of resurrection, Allay will punish him for that.

Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that in the light of this hadith, it is makruh (disapproved) to kill an animal for any reason other than its meat for eating. Other scholars say that the dislike is to the point of being unlawful This is why the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم disallowed the killing of such animals as are not eaten, or whose meat is not lawful, as we shall see later.

Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that the right of an animal is attached to deriving benefit from it just as it is to violate an animal's right when its head it cut off and thrown away. This is what this hadith disallows: 'Its head should not be severed and thrown apart.'

ANYTHING CUT OFF FRO A LIVING ANIMAL IS DEAD

(٤٠٩٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ وَاقِدٍ اللَّيْثِيِّ قَالَ قَدِمَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْمَدِيْنَةَ وَهُمْ يَجُبُّوْنَ اَسْنِمَةَ الْاِبِلِ وَيَقْطَعُوْنَ اَلْيَاتِ الْغَنَمِ فَقَالَ مَا يُقْطَعُ مِنَ الْبَهِيْمَةِ وَهِيَ حَيَّةٌ فَهِيَ مَيْتَةٌ لَا تُؤْكَلُ (رواہ الترمذی وابوداؤد)

---

[1] Nasa'i # 4445, Musnad Ahmad 2-166.

4095. Sayyiduna Abu Waqid Laythi رضی اللہ عنہ said that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم came to Madinah (on emigrating from Makkah), its people used to cut off humps of camels and sever the fat tails of sheep. He said, "That which is cut off a living animal is (forbidden like) dead. It must not be eaten."[1]

COMMENTARY: In pre Islamic days, of the many savage practices that belied common sense, the people of Madinah cut off Humps of camels and fat tails of rams whenever they wished to do so. They roasted them to eat. This was extremely cruel to the animal and a very unnatural act. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم told them that they were eating that which was dead and hence unlawful.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِث

ESSENCE OF SLAUGHTER IS TO DRAIN OUT BLOOD

(٤٠٩٦) عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ عَنْ رَجُلٍ مِنْ بَنِيْ حَارِثَةَ أَنَّهُ كَانَ يَرْعٰى لِقْحَةً بِشِعْبٍ مِنْ شِعَابِ أُحُدٍ فَرَأٰى بِهَا الْمَوْتَ فَلَمْ يَجِدْ مَا يَنْحَرُهَا بِهٖ فَأَخَذَ وَتِدًا فَوَجَأَ بِهٖ فِيْ لَبَّتِهَا حَتّٰى أَهْرَاقَ دَمَهَا ثُمَّ أَخْبَرَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَأَمَرَهٗ بِأَكْلِهَا رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَمَالِكٌ ـ وَفِيْ رِوَايَتِهٖ قَالَ فَذَكَّاهَا بِشِظَاظٍ ـ

4096. Sayyiduna Ata ibn Yasar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated from a man of the tribe of the Banu Harithah that he was pasturing a pregnant she camel in a pass of the several passes of the Uhud (mountain). He observed that she was on the point of death but he could not find anything with which to nahr (slaughter) her (as prescribed), so he picked up a peg and (with its pointed end) he stabbed her near her breast bone till he caused her blood to flow. Then he informed the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم who instructed him to eat its meat.[2]

According to a version; he slaughtered it with a pointed piece of wood.[3]

COMMENTARY: It was a piece of wood (وتد) (watid) that is pitched in the earth or a wall, while (shizaz) (شظاظ) is one with both its ends pointed. The latter is used to keep the bags on the camel intacts.

OF SEA ANIMALS ONLY FISH IS LAWFUL

(٤٠٩٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا مِنْ دَابَّةٍ فِي الْبَحْرِ إِلَّا وَقَدْ ذَكَّاهَا اللّٰهُ لِبَنِيْ آدَمَ ـ (رواه الدارقطنی)

4097. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "There is no animal of the sea that Allah has not slaughtered for the children of Aadam. علیہ السلام"[4]

COMMENTARY: It is lawful to eat the creatures of the sea without slaughtering them. It is enough to catch them and bring them out of water alive. That is their slaughter.

The hadith does not specify, But the ulama (Scholars) agree only on fish that it is lawful whether it dies by itself or is killed. But there are differing opinions about other creatures of the sea.

---

[1] Tirmidhi # 1480, Abu Dawud # 2858, Musnad Ahmad 5-218.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله says that none of the creatures of the sea other than fish is lawful. And, that fish is not lawful too which dies its own death and comes to the surface of water without the ordours of the climate. The fish that dies of the severity of the climate and surfaces is lawful food.

SOME RULINGS ABOUT THE SACRIFICE: It is not allowed to eat the animals or birds that hunt for themselves and eat their prey or feed merely on filth. Example are lion, wolf, fox, cat, dog, monkey, hawk, falcon, etc.

Other animals or birds that are not like this are lawful to eat. Example are parrot, starling, dove, sparrow, wild-duck, pigeon, deer, duck, rabbit, etc.

It is not allowed to eat the meat of hyena, iguana, tortoise, mule, ass, etc and to drink milk of the she ass. While the horse is a lawful animal and its meat may be eaten yet it is better not to eat it. Apart from fish and locust, it is not proper to eat any animal or bird without slaughtering it.

Any animal that is otherwise lawful and dies a natural death is carrion and it is forbidden to eat it.

If ants fall in some food and die then it is not proper to eat that food without removing the ants, If anyone swallows even one and deliberately then it is a sin of eating carrion.

Slaughtering by a Muslim is correct always. A Muslim man or woman may slaughter. They may be in a pure state or impure. It is lawful to eat the animal slaughtered by them in any condition.

It is forbidden to eat an animal slaughtered by a disbeliever, an apostate, fire-worshiper, idol - worshipper, etc.

If any disbeliever sells meat saying that he has had it sacrificed by a Muslim then he must not be believed and his meat must not be bought nor eaten if a Muslim has slaughtered an animal and another Muslim was present at the time and is constantly there himself or if he goes then another Muslim takes his place, then that meat may be eaten.

If an animal that is not lawful to eat is slaughtered then its hide and meat become lawful (so that it is proper without dislike to use them for anything but not as food to eat). This of course, excludes a human being and a swine. The hide of a human being is impure because of his dignity and of a swine is impure because it is filthy and no amount of exercise to purify can purify it.

If a hen has been eating filthy things around then it must be enclosed for three days before slaughtering it. It is makruh (disapproved) to eat its meat without placing it in an enclosure for three days.

It is makruh (disapproved) and disallowed to slaughter an animal with a blunt knife because it will cause the animal much pain.

It is makruh (disapproved) to begin to remove the hide break its limbs, continue to cut its throat even after the four veins are cut, before the animal has cooled down.

It is allowed to eat locusts. It is not necessary to slaughter it just as fish is not slaughtered.

It is allowed to hunt all animals whether their meat is lawful or not. But, hunting should not be merely in vain, to play and to amuse oneself. Rather, the aim should be to derive some benefit from it. The greatest benefit from the lawful animal is its meat. As for the unlawful animal, there is no harm if the hunter aims to use its hide.

In short, the lives of the animals must be valued. It is not good to kill them unnecessarily or to hunt them with no purpose.

The masnun method of slaughtering an animal is to turn its face, towards the qiblah, to take a sharp knife, to recite Bismillah Allahu Akbar and cut at its throat till the four veins are severed.

CHAPTER - II

ABOUT DOGS بَابُ ذِكْرِ الْكَلْبِ

This chapter has ahadith concerning commands about dogs;
- for what purpose may dogs be kept,
- what kind of dog is it allowed to keep,
- what kind is disallowed,
- what dog is it permitted to kill,
- and, what may not be killed.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

DO NOT KEEP DOG UNNECESSARILY

(٤٠٩٨) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنِ اقْتَنٰى كَلْبًا اِلَّا كَلْبَ مَاشِيَةٍ اَوْضَارٍ نُقِصَ مِنْ عَمَلِهٖ كُلَّ يَوْمٍ قِيْرَاطَانِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4098. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who keeps a dog - other than a sheepdog or a trained hunting dog will have two qirats deducted from (the reward of) his deeds, every day."[1]

COMMENTARY: Qirat is a measure of weight (.248 grams). However, the sense in the hadith is known only to Allah. Some ahadith say that it is like Mount Uhud.
Dogs may be kept for protection of animals (houses, fields) and for hunting. They may not be kept for any other purpose. If anyone does that he will lose two qirat of his deeds every day and that night mean two shares from a large share of reward daily.
The ulama (Scholars) say that the reasons include: angels of mercy do not come to that home where a dog is kept. He who keeps dogs hurts other people. Also, the dog may lick vessels in the house unknown to the owners.

(٤٠٩٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنِ اتَّخَذَ كَلْبًا اِلَّا كَلْبَ مَاشِيَةٍ اَوْصَيْدٍ اَوْزَرْعٍ اِنْتَقَصَ مِنْ اَجْرِهٖ كُلَّ يَوْمٍ قِيْرَاطٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

4099. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He, who keeps a dog - others than a sheep dog, a hunting dog or a farm dog, will have one qirat deducted from his reward every day."[2]

COMMENTARY: the measure of qirat is as known to Allah so, deduction is rewara may be one qirat or two.

KILLING DOGS

(٤١٠٠) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ اَمَرَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِقَتْلِ الْكِلَابِ حَتّٰى اِنَّ الْمَرْاَةَ تَقْدَمُ مِنَ الْبَادِيَةِ بِكَلْبِهَا فَنَقْتُلُهُ ثُمَّ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ قَتْلِهَا وَقَالَ عَلَيْكُمْ بِالْاَسْوَدِ الْبَهِيْمِ ذِى النُّقْطَتَيْنِ فَاِنَّهُ شَيْطَانٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4100. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم commanded them to kill dogs, (so they killed dog in Madinah and its surrounding areas) they killed even the dog that any woman brought with her from the desert. Thereafter, Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade them to kill dogs telling hem, "You must only kill the pure black with two spots on it, for it is the devil."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) say that the command to kill dogs was restricted to Madinah only. The city was sacred. The prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم lived there. Revelation descended on him there. And angels also came to him there.

Women who cared for sheep had a dog with them.

Beside, they are mentioned in passing otherwise dogs carried by anyone were killed.

The dog with two spots is very naughty and harmful. So it is called a devil such a dog it not useful to look after sheep and to hunt. Imam Ahmad رحمه الله and Ishaq رحمه الله said that game caught by this kind of a dog is not lawful.

Nawawi رحمه الله said that the ulama (Scholars) are unanimous about the dog that bites whether it is black coloured or otherwise.

Imam of the Harmayn said that eventually the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade killing of dogs, even the black dogs, unless a dog is harmful and bites.

(٤١٠١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَمَرَ بِقَتْلِ الْكِلَابِ اِلَّا كَلْبَ صَيْدٍ اَوْكَلْبَ غَنَمٍ اَوْمَاشِيَةٍ۔ (متفق علیه)

4101. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم commanded them to kill dogs except hunting dogs or sheep dogs, or dogs to look after animals.[2]

COMMENTARY: The specified command to spare sheep dogs is followed by the general command to spare dogs that watch over all animals. This could also be the narrator's doubt whether the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said sheep dogs or dogs looking after animals.

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِى

REASON WHY ALL DOGS MAY NOT BE KILLED

(٤١٠٢) عَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ مُغَفَّلٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَوْلَا اَنَّ الْكِلَابَ اُمَّةٌ مِنَ الْاُمَمِ لَاَمَرْتُ بِقَتْلِهَا كُلِّهَا فَاقْتُلُوْا مِنْهَا كُلَّ اَسْوَدَ بَهِيْمٍ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ و رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَمَا مِنْ اَهْلِ بَيْتٍ يَرْتَبِطُوْنَ كَلْبًا اِلَّا نُقِصَ مِنْ عَمَلِهِمْ كُلَّ يَوْمٍ قِيْرَاطٌ اِلَّا كَلْبَ صَيْدٍ اَوْكَلْبَ حَرْثٍ اَوْكَلْبَ غَنَمٍ۔

---

[1] Muslim # 47. 1572, Tirmidhi # 1486.

[2] Bukhari # 3323, Muslim # 16. 157.

4102. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mughaffal رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Were dogs not among the communities (of creatures of Allah).I would have commanded that they should be exterminated. But kill the black dogs among them." "And, there are no people in a house who have a dog other than a hunting dog, a farm dog, or a sheep dog, but a qirat of their good deeds is deducted every dog."[1]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم refers to this verse of the Quran when he says about the dogs being one community of creatures:

وَمَا مِنْ دَابَّةٍ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَلَا طَائِرٍ يَطِيرُ بِجَنَاحَيْهِ إِلَّا أُمَمٌ أَمْثَالُكُمْ

{And there is not an animal in the earth, not a bird that flies on its two wings, but they are communities like yourselves} (6: 38)

Like human beings, animals and birds too are different ummahs (or, communities). They too get their provision, and their lives are also worthy. They must not be killed unnecessarily. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went by this verse and said that not all dogs must be eliminated. Only the black dogs who cause damage everywhere and hurt people must be killed.

STAGING ANIMAL FIGHTS DISALLOWED

(٤١٠٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ التَّحْرِيْشِ بَيْنَ الْبَهَائِمِ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4103. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade putting animals to fight one another.[2]

COMMENTARY: People must not get animal to fight one another. They should not stage camel fights, elephant fights, etc. or cock fights and other birds fights.

CHAPTER - III

ANIMALS THAT ARE LAWFUL TO EAT & ANIMALS THAT ARE UNLAWFUL

بَابُ مَا يَحِلُّ أَكْلُهُ وَمَا يَحْرُمُ

Those things that are knows to be forbidden and unlawful from the Quran – the Book of Allah are:

(i) Carrion or dead creature.
(ii) Blood that flows.
(iii) Park, or flesh of swine.
(iv) Meat of animal that is slaughtered in the name of other than Allah.

This is established from this verse too:

قُلْ لَّا أَجِدُ فِيْ مَآ أُوْحِيَ إِلَيَّ مُحَرَّمًا عَلٰى طَاعِمٍ يَّطْعَمُهٗٓ إِلَّآ أَنْ يَّكُوْنَ مَيْتَةً أَوْ دَمًا مَّسْفُوْحًا أَوْ لَحْمَ خِنْزِيْرٍ فَإِنَّهٗ رِجْسٌ أَوْ فِسْقًا أُهِلَّ لِغَيْرِ اللّٰهِ بِهٖ ط (سوره الانعام)

{Say: I find not that which is revealed to me anything forbidden to an eater who eats thereof, except it be carrion, or blood poured forth, or the flesh of swine – for that surely is foul, or the profaned (flesh of an animal) which has been immolated to the name of other than Allah.} (6: 145)

The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) then included some other things in the list of the forbidden or unlawful things. Examples are dhu naab with (canine teeth) and dhu makhlab (with claws), domesticated donkey, and so on. Therefore, where the ahadith are categorical about certain animals being forbidden, the ulama (Scholars) are unanimous about their being unlawful. But, the ulama (Scholars) differ about the unlawfulness of certain animals because the ahadith do not declare them forbidden categorically. Further, the ulama (Scholars) differ about certain animals because of this verse:

وَيُحِلُّ لَهُمُ الطَّيِّبَاتِ وَيُحَرِّمُ عَلَيْهِمُ الْخَبَآئِثَ۔

{and make lawful for them the good things, and prohibits for them the corrupt things} (7: 157)

On the basis of this verse, the Hanafis declare every creature of the sea unlawful except the fish, because they think that everything of the sea, apart from the fish, is corrupt. Sound nature is repulsed by them and regards them as filthy.

According to the Hidayah, Imam Maalik رحمه الله and some ulama (Scholars) hold that all living creatures of the sea are lawful to eat. But, some of these ulama (Scholars) make an exception of the sea hog. Sea hound[1] [and (perhaps) mermaid. (and merman)}[2]

Imam Shafi'I holds that all sea creatures are lawful food. He cites this verse:

أُحِلَّ لَكُمْ صَيْدُ الْبَحْرِ وَطَعَامُهُ۔

{Lawful to you is the game of the sea and the eating thereof.} (5: 96)

He also cites the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words about the sea;

هو الطهور ماؤه والحل ميتته۔

'Its water is pure (and purifies) and its dead (creatures) are lawful." (Tirmidhi # 69)

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

DHU NAAB BEAST IS FORBIDDEN

(٤١٠٤) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كُلُّ ذِى نَابٍ مِنَ السِّبَاعِ فَاَكْلُهُ حَرَامٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4104. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Every dhunaab (fanged) beast of prey is forbidden (to eat)."[3]

DHU MUKHLAB BIRD IS FORBIDDEN

(٤١٠٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ كُلِّ ذِىْ نَابٍ مِنَ السِّبَاعِ وَكُلِّ ذِى مِخْلَبٍ مِنَ الطَّيْرِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4105. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade every beast of prey with a fang and every bird with a talon (or claw, dhu makhlab).[1]

DOMESTIC ASS IS FORBIDDEN

(٤١٠٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي ثَعْلَبَةَ قَالَ حَرَّمَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لُحُوْمَ الْحُمُرِ الْاَهْلِيَّةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4106. Sayyiduna Abu Tha'labah رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade the flesh of domestic asses.[2]

COMMENTARY: However, he allowed the flesh of wild asses. All the ulama (Scholars) are unanimous about it.

HORSE'S MEAT IS PERMITTED

(٤١٠٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهٰى يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ عَنْ لُحُوْمِ الْحُمُرِ الْاَهْلِيَّةِ وَاَذِنَ فِيْ لُحُوْمِ الْخَيْلِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4107. Sayyiduna Jabir رضى الله عنه narrated that, on the day of Khaybar, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade the flesh of domestic asses, but he permitted horseflesh.[3]

COMMENTARY: While other imams say that it is permitted to eat horseflesh, Imam Abu hanifah رحمه الله and Imam Maalik رحمه الله say that it is makruh (disapproved) to eat horseflesh. According to Kifayah ul Muntaha, some ulama (Scholars) assert that three days before his death, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله had reversed his first opinion to say that it is allowed to eat horseflesh. The Hanafis go by this verdict. The Durr Mukhtar also confirms that Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله had reversed his precious verdict and confirmed that horse meat is permitted. Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله, and of the Hanafis Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله, had already said that horse flesh is permitted and is lawful. Mawlana Shah Muhammad Ishaq رحمه الله also confirmed that Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله had revised his verdict to say that horseflesh is lawful.

WILD ASS IS PERMITTED

(٤١٠٨) وَعَنْ اَبِي قَتَادَةَ اَنَّهُ رَاٰى حِمَارًا وَحْشِيًّا فَعَقَرَهُ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ هَلْ مَعَكُمْ مِنْ لَحْمِهِ شَيْءٌ قَالَ مَعَنَا رِجْلُهُ فَاَخَذَهَا فَاَكَلَهَا۔ (متفق عليه)

4108. Sayyiduna Abu Qatadah رضى الله عنه narrated that he saw a wild ass and killed it (They asked Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم about eating its flesh whether it was lawful.) So, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked them, "Do you have some flesh of it?" He (Abu Qatadah) رضى الله عنه said, "We have a leg piece." So, he took it and ate it.[4]

RABBIT IS LAWFUL FOOD

(٤١٠٩) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ اَنْفَجْنَا اَرْنَبًا بِمَرِّ الظَّهْرَانِ فَاَخَذْتُهَا فَاَتَيْتُ بِهَا اَبَا طَلْحَةَ فَذَبَحَهَا وَبَعَثَ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِوَرِكِهَا وَفَخِذَيْهَا فَقَبِلَهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4109. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that at Mar az-Zahran (a valley near Makkah) they chased a hare and he caught it and took it to Abu Tahah رضی اللہ عنہ He slaughtered it and sent its hipbone and two hind legs to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم who accepted that.[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم accepted the flesh of hare. Hence, it is clear that this flesh is lawful to eat.

FLESH OF LIZARD

(٤١١٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلضَّبُّ لَسْتُ اٰكُلُهٗ وَلَا اُحَرِّمُهٗ (متفق علیه)

4110. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Neither do I eat lizards nor forbid eating them."[2]

COMMENTARY: It is said that the lizard lives for seven hundred years. It does not drink water and subsist s on air. It passes only one drop of urine in forty days and it never loses its teeth.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not eat it because he did not like it and he did not forbid it because till then he had not received revelation prohibiting it. Another hadith (# 4119, 4120) which we shall narrate later disallows the eating of lizards. So, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ goes by it and says t hat lizards are forbidden.

Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ and Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ say that there is no harm in eating lizards. They go by this hadith.

(٤١١١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ خَالِدَ بْنَ الْوَلِيْدِ اَخْبَرَهٗ اَنَّهٗ دَخَلَ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلٰى مَيْمُوْنَةَ وَهِيَ خَالَتُهٗ وَخَالَةُ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ فَوَجَدَ عِنْدَهَا ضَبًّا مَحْنُوْذًا فَقَدَّمَتِ الضَّبَّ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَرَفَعَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَدَهٗ عَنِ الضَّبِّ فَقَالَ خَالِدٌ اَحَرَامٌ الضَّبُّ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ لَا وَلٰكِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ بِاَرْضِ قَوْمِيْ فَاَجِدُنِيْ اَعَافُهٗ قَالَ خَالِدٌ فَاجْتَرَرْتُهٗ فَاَكَلْتُهٗ وَرَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَنْظُرُ اِلَيَّ۔ (متفق علیه)

4111. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ reported that Khalid bin Walid رضی اللہ عنہ informed him that he visited Sayyidah Maymunah رضی اللہ عنہ with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. She was his maternal aunt and also of Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ. He found that she had a roasted lizard. She presented the lizard to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, but the withdraw his hand from it. So, Khalid رضی اللہ عنہ asked, "Are lizards forbidden, O Messenger of Allah? He said. "No! but there were not any in the land of my people (the Hijaz), so I find a repulsion within myself for it." Khalid رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I drew it nearer to myself and ate it Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم looked at me."[3]

COMMENTARY: A hadith (# 4119 &4127) following prohibits eating of lizards. The present hadith, there fore, stands abrogated.

HEN MAY BE EATEN

(٤١١٢) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ مُوْسٰى قَالَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَاْكُلُ لَحْمَ الدَّجَاجِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4112. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he saw Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم eat fowl.[1]

LOCUSTS MAY BE EATEN

(٤١١٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ اَبِيْ اَوْفٰى قَالَ غَزَوْنَا مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَبْعَ غَزَوَاتٍ كُنَّا نَاْكُلُ مَعَهُ الْجَرَادَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4113. Sayyiduna Ibn Abu Awfa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "We participated in seven battles along with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. We used to eat locusts along with him."[2]

COMMENTARY: The words (معه) (with him) are not found in Muslim and Tirmidhi and in most narrations. Hence, wherever they are found (we used to eat locusts along with him), they mean that while they were in his company, they ate locusts in his knowledge. He did not eat them and did not forbid them to eat.

EATING A DEAD WHALE

(٤١١٤) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ غَزَوْتُ جَيْشَ الْخَبَطِ وَاُمِّرَ اَبُوْ عُبَيْدَةَ فَجُعْنَا جُوْعًا شَدِيْدًا فَاَلْقَى الْبَحْرُ حُوْتًا مَيِّتًا لَمْ نَرَ مِثْلَهُ يُقَالُ لَهُ الْعَنْبَرُ فَاَكَلْنَا مِنْهُ نِصْفَ شَهْرٍ فَاَخَذَ اَبُوْ عُبَيْدَةَ عَظْمًا مِنْ عِظَامِهِ فَمَرَّ الرَّاكِبُ تَحْتَهُ فَلَمَّا قَدِمْنَا ذَكَرْنَا لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ كُلُوْا رِزْقًا اَخْرَجَهُ اللّٰهُ اِلَيْكُمْ وَاَطْعِمُوْنَا اِنْ كَانَ مَعَكُمْ قَالَ فَاَرْسَلْنَا اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْهُ فَاَكَلَهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4114. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he had participated in a battle with the jaysh al-khabt (who beat leaves off trees to eat) which was under the command of Abu Ubaydah رضی اللہ عنہ. They faced severe hunger till the sea threw out a dead fish. They had never seen such a large fish. It was called Anbar (العنبر) or spermaceti whale. They ate from it for half a month (very lavishly). Abu Ubaydah رضی اللہ عنہ then took one of its bones (and put it up) so that a camel rider passed under it (without difficulty). When returned (to Madinah) they mentioned the experience to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He said, "Eat from the sustenance that Allah brought out for you. (you did well and if you find such, eat it). If you have (saved) any (of it), let us have some of it." (He meant to please them and to let them know that the fish was definitely lawful, lest they presumed that it was permitted only because of there peculiar necessity.)

Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that they sent some of the fish to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and he ate it.[3]

COMMENTARY: This took place in 6 AH before the Peace treaty of Hudaybiyah. These people had exhausted all provision and were driven to beat leaves off trees. Their lips were bruised because of their eating.

Anbar (ambergris) - according to the Qamus (and the lexicon of lane's) in an odoriferous substance; also, an excrement in the belly of a great fish (the spermaceti whale); also, a vegetable found in the bottom of the sea and driven to the shores by the waves.. (there are other opinions). Shields are made of the skin of the fish.

They ate the fish for half a month. But, some versions have 'one month' and some 'eighteen days.' The fact is that different men of the army ate it for different periods of time.

WHEN A FLY LANDS IN SOMEONE'S FOOD OR DRINK

(٤١١٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِذَا وَقَعَ الذُّبَابُ فِيْ اِنَاءِ اَحَدِكُمْ فَلْيَغْمِسْهُ كُلَّهُ ثُمَّ لِيَطْرَحْهُ فَاِنَّ فِيْ اَحَدِ جَنَاحَيْهِ شِفَاءً وَفِي الْاٰخِرِ دَاءً۔ (رواه البخارى)

4115. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When a fly lands in the vessel (containing food or drink) of any of you, let him immerse all of it inside before throwing it away, for, in one of its wings is cure and in the other disease."[1]

COMMENTARY: See also hadith # 4143. It is said there that the fly lands on the wing tha carries disease. So, if all of it is immersed, the adverse effects of the wing will be offset b the other wing. (See hadith # 4143)

MOUSE FALLING IN GHEE (CLARIFIED BUTTER)

(٤١١٦) وَعَنْ مَيْمُوْنَةَ اَنَّ فَأْرَةً وَقَعَتْ فِيْ سَمْنٍ فَمَاتَتْ فَسُئِلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْهَا فَقَالَ اَلْقُوْهَا وَمَا حَوْلَهَا وَكُلُوْهُ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4116. Sayyidah Maymunah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that a mouse landed in some clarified butter and died. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was asked about it and he said. "Throw it and (throw) the clarified butter around it. You may eat (the rest of) it."[2]

COMMENTARY: This applies to the thick frozen clarified butter. If it is thin and liquefied and melted then all of it will become impure and it will be disallowed to eat it or to sell it too. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ however, said, that it is allowed to sell it.

While most authorities assert that such an impure clarified butter must not be used for any purpose whatsoever, some say that it might be used to burn in lanterns, to rub on boats, or to do some other such things. This is what Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ said and Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ in one of his verdicts. But, this permission is with dislike. Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ have also two opinions and the former has also said that it cannot be used to burn the lanterns of a mosque.

4117. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "kill snakes. And kill (particularly) those that have two black stripes (on their backs) and the abtar (that have a short tail), for, they impair the eyesight and cause miscarriage." (One who sees them turns blind and a pregnant woman who sees them suffers miscarriage.)

Abdullah (ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ) said that (once) he chased a snake to kill it, but Abu Lubabah رضی اللہ عنہ called him, "Do not kill it." He said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم has commanded that snakes should be killed." He said, "After that, he had disallowed killing of house snakes. For they inhabit homes."[1]

COMMENTARY: These snakes have a long life and inhabit homes for a long time – all their lives. Turpushti رحمہ اللہ said that the word translated 'live long' (awamir) applies to the jinns. The snakes found to the jinns. The snakes found in homes are actually jinns in the form of snakes. So snakes in the house are not allowed to be killed for the night really be jinns. Tabarani رحمہ اللہ has transmitted a marfu hadith from Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ.

اُقْتُلُوْا الْحَيَّةَ وَالْعَقْرَبَ وَإِنْ كُنْتُمْ فِي الصَّلٰوةِ۔

(kill the snake and the scorpion even if you are engaged in salah (prayer)).

Abu Dawud and Nasa'i have transmitted from Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ and Tabarani from Jamir رضی اللہ عنہ who from Uthman ibn Abu Aas رضی اللہ عنہ in a marfu form:

اقتلوا الحيات كلهن فمن خاف ثارهن فليس مني۔

(kill all snakes. He who fears their retaliation – so does not kill them – does not belong to me.)

However, these traditions that call for killing snakes exclude the snakes in the houses. This is clear from the hadith of Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ and from the ahadith to follow.

4118. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'ib رحمه الله (the freedman of Hisham ibn Zahrah) رضی الله عنه said that they visited Abu Sa'eed رضی الله عنه. While they were sitting, they detected something stir under his couch. They looked and found a snake under it. He (Abu Sa'ib) got up to kill it but Abu Sa'eed رضی الله عنه who was engaged in salah (prayer) gestured to him that he should sit down. So, he sat down. On finishing (his salah (prayer)), he pointed to a room there and asked, "Have you seen the room?" He said, "Yes!" He said, "A young man of ours who had married recently lived in it we set out along with Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم to the Battle of the Trenches (the young man, also). Everyday in the noon (after half the day), he got permission from Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم to go and remain with his wife. One day, when he asked permission of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم, he instructed him to carry with him his weapons lest the Banu Qurayzah hurt him. He took his weapons and went home only to find his wife standing between the two doors. He was filled with jealousy and prepared to stab her with his lance. However, she asked him to put it down, come in and see (for himself) why she was outside. He went in and saw a huge snake coiled on the bed. He attacked it with his lance and pierced it with the lance. Then, he came out and fixed the lance in the ground (of the courtyard) of the house. The (dying) snake trembled and attacked him. But, no one could say who died first, the snake or the young man."
Abu Sa'eed said that they went to Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم and reported to him what had happened. They requested him to pray to Allah to restore the young man to life for them. He said, "Seek forgiveness for your man." Then, he said, "There are in these houses (of Madinah) the awamir (the jinns who reside in them). When you see one of them, main him three times. If he goes away, that is good. If not, then kill him, for, he is an infidel." (Actually, make if difficult for him.)
Then, he said, "Go and bury your companion."
According to another version, he said: There are jinns in Madinah, who have accepted Islam. When you see any of them, warn him for three days. If he comes to you after that, then kill him, for, it is nothing but a devil."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) say that the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم were not of such mind as to request the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم to pray for his revival. Rather, they were under the impression that he was preconscious because of the poisoning. So they asked him to pray.

[1] Muslim # 140. 2236.

This is why he instruct ed them to seek forgiveness for him, for , he was dead.
According to one version, on seeing a snake, you must say:

أُنْشِدُكُمْ بِالْعَهْدِ الَّذِىْ اَخَذَ عَلَيْكُمْ سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ دَاؤُدَ عَلَيْهِمَا السَّلَامُ لَا تَأْذُوْنَا وَلَا تَظْهَرُ وَالَنَا۔

(We adjure you by the covenant that Sulayman ibn Dawud عليه السلام had got from you, do not hurt us and do not come before us).

If he does not disappear even after that then he is not a Muslim. He is either an infidel jinn or a real snake. Or, he may be an offspring of Iblis. In any of these cases, he must be killed forthwith. He was called a devil because of his disobedience and unruly behaviour. Such conduct is called devilish.

KILL THE GECKOS

(٤١١٩) وَعَنْ اُمِّ شَرِيْكٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَمَرَ بِقَتْلِ الْوَزَغِ وَقَالَ كَانَ يَنْفَخُ عَلٰى اِبْرَاهِيْمَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4119. Sayyidah Umm Sharik رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم commanded them to kill the geckos. He said "It had blown on Ibrahim." عليه السلام [1]

COMMENTARY: When Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام was thrown in to the fire by Nimrud, the gecko blow on it to stir it up.
This creature is very poisonous. It can poison eatable and cause great damage to people.

(٤١٢٠) وَعَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ اَبِىْ وَقَّاصٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَمَرَ بِقَتْلِ الْوَزَغِ وَسَمَّاهُ فُوَيْسِقًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

4120. Sayyiduna Sa'd ibn Abu Waqqas رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم` Commanded that geckos should be killed. He called them fuwaysiqah (mischievous creature).[2]

COMMENTARY: The gecko is called fuwaysiqah (small fasiq) because it is one of the five evil animals and reptiles. They should be killed under any circumstances, even within the limits of the Haram.
Actually, fisq (from which this word is derived) is to 'go out.' In Shari'ah (divine law) it is 'to go out of obedience.'

(٤١٢١) وَعَنْ اَبِىْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ قَتَلَ وَزَغًا فِىْ اَوَّلِ ضَرْبَةٍ كُتِبَتْ لَهٗ مِائَةُ حَسَنَةٍ وَفِى الثَّانِيَةِ دُوْنَ ذٰلِكَ وَفِى الثَّالِثَةِ دُوْنَ ذٰلِكَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4121. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who kills the gecko with the first blow, one hundred good deeds are recorded for him. If he kills at the second blow then fewer (are recorded), and at the third blow fewer than that."

COMMENTARY: In other words, one is encouraged to kill it as quickly as possible.

KILLING ANTS

(٤١٢٢) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَرَصَتْ نَمْلَةٌ نَبِيًّا مِنَ الْأَنْبِيَاءِ فَأَمَرَ بِقَرْيَةِ النَّمْلِ فَأُحْرِقَتْ فَأَوْحَى اللّٰهُ تَعَالَى إِلَيْهِ أَنْ قَرَصَتْكَ نَمْلَةٌ أَحْرَقْتَ أُمَّةً مِنَ الْأُمَمِ تُسَبِّحُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4122. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "A Prophet of the Prophets (who have gone by) was stung by an ant. So, he ordered that the (entire) colony of the ants should be burned. That was done. So, Allah, the exalted, revealed to him: One ant bit you, but you burned an ummah community that glorifies me."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) say that the Prophet علیہ السلام had got the tree burned in which the ants resided. This particular Prophet علیہ السلام had prayed to Allah, "O Allah, you eliminate a whole community of people because of their sin, but among them there are pious people too..." Allah made him rest in the shade of a tree when it was very hot. He fell asleep there and ant stung him. So, he got all the ants burned because he could not locate the one that had stung him. He thought perhaps that all the ants were harmful so he eliminated them all.

Allah then sent him a revelation to reprimand him. In the Shari'ah (divine law) of Islam, it is not allowed to burn any animal or insect, any living creature, not even lice and bed bugs. Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that any living creature should be burned unless it causes harm and hurts.

Muhammad ibn Muslim رحمہ اللہ wrote in Mutalib ul Muminin that if an ant has hurt you then you may kill it. But, if it has not hurt you, then do not kill it. The jurists have issued an edict accordingly in this manner.

It is makruh (disapproved) to put ants in water. Moreover, if one ant has hurt you, you must not take revenge from all by burning them or destroying them.

RAT LANDING IN GHEE

(٤١٢٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا وَقَعَتِ الْفَارَةُ فِي السَّمْنِ فَإِنْ كَانَ جَامِدًا فَأَلْقُوْهَا وَمَا حَوْلَهَا وَإِنْ كَانَ مَائِعًا فَلَا تَقْرَبُوْهُ (رَوَاهُ أَحْمَدُ وَأَبُو دَاوُدَ)

4123. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When a mouse falls into ghee (which is clarified butter) when it is in a solid state, throw away the mouse and the portion that is around it. But, if it is in a liquid state then do not go near it."[2]

(٤١٢٤) وَرَوَاهُ الدَّارِمِيُّ عَنْ إِبْنِ عَبَّاسٍ۔

4124. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ also narrated it.[3]

BUSTARD IS LAWFUL

(٤١٢٥) وَعَنْ سَفِينَةَ قَالَ أَكَلْتُ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَحْمَ حُبَارَى۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4125. Sayyiduna Safinah رضی الله عنه said, "I and the messenger of Allah صلی الله علیه وسلم ate the flesh of a bustard."[1]

COMMENTARY: The bustard (Hubara) is the most foolish of all birds.

FLESH OF JALALAH IS FORBIDDEN

(٤١٢٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ أَكْلِ الْجَلَّالَةِ وَأَلْبَانِهَا رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَفِي رِوَايَةِ أَبِي دَاوُدَ قَالَ نَهَى عَنْ رُكُوبِ الْجَلَّالَةِ۔

4126. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade eating al-jalalah (the animal that feeds on filth) and drinking its milk. According to a version: he forbade riding al-jalalah.[2]

COMMENTARY: Jalalah is the animal whose flesh may be lawful to eat, but it is accustomed to eat filth. So, if it eats filth rarely then it is not called jalalah and its flesh is not forbidden. Examples are hen. But, if this animal eats filth always and it's meat and milk have the stench, then it is not allowed to eat its meat, unless it is enclosed and given good things to eat till its flesh and milk become pure, in which case it is lawful to eat it. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله. Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and Imam Ahmad رحمه الله have given this opinion. Imam Maalik رحمه الله said that even after keeping it enclosed, its meat should be washed to the point of exaggeration.

Fatawa Kubra has the edict that it is allowed to eat flesh of enclosure for three days and the jalalah for ten days. It is disallowed to ride a jalalah because its perspiration too has a bad odour. The rider will get on him.

LIZARDS ARE DISALLOWED

(٤١٢٧) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ ابْنِ شِبْلٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى عَنْ أَكْلِ لَحْمِ الضَّبِّ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4127. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Shabl رضی الله عنه said that the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade the eating of the flesh of lizards.[3]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps it was allowed to eat lizards (see hadith # 4111). Later the permission was revoked. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله abides by this hadith.

CAT IS FORBIDDEN

(٤١٢٨) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى عَنْ أَكْلِ الْهِرَّةِ وَأَكْلِ ثَمَنِهَا (رواه ابوداؤد والترمذی)

4128. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that the prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade eating cats and consuming its price.[4]

COMMENTARY: While it is forbidden to eat flesh of cat, it is makruh (disapproved) to spend its price on eatables and drinks.

WHAT WAS FORBIDDEN ON THE DAY OF KHAYBAR

(٤١٢٩) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ حَرَّمَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَعْنِي يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ الْحُمُرَ الْاِنْسِيَّةَ وَلُحُوْمَ الْبِغَالِ وَكُلَّ ذِيْ نَابٍ مِنَ السِّبَاعِ وَكُلَّ ذِيْ مِخْلَبٍ مِنَ الطَّيْرِ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

4129. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that on the day of Khaybar, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade domestic asses, the flesh of mules, every beast of prey having a fang and every bird of prey having a talon.[1]
(Their meat is unlawful to eat.)

HORSE FLESH DISALLOWED

(٤١٣٠) وَعَنْ خَالِدِ بْنِ الْوَلِيْدِ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهٰى عَنْ اَكْلِ لُحُوْمِ الْخَيْلِ وَ الْبِغَالِ وَالْحَمِيْرِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4130. Sayyiduna Khalid ibn Walid رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the eating of the meat of horses, mules and asses.[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith is da'if. It cannot contradict the hadith of Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ (# 4107). See the comments against it. Most ulama (Scholars) say that the hadith of Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ overrides this hadith.

PROPERTY OF THOSE UNDER COVENANT

(٤١٣١) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ غَزَوْتُ مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَ خَيْبَرَ فَاَتَتِ الْيَهُوْدُ فَشَكَوْا اَنَّ النَّاسَ قَدْ اَسْرَعُوْا اِلٰى حَظَائِرِهِمْ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلَا لَا يَحِلُّ اَمْوَالُ الْمُعَاهِدِيْنَ اِلَّا بِحَقِّهَا۔

(رواه ابوداؤد)

4131. Sayyiduna Khalid ibn Walid رضی اللہ عنہ said that he went with the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to fight on the day of Khaybar. The Jews came (to him) with the complaint that the people had hastened to pick up their dates (from the trees against the covenant). So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Beware! The Property of those with whom a covenant is concluded is not lawful, except for the right on the property (towards any kind of levy on it)."[3]

COMMENTARY: The right on the property can be the jizyah (tribute) on dhimmis or the ushr on trade merchandise of one given protection.

FISH, LOCUST, LIVER & SPLEEN

(٤١٣٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اُحِلَّتْ لَنَا مَيْتَتَانِ وَدَمَانِ اَلْمَيْتَتَانِ الْحُوْتُ وَالْجَرَادُ وَالدَّمَانِ الْكَبِدُ وَالطِّحَالُ۔ (رواه احمد وابن ماجة والدار قطنی)

4132. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said,

---

[1] Tirmidhi # 1478.
[2] Abu Dawud # 3790.
[3] Abu Dawud # 3806.

"Two kinds of animals that have died (without being slaughtered) and two kinds of blood are made lawful for us. The two kinds of unslaughtered dead animals are the fish and the locust. The two kinds of blood are the liver and the spleen."[1]

FISH THAT DIES IN WATER DIES IN WATER & SURFACES

(٤١٣٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا أَلْقَاهُ الْبَحْرُ وَجَزَرَ عَنْهُ الْمَاءُ فَكُلُوْهُ وَمَا مَاتَ فِيْهِ وَطَفَا فَلَا تَأْكُلُوْهُ رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَقَالَ مُحْيِ السُّنَّةِ الْأَكْثَرُوْنَ عَلٰى أَنَّهُ مَوْقُوْفٌ عَلٰى جَابِرٍ۔

4133. Sayyiduna Abu Zubayr رضی اللہ عنہ reported that (Sayyiduna) Jabir narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "That (fish) which the sea throws (at the shore) or is left without water (when it dries up or changes course), you may eat (that fish). But that (fish which dies in the sea and surfaces, do not eat it."

Muhyi us sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) says that many (scholars) have contended that this hadith is mawqit at Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ (meaning, these are not words of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم [2]

COMMENTARY: Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ abides by this hadith and rules that the fish that dies in water (and surfaces) is unlawful. But, Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ and Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ contend that this fish may be eat en because of the categorical statement (without making an exception) of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم:

أُحِلَّ لَكُمُ الْمَيْتَتَانِ

(Two dead animals that have died without being slaughtered are lawful to you – previous hadith).

The Hanafis contend that these words mean the fish that the sea throws and they die because of that. Those that die a natural death in the water are not included in the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying.

ABOUT LOCUSTS

(٤١٣٤) وَعَنْ سَلْمَانَ قَالَ سُئِلَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الْجَرَادِ فَقَالَ أَكْثَرُ جُنُوْدِ اللّٰهِ لَا آكُلُهُ وَلَا أُحَرِّمُهُ رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَقَالَ مُحْيِ السُّنَّةِ ضَعِيْفٌ۔

4134. Sayyiduna Salman رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was asked about the locusts (whether they may be eaten). He said, "They are the largest of Allah's hosts (among birds). Neither do I eat them (for personal tastes) not do I declare them to be unlawful." (For Allah has made them lawful in the light of the hadith # 4132).[3]

COMMENTARY: Locusts are Allah's hosts because when He is angry at any people, He sends swarms of locusts on them. They devour their fields and trees bringing in their wake famine and drought. Entire habitations have been wiped out previously.

---

[1] Ibn Majah # 3815, Musnad Ahmad.

[2] Abu Dawud # 3813.

[3] Abu Dawud # 3813.

As for eating them, all the four imams rule that it is allowed to eat locusts. They go by most ahadith. The locust may have died a natural death, or may been slaughtered, or died during hunting by Muslims or the Majusis. Also, something may or may not have been cut off from them.

COCK MAY NOT BE REVILED

(٤١٣٥) وَعَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ سَبِّ الدِّيْكِ وَقَالَ اِنَّهٗ يُؤَذِّنُ لِلصَّلٰوةِ۔ (رواه فی شرح السنة)

4135. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Khalid رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade that the cock should be reviled. He said, "Certainly, it calls (men) for the salah (prayer)."[1]

COMMENTARY: This refers to the salah (prayer) of taHajj (pilgrimage)ud (super erogatory prayer). The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم woke up for taHajj (pilgrimage)ud (super erogatory prayer) when the cock crowed.

But this might also refer to the salah (prayer) of fajr.

We may ponder how bad it is to revile a human being when a good quality in a bird or animal precludes one from reviling it.

(٤١٣٦) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَسُبُّوا الدِّيْكَ فَاِنَّهٗ يُوْقِظُ لِلصَّلٰوةِ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4136. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Khalid رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Do not revile the cock, for, it wakens (us) for salah (prayer)."[2]

ON FINDING SNAKE IN THE HOUSE

(٤١٣٧) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ ابْنِ اَبِي لَيْلٰى قَالَ قَالَ اَبُوْ لَيْلٰى قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا ظَهَرَتِ الْحَيَّةُ فِي الْمَسْكَنِ فَقُوْلُوْا لَهَا اِنَّا نَسْئَلُكَ بِعَهْدِ نُوْحٍ وَّ بِعَهْدِ سُلَيْمَانَ ابْنِ دَاوٗدَ اَنْ لَا تُؤْذِيْنَا فَاِنْ عَادَتْ فَاقْتُلُوْهَا۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4137. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Abu Layla رحمه الله reported that (Sayyiduna) Abu Layla رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "when a snake is seen in the house, say to it, 'we ask you by the covenant made with Nuh علیه السلام and the covenant made with Sulayman علیه السلام son of Dawud علیه السلام, do not harm us.' If it comes back then kill it."[3]

COMMENTARY: Prophet Nuh علیه السلام had got an assurance from the snakes, when he had taken them on his ship, that they would not hurt anyone.

WARNING AGAINST SPARING SNAKE FOR FEAR OF REPRISAL

(٤١٣٨) وَعَنْ عِكْرَمَةَ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ لَا اَعْلَمُهٗ اِلَّا رَفَعَ الْحَدِيْثَ اَنَّهٗ كَانَ يَاْمُرُ بِقَتْلِ الْحَيَّاتِ وَقَالَ مَنْ

تَرَكَهُنَّ خَشْيَةَ ثَائِرٍ فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا۔ (رواه فى شرح السنة)

4138. Sayyiduna Ikrimah رحمه الله reported from Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه saying. "I do not know but he traced it back to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that he commanded that snakes should be killed and he would say, "If anyone spares them fearing a reprisal, then he does not belong to us." (He does not eliminate a harmful animal and does not rely on Allah.)[1]

COMMENTARY: Fearing a reprisal means one may be afraid lest other snakes seize revenge for killing their mate. During the jahiliyah (ignorance period), the Arabs believed that if they killed a snake, its mate would sting the killer. So they refrained from killing snakes.

(٤١٣٩) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا سَالَمْنَاهُمْ مُنْذُ حَارَبْنَاهُمْ وَمَنْ تَرَكَ شَيْأً مِّنْهُمْ خِيْفَةً فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4139. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, 'We have not made peace with them (snakes) ever since we began to fight with them. Hence, if any one spares any of them because of fear (of reprisal by itself or its mate) then he does not belong to us."[2]

COMMENTARY: The words in another version are: 'ever since the snakes and we have antagonized one another.' Their antagonism is natural. Each tries to hurt the other. The ulama (Scholars) say that this fight and enimity dates back to the hostility between Sayyiduna Aadam عليه السلام and the snake. When the accursed Iblis decided to enter paradise to entice Sayyiduna Aadam, عليه السلام, he was prevented to go in by the gate keeper. So, the snake come to the aid of Iblis. It took him in its mouth and conveyed him into paradise.

There, Iblis trapped both Sayyiduna Aadam عليه السلام and Sayyidah Hawwa عليها السلام in his net. He lured them into eating from the tree to approach which they were forbidden. Consequently, they were expelled from paradise. Allah told them -meaning Sayyiduna Aadam عليه السلام, Sayyidah Hawwa عليها السلام and Iblis and the snake:

اِهْبِطُوا بَعْضُكُمْ لِبَعْضٍ عَدُوٌّ

{Get you down, all with enmity between yourselves...} (2: 36)

It is said that the snake used to be good looking. When he became a tool in the hands of Iblis, his appearance was transformed. So, the snake deserves to be despised and antagonized.

The pronominal suffix used for snakes is the one reserved for intelligent beings. This is because peace is ascribed to them: 'we have not made peace with them.'

(٤١٤٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اُقْتُلُوا الْحَيَّاتِ كُلَّهُنَّ فَمَنْ خَافَ ثَارَهُنَّ فَلَيْسَ مِنِّيْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائى)

4140. Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "kill the snakes - all of them! He who apprehends their retribution does not belongs to me."[1]

COMMENTARY: While this hadith calls for killing all snakes, the awamir must be spared. The awamir are they who live in homes. Or, we may say that this hadith calls for killing them after first sounding a warning as stated in a previous hadith of Abu Sa'ib رضی اللہ عنہ (# 4118)

(٤١٤١) وَعَنِ الْعَبَّاسِ قَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّا نُرِيْدُ اَنْ نَكْنُسَ زَمْزَمَ وَإِنَّ فِيْهَا مِنْ هٰذِهِ الْجِنَّانِ يَعْنِي الْحَيَّاتِ الصِّغَارِ فَأَمَرَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِقَتْلِهِنَّ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4141. Sayyiduna Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ is reported to have said (one day), "O Messenger of Allah, we intend to clean the (well of) zamzam, but there are in it the jinan, meaning the small snakes. So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم commanded that the snakes should be killed.[2]

COMMENTARY: Since the well could be cleaned only when all the snakes were eliminated, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had that done. When it was possible to make an exception of some, he mentioned that as we shall see in the next hadith.

DO NOT KILL THE WHITE SMALL SNAKES

(٤١٤٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اُقْتُلُوا الْحَيَّاتِ كُلَّهَا إِلَّا الْجَانَّ الْاَبْيَضَ الَّذِيْ كَاَنَّهٗ قَضِيْبُ فِضَّةٍ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4142. Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'Kill all the snakes but not white jaan, meaning the small that looks like a silver wand."[3]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps this snake was made an exception because they did not hurt anyone.

WHEN A FLY DROP IN FOOD & DRINK

(٤١٤٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا وَقَعَ الذُّبَابُ فِيْ إِنَاءِ اَحَدِكُمْ فَامْقُلُوْهُ فَإِنَّ فِيْ اَحَدِ جَنَاحَيْهِ دَاءً وَفِي الْاٰخَرِ شِفَاءً فَإِنَّهٗ يَتَّقِيْ بِجَنَاحِهِ الَّذِيْ فِيْهِ الدَّاءُ فَلْيَغْمِسْهُ كُلَّهٗ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4143. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If a fly lands in the vessel of one of you, immense it in it (completely), for, in one of its wings is disease and in the other healing. Since it lands on the diseased wing, put all of it in."[4] (See hadith # 4115)

(٤١٤٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِذَا وَقَعَ الذُّبَابُ فِي الطَّعَامِ فَامْقُلُوْهُ فَإِنَّ فِيْ اَحَدِ جَنَاحَيْهِ سَمًّا وَّفِي الْاٰخَرِ شِفَاءً فَإِنَّهٗ يُقَدِّمُ السَّمَّ وَيُؤَخِّرُ الشِّفَاءَ۔ (رواہ فی شرح السنۃ)

said, "If a fly drop in food, put it in (completely), for, one of its wings has poison and the other an antidote. It lands on poison first and defers the antidote."[1]

FOUR CREATURES MUST NOT BE KILLED

(٤١٤٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ قَتْلِ اَرْبَعٍ مِنَ الدَّوَابِّ النَّمْلَةِ وَالنَّحْلَةِ وَالْهُدْهُدِ وَالصُّرَدِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والدارمی)

4145. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the killing of four creatures: Ants, bees, hoopoes sparrow hawks.[2]

COMMENTARY: The ants should be killed only when they sting. That is allowed. Some people say that the disallowance is to kill the ants that have long legs because they do not cause harm.

The bees or honey bees are beneficial to man. They provide honey and wax.

The hoopoe and the sparrow hawks are forbidden to be killed because their meat is forbidden to eat, anyway. Besides, the former is bad-smelling and comes under the category of jalalah.

The Arabs used to attach bad omen to the cry of these two birds. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم disallowed that these two creatures should be killed so that the people may give up their superstion about them.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

PERSONAL WHIMS DO NOT DICTATE WHAT IS LAWFUL & UNLAWFUL

(٤١٤٦) عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَ اَهْلُ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ يَاْكُلُوْنَ اَشْيَاءَ وَيَتْرُكُوْنَ اَشْيَاءَ تَقَذُّرًا فَبَعَثَ اللّٰهُ نَبِيَّهُ وَاَنْزَلَ كِتَابَهُ وَاَحَلَّ حَلَالَهُ وَحَرَّمَ حَرَامَهُ فَمَا اَحَلَّ فَهُوَ حَلَالٌ وَمَا حَرَّمَ فَهُوَ حَرَامٌ وَمَا سَكَتَ عَنْهُ فَهُوَ عَفْوٌ وَتَلَا قُلْ لَّا اَجِدُ فِيْمَآ اُوْحِيَ اِلَيَّ مُحَرَّمًا عَلٰى طَاعِمٍ يَّطْعَمُهٗ اِلَّا اَنْ يَّكُوْنَ مَيْتَتًا اَوْدَمًا الْاٰيَة (رواه ابوداؤد)

4146. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the people of the jahiliyah (ignorance period) ate some things and gave up some other things (going by their personal likes and dislikes). Then Allah sent His prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and revealed His Book (to His Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم for his ummah) declaring His lawful as lawful and His unlawful as unlawful. So that He declared as lawful and what He declared unlawful is unlawful is unlawful and when He said nothing about something, it is permitted. And, Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ recited:

قُلْ لَّا اَجِدُ فِيْمَآ اُوْحِيَ اِلَيَّ مُحَرَّمًا عَلٰى طَاعِمٍ يَّطْعَمُهٗ اِلَّا اَنْ يَّكُوْنَ مَيْتَتًا اَوْدَمًا الْاٰيَة

{Say: 'I find not in the Message received by me by inspiration any (meat) forbidden to be eaten by one who wishes to eat it, unless it be dead meat, or blood poured forth...}[3] (6: 145)

COMMENTARY: Through His Prophet whom He sent and His Book that He revealed,

Allah made clear what is lawful.
The entire verse that Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ had recited is:

قُلْ لَّا اَجِدُ فِيْمَآ اُوْحِيَ اِلَيَّ مُحَرَّمًا عَلٰى طَاعِمٍ يَّطْعَمُهٗٓ اِلَّا اَنْ يَّكُوْنَ مَيْتَةً اَوْ دَمًا مَّسْفُوْحًا اَوْ لَحْمَ خِنْزِيْرٍ فَاِنَّهٗ رِجْسٌ اَوْ فِسْقًا اُهِلَّ لِغَيْرِ اللّٰهِ بِهٖ۔ (الانعام ٦: ١٤٥)

{Say, I find not in the Message received by me by inspiration any (meat) forbidden to be eaten by one who wishes to eat it, unless it be dead meat or blood poured forth, or the flesh of swine for it is an abomination - or what is impious (meat) on which a name has been invoked other than Allah's But (even so), if a person is forced by necessity, without willful disobedience, nor transgressing due limits - Your Lord is Oft for giving, Most Merciful} (6: 145)

Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ recited this verse to refute those people who make something lawful or unlawful at their personal whim. Only the animals named in this verse are unlawful. Other things that are known through the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) to be unlawful are not mentioned by him because they are numerous.

FLESH OF ASS FORBIDDEN

(٤١٤٧) وَعَنْ زَاهِرِ الْاَسْلَمِيِّ قَالَ اِنِّيْ لَاُوقِدُ تَحْتَ الْقُدُوْرِ بِلُحُوْمِ الْحُمُرِ اِذْ نَادٰى مُنَادِيْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَنْهَاكُمْ عَنْ لُحُوْمِ الْحُمُرِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4147. Sayyiduna Zahir al Aslamiy رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I was kindling fire under the vessel containing flesh of ass (to cook it) when the crier from Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم announced, "Surely Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbids you (to eat) the flesh of asses."[1]

KINDS OF JINNS

(٤١٤٨) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ ثَعْلَبَةَ الْخُشَنِيِّ يَرْفَعُهُ الْجِنُّ ثَلَاثَةُ اَصْنَافٍ صِنْفٌ لَهُمْ اَجْنِحَةٌ يَطِيْرُوْنَ فِي الْهَوَاءِ وَصِنْفٌ حَيَّاتٌ وَكِلَابٌ وَصِنْفٌ يَحُلُّوْنَ وَيَظْعَنُوْنَ۔ (رواه فی شرح السنة)

4148. Sayyiduna Abu Tha'labah Khushaniy رضی اللہ عنہ narrated in a marfu manner (that Allah's Messenger said:) "The jinns of three kinds.

1. a kind that have wings and fly in the air,
2. another that take the form of snakes and dogs, and,
3. another that halt at places and travel ahead."[2]

CHAPTER - IV

THE 'AQIQAH' بَابُ الْعَقِيْقَةِ

The word 'aqiqah (عقيقة) is derived from 'aqq (عق) which means 'to rip,' 'to tear' In the terminology of Shari'ah (divine law), aqiqah means the hair on the head of the new-born. These hair are shaved off on the seventh day. Accordingly, this word, aqiqah, is also applied to the sheep or goat that is sacrificed on the day when the hair is shaved off.

SHARI'AH (DIVINE LAW) POSITION: According to Imam Ahmad رحمه الله, Imam Maalik رحمه الله and Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله aqiqah is a sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). Most ahadith also say so. Imam Ahmad رحمه الله is also known to have called it wajib (obligatory). Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله is said to have termed it mustahab (desirable), not a sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) and he said that his verdict is based on the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم traditions.

The well known mujtahid of the Hanafis, Imam Muhammad رحمه الله, has stated in his muwatta:

"As for the aqiqah, it has reached us that it used to be done in the jahiliyah (ignorance period) and was done in the beginning of Islam, but that later the adha (sacrifice of the Hajj (pilgrimage)) abrogated every sacrifice that had been before it, and fasting the month of Ramadan abrogated every fast which there had been before it, and the ghusl (bath) after sexual activity abrogated every ghusl which used to be done before it, and zakah (Annual due charity) abrogates every sadaqah (charity) that was done before it. That is how it has reached us."[1]

COMMENTARY: The same commands and conditions apply to aqiqah as the commands and conditions that apply to sacrifice.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

COMMAND TO OBSERVE AQIQAH

(٤١٤٩) عَنْ سَلْمَانَ بْنِ عَامِرِ الضَّبِّيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَعَ الْغُلَامِ عَقِيْقَةٌ فَاهْرِيْقُوْا عَنْهُ دَمًا وَّاَمِيْطُوْا عَنْهُ الْاَذٰى۔ (رواه البخارى)

4149. Sayyiduna Salman ibn Aamir Dabbiy رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "There is along with a son an aqiqah. So, shed blood on his behalf (by slaughtering an animal for him) and remove from him the harm (meaning, the hair on the head and the impurities)."[2]

TAHNEEK IS MASNUN (HOLY PROPHET'S PRACTICE)

(٤١٥٠) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يُؤْتٰى بِالصِّبْيَانِ فَيُبَرِّكُ عَلَيْهِمْ وَيُحَنِّكُهُمْ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4150. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that new born were brought to Allah's

Messenger and he invoked blessings on them (by praying (بارک اللہ علیک) - may Allah shower blessing and mercy on you). And he performed their tahneek (by chewing and softening some dates and rubbing their palates with their juice).[1]

COMMENTARY: Dates or anything sweet is chewed and applied to the child's palate. It is musnun and it is preferable if a pious and righteous man does it.

(٤١٥١) وَعَنْ اَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ اَبِيْ بَكْرٍ اَنَّهَا حَمَلَتْ بِعَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ بِمَكَّةَ قَالَتْ فَوَلَدْتُ بِقُبَاءٍ ثُمَّ اَتَيْتُ بِهٖ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَوَضَعْتُهُ فِيْ حَجْرِهٖ ثُمَّ دَعَا بِتَمْرَةٍ فَمَضَغَهَا ثُمَّ تَفَلَ فِيْ فِيْهِ ثُمَّ حَنَّكَهُ ثُمَّ دَعَا لَهُ وَبَرَّكَ عَلَيْهِ وَكَانَ اَوَّلُ مَوْلُوْدٍ وُلِدَ فِي الْاِسْلَامِ۔ (متفق علیه)

4151. Sayyidah Asma bint Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that she conceived Abdullah ibn Zubayr رضی اللہ عنہ in Makkah. She said that she gave birth to him in Quba. She took him to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and put him in his lap. Then he asked for a date, chewed it and inserted his saliva in his mouth (after it was moist with his saliva). Then he rubbed his palate (with it). After that, he made supplication for him and prayed for blessing on him. He (Abdullah) was the first child born in (the time of) Islam.[2]

COMMENTARY: Quba is about 1. 5 miles to the south west of Madinah. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had made his final stop here before proceeding to Madinah when he emigrated from Makkah. He stayed here for three or four days and built the mosque, Masjid Quba; where he had stayed. Though it is outside the limits of Madinah, yet it is regarded as part of it. It is a fertile place producing much fruit. The well, Bir Aris, is situated her. It is at this place that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had given glad tidings of paradise to some sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم. the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ring that he and the caliphs after him used as a seal had dropped in this well in the time of Sayyiduna Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ. Its water was very brackish but after the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم put his saliva into it, the water become very sweet. Now a days, however, it is dry.

The first child born to a muhajir (emigration) from Makkah was Abdullah ibn Zubair رضی اللہ عنہ, But, even before his birth, the first Muslim child, after hijrah, was to an ansar. The child was Nu'man ibn Bashir رضی اللہ عنہ.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

NUMBER OF ANIMALS FOR AQIQAH

(٤١٥٢) عَنْ اُمِّ كُرْزٍ قَالَتْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ اَقِرُّوا الطَّيْرَ عَلٰى مَكِنَاتِهَا قَالَتْ وَسَمِعْتُهُ يَقُوْلُ عَنِ الْغُلَامِ شَاتَانِ وَعَنِ الْجَارِيَةِ شَاةٌ وَلَا يَضُرُّكُمْ ذُكْرَانًا كُنَّ اَوْ اِنَاثًا رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالتِّرْمِذِيُّ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ مِنْ قَوْلِهٖ يَقُوْلُ عَنِ الْغُلَامِ اِلٰى اٰخِرِهٖ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ صَحِيْحٌ۔

4152. Sayyidah Umm Karz رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that she heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Let the birds be peaceful in their nests." She said that she heard him say

[1] Muslim # 101-286, Abu Dawud # 5106.

[2] Bukhari # 5469, Muslm # 26. 2146, Musnad Ahmad 6-347, also, "Two sheep may be sacrificed on behalf of a male child (in aqiqah), and one on behalf of a female child. But, it does not harm you if the sheep are male or female." Tirmidhi and Nasa'i transmitted it from "two sheep" to the end.[1]

COMMENTARY: Birds must not be disturbed in their nests, nor when they are hatching their eggs. It could also mean, 'do not take ill omen from them.' The Arabs used to come to a nest and disturb it. If the bird inside took flight to the right side that was a good omen and the man went ahead with the work in his mind. If it flew to the left side, he abandoned his plans. This is called tatayyur (تطير). The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that the bird must be left to itself and not made to fly away.

IMPORTANCE OF AQIQAH

(٤١٥٣) وَعَنِ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْغُلَامُ مُرْتَهَنٌ بِعَقِيْقَتِهٖ يُذْبَحُ عَنْهُ يَوْمَ السَّابِعِ وَيُسَمّٰى وَيُحْلَقُ رَأْسُهٗ رَوَاهُ اَحْمَدُ وَالتِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ لٰكِنَّ فِي رِوَايَتِهِمَا رَهِيْنَةٌ بَدَلَ مُرْتَهَنٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِاَحْمَدَ وَاَبِيْ دَاوٗدَ وَيُدَمّٰى مَكَانَ وَيُسَمّٰى وَقَالَ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَيُسَمّٰى اَصَحُّ۔

4153. Sayyiduna Hasan رحمه الله (Busri) reported that (Sayyiduna) Samurah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, 'Every child is in pledge for its aqiqah. On the seventh day a sacrifice is made for it (for its aqiqah), a name is given to it and its head is shaved."

A version is: "Every child is a pledge" (رهينة) instead of 'in pledge' (مرتهن). Another version is: "is smeared with blood" (ويدمى) instead of 'a name is given' (يسمى). Abu Dawud, however, says that (يسمى) is correct.[2]

COMMENTARY: The new born is not responsible in any way. So, if his aqiqah is not performed he cannot be blamed on punished. As for being pledged, Imam Ahmad رحمه الله said that if his aqiqah is not performed and he dies in infancy, then he will not be allowed to intercede for his parents unless they perform his aqiqah.

Some others say that if they do not perform his aqiqah, he is precluded from everything good, peace and ideal growth. The evil consequences are borne by the parents.

Yet others say that the child will continue to remain in filth and injury or harm.

According to a hadith:

فَاَمِيْطُوْا عَنْهُ الْاَذٰى

(Remove from him the impurity, meaning hair, dirt, blood, etc.)

When a child's aqiqa is performed, he is relieved from harm and injury.

The child is also given a name. Some versions say the child is smeared with blood. Abu Dawud رحمه الله says that the former version is correct. But Qatadah رحمه الله said that some hair of the child may be soaked in the blood of the animal when it is slaughtered. Then the hair must be placed on the crown of the child's head so that the blood forms a streak on the crown of its head. Then the child's hair must be shaved off. However, the compiler of safar us Sa'adah writes that this practice should not be followed and the word (يدمى) in the version is a narrator's slip. It is not known at all from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and he never did it too. He performed the aqiqah of Imam Hasan رحمه الله and Imam Husayn رحمه الله but he did not do this thing. This practice pertains to the jahiliyah (ignorance period) and was abrogated as is evident from the hadith # 4158 (to follow).

Khattabi رحمه الله said that filth and injury must be removed from the child, then how will he condone smearing of blood on his head? Some ulama (Scholars) say that, instead fragrance like saffron (or Khuluq) should e applied to the child.

ONE SHEEP/GOAT ON BEHALF OF MALE CHILD

(٤١٥٤) وَعَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَلِيِّ بْنِ حُسَيْنٍ عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ اَبِيْ طَالِبٍ قَالَ عَقَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الْحَسَنِ بِشَاةٍ وَقَالَ يَا فَاطِمَةُ اَحْلِقِيْ رَاْسَهُ وَ تَصَدَّقِيْ بِزِنَةِ شَعْرِهِ فِضَّةً فَوَزَنَّاهُ فَكَانَ وَزْنُهُ دِرْهَمًا اَوْبَعْضَ دِرْهَمٍ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ وَاِسْنَادُهُ لَيْسَ بِمُتَّصِلٍ لِاَنَّ مُحَمَّدَ بْنَ عَلِيِّ بْنِ حُسَيْنٍ لَمْ يُدْرِكْ عَلِيَّ بْنَ اَبِيْ طَالِبٍ۔

4154. Sayyiduna Muhammad ibn Husayn رحمه الله reported that (Sayyiduna) Ali ibn Abu Talib رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم sacrificed one sheep for the aqiqah of Hasan رضى الله عنه (his grandson and Ali's رضى الله عنه son). He said (at the time), "O Fatimah shave his head and give silver of the weight of his hair as sadaqah (charity)." They weighed it and it came to a dirham or part of a dirham.[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith confirms that one sheep or goat may be slaughtered for a boy's aqiqah. The next hadith upholds this point, but Nasa'i mentions two vams in its version of the next hadith. However, the compiler of Safar us Sa'adah says that while one animal is allowed, the stronger opinion, and more correct, is about the Prophet's directive to slaughter two sheep on behalf of a male child. So, what is known as his saying is stronger and preferable than what he is said to have done, for, it may have been an exceptional case. Oral directive means both permissibility and a preferred course while an action is mere evidence of permissibility. Tirmidhi رحمه الله states that in this case the traditions are narrated that by these sahabah: رضى الله عنه (Sayyiduna) Ali, رضى الله عنه Ayshah رضى الله عنها Umm Kurz, رضى الله عنه Buraydah رضى الله عنه, Samurah رضى الله عنه, Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه, Abdullah ibn Umar رضى الله عنه, Anas رضى الله عنه, Salman ibn Aamir رضى الله عنه and ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه.

Mulla Ali Qari رضى الله عنه said that perhaps the mustahab (desirable) course for a male child may be one sheep and the perfectly mustahab (desirable) two goats. Besides, it is not necessary that both the sheep or goats must be sacrificed on the same day. Hence, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم may have sacrificed one sheep or ram on the birth of his grandson and the second on the seventh day. Or, he may have sacrificed only one and may have instructed his son-in-law (Ali) رضى الله عنه or his daughter to sacrifice the second sheep or ram. Hence, the traditions that mention that he sacrificed sheep or one ram state the facts and those that say that he sacrificed two. State the legal position figuratively (one by himself and the other by his son-in-law or daughter).

Then he instructed his daughter to have child's hair shaved off and weighed against silver.

(٤١٥٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهُ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَقَّ عَنِ الْحَسَنِ وَالْحُسَيْنِ كَبْشًا كَبْشًا رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَعِنْدَ النَّسَائِيِّ كَبْشَيْنِ كَبْشَيْنِ۔

4155. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sacrificed for the aqiqah of (his grandsons) Hasan رضی اللہ عنہ and Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ one ram, each.[1] Accordingly to the other version of Nasa'i: (he sacrificed) two rams, each.[2]

AQIQAH TO PREVENT UQUQ

(٤١٥٦) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ سُئِلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهُ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الْعَقِيْقَةِ فَقَالَ لَا يُحِبُّ اللّٰهُ الْعُقُوْقَ كَأَنَّهٗ كَرِهَ الْاِسْمَ وَقَالَ مَنْ وُلِدَ لَهٗ وَلَدٌ فَأَحَبَّ أَنْ يَنْسُكَ عَنْهُ فَلْيَنْسُكْ عَنِ الْغُلَامِ شَاتَيْنِ وَعَنِ الْجَارِيَةِ شَاةً۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4156. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمہ اللہ reported on the authority of his father that his grandfather narrated: Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was asked about the aqiqah. He said Allah does not like Uquq. Perhaps, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like this deed to be ascribed to the noun (or name) aqiqah. Then, he said, "He who has a child born to him, it is desirable that he must offer a sacrifice on its behalf. He must offer two sheep for a boy and one for a girl."[3]
(uquq is breaking ties of kinship.)

COMMENTARY: Allah does not like uquq because if anyone does not perform the aqiqah of his child then he is severing ties of kinship with his child (making uquq with him) and then the child will grow up and be disobedient to his parents and keep away from them. That will be his uquq. Hence, the first portion of the hadith is a warning.

The words 'perhaps Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like this deed to be ascribed to aqiqah' are the sub narrator's. He meant that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like the word aqiqah lest anyone be confused with its being derived from uquq (and aq) (عق), which means being rebellious to parents. He preferred to call it by the name (ذبیحة) (dhabihah) or (نسیکة) (nasikah) - Nihayah.

Toorpushti رحمہ اللہ however, said that it is not proper to attribute these words to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم because he has mentioned aqiqah in many of his sayings. He said that it is possible that the man who had put the question was concerned about the root word of both aqiqah and uquq being common. He may have been confused that, in this case. Aqiqah was not much important. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم set his confusion at rest.

Shaykh Abdul Haq Muhaddith Dahlawi رحمہ اللہ has explained the foregoing words of Nihayah that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم may have used the word aqiqah in certain ahadith before he disliked its connexion with uquq.

MASNUN TO CALL THE ADHAN IN CHILD'S EAR

(٤١٥٧) وَعَنْ اَبِي رَافِعٍ قَالَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَذَّنَ فِيْ أُذُنِ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ عَلِي حِيْنَ وَلَدَتْهُ فَاطِمَةُ بِالصَّلٰوةِ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ صَحِيْحٌ۔

4157. Sayyiduna Abu Rafi رضی اللہ عنہ said that he saw Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم call the adhan in the ear of Hasan ibn Ali رضی اللہ عنہ when Sayyidah Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہ gave birth to him. It was the adhan (that is called) for the salah (prayer).[1]

COMMENTARY: It is sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) to call the adhan in the ear of the new-born. Sayyiduna Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that in a marfu form (the words of the Prophet) صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم as transmitted by Musnad Abu Yala that if the adhan is pronounced in the right ear of a new born and the iqamah in its left ear then umm Sibyan will not cause it harm. (Umm sibyan is a kind of epilepsy. The child gets nocturnal fright.)

Imam Nawawi رحمہ اللہ wrote in Kitab-ur Rawdah that it is mustahab (desirable) to utter these words in the child's ear:

اِنِّيْ أُعِيْذُهَا بِكَ وَذُرِّيَّتَهَا مِنَ الشَّيْطٰنِ الرَّجِيْمِ

(I seek protection for her and for her progeny with you from the accursed satan) - These are words of supplication for Sayyidah Maryam علیہ السلام by her mother, the wife of Imran (maternal grandfather of Prophet Easa علیہ السلام. (Aal Imran, 3: 36)

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

THE DAY OF AQIQAH

(٤١٥٨) عَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ قَالَ كُنَّا فِي الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ اِذَا وُلِدَ لِاَحِدِنَا غُلَامٌ ذَبَحَ شَاةً وَلَطَخَ رَاسَهُ بِدَمِهَا فَلَمَّا جَآءَ الْاِسْلَامُ كُنَّا نَذْبَحُ الشَّاةَ يَوْمَ السَّابِعِ وَنَحْلِقُ رَأْسَهُ وَنَلْطَخُهُ بِزَعْفِرَانٍ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَزَادَ رَزِيْنٌ وَنُسَمِّيْهِ۔

4158. Sayyidah Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated: when a boy was born to any of us during the `jahiliyan, he slaughtered a sheep and daubed his head with its blood. When Islam was here, we slaughtered a sheep on the seventh day, shaved his head and spread saffron on it.

Razin added: And we named him (on the seventh day).[2]

COMMENTARY: According to most ahadith, a new born's aqiqah must be preformed on the seventh day of its birth.

Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ and Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ say that if it is not possible on the seventh day then it may be performed on the fourteenth day and so on in weekly additions: 21st, 28th, 35th....

According to a tradition, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم performed his own aqiqah after he was commissioned as Prophet because he could not know if his aqiqah had been performed on the day of his birth, or not. However, the sanad (line of transmission) of this tradition is weak. Besides, it seems for fetched.

According to Imam Maalik, it is not proper to break the bones of the aqiqah. Rather, the flesh must be separated and the bones must be buried.

Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله said that it is proper to break the bones. It is written in the books of the Shafi'is that if the meat of aqiqah is cooked and given away as sadaqah (charity) then it is better. If something sweet is prepared with it and given in charity that is best. It augurs well for the child's good character.[1]

BOOK - XX

"FOODS" كتاب الاطعمة

In these chapter, such ahadith are narrated as disclose the things that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم ate and those that he did not eat.
These ahadith also speak of manners of eating and drinking.

SECTION I الفصل الاوّل

THREE THINGS TO REMEMBER WHEN EATING

(٤١٥٩) عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ قَالَ كُنْتُ غُلَامًا فِي حَجْرِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَكَانَتْ يَدِي تَطِيْشُ فِي الصَّحْفَةِ فَقَالَ لِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَمِّ اللّٰهَ وَكُلْ بِيَمِيْنِكَ وَكُلْ مِمَّا يَلِيْكَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4159. Sayyiduna Umar ibn Abu Salamah رضى الله عنه narrated that he was a boy under the care and guardianship of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم (While eating with him,) his hand stretched all around the dish (one day). So, he said to him, "Say bismillah (meaning, begin with Allah's name), eat with right hand. Eating from what is nearest to you."[1]

COMMENTARY: Three basic manners of eating are mentioned in this hadith. The ulama (Scholars) say that they are of the kind of mustahab (desirable). Other ahadith say that after eating are must say al-hamdulillah (praise belongs of Allah).
Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله and others say that if one says bismillah when many are seated then it is enough for all. Bismillah is also recited when drinking water and taking medicine. Some ulama (Scholars) say that the command to eat with the right hand is wajib (obligatory).

SIGNIFICANCE OF SAYING BISMILLAH

(٤١٦٠) وَعَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَسْتَحِلُّ الطَّعَامَ أَنْ لَا يُذْكَرَ اسْمُ اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4160. Sayyiduna Hudhayfah رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Surely, the devil regards such food lawful for him on which the name of Allah is not mentioned."[2]

COMMENTARY: When bismillah is not recited the devil becomes capable of eating that food. Or, it is as if the devil devoured it. Or, the food was wasted against Allah's will.

(٤١٦١) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا دَخَلَ الرَّجُلُ بَيْتَهُ فَذَكَرَ اللّٰهَ عِنْدَ دُخُوْلِهٖ وَعِنْدَ طَعَامِهٖ قَالَ الشَّيْطَانُ لَا مَبِيْتَ لَكُمْ وَلَا عَشَاءَ وَإِذَا دَخَلَ فَلَمْ يَذْكُرِ اللّٰهَ عِنْدَ دُخُوْلِهٖ قَالَ الشَّيْطَانُ أَدْرَكْتُمُ الْمَبِيْتَ وَإِذَا لَمْ يَذْكُرِ اللّٰهَ عِنْدَ طَعَامِهٖ قَالَ أَدْرَكْتُمُ الْمَبِيْتَ وَالْعَشَاءَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4161. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When a man enters his house (meaning, his bedroom) and mentions Allah's name and so when he eat s his food, the devil says (to his associates), 'There is no place for you (in this house) for the night and no dinner.' But, when he enters and fails to mention Allah, the devil says (to them). 'You have found a place here to spend the night.' When he does not mention Allah at his meal, the devil says (to them), 'you have found here a place for the night and food too for dinner."[1]

USING THE RIGHT HAND TO EAT & DRINK

(٤١٦٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أَكَلَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَأْكُلْ بِيَمِيْنِهٖ وَإِذَا شَرِبَ فَلْيَشْرَبْ بِيَمِيْنِهٖ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4162. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When any of you eats, he must eat with his right hand. When he drinks, he must drink with his right hand."[2]

COMMENTARY: The command in the hadith seems to be of the nature of wajib (obligatory). A tradition in Muslim supports it. Sayyiduna Salamah ibn Akwa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saw a man partaking food with his left hand, so he instructed him to eat with his right hand. The man pleaded that he was unable to use his right hand to eat. (The narrator said that his right hand was unimpaired and strong. He merely boasted and was haughty.) so, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "May you never be able to use your right hand." Thereafter this man could not use his right hand at all.

Tabarani has a tradition that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saw salbiyah Aslamiyah eating with his left land. So he prayed for his downfall. As a result, he fell a victim to plague and died of it.

In spite of that, the majority of the ulama (Scholars) say that the command to eat and drink with the right hand is of the nature of mustahab (desirable), not wajib (obligatory). They say of these traditions that they are to encourage and to warn.

DO NOT USE LEFT HAND FOR FOOD & DRINK

(٤١٦٣) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَأْكُلَنَّ أَحَدُكُمْ بِشِمَالِهٖ وَلَا يَشْرَبَنَّ بِهَا فَإِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَأْكُلُ بِشِمَالِهٖ وَيَشْرَبُ بِهَا۔ (رواه مسلم)

[2] Muslim # 105. 2020, Tirmidhi # 1800.

[3] Muslim # 105-2020, Tirmidhi # 1799.

COMMENTARY: Toorpushti رحمه الله said that the hadith means that those who eat and drink with the left hand are influenced by the devil and follow him. He entices them to eat and drink with their left hand.

Teebi رحمه الله however, said that the meaning is exactly as the hadith says.

Hasan ibn Sufyan رحمه الله reported from Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه this tradition "When any of you eats, he must eat with his right hand and he must drink with his right hand. He must take something from another with his right hand and give with his right hand, because the devil eats and drinks and takes and gives with his left hand."

USING THREE FINGERS TO EAT

(٤١٦٤) وَعَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَأْكُلُ بِثَلَاثَةِ أَصَابِعَ وَيَلْعَقُ يَدَهُ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَّمْسَحَهَا۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4164. Sayyiduna Ka'b ibn Maalik رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم ate with three fingers and (after eating, he) licked his hand before wiping it (or washing it).[1]

COMMENTARY: Nawawi رحمه الله said that it is sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) to eat with these three fingers. So one must not use the remaining two fingers.

The fingers that must be used to eat are: the thumb, the index finger and the middle finger. The other two fingers must be used only when necessary.

To lick the hand is to lick the fingers that were used to eat beginning with the middle finger and ending with the thumb.

Tabarani رحمه الله has transmitted from Aamir ibn Rabi'ah رضی الله عنه that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم used to eat with three fingers but also joined the fourth finger to support them.

According to a mursal hadith, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم ate with all five fingers. Perhaps he did it to show admissibility. However, he often ate with only three fingers.

Some versions have 'wiped it (his hand) with something.' And also: 'then he washed it.'

(٤١٦٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَمَرَ بِلَعْقِ الْأَصَابِعِ وَالصَّحْفَةِ وَقَالَ إِنَّكُمْ لَا تَدْرُوْنَ فِيْ أَيِّهِ الْبَرَكَةُ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4165. Sayyiduna Jabir رحمه الله said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم commanded them to lick their fingers and the plate (after eating). He said, "You cannot say in which portion blessing lies."[2]

You cannot say where blessing lies and in what food, the one you have eaten or that which you will lick. So, the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) is to lick the fingers and clean up what lies on them, not merely to put the fingers in the mouth.

(٤١٦٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِذَا أَكَلَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلَا يَمْسَحْ يَدَهُ حَتّٰى يَلْعَقَهَا أَوْ يُلْعِقَهَا۔ (متفق علیه)

4166. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said. "When any of you has eaten (his food), let him not wipe his hand (or wash it) till he licked

[1] Muslim # 131-2032, Musnad Ahmad 3-454.

[2] Muslim # 133-2033.

it (meaning its fingers), or has someone else lick them."[1]

COMMENTARY: If he does not himself lick his fingers then he must get one who is not repulsed by it to do it. Examples are family members and slaves who will not repulsed but will be happy to do it. Student and those who deem it to be an honour will also be happy to do it.

IF ANY FOOD YOU DROP, CLEAN & EAT IT

(٤١٦٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَحْضُرُ أَحَدَكُمْ عِنْدَ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مِنْ شَأْنِهِ حَتَّى يَحْضُرَهُ عِنْدَ طَعَامِهِ فَإِذَا سَقَطَتْ مِنْ أَحَدِكُمُ اللُّقْمَةُ فَلْيُمِطْ مَا كَانَ بِهَا مِنْ أَذًى ثُمَّ لِيَأْكُلْهَا وَلَا يَدَعْهَا لِلشَّيْطَانِ فَإِذَا فَرَغَ فَلْيَلْعَقْ أَصَابِعَهُ فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَدْرِيْ فِيْ أَيِّ طَعَامِهِ يَكُوْنُ الْبَرَكَةُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4167. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "Surely, the devil remains with one of you in whatever he does; even when he eats, the devil is (with him) there. Thus, if one of you drops a morsel, he must dust off anything harmful that has come on it and then eat it. But, he must not leave it for the devil. When he finishes (eating), he must lick his fingers, for, he cannot know in what portion of the food blessing rests."[2]

COMMENTARY: He must wipe clean and eat that which he had dropped. If it has dropped on an impurity then he must wash it and eat it, if it is possible to wash it and one is inclined to eat it, otherwise he must feed it to a dog or cat.

To leave the food that one has dropped is to waste that food and to regard it as poor. It is a sign of arrogance. Proud people will not pick up what has fallen down to eat because that will be below their standing and dignity.

Similarly, to lick fingers after eating is a symbol of humbleness and contrary to arrogance. It is also an admission of one's dependence on Allah's blessing and bounty.

DO NOT RECLINE WHILE EATING

(٤١٦٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي جُحَيْفَةَ قَالَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا آكُلُ مُتَّكِئًا۔ (رواه البخاری)

4168. Sayyiduna Abu Juhayfah رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When I eat (my meals), I do recline."[3]

COMMENTARY: The writer of Safar us Sa'adat writes that there are three kinds of reclining while having one's meals. The side may be rest ed on the floor. One may squat down. Sit, with one hand resting, and eat with the other hand. All these three kinds are condemned. The fourth kinds, described by some, is to sit leaning on a pillow, a wall or some such support.

The masnun method is to sit bowing towards the food and turned to it.

Most people define 'reclining' as bowing to one of one's two sides and supporting oneself on it. This is not sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) because eating in this way is harmful. The food is not digested well.

Suyuti has written in Amal alyawn wal layl that one must not eat reclining, lying face down or in a standing posture. Rather one must sit on the hams or squat or sit on his bottom with legs raised, or sit on his legs in an erect posture, or sit on his left leg (side) with the right leg erect.

EATING AT TABLES

(٤١٦٩) وَعَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ مَا أَكَلَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى خِوَانٍ وَلَا فِي سُكُرُّجَةٍ وَلَا خُبِزَلَهُ مُرَقَّقٌ قِيْلَ لِقَتَادَةَ عَلَى مَا يَأْكُلُوْنَ قَالَ عَلَى السُّفَرِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4169. Sayyiduna Qatadah رحمه الله narrated that (Sayyiduna) Anas رضی الله عنه said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not ever eat at a low table (khawan), and he never ate from a small bowl (sukurrujah). And never was fine bread baked for him.
Qatadah رحمه الله was asked, "At what did they eat?" He said, "At dining mats (as saufar, as leather cloth spread out on the floor)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Here Khawan means a low table at which one may dine. Actually, it is a mat or cloth spread on the ground on which food is laid.
The (low) table is a symbol of the arrogant and luxurious people. It is an un Islamic practice.
Sukurrujah is a small dish or plate in which appetisers (like sauce, pickles, etc) are kept. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not have any such thing at his meals.
The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم never had fine bread baked for him and he never ate it. But, Shaykh Abdul Haq رحمه الله has written that when it was baked for someone else and he presented it to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم he ate from it and did not decline. However, this opinion is not supported by evidence and the next hadith (# 4170) states categorically that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم never ate fine bread.
The masnun method of having meals is to spread out a piece of cloth or leather mat at which one may eat.
To eat at a table is bid'ah (innovation) and a non Islamic practice. However, if one is not arrogant then he may eat at it out of compulsion.

NEVER ATE FINE BREAD

(٤١٧٠) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ مَا أَعْلَمُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَأَى رَغِيْفًا مُرَقَّقًا حَتّٰى لَحِقَ بِاللّٰهِ وَلَا رَأَى شَاةً سَمِيْطًا بِعَيْنِهِ قَطُّ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4170. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه said, "I do not know whether the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had ever seen a fine loaf till he met Allah. And he never saw with his eyes a sheep roasted in its skin."[2]

COMMENTARY: Samit (سميط) is a sheep, or its kid, that is roasted on steam after shaving off its hair. Those days, it was a Chinese relish.
The words 'with his eyes' are used for emphasis. The meaning is that he never saw these things all his life.

NOTHING PREPARED WITH FINE FLOUR

(٤١٧١) وَعَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ مَا رَأَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ النَّقِيَّ مِنْ حِيْنَ ابْتَعَثَهُ اللّٰهُ حَتّٰى قَبَضَهُ

اللّٰهُ وَقَالَ مَارَاىٰ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُنْخُلًا مِنْ حِيْنَ اَنْبَعَثَهُ اللّٰهُ حَتّٰى قَبَضَهُ اللّٰهُ قِيْلَ كَيْفَ كُنْتُمْ تَاكُلُوْنَ الشَّعِيْرَ غَيْرَ مَنْخُوْلٍ قَالَ كُنَّا نَطْحَنُهُ وَنَنْفُخُهُ فَيَطِيْرُ مَاطَارَ وَمَا بَقِيَ ثَرَّيْنَا فَاَكَلْنَاهُ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4171. Sayyiduna Sahl ibn Sa'd رضی اللہ عنہ said that from the time Allah commissioned him till Allah took him away, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not see superfine flour (or white bread). He added that from the time Allah commissioned him till Allah took him away, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not see a sieve. Someone asked him, "How could you eat barley without sifting it?" He said, "We ground it and blew on it. Some of (what should be blown away from) it flew off. Then we moistened (and kneaded) and ate what remained."[1]

COMMENTARY: Asqalani said that perhaps the narrator did not mean to include the period of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم life before he was commissioned. The reason is that before he was made Prophet he travelled with trade caravans twice to Syria. During the journey, he was invited to a meal by the monk Bahirah. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم may have seen these things there. But, his life from the time he was made a prophet till he died was not an easy life. He went through a very difficult time.

He did not live a life of comfort, not even so much as a man of ordinary means lives. His life is a message to us that it is foolish to keep food and drink on one's mind constantly. It is the pursuit of the negligent.

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم NEVER FOUND FAULT WITH ANY FOOD

(٤١٧٢) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ مَا عَابَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ طَعَامًا قَطُّ اِنِ اشْتَهَاهُ اَكَلَهُ وَاِنْ كَرِهَهُ تَرَكَهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4172. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم never found fault with any food. If he had an appetite for it, he ate it. If he did not like it, he did not eat it.[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not criticize or say of any food that it was not good. If it was to his liking he ate it, otherwise not.

UN BELIEVER EATS VORACIOUSLY

(٤١٧٣-٤١٧٤-٤١٧٥-٤١٧٦) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ رَجُلًا كَانَ يَاْكُلُ اَكْلًا كَثِيْرًا فَاَسْلَمَ وَكَانَ يَاْكُلُ قَلِيْلًا فَذُكِرَ ذٰلِكَ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اِنَّ الْمُؤْمِنَ يَاْكُلُ فِيْ مِعًا وَاحِدٍ وَاِنَّ الْكَافِرَ يَاْكُلُ فِيْ سَبْعَةِ اَمْعَاءٍ رَوَاهُ الْبُخَارِيُّ وَرَوٰى مُسْلِمٌ عَنْ اَبِيْ مُوْسٰى وَابْنِ عُمَرَ الْمُسْنَدَ مِنْهُ فَقَطْ وَفِيْ اُخْرٰى لَهٗ عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ضَافَهٗ ضَيْفٌ وَهُوَ كَافِرٌ فَاَمَرَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِشَاةٍ فَحُلِبَتْ فَشَرِبَ حِلَابَهَا ثُمَّ اُخْرٰى فَشَرِبَهٗ ثُمَّ اُخْرٰى فَشَرِبَهٗ حَتّٰى شَرِبَ حِلَابَ سَبْعِ شِيَاهٍ ثُمَّ اِنَّهٗ اَصْبَحَ فَاَسْلَمَ فَاَمَرَ

لَهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِشَاةٍ فَحُلِبَتْ فَشَرِبَ حِلَابَهَا ثُمَّ اَمَرَ بِأُخْرٰى فَلَمْ يَسْتَتِمَّهَا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْمُؤْمِنُ يَشْرَبُ فِيْ مِعًا وَاحِدٍ وَالْكَافِرُ يَشْرَبُ فِيْ سَبْعَةِ اَمْعَاءٍ۔

4173. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that a man ate too much (as long as he disbelieved. Then, he embraced Islam and began to eat little. The Prophet صلی الله عليه وسلم was told of this and he said, "The believer eats in one intestine but the unbeliever in seven."[1]

4174. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی الله عنه (also) narrated the same hadith.[2]

4175. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه (also) narrated (it but) only the saying of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.[3]

4176. According to another version: Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that a disbelieving man was the guest of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. He had a sheep milked (for him) and he drank all that was milked. Then a second sheep was milked at his (the Prophet) صلى الله عليه وسلم command and he drank all of it. Again, he commanded and a third was milked and he drank all of it. In all, he drank milk drawn from seven sheep. In the morning, the man embraced Islam, and when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had a sheep milked for him, he dank all of that but could not finish all the milk from the second sheep Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had commanded for him. So, he said, "The believer drink in one intestine but the disbeliever drink in seven."[4]

COMMENTARY: The seven intestines against one signify the greed of the infidel. This statement applies to a majority of them, or it described the particular man only. Or, it refers to a perfect Muslim who is engaged in remembering Allah constantly. Because of blessing and an awareness of faith, he is satiated all the time so he has no craving for food and drink.

In fact, this hadith prepares a believer to be patient and content. He must pursue the path of piety and abstinence. In food and drink, he must stop at what is enough to survive. He must keep his intestine empty enough to permit radiance of heart, a clean inside quality, vigil in the right and other devotional exercises.

A bagger came to Sayyiduna Umar رضی الله عنه and when he gave him food, he ate very heavily before departing. Umar رضی الله عنه said, "Do not let him come to me again." The ulama (Scholars) explain that the beggar resembled the infidels in his eating habits. Anyone who emulates then must be kept at a distance.

The intelligent, the brave and the realistic people regard eating little as a good and praiseworthy habit. The opposite of it is condemned.

However, such hunger and deprival as reaches the extremes and causes exhaustion and prevents proper working of the affairs of religion and the world is disallowed. It is contrary to the wise course.

SHARE FOOD WITH OTHERS EVEN IF LITTLE

(٤١٧٧) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ طَعَامُ الْإِثْنَيْنِ كَافِي الثَّلَاثَةِ وَطَعَامُ الثَّلَاثَةِ كَافِي الْأَرْبَعَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4177. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ reported that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Food of two is enough for three and food of three is enough for four people.[1]

COMMENTARY: When two people can eat some food to satisfaction, that should be enough to remove the hunger of three people; They would get strength to worship and obey Allah's commands. The message of the hadith is that if you have sufficient food, observe contentment and feed something of it to one who is in need.

(٤١٧٨) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ طَعَامُ الْوَاحِدِ يَكْفِي الْإِثْنَيْنِ وَطَعَامُ الْإِثْنَيْنِ يَكْفِي الْأَرْبَعَةَ وَطَعَامُ الْأَرْبَعَةِ يَكْفِي الثَّمَانِيَةَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4178. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Food of one person is enough for two. Food of two is enough for four. And, food of four is enough for eight."[2]

COMMENTARY: The same interpretation applies to this hadith as to the previous. This hadith has double the numbers to show that natures differ. All people do not need the same amount and also some can offer a greater sacrifice.

During drought conditions and scarcity once, Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ declared that he intended to bind every family to feed as many poor and needy people as their own numbers because leaving half the stomach empty will not kill anyone.

Anyway, these ahadith teach us to look after the poor and to practice contentment. Of course, the evil in man might lead him to be gluttonous, but humanity expects him to share blessings with the deprived.

TALBINAH IS EXCELLENT FOR THE SICK

(٤١٧٩) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ اَلتَّلْبِيْنَةُ مُجِمَّةٌ لِفُؤَادِ الْمَرِيْضِ تَذْهَبُ بِبَعْضِ الْحُزْنِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4179. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that she heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "At-Tabinah gives comfort and strength to the heart of the sick and removes some for the grief."[3]

COMMENTARY: Talbinah is meal prepared from flour and milk. (According to the Advanced Learner's Arabic English Dictionary, it is a dish of meal, milk and honey.) It gets its name from milk (laban) which is its chief ingredient.

(٤١٨٠) وعن اَنَسٍ اَنَّ خَيَّاطًا دَعَا النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِطَعَامٍ صَنَعَهُ فَذَهَبْتُ مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَرَّبَ خُبْزَ شَعِيْرٍ وَمَرَقًا فِيْهِ دُبَّاءٌ وَقَدِيْدٌ فَرَاَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَتَتَبَّعُ الدُّبَّاءَ مِنْ حَوَالِي

الْقَصْعَةِ فَلَمْ اَزَلْ اُحِبُّ الدُّبَّآءَ بَعْدُ يَوْمَئِذٍ۔ (متفق عليه)

4180. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: "A tailor invited the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to a meal that he had prepared. I went along with the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He placed barley bread and stew containing pumpkin and dried sliced meat. I saw the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم pick up the pumpkin from around the dish. Since that day, I have not ceased to like pumpkin."[1]

COMMENTARY: As the person servant of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ went along with the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. An invitee is permitted to bring him along. We learn from this hadith:

(i) If a bowl or dish contains miscellaneous items, it is not necessary to take only what is nearest to the eater. He may stretch his hand to pick up what he desires from the other end, provided other guests are not irritated by this conduct.

(ii) The invitation of the poor and skilled workers must be accepted and whatever is presented by them must be eaten.

(iii) If a servant accompanies, he must be made to sit along with oneself.

(iv) Pumpkin should be taken as one's favourite food as also every thing else that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم liked. This is masnun to like everything he liked.

USING KNIFE AND FORK

(٤١٨١) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ اُمَيَّةَ اَنَّهُ رَاَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَحْتَزُّ مِنْ كَتِفِ شَاةٍ فِيْ يَدِهٖ فَدُعِيَ اِلَى الصَّلٰوةِ فَاَلْقَاهَا وَالسِّكِّيْنَ الَّتِيْ يَحْتَزُّ بِهَا ثُمَّ قَامَ فَصَلّٰى وَلَمْ يَتَوَضَّاءْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4181. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Umayyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he saw the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم cut slices from shoulder of mutton that he had in his hand. Suddenly, he was called for the salah (prayer), So, he dropped the shoulder and the knife with which he was cutting it and stood up and offered the salah (prayer). He did not perform (a fresh) ablution (because he was in a state of ablution).[2]

COMMENTARY: While eating, it is allowed to cut meat or anything into slices with a knife, if that is necessary. But if the meat, etc. is soft or malleable, then it is makruh (disapproved) to use a knife because of its resemblance to non Muslims. We shall read about it in a hadith in the next section.

When one is called for salah (prayer) and one is eating, one may suspend eating and go for the salah (prayer) unless there is possibility of food being wasted or one is more covetous to eat, and hungry. Otherwise he will not concentrate on the salah (prayer).

The hadith clarifies that ablution does not nullify on eating anything cooked on fire. Some people have a wrong conception of this and say that ablution breaks in this case.

THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم LIKED SWEETMEAT

(٤١٨٢) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُحِبُّ الْحَلْوَآءَ وَالْعَسَلَ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4182. Sayyiduna Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم loved

[1] Bukhari # 5379, Muslim # 144-2041.

[2] Bukhari # 5363, Muslim # 93-355.

sweetmeats and honey (considerably).[1]

COMMENTARY: The word in the text halwa (حلواء) means sweetmeat, as also any sweet food. Khattabi رحمه الله said that it does not mean that he craved for sweet dish. Rather when it was there with other food, he liked to eat it.

VINEGAR IS GOOD CONDIMENT

(٤١٨٣) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَأَلَ اَهْلَهُ الْاُدُمَ فَقَالُوْا مَا عِنْدَنَا اِلَّا خَلٌّ فَدَعَابِهٖ فَجَعَلَ يَأْكُلُ بِهٖ وَيَقُوْلُ نِعْمَ الْاِدَامُ الْخَلُّ نِعْمَ الْاِدَامُ الْخَلُّ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4183. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم asked his family for condiments. They said, "we do not have anything but vinegar." So, he asked for that. Then, he began to eat it with his food, saying the while, "Vinegar is a good condiment vinegar is a good condiment."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم meant to praise vinegar. This hadith emphasizes that one must exercise moderation in eating habits and check oneself from rich food.

If anyone vows not to eat bread with condiments and then eats with vinegar then he will be guilty of breaking his vow.

Before him the Prophets علیه السلام used vinegar, all of them, always. Also, there are many benefits of vinegar even medically. The physicians confirm it in their books.

EXCELLENCE OF TRUFFLES (MASHROOMS)

(٤١٨٤) وَعَنْ سَعِيْدِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ قَالَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْكَمْاَةُ مِنَ الْمَنِّ وَ مَاؤُهَا شِفَاءٌ لِلْعَيْنِ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِمُسْلِمٍ مِنَ الْمَنِّ الَّذِيْ اَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى عَلٰى مُوْسٰى عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ۔

4184. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn Zayd رضی الله عنه said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Truffles are a kind of manna. Their juice is an elixir for the eye."

Another version is: "It is from the manna that Allah, the exalted, had sent down to Musa. علیه السلام"[3]

COMMENTARY: Truffles are a kind of vegetables. They are like fat and grow in rain by themselves. They are also called shahmul-ard besides kamah (شحم الأرض). It is lawful food, but at many places it is thought to be makruh (disapproved).

It is like the manna that Allah had sent to the Banu Isra'il the people of Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم Musa علیه السلام. The verse about it is:

وَاَنْزَلْنَا عَلَيْكُمُ الْمَنَّ وَالسَّلْوٰى

{and we sent down to you manna and quails} (2: 57)

Manna came down from the heaven while truffles grows on the earth and is a kind of manna. Manna was a blessing of Allah which they got without effort and so is truffle had without any kind of work from the earth. It resembles manna because of its advantages too. It is good for eyes when its juice is applied to them. It make poor eye sight better.

Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه said that he had kept some of its juice in a phial. One girl put it in her eyes and she recovered.

EATING DATES & CUCUMBER

4185. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Jafar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he saw Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم eat fresh dates with cucumber.[1]

COMMENTARY: He ate them together so that cucumber could offset the heat of dates. The mixture produces moderation and is very beneficial.

The hadith shows that it is allowed to prepared and eat more than one thing for one meal. However, some ulama (Scholars) say that it is makruh (disapproved) to have many kinds of food at one time as a habit and that not being motivated by a religions exigency, but merely to enjoy delicious meals.

RIPE FRUIT OF THE ARAK TREE

(٤١٨٦) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِمَرِّ الظَّهْرَانِ نَجْنِي الْكَبَاثَ فَقَالَ عَلَيْكُمْ بِالْأَسْوَدِ مِنْهُ فَإِنَّهُ أَطْيَبُ فَقِيْلَ أَكُنْتَ تَرْعِي الْغَنَمَ قَالَ نَعَمْ وَهَلْ مِنْ نَبِيٍّ إِلَّا رَعَاهَا۔ (متفق عليه)

4186. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that they were at Murr az zuahran with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. They were plucking the ripe fruit of the arak tree. He said (to them), "collect its black fruit. They are the best." Someone asked him, "Had you shepherded sheep?" He said, "Yes, And, he there a Prophet who has not shepherded them?"[2]

COMMENTARY: The fruit of the arak tree is the diet of those people who live in the desert or herd sheep. So they know its worth.

The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم made clear that every Prophet علیہ السلام has been shepherd. Allah has never commissioned as a Prophet anyone associated with the world, a king or an arrogant man. He has handed down this responsibility to one who has looked after sheep, the poor and the humble, and who did handiwork, Prophet Ayyub علیہ السلام was a tailor. Prophet Zakariya علیہ السلام was a carpenter. Prophet Musa علیہ السلام worked on wages for Prophet Shu'ayb علیہ السلام looking after his sheep.

Allah choosen this section of the people for His Prophet because they live on the lawful sustenance. This is not achieved without strong effort. There are many opportunities to do righteous work. A shepherd is able to concentrate and gets more time to be alone with Allah. He learns how to deal with people and be kind and compassionate with the weak.

According to a tradition, Allah asked Prophet Musa علیہ السلام, "Do you know why have I granted you prophethood?" He said, "My Lords, only you know it." Allah reminded him of the day he was shepherding sheep in the valley Al-Ayman and one of his sheep disappeared. He chased it and was fatigued beyond endurance. Finally, he found it but he did not beat it or show displeasure over it. Rather, he treated it with kindness and addressed it, "O poor one! You put yourself to unnecessary trouble and caused me fatigue Allah then commissioned him as a Prophet and His chosen slave.

PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم MANNER OF SITTING

(٤١٨٧) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ رَاَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُقْعِيًا يَأْكُلُ تَمْرًا وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ يَأْكُلُ مِنْهُ اَكْلًا ذَرِيْعًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

4187. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه said that he saw the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sitting in the form of iqa and eating dates.

According to a version: He was eating some of them quickly.[1]

COMMENTARY: Iq'a (اقعاء) is to sit on the hips with both legs resting on their soles and bent at the knees.

DO NOT EAT TWO DATES TOGETHER

(٤١٨٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يُّقْرِنَ الرَّجُلُ بَيْنَ التَّمْرَتَيْنِ حَتّٰى يَسْتَاْذِنَ اَصْحَابَهٗ۔ (متفق عليه)

4188. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade that a man should take two dates together unless he has the permission of his companions.[2]

COMMENTARY: Suyuti رحمه الله said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade taking two dates together when the Muslims were poor and faced difficult times. When their condition improve and they were strong economically, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم revoked this prohibition with his words, "I used to disallow you together dates (and eat more than one together), but now Allah has bestowed on you a large provision, you may collect them. It is not disallowed or makruh (disapproved) to eat more dates then one at one time."

However, where few people are concerned and food is shared by them, then it is good manners to be mindful of their needs and not eat more unless the others express their willingness.

Hence, the prohibition persists (both in poverty and affluence) and the permission applies in cases other than (partnership) being in a group of people.

EXCELLENCE OF DATES

(٤١٨٩) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَجُوْعُ اَهْلُ بَيْتٍ عِنْدَ هُمُ التَّمْرُ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ قَالَ يَا عَائِشَةُ بَيْتٌ لَا تَمْرَ فِيْهِ جِيَاعٌ اَهْلُهٗ قَالَهَا مَرَّتَيْنِ اَوْ ثَلَاثًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

4189. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The people of a house that has dates do not remain hungry." According to a version, he said, "O Ayshah, a house that has no date s, its people are hungry."[3]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) say that this refers to the people of Madinah and the people whose diet is date s. Nawawi رحمه الله said that this hadith actually describes the merit of dates and permits the stocking of dates to satisfy the needs of the house.

AJWAH DATES HAVE NUTRITIONAL VALUE

(٤١٩٠) وَعَنْ سَعِيْدٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ تَصَبَّحَ بِسَبْعِ تَمَرَاتٍ عَجْوَةٍ لَمْ يَضُرُّهُ ذٰلِكَ الْيَوْمَ سَمٌّ وَلَا سِحْرٌ۔ (متفق عليه)

4190. Sayyiduna Sa'eed narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "If anyone begins his morning by having seven ajwah (dates, before eating any other thing) then poison or magic will not harm him that day."[1]

COMMENTARY: Ajwah is the best kind of the dates of Madinah. It is said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had planted its tree.

This is an antidote for poison even from the sting of poisonous creatures. It also prevents effects of magic. Allah has put these qualities into it as He has put certain characteristics in some plants and herbs.

The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم learnt of this through revelation. Or, he made a supplication for this and it was through its blessings that these qualities were put into it.

As for the number of seven dates, only the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم knows the reason for it. He did not tell any one about it.

(٤١٩١) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ فِي عَجْوَةِ الْعَالِيَةِ شِفَاءٌ وَ اِنَّهَا تِرْيَاقٌ اَوَّلَ الْبُكْرَةِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4191. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Surely, in the ajwah dates of Aaliyah there is healing. They are an antidote (against poison, if eaten) first thing in the morning (on an empty stomach)."[2]

COMMENTARY: Aaliyah - or Awali as it is also called - is a high place near Madinah, towards Quba. On this basis, the villages around are called Aaliyah or Awali. Najd too is in this direction. On its opposite side is a lowland called Safilah. Tahamah lies in this direction. The nearest of the villages of Aaliyah to Madinah was about three or four miles and the farthest was seven or eight miles.

The ajwah dates of Aaliyah may be having more healing power than the others, or this hadith specifies that the particular characteristic of ajwah lies in the ajwah of Aaliyah.

HARD TIMES THROUGH WHICH THE PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم WENT

(٤١٩٢) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ كَانَ يَأْتِيْ عَلَيْنَا الشَّهْرُ مَا نُوْقِدُ فِيْهِ نَارًا اِنَّمَا هُوَ التَّمْرُ وَالْمَاءُ اِلَّا اَنْ يُّؤْتٰى بِاللُّحَيْمِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4192. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that, "There would come upon us a month when we would not kindle a fire (during all of it and cook nothing) but have only dates and water (to subsist) unless a little meat was brought (to us)."[3]

COMMENTARY: If they received some cooked meat they ate it. Or, if they received some raw meat, they cooked it.

4193. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, Never did Muhammad's family satiate themselves with wheat bread on two successive days, but on one of those they had (to subist on) dates."[1]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps they did get barley bread.

(٤١٩٤) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ تُوُفِّيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَمَا شَبِعْنَا مِنَ الْاَسْوَدَيْنِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4194. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم died and we did not have (while he was alive) the two black things (date and water) for a full meal."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet and his family lives in straitened circumstances though he could have had all the means of a happy, comfortable life at his command. But, he practiced self sacrifice and abstinence.

The two black things are aswadayn, water is mentioned with dates. This is common usage in Arabic language and is termed taghlib other examples are abawayn (for father and mother). Qamarayn (for moon and sun).

(٤١٩٥) وَعَنِ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيْرٍ قَالَ اَلَسْتُمْ فِي طَعَامٍ وَّشَرَابٍ مَاشِئْتُمْ لَقَدْ رَاَيْتُ نَبِيَّكُمْ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَمَا يَجِدُ مِنَ الدَّقَلِ مَايَمْلَأُ بَطْنَهٗ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4195. Sayyiduna Nu'man ibn Bashir رضی اللہ عنہ asked (once). Have you not available to you) he food and drink that you desire? Indeed, I did observe that your Prophet could not find enough poor dates to fill his belly."[3]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Nu'man ibn Bashir رضی اللہ عنہ spoke these words to the Tabi'un. Or, he may have recollected the life of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم.

He rebuked them for having given up the ways of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and having adopted a life of luxury.

These consecutive ahadith tell us that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not give any importance to the luxuries of life. In fact, he was not even interested in living a life of ordinary comfort too. Allah made him steadfast on a life of strict abstinence, even when the Muslims became affluent. He gave away to others whatever was brought to his house, or presented to him, by others. He was mindful of the comfort of other people. He sought the pleasure of his Lord. His aim was to teach his ummah to lead a simple life of contentment and reliance on Allah, to practice abstinence and to endure hardship.

GARLIC MAY BE EATEN

(٤١٩٦) وَعَنْ اَبِي اَيُّوْبَ قَالَ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا اُتِيَ بِطَعَامٍ اَكَلَ مِنْهُ وَ بَعَثَ بِفَضْلِهٖ اِلَيَّ وَاِنَّهٗ بَعَثَ اِلَيَّ يَوْمًا بِقَصْعَةٍ لَمْ يَأْكُلْ مِنْهَا لِاَنَّ فِيْهَا ثُوْمًا فَسَاَلْتُهٗ اَحَرَامٌ هُوَ قَالَ لَا وَلٰكِنْ اَكْرَهُهٗ مِنْ اَجْلِ رِيْحِهٖ

قَالَ فَاِنِّي اَكْرَهُ مَا كَرِهْتَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4196. Sayyiduna Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ said, "whenever food was brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم he ate from it and sent to what was left over. One day, he sent to me a dish from which he has not eaten any thing, because it had garlic. I asked him, 'Is garlic unlawful.' He said, 'No. I only dislike it because of its odour.' So, I said, 'I dislike what you dislike."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Abu Ayyub Ansari رضی اللہ عنہ was a great, glorious companion of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He was an ansar. He has the similar distinction that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم emigrated to Madinah from Makkah, he stayed with Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ at his house. He had the honour of being the host of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Perhaps, it was during these days that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent to him what was left over from his meals.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not express dislike of food but said that he did not like to go to the mosque and before the angels with the odour.

Nawawi رحمہ اللہ said that this hadith makes clear that garlic is permitted food. However, it is makruh (disapproved) (to eat) for one who intends to join the congregational salah (prayer). The same ruling applies to everything that gives out a bad smell.

As for the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, he anticipated revelation every moment. So, he abstained from garlic (and every such thing with a bad odour).

The ulama (Scholars) are divided on whether garlic, onion, etc were unlawful to the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم alone or not. Some Hanafi ulama (Scholars) say that these thing were forbidden only to him. Some others say that they were makruh tanzihi (disapproved nearer to lawful).

It is mustahab (desirable) for a person to leave something from what he eats or drinks for those in his neighbourhood who are needy.

Sayyiduna Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ and either vowed never to eat garlic in emulation of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم or had said that he would not go to congregational salah (prayer) after eating garlic.

DO NOT GO TO MOSQUE & GATHERINGS AFTER EATING GARLIC

(٤١٩٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ اَكَلَ ثُوْمًا اَوْ بَصَلًا فَلْيَعْتَزِلْنَا اَوْ قَالَ فَلْيَعْتَزِلْ مَسْجِدَنَا اَوْ لِيَقْعُدْ فِي بَيْتِهٖ وَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اُتِيَ بِقِدْرٍ فِيْهِ خَضِرَاتٌ مِنْ بُقُوْلٍ فَوَجَدَ لَهَا رِيْحًا فَقَالَ قَرِّبُوْهَا اِلٰى بَعْضِ اَصْحَابِهٖ وَقَالَ كُلْ فَاِنِّي اُنَاجِيْ مَنْ لَّا تُنَاجِيْ۔ (متفق علیه)

4197. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who eats garlic or (raw) onion must keep away from us." Or, he said, "he must not come to our mosque." Or, he said, 'Let him stay in his home."

A bowl (or vessel) full of green vegetables was brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. (It had garlic, onion and such things) He smelled an odour in it, so he gave instructions that it should be given to one of his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم (pointing him out). He said to him, "Eat. (I shall; not eat it because) I

[1] Muslim # 170-2053.

converse with whom you do not have secret conversation."[1]

COMMENTARY: The command applies to all mosques, not merely Masjid Nabawi, because the possessive pronoun is in the plural 'our mosque,' though 'mosque' is in a singular form. Other reasons are that this command applies to all gatherings of learning religious talk remembrance of Allah, discourses of righteous and saintly persons. Besides, some versions have 'mosques' in the plural.

The sentences introduced in the hadith with the word 'or' could be the narrator being unsure what the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, or the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم giving the alternative to the person who eats garlic or raw onion. "It is makruh (disapproved) to come to the mosque after eating garlic because Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم and the (angels) عليه السلام are in the mosque."

The reference to one with whom the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم converses is to Sayyiduna Jibril عليه السلام. So it was not proper for the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم to eat garlic and speak to him. This shows that man must have regard for the temperament of his companion. He must let him have his wishes.

WEIGHING & MEASURING PROVISION

(٤١٩٨) وَعَنِ الْمِقْدَامِ ابْنِ مَعْدِيكَرَبَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ كِيْلُوْ طَعَامَكُمْ يُبَارَكَ لَكُمْ فِيْهِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4198. Sayyiduna Miqdam ibn Ma'di Karib رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Measure your food, for you will receive blessing in it."[2]

COMMENTARY: Such things as are measured or weighed should be subjected to that when borrowing or buying and selling or changing hands. There is good and blessing in it because of abiding by the command of the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم if the intention is to follow the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). (Shaykh Abdul Haq Muhaddith Dahlawi.)

Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله reported the like of it from Mazhar. He also writes about the hadith of Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها in Bukhari the gist of which is that they only had barley bread from which they ate bits every day. It lasted as if unused because of the blessings till the one day she measured it. From that day blessings were removed from it. He explains that she had measured to see how long it lasted but the measurement mentioned in this hadith (under discussion) is for buying and selling, etc. to measure at the time of spending is a kind of miserliness.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had said to Sayyiduna Bilal رضى الله عنه, "Go on spending, Bilal. Do not worry about decrease by the Lord of the Throne.

To conclude, Shaykh Abdul Haq Muhaddith Dahlawi رحمه الله says that weighing and measuring is done both while buying and selling and changing hands, and also when spending. On the other hand, Mulla Ali Qari رحمه الله says that weighing and measuring is necessary only at the time of buying, selling and changing hands.

PRAISE ALLAH AFTER EATING

(٤١٩٩) وَعَنْ اَبِي اُمَامَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ إِذَا رُفِعَ مَائِدَتُهُ قَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ حَمْدًا كَثِيْرًا طَيِّبًا مُبٰرَكًا فِيْهِ غَيْرَ مَكْفِيٍّ وَلَا مُوَدَّعٍ وَلَا مُسْتَغْنًى عَنْهُ رَبَّنَا۔ (رواه البخارى)

4199. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when the mat (or cloth on which his food had placed) was removed from the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, he would say:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ حَمْدًا كَثِيْرًا طَيِّبًا مُبٰرَكًا فِيْهِ غَيْرَ مَكْفِيٍّ وَلَا مُوَدَّعٍ وَلَا مُسْتَغْنًى عَنْهُ رَبَّنَا

[Praise belongs to Allah - praise! Abundant, pure and blessed (with sincerity and no ostentation), never ending never cut off and never sufficient, with no indifference, O our Lord!][1]

COMMENTARY: Different meanings have been suggested for this prayer.

(i) The words 'never sufficient...' qualify Allah's Praise. Men must praise an glorify Allah in this way. Howsoever and to whatever degree he praises Allah, it is not sufficient, nor must he cease to praise Him, nor must he be inattentive (or aloof) to it. Rather, just as Allah turns towards, man with His mercy continuously and showers blessings on him ceaselessly, so too man must praise and glorify Allah every moment and at all times causelessly. This is an expression of gratitude to his true Benefactor and praise of his Lord, too.

(ii) Or, these words qualify the food, It is a great blessing of Allah and is never sufficient. One must know that one is always dependent on his blessing. Desire and demands for it can never be given up and one can never show indifference to it.

(iii) Or, these words express the glorious attributes of Allah. There is no Being like Him and noting like Him as might suffice this great, Mighty Being. Rather, He suffices the entire universe and all things. No one can give up the desire and need to seek nearness to Him and no one can become independent of His favours and mercy.

(٤٢٠٠) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ تَعَالٰى لَيَرْضٰى عَنِ الْعَبْدِ اَنْ يَاْكُلَ الْاَكْلَةَ فَيَحْمَدَهُ عَلَيْهَا اَوْيَشْرَبَ الشَّرْبَةَ فَيَحْمَدَهُ عَلَيْهَا رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَسَنَذْكُرُ حَدِيْثَيْ عَائِشَةَ وَاَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ مَاشَبِعَ اٰلُ مُحَمَّدٍ وَخَرَجَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنَ الدُّنْيَا، فِيْ بَابِ فَضْلِ الْفُقَرَآءِ اِنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى۔

4200. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely Allah the Exalted, is pleased with the man who eats a morsel and praises Him for it, or who drinks a little and praises him for it."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word (اکلة) (may be read) uklah (a morsel) or aklah (to a full belly). We shall mention the hadith of Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا and of Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ about the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم family not having sufficient (food) and the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم leaving the world at # 5237 and 5236.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

BISMILLAH BRINGS BLESSINGS

(٤٢٠١) عَنْ اَبِي اَيُّوْبَ قَالَ كُنَّا عِنْدَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقُرِّبَ اِلَيْهِ طَعَامٌ فَلَمْ اَرَطَعَامًا كَانَ اَعْظَمَ بَرَكَةً مِنْهُ اَوَّلَ مَا اَكَلْنَا وَلَا اَقَلَّ بَرَكَةً فِيْ اٰخِرِهٖ فَقُلْنَا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ كَيْفَ هٰذَا قَالَ اِنَّا ذَكَرْنَا اسْمَ اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ حِيْنَ اَكَلْنَا ثُمَّ قَعَدَ مَنْ اَكَلَ وَلَمْ يُسَمِّ اللّٰهَ فَاَكَلَ مَعَهُ الشَّيْطَانُ۔ (رواہ فی شرح السنة)

4201. Sayyiduna Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ narrated: We were with the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم when food was brought to him (while we were eating I realised that) I had never seen food that had greater blessing when we began to eat. And (in the same food) at the end when we finished (I had not seen food that had) lesser blessing So, we submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, how is this?" He said, "We did mention Allah's name when we began to eat. Then, another person sat down who ate but did not mention the name of Allah, So, the devil also ate food with him."[1]

COMMENTARY: The sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) of mentioning Allah's name is observed by saying simply (بسم اللہ) Bismillah. But, it is better to recite the full bismillah (بسم اللہ الرحمٰن الرحیم) (Bismillahir Rahmanir Rahim).

It is mustahab (desirable) to say bismillah at the beginning of eating food. Even if anyone is sexually defiled or a woman experiences menstruation or is subject to lochia, the recital of bismillah is mustahab (desirable) for them intention of reciting the Quran an intention of reciting the Quran, when saying bismillah. Their intention should be to remember Allah otherwise it will be unlawful (because bismillah, too, is part of the Quran and it is unlawful to recite it in an impure state).

If such things are eaten as Shari'ah (divine law) has termed makruh (disapproved) or unlawful then it is not mustahab (desirable) to recite bismillah. In fact, if anyone recites bismillah while consuming wine, then he will become a disbeliever. (Some ulama (Scholars) say that this applies to eating or drinking whatever is unlawful. If anyone recites bismillah at such times then he will become a disbeliever)

Most ulama (Scholars) of the past and present say that the devil's eating with the man is based on facts. The devil truly joins in he meal with a person who does not recite bismillah on beginning to eat, and this removes blessings from the food.

This hadith is evidence against the contention of those ulama (Scholars) who say that if one person recites bismillah before eating, then it is enough for all of them. Rather, everyone who sits down to eat must recite bismillah individually.

MAY RECITE BISMILLAH DURING MEALS

(٤٢٠٢) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا اَكَلَ اَحَدُكُمْ فَنَسِيَ اَنْ يَذْكُرَ اللّٰهَ عَلٰى طَعَامِهٖ فَلْيَقُلْ بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ اَوَّلَهٗ وَاٰخِرَهٗ۔ (رواہ الترمذی وابوداود)

4202. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When any of you begins to eat but forgets to mention Allah's name over his food (and remembers it while eating), he must say

---

[1] Bayhaqi Sharh us Sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) # 2844.

بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ اَوَّلَهٗ وَاٰخِرَهٗ

(In the name of Allah the first of it and the last of it - from beginning to end of it).[1]

COMMENTARY: It is enough to mention Allah's name when beginning to eat, but is better to say bismillah.

According to muhit, if anyone who performs ablution says (instead of saying bismillah):

(لاالٰہ الا اللہ) (There is no God but Allah), or (الحمدللہ) (Praise belongs to Allah), or (اشهدان لااله الا الله) (I bear witness that there is no God but Allah), then he will be deemed to have abided by the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice).

The same ruling applies to sitting down to eat.

However, if anyone forgets to say bismillah while commencing the ablution but remembers it in the course of it and recites bismillah, then he will not be one who observes the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). As against this, if anyone remembers to say bismillah while eating and recites it, then it suffices him for observing the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice).

(٤٢٠٣) وَعَنْ اُمَيَّةَ ابْنِ مَخْشِيٍّ قَالَ كَانَ رَجُلٌ يَاْكُلُ فَلَمْ يُسَمِّ حَتّٰى لَمْ يَبْقَ مِنْ طَعَامِهٖ اِلَّا لُقْمَةٌ فَلَمَّا رَفَعَهَا اِلٰى فِيْهِ قَالَ بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ اَوَّلَهٗ وَاٰخِرَهٗ فَضَحِكَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثُمَّ قَالَ مَازَالَ الشَّيْطَانُ يَاْكُلُ مَعَهٗ فَلَمَّا ذَكَرَ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ اسْتَقَآءَ مَا فِيْ بَطْنِهٖ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4203. Sayyiduna Umayyah ibn Makhshyi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man sat down to eat but did not mentions Allah's name till nothing remained from his food but one morsel. (He remembered that he had not called Allah's name.) So, when he raised it to his mouth, he said: (بسم اللہ اولہ واخرہ) (In the name of Allah, the first of it and the last of it.) The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم laughed (on observing him do that). Then, he said, "The devil did not cease to eat with him, but, when he mentioned the name of Allah, the devil vomited what was in his belly."[2]

COMMENTARY: The devil's vomiting whatever he had eaten is a fact. It could also mean that the blessing that were lost because of forgetting to say bismillah, were recovered on saying bismillah and when the devil vomited.

GRATITUDE AFTER EATING

(٤٢٠٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا فَرَغَ مِنْ طَعَامِهٖ قَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ اَطْعَمَنَا وَسَقَانَا وَجَعَلَنَا مُسْلِمِيْنَ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

4204. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had eaten his food, he would say:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ اَطْعَمَنَا وَسَقَانَا وَجَعَلَنَا مُسْلِمِيْنَ

4205. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who eats and expresses gratitude is like him who fasts and remains patient."[1]

4206. Sayyiduna Sinnan ibn Sanna رحمہ اللہ narrated the same hadith from his father.[2]

COMMENTARY: The least degree of expression of gratitude is to begin eating by saying bismillah and on finishing declaring praise of Allah.

The least degree of being patient while fasting is to keep away from everything that nullifies fasting.

Describing the grateful as the one who shows endurance while fasting is in their receiving similar rewards, but not identical rewards. There is a suggestion in this that a poor beggar who shows endurance is superior to a rich man who shows gratitude that to which anything is compared is stronger than that which is compared to it.

(٤٢٠٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ اَيُّوْبَ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا اَكَلَ اَوْشَرِبَ قَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ

اَطْعَمَ وَسَقٰى وَسَوَّغَهٗ وَجَعَلَ لَهٗ مَخْرَجًا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4207. Sayyiduna Abu Ayyub رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had eating or drink something, he would pray:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ اَطْعَمَ وَسَقٰى وَسَوَّغَهٗ وَجَعَلَ لَهٗ مَخْرَجًا

(All praise belongs to Allah who has fed (us) and given to drink, and made it easy to swallow, and caused for it a way out).

BLESSING LIES IN ABLUTION BEFORE & AFTER MEALS

(٤٢٠٨) وعَنْ سَلْمَانَ قَالَ قَرَأْتُ فِي التَّوْرَاةِ اِنَّ بَرَكَةَ الطَّعَامِ الْوُضُوْءُ بَعْدَهٗ فَذَكَرْتُ ذٰلِكَ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى

اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَرَكَةُ الطَّعَامِ الْوُضُوْءُ قَبْلَهٗ وَالْوُضُوْءُ بَعْدَهٗ۔ (رواہ

الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4208. Sayyiduna Salman رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I read in the Torah that blessing of the food is through ablution after (eating it. So I mentioned that to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. On that, he - Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'Blessing of food is through ablution before (eating) it and after (eating) it.'[3]

COMMENTARY: In this case wadu or ablution means washing hands before having a meal or eating something and washing hands and rinsing the mouth after eating. Allah causes the food to be plenty for one who washes his hands before eating. And, he gives peace and contentment to one who makes this kinds of ablution after eating food, also it gives energy to the man to worship, observe good manners and do righteous deeds. It also allow for being steadfast in one's actions.

(٤٢٠٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَرَجَ مِنَ الْخَلَاءِ فَقُدِّمَ اِلَيْهِ طَعَامٌ فَقَالُوْا اَلَا تَأْتِيْكَ بِوُضُوْءٍ قَالَ اِنَّمَا اُمِرْتُ بِالْوُضُوْءِ اِذَا قُمْتُ اِلَى الصَّلٰوةِ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ) .

4209. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that (once) the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم came out of the privy and food was offered to him. The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم asked him, "Shall we bring you water for ablution?" He said, "I have been commanded to perform (wajib (obligatory)) ablution (after it is nullified) when I stand up to offer salah (prayer)."[1]

(٤٢١٠) وَرَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ۔

4210. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated the same hadith.[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم mentioned only salah (prayer) when it is obligatory to perform ablution because this is the predominant and most common case. Apart from it, ablution is also necessary (as wajib (obligatory)) to offer prostration on reciting a verse that calls for it to touch the Quran and to perform the tawaf (or circumambulation of the ka'bah). The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم meant to remove any idea in the minds of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی الله عنهم that ablution was wajib (obligatory) to be made before eating. He did not deny that it is not only allowed to perform ablution before having meals but also mustahab (desirable). Hence, the word wadu (ablution) here refers to the one that is performed for salah (prayer), not that made for eating which his to wash hands and sense the mouth.

The hadith, therefore means: "If I neglect the ablution made for eating (which is to wash hands and mouth), then it is not a wajib (obligatory). No harm will result. But, of course, the ablution for salah (prayer) is different and it is wajib (obligatory)."

EAT FROM THE SIDES

(٤٢١١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّهُ اُتِيَ بِقَصْعَةٍ مِنْ ثَرِيْدٍ فَقَالَ كُلُوْا مِنْ جَوَانِبِهَا وَلَا تَأْكُلُوْا مِنْ وَسَطِهَا فَاِنَّ الْبَرَكَةَ تَنْزِلُ فِيْ وَسَطِهَا (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ) وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ صَحِيْحٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ اَبِيْ دَاوُدَ قَالَ اِذَا اَكَلَ اَحَدُكُمْ طَعَامًا فَلَا يَأْكُلْ مِنْ اَعْلَى الصَّحْفَةِ وَلٰكِنْ يَأْكُلْ مِنْ اَسْفَلِهَا فَاِنَّ الْبَرَكَةَ تَنْزِلُ مِنْ اَعْلَاهَا۔

4211. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that (once) a bowl of tharid was brought to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم. He said (to his shabah) رضی الله عنه. "Eat from its sides, not from its middle, because blessing descends in its middle.

According to another version (in Abu Dawud). "When any of you eats food, let him not eat from the top of the dish. But, he must eat from the bottom of the dish because blessing descends from the top of the food."[3]

[1] Tirmidhi # 1854, Abu Dawud # 3760.

[2] Ibn Majah # 3261.

[3] Tirmidhi # 1805, Abu Dawud # 3772.

COMMENTARY: Tharid is a meal prepared from meat and bread. The middle of the food in a dish should be left to be eaten last of all to let blessing remain till then.
The top of the dish is the middle of it and the bottom refers to its sides.

RECLINING WHILE EATING AGAINST SUNNAH (HOLY PROPHET'S PRACTICE)

(٤٢١٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ مَارُاِی رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّی اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَأْكُلُ مُتَّكِئًا قَطُّ وَلَا يَطَأُ عَقِبَهُ رَجُلَانِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4212. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was never seen reclined while eating (his food). And, never did two men walk behind him.[1]

COMMENTARY: See comments to hadith # 4168 and 4187 on the manner of sitting while eating.As for walking somewhere, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not have even two men at his heels. He walked with his sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم with extreme humility among them or behind them صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم According to a hadith: (ویسوق اصحابہ) (he walked behind them).. He never walked ahead of his companions or fellow walkers in the fashion of the amirs, chiefs, kings and ostentatious men.
This hadith mentions two men because sometimes one man, like Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ, followed the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Even that was for some necessity and not contrary to humble conduct.

HAVING MEALS IN THE MOSQUE

(٤٢١٣) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ ابْنِ جَزْءٍ قَالَ أُتِيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِخُبْزٍ وَلَحْمٍ وَهُوَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ فَأَكَلَ وَاَكَلْنَا مَعَهُ ثُمَّ قَامَ فَصَلّٰى وَصَلَّيْنَا مَعَهُ وَلَمْ نَزِدْ عَلٰى اَنْ مَسَحْنَا اَيْدِيَنَا بِالْحَصْبَاءِ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

4213. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Harith ibn Jazz رضی اللہ عنہ said, "(A meal of) bread and meat was presented to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم while he was in the mosque. He ate and we too ate with him. Then he got up and offered salah (prayer) and we too offered salah (prayer) with him. We did not go beyond wiping our hands with pebbles."[2]

COMMENTARY: The food was not sticky so they did not need to wash their hands. Besides, they had to hurry for the salah (prayer) and they took the advantage of the concession to do away with washing hands. When an act is not wajib (obligatory), one may avail of the advantage sometimes. Allah likes it on he loves following a lofty, ambitious path most of the times.
It is stated in Ahya ul uloom that some of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم used their heels as handkerchiefs to dry their hands.
This hadith confirms that it is permitted to eat in mosques, particularly dates. The ulama (Scholars) say that it is allowed subject to the condition that mosques are not dirtied, for, if that is done then it is forbidden or makruh (disapproved) to eat in mosques. The books of fiqh say that is anyone is not observing I'tikaf in the mosque then he must not eat or drink in the mosque and he must not sleep there and must not buy or sell, for, these things are makruh (disapproved) (for one not observing I'tikaf). However, a traveller who has no other place besides the mosque is an exception to this edict.

The ulama (Scholars) say that one who enters the mosque must form an intention of observing I'tikaf. All these things will become permitted to him and he will earn the re ward of i'tikaf too.

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم LIKED THE MEAT OF FOREARMS

(٤٢١٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ اُتِيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِلَحْمٍ فَرُفِعَ اِلَيْهِ الذِّرَاعُ وَ كَانَتْ تَعْجِبُهُ فَنَهَسَ مِنْهَا۔ (رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة)

4214. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ said that some meat was brought to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He was presented the foreleg and he took a bite of it, for he liked this part of it much.[1]

COMMENTARY: He bit off meat from the bones with his teeth. It is mustahab (desirable) to eat in this manner. He liked this part because it was away from impure parts of the body (like intestines).

Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that he did not like this piece very much but since he got meat after a long time and the foreleg could be cooked soon, he ate it. (Shama'il Tirmidhi)

NOT PREFERRED TO USE KNIFE

(٤٢١٥) وعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهُ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَقْطَعُوا اللَّحْمَ بِالسِّكِّيْنِ فَاِنَّهُ مِنْ صُنْعِ الْاَعَاجِمِ وَانْهَسُوْهُ فَاِنَّهُ اَهْنَأُ وَاَمْرَأُ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ وَ قَالَا لَيْسَ هُوَ بِالْقَوِيِّ۔

4215. Sayyiduna Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not cut meat with a knife (and eat in this manner) because it is alien practice. Rather, bite, for, that is more pleasing and more beneficial."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Arabs call all non. Arabs ajami (dumb), but here it refers to the Persians, If the meat is soft then it may be bit by the teeth but if it is hard then a knife may be used. Moreover, the disallowance is nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) (meaning, never lawfulness).

THE SICK MUST ABSTAIN

(٤٢١٦) وَعَنْ اُمِّ الْمُنْذِرِ قَالَتْ دَخَلَ عَلَيَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَمَعَهُ عَلِيٌّ وَلَنَا دَوَالٍ مُعَلَّقَةٌ فَجَعَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَاْكُلُ وَعَلِيٌّ مَعَهُ يَاْكُلُ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِعَلِيٍّ مَهْ يَا عَلِيُّ فَاِنَّكَ نَاقِهٌ قَالَتْ فَجَعَلْتُ لَهُمْ سِلْقًا وَشَعِيْرًا فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا عَلِيُّ مِنْ هٰذَا فَاَصِبْ فَاِنَّهُ اَوْفَقُ لَكَ۔ (رواه احمد والترمذی وابن ماجة)

prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم began to eat (from these bunches). Ali too began to eat, but Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to Ali, 'Not you, O Ali, for you are not yet recovered." Then, I prepared for them some beetroot and barley. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said (to him). 'Eat some of this, O Ali, This is more beneficial for you."[1]

COMMENTARY: The sick and he who is recovering must observe abstinence.

PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم LIKES

(٤٢١٧) وعَن اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُعْجِبُهُ الثُّفْلُ (رَوَاهُ التِّرمِذِيُّ وَالْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ)۔

4217. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم liked that which was at the bottom of the pot (stuck to it).[2]

COMMENTARY: It was the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم habit to let other people have what they needed and he put aside his own needs and preferences. Thus, he let his family members, companions, guests, the poor and needy whoever was there with him have the top and cream of the dish. Then, he made do himself with what was at the bottom. People who throw away the ford at the bottom of the dish must take a lesson from this.

WIPING CLEAN THE DISH

(٤٢١٨) وَعَنْ نُبَيْشَةَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ اَكَلَ فِيْ قَصعَةٍ فَلَحِسَهَا اِسْتَغْفَرَتْ لَهُ الْقَصْعَةُ رَوَاهُ اَحْمَدُ وَالتِّرمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَقَالَ التِّرمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

4218. Sayyiduna NubAyshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who eats from a dish and (on finishing) licks it (with his fingers) has the dish seek forgiveness for him."[3]

COMMENTARY: One who licks the dish clean demonstrates his humility. He has no pride in him. These things are a means to forgiveness of sins. The dish is said to ask for his forgiveness because it is the means for it.

WASHING HANDS AFTER EATING

(٤٢١٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ بَاتَ وَفِيْ يَدِهٖ غَمَرٌ لَمْ يَغْسِلْهُ فَاَصَابَهُ شَيْءٌ فَلَا يَلُوْمَنَّ اِلَّا نَفْسَهٗ۔ (رواہ الترمذی وابوداود وابن ماجۃ)

4219. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who passes the night with a greasy hand not having washed it (after meals), must blame only himself if he faces any trouble (if an animal, etc. is attracted to his greasy hand).[4]

THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم LIKED THARID

(٤٢٢٠) وعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَ اَحبَّ الطَّعَامِ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الثَّرِيْدُ مِنَ الْخُبْزِ وَالثَّرِيْدُ مِنَ الْحَيْسِ۔ (رواه ابوداود)

4220. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the food most liked by Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was tharid prepared from bread and tharid made from hays.[1]

COMMENTARY: Bread was soaked in stew or dates were mixed with butter oil or cheese to prepare tharid from bread or from hays.

EXCELLENCE OF OLIVE

(٤٢٢١) وَعَنْ اَبِي اُسَيْدٍ الْاَ نْصَارِيِّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كُلُوا الزَّيْتَ وَادَّ هِنُوْا بِهٖ فَاِنَّهٗ مِنْ شَجَرَةٍ مُبَارَكَةٍ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابن ماجة والدارمی)

4221. Sayyiduna Abu Usayd Ansari رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Eat olive oil and used it to massage yourselves with it, for it comes from a blessed tree."[2]

COMMENTARY: There is much good in olives. The Quran speaks of this blessed tree in its verse (24: 35):

اَللّٰهُ نُوْرُ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْاَرْضِ الخ

The best kind of it is found in Syria. Allah also mentions it in surah at-Teen (95). The Arabs, particularly the Syrians, used it in their food (as the sweet oil). They use its bitter oil to kindle their light and lanterns.

It is medically established that applying olive oil to the body is very beneficial to it.

MERIT OF VINEGAR

(٤٢٢٢) وَعَنْ اُمِّ هَانِئٍ قَالَتْ دَخَلَ عَلَيَّ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اَعِنْدَكَ شَيْءٌ قُلْتُ لَا اِلَّا خُبْزٌ يَابِسٌ وَخَلٌّ فَقَالَ هَاتِيْ مَا اَقْفَرَ بَيْتٌ مِنْ اُدُمٍ فِيْهِ خَلٌّ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ)۔

4222. Sayyidah Umm Hani رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم come to her home (one day). He asked. "Do you have anything?" She said, "A stale (loaf of) bread and some vinegar." He said, "Bring that! A house that has vinegar is not without condiments."[3]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked Sayyidah Umm رضی اللہ عنہا Hani for whatever she had to show that one must be content with even the little necessities of life. (She was the sister of Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ.

4223. Sayyiduna Yusuf ibn Abdullah ibn Salaam رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I saw the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم take a piece of barley bread and put a date on it. Then, he said, "This, is the condiment of this.' Then he ate it."[1]

MAY CONSULT A NON-MUSLIM PHYSICIAN

(٤٢٢٤) وَعَنْ سَعْدٍ قَالَ مَرِضْتُ مَرَضًا اَتَانِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَعُوْدُنِيْ فَوَضَعَ يَدَهٗ بَيْنَ ثَدْيَيَّ حَتّٰى وَجَدْتُ بَرْدَهَا عَلٰى فُؤَادِيْ وَقَالَ اِنَّكَ رَجُلٌ مَفْؤُوْدٌ ائْتِ الْحَارِثَ بْنَ كَلَدَةَ اَخَا ثَقِيْفٍ فَاِنَّهٗ رَجُلٌ يَتَطَبَّبُ فَلْيَأْخُذْ سَبْعَ تَمَرَاتٍ مِنْ عَجْوَةِ الْمَدِيْنَةِ فَلْيَجَأْهُنَّ بِنَوَاهُنَّ ثُمَّ لَيَلُدَّكَ بِهِنَّ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4224. Sayyiduna Sa'd رضی اللہ عنہ recalled, "I fell very ill (once). The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم paid me a sick visit and put his hand on my chest so that I sensed its coolness on my heart. He said, 'You are one who suffers from a heart disease. Go to Harith ibn Kaladah. He is from the tribe of) Thaqif. He (is a physician who) prescribes medicine. Let him take seven dates from the ajwah of Madinah and grind them together with their stones, and put them in your mouth."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم advised him to go to the healer and advised him of a cure that he had known for his malady. He was thus not left at the mercy of the physician. A sick person may consult a non Muslim physician in the light of this hadith. Harith ibn Kalabah had died in the early days of Islam and was not known to have become a Muslim.

LET ONE KIND OF FOOD OFFSET EFFECTS OF THE OTHER

(٤٢٢٥) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَاْكُلُ الْبِطِّيْخَ بِالرُّطَبِ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَزَادَ اَبُوْدَاؤدَ وَيَقُوْلُ يُكْسَرُ حَرُّ هٰذَا بِبَرْدِ هٰذَا وَبَرْدُ هٰذَا بِحَرِّ هٰذَا وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ)۔

4225. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ate melon with fresh dates.[3]

Abu Dawud added: He would say, 'The heat of this (dates) is offset by the coolness of this (melon) and the coolness of this by the heat of this."[4]

COMMENTARY: Most ulama (Scholars) say that the Arabic word (بطیخ) (bitteekh) stands for water-melon not melon. Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that it could be unripe melon which is more cool (like water-melon).

WORMS IS EATABLES

(٤٢٢٦) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ اُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِتَمْرٍ عَتِيْقٍ فَجَعَلَ يُفَتِّشُهٗ وَيُخْرِجُ السُّوْسَ مِنْهُ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4226. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that some old dates were brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He began to split them (to look closely at them) and cast out the worms from them.[1]

COMMENTARY: Tabarani رحمه الله has transmitted a hadith from Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم before tearing open a date. So, perhaps the prohibition applies to fresh dates while old dates may be split. Or, the hadith of Anas رضى الله عنه merely means that it is allowed to tear open dates and of Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه that the disallowance is tanzihi (near permissibility).

Teebi رحمه الله said that the hadith is evidence that if worms are found in food items then the food does not become impure. According to Matalib ul Mumineen if there are worms in cheese or apple (and swallowed by the eater) then that is lawful because it cannot be avoided. But if the worms are taken out the food then the same command applies as for fly, wasp, flea and every creature with blood that does not flew. It is forbidden to eat it, but when it falls in water or food that does not become impure.

VENTRICLE OR GUT IS PURE

(٤٢٢٧)وعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ أُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِجُبْنَةٍ فِيْ تَبُوكٍ فَدَعَا بِالسِّكِّيْنِ فَسَمّٰى وَقَطَعَ۔

(رواه ابوداؤد)

4227. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه said that a piece of cheese was presented to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in Tabuk. He asked for a knife, mentioned the name of Allah and cut it.[2]

COMMENTARY: The mentioning of Allah's name was to begin eating, not to cut anything, as some ignorant people imagine that when a pumpkin is cut bismillah must be recited as if for slaughter.

Mazhar says that this hadith is evidence that the gut of the young of a camel or sheep is pure otherwise cheese would be impure because cheese cannot be made without it.

THINGS ABOUT WHICH SHARI'AH (DIVINE LAW) IS SILENT ARE PERMISSIBLE

(٤٢٢٨) وَعَنْ سَلْمَانَ قَالَ سُئِلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ السَّمْنِ وَالْجُبْنِ وَالْفِرَآءِ فَقَالَ الْحَلَالُ مَا اَحَلَّ اللّٰهُ فِي كِتَابِهٖ وَالْحَرَامُ مَا حَرَّمَ اللّٰهُ فِي كِتَابِهٖ وَالْحَرَامُ مَا حَرَّمَ اللّٰهُ فِيْ كِتَابِهٖ وَمَا سَكَتَ عَنْهُ فَهُوَ مِمَّا عَفَا عَنْهُ(رَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالتِّرمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ وَ مَوْقُوْفٌ عَلَى الْاَصَحِّ)۔

4228. Sayyiduna Salman رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم was asked about clarified butter, cheese and Zebra or wild asses (are they lawful food or unlawful). He said, "The lawful is that which Allah has declared lawful in His Book. The unlawful is that which Allah has declared unlawful in His Book. And that of which He has said nothing is such as He has forgiven (and it is allowed to use it)."[3]

COMMENTARY: The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم had asked about ghee (clarified butter) because in early Islam much was not known about it and there were some doubts, perhaps. As for cheese, by itself it was a doubtful case because in those days it was prepared from ventricle or guts of camel or sheep)., They also asked about zebra. As for the Arabic word, it is (الفراء) which can be plural of (فرى) (zebra or wild ass), or of (مرو) (wearing apparel of animal's hide) which is why Tirmidhi has placed it in the chapter on clothing (libas) and said, they asked about four," which the infidels use for their coats, etc. without dying, so they may not do the some thing as the disbelievers did.

What Allah has declared an unlawful in His Book is either what He forbids clearly or has given a general statement in his verse.

وَمَا اٰتٰكُمُ الرَّسُوْلُ فَخُذُوْهُ وَمَا نَهٰكُمْ عَنْهُ فَانْتَهُوْا

{And whatsoever he Messenger gives you, take it, and whatsoever he forbids, abstain (there from).} (59: 7)

This clarification is necessary because many things are forbidden, but not all are mentioned in the Quran as disallowed. The ahadith declare that they are forbidden.

The concluding sentence of the hadith is evidence that all thing are essentially allowed. So whatever Shari'ah (divine law) has not declared as forbidden is permitted.

This hadith is muwquf according to Tirmidhi, meaning that it is the saying of Salman رضى الله عنه not of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. In the terminology of hadith, the sayings of the sahabah are termed as mawquf just as the saying of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, as also his deeds, are marfu.

PROPHET'S DESIRE FOR WHOLESOME FOOD

(٤٢٢٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَدِدْتُ اَنَّ عِنْدِىْ خُبْزَةً بَيْضَاءَ مِنْ بُرَّةٍ سَمْرَاءَ مُلَبَّقَةً بِسَمْنٍ وَّلَبَنٍ فَقَامَ رَجُلٌ مِنَ الْقَوْمِ فَاتَّخَذَهُ فَجَاءَ بِهٖ فَقَالَ فِىْ اَيِّ شَيْءٍ كَانَ هٰذَا قَالَ فِىْ عُكَّةِ ضَبٍّ قَالَ ارْفَعْهُ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَقَالَ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَهٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ مُنْكَرٌ۔

4229. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم expressed a wish to have a white loaf prepared from yellowish brown wheat softened with clarified butter and milk. One of the men of the assembly stood up and procured it and brought it. He asked him, "In what was it (meaning, clarified butter) placed?" He said, "In the skin of a lizard." He said, "Take it away (I shall not eat it)."[1]

(Abu Dawud said that this hadith is munkar).

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had a natural dislike for lizards, so he had the bread removed from him. We have read in a hadith of khalid ibn Walid رضى الله عنه that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not like lizard because it was not found in his region (# 4111). He did not mean that lizard skin was impure. If it was impure, then he would have asked for the bread to be thrown away and forbidden others to eat it.

This particular incident of his asking for the bread and desiring what his soul wished is quite contrary to his temperament. Hence, Abu Dawud has called this hadith munkar. But, if we term it to be sound then we might suppose that he had expressed his desire only to show that it is allowed to do so.

UNCOOKED GARLIC IS FORBIDDEN

(٤٢٣٠) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ اَكْلِ الثُّوْمِ اِلَّا مَطْبُوْخًا۔ (رواه الترمذى وابوداؤد)

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 3818, Ibn Majah # 3341.

4230. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade eating garlic u nless it was in a cooked form.[1]

COMMENTARY: In the cooked form, the odour disappears so it is allowed to eat it. The same ruling applies to onion and such other things. Besides, the disallowance of raw garlic is of the kind of nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) (forbidden but nearer to lawful).

ABOUT ONIONS

(٤٢٣١) وَعَنْ اَبِي زِيَادٍ قَالَ سَأَلْتُ عَائِشَةَ عَنِ الْبَصَلِ فَقَالَتْ اِنَّ اٰخِرَ طَعَامٍ اَكَلَهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ طَعَامٌ فِيْهِ بَصَلٌ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4231. Sayyidah Abu Ziyad رضی اللہ عنہ said that he asked Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا about onion. She said, "Indeed the last food that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ate (in his life) had some (cooked) onions in it."[2]

COMMENTARY: The traditions say that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not eat garlic and onion. Some traditions say that he even forbade the ummah to eat them. In the light of this tradition of Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا, we might say that the disallowance is about uncooked garlic, onion and the like, not such as cooked with the meal as an ingredient of food.

Moreover, the disallowance too is of the kind of nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful), not nahi tahrimi. And Tahawi رحمہ اللہ has reproduced in Sharh Aathar such ahadith has prove that it is allowed to onion, garlic, leek, etc whether cooked or uncooked. This permission is for such a person who remain within his home after eating them and does not go to the mosque till its odour remains in his mouth. Because it is makruh (disapproved) to go to the mosque after eating these things. Imam Abu Hanafah, رحمہ اللہ Imam Abu Yusuf and Imam Muhammad also say the some thing.

Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that the last meal of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم in which he ate onion was too clarify that it is allowed and that the prohibition was not beyond nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful).

BUTTER WAS DEAR TO THE PROPHET علیہ السلام

(٤٢٣٢) وعَنِ ابْنَيْ بُسْرِ السُّلَمِيَّيْنِ قَالَا دَخَلَ عَلَيْنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَدَّمْنَا زُبْدًا اَوْ تَمْرًا وَّكَانَ يُحِبُّ الزُّبْدَ وَالتَّمْرَ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4232. The two sons of Busr who are Sulami(S), namely Abdullah and Atiyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم visited us (one day). We presented to him butter and dates. (He ate them). He did lie butter and dates (always)."[3]

A PLATTER WITH MANY VARIETIES OF FOOD

(٤٢٣٣) وعَنِ عِكْرَاشِ بْنِ ذُوَيْبٍ قَالَ أُتِيْنَا بِجَفْنَةٍ كَثِيْرَةِ الثَّرِيْدِ وَالْوَذْرِ فَخَبَطْتُ بِيَدِيْ فِيْ نَوَاحِيْهَا وَاَكَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ بَيْنِ يَدَيْهِ فَقَبَضَ بِيَدِهِ الْيُسْرٰى عَلٰى يَدِي الْيُمْنٰى ثُمَّ قَالَ يَا عِكْرَاشُ كُلْ

مِنْ مَوْضِعٍ وَاحِدٍ فَإِنَّهُ طَعَامٌ وَاحِدٌ ثُمَّ أُتِيْنَا بِطَبَقٍ فِيْهِ أَلْوَانُ التَّمْرِ فَجَعَلْتُ آكُلُ مِنْ بَيْنِ يَدَيَّ وَجَالَتْ يَدُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الطَّبَقِ فَقَالَ يَا عِكْرَاشُ كُلْ مِنْ حَيْثُ شِئْتَ فَإِنَّهُ غَيْرُ لَوْنٍ وَاحِدٍ ثُمَّ أُتِيْنَا بِمَاءٍ فَغَسَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَدَيْهِ وَمَسَحَ بِبَلَلِ كَفَّيْهِ وَجْهَهُ وَذِرَاعَيْهِ وَرَأْسَهُ وَقَالَ يَا عِكْرَاشُ هٰذَا الْوُضُوْءُ مِمَّا غَيَّرَتِ النَّارُ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4233. Sayyiduna Ikrash ibn Dhuwayb رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that: "A large platter containing tharid and boneless meat was brought to us. While eating, I let my hand travel all over the platter, but Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ate from what was nearest to him. With his left hand he held my right forearm and said, 'O Ikrash, from a single place, for, it is all one food.' After that, we were brought a dish containing a variety of dates (or fresh dates). I (followed his instructions and ate from that which was nearest to me, but the hand of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم moved all over the dish. He said, "O Ikrash, eat from wherever you like, for, it is not of one kind.' (He meant to teach by his action and words what one should do.) Then water was brought to us. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم washed his hands with it and, with his wet palms, he stroked his face, fore arms and head, saying, 'O Ikrash, this is the ablution for what is modified by fire.' (It is an ablution called wadu tu'am.)[1]

COMMENTARY: If all food on a dish is one kind then there is no point in picking up from different sides but if there is a variety of food then one may pick up from the sides of the dish. The centre may be untouched till the last because blessings descent there. However, it is also possible that if food is of different kinds, like dates many coloured, then there is no harm in eating from the centre too.

WHAT MAY THE SICK HAVE

(٤٢٣٤) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أَخَذَ أَهْلَهُ الْوَعْكُ أَمَرَ بِالْحَسَاءِ فَصُنِعَ ثُمَّ أَمَرَهُمْ فَحَسَوْا مِنْهُ وَكَانَ يَقُوْلُ إِنَّهُ لَيَرْتُوْ فُؤَادَ الْحَزِيْنِ وَيَسْرُوْ عَنْ فُؤَادِ السَّقِيْمِ كَمَا تَسْرُوْ إِحْدَاكُنَّ الْوَسَخَ بِالْمَاءِ عَنْ وَجْهِهَا (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ صَحِيْحٌ)۔

4234. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that when any of his family members fell ill. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed that hasa should be prepared and then he had the patient sip from it. He would say, "It enlivens the grieved and cleans the heart of the sick as one of you clears dirt away from her face with water."[2]

COMMENTARY: Hasa is prepared from flour, water and clarified butter. Sugar may or may not be added to it. The Makkans call it harirah and talbinah. This is mentioned in an earlier hadith in section I (# 4179).

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم mentioned women in this saying because they are more particular about cleanliness and they were his listeners at that time.

AJWAH BELONGS TO PARADISE

(٤٢٣٥) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْعَجْوَةُ مِنَ الْجَنَّةِ وَفِيْهَا شِفَاءٌ مِّنَ السَّمِّ وَالْكُمْأَةُ مِنَ الْمَنِّ وَمَاءُ هَاشِفَاءٌ لِّلْعَيْنِ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4235. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, 'Ajwah is a date from paradise. It has an antidote for poison. Truffles are allied to manna and their juice is cure for the eye."[1]

COMMENTARY: Ajwah is a date from paradise. It is very beneficial and comforting. The remaining portion of the hadith is as explained in hadith # 4184.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

(٤٢٣٦) عَنِ الْمُغِيْرَةَ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ قَالَ ضِفْتُ مَعَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَاتَ لَيْلَةٍ فَاَمَرَ بِجَنْبٍ فَشُوِيَ ثُمَّ اَخَذَ الشَّفْرَةَ فَجَعَلَ يَحُزُّ لِيْ بِهَا مِنْهُ فَجَاءَ بِلَالٌ يُؤْذِنُهُ بِالصَّلَاةِ فَاَلْقَى الشَّفْرَةَ فَقَالَ مَالَهُ تَرِبَتْ يَدَاهُ قَالَ وَكَانَ شَارِبُهُ وَفَاءً فَقَالَ لِيْ اُقُصُّهُ لَكَ عَلَى سِوَاكٍ اَوْقُصَّهُ عَلَى سِوَاكٍ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4236. Sayyiduna Mughirah ibn Shu'bah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he was a guest one night along with Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. (The host had a sheep slaughtered for them.) He (the prophet) صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked for a side portion of the meat to be roasted. He then took a knife and began to cut off slice for him (Mughirah) رضی اللہ عنہ. At this moment, Bilal رضی اللہ عنہ came to inform him that it was time for the salah (prayer). So, he put down the knife and remarked, 'what is wrong with him. May his hands be dusty!"

Mughirah رضی اللہ عنہ said, "My moustache had grown long, so he said, 'shall I clip them for you over a siwak?' Or, 'clip them over a siwak."[2]

COMMENTARY: The words 'may his hands be dusty; are not spoken in their literal sense. They are used to reproach the addressee. The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like that Sayyiduna Bilal رضی اللہ عنہ should call him for salah (prayer) when there was ample time for it and he was having his meal. He also observed the disappointment of the host, so thought that Sayyiduna Bilal رضی اللہ عنہ could have waited.

The words that the moustache 'had grown long' are explained in many ways. They could be Mughirah's رضی اللہ عنہ (as translated in the hadith because the text is in the third person 'his moustaches' but Shama'il Tirmidhi and Abu Dawud call it 'my …' meaning the narrator's). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked him if he should trim them. Or, he instructed Mughirah رضی اللہ عنہ to trim them himself.

Some exponents say that the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم moustache had grown and he decided to trim them and let Mughirah رضی اللہ عنہ have the hair as a token. Or, he instructed Mughirah رضی اللہ عنہ to trim his (the Prophet's) صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم moustache.

FAILING TO RECITE BISMILLAH BEFORE HAVING MEALS

(٤٢٣٧) وعَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ قَالَ كُنَّا إِذَا حَضَرْنَا مَعَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ طَعَامًا لَمْ نَضَعْ اَيْدِيَنَا حَتّٰى يَبْدَأَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَيَضَعُ يَدَهُ وَإِنَّا حَضَرْنَا مَعَهُ مَرَّةً طَعَامًا فَجَاءَتْ جَارِيَةٌ كَاَنَّهَا تُدْفَعُ فَذَهَبَتْ لِتَضَعَ يَدَهَا فِي الطَّعَامِ فَاَخَذَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِيَدِهَا ثُمَّ جَاءَ اَعْرَابِيٌّ كَاَنَّمَا يُدْفَعُ فَاَخَذَ بِيَدِهٖ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَسْتَحِلُّ الطَّعَامَ اَنْ لَّا يُذْكَرَ اسْمُ اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَإِنَّهُ جَاءَ بِهٰذِهِ الْجَارِيَةِ لِيَسْتَحِلَّ بِهَا فَاَخَذْتُ بِيَدِهَا فَجَاءَ بِهٰذَا الْاَعْرَابِيِّ لِيَسْتَحِلَّ بِهٖ فَاَخَذْتُ بِيَدِهٖ وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسِيْ بِيَدِهٖ إِنَّ يَدَهُ فِيْ يَدِيْ مَعَ يَدِهَا. زَادَ فِيْ رِوَايَةٍ ثُمَّ ذَكَرَ اسْمَ اللّٰهِ وَاَكَلَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4237. Sayyiduna Hudhayfah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that whenever they were at a meal with the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم they did not stretch their hands before he had begun and put his hands (in the food). Once, while they were at food with him, a girl came (to it) as though she was pushed (to the meal because of uncontrollable hunger). She stretched her hand to the food (without saying bismillah) but Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم seized her by her hand. Next, a villager came (in similar hurried, compelled fashion) as though he was pushed (to it, failing to mention Allah's name). He seized his hand (too).
Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم then said, "The devil considers (such) food lawful (to him) on which Allah's name is not mentioned. So, he brought this girl in order that it might be lawful (to him) because of her (not reciting bismillah) but I held her hand away. Then he brought this villager in order that it might be lawful (to him) because of him (forgetting to say bismillah), but I held his hand (too). By Him in whose hand is my soul, the devil's hand is in my hand along with hers (at this moment)."
According to a version, the narrator also said, "Then he mentioned the name of Allah (saying bismillah) and ate (the food).[1]

COMMENTARY: According to another version (the devil's hand is in mine) along with their (girl's and villager's) hands. But, even as it is in the hadith, it does not preclude the villager's hand also being these.

OVER EATING REMOVES BLESSING

(٤٢٣٨) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَرَادَ اَنْ يَشْتَرِيَ غُلَامًا فَاَلْقٰى بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ تَمْرًا فَاَكَلَ الْغُلَامُ فَاَكْثَرَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ كَثْرَةَ الْاَكْلِ شُؤْمٌ وَاَمَرَ بِرَدِّهٖ (رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ)۔

4238. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم intended to buy a slave. So (to try him), he placed some dates before him, but he ate them all (greedily). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely, too much eating removes blessing (and is a sign of ill-omen)." Then, he had him sent back. [1]

SALT IS THE BEST SEASONING

(٤٢٣٩) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَيِّدُ اِدَامِكُمُ الْمِلْحُ (رواه ابن ماجة)

4239. Sayyiduna Anas ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The best of your condiments is salt."[2]

COMMENTARY: Salt is available easily. Most men of Allah subsisted on it. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم also described meat as the best condiment in the two worlds.

REMOVE SANDALS BEFORE EATING

(٤٢٤٠) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا وُضِعَ الطَّعَامُ فَاخْلَعُوْا نِعَالَكُمْ فَاِنَّهُ اَرْوَحُ لِاَقْدَامِكُمْ۔ (دارمی)

4240. Sayyiduna Anas ibn Maalik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "when food is placed (before you and you sit down to eat), take off your sandals, for, that is more of a relief to your feet."[3]

LET FOOD COOL DOWN BEFORE EATING

(٤٢٤١) وَعَنْ اَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ اَبِيْ بَكْرٍ اَنَّهَا كَانَتْ اِذَا اُتِيَتْ بِثَرِيْدٍ اَمَرَتْ بِهٖ فَغُطِّيَ حَتّٰى تَذْهَبَ فَوْرَةُ دُخَانِهٖ وَتَقُوْلُ اِنِّيْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ هُوَ اَعْظَمُ لِلْبَرَكَةِ رَوَاهُمَا الدَّارِمِيُّ۔

4241. Sayyidah Asma bint Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہا is reported to have instructed that tharid should be covered when it was brought to her till the force of its steam had gone. She said that she had heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "It meaning, the subsiding of the heat from the food) is a great source of blessing."[4]

COMMENTARY: Though tharid is mentioned, the same may be said of all kinds of food. There is a tradition in jami us Saghir;

اَبْرِدُوْا بِالطَّعَامِ فَاِنَّ الْحَارَ لَا بَرَكَةَ فِيْهِ

(Let food cool down – before you eat it – for there is not blessing in the hot).

There is a mursal tradition in Bayhaqi:

نَهٰى عَنِ الطَّعَامِ الْحَارِّ حَتّٰى يَبْرُدَ

"(The Prophet) صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade eating hot food unless it has cooled down."

LICK THE VESSEL

(٤٢٤٢) وَعَنْ نُبَيْشَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ اَكَلَ فِيْ قَصْعَةٍ لَحِسَهَا تَقُوْلُ لَهُ الْقَصْعَةُ اَعْتَقَكَ اللّٰهُ مِنَ النَّارِ كَمَا اَعْتَقْتَنِيْ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ۔ (رواه رزین)

4242. Sayyiduna NubAyshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone eats from a dish and licks it (with his fingers), then the dish says to him, 'May Alah preserve you from hell just as you have protected me from the devil (eating out of me)"[1]

COMMENTARY: The version in Tirmidhi (# 1811), Musnad Ahmad, Ibn Majah (# 3271) and Darimi has the words; 'The dish seeks forgiveness for this person (who licks it)." Tabarani has reported from Irbad رضی اللہ عنہ to the effect that if anyone licks the dish (or plate) and licks his fingers (after eating) then Allah will give him to satiation point in this world and the next.

CHAPTER - II

HOSPITALITY بَابُ الضِّيَافَةِ

The word (ضاف) (Daaf) meaning; 'to be a guest.' (اضاف) (adaaf) is 'to entertain a guest.' (ضیف) is 'a guest' and (مضیف) (and (مضیف)) mudeef (and mudayif) is 'a host.'

These ahadith will emphasize the merits of hospitality. They will tell us merits as outlined by Shari'ah (divine law) and the positions of the host and guests relative to each other. How should one behave with the other?

COMMAND TO BE HOSPITABLE: Most of the ulama (Scholars) say that giving the rights of guests and observing the manners thereof are sings of possessing good manner and courteous behaviour. It is also mustahab (desirable). Most ahadith lead us to it. Some authorities say that it is wajib (obligatory) to entertain a guest for one day, at least. After that it is mustahab (desirable).

The eight, kinds of hospitality that the ulama (Scholars) have mentioned have been enumerated in the chapter on valimah or the wedding feast, in its initial portion. (Book XIII Marriage, Chapter IX)

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

BEING HOSPITABLE IS SIGN OF PERFECT FAITH

(٤٢٤٣) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلْيُكْرِمْ ضَيْفَهٗ وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلَا يُؤْذِ جَارَهٗ وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلَا يُؤْذِ جَارَهٗ وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلْيَقُلْ خَيْرًا اَوْ لِيَصْمُتْ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ بَدَلَ الْجَارِ وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلْيَصِلْ رَحِمَهٗ (متفق علیه)

4243. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who believes in Allah and the last day must (honour and) serve his guest. He who believes in Allah and the last day must not inconvenience his neighbour. He who believes in Allah and the last day must speak what is good or keep quiet." According to another version: instead of mentioning the neighbour, (he said;) "He who believes in Allah and the last day must join ties of relationship." (He must be kind to his relatives and associates.)[1]

COMMENTARY: This does not mean that only these things are signs of faith and belief in anyone. It is not that if anyone does not abide by these things he is not a believer. The objective is to stress the importance of these things and to exhort Muslims to put them into practice.

Anyone with a perfect faith will follow these things.

Honouring guests is to receive them warmly and with a good nature. The host must converse with them in good tones. He must feed a guest according to his ability for three days provided the people of his own house are not put to difficulty. If the guest stays beyond three days, then to serve him is a sadaqah (charity) which means that he may or may not entertain him. He may even refuse to show hospitality (beyond three days).

The least a man may do with his neighbour is not to inconvenience him, otherwise, rights of neighbours are very vast. According to a hadith of Bukhari and Muslim, a man must honour his guest. And, according to another, he must help his neighbour in such things as he requires his help and he must remove his difficulty. Imam Ghazali رحمه الله has reported a tradition in his Arba'een that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked, "Do you know what the rights of a neighbour are? If he asks you for help, help him. If he seeks a loan, give it to him. If he is needy, give him something, if he is il, visit him. If he receives something good, congratulate him. If he faces a calamity, console him. If it is death of someone, go to him and condole with him. Do not raise your house, above his lest he be deprived of sunlight and wind. If you buy fruit, sent some to him, but if it is not possible, then bring them to your house secretly and instruct your children not to go out while eating them. Do not cause him harm with the smoke of your cooking vessels but send some of it to him." He asked again, "Do you know what rights a neihghbour has? By him in whose hand my soul is, only he knows the rights of his neighbour on whom Allah's mercy descends."

One must utter only what one knows to be good on which reward may be expected. If there is no good in what one intends to say or it is forbidden or makruh (disapproved) then one must abstain from speaking such thins. It is best to keep quiet as for as possible but if it is necessary to speak then it is disallowed to engage in makruh (disapproved) and unlawful conversation. Rather, it is wise to abstain from permissible talk lest they lead one to what is disallowed.

It is emphasized that ties of relationships must be joined and not severed. If anyone breaks ties of kinship then he is as though he does not believe in Allah and the last day because he does not care about the punishment of which one who severs ties of kinship is warned.

GUEST MUST NOT STAY MORE THAN THREE DAYS

(٤٢٤٤) وَعَنْ اَبِي شُرَيْحٍ الْكَعْبِيِّ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَ الْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلْيُكْرِمْ ضَيْفَهٗ جَائِزَتُهٗ يَوْمٌ وَ لَيْلَةٌ وَالضِّيَافَةُ ثَلَاثَةُ اَيَّامٍ فَمَا بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ فَهُوَ صَدَقَةٌ وَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهٗ اَنْ يَّثْوِىَ عِنْدَهٗ حَتّٰى يُحَرِّجَهٗ (متفق عليه)

4244. Sayyiduna Abu Shurayh al Ka'bi رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who believes in Allah and the last day must honour his guest. The formal and kind treatment (with full provision or jaizah) is for one day and one night. Then hospitality lasts for three days. (Whatever is given) after that is sadaqah (charity) (or gift and charity). It is not allowed to a guest to stay with the host (after three days) and become a nuisance (causing him difficulty and hardship)."[1]

COMMENTARY: According to Jazri, the guest should be served on the first day to the utmost possible and as best as can be. On the second and third days, whatever is easily available without being formal must be presented to him. After that provision may be given to him to suffice him for a day and a night during his journey.

The word Jaizah in the hadith (جائزة) has this very meaning. Its dictionary meaning is 'a present,' 'a gift' or 'a reward.' Here, however, it is provision for a day's journey enough to last him till he arrives at the manzil (a stage of the journey).

Whatever is given beyond that is an excess, a sadaqah (charity) and kindness. This implies that jaizah will be after hospitality (but the hadith mentions it before hospitality). This jaizah will be in excess of hospitality.

It is also possible that jaizah is nothing beyond being hospitable after three days. The hadith refers by it, perhaps, to the extraordinary reception for the guest on the first day. This is what is also deduced from the version of Abu Dawud - jaizah is the serving of the guest lavishly on the first day. Mawlana Shah Abdul Haq Muhaddith Dahlawi رحمه الله said the same thing.

The guest should not stay more then three days. But, if the host requests him to prolongs his stay then he may stay.

The ulama (Scholars) say that if a traveller has to stay with someone but is compelled - by illness or something else - to remain there for more then three days, then he must get his provision himself after three days and not force the host to hardship.

HOSPITALITY IS NOT WAJIB (OBLIGATORY)

(٤٢٤٥) وَعَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ قُلْتُ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّكَ تَبْعَثُنَا فَنَنْزِلُ بِقَوْمٍ لَا يَقْرُوْنَنَا فَمَا تَرٰى فَقَالَ لَنَا إِنْ نَزَلْتُمْ بِقَوْمٍ فَأَمَرُوْا لَكُمْ بِمَا يَنْبَغِيْ لِلضَّيْفِ فَاقْبَلُوْا فَإِنْ لَمْ يَفْعَلُوْا فَخُذُوْا مِنْهُ حَقَّ الضَّيْفِ الَّذِيْ يَنْبَغِيْ لَهُمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4245. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی الله عنه said that he submitted to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, "When you send us out (for battle or any other mission), we come across some people (sometimes) who do not give us hospitality. What do you command us to do (at such time)?" He said, "If you meet such people who give you what is suitable for a guest, take it. If they do not do it (and do not give what is deserving for a guest), then you may take from them that which behaves them and is the right of a guest."[2]

COMMENTARY: Apparently this hadith says that a guest may get hospitality from a host by force if he does not receive him well. This means that those who say that it is wajib (obligatory) to be hospitable to a guest rely on this hadith. However, a majority of the ulama (Scholars) do not say that it is wajib (obligatory). So they interpret this hadith in different ways.

[1] Bukhari # 6019, Muslim # 15-48, Tirmidhi # 1907, Abu Dawud # 2748, Muwatta Maalik.

[2] Bukhari # 2461, Muslim # 17-1727, Tirmidhi # 1589 (1595)

(i) This hadith concerns one who is driven by extreme hunger and is on an empty stomach and so restless. It is wajib (obligatory) to serve this guest. If the host fails then he must seize his right forcibly.

(ii) This command was valid in early Islam. It was then wajib (obligatory) to look after the poor and needy. But, when poverty among Muslims gave way to abundance, this command was withdrawn.

(iii) This applies to the dhimmis who were under protection of the Muslims and bound, under agreement, to treat and serve the Muslims who visited them. In this sense, it was wajib (obligatory) on them to show hospitality to the Muslim guests. Hence, that right which is wajib (obligatory) may be seized by force.

(iv) This hadith is based on return and reimbursement. When some people (say, travellers) come to some people who do not welcome them as guests, they may offer to buy from them provision because they are driven by strict necessity and hunger. If they refuse to sell them those things then the visitors may take them from them by force.

MAY TAKE ALONG MORE GUEST S TO A FRIENDLY HOST

(٤٢٤٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ خَرَجَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَاتَ يَوْمٍ اَوْلَيْلَةٍ فَاِذَا هُوَبِاَبِيْ بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ فَقَالَ مَا اَخْرَجَكُمَا مِنْ بُيُوْتِكُمَاَ هٰذِهِ السَّاعَةَ قَالَا الْجُوْعُ قَالَ وَاَنَا وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسِيْ بِيَدِهٖ لَاَخْرَجَنِيَ الَّذِيْ اَخْرَجَكُمَا قُوْمُوْا فَقَامُوْ امَعَهٗ فَاَتٰى رَجُلًا مِنَ الْاَنْصَارِ فَاِذَا هُوَ لَيْسَ فِيْ بَيْتِهٖ فَلَمَّا رَاَتْهُ الْمَرْاَةُ قَالَتْ مَرْحَبًا وَّ اَهْلًا فَقَالَ لَهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَيْنَ فُلَانٌ؟ قَالَتْ ذَهَبَ يَسْتَعْذِبُ لَنَا مِنَ الْمَاءِ اِذْجَآءَ الْاَ نْصَارِيُّ فَنَظَرَ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَصَاحِبَيْهِ ثُمَّ قَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ مَا اَحَدٌ الْيَوْمَ اَكْرَمُ اَضْيَافًا مِنِّيْ قَالَ فَانْطَلَقَ فَجَآءَ هُمْ بِعِذْقٍ فِيْهِ بُسْرٌ وَتَمْرٌ وَرُطَبٌ فَقَالَ كُلُوْا مِنْ هٰذِهٖ وَاَخَذَ الْمُدْيَةَ فَقَالَ لَهٗ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِيَّاكَ وَ الْحَلُوْبَ فَذَبَحَ لَهُمْ فَاَكَلُوْا مِنَ الشَّاةِ وَ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ الْعِذْقِ وَشَرِبُوْا فَلَمَّا اَنْ شَبِعُوْاوَ رَوُوْا قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِاَبِيْ بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ وَالَّذِيْ نَفْسِيْ بِيَدِهٖ لَتُسْاَلُنَّ عَنْ هٰذَا النَّعِيْمِ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ اَخْرَجَكُمْ مِنْ بُيُوْتِكُمُ الْجُوْعُ ثُمَّ لَمْ تَرْجِعُوْا حَتّٰى اَصَابَكُمْ هٰذَا النَّعِيْمُ رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَذُكِرَ حَدِيْثُ اَبِيْ مَسْعُوْدٍ كَانَ رَجُلٌ مِّنَ الْاَنْصَارِ فِيْ بَابِ الْوَلِيْمَةِ۔

4246. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that one day or night, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went out (of his house). He met Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ and Umar رضی اللہ عنہ. He asked them, "What has brought you out of your houses at this hour?" They said, "Hunger!" He said, "And I* (too)! By Him in whose hand is my soul, that which has brought you out has brought me out. Get up!" They both up (and walked with him). He brought them to the house of a man of the ansars. He was not at home. His wife saw him and said, "Welcome!" Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to her, "Where is so and so?" (He was Abu Haytham) رضی اللہ عنہ She said, "He has gone to fetch some fresh water for us." At that very moment, the Ansari arrive. On seeing Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and his two companions (he was delighted and exclaimed, "Praise belongs to Allah! There is no one to day who has guests more honourable than I have!"

Then he went and brought them a bunch of dates - ripening, dried and fresh, saying, "Eat from these!" He took a knife. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said to him, "Beware, (do) not (slaughter) a milk yielding sheep!" He slaughtered a sheep. (when it was cooked) they ate from it and had eaten from the bunch and had drunk water till they were satiated. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said to Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه and Umar رضى الله عنه, "By Him in whose hand is my soul, you will be asked about this bounty on the day of resurrection! Hunger drove you out of your homes, but you had not (yet) returned that this bounty come to you (from Allah)."[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith establishes many rulings.

(i) If one is confident of the host being friendly then one may take one's companions along to his home.

(ii) It is proper to disclose one's difficulty to one's friends and acquaintances provided it is not in the manner of a complaint, unwillingness, displeasure or impatience. If one is hungry and unable to devote to worship then it is not only allowed but also necessary to go out of the house and look for lawful means of sustenance. Not only may one go to one's such friends who are certain to help but it is also allowed to ask such people for food frankly, for this kind of informal request results in closer friendship.

When the poor sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم could get nothing to eat, they came to the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. When they saw his bright face and visited him, their hunger and affliction disappeared. The radiant light of truth made them independent of food and drink.

(iii) In times of need, it is allowed to speak to an unknown and unrelated woman and to listen to her.

(iv) A woman whose husband is not at home is allowed to let visitors. Into their home, provided there is no risk involved if the guest comes in, and provided she is confident of her husband's permission.

(v) It is mustahab (desirable) to praise Allah when a blessing of bounty descends on one. It is also mustahab (desirable) to express delight on the arrival of the guests in their presence.

(vi) It is mustahab (desirable) to present to the guests fruit or anything sweet before bringing them the meal.

Nawawi رحمه الله said that even in the time of the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم people ate to a full stomach. It is allowed to eat in this way. However, as we know from many ahadith, it is not allowed to eat to satiation point regularly as a habit, for that will be tantamount to forgetting the plight of the needy and the poor and to be hard hearted towards them.

On the day of resurrection. Allah will ask His slaves about the blessings He gives them in this world. Some will find it difficult to account for them, if they had misused them. Some others will be reminded of the favours and blessings. In either case, He will get them to reckon for the favours and to say how they had used them.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF HOSPITALITY

(٤٢٤٧) وَعَنِ الْمِقْدَامِ بْنِ مَعْدِيكَرِبَ سَمِعَ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ أَيُّمَا مُسْلِمٍ ضَافَ قَوْمًا فَأَصْبَحَ الضَّيْفُ مَحْرُومًا كَانَ حَقًّا عَلَى كُلِّ مُسْلِمٍ نَصْرُهُ حَتّٰى يَأْخُذَ لَهُ بِقِرَاهُ مِنْ مَالِهِ وَزَرْعِهِ (رَوَاهُ الدَّارِمِيُّ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ لَهُ وَأَيُّمَا رَجُلٍ ضَافَ قَوْمًا فَلَمْ يَقْرُوهُ كَانَ لَهُ أَنْ يُعْقِبَهُمْ بِمِثْلِ قِرَاهُ)۔

4247. Sayyiduna Miqdam ibn Ma'dikarib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, 'If any Muslim is a guest of a people but morning finds him deprived of hospitality, then he has a right over every Muslim that he help him by taking for him from their property and fields the equivalent of the hospitality which he deserved to get (which is as much as a guest would eat and drink)." Another version is: "If anyone is a guest of some people who do not serve him as a guest (giving him no hospitality), then he has the right to pursue them and take from them (meaning, from their properties) enough to equal the hospitality that was his due."[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith also seems to say that hospitality is wajib (obligatory) on the hosts, however, the facts are otherwise and the same explanation is applicable in this case as was in the hadith of Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ (# 4254).

EVIL IS NOT REPAID WITH EVIL

(٤٢٤٨) وَعَنْ أَبِي الْأَحْوَصِ الْجُشَمِيِّ عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ قُلْتُ يَا رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ أَرَأَيْتَ إِنْ مَرَرْتُ بِرَجُلٍ فَلَمْ يَقْرِنِي وَلَمْ يُضِفْنِي ثُمَّ مَرَّ بِي بَعْدَ ذٰلِكَ أَقْرِيهِ أَمْ أَجْزِيهِ قَالَ بَلْ أَقْرِهِ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4248. Sayyiduna Abu Ahwas al-Jushami رحمہ اللہ narrated that on the authority of his father (Maalik ibn Fudalah) رضی اللہ عنہ that he submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, if I go to a man (as a guest) and he fails to give me a reception or hospitality, and (afterwards) he comes to me, shall I give him hospitality or repay him in the same coin?" He said, "No, let him have (your) hospitality."[2]

COMMENTARY: If anyone has treated you badly, it is not for you to treat him as he did. Rather, the best form of recompense is to do good to him. It is easy to pay back in the some coin but better to be kind to the unjust.[3]

ENTER NOT WITHOUT PERMISSION

4249. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه or a sahabi رضی الله عنه other than him narrated; Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم (on going to his house) asked permission to enter the house of Sa'd ibn Ubadah رضی الله عنه. He said, (while standing at the door), "As salaam alaykum wa rahmatullah!" (peace be on you, and Allah's mercy.) Sa'd رضی الله عنه did answer, "wa alaykum us salaam wa rahmatullah!" (And, on you be peace, and Allah's mercy), but he did not speak loud enough for the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم to hear him. He offered the salaam three times and Sa'd رضی الله عنه responded three times but did not let him hear. (He deliberately kept his voice down) So, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم turned back to go. Sa'd رضی الله عنه follow him and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, may my parents be ransomed to you, every time you gave the greeting of salam, my both ears heard you and I did, indeed, respond to you, but did not let you hear me because I loved to receive more of your (greeting of) salaam (peace) and blessings.

Then, they entered the house and he presented to him raisins. Allah's Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم ate them. When he had eaten, he prayed (for Sa'd) رضی الله عنه:

'May (Allah's) pious people eat your food! May the angels invoke blessings on you! And may they who are fasting have iftar with you!'[1]

BETTER TO HAVE GUESTS WHO ARE RIGHTEOUS

(٤٢٥٠) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ سَعِيْدٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَثَلُ الْمُؤْمِنِ وَمَثَلُ الْإِيْمَانِ كَمَثَلِ الْفَرَسِ فِيْ اٰخِيَّتِهٖ يَجُوْلُ ثُمَّ يَرْجِعُ إِلٰى اٰخِيَّتِهٖ وَإِنَّ الْمُؤْمِنَ يَسْهُوْ ثُمَّ يَرْجِعُ إِلَى الْإِيْمَانِ فَأَطْعِمُوْا طَعَامَكُمُ الْأَتْقِيَاءَ وَأَوْلُوْا مَعْرُوْفَكُمُ الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ (رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ وَأَبُوْنُعَيْمٍ فِي الْحِلْيَةِ)۔

4250. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "The believer and faith are like the horse that is tethered to its stake. It circles round only to return to its stake. So, too, the believer errs and is negligent only to returns to faith. Let the pious partake of your food and let the believers have your favours."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word aakhiyah (آخية) is a hitching stake with a ring, or a post, to which animals are tethered. Fodder is placed around for them to graze. Just as a horse moves around the pole, a believer is attached to faith. He may go further or come closer to it but he never detaches himself from faith. Sometimes he attains nearness to Allah by performing righteous deeds and sometimes he is distanced because of his sins. But, he never separates from faith. If he falls into sin, he regrets and seeks forgiveness and makes amends for him missed acts of worship. Thereby, he regains the degree of perfect faith.

The next sentence; 'Let the pious partake of your food' is actually a resultant clause of a concealed conditional clause. It is Adopt means to reinforce such things as are links between you and faith. One of the best ways to do it is to be hospitable to guests and entertain them. While it is allowed to feed any hungry person, it is best to feed such a hungry person who is pious and God fearing. Moreover, when a pious person engages in worship after eating your food then some of the reward will be given to you too. Besides, he will pray for you and his supplication will be approved.
Apart from that, kindness and help may be extended to every Muslim. It is as the concluding sentence sums up: 'Let the believers have you favours.

SITTING ON THE KNEES

(٤٢٥١) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ ابْنِ بُسْرٍ قَالَ كَانَ لِلنَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَصْعَةٌ يَحْمِلُهَا اَرْبَعَةُ رِجَالٍ يُقَالُ لَهَا الْغَرَّاءُ فَلَمَّا اَضْحَوْا وَسَجَدُوا الضُّحٰى اُتِيَ بِتِلْكَ الْقَصْعَةِ وَقَدْ ثُرِدَ فِيْهَا فَالْتَفُّوْا عَلَيْهَا فَلَمَّا كَثُرُوْا حَتّٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اَعْرَابِيٌّ مَاهٰذِهِ الْجِلْسَةُ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ جَعَلَنِيْ عَبْدًا كَرِيْمًا وَلَمْ يَجْعَلْنِيْ جَبَّارًا عَنِيْدًا ثُمَّ قَالَ كُلُوْا مِنْ جَوَانِبِهَا وَدَعُوْا ذُرْوَتَهَا يُبَارِكْ فِيْهَا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4251. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Busr رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had a large (tub like) dish called gharra. Four men had to carry it. When it was past the hour of duha and people had offered the salah (prayer) of duha, that dish was brought, tharid having been prepared in it. The people gathered and sat around it. When their numbers were very many, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sat on his knees (because there was no enough space to sit on (once) a villager asked, "What kind of a sitting is this?" (It is not worthy of your station to sit in this manner). The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Indeed, Allah has made me a humble servant (of His). He has not made me a rebellious tyrant." (This kind of a sitting posture is a means to observe humility). Then, he said (to those present), "Eat from its sides (the portion nearest to you) and leave its top (which is the middle portion, till the last). You will get blessing on it."[1]

COMMENTARY: Gharra means radiant and bright. The large dish was so called because it was wide-open and spacious.

EATING TOGETHER

(٤٢٥٢) وَعَنْ وَحْشِيِّ بْنِ حَرْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ اَصْحَابَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالُوْا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّا نَاْكُلُ وَلَا نَشْبَعُ قَالَ فَلَعَلَّكُمْ تَفْتَرِقُوْنَ قَالُوْا نَعَمْ قَالَ فَاجْتَمِعُوْا عَلٰى طَعَامِكُمْ وَاذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللّٰهِ يُبَارِكْ لَكُمْ فِيْهِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4252. Sayyiduna Wahshiy ibn Harb رحمہ اللہ reported from his father that his (Wahshiy's) رحمہ اللہ grandfather narrated that the sahabah (Prophet's Companions)

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 3773.

رضی اللہ عنہم of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم submitted. "O Messenger of Allah, we do eat (much) but we are not satiated. He asked, "Perhaps you eat separately." They submitted, "Yes!" He said, "So, sit together at your food and mention the name of Allah. There will be blessing in it for you."[1]

COMMENTARY: The grandfather of wahshiy ibn Harb رحمہ اللہ had also the same name, Wahshiy ibn Harab رضی اللہ عنہ. He is the same Wahshiy who had fought in the Battle of Uhud on the side of the infidels and had killed the uncle of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, Sayyiduna Hamzah رضی اللہ عنہ son of Abdul Muttalib. He (Hamzah) رضی اللہ عنہ was the Sayyidus shuhada – chief of the martyrs.

Afterwards, Allah guided him and he embraced Islam. As a Muslim, he achieved a great things for Islam. He killed and consigned to hell thereby the notorious false claimant to prophethood, Musaylamah Kadhdhab.

It is established through, this hadith that eating all by oneself in isolation removes blessings from food. Eating in company with other people is a means of blessings. To sit together for a meal and mention Allah's name while eating by saying Bismillah is each by itself a means of attracting blessings. If both these things are done and people sit together to eat and also mention the name of Allah at the time of eating then together they will get more blessings. It will also be a means of making abundant dhikr of Allah.

However, Allah has said in the Quran:

لَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ جُنَاحٌ اَنْ تَاْكُلُوْا جَمِيْعًا اَوْ اَشْتَاتًا

{There is no blame on you whether you eat together or separately.} (24: 61)

This verse perhaps makes a concession or an exception to make it convenient at times. Also, it make allowance for those who are alone in life.

SECTION III — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

BASIC NEED & RIGHT OF MAN

(٤٢٥٣) عَنْ اَبِيْ عَسِيْبٍ قَالَ خَرَجَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَيْلًا فَمَرَّبِيْ فَدَعَانِيْ فَخَرَجْتُ اِلَيْهِ ثُمَّ مَرَّبِاَبِيْ بَكْرٍ فَدَعَاهُ فَخَرَجَ اِلَيْهِ ثُمَّ مَرَّبِعُمَرَ فَدَعَاهُ فَخَرَجَ اِلَيْهِ فَانْطَلَقَ حَتّٰى دَخَلَ حَائِطًا لِبَعْضِ الْاَنْصَارِ فَقَالَ لِصَاحِبِ الْحَائِطِ اَطْعِمْنَا بُسْرًا فَجَاءَ بِعِذْقٍ فَوَضَعَهُ فَاَكَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاَصْحَابُهُ ثُمَّ دَعَا بِمَاءٍ بَارِدٍ فَشَرِبَ فَقَالَ لَتُسْاَلُنَّ عَنْ هٰذَا النَّعِيْمِ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ قَالَ فَاَخَذَ عُمَرُ الْعِذْقَ فَضَرَبَ بِهِ الْاَرْضَ حَتّٰى تَنَاثَرَ الْبُسْرُ قِبَلَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّا لَمَسْئُوْلُوْنَ عَنْ هٰذَا يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ قَالَ نَعَمْ اِلَّا مِنْ ثَلَاثٍ خِرْقَةٍ كَفَّ بِهَا الرَّجُلُ عَوْرَتَهُ اَوْكِسْرَةٍ سَدَّبِهَا جُوْعَتَهُ اَوْ حُجْرٍ يَتَدَخَّلُ فِيْهِ مِنَ الْحَرِّ وَالْقَرِّ رَوَاهُ اَحْمَدُ وَالْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ۔

4253. Sayyiduna Abu Aasib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that: one night, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went out (of his house). He come to me and called one. So I went out to him.

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 3763.

He next went to Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ and called him, so he came out too. He then went to Umar رضی اللہ عنہ and called him and he too came out. Then he set off (with us) till he had entered a garden owned by an ansar. He said to the owner of the garden. "Give us some fresh dates to eat." He fetched a bunch and laid it down (before us). So, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ate as did his sahabah (meaning, we). Then he called for some cold water, and drank it (as did we drink). Then, he said, "On the day of resurrection, you will be questioned about this bounty." Umar took the bunch and struck it on the ground till the fresh dates were scattered in front of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and asked, "O Messenger of Allah, shall we be asked about this on the day of resurrection?" He said, "Yes (about every bounty small or large) but not about three things; a piece of cloth with which a man covers his private parts, a scarp of bread with which he alleviates his hunger and a room which he enters to escape heat and cold."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ansar could be Abu Haytham رضی اللہ عنہ mentioned in hadith# 4246 or someone else. Umar رضی اللہ عنہ was driven by awe of the day of requital when he would have to give account for every little blessing.

The word translated 'room' is (حجر) (hujr). In some copies of the Mishkat it is (جحر) (juhr) which means a burrow or a den. Hence, in either ease, we should see that it refers to the smallest possible refuge in which one may retire with difficulty to protect oneself from heat and cold.

STOP EATING NOT BEFORE OTHERS STOP

(٤٢٥٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا وُضِعَتِ الْمَائِدَةُ فَلَا يَقُوْمُ رَجُلٌ حَتّٰى تُرْفَعَ الْمَائِدَةُ وَلَا يَرْفَعُ يَدَهٗ وَإِنْ شَبِعَ حَتّٰى يَفْرُغَ الْقَوْمُ وَلْيُعْذِرْ فَإِنَّ ذٰلِكَ يُخْجِلُ جَلِيْسَهٗ فَيَقْبِضُ يَدَهٗ وَعَسٰى أَنْ يَكُوْنَ لَهٗ فِي الطَّعَامِ حَاجَةٌ۔ رَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ۔ وَالْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ۔

4254. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When the (dining) mat is placed (and people have sat to eat), no one must get up from it) till it is removed and no one must withdraw his hand (from eating) even if he is full, till the other people have finished. If (he has a valid reason and) he does, then he should present his excuse (for withdrawing from eating or getting up), for, his companion is embarrassed (when he withdraws) and he (too) will not stretch out his hand (to eat) though he may have need for more food."[2]

COMMENTARY: If anyone eats little habitually, then the best course for him is to eat slowly and with pauses. In this way, he will give company to the others till the end.

(٤٢٥٥) وَعَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا أَكَلَ مَعَ قَوْمٍ كَانَ آخِرَهُمْ أَكْلًا (رَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ مُرْسَلًا)۔

4255. Sayyiduna (Imam) Ja'far رحمہ اللہ (Sadiq) son of (Imam) Muhammad رضی اللہ عنہ narrated on the authority of his father that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم ate together with other people, he was the last of them to finish eating.[3]

[2] Ibn Majah # 3295, Bayhaqi in Shu'abul Eeman # 5864.

COMMENTARY: Imam Muhammad Baqir رحمه الله was a tabi and he had the honour of listening to ahadith from his honoured father, Imam Zaynul Aabideen رضی الله عنه and from Jabir ibn Abdullah رضی الله عنه. So, this hadith is mursal.
The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم timed his eating in such a way that he ate till the last of his companions ate at the meal. He was considerate to the others.

COMBINING FALSEHOOD WITH HUNGER

(٤٢٥٦) وَعَنْ أَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ يَزِيدَ قَالَتْ أُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِطَعَامٍ فَعُرِضَ عَلَيْنَا فَقُلْنَا لَا تَشْتَهِيهِ قَالَ لَا تَجْتَمِعْنَ جُوْعًا وَكَذِبًا۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

4256. Sayyidah Asma bint Yazid رضی الله عنها narrated that some food was brought to the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم and then (it was) offered to them. They pleaded, 'We do not have a desire for it." He said, "Do not have a desire for it." He said, "Do not put together hunger and falsehood."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone is hungry and desires to eat food but pretends not to need it, then it is a lie. He is foolish and suffers hunger as well as subjects himself to punishment for speaking lies.

BLESSINGS DESCEND WHEN PEOPLE EAT TOGETHER

(٤٢٥٧) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كُلُوْا جَمِيْعًا وَلَا تَفَرَّقُوْا فَإِنَّ الْبَرَكَةَ مَعَ الْجَمَاعَةِ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

4257. Sayyiduna Umar ibn Khattab رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger said, "Eat together. Do not eat separately, for blessing is with the company."[2]

RECEIVING & SEEING OFF GUEST

(٤٢٥٨) وَعَنْ أَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنَ السُّنَّةِ أَنْ يَّخْرُجَ الرَّجُلُ مَعَ ضَيْفِهٖ إِلٰى بَابِ الدَّارِ (رَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ)

4258. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "It is one of the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) that a man should go to the door of the house alongwith his guest (to see him off and so to receive him)"[3]

(٤٢٥٩) وَرَوَاهُ الْبَيْهَقِيُّ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْإِيْمَانِ عَنْهُ وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَقَالَ فِيْ إِسْنَادِهٖ ضُعْفٌ۔

4259. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه and Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated the same hadith.[4]

COMMENTARY: It is a way to honour and serve the guest to receive him at the door and see him off. In this way, other people of the house too will know that the guest is not a stranger. It is one of the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) in the sense that it is an ancient practice and part of sound human nature. Also, it is one of the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم.

Bayhaqi has pointed out to a weakness in the isnad but this hadith is transmitted through many lines of transmission, so it has a strong base. Even otherwise a weak transmission is accepted to bring out the merits of deeds.

EXCELLENCE OF FEEDING FOOD.

(٤٢٦٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْخَيْرُ اَسْرَعُ اِلَى الْبَيْتِ الَّذِىْ يُؤْكَلُ فِيْهِ مِنَ الشَّفْرَةِ اِلٰى سَنَامِ الْبَعِيْرِ۔ (رواه ابن ماجة)

4260. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Good comes rapidly to the house where food is served (to guests) - more rapidly then the knife comes to the hump of the camel."[1]

COMMENTARY: The hump is the part of the camel from which its meat is cut off. It is very delicious and eaten with pleasure. Blessings arrive in a house where a guests is served quicker than the knife arrives at the hump.

MORE ON THE PREVIOUS CHAPTER باب

Some copies of Mishkat have the caption for this chapter:

CONCERNING THE EATING OF ONE WHO IS COMPELLED

But most have no caption at all.

وَهٰذَا الْبَابُ خَالٍ عَنِ الْفَصْلِ الْاَوَّلِ

(This chapter has no first section).

Some copies of Mishkat have "This chapter has no section I and III.
The correct thing is that he should write "There is no section I" As for section III that is not at the discretion of the compiler of the Masabih but the compiler of Mishkat himself decides that. We have examples of this elsewhere.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِىْ

WHEN COMPELLED

(٤٢٦١) عَنِ الْفُجَيْعِ الْعَامِرِيِّ اَنَّهٗ اَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ مَا يَحِلُّ لَنَا مِنَ الْمَيْتَةِ قَالَ مَا طَعَامُكُمْ قُلْنَا نَغْتَبِقُ وَنَصْطَبِحُ قَالَ اَبُوْنُعَيْمٍ فَسَّرَهٗ لِىْ عُقْبَةُ قَدَحٌ غُدْوَةً وَقَدَحٌ عَشِيَّةً قَالَ ذَاكَ وَاَبِي الْجُوْعُ فَاَحَلَّ لَهُمُ الْمَيْتَةَ عَلٰى هٰذِهِ الْحَالِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4261. Sayyiduna Fujay' Aamiri رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he come to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (once) and asked, "What is lawful for us (to eat from) among the animals that have died a natural death?" He asked, "What (quantity) do you eat?" They said,

---

[1] Ibn Majah # 3357.

"We get a cup of milk in the evening and one cup of milk in the morning.
Abu (Nu'aym said that his teacher Shaykh Uqbah explained the words of hadith naghtabiq and nastabih to mean these two cups.)
So, he (Allah's Messenger) صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "By my father, this is hunger." So, he made it lawful for them to eat what had died a natural death given the condition as they described.[1]

COMMENTARY: Food is necessary to keep man alive. If he does not get it, or gets it to such a low level as does not remove his hunger but threatens his very existence, then it creates a situation which in the terminology of Shari'ah (divine law) is called a condition of idtirar (compelled by necessity. It is compulsion through physical power). Shari'ah (divine law) gives permission to one who experiences the condition of idtirar and who can save his life by eating something forbidden, he must eat it.

In the hadith under discussion, the question asked pertained to this physical compulsion. What of carrion was lawful for them? The information sought was about the kind of compulsion that could be defined as a condition of idtirar when the compelled could eat a naturally dead animal or any other forbidden thing. What is the limit of idtirar and kind of hunger that would make it lawful to eat the forbidden things. Though the question was only about the animal that had died a natural death, it covered the forgoing aspects too. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave him a complete answer.

The hadith is translated according to Abu Dawud's version (مايحل لنا الميت) (the ya having a fathah). The version of Tabarani is (مايحل لنا الميت) (the ya with a dummah): what condition will make it permissible to us to eat the forbidden? This makes the intention of the question very clear.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked him how much they got to eat, if at all. If they got nothing, then it was clearly a case of dire need and compulsion - idtirar. But, if they got something to eat in some quantity, then it should be seen how much they got to be able to judge whether that was enough to subsist or their hunger reached a level of compulsion. The plural form of you was used by the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in asking this question to from out about the community concerned though only one man had asked the question. (He was fujah Aamiri) رضى الله عنه. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم meant them to know that the ruling applied to all people experiencing such circumstances. In his reply, fujay رضى الله عنه, too used the same number: 'They said....'

The words nastabih, and naghtabiq are derived from (ضبق) and ghabuq, eating in the morning and eating in the evening, respectively, one cup of milk each.

The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم words, 'By my father...' may seen surprising but at that time, it was not forbidden to swear on others besides Allah. Or, since it had been a custom with the Arabs, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم spoke these words out of habit, without intention.

Since they had only one cup of milk in the evening and one in the morning, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم declared that it was lawful for them to eat an animal that had died of natural death. He meant that the two cups were not sufficient for them, and they were through a condition of idtirar.[2]

(٤٢٦٢) وَعَنْ أَبِي وَاقِدٍ اللَّيْثِيِّ أَنَّ رَجُلًا قَالَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ إِنَّا نَكُوْنُ بِأَرْضٍ فَتُصِيْبُنَا بِهَا الْمَخْمَصَةُ فَمَتٰى يَحِلُّ لَنَا الْمَيْتَةُ قَالَ مَالَمْ تَصْطَبِحُوْا أَوْ تَغْتَبِقُوْا أَوْ تَحْتَفِؤُا بِهَا بَقْلًا فَشَأْنُكُمْ بِهَا مَعْنَاهُ إِذَالَمْ تَجِدُوْا صَبُوْحًا أَوْغَبُوْقًا وَلَمْ تَجِدُوْا بَقْلَةً تَأْكُلُوْنَهَا حَلَّتْ لَكُمُ الْمَيْتَةُ۔ (رواه الدارمی)

4262. Sayyiduna Abu Waqid Laythi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man submitted, 'O Messenger of Allah, sometimes, we come to a land where we (do not get anything to eat and we) suffer hunger. When does it become lawful for us to eat animals that have died a natural death?" He said, "when you do not find anything (to eat or drink) till morning or till evening, or nothing is found there of vegetables (where you have landed), you are in the condition of idtirar (compulsion and it would be lawful for you to eat carrion."

(The narrator of the hadith expounds it briefly) This means that if you do not get anything to drink (or eat(during the day or during the night, and do not get vegetable (of any kind grass, leaves of trees) that you might eat from (and save your lives), then carrion is lawful to you.[1]

COMMENTARY: These two traditions, one after the other, have been interpreted by the imams in different ways.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ said that it will be lawful to eat the animals that have died a natural death when one is likely to die of hunger and it will be allowed to eat only enough to survive.

Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ says the same thing in one of his verdicts.

So, on the face of it, this ruling depends on severity and scarcity. But truly taqwa (piety)–righteousness – lies in observing it.

On the other hand, Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ Imam Ahmad رحمہ اللہ and Imam Shafi'I رحمہ اللہ, in his second verdict, say that if anyone does not get so much to eat (or drink) as would fill his belly and he has a desire for food then it is lawful to him to eat animals that have died a natural death, till he fulfils his need. This ruling is more lenient and more easy.

Thus according to Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ the criteria is extreme compulsion in which the compelled may eat only what will enable him to survive. The other imams say that the criteria is to gain strength or energy and to eat to the point of satiation. They rely on the first hadith (# 4261) in which the man could get a cup of milk in the morning and a cup of milk in the evening. Surely, that was not enough to Satiate though it could save his life. This means that when one is driven by compulsion, it becomes permissible to eat an animal that has died a natural death but it does not satiate yet it is lawful to eat enough to get energy.

Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ on his part, relies on the second hadith as explained in the foregoing lines. As for the first hadith, he says that the single cup of milk in the morning and in the evening was available to the entire community there, not to each person. The plural number in (طعامکم) (food of you all) makes it clear.

The question of Fujay رضی اللہ عنہ Aamiri was not for himself. Rather, he had asked on behalf of all the people. This is why he too used the plural number (مایحل لنا) (what is lawful for us) and did not say (for me). Clearly, one cup cannot be enough to save lives of many people. In fact, it is not sufficient to remove hunger of even one man unless each one of them gets one cup each. That can save the life of each.

CHAPTER - IV

DRINK بَابُ الْأَشْرِبَةِ

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

DRINKING WITH THREE PAUSES FOR BREATH

(٤٢٦٣) عَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَتَنَفَّسُ فِي الشَّرَابِ ثَلَاثًا۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَزَادَ مُسْلِمٌ فِي رِوَايَةٍ وَيَقُوْلُ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّهُ اَرْوىٰ وَاَبْرَأُ وَاَمْرَأُ۔

4263. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم paused three times to breath while drinking.
The version in Muslim adds: He used to say, "It quenches thirst better, gives more health (to the body) and is better digested."[1]

COMMENTARY: This is as the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did often. Sometimes, he took two breaths. At each breath, he removed his mouth from the glass.

NOT FROM MOUTH OF WATER SKIN

(٤٢٦٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الشُّرْبِ مِنْ فِيِّ السِّقَاءِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4264. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that one should drink directly from the mouth of the water skin.[2]

COMMENTARY: To drink water from the mouth of water skin of any source means that more water is poured out than necessary, water will drop on garments, water will be swallowed suddenly in large gulps in the belly causing harm, and it is contrary to sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice).

(٤٢٦٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدِنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ اِخْتِنَاثِ الْاَسْقِيَةِ وَزَادَ فِيْ رِوَايَةٍ وَاخْتِنَاثُهَا اَنْ يُّقْلَبَ رَأْسُهَا ثُمَّ يُشْرَبَ مِنْهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4265. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the ikhtinath (which is to invert the heads) of water-skins (and drink from their heads).
In another version it is added that this means: to turn the mouth of the water skin and then to drink from it.[3]

COMMENTARY: This disallowance is with the reasons as mentioned against the previous hadith. Another reason is that there could be in the water skin at its mouth a poisonous insect and it might be swallowed with the water. According to another tradition, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did drink from the mouth of a water skin (# 4281). That sounds permission to drink in this way. The ulama (Scholars) explain that the prohibition applies to larger water skins that have a wider mouth. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had drunk from the mouth of a small water skin with a narrow head.

Some ulama (Scholars) say that the disallowance pertains to making a habit of it and drinking from the mouths of water skins regularly. If anyone drinks from their mouths regularly, a bad odour is created there. But, it is not disallowed to drink from them seldom. It is also suggested that permission pertains to necessity and emergency when there is no other means to drink. Once, a snake is reported to have emerged from mouth of a water skin. There also is a suggestion that in the beginning people drank from the mouth but it was forbidden thereafter.

DO NOT DRINK STANDING

(٤٢٦٦) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنَّهٗ نَهٰى اَنْ يَّشْرَبَ الرَّجُلُ قَائِمًا۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4266. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ reported about the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that he forbade that anyone should drink standing.[1]

(٤٢٦٧) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَشْرَبَنَّ اَحَدٌ مِّنْكُمْ قَائِمًا فَمَنْ نَسِيَ مِنْكُمْ فَلْيَسْتَقِئْ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4267. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "No one of you must drink standing. If any of you forgets then he must vomit."[2]

COMMENTARY: The command the vomit is not wajib (obligatory). Rather, it is mustahab (desirable).

Qadi رحمہ اللہ said that the prohibition to drink standing is actually to encourage one to follow a better way (which is to sit and drink). This prohibition is not nahi tahrimi.

One must not imagine that is haram (unlawful) to drink standing. Hence, this hadith does not contradict the hadith that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم drank standing once or twice.

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم DRANK ZAM ZAM STANDING

(٤٢٦٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ اَتَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِدَلْوٍ مِنْ مَّاءِ زَمْزَمَ فَشَرِبَ وَ هُوَ قَائِمٌ۔ (متفق علیہ)

4268. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I brought the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم a bucket of zamzam water and he drank it standing."[3]

COMMENTARY: He drank it standing to respect the water of zamzam. Or there may have been a crowd of people making it impossible to sit. Or, the place may have been wet with water leaving no place to sit. Or, he merely wanted people to know that it is allowed to do so.

MUSTAHAB TO DRINK RESIDUE WATER OF ABLUTION & ZAMZAM STANDING

(٤٢٦٩) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ اَنَّهٗ صَلَّى الظُّهْرَ ثُمَّ قَعَدَ فِيْ حَوَائِجِ النَّاسِ فِيْ رَحْبَةِ الْكُوْفَةِ حَتّٰى حَضَرَتْ صَلٰوةُ الْعَصْرِ ثُمَّ

أُتِيَ بِمَآءٍ فَشَرِبَ وَغَسَلَ وَجْهَهُ وَيَدَيْهِ وَذَكَرَ رَأْسَهُ وَرِجْلَيْهِ ثُمَّ قَامَ فَشَرِبَ فَضْلَهُ وَهُوَ قَائِمٌ ثُمَّ قَالَ إِنَّ أُنَاسًا يَكْرَهُوْنَ الشُّرْبَ قَائِمًا وَإِنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَنَعَ مِثْلَ مَاصَنَعْتُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4269. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ is reported to have offered the salah (prayer) of zuhr and then sat down over an assembly to look into the problems of the people in a spacious and elevated ground Kufah (giving order and passing judgements) till it was time for the salah (prayer) of asr. The, water was brought to him. He drank some of it and (to perform ablution) washed his face and hands.
The narrator added (that he wiped) 'his head and' (washed) 'his feet.'
Then, he stood up and drank the remaining (water) while standing, saying, "Some people hold that it is disliked to drink while standing but the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had done what I have done (now to emulate him)."[1]

COMMENTARY: The sub-narrator may not have remembered whether the preceding narrator mentioned wiping of head and washing of feet or wiping feet. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ may have washed his feet lightly. (One tradition mentions in this manner). Or, he was wearing socks that allowed him to wipe his feet.
He was already standing when he drank the remaining water and this is mentioned again for emphasis.
The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and the sahabah are known to have drunk water standing too. We have mentioned this about the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم
It is reported by Jubayr ibn Mut'im رضی اللہ عنہ in Muwahib Ludayniyah that Abu Bakr (R0 also did so. Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ has mentioned the same thing about umar رضی اللہ عنہ, Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ.
So, the u lama rule that the disallowance to drink water standing is of the form of nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) (not unlawful, but nearer lawful). Or, it is disallowed to make a habit of drinking in a standing posture.
The water of zamzam and the residual water of ablution are exceptions. Rather, it is mustahab (desirable) to drink them standing. This is asserted in some juristic rulings.

MUKRUH TO PUT MOUTH ON THE VESSEL

(٤٢٧٠) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ دَخَلَ عَلٰى رَجُلٍ مِّنَ الْأَنْصَارِ وَمَعَهُ صَاحِبٌ لَّهُ فَسَلَّمَ فَرَدَّ الرَّجُلُ وَهُوَ يُحَوِّلُ الْمَآءَ فِي حَائِطٍ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنْ كَانَ عِنْدِي مَآءٌ بَاتَ فِي شَنَّةٍ وَإِلَّا كَرَعْنَا فَقَالَ عِنْدِيْ مَآءٌ بَاتَ فِي شَنٍّ فَانْطَلَقَ إِلَى الْعَرِيْشِ فَسَكَبَ فِي قَدَحٍ مَآءً ثُمَّ حَلَبَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ دَاجِنٍ فَشَرِبَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثُمَّ أَعَادَ فَشَرِبَ الرَّجُلُ الَّذِيْ جَآءَ مَعَهُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4270. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم visited a man of the Ansar (once, meaning Abu Haytham رضی اللہ عنہ as stated previously) along with a companion of his (Abu Bakr) رضی اللہ عنہ He offered salam and the man who was watering his garden, gave a response. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked him, "If you have water left overnight in an old water skin, we would drink it, otherwise we shall sip some from a streamlet (or a river)." He submitted, "I do have water that has remained overnight in an old water skin." He went to a make shift shed (for plants, etc.) and poured some water into a jug and added some milk to it after milking a domestic sheep. (He presented it to the Prophet.) صلى الله عليه وسلم And, the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم drank it. Then, he returned (with another of the same) and the man (Abu Bakr) رضى الله عنه who was wit h the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم drank it.[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "We shall drink water from a (كرع) (kura)." It is a pond where rain water accumulates. A streamlet is also so called. The meaning is that they would drink directly from the reservoir without a vessel. Some people say that (كرع) is to drink directly into the mouth as animals do without hands even.

Suyuti رحمه الله says that, according to this hadith, it is allowed to drink in this manner. But, a hadith in Ibn Majah forbids (كرع) (drinking directly with the mouth).[2]

This means that the hadith in Ibn Majah is based on nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) while this hadith merely shows that in exigencies it is allowed to drink in this manner. (Normally, it is makruh (disapproved) to drink with the mouth, licking like animals but in times of need, it is allowed).

FORBIDDEN TO USE GOLD &SILVER UTENSILS

(٤٢٧١) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الَّذِىْ يَشْرَبُ فِىْ اٰنِيَةِ الْفِضَّةِ اِنَّمَا يُجَرْجِرُ فِىْ بَطْنِهٖ نَارَ جَهَنَّمَ۔ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِىْ رِوَايَةٍ لِمُسْلِمٍ۔ اِنَّ الَّذِىْ يَأْكُلُ وَيَشْرَبُ فِىْ اٰنِيَةِ الْفِضَّةِ وَالذَّهَبِ۔

4271. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger رضى الله عنه said, "He who drinks from silver vessels has nothing but the fire of hell bubble in his belly." Another version in Muslim has (his words): 'He who eats and drinks from vessels of silver and gold..' (the same thing happens to him).[3]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) and the imams are unanimous that eating or drinking in silver vessels is forbidden to all, man and woman. It is also forbidden to use these vessels or containers, for ablution, to keep in them and apply there from scent (itr) to keep in them a huqqah and smoke from them, and to put them to other such uses. If any eatable or drink is preserved in a gold or silver vessel but taken out of it and put in another vessel from which it is eaten or drunk then it is allowed. If oil or scent is taken out (from the gold or silver container on to the left palm and thence applied with the right hand, then that is allowed. But, it is not allowed to take it out of the gold or silver container onto either hand and apply it there from directly.

According to the Hidayah, it is allowed to drink from a silver vessel, provided it is silver plated (and there is no silver) at the place on it that will touch the mouth. The same applies to a vessel of gold or silver on which the place that will touch the mouth is plated or gilt with gold or silver to strengthen it (not to decorate it).

(٤٢٧٢) وَعَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَا تَلْبَسُوا الْحَرِيْرَ وَلَا الدِّيْبَاجَ وَلَا تَشْرَبُوْا فِىْ اٰنِيَةِ الذَّهَبِ وَالْفِضَّةِ وَلَا تَاكُلُوْا فِىْ صِحَافِهَا فَاِنَّهَا لَهُمْ فِى الدُّنْيَا وَهِىَ لَكُمْ فِى الْاٰخِرَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

2 Ibn Majah # 3431.

3 Bukhari # 5634, Muslim s# 1-2065.

4272. Sayyiduna Hudhayfah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Do not wear silk and do not wear brocade. And, do not drink from gold and silver vessels and do not drink from such (gold and silver) plates and dishes (or bowls). (This is because) they are for them (the disbelievers) in this world but you will have them in the hereafter."[1]

COMMENTARY: The prohibition to wear silk does not apply to such as forms the hem on other kinds of clothing and does not exceed a breadth of four fingers. It also does not apply to such clothing in weaving which silk was used crosswise but yarn lengthwise. But, if yarn forms the crosswise weaving and silk the lengthwise then such clothing is not allowed to wear. During war, however, one is permitted to wear it. He too is allowed to don it who has itching or is heavily infested with lice.

DISTRIBUTE FROM THE RIGHT SIDE

(٤٢٧٣) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ حُلِبَتْ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ شَاةٌ دَاجِنٌ وَشِيْبَ لَبَنُهَا بِمَآءٍ مِنَ الْبِئْرِ الَّتِيْ فِيْ دَارِ اَنَسٍ فَاُعْطِيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْقَدَحَ فَشَرِبَ وَعَلٰى يَسَارِهٖ اَبُوْبَكْرٍ وَعَنْ يَمِيْنِهٖ اَعْرَابِيٌّ فَقَالَ عُمَرُ اَعْطِ اَبَابَكْرٍ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَاَعْطَى الْاَعْرَابِيَّ الَّذِيْ عَنْ يَمِيْنِهٖ ثُمَّ قَالَ الْاَيْمَنُ فَالْاَيْمَنُ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ الْاَيْمَنُوْنَ الْاَيْمَنُوْنَ اَلَا فَيَمِّنُوْا۔ (متفق علیہ)

4273. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that (when he visited their home one day). A domestic sheep was milked for Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and its milk was mixed with water from a well that was in the home of Anas رضی اللہ عنہ. Then Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was presented a bowl (of it) and he drank some. On his left was Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ and on his right a villager. Umar رضی اللہ عنہ requested, "O Messenger of Allah, give it to Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ," but he gave it to the villager who was on his right. Then he said, "The one on the right. Then the one .on the right (and soon)."

According to another version (he said): "Those on the right followed by those on the right! Know, begin with those on the right; (They have precedence)"[2]

COMMENTARY: While Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated the hadith he did not use direct speech to say 'the well in my house' but he said in the house of Anas. In Arabic grammer, it is putting aside the explicit to let the subject be understood.

The direction was to let the person on the right have it followed by him who was on his right and so till the last man, to the right. In this case the word (الايمن) has a dummah on the (ن) but in some versions it has a fathah on the (ن) to mean; 'I shall give to him who is on my right. Then to the one on the right.' But, the second version with (الايمون) uphold the one with a dummah on the (ن).

It is mustahab (desirable) to give what is given first to one who is on the right side of the giver if the one on the left is a senior.

This hadith is evidence of the prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم perfect justice and his recognizing the right of the rightful.

As for the submission of Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ, he merely wished to remind to Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم of the presence of Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ.

(٤٢٧٤) وَعَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ أُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِقَدَحٍ فَشَرِبَ مِنْهُ وَعَنْ يَمِيْنِهِ غُلَامٌ اَصْغَرُ الْقَوْمِ وَالْاَشْيَاخُ عَنْ يَسَارِهٖ فَقَالَ يَا غُلَامُ اَتَأْذَنُ اَنْ اُعْطِيَهُ الْاَشْيَاخَ فَقَالَ مَا كُنْتُ لِاُوْثِرَ بِفَضْلٍ مِنْكَ اَحَدًا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَاَعْطَاهُ اِيَّاهُ۔ (مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَحَدِيْثُ اَبِيْ قَتَادَةَ سَنَذْكُرُ فِيْ بَابِ الْمُعْجِزَاتِ اِنْ شَآءَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى)۔

4274. Sayyiduna Sahl ibn Sa'd narrated that a drink was presented to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He drank from the cup. To his right was a lad, youngest of all people present there while the old men sat to his left. He asked the young boy (who was Ibn Abbas) رضی اللہ عنہ, "O lad, do you permit that I give it to the Shaykhs (to my left side)?' He said, "I shall not give preference to anyone (over me) in a favour from you, O Messenger of Allah." So, he gave it to him alone.[1]

COMMENTARY: This case was different from the previous. There the man to the left of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was known to him and to the right was a villager. In this case, the man to the right was the young Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ and to the left were strangers, old man of the Quraysh who had to be won over.
In the previous case, if the villager had been asked, he might have been embarrassed and would have thought that he was being overlooked.
The jurists, hold that it is not allowed to give preference to anyone in religious affairs and worship. A more clear picture in this regard is that preference in what is wajib (obligatory) is forbidden. If it is given in any thing pertaining to merits or mustahab (desirable) things then it is mukruh to do so. We may see in more explicitly in an example. Support a man has just enough water with which only he may perform ablution. He gives that water to another person and himself makes tayammum (dry ablution), and offers the salah (prayer). Or, he has just so much of garments as he may cover his body, yet he gives that to another person and himself offer salah (prayer) in the nude. This kind of sacrifice is not allowed. It is forbidden This was sacrifice of one's rights in the wajib (obligatory) things. An example of the same thing in the musthab or merits is that a man stands in the first row behind the imam for the congregational salah (prayer). But, he surrenders his privileged place to another and goes behind to the second row. This kind of sacrifice is makruh (disapproved). However, in contrast, it is praiseworthy to make a sacrifice in worldly affairs.
As for some Sufis who are known to have made sacrifice in religious affairs, perhaps they may have done that when overcome by ecstasy.
And the hadith of Abu Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ is reproduced at number 5878, insha Allah Ta'alah.

EATING & DRINKING WHILE MOVING ABOUT & STANDING ALLOWED IN ESSENCE

(٤٢٧٥) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ كُنَّا نَأْكُلُ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَنَحْنُ نَمْشِيْ وَنَشْرَبُ وَنَحْنُ قِيَامٌ

رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَالدَّارِمِيُّ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ صَحِيْحٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

4275. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said, "In the days of Allah's Messenger, صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم we ate while walking about and drank while standing."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) say that in principle it is permitted to eat while walking and moving here and there. But, it is better to refrain from these things because it is against etiquette. This has been stated earliest.

(٤٢٧٦) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَشْرَبُ قَائِمًا

وَقَاعِدًا۔ (رواه الترمذى)

4276. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb reported from his father who from his grandfather that he said, "I did see Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم drink both while standing and sitting."[2]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps he did observe him drink while standing a couple of time. This may have been to establish that it is allowed or may have been forced by circumstances. Apart from that he always drank sitting.

DO NOT BREATH IN THE DRINKING CUP

(٤٢٧٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يُّتَنَفَّسَ فِي الْاِنَاءِ اَوْ يُنْفَخَ فِيْهِ(رواه

ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

4277. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade breathing into a vessel (cup, bowl, etc.) or blowing into it.[3]

COMMENTARY: Breathing or blowing in a vessel will cause repulsion to another person. It might also create a bad odour in the drink if the drinker's mouth smells. Besides, breathing into a drink is what animals do.

Some authorities say that if the drink is hot, it must be put aside to cool down but not blown into. If anything drop into it, then it must be removed with something but not one's finger or by blowing it out.

DO NOT DRINK IN ONE GULP

(٤٢٧٨) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَشْرَبُوْا وَاحِدًا كَشُرْبِ الْبَعِيْرِ وَلٰكِنِ اشْرَبُوْا

[3] Tirmidhi # 1888 (1895), Abu Dawud # 3228, Ibn Majah # 3428.

4278. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Do not drink in one gulp as the drinking of a camel, but drink in two or three sips. Mention the name of Allah when you (begin to) drink (Saying (بسم الله) bismillah) and praise him (saying (الحمد لله) al Hamdulillah) when you remove the vessel (after drinking)."[1]

COMMENTARY: It is better to drink in three sips but if anyone drinks in two, that is the minimum.

It is state in Ahya ul Uloom that, after the first sip,.one must say (الحمد لله) (praise belongs to Allah), after the second, (رب العلمین) (Lord of the worlds) and, after the third, (الرحمن الرحیم) (The Beneficent, the Merciful). After finishing drink, this supplication is suggested:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِىْ جَعَلَهٗ عَذْبًا فُرَاتًا بِرَحْمَتِهٖ وَلَمْ يَجْعَلْهُ مِلْحًا اُجَاجًا بِذُنُوْبِنَا۔

(Praise belongs to Allah who made it sweet palatable with His mercy and did not make it Saltish, bitter because of our sins).

REMOVING PARTICLES FROM DRINK

(٤٢٧٩) وَعَنْ اَبِىْ سَعِيْدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهٰى عَنِ النَّفْخِ فِى الشَّرَابِ فَقَالَ رَجُلٌ الْقَذَاةُ اَرَاهَا فِى الْاِنَاءِ قَالَ اَهْرِقْهَا قَالَ فَاِنِّىْ لَا اَرْوٰى مِنْ نَفْسٍ وَاحِدٍ قَالَ فَاَبِنِ الْقَدَحَ فِيْكَ ثُمَّ تَنَفَّسْ۔

(رواه الترمذی والدارمی)

4279. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade blowing into a drink. A man submitted, "what (may I do) if I see dirt in the vessel?" He said, "Pour them out" (by pouring out some of the water or any drink from the top). He then asked (thinking that he could not pause for breath while drinking). "I cannot quench my thirst without breathing (in between)." He said, "Remove the cup from your mouth and take a breath."[2]

NOT FROM A CHIPPED PORTION

(٤٢٨٠) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الشُّرْبِ مِنْ ثُلْمَةِ الْقَدَحِ وَاَنْ يَنْفُخَ فِى الشَّرَابِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4280. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade drinking from a cup (or any vessel) at the place that is chipped and (he also forbade) blowing into a drink.[3]

COMMENTARY: This hadith does not forbid drinking from a broken vessel. But, it forbids drinking from the point that is chipped (and putting it to the lips).

MAY DRINK FROM MOUTH OF SKIN SOMETIMES

(٤٢٨١) وَعَنْ كَبْشَةَ قَالَ دَخَلَ عَلَيَّ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَشَرِبَ مِنْ فِىْ قِرْبَةٍ مُعَلَّقَةٍ قَائِمًا فَقُمْتُ

4281. Sayyiduna Kabshah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم visited her, he drank standing from the mouth of a water skin that was suspended (from top). She went up to it and cut off that portion (where he had drunk).[1]

COMMENTARY: She cut off the portion to keep it as a relic of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Or, she did it out of respect that no one else's mouth may touch that place as Sayyidah Umm رضی اللہ عنہ salamah had done and explained in her hadith.

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم LIKED COLD SWEET WATER

(٤٢٨٢) وَعَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنْ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كَانَ اَحَبُّ الشَّرَابِ اِلَى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْحُلْوُ الْبَارِدُ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ وَالصَّحِيْحُ مَارُوِیَ عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُرْسَلًا)-

4282. Sayyiduna zuhri رحمہ اللہ reported that from Sayyiduna Urwah رحمہ اللہ that Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "The drink dearest to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was a sweet cold drink."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم like sweet drink be it water, milk or honey. This is like in the two other traditions that say that he liked most milk and (according to the other) he liked most honey.

This hadith in another version has been reported that by Sayyiduna Zuhri رحمہ اللہ without naming Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا and not even Sayyiduna Urwah رحمہ اللہ. Tirmidhi (# 1896 or 1803) says about it that it is more sound.

MILK IS BEST FOOD

(٤٢٨٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا اَكَلَ اَحَدُكُمْ طَعَامًا فَلْيَقُلْ اَللّٰهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِيْهِ وَاَطْعِمْنَا خَيْرًا مِنْهُ وَاِذَا سُقِيَ لَبَنًا فَلْيَقُلْ اَللّٰهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِيْهِ وَزِدْنَا مِنْهُ فَاِنَّهُ لَيْسَ شَيْءٌ يُجْزِئُ مِنَ الطَّعَامِ وَالشَّرَابِ اِلَّا اللَّبَنُ- (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4283. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said "When one of you eats food, let him pray:

اَللّٰهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِيْهِ وَاَطْعِمْنَا خَيْرًا مِنْهُ

(O Allah, bless us in it and give us food better then this).
And when he is given milk to drink, let him pray:

اَللّٰهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِيْهِ وَزِدْنَا مِنْهُ

(O Allah, bless us in it and give us more than this to drink)
There is nothing of food or drink that satisfies like milk. (So, he must not pray; 'give us better to drink)[3]

SWEET WATER FOR THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٤٢٨٤) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُسْتَعْذَبُ لَهُ الْمَاءُ مِنَ السُّقْيَا قِيلَ هِيَ عَيْنٌ بَيْنَهَا وَبَيْنَ الْمَدِيْنَةِ يَوْمَانِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4284. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that water was brought for the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم from Suqya. It was the sweetest water. Some people said that it is a spring between which and Madinah is two days' journey.[1]

SECTION III الفصل الثالث

(٤٢٨٥) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ شَرِبَ فِيْ اِنَاءِ ذَهَبٍ اَوْفِضَّةٍ اَوْ اِنَاءٍ فِيْهِ شَيْءٌ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ فَاِنَّمَا يُجَرْجِرُ فِيْ بَطْنِهِ نَارَ جَهَنَّمَ۔ (رواہ الدارقطنی)

4285. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who drinks from a vessel of gold or silver, or a vessel made of something of that, nothing but the fire of hell will bubble in his belly."[2]

COMMENTARY: A vessel made of something of that includes one whose spikes or pins are of gold or silver. Nawawi رحمہ اللہ said that if they are tiny and not more than the necessary number then they are neither forbidden nor makruh (disapproved). If they are in excess or large then the vessels are forbidden.

The Hanafis say, however, that it is allowed to use such vessels for drinking that have nails, spikes, pins etc, of gold or silver provided there is no gold or silver where the lips are placed.

CHAPTER - V

NAQI' & NABIDH OF DIFFERENT KINDS بَابُ النَّقِيْعِ وَالْاَنْبِذَةِ

The prophet used to drink naqi and nabidh. Both of these are of the kind of sweet drinks.

Naqi is made by soaking grapes or dates in water without boiling them. This turns the water to be sweet. It becomes a palatable drink that benefits the body.

Naqi made from dates improves digestion. Naqi from grapes cools drown the body temperature.

Nabidh is made in the same may except that the dates or grapes are left in water for some time so that a little sharpness and pungency is created and there is some change in it but not so much as to cause intoxication. However, that kind of nabidh is intoxicates is forbidden. That is why Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not drink the nabidh that had been stored for more than three days. We shall read bout it shortly.

Naqi gives strength to the body and preserves normal health.

Nabidh is made from things other than grapes and dates too. It is stated in Nihayah that nabidh is made from dates, grapes honey, wheat barley, etc.

The compiler of Mishkat has used the plural form of nabidh in the heading - (الانبذة). The word (انبذہ) anbadhah is the plural of nabidh (نبیذ). This is done to indicate its many kinds and forms.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

THE BOWL OF ANAS رضی اللہ عنہ

(٤٢٨٦) عَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ لَقَدْ سَقَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِقَدَحِيْ هٰذَا الشَّرَابَ كُلَّهُ اَلْعَسَلَ وَالنَّبِيْذَ وَالْمَآءَ وَاللَّبَنَ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4286. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Indeed, I have served Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم in this, my cup all kinds of drink: honey, nabidh, water and milk."[1]

COMMENTARY: Nasr رحمہ اللہ the son of Anas رضی اللہ عنہ had bought the cup from his inheritance at eight hundred thousand dirhams. Bukhari رحمہ اللہ later saw it in Busrah and it was his great good fortune that he was honoured to drink water in this cup.

NABIDH FOR THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٤٢٨٧) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كُنَّا نَنْبِذُ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ سِقَاءٍ يُوْكَأُ اَعْلَاهُ وَلَهٗ عَزْلَاءُ نَنْبِذُهٗ غُدْوَةً فَيَشْرَبُهٗ عِشَآءً وَنَنْبِذُهٗ عِشَاءً فَيَشْرَبُهٗ غُدْوَةً۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4287. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "We used to prepare nabidh for Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم in a water skin that was fastened at the top and had a mouth (lower down). We would put dates (or such ingredients) in the morning into it) and he drank in the evening. Then we would put dates (etc.) in the night and he drank in the morning."[2]

COMMENTARY: The water skin had an opening on its top that was fastened and a mouth at the bottom.

The narrative that say that dates were soaked for a day and a night - or even three days and there nights - concerned the days of winter.

(٤٢٨٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُنْبَذُ لَهٗ اَوَّلَ اللَّيْلِ فَيَشْرَبُهٗ اِذَا اَصْبَحَ يَوْمَهٗ ذٰلِكَ اللَّيْلَةَ الَّتِيْ تَجِيْءُ وَالْغَدَوَةَ اللَّيْلَةَ الْاُخْرٰى وَ الْغَدَ اِلَى الْعَصْرِ فَاِنْ بَقِيَ شَيْءٌ سَقَاهُ الْخَادِمَ اَوْ اَمَرَ بِهٖ فَصُبَّ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4288. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the nabidh that was prepared for Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم in the beginning of the night (by soaking dates), he would drink from it in the morning and the night following, the next day and the next night, and again the next (meaning third) day up to asr. If there still remained something, he gave it to the servant to drink or had it poured out.[3]

COMMENTARY: On the third day, the preparation became somewhat strong, so the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not drink it himself. If it turned into an intoxicant then he had it thrown out and did not allow anyone to drink it.

Mazhar said that the master may eat from the top and give the remaining food to the servant or slave.

(٤٢٨٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ كَانَ يَنْبَذُ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي سِقَاءٍ فَإِذَا لَمْ يَجِدُوْا سِقَاءً يُنْبَذُ لَهُ فِيْ تَوْرٍ مِنْ حِجَارَةٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4289. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that nabidh was prepared for Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم in a water skin, but when they did not find a water skin, they prepared it for him in a stone vessel.[1]

VESSELS THAT MAY NOT BE USED FOR NABIDH

(٤٢٩٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى عَنِ الدُّبَّاءِ وَالْحَنْتَمِ وَالْمُزَفَّتِ وَالنَّقِيْرِ وَاَمَرَ اَنْ يُنْبَذَ فِيْ اَسْقِيَةِ الْاَدَمِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4290. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade the use of pumpkins (as containers), vessels smeared with pitch and hollow stumps (to prepare nabidh) but gave instructions that nabidh should be prepared in water-skins.[2]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had forbidden preparation of nabidh in these containers in early Islam. The reason was the assumption that they would hasten the quality of intoxication of nabidh without anyone knowing it. When the people were well aware of the prohibition of intoxication, it was allowed to use these vessels as the next hadith (# 4291) tells us. We have also seen this in detail in the Book of faith.

PREVIOUS COMMAND WITHDRAWN

(٤٢٩١) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ نَهَيْتُكُمْ عَنِ الظُّرُوْفِ فَاِنَّ ظَرْفًا لَا يُحِلُّ شَيْئًا وَّلَا يُحَرِّمُهُ وَكُلُّ مُسْكِرٍ حَرَامٌ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ قَالَ نَهَيْتُكُمْ عَنِ الْاَشْرِبَةِ اِلَّا فِيْ ظُرُوْفِ الْاَدَمِ فَاشْرَبُوْا فِيْ كُلِّ وِعَاءٍ غَيْرَ اَنْ لَا تَشْرَبُوْا مُسْكِرًا۔ (رواه مسلم)

4291. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "I had forbidden you (to prepare nabidh in) certain vessels. (you had presumed that permissibility or disallowance depends on vessels and containers but it is not so.) No vessel makes anything lawful or unlawful, but every intoxicant is unlawful." (It does not matter in what container it is kept.)

According to another version: (He said,) 'I had forbidden you (to prepare and drink nabidh from) certain vessels but not drinks from water skins. But now you may drink from water skins. But now you may drink from any kind of vessel, yet do not drink any intoxicant."[3]

SECTION II — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِي

EVERY INTOXICANT BY WHICHEVER NAME IS FORBIDDEN

(٤٢٩٢) عَنْ اَبِيْ مَالِكٍ الْاَشْعَرِيِّ اَنَّهُ سَمِعَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَيَشْرَبَنَّ نَاسٌ مِنْ اُمَّتِي الْخَمْرَ يُسَمُّوْنَهَا بِغَيْرِ اِسْمِهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

4292. Sayyiduna Abu Maalik Ash'ari رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Surely, (a time will come when) some people of my ummah will drink wine but call it by a name other than its name (wine)."[1]

COMMENTARY: People with a perverse mind will use different interpretations and take cover behind names. For instance, nabidh is permitted or sweet water prepared with honey is permitted but they will turn them into an intoxicant and convince themselves that they are not forbidden because grapes and dates are not used to prepare them. But, they deceive themselves and will be punished for consuming wine.

There will be those too who will drink wine but give it a different name. they will try to fool people, for the real thing is not the name but that which is named.[2]

اِنْ هِيَ اِلَّا اَسْمَاءٌ .... الهد

{These are nothing but name which you have devised... for which Allah has sent down no authority. They follow nothing but conjecture and what their own souls desire!....} (53: 23)

اَتُجَادِلُوْنَنِيْ ....سُلْطٰنٍ

{Dispute you with me over names which you have advised - you and you fathers - without authority from Allah} (7: 71)

There are other examples too, some of a lighter nature in 12: 40, 13: 33, 17: 73 (for example).

SECTION III — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

(٤٢٩٣) عَنْ عَبْدِ اللّٰهِ بْنِ اَبِيْ اَوْفٰى قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ نَبِيْذِ الْجَرِّ الْاَخْضَرِ قُلْتُ اَنَشْرَبُ فِي الْاَبْيَضِ قَالَ لَا۔ (رواه البخاری)

4293. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Abu Awfa رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade nabidh prepared in green jars. He asked, "May we drink it from the white jars?" He said, "No!"[3]

COMMENTARY: The green jars were mentioned only by a coincidence. Actually, this colour jar was more commonly used for nabidh. So, colour was immaterial. The command was to abstain from nabidh made in any jar.

However, as we have seen previously, this command is abrogated.

CHAPTER - VI

COVERING VESSELS AND OTHER THINGS — بَابُ تَغْطِيَةِ الْاَوَانِيْ وَغَيْرِهَا

The hadith narrated in this chapter are about things to be done before going to sleep in the night, like covering vessels, shutting doors, extinguishing lights, and such other things.

SECTION I — اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

THINGS TO DO WHEN IT IS MIGHT FALL

(٤٢٩٤-٤٢٩٥-٤٢٩٦-٤٢٩٧-٤٢٩٨) عَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا كَانَ جُنْحُ اللَّيْلِ اَوْ اَمْسَيْتُمْ فَكُفُّوْا صِبْيَانَكُمْ فَاِنَّ الشَّيْطٰنَ يَنْتَشِرُ حِيْنَئِذٍ فَاِذَا ذَهَبَ سَاعَةٌ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ فَخَلُّوْهُمْ وَاَغْلِقُوا الْاَبْوَابَ وَاذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللّٰهِ فَاِنَّ الشَّيْطٰنَ لَا يَفْتَحُ بَابًا مُغْلَقًا وَاَوْكُوْا قِرَبَكُمْ وَاذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللّٰهِ وَخَمِّرُوْا اٰنِيَتَكُمْ وَاذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللّٰهِ وَلَوْ اَنْ تَعْرُضُوْا عَلَيْهِ شَيْئًا وَاَطْفِئُوْا مَصَابِيْحَكُمْ۔ (مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ) وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِلْبُخَارِيِّ قَالَ خَمِّرُوْا الْاٰنِيَةَ وَاَوْكُوْا الْاَسْقِيَةَ وَ اَجِيْفُوا الْاَبْوَابَ وَاكْفِتُوْا صِبْيَانَكُمْ عِنْدَ الْمَسَاءِ فَاِنَّ لِلْجِنِّ اِنْتِشَارًا وَخَطْفَةً وَاَطْفِئُوْا الْمَصَابِيْحَ عِنْدَ الرُّقَادِ فَاِنَّ الْفُوَيْسِقَةَ رُبَّمَا اجْتَرَّتِ الْفَتِيْلَةَ فَاَحْرَقَتْ اَهْلَ الْبَيْتِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِمُسْلِمٍ قَالَ غَطُّوا الْاِنَاءَ وَاَوْكُوا السِّقَاءَ وَاَغْلِقُوا الْاَبْوَابَ وَاَطْفِئُوا السِّرَاجَ فَاِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ لَا يَحِلُّ سِقَاءً وَلَا يَفْتَحُ بَابًا وَلَا يَكْشِفُ اِنَاءً فَاِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ اَحَدُكُمْ اِلَّا اَنْ يَعْرِضَ عَلٰى اِنَائِهٖ عُوْدًا وَيَذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللّٰهِ فَلْيَفْعَلْ فَاِنَّ الْفُوَيْسِقَةَ تُضْرِمُ عَلٰى اَهْلِ الْبَيْتِ بَيْتَهُمْ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَهٗ قَالَ لَا تُرْسِلُوْا فَوَاشِيَكُمْ وَصِبْيَانَكُمْ اِذَا غَابَتِ الشَّمْسُ حَتّٰى تَذْهَبَ فَحْمَةُ الْعِشَاءِ فَاِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يُبْعَثُ اِذَا غَابَتِ الشَّمْسُ حَتّٰى تَذْهَبَ فَحْمَةُ الْعِشَاءِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لَهٗ قَالَ غَطُّوا الْاِنَاءَ وَاَوْكُوا السِّقَاءَ فَاِنَّ فِي السَّنَةِ لَيْلَةً يَنْزِلُ فِيْهَا وَبَاءٌ لَا يَمُرُّ بِاِنَاءٍ لَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ غِطَاءٌ اَوْسِقَاءٍ لَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ وِكَاءٌ اِلَّا نَزَلَ فِيْهِ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ الْوَبَاءِ۔

4294. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "When darkness of the night spreads - or when it is evening - keep your children indoors because the devil (or jinn) is all around when a little (or an hour) of the night passes, leave them alone (to themselves), mention the name of Allah (bismillah) and shut the doors, because the devil will not open any door that is shut (after mentioning the name of Allah). And, mention the name of Allah and fasten your water skins. And, mention the name of Allah and cover up your vessels, even putting something on them (crosswise if there is nothing to cover the full opening, even a piece of stick). And extinguish your lamps."[1]

4295. He said, "Cover up the vessels, fasten the water skins, shut the doors and detain your children in the evening because the jinns are all around and (may) take them away, and extinguish the lamp because a mouse often (or sometimes) drags a wick and burns the people of the house."[1]

4296. He said, "Cover up the vessel, fasten the water skin, shut the doors and extinguish the lamp, because the devil does not unfasten a water skin, open a door or uncover a vessel (if the name of Allah is mentioned). If any of you cannot find but a piece of stick, he may put it across over his vessel, mentioning the name of Allah, (and he may extinguish the lamp) for a mouse may set a house on fire (by, dragging a wick) over its people."[2]

4297. He said, "Do not send your animals and children out when the sun sets till the intense darkness of the night has passed, because the devil is sent out when the sun sets till the intense darkness of the night has passed."[3]

4298. He said, "cover up the vessel, and fasten the water skin, because there is a night in the year when pestilence comes down. It does not go by an uncovered vessel or an unfastened water skin without some of that pestilence entering it."[4]

COMMENTARY: In the fist version, these things may be done with the onset of night, or, in the evening, the children may be detained indoors and the other things as night begins. These versions may differ in wording but they can be easily reconciled by interpretation.

As for devils picking up children, this is a fact and is borne out by experience; though there are rare cases of it. They also cause the children to lose their senses.

The jinns and the devils are alike. The rebellious jinns are devilish.

The word (فحمه) (fahmah) translated as intense darkness (Arabic English dictionary, wortabet) is the initial part between maghrib and isha. From isha to morning is (عسعسه) (as'asah). See the Quran (surah at-takwir, 81: 17).

These commands are not wajib (obligatory) to observe. They are a guidance and, at most mustahab (desirable) to follow.

Nawawi رحمه الله said that these are a set of manners and etiquette. The best teaching is to mention Allah's name at every action. This is a protection from every trial and mischief. It is a very easy way to get safety and protection.

CARRY A VESSEL WITH COVER ON IT IF FOOD IS INSIDE

(٤٢٩٩) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ جَآءَ اَبُوْ حُمَيْدٍ رَجُلٌ مِنَّ الْاَنْصَارِ مِنَ النَّقِيْعِ بِاِنَآءٍ مِنْ لَبَنٍ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلَّاخَمَّرْتَهُ وَلَوْ اَنْ تَعْرِضَ عَلَيْهِ عُوْدًا۔ (متفق عليه)

4299. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی الله عنه narrated that Abu Humayd رضی الله عنه one of the ansar, came from Naqi with a vessel containing milk for the Prophet صلی الله عليه وسلم. The Prophet صلی الله عليه وسلم asked him, 'why did you not cover it up, even with a piece of wood across its top?"[5]

EXTINGUISH FIRE BEFORE SLEEPING

(٤٣٠٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا تَتْرُكُوا النَّارَ فِي بُيُوتِكُمْ حِيْنَ تَنَامُوْنَ۔

(متفق عليه)

4300. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "when you prepare to sleep, do not leave a fire burning in your houses.[1]

COMMENTARY: The fire that must be put off is the one that is likely to spread and burn the house. But, the fire in a Lenten that is suspended and not likely to break out may not be extinguished. So, the command does not apply to such things as are not likely to spread fire. Shaykh Abdul Haq Dahlawi رحمہ اللہ said that even a stove and a fire place may be left burning if they are safe.

(٤٣٠١) وَعَنْ أَبِي مُوسٰى قَالَ احْتَرَقَ بَيْتٌ بِالْمَدِيْنَةِ عَلٰى أَهْلِهٖ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ فَحُدِّثَ بِشَأْنِهِ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِنَّ هٰذِهِ النَّارَ إِنَّمَا هِيَ عَدُوٌّ لَكُمْ فَإِذَا نِمْتُمْ فَأَطْفِئُوهَا عَنْكُمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4301. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a house in Madinah caught fire during the night and tumbled over its dwellers. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was informed of it and he said, "This fire is nothing but an enemy to you So when you prepare to sleep, extinguish it (and preserve yourselves from its rage)"[2]

ON HEARING DOGS BARK & DONKEYS BRAY

(٤٣٠٢) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِذَا سَمِعْتُمْ نُبَاحَ الْكِلَابِ وَنَهِيْقَ الْحَمِيْرِ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ فَتَعَوَّذُوْا بِاللّٰهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطٰنِ الرَّجِيْمِ فَإِنَّهُنَّ يَرَيْنَ مَا لَا تَرَوْنَ وَأَقِلُّوا الْخُرُوْجَ إِذَا هَدَأَتِ الْأَرْجُلُ فَإِنَّ اللّٰهَ عَزَّوَجَلَّ يَبُثُّ مِنْ خَلْقِهٖ فِي لَيْلَةٍ مَا يَشَاءُ وَأَجِيْفُوا الْأَبْوَابَ وَاذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ فَإِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ لَا يَفْتَحُ بَابًا إِذَا أُجِيْفَ وَذُكِرَ اسْمُ اللّٰهِ عَلَيْهِ وَغَطُّوا الْجِرَارَ وَاكْفِئُوا الْآنِيَةَ وَأَوْكُوا الْقِرَبَ۔ (رواه في شرح السنة)

4302. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger say, "When you hear the barking of dogs and the braying of the donkeys at night, seek refuge in Allah from the accursed devil because they see what you do not see (meaning, the devil and his offspring). And reduce your coming out (of Your house) when people outside are scarce because Allah who is Mighty and Glorious, scatters about at night such of His creatures as He wills (like the jinns, devils and harmful animals). And, shut the doors and mention the name of Allah while doing it), for, the devil will not open a door that has been shut while the name of Allah is mentioned. And, cover up the vessels (that contain food or drink). Invert (those) vessels (that contain nothing). And fasten the mouths of water-skins."[1]

EXTINGUISH LAMPS AT NIGHT LEST A MOUSE MAKE MISCHIEF

(٤٣٠٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ جَاءَتْ فَارَةٌ تَجُرُّ الْفَتِيلَةَ فَأَلْقَتْهَا بَيْنَ يَدَىْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى الْخُمْرَةِ الَّتِىْ كَانَ قَاعِدًا عَلَيْهَا فَأَحْرَقَتْ مِنْهَا مِثْلَ مَوْضِعِ الدِّرْهَمِ فَقَالَ إِذَا نِمْتُمْ فَأَطْفِؤُا سُرُجَكُمْ فَإِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَدُلُّ مِثْلَ هٰذِهٖ عَلٰى هٰذِهٖ فَيُحْرِقُكُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4303. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that a mouse dragged a wick and dropped it in front of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم on the mat on which he was sitting so it burned it through the like the size of a dirham. (on seeing that) he said, "when you are about to sleep, put off your lanterns, because the devil leads one like this to this thing and it puts you on fire."[2]

COMMENTARY: There is no third section in this chapter but it is not declared by the compiler of the mishkat. The reason for not declaring it is as we did explain earlier in the chapter III heading before the chapter 'on drinks'.

BOOK - XXI

"CLOTHING" كتاب اللباس

The word (لباس) (libas) is a verbal noun but is used in the sense of (Mulbus) (ملبوس) (that which is worn). It is like (كتاب) (kitab - book) which is a verbal noun, yet used in the sense of (muktub) (مكتوب) (that which is written).
The post and present tense of libas are on the form of the chapter (يعلم۔علم)
Its verbal noun is also lubisa and labasa, on the pattern (يضرب۔ضرب).

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم CHOICE CLOTHING

(٤٣٠٤) عَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَ اَحَبُّ الثِّيَابِ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يَّلْبَسَهَا الْحِبَرَةَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4304. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه said that the clothing the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم liked most to wear was hibrah (a yemini cloak with red stripes).[1]

COMMENTARY: Hibrah was one of the best cloaks made in yemen in those times. It has stripes mostly red or green. It was made of pure cotton.
The ulama (Scholars) say that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم liked it because it was green coloured and green clothing will be worn by the people of paradise. Tabarani has written in Awsat. Nusay and Ibn Nusay and Abu Nu'aym in Muhib (the tradition):

اِنَّهٗ كَانَ اَحَبُّ الْاَلْوَانِ اِلَيْهِ الْخُضْرَةُ۔

(The colour dearest to him was green).
Some authorities said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم liked it because it had red stripes. Red rejects dirt.

NARROW SLEEVED CLOAK

(٤٣٠٥) وَعَنِ الْمُغِيْرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَبِسَ جُبَّةً رُوْمِيَّةً ضَيِّقَةَ الْكُمَّيْنِ (متفق عليه)

4305. Sayyiduna Mughirah ibn Shu'bah رضى الله عنه said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم wore a Byzantine cloak that had narrow sleeves.[2]

COMMENTARY: During a journey, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was wearing this cloak. When he had to perform ablution he could not roll his sleeves higher, so he bought his arms from under the sleeves to wash them. It is mustahab (desirable) to have narrow sleeves during a journey but the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم wore wide, flowing sleeves at home when not travelling. However, Ibn Hajar رحمه الله said that it is a bid'ah (innovation) to wear wide sleeves and he interprets the sleeves of the sahabah being broad in a different way. His sharh may be consulted for that. However, we might say that if the sleeves are extraordinarily broad then they may be said to be a condemned bid'ah (innovation) (innovation) but the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم wore sleeves wide within limits. It is stated in Muntaqa that it is mustahab (desirable) to have the sleeves one span wide.

[1] Bukhari # 5813, Muslim # 32-2079.
[2] Bukhari # 363, Muslim # 77. 274.

CLOTHES IN WHICH THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم DIED

(٤٣٠٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ بُرْدَةَ قَالَ اَخْرَجَتْ اِلَيْنَا عَائِشَةُ كِسَاءً مُلَبَّدًا وَاِزَارًا غَلِيْظًا فَقَالَتْ قُبِضَ رُوْحُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ هٰذَيْنِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4306. Sayyiduna Abu Burdah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا brought out to them a patched cloak and a coarse lower garment and said "when the soul of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was taken away, he was wearing these (garments).[1]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had prayed to Allah for himself:

اَللّٰهُمَّ اَحْيِنِيْ مِسْكِيْنًا وَاَمِتْنِيْ مِسْكِيْنًا

(O Allah, cause me to live like a needy, poor and cause me to die a needy, poor).
He died accordingly. It is commendable to be unconcerned of worldly things. So, the ummah is expected to emulate the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم.

PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم BEDDING

(٤٣٠٧) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَ كَانَ فِرَاشُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الَّذِيْ يَنَامُ عَلَيْهِ اَدَمًا حَشْوُهُ لِيْفٌ۔

(متفق عليه)

4307. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that the bedding on which Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم slept was made of leather stuffed with palm fibre (instead of cotton wool).[2]

COMMENTARY: Shama'il Tirmidhi has transmitted from Sayyidah Hafsah رضی اللہ عنہا that the prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم bedding was of sackcloth. So, he may have used both kinds of bedding.

PROPHET'S صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم PILLOW

(٤٣٠٨) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ كَانَ وِسَادُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الَّذِيْ يَتَّكِئُ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ اَدَمٍ حَشْوُهُ لِيْفٌ۔

(رواه مسلم)

4308. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said that the pillow on which Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم leaned was of leather in which coir of the palm tree was stuffed.[3]

COMMENTARY: It is mustahab (desirable) to have a bed and a pillow without being extravagant. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said that one must not turn down a gift of a pillow and of a scent.

[3] Hadith # (312)-2

We learn from these ahadith that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم lived a humble life. He was not concerned with worldly comfort and he had adopted a simple and unpretentious attitude to the affairs and things of the world he wore coarse and patched garments and wore whichever dress was available to him. He never was choosy about it, yet sometimes when he was presented nice clothing, he did put it on to make it clear that it is permitted only to remove it after a while and give it to someone else.

Thus it is contradictory to sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) to bind oneself to wear only good clothing and be particular about it, though it is permitted. Nevertheless, if one can effort to wear good clothing but shows stinginess and keeps to torn, untidy garments, or pretends to be an ascetic then it means nothing. It is ostentatious. Rather, it is known of some pious, austere and self discipline people that they concealed their righteousness and high spiritual standing by donning elegant clothing, Some did it to make known the blessings of Allah on them.

In short, if Allah has made any one affluent and comfortable, then there is no harm if he wears elegant garments. But, he should not be wasteful and extravagant and arrogant. The desired course is to observe moderation in all affairs.[1]

PROPHET'S VISIT TO ABU BAKR'S رضى الله عنه HOUSE

(٤٣٠٩) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ بَيْنَ نَحْنُ جُلُوْسٌ فِيْ بَيْتِنَا فِيْ حَرِّ الظَّهِيْرَةِ قَالَ قَائِلٌ لِاَبِيْ بَكْرٍ هٰذَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُقِيْلًا مُتَقَنِّعًا۔ (رواه البخارى)

4309. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها said, "While we were seated in our home at noon on a very hot day (before hijrah, in Makkah), someone said to Abu Bakr, رضى الله عنه 'This is Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم coming (here) shading his head (with the edge of his cloak)."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم may have intended to cover his head from the heat or to cover his face from enemies of Islam so as not to be recongnised by them.

This hadith is part of a lengthy hadith in which the hijrah is detailed. After the pledge of Aqabah, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم awaited Divine command to set on the emigration to Madinah. Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه had requested him to let him accompany him on the journey. So, when the command was received to emigrate, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم came to his house at noon in the heat and told him that he had been commanded to depart from Makkah and to take Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه along.

Then, in the night, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم went with him from his house from the window that opened towards the low land of Makkah facing the Mount Thawr. They hid themselves in the cave Thawr.

KEEP ONLY THREE BEDDINGS

(٤٣١٠) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَهٗ فِرَاشٌ لِلرَّجُلِ وَفِرَاشٌ لِاِمْرَأَتِهٖ وَالثَّالِثُ لِلضَّيْفِ وَالرَّابِعُ لِلشَّيْطَانِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

---

[1] Shama'il Tirmidhi has transmitted thirteen ahadith on the humbles of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in the chapter on it (# 313, etc).

[2] Bukhari # 5807.

4310. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "let there be a bedding for a man, a bedding for his wife and the third for the guest. The fourth (if there is) will be for the devil."[1]

COMMENTARY: When there is no one in the house besides husband and wife and they are well-off, they must keep three beddings. It is sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) for them to sleep on one bed, but the second is in case she is unwell and prefers to sleep alone. The third bedding should be for a guest if he stays overnight. Any extra bedding will be extravagance and so is said to be for the devil. It will be ostentations and so blame worthy. Everything blameworthy is from the devil. However, if the man is generous and large hearted and many guests visit him, then excess of such things is not blameworthy.

DRAGGING LOWER GARMENT

(٤٣١١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا يَنْظُرُ اللّٰهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ اِلٰى مَنْ جَرَّ اِزَارَهٗ بَطَرًا۔ (متفق عليه)

4311. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "On the day of resurrection, Allah will not look at one who drags his lower garment (below his ankles) out of pride and arrogance."[2]

COMMENTARY: If anyone trials his lower garment but is not arrogant, then it is not forbidden. However, it is makruh tanzihi (disapproved nearer to lawful) to do so. If he has an excuse for that like feeling cold or being ill, then it is not makruh (disapproved).

(٤٣١٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ جَرَّ ثَوْبَهٗ خُيَلَاءَ لَمْ يَنْظُرِ اللّٰهُ اِلَيْهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4312. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said. "On the day of resurrection, Allah will not look (with a merciful sight) at one who drags his garments (on the ground) arrogantly."[3]

COMMENTARY: It is general statement for any kind of garment whatsoever that one trials. It may even be a head scarf.

(٤٣١٣) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بَيْنَمَا رَجُلٌ يَجُرُّ اِزَارَهٗ مِنَ الْخُيَلَاءِ خُسِفَ بِهٖ فَهُوَ يَتَجَلْجَلُ فِي الْاَرْضِ اِلٰى يَوْمِ الْقِيٰمَةِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4313. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "A man was trailing his lower garment (proudly on the earth). So, he was swallowed by the earth and will continued to be swallowed it till the day of resurrection."[4]

COMMENTARY: Perhaps this person who is mentioned may have been a member of this very ummah. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم may have foretold about him. Or, the person may have been of one of the past ummah. Some people say that it is about Quran (Korah), but it does not seem plausible.

DISALLOWED TO USE EXCESS CLOTH

(٤٣١٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا اَسْفَلَ مِنَ الْكَعْبَيْنِ مِنَ الْاِزَارِ فِي النَّارِ(رواه البخاری)

4314. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The portion of the lower garment that extends below the ankles will be in hell."[1]

COMMENTARY: All the foot be'ow the ankle on which the lower garment flows will go to hell Some people interpret it to mean that this is a blame worthy deed and will lead to hell. Most of these ahadith mention trailing the izar (trousers, pyjamas, and the like), and they would a severe warning to these people. So much that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saw a man offer salah (prayer) while his izar was dragging below his ankles, he instructed him to make a fresh ablution and offer salah (prayer) all over again.

According to a tradition , all (Muslims) are forgiving on the night of 15th Sha'ban, but not one who is disobedient to parents, consumes wine, trials the izar. The truth, however, is that these warnings apply not merely to one who drags the izar but to these who trial any kind of garment. It means every excess cloth on the body more than necessary, and outside the limits of sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). In fact, we have seen a hadith earlier the mentions garments in general, not merely izar. Also, we shall see another hadith of Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ that mentions other apparel besides izar in Section II.

The best course is to keep the izar, or any kind of lower garment, down to half the shin. The Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم lungi (waist wrapper reached half his shin. However, one is allowed to keep the izar, waist-wrapper or any garment down up to the ankles not more. The same command applies to the hens of shirt, aba, shirwani, coat, atc.

The length of the sleeves of the shirts, etc. should be up to the closed first. The trail of the turban should not exceed half of one's back. If it exceeds that will be bid'ah (innovation) and will be counted among the forbidden.

Thus, what some people do by using more than necessary cloth is against sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). They have very long sleeves, very broad shoulders shirt with very broad sides, lower garments having many metrss of cloth at waist large turbans. If that is done out of arrogance then it is forbidden. If that is done to imitate other people then it is makruh (disapproved).

Woman too are forbidden to have excess length and breadth of garments. But, they are allowed to keep more length and breadth by one or two spans relative to men. Infect. So much is mustahab (desirable) as is necessary to observe the veil. We shall see it in the hadith of Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا (# 4334)

DISALLOWED MANNERS OF DRESSING

(٤٣١٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يَّاْكُلَ الرَّجُلُ بِشِمَالِهٖ اَوْ يَمْشِيَ فِيْ نَعْلٍ وَاحِدَةٍ وَاَنْ يَّشْتَمِلَ الصَّمَّاءَ اَوْيَحْتَبِيَ فِيْ ثَوْبٍ وَاحِدٍ كَاشِفًا عَنْ فَرْجِهٖ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4315. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that a man should eat with his left hand, or walk with on (foot in a) sandal, or wrap himself in a single garment thoroughly (with both hands enclosed), or sit with a single garment wrapped on him with his hands round his knees (that are erect), disclosing his private parts.[1]

[1] Bukhari # 5787.

COMMENTARY: It is nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) to eat with the left hand, but some people say nahi tahrimi.

To walk with one sandal only is a bad thing and below one's dignity. If the sandal has high heels, one may storable and fall. Hence, it is disallowed.

It is disallowed to wrap a single piece of cloth around oneself because that makes one immobile. One cannot even use one's hands Ibn Hammam رحمه الله said that his thing is makruh (disapproved) in salah (prayer) because that leaves no way for hands to move, but. Imam Muhammad رحمه الله said that it is makruh (disapproved) only when he has not worn an izar or a waist-wrapper. Others say however, that it is makruh (disapproved) all the same. Imam Nawawi رحمه الله has described this kind of wrapping oneself in a single garment (اشتمال صماء) as not having any other garment on oneself, and picking up the edge of this wrapped garment on one's shoulder. This thing is forbidden because it uncovers some portion of one's satr (that must be covered in all cases). So, in short if satr will be uncovered by using thing attire, then it is forbidden. But it is merely a possibility that satr will be uncovered then it is makruh (disapproved).

Sitting with knees raised and buttocks on the ground and hands round the knees is disallowed in certain cases. It is disallowed when only a single garment is used to cover oneself (and there is no other clothing on the body). It might uncover one's private parts. If any other clothing is worn then such kind of sitting is allowed. In fact, it is then mustahab (desirable) to sit in this manner apart from salah (prayer). It is said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم used to sit in this manner apposite the Ka'bah. If the cloth covering is large enough not to uncover the body then it is allowed to sit in this manner even with only one sheet of cloth round oneself.

MAN WEARING SILK

(٤٣١٦-٤٣١٧-٤٣١٨-٤٣١٩) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ وَأَنَسٍ وَابْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ وَأَبِي أُمَامَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ لَبِسَ الْحَرِيْرَ فِي الدُّنْيَا لَمْ يَلْبَسْهُ فِي الْأٰخِرَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4316 to 4319. (Sayyiduna) Umar رضى الله عنه, Anas رضى الله عنه, Ibn Zubayr رضى الله عنه and Abu Umamah رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He who wears silk in this world will not wear it in the next world."[2]

COMMENTARY: This applies to one who says that silk is lawful to men. Or, it might be by way of a warning. Or, this man will be prevented from entering paradise for some time because the dress of paradise includes silk. Suyuti رحمه الله said that the u lama interpret this hadith to mean that if a man wear silk in this world then he will not enter paradise with those people who will be eligible to enter it in the beginning and go to it. This is supported by the hadith of Sayyidah Juwayriyah رضى الله عنها in Musnad Ahmad:

مَنْ لَبِسَ الْحَرِيرَ فِي الدُّنْيَا أَلْبَسَهُ اللّٰهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ ثَوْبًا مِنْ نَّارٍ

(He who wears silk in this world, Allah will make him wear a garment of fire on the day of resurrection.)

(٤٣٢٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّمَا يَلْبَسُ الْحَرِيْرَ فِي الدُّنْيَا مَنْ لَا خَلَاقَ لَهُ فِي الْاٰخِرَةِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4320. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "He alone wears silk in this world who has no portion in the hereafter."[1]

COMMENTARY: This is an indication that he who wears silk in t his world will not enter paradise because the Quran says that the dress of the dwellers of paradise will be silk. This means that the infidels will not enter paradise and the Muslim who wear silk in this world will enter paradise only when all sinners are admitted to it after their punishment is awarded to them, the chastisement of the fire of hell.

MEN DISALLOWED GOLD & SILVER VESSELS & SILK GARMENTS

(٤٣٢١) وَعَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ قَالَ نَهَانَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنْ نَّشْرَبَ فِيْ اٰنِيَةِ الْفِضَّةِ وَالذَّهَبِ وَأَنْ نَّأْكُلَ فِيْهَا وَعَنْ لُبْسِ الْحَرِيْرِ وَالدِّيْبَاجِ وَأَنْ نَّجْلِسَ عَلَيْهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4321. Sayyiduna Hudhayfah رضی الله عنه said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade us to drink from a vessel of silver or gold and to eat there from, and to wear silk and brocade and to sit on them."

COMMENTARY: According to Fatawa Qadi Khan, even children are forbidden from wearing silk. One who gives them to wear commits sin. Imam Abu Hanifah رحمه الله said that there is no harm in using silk in beddings and sleeping on them. The same applies to pillow covers and curtains. But, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمه الله and Imam Muhammad رحمه الله said that these things are makruh (disapproved). So, taqwa (piety)demands that we must abstain from these things. One must keep away from what is doubtful too. A hadith says:

دَعْ مَا يُرِيْبُكَ إِلٰى مَا لَا يُرِيْبُكَ

(Abstain from what causes you doubt but do what is not doubtful to your mind).

(٤٣٢٢) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ أُهْدِيَتْ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حُلَّةٌ سِيَرَاءُ فَبَعَثَ بِهَا إِلَيَّ فَلَبِسْتُهَا فَعَرَفْتُ الْغَضَبَ فِيْ وَجْهِهٖ فَقَالَ إِنِّيْ لَمْ أَبْعَثْ بِهَا إِلَيْكَ لِتَلْبَسَهَا إِنَّمَا بَعَثْتُ بِهَا إِلَيْكَ لِتُشَقِّقَهَا خُمُرًا بَيْنَ النِّسَآءِ۔

(متفق عليه)

4322. Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه narrated, "A hullah (striped pair of clothing) of silk was presented to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. He sent it to me. I wore the hullah, but perceived displeasure on his face. He said, 'I did not send it to you that you might wear it but that you might cut the hullah into veils and give them to women." (veils or scarf's.)[1]

---

[1] Bukhari # 5835, Muslim # 7-2068.

COMMENTARY: The pair of clothing was forbidden to wear if it was made of silk. Or, it was proper to keep away from if it was part silk, us a righteous person should have done. But, Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ thought that it was sent to him to wear.

(٤٣٢٣-٤٣٢٤) وَعَنْ عُمَرَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى عَنْ لُبْسِ الْحَرِيْرِ إِلَّا هٰكَذَا وَرَفَعَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِصْبَعَيْهِ الْوُسْطٰى وَالسَّبَابَةَ وَضَمَّهُمَا. مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِّمُسْلِمٍ أَنَّهُ خَطَبَ بِالْجَابِيَةِ فَقَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ لُبْسِ الْحَرِيْرِ إِلَّا مَوْضِعَ إِصْبَعَيْنِ أَوْ ثَلَاثٍ أَوْ أَرْبَعٍ.

4323. Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade wearing silk except 'so much. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم indicated that by raising his middle and forefinger and putting them together. (Thereby, he meant that only that much of silk was permitted to wear.)[2]

4324. According to a version: He (Umar) رضی اللہ عنہ delivered a sermon in Jabiyah during which he said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade wearing silk garments except to the extent of two, three of four fingers.[3]

COMMENTARY: The maximum that men may wear of silk is as in the second version.

TIYALSIYAH MANTLE OF BROCADE OF THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٤٣٢٥) وَعَنْ أَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ أَبِيْ بَكْرٍ أَنَّهَا أَخْرَجَتْ جُبَّةً طَيَالِسَةً كِسْرَوَانِيَّةً لَهَا لِبْنَةُ دِيْبَاجٍ وَفَرْجَيْهَا مَكْفُوْفَيْنِ بِالدِّيْبَاجِ وَقَالَتْ هٰذِهٖ جُبَّةُ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَتْ عِنْدَ عَائِشَةَ فَلَمَّا قُبِضَتْ قَبَضْتُهَا وَكَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَلْبَسُهَا وَنَحْنُ نَغْسِلُهَا لِلْمَرْضٰى نَسْتَشْفِيْ بِهَا. (رواه مسلم)

4325. Sayyidah Asma bint Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہا brought out a tayalisah[4] Royal robe. Its collar had a piece of brocade stitched to it in the front and back. She said, "This is the robe of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا had. When she died, I inherited it. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wore it (sometimes). We wash it for the sick (and give the water to them to drink) and seek a cure by means of it."[5]

COMMENTARY: Taylisan is the plural of tiyalisah. It is an Arabicised form of talisan (t ط) with (t ت). It is a particular kind of robe of black colour made of wool. In ancient times, the Jews wore it. The Persian monarchs more this robe too. This is why the Arabic word kisrawaniyah (from kisra) or royal is used.

Generally, these robes had a slit in the front and the back at the level of the coller. Brocade was affixed on these two sides.

Sayyidah Asma رضی اللہ عنہ showed that she possessed this blessed robe. She also intended that people might know that it was permitted to wear this kind of robe with brocade.

[4] Taylisan is a long coat worn by learned men. The plural is tiyalisah.
[5] Muslim # 10-2069.

This hadith tells us that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم wore a robe with brocade on it. But, we shall see the tradition of Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضى الله عنه (# 4354) in which the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has said that he did not wear a silk shirt. Perhaps the robe in hadith may have had brocade less than four fingers on it and he shirt of which he said may have had more of it. Besides, a robe is not as impressive as a shirt. The hadith of Imran رضى الله عنه may have been based on taqwa (piety)and of Sayyidah Asma رضى الله عنه may have been motivated to show permissibility.

As for the robe being used to seek cure, perhaps the water on washing it was given to the patient to drink. Or, the robe itself was placed on the patient's head and eyes. Or, the robe has touched by the hands and they were then kissed. Cure was sought from blessings thereof.

SILK MAY BE WORN IF THERE IS A REASON FOR IT

(٤٣٢٦) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ رَخَّصَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِلزُّبَيْرِ وَعَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ فِيْ لُبْسِ الْحَرِيْرِ لِحِكَّةٍ بِهِمَا مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِمُسْلِمٍ قَالَ اِنَّهُمَا شَكَوْا الْقُمَّلَ فَرَخَّصَ لَهُمَا فِيْ قُمُصِ الْحَرِيْرِ۔

4326. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم permitted Zubayr and Abdur Rahman ibn Awf رضى الله عنه to wear silk because they had an itch (from the lice that had infected them).[1]

According to another version: He said that they complained of lice and the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم permitted them to wear silk.[2]

COMMENTARY: It is stated in Mujiz (موجز) that if one wears silk, the lice disappear.

DO NOT WEAR CLOTHES DYED WITH SAFFRON

(٤٣٢٧) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو ابنِ العاصِ قَالَ رَاٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَيَّ ثَوْبَيْنِ مُعَصْفَرَيْنِ فَقَالَ اِنَّ هٰذِهٖ مِنْ ثِيَابِ الْكُفَّارِ فَلَا تَلْبَسْهُمَا وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ قُلْتُ اَغْسِلُهُمَا قَالَ بَلْ اَحْرِقْهُمَا رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ وَسَنَذْكُرُ حَدِيْثَ عَائِشَةَ خَرَجَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَاتَ غَدَاةٍ فِيْ بَابِ مَنَاقِبِ اَهْلِ بَيْتِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ۔

4327. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضى الله عنه said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم saw me donned in a pair of clothing dyed with saffron. He said, 'These are garments of the infidels. Do not wear them."

According to a version: "I asked, 'May I wash them?" He said, 'No burn them."[3]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم saying 'Burn them' was an overstatement to mean 'Give them away to some woman; for woman are allowed to wear clothes dyed with saffron. According to a version, he did burn them. When on the next day, he told the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم about it, he asked, "Why did you not give them to your woman? It is proper for them to wear these garments."

Anyway, he did not really mean that he should burn the garments.

[2] Muslim.

[3] Muslim # 27. 2077.

As for men wearing clothes dyed with saffron, some ulama (Scholars) say that it is altogether forbidden to men. Some say that it is permitted to them. Some say that if the cloth was dyed with saffron after weaving, then it is forbidden to men to wear it, but if cotton is dyed before being woven, then it is allowed to wear. Some say that it is odour (of Saffron) has disappeared then it is permitted wearing, otherwise it is forbidden. Others contend that it is makruh (disapproved) to wear clothing dyed with saffron in public but proper to wear at home.

The agreed opinion of the Hanafis is that is makruh (disapproved) tahrimi to wear clothing dyed with Saffron, and makruh (disapproved) to offer salah (prayer) with it. Opinions differ on other red colours. Shaykh Qasim Hanafi رحمه الله, a noted latter day Hanafi scholar of Egypt and teacher of Qastalani issued of fatwa (edict) that prohibition is based truly on colour. So every kind of red colour is haraam (forbidden) and makruh (disapproved) (disliked) to men.

We shall narrate the hadith of Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها (The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم went out one morning…") at # 6136.

SECTION II الفصل الثاني

SHIRT AS PREFERRED CLOTHING

(٤٣٢٨) عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ كَانَ أَحَبُّ الثِّيَابِ إِلَى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْقَمِيْصَ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4328. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی الله عنها said "The clothing Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم liked most was a shirt."[1]

COMMENTARY: There are reasons why a shirt is preferred, but the main is that since the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم liked it, there must have been some exclusive reason for it as in everything that is mustahab (desirable).

(٤٣٢٩) وَعَنْ أَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ يَزِيْدَ قَالَتْ كَانَ كُمُّ قَمِيْصِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَى الرُّسْغِ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

4329. Sayyidah Asma bint Yazid رضی الله عنها said, "The sleeves of the shirt of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم were up to the wrists."[2]

COMMENTARY: Some traditions say that his sleeves come to the tips of his fingers. They say about his shirt that it was higher than his ankles.

BEGIN TO WEAR FROM THE RIGHT SIDE

(٤٣٣٠) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا لَبِسَ قَمِيْصًا بَدَأَ بِمَيَامِنِهِ (رواه الترمذی)

4330. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه said, "When Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم wore a shirt, he began to wear from the right side."[3]

COMMENTARY: The hadith uses the plural form of 'right side.' This covers the sleeves

[1] Tirmidhi # 1762, Abu Dawud # 5316.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1765, Abu Dawud # 4025.

[3] Tirmidhi # 1766.

and the most of the shirt.

LOWER GARMENT SHOULD BETTER BE UPTO HALF SHIN, NO MORE

(٤٣٣١) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدِ بْنِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ إِزْرَةُ الْمُؤْمِنِ إِلٰى أَنْصَافِ سَاقَيْهِ لَا جُنَاحَ عَلَيْهِ فِيْمَا بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْكَعْبَيْنِ وَمَا أَسْفَلَ مِنْ ذٰلِكَ فَفِي النَّارِ قَالَ ذٰلِكَ ثَلَاثَ مَرَّاتٍ وَلَا يَنْظُرُ اللّٰهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ إِلٰى مَنْ جَرَّ إِزَارَهُ بَطَرًا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد وابن ماجة)

4331. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say, "The believers lower garment should be halfway down his legs (up to half shins). There is no sin if it extends to halfway between that and the ankles But, what portion goes lower than that (meaning, ankles) will be in hell." He said that three times. (And, he added:) "On the day of resurrection, Allah will not look at him (with a merciful look) who drags his lower garment arrogantly."[1]

DISALLOWED TO TRIAL ANY GARMENT

(٤٣٣٢) وَعَنْ سَالِمٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْإِسْبَالُ فِي الْإِزَارِ وَالْقَمِيْصِ وَالْعِمَامَةِ مَنْ جَرَّ مِنْهَا شَيْئًا خُيَلَاءَ لَمْ يَنْظُرِ اللّٰهُ إِلَيْهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی وابن ماجة)

4332. Sayyiduna Saalim رحمه الله reported that on the authority of his father (Abdullah ibn Umar) رضی الله عنه that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Al-Isbaal is in the izar, shirt and turban. He who trials any of these (garments), arrogantly, Allah will not look at him (mercifully) on the day of resurrection."[2]

COMMENTARY: Isbal (isbaal) is to let a garment hand down more than the limit permitted by Shari'ah (divine law) or disliked by it. Apart from a lower garment, it can be done with a shirt turban and being extravagant with any cloth. We have elaborated on it against the hadith of Abu Hurayrah رضی الله عنه (# 4311).

COPS OF THE SAHABAH (PROPHET'S COMPANIONS) رضی الله عنهم

(٤٣٣٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي كَبْشَةَ قَالَ كَانَ كِمَامُ أَصْحَابِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بُطْحًا رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ مُنْكَرٌ۔

4333. Sayyiduna Abu Kabshah رضی الله عنه said that the caps of the sahabah (companions) رضی الله عنه of Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم used to be attached to their heads (as though fixed on them).[3]

COMMENTARY: The word (کمام) (Kimam) is the plural of (کمه) (Kumah). It is a round cap (or hat).

The word (بطح) (buth) is the plural of (بطحا) (butha) which means a 'level pebbled land.'

Thus, their caps were round and wide, level with the head, not raised upward, high and long, like the current Turk and Iranian caps.

[2] Abu Dawud # 4085, Nasa'i # 5334, Ibn Majah # 3526.

[3] Tirmidhi # 1782.

However, some scholars say that kimam is not the plural of kumah but of (kum) (كم) which means 'a sleeve.' This would imply that the sahabah wore broad sleeves, about one span wide, in their shirts.

WOMAN MAY USED MORE CLOTH

(٤٣٣٤-٤٣٣٥) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ قَالَتْ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حِيْنَ ذَكَرَ الْإِزَارَ فَالْمَرْأَةُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ قَالَ تُرْخِيْ شِبْرًا فَقَالَتْ إِذَا تَنْكَشِفُ عَنْهَا قَالَ نَذِرَاعًا لَا تَزِيْدُ عَلَيْهِ (رَوَاهُ مَالِكٌ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ ـ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةِ التِّرْمِذِيِّ وَالنَّسَائِيِّ عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ فَقَالَتْ إِذَا تَنْكَشِفُ أَقْدَامُهُنَّ قَالَ فَيُرْخِيْنَ ذِرَاعًا لَا يَزِدْنَ عَلَيْهِ)۔

4334. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا said that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم mentioned the izar (or the lower garment), she asked, "And what about a woman, O Messenger of Allah?" He said, "She may extend it down a span." She submitted, "Then, too, that would be uncovered." He said, "she might let it down a cubit (according to Shari'ah (divine law) standard), but not more (then that)."[1]

4335. (According to another version) Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that she submitted, "Then their feet would be uncovered." He said, "Let them then extend it one cubit, but not more."[2]

THE SEAL OF PROPHETHOOD

(٤٣٣٦) وَعَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ بْنِ قُرَّةَ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ قَالَ أَتَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ رَهْطٍ مِنْ مُزَيْنَةَ فَبَايَعُوْهُ وَإِنَّهُ لَمُطْلَقُ الْإِزَارِ فَأَدْخَلْتُ يَدِيْ فِيْ جَيْبِ قَمِيْصِهِ فَمَسِسْتُ الْخَاتَمَ ـ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4336. Sayyiduna Mu'awiyah ibn Qurrah رحمہ اللہ reported about his father that he said, "I came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم with a group of people of Muzaynah. They swore allegiance to him. He had his buttons (of the shirt) open I put my hand inside his shirt and touched the seal (of Prophethood)."[3]

COMMENTARY: The collar of the Prophet's shirt was on his chest. Suyuti رحمہ اللہ said about those people who say that it is bid'ah (innovation) to have the collar of a shirt on the chest, that they are ignorant. Many ahadith confirm that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had it on the chest.

EXCELLENCE OF WHITE GARMENTS

(٤٣٣٧) وَعَنْ سَمُرَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْبَسُوا الثِّيَابَ الْبِيْضَ فَإِنَّهَا أَطْهَرُ وَأَطْيَبُ وَكَفِّنُوْا فِيْهَا مَوْتَاكُمْ ـ (رواہ احمد والترمذی والنسائی و ابن ماجۃ)

4337. Sayyiduna Samurah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Wear white garments. They are purer and neater. And, should your dead in them."[4]

---

[1] Muwatta Maalik # 13 (Libas - clothing), Abu Dawud # 4117, Nasa'i, Ibn Majah.
[2] Tirmidhi # 1713, Nasa'i # 5336, Abu Dawud # 4119.
[3] Abu Dawud # 4082.
[4] Musnad Ahmad 5-13, Tirmidhi # 2810, Nasa'i # 1896, Ibn Majah # 3567.

COMMENTARY: A white garment is pure because it is washed often. It is neat and is preferred by people of a good disposition and sound nature. However, there can be times when it is necessary to wear another colour. For example, some Sufis prefer blue (or any other colour) because they cannot wash white often.

The shroud must be of a white colour preferably because the dead person is among the angels. It is also better to wear white when going to mosque or the salah (prayer) and when going to meet the ulama (Scholars) and awliya. However, it is better on eed days to wear clothing that is more costly to demonstrate Allah's bounties. This is supported by the tradition that the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wore a cloak of red stripes on eed days and on Fridays.

LOOSE END OF TURBAN

(٤٣٣٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا اعْتَمَّ سَدَلَ عِمَامَتَهُ بَيْنَ كَتِفَيْهِ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ)۔

4338. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم put on a turban, he let down the end between his shoulders.[1]

(٤٣٣٩) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ قَالَ عَمَّمَنِيْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَسَدَلَهَا بَيْنَ يَدَيَّ وَمِنْ خَلْفِيْ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4339. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Awf رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم tied a turban on me, placing the ends in front of me and behind me (hanging on both sides)."[2]

COMMENTARY: He had both the ends of the turban hang loose on either side of him, the chest and back.

It is sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) to put on a turban. Many ahadith mention its merits. One of them, though da'if (weak), says that a salah (prayer) of two raka'at with the turban is more excellent then seventy raka'at offered without the turban.

It is better to leave the end of the turban hanging but not always. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم is known to have left the end hanging and also to have not done so. Also, sometimes, he had the end loose at his neck and, sometimes he tuck one end within the turban, learning the other hanging.

Often he had the end on his back and sometimes on his right side. Sometimes, he had two ends on either side of him- on the chest and on the back. Since it is not known that he suspended it on his left side, so it is a bid'ah (innovation) to do so. According to kanz, it is mustahab (desirable) to leave the end between the shoulders.

The length of the end should be a minimum of one span and a maximum of one cubit. More then that is a bid'ah (innovation). It is also a disobedience to the command forbidden isbal. If it is out of arrogance then it will be haram (unlawful), otherwise makruh (disapproved). Also, to leave the end only for salah (prayer) is a contravention of the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice).

---

[1] Tirmidhi # 1736.

[2] Abu Dawud # 4079.

According to the jurists, it is mustahab (desirable) to leave the end of a turban and an optional sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice), not a guiding sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). Hence, there is no harm in not leaving an end hanging, though doing it is rewarded and excellent. It is wrong of some people to say that to leave an end of the turban hanging is sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) muwakkadah.

TURBAN ON CAP

(٤٣٤٠) وَعَنْ رُكَانَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ فَرْقُ مَابَيْنَنَا وَبَيْنَ الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ الْعَمَائِمُ عَلَى الْقَلَانِسِ

رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ وَإِسْنَادُهُ لَيْسَ بِالْقَائِمِ۔

4340. Sayyiduna Rukanah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "A difference between us and the polytheists is (also) that we wear the turbans over caps."[1]

COMMENTARY: Tirmidhi calls this hadith gharib with a weak line of transmission, but Abu Dawud who has also narrated it says nothing of it.

The hadith could mean:

(i) We wear the turbans over caps, but the polytheists do not wear caps at all.

(ii) We wera the turbans over cap, but they do not wear turban at all, and only put on caps.

The exponents of the hadith prefer the first meaning because the polytheist were known to have worn the turbans.

Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ prefers the second meaning also (with the first) having cited khudri رضی اللہ عنہ. He has also said that some ulama (Scholars) contend that both cap and turban should be worn, only the cap is the symbol of the polytheists.

GOLD & SILK FORBIDDEN TO MEN

(٤٣٤١) وَعَنْ أَبِي مُوْسَى الْأَشْعَرِيِّ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ أُحِلَّ الذَّهَبُ وَالْحَرِيْرُ لِلْإِنَاثِ مِنْ

أُمَّتِيْ وَحُرِّمَ عَلَى ذُكُوْرِهَا (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ صَحِيْحٌ)۔

4341. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ Ash'ary رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم Said, "Gold and silk are permitted to the woman of my ummah, but forbidden to its men."[2]

COMMENTARY: The word 'man includes boys. Since boys are not responsible, the prohibition applies to those who give them to wear for they will be sinning.

As for gold, it means jewellery of gold, otherwise vessels of gold and silver are forbidden to both men and woman.

As for silver jewellery, it is allowed only to woman. Only a certain limit is permitted to men, like rings, etc.

PRAYER ON WEARING NEW GARMENTS

(٤٣٤٢) وَعَنْ أَبِي سَعِيْدِ نِ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا اسْتَجَدَّ ثَوْبًا سَمَّاهُ

---

[1] Tirmidhi # 1784.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1720, Nasa'i # 5148, Musnad Ahmad 4. 392.

بِاِسْمِهٖ عِمَامَةً اَوْقَمِيْصًا اَوْرِدَآءً ثُمَّ يَقُوْلُ اَللّٰهُمَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ كَمَا كَسَوْتَنِيْهِ اَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَهٗ وَخَيْرَ مَاصُنِعَ لَهٗ وَاَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهٖ وَشَرِّمَا صُنِعَ لَهٗ۔ (رواه الترمذى وابوداؤد)

4342. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ said that when Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wore a new garment, he mentioned it by name (say) 'turban shirt, cloak. Then, he prayed:

اَللّٰهُمَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ كَمَا كَسَوْتَنِيْهِ اَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَهٗ وَخَيْرَ مَاصُنِعَ لَهٗ وَاَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهٖ وَشَرِّمَا صُنِعَ لَهٗ

(O Allah praise is for you! Just as you have clothed me with it, I pray to you for its good and the good of that for which it was made. And I seek refuge in you from its evil and the evil of that for which it was made.)[1]

COMMENTARY: Ibn Hibban رحمہ اللہ Khatib رحمہ اللہ and Baghawi رحمہ اللہ have reported that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم decided to wear a new garment he wore it on Friday.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم mentioned the garment that he decided to wear. It could be one of there named or any other.

Before making the supplication he would say... (لامنی اللہ) or (اعطانی اللہ) or (کسانی اللہ) (Allah has provided me Allah has granted me... or Allah has clothed me with...) (لهذاالقميص) (this shirt) Then he made the supplication.

(٤٣٤٣) وَعَنْ مُعَاذِ بْنِ اَنَسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ اَكَلَ طَعَامًا ثُمَّ قَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ اَطْعَمَنِيْ هٰذَا الطَّعَامَ وَرَزَقَنِيْهِ مِنْ غَيْرِ حَوْلٍ مِنِّيْ وَلَا قُوَّةٍ غُفِرَ لَهٗ مَاتَقَدَّمَ مِنْ ذَنْبِهٖ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَزَادَ اَبُوْدَاوٗدَ وَمَنْ لَبِسَ ثَوْبًا فَقَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ كَسَانِيْ هٰذَا وَرَزَقَنِيْهِ مِنْ غَيْرِ حَوْلٍ مِنِّيْ وَلَا قُوَّةٍ غُفِرَ لَهٗ مَاتَقَدَّمَ مِنْ ذَنْبِهٖ وَمَاتَاَخَّرَ۔

4343. Sayyiduna Mu'adh ibn Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who eats food and prays afterwards:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ اَطْعَمَنِيْ هٰذَا الطَّعَامَ وَرَزَقَنِيْهِ مِنْ غَيْرِ حَوْلٍ مِنِّيْ وَلَا قُوَّةٍ غُفِرَ لَهٗ مَاتَقَدَّمَ مِنْ ذَنْبِهٖ

- is forgiven (all) his past (minor) sins.[2]

And, Abu Dawud Adds; He who puts on a dress and prays:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ كَسَانِيْ هٰذَا وَرَزَقَنِيْهِ مِنْ غَيْرِ حَوْلٍ مِنِّيْ وَلَا قُوَّةٍ غُفِرَ لَهٗ مَاتَقَدَّمَ مِنْ ذَنْبِهٖ وَمَاتَاَخَّرَ

- is forgiven (all) his past and latter (minor) sins.[3]

(Translation of both supplications follows:)

(i) Praise belongs to Allah who fed me this food and provided it to me without my possessing power or ability (to acquire it).

(ii) Praise belongs to Allah who clothed me with this and provided it to me without my possessing power on ability (to acquire it).

LIVE LIKE A RIDER

(٤٣٤٤) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ قَالَ لِيْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَا عَائِشَةُ اِنْ اَرَدْتِّ اللُّحُوْقَ بِيْ فَلْيَكْفِكِ مِنَ الدُّنْيَا كَزَادِ الرَّاكِبِ وَاِيَّاكِ وَمَجَالِسَةَ الْاَغْنِيَاءِ وَلَا تَسْتَخْلِقِيْ ثَوْبًا حَتّٰى تُرَقِّعِيْهِ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ لَا نَعْرِفُهُ اِلَّا مِنْ حَدِيْثِ صَالِحِ بْنِ حَسَّانٍ وَقَالَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ اِسْمَاعِيْلَ صَالِحُ بْنُ حَسَّانٍ مُنْكَرُ الْحَدِيْثِ۔

4344. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to her. "O Ayshah, if you wish to remain with me (in both the worlds), then be satisfied with only so much of worldly things as (are enough as) a riders provision, and abstain from sitting with the rich, and do not regard a garment as useless till you patch it (and it is wearable)."[1]

Tirmidhi has rated this hadith a gharib.

COMMENTARY: A rider's provision is just enough for his journey and he travel's rapidly so need little. Hence, we too must do with the ba.e minimum subsisting level.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said that one must avoid the company of the rich because that could make one crave for worldly possessions. This is why Allah says:

لَا تَمُدَّنَّ عَيْنَيْكَ (الآية)

{Strain out your eyes at what we have let some... enjoy} (15: 88)

Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, one day, "Avoid sitting with the dead." He was asked, "Who are the dead that we must avoid)?" He said. "The rich people."

A torn garment must not be thrown away as worthless. It may be patched up and re used at least once. In these words, we are urged to be content with old clothing by way of asceticism. Sayyiduna Umar, رضی اللہ عنہ during his caliphate, delivered a sermon while he as wearing a waist wrapper that had twelve patches on it.

(٤٣٤٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ اُمَامَةَ اِيَاسِ بْنِ ثَعْلَبَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلَا تَسْمَعُوْنَ اَلَا تَسْمَعُوْنَ اَنَّ الْبَذَاذَةَ مِنَ الْاِيْمَانِ اَنَّ الْبَذَاذَةَ مِنَ الْاِيْمَانِ ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4345. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah Iyas ibn Tha'labah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked, "Do you not hear? Do you not hear? To stick to worn out clothes is part of faith! To stick to worn out clothes is part of faith! (It is to thereby shun worldly luxuries.)"[2]

COMMENTARY: It does not behave men to be too particular about one's dress like woman. Muslim man should not do it. If Allah has enabled one to wear decent clothing, then one may do so but within the limits set by Shari'ah (divine law). Nevertheless, it is better to put on old, patched clothing sometimes. It is part of faith that the faithful show humility in matters of dress and shun worldly adornment and non-essentials. Righteousness is to believe in the hereafter and its adornments.

HE WHO WEARS TO IMPRESS WILL BE DISGRACED

(٤٣٤٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ لَبِسَ ثَوْبَ شُهْرَةٍ فِي الدُّنْيَا أَلْبَسَهُ اللّٰهُ ثَوْبَ مَذِلَّةٍ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ۔ (رواه احمد و ابوداؤد و ابن ماجة)

4346. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who wears clothes in this world to impress, Allah will make him wear disgracing clothes on the day of resurrection."[1]

COMMENTARY: No one must dress elegantly to get people's respect. If anyone dresses to earn Allah's pleasure (though people might look down on him) then Allah will make him wear the dress of honour in the next world.

Some people say that the hadith means, by garments to impress, dress that is forbidden or unlawfully acquired. Some say that they are garments to tease the poor and boast over them. Some say that they are clownish garments, or garments to try to show one's piety and asceticism.

Some people interpret 'garment' or 'clothes' in the hadith to refer to deeds. So, if anyone behaves as a pious man only to impress the people and get their respect, then, on the day of resurrection, he will be disgraced.

However, the meaning given in the text and explained in the initial lines is more correct and appropriate.

TAKING UP RESEMBLANCE TO OTHERS

(٤٣٤٧) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ تَشَبَّهَ بِقَوْمٍ فَهُوَ مِنْهُمْ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4347. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who adopts resemblance to a people will be placed among them."[2]

COMMENTARY: If anyone imitates non Muslims in dress and attire, for instance, then his record of deeds will have like their sin against him, too.

If he adopts the style of the ulama (Scholars), then good will be added to his record.

Resemblance can be in dress manners, speech, living style eating etc.

GIVING UP ELEGANCE IN THIS WORLD

(٤٣٤٨-٤٣٤٩) وَعَنْ سُوَيْدِ بْنِ وَهْبٍ عَنْ رَجُلٍ مِنْ أَبْنَاءِ أَصْحٰبِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ تَرَكَ لُبْسَ ثَوْبِ جَمَالٍ وَهُوَ يَقْدِرُ عَلَيْهِ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ تَوَاضُعًا كَسَاهُ اللّٰهُ حُلَّةَ الْكَرَامَةِ وَمَنْ تَزَوَّجَ لِلّٰهِ تَوَّجَهُ اللّٰهُ تَاجَ الْمُلْكِ (رَوَاهُ أَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَرَوَى التِّرْمِذِيُّ مِنْهُ عَنْ مُعَاذِ بْنِ أَنَسٍ حَدِيْثَ اللِّبَاسِ)۔

4348. Sayyiduna Suwayd ibn Wahb رحمہ اللہ reported from the son of a companion of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم who from his father (the companion) رضی اللہ عنہ that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If anyone gives up wearing the garments of adornment though he has the ability – according to one version: "out of humility, then Allah will clothe him with a robe of honour. And, if anyone marries for the sake of Allah (to please him), then Allah will crown him with the crown of the kings."[1]

4349. Sayyiduna Mu'adh ibn Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that this hadith only about the clothing.[2]

COMMENTARY: The man who fears Allah, or seeks high ranks in the hereafter, or regards the adornment of the world as meaningless, so abandons elegant clothing of this world, will be honoured by Allah in both the worlds.

If a man marries a woman not for beauty or wealth but only to please Allah and keep away from sin, then Allah will give him a crown of royalty to wear in paradise.

PROCLAIM THE BLESSINGS OF ALLAH

(٤٣٥٠) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ أَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ اللّٰهَ يُحِبُّ أَنْ يُّرٰى أَثَرُ نِعْمَتِهٖ عَلٰى عَبْدِهٖ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4350. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمہ اللہ narrated on the authority of his father who from his grandfather that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely Allah loves that the signs of his blessings may be seen on His slave."[3]

COMMENTARY: A person must show in his living the bounties Allah has showered on him, but without being extravagant, arrogant or showoff. He must do it in gratitude and with the intention of drawing the poor and needy toward him to receive zakah (Annual due charity) and charity from him. It is not good to conceal Allah's blessings. Rather, it is ingratitude.

A person on whom Allah has showed spiritual blessings must let people benefit from his grace or his knowledge.

One must, however, strike a balance between extravagance and demonstration blessings. One must pursue a course between the directions of this hadith and the ones narrated earlier (like # 4348) calling for abandoning worldly adornments. One must not adopt an inflexible attitude.

KEEPING ONESELF CLEAN & TIDY

(٤٣٥١) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ أَتَانَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ زَائِرًا فَرَأٰى رَجُلًا شَعِثًا قَدْ تَفَرَّقَ شَعْرُهٗ فَقَالَ مَا كَانَ يَجِدُ هٰذَا مَا يُسَكِّنُ بِهٖ رَأْسَهٗ وَرَأٰى رَجُلًا عَلَيْهِ ثِيَابٌ وَسِخَةٌ فَقَالَ مَاكَانَ يَجِدُ هٰذَا مَايَغْسِلُ بِهٖ ثَوْبَهٗ۔ (رواه احمد والنسائی)

4351. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم visited us (once) and (during his visit), he saw a man in an untidy shape with unkempt hair. He asked, 'Did this one not find something to set his hair right?' He also saw a man who had dirty clothing on him, so he asked, 'Did this one not find anything with which to wash his clothes?'"[4]

[3] Tirmidhi # 2819.

[4] Abu Dawud # 4062, Nasa'i # 5236, Musnad Ahmad 3-357.

COMMENTARY: To shun adornment does not imply that one should remain unclean. Patched, worn out garments are not dirty and unwashed.

LET ALLAH'S FAVOURS BE KNOWN

(٤٣٥٢) وَعَنْ أَبِي الْأَحْوَصِ عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ أَتَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَعَلَيَّ ثَوْبٌ دُوْنٌ فَقَالَ لِيْ أَلَكَ مَالٌ قُلْتُ نَعَمْ قَالَ مِنْ أَيِّ الْمَالِ قُلْتُ مِنْ كُلِّ الْمَالِ قَدْ أَعْطَانِي اللّٰهُ مِنَ الْإِبِلِ وَالْبَقَرِ وَالْغَنَمِ وَالْخَيْلِ وَالرَّقِيْقِ قَالَ فَإِذَا آتَاكَ اللّٰهُ مَالًا فَلْيُرَ أَثَرُ نِعْمَةِ اللّٰهِ عَلَيْكَ وَكَرَامَتِهٖ۔ رَوَاهُ أَحْمَدُ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَفِيْ شَرْحِ السُّنَّةِ بِلَفْظِ الْمَصَابِيْحِ۔

4352. Sayyiduna Abu Ahwas رحمه الله narrated that his father said, "I went to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم clad in a worn out clothing. He asked me, 'Do you have any property?" I submitted, "Yes!' He asked 'what kind of property?' I submitted, 'Every kind of wealth. Indeed, Allah has granted me camels cows, sheep, horses and slaves.' He said, 'when Allah has bestowed on you wealth, you must demonstrate the sign of His favour on you and his benevolence.'"[1]

COMMENTARY: A person must display his status with his outlook without being ostentatious. His garments must not be thin as have been disallowed and they must not be too elegant to show oneself as outstanding. Also, one must not wear two garments one over the other. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم used to forbid thin clothes as well as thick clothes. He also forbade hard or coarse clothing, long clothing and short clothing too, unless the cloth is of a moderate quality.

Shaykh Abdul Haq Dahlawi رحمه الله wrote that it is commendable and part of faith that clothes should be old and patched, provided they are worn to earn Allah's pleasure and to grow a sincere sentiment of asceticism and humility in the world. However, if one is well off yet wears such clothing out of stinginess and selfishness, then it will be classed as filthy and blame worthy.

MEN DISALLOWED TO DON RED COLOURED CLOTHES

(٤٣٥٣) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو قَالَ مَرَّ رَجُلٌ وَعَلَيْهِ ثَوْبَانِ أَحْمَرَانِ فَسَلَّمَ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَلَمْ يَرُدَّ عَلَيْهِ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4353. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی الله عنه narrated that a man who has on him a pair of red garments passed by. He offered salaam to the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم but he did not give him a response.[2]

COMMENTARY: This hadith says explicitly that men are forbidden to wear red garments. Such people who perpetrate the forbidden do not deserve to get a response to their greetings and to be honoured. As stated earlier, it is makruh (disapproved) in the eyes of the two disciples (of Imam Abu Hanifah) رحمه الله and the three imams, رحمه الله but permitted in the view of Imam Abu Hanifah, رحمه الله to sit on silken cloth.

ABOUT PERFUME

(٤٣٥٤) وَعَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ حُصَيْنٍ اَنَّ نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَا اَرْكَبُ الْاُرْجُوَانَ وَلَا اَلْبَسُ الْمُعَصْفَرَ وَلَا اَلْبَسُ الْقَمِيْصَ الْمُكَفَّفَ بِالْحَرِيْرِ وَقَالَ اَلَا وَطِيْبُ الرِّجَالِ رِيْحٌ لَا لَوْنَ لَهُ وَطِيْبُ النِّسَاءِ لَوْنٌ لَا رِيْحَ لَهُ۔ (ابوداؤد)

4354. Sayyiduna Imran ibn Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "I do not ride on red (coloured saddle), or wear a garment dyed with saffron, or wear a shirt that has silk on its boarders." And, he said, "Know, the perfume that men apply may have a smell but no colour and the perfume that women apply may have a colour, but no smell."[1]

COMMENTARY: Riding not on 'red' implies a saddle on which a red silk cloth is placed. But, according to Nihayah, the word in the text arjuwan (ارجوان) is the Arabcised of arghuwan (ارغوان) which is a tree with a red flower. Any colour of this family, like purple or orange, is also called arjuwan. The Qamus says that arjuwan is a red colour.

However, Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ says that this hadith uses arjuwan to mean any cloth piece of red colour whether silk or not. Thus, the saying of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم emphasizes strongly that men must refrain from wearing red colour. Riding is not the same thing as wearing something. In spite of that he refrained from riding on a red saddle cloth. So he was more particular about not wearing red colour.

He also stated that he did not wear any apparel of silk. Either it means a garment with a silken hem of more than four fingers width, or this saying was based on extreme caution and taqwa.

It is not proper for a woman to apply a perfume with an odour when she goes out of her house. There is no harm in applying in while she is in her home. (The Urdu translation of the text of hadith at this point adds that if a woman goes out in this manner then she might distract men). There is a hadith of like meaning in Shama'il Tirmidhi (# 210-4). The meaning of a perfume with odour is that its fragrance does not spread out. It is narrated by Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ and Quotes the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to have said: "The itr of a male is the fragrance of which spreads and has less colour in it (i.e. rose, kewrah, etc) and the 'itr of a female is that which has more colour and less fragrance (hina or mehndi, zafaraan, etc)." Their fragrance does not spread. (itr is scent, perfume, kewrah is a fragrant plant, hina or mehndi is henna, and zafaraan is saffron.)

TEN THINGS DISALLOWED

(٤٣٥٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ رَيْحَانَةَ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ عَشْرٍ عَنِ الْوَشْرِ وَالْوَشْمِ وَالنَّتْفِ وَعَنْ مُكَامَعَةِ الرَّجُلِ الرَّجُلَ بِغَيْرِ شِعَارٍ وَمُكَامَعَةِ الْمَرْاَةِ الْمَرْاَةَ بِغَيْرِ شِعَارٍ وَاَنْ يَجْعَلَ الرَّجُلُ فِيْ اَسْفَلِ ثِيَابِهٖ حَرِيْرًا مِثْلَ الْاَعَاجِمِ اَوْ يَجْعَلَ عَلٰى مَنْكِبَيْهِ حَرِيْرًا مِثْلَ الْاَعَاجِمِ وَعَنِ النُّهْبٰى وَعَنْ رُكُوْبِ النُّمُوْرِ وَلُبُوْسِ الْخَاتَمِ اِلَّا لِذِيْ سُلْطَانٍ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4355. Sayyiduna Abu Rayhanah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

[1] Abu Dawud # 4048, Musnad Ahmad 4-442.

forbade ten things: (i) sharpening teeth, (ii) tattooing (anywhere on the body), (iii) plucking hairs, (iv) men sleeping together without any kind of clothing separating them, (v) women sleeping together without any kind of clothing separating them, (iv) men attaching a lining of silk to the bottom of their garments, as the non Arabs do, (vii) or, attaching a silk cloth on their shoulders as the non-Arabs do, (viii) plundering (property of other people), (ix) riding on panther skins, and (x) wearing signet rings, except that one who is in authority may wear it.[1]

COMMENTARY: Old women of the Arabs used to sharpen the ends of their teeth and make them fine. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم disallowed it.

Women also used to tattoo their skins and fill them with blue. (Today, some people do it especially on their hands and inscribe their names etc.) The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم disallowed it.

He also forbade that any should pluck his hair, like from the face to beautify himself or white hair on head or beard while women are allowed to beautify themselves, this plucking of hair is going to extremes.

Some people say that the hadith refers to people in distress who pull out their hair on head, beard, etc. driven by severe emotion. This is forbidden.

It is disallowed to two men to sleep together covered by a single blanket, either completely nude or with the private parts only covered. It is also possible that it is disallowed only when their private parts are also not covered.

The same disallowance applies to woman, too this thing is disallowed whether there is a possibility of sinning or not. It certainly is bad manners.

Silk is disallowed to men in any case, even as a lining on a garment. It is also disallowed if covered with another kind of cloth.

It is disallowed to attach silk to one's clothing on the shoulder as a hem or an embroidery if it is more than four fingers broad. But, it is could also mean that it disallowed to throw a piece of silk cloth on the shoulders as scarf to show-off or boast.

To ride on a panther skin is a sign of arrogance. Hence, it is disallowed. Some shaykhs (learned men) say that if any one sits on the hide of an animal, he develops its habits and traits, like wildness and brutality.

The signet ring may be worn by only one who is in authority and entitled to use it. He may be a king, a judge, a governor, etc. It is makruh tanzihi (disapproved nearer to lawful) to wear it unnecessarily, onlv to adorn oneself.

Some authorities say that this command is abrogated. It was worn by the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم in the time of Sayyiduna Umar رضى الله عنه and their caliphs. No one raised an objection against them.

MEN ARE FORBIDDEN GOLD RING & SILK TO WEAR

(٤٣٥٦) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ نَهَانِي رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ خَاتَمِ الذَّهَبِ وَعَنْ لُبْسِ الْقَسِّيِّ وَالْمَيَاثِرِ۔

رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَأَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِأَبِيْ دَاوُدَ قَالَ نَهَى عَنْ مَيَاثِرِ الْأُرْجُوَانِ۔

4356. Sayyiduna Ali رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade him to wear a gold ring, or a garment qassi, or to use saddle-cloths of red colour, called al-mayathir.

[1] Abu Dawud 4049, Nasa'i # 5091, Musnad Ahmad 4. 134.

According to a version: he said that he forbade him to use red colour saddle-cloths.[1]

COMMENTARY: All the four imams agree that men are forbidden to wear a ring of gold. However, before it was forbidden, certain sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم used to wear it. Among them were (Sayyiduna) Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ Sa'd رضی اللہ عنہ and Suhayb رضی اللہ عنہ.

Qassi was a kind of cloth produced in the Egyptian city Qas.

Some authorities say that Qassi was a kind of cloth that had silk stripes on it. In this case the disallowance is by way of nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful).

Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that it is forbidden if the cloth is wholly silk, or if silk formed part in its weaving. In this case the disallowance will be nahi tahrimi.

Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that Qassi was a cloth of cotton with a mixture of silk.

Mayathir was a saddle cloth that had silk too, generally. So, it was disallowed only when silk was mixed with it But, it may have been forbidden even as a cotton cloth In that case, it was disallowed because people may have boasted on being able to use it, by way of nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful).

KHAZZ & PANTHER SKIN MUST NOT BE USED TO RIDE ON

(٤٣٥٧) وَعَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَرْكَبُوا الْخَزَّ وَلَا النِّمَارَ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4357. Sayyiduna Mu'awiyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not ride on (saddle cloths of) Khazz and (of) panther skins."[2]

COMMENTARY: Khazz was a kind of cloth produced from wool and silk. Pure silk of a particular kind is also called khazz. In the former case, the use is disallowed to stall a resemblance to non Arabs who used it out of arrogance. This prohibition is nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) because it is allowed to wear this khazz. The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم and the tabi'un رحمہ اللہ used to wear it. In the latter case, Khazz being pure silk, the prohibition is nahi tahrimi, meaning as unlawful.

According to another hadith: "those will come some people towards the last day who will declare khazz here, means pure silk cloth.

The ulama (Scholars) say that this cloth (Khazz as pure silk) did not exist in the time of the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. This means that this saying of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was a miracle, for he spoke of a cloth that was introduced much later.

RED SADDLE CLOTH FORBIDDEN

(٤٣٥٨) وَعَنِ الْبَرَاءِ بْنِ عَازِبٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهَى عَنِ الْمَيْثَرَةِ الْحَمْرَاءِ (رواه فی شرح السنة)

4358. Sayyiduna Bara ibn Aazib رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade red saddle cloths.[3]

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم GREY HAIR

(٤٣٥٩) وَعَنْ أَبِي رِمْثَةَ التَّيْمِيِّ قَالَ أَتَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَعَلَيْهِ ثَوْبَانِ أَخْضَرَانِ وَلَهُ شَعْرٌ قَدْ عَلَاهُ الشَّيْبُ وَشَيْبُهُ أَحْمَرُ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ. وَفِي رِوَايَةٍ لِأَبِي دَاوُدَ وَهُوَ ذُو وَفْرَةٍ وَبِهَا رَدْعٌ مِنْ حِنَّاءٍ۔

4359. Sayyiduna Abu Rimthah Taymi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that, "I came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He was wearing two green garments (meaning, either they were of green colour or had green stripes on them). And, indeed only a few of his hair had turned grey. The gray was dyed red." (It was in the hair of head and beard.)[1]
According to another version. "He had wafrah and the (hair) had the colour of henna."[2]

COMMENTARY: We have different narrations about the grey hair of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that he counted them and they were not more than fourteen in his head and beard.
Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said that they were not more then twenty.
Another tradition puts them at seventeen.
'wafrah are the hair on the head, the locks that hang down up to the lobes of the ear. The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had these locks hanging up to the lobes of his ears. So, he had wafrah.
The few grey hair he had on his head had turned reddish because he had applied henna to them. Some traditions tell us that these hair were not totally grey but seemed to turn reddish. It is as normally observed that when hair turn grey, they are auburn first before turning grey totally. The scholars of hadith and the jurists are not of one opinion on whether the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم applied dye on his hair or not. Most muhaddithin say that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم never applied on hair dye, nor had his hair turned grey to such an extent that he needed to use the dye. This is established by the ahadith. As for the few grey hair he had, they were such that when he applied hair oil, they were not visible when no oil was applied on the head, the grey were visible.
The jurists, on the other hand, venture to prove that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم applied hair dye. Their submission in this regard may be seen in books of fiqh.
The muhaddithin (scholars of hadith) say of t his hadith under discussion, that the most we can say on its basis is that he dyed only the few hair that had turned grey, but, there also is a possibility that he did not apply a dye even on these hair with intention of colouring them. Rather, he used henna sometimes to wash and clean his head with the result that the grey hair turned auburn.
There is a tradition that a strand of hair of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ possessed looked (to those who saw it) as if henna was applied to it. The muhaddithin agree that there was trace of a dye on it but the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had not used it. Rather, Anas رضی اللہ عنہ had preserved it with reverence in perfumes. That had seemed to make it look as though it had been dyed.
Or, Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ had himself applied henna on it to make it strong and durable.
The same may be assumed of the tradition that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used a red dye or a yellow dye alternatively. He washed his head sometimes with henna and sometimes with saffron with the result that his hair which were dark (black) got the colour, auburn or yellowish.

ABOUT THE QITR CLOAK

(٤٣٦٠) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ شَاكِيًا فَخَرَجَ يَتَوَكَّأُ عَلَى أُسَامَةَ وَعَلَيْهِ ثَوْبُ قِطْرٍ قَدْ تَوَشَّحَ

بِهٖ فَصَلّٰى بِهِمْ۔ (رواه فى شرح السنة)

4360. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was ill, he came out (to the mosque) leaning on Usamah رضی اللہ عنہ. He was wearing a cloak of qitr that he had wrapped round himself placing one end over his left shoulder. Then he led the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم in salah (prayer)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Qitr is a kind of cloak with red stripes. Its cloth is coarse. Some people say that this cloth was from Qitr, a village in Bahrain. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ has narrated this account of the time when one prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was ill and it was what led to his death. This was the last salah (prayer) as imam of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم in the Masjid Nabawi. Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ had commenced to lead in the salah (prayer). He came out leaning on Sayyiduna Usamah رضی اللہ عنہ from his room into the mosque and sat down next to Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ and led the salah (prayer). The entire account has been narrated in the Book of salah (prayer) in the chapter on Imamah. (It is actually in chapter 29 - on what one who is led in salah (prayer) should do - hadith # 1140 as narrated by Sayyidah Ayshah) رضی اللہ عنہا.

A RUDE JEW

(٤٣٦١) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كَانَ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ثَوْبَانِ قِطْرِيَّانِ غَلِيْظَانِ وَ كَانَ إِذَا قَعَدَ فَعَرِقَ ثَقُلَا عَلَيْهِ فَقَدِمَ بَزٌّ مِنَ الشَّامِ لِفُلَانٍ الْيَهُوْدِيِّ فَقُلْتُ لَوْ بَعَثْتَ إِلَيْهِ فَاشْتَرَيْتَ مِنْهُ ثَوْبَيْنِ إِلَى الْمَيْسَرَةِ فَأَرْسَلَ إِلَيْهِ فَقَالَ قَدْ عَلِمْتُ مَا تُرِيْدُ إِنَّمَا تُرِيْدُ أَنْ تَذْهَبَ بِمَالِيْ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَذَبَ قَدْ عَلِمَ أَنِّيْ مِنْ أَتْقَاهُمْ وَآدَاهُمْ لِلْأَمَانَةِ۔ (رواه الترمذى والنسائى)

4361. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had two worn out garments of Qitr on his body. They were very thick, so when he sat down for long, he perspired and they proved heavy on his body (and caused him difficulty). So, when a certain (unnamed) Jew received a shipment from Syria (of clothes, etc), I submitted to him, 'If only you send someone to him to buy from him a pair of garments on promise to pay him when it is easier for us to pay him.' He did sent someone but, the Jew alleged, 'I know what you intend. You will take away my property (and then refuse to pay).'

(The man reported that to the Prophet) صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He lies. He knows definitely (from the Torah) that I am the most righteous of them and the most perfect of them to repay (debt and) what is given to me on trust.'"[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used to wear thick clothes but they were very uncomfortable, so he intended to buy another kind. This hadith throws light on the Jew's hard-hearted conduct.

REDISH CLOTHES DISALLOWED TO MEN

(٤٣٦٢) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْعَاصِ قَالَ رَاٰنِیْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَ عَلَیَّ ثَوْبٌ مَصْبُوْغٌ بِعُصْفُرٍ مُوَرَّدًا فَقَالَ مَاهٰذَا فَعَرَفْتُ مَا كَرِهَ فَانْطَلَقْتُ فَاَحْرَقْتُهٗ فَقَالَ النَّبِیُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَاصَنَعْتَ بِثَوْبِكَ قُلْتُ اَحْرَقْتُهٗ قَالَ اَفَلَاكَسَوْتَهٗ بَعْضَ اَهْلِكَ فَاِنَّهٗ لَابَاْسَ بِهٖ لِلنِّسَاءِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4362. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Aas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saw me while I was wearing a garment dyed with (Saffron) a reddish yellow dye. He asked, 'what is this?' I realized that he disliked it. So, I went away and burned the garment. Then, (after I came to him again,) the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked me, 'what did you do with your garment?' I said, 'I burned it,' He asked, 'why? You could have given it to one of your woman to wear, for, there is no harm in it for women."[1]

RED STRIPED CLOAK

(٤٣٦٣) وَعَنْ هِلَالِ بْنِ عَامِرٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ قَالَتْ رَاَيْتُ النَّبِیَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِمِنًى يَخْطُبُ عَلٰى بَغْلَةٍ وَعَلَيْهِ بُرْدٌ اَحْمَرُ وَعَلِیٌّ اَمَامَهٗ يُعَبِّرُ عَنْهُ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4363. Sayyiduna Hilal ibn Aamir رحمہ اللہ reported from his father that he said, "I saw the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم deliver a sermon. He was riding a she mule and he wore a red (striped) cloak. Ali رضی اللہ عنہ stood in front of him repeating his words (for the multitude).[2]

COMMENTARY: There was a large crowd and the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم voice could not carry to the distant people. So, Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ repeated what he said for those people to hear the sermon.

A BLACK CLOAK

(٤٣٦٤) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ صُنِعَتْ لِلنَّبِیِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بُرْدَةٌ سَوْدَاءُ فَلَبِسَهَا فَلَمَّا عَرِقَ فِيْهَا وَجَدَ رِيْحَ الصُّوْفِ فَقَذَفَهَا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4364. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "A black cloak was made for the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم which he wore. However, when he perspired because of it and observed the smell of the wool, he cast it aside.[3]

QARFASA POSTURE

(٤٣٦٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ اَتَيْتُ النَّبِیَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَهُوَ مُحْتَبٍ بِشَمْلَةٍ قَدْ وَقَعَ هُدْبُهَا عَلٰى قَدَمَيْهِ۔

(رواہ ابوداؤد)

4365. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (once) while he was sitting with his hands round his knees (legs resting on his feet). He wore a cloak whose ends were on his feet."[1]

COMMENTARY: Qarfasa is to sit on the buttocks, knees upright and hands round the knees. Sometimes clothing is put around them.

GARMENT BELOW THIN DRESS

(٤٣٦٦) وَعَنْ دِحْيَةَ بْنِ خَلِيْفَةَ قَالَ أُتِيَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِقُبَاطِيَّ فَأَعْطَانِي مِنْهَا قُبْطِيَّةً فَقَالَ اُصْدَعْهَا صَدْعَيْنِ فَاقْطَعْ اَحَدَهُمَا قَمِيْصًا وَاَعْطِ الْاٰخَرَ اِمْرَأَتَكَ تَخْتَمِرْ بِهٖ فَلَمَّا اَدْبَرَ قَالَ وَأْمُرِ امْرَأَتَكَ اَنْ تَجْعَلَ تَحْتَهٗ ثَوْبًا لَا يَصِفُهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4366. Sayyiduna Dihyah ibn Khalifah رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Some Qubti garments were brought to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. He gave me one of them, saying, 'Divide it into two. Cut out a shirt from one of them and give the second to your wife to make a scarf (of it). As I turned to go, he said, 'instruct her to attach below it a garment so that her figure is not outlined."[2]

COMMENTARY: Qubti is an exclusive fine, white cloth. It is manufactured in Egypt. A woman may wear thin clothing but also wear a garment below it, or attach a lining to it. (Lane's Arabic-English lexicon says that qubti (قبطی) is a kind of thin or fine white cloth of linen made in Egypt. Qibt is irregularity and Qibti is the man...) v7 p2484.

ONE FOLD OF VEIL OVER ONE'S HEAD

(٤٣٦٧) وَعَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ دَخَلَ عَلَيْهَا وَهِيَ تَخْتَمِرُ فَقَالَ لَيَّةً لَا لَيَّتَيْنِ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4367. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم come to her house. She had a veil over her head and he said, "Put only one fold (over your head). Two are not necessary."[3]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہ to put her head scarf or veil over the head and round her neck in one fold so as not to be wasteful and not to resemble the amamah or men's turban. Ancient women used to put the isabah (عصابة) on their head. It was a band like a turban.

Woman should not wear garments resembling men's and look like them. So, too, men must not imitate women in dress and appearance.

SECTION III — اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

LOWER GARMENT BEST HALF WAY UP THE LEGS

(٤٣٦٨) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ مَرَرْتُ بِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَفِيْ اِزَارِيْ اِسْتِرْخَاءٌ فَقَالَ يَا عَبْدَ اللّٰهِ اِرْفَعْ اِزَارَكَ فَرَفَعْتُهٗ ثُمَّ قَالَ زِدْ فَزِدْتُّ فَمَا زِلْتُ اَتَحَرَّاهَا بَعْدُ فَقَالَ بَعْضُ الْقَوْمِ اِلٰى اَيْنَ قَالَ اِلٰى اَنْصَافِ السَّاقَيْنِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4368. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I passed by Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ

[1] Abu Dawud # 4075.

[2] Abu Dawud # 4116.

[3] Abu Dawud # 4115.

وسلم and my lower garment was hanging down. He called, 'O Abdullah, raise your lower garment.' I raised it higher, but he said, 'More!' I raised it more and I did not cease to raise it till someone among the people asked, 'How high?" He said, 'up to half the legs."[1]

COMMENTARY: The words of Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ may also be translated: "I have not ceased since then to raise my lower garment according to the instruction of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم.

PROHIBITION IS TO TRAIL GARMENT ARROGANTLY

(٤٣٦٩) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ جَرَّ ثَوْبَهُ خُيَلَاءَ لَمْ يَنْظُرِ اللّٰهُ اِلَيْهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ فَقَالَ اَبُوْ بَكْرٍ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِزَارِيْ يَسْتَرْخِيْ اِلَّا اَنْ اَتَعَاهَدَهُ فَقَالَ لَهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّكَ لَسْتَ مِمَّنْ يَفْعَلُهُ خُيَلَاءَ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4369. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If any one trials his garment arrogantly, then Allah will not look at him (with a merciful look) on the day of resurrection." Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ submitted, 'O Messenger of Allah, my lower garment hangs down if I am not always attentive to it (which is not possible on occasions)." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him, "You are not among those who do it arrogantly."[2]

COMMENTARY: The essence of the prohibition to hand down the lower garment is to forbid arrogance. But, the best thing is to refrain from it always.

MAY HANG LOWER GARMENT FROM FRONT BUT NOT FROM BACK

(٤٣٧٠) وَعَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ قَالَ رَأَيْتُ ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ يَأْتَزِرُ فَيَضَعُ حَاشِيَةَ اِزَارِهٖ مِنْ مُقَدَّمِهٖ عَلٰى ظَهْرِ قَدَمِهٖ وَيَرْفَعُ مِنْ مُؤَخَّرِهٖ قُلْتُ لِمَ تَاتزرُ هٰذِهِ الْاِزْرَةَ قَالَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَأْتَزِرُهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4370. Sayyiduna Ikrimah رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I saw Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ had his lower garment with its hem hanging down from the front on his feet but raised (above his ankles) from behind. I asked him, 'why do you wear it in this way (sometimes)?' He said, 'I saw Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wear it this way (sometimes).'[3]

COMMENTARY: It is enough to have the lower garment raised high from the back side to abide by this command: Raise high the lower garment.

TURBNS MUST BE WORN

(٤٣٧١) وَعَنْ عُبَادَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَيْكُمْ بِالْعَمَائِمِ فَاِنَّهَا سِيْمَاءُ الْمَلَائِكَةِ وَاَرْخُوْهَا خَلْفَ ظُهُوْرِكُمْ۔ (رواه البیهقی فی شعب الایمان)

4371. Sayyiduna Ubadah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Bind yourselves to wear the turban, for, they are the sign of the angels (wearing which they had come to the Battle of Badr to help the Muslims). Place its and

BODY SEEN THROUGH CLOTHES IS NAKED

(٤٣٧٢) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ عَنْ اَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ اَبِيْ بَكْرٍ دَخَلَتْ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَ عَلَيْهَا ثِيَابٌ رِقَاقٌ فَاَعْرَضَ عَنْهَا وَقَالَ يَا اَسْمَاءُ اِنَّ الْمَرْاَةَ اِذَا بَلَغَتِ الْمَحِيْضَ لَنْ يَصْلُحَ اَنْ يُرٰى مِنْهَا اِلَّا هٰذَا وَهٰذَا وَ اَشَارَ اِلٰى وَجْهِهٖ وَكَفَّيْهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4372. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that (Sayyidah) Asma bint Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ came to them to visit Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. She was wearing thin garments. So he turned away from her and said, "O Asma, when a woman attain the age when she menstruates, it is never proper that any portion of her (body) should be seen other than this and this." He pointed to his face and his hands.[2]

COMMENTARY: This is the veil for a woman prescribed by Shariah. But when she comes out of her house, she must cover her face and hands too. If a woman wears thin clothing revealing her body features then she is deemed to be naked.

ON DONNING NEW GARMENTS

(٤٣٧٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ مَطَرٍ قَالَ اِنَّ عَلِيًّا اشْتَرٰى ثَوْبًا بِثَلَاثَةِ دَرَاهِمَ فَلَمَّا لَبِسَهٗ قَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ رَزَقَنِيْ مِنَ الرِّيَاشِ مَا اَتَجَمَّلُ بِهٖ فِي النَّاسِ وَاُوَارِيْ بِهٖ عَوْرَتِيْ ثُمَّ قَالَ هٰكَذَا سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ۔ (رواه احمد)

4373. Sayyiduna Abu Matar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, Ali رضی اللہ عنہ bought a garment for three dirhams. When he put it on, 'he prayed (in gratitude);

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ رَزَقَنِيْ مِنَ الرِّيَاشِ مَا اَتَجَمَّلُ بِهٖ فِي النَّاسِ وَاُوَارِيْ بِهٖ عَوْرَتِيْ

(Praise belongs to Allah who has provided me with this raiment with which I adorn myself before people and with which I cover my nakedness.)
Then, he said, 'This is how I heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say (after donning a new dress)."[3]

(٤٣٧٤) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ اُمَامَةَ قَالَ لَبِسَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ ثَوْبًا جَدِيْدًا فَقَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ كَسَانِيْ مَا اُوَارِيْ بِهٖ عَوْرَتِيْ وَ اَتَجَمَّلُ بِهٖ فِيْ حَيَاتِيْ ثُمَّ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ لَبِسَ ثَوْبًا جَدِيْدًا فَقَالَ اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ كَسَانِيْ مَا اُوَارِيْ بِهٖ عَوْرَتِيْ وَاَتَجَمَّلُ بِهٖ فِيْ حَيَاتِيْ ثُمَّ عَمِدَ اِلَى الثَّوْبِ الَّذِيْ اَخْلَقَ فَتَصَدَّقَ

4374. Sayyiduna Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that umar ibn Khattab رضی اللہ عنہ wore new garment and made this supplication:

اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِيْ كَسَانِيْ مَا اُوَارِيْ بِهٖ عَوْرَتِيْ وَاَتَجَمَّلُ بِهٖ فِيْ حَيَاتِيْ

Then he said that he had heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Whose puts on a new garment and says: 'Praise belongs to Allah who has clad me with that with which I cover my nakedness and with which I adorn myself in my life, and takes the old garment and gives it in charity, will be in Allah's protection, in Allah's shelter, and Allah's cover as long as he lives and when he dies."[1]

WOMEN DISALLOWED FINE CLOTHING

(٤٣٧٥) وَعَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ بْنِ اَبِيْ عَلْقَمَةَ عَنْ اُمِّهٖ قَالَتْ دَخَلَتْ حَفْصَةُ بِنْتُ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ عَلٰى عَائِشَةَ وَعَلَيْهَا خِمَارٌ رَقِيْقٌ فَشَقَّتْهُ عَائِشَةُ وَكَسَتْهَا خِمَارًا كَثِيْفًا۔ (رواہ مالک)

Sayyiduna Alqamah ibn Abu Alqamah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated on the authority of his mother who said, "Hafsah, رضی اللہ عنہا daughter of Abdur Rahman (ibn Abu Bakr) رضی اللہ عنہ went to visit (Sayyidah) Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا wearing a thin head (and chest) cover. She tore it and put on her a thick head cover."[2]

COMMENTARY: Sayyidah Hafsah رضی اللہ عنہ was the neice of Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا On seeing her wear a thin veil, Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا flew into a rage over her.

SAYYIDAH AYSHAH'S رضی اللہ عنہا ASCETICISM

(٤٣٧٦) وَعَنْ عَبْدِالْوَاحِدِ بْنِ اَيْمَنَ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ قَالَ دَخَلْتُ عَلٰى عَائِشَةَ وَعَلَيْهَا دِرْعٌ قِطْرِيٌّ ثَمَنُ خَمْسَةِ دَرَاهِمَ فَقَالَتْ اُرْفَعْ بَصَرَكَ اِلٰى جَارِيَتِيْ اُنْظُرْ اِلَيْهَا فَاِنَّهَا تُزْهٰى اَنْ تَلْبَسَهُ فِي الْبَيْتِ وَقَدْ كَانَ لِيْ مِنْهَا دِرْعٌ عَلٰى عَهْدِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَمَا كَانَتِ امْرَاَةٌ تُقَيَّنُ بِالْمَدِيْنَةِ اِلَّا اَرْسَلَتْ اِلَيَّ تَسْتَعِيْرُهُ (رواہ البخاری)

4376. Sayyiduna Abdul Wahid ibn Ayman رحمہ اللہ narrated on the authority of his father who said, "I went to visit (Sayyidah) Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا. She was wearing a shirt of Qitr[3] whose value was five dirhams. She said, 'Raise your eyes toward my slave girl and look at her. She is too haughty to wear this cloth in the house too. (What to say of going out wearing it!) This – (in spite of the fact that) I had a shirt of this make in the time of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. There was not a woman in Madinah who needed to be adorned (for her wedding or for another's wedding, etc), but she sent to me for this shirt (to borrow it)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا pointed out how values had changed in a short period of time. Women had taken something as necessary for their adornment but soon degraded it as unworthy of wearing at home.

In this way she also showed how abstinent she was.

SILK GOWN

(٤٣٧٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ لَبِسَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمًا قَبَاءَ دِيْبَاجٍ اُهْدِىَ لَهٗ ثُمَّ اَوْشَكَ اَنْ نَزَعَهٗ فَاَرْسَلَ بِهٖ اِلٰى عُمَرَ فَقِيْلَ قَدْ اَوْشَكْتَ مَا اَنْتَزَعْتَهٗ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ فَقَالَ نَهَانِىْ عَنْهُ جِبْرِيْلُ فَجَآءَ عُمَرُ يَبْكِىْ فَقَالَ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ كَرِهْتَ اَمْرًا وَاَعْطَيْتَنِيْهِ فَمَالِىْ فَقَالَ اِنِّىْ لَمْ اُعْطِكَهٗ تَلْبَسَهٗ اِنَّمَا اَعْطَيْتُكَهٗ تَبِيْعُهٗ فَبَاعَهٗ بِاَلْفَىْ دِرْهَمٍ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4377. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that one day Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم wore a sleeved gown of brocade that had been given to him as a gift, but he took it off instantly and sent it to Umar رضی اللہ عنہ. The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم wondered. "O Messenger of Allah, why did you take it off instantly" He said, "Jibril disallowed me to wear it." (It means that this had happened before silk clothing was forbidden.) Meanwhile, Umar رضی اللہ عنہ (who had learnt of it) came weeping and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, that which you did not like, you gave it to me (that I might wear). What will became of me, now? He said, "I did not give it to you that you might wear it. I only gave it to you that you might dispose of it." So, he sold it for two thousand dirhams.[2]

SILK BORDERS ON THE WARP

(٤٣٧٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ اِنَّمَا نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الثَّوْبِ الْمُصْمَتِ مِنَ الْحَرِيْرِ فَاَمَّا الْعَلَمُ وَسَدٰى الثَّوْبِ فَلَا بَاْسَ بِهٖ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4378. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Certainly, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade a garment made of pure silk. As for the hems (and embroidery of not more than four fingers) and the warp, there is no harm in it."[3]

COMMENTARY: If both warp and woof are silk, then the garment is disallowed to men, The sahiban (the two disciples, Imam Abu Yusuf رحمہ اللہ and imam Muhammad) رحمہ اللہ, however, hold that it is permissible to wear during warfare. If the warp is silk but not the woof (or weft) which is cotton, etc, then it is allowed to men to wear in the view of all Imams and scholars. But, if it is the other way about, then it is disallowed to them except in battles when it is permitted.

In other words, the two disciples permit a pure silk cloth, or one whose woof is silk, during battles. But, Imam Abu Hanifah رحمہ اللہ holds that, in battles only such cloth is allowed whose woof is silk and warp other than silk. As for that cloth whose warp is silk and woof other than silk, it is allowed in all circumstances.

ALLAH'S FAVOUR MUST BE MADE KNOWN

(٤٣٧٩) وَعَنْ اَبِي رَجَاءٍ قَالَ خَرَجَ عَلَيْنَا عِمْرَانُ بْنُ حُصَيْنٍ وَ عَلَيْهِ مُطَرَّفٌ مِنْ خَزٍّ وَقَالَ اِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ اَنْعَمَ اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ نِعْمَةً فَاِنَّ اللّٰهَ يُحِبُّ اَنْ يُّرٰى اَثَرُ نِعْمَتِهٖ عَلٰى عَبْدِهٖ (رواہ احمد)

4379. Sayyiduna Abu Raja رحمه الله narrated that (Sayyiduna) Imran ibn Husayn رضی الله عنه came out to them and he had on him a clock of silk with decorated hems. (It was mutarraf min khazz). He said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "He on whom Allah has showered favours, (then) surely Allah loves that traces of His blessings must be seen on his slave."[1]

COMMENTARY: Mutarraf is a particular kind of cloak whose both sides have woof. According to the Qamus, it is a shawl of striped khazz. Thus, mutarraf min khazz is a cloth woofed with silk and wool. It is allowed to wear it. So, the word khazz may be interpreted in this manner. (see also hadith # 4357)

AVAIL OF WHAT IS PERMITTED BUT AVOID SQUANDERING & ARROGANCE

(٤٣٨٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كُلْ مَاشِئْتَ وَ الْبَسْ مَاشِئْتَ مَا اَخْطَأَتْكَ اثْنَتَانِ سَرَفٌ وَ مَخِيْلَةٌ۔ (رواہ البخاری فی ترجمۃ باب)

4380. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه said, "Eat what you like (of the permissible food) and wear what you like (of the lawful things). As long as two things do not lure you: extravagance and arrogance."[2]

(٤٣٨١) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كُلُوْا وَاشْرَبُوْا وَتَصَدَّقُوْا وَالْبَسُوْا مَالَمْ يُخَالِطْ اِسْرَافٌ وَلَا مَخِيْلَةٌ۔ (رواہ احمد والنسائی وابن ماجۃ)

4381. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله reported from his father that his grandfather narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Eat, drink, give charity (what you have beyond your needs) and wear garments (respecting the lawful and) avoiding extravagance and conceit."[3]

WHITE BEST FOR CLOTHING

(٤٣٨٢) وَعَنْ اَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَحْسَنَ مَازُرْتُمُ اللّٰهَ فِيْ قُبُوْرِكُمْ وَ مَسَاجِدِكُمُ الْبَيَاضُ۔ (رواہ ابن ماجۃ)

4382. Sayyiduna Abu Darda رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "The best clothing in which you may visit your graves and your mosques and meet Allah is white (clothing)."[4]

COMMENTARY: The mosque is Allah's house. One who goes to it to worship really goes

CHAPTER - II

(WEARING) SIGNET RINGS بَابُ الْخَاتَم

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

MEN DISALLOWED TO WEAR GOLD RING BUT NOT RING OF SILVER

(٤٣٨٣) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ اتَّخَذَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَاتَمًا مِنْ ذَهَبٍ، وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ وَجَعَلَهُ فِيْ يَدِهِ الْيُمْنٰى ثُمَّ اَلْقَاهُ ثُمَّ اتَّخَذَ خَاتَمًا مِنْ وَرِقٍ نُقِشَ فِيْهِ مُحَمَّدٌ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ وَقَالَ لَايَنْقُشَنَّ اَحَدٌ عَلٰى نَقْشِ خَاتَمِيْ هٰذَا وَ كَانَ اِذَا لَبِسَهُ جَعَلَ فَصَّهُ مِمَّا يَلِيْ بَطْنَ كَفِّهٖ۔ (متفق عليه)

4383. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had a signet ring of gold made (for him).
According to a version: He put it on his hand, but then threw it away. Then he had another made of silver on which he had these words engraved: (محمد رسول اللہ) (Muhammad, Messenger of Allah). And, he said "No one must have engraved (on his ring) anything live this seal of mine." When he wore it, he kept the stone (inwards) toward the palm of his hand.[1]

COMMENTARY: When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had got the signet ring of gold cast for him, gold was not forbidden to men. When Allah revealed to him that gold was forbidden to men, he threw it away.
Imam Muhammad رضی اللہ عنہ has written in his Muwatta: a man must not wear a signet ring of gold, nor iron, nor copper. But, he should only take a signet ring of silver.[2]
As for women, there is no harm in their wearing signet rings of gold and wearing other kind of jewellery. Rather, the ulama (Scholars) say that it is makruh (disapproved) for women to wear ring of silver, because they must not adopt resemblance to men who wear silver ring. If a woman has to wear it, then she must have its colour changed through electroplating. According to Hidayah, it is the loop of the ring that counts, not the stone.
The sahabah emulated the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم in everything he did. So, lest they have the same inscription on their rings, he forbade them to emulate him in this regard too. Besides, he used it as a seal on official letters and if other people had followed suit, foreign dignitaries would have had doubts about the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم seal and a mess would have been created.
Qadi Khan has said that the wearing of a silver signet ring is permissible to the person who needs to have a seal. Examples are a judge, and such like. If it is not necessary to have a seal, then it is better for such a person not to use a silver ring too. Moreover, he who wears a rings must wear it on a finger of the left hand and keep the stone next his palm.
Suyuti رحمہ اللہ said that some ahadith do say that the ring must be worn on the right hand,

[1] Bukhari # 5779, Muslim # 53. 2091.
[2] Muwatta, Imam Muhammad 17-6-870 (Published Darul Isha'at Karachi).

but these ahadith are regarded as abrogated in favour of those that say that it must be worn on the left hand. Adi رحمه الله and others have transmitted the hadith of Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم used to wear the ring on the right hand but then began to wear it on the left hand.

The author of Safar us Sa'adah writes that ahadith of both kinds are sahih. The Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم wore the ring on either hand.

Imam Nawawi رحمه الله writes that the ulama (Scholars) agree that it is allowed to wear a ring on the right hand as well as the left, but the Shafi'is regard it as better to wear it on the right hand because it has superiority over the left hand. So, it is more deserving that the ring should be worn on the right hand. In this way, it is beautified and honoured.

(٤٣٨٤) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنْ لُبْسِ الْقَسِّيِّ وَالْمُعَصْفَرِ وَعَنْ تَخَتُّمِ الذَّهَبِ وَعَنْ قِرَاءَةِ الْقُرْاٰنِ فِي الرُّكُوْعِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4384. Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade (men) to wear the garment Qassi and whatever is dyed with saffron, and to wear a gold ring, and to recite the Quran in ruku' (which is bowing posture in salah (prayer)).[1]

COMMENTARY: Qassi is a kind of silk garment manufactured in Qass, in Egypt.

The disallowance to recite the Quran in ruku could mean that:

(i) One should not recite the Quran in ruku (bowing) and sajdah (prostration) in place of the prescribed tasbih (or glorification) in these postures, or

(ii) One should not be restless while in the standing posture and hurry through the recital of the Quran to complete it in ruku.

(This hadith by Tirmidhi has that Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه said, "Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade me to wear Qassi...." And (that he forbade him) to recite the Quran in ruku and sajdah.)

GOLD RING ON MAN SPELLS COAL OF HELL FOR HIM

(٤٣٨٥) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَاٰى خَاتَمًا مِنْ ذَهَبٍ فِيْ يَدِ رَجُلٍ فَنَزَعَهٗ فَطَرَحَهٗ فَقَالَ يَعْمِدُ اَحَدُكُمْ اِلٰى جَمْرَةٍ مِنْ نَارٍ فَيَجْعَلُهَا فِيْ يَدِهٖ فَقِيْلَ لِلرَّجُلِ بَعْدَ مَاذَهَبَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خُذْ خَاتَمَكَ انْتَفِعْ بِهٖ قَالَ لَا وَاللّٰهِ لَا اٰخُذُهٗ اَبَدًا وَقَدْ طَرَحَهٗ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4385. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم saw a gold (Signet) ring on the hand of a man. He took it out (of his h and) and threw it away, saying, "One of you is aiming to get a coal from hell and put it on his h and." (So, a man must not wear a gold ring under any circumstances). When Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم departed (from there), the man was advised, "Pick up your ring, and derive some benefit from it." (He could have sold it or given it to a woman of his family.) But, he said, "No! By Allah, I shall never take it once Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم has thrown it away."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone is able to then he must correct any contravention of Shari'ah (divine law) by any person and destroy the wrong done. This is adherence to the saying of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم:

إِذَا رَأٰى أَحَدٌ مِّنْكُمْ مُنْكَرًا فَلْيُغَيِّرْهُ بِيَدِهٖ

"When any of you sees something contrary to Shari'ah (divine law) he must change it."

SEAL OF PROPHETHOOD

(٤٣٨٦) وَعَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَرَادَ أَنْ يَّكْتُبَ إِلٰى كِسْرٰى وَ قَيْصَرَ وَالنَّجَاشِيِّ فَقِيْلَ إِنَّهُمْ لَا يَقْبَلُوْنَ كِتَابًا إِلَّا بِخَاتَمٍ فَصَاغَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَاتَمًا حَلْقَةً فِضَّةٍ نُقِشَ فِيْهِ مُحَمَّدٌ رَّسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ (رَوَاهُ مُسْلِمٌ)، وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ لِلْبُخَارِيِّ كَانَ نَقْشُ الْخَاتَمِ ثَلَاثَةَ أَسْطُرٍ مُحَمَّدٌ سَطْرٌ وَرَسُوْلُ سَطْرٌ وَاللّٰهِ سَطْرٌ۔

4386. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (after the peace treaty of Hudaybiyah, on coming back to Madinah,) the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم decided to write to the Kisra (Persian emperor), the Qaysar (Roman emperor) and the Najashi (negus of Ethiopia to call them to Islam). He was told that they would not accept a letter unless it had a seal (for, they would not regard it as authentic without it). Hence, Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had a seal designed of a silver ring and engraved thereon (the words;) Muhammad, Messenger of Allah. (- Muslim)

According to a version (- Bukhari): The inscription (engraved) on the seal was in three lines (in this way): "Muhammad" (the lowest line) "Messenger" (the line in the middle) and "Allah" (the first or topmost line).[2]

Like this:

ALLAH (اللہ)
Messenger (of) (رسول)
Muhammad (محمد)

COMMENTARY: Instead of the word Khatam (خاتم), the word halqah (حلقة) is also used without mentioning the stone. After all the ring itself is placed on the finger. So it does not matter. But, other traditions do mention the stone to be silver or Ethiopian (carnelian or agate) as we shall see in the ahadith to follow (# 4387, 4388).

Nawawi رحمہ اللہ has concurred with the description of the (seal's) inscription as we have described in the hadith. The style has been shown as:

(محمدرسول اللہ) or (محمدرسول اللہ صلی اللہ), but Allah knows best.

On the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم death, the ring passed to Sayyiduna Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ and he wore it. After him, Sayyiduna Umar رضی اللہ عنہ wore it and after him, Sayyiduna Uthman رضی اللہ عنہ wore it. However, towards the end of his caliphate, it dropped into the well Aris from the hands of Mu'ayqib رحمه الله, the servant of Uthman رضی الله عنه. It could not be found though pains were taken to look for it.

The ulama (Scholars) say that the terrible unrest and civil strife that arose during the final days of Uthman رضی الله عنه and after him, originated because of the loss of the blessed ring. Allah had placed great blessing in this ring that caused itself been in government, rule and administration .It was like the singularity of the signet ring (with a seal) of (Prophet) Sayyiduna Sulayman عليه السلام.[1]

STONE IN THE RING OF THE PROPHET عليه السلام

(٤٣٨٧) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ خَاتَمُهُ مِنْ فِضَّةٍ وَكَانَ فَصُّهُ مِنْهُ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4387. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه said that the signet ring of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was of silver. And its stone too was of silver.[2]

(٤٣٨٨) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَبِسَ خَاتَمَ فِضَّةٍ فِيْ يَمِيْنِهٖ فِيْهِ فَصٌّ حَبَشِيٌّ كَانَ يَجْعَلُ فَصَّهُ مِمَّا يَلِيْ كَفَّهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4388. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم wore a silver signet ring with an Abyssinian gem on his right hand. He (wore it in such a way that he) had the gem next to the palm of his hand.[3]

COMMENTARY: The word Habshi (Abyssinian) means aqiq (عقیق). The reason for ascribing it to Abyssinia is that the mines of aqiq (carnelian or agate) are located in Abyssinia and Yemen. Or, the gem may not have been aqiq but of some other kind found only in Abyssinia. Or, it was of black colour, so it was ascribed to them because of their colour, black, Or, an Abyssinain may have made the stone and in this case this tradition will not contradict the hadith that the gem too was silver. If we go by the earlier explanation that the gem was aqiq from Abyssinia, then it would mean that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had both the rings, one with a silver gem and the other with an Abyssinian gem.

(٤٣٨٩) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ كَانَ خَاتَمُ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ هٰذِهٖ وَاَشَارَ اِلَى الْخِنْصَرِ مِنْ يَدِهِ الْيُسْرٰى (رواه مسلم)

4389. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه said, "The signet ring of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was on this," and he pointed to the little finger of his left hand,[4]

NOT ON THE MIDDLE OR NEXT TO IT

(٤٣٩٠) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ نَهَانِيْ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ اَتَخَتَّمَ فِيْ اِصْبَعِيْ هٰذِهٖ اَوْ هٰذِهٖ قَالَ فَاَوْمَأَ اِلَى الْوُسْطٰى وَالَّتِيْ تَلِيْهَا۔ (رواه مسلم)

4390. Sayyiduna Ali رضی الله عنه narrated, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade me to wear a signet ring on my this finger or this."

And, the narrator said that then he pointed the middle finger and the one next to it.[1]

COMMENTARY: Besides these two fingers, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم and the tabi'un رحمه الله are not known to have ever worn a ring on the thumb or the third finger also. Thus, it is mustahab (desirable) to wear a ring only on the small finger.

The Shafi'is and the Hanafis tend to abide by it. However, this is as far as men are concerned. As for women, they are allowed to wear a ring on any of the fingers.

Imam Nawawi رحمه الله said that it is makruh tanzihi (disapproved nearer to lawful) for men to wear a ring on the middle and index finger.

SECTION II الفصل الثاني

PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم WORE THE RING ON BOTH HANDS

forbidden. However, the ulama (Scholars) say that even this permission is taken by the Hanafis to apply to a plating of gold or any kind of a fixing of gold material for a gem or stone, or a small gold embroidery on the hem of clothing. The Hanafis hold that it is allowed to men.

COPPER & IRON RINGS DISALLOWED TO MEN

(٤٣٩٦) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِرَجُلٍ عَلَيْهِ خَاتَمٌ مِنْ شَبَهٍ مَالِيْ اَجِدُ مِنْكَ رِيْحَ الْاَصْنَامِ فَطَرَحَهُ ثُمَّ جَآءَ وَعَلَيْهِ خَاتَمٌ مِنْ حَدِيْدٍ فَقَالَ مَالِيْ اَرٰى عَلَيْكَ حِلْيَةَ اَهْلِ النَّارِ فَطَرَحَهُ فَقَالَ يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ اَيِّ شَيْءٍ اَتَّخِذُهُ قَالَ مِنْ وَرِقٍ وَلَا تُتِمَّهُ مِثْقَالًا رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَاَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَالنَّسَائِيُّ وَقَالَ مُحْيِ السُّنَّةِ وَقَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ فِي الصَّدَاقِ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لِرَجُلٍ۔ اِلْتَمِسْ وَلَوْ خَاتَمًا مِنْ حَدِيْدٍ۔

4396. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to a man who was wearing a signet ring of copper, "why do I perceive the odour of idols in you?" So, he threw it away (to remove the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم displeasure). When he came again, he was wearing an iron signet ring, and he asked, "Why is it that I see you adorned with the jewellery of the inmates of hell?" So, he threw it away and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, what material should I choose for my ring?" He said, "Silver, but do not let the silver weigh as much as one mithqal."[1]
Muhyi us sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) reported that there is a sahih hadith narrated by Sahl ibn Sa'd رضی اللہ عنہ concerning a (woman's) dower that the Prophet said to a man contemplating marriage "Find something (for her) even though a signet ring of iron."

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The silver must not weigh as much as one mithqal." This is by way of caution and righteousness. It is to be on the safe side to have the silver less than one mithqal. Besides, this is because gold and silver are in essence disliked things, so they must not be used beyond the necessary amount. This is why it is makruh (disapproved) to wear two or more rings, but it is not makruh (disapproved) to have many rings provided they are not worn together. They may be worn at different times.

According to fatawa Qadi Khan, it is makruh (disapproved) to wear a ring of iron or copper, and it is forbidden to men to wear a gold ring.

As for the tradition of Muhyi us sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) that an iron ring may be given in dower if nothing else is available, it does not follow that the ring should be worn because iron and copper rings are disallowed to wear. They can be kept as regular property. Besides, it is also possible that the ring of iron may have been forbidden after this tradition of sahl رضی اللہ عنہ was narrated, because it is established that sahl's رضی اللہ عنہ tradition dates prior to the induction of sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) and ratification of Shariah. The hadith of Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ is of a later date. So Sahl's رضی اللہ عنہ tradition stands abrogated. His hadith as been narrated earlier in the chapter on dower (# 3202).[2]

TEN THINGS DISLIKED BY THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٤٣٩٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَكْرَهُ عَشْرَ خِلَالٍ الصُّفْرَةَ يَعْنِي الْخَلُوْقَ وَتَغْيِيْرَا لشَّيْبِ وَجَرَّ الْإِزَارِ وَالتَّخَتُّمِ بِالذَّهَبِ وَالتَّبَرُّجَ بِالزِّيْنَةِ لِغَيْرِ مَحِلِّهَا وَالضَّرْبِ بِالْكِعَابِ وَالرُّقٰى إِلَّا بِالْمُعَوِّذَاتِ وَعَقْدَ التَّمَائِمِ وَعَزْلَ الْمَاءِ بِغَيْرِ مَحَلِّهِ وَفَسَادَ الصَّبِيِّ غَيْرَ مُحَرِّمِهِ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد و النسائی)

4397. Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم disliked ten things:

1. Yellow colouring, meaning use of Khaluq.
2. Altering old age, meaning dying grey hair.
3. Trailing the lower garment (beyond the ankles).
4. Wearing a gold signet ring (by men).
5. Women's displaying her adornment where it is not lawful for her to do so.
6. Playing dice games.
7. Using spells other than the Mu'awwidhat (last two suras of the Quran).
8. Wearing amulet s and talisman.
9. Practicing azal (which is to withdraw the penis before discharge of semen) unilaterally.
10. Impairing a child (who is being breast-fed its mother), but he did not declare it to be unlawful.[1]

COMMENTARY: Khaluq is a perfume prepared from saffron, etc. Men are disallowed to use it, but women may use it. Some ahadith allow it to men too but, in the face of many that disallow it, they are said to be abrogated. Khaluq is purely a woman's perfume.

It is disallowed to alter old age be it by plucking out grey hair or dyeing them black. However, henna may be applied because there are ahadith that permit it. The Hanafis say that it is forbidden and disliked to pluck grey hair.

It is lawful for a woman to show her adornment to her husband and in places where her mahram are, meaning her father, her brothers and son. But, she cannot display her beauty to other men who are outside the purview of mahram. It is as the Quran says:

وَلَا يُبْدِيْنَ زِيْنَتَهُنَّ إِلَّا لِبُعُوْلَتِهِنَّ أَوْ آبَآئِهِنَّ (الآیۃ)

{...and display not their adornment except to their husbands, or their fathers...} (24: 31)

Games of dice are forbidden. The dice is thrown to play it. This game is disallowed. Most of the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم said that it is unlawful. The Hanafis regard chass too as makruh (disapproved) tahrimi.

The word ruqa (رقی) is to cast spells or blow after chanting some incantation. As for the mu'awwidhat, they are those verses of the Quran that teach to seek refuge in Allah. They could be the last two surahs of the Quran (113 and 114) or any other verses. In other words, it is allowed to invoke by recourse to the verses of the Quran , the supplication mentioned in the ahadith and the asma ul husna (beautiful names of Allah). But, it is forbidden to use other means, particularly words whose meanings are not deciphered for, not only is that unlawful but it is also likely to fall in disbelief.

Tamaim (تمائم) are beads or bones that Arabs tied together to repel the evil eye and they hung them on the necks of their children. Islam forbade this practice. Some people say that tama'im are the charms and conjurations with a tint of polytheism. It was common practice during the pre Islamic days. However, it is permitted to hang on the neck the amulets with verses of the quran, or approved supplications, or the name of Allah. It is known from the tradition of Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Umar رضی الله عنه as reported in Hisn Hasin.[1]

Azal is to withdraw the penis while having sexual intercourse before semen is emitted to forestall pregnancy. It is allowed with the permission of one's wife otherwise it will unilateral. If the woman is a female slave then her permission is not required because azal can be observed with her.

To impair a child who is being suckled is to have sexual intercourse with its mother and she becomes pregnant with another child. This corrupts her milk and it will impair the body. Hence, to have sexual intercourse with a woman who suckles is to hurt the child.

Having sexual intercourse with a woman who suckles is called ghayl and this has been mentioned in the chapter on sexual intercourse (see ahadith # 3189, 3196)

However, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not say that it is unlawful to have sexual intercourse with a woman who is suckling a child. The reason is that it is not unlawful to have sexual intercourse with one's wife.

BELLS SHOULD NOT BE WORN

(٤٣٩٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ أَنَّ مَوْلَاةً لَهُمْ ذَهَبَتْ بِابْنَةِ الزُّبَيْرِ إِلَى عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ وَفِي رِجْلِهَا أَجْرَاسٌ فَقَطَعَهَا عُمَرُ وَقَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ مَعَ كُلِّ جَرَسٍ شَيْطَانٌ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4398. Sayyiduna Ibn Zubayr رضی الله عنه said that a freed woman slave of theirs took the little daughter of Zubayr رضی الله عنه to Umar ibn Khattab. رضی الله عنه She was wearing bells on her leg(s). Umar رضی الله عنه cut off the bells, saying "I had heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say 'with every bell there is a devil."[2]

COMMENTARY: The saying means:

اَلْجَرَسُ مَزَامِيْرُ الشَّيْطَانِ

(Bell is the devils pipes).

The devil draws people to every such thing as tinkles. He makes it very pleasing.

(٤٣٩٩) وَعَنْ بُنَانَةَ مَوْلَاةِ عَبْدِالرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ حَيَّانَ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ كَانَتْ عِنْدَ عَائِشَةَ إِذْ دُخِلَتْ عَلَيْهَا بِجَارِيَةٍ وَعَلَيْهَا جَلَاجِلُ يُصَوِّتْنَ فَقَالَتْ لَاتُدْخِلْنَهَا عَلَيَّ إِلَّا أَنْ تَقْطَعْنَ جَلَاجِلَهَا سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ لَاتَدْخُلُ الْمَلٰٓئِكَةُ بَيْتًا فِيْهِ جَرَسٌ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4399. Sayyiduna Bunanah, رضی الله عنه freed female slave of (Sayyiduna) Abdur Rahman ibn Hayyan Ansari رضی الله عنه, narrated that while she was with (Sayyidah) Ayshah رضی الله عنها, a girl was brought to her wearing tinkling bells. She said, "Do not let her come to me unless her bells or cut off (and thrown away) for, I had heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, 'The angels (or mercy) do not enter a house that has

GOLD MAY BE USED IN EXTREME NEED

(٤٤٠٠) وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمٰنِ بْنِ طَرَفَةَ أَنَّ جَدَّهٗ عَرْفَجَةَ بْنَ أَسْعَدَ قُطِعَ أَنْفُهٗ يَوْمَ الْكُلَابِ فَاتَّخَذَ أَنْفًا مِنْ وَرِقٍ فَأَنْتَنَ عَلَيْهِ فَأَمَرَهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَنْ يَتَّخِذَ أَنْفًا مِنْ ذَهَبٍ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی)

4400. Sayyiduna Abdur Rahman ibn Tarafah رضی اللہ عنہ said that when his grandfather, Arfajah ibn As'ad رضی اللہ عنہ had his nose chopped off in the battle of Kulab, he got a silver nose made out (for him), but it gave off a stench. So, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed him to have a gold nose made out.[2]

COMMENTARY: A battle was fought at Kulab (before the hijrah). Sayyiduna Arfajah رضی اللہ عنہ had participated in it. His nose was chopped off in this battle. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم permitted him to have a gold nose made when the silver he had made gave out a bad odour. On the basis of this hadith, the ulama (Scholars) allow that a gold nose may be made. They also allow silver wire to be attached to the teeth. In fact, Imam Muhammad رحمہ اللہ said that even gold wire may be used to bind the teeth.

WEARING TO WOMAN WEARING GOLD JEWELLERY

(٤٤٠١) وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ أَحَبَّ أَنْ يُّحَلِّقَ حَبِيْبَهٗ حَلْقَةً مِنْ نَارٍ فَلْيُحَلِّقْهُ حَلْقَةً مِنْ ذَهَبٍ وَمَنْ أَحَبَّ أَنْ يُّطَوِّقَ حَبِيْبَهٗ طَوْقًا مِنْ نَارٍ فَلْيُطَوِّقْهُ طَوْقًا مِنْ ذَهَبٍ وَمَنْ أَحَبَّ أَنْ يُّسَوِّرَ حَبِيْبَهٗ سِوَارًا مِنْ نَارٍ فَلْيُسَوِّرْهُ سِوَارًا مِنْ ذَهَبٍ وَلٰكِنْ عَلَيْكُمْ بِالْفِضَّةِ فَالْعَبُوْا بِهَا۔
(رواہ ابوداؤد)

4401. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who likes to put a ring of fire on his dear one (like wife or children) may put on him a gold ring (in his ear or nose). He who likes to put a necklace of fire round (the neck of) his dear one may put a necklace of gold on him. And, he who likes to put a bracelet of fire on his dear one may put a bracelet of gold on him. But, you may use silver and while away with it."[3]

COMMENTARY: The concluding words of the hadith mean 'play with it,' implying make silver jewellery for your women and get them to wear them, make a ring for yourselves and make weapons like swords for yourselves. The adornment of the world, however, are plaything, even if they are of the permitted class.

Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that to play with anything is to employ it at one's will and according to one's wish. So, silver may be used for the jewellary of woman. But, for me only silver rings, swords and weapons are allowed.

(٤٤٠٢) وَعَنْ أَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ يَزِيْدَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ أَيُّمَا امْرَأَةٍ تَقَلَّدَتْ قِلَادَةً مِنْ ذَهَبٍ قُلِّدَتْ فِيْ عُنُقِهَا مِثْلُهَا مِنَ النَّارِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَأَيُّمَا امْرَأَةٍ جَعَلَتْ فِيْ أُذُنِهَا خُرْصًا مِنْ ذَهَبٍ جَعَلَ اللّٰهُ

فِيْ أُذُنِهَا مِثْلَهُ مِنَ النَّارِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4402. Sayyiduna Asma bint Yazid رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Any woman who wears a gold necklace will be made to wear the like of it of fire on the day of resurrection. Any woman who wears, a gold earring in her ear will be made to wear the like of it by Allah on the day of resurrection.[1]

(٤٤٠٣) وَعَنْ أُخْتٍ لِحُذَيْفَةَ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ يَا مَعْشَرَ النِّسَاءِ أَمَا لَكُنَّ فِي الْفِضَّةِ

مَا تُحَلِّيْنَ بِهِ أَمَا إِنَّهُ لَيْسَ مِنْكُنَّ امْرَأَةٌ تَحَلَّى ذَهَبًا تُظْهِرُهُ إِلَّا عُذِّبَتْ بِهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4403. The sister of Sayyiduna Hudhayfah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "O you woman! There is for you in silver that with which you may adorn yourself (making silver jewellary)! Know! Whichever woman among you who adorns herself with (jewellery of) gold and displays it will be punished for doing it, definitely."[2]

COMMENTARY: The foregoing ahadith say explicitly that even women may not wear pure gold. If any woman wears gold jewellery, then she is liable to the punishment, mentioned in the hadith. But, it is allowed to them to wear only jewellery of silver. However, In fact, women are allowed to wear both gold and silver. As for these ahadith, the ulama (Scholars) offer different explanations.

Some of them say that, in the beginning, it was as these ahadith declare and woman were not permitted to wear gold. Later it was replaced by the tradition narrated by Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Pure silk and gold is forbidden to the men of my ummah." This saying establishes that woman are allowed to wear gold and pure silk.

Some ulama (Scholars) link these ahadith to the payment of zakah (Annual due charity) and the woman who wears gold jewellery without paying zakah (Annual due charity) on it is liable to the punishment mentioned.

Some others of them say that the woman who displays her jewellery to men who are not her mahram are liable to these punishments.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

IF YOU WANT THEM IN PARADISE THEN SHUN GOLD & SILK IN THIS WORLD

(٤٤٠٤) عَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَمْنَعُ أَهْلَ الْحِلْيَةِ وَالْحَرِيْرِ وَيَقُوْلُ

4404. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used to forbid those who wore jewellery and silk and tell them, "If you desire the jewellery of paradise and its silk then do not wear them in this world."[3]

PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم RING OF GOLD

(٤٤٠٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اتَّخَذَ خَاتَمًا فَلَبِسَهُ قَالَ شَغَلَنِيْ هٰذَا عَنْكُمْ مُنْذُ الْيَوْمِ إِلَيْهِ نَظْرَةٌ وَإِلَيْكُمْ نَظْرَةٌ ثُمَّ أَلْقَاهُ۔ (رواه النسائی)

4405. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had a signet ring made out, and he wore it. Then, he said, "As of today, this has occupied me from you (and I could not attend to you) because I give a look to it and I give a look to you." (Saying that) he threw it away.[1]

COMMENTARY: It seems that the signet ring mentioned in this hadith was made of gold.

EVEN CHILDREN ARE DISALLOWED TO WEAR GOLD

(٤٤٠٦) وَعَنْ مَالِكٍ قَالَ أَنَا أَكْرَهُ أَنْ يَلْبَسَ الْغِلْمَانُ شَيْئًا مِنَ الذَّهَبِ لِأَنَّهُ بَلَغَنِيْ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهٰى عَنِ التَّخَتُّمِ بِالذَّهَبِ فَأَنَا أَكْرَهُ لِلرِّجَالِ الْكَبِيْرِ مِنْهُمْ وَالصَّغِيْرِ (رواه فی المؤطا)

4406. (Imam) Maalik رحمه الله said, "I disapprove of youths wearing any gold because I have learnt that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade gold rings too (on this basis, other things of gold are forbidden more emphatically). Hence, I disapprove of males, old or young (wearing gold)."[2]

COMMENTARY: Just as it is forbidden to men to wear any gold material or to let their children wear it, so too they are forbidden anything of silver except rings of silver. Moreover, silk also attracts the same command as gold and silver.

CHAPTER - III

FOOTWEAR (SANDALS ETC.) بَابُ النِّعَالِ

The word (نعال) ni'al is the plural of (نعل) na'l - shoe, boot sandal. It is that with which feet are protected from the earth. It preserves feet, and is a footwear. Its shape and style has been differing from age to age, people to people and group to group. It may be the shape of a shoe or a sandal or slippers or wooden contraptions.

This chapter means to describe the footwear of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that was worn by the Arabs of that age.

The caption of this chapter is in plural form because the kinds of footwear were many in those days.

[Shamail Tirmidhi[3] refers to, in its chapter on the shoes of Sayyiduna Rasulullah Sallallahu alayhi wasallam, the booklet of Mawlana Ashrafi Ali Thanawi رحمه الله. Zaadus Sa'eed. It has a detailed treatise on the blessings and virtues of the shoes of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم].

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

THE PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم SANDALS

(٤٤٠٧) عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَلْبَسُ النِّعَالَ الَّتِيْ لَيْسَ فِيْهَا شَعْرٌ (رواه البخارى)

4407. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه said, "I saw Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم wear sandals that had no hair on them."[1]

(٤٤٠٨) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ اِنَّ نَعْلَ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ لَهَا قِبَالَانِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4408. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه said, "The sandals of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had two thongs (each)."[2]

COMMENTARY: The word (قبال) qibal is the thong or strap of the sandal. It is between the toes. The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم sandal had two thongs, between the great toe and the toe next to it and (the other) between the middle and next toes. The Arabs used that sandal in those days as chappal or slippers which we wear generally at home.

NECESSITY OF SHOES

(٤٤٠٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ غَزْوَةٍ غَزَاهَا يَقُوْلُ اسْتَكْثِرُوْا مِنَ النِّعَالِ فَاِنَّ الرَّجُلَ لَا يَزَالُ رَاكِبًا مَا انْتَعَلَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4409. Sayyiduna Jabir رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم say during a battle that he fought (meaning while setting out for it), "Take plenty of sandals because as long as one wears sandals, he is like a rider."[3]

(The translation by Abdul Hamid Siddiqi of the Sahih Muslim of this hadith says that one should make it a practice to wear sandals because as long as one wear them, he keeps riding.)

COMMENTARY: A person who has shoes on him certainly walks faster than one who is without any kind of footwear. Also, he preserves his feet too from harm. This is why he is compared to a rider. One must keep with oneself such things as are necessities of a journey.

WEAR THE RIGHT SHOE FIRST & TAKE OFF THE LEFT FIRST

(٤٤١٠) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا انْتَعَلَ اَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَبْدَأْ بِالْيُمْنٰى وَاِذَا نَزَعَ فَلْيَبْدَأْ بِالشِّمَالِ لِتَكُنِ الْيُمْنٰى اَوَّلَهُمَا تُنْعَلُ وَاٰخِرَهُمَا تُنْزَعُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4410. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "When any of you puts on sandals, let him put on the right sandal first. And, when he takes them off, let him take off the left sandal first, Thus the right one should be the first to be worn and the last to be removed."[4]

COMMENTARY: The procedure is to begin a deed that is more excellent from the right side. This is mustahab (desirable). However, if it is not of this kind, then it is mustahab

When one goes to the toilet, one puts the left foot forward and on coming out of it, the right foot precedes.
From another angle too, the right foot has more merit than the left. So, it deserves to precede the left in putting footwear, and to follow on removing them. The same principle applies on entering the mosque and going to other such places, and on returning from there.

SHOE ONLY ON ONE FOOT IS WRONG

(٤٤١١) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَايَمْشِيْ اَحَدُكُمْ فِيْ نَعْلٍ وَاحِدَةٍ لِيُحْفِهِمَا جَمِيْعًا اَوْلِيُنْعِلْهُمَا جَمِيْعًا۔ (متفق عليه)

4411. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Let no one of you walk with one shoe. He must remove both of them (and be barefooted), or he must put on both of them."[1]

COMMENTARY: It is makruh tanzihi (disapproved nearer to lawful) to have only one shoe on and leave the other foot bare. Not only is it uncivilized but also it would keep the feet unbalanced and cause one to fall down, particularly when the land is uneven.
The ulama (Scholars) say the same thing about having one hand in the shirt sleeve and the other out of the sleeve that is put up on the shoulder or left dangling.
The same applies to having only one sock on a foot leaving the other without a sock.

(٤٤١٢) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِذَا انْقَطَعَ شِسْعُ نَعْلِهٖ فَلَا يَمْشِ فِيْ نَعْلٍ وَاحِدَةٍ حَتّٰى يُصْلِحَ شِسْعَهٗ وَلَا يَمْشِ فِيْ خُفٍّ وَاحِدٍ وَلَا يَاْكُلْ بِشِمَالِهٖ وَلَا يَحْتَبِيْ بِالثَّوْبِ الْوَاحِدِ وَلَا يَلْتَحِفُ الصَّمَّآءَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4412. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "If the thong of anyone's sandal is cut off, let him not walk with one sandal but he should mend his thong. He should not walk with one sock, nor eat with his left hand, nor sit with knees raised and feet on the ground when he has only one garment wrapped round him (and nothing on his private parts), nor wrap himself up completely enclosing his hands too (which cannot be brought out without baring his private parts).[2]

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِيْ

THONGS OF THE SANDALS OF THE PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم

(٤٤١٣) عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَ لِنَعْلِ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قِبَالَانِ مُثَنًّى شِرَاكُهُمَا (رواه الترمذی)

4413. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the sandal of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had two thongs each with dual straps (to make them durable.)[3]

DO NOT PUT SHOE WHILE STANDING

(٤٤١٤-٤٤١٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يَنْتَعِلَ الرَّجُلُ قَائِمًا (رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُد وَرَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ عَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ)۔

4414. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that any one should put on shoes while (he is) standing.[1]

4415. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated the same hadith.[2]

COMMENTARY: This is disallowed only when it is difficult to wear the shoes while standing. If shoes are put on conveniently in a standing position, then one may do so. It is not forbidden in that case.

DID PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم WALK WITH ONE SHOE?

(٤٤١٦) وَعَنِ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ رُبَّمَا مَشَى النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِيْ نَعْلٍ وَاحِدَةٍ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ اَنَّهَا مَشَتْ بِنَعْلٍ وَاحِدَةٍ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا اَصَحُّ)۔

4416. Sayyiduna Qasim ibn Muhammad رحمہ اللہ narrated that (Sayyidah) Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم walked wearing one sandal sometimes.[3]

According to another version: He did walk wearing (only) one sandal.[4]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) doubt if this hadith is sahih because it contradicts other hadith that disallow such a thing. If it is sahih then the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم walking with one shoe on would be a rare case and only within the house, and out of necessity. Or, he may have done it too show that it is not outright unlawful to walk with one shoe, but allowed. It must be known that it was wajib (obligatory) for the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم to demonstrate the permission of something, like drinking water while standing. The writer of Muwahib Ladunyah has explained this reason against drinking water while standing.

REMOVE SHOES BEFORE SITTING DOWN

(٤٤١٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ مِنَ السُّنَّةِ اِذَا جَلَسَ الرَّجُلُ اَنْ يَخْلَعَ نَعْلَيْهِ فَيَضَعَهُمَا بِجَنْبِهٖ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4417. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that it is a sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) that when a man sits down, he should remove his sandals and put them besides him.[5]

COMMENTARY: One must not sit down with his shoes on his feet. He must remove them and put them to his left side.

GIFT OF THE NEGUS OF LEATHER SOCKS

(٤٤١٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ بُرَيْدَةَ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ اَنَّ النَّجَاشِيَّ اَهْدٰى اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خُفَّيْنِ اَسْوَدَيْنِ سَاذَجَيْنِ فَلَبِسَهُمَا رَوَاهُ ابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَزَادَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ عَنِ ابْنِ بُرَيْدَةَ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ ثُمَّ تَوَضَّأَ وَمَسَحَ عَلَيْهِمَا۔

4418. Sayyiduna Ibn Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ reported on the authority of his father that the Negus (of Ethiopia) sent two black (leather) socks as gift for the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم without any pattern (on them). [1]
(Ibn Majah transmitted it)
(Tirmidhi added from Ibn Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ from Buraydahi) رضی اللہ عنہ Then he made ablution and made masah over them (meaning, wiped over the socks).[2]

COMMENTARY: When the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم received the socks, he did not investigate whether the leather was dyed or not. Did the leather came from a dead animal (carrion) or from an animal that was slaughtered.

He asked none of these questions, but wore the socks straight away. He only went by their outward look which showed that they were pure.

From this a ruling is derived that if no impurity or such other thing is observed on coarse cloth, socks, mats, carpets, rugs and other similar floor mattings, then they will be deemed to be pure.

CHAPTER - IV

COMBING THE HAIR(AT-TARAJJUL) بَابُ التَّرَجُّلِ

In Arabic tarajul (ترجل) is used for combing the hair of the head or beard. However, it is understood generally to refer to the hair on the head. For combing the beard, the word (تشریح) tashrih is used.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

BODY OF MENSTRUATING WOMAN IS NOT IMPURE

(٤٤١٩) عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كُنْتُ أُرَجِّلُ رَأْسَ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَاَنَا حَائِضٌ۔ (متفق علیه)

4419. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "I used to comb the head of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم though I was menstruating."[3]

COMMENTARY: This hadith is evidence that the body of a menstruating woman is pure. Besides, it is allowed to mingle with her is every day life.

THAT WHICH IS FITRAH

(٤٤٢٠) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلْفِطْرَةُ خَمْسٌ: اَلْخِتَانُ وَالْاِسْتِحْدَادُ وَقَصُّ الشَّارِبِ وَتَقْلِيْمُ الْاَظْفَارِ وَنَتْفُ الْاِبْطِ۔ (متفق علیه)

4420. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said "Al-fitrah (that which is innate to man) are five things. (They are:) circumcision, shaving (the hair below the navel) with a razor, clipping the moustache, paring the nails, removing (or plucking) the hair under the armpit."[1]

COMMENTARY: Firtah is what has been masnun in the Shari'ah (divine law) of all the Prophets عليه السلام.

Previously, in the chapter of siwak (under taharah, purification) a hadith (# 379) mentions ten things as fitrah. It must be understood that neither was it intended there to cover the entire characteristics, nor is it intended here. The objective is that the sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice)s of all the Prophet عليه السلام covered those ten things (out of the many). Five of them are mentioned here again.

DISTINGUISH YOURSELF FROM POLYTHEISTS

(٤٤٢١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَالِفُوا الْمُشْرِكِيْنَ اَوْفِرُوا اللُّحٰى وَاَحْفُوا الشَّوَارِبَ وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ اَنْهِكُوْا الشَّوَارِبَ وَاَعْفُوا اللُّحٰى۔ (متفق عليه)

4421. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Go against the polytheists in what they do. So, grow beard long and clip the moustache" (because they shave their beards and let their moustaches be thick). According to another version: "Cut the moustache down and let the beard grow.

WHEN TO REMOVE UNWANTED HAIR

(٤٤٢٢) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ وُقِّتَ لَنَا فِيْ قَصِّ الشَّارِبِ وَتَقْلِيْمِ الْاَظْفَارِ وَنَتْفِ الْاِبْطِ وَحَلْقِ الْعَانَةِ اَنْ لَا نَتْرُكَ مِنْ اَرْبَعِيْنَ لَيْلَةً۔ (رواه مسلم)

4422. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه said, "It was decided for us that we should clip the moustache, pare the nails, pluck out hair under armpits and shave the pubes without letting forty days elapse between every two observations (of these things)."[2]

COMMENTARY: According to Ibn Maalik رحمه الله Sayyiduna Abu Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم pared the nails and clipped the moustache every Friday. He shaved the pubes every twenty days and removed hair under the armpit every forty days.

It is stated in Qaniyah (قنية) that it is better to pare the nails, clip the moustache, remove unwanted hair once a week and have a bath to keep the body clean and neat. If it is not possible to do it every week then it must be done every fortnight. But, if one neglects it for more than forty days then it would mount to abandoning it without an excuse. In other words the schedule for doing these things is best every week, acceptable every fifteen days, but forty days is the last limit. If anyone delays beyond that then he abandons it for no reason whatsoever, and he will deserve the warning according to the Hanafis.

Mazhar says that Abu Umar رضى الله عنه and Abdullah al Asghar رضى الله عنه said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم clipped the moustache and pared the nails every Friday before the salah (prayer) of Friday.

Some people say that he removed hair from under the armpits and shaved the pubes every forty days. Some others say that he did it every month. The version about one month is an acceptable one.

DYEING HAIR

(٤٤٢٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ الْيَهُوْدَ وَالنَّصَارٰى لَايَصْبِغُوْنَ فَخَالِفُوْهُمْ۔ (متفق عليه)

4423. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Jews and Christians do not dye (their hair). So, you do the opposite of what they do."[1]

COMMENTARY: This means apply the dye and oppose the deeds of the Jews and Christians.' But, the dye should not be black because it is forbidden to apply the black dye. This will be discussed at length later on. The sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم used to apply henna of red colour and seldom of yellow colour. Authentic ahadith confirm that henna may be applied to the hair. The ulama (Scholars) say that applying henna is a sign of the believers and they are unanimous that it is allowed. Rather, some jurists say that it is mustahab (desirable), both for men and women, to apply henna. They cite ahadith about its excellences though the muhaddithin have declared those ahadith to be weak.

According to Majma al-Bihar, this hadith does not command those people to use a dye whose hair are a combination of black and white. Rather, it commands them whose hair are grey throughout with no trace of black hair. The next hadith is about the hair of Abu Quhafah رضی اللہ عنہ.

It is also stated in this book that the ulama (Scholars) have different views about the dye. It is because circumstances differ. Some of them say that the command applies to the Muslim area where it is a custom to apply the dye to the hair. If anyone differs from the practice and habit of these people of his area then it will bring him undeserved fame which is makruh (disapproved).

Other say that if a person's grey hair bring him respect and he is awe inspiring then it is better for him not to use a dye. But, if grey hair do not suit a person who looks older than he is then it is better for him to use a hair dye and conceal his shortcoming.

(٤٤٢٤) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ اُتِيَ بِاَبِيْ قُحَافَةَ يَوْمَ فَتْحِ مَكَّةَ وَرَاْسُهٗ وَلِحْيَتُهٗ كَالثَّغَامَةِ بَيَاضًا فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ غَيِّرُوْا هٰذَا بِشَيْءٍ وَاجْتَنِبُوا السَّوَادَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4424. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that, on the day of the conquest of Makkah, Abu Quhafah (father of Abu Bakr) رضی اللہ عنہ was brought (to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, having embraced Islam that very day). The hair on his head and beard were like thughamah (white like anise plant). The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to him "Change this (white) wit something, but keep away from black."[2]

COMMENTARY: Thughamah is a kind of plant whose buds and flowers are white. In Persian it is uarmaghah. (Thugham is white, whiteness - Hans wehr Dictionary of Modern written Arabic). We know from this hadith that the black dye is forbidden. But it is stated in mutalib ul Muminun that if a warrior uses it to create awe in the minds of an enemy of Islam then he is allowed to do so. As for one who uses it to please himself and impress a woman then, most ulama (Scholars) say, it is disallowed. Whatever is said of Abu Bakr رضی الله عنه, the correct thing is that he dyed with henna and wasmah (indigo leaves). This did not turn his h air black but reddish black.The same may be said of some other sahabah.

In short, it is allowed to use henna as a dye by all the ulama (Scholars) but the black dye is forbidden and makruh (disapproved). In fact, there is strong warning against using it. We shall see it later.

HAIR ON HEAD MAY OR MAY NOT BE PARTED

(٤٤٢٥) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُحِبُّ مُوَافَقَةَ اَهْلِ الْكِتَابِ فِيْمَا مَا لَمْ يُؤْمَرْ فِيْهِ وَكَانَ اَهْلُ الْكِتَابِ يَسْدُلُوْنَ اَشْعَارَ هُمْ وَكَانَ الْمُشْرِكُوْنَ يَفْرُقُوْنَ رُؤُسَهُمْ فَسَدَلَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَاصِيَتَهُ ثُمَّ فَرَقَ بَعْدُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4425. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه said that in such things about which the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had not received any command, he liked to do as the People of the Book did. And, the people of the Book used to leave their hair unparted (which is called sadal, left to hang down), but the polytheists used to part their hair, Hence, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم let his forelocks hang down (unparted). Then, later on he parted them.[1]

COMMENTARY: Sadal (سدل) is to let hair fall (or, hang) down. It is to leave them imparted on all sides. Farq (فرق) is to part them. It is also the parting (or dividing) line.
When the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم emigrated to Madinah, he did as the people of the Book did. He made sadal with the forelocks, meaning he let them hang on his forehead.
Though only the forelocks are mentioned, sadal is to leave all hair on the head unparted and as they are all around.
Since the final deed of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was to part the hair, some people say that sadal (or, leaving he hair as they are) is abrogated. It was a command through revelation to adopt farq. It was like the permission from Allah to follow the people of the Book where no Divine command was issue. When the command to adopt farq was issued, it replaced the temporary permission to do as they peoples of the Book did. It became obvious that to adopt farq (parting of hair) was final, and do the opposite of what the people of the Book did.
Some authorities deduce from this hadith that, as long as we are not given a command against it, the Shari'ah (divine law) of the previous Prophet عليه السلام may be observed by us provided we know that it has not been altered by their ummah and the particular section of the Shari'ah (divine law) is in its original form as revealed by Allah.
Moreover, it was left to the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم discretion to do as the people of the Book did. If the command to do as they did was of the same category as any command of Shari'ah (divine law), then it would not have been left at his discretion, but he would have been bound to obey it as any other wajib (obligatory) command.
Some ahadith say that it was the practice of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم to arrange his hair and part them if they were dishevelled, otherwise he left them as they were unarranged and unparted. In other words (when his hair were not dishevelled), he observed neither sadal nor farq, but he left them as they were. This makes it clear that both sadal and farq are allowed though farq is better.

QAZA IS NOT ALLOWED

(٤٤٢٦) وَعَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَنْهٰى عَنِ الْقَزَعِ قِيْلَ لِنَافِعٍ مَا الْقَزَعُ قَالَ يُحْلَقُ بَعْضُ رَاسِ الصَّبِيِّ وَيُتْرَكُ الْبَعْضُ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَيْهِ وَالْحَقَ بَعْضُهُمُ التَّفْسِيْرَ بِالْحَدِيْثِ۔

4426. Sayyiduna Nafi رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (Sayyiduna) Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said, : I heard the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbid qaza (قزع)." Someone asked Nafi.' رضی اللہ عنہ "what is qaza?" He said, "It is to shave part of the head of a boy and leave some of it unshaved."

The explanation has been made a part of the hadith by some of the narrators.[1]

COMMENTARY: Nawawi رحمہ اللہ said that qaza is to shave part of anyone's head and leave the remaining unshaven. This is the more correct meaning, so it is wajib (obligatory) to rely on this meaning. As for specifying the 'boy' it is because of the normal custom, otherwise just as it is makruh (disapproved) to shave part of a child's head, it is also makruh (disapproved) to shave some of an adult's head and spare the rest unshaven. This is why this ruling is declared in justice traditions without exceptions.

The dislike of qaza is because it resembles the disbelievers and it distorts the appearance. The tail (or ponytail) and such excess of hair which the non-Muslims grow and which is contrary to the masnun deeds is included in the definition of qaza.'[2]

(٤٤٢٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَاٰى صَبِيًّا قَدْ حُلِقَ بَعْضُ رَاسِهٖ وَتُرِكَ بَعْضُهٗ فَنَهَاهُمْ عَنْ ذٰلِكَ وَقَالَ احْلِقُوْا كُلَّهٗ اَوِاتْرُكُوْا كُلَّهٗ۔ (رواہ مسلم)

4427. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saw a boy with part of his head shaved and part of it unshaved. He forbade them (meaning the guardians of the child) to do that. He said, 'shave it all, or leave all of it (unshaven)."[3]

COMMENTARY: This hadith indicates that it is allowed to shave hair on the head, even apart from Hajj (pilgrimage) and umrah. But, it is better not to shave the head except after performing Hajj (pilgrimage) and umrah. The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ and other sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم abided by this. We have mentioned this in the chapter on janayah.

EFFEMINATE CURSED

(٤٤٢٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ لَعَنَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْمُخَنَّثِيْنَ مِنَ الرِّجَالِ وَالْمُتَرَجِّلَاتِ مِنَ النِّسَاءِ وَقَالَ اَخْرِجُوْهُمْ مِنْ بُيُوْتِكُمْ۔ (رواہ البخاری)

4428. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم cursed the mukhannath among men and the mutarajalat among women. He said, "Expel them from your homes."[4]

COMMENTARY: The word is mukhannath but sometimes makhannith. It is from khanatha which means mildress. Mukhannath is a man who dresses like women, applies henna on hands and feet like women and speaks with their accent. In short, he adopts the manners and style of women in everything he does. He is an hermaphrodite or an effeminate.
The mukhannath are of two kind.

(i) Born as such. Their organs and ways of living and moving about are effeminate.

(ii) Some men behave like women deliberately though they are masculine in all respects. They take up resemblance to women. So much so that some of them have themselves castrated. It is this kind of the mukhannath that have been cursed.

The first kind is exempt from the curse because they are helpless. They have no say in this behavior.
In the same way, those women are cursed who assume a resemblance to men in their manner for living. Mutarjalat are women who assume resemblance to men.
It is stated in the sharh of shar'atul Islam that it is masnun for women to apply henna but makruh (disapproved) for men to apply without a valid reason because that will be a resemblance to women.
We may deduce from this saying that it is makruh (disapproved) for women to refrain from applying henna because that will be tantamount to resembling men.

(٤٤٢٩) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَعَنَ اللّٰهُ الْمُتَشَبِّهِيْنَ مِنَ الرِّجَالِ بِالنِّسَآءِ وَالْمُتَشَبِّهَاتِ مِنَ النِّسَآءِ بِالرِّجَالِ۔ (رواه البخاری)

4429. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The curse of Allah is on the men who assume resemblance to women and on the women who assume resemblance to men.[1]

WIGS

(٤٤٣٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَعَنَ اللّٰهُ الْوَاصِلَةَ وَالْمُسْتَوْصِلَةَ وَالْوَاشِمَةَ وَالْمُسْتَوْشِمَةَ۔ (متفق علیه)

4430. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah has cursed the woman who pastes false hair and the woman who gets it done, and the women who tattoos and the women who gets is done."[2]

COMMENTARY: Pasting hair is to elongate hair.
Nawawi رحمہ اللہ said that it is absolutely unlawful to add false hair to one's own. There is no resurrection about it. However, the Shafi'I ulama (Scholars) say that while it is unlawful to add human hair to one's own, is pure hair of an animal is added to a woman's ponytail then it is absolutely forbidden to a woman who has no husband or master (meaning that she is unmarried, divorced or widowed, or is a free woman). If she has a husband or a master, then there are three courses and the best and most correct is that she may add the animal's pure hair to her own ponytail after the permission of her master or husband.
Maalik رحمہ اللہ, Tabari رحمہ اللہ and most ulama (Scholars) hold that it is disallowed to a woman to add any sort of a thing to her hair - be it hair, black wool, rags or strips, or anything else. They have come to this conclusion from ahadith. But, the jurist Layth رحمه الله says that the disallowance is only for hair. But anything else like wool etc. may be added to ponytails. Also, it is allowed to tie such strings to hair as do not look like hair but stand out clearly.

It is stated in Fatawa Aalamgiri that it is unlawful to add human hair to one's own (or to wear a wig over them). But, it is allowed to add wool to them.

Tattooing is to prick one's skin with needles etc and to fill them with indelible colours. First, blood is let out. It is an ancient custom of pre-Islamic days. It is still common among some non-Muslim. The Islamic Shari'ah (divine law) has forbidden it.

Nawawi رحمه الله said that is forbidden to both one who does it and one who has it done. The portion of the body that is tattooed becomes impure. Hence if a Muslim has had himself tattooed indiscreetly, then he must find out whether the marks can be removed by some process. If that is possible, then it is wajib (obligatory) to get it done. However, if that is not possible without hurting oneself, then it is not wajib (obligatory) to have it removed. But, he must seek forgiveness of Allah and repent to Him to seek removal of the burden of sin.

If there is no likelihood of hurting oneself in having the marks removed then that must be done expeditiously. If it is delayed then that would be sinful.

ONE WHO ALTERS ALLAH'S CREATION

(٤٤٣١) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ لَعَنَ اللّٰهُ الْوَاشِمَاتِ وَالْمُسْتَوْشِمَاتِ وَالْمُتَنَمِّصَاتِ وَالْمُتَفَلِّجَاتِ لِلْحُسْنِ الْمُغَيِّرَاتِ خَلْقَ اللّٰهِ فَجَاءَتْهُ امْرَاَةٌ فَقَالَتْ اِنَّهُ بَلَغَنِيْ اِنَّكَ لَعَنْتَ كَيْتَ وَكَيْتَ فَقَالَ مَالِيْ لَا اَلْعَنُ مَنْ لَعَنَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَمَنْ هُوَ فِيْ كِتَابِ اللّٰهِ فَقَالَتْ لَقَدْ قَرَأْتُ مَابَيْنَ اللَّوْحَيْنِ فَمَا وَجَدْتُ فِيْهِ مَاتَقُوْلُ قَالَ لَئِنْ كُنْتِ قَرَأْتِيْهِ لَقَدْ وَجَدْتِيْهِ اَمَا قَرَأْتِ مَآ اٰتَاكُمُ الرَّسُوْلُ فَخُذُوْهُ وَمَا نَهَاكُمْ عَنْهُ فَانْتَهُوْا قَالَتْ بَلٰى قَالَ فَاِنَّهُ قَدْ نَهٰى عَنْهُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4431. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه narrated that (Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said) Allah has cursed the women who tattoo and who have it done, and the women who pluck hairs from their faces, and the women who make spaces between their teeth to beautify themselves, thereby they change Allah's creation. (When the women learnt of this tradition,) a woman came and said, "It has been conveyed to me that you have cursed so-and-so, and such and such." He asked, "Why should I not curse them whom Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم has cursed? And (those who) are mentioned in Allah's book?" She protested, I have, indeed, read it between its two covers but have not found in it what you say." He said, "If you had read it (carefully) you would have found it certainly." (Then he asked,) "Have you not read?

مَآ اٰتَاكُمُ الرَّسُوْلُ فَخُذُوْهُ وَمَا نَهٰكُمْ عَنْهُ فَانْتَهُوْا

{And whatsoever the Messenger gives you, take it. And, whatsoever he forbids, abstain there from} (59: 7)

She said, "Of course!" He said, "Then, indeed, he has forbidden that (which I mentioned)."[1]

[1] Bukhari # 5917, Muslim # 90. 336.

COMMENTARY: While it is makruh (disapproved) for a woman to pluck hair from her face, yet if she has hair on her moustache or beard then not only is she allowed to remove them but it is mustahab (desirable) to do so. This hadith does not mention one who helps in plucking hair. It only mentions the one who has it plucked. She is mentioned in a following hadith (#).

The Arabs liked their women to have their teeth spaced, particularly, the young women. When women grew old and their teeth lost the space between them, they took pains to scrape them with rasp and dirt to create space. They loved to look young. But, Islam forbids this thing.

The woman mentioned in the hadith as doing various condemned things are all guilty of altering Allah's creation. They follow their personal whims against Allah's wish and pleasure. The entire sentence expresses their motive which is what makes the curse wajib (obligatory) on them.

It is this very motive to alter Allah's creation that makes it unlawful to mutilate a body and to shave the beard. However, not every change in Allah's creation is unlawful because of a motivating factor. It is the command of Shari'ah (divine law) that dictates what is unlawful whether we know the wisdom or motive behind it or not. In short, such changes as the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has allowed continue to be permitted but those that he has disallowed are unlawful.

The woman who came to Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه with her enquiry had not any misgivings about hadith, but could not find the relative verse of the Quran. Her contention was that he should not send a curse on those who are not declared as accursed by Allah. So, Ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه explained to her the particular verse to her satisfaction.

When the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has forbidden something, one should respect the command and keep away from it. He has forbidden certain things in this hadith and some more in other ahadith. This should be understood as mentioned in the Quran too because of the verse (59:7)

Teebi رحمه الله said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم cursing those women is as though Allah has Himself declared them accursed. So, it is wajib (obligatory) to abide by this command.

EFFECT OF AN EVIL EYE

(٤٤٣٢) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْعَيْنُ حَقٌّ وَنَهٰى عَنِ الْوَشْمِ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4432. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The power (to inflict harm) of the evil eye is true." And, he forbade tattooing.[1]

COMMENTARY: Allah has made it possible for a person to hurt another by a glance of an evil nature.

MATTING HAIR

(٤٤٣٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ لَقَدْ رَاَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مُلَبِّدًا۔ (رواه البخارى)

4433. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that he saw Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم mulabbid (meaning with hair mated).[2]

COMMENTARY: Mulabbid is to paste the hair on the head to keep off lice and dust. This is done generally when the ihram is assumed. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم may have been in the state of ihram or on a journey.

DISALLOWED TO DYE WITH SAFFRON

(٤٤٣٤) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ نَهَى النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ يَتَزَعْفَرَ الرَّجُلُ۔ (متفق علیه)

4434. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade men to apply saffron (to their clothing and bodies).[1]

COMMENTARY: Only women are allowed to use saffron on their bodies and garment. Before it was forbidden, some sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم are known to have used khaluq which is prepared from saffron.

COLOURED PERFUME

(٤٤٣٥) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كُنْتُ أُطَيِّبُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِأَطْيَبِ مَا نَجِدُ حَتّٰى اَجِدُ وَبِيْصَ الطِّيْبِ فِيْ رَاسِهٖ وَلِحْيَتِهٖ (متفق علیه)

4435. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "I used to apply to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم the best perfume that I could find so that I could detect the perfume shine on his head and beard."[2]

COMMENTARY: Men are not allowed to use perfume whose colour is obvious. However, this hadith says that the shine of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم perfume could be seen. The fact is that the colour that are disallowed to men are bright and bring out adornment, like red, yellow, etc. Any colour that is different from these, like musk, etc. is allowed to men. This means that colour of sandal wood and such other things is also allowed. (see hadith # 4443).

INCENSE OF FRAGRANCE

(٤٤٣٦) وَعَنْ نَافِعٍ قَالَ كَانَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ اِذَا اسْتَجْمَرَ بِأَلُوَّةٍ غَيْرَ مُطَرَّاةٍ وَبِكَافُوْرٍ يَطْرَحُهُ مَعَ الْاَلُوَّةِ ثُمَّ قَالَ هٰكَذَا كَانَ يَسْتَجْمِرُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4436. Sayyiduna Nafi رضی اللہ عنہ said that when (Sayyiduna) Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ wished incense, he used aloes wood without mixing anything with it, or he put camphor with aloes wood, saying, "This is how Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم perfumed himself."[3]

CLIPPING MOUSTACHE IS ANCIENT SUNNAH (HOLY PROPHET'S PRACTICE)

(٤٤٣٧) عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُصُّ اَوْ يَاْخُذُ مِنْ شَارِبِهٖ وَكَانَ اِبْرَاهِيْمُ خَلِيْلُ الرَّحْمٰنِ (صَلَوٰتُ الرَّحْمٰنِ عَلَيْهِ) يَفْعَلُهٗ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

Rahman (the compassionate), used to do it too."[1]

COMMENTARY: It was the practice of Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام and of other Prophets عليه السلام to clip off the moustache almost all of it. This has been spoken of when explaining the word fitrah. See also hadith # 4488.

WARNING TO ONE WHO GROWS MOUSTACHE

(٤٤٣٨) وَعَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ اَرْقَمَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ لَمْ يَاْخُذْ مِنْ شَارِبِهٖ فَلَيْسَ مِنَّا۔

(رواه احمد والترمذی والنسائی)

4438. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Arqam رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who does not take something off his moustache does not belong to us."[2]

COMMENTARY: A person who does not belong to us does not abide by our sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice).

Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ said, "He is not a perfect believer of our sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice)." Such a person is warned that if he neglects our sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) and dies then he dies not on the creed of Islam.

KEEPING THE BEARD WELL SET

(٤٤٣٩) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَاْخُذُ مِنْ لِحْيَتِهٖ مِنْ عَرْضِهَا وَطُوْلِهَا۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

4439. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمہ اللہ narrated from his father who from his grandfather that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used to take something off the sides and the bottom of his beard (cutting a little from the right and left and bottom of it).[3]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم set right his beard and cut off any hair that grew longer than the others. This is allowed but what is disallowed is to shave off the beard or to keep it very small as non-Muslims do. Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that it is a sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) to set the h air of the beard at a proper level (but not to shorten them all).

According to Ahya ul Uloom, the ulama (Scholars) differ on growing the beard too much in length. Some authorities say that one may clip the hair when come out of one's fist when they are held in the fist. This is what is said by Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ and a section of the tabi'un رحمہ اللہ, Shaabi رحمہ اللہ and Ibn Sirin رحمہ اللہ have regarded it as proper. But, Hasan رحمہ اللہ, qatadah رحمہ اللہ and their followers do not regard it as good for, they go by the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saying:

اَعْفُوْا اللُّحٰى

(Let your beards grow). They say that the beard may be allowed to grew beyond a fist. Mula Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ agrees with the first opinion.

KHALUQ DISALLOWED TO MEN

(٤٤٤٠) وَعَنْ يَعْلَى بْنِ مُرَّةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَاٰى عَلَيْهِ خُلُوْقًا فَقَالَ اَلَكَ امْرَاَةٌ قَالَ لَا قَالَ فَاَغْسِلْهُ ثُمَّ اَغْسِلْهُ ثُمَّ اَغْسِلْهُ ثُمَّ لَا تَعُدْ۔ (رواہ الترمذی و النسائی)

4440. Sayyiduna Yala ibn Murrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saw khaluq on him (his garments). He asked "Do you have a wife?" He said, "No!" So, he said, "wash it Again wash it. Again wash it. Then do not use it again.[1]

COMMENTARY: If he was married and his wife had applied khaluq then he was excused because he might have got it from her.
He was instructed to wash it three times because the colour should go off completely.

(٤٤٤١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ مُوْسٰى قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا يَقْبَلُ اللّٰهُ صَلَاةَ رَجُلٍ فِيْ جَسَدِهٖ شَيْءٌ مِنْ خُلُوْقٍ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4441. Sayyiduna Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah does not accept the salah (prayer) of a man who has on his body traces of Khaluq."[2]

COMMENTARY: Sayyid رحمہ اللہ said that one who assumes resemblance to women will not earn a full reward for his (perfect) salah (prayer). Ibn Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that these words are used to prevent a man from using khaluq.

(٤٤٤٢) وَعَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ قَالَ قَدِمْتُ عَلٰى اَهْلِيْ مِنْ سَفَرٍ وَقَدْ تَشَقَّقَتْ يَدَايَ فَخَلَّقُوْنِيْ بِزَعْفَرَانٍ فَغَدَوْتُ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَسَلَّمْتُ عَلَيْهِ فَلَمْ يَرُدَّ عَلَيَّ وَقَالَ اذْهَبْ فَاغْسِلْ هٰذَا عَنْكَ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4442. Sayyiduna Ammar ibn Yasir رضی اللہ عنہ said, "I came to my family after a journey during which my hands had chapped. So they besmeared my hands with a perfume of saffron. In the morning. I went to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and offered him salaam but he gave me no response and said, 'Go and wash off this from you."[3]

(٤٤٤٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ طِيْبُ الرِّجَالِ مَا ظَهَرَ رِيْحُهٗ وَخَفِيَ لَوْنُهٗ وَطِيْبُ النِّسَاءِ مَا ظَهَرَ لَوْنُهٗ وَخَفِيَ رِيْحُهٗ۔ (رواہ الترمذی و النسائی)

4443. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The perfume of men is such whose odour is perceived but whose colour is not observed. And, the perfume of women is such whose colour is observed but whose odour is not perceived."[4]

COMMENTARY: As stated earlier (against hadith # 4435), the colour mentioned in the hadith as disallowed to men is the one applied to adorn oneself, like red, yellow. The ulama (Scholars) say that the hadith speaks of perfume of a woman who goes out of her home. As for one who stays home, she may apply any kind of perfume as long as she is with her husband.

SUKKAH OF THE PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم

(٤٤٤٤) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَتْ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سُكَّةٌ يَتَطَيَّبُ مِنْهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4444. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم had sukkah (a compound of fragrance). He perfumed himself with it."[1]

PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم USED HAIR OIL OFTEN

(٤٤٤٥) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يُكْثِرُ دَهْنَ رَاسِهٖ وَتَسْرِيْحَ لِحْيَتِهٖ وَ يُكْثِرُ الْقِنَاعَ كَانَ ثَوْبَهٗ ثَوْبَ زَيَّاتٍ۔ (رواه فی شرح السنة)

4445. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم applied oil to his head often and combed his beard often. And, he often placed the qana (a head covering)on his head and it seemed as though it was the garment of an olive-oil merchant.[2]

COMMENTARY: He combed his hair often does not mean that he did it every day. There is also no base in the common belief that it is sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) to comb the beard after every ablution.

Qana is the piece of cloth that is put on the head after applying hair-oil to protect the turban from becoming greasy. That cloth become very greasy and looked like an oil-seller's cloth. It was very different from the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم temperament and habit of keeping clean and pure. This is why he wore white garments often.

PROPHET'S PLAITS OF HAIR

(٤٤٤٦) وَعَنْ اُمِّ هَانِئٍ قَالَتْ قَدِمَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلَيْنَا بِمَكَّةَ قَدْمَةً وَلَهٗ اَرْبَعُ غَدَائِرَ۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد والترمذی وابن ماجة)

4446. Sayyidah Umm Hani رضی اللہ عنہا said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم came to us in Makkah (on the day of the conquest. He had four plaits of hair (matted on the right side and left, two each)."[3]

COMMENTARY: The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had divided his hair on head in four parts. Here the plaits of hair do not mean locks of hair.

PARTING OF PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم HAIR

(٤٤٤٧) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ اِذَا فَرَقْتُ لِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَاْسَهٗ صَدَعْتُ فَرْقَهٗ عَنْ يَافُوْخِهٖ وَاَرْسَلْتُ نَاصِيَتَهٗ بَيْنَ عَيْنَيْهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4447. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "When I parted the hair of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, I made a parting from the crown of his head (dividing the hair into two parts right through) and left the forelock to hang between his eyes."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها parted the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم hair from the crown or middle of the head coming down to the forelocks between his eyes. The hair were divided on both sides of the parting at the forehead. Teebi رحمه الله has given this meaning of the hadith.

DO NOT COMB EVERY DAY

(٤٤٤٨) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مُغَفَّلٍ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ التَّرَجُّلِ اِلَّا غِبًّا۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی)

4448. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mughaffal رضى الله عنه said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade that anyone should comb (His hair) except on alternate days."[2]

COMMENTARY: Qadi said that this is nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) and it does not disallow combing when necessary. One must not make a habit of combing every day because that becomes part of adornment, and is an unnecessary formality.

The hadith covers both the hair on the head and beard. Men who comb their beard after every ablution must know that it has nothing to do with sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). Similarly, the statement in the Ihya ul Uloom that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم combed his beard twice a day is not corroborated by any hadith. No one apart from Imam ghazzali رضى الله عنه in Ihya ul Uloom has cited such a hadith. Rather, Shaykh wali ud din Iraqi رحمه الله has said that Imam Ghazali رحمه الله has mentioned certain other ahadith too in Ihya ul Uloom which are not found elsewhere.

As for the disallowance to comb every day, is it only for me or for both men and women? It seems that only men are not allowed to do it every day, for, it is not makruh (disapproved) for women to adorn themselves. Some authorities, however, say that both men and women are disallowed but it is softer on women who have more liberty to adorn then men have.

SHUN LUXURY

(٤٤٤٩) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ بُرَيْدَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَجُلٌ لِفُضَالَةَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ مَالِيْ اَرَاكَ شَعِثًا قَالَ اِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَنْهَانَا عَنْ كَثِيْرٍ مِّنَ الْاِرْفَاهِ قَالَ مَالِيْ لَا اَرٰى عَلَيْكَ حِذَآءً قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ يَأْمُرُنَا اَنْ نَّحْتَفِيَ اَحْيَانًا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4449. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Buraydah رضى الله عنه narrated that a man asked (Sayyiduna) Fudalah ibn Ubaydah رضى الله عنه, "Why is it that I see you dishevelled?" (Meaning, why are your hair unkempt and untidy?) He said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم used to forbid us from submitting ourselves to a very luxuries life" (and combing is part of it).

The man then asked, "Why is it that I see you without shoes?" He said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم used to command us to go barefooted sometimes."[3]

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 4189.

[2] Tirmidhi # 1856, Abu DAwud # 4159.

[3] Abu Dawud # 4160.

COMMENTARY: Giving up luxury and going bare footed, now and then, develop humility in a person and enable him to check himself. This exercise also prepares him for unforeseen hard times.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم himself used hair oil and combed his hair and encouraged other people to follow suit. But, at the same time, he did not censure the ascetics who neglected these things. He also commanded sometimes that these things should be shunned.

This shows that actual dislike is of luxurious living and going beyond limits in seeking abundance. One must not over indulge in applying oil and combing hair as irreligious people do.

Whenever a command is given to adopt simplicity, it does not mean that one should overdo it and live a bettered life and give up cleanliness and purity. Rather, one should exercise moderation. Shari'ah (divine law) can never call for going against civil conduct and a clean and unblemished life.

One of the objectives of Islam is to make man civilized and purity is a part of religion. The next hadith (# 4450) speaks of that.

KEEP HAIR TIDY

(٤٤٥٠) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ كَانَ لَهٗ شَعْرٌ فَلْيُكْرِمْهُ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4450. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who has hair (on his head) must keep them tidy (washing them, applying oil on them and combing them)."[1]

(٤٤٥١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ ذَرٍّ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَحْسَنَ مَاغُيِّرَ بِهِ الشَّيْبُ الْحِنَّاءُ وَالْكَتَمُ۔

(رواہ الترمذی وابوداؤد والنسائی)

4451. Sayyiduna Abu Dharr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The best things with which grey hair may be changed are henna and katam."[2]

COMMENTARY: The word katamu (or Kuttam) is a grass. It is used as a hair dye with wasamah. Some authorities say that it is wasamah itself

Henna and Katamu may not be combined to dye hair because that would become a black dye which is disallowed. Either of the two may be used. Henna or Katam. The colour of henna is red and of katam is green.

Some people suggest that the dye katam gives out a black colour but with henna it will give a reddish colour. In this case, the hadith will be interpreted to mean that both henna and katam should be mixed together. This is confirmed in the hadith of Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ (# 4454).

Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ said that if the ratio of katam exceeds that of henna or, if they are of equal proportion, them the colour will be black. If henna exceeds katam then the colour will be red.

WARNING TO USER OF BLACK DYE

(٤٤٥٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ يَكُوْنُ قَوْمٌ فِيْ اٰخِرِ الزَّمَانِ يَخْضِبُوْنَ

4452. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Toward the last days, there will be people who will apply the black dye like the crops of doves. They will not perceive the fragrance of paradise."[1]

COMMENTARY: The black dye is the unmixed, pure black that they will apply Therefore, the black with a reddish tinge will be excepted, like katam and henna. They are warned that if they apply the pure black dye they will not smell the fragrance of paradise. Those who use it and regard what they do as lawful are covered by the words of the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Some commentators have written that such people will not perceive the smell even if they enter paradise and will not derive any pleasure from the fragrance. Some others say that they will not sense the fragrance at mawquf (the standing place, before entering paradise).

In short, the hadith establishes that black dye is forbidden.

YELLOW DYE IS ALLOWED

(٤٤٥٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَ يَلْبَسُ النِّعَالَ السِّبْتِيَّةَ وَيُصَفِّرُ لِحْيَتَهُ بِالْوَرْسِ وَالزَّعْفَرَانِ وَكَانَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ يَفْعَلُ ذٰلِكَ۔ (رواه النسائی)

4453. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه narrated that the Prophet (E0 used to wear leather (hairless) sandals. And, he used to dye his beard yellow with wars and saffron. (Wars is a grass found in Yemen.) Ibn Umar رضی الله عنه used to do that (in emulation of him).[2]

COMMENTARY: The hadith of Anas رضی الله عنه has preceded is kitab Libas that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم never used a dye. See the comments against it (Hadith # 4434) also 4478, 4479.

(٤٤٥٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ مَرَّ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَجُلٌ قَدْ خَضَبَ بِالْحِنَّاءِ فَقَالَ مَا اَحْسَنَ هٰذَا قَالَ فَمَرَّ اٰخَرُ وَقَدْ خَضَبَ بِالْحِنَّاءِ وَالْكَتَمِ فَقَالَ هٰذَا اَحْسَنَ مِنْ هٰذَا ثُمَّ مَرَّ اٰخَرُ قَدْ خَضَبَ بِالصُّفْرَةِ فَقَالَ هٰذَا اَحْسَنُ مِنْ هٰذَا كُلِّهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4454. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی الله عنه narrated that a man who had dyed his hair with henna passed the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and he said, 'How good a dye it is!" Then, another man passed him having dyed his hair with henna and katam. He said. "This is better than that." Then, another man passed him having dyed his hair with a yellow dye. He said, "This is the best of all of them."[3]

GREY HAIR ARE RADIANCE OF MUSLIMS

(٤٤٥٨) وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنْ جَدِّهٖ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاتَنْتِفُوا الشَّيْبَ فَاِنَّهٗ نُوْرُ الْمُسْلِمِ مَنْ شَابَ شَيْبَةً فِي الْاِسْلَامِ كَتَبَ اللّٰهُ لَهٗ بِهَا حَسَنَةً وَكَفَّرَ عَنْهُ بِهَا خَطِيْئَةً وَرَفَعَهٗ بِهَا دَرَجَةً۔ (ابوداؤد)

4458. Sayyiduna Amr ibn Shu'ayb رحمه الله narrated from his father who from his grand father that Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم said, "Do not pluck out grey hair because old age (which is having grey hair) is the nur (radiance, light) of the Muslims. He who advances towards old age (growing a grey hair) in Islam, (finds that) Allah records for him a piety against it, erases a sin against it and elevates him a degree against it."[4]

COMMENTARY: Old age is actually prestige. We shall see in a hadith later (# 4488) that Prophet Ibrahim علیه السلام was the first person to find grey hair on him, on his beard. He submitted to the Grand court, "What is this my Lord?" He received the answer, "It is dignity." So, he submitted, "O Allah, let me have more of dignity!"

The Arabic word is waqar (وقار). It is a characteristic that keeps a person away from sin and shameless conduct. It inclines him to repent and be obedient. In this sense, this characteristic grows a light in a person which will advance forward in the gathering place, cutting through darkness. It is as stated in this verse:

يَسْعٰى نُوْرُهُمْ بَيْنَ اَيْدِيْهِمْ وَ بِاَيْمَانِهِمْ

{----their light running before them and on their right hands....} (57: 12)

From this point of view, the 'light of old age' refers to 'the radiance on the day of resurrection.' If the light were said to mean a dignified face and appearance, a clean inside and unseen life and a pious character which things are associated with old people, then, too, it is not for fetched.

We know from this hadith that it is makruh (disapproved) to pluck grey hair from oneself.

(٤٤٥٩) وَعَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ مُرَّةَ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ شَابَ شَيْبَةً فِي الْاِسْلَامِ كَانَتْ لَهٗ نُوْرًا يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ۔ (رواه الترمذی والنسائی)

4459. Sayyiduna Ka'b ibn Murrah رضی الله عنه narrated from Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه

وسلم that he said, "If anyone grows old in Islam (having a grey hair), then it will be light for him on the day of resurrection."[1]

COMMENTARY: The question arises that if grey hair are light in both worlds then why is one allowed to apply the dye? There is wisdom behind it. One reason is that one's strength and power are demonstrated before the enemy. They will not regard the Muslims as weak. This raises another question: why then disallow plucking grey hair when that can serve the same purpose? The answer is that not only is it painful to pluck hair but it also distorts appearance while dye when applied adorns the person who applies it.
There is a wide difference in the two things.

THE PROPHET'S صلى الله عليه وسلم HAIR ON HEAD

(٤٤٦٠) عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ كُنْتُ اَغْتَسِلُ اَنَا وَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِنْ اِنَاءٍ وَاحِدٍ كَانَ لَهُ شَعْرٌ فَوْقَ الْجُمَّةِ وَدُوْنَ الْوَفْرَةِ۔ (رواه الترمذى)

4460. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها said, "Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and I used to bath from a single vessel (that lay full with water between us). He had hair beyond al-jummah (الجمة) and below al-wafrah (الوفرة)." (meaning not up to the shoulder but past the earlobes). [2]

COMMENTARY: The hair on the head are described in Arabic in three ways:
(i) Jummah (جمعة)
(ii) Wafrah (وفرة)
(iii) Lummah (لمة)

If they reach up to the ears, they are jummah. If they go down to the ear lobes, they are wafrah. If they are between earlobes and shoulders, then they are limmah.
The Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم hair were beyond the ears. So they were limmah.
Sometimes, jummah is applied to all hair. This is as stated in Sham'ail Tirmidhi:

وَكَانَتْ جمة تضرب شحمة اذنيه

(His hair was till his earlobes) [# 23(3)]

LENGTHY HAIR OF MEN DISLIKED

(٤٤٦١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ الْحَنْظَلِيَّةِ رَجُلٌ مِّنْ اَصْحَابِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نِعْمَ الرَّجُلُ خُرَيْمٌ الْاَسَدِيُّ لَوْ لَا طُوْلُ جُمَّتِهٖ وَاِسْبَالُ اِزَارِهٖ فَبَلَغَ ذٰلِكَ خُرَيْمًا فَاَخَذَ شَفْرَةً فَقَطَعَ مَا جُمَّتَهٗ اِلٰى اُذُنَيْهِ وَرَفَعَ اِزَارَهٗ اِلٰى اَنْصَافِ سَاقَيْهِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4461. Sayyiduna Ibn Hanzaliyah رضى الله عنه who was one of the Sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم narrated that the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Khuraym al Asadi is one excellent man! Only, he should not have such lengthy hair that reach his shoulders and he should not let his lower garment trail!" This was conveyed to Khuraym رضى الله عنه, he took a razor and cut his hair in level with his ears and wore his lower garment (raised) halfway up his legs.[1]

(٤٤٦٢) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ كَانَتْ لِيْ ذَوَابَةٌ فَقَالَتْ لِيْ اُمِّيْ لَا اَجُزُّهَا كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَمُدُّهَا وَيَأْخُذُهَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4462. Sayyiduna Anas رضی الله عنه said, "I had long hair on my head. My mother said to me 'Do not cut them because Allah's Messenger stretches them out and holds them. (So, I should let them alone for the blessings)."[2]

IF HAIR CANNOT BE CLEANED THEN SHAVE HEAD

(٤٤٦٣) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَمْهَلَ اٰلَ جَعْفَرٍ ثَلَاثًا ثُمَّ اَتَاهُمْ فَقَالَ لَاتَبْكُوْا عَلٰى اَخِيْ بَعْدَ الْيَوْمِ ثُمَّ قَالَ ادْعُوْا لِيْ بَنِيْ اَخِيْ فَجِيْءَ بِنَا كَاَنَّا اَفْرَاخٌ فَقَالَ ادْعُوْا لِيَ الْحَلَّاقَ فَاَمَرَهٗ فَحَلَقَ رُؤُسَنَا۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4463. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Ja'far رضی الله عنه said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم accorded the family of Ja'far رضی الله عنه a delay of three days (in which they could mourn his death though martyrdom and he did not visit them during this period). Then, he came to them and said, "Do not weep over my brother (Ja'far) after today." Then he said, "Bring my brother's sons to me." (They were Abdullah رضی الله عنه, Awn رضی الله عنه and Muhammad.) رضی الله عنه so they were brought to him as though they were a company of chicken. He said, "Call a barber to me." (They were very small) He instructed him to shave their heads. (He did that.)[3]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Ja'far رضی الله عنه was the son of Abu Ta'lib and real brother Sayyiduna Ali. رضی الله عنه He was the paternal cousin of the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم.

This hadith says that it is allowed to weep and be sad over a dead person, without wailing and shrieking, for three days. After that it is not allowed to weep and not allowed to condole. It is better to shave head after performing Hajj (pilgrimage) and umrah. Apart from that, however, it is better to grow hair and not shave them. In spite of that, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم had the heads of the sons of Sayyiduna Ja'far رضی الله عنه shaved. He did it because their mother Sayyidah Asma bint Umays رضی الله عنه was in sorrow. She could not have cleaned, oiled and combed their hair, So, lice could have infested their hair and because of that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم decided to have their heads shaved.

CIRCUMCISION OF GIRLS

(٤٤٦٤) وَعَنْ اُمِّ عَطِيَّةَ الْاَنْصَارِيَّةِ اَنَّ امْرَاَةً كَانَتْ تَخْتِنُ بِالْمَدِيْنَةِ فَقَالَ لَهَا النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَنْهِكِيْ فَاِنَّ ذٰلِكَ اَحْظٰى لِلْمَرْاَةِ وَاَحَبُّ اِلَى الْبَعْلِ۔ رَوَاهُ اَبُوْدَاوُدَ وَقَالَ هٰذَا الْحَدِيْثُ ضَعِيْفٌ وَرَاوِيْهِ مَجْهُوْلٌ۔

4464. Sayyidah Umm Atiyah Ansariyah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a woman used to perform circumcision (of girls) in Madinah. (In those days, even girls were circumcised.) The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said to her, "Do not cut (the clitoris) severely (but, slightly at the top), for that the better for a woman and more desirable to a husband (but if you cut severely neither of them will gain sexual enjoyment)."[1]

Abu Dawud noted this hadith as Da'if (weak) and its narrator as unknown.

COMMENTARY: Either all its narrators are majhul (Unknown) or only one of them is unknown as evidenced from another sahih (correct) copy of the book.

However, this hadith is transmitted by Tabarani through a sound line of transmission, and by Haakim in Mustadrak from Dahhak ibn qays. رضی اللہ عنہ Its words are:

اِخْفِضِيْ وَلَا تَنْهِكِيْ فَإِنَّهُ انْضَرُ لِلزَّوْجَةِ وَاَحْظٰى عِنْدَ الزَّوْجِ

(This saying asks her to be careful and not severe lest the later married life be not enjoyable). See also Manners in Islam # 1245, etc.[2]

WOMEN MAY NOT PREFERABLY DYE WITH HENNA

(٤٤٦٥) وَعَنْ كَرِيْمَةَ بِنْتِ هَمَّامٍ اَنَّ امْرَاَةً سَاَلَتْ عَائِشَةَ عَنْ خِضَابِ الْحِنَّاءِ فَقَالَتْ لَا بَاْسَ وَلٰكِنِّيْ اَكْرَهُهُ كَانَ حَبِيْبِيْ (صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) يَكْرَهُ رِيْحَهُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4465. Sayyidah Karimah bint Hammam رحمہا اللہ narrated that a woman asked Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا about dyeing (her hair) with henna. She said, "Though there is no harm (in it), yet I do not like it because my beloved (the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like its odour."[3]

COMMENTARY: It seems that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like women to apply henna on their hair but he did not dislike them to use it at all. If he had disliked it absolutely then he would not have refused to get the pledge of allegiance from Hind رضی اللہ عنہ simply because her hands were not coloured with henna. (See hadith # 4466).

MUSTAHAB (DESIRABLE) TO APPLY HENNA ON HANDS OF WOMAN

(٤٤٦٦) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ هِنْداً بِنْتَ عُتْبَةَ قَالَتْ يَا نَبِيَّ اللّٰهِ بَايِعْنِيْ فَقَالَ لَا اُبَايِعُكِ حَتّٰى تُغَيِّرِيْ كَفَّيْكِ فَكَاَنَّهُمَا كَفَّا سَبُعٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4466. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Hind رضی اللہ عنہ bint Utbah said, "O Prophet of Allah, accept my (pledge of) allegiance." But, he said, "Not till you change (the colour of) your palms (by applying henna). Your palms look like paws of a beast of prey."[4]

COMMENTARY: Hind رضی اللہ عنہ was the daughter of Utbah, wife of Abu Sufyan رضی اللہ عنہ and mother of Mu'awiyah رضی اللہ عنہ. She had embraced Islam on the day of conquest of Makkah. Perhaps, the allegiance mentioned in the hadith was one other than that given on the day of the conquest.

The hadith establishes that woman should apply henna on their hands, it being mustahab (desirable). To neglect it is makruh (disapproved), because it resembles men.

(٤٤٦٧) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ اَوْمَتِ امْرَاَةٌ مِنْ وَرَاءِ سِتْرٍ بِيَدِهَا كِتَابٌ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَبَضَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَدَهٗ فَقَالَ مَا اَدْرِىْ اَيَدُ رَجُلٍ اَمْ يَدُ امْرَاَةٍ قَالَتْ بَلْ يَدُ امْرَاَةٍ قَالَ لَوْ كُنْتِ امْرَاَةً لَغَيَّرْتِ اَظْفَارَكِ يَعْنِىْ بِالْحِنَّاءِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد و النسائى)

4467. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that a woman gestured from behind a curtain to communicate that she had a letter (in her hand) for Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (from someone). But, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم withdrew his hand (and did not take the letter). Saying, "I do not know whether this hand belongs to a man or to a woman." She submitted, "Rather, it is a woman's." He declared, "If you were a woman (knowing their ways), you would have changed your nails with henna)."[1]

COMMENTARY: This hadith emphasis that woman must apply henna on their h ands. It is mustahab (desirable). And they must observe their ways of living and manners of living.

TATTOOING ALLOWED AS A REMEDY

(٤٤٦٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ لُعِنَتِ الْوَاصِلَةُ وَالْمُسْتَوْصِلَةُ وَالنَّامِصَةُ وَالْمُتَنَمِّصَةُ وَالْوَاشِمَةُ وَالْمُسْتَوْشِمَةُ مِنْ غَيْرِ دَاءٍ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4468. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said that these women are cursed:
She who adds false hair,
She who asks for false hair to be added,
She who plucks out hair for others,
She who gets it done,
She who tattoos, and
She who has it done without there being a sickness necessitating it.[2]

COMMENTARY: This has been explained against hadith # 4430. If it is expedient, then it is allowed to tattoo and have it done even if the marks remain.

CURSE ON WOMEN & MEN WHO WEAR GARMENTS OF OPPOSITE SEX

(٤٤٦٩) وَعَنْ اَبِىْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ لَعَنَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الرَّجُلَ يَلْبَسُ لِبْسَةَ الْمَرْاَةِ وَالْمَرْاَةَ تَلْبَسُ لِبْسَةَ الرَّجُلِ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

COMMENTARY: The resemblance that is condemned is the one in dress, get up, speech and general living. If a woman acquires knowledge, intelligence and wisdom like men then it is not condemned.

It is said about Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا that her intelligence matched men's.

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم DID NOT LIKE HIS FAMILY TO HAVE GOOD THINGS OF LIFE

(٤٤٧١) وَعَنْ ثَوْبَانَ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِذَا سَافَرَ كَانَ اٰخِرُ عَهْدِهٖ بِإِنْسَانٍ مِنْ اَهْلِهٖ فَاطِمَةَ وَ اَوَّلُ مَنْ يَدْخُلُ عَلَيْهَا فَاطِمَةَ فَقَدِمَ مِنْ غَزَاةٍ وَقَدْ عَلَّقَتْ مِسْحًا اَوْسِتْرًا عَلٰى بَابِهَا وَحَلَّتِ الْحَسَنَ وَالْحُسَيْنَ قُلْبَيْنِ مِنْ فِضَّةٍ فَقَدِمَ فَلَمْ يَدْخُلْ فَظَنَّتْ اَنَّ مَا مَنَعَهٗ اَنْ يَّدْخُلَ مَارَاٰى فَهَتَكَتِ السِّتْرَ وَفَكَّتِ الْقُلْبَيْنِ عَنِ الصَّبِيَّيْنِ وَ قَطَعَتْهُ مِنْهُمَا فَانْطَلَقَا اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَبْكِيَانِ فَاَخَذَهٗ مِنْهُمَا فَقَالَ يَاثَوْبَانُ اذْهَبْ بِهٰذَا اِلٰى اَهْلِ فُلَانٍ اَنَّ هٰؤُلَاءِ اَهْلِىْ اَكْرَهُ اَنْ يَاْكُلُوْ طَيِّبَاتِهِمْ فِىْ حَيَاتِهِمُ الدُّنْيَا يَاثَوْبَانُ اشْتَرِ لِفَاطِمَةَ قِلَادَةً مِنْ عَصَبٍ وَسِوَارَيْنِ مِنْ عَاجٍ۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد)

4471. Sayyiduna Thawban رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that whenever Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went on a journey, the last of his family members he met (to bid farewell) was (Sayyidah) Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہ and, on his return, the first (of them) he visited was (also Sayyidah) Fatimah رضی اللہ عنہ. Accordingly, once when he returned from an expedition (of jihad), she had hung up a curtain (perhaps as an adornment) at her door and she had adorned (her two sons) Hasan رضی اللہ عنہ and Husayn رضی اللہ عنہ with silver bracelets (one each or two each). So, when he came, he did not enter (her house). She understood that he had been prevented from coming in by that which he had seen (of the curtain and bracelets). So, she (pulled down the curtain and) tore the curtain and removed the bracelets from the sons and broke them. They (took the broken bracelets and) came to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم weeping. He took that from them and said, "Thawban take t his to the family of so and so (They are needy.) These (boys) are my family. I do not like that they should have good provision in their worldly life. Thawban, buy for Fatimah a necklace of asb (عصب) and two bracelets of ivory (for the boys)." (That they may be pacified.)[2]

APPLY COLLYRIUM

(٤٤٧٢) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اكْتَحِلُوْا بِالْاِثْمِدِ فَاِنَّهٗ يَجْلُو الْبَصَرَ وَيُنْبِتُ

الشَّعْرَ وَزَعَمَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَانَتْ لَهُ مُكْحَلَةٌ يَكْتَحِلُ بِهَا كُلَّ لَيْلَةٍ ثَلَاثَةً فِيْ هٰذِهٖ وَثَلَاثَةً فِيْ هٰذِهٖ۔ (رواه الترمذى)

4472. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Apply collyrium (of Isphahan) the ithmad kind, it is good for eyesight and grows hair (at the eye brows)."

Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه believed that the Prophet had a case for collyrium from which he applied to this eye three times and to this eye there times, every night.[1]

COMMENTARY: Some people say that ithmid is collyrium itself of any kind. But, the correct thing is that it is a particular kind of collyrium. Some say that it is that collyrium of Isphahan which cures watery eyes, any injury in the eye and any kind of swelling in it. It gives strength to the veins of the eyes, particularly in old age and in childhood.

According to one version, it is (بالاثمدالمروبح) (collyrium with pure musk).

There is wisdom in applying it before going to bed. It is more effective.

BEST.KIND OF MEDICINES

(٤٤٧٣) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ كَانَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَكْتَحِلُ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَنَامَ بِالْإِثْمِدِ ثَلَاثًا فِيْ كُلِّ عَيْنٍ قَالَ وَقَالَ إِنَّ خَيْرَ مَا تَدَاوَيْتُمْ بِهِ اللَّدُوْدُ وَالسَّعُوْطُ وَالْحِجَامَةُ وَالْمَشِيُّ وَخَيْرَ مَا اكْتَحَلْتُمْ بِهِ الْإِثْمِدُ فَإِنَّهُ يَجْلُو الْبَصَرَ وَيُنْبِتُ الشَّعْرَ وَإِنَّ خَيْرَ مَا تَحْتَجِمُوْنَ فِيْهِ يَوْمُ سَبْعَ عَشَرَةَ وَيَوْمُ تِسْعَ عَشَرَةَ وَيَوْمُ إِحْدٰى وَعِشْرِيْنَ وَإِنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حَيْثُ عُرِجَ بِهٖ مَا مَرَّ عَلٰى مَلَأٍ مِنَ الْمَلٰئِكَةِ إِلَّا قَالُوْا عَلَيْكَ بِالْحِجَامَةِ۔ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ۔

4473. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم applied collyrium three times in each eye (every night) before going to sleep.

And he narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The best medicine with which you treat yourselves are ladud, sa'ut, cupping an purgatives. The best thing you apply to your eyes is ithmid, It sharpens vision and causes hair to grow. The best days for cupping are the seventeenth, nineteenth and twenty first."

(He also narrated:) when Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم was taken up (for the miraj) to visit the heavens, he did not pass by any company of the angels without their asserting, "You must continue to resort to cupping."[2]

COMMENTARY: Ladud is the medicine poured into the mouth of the patient at the corners, in drops. Sa'ut is put into the nostrils drop by drop or snuffed up. Hajj (pilgrimage)amah is cupping. And mashiy is a purgative.

The dates mentioned are ideal for cupping. We shall speak on length on cupping in Kitab-ut tibb wa ar raqi (Medicines & spells), insha Allah.

BATHS

4474. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها said that the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade men and women from going to the baths (hammams). Later, he permitted men to go in (to the baths) wearing the lower garment.[1]

COMMENTARY: The baths mention in the hadith are public Baths. In ancient times, there was no privacy and a number of men bathed in a single place, so it was impossible to cover one's body. Hence, the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم forbade Muslims to go to the baths. Afterwards, he permitted only men if they wore a lower garment up to their knees.

Mazhar said that he did not permit women because their entire body is satr and needs to be covered. However, they are allowed in cases of dire necessity when hot water must be used or when they have to have a purifying bath.

Women were not allowed to use public baths for women covering their private parts, because women generally undress themselves before other women even stranger women and more so before related women. So the Prophet صلی الله علیه وسلم disallowed them to go to baths.

(٤٤٧٥) وَعَنْ اَبِي الْمَلِيْحِ قَالَ قَدِمَ عَلٰى عَائِشَةَ نِسْوَةٌ مِنْ اَهْلِ حِمْصَ فَقَالَتْ مِنْ اَيْنَ اَنْتُنَّ قُلْنَ مِنَ الشَّامِ قَالَتْ فَلَعَلَّكُنَّ مِنَ الْكُوْرَةِ الَّتِيْ تَدْخُلُ نِسَآئُهَا الْحَمَّامَاتِ قُلْنَ بَلٰى قَالَتْ فَاِنِّيْ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ لَا تَخْلَعُ امْرَاَةٌ ثِيَابَهَا فِيْ غَيْرِ بَيْتِ زَوْجِهَا اِلَّا هَتَكَتِ السِّتْرَ بَيْنَهَا وَبَيْنَ رَبِّهَا. وَفِيْ رِوَايَةٍ فِيْ غَيْرِ بَيْتِهَا اِلَّا هَتَكَتْ سِتْرَهَا فِيْمَا بَيْنَهَا وَبَيْنَ اللّٰهِ عَزَّوَجَلَّ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4475. Sayyiduna Abu Malih رحمه الله narrated that some women came to Sayyidah Ayshah رضی الله عنها from Hims. She asked them, "From where have you come?" they said, "From Syria." She asked, "Perhaps from the region where women go to the baths?" They said, "Yes!" she said, "I had heard Allah's Messenger صلی الله علیه وسلم say. 'No woman sheds her garments any where outside her husband's house without tearing down the screen between her and her Lord." According to another version: 'anywhere outside her house without tearing down her veil (that is) between her and Allah, Mighty and Glorious.'[2]

COMMENTARY: A woman must remain in her veil and be careful not to let herself be seen by strangers. Not even in her house when her husband is not there may she undress though she be alone. So, if she goes to a bath unnecessarily and removes her clothes before strangers then she tears down the screen in which Allah has commanded her to conceal her body.

Yahya رحمه الله said that Allah has sent clothing to conceal one's body. It is a means to obey His command. Any woman who uncovers her body tears down the screen betwen her and Allah.

(٤٤٧٦) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ ابْنِ عَمْرٍو اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ سَتُفْتَحُ لَكُمْ اَرْضُ الْعَجَمِ وَسَتَجِدُوْنَ فِيْهَا بُيُوْتًا يُقَالُ لَهَا الْحَمَّامَاتُ فَلَا يَدْخُلَنَّهَا الرِّجَالُ اِلَّا بِالْاُزُرِ وَامْنَعُوْهَا النِّسَاءَ اِلَّا مَرِيْضَةً اَوْنُفَسَاءَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4476. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Amr رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Soon, the land of the non Arabs will be conquered for you. You will find in them houses called hammamat (baths). Men must not go into them without wearing the lower garment Forbid women from going into them unless they are sick or had gone through child birth bleeding."[1]

COMMENTARY: (See comments against hadith # 4474. They are similac)

(٤٤٧٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلَا يَدْخُلِ الْحَمَّامَ بِغَيْرِ اِزَارٍ وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلَا يُدْخِلْ حَلِيْلَتَهُ الْحَمَّامَ وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللّٰهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْاٰخِرِ فَلَا يَجْلِسْ عَلٰى مَائِدَةٍ تُدَارُ عَلَيْهَا الْخَمْرُ۔ (رواه الترمذی والنسائی)

4477. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who believes in Allah and the Last Day must not enter a bath without wearing a lower garment. He who believes in Allah and the Last Day must not let his wife enter a bath. And, he who believes in Allah and the Last Day must not sit at the dining mat at which wine is circulated."[2]

COMMENTARY: A man must not let the women who are dependent on him to go the baths. He must also not pay for their entry into the bath. If he does, then he will be abetting in a makruh (disapproved) cause.

Some books of fiqh say that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had gone into a bath, but the scholars of hadith say that it is not correct. They rate a hadith cited in this regard as mawdu (invented because it has been confirmed that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had never gone into a bath. Rather, he did not even see a bath at any time. As for the bath in Makkah that is well known as Hammam un Nabi صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم (Bath of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, perhaps he may have had a bath at sometimes at some place and it may have been converted later on as a bath and given this name. There also is the possibility that it may have been so called to give its location because it was situated near the birth place of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم.

Nevertheless, ahadith do mention hammam (bath). We do see this in related tradition.

As for not sitting on the dinning mat where wine is served, one must not go at such places where wine is circulated and people indulge in drinking wine. If a Muslim goes to such a place and does not drink wine, he will, nevertheless, be required, and it is wajib (obligatory) on him, to prevent them from perpetrating the evil and drinking wine. If he does not stop them, or disassociates with them nor demonstrates a dislike for and anger over them, then he is not a perfect believer.

SECTION III اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّالِثُ

PROPHET صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم NEVER USED A DYE

(٤٤٧٨) عَنْ ثَابِتٍ قَالَ سُئِلَ اَنَسٌ عَنْ خِضَابِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ لَوْ شِئْتُ اَنْ اَعُدَّ شَمَطَاتٍ كُنَّ فِيْ رَاْسِهٖ فَعَلْتُ قَالَ وَلَمْ يَخْتَضِبْ وَزَادَ فِيْ رِوَايَةٍ وَقَدِ اخْتَضَبَ اَبُوْبَكْرٍ بِالْحِنَّاءِ وَالْكَتَمِ وَاخْتَضَبَ عُمَرُ

[1] Abu Dawud # 4011.

[2] Tirmidhi # 2801, Nasa'i # 401, Musnad Ahmad 3-339.

بِالْحِنَّاءِ بَحْتًا۔ (متفق علیه)

4478. Sayyiduna Thabit رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that (Sayyiduna) Anas رضی اللہ عنہ was asked whether the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used a dye or not. He said, "If I had wished to count the grey heir on his head, I could have done so. (they were negligible in number. So, why should he have applied a hair dye?)" He added, "He did not dye his hair." According to another version Anas رضی اللہ عنہ or Thabit رضی اللہ عنہ from Anas رضی اللہ عنہ, said further, "Abu Bakr رضی اللہ عنہ dyed his hair with henna and Katam while Umar رضی اللہ عنہ used only henna."[1]

COMMENTARY: This does not contradict a previous hadith (# 4453) that he applied dye to his beard, for this refers to hair on head. We shall also see that in the next hadith (# 4479) narrated by Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ.

HE APPLIED DYE TO BEARD

(٤٤٧٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّهُ كَانَ يُصَفِّرُ لِحْيَتَهُ بِالصُّفْرَةِ حَتّٰى يَمْتَلِئَ ثِيَابُهُ مِنَ الصُّفْرَةِ فَقِيْلَ لَهُ لِمَ تَصْبَغُ بِالصُّفْرَةِ قَالَ إِنِّيْ رَأَيْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ يَصْبَغُ بِهَا وَلَمْ يَكُنْ شَيْءٌ أَحَبَّ إِلَيْهِ مِنْهَا وَقَدْ كَانَ يَصْبِغُ بِهَا ثِيَابَهُ كُلَّهَا حَتّٰى عِمَامَتَهُ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد والنسائی)

4479. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ dyed his beard yellow with yellow dye because of which his clothes also got the yellow colour. He was asked, "Why do you use the yellow dye?" He said, "I did see Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم dye with it. There was nothing he liked better then it (to dye his beard), so that he dyed all his clothes with it, even his turban."[2]

COMMENTARY: The yellow dye was wars, a kind of grass resembling saffron. At times, saffron was mixed with it.

Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ means that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم dyed his beard yellow. But, some people say that he means that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم dyed his clothes.

Suyuti رحمہ اللہ said that the correct thing is that he did not dye his hair. Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ points out that since the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not permit wearing clothes dyed with kasam and saffron, then how can we say that all his clothes were dyed yellow? So, the more correct thing is what the author of Nihayah has written that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم dyed his hair sometimes but did not dye them very often. So, the narrators reported whatever they saw honestly.

The hadith does not mean that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم dyed his clothes deliberately he has explicitly disallowed wearing clothes dyed yellow. The real thing is that then he applied the dye to his hair, some of the colour spilled over his clothes.

(٤٤٨٠) وَعَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَوْهَبٍ قَالَ دَخَلْتُ عَلٰى أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ فَأَخْرَجَتْ إِلَيْنَا شَعْرًا مِنْ شَعْرِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَخْضُوْبًا۔ (رواہ البخاری)

[1] Bukhari # 5895, Muslim # 100-2351.

[2] Abu Dawud # 4064.

4480. Sayyiduna Uthman ibn Abdullah ibn Mawhib رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he visited (the mother of the believers, Sayyidah) Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا (one day). She brought out for them a hair of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that had been dyed.[1]

COMMENTARY: Mirak رحمہ اللہ said that in their versions of this hadith, Ibn Majah (# 3623) and Ahmad have qualified 'dye' with henna and katam.

Shamail Tirmidhi has a hadith of Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ (# 47-4) that he saw the hair of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم that had been dyed.

The apparent contradictions in the ahadith could be explained in these ways:

(i) The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not apply dye often but very seldom.

(ii) He may have applied henna to his head to fight off a headache and the colour may have been retained by the hair. Or,

(iii) This particular strand of hair may have been preserved in perfume because of which it looked as though it was dyed.

Mulla Ali Qari رحمہ اللہ said that the denial about the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم using a dye is based on the fact that he did not intend to conceal his few white hair on his head. As for the ahadith that say that he applied a dye, they could refer to his covering the grey hair on his beard. As for the hadith of Bukhari that Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضی اللہ عنہا had a hair of the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم beard that had the dye of henna and katam, we may cite the hadith of Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ in Shamail Tirmidhi (# 45-2) that he was asked whether the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used a dye. He said, "Yes"

AN EFFEMINATE EXILED

(٤٤٨١) وَعَنْ اَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ أُتِيَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِمُخَنَّثٍ قَدْ خَضَبَ يَدَيْهِ وَ رِجْلَيْهِ بِالْحِنَّاءِ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَابَالُ هٰذَا قَالُوْا يَتَشَبَّهُ بِالنِّسَاءِ فَاَمَرَ بِهٖ فَنُفِيَ اِلَى النَّقِيْعِ فَقِيْلَ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلَا نَقْتُلُهٗ فَقَالَ اِنِّيْ نُهِيْتُ عَنْ قَتْلِ الْمُصَلِّيْنَ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4481. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that an effeminate man was brought to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم having dyed his hands and his feet with henna. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked, "What is wrong with him?" they (the sahabah) رضی اللہ عنہ said, "He imitates women." So, he commanded and he was exiled to Naqi. They asked, "O Messenger of Allah, may we not kill him?" He said, "I am disallowed to kill those who offer salah (prayer)."[2]

COMMENTARY: By referring to salah (prayer) the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم made clear that a Muslim should not be killed. Salah (prayer) is a deed that demonstrates a man's Islam. If anyone does not offer salah (prayer) he seems to say, I have no concern with Islam.

Hence, the ulama (Scholars) take literally the saying: 'If a Muslim does not offer salah (prayer), kill him.

(٤٤٨٢) وَعَنِ الْوَلِيْدِ بْنِ عُقْبَةَ قَالَ لَمَّا فَتَحَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَكَّةَ جَعَلَ اَهْلُ مَكَّةَ يَاْتُوْنَهٗ

(رواہ ابوداؤد)

4482. Sayyiduna Walid ibn Uqbah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated; "When Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم conquered Makkah, the citizens of Makkah began to bring their children to him. He invoked blessing on them and stroked their heads (lovingly and compassionately). I too was brought to him but I was perfumed with Khaluq (a mixture of Saffron), so he did not touch me because of the Khaluq."[1]

COMMENTARY: Khaliq is used by women. If a man applies it, then he would have assumed a resemblance to women. It is disallowed to men to use Khaluq

ABOUT TAKING CARE OF HAIR

(٤٤٨٣) وَعَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ أَنَّهُ قَالَ لِرَسُولِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِنَّ لِي جُمَّةً أَفَأُرَجِّلُهَا قَالَ رَسُولُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَعَمْ وَأَكْرِمْهَا قَالَ فَكَانَ أَبُو قَتَادَةَ رُبَّمَا دَهَّنَهَا فِي الْيَوْمِ مَرَّتَيْنِ مِنْ أَجْلِ قَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَعَمْ وَأَكْرِمْهَا۔ (رواہ مالک)

4483. Sayyiduna Abu Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he submitted to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم. "My hair come down up to my shoulders. May I comb them?" He said, "Yes, And, honour them."

Then (the narrator added) Abu Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ applied oil to them often twice a day because of the saying of Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم "Yes, honour them!"[2]

COMMENTARY: It is disliked to over indulge in oiling and combing hair in order to adorn oneself. But, Abu Qatadah رضی اللہ عنہ did it only to obey the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم command. It is praiseworthy. It resembles the idea of the mother of Anas رضی اللہ عنہ that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم may continue to pull and stroke his hair that were long. She did not let him cut them short as we read previously.
(See hadith # 4462)

COMMENTARY: The sub narrator had doubts whether Hajj (pilgrimage)aj رحمه الله had used the word (قرنان) (Qarnan) or (قصتان) for plaits of hair on the side or forelocks.

FORBIDDEN TO WOMEN TO SHAVE HEAD

(٤٤٨٥) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ تَحْلِقَ الْمَرْأَةُ رَأْسَهَا۔ (رواه النسائی)

4485. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade that a woman should shave her head.[2]

COMMENTARY: Just as it is disallowed to a man to shave his beard, a woman is disallowed to shave her head.

HAIR SHOULD NOT BE UNKEMPT

(٤٤٨٦) وَعَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ فَدَخَلَ رَجُلٌ ثَائِرُ الرَّاسِ وَاللِّحْيَةِ فَاَشَارَ اِلَيْهِ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِيَدِهٖ كَاَنَّهٗ يَاْمُرُهٗ بِاِصْلَاحِ شَعْرِهٖ وَلِحْيَتِهٖ فَفَعَلَ ثُمَّ رَجَعَ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَلَيْسَ هٰذَا خَيْرًا مِنْ اَنْ يَاْتِيَ اَحَدُكُمْ وَهُوَ ثَائِرُ الرَّاسِ كَاَنَّهٗ شَيْطَانٌ۔ (رواه مالك)

4486. Sayyiduna Ata ibn Yasar رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was in the mosque when a man came in with dishevelled head had beard. Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم indicated to him with his hand as though he ordered him to set his hair (on head) and his beard. He did that and came back, and Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Is this not better than that one of you comes with his unkempt (hair on) head as though he were a devil?" (He looked like a jinn with those untidy hair.)[3]

KEEP YOUR COURTYARDS NEAT & TIDY

(٤٤٨٧) وَعَنِ ابْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ سُمِعَ يَقُوْلُ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ طَيِّبٌ يُحِبُّ الطَّيِّبَ نَظِيْفٌ يُحِبُّ النَّظَافَةَ كَرِيْمٌ يُحِبُّ الْكَرَمَ جَوَادٌ يُحِبُّ الْجُوْدَ فَنَظِّفُوْا اُرَاهُ قَالَ اَفْنِيَتَكُمْ وَلَا تَشَبَّهُوْا بِالْيَهُوْدِ قَالَ فَذَكَرْتُ ذٰلِكَ لِمُهَاجِرِيْنَ مِسْمَارٍ فَقَالَ حَدَّثَنِيْهِ عَامِرُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ عَنْ اَبِيْهِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مِثْلَهٗ اِلَّا اَنَّهٗ قَالَ نَظِّفُوْا اَفْنِيَتَكُمْ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4487. Sayyiduna Ibn Musayyib رحمہ اللہ was (reported to have been) heard saying, 'Indeed Allah is pure and he loved the pure. He is clean and loves cleanliness. He is generous and loves generosity. He is benevolent and loves benevolence. So, keep yourselves clean and tidy" the narrator said that he thought that Ibn Musayyib رحمہ اللہ also said, "keep your courtyards clean; and do not imitate the Jews." He (Salih رحمہ اللہ

the narrator) said that he mentioned that he muhajir ibn Mismar رحمه الله and he confirmed that a hadith was narrated to him by Aamir ibn Sa'd رحمه الله from his father (Sa'd ibn Abu waqqas) رضى الله عنه from the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم of like manner, but he (did not say, "I think, but) confirmed "keep your courtyards clean..."[1]

COMMENTARY: Allah loves the pure. These words encompass good character, kind speech. Fragrance, proper and correct belief, pious words and deeds. And he loves cleanliness both outward and inward.

Teebi رحمه الله said that the words, "Keep your courtyards clean" are an idiomatic expression for the command to be noble, kind and munificent. A clean house sort of welcomes guests.

PROPHET IBRAHIM عليه السلام WAS HE FIRST MAN TO CLIP MUSTACHE

(٤٤٨٨) وَعَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيْدٍ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ سَعِيْدَ بْنَ الْمُسَيِّبِ يَقُوْلُ كَانَ إِبْرَاهِيْمُ خَلِيْلُ الرَّحْمٰنِ أَوَّلَ النَّاسِ ضَيَّفَ الضَّيْفَ وَأَوَّلَ النَّاسِ اخْتَتَنَ وَ أَوَّلَ النَّاسِ قَصَّ شَارِبَهُ وَأَوَّلَ النَّاسِ رَأَى الشَّيْبَ فَقَالَ يَارَبِّ مَاهٰذَا قَالَ الرَّبُّ تَبَارَكَ وَتَعَالٰى وَقَارٌ يَا إِبْرَاهِيْمُ قَالَ رَبِّ زِدْنِيْ وَقَارًا۔ (رواه مالك)

4488. Sayyiduna Yahya ibn Sa'eed رحمه الله narrated that he heard (Sayyiduna) Sa'eed ibn Musayyib رضى الله عنه say: Ibrahim عليه السلام, the friend of the compassionate, was the first man to show hospitality to a guest, the first man to be circumcised, the first man to clip his moustache and the first man to detect old age (meaning, grey hair). So, he submitted, "O my Lord! What is this? The Blessed and Exalted Lord said, "It is dignity, O Ibrahim!" He said, "My Lord, increase for me dignity."[2]
(Or, increase me in dignity.)

COMMENTARY: In the marginal notes to Muwatta Suyuti رحمه الله has enumerated other things that were begun by Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم Ibrahim عليه السلام. They are Pairing nails, parting hair on head, using the razor, wearing the lower garment (trousers), using the dyes henna and kasam (or wasmah, delivering the sermon from the pulpit, waging jihad in Allah's path, arranging the army on the battlefield and preparing tharid.(Tharid is small pieces of bread moistened in broth.)

CHAPTER - V

TASAWIR (PICTURES) بَابُ التَّصَاوِيْر

The word tasawir is the plural of taswir (picture). It means to make a form. Here, the word tawasir stands for pictures or representations of animates or living creatures, such as depicted, knit or embroidered on curtains.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

DRAWING OR KEEPING PICTURES

(٤٤٨٩) عَنْ اَبِيْ طَلْحَةَ قَالَ قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَا تَدْخُلُ الْمَلٰئِكَةُ بَيْتًا فِيْهِ كَلْبٌ وَلَا تَصَاوِيْرُ۔

(متفق عليه)

4489. Sayyiduna Abu Talhah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The angels do not enter a house in which there is a dog and (not in which is) a picture."[1]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) say that this hadith refers to dog and pictures that one is forbidden to keep in the house. The dog that is kept for farming, hunting or security of domestic animals is exempted from this command. Similarly, those pictures that are trampled under foot as on bedding, they are exempted too.

It is forbidden absolutely to draw picture of living creatures anywhere whatsoever - on beddings, coins, currency notes. It is a grave sin to keep such pictures. But, to make pictures of in animate objects is proper.

Some authorities say that this command is universal. The angels (of mercy) will not enter a house in which there is a dog or a picture even if the dog and picture are not forbidden to be kept in the house.

By angels, the hadith means those angels that are not deputed to record deeds of the human beings or to protect them. They (who record deeds or protect) never part with their charge.

UNNECESSARY DOGS SHOULD BE KILLED

(٤٤٩٠) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنْ مَيْمُوْنَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَصْبَحَ يَوْمًا وَاجِمًا وَقَالَ اِنَّ جِبْرَئِيْلَ كَانَ وَعَدَنِيْ اَنْ يَلْقَانِي اللَّيْلَةَ فَلَمْ يَلْقَنِيْ اَمَا وَاللّٰهِ مَا اَخْلَفَنِيْ ثُمَّ وَقَعَ فِيْ نَفْسِهِ جِرْوُ كَلْبٍ تَحْتَ فُسْطَاطٍ لَهُ فَاَمَرَ بِهِ فَاُخْرِجَ ثُمَّ اَخَذَ بِيَدِهِ مَاءً فَنَضَحَ مَكَانَهُ فَلَمَّا اَمْسٰى لَقِيَهُ جِبْرَئِيْلُ فَقَالَ لَقَدْ كُنْتَ وَعَدْتَنِيْ اَنْ تَلْقَانِي الْبَارِحَةَ قَالَ اَجَلْ وَلٰكِنَّا لَا نَدْخُلُ بَيْتًا فِيْهِ كَلْبٌ وَلَا صُوْرَةٌ فَاَصْبَحَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَوْمَئِذٍ فَاَمَرَ بِقَتْلِ الْكِلَابِ حَتّٰى اِنَّهُ يَاْمُرُ بِقَتْلِ كَلْبِ الْحَائِطِ الصَّغِيْرِ وَيَتْرُكُ كَلْبَ الْحَائِطِ الْكَبِيْرِ۔

(رواه مسلم)

4490. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated on the authority of Sayyidah Maymunah رضی اللہ عنہا that (she said:) one morning Allah's Messenger was quiet and concerned. He said (to her, or to somebody else or to himself). "Jibril عليه السلام had promised to meet me last night but did not come to me. By Allah, he had never broken his promise to me ever before." Then (suddenly) he remembered a puppy that had been under his tent (meaning, a cot or a bunk). So, he gave instructions (that it should be cast out) and it was taken away. He took some water in his hand and sprinkled it where the puppy had been. In the evening, Jibril عليه السلام (came and) met him. So, he complained, "You had promised to meet me Yesterday!" He said, "Of course! But we do not enter a house that had in it a dog or a picture."

Next day, Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم gave a command that dogs should be eliminated, so much so that he even ordered that dogs guarding small gardens should be exterminated too, but (dogs) guarding large gardens should be spared (because it is necessary to keep them).[1]

PROPHET صلى الله عليه وسلم DESTROYED ANYTHING WITH PICTURES ON IT

(٤٤٩١) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَمْ يَكُنْ يَتْرُكُ فِيْ بَيْتِهٖ شَيْئًا فِيْهِ تَصَالِيْبُ اِلَّا نَقَضَهٗ۔

(رواه البخاری)

4491. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا said, "The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not ever leave in his house anything with a picture on it without destroying it." (She has used the word tasalib which it the plural of taslib, 'a cross.' But, here it is a picture of a living creature).[2]

THOSE WHO MAKE PICTURES FACE PUNISHMENT

(٤٤٩٢) وَعَنْهَا اَنَّهَا اشْتَرَتْ نُمْرُقَةً فِيْهَا تَصَاوِيْرُ فَلَمَّا رَاٰهَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَامَ عَلَى الْبَابِ فَلَمْ يَدْخُلْ فَعَرَفْتُ فِيْ وَجْهِهِ الْكَرَاهِيَةَ قَالَتْ فَقُلْتُ يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ (صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) اَتُوْبُ اِلَى اللّٰهِ وَاِلٰى رَسُوْلِهٖ مَاذَا اَذْنَبْتُ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ مَابَالُ هٰذِهِ النُّمْرُقَةِ قَالَتْ قُلْتُ اِشْتَرَيْتُهَا لَكَ لِتَقْعُدَ عَلَيْهَا وَتَوَسَّدَهَا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَصْحَابَ هٰذِهِ الصُّوَرِ يُعَذَّبُوْنَ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ وَيُقَالُ لَهُمْ اَحْيُوْا مَا خَلَقْتُمْ وَقَالَ اِنَّ الْبَيْتَ الَّذِيْ فِيْهِ الصُّوْرَةُ لَا تَدْخُلُهُ الْمَلٰئِكَةُ۔ (متفق علیه)

4492. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that she bought a pillow with pictures on it. When Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم saw it, he stood at the door and did not enter (the house). She detected on his face signs of disapproval and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, I repent to Allah and to His Messenger (to seek their pleasure and to obey them). What wrong have I done?" He asked (her), "why is this pillow here?" She said, "I have bought it for you that you may sit on it and rest (your head) on it." Then Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Surely, the people who make these pictures will be punished on the day of resurrection. And, they will be asked, "Give life to what you have created!'" He also said, "The angels do not come to the house that has a picture in it. (So, it is not proper for the prophets and Allah's friends to enter them too.)"[1]

DO NOT HANG DECORATIVE CURTAINS

(٤٤٩٣) وَعَنْهَا اَنَّهَا كَانَتْ قَدِ اتَّخَذَتْ عَلٰى سَهْوَةٍ لَهَا سِتْرًافِيْهِ تَمَاثِيْلُ فَهَتَكَهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ

فَاتَّخَذَتْ مِنْهُ نُمْرَقَتَيْنِ فَكَانَتَا فِي الْبَيْتِ يَجْلِسُ عَلَيْهِمَا۔ (متفق علیه)

4493. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that She had hung a curtain over a store-room of hers. The curtain had pictures on it. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم tore it down. So, she made two pillows out of it and had them in the house to sit on.[2]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had torn down the curtain not because of the pictures but the curtain was not necessary over the wall. Allah has not directed that curtains should be put over stone and mud. This will be explained in the next hadith. The pictures were not of the forbidden kind so were tolerated on the two pillows whereas previous hadith was of living beings and so forbidden. Or when the pillows were made, the pictures were cut off. Or, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had torn them off on the curtain.

(٤٤٩٤) وَعَنْهَا اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ خَرَجَ غَزَاةٍ فَاَخَذْتُ نَمَطًا فَسَتَرْتُهُ عَلَى الْبَابِ فَلَمَّا قَدِمَ

فَرَاَى النَّمَطَ فَجَذَبَهُ حَتّٰى هَتَكَهُ ثُمَّ قَالَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ لَمْ يَاْمُرْنَا اَنْ نَكْسُوَ الْحِجَارَةَ وَالطِّيْنَ۔ (متفق علیه)

4494. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم went out to wage jihad. She procured a piece of cloth and hung it as a curtain at the door. When he returned and saw the curtain, he pulled it and tore it down. He said, "Allah had not commanded us to clothe stones and mud."[3]

COMMENTARY: The piece of cloth that Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا had hung was a very exquisite carpet or bedding. It is also placed on a howdah or used as a curtain. If she had put it up as a screen from unwanted sight, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم would not have disliked it. So, she must have hung it as an adornment.

Some people have written that the curtain had pictures of horses. But, this opinion does not tally with the text of the hadith because the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said that walls are not to be clothed.

Yahya said that this prohibition is of the kind of nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful), because there is oncommend of Allah prohibiting it. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم held that this was not compatible with his family's righteousness and god-fearing attitude. The hadith is evidence that one should disallow clothing of walls. It is also evidence that if anyone finds anything bad then he must destroy it and express his anger over it.

WARNING TO MAKER OF PICTURES

(٤٤٩٥) وَعَنْهَا عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اَشَدُّ النَّاسِ عَذَابًا يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ الَّذِيْنَ يُضَاهِئُوْنَ

بِخَلْقِ اللّٰهِ۔ (متفق علیه)

4495. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The people who will get the severest punishment on the day of resurrection will be those who (try to) copy the creation of Allah."[1]

COMMENTARY: To create pictures is to try to resemble Allah's creation of form and appearance. The artist seems to make his work resemble Allah's. He makes something that resembles Allah's creation. Ibn Maalik رحمه الله said that if he does it with intention to imitate Allah's creation of giving form and shape, then he is a disbeliever. In that case, the hadith will be interpreted to mean; He will face a punishment more severe than other disbelievers because of his filthy or ugly disbelief.

If he does not hold that intention, then this hadith should serve as a severe wearing to him.

(٤٤٩٦) وَعَنْ اَبِىْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ قَالَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى وَمَنْ اَظْلَمُ مِمَّنْ ذَهَبَ يَخْلُقُ كَخَلْقِىْ فَلْيَخْلُقُوْا ذَرَّةً اَوْلِيَخْلُقُوْا حَبَّةً اَوْشَعِيْرَةً۔ (متفق عليه)

4496. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "Allah, the Exalted, says, "Who can be more wrong than he who goes about creating like My creation. So, let him create a gnate, and let him create a grain or a grain of barley.'" (He make faces as I create and in reality he cannot, yet he tries and claims to do it).[2]

(٤٤٩٧) وَعَنْ عَبْدِاللّٰهِ بْنِ مَسْعُوْدٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ اَشَدُّ النَّاسِ عَذَابًا عِنْدَاللّٰهِ الْمُصَوِّرُوْنَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4497. Sayyiduna Abdullah ibn Mas'ud رضى الله عنه narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم say, "In Allah's sight, those who deserve the severest punishment are they who create likeness (of creations of Allah)."[3]

COMMENTARY: The people who make pictures will be punished most severely by Allah. some ulama (Scholars) say that they are those who make idols to be worshipped by men, for such a one is definitely a disbeliever.

Some other say that if anyone draws or makes pictures with intention to imitate Allah's work then he too is a disbeliever and deserves the harshest of chastisement. If he has no such intention but makes resemblances nevertheless, then he may not be a disbeliever but is a great sinner, and will deserve treatment as such.

The ulama (Scholars) say unanimously that the hadith refers to pictures or resemblances of living creatures, not to inanimate objects. But, Mujahid said that it is makruh (disapproved) to depict fruit-bearing trees, too and other scholars hold that it is disliked to make pictures of non living, inanimate things and it is art of vain play and amusement and a meaningless pursuit.

(٤٤٩٨) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ كُلُّ مُصَوِّرٍ فِى النَّارِ يُجْعَلُ لَهٗ بِكُلِّ صُوْرَةٍ صَوَّرَهَا نَفْسٌ فَيُعَذِّبُهٗ فِىْ جَهَنَّمَ قَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ فَاِنْ كُنْتَ لَا بُدَّفَاعِلًا فَاصْنَعِ الشَّجَرَ وَمَالَا رُوْحَ

فِيْهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4498. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "Everyone who makes a picture or replica will go to hell. A soul will be create for every picture of replica he has made, and it will punish him in hell." Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said, "If you cannot do without perpetrating it, then make pictures of trees and such things as have no soul."[1]

COMMENTARY: It is disallowed to make every kind of a picture or statue, but some ulama (Scholars) make an exception of dolls for girls. However, Imam Maalik رحمہ اللہ said that it is makruh (disapproved) for men to buy them. Some ulama (Scholars) have asserted that the aforesaid permission is withdrawn.

(٤٤٩٩) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ تَحَلَّمَ بِحُلْمٍ لَمْ يَرَهُ كُلِّفَ اَنْ يَعْقِدَ بَيْنَ شَعِيْرَتَيْنِ وَلَنْ يَفْعَلَ وَ مَنِ اسْتَمَعَ اِلٰى حَدِيْثِ قَوْمٍ وَ هُمْ لَهُ كَارِهُوْنَ اَوْيَفِرُّوْنَ مِنْهُ صُبَّ فِيْ اُذُنَيْهِ الْاٰنُكُ يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ وَمَنْ صَوَّرَ صُوْرَةً عُذِّبَ وَكُلِّفَ اَنْ يَنْفُخَ فِيْهَا وَلَيْسَ بِنَافِخٍ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4499. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "If anyone claims to have seen a dream that he has not seen then (in the hereafter) he will be made responsible to fasten together two barley seeds which he will not be able to do. If anyone eavesdrops on other people's conversation when they do not approve of his overhearing, or (they) try to avert him, then lead will be poured into his ears on the day of resurrection. And if anyone makes a picture of something then he will be punished and asked to breath life into it, but he will not be able to breath (into it)."[2]

COMMENTARY: The men will never be able to put two seeds of barley together. So, he will continue to be punished because he faces an impossible task, Describing a false dream is to join lies together, so the task assigned to him is to join seeds. The punishment on reporting a false dream is greater than on telling lies because a dream is from the unseen world, and a true dream is a portion of the many portion of prophethood. It may be compared to a kind of wahy or inspiration. So, one who relates a false dream forges a lie against Allah which is the most serious kind of lie.

Some authorities say that the hadith refers to a man who lays claim to prophethood or righteousness.[3]

For instance, he might claim that he dreamt that Allah made him a prophet or a wali[4] or, he might say that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave him a certain command, but he lies about it.

As for the eavesdropper, if he hears conversation stealthily to prevent mischief and protect innocent people, then he is not blameworthy.

PLAYING BACKGAMMON IS BAD

(٤٥٠٠) وَعَنْ بُرَيْدَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ لَعِبَ بِالنَّرْدِ شِيْرِ فَكَاَنَّمَا صَبَغَ يَدَهُ فِيْ لَحْمِ

[1] Bukhari # 2225, Muslim # 99-2110.
[2] Bukhari # 3916.
[3] It is Wali, meaning friend (of Allah).
[4] Friend of Allah.

خِنْزِيْرٍ وَدَمِهٖ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4500. Sayyiduna Buraydah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "One who plays backgammon (nard sheer) is like one who has immerses his hand in the flesh of swine and its blood."[1]

COMMENTARY: Nard sheer is a game of dice. It was invented by a king of Iran, shapur ibn Ardesher ibn Babek. It is as repulsive as swine flesh and swine blood.

All the ulama (Scholars) declare that it is unlawful to play backgammon in whatever form.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِیْ

PICTURES ON ONE'S BEDDING NOT DISLIKED

(٤٥٠١) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَتَانِيْ جِبْرَئِيْلُ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ قَالَ اَتَيْتُكَ الْبَارِحَةَ فَلَمْ يَمْنَعْنِيْ اَنْ اَكُوْنَ دَخَلْتُ اِلَّا اَنَّهٗ كَانَ عَلَى الْبَابِ تَمَاثِيْلُ وَ كَانَ فِي الْبَيْتِ قِرَامُ سِتْرٍ فِيْهِ تَمَاثِيْلُ وَكَانَ فِي الْبَيْتِ كَلْبٌ فَمُرْ بِرَاسِ التِّمْثَالِ الَّذِيْ عَلٰى بَابِ الْبَيْتِ فَيُقْطَعُ فَيُصِيْرُ كَهَيْئَةِ الشَّجَرَةِ وَمُرْ بِالسِّتْرِ فَلْيُقْطَعْ فَلْيُجْعَلْ وَسَادَتَيْنِ مَنْبُوْذَتَيْنِ تُوْطَانِ وَمُرْ بِالْكَلْبِ فَلْيُخْرَجْ فَفَعَلَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ۔ (رواه الترمذی وابوداؤد)

4501. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Jibril علیہ السلام said, "I came to you last night, ánd nothing prevented me from entering (the house) but that there were at the door pictures on a curtain made out from a decorated cloth. There was a dog (too) in the house. So give instructions for the removal of the head from the picture at the door of the house so that it may look like a tree. And, give instructions that the curtain be cut off and made into two pillows that may be cast down and trampled underfoot. And, give instructions for the dog to be shown out." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did that.[2]

COMMENTARY: It is stated in Fatawa Qadi Khan that it is makruh (disapproved) to offer salah (prayer) when there is a picture in front of the worshipper, or above his head or to his right or left, or, on his clothing. However, there are two different opinions on a picture being on one's bedding. The more correct opinion is that it is not makruh (disapproved) if there is a picture on one's bedding, provided it is not on a place at which the worshipper will prostrate. Moreover, this discussion is about large pictures that are visible clearly to any one. If the pictures are small, or their heads are cut or obliterated, then there is no harm in that.

اللّٰهِ اِلٰهًا اٰخَرَ وَبِالْمُصَوِّرِيْنَ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4502. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "A neck will emerge from hell on the day or resurrection. It will have two eyes to see, two ears to hears and a tongue with which it will speak. It will say, 'I am appointed over three kinds: every rebellious tyrant, everyone who calls another god besides Allah and the artists who make or draw pictures.'[1]

THREE THINGS ARE FORBIDDEN

(٤٥٠٣) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ تَعَالٰى حَرَّمَ الْخَمْرَ وَالْمَيْسِرَ وَالْكُوْبَةَ وَقَالَ كُلُّ مُسْكِرٍ حَرَامٌ قِيْلَ الْكُوْبَةُ الطَّبْلُ۔ (رواه البیہقی فی شعب الایمان)

4503. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely, Allah, the exalted, has forbidden wine, gambling and kubah." He said, also, Every intoxicant is unlawful." And it was said, "Kubah is a drum."[2]

COMMENTARY: The ulama (Scholars) describe the kabah as;

(i) backgammon,
(ii) harp or harmonica
(iii) drum not the one used by warriors.

(٤٥٠٤) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ نَهٰى عَنِ الْخَمْرِ وَالْمَيْسِرِ وَالْكُوْبَةِ وَ الْغُبَيْرَاءِ وَالْغُبَيْرَاءُ شَرَابٌ تَعْمَلُهُ الْحَبَشَةُ مِنَ الذُّرَةِ وَيُقَالُ لَهَا السُّكُرْكَةُ۔ (رواه ابوداؤد)

4504. Sayyiduna Ibn Umar رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade wine, gambling, kubah and ghubayra. Ghubayra is wine made from millet by the Ethiopians. It is called sukurkah.[3]

PLAYING BACKGAMMON IS DISOBEDIENCE

(٤٥٠٥) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ مُوْسَى الْاَشْعَرِيِّ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ مَنْ لَعِبَ بِالنَّرْدِ فَقَدْ عَصَى اللّٰهَ وَرَسُوْلَهٗ۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد)

4505. Sayyiduna Abu Musa Ash'ary رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "He who plays backgammon disobeys Allah and His Messenger."[4]

COMMENTARY: As stated earlier (hadith # 4500) to play backgammon is absolutely forbidden. If it is played with stakes then it truly is gambling otherwise it is gambling in appearance.

FLYING PIGEONS

(٤٥٠٦) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَاٰى رَجُلًا يَتْبَعُ حَمَامَةً فَقَالَ شَيْطَانٌ

يَتَّبِعُ شَيْطَانَةً۔ (رواه احمد وابوداؤد وابن ماجة والبيهقي في شعب الايمان)

4506. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم saw a man occupied with pigeons. So he said, "A devil pursues a she devil.[1]

COMMENTARY: The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم called the man a devil because he was engaged in vain pursuit and a frivolous game.

He called the pigeons she devils because they occupied him a betting and play. He was drive away from remembrance of Allah, and religion.

Clearly, playing with pigeons is a forbidden game. Nawawi رضی اللہ عنہ said that it is permitted without reservation to domesticate them for their eggs and young and as a hobby and as messengers. However, it is makruh (disapproved) to fly them for sport.

DRAWING PICTURES AS A PROFESSION

(٤٥٠٧) عَنْ سَعِيْدِ بْنِ اَبِي الْحَسَنِ قَالَ كُنْتُ عِنْدَ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ اِذْجَاءَهُ رَجُلٌ فَقَالَ يَا ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ اِنِّيْ رَجُلٌ اِنَّمَا مَعِيْشَتِيْ مِنْ صَنْعَةِ يَدِيْ وَاِنِّيْ اَصْنَعُ هٰذِهِ التَّصَاوِيْرَ فَقَالَ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ لَا اُحَدِّثُكَ اِلَّامَا سَمِعْتُ مِنْ رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَمِعْتُهُ يَقُوْلُ مَنْ صَوَّرَ صُوْرَةً فَاِنَّ اللّٰهَ مُعَذِّبُهُ حَتّٰى يَنْفُخَ فِيْهِ الرُّوْحَ وَلَيْسَ بِنَافِخٍ فِيْهَا اَبَدًا فَرَبَا الرَّجُلُ رَبْوَةً شَدِيْدَةً وَاصْفَرَ وَجْهُهُ فَقَالَ وَيْحَكَ اِنْ اَبَيْتَ اِلَّا اَنْ تَصْنَعَ فَعَلَيْكَ بِهٰذَا الشَّجَرِ وَكُلِّ شَيْءٍ لَيْسَ فِيْهِ رُوْحٌ۔ (رواه البخاري)

4507. Sayyiduna Sa'eed ibn Abu Hasan رحمہ اللہ narrated, "I was with Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ (one day) when a man came to him and said, 'O Ibn Abbas! I am a man and my profession is the work of my hand with which I make these pictures. (tell me what would I do, for, I know not another means of livelihood?)' Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ said to him (knowing that it was difficult to get him out of it), 'I shall tell you only what I had heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say. I had heard him say that he who makes pictures of anything, then Allah will punish him till he blows life into them which he shall never be able to blow into them." The man was agape and worried, so he said to him, 'Woe to you1 If you reject any other profession, then make pictures of these trees and of whatever has no life."[2]

ABOUT A CHURCH

(٤٥٠٨) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ لَمَّا اشْتَكَى النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ذَكَرَ بَعْضُ نِسَائِهِ كَنِيْسَةً يُقَالُ لَهَا مَارِيَةٌ وَكَانَتْ اُمُّ سَلَمَةَ وَ اُمُّ حَبِيْبَةَ اَتَتْ اَرْضَ الْحَبْشَةِ فَذَكَرَتَا مِنْ حُسْنِهَا وَتَصَاوِيْرَ فِيْهَا فَرَفَعَ رَاسَهُ فَقَالَ اُولٰئِكَ اِذَامَاتَ فِيْهِمُ الرَّجُلُ الصَّالِحُ بَنَوْا عَلٰى قَبْرِهِ مَسْجِدًا ثُمَّ صَوَّرُوْا فِيْهِ تِلْكَ الصُّوَرَ اُولٰئِكَ شِرَارُ خَلْقِ اللّٰهِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4508. Sayyidah Ayshah رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that when the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was ill.

---

[1] Abu Dawud # 4940, Ibn Majah, Bay haqi in Sha'ub ul Eeman.

[2] Bukhari # 2225.

Some of his wives رضی اللہ عنہن spoke of a church, called Mariyah. (Sayyidah) Umm salamah and (Sayyidah) Umm Habibah had been to Ethiopia and they mentioned its beauty and the statues lying in it. (on hearing them,) he raised his head and said, "They (the Ethiopians or the Christians) build a house of worship over his grave when a pious man among them dies. Then they make those statues in it They are the worst of Allah's creatures."[1]

COMMENTARY: They are the worst of the creatures because they build worship houses on graves and pray facing the graves.

THOSE WHO WILL BE PUNISHED MOST SEVERLY

(٤٥٠٩) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَشَدَّ النَّاسِ عَذَابًا يَوْمَ الْقِيٰمَةِ مَنْ قَتَلَ نَبِيًّا اَوْقَتَلَهُ نَبِيًّا اَوْ قَتَلَ اَحَدَ وَالِدَيْهِ وَالْمُصَوِّرُوْنَ وَعَالِمٌ لَمْ يَنْتَفِعْ بِعِلْمِهٖ۔

4509. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "On the day of resurrection, the severest punishment will be awarded to one who kills a prophet, or one who is killed by a prophet (in a battle – jihad), or who kills one of his parents, and they who draw or) make pictures (or replicas), and a scholar who does not use his knowledge to benefit (meaning, does not act according to his learning)."[2]

COMMENTARY: Another tradition also establishes that one whom a Prophet kills will be awarded the severest of punishment. It says:

اشتد غضب اللّٰه علی رجل تقتله رسول اللّٰه فی سبیل اللّٰه

(Wrath of Allah will be severest on a man whom a messenger of Allah kills in the path of Allah.)[3]

This is because a Prophet will kill only him who intends to kill the Prophet. The proviso of in Allah's path excludes those put to death when given the punishment of hadd (a prescribed punishment) or in qisas (retaliation).

EVIL OF THE GAME OF CHESS

(٤٥١٠) وَعَنْ عَلِيٍّ اَنَّهٗ كَانَ يَقُوْلُ الشَّطْرَنْجُ هُوَ مَيْسِرُ الْاَعَاجِمِ۔

4510. Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ said often, "Chess is the game of chance of the aliens."[4]

COMMENTARY: This is played by non-Muslims and is gambling in reality or in resemblance. It is forbidden to do as they do in any thing like this.

(٤٥١١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ اَنَّ اَبَا مُوْسٰى الْاَشْعَرِيَّ قَالَ لَا يَلْعَبُ بِالشَّطْرَنْجِ اِلَّا خَاطِئٌ۔

4511. Sayyiduna Ibn Shihab رحمہ اللہ narrated that (Sayyiduna) Abu Musa رضی اللہ عنہ Ash'ary said, "None but a sinner plays chess."[5]

(٤٥١٢) وَعَنْهُ اَنَّهُ سُئِلَ عَنْ لَعْبِ الشَّطْرَنْجِ فَقَالَ هِيَ مِنَ الْبَاطِلِ وَلَايُحِبُّ اللّٰهُ الْبَاطِلَ رَوَى الْبَيْهَقِيُّ الْاَحَادِيْثَ الْاَرْبَعَةَ فِيْ شُعَبِ الْاِيْمَانِ۔

4512. Sayyiduna Ibn Shihab رحمه الله said that when he[1] was asked about the game of chess, he said, "It is things. And, Allah does not like that which is vain."[2]

The last four ahadith are transmitted by Bayhaqi in Shu'abul Eeman'

COMMENTARY: It is stated in the Hidayah that is makruh (disapproved) tahrimi to play backgammon and chess, on he basis of the saying of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.

"He who plays chess or backgammon is as though he puts his hand in the blood of swine." The hadith is reproduced in Jami Saghir that he who plays chess is accursed and he who looks at it with interest is as though he eats swineflesh.

As for the writing in some books that Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله has declared that this play is permitted with some conditions, Imam ghazzali رحمه الله has written in Nisab ul Ihtisab that Imam Shafi'I رحمه الله too, held that this game is makruh (disapproved). So, perhaps in the be ginning he may have regarded it as permissible but later he revised his verdict against it. The book Durr Mukhtar and others write that all such games are makruh (disapproved).

DOG IS IMPURE BUT CAT IS NOT

(٤٥١٣) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَاْتِيْ دَارَ قَوْمٍ مِنَ الْاَنْصَارِ وَدُوْنَهُمْ دَارٌ فَشَقَّ ذٰلِكَ عَلَيْهِمْ فَقَالُوْا يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ تَاْتِيْ دَارَ فُلَانٍ وَلَاتَاْتِيْ دَارَنَا قَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِاَنَّ فِيْ دَارِكُمْ كَلْبًا قَالُوْا اِنَّ فِيْ دَارِهِمْ سِنَّوْرًا فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ السِّنَّوْرُ سَبُعٌ۔ (رواه الدارقطني)

4513. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم visited the house of some of the ansar often. But, there was a house in their neighbourhood which he never visited They found it very painful. So, they submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, you visit the house of so and so but do not come to our house. (Have we have some wrong?)"

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "It is because there is a dog in your house." They submitted, "There is a cat in their house." (Both cat and dog are beasts of prey) The prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "A cat is a beast of prey."[3]

COMMENTARY: The dog is mischievous (devilish) and impure. The cat is not so and the angels do not stay away because of it. The Prophets عليه السلام have the same nature as the angels.

KITABUT-TIBB WA AR RUQA كِتَابُ الطِّبِّ وَالرُّقٰى

MEDICINE & SPELLS

The word (طب) is generally spelt tibb.
However, Suyuti رحمه الله said that it is spelt also tibb, tibb and tubb
It means 'to undergo treatment,' 'to take medicine.'
Sometimes, tibb is used in the sense of 'spell' or 'sorcery.' Hence, matbub (مطبوب) is a person on whom a spell is cast, one who is enchanted.
Tibb is concerned both with the outward body and the inward self. The former is physical treatment (by a physician) and the latter is spiritual treatment (by a spiritualist), to cure bed thoughts and deeds and evil habits that cause inward run of the spirit or self, which are made to be given up.
Medicine, too, is of two kinds:

(i) Physical and natural, both uncompounded and mixtures or compounds. (It is as general medicines are).

(ii) Spiritual and oral. It is from the noble Quran and from other things that come under the same category.

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم opted for both the normal and apparent physical medicine as well as the unseen and spiritual medicine for the treatment of the members of his ummah.
The word (رقى) ruqa is the plural of (رقية) ruqyah. It is enchantment, incantation. Sorcery, charm or a spell. The ulama (Scholars) are unanimous that invocation may be made in this regard by means of verses of the Quran, known supplication and Al-asam Al-husna (the beautiful names of Allah). It is also allowed by means of such incantation whose words and expressions are known for their meaning, if they are not contrary to religion and Shari'ah (divine law). However, if the words and expressions of the incantation are vague and indiscernible and their meanings are uncertain, or they are contrary to and incompatible with the teachings and commands of religion and Shari'ah (divine law), then it is absolutely forbidden to use them as incantation.
Similarly, the practice of the astrologers and soothsayers who incant by means of astrology or divining and geomancy and who go by set times and hours, is makruh (disapproved) and forbidden.

SECTION I اَلْفَصْلُ الْاَوَّلُ

ALLAH HAS CREATED CURE FOR EVERY ILLNESS

(٤٥١٤) عَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا اَنْزَلَ اللّٰهُ تَعَالٰى دَاءً اِلَّا اَنْزَلَ لَهٗ شِفَاءً (رواه البخارى)

4514. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah صلى الله عليه وسلم narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Allah has not set down (and created) a disease without sending down a cure for it." (It means that Allah has created with every disease its cure too so that it may be used and the disease remedied.)[1]

ALLAH IS HE WHO CURES

(٤٥١٥) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لِكُلِّ دَاءٍ دَوَاءٌ فَإِذَا أُصِيْبَ دَوَاءُ الدَّاءِ بَرَءَ بِإِذْنِ اللّٰهِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4515. Sayyiduna Jabbir رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "There is a medicine for every disease. When the treatment is suitable to the disease, the patient recovers at Allah's command."[2]

COMMENTARY: (i) Allah makes the treatment easy.

(ii) Medicine does not work without Allah's permission.

(iii) It is mustahab (desirable) to use the medicine. This is the opinion of the ,majority of the ulama (Scholars) (Teebi).

Allah is the one who cures and no one should regard medicine as the means of cure of itself. Medicine is only an outward means of remedy.

It is stated in the tradition of Humaydi that Allah has created a remedy for every disease and there is no illness or malady without a cure. When a person falls ill, Allah sends down an angel who has a screen with him which he puts between the medicine and the disease. Only when Allah decides to cure him, He commands the angel to remove the screen and the medicine begins to be effective. This indicates that to use medicine is mustahab (desirable). This is as the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضى الله عنهم contended.

This hadith rejects the contention of the Sufis (mystics) who say, "We rely on Divine decree and we do not need any medicine."

Rather, we must believe that Allah is the Doer and medicine is also by His decree. It is the same as making a supplication and fighting with the infidels though Allah can suppress them without fighting.

In short, to use of the means does not reject trust in Allah. It is like eating that satisfies hunger. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was the chief of those who trust in Allah, yet he had recourse to medicine.

REMEDY IN THREE THINGS

(٤٥١٦) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الشِّفَاءُ فِيْ ثَلٰثٍ فِيْ شَرْطَةِ مِحْجَمٍ أَوْشَرْبَةِ عَسَلٍ أَوْكَيَّةٍ بِنَارٍ وَأَنَا أَنْهٰى أُمَّتِيْ عَنِ الْكَيِّ۔ (رواه البخارى)

4516. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "Remedy lies in three things: the incision of a cupping - glass, or,
a drink of honey, or cauterization by fire.

---

[1] Bukhari # 5678.

[2] Muslim # 69-2204.

But, I forbid my ummah to cauterise."[1]

COMMENTARY: The first thing is cupping with a lancet or razor.

The ulama (Scholars) say, according to the writer of Safar us Sa'adah, that the hadith guides towards all physical ailments. Some ailments are plethoric so the excess blood is removed by cupping. Other ailments are biliary, sluggish temperament, or melancholy which are cured by purgatives. Honey serves the purpose.

When a physician gives up and cannot suggest a remedy, the last resort is to cauterize by fire. The prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade his ummah to cauterize because the Arabs had given it too much importance and had relied on it as a guaranteed remedy. Clearly this belief was contrary to Islam. Nothing can be a sure cure, it is only an outward means of remedy. Real cure lies in Allah's hands, and His command.

This disallowance is of the kind of nahy tanzihi. If any one uses this method with the belief that it is merely an outward means, and places hope in Allah for the cure, then he is allowed to employ cauterization.

Some ulama (Scholars) say that if there is a risk to life or of being harmed by cauterization, then it is forbidden. There are ahadith that permit one to cauterize as also those that disallow one to do it. In principle, this form of remedy is allowed but it does not follow that one cannot dislike it. There are many things that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did not like but he did not disallow them to other people. If cure can be had through other means then cauterization must be avoided. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم did instruct some sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم to cauterize themselves because that seemed necessary.

In short, it is makruh (disapproved) to cauterize a limb unless prescribed by a physician.

MORE ABOUT CAUTERISATION

(٤٥١٧) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ رُمِيَ أُبَيٌّ يَوْمَ الْأَحْزَابِ عَلَى أَكْحَلِهِ فَكَوَاهُ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ (رواه مسلم)

4517. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that in the Battle of Ahzab (also called Battle of Khaduq - confederates and trenches, respectively), Ubayy was hit by an arrow in the median vein of his arm (and it bled). Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم had him cauterized (or he did it himself).[2]

(٤٥١٨) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ رُمِيَ سَعْدُ بْنُ مَعَاذٍ فِيْ أَكْحَلِهِ فَحَسَمَهُ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ بِيَدِهٖ بِمَشْقَصٍ ثُمَّ وَرِمَتْ فَحَسَمَهُ الثَّانِيَةَ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4518. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated, "Sa'd ibn Mu'adh رضی اللہ عنہ was hit (by an arrow) in the median vein of his arm. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم cauterized it with his own hand with a broad arrow head. But, it swelled up, so he cauterized a second time."[3]

(٤٥١٩) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ بَعَثَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ إِلَى أُبَيِّ بْنِ كَعْبٍ طَبِيْبًا فَقَطَعَ مِنْهُ عِرْقًا ثُمَّ كَوَاهُ عَلَيْهِ۔ (رواه مسلم)

---

[1] Bukhari # 5680.

[2] Muslim # 74. 2207.

[3] Muslim # 75. 2208, Tirmidhi # 1582.

4519. Sayyiduna Jabir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم sent a physician to Ubayy ibn Ka'b رضی اللہ عنہ. He cut one of his veins and cauterized it.[1]

KALUNJI IS CURE

(٤٥٢٠) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ اَنَّهٗ سَمِعَ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُوْلُ فِي الْحَبَّةِ السَّوْدَاءِ شِفَاءٌ مِّنْ كُلِّ دَاءٍ اِلَّا السَّامَ قَالَ ابْنُ شِهَابٍ السَّامُ الْمَوْتُ وَالْحَبَّةُ السَّوْدَآءُ الشُّوْنِيْزُ۔ (متفق عليه)

4520. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that he heard Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم say, "There is in the black seed cure for every disease but sam."

Ibn Shihab رحمہ اللہ said that sam is 'death' and the black seed is shuniz (nigella seed).[2]

COMMENTARY: Teebi رحمہ اللہ said that though the hadith is of a universal nature, yet nigella seed is of benefit in only such diseases as are moist and sluggish natured because kalunji (nigella seed) is dry and hot. So it is good for the diseases that are of an opposite kind to it.

However, some authorities maintain that hadith is of a universal nature, so that kalunji is good for all diseases. If it is added to a medicine in a specified ratio then its remedial effects came to surface.

Kirmani رحمہ اللہ said that this hadith should be understood to be of a universal nature because it makes exception of only death.

The writer of safar us Sa'adah says that it was the practice of a section of the shykhs that they used kalunji (nigella seed) as a medicine for all their ailments. Their good faith was rewarded and their ailments were cured.

REMEDIAL POWER OF HONEY

(٤٥٢١) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ سَعِيْدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ جَآءَ رَجُلٌ اِلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ اِنَّ اَخِيْ اسْتَطْلَقَ بَطْنُهٗ فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِسْقِهٖ عَسَلًا فَسَقَاهُ ثُمَّ جَآءَ فَقَالَ سَقَيْتُهٗ فَلَمْ يَزِدْهُ اِلَّا اسْتِطْلَاقًا فَقَالَ لَهٗ ثَلٰثَ مَرَّاتٍ ثُمَّ جَآءَ الرَّابِعَةَ فَقَالَ اِسْقِهٖ عَسَلًا فَقَالَ لَقَدْ سَقَيْتُهٗ فَلَمْ يَزِدْهُ اِلَّا اسْتِطْلَاقًا فَقَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ صَدَقَ اللّٰهُ وَكَذَبَ بَطْنُ اَخِيْكَ فَسَقَاهُ فَبَرَأَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4521. Sayyiduna Abu Sa'eed Khudri رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that a man came to the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and submitted, "My brother has loose bowels." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Give him honey to drink." He gave it to him, but came again and submitted that he had given it to him yet it had not but made his bowels more loose. He gave him this instruction three times, but the man came a fourth time and he said, "Give him honey to drink," to which he submitted, "Indeed, I have made him drink it but it has only made his bowels more loss." Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Allah has spoken the truth and your brother's stomach has lied." He gave him honey to drink and he recovered.[3]

COMMENTARY: Sayyiduna Ali رضی اللہ عنہ said that if anyone falls ill then he must request his wife for some money from her dower and he should use it to buy honey. Then he must put some rain water into it and drink the mixture. Insha Allah, he will be cured.

The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم referred to Allah's words (فيه شفاء للناس) {Where in is healing for mankind (16: 69)} when he said, "Allah has spoken the truth." Or, Allah has revealed to him that the patient would cover on drinking honey. Hence, he insisted that the patient should drink honey. He would recover.

By saying that his stomach lied, the prophet indicated that the man's case was serious and he had acute indigestion. If a proper portion of honey was given to him that would get good results. The Arabs often used the word (كذب) kazab (lied) to mean (خطاء) khata (mistake, wrong), or 'he has not arrived at the facts: 'it has made a mistake by not responding to the medicine (honey).

PROPHETIC SYSTEM OF MEDICINE & THE CUSTOMARY SCIENCE OF MEDICINE

Though the ulama (Scholars) have tried to reconcile Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم medicine and the customary science of medicine, there certainly is a wide difference between the two. The author of Safar us Sa'adah has written that in fact there is not relation between Prophetic medicine and the rules and principles of the physicians. Prophetic medicine has as its source Divine revelation, the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم heart and perfect intelligence. Obviously, this kind of treatment is surely to be successful. It will cure, definitely. In contrast, the customary form of treatment cannot be a guaranteed cure. It is not immune from mistake and failure. It cannot be at per with a treatment that is based on Divine inspiration.

It is this difference between the two that creates confusion in some minds. People must realize that there can be no mistake in the Prophetic method of treatment. It is possible that our imperfect thinking does not understand and the medicine prescribed by the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم but it is not possible that his prescription is not according to the ailment.

In the case reported in this hadith, clearly honey gave him more loose motions, but that was good for him because the accumulated evil matter was thoroughly discharged from his belly. He was relieved. It must be understood that the patient must have complete faith on the physician and his prescription. This is a fundamental principle.

The same applies to Prophetic medicine. If any one uses it but does not get relief then it means that he does not have faith in it. So any one desirous of following the prophetic medicine, must make his belief perfect and then use it with true intention and sincere devotion. He will get relief without any doubt.

It is like the Quran. It is a perfect cure for internal diseases, spiritual ailments and corrupt heart and mind. Any one who learn it sincerely and recites it, believes in its teachings and abides by them, then surely his heart and soul are cured. If any one is not sincere and lacks faith then the opposite results are observed and he goes deeper into evil Hence, some scholars said that the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم words about the man's stomach having lied mean that he lacked faith and sincere intention with the result that, instead of relief, he was getting worse.

USES OF AL-QUST AL-BAHRI

(٤٥٢٢) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اَمْثَلَ مَاتَدَاوَ يْتُمْ بِهِ الحِجَامَةُ وَالْقُسْطَ

الْبَحْرِيُّ۔ (متفق عليه)

4522. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Of what you use as medical treatment, the best are cupping and sea cost us al qust al bahri)."[1]

COMMENTARY: Sea costus has many benefits. It is good for women who experience post childbirth bleeding and it eradicates poisonous gems. It is good for the mind and for general health. Qust is of two kinds: of the sea which is white and the Hindi variety which is black. The former is better and has lesser heat.

(٤٥٢٣) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاتُعَذِّبُوا صِبْيَانَكُمْ بِالْغَمْزِ مِنَ الْعُذْرَةِ وَعَلَيْكُمْ بِالْقُسْطِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4523. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not hurt you children by pressing the tonsils to treat the quinsy (swelling in the uvula), but use costus."[2]

COMMENTARY: The Arabic word in the text (العذرة) al-adhrah[3] is an inflammation of the tonsils afflicting infants. There is stimulation of blood which mothers try to soften by inserting their finger in the child's mouth up to the throat. This augments the pain rather than reducing it. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم disallowed this practice but suggested the use of costus. It should be dissolved in water and poured into the nostrils drop by drop. However, the physicians question how this treatment could be effective because costus is hot and the affliction is also heated requiring something cool. The answer is that al-ahdra is blood compounded with phelgm which outweighs blood. So custus offsets the moisture of phelgm. Besides, this treatment is part of the miracle of Prophetic medicine.

PLEURISY

(٤٥٢٤) وَعَنْ أُمِّ قَيْسٍ قَالَتْ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَلٰى مَاتَدْ غَرْنَ اَوْلَادُكُنَّ بِهٰذَ الْعِلَاقِ عَلَيْكُنَّ بِهٰذَا الْعُوْدِ الْهِنْدِيِّ فَاِنَّ فِيْهِ سَبْعَةَ اَشْفِيَةٍ مِنْهَا ذَاتُ الْجَنْبِ يَسْعَطُ مِنَ الْعُذْرَةِ وَيُلَدُّ مِنْ ذَاتِ الْجَنْبِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4524. Sayyidah Umm Qays رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked, "Why do you squeeze the uvula like this? You should use Hindi aloes wood. It has seven kinds of remedy including a remedy for pleurisy. Drop (it) in to the nostrils for an inflammation of the uvula and pour (it) into the side of the mouth for pleurisy."[4]

COMMENTARY: In this hadith too women are disallowed to try to press the inflammation by inserting a finger in the infant's mouth. Rather, aloes wood may be put in its nostrils, after diluting it with water.

[3] quinsy.

[4] Bukhari # 5713, Muslim # 84-2214.

The hadith mentions avul hindi. Perhaps, it is the same as qust bahri. It may also be that qust hindi is referred to as awd hindi.
Pleurisy can take many forms, like inflammation in the chest. It becomes very dangerous when it emerges from the inner organs. It is one of the serious, life-threatening diseases.
The second kind of pleurisy is the one in which wind does not pass out. It causes pain in the side. The hadith refers to this second kind because awd hindi is given for this malady.
While the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم mentions seven diseases, he has named only two. It does not mean, however, that qust is effective in only these seven diseases. Rather, it is good for a large number of illnesses. Some people do say that, according to Arab idiom, 'seven' stands for 'several', 'numerous'

FEVER COOLED WITH WATER

(٤٥٢٥) وَعَنْ عَائِشَةَ وَرَافِعِ ابْنِ خَدِيْجٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْحُمّٰى مِنْ فَيْحِ جَهَنَّمَ فَأَبْرِدُوْهَا بِالْمَآءِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4525. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها and Sayyiduna Rafi' ibn Khadij رضى الله عنه narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, "The fever is from the vehemence of the heat of hell. So, cool it with water."[1]

COMMENTARY: The high fever is compared to the heat of hell. Or the words of the hadith may be understood in their literal meaning. A similar tradition (# 590) has been narrated in the chapter 'Offering salah (prayer) early' that the severity of the heat of summer is from the vehement raging of the heat of hell. Cool water is best for fever either poured on the body or drunk with medicine.
Some authorities suggest that the person who has fever must provide cool water to the thirsty people. Because of its blessings Allah will put the fever off.

PERMISSION TO USE SPELL TO CARE

(٤٥٢٦) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ قَالَ رَخَّصَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فِي الرُّقْيَةِ مِنَ الْعَيْنِ وَالْحُمَةِ وَالنَّمْلَةِ (رواه مسلم)

4526. Sayyiduna Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم permitted one to resort to a spell for the evil eye, sting (of a scorpion) and pustules.[2]

COMMENTARY: The permitted spell is made up of approved supplication and of verses of the Quran to get relief.
The evil eye is a fact and some people say that it is a poison like the sting of a scorpion. Allah has placed poison in the eyes of some people. When their look falls on any one or anything, it devours what it falls on. Not only is incantation and charms and supplication allowed for the evil eye but also the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has t aught supplication for the purpose as we did see in the chapter on supplication.
The sting of a scorpion also includes snake-bite and sting of other poisonous creatures.
The word (نملة) numlah in the hadith is used for ants. Here, it means pustules, boils, blisters such as grow in anyone's side. The affected person feels as though ants sting him. Perhaps this is why it got its name namlah.

[2] Muslim # 58. 2196.

It must be understood that it is allowed to use a spell and incantation for every illness. The hadith mentions only three because these three respond to this treatment more effectively than the others. The same meaning may be given to the tradition that say that spells and incantation is allowed in these three things only.
In the beginning, the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has forbidden the use of spells and incantation. Then, initially, he allowed people to resort to spells and incantation for these three things provided polytheistic and ambiguous words are not used. Later, this permission was extended to all sort of diseases and approved supplication and verses of the Quran may be invoked.

(٤٥٢٧) وَعَنْ عَآئِشَةَ قَالَتْ اَمَرَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ نَسْتَرْقِيَ مِنَ الْعَيْنِ۔ (متفق عليه)

4527. Sayyidah Ayshah رضى الله عنها said that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave instruction that spells may be used to ward off the effect of the evil eye.[1]

(٤٥٢٨) وَعَنْ اُمِّ سَلَمَةَ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَاٰى فِيْ بَيْتِهَا جَارِيَةً فِيْ وَجْهِهَا سَفْعَةٌ تَعْنِي صُفْرَةً فَقَالَ اسْتَرْقُوْا لَهَا فَاِنَّ بِهَا النَّظْرَةَ۔ (متفق عليه)

4528. Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضى الله عنها narrated that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم saw in her house a girl whose face had turned yellow. So, he said, "Use a spell for her because she has the effects of an evil eye.'[2]

COMMENTARY: The girl was under the effect of an evil eye. It could be a human evil eye or a jinn's evil eye. The eye of a jinn is sharper than the edge of a lance.

(٤٥٢٩) وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ قَالَ نَهَى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الرُّقٰى فَجَآءَ اٰلُ عَمْرِو بْنِ حَزْمٍ فَقَالُوْا يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ اِنَّهُ كَانَتْ عِنْدَنَا رُقْيَةٌ نَرْقِيْ بِهَا مِنَ الْعَقْرَبِ وَاَنْتَ نَهَيْتَ عَنِ الرُّقٰى فَعَرَضُوْهَا عَلَيْهِ فَقَالَ مَا اَرٰى بِهَا بَاْسًا مَنِ اسْتَطَاعَ مِنْكُمْ اَنْ يَنْفَعَ اَخَاهُ فَلْيَنْفَعْهُ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4529. Sayyiduna Jabir رضى الله عنه said that Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم disallowed spells, so, the family of Amr ibn Hazm رضى الله عنه came and submitted, "O Messenger of Allah, we have a spell that we used for the sting of scorpion. Now you have disallowed spell." They then read it out to him (that he might decide about its veracity) He said, "I do not find any harm in it. He among you who can benefit his brother (even by using a spell approved by Shari'ah (divine law)), let him do that."[3]

(٤٥٣٠) وَعَنْ عَوْفِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ الْاَشْجَعِيِّ قَالَ كُنَّا نَرْقِيْ فِي الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ فَقُلْنَا يَا رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ كَيْفَ تَرٰى فِيْ ذٰلِكَ فَقَالَ اَعْرِضُوْا عَلَيَّ رُقَاكُمْ لَا بَاْسَ بِالرُّقٰى مَا لَمْ يَكُنْ فِيْهِ شِرْكٌ۔ (رواه مسلم)

4530. Sayyiduna Awf ibn Maalik Ashja'I رضى الله عنه said, "We used to resort to spells during the jahiliyah (ignorance period). So we submitted, 'O Messenger of Allah, what do you say abou it?' He said, 'Read them out to me. There is no harm in the spells as long as they are without polytheism."[1]

COMMENTARY: The words 'without polytheism' imply also that the spell should have no name of the jinns and the devils and no appeal for help to any of them. They should have no inkling of disbelief in them. If they are devoid of such things, then it is allowed to use them. The ulama (Scholars) say that when such words and expressions are used as are ambiguous, then these spells are disallowed, but when the wording of a spell is known to be from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم even though the meaning cannot be deciphered then it is permitted to apply such a spell.

Just as the devil bears animosity to mankind from the beginning of time, so too the jinns are natural enemies of mankind. In this sense, the devils and jinns are allies of each other. Thus when a person is taken over by a jinn and such incantation is applied as has names of the devils and calls on them for help then the jinns release that person. Sometimes, a person suffers from snake-bite and seems to be poisoned, but in fact it is a jinn who had taken the form of a snake. When a spell with names of devils and an appeal to them help is used, the jinn withdraws and the poison disappears from the person. In this way, both jinns and devils mislead mankind. Therefore, the ulama (Scholars) say unanimously that it is not permitted to use a spell that contains something other than verses of the Quran, names and attributes of Allah.

The most glorious of all is the noble Quran itself to make an invocation. Each of its words, each of its expressions is a treasure for mankind as healing, cure, goodness and blessing, with a guaranteed benefit. Some of its verses and Surahs (chapters) are more suited for spell and incantation, like surah al-Fatihah, al-falaq, an-Naas and the verses aayat ul Kursi and aayat ul Karimah. They are based on seeking refuge in Allah. At the same time, the supplication and incantation that are known from the ahadith are also appropriate and beneficial.

The writer of satar us Sa'adah has quoted a hadith that if a person desires to protect his property or children from the evil eye, then he must recite:

مَا شَآءَ اللّٰهُ لَا قُوَّةَ اِلَّا بِاللّٰهِ

{That which Allah will (will be)! There is no power except in Allah.} (18: 39)

(His property and children will be preserved from the evil eye.)

It is reported that Sayyiduna Uthman رضی الله عنه saw a very beautiful lad. He recommended that a little blackness should be applied to the lad's chin to preserve him from the evil eye.

THE VERSES OF HEALING (AAYAT UL SHIFA)

Shaykh Abu al-Qasim Qushayri رحمه الله said, "My son was seriously ill so that we lost hope of his survival. Meanwhile, I saw Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم in my dream and submitted to him that my son was ill. He asked, 'why is it that you are unaware of the verses of healing?' I woke up and looked up the Quran for the verses of healing. I found them at six places in the Quran. They are: [2]

(1) وَيَشْفِ صُدُوْرَ قَوْمٍ مُّؤْمِنِيْنَ

---

[1] Muslim # 63-2200.

[2] Respectively: 9: 14, 10: 57, 16: 69, 17: 82, 26: 80, 41: 44. (Translation of these verses follows completion of the quotation of Qushayri رحمه الله discourse.)

(2) وَشِفَآءٌ لِّمَا فِي الصُّدُوْرِ

(3) يَخْرُجُ مِنْ بُطُوْنِهَا شَرَابٌ مُّخْتَلِفٌ اَلْوَانُهٗ فِيْهِ شِفَآءٌ لِّلنَّاسِ

(4) وَنُنَزِّلُ مِنَ الْقُرْاٰنِ مَا هُوَ شِفَآءٌ وَّرَحْمَةٌ لِّلْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ

(5) وَاِذَا مَرِضْتُ فَهُوَ يَشْفِيْنِ

(6) قُلْ هُوَ لِلَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْا هُدًى وَّ شِفَآءٌ

I wrote down these verses and soaked the writing in water and gave it to my son to drink. He recovered rapidly as if his letter were released."

Qadi: Baydawi رحمه الله has also pointed out to these verses in his tafsir as verses of healing Sa'd Hulaybi رحمه الله has mentioned Abu al-Qasim Qushayri رحمه الله and his dream in his exposition of Tafsir Baydawi, but he has mentioned that Qushayri رحمه الله had seen Allah in his dream and that the verses should be recited and the reciter should blow on the patient. They should also be written down on a porcelain utensil, washed with water which should be given to the patient to drink.

Shaykh Tajuddin Sabuki رحمه الله said that many scholars wrote down these verses to get relief from illnesses.

As for writing down for healing, should only these portion be written down or the whole verses that contain them? It has been reported that the Shaykhs and elders wrote down only these portions as verses of healing. The foregoing verses are translated:

(1) {He will grant relief to the hearts of the believing people} (9: 14)
(2) {...and a healing for whatever (disease) is in the hearts.} (10: 57)
(3) {There comes forth out of their bellies a drink of diverse hues, wherein is healing for mankind} (16: 69)
(4) {And we send down, of the quran that which is a healing and a mercy to the believers} (17: 82)
(5) {And when I am sick, He heals me} (26: 80)
(6) {Say: "For those who believe, it is a guidance and a healing".} (4: 44)

EVIL EYE IS A FACT

(٤٥٣١) وَعَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ الْعَيْنُ حَقٌّ فَلَوْ كَانَ شَيْءٌ سَابَقَ الْقَدَرَ سَبَقَتْهُ الْعَيْنُ وَاِذَا اسْتُغْسِلْتُمْ فَاغْسِلُوْا۔ (رواه مسلم)

4531. Sayyiduna Ibn Abbas رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "The evil eye (meaning, its influence) is a fact. If any thing was likely to overtake decree, the evil eye would do it. And, When you are told to bathe, do so."[1]

COMMENTARY: If anyone's sight of a person or thing delights him and he is overwhelmed then it does have an effect on what he has seen (and stared at) and this is attached to the decree. Allah has given the eyes of some people the peculiarity that even they see something they cause its destruction in the same way as magic and sorcery have their effect.

Nothing in the universe is outside the ambit of decree, not even the smallest thing and not even the largest, not the weakest and not the strongest. Nothing can escape out of the orbit of decree, but if, by a stretch of imagination, anything could slip away, then the evil eye would do it. This thing about the evil eye has been stated merely to emphasize, the influence of the evil eye.

It was customary among the Arabs that the person whose evil eye had hurt someone was asked to wash his hand and feed and the portion below his navel. That water was poured on the one who was hurt by the evil eye. At least, the effected person gained some confidence and his doubts were removed. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم gave permission for this thing to be done. He said, "If your stare has had the effect of an evil eye and anyone and you are asked to wash your limbs and pour the water on the effecter person, do that."

The method of doing it, is outlined in the hadith of Abu Umamah رضی اللہ عنہ (# 4562).

While the ulama (Scholars) agree that an evil eye can have an effect on living beings - men and animals - and on property, some people like the mu'tazillah reject it, just as they reject the effect of supplication and charity. They assert that which is decreed cannot be averted. Of course, decree has not a different path from the working of cause and effect. Allah has given the evil eye the ability to hurt and the ulama (Scholars) follow the Prophet's Saying: (العين الحق) (the evil eye is a fact). It is wajib (obligatory) on us to believe in this saying.

WHO IT WORKS: The ulama (Scholars) have dealt with this question at length. They have quoted some of the people who possess the evil eye as having said, "When we are delighted by a sight and we look at it, we sense heat coming out of our eyes." Some people say that it is a venomous heat and it absorbs in the air which blow up to the subject and causes him harm and ruin. It is like a snake that hurts every one with its poison when it looks at it. In short, something invisible shoots out from the evil eyes and strikes the subject if there is no obstruction between then. But, if there is an obstruction like an amulet or talisman and medicine, etc. then that invisible thing does not make it to the subject. In fact, if the amulet or talisman is strong, then the invisible weapon reverts to the source. It is like a strong shield that causes an arrow to rebound to the striker.

Moreover, just as Allah has enabled some people to possess the evil eye. So, too He has enabled some perfect souls, like the men of Allah and Shaykhs, to repel the evil eye so that they may help the masses with supplication and amulets to ward off the effects of the evil eye.

SECTION II اَلْفَصْلُ الثَّانِیْ

ALLAH HAS CREATED REMEDY FOR ALL ILLS

(٤٥٣٢) عَنْ اُسَامَةَ بْنِ شَرِيْكٍ قَالَ قَالُوْا يَارَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ (صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) اَفَنَتَدَاوٰى قَالَ نَعَمْ يَا عِبَادَاللّٰهِ تَدَاوَوْا فَاِنَّ اللّٰهَ لَمْ يَضَعْ دَاءً اِلَّا وَضَعَ لَهُ شِفَاءً غَيْرَدَاءٍ وَاحِدٍ اَلْهَرَمِ (رواه احمد والترمذى وابوداؤد)

4532. Sayyiduna Usamah ibn Sharik رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that some sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم asked, "O Messenger of Allah, may we resort to medical treatment (during illnesses)?" He said, "Yes, O slaves of Allah, use medical treatment because Allah has not created a disease without creating a cure for it, other than one disease, namely, old age."[1]

COMMENTARY: By his words, the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم assured the sahabah (Prophet's Companions) رضی اللہ عنہم that to get medical treatment is not against servitude and reliance on Allah, provided the treatment is not thought to be the only and direct cause of relief. Rather, it is a necessary procedure and true healing comes only from Allah.

DO NOT COMPEL THE PATIENT TO EAT OR DRINK

(٤٥٣٣) وَعَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَاتُكْرِهُوْا مَرْضٰكُمْ عَلَى الطَّعَامِ فَإِنَّ اللّٰهَ يُطْعِمُهُمْ وَيَسْقِيْهِمْ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ)۔

4533. Sayyiduna Uqbah ibn Aamir رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Do not compel your patients to take food, for, Allah, the exalted, gives them food and drink."[1]

COMMENTARY: If the patient is unwilling, do not force him to eat or drink, even if it is medicine.

Allah gives energy and stamina. Survival of anyone is not dependant on food and drink but on Divine Power. So, if anyone is forced to take food and drink against his will then instead of benefit, it might harm him.

CURING REDNESS

(٤٥٣٤) وَعَنْ اَنَسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَوٰى اَسْعَدَبْنِ زُرَارَةَ مِنَ الشَّوْكَةِ رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَقَالَ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ غَرِيْبٌ)۔

4534. Sayyiduna Anas رضی اللہ عنہ said that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم branded (Sayyiduna) As'ad ibn Zurarah رضی اللہ عنہ because of Shawkah (whilow, redness) that had afflicted him.[2]

COMMENTARY: Either the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم cauterized As'ad himself or had him cauterized by someone. Besides it cannot be said where on the body was this done.

CURE OF PLEURISY

(٤٥٣٥) وَعَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ اَرْقَمَ قَالَ اَمَرَنَا رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اَنْ نَتَدَاوٰى مِنْ ذَاتِ الْجَنْبِ بِالْقُسْطِ الْبَحْرِيِّ وَالزَّيْتِ۔ (رواه الترمذی)

4535. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Arqam رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم instructed us to treat dhat ul janb (pleurisy) with sea costus and olive oil."[3]

(٤٥٣٦) وَعَنْهُ قَالَ كَانَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَنْعَتُ الزَّيْتَ وَالْوَرْسَ مِنْ ذَاتِ الْجَنْبِ (رواه الترمذی)

4536. Sayyiduna Zayd ibn Arqam رضی اللہ عنہ said, "Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم often spoke highly of alive oil and wurs for pleurisy."[4]

COMMENTARY: Wurs (ورس) is a kind of grass of yellowish colour inclining on red. Its fibres are like Saffron and it is used to colour and dye just as saffron is used. The physicians have prescribed it for many illnesses. It seems that both these things are used for pleurisy by inserting their drops in the mouth.

SENNA AS A PURGATIVE

(٤٥٣٧) وَعَنْ اَسْمَآءَ بِنْتِ عُمَيْسٍ اَنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ سَأَلَهَا بِمَا تَسْتَمْشِيْنَ قَالَتْ بِالشُّبْرُمِ قَالَ حَارٌّ جَارٌّ قَالَتْ ثُمَّ اسْتَمْشَيْتُ بِالسَّنَا فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ لَوْ اَنَّ شَيْئًا كَانَ فِيْهِ الشِّفَآءُ مِنَ الْمَوْتِ لَكَانَ فِي السَّنَا۔ (رَوَاهُ التِّرْمِذِيُّ وَابْنُ مَاجَةَ وَقَالَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ هٰذَا حَدِيْثٌ حَسَنٌ غَرِيْبٌ)۔

4537. Sayyidah Asma bint umays رضی اللہ عنہا narrated that the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked her, "what purgative do you use?" She said, "I take shubrun (spurge)." But, he said, "That is very hot, terrible." So, she used sana (senna) and the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "were there on antidote for death, that would be senna."[1]

COMMENTARY: Shubrum is a plant. Its seeds are boiled in water to use as laxative. The Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم used the world for hot (حار) – hear) twice to say 'very hot.' To mean that it is not proper to use it as a laxative. The physicians say that it makes the bowels very loose so it must be used under proper supervision.

Senna is a very beneficial medicine, particularly senna (sana) Makki. The physicians prescribe it for many illnesses. Its greatest characteristic is that it has no side-effects. It is good particularly for bile, melancholy and phelgm. It also gives strength to the heart.

DO NOT USE FORBIDDEN THINGS AS MEDICINE

(٤٥٣٨) وَعَنْ اَبِي دَرْدَآءَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ اِنَّ اللّٰهَ اَنْزَلَ الدَّآءَ وَالدَّوَآءَ وَجَعَلَ لِكُلِّ دَاءٍ دَوَاءً فَتَدَاوَوْا وَلَا تَدَاوَوْا بِحَرَامٍ۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4538. Sayyiduna Abu Darda رضی اللہ عنہ narrated that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Surely Allah has sent down the illness and the medicine. And, He has created for every illness a cure. So, take medicine for treatment. But, do not treat yourselves with anything unlawful."[2]

COMMENTARY: The unlawful could be wine, swine or any other forbidden thing. There are many ahadith on this subject, particularly on using wine. Not only they forbid them but also make clear that there is no benefit in using the unlawful for treatment of any disease. There is a hadith narrated by Sayyiduna Ibn Mas'ud رضی اللہ عنہ that Allah has not placed cure in those things that are forbidden to you.

It is also reported that Sayyiduna Tariq Ja'fi رضی اللہ عنہ sought the Prophet's صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم permission to make wine. He forbade him. When he submitted that he wished to make it for use as medicine, the prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "Wine is not a medicine but it is pain and a disease." He also said:

من تداوی بالخمر فلاشفا اللّٰہ

(He who resorts to wine as medicine, Allah will not give him cure).

However, some juristic traditions permit the use of wine as medicine then reliable and adept physicians confirm that there is no alternative means of treatment for a disease. But this is very unlikely. First, it is difficult to find reliable and competent physicians. Secondly, it is not easy to get their unanimous opinion.

IMPURE MEDICINE DISALLOWED

(٤٥٣٩) وَعَنْ اَبِيْ هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ نَهٰى رَسُوْلُ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ عَنِ الدَّوَآءِ الْخَبِيْثِ۔ (رواہ احمد وابوداؤد والترمذی وابن ماجة)

4539. Sayyiduna Abu Hurayrah رضی اللہ عنہ said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم forbade medicine that is Khabith (noxious, impure or forbidden or unpleasant, bad smelling).[1]

COMMENTARY: Such a medicine is not regarded as good. If the patient is repulsed with a medicine, then it will not be efficacious as desired. This disallowance is of the kind of nahi tanzihi (forbidden nearer to lawful) (more lawful than unlawful).

HEADACHE & ACHING LEGS

(٤٥٤٠) وَعَنْ سَلْمٰى خَادِمَةِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَتْ مَاكَانَ اَحَدٌ يَشْتَكِيْ اِلٰى رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَجَعًا فِيْ رَاسِهٖ اِلَّاقَالَ احْتَجِمْ وَلَا وَجَعًا فِيْ رِجْلَيْهِ اِلَّا قَالَ اخْتَضِبْهُمَا۔ (رواہ ابوداؤد)

4540. Sayyidah Salma رضی اللہ عنہا the (female) servant of the Prophet صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said, "When any one complained to Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم of a headache (because of blood pressure), he said to him, "Get cupped.' And when anyone complained about pain in his legs (because of heat), he said, to him, 'Dye them with henna,"[2]

COMMENTARY: This command applies to both men and women, but men should preferably apply henna only to their souls. They must not apply it to their nails so that they avoid resemblance to women.

HENNA ON WOUND

(٤٥٤١) وَعَنْهَا قَالَتْ مَا يَكُوْنُ بِرَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَرْحَةٌ وَلَا نَكْبَةٌ اِلَّا اَمَرَنِيْ اَنْ اَضَعَ عَلَيْهَا الْحِنَّاءَ۔ (رواہ ترمذی)

4541. Sayyidah Salma رضی اللہ عنہا said that Allah's Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم never received a wound (on his body from anything) or had a bleeding foot (caused by a stone or thorns) but he asked her to apply henna on it.[3]

COMMENTARY: Henna has a cooling effect. It cures illness rapidly particularly wounds.
